Dr. McCrimmon, the well-known Chief of the Lucknow Caledonian Society, was in town on Tuesday last, and paid the Sarnia a visit. He leaves this week for Europe to put in a round at hospital experience in Edinburgh, London and other points, after which he will return to his native land—Canada.

The strangest thing about the doctor is the fact that, although there is no better specimen of the Scottish race living and moving and having his being, than he, yet he is Canadian born and bred, being a Gleggry Canadian. We wish our friend a pleasant voyage, a successful course of study, and a safe return. Lucknow Caledonian day without the stalwart form of McCrimmon to the fore will seem lonesome to those who have been acquainted with the games "since Auld Lang Syne."

At the High School Literary Society's meeting on Friday evening last, the following programme was one with: Solo and chorus, by members; recitation, Miss E. Wiggins; reading, "Winkler," Miss J. Strang; reading, Miss Struthers. A debate was also taken part in by some of the students, on the question: Resolved, Napoleon was superior to Cromwell as a general and statesman. Messrs. Blair and Farrow advocated the affirmative, and Messrs. Wilson and Harrison spoke in favor of the negative side of the question. The debate was well conducted throughout, but the participants made the usual error of beginners in committing their ideas to manuscript, and closely following the document all through. This fact militated considerably against both captives in the reply, and left them "at sea" to some extent, when they were forced to depend on extempore speaking.

The judge, Mr. A. J. Murray, of the high school, gave some good advice on this particular point. After summing up, and carefully weighing the points made by the different speakers, the judge decided in favor of the affirmative. A solo by Mrs. Caldwell closed the evening's programme.

The pulpit of Knox church was occupied on Sunday evening last by Mr. Drumm, a Knox college theological student. He preached from Heb. xii: 14: "For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come," and gave a very interesting discourse. The sermon was carefully worded, and gave evidence of sound thinking, and we feel assured the young preacher will make a good record for himself in the time to come. We understand Mr. Drumm is a native of Huron county.

HYMENS' BONDS

Two interesting matrimonial events during the week.
ROTHWELL—JOHNSTON
On Wednesday morning there was a flutter in female circles, caused by the knowledge that the nuptials of Harry Rothwell and Margaret Elizabeth Johnston (only daughter of our esteemed townsman, T. B. VanEvery), were to be celebrated at 11.30 a.m. Fully half an hour before the appointed time North street was swarming with Eve's fair daughters, anxious to view the ceremony which was to take place at St. George's church. Precise at 11.30 o'clock the bride drove to the church, accompanied by her father and her bridesmaids—Miss Cook, of Goderich and Miss Marks, of Brucefield. At the church they were joined by the groom and his bridesmaids—Ed. VanEvery and W. Vanstone. The bride was arrayed in dark grey silk, which had trimmed with cardinal and plumes to match; Miss Cook wore a pink dress of nun's veiling, with cream-colored bonnet; and Miss Marks was attired in a cream-colored dress, with a matching bonnet to match. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Archdeacon Elwood, assisted by Rev. J. Walters, and the bride was given away by her father.

At the conclusion of the service the party were driven to the railway station to take the train down to their wedding town. A large number went to the station to see them start on their tour, and wish them all happiness in the time to come.

WHITELY—GRAHAM
Another matrimonial event took place on Wednesday evening in which the interested friends of the bride and groom, of Goderich township, and Annie, daughter of Geo. Graham, of Port Albert. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Turnbull, at the residence of the bride's grandfather, Robt. Curman, Cambria road, and witnessed by some fifty invited guests, the majority of whom were relatives of the interested parties. The bride was dressed in green silk with white veil and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids were Miss Lucy Whitley, Goderich, Miss Annie Mahaffy, Port Albert, and Miss Annie Whitley, Clinton. The groom was John Graham, of Cambria, and the bride was Annie Whiteley, of Port Albert. After the union had been made one, the company sat down to an excellent spread, which had been prepared for the occasion. A most enjoyable evening was then spent, and the festive party broke up about the "wines' hour," after having again and again expressed the wish that health, wealth and prosperity would be the portion of the young couple.

The Brohman Snatching Affray.
William White, the old shoemaker who stabbed John Brohman, hotel-keeper, with a knife, was brought before Mayor Horton on Friday last for examination. E. Campion represented Mr. Brohman, and the prisoner was defended by F. W. Johnston. Owing to the damp weather the injured man did not appear, and a suggestion to adjourn the court to his hotel was not entertained by his worship. Mr. Johnston asked for a remand of eight days. Mr. Campion objected, as it would throw the trial over the assizes. His worship pointed out that it might be hard on the prisoner to keep him in gaol so long before examination. The prisoner's counsel, however, declared that his client was willing to have the case adjourned, and the mayor accordingly fixed to-day (Friday) at 11 a.m., as the time for the preliminary examination. The prisoner is charged with feloniously stabbing and wounding with intent.

C. J. Criminal Court.
Queen vs. Hyslop—Larceny—Prison-bound over in $200 to appear when wanted and receive judgment and verdict of court in first case. The crown consenting to a verdict of not guilty in thesecond case.

AUTUMN ASSIZE.

At the High Court of Justice—The Cases on Trial.
Before His Lordship Mr. Justice Oiler. MONDAY, Oct. 22.
Court opened at 2.30 p.m., by proclamation.

Mr. E. W. Ball, Q.C., acted as counsel for the Crown.
The following is the list of the GRAND JURORS:
Henry Horton, Goderich, foreman; Cicero Aldsworth, Hay; Richard Armstrong, Morris; T. K. Boddy, Howick; Wm. Ballantyne, Seaford; J. L. Courice, Goderich; J. P. John, Chatham; Geo. Darst, St. Grey; Allan Douglas, Stanley; Geo. Hawkins, Uxbridge; Wm. Lee, Goderich; Geo. Lawson, Stephen; Robt. Morrison, Bayfield; Robt. Medd, Wawanosh; James Potter, E. Wawanosh; W. H. Reid, Ashfield; Thomas Webster, Ashfield; W. H. Watson, Blyth; Gordon Young, Colborne.

Richard Titchborne was sworn to take charge of grand jury during assize.
THE JUDGE then addressed the grand jury as follows:
The calendar at the present assize was not heavy, and the presentation of the white gloves by the sheriff showed that no criminal cases were on the list. The county of Huron was to be congratulated on this fact, and it was hoped such a state of things would long continue. Some of the members of the grand jury, who had been summoned from long distances might feel inclined to think that the present jury system was too cumbersome and expensive in comparison with the work required to be done, but he would inform them that there were times when the labors of the grand jury were of an arduous nature. He did not think it his duty to advocate the perpetuation of the jury system, but would say that the time-honored institution had its uses, as well as its abuses, and that taken all in all, as matters now stood, it would be difficult to substitute a new system that would work better than the old one. They would inspect the jail, and report as to its condition, and if nothing turned up to their detriment, they would be pleased to discharge their duty as early as possible, so that they would be enabled to return to their regular occupations, which they had been forced to relinquish in order that the interest of justice might be upheld by their presence on the grand jury.

Court adjourned at 3 p.m. on Monday.
TUESDAY, Oct. 23.
Court opened at 9 o'clock pursuant to adjournment.

William Durbin vs. Arthur McLesan—This was an action by the plaintiff, who is a farmer in the township of Ashfield. In the fall of 1881 the plaintiff purchased of the farmers in his vicinity 8310 pounds of butter which he sold to the defendant, who is a cattle dealer in the township of Wawanosh. The butter was sold shortly afterwards in the hands of commission merchants in Buffalo for sale, but they were unable to sell any considerable quantity of it at first class prices, and were compelled to take very inferior prices for most of it. The price agreed to be paid by defendant was $22 cents, and it appears defendant paid plaintiff all the money he got from the commission merchants; but after doing so, he still owed plaintiff $228.20, to recover which this action was brought. The defendant's theory was that plaintiff represented the butter as "first class," but plaintiff contended that he only said "it would average a first class lot." The jury found that plaintiff warranted the butter only "to be a good fair quality of Canadian butter," and on their findings the judge entered a verdict for plaintiff for $228.20, Cameron, Holt & Cameron for plff; Garrow & Proudfoot for defts.

Baxter vs. Baker—This action was brought by a farmer named Wm. Baxter of Ashfield, against James Baker, a farmer in the same township, for the detention of the plaintiff's daughter, Zillah, by the defendant. It was found that the plaintiff's daughter, was in the year 1881, a domestic servant in the house of the defendant's mother, where the alleged illicit intercourse took place, according to plaintiff's witnesses. The defendant denied ever having had intercourse with Zillah, and called his mother to show that she had caught Zillah having intercourse with another man. This was denied by Zillah, and was not in any way corroborated. It was proved by a witness named Cornelius that he had heard defendant say, after the child was born, that he "would marry the girl in three or four years, if she continued to conduct herself as well as she had been doing." The case was left to the jury about 6.30 p.m., and they brought in a sealed verdict for $250 and costs in favor of the plaintiff. Garrow & Proudfoot for plff; Davison & Johnston for defts.

Regina vs. Wm. Hunter—Assault—This indictment, being for assault, was laid before the grand jury on Tuesday, but all the witnesses for the crown not attending, was adjourned till next sessions.
Court adjourned at 6.30 p.m. until 9 a.m. to-morrow.

THIRD DAY.
Wednesday, Oct. 25.
Court opened at 9 o'clock pursuant to adjournment.
The grand jury made the following PRESENTMENT:
We, your Grand Jurors for the Autumn Assizes for Huron County, have the privilege of presenting to your Lordship the following presentment:

We have found our labors not very burdensome, as was intimated by your Lordship would likely be the case, but we believe, nevertheless, that the jury system is a necessity as matters of law now stand.

We are pleased to note the decrease of crime in our County, and hope such a state of things may long continue, as that time after time our Sheriff will have the opportunity of presenting the white gloves, emblematic of absence of criminal cases from the calendar.

We have examined the jail according to instructions from you, and find that institution well kept and in an efficient condition of management, under the supervision of Jailer Dickson and his associate.

We find, however, that the inmates of the jail at present, are principally aged and infirm persons, and not criminals by any means. They are merely unfortunate, who, having no means of support, are committed to jail for want of a more suitable place of abode.

We would direct the attention of your Lordship and the public generally to this evil, for we consider it a crying one, and hope the day is not far distant when the municipal representatives of the county, in council assembled, will see fit to make proper provision for the aged and infirm of Huron, instead of placing that unfortunate class by "side" with the criminal and the debased. In conclusion, we beg to thank your Lordship for his kindly manner in which you instructed us relative to the performance of our duties, and also to the valuable assistance and advice rendered us by the County Attorney.

(Signed) Henry Horton.
His Lordship replied as follows:
Gentlemen, I am glad to concur with the presentment, particularly with that part referring to the condition of the poor, who are thus confined in the common jail in default of more suitable arrangements for their proper care. I have called the attention of many grand juries to the importance of this subject, although I did not do so in your case. I am glad to see that you have referred to the matter without any intimation from me, which shows that in the body of the County there must be a strong feeling in that direction. Several Counties—Windsor, Wellington, Middlesex, York and others—have Houses in connection with Industrial Farms, for the proper care of their infirm and indigent people, which is a much better plan, I think, than where aid is given directly by the municipalities. The poor as a class require looking after, and will always be so far distant when the County of Huron will feel that it cannot afford to neglect its poor. I again say I am glad to see that you have called attention to this matter without any reference from me on my own part, and I am glad that a copy of your presentment is laid before the County Council.

The grand jury were then discharged.
Murphy vs. Dalton—Action brought for damages occasioned by defendant, as plaintiff claimed, negligently setting out fire on his own land, whereby lumber belonging to plaintiff was burned. A number of witnesses were examined and judgment was reserved by his Lordship. Cameron, Holt & Cameron for plff; Davison & Johnston for defts.

Robertson vs. Hamilton Loan Co. and Joseph Knox and D. C. McKay.—This action was brought by Wm. Robertson, a storekeeper at Benmiller, against the defendants, for an alleged illegal distress under a mortgage given by plff. to the company. The other defendants, acted as bailiffs. After hearing the evidence, his Lordship reserved judgment, intimating that as far as Knox and McKay were concerned there would be no judgment against them. Cameron, Q. C., and Seager for plffs; Muir (Hamilton) for dtf. Co.; Garrow & Proudfoot for other dtfs.

Regina vs. J. T. Mitchell—Malicious libel.—This was an indictment for libel which arose from an editorial published by the prisoner in the Blyth Review last September, and directed against one John Uphill, a veterinary surgeon, formerly of Clinton, and well known in the county. The grand jury brought in a true bill on the examination of one witness. The case will come on for trial next assizes.
Court adjourned at 6.20, to meet again at 9 a.m. to-morrow.

FOURTH DAY.
Thursday, Oct. 25.
Court opened at 9 a.m. according to adjournment.
Green vs. township of Grey—This action was brought by the plaintiff to compel the defendants, the Grey township council, to make a drain from a culvert in front of plaintiff's land on the 9th and 10th con. of Grey. The defendants contended that they were not liable, as in making the road, they had brought no more water to the culvert than originally came there prior to the gravelling of the road. The natural fall of the water is through plaintiff's land, to a swamp at the rear, and to reach it from the culvert would require a drain of about fifty rods which would cost it is said in the neighborhood of $20. The plaintiff was nonsuited. Davison & Johnston for plff; Garrow & Proudfoot for defts.
Court adjourned.

The journals of the Irish National League now demand that the Government shall prosecute the leaders of the Orange meeting at Roslea, and state that they were armed.

IN MEMORIAM.

A Tribute of Condolence to the Relatives of the Late Samuel J. Cox.

On Oct. 3rd, inst., a committee of young ladies belonging to the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, in connection with North Street Methodist church, Goderich, visited upon the relatives of the late Samuel J. Cox, at Porter's Hill, and presented them with an address of condolence and a beautifully worked memorial motto, in token of the appreciation of the Christian character of the deceased. The address was read by Miss Susie Acheson, and the memorial motto presented by Miss Lizzie Wilson, and was acknowledged by the bereaved parents. After prayer by Mr. Samuel Cox, father of the departed, and the singing of "Hosanna" by the tie that binds, the meeting closed. We append the address and reply thereto—

To the sorrowing friends of the late Samuel J. Cox:
We, the members of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, of the North Street Methodist Church, Goderich, desire to express our heartfelt sympathy with you, in the loss which you are called on to sustain, by the sudden removal of one so dear to you, and ask you to accept this memorial, as a token of our respect and high appreciation of the virtues of the departed. As a friend, we found him true, as a co-worker in the vineyard of the Master, always ready; as a counsellor, wise and prudent; as a Christian, faithful and devoted; and we feel with you that, by his sudden removal to a better land, we have sustained a heavy loss, but rejoice that our loss is his gain. We feel, however, that his is not lost, but goes before—lost only like the stars of the morning, that have faded into the light of a brighter heaven. Our loved ones still shine on, though we see them not, radiant in the beams of eternal love. The joy—the grand source of consolation—in this, that we shall meet again. There shall the untroubled parents receive again their untroubled boys; there shall the boy, with rapturous, meet those parents in joy; there shall the soft sympathies of enduring friendship be revived—blessed communion of saints—and neither sin nor sorrow shall sever more. Let the sanctified spirits of our loved ones come before, hover before the eyes of our faith, as most delightful ministrants; let us think of them as holier, happier than we, and long to be like them. Let the sudden exit of our loved one keep alive before us the injunction: "Be ye also ready, for in such an hour as you think not, the Son of Man cometh." Can we forget departed friends? Ah, no! within our hearts their memory buried lies. We thought that where they are we too, shall go.

Will cast a light on darkest scenes of woe. For to their own best dwellings in the skies, Through whom Christ sets free exultingly shall rise.

REPLY.
To the members of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, of the North Street Methodist Church, Goderich:
DEAR BRETHREN and SISTERS,—The members of the family of Samuel Cox, desire to express our warmest thanks for the tender love and Christian sympathy which actuated you in preparing and presenting us with this beautiful and fond memorial of our dear departed Samuel. We can assure you your mingled tears and deed of holy love cannot be forgotten, and has in its small manner sweetened our cup of sorrow in the sad bereavement of the loss of our dear son and brother. When we think of his short stay with you, and of our own unworthiness of this token of remembrance, we must say, "What are we that God and his people should be so mindful of us."

"Best be the tie that binds"
Our hearts in Christian love;
The fellowship of kindred minds
Is like to that above.

We shall ever think of you with feelings of endearment and brotherly affection, and pray that the rich blessing of the Master may rest upon "The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor." Now that he who "doeth all things well" has taken from our bosoms our darling boy, who was to us but a precious loan; let us wait upon the Lead for the renewal of our spiritual strength, and for that comfort and consolation which He alone can give. Hope that Heaven may be nearer and Christ dearer than yesterday to all of us. "In my Father's house are many mansions, if it were not so, I would have told you; I go to prepare a place for you."

Our son the layman hath gained, Outfiring the courses and wind;
His rest he hath sooner obtained,
And left his companions behind.
Still tossed on a sea of affliction,
Hard toiling to make the best shore;
Where all is assurance and peace,
And sorrow and sin are no more.

"I had been for eight months unable to work, and felt as though I would as lief die as live, through Dyspepsia and Indigestion. I weighed at the time of getting a bottle of McGregor's Speedy Cure 130 lbs.; used 3 bottles, and now weigh 165 lbs. and never was better in my life."

A painful accident occurred Monday night at the farm of Kinnon McKinnon, second concession, Kinkos. A young man named Angus McLeod accidentally slipped into the cylinder of a threshing machine, frightfully mangled his leg.

Hints for the Sick-Room.

Sickness is too apt to be synonymous with sadness, and it is all important that the person in charge of a patient should wear a bright, hopeful countenance. The weak look to the strong for support, and are quick to mark the slightest tokens of uneasiness or apprehension on the part of those about their bedside.

Let the nurse be quiet. Let her dress be of no stiff or rustling material; her shoes of a kind that shall in no wise creak or cry. The modulation of the voice, too, should be carefully attended to.

Take care that no disagreeable topic of conversation be continued, if perchance introduced. Get more imperative guard against talking at all when the patient indicates by his own silence a desire for quiet.

A Liberal reward will be paid to any party who will produce a case of Liver, Kidney or Stomach complaint that Electro-Bitters guaranteed or money returned.

The Quickest Thing on Record is Kram's Fluid for Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, etc. It does not blister or discolor the skin; require but one application to banish all pain magically without using any greasy liniment or carrying your head in a pocket for weeks.

Polson's Nerviline. Hundreds who have experienced the wonderful power of Nerviline in subduing pain have testified that it is the most potent remedy in existence. Nerviline is equally efficacious as an internal or an external remedy.

Lord Chesterfield, the pink of politeness in his day, said that a true gentleman should be always sweeter in mood, fortiter in re, which means, mild in manner, strong in action. This is precisely the character of Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

Goderich, Oct. 4, 1883. JAS. A. MCINTOSH'S OLD STAND.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.

AYER'S Hair Vigor restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded gray hair to a natural, rich brown color, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use light or red hair may be darkened, thin hair thickened, and baldness often, though not always, cured.

It checks the falling of the hair, and stimulates a new growth. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the Vigor, but now use it occasionally as a dressing.

MR. ASH'S FAIRHAIR, leader of the celebrated 'Fairhair Family' of Scottish Vocalists, writes from Boston, Mass., Feb. 6, 1880: 'Ever since my hair began to give silvery evidence of the change which denoting time procureth, I have used AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and so have been able to maintain an appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, orators, actors, and in fact every one who lives in the eyes of the public.'

Mrs. O. A. PRESCOTT, writing from 18 Elm St., Charleston, Mass., April 14, 1882, says: 'Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair came off. It thinned very rapidly, and I was fast growing bald. On using AYER'S HAIR VIGOR the falling stopped and a new growth commenced, and in about a month my head was completely covered with short hair. It has continued to grow, and is now as good as before it fell. I regularly used but one bottle of the Vigor, but now use it occasionally as a dressing.'

We have hundreds of similar testimonials to the efficacy of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.

PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all Druggists.

The Decline of Macdonaldism.

From the Ottawa Free Press.
Algonia election was undoubtedly the turning point in the struggle of parties for the possession of Ontario, and as such it may be regarded as the culmination of Toryism throughout the Dominion.

But all in vain. His candidate in Muskoka was unseated and disqualified; his brigade of corruptionists covered with odium, contempt and ridicule.

Ontario is safe. The electors of Algonia have vindicated the Liberalism of Ontario. They have also vindicated the independent manliness of an aroused people who have awakened to a true sense of the deplorable bondage Sir John Macdonald sought to impose upon them at the dictation of a faction in another province.

Such is the condition of Macdonaldism in its decline. At the same time, the inexorable march of time and events is exposing the fallacies with which he deluded the people.

The Duke and the Duke.
The following story is told of an English nobleman, recently deceased.

The Duke was once in church when a collection was announced for some charitable object. The plate began to go round, and the Duke carefully put his hand into his pocket and took out a florin, which he laid on the pew before him, ready to be transferred to the plate.

Judge Black.

A few years ago a young man fashionably dressed took his seat at the table of the Girard House, in Philadelphia. There was an air of self-conscious superiority in the youth which attracted general attention.

Presently a tall, powerfully-built old man entered the room, and seated himself at one of the larger tables. He was plainly dressed, his language was markedly simple, he entered into conversation with his neighbor, who happened to be a poor tradesman, and occasionally during his dinner exchanged ideas with a little lady of five summers who sat beside him.

A Chicken Trading Clergyman.
"Where do they get the chickens?"
"Where do they get them?"
"Where do they get 'em in?"

Under Sheriff Thos. Brown, of Richmond Co., N.Y., makes affidavit that on Monday night, while sleeping with friends in his billiard room, at Stapleton, L. I., the ghost of Reinhardt, executed for murder some time ago, appeared to the party. They fed in confusion. His statement is corroborated by others.

A Startling Discovery.
Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery.

The Winnipeg Free Press gives an instance of the tactics played by certain Tory agents at the late election in Vancouver. A Honorable, a notorious character, first voted in his own name at Whitemouth, and after slightly disingenuously himself he went back again to the booth and voted in the name of "Patrick Wilson."

At Chas. Girvin's sale on Friday last, a sheep just let loose from under the auctioneer's hammer, and no doubt being terrified by it, or by the auctioneer, bolted straight between William McMath's legs, and precipitated that gentleman in a very unceremonious manner. We are glad to see that he is able to be round again and we sincerely trust that the sheep will soon be totally recovered.

To sweeten lard, let the lard first get hot, and then to one small lad slice two or three good sized potatoes. Put them in the lard and let them fry until brown. Old or rancid lard may be removed in this simple way: For about 40 pounds lard take three ounces of salt, heat it and when hot put in the lard, boil slowly for about two hours, then let it cool off and when nearly cold, let it come to a boil once more.

Threshing is being busily prosecuted in this locality, and soon the harvest of '83 will be ready for the market. The surplus which farmers here will have to dispose of will be very small, in fact not more than one-third of that of last year. Should Sir Tilley's big surplus of last year decrease at the same rate as that of our Leeburn farmers, he will not have much to blow about by the time Parliament meets.

In this village there dwells in a certain direction, a husband and wife who needs some correction. Of late, I'm informed, she has gained notoriety by going beyond the bounds of sobriety. An indelible item appeared in the papers, which was all about one of her illegal "capers". The squib made her foam in a scurrilous manner. Display her real colors, disclose her true character. But the writer survives her vile imprecations. Her threatening words, her misrepresentations. And still he maintains, upon all such occasions. That guilty viragoes should exercise patience.
