At the Mouth of the Treacherous Pit

STORY OF LOVE, INTRIGUE AND REVENGE

CHAPTER III.

Her spirits rose, she had said to herself that she would keep Sir Karl by her side, and she did so. He could not resist the witching charm of her drollery, her wit, her sparkling talk.

One trifling circumstance dwelt in Sir Karl's mind. As Dolores and he passed some beautiful roses, Lord Rhysworth stopped and gathered a lovely white one. He placed it proudly in his coat, and Sir Karl felt that he wore it as a knight of old wore his lady's colors. The utter unconsciousness of Miss Cliefden struck him.

"I have driven over, Dolores, to say that, quite unexpectedly, we have some visitors from Paris to-day. Mamma is making almost superhuman efforts to entertain them, and she wants to get up an impromptu party this evening—dancing, charades, music—everything that will while away time. She sent a messenger to Lord Rhysworth, but he is out of temper about something, I should imagine, for he has declined to come."

The knowledge of what that "something" was brought a burning blush to the fair face of Dolores.

"What are you blushing about? What is the matter?" asked Lola, whom nothing escaped. "Have you anything to do with Lord Rhysworth's not coming?"

"Then why are you blushing? People do not blush in that way for nothing. Have you seen Lord Rhysworth to-day?"

"He called here this morning, but he did not mention Beaulieu; perhaps he had not received your note then. Will it be a large party, Lola?"

Dolores was anxious to change the subject, but Lola detected the motive.

"You do not want me to say any more about Lord Rhysworth. I will be silent, but none the less sure am I that there is a mystery, or you would not blush."

On what trifles do human lives turn! If Dolores had not blushed, her life would have been entirely different.

"Will you have a large party, Lola?" she asked again, quite ignoring the remark made by the beautiful French girl.

"I hope so. Sir Karl is coming, I secured him first. A party, or anything else, without him, would be intolerable to me."

"And to me," thought Dolores, but she said nothing.

"He is coming; that is settled; and I feel a placid indifference about every one else but you, Dolores," continued Lola.

CHAPTER IV.

She saw that Miss Cliefden was not quite herself—that she had something on her mind, something that ruffled her thoughts and shadowed her clear eyes. For Lola there was but one subject, and that was her lover. She judged Dolores by herself.

"It cannot be Sir Karl," she thought, "it must be Lord Rhysworth. I always said that he was fond of her. He has been there this morning, and I am quite certain something unusual has occurred. You will drive back with me, Dolores?"

She said aloud, "You will have plenty of time to see to your toilet, and you must stay all to-morrow and help us to entertain our visitors."

That Dolores could not do, she did not like to leave the Squire for so long. Indeed she would have declined the invitation altogether, but that it seemed to her Providence had presented the one chance more for which she had longed: She would go, because she would see Sir Karl; and if he did like her, she would find it out.

"Dolores," cried Lola, "you are keeping something from me! It is quite useless for you to deny it; your face betrays you. Now, what is it? All the time I have been talking to you, you have been looking out there over the trees, with a far-away expression in your eyes which I understand, if no one else does. I do not believe that you have heard a word of what I have said."

"On the contrary, I have heard all." "You know, Dolores, it is better to make a friend than an enemy of me," said Lola. "You will do better to trust me. You are keeping some secret from me, and I am quite sure to find it out for myself."

"I give you permission," answered Dolores carelessly, yet vexed in her heart that Lola had guessed so correctly. "What shall I give you to amuse yourself with while I get ready?"

"I will talk to the Squire," said Lola.

The beautiful French girl, with a smile on her lips, lay back in her chair watching her, the very picture of luxurious ease. She was thirsty, and had asked for some fruit. With her white, slender fingers she held a lovely, ripe peach, talking while she ate it; and Dolores, looking at her, thought she was more like a picture than ever.

"You are debating in your mind, Dolores, about your dresses," observed Lola. "I can see the perplexity in your face. Let me decide."

But Dolores had already decided. She took from her wardrobe, a dress of creamy silk with rich lace trimmings, the only ornaments she chose being a beautiful pair of pearls. The dark eyes watched steadfastly.

"Evidently," said Lola to herself. Dolores means to eclipse us all to-night. Now for whom is she going to dress in this style? Not for Lord Rhysworth—that is certain; for he is not coming. It must be for Sir Karl. I must put a stop to that. Dolores," she said aloud, with the girlish frankness no one could better assume, "you have selected your very prettiest dress; yet Lord Rhysworth will not be with us."

But Dolores was on her guard and made no answer.

She was more silent than usual, all the way to Beaulieu. Lola laughed, talked, told her some absurd anecdotes of the Parisian visitors; but on the sweet face of Dolores there was a look of anxious thought. What would the evening bring for her.

Dolores had vowed to herself that she would not be shy, cold, or proud to Sir Karl, that she would give him every opportunity of speaking to her, and that she would be as amiable as possible to him. Yet, when the first sound of his voice came to her, she grew faint and sick at heart; she seemed to realize all at once the great stake she was to win or lose that night.

He did not come straight to her. Lola had gone forward to meet him, and kept him for some minutes in close conversation about the French guests.

"You must talk to Madame Glenise," she said. "She was a great favorite with the Empress, and knows more about the French Court than anyone else. She is a devoted Imperialist," continued Lola. "She would give her last shilling for the cause. When you have heard her speak of the Empress, you will be compelled to love her."

"Be explicit, Miss de Ferras. Love whom? Madame Glenise or the Empress?"

"The Empress of course! You know that. I love the Empress too. Her life always reminds me of a tragic poem. I think she is the most beautiful, the most charming woman who ever graced a throne; and if you wish to please me"—she paused and looked at him archly—"that is if you really wish to please me—"

"Can you doubt it?" he said, with laughing gallantry.

"I do not want to doubt; I wish to believe it," she answered. "So, if you desire to please me, you will talk to Madame Glenise and learn to love the Empress, Sir Karl."

"Have you any other commands?" he asked, with a low bow.

"I will tell you as the evening goes on," she replied and her dark eyes seemed to flash light into his.

He said to himself that to look at the fair, angelic beauty of Dolores, after a flash from those dark eyes, was like changing the sultry beams of a hot, noonday sun for clear, calm moonlight. Unfortunately he put his thoughts into words.

"How beautiful Miss Cliefden looks to-night! What a poetical face she has!" he said.

The remark gave Lola the very opening she wanted.

The Wrong Pocket

A mean old farmer went to his landlord to pay his rent. He bemoaned the hard times, the bad season, and the small prices to be got for grain, and finished by putting his hand in his pocket and taking out a note which he laid on the table, saying: "There's a' I'm able to gie ye, laird, I hivna' anither pound i' the world."

His landlord picked up the note and looked at it. "But, John," he said, "this is a £100 note, and your rent is only fifty. You have given me twice what I want."

The farmer made a grab at the note. "Eh, what an auld fule I am," he cried; "I put my haun' i' the wrang pooch!"

A Disappearing Act

During their recent trip round the world, Sir Harry Lauder and his wife had a great reception, especially in America, where they were the honored guests at innumerable social functions.

Lady Lauder was particularly struck with the New York hotels; though there is one thing, she says, they won't do for you. They won't clean your boots.

A friend of hers on her first visit to the States, put her boots outside her bedroom door to be cleaned. In the morning they were not there.

Nor did she ever see them again, and the only answer she got to repeated inquiries was:

"In America, ma'am, folks only put outside their deahs things they don't want."

When you once get to know how good Ivory soap is you will always use this fine pure soothing toilet soap. Ivory is as good as any soap can be, yet it costs less money than most toilet soaps.

Making Sure

The new domestic help was stating the terms on which she would accept the situation.

"I want sixty pounds a year," she said, "and I don't wash floors, or clean boots, or—"

"But—" protested the mistress, feebly.

"Work after six o'clock" went on the woman, steadily. "And I want every evening off in the week and a fine reference, and—"

"But surely the reference can wait till you leave us?" broke in the mistress, hurriedly.

"No, I want the letter now," replied the new domestic, firmly. "I've tried getting them when I leave, and I've never got a good one yet."

Honest People Who Steal

LITTLE FRAUDS THEY THINK CLEVER.

Many people who are scrupulously honest in their private affairs do not display the same nice sense of honour in their dealings with the Government or railway companies, or indeed, with any large concern which it is possible to defraud negatively and not positively, writes "John Blunt" in the Daily Mail.

Many a man who would never dream of stealing a penny has often little compunction in travelling first-class with a third-class ticket.

Similarly, many a man feels no particular remorse at defrauding the revenue out of small sums of income-tax, though such men would be horrified at the thought of pilfering a few stamps.

So long as the misdeed is, as it were, a passive one, and so long as the sufferer from it is an impersonal concern like a Government or a company, people often think themselves rather clever to have got the better of it, and are unable to perceive that they have done anything deserving of blame.

How is it that so few people feel that a man who has, say, travelled first-class with a third-class ticket has done anything particularly heinous?

That, certainly, is the general attitude; but I confess I do not quite know why. The truth is I imagine, that about moral questions, as about everything else, there is a kind of convention. A man who steals a shilling is locked up, but a man who may be infinitely more fraudulent in reality, and ruin thousands of people, may easily, if he is cunning, evade the law altogether.

THOSE SIGNBOARDS.

A firm that dealt in marmalade had tried for years to get my trade; the firm's drummers often would parade to where I hoe my row; and they would ask me why in heck I didn't buy, at times, a peck of sterling goods they placed on deck, and sold at prices low. "Your marmalade," I made reply, "is surely pleasing to the eye, and I would purchase a supply, but for your bonehead play; you advertise it on a sign that deteriorates a landscape fine, and shuts off from these eyes of mine the view of moor and bay. There are a million other men who'd like to gaze on wild and fen, on spinney, dingle, copse and glen that mighty signs obscure; and they won't buy the sterling goods whose names are blazoned in the woods and over all the neighbourhood, where beauty should endure." And now, behold, those people say they're taking all their signs away; and I shall chase myself to-day to buy their marmalade; I'll buy in kegs their standard jam, and eat it with my scalloped yam, yes, eat it with a spade. And all the delegates I know are wending toward in a row their heard-earned stercorose to blow for that world-famous brand; the signs that used to make them swear, that jarred the landscape everywhere and drove sane people to despair, have vanished from the land.

Gland Theory Overated

AVERS NEW YORK DOCTOR.

CHICAGO, June 11—(A.P.)—Rejuvenation by transplantation of any kind of glands was branded as mythology before the surgery section of the American Medical Association, by Dr. Clarence A. McWilliams, New York surgeon, in an address to-day. The speaker considered the subject in relation to skin grafts or grafts of internal organs from one creature to another.

In numerous instances I can point out where the uniform result is the disappearance of the grafted tissues," Dr. McWilliams asserted. "The scientific reason is that between animals of the same species, even there are unknown biological differences that prevent the survival of the transplanted arteries. Reported successes would indicate that these grafted organs 'seem to take,' but they suddenly disappear, in a few weeks at the most."

"The same facts govern the grafting of skin from one individual to another."

"Plastic surgery holds the greatest promise to those having either congenital or unfortunately acquired facial deformities," he added. "A

Betting Three to One in Favour of the Return of Smuts' Government

July 1st, to be Observed by Chinese in Canada as Humiliation Day—Jewels and Art Treasures Worth £100,000 Stolen in London—British Agent in Mexico May be Expelled.

TWENTY-TWO KILLED BY CLOUD-BURST.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., June 15. At least twenty-two persons are dead and probably many more, in a terrific cloudburst that Saturday wiped out Carter's Bluff and Hunter near here.

BRITISH AGENT THREATENED WITH EXPULSION FROM MEXICO.

LONDON, June 15. According to official advices from Mexico City, the British agent there, Herbert C. Cummins, charged with the duty of protecting British interests, has incurred the displeasure of the Obregon Government with which Great Britain has no relations. It is reported Mr. Cummins is threatened with expulsion from the country.

CHINESE TO KEEP 'HUMILIATION DAY.'

VICTORIA, B.C., June 14. While Canadian flags will flutter from mastheads in commemoration of Canada's birthday on July 1, Chinese flags in the city will fly at half-mast and Chinese homes will be decorated with wreaths of mourning, marking under a deep sense of insult their memory of the recent immigration regulations. Chinese residents here have designated July 1st as "Humiliation Day," in memory of their humiliation and local Chinese assert they will not be allowed to fade. Humiliation Day will not be confined to Victoria, but will be observed in every city in Canada where Chinese reside, local Chinese say.

SMUTS IS THE FAVORITE.

CAPE TOWN, S.A., June 14. There is no likelihood of a stalemate as the result of the general election of June 17, according to the view of a special correspondent of the Cape press, who has been keeping in close touch with the progress of the political campaign. One side or the other will get a substantial majority here. The Johannesburg stock exchange is betting three to one on the Smuts' Government being victorious in the poll.

DOLLARS PER HOGSHEAD FOR HERRING.

EASTPORT, Maine, June 14. Canadian fishermen won their fight for $10 minimum price per hogshead of herring to the Maine Sardine Packers, the latter agreeing to that price yesterday. In April the fishermen were getting $12 per hogshead, but the price was cut to $8.

VALUABLE JEWELS STOLEN.

LONDON, June 15. Detectives from Scotland Yard are searching all the ports and aerodromes in the Kingdom to guard against any attempt to smuggle out the valuable jewels and art treasures, stolen early yesterday, from the mansion of Lady Mary, in Piccadilly. The stolen property is valued at £100,000, being the noted collection of King

Ludlow reputed to be worth £1,000,000. Art dealers express the opinion that the burglars probably intend to keep the jewels for some years and then sell them abroad.

ARREST OF A SUSPECT IN TRAIN ROBBERY.

CHICAGO, June 14. A man with five bullet wounds in his body was taken to the County Hospital to-day, where he was arrested and held in connection with Thursday's sensational mail robbery. The police quickly made three other arrests and held the prisoners for questioning. The wounded man gave the name of J. H. Wayne. Wayne declared he had been shot by a woman, Miss Margaret Bay, but the police are skeptical. The police stated they found several new $1,000 bills in the wounded man's possession.

PROMINENT BOXER SHOT TO DEATH.

NEW YORK, June 15. William (Bill) Brennan, prominent heavyweight boxer, was shot and killed in the Tia Juana Cabaret, of which he was the proprietor. James Cullen, a State trooper, was shot in the neck as he ran to Brennan's rescue. Thos. Hughes and Frank Rashi, believed to be two of a band who committed the killing, are under arrest.

MISSIONARY ESCAPES FROM BAN-DITS.

PEKING, June 15. Rex Rays, U.S. missionary, captured by river pirates in Kwangsi Province, late last month, has escaped from the mountain stronghold where he was taken, said advices received from the commander of the U.S. Gunboat Pampanga, sent to Wuchow in connection with the capture of Ray and others.

Ray was one of a party of four aboard a motor boat on the way to Kwellin to rescue missionaries believed to be in danger there because of fighting between Kwangsi and Kwangtung troops. The pirates blindfolded all four and took them to the mountain for detention. Later R. A. Jeffrey, of Toronto, and Dr. P. G. Miller, United States citizen, were released to take the pirates' demand for a heavy ransom to the captives' friends. Ray's escape leaves E. H. Carn, an Australian, as the sole member of the party still held.

Extra Special Attraction at the Nickel

POPULAR ST. JOHN'S CONTRALTO SINGING TO-NIGHT.

There is an extra attraction at this theatre commencing to-day that will delight the music-loving public, and that is the appearance of Miss Marjorie Hutchings, our own gifted Contralto who appears for a limited engagement. Miss Hutchings has selected for her opening programme two renditions that all are certain to appreciate.

The picture attraction is Ethel Clayton's beautiful starring vehicle "Can a Woman Love Twice?" But unlike many of the "mother" pictures which have gone before, "Can a Woman Love Twice?" does not deal with a gray-headed mother whose life is lived in the lives of her grown child or children. The story is a story of the girl of to-day—a girl who marries a wealthy youth just prior to his departure for the battlefields of France, and whose parents disapprove of her.

On her own resources, the girl, after giving birth to a son, innocently is persuaded to take a job in a cabaret. She abhors the life, but must make money to support her baby. Forced out of this job, she seizes the opportunity of passing herself off as the widow of another man who was killed in the war. She takes up residence with this man's father in California. The complications arising from this situation are multiplied when the supposedly dead man returns home. But the girl, because of the estrangement between father and son, does not know who the "stranger" is.

How she does learn, and how second love comes to her, forms one of the most gripping series of situations ever conceived.

Dr. Burke and Mr. Jack O'Driscoll have charge of "The Wheel of Fortune," at the S.P.A. Garden Party, June 17th. Come try your luck.—June 14, 21

The Rector's Ruse

The rector of a small and impecunious parish, before taking up active duties, questioned an old fellow named Binks—who had officiated at the parish church as sexton and sidesman since his boyhood days—as to the congregation, offertories, and so on. All the questions were answered, Binks concluding by saying that the late incumbent always placed a shilling in the plate to encourage the worshippers to give liberally.

"That's a good idea," said the rector. "I'll start the ball on Sunday with a half-crown."

After Sunday's service the rector mournfully informed Binks that the collection was "certainly poor," and, moreover, his half-crown had been abstracted.

"That's very 'ard," replied Binks, "but ye should have done as his late reverence did, and stuck it to the bottom!"

Beauty Of Hair and Skin Preserved By Cuticura Soap to Cleanse Ointment to Heal

Edouard Herriot PROSPECTIVE PREMIER OF FRANCE.

LONDON, June 14.—(Can. Press)—M. Edouard Herriot, leader of the Left Bloc and prospective Premier of France in succession to M. Raymond Poincare, is Mayor of Lyons and has occupied this position for 12 successive years. He is a writer of note and an orator of exceptional persuasive power. Known as an advanced Socialist M. Herriot is what might be called in Great Britain a Liberal of the radical sort. He is the acknowledged chief brains of the forces which have overthrown Poincare.

M. Herriot and his fellow Socialist, Aristide Briand, former Premier of France, are close personal friends, and it was the commonly accepted belief that if the Premiership of France fell upon M. Briand instead of M. Herriot, the latter would be a prominent member of the new Cabinet. M. Herriot impresses one with the belief that he cares more for the advance of his political principles than for his own personal advancement, hence he would willingly have foregone the distinction of being at the head of the French Government and instead, would have accepted a lesser office in the next Cabinet as a follower of M. Briand.

M. Herriot has been an unceasing critic of M. Poincare and President Millerand. He objected to the French invasion of the Ruhr to enforce payment of reparations by Germany. This was before the French occupation was carried out. When it became an accomplished fact, however, Herriot declared his acquiescence therein by dramatically exclaiming "Now that we are there I am a Frenchman."

In 1919 M. Herriot declined nomination by the Socialists for a seat in the Senate but ran for the Chamber of Deputies and was elected. He preferred the Chamber to the Senate as a field in which he could develop his ideas and find greater expression and more freedom of movement. The Chamber of Deputies was more in keeping with his ambitions than the Senate.

M. Herriot first won distinction as a professor of rhetoric in the University of Lyons. He was not only a teacher of rhetoric but an able exemplar thereof on the public platform, and he is to-day one of the most persuasive orators in France. He is also an author of note.

He possesses a genius for organization and is an administrator of exceptional ability. As Mayor of Lyons he established a name for himself by instituting the annual Lyons International Exhibition.

During the War M. Herriot was a loyal worker in the allied cause. He was Minister of Transport and also was Food Controller, in both positions proving a great success.

In May, 1921, M. Herriot opposed the celebration in Lyons on the 100th anniversary of the death of Napoleon.

The next year he went to Russia, and on his return to France urged the recognition of the Soviet Government. In this he was not accepted as a prophet honored in his own country, and he was obliged to cease his advocacy of recognition of Russia's administration. The Press, prompted by the French Government, sought to boycott Herriot, but his speeches in the Chamber of Deputies became so important that he forced a hearing for himself.

Since the general election of May 4, with the resultant overthrow of the Poincare Government M. Herriot has been regarded as the logical successor to Raymond Poincare as Premier of France, though his name has not been the only one connected with the high office.

Recent experiments have also proved that the ring finger of the left hand can work more quickly, if it is moving in conjunction with the right-hand forefinger. Any two fingers working together, indeed, move considerably faster than one finger working by itself. The more a person uses his or her fingers the more adept they become. A pianist or typist will find that, in time, the left hand becomes almost as skillful as the right.

M.C. THE VICTORS.

On Saturday the Methodist College team defeated that of Bishop Field in the second and final game of the hockey series, by a score of 12 points to 5. The Collegians, having won the first game also, are the champions for the year. They were also the victors in the last year. The girls are to be congratulated on their victory.

FOOTBALL SIXES.

The preliminary football sixes, in connection with the Methodist Guards Sports, were drawn on Saturday and resulted as follows:—
 Monday, 7 p.m.—(a) Peildians vs. S.S.; (b) Saints vs. Cadets.
 Tuesday, 7 p.m.—(c) Star vs. C.L.B.; (d) Guards vs. C.E.I.
 To be played Sports Day:—Winners (a) vs. winners of (c); winners of (b) vs. winners of (d).

The preliminaries will be run off commencing to-night at St. George's field. It is hoped the respective teams will take the field on time so that there will be no delay or interference with the regular league games.

G.W.V.A. ANNUAL FIELD DAY.

Preparations made for Earl Haig week.
 On Saturday night a meeting of the G.W.V.A. and G.W.V.A. Sports Committee was held to make arrangements for the big sports to be held on St. George's field on the afternoon of July 2nd. A large number of both committees were present and the meeting was a very successful one. It was decided to form a Sports Committee consisting of members of the N.A.A.A. and G.W.V.A. appointed Chairman, W. Marshall, and Secretary, Mr. J. M. Tobin.

The program was discussed and the following events will comprise it:—International Tag of War, International Relay Race, Javelin Throw, Discus Throw, Steel Hammer Throw, High Jump, Pole Jump, Putting the Shot, 100 Yards, 220 Yards, Quarter Mile, Half Mile, and One Mile Races, Three Mile Road Race, 10 Mile Walk, display by the Girl Guides of fifteen minutes' duration, Football Sixes, between three comic events.

The Tag of War will be for a special cup presented by Earl Haig, and for it are now being drawn up by teams that represent a Club, or organization city or outpost, can send a team, and as it is expected to have many entries, preliminary pulls will be necessary. The football sixes will be played for the cup presented by Sir Charles Harris, to be competed for annually. It is now held by the Cadets. In addition to the cup, individual prizes will be awarded for the event also the tug of war. The event and Discus throw, are new events in this country.

The three mile road race and ten mile walk, will be special features. The latter event there are already eight entries, assured, and many more are hoped for. The International Relay Race will very likely be an interesting event as teams from the British, American, and French ships will compete on behalf of the countries they represent. It is the intention to select the best possible team to represent Newfoundland, so far as possible, to keep the honor here.

The four city bands will be present during the afternoon and special songs and programmes are being prepared. The prizes for the events in addition to the special cups for the largest number of entries, will be silver matchboxes, containing the crest of the Regiment and the signature of Earl Haig, stamped on them; they are special design and will make handsome souvenirs for those who are fortunate to win them. Various working committees were formed and it was decided that all entries will close at noon on June 26th, so as to give the Committee an opportunity of arranging preliminaries which may be necessary. The meeting adjourned about 11.30.

BIG MATCH NOT CLOSED BY CHAMP.
Mickey Walker Denies He Has Signed To Fight Benny Leonard For Title in New York.
 By ED. CUNLEY.
 Mickey Walker yesterday denied that he has signed to fight Benjamin Leonard, at the Yankee Stadium, and added that he had no intention of fighting Leonard in this town. The welterweight champion is up at Summit, N.J., preparing for his coming fight with Lew Tendler, scheduled for the Phillips ball park on June 2.

This is the first time Tendler has stepped forth as a full-fledged welterweight, and "Lefty Louis" is training like a beaver for this important fray. Walker is satisfied Tendler is as dangerous as ever, and for that reason is whipping himself into the best shape. Walker takes exception to the sardonic remarks of Billy Gibson regarding Walker's insistence on fighting Leonard in New Jersey. Said the Welterweight champion:—

"Gibson is starting this hurrah simply to boom Leonard as a movie star. He knows that I—or rather we—can get more money in Jersey than in Manhattan. I am ready to fight any worthy opponent."

"As for fighting Shad, I don't think he is a good enough card, for there are plenty of welters that can easily defeat him. When the right opponent shows up I'll be delighted to fight him."

CHARLIE SMIRKE, NEW RIDING WONDER OF ENGLAND.
 LONDON, May 31.—Charlie Smirke, seventeen year old boy, promises to be the British champion flat-race jockey for the present season. In thirteen days he has ridden twelve winners—a record that no other jockey, even a Maher or a Donoghue, has achieved.

This small, cherry-faced lad, is just over three feet in height, and has been apprenticed for two seasons. Owners are now gladly paying him $1,500 for a ride.

NEWMAN SHATTERS BRITISH RECORD.
 LONDON, June 7.—For the fourth time in his career, Tom Newman made a break of more than 1,000 and made a new record for the English professional billiard championship, when he increased an overnight unfinished 913 to 1,021 in the recent tournament in London, in which he again won the title by defeating Rees in the final round by 16,000 to 14,483. This remarkable run enabled Newman to take the lead by 10,000 to 9,772 in the afternoon session, but at the end of the evening play, Rees had regained the lead by a run of 944, only 77 short of that made by Newman just previously.

PEPPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

June 14.—To Water Street, and there to a barber's, and had my hair cut, in which I am lately become a little curious, finding that the length of it do become me very much. The heat great, and the worst day possible for working, being that the sun saps my energy, and makes me inclined for naught but to sleep. Anon to wait on Mr. Russell, the Minister of Works and to have some discourse with him. Talking with Mr. Stanley he tells me of another Peppy that do publish his journal in the "City News" sheet of Manchester, and seems how there be none of our family that do not inherit the gift of scribbling from the great Samuel, our ancestor. One thing I must observe here, while I think of it, that I am now become the most neglected man in the world as to the matter of news, inasmuch that, now-a-days, I neither can tell any, nor ask any of others. In the evening to play at tennis, but my great game mighty slow from the heat.

June 15th (Lord's Day)—In the afternoon, to church, my wife and I, but the weather grown cold again, she does not wear her summer finery, that I did but lately give her the money to buy. A very good sermon of Canon Jeeves. Anon, to walk with Povey, but little good discourse, since here is naught that is new of which we might talk.

50 Years of Faithful Service

Fifty years ago to-day Mr. Albert Osmond entered the employ of Messrs. A. Harvey & Co. as carpenter and has continued in that capacity ever since, being rarely absent from his post, and then only on account of illness. Mr. Osmond, though for some years past doing the lighter work of supervision, is still hale and active, and as interested in all the doings of his old firm as ever. A faithful servant and a good man, his many friends offer him congratulations, and wish him many years still to enjoy the evening of his days in quiet happiness.

PERE MARQUETTE.
Stock Makes New High in Spite of Failure of Directors to Increase Dividend—Believed To Have Been Buying By Important Interests.

BOSTON—At recent meeting of Pere Marquette directors Guy W. Currier of Boston, a director, was elected a member of the executive committee. In spite of failure of directors to increase the 4% dividend rate on the common, the stock Thursday advanced to a new high record at $14, up more than 11 points from the low of this year and over 15 points from the 1923 low. This tends to confirm belief that the rise is based on considerations other than possibilities of increased dividends.

Recession in the automobile industry has temporarily adversely influenced Pere Marquette's earnings. In April gross declined $67,569 or 16.3% compared with April, 1923, while the shrinkage in net operating income was $28,140 or 51.9%. Indications are that May will show possibly a larger decline. The automobile business is off about 25%, and Pere Marquette's freight earnings may show corresponding decrease. Although the road in the first three months of this year was earning at the annual rate of about $9 per share on the common stock, directors are unlikely to give consideration to any increase in the dividend rate until there is a market turn for the better in traffic and earnings.

There is believed to have been accumulation of Pere Marquette common by, or in behalf of, important interests, identity of whom is not disclosed. Rumors of buying by Henry Ford are not credited, neither is the rumor that Michigan Central has bought 80,000 shares taken seriously. Michigan Central is competitive with Pere Marquette and it is unlikely for that reason that purchase of control would be sanctioned. Possibilities that the Van Sweringens may become interested in Pere Marquette for the purpose of rounding out their Nickel Plate system, however, may not be so wide of the mark.

Safety First
THE STREETS, SIDEWALKS AND TRAFFIC POLICEMEN.
 Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir—I am glad to see that you have started a "Safety First" crusade and trust that you and the other newspapers will continue to keep this matter before the public until we learn how to use our streets properly and with safety. You have very rightly pointed out again the need for sidewalks, especially on LeMarchant Road!

The Municipal Council is doing excellent work this year, and Duckworth Street has never been so clean, but we want sidewalks everywhere and must keep on demanding them until we get them. Then let the traffic policemen make it their duty to compel foot passengers to keep to the sidewalks, and set the example themselves. At present it is no uncommon sight to see a body of policemen walking calmly down the centre of the road, unconscious of how difficult it may be for drivers of teams to pass them by safely. A publicity crusade would be effectual. Let placards be placed at short intervals on such streets as LeMarchant Road, Church Hill, Long's Hill and Gower Street, reading "Safety First, pedestrians keep to the sidewalks," and let the policemen see that the order is enforced. Trusting that you will continue this good work and have the support of the other newspapers and of the public, I am,
 Yours truly,
 N. S. FRASER.

Object Lessons at Seal Cove River

The Hydro-electric plant nearing completion on Seal Cove River is a centre of interest to the many motorists, who with the return of warm weather drive out along the south side of Conception Bay. The construction of the flume, which is of wood reinforced by bands of iron at close intervals, attracts much attention, but the point which should not be overlooked is that it has been built by local workmen. It is a striking testimony to the adaptability and skill of the Newfoundland labourer, and we trust, if among the visitors there are any persons who have in view operations of a similar kind, that they will make a note of the fact for future reference.

We are quite aware that the flume constructed at Deer Lake is an operation on a far more elaborate scale, but so far as the actual construction is concerned there is no difference, and it is difficult to understand why the Company considered it necessary to import labour for the purpose of building it. In connection with this motor trip another engineering undertaking calls for attention as it is not only an innovation in Newfoundland, but is one that marks a great stride in road building. We refer to the concrete bridge which spans Seal Cove River. In the past every bridge constructed was of wood, with the result that a considerable part of the road grants was expended each year in making repairs. In the concrete bridge the public have not only a permanent structure but a highly artistic one as well, and we trust that the policy will be continued until such bridges will replace every one of the old time wooden erections. The credit for the idea and the work belongs to the Government Engineer, Mr. Hall, and he is deserving of the highest congratulation.

One suggestion may not be out of place. Seal Cove Bridge is of the same width as the road. About one hundred yards further on, another concrete bridge has been erected over the flume where it crosses the road. Unfortunately it is narrow, too narrow in fact for comfort or safety, and at no considerable outlay it could be widened to correspond to the road. Possibly the matter may already be under consideration by the Company, but if not we feel certain that, in the interest of the public they will give the matter their attention.

The New Administration in Office

Already, we learn, the new Departmental Heads are putting new life into the various offices under their control. Starting first of all with a very necessary application of soap and water to the various premises, they have next turned their attention to the routine work which shows in many directions considerable room for improvement owing to the laxity of their predecessors. We are glad to learn that among other matters receiving attention is the Civil Service is the question of working hours. The difference between the time which constitutes a working day in the public offices and that which the ordinary employer requires of his staff has been frequently commented upon in the past, but no further action has been taken to alter the custom. It has always been a great inconvenience to the public, and if the Monroe Government succeeds in introducing a new time table, the result will be greater efficiency and the effecting of a considerable economy all round.

Bishop Feild-Cathedral Scholarship

As will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere in this issue two scholarships are being offered for boys for the boys of the Cathedral Choir, or boys who may be accepted for the choir between now and the 31st of July. The scholarships are for one year only, but the holder will be eligible for re-election for another year. The object of the scholarship is to encourage boys to offer their voices in the service of God, and to assist in their education. Applications will be received by the Rector of the Cathedral, up to July 31st.

Ordination at the Cathedral

Yesterday being the feast of the Blessed Trinity, the Lord Bishop of Newfoundland in his Cathedral admitted to the Diaconate Stewart Reginald Shepherd and Francis Jones, both of Queen's College, and ordained Priest Edward Percy Hiscock, B. A., University of Sheffield and of the Clergy Training School Leeds, Eng. The Bishop was assisted by three members of his Chapter, Canons Bolt, Field and Jeeves, and five others of his clergy, including the Principal of Queen's, Rev. A. T. Tulk and the Rev. J. Brinton, who acted as Chaplain. A large congregation was present and the service, which began with the traditional hymn "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty," was most impressive. The Rev. E. Munden Bishop, L.Th., Rector of Bay Roberts, preached an eloquent and uplifting sermon on the words from St. Peter's Gospel "As My Father hath sent me so send I you." Six of the Priests present took part in the solemn laying on of hands.

AWARD FOR PLAINTIFF.—The hearing of the trespass case Squires vs. Tucker, which began before Mr. Justice Kent on Saturday morning, concluded during the afternoon when judgment was given for the plaintiff who was awarded $109.00 and an injunction.

Rev. W. E. Godfrey IS DUE HERE THIS WEEK.

The Rev. William Ewart Godfrey, who was ordained yesterday (Trinity Sunday) at St. Alban's Cathedral, Toronto, by the Bishop of Toronto, is coming to St. John's immediately to join the clergy staff of St. Thomas's Church, and should arrive here this week. Mr. Godfrey is an Englishman, a native of Bristol, and with the exception of a brief period during the war when he was a Captain in the Indian Army, he has been connected with church work throughout his entire career. For a considerable period he was a voluntary worker with Dr. Griffith Thomas, Vicar of St. Paul's, Portman Square, London. When Dr. Thomas became Principal of Wycliffe Hall, Oxford, Mr. Godfrey remained as lay assistant with his successor at St. Paul's, Dr. Stuart Holden, undergoing preliminary training for missionary work which he later completed by a course at the Missionary Training College, Glasgow. In 1913 he proceeded to India under the Central Asia Mission in conjunction with the Church Missionary Society, and was stationed on the Afghan Border, in the North West Frontier Provinces. After the outbreak of war his work became impossible and in 1915, at the suggestion of the Bishop of Lahore, he applied for and received a commission in the Indian Army, commanding and taking the first two Companies of the Punjab Regiment to Mesopotamia in 1916-17. Two years later, when the Punjab riots broke out, he was specially recalled by the Indian Government and appointed Special Magistrate for the District. He later received the thanks of the Government for his services and in recognition thereof retired from the army with the permanent rank of Captain. Work under the Church Missionary Society was resumed in 1921 but the following year he was obliged to leave India owing to reduction in the staff. With a view to being ordained he proceeded to Canada and entered Wycliffe College, University of Toronto, whence he has just graduated, having taken the full theological course. Mr. Godfrey has received several offers of church work on this side of the water, one being from the Dean of Montreal who desired him to join the staff of Christ Church Cathedral. The invitation from the Rector of St. Thomas's was accepted after consultation with the Rev. Clarence Moffitt and upon his advice. The new Curate is married. His wife and children are in England and will leave for St. John's by the Caronia next week.

SMU'S ISSUES A WARNING TO BAND ELECTORATE.

Speaking to a crowded meeting at the United Party Club last night, Premier Smeats in a final appeal to the Band Electorate said that he was confident that the result of the elections elsewhere on June 17 would be favorable to the Government, but the verdict of the Band was more uncertain. If the Party lost the election, it would be due to the vote the Band and in that event the Band would suffer most. He predicted a further heavy drop in the value of mining securities, stagnation and worse unemployment if the national labor pact scored a victory on Tuesday. This situation would be brought about by the cutting off of the Mosambique Native Labor supply, the imposing of additional taxation on the richer mines, and the fresh labor troubles which these acts would arouse. With reference to the Labor Government in Britain confidence would be destroyed, credit would go, and all industries would suffer in common with mining.

PREMIER MACDONALD'S CONFIDENCE.

LONDON, June 16. That Premier MacDonald remains confident in the success of the pending negotiations with France is shown in his brief reply to his constituent daughter, Isabel, an enthusiastic send off Saturday at Looe, where, at the termination of his short holiday in warmly thanking them the Premier said "I am returning to very heavy and important work. I hope that before long we will have established peace. We have had a tremendous time about it, but I think now we are just about pulling it off. I hope next week to meet the French Premier and the result I trust will complete friendship between Great Britain and France. If I can stand the long days and equally long nights that the negotiations will entail, it will be largely owing to the nice holiday we have had at Looe."

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

MEXICO'S EXPLANATION FOR CUMMINS EXPULSION.

MEXICO CITY, June 16. The Foreign Office has issued a strongly worded statement giving the reasons for the expulsion from Mexico of Herbert O. Cummins British Charge d'Affaires here. His substance is that Mr. Cummins for years has been persona non grata with the Mexican Government which accused him openly of lack of respect and courtesy and even with willfully incorrect statements to his government in reporting local incidents. According to the statement the Mexican Government twice asked Great Britain to recall Cummins, the British Government on each occasion backing their man until finally Mexico decided he must be expelled, claiming he is not a diplomat but a private person. The statement concluded by saying that Mexico is anxious to renew friendly relations with Great Britain but must have acceptable representatives here who will observe diplomatic customs.

I desire that the fullest significance be given to the appointment of General Nollet. Germany is now engaged in carrying on tactics similar to those after the Peace of Tilsit in 1807; raising a large army camouflaged by gymnastic associations. Our cabinet is animated by a kindly spirit toward Germany and we are ready to assist to the best of our ability the young German democracy, but will display merciless severity to German nationalists. We have to uphold France's rights as well as those of the democracy of world.

Forty-Five Years in the Service of the Public—The Evening Telegram

Cochrane Street S. S. Anniversary

The Anniversary services of Cochrane Street Sunday School were held under both sad and favourable circumstances yesterday—and because death had visited the home of the Superintendent, Mr. A. C. Peters, on Saturday night and taken home his only son Eric, which prevented Mr. Peters' appearance at the services; favourable on account of weather conditions permitting even the youngest child to attend and not warm enough to attract the older ones elsewhere. The morning service was conducted by Rev. D. M. Nichol, of the Congregational Church, who gave a very interesting talk to the children. One of the preacher's illustrations on happiness seemed to impress them greatly. Mr. Nichol was happy to be there and the children were equally as happy to hear him. We have no doubt that the Rev. gentleman's talk will not soon be forgotten. Mr. C. Hatcher rendered a solo very acceptably.

In the afternoon a special service was held presided over by Mr. George Primes, M.H.A. Special items were given by the Primary and Beginners' Department, readings by Ruth Frenchard and Miss Bishop, solos by Misses Helen Soper and Wylie, and the address by the pastor illustrated on a blackboard. A large congregation assembled at the Evening Service, and the singing of the hymns by the scholars led by the Church choir, certainly left an impression, while the solo "Crossing the Bar" by Fred Wylie was faultlessly rendered. The pastor, Rev. C. H. Johnson, preached a special sermon to the children which was most interesting. The thanks of the school is due to P. A. Mews, C.M.C., who trained the scholars in the singing of the hymns. Mr. Marion Lawrence, who died on May 3rd last, visited the Sunday School some years ago, in the old Church, and left a copy of the school song that was sung at two services yesterday. The words are as follows: The inner side of every cloud is bright and shining; therefore turn my clouds about and always wear them inside out to show the lining.

Newfoundlander Abroad Congratulates New Premier

Dear Sir.—Please allow me space in the paper which is dear to all Newfoundlanders abroad, The Evening Telegram, to write a few lines regarding the glorious news which has just reached us, Mr. W. S. Monroe is Premier. Well done Newfoundlanders, you have placed a man at the head of your affairs, which you can well feel proud of. His campaign must have been victorious and fine. His victory testifies to the people's confidence in him and the principles he stands for. I have been speaking to a good many Newfoundlanders the past few days, mostly outport men, and they all feel proud of their friends at home for electing Mr. Monroe as Premier. I have heard several of them say, "Well boys, we will soon be able to pack up and get back to the old sod." This will give you an idea of the feeling most Newfoundlanders have. I am safe in saying at least 80 per cent. of Newfoundlanders abroad would return if they could secure work. Several of them would have gone back to the Humber, but they received the news that it was no use to look for work there as the only thing offering was pick and shovel jobs and very small pay at that. All the jobs worth while were given to outsiders. No doubt the new Government will see to that. It such is the case, and offer better inducements to all Newfoundlanders in foreign lands to return to the land they love. They not only talk of the Humber but the other industries which are the mainstay of the country. Now Mr. Monroe, this is your chance, with the help of your able colleagues, to place Newfoundland where she once stood, on the rock of prosperity. You will then turn the tide of immigration in, not out as it has been for the past few years. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for giving this letter publication and congratulating all Newfoundlanders on their splendid choice in Mr. Monroe, to whom I also offer my heartfelt congratulations. He fought a good fight in a good cause. Long may he enjoy the trust the people have put in him.

Yours truly, NEWFOUNDLANDER ABROAD.

All Canadian Film At the Majestic

"THE STRANGER OF THE NORTH" MADE IN NOVA SCOTIA.

All-Canadian productions are rather scarce, but when they do make their appearance they certainly "set the pace" for the writer has never seen a Canadian attraction that fell flat. To-night the Majestic Theatre is screening a magnificent beautiful film entitled "The Stranger of the North," which was produced in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, which for variety of scenery has yet to be surpassed. "The Stranger of the North" has story, cast and drama as well. In short—it is a great picture. Written and directed by John W. Noble, with many successes to his credit, it is the work of an expert in every department of photoplay production, and its value from the standpoint of both exhibitor and public, is increased by the presence of Richard Travers and Ruth Dwyer. Travers, the featured player, has never done better work, nor has he ever made a more impressive performance. "The Stranger of the North" is replete with moments of comedy and tells a heart interest story liberally sprinkled with dramatic tenacity and a thrill of a great fish—some of the most sustained and terrific that has been seen on the screen in many a day. Added to the entertainment of this picture is the Violin and Singing Act by Misses Habel and McShane. These artists will appear in new and classy numbers from Jazz to Grand Opera. What is Home without a Radio Set just say "I hear you calling me" and save the cigarette Box Fronts. Closing date, Sept. 30th.

A Mean Trick

FISH CAR WHEELS RUN AWAY. On Saturday night about 8.25 the watchman at the Round House reported that a set of push car wheels, used by one of the section men had been removed from its original position, by some persons unknown, and upon being placed on the track was set in motion down the grade. The wheels apparently travelled at a great rate, as after turning the curve near the Trestle Bridge, it toppled over and rolled down on embankment, but fortunately nobody was injured. The miscreants responsible for such action should be rounded up and dealt with severely.

By Ruth Cameron.

NOT EVEN DISTANTLY ACQUAINT ED.

How astounding little we do know about ourselves. Every once in a while one gets hit in the face with that fact. I did recently, I was talking with, or rather being talked to by the most terrific talker (with perhaps one or two exceptions, whom I would like to see her meet in a Marathon talk contest) that I know. One Leads To Another. She is one of those people who is reminded, by any subject or any name, of a terrific line of reminiscences—ones leading to another so that it is seldom that a single one of them gets carried through to its conclusion. One of those people who, in case you do seize a moment when she is catching her breath to say something, simply holds the breath she has caught and jooks at you with slightly glazed, uncomprehending eyes (you notice how carefully I avoided the word "listens") until you stop and she gets a chance to talk again. Said this person: "There's one thing in life that I've learned if I haven't learned anything else, and that's that it pays to be a good listener. Joking? A million miles from it. She Might Get Fat. One of the largest women I ever knew, one of those colossal creatures whose breadth of beam in every direction is truly astounding, was talking one day about her pleasure in riding in automobiles. She doesn't own one but often hires herself driven about. "I should like to have an auto of my own," she mused, "and I think I could learn to drive it all right; but the trouble is that if I had an auto I should just go everywhere in it and never walk a step. And I am afraid I would get fat if I did." You are sure she must have been joking? If so she was one of the best actresses, as well as the "largest" woman, I ever knew. And I never saw any other indication of such genius. Alarming, Isn't It! These two striking examples of the complete absence of the gift to see ourselves as others see us but we are all of us constantly meeting with less astonishing ones. Of course in a way it's very funny to hear people make statements like these. But in another way it's far from funny. It's alarming. And I know I don't need to tell you why.

Harry Carey at the Crescent To-Night

IN HIS WHIRLWIND DRAMA, "CRASHING THRU"

Harry Carey's name on a motion picture programme always stands for hair-breadth escapes, daring adventure, fascinating romance and above all—a whole evening's entertainment. To-night, however, this popular star will be "at home" to his St. John's friends at the Crescent Theatre where he will appear in his latest and greatest starring vehicle, "Crashing Thru." This is a story of the great out-doors with thrills enough for a fifteen episode serial. Supporting Carey in the cast are Cullen Landis, Myrtle Steadman, Viola Vale, Chas Lemoyne and Donald McDonald. There will also be shown to-night another of the "Sing Them Again" series, introducing the songs you used to sing. Among the numbers contained in to-night's edition are "Silver Shaded America," "The Gold," and a number of good old Irish songs which always remain fresh in your memory. Then, again there is a comedy entitled "The Busher," that contains the most lively baseball game you have ever witnessed. See the new idea in "home runs." Take a tip from this picture and you can't go wrong—that is if you can get away with it.

A Tremendous Picture

GRAPHIC STORY IS UNFOLDED IN "ABOVE ALL LAW"

One of the most dramatic and thrilling pictures booked for this city in many a day will be shown for two days beginning to-day at the Star Movie in "Above All Law." The scenes of the picture are located in India and the theme deals with a Hindu prince who becomes jealous of his beautiful wife and in revenge, decides to destroy her alive. He sends to France for a celebrated architect who, on learning the nature of the task imposed upon him, refuses to obey orders, thereby involving himself and his fiancée, who has followed him to India, in a most thrilling and dramatic story.

Just Folks.
By EDGAR A GUEST

THE PESSIMISTIC GOLFER.
I believe in being cheerful. I'm opposed to being tearful.
And I think a laugh is better than a whine.
And I'd rather sing and whistle than go round a human thistle.
With a lot of thorns protruding from my spine.
When mirth's kettle starts to bubble, I won't add a dash of trouble.
Or spoil it with some petty tale of woe.
But I cannot help complaining when I find it always raining.
On the only day when golfing I can go.
I won't carry on my sorrows through a string of glad to-morrows.
And I won't unload my burdens in a room where the laughter ray is shining.
I won't interrupt the singing.
To poison all the gladness with my gloom.
Though I've lost my hard-earned dollar I'll not even make a "holler."
You will never guess there's hatred in my veins.
But I'll say my joy is frozen when on Wednesday's, which I've chosen for a round of golf, it regularly rains.
When good fellows meet together, I don't growl about the weather.
And I tell no hard-luck stories, though I could.
There's no sense in vainly fretting at the sort of luck we're getting.
In the end we'll find the most of it is good.
To my trouble I will buckle, and I'll meet it with a chuckle.
But I suffer doubts and pessimistic pains.
And I find my faith is shaken, when the one day I have taken for a round of golf, it regularly rains.

Halifax to Celebrate

Halifax, N.S., June 13. (By Can. Press).—A reproduction in pageant of the historic event on June 21, 1749 when Colonel Cornwallis brought his fleet of warships and transports into what became the present city of Halifax, is promised as one of the features of the Land and Aquatic carnival to be held here during the first two weeks of August of this year. The carnival will be one of varied attractions, according to the tentative program now in hand, and will mark the visit here of the British world-cruising squadron of warships and the finish of an international yacht race from New York to Halifax.

While there will be some form of amusement to suit practically every visitor's taste, it is anticipated that the pageant of Cornwallis' landing will be one that will appeal to all. Colonel, the Hon. Edward Cornwallis, as history named him on that day 175 years ago, flying his flag from his Majesty's Ship Sphinx and followed by other tall masted warships with such picturesque names as Merry Jacks, Fair Lady, and Brotherhood, dropped anchor inside McNab's Island, it is believed, on the opposite side of the harbor from what was to become the citadel city of Halifax. It was a huge fleet for that age and had breasted the summer swells of the Atlantic for long weary weeks. On board were soldiers and sailors and settlers with their families to the number of twenty-five hundred.

History describes that June as "beautiful beyond description" and the promoters of the carnival are hoping that August will bring a similar benevolence from the weather man. A liberty of nearly two months is being taken with the anniversary dates in order to make the pageant coincide with the carnival, but otherwise it is planned to make the landing as realistic as reasonably possible.

While it will not be practicable to reproduce the entire fleet, at least there will be a replica of the Sphinx for the pageant. Where the Sphinx dropped anchor 175 years ago is now the scene of piers of a monster and rather odorous oil works a miniature city in itself. But it is likely that the landing will be made on some spot along the shores of Point Pleasant Park, where the densely wooded slopes must bear the nearest likeness to the primal wilderness that greeted Cornwallis and his hardy men.

Clad in the picturesque trappings of 1749, the founder of Halifax will step ashore with his entourage and proceed to some one of the many glades that are to be found in the park, or possibly to the grounds of Dalhousie University, and there will go through the pantomime of laying the foundation of what proved to be a mighty fortress in the troublous days when Britain's dominions were being established in America.

Indians and French will be present in costumes of the old days and the various stages of the city's growth from that time to the present will probably be represented in costume and pageant at the scene of the "founding."

Throughout the carnival the spirit of commemoration of the city's natal day will be emphasized in the various entertainments and it is likely that the replica of the Sphinx will play a prominent part in all aquatic events. There will be yacht races, military tattoos, regattas, athletic displays, horse races and many other events, coupled with the celebration of Dartmouth's natal day and the unveiling of "The Cross of Sacrifice," a striking memorial placed on the headlands of Point Pleasant Park to honor Nova Scotians who died at sea during the World War.

A committee is now at work selecting those who will impersonate the historic figures in the pageant, raising funds for starting the spectacle and engaging in research work and if their plans are carried out they will turn back the pages of history nearly two centuries in the most ambitious effort that has been attempted in this city in many years.

Roguary at the Dance Halls

(By AN EX-CONVICT.)
This being a truthful story, I have to be very careful how I write it.

For instance, I have to be careful not to mention names of places or individuals. Moreover, I am not out to "shop," or divulge other people's shortcomings.
And to let the reader appreciate the full point of this story, perhaps it will not be amiss if I preface it with a few remarks concerning my own personality. An ex-crook, hitherto a well-known character in London's underworld, having abandoned all criminal practices I have taken to journalism as a profession.

Waiting to be "caught." Although I have served numerous terms of imprisonment (including one of seven years' penal servitude) for various crimes, I flatter myself that I do not carry the hall-mark of crime.

In search of adventure—as Tit-Bits Special Commissioner—I set out one night garbed in conventional evening dress, as a "mug." A "mug," in the correct language of the Underworld, denotes any man, be he millionaire or pauper, who is not of the Underworld.

I knew that there is a certain class of "night hawk" who frequent the big suburban—and provincial—dance halls. They would be indignant if one were to term them crooks. Perhaps the proper term would be "mug-catchers." Well, I thought it would be amusing and instructive if I were to give a few shocks.

I think shock number one came to the girl when she observed me producing a pound note apparently from a pocket she had only a few minutes previously convinced herself was empty.

Shock number two came simultaneously to the whole "crowd" when the door-keeper, having observed me, exclaimed, "Hallo, George! Where are you aprons from?"

It was highly amusing to me to observe the looks of consternation (or "chagrin") creep across my companions' faces when a moment afterwards I was literally welcomed with open arms by the manager of the club. In the dance hall I was immediately greeted by old acquaintances.

A Word of Warning.
Out of the corner of my eye I saw one of my party approach a small group of men in a corner of the room. To me his object was obvious. He was anxious to find out why it was that his "mug" was so well known. He must have explained the position to them, for immediately afterwards there was a burst of laughter, and my "mug-catcher" seemed to shrivel up when he—and his companions—was informed that their "mug" was an ex-criminal!

Such was my dance-hall adventure, and I relate it because it is an example of the mean trickery which is practised by crooks of a sort not only in London's dancing palaces, but also in those of the provinces. These crooks as they become known to the management, have to move, perhaps after a week or two, from one hall to another and from one town to another. And the moral of my story is—beware of the casual, kindly acquaintance.—Tit-Bits.

Such Notions

Young Newrich had spent twelve months abroad, and on his return was greeted warmly by his father, accompanied by guests.
"Well, Charlie, old boy, enjoyed yourself?" cried old Newrich, joyously. "And how you've grown!"
"Grown, father, father, grown," corrected his son, annoyed at the suppressed chuckles.
"Well, I'm blessed," replied the old man, in a surprised tone. "Run notions you pick up abroad. What

Produce and Provisions

(Trade Review).
Codfish—The outlook for the codfish this year is very hopeful and the Shore fishery is showing signs of well and very good catches are being reported each week from northern and western sections, both for hook and line. The amount of fish left over is small and is being rapidly disposed of, but there is some fish to be shipped of the catch of Fall and new bank fish caught in the early Spring is being marketed in the rest. Most of it, if not all, is being shipped to Brazil or to the West Indies. If care is taken with this year there is no reason why prices should not be obtained. The catch of cod during the week was 65,274,000 fish, of which 55,000 lbs. were shipped by scho. J. W. Miller for export, shipped by Crosbie and Co., 1,200 qts., for Barbados, by the Monroe Export Company, by S.S. Sachem 556 qts. to the United Kingdom, and 16 to other ports; by S.S. Rosalind, 400 qts. to Italy, to the West Indies and the other very exports were 64 tons cod oil, 1,987 seal skins, 7 tons salmon, 1,987 herring and the Atlantic Fishery exported from Bonavista by the steamer Froebisher 55,000 lbs. of frozen salmon to Hull, England.
Liver Oil—The latest advices from the Finnmarken fishery in the north of Norway continues to be a rich return. By telegraphic returns for the whole of Norway for June 7th: Catch 65,274,000 fish; 100,000 lbs. of salmon, 108,277 barrels of oil from livers, with a corresponding cheapness in the prices quoted here. Last week we stated that the idea was entertained that heavy European purchasing of pork would soon materialize and now there is more tangible evidence of this so that prices must soon stiffen up again. Owing to the pressure on the market of the business evident to the supplying season the pork holding here now are not large and future consignments will no doubt be of considerable volume. The imports this week were 100 bbls. by S.S. Sable I. from Halifax. The quotations on pork in the local market, wholesale, are Fat Back $24.00 per bbl., as well as S.C. Clear and Regular Plate, Bacon Pork $24.00, Ham Butt $24.50, and Spare Ribs $23.00.
Beef—Like the pork market, that are continually received that supplies are coming forward from Norway and Iceland at reduced prices. It is impossible to give any opinion at present regarding values here, but the general opinion is that it will be considerably less than last year.

Flour—There is still a good deal of activity evident in the flour market which has a strong tone and gives promise of even a firmer aspect in the future. The market showed an advance in price last week and ever since that time it has taken another upward curve, the price having advanced in the mills abroad by 65 cents the barrel. The supplying trade of the spring has accounted for most of the flour which was on the hands of dealers and the stocks held here now are very slim, we learn. It is estimated by the authorities in the United States on the subject that a winter wheat crop will be over 100,000,000 bushels short of last year and all things considered the future outlook is for higher prices, at least for the next two or three months. The imports for the week were 250 bbls. by S.S. Sable I. from Halifax and the local wholesale prices are from $6.90 to $6.95 and $7.30 per bbl., according to grade.
Pork—Business in pork still continues pretty good, the demand for the week being up to the normal for the season and some fairly large sales were effected. Prices, as far as can be learned of late, have been steadily declining for some time past and have now reached about the bottom, so that it is not unlikely that the next change in this market will be upwards. For this season up-to-date pork in the packing houses has been much lower than last year, with a corresponding cheapness in the prices quoted here. Last week we stated that the idea was entertained that heavy European purchasing of pork would soon materialize and now there is more tangible evidence of this so that prices must soon stiffen up again. Owing to the pressure on the market of the business evident to the supplying season the pork holding here now are not large and future consignments will no doubt be of considerable volume. The imports this week were 100 bbls. by S.S. Sable I. from Halifax. The quotations on pork in the local market, wholesale, are Fat Back $24.00 per bbl., as well as S.C. Clear and Regular Plate, Bacon Pork $24.00, Ham Butt $24.50, and Spare Ribs $23.00.
Beef—Like the pork market, that in pickled beef also continues more or less the activity of previous weeks and a good deal of business was done since last report. The market will be, it is likely, steady for a while to come, but the promise of the future, dealers say, is for an advance on the present prices. The imports for the week just ended were 108 bbls. by S.S. Sable I. from Halifax and the prices at present ruling, wholesale, in the local market, are as follows: Bos Flank, $24.50 per bbl., Extra Family $23.00, Bos Packet $23.00, Family Special $20.00, Beef Hams $17.50, Boneless Flanks, $20.00.

Sugar—Though it was the opinion of most people in the trade last week that sugar had reached the bottom mark as far as the prices were concerned, and though as a matter of fact an advance on 10 points had been recorded, it came more or less of a surprise to all during the week just closed to find that a big drop in prices had taken place. Refiners, as far as we can learn, are of opinion that prices must recover as they are now below cost in Cuba, but it is difficult to say, at least at this writing, when such might occur. The sugar crops of the world are only now regaining their pre-war strength after years of subsidence. It is a fact that this year marks the ninth year in which the world's production of sugar has been below the pre-war need and with the great consumption in the United States and the universal natural increase during a ten year period, it must indeed be a large crop of sugar which would not now be quickly absorbed, and the best that can be hoped for is an approximation this year to the returns of 1913-14 so that prices will not likely drop to the low point that it was at first expected they would. Only one or two small consignments were received during the week and wholesale prices quoted here for granulated are $7.75 by the bbl. and sack, and brown in 100 lb. sacks, $7.40.
Molasses—Though there were no shipments of molasses received here during the week, the market remains firm and the more or less short stocks received to date have been considerably depleted as a result of the spring supplying business, which this year was greater in volume than for several seasons past, for reasons that must be obvious. As the Trade Review has already observed, there must be, a great scarcity of this article in the not remote future primarily as a result of the shortage in the season's crop in the West Indies. Dealers say our imports are much below last year, nor are there any means of supplementing them. Even with the remission of the duty the duty is higher than last year, so that it can be surmised how much in advance it must have been if the duty were retained. One or two more cargoes may come to hand but this will not in the slightest, as far as we can learn, affect present quotations, which are 90 cents per gallon for new fancy and 80 cents for choice (new).
Tea—Like most other commodities the larger supplying business of the season has had its effect on the tea market, and the stocks imported during the fall and winter months have been considerably depleted. A rush demand caused in the Old Country by reason of the partial remission of the duty has caused an advance of about 2 cents per lb. in countries like Colombo and prices here are booked to advance also "no doubt." The reduction of duty in England amounted to 1.3 pence per lb., but as against that had weather in India has made for a poor out-turn in all districts and Ceylon teas have shown an upward tendency so that taking all these factors into consideration the possibility for a decline in tea for some time to come is not bright. The tea imported during the week amounted to 1,250 pkgs. by S.S. Sable I. The wholesale prices in this market vary according to quality from 24, 47, 60, 75, and 80 cents per pound.
Hay & Oats—The trade in both these lines, of necessity at the present season, is dull. Hay is quoted at $25.00 per ton, and oats, P.E.L. Black, sell wholesale at $3.60 per sack of 4 bushels; White 2 Feed $3.35; and Mixed, $3.30.

Miscellaneous—Among the miscellaneous imports during the week were 4,000 tons salt (per S.S. Ursula Semirs), 4,350 tons of coal, 5 cwt. butter, 170 sacks potatoes, 25 packages cheese, 75 sacks peas, 120 sacks beans, 25 cases of canned goods, 62 packages cocoa, 50 packages fruit and vegetables, 20 bbls. tar, 30 boxes of soap and by the Sable I., 20 head of horned cattle.
A Fortune in Fleas
Many strange wills and bequests have been made, but surely Nathaniel Charles Rothschild, a member of the world-famous banking firm, stands alone with his bequest to the nation of six thousand fleas.
When Rothschild died, he was making a complete inventory of his collection of fleas, in which every known species was to have its photograph, together with a full description.
In his will the banker left the whole collection to the British Museum of Natural History. The collection includes 40,000 varieties in alcohol, 20,000 duplicates, and nearly 4,000 slides for microscopes.
Officials of the Museum will tell you that this legacy is one of the most important that they have ever received.

C. L. B. Cadets

Yesterday the 1st N.R. Regiment C.L.B. Cadets, with their Old Comrades, Bishop Spencer and Girl Friendly Society Girl Guides and Ranger Companies, paraded at 2.15 p.m. and marched to the Church of England Cathedral for Divine Service. They were under command of Lt.-Col. Walter F. Rendell, C.B.E., and Captain Stick, Adjutant. Four hundred and thirty all ranks mustered. The Regimental Band, under Captain Morris and Bugle Band under Sergeant Sidney Burrill were in excellent form and provided martial music. The Colours were in charge of Lieut. Eric Jarrett. Full size decorations were worn by all ranks. Sergeant Major T. Ricketts, V.C., also paraded with Field College Company. The usual Brigade service was held in the Cathedral. The service was choral, Mr. King presiding at the organ which was very much appreciated. The Brigade was courteously received and seated by Mr. Frank E. Rendell, Peeples's Warden. The clergyman present were, Rev. Canon Jeeves, M.A., Rector, Rev. and Captain Herbert Pike and Rev. J. Brinton, Battalion Chaplain. Rev. E. M. Bishop, Rector of Bay Roberts, Company Chaplain of H. Company, was also present in the pews. The sermon was preached by Rev. Canon Jeeves from the text 4th Chapter, 2nd verse of Exodus. "And the Lord said unto him what is in thine hand, and he said a rod." The preacher appealed to all to restrain and control their passions, and by this manner increase their influence turning their weaknesses into towers of strength and their lives into real usefulness in every walk of life. The address was short, practical and to the point. After the service the parade returned to the Armoury via Gower Street, King's and Military Roads, where the Officer Commanding addressed the various units. He thanked the Old Comrades for their loyal support and presence, and extended a hearty welcome to the Girl Guides at all C.L.B. Church parades. He announced that the annual C.L.B. Outdoor Sports, managed by the Athletic Association will be held next Monday, June 23rd, at St. George's Field. The Old Comrades are requested to lend a hand, and all C.L.B. friends to make the date-to-day week. On Sunday morning, June 29th, at 9 a.m. it has been arranged to parade the C.L.B. and kindred organizations to line the streets, from Shea's wharf to Government House to honour the landing of Field Marshal Earl Haig which will take place (D.V.) at 9.30. All ex-service men, Old Comrades or others are invited to wear full size decorations and parade with the Brigade on this occasion and afterwards attend Divine Service at 11 a.m. at the Cathedral. This will be the annual commemoration service held on the nearest Sunday to Newfoundland's National Memorial Day, July 1st. "In memory of our gallant dead." The parade was then dismissed and the Girl Guides Officers marched their Companies back to their headquarters.
We were glad to welcome Rev. Andrew Tull, Rector of Portugal Cove, and Chaplain of P. C. Company to the Armoury yesterday. If possible we should like to see an officer and a squad from there join in the Sunday parade in honour of Earl Haig. All ranks of the Brigade in Newfoundland heard with profound sorrow last week of the sudden passing of our former Lt.-Col. Richard F. Goodridge. The late Colonel gave twenty-five years of devoted service to the C.L.B. He joined as second Lieutenant and was promoted step by step until he became Officer Commanding a few years ago. Colonel Goodridge gave always freely of his time and his talents to the Brigade, and was one of the most popular and devoted officers ever holding the Brigade Commission. With his widow, two sons and daughter the Brigade mourns his passing and places on record an appreciation of his past services.
This week Lt.-Col. Walter Rendell, O.C., is receiving the congratulations of the Officers and friends on the birth of a son and heir on June 13th. All ranks hope the "young Colonel" will walk in the footsteps of his daddy.
