The Lilusion Show came off in the Town Hall last night. Mr. Harcourt opened the programme with some good exhibitions of coujuring, the most amusing of which was the ring trick. He borrowed a ring and a boy from amongst the audience, letting the boy tie the ring by a ribbon to the neck of a guinea-pig, and placed the little squeaker in a box, which remained on a chair in full sight sight of his auditors; and shortly afterwards produced the animal and the ring from a bottle out of which he had given the audience sundry drinks—carefully breaking the bottle with an eld pistol in order to get at the little prisoner, and showing the box to be empty. The "dark seance" of Mr. Fay came next. Messrs. Geo. A. Bruce and Wm. Newby were nominated by the audience to go upon the platform, and shey securely tied Mr. Fay's hands and feet—Mr. Bruce paying particular attention to the exhibitor's feet. The gas was turned down, and immediately a banjo and tambourine, which had been lying on a table near Mr Fay, were heard to be violently thrummed and shaken and to move about in an erratic manner, being finally deshed on the floor. Light was turned on, and Mr. Fay's at there serenely, tied tightly as ever. This was repeated several times with variations, such as subbing the banjo with phosphorous, and having Mr. Fay's hands and head held by Messrs. Bruce and Newby. Mr. Fay also freed himself from the cords in less than a minute of darkness, and tied himself again in the same-way. His coat was taken off and puton again, his hands remaining bound. Several persons in the audience were touched by mysterious hands in the darkness, and tied himself again in the same-way. His coat was taken off and puton again, his hands remaining bound. With regard to Senator Macpherson, the Canadian Monthly says, and we recommend it to the consideration of his organs: "On his cenduct none but the merest satellite of the Government can henceforth cast any repreach. To forbid a man's protesting against a public wrong, because he is also a personal sufferer, would be to shut the gates of justice on the community. rifie loaded and fired without it. The hings lock of the breech is so grooved out that the barrel can be inspected or cleaned from the breech, so that the soldier or sportsman can clean out his rifle, both breech and barrel, without for one moment loosing its value as an effective weapon. The rifle is entirely worked by the hammer and trigger, and 30 shots at minute can be readily got off from it by skilful hands. It can be half-cocked by when necessary, and the barrel is conditionally become a structed so as to use the amunition supplied for the Martini-Henry. The barrel is also said to be of an improved construction, and to possess a considerably lower trajectory than the Henry barrel. It is rifled with seven shallow segmental groves, and the recoil of the weapon is to very slight compared to that of the Martini-Henry. It is said that the Canadian Government are about to supply the forces of the Dominion with this rifle, and if so they will have men armed with probably the most serviceable weapon yet previded for troops." orrespondence of the Globe:—

DISAGNEEARLES OF CAMP LIFE.

On Sunday, the 20th, the rain came down in torrends, and with it we were favored with a perfect hurvisane. The awakening to the Canadians on that morning was not a very pleasant one. The only safe place was on the camp bedstead. The articles of furniture and other moveshle things, including boots and shoes, showed a disposition to ramble, and nobly they fulfilled their intentions. The water ran sheut the Canadian Camp like a minature Ontario, and when our volunteers tunsed out in the morning they found that everything left loose the night before was floating about in the most-carless manner possible. However, late in the afternooa the sky cleared and the camp assumed a civilized aspect once more.

THE RAIAH OF RELETOR'S CUP.
This cup, given by the late Rajain of Kolapore, is competed for at 200, 500, and 600 yards, by one squad from Great Britain, one from the Colonies, one from India, and one from members of the Indian Gril Service, at home on leave. The only representatives on this occasion were the English and Canadians lost the cup by fifteen points. Private Eaton, who at other times has always proved a most excellent marksman, had a run of ill luck and got off the target at the 500 yards. The weather was unfavourable, a gusty wind prevailed, and thus we leave the cup given by the Eastern potentate with the English team, and 532 by the Canadians. At the short range the Canadians looked like winners, but at the longer ranges all chance was lost.

The Canadian Rifle.

The Canadian rifle, known as the Duval-Macnaughton, has been tried at Wimbledon, and has elicited marked expressions of praise from the metropolitan press. The London Post thus refers to it, and we select this opinion from a number of others:

"During the afternoon a trial was made at the 900 yards range with a new Canadian rifle, named the Daval Macnaughton. This weapon is constructed on the hinge-block principle, and somewhat resembles the Henry and Martini-Henry in appearance. Its action, however, differs considerably from both these, and externally the principal difference is that there is no long lever below, the polly lever visible being one which rises from the side of the lock, in much the seme position as that occupied by the hammer of the Snider rifle. The springs of the lock are all upon the old principles, and if any were out of order they could readily be repaired by a common blacks mith; they are, macrever, of considerable strength, and the objectionable spiral spring, one of the principal faults of the Martini-Henry, does not find a place in the lock. The extractor is of the most simple and ingenious character, being worked by a sort of double action, by which a pressure outwards is slowly given during the set of double make the martini-Henry does not find a place in the lock. CHAPTER XXX.

THE ENCAMPMENT OF THE CHEBOKEES—A JOYOUS MEETING—THE STITLE—MENT IN DANCHE.

Philip and his companions watched these preparations with feverish impatience. They regarded them as so much time wasted, which might delay their arrival at the settlement until the latter had been destroyed and its inmates massacred, when the vengeanced which would be taken would avail nothing to secure for Philip the information he destred.

Steive tried to hint to Thundercloud the necessity of hasts, but the chief would not abute one jot or tittle of the sacred warlike rites. The safety of the settlers was subordinate in his eyes to the grandeur and glory of bursting on their foes with that suddenness, fury, and power of destruction which had procured for him his name, and this was an occasion for one of his most brilliant achievements which he would not impair by a proceeding which merely had for its object the protection of the settlement. At last, however, they were ready to set out, and plunging into the gloom of the defile they followed its devious windings in the utimost silence, hardly a twig crackling under their feet as they advanced. The path, which was really long, seemed to Philip interminable. It appeared as if many precious hours had been consumed in traversing it, though actually not more than two had passed. More than once he expressed his opinion to the trapper that they had missed the way, and were not approaching the settlement at all, but Steive discountenanced this idea.

"The Injins never miss the trail," he said. "Just you have patience, Mister Weston, and we'll come right slick upon the settlement. This darned valley is as full of winding as the body of a colled serpent, but we'll come to the head at last, sure and sartin."

"Ay, but perchance too late to save Jerry," returned the youth.

"Wall, that's as it may turn out. Fate may have fixed it so, and that 'ull be a pity, but Jerry is just the man to find ways and means o' holdin' out till the last plank is broken, and if the palisade its as strong as I guess, the Chickasaws will require time to get inside it."

Steive said this more to allay his companion's anxiety then from a conviction of the truth of his words, for secretly he had fears that they might not arrive till too late. The Chickasaws he know had come with a force far greater than the settlers had strength or numbers to meet them with, and the wooden palisade which encircled the houses, however strong, could no would proclaim the termination of the defile.

At last he descried it, and that in a manner which filled him with dismay, for the first patch of sky which became visible was tinged with a lurid glare, which his practised vision natantly interpreted as the reflection of a fire. The Indians saw it likewise, and many expressive "ughs." were exchanged.

Indians saw it likewise, and many expressive "aghs" were exchanged.
All at once the defile ended, and they came into the open plain. There could be no dubiety now, for the whole sky in front was lighted up by the shifting glow of a strong and near conflagration.

Philip uttered an irrespressible cry and sprang madly forward. The Indians like-wise bounded on at full speed, and as they advanced the ruddy light penetrated in flashes between the trees, growing higher at every step, till they gained the edge of the clearing and the terrible scene was fully revealed.

The settlement was in flames, and the fearful sounds of contest came to their cars—the war whoop of the Indians and the shorts and cries of the defenders as they fought for all that was dear to them on earth.

A new paper, to be called The Union Standard, is about to be started in Thornbury by Mr. J. Farewell, late of Meaford.
The universal error as to the unheatthiness of pies, puddings and pastrie, says Hatl's Journal of Health, taking it for granted that they are well made and properly cooked, has arisen from the simple fact that we usually eat them after having made a full meal of other things. Of course, then, the stomach is oppressed by them, and if the process is repeated because that we usually eat the food, because it has been worked to death already. It would be quite as philosophical if a man has become very tired of plowing all day, and afterward by chopping If a man has become very tired of plowing all day, and afterward by chopping wood, has "worked himself out," to conclude that it was very unhealthy to chop.

Many suffer rather than take nauseou Many suffer rather than take nauseous medicines. All who suffer from coughs, colds, irritation of the bronchial tubes or tendency to consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease. The balsam is a pleasant remedy; it is a safe remedy; it is a speedy remedy; it is a remedy that cures.

A DISTINGUISHED PHYSIOLOGIST has said that Neuralgia is the cry of the hungry nerves for their special food, which is the Phosphorous contained in the blood. OUTSIDE SPORTS.

The Bostons are expected to be in Guelph about the 18th or 20th inst. We will give the date as soon as settled. A very good time for the general holiday.

The Mapir Lear pic-nic has been indefinitely postponed on account of the Kinoston club hagain changing the date of their game to that day—the 11th. The Kinoston club have now sent word that they will be here on the 11th, and not the 8th or 15th as stated in a previous issue. We hope it is settled now.

The Carpenters and Moulders are to play this afternoon—if it don't raim.

The Unions held their meeting last play this afternoon—If it don't rain.

The Unions held their meeting last night as announced. A nine has been selected, and will play with the Maria Lear to-night. Another meeting is to be held before the match.

held before the match.

A big match is on the tapis, this time the contestants being three employees of the Guelph Sewing Machine Co., three from Cossitt's, and Three from Crow's against a "whole team" from Mr. Raymond's factory. Greek is to meet Greek in this game. Give us the date, boys, when it's fixed.

when it's fixed.

There was some turning—not woodturning nor turning round — but some turning over done on the 'Linars practice ground last night by an aspirant for the championship and one of the 'leafs themselves. The seeige took place between the 1st and 2nd bases, and caused much merriment. "He that thinketh he runneth take heed lest he get toosed."

Harriston and Mount Forest clubs had a game on Monday. Harriston won 31 to 25.

The Woodstock Review speaks:—

The Woodstock Review speaks:—
"Guelph is not so much on base ball as in the olden time. The champion nine of that place got jolly well trounced in Kingston not long ago, and now Guelphites think base ball not such a wonderful game after all. The MATLE LEAY nine have had things their own way quite long enough. Let them pass to the rear. Perhaps as our Excelsions have not been particularly active in arranging matches this season it would be well for them to take a run up to Guelph and try a recounter with the "national emblems" ere they finally disappear."

The Review, man don't know any-

The Review man don't know anyong. There isn't a vacant piece of ground here 30 yards square, with roon enough left for the outfield without get-ting over a fence, but what has its club and cries of "now Geordy, to 1st," "drog on that second, there," "throw sure, Tomon that second, there," "throw sure, Tommy," are heard every night, and then at housand tongues will squeal "home," and all is silence till the next time. Our MAPLE LEAR'S have been "bossing this affair" for over three years because nobody will take 'em in hand. We hear of some good clubs coming this summer, now, and let 's hear from those Excusions alsc.—all will be glad to see them. The more the merrier.]

The Galt Shamrocks and the Daunt-LESS club of Ayr played a very close game on Saturday last in Ayr. The Shamrocks won by 2—29 to 27.

The Painters and Tavern-keepers of Ayr had a game on Monday. Paint was behind 10 runs on the 9th innings — 22

The Bachelors and Benedicts of Elora had a game in Elora last Saturday, which resulted in favor of the bachelors by a majority of 1 innings and 12 runs. The London club lost the match with Paris yesterday by seven wickets.

Cricket Match --- Guelph vs. Fergus

(Communicated).

This match was played on the Fergus ground on Friday, 1st August, and resulted in a total overthrow of Guelph's lest opponents by eight wickets and some odd runs. Messrs. Brunell, MoNamara, and Hughes played well for Fergus in the first innings. Scoring respectively some odd runs. Messrs. Brunell, MoNamara, and Hughes played well for Fergus in the first innings, scoring respectively 10, 26, and 13; but notwithstanding this very good example, the remnant, counting extras, tallied but 22. All told, 71. Guelph cautious and steady (but playing against hard luck) soon raised the telegraph to 75, heading by 4 runs on the first innings,—Messrs. Evett, Chadwick, and Lightfoot counting 33 for the good cause. Guelph, ever ready on a fair game, sent their opponents to the wickets, and by dint of good play succeeded in disenfranchising these festive flowers of this beautifully situated but almost sequistered little hamlet of Fergus, for but 20 runs on their second journey. This is the result of crafty bowling and a nimble field. Guelph now bloomed freely, and in spite of some misortunes soon figured up the required number of runs. Considering our representatives had but ten men all told wherewith to oppose a foreign team, composed of some good players, exclusive of Mr. Brunell, we take this opportunity of congratulatulating the cricketers of this town who have never yet been defeated.

ODE TO THE CRICKETERS.
With might we do the willow wield,
Compelling all to quickly yield;
Triumphantly may you declare,
For Guelph you will this pleasure share.

What team, what team, shall be the next, By these lines may they not be vexed; But nobly rise to try the go, Opposed to yeas cricket foe.

Take heed, take heed, of Ottawa, Look not ye on with stately awe, But rise and practice one and all, And prove your right to the champion ball.

By an inamorata of one of our crick-eters. What more is possible to awake a lively interest in this noble sport than the good wishes of the ladies?

Tron in the Blood New Confectionery Store

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Pervisian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily algested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "athousand its," simply by Toming up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enviched and vividized blood permeales every, "rt of the body, repairing dama, "s and waste, searching out northing for disease to feed upon. This is the secret of "n conderful success of the remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrheea, Boils, Nervous Affections, rhea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a triat.

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever in-troduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it sel-dom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup. Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side,

Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
