There is a wide difference between FULTON'S first steamboat, and the "last word" in Ocean liners, the "MAURETANIA"—the difference represents the accumulative experience of a century.

We supplied your Grandfather so we should know. Besides the choice tobaccos grown, Davis' put into their "PERFECTION" Cigar, the experience of OVER HALF A CENTURY with the result that "PERFECTION" is the "last word" in Cigars.

It is mild and mellow, and is a revelation in the art of blending choice tobaccos.

Fashion Hints for Times Readers

THE LINING IS THE GAYEST PART OF THE COAT NOW

Mohair and pongee motor coats in their natural color have very cheerful linings of polka dotted foulard, and the foulard shows on the outside in turn back folds and breast cuffs. This coat cost but ten times as much as the lining of blue foulard dotted in white; and the thin lining which is added materially to the warmth of the coat helps to keep out the sitting dust. The hat, a new motor model for midsummer, is light and comfortable, yet its firmly over the hair. It is made of blue straw and the long blue veil, twisted in and out forms part of the trimming.

The Furnace of Gold

By PHILIP MIGHELS Author of "The Pillars of Eden," etc.

CHAPTER XXXIX—(Continued). "Why didn't you say what you wanted earlier?" he said. "Now, don't talk back. I want you to harken intently. I'm perfectly willing that Algy should waste his sweetness on the desert air of your board, willing these old regimental galooshes should continue to eat his fascinating poisons, and certainly hope he'll clear his monthly wage, but I'm going to be too busy to board in any one place, and Algy's salary would make a load I must certainly refuse to carry."

"Mrs. Dick looked at the horseman in utter disappointment. "You won't come. Maybe you mean my house ain't good enough?" "I want you to frame his answer artfully, eager as he was to foster the comfort of his three old partners, but who, wholly unwilling to accept from either Mrs. Dick or Gettysburg added: "I don't want to say nothing, but my stomach will surely be overthrown by again beholding Elia, of whose absence he was wholly unaware. "We won't go, neither," he declared. "Doggone you, Van, you know we won't go without the skipper, and you're shovin' above the other fellow's grasp, and all that," he started, "but here's the point—"

"What's all this pillow-fight about?" he demanded in a voice that all could hear. "Which one of you fellows is it that's forgotten he's a man? Who's looking for trouble with my Chinese cook and Mrs. Dick?" He boded no good to any man sufficiently hardy to argue the matter to a finish. The stackers lost heart as they faced about and found him there ready for action. "Prentiss, the hall-ganger above the scene Beth was watching all that was done. A spokesman for the lodgers found his voice. "Well, we ain't agoin' to stay in no doggone house with a chink asleep in fer a cook."

"Hey there, Algy—come out here and play with the boys." Mrs. Dick had caught sufficient breath to exclaim. "Fun!" she said. "My windows broken! My house all upset. Snakes alive, if ever I hear of that!"

Algy appeared and interrupted. "What's the matter, Van?" he said. "I got no time fool around now. Been play too much. All time play, that vally superstitious. Nobody got time to work now. The boys here wish to apologize for wasting your valuable time. In fact, they insist. Now then, boys, down on your knees, every Jack in the crowd." That gun of his had a horribly loose way of waving about to cover all the men. They slumped, rather than knelt on, their knees.

"Summat!" said Algy. "All time too much monkey fooling! My diner not get ready, Van, you savvy that? What's the matter?" Van ignored the cook, in addressing the men. "It's your earnest desire to apologize, boys, I believe," he said. "All in favor will please say Aye." "Aye!" they all cried in growlings, rumblings, and pipings. "An addressed his cook. "Do you want them to kiss you?" "All Unemal hong oy!" said Algy blasphemously. "You make me vally happy. Just come and go in with my diner. Too much monkey-doodle!" and off he went to his work, followed at once by Mrs. Dick.

"Algy's too modest," Van assured the crowd. "And none of you chaps are fit to apologize to Mrs. Dick, so they better go wash up for dinner. But don't let me hear so much as a peep about Algy from one of the bunch or Eden will turn into Hades." As the men arose to their feet sheepishly, and began to slink away, added to the spokesman, "You there with the face for pie, go up to my camp and call the boys to feed." The men disappeared. Van, left alone, was turning away when his glance was attracted to the window, up at the shade. Beth was looking down. His face turned red to the topmost rim of his ears. "The girl was pale, but radiant." "May I see you a moment, please?" she said, "before the men come in." "Certainly," Van went to front and waited at the foot of the stairs. When Beth came down he was standing in the doorway, looking off at the shade. He heard her steps upon the stairs and turned, removing his hat. For a moment Beth faced him silently, her color coming and going in rapid alternations. She had never seemed more beautiful than now, in her mood of worry and courage.

"Thank you for waiting," she said to him faintly, her heart beating wildly. "I am sure I can't tell you of anything that will help you. Now, if we are not, do you think the fault is mine?" "No, if we are not, for the struggle was great in his soul." (To be continued.)

Shortorns in Canada

The first chapter of an extended series of personal reminiscences that no stockman, and especially no shorthorn breeder, in America ought to miss, appears in the current (June 23rd) issue of the Farmer's Advocate and Home Magazine, of London, Canada, under the caption, "Honor Roll of Shortorns in Canada," from the gifted pen of the veteran live stock editor, J. C. Snell, who has himself bred and exhibited many fine cattle, whose proficiency as a breeder has long been acknowledged, and whose intimate knowledge of the breed and of the breeder's guarantees an instructive and reliable narrative. These contributions, investing breed history with the charm of personal interest, are bound to appeal widely, and the publishers anticipate an enlarged demand for the news containing them. While the regular issues of the paper are always rare value for the money to any one who wishes to keep in touch with what is best and foremost in Canadian agriculture and stock breeding, the Farmer's Advocate will be doubly prized with this special feature including, giving information of commercial value as well as of much interest.

As both the A. O. H. and Queens District Lodge I. O. G. T. will hold picnics at the Narrows on July, the executive of division No. 1, A. O. H. have been asked to furnish two speakers to the I. O. G. T. As both picnics are on the same grounds it was felt that it would be a good idea to have speakers from the A. O. H. present. James Halligan, aged 18, and Wallace McLaren, aged 15, have escaped from the Boys Industrial Home. The former is a St. John boy, and the latter comes from Moncton. They had on the regulation uniforms when they escaped. Halligan is nearly six feet tall and is dark, with long nose. The destruction of the home fly is a public duty. Almost every American State Board of Health is carrying on a crusade against him. His filthy origin and habits, and the fact that his body is generally laden with disease-producing germs, makes him one of the most common of human nuisances. If the breeders of Canada will use WILSON'S Fly Pads constantly, this pest would be tremendously reduced. Find two fans. ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE. Right side down mouth at pipe.

Woman Who Was Refused Presentation at Court of Sweden Charges Conspiracy. New York, June 28.—A big bundle of papers purporting to be the complaint in a suit for $1,000,000 damages against Theodore Roosevelt, Robert Bacon, American ambassador to France, Charles Graves, American minister to Sweden, and his wife is at the county clerk's office here awaiting disposition. The bundle was thrown into the office today by Mrs. Ida M. Van Clausen after the clerk refused to file them because of irregularities. The attempt to institute a suit for the refusal by Minister Graves to present Mrs. Von Clausen at the court of the late King Oscar of Sweden in 1907. The complaint begins: "I hereby make formal demand of the supreme court of the United States to procure me an honest lawyer to plead for justice for me if the United States of America has laws capable to protect me; if not, then the legislature must be applied to."

"I therefore file in the supreme court this complaint and institute a suit for slander, malice and revenge to receive $1,000,000. The gross insult and slander I received in Sweden, which the world has copiously, is laid directly to the foregoing conspirators." Mrs. Von Clausen has figured conspicuously in the newspapers ever since her return from Sweden. She says King Oscar gave her his photograph and invited her to visit him.

The remains of the late Robert Horne, who disappeared so mysteriously from his home in this city about sixteen years ago, and which were found a short while ago, were interred in the family lot at the Church of England cemetery yesterday afternoon. Rev. W. R. Wentworth read the prayer at the grave. The entertainment given in the school room of St. Mary's church last night, by the young people of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville, was a great success. The concert was in aid of St. Mary's Band.

DOCTORS SPEAK TO THE TEACHERS ABOUT HEALTH IN SCHOOLS

The public meeting in the Opera House in connection with the educational institute last evening was attended by many. Excellent addresses were given by Dr. J. H. Gray, Dr. G. G. Melvin and Dr. Thos. Walker, who spoke on medical inspection of the schools, and the importance of safeguarding the health of the children.

Chief Superintendent Carter presided and introduced Dr. Gray as the first speaker. The doctor emphasized the need of exercising care in cleaning the schools and guarding the children from disease.

Dr. Melvin described the methods of school inspection adopted in other countries and told how successfully the scheme had worked out. The cost of medical inspection such as this province should have would be about 15 to 25 cents a pupil.

Dr. Walker touched on some of the

CATSUP FROM GANNERY REFUSE

Use of Benzate of Soda Allows Fiithy Sweepings to be Canned and Eaten

(From Pure Food Question and Canned Goods in July Canadian Home Journal).

Tomatoes, says a high authority, are more extensively canned than all other vegetables put together—and all the canning is done in a period of six or eight weeks under high pressure. Tomatoes are also more extensively used in condiments, sauces, etc., than any other fruit or vegetable—the consumption of tomato catsup running into many millions of bottles annually. In canning tomatoes, there accumulates a great amount of waste, which, if left where it is, is no time or inclination to care for and which falls under foot disregarded—a sour, rank, and offensive mass of refuse made in a season would find its way through the sewer, if it were not for the fact that it is so often used to fatten swine, or as a food for hogs, because neither of which it is fit to be fed to human beings, with the help of benzate of soda.

It is scooped up in shovels from reeking, stinking, and filthy refuse, using long poles, pulped, and put into old, second-hand barrels that would better be left to the imagination than described and preserved against such a fate. It is safe to say that no one would eat a benzate article after seeing this material and its treatment.

Tomato catsup, prepared with pure tomato catsup, soup, Indian bean sauce, tomato catsup, soup, Indian bean sauce, 1 lb. of 1 per cent. benzate of soda, other waste products of fruit, etc., undergo similar treatment and are put to use in the same manner. Such goods are extremely profitable, being sold to the trade at only a trifle less than goods made of the raw materials.

Benzate of soda does not "conceal inferiority," but it permits disguised inferiority and the grossest fraud. Contrary to common misapprehension, published information, neither vinegar, salt, sugar nor spices will serve to take the place of benzate of soda for the purpose for which it is used. With benzate of soda present, commercial capacity is further aided by the elimination of all need for factory sanitation and care in cooking, and as much water may be left in, to further cheapen a product, as suits the convenience of its maker. Both the acid containers need to be washed and sterilization becomes a useless expense.

This statement is verified by the United States Department of Agriculture (Bulletin 119, June 1909), which says the bulk of tomato catsup is made of this material and in this way.

Those who wish to avoid the nauseating messes masquerading as pure food under the present administration of our Food Laws, should read all food labels carefully—including the fine print in which the humiliating presence of benzate of soda is announced. There are plenty of pure brands to buy.

The Young Man who anchors himself to a job, with nothing ahead that is really worth having after he's gotten it, is like a Barnacle that fastens itself on a ship's bottom and sticks there simply because it doesn't know to do anything else but stick.

SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; AT HOME AND ABROAD

John L. and Jeff Meek. Reno, Nevada, June 28—John L. Sullivan came out to Jeffries' camp again today and found the litch string out. It was a decided contrast to his experience of yesterday. James J. Corbett today greeted the old champion with a hearty handshake, and when Sullivan went into the rubbering-room, where Jeffries was stretched on a slab, the big fellow held out his hand and John L. shook warmly, saying: "Hello, young fellow, by heavens, you're looking fine. And I am strong, too," said Jeffries. Then the two former champions had an affable talk, after which Sullivan returned to Reno.

Fight Will Be Held. Tex Rickard and promoter Tex Rickard are not greatly concerned over the role he is to play on the afternoon of July 4, and he asserts that he has no misgivings whatever regarding his ability to referee the big fight. "Why, I haven't given the subject a single thought," he told a group of newspaper men. "The job will be a snap. With seasoned fighters like Jeffries and Johnson to deal with it will be the easiest thing in the world to take care of in the referee's end. I have been assured by both men that they are entirely satisfied to have me in the ring and they will give me no trouble of any kind."

The Turf. Toronto, June 28 (Special)—W. A. Hooton & Company, publishers of the Daily Racing Record, were fined $100 without costs by Magistrate Kingford in the police court this morning, as soon as the conviction was recorded. T. C. Robinson, K. C., gave notice of appeal, as he declared the whole liberty of the press was endangered.

Baseball. As a result of a clash between the Pittsburgh police and John Evers, of the Cubs, during a game, in which Evers did not play, the game was suspended. Dreyfus has decided to prefer charges against the player for insulting spectators in the grandstand.

Baseball. Manager George Stallings, of the New York Yankees, has received a communication from Lou Gehrig, the veteran catcher, at Elkhart, Ind., to the effect that he will rejoin the Yankees during this week. Criger is expected to meet the team in Philadelphia, and, although he may not be able to work behind the bat, his presence will help greatly in motivating confidence among the young pitchers.

Baseball. Ralph Good, the Colby college pitcher and outfielder, joined the Boston National League club, last week. Good recently won a training game from Bowdoin, in which he allowed only six hits. He is a native of Maine and lives in Monticello. He is 24 years old, stands 5 feet 11 inches, and weighs 175 pounds. For two years Good captained the football team at Colby, playing left half-back. Manager Fred Lake will now take the young man in hand and see what can be done with him. He regards the young collegian as very promising material. Good has been seen in St. John.

Comets in First Place. In the I. C. R. league last night, on the Every Day Club grounds the Colts downed the Creams by a score of 9 to 8. "Mia" Loholm for the winners was a puzler and had good speed. WEAK MEN THIS BELT IS FOR UNTIL YOU ARE CURED

Take my Electric Belt for what it will do for you. Wear it while you sleep, night or while you are resting after your work. You will find it a vitalizer, a tonic to your nerves, a rejuvenator of waning vitality. Use it for any ailment which drugs have failed to cure, and you will never cease praising it. I claim that I can cure weak men; that I can pump new life into worn-out bodies; that I can cure your pains and aches, limber up your joints and make you feel as frisky and vigorous as you ever did in your life. That's claiming a good deal, but I have got a good remedy and know it well enough to take all the risk if you will pay me when you are cured. No man can see on this. If the cure is worth the price, you don't have to pay for it until you get it. When you are ready to say you are a big, husky and frisky specimen of vigorous manhood, that you haven't got a sore or pain in your whole body and that you feel better than you ever did in your life, I set paid. If you can't say it after using my Belt for three months, then give me back my old Belt, and I won't ask a cent. All I ask is security, while you use it. A short time ago I took a case that I couldn't cure, and I didn't see why, as I had cured hundreds like it. Anyway, they patient returned via Express and said I hadn't done him any good. He said he thought I had treated him honestly, and wanted to pay me the cost of the Belt, because it couldn't be used again. I refused and told him that I had made a contract to cure him or rest nothing, and I wouldn't take a dollar I hadn't earned. Dear Sir—I have been wearing your Belt for four weeks, and am thankful to tell you that my indigestion is cured. JOHN V. B. POSTER, Wells, N.B. Dear Sir—I have used your Belt a little over a month, and can say that I know it has cured my Constipation. I sleep better. I expect in a month or two I will be all right. E. S. ROY, Kentville, N.S. Dear Sir—I am very glad to say that your Belt has completely cured me of my disease and given every satisfaction. I would not be without it for many times the cost. I will be glad to recommend it to any of my friends whom I know. W. SHALES, No. 284 Division Street, Kingston, Ont.

RICKARD EASY OVER REFEREE JOB

Reno, Nev., June 28—Promoter Tex Rickard is not greatly concerned over the role he is to play on the afternoon of July 4, and he asserts that he has no misgivings whatever regarding his ability to referee the big fight. "Why, I haven't given the subject a single thought," he told a group of newspaper men. "The job will be a snap. With seasoned fighters like Jeffries and Johnson to deal with it will be the easiest thing in the world to take care of in the referee's end. I have been assured by both men that they are entirely satisfied to have me in the ring and they will give me no trouble of any kind."

Preparations for the fight are nearing completion and by the end of the week probably nothing essential will remain to be done. Remarkable progress made on the construction of the arena has silenced the doubtful predictions of fans who were fearful that the structure would not be finished in time, and it has banished all doubts of there not being enough seats for the crowd expected. Great care is being exercised by the contractors against the danger of fire and three night watchmen were appointed at the beginning of the work principally for the purpose of guarding against tramps whose carelessness with lighted matches might prove disastrous. This fear of a conflagration had weighed heavily on Rickard, and last night

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

Is the way a grateful lady expresses it in the following letter:— It is from my own personal experience gained from the use of your Oxygenator that I can testify to its splendid curative power. If women only knew the value it possessed, not one would be without it. The results I have obtained from its use are most gratifying. I believe that anyone using an Oxygenator according to directions will have the same experience as I have had. Sincerely yours, MISS ANNIE WADE, Pettaucosis, May 13, 1910.

READING OF BILL TO CHANGE KING'S OATH CARRIES, 385 TO 42

As told in the Times' special London cable yesterday, Hon. Mr. Asquith introduced in the House of Commons the substitute King's oath. Mr. Asquith said the declaration proposed was: "I do solemnly and sincerely, in the presence of God, profess, testify and declare that I am a faithful member of the Protestant reformed church by law established in England, and I will, according to the true intent of the enactments to secure the Protestant succession to the throne of my realm, uphold and maintain the said enactments to the best of my powers according to law." Mr. Asquith thought those words could not give offence to Catholics, and from a Protestant point of view they carried them the whole length they required. He appealed to the house not to indulge in any acrimonious discussion until there had been an opportunity for the new declaration to be studied before the second reading. Mr. Balfour joined in the premier's appeal to defer the inevitable discussion until the second reading of the bill. He thought the change ought to be made if they could absolutely safeguard the Protestant succession, in order to remove any offence to the king's loyal subjects. John Redmond, who welcomed the bill, said the Catholics would challenge no Protestant succession to the throne. The proposed alteration would remove something which was unjust to members of other churches. The first reading carried by 385 to 42, amid much cheering.

DRUNK AND ASLEEP IN KING SQUARE, HE IS GIVEN HARD LABOR

SUGGEST A CHANGE IN PERMANENT PAVING

Talk of Giving Some Other Thoroughfare Part Designed for Water Street

There's an agitation by several citizens to have the permanent paving designed for Water street, between Duke and Prince streets, laid in some other street instead. It is argued that the street in that section has a very poor foundation, being made ground, which is always settling somewhat.

MISPEC MILL PROPOSITION TO BE TAKEN UP

Water and Sewerage Board Will Also Consider Several Recommendations By Engineer

The monthly meeting of the water and sewerage board will be held this evening, when a number of matters will be dealt with. It is stated that a proposition for leasing the Mispec pulp mill by Stetson, Collier & Co., will be considered.

The engineer has prepared a number of recommendations and these will be dealt with. He recommends that, as the City Fuel Co. has refused to supply five tons of anthracite coal for the west side, the next lowest tender be accepted; that four sewer inlets be placed in King Square at an estimated cost of $300; that the land at Mispec river, offered for sale by the heirs of Robert Power, be purchased if a clear title can be obtained; that a water main be laid in the Market road if the property owners guarantee 10 per cent of the cost; that a water pipe be laid in Summer street if Capt. McNair, guarantee 6 per cent of the cost, estimated at $300.

It reports that the extension of the water main in King street, west end, would cost $300 and the revenue derivable from it, in addition to that now received, would be $9 or 3 per cent on the outlay. Regarding the sewerage for W. D. Baskin's premises, he reports that the depth of the sewer at the corner of Charlotte and Watson streets is sufficiently low to drain the fixtures in front of the property. The water supply on Woodville road, Clifton street and Chapel street, the estimated cost would be $2,300 and the additional revenue, $102.29; the estimated cost of the water main in the reserve street laid out by W. I. Fenlon, in Lancaster, would be $700 and the revenue $44.

TWO WEDDINGS FROM ONE CITY BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENT TODAY

Macauley Bros. & Co. Employes Add to the List of June Nuptial Events

Two members of the staff of Macauley Bros. & Co. add to the list of June weddings today, Miss Finley marrying Charles M. Langley and J. Frank Brittan taking Miss Margaret B. Lord as bride.

Brittan-Lord.

The home of Wellington Lord, 42 St. James street, west end, was the scene of a pretty wedding this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, when Rev. W. R. Robinson united in marriage Miss Margaret Bartlett, Lord and James Erith Brittan. The bride is one of the most popular of the young people of the west end, and the groom is a valued member of the office staff of Macauley Bros. & Co.

The house decorations were pink and white and the room in which the ceremony was performed presented a pretty appearance. There were no attendants.

The bride's costume was of Swiss allover embroidery and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her traveling costume was of blue with tussan hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Brittan will take a honeymoon trip to Boston and New York and their return will reside at 207 Winslow street. Among the splendid array of wedding presents are a handsome cut glass punch bowl from Carlleton Union Lodge F. & A. M., of which the groom is a member, and a water set from Woodstock. The wedding will take place at 9 o'clock and immediately after the ceremony, the newly wedded couple will leave for a short trip, after which they will return to this city to reside.

The bride has been employed with Macauley Bros. & Co., and the groom continues a printing business in Canterbury street. Both have a host of friends who will wish them every happiness.

Taber-Willson.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Willson, Leonardville, on the 22nd, their daughter, Grace St. Clair, was united in marriage to Claude Stanley Taber of Woodstock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Mason.

BOARD OF TRADE SENDS OUT A "BOOM" FOLDER

The St. John board of trade has issued a very attractive new folder, showing the development of this port during the last thirteen years. The folder shows St. John's connections to all parts of the world and presents reasons why manufacturers will find it a favorable site for establishing factories.

The folders will be sent to trade journals all over the United States and Canada, and also to many of the British journals. Last year the trade papers receiving a similar folder, gave a very flattering notice, in some cases quite lengthy. It is expected that good will result from the distribution of this issue.
