PLEADS FOR BIRDS

Naturalist Says it is "Bird Murder" Shooting Under Some Conditions. Portland, Ore., Feb. 1.—(United Press)—Unless the practice of slaughtering migratory birds when lakes and rivers are frozen is not stopped, the future supply of these fowls will rapidly be diminished, according to W. L. Finley, nationally known naturalist.

There is no sport in killing them under such conditions, Finley said. "All a man has to do is to aim into the air and shoot. The birds are absolutely helpless. No matter how bad the slaughter may be, they must keep coming in wherever the ice is broken."

DEBTOR WILL PAY 50c. ON THE DOLLAR

You Can Eat Anything You Like And Not Have HEARTBURN

In all cases of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by a disturbed appetite, as when too much food is taken into the stomach it is liable to ferment and become extremely sour, vomiting occurs, and what is thrown up is generally sour and bitter. When you are in this condition you will find that Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will give you relief right away. Mr. Joseph H. MacDonald, Christmas Island, N. S., writes: "Two years ago I suffered all the time from heartburn. I took one vial of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have never been troubled since. It is very nice to be able to eat anything you like and not have heartburn any more." Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all druggists or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist. The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema and soreness is soothed. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching, oozing, or discharge. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up. A small jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

HOME MADE COUGH MIXTURE CONSIDERED BEST

Spreads Over Membrane, Soothes, Heals and Stops Cough Almost Instantly—Costs But a Trifle. Make your own cough syrup in two minutes at home if you want the best. Simple coughs, or stubborn coughs, it doesn't matter which, this home made mixture will stop them quicker than any expensive cough syrup you can buy ready made. It's fine for chest colds too and for acute nasal catarrh. Get from any druggist one ounce of Permin (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one half pint—that's all there is to it, and children like it. Like a soothing, healing poultice one easily substance in this home made cough mixture spreads itself completely over the membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn hangover cough to cease almost instantly. No ordinary slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient. And remember—any remedy that overcomes catarrh, partially or wholly is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head noise and catarrhal deafness. Get Permin and get better.

Wonderful Guarantee! Of Over a Million Bottles of Carnol Sold, Only Four Have Been Returned

If you will read the second to last paragraph of the circular which accompanies every bottle of Carnol, you will notice the following guarantee: "If, after taking your first bottle of Carnol, according to directions, you find that it has not helped you, that its action is not already recognizable, and you can say so sincerely, take back the empty (or partly empty) bottle, and get your money back. Remember we refund the druggist the purchase price—he loses nothing." Do you think the manufacturers would make this guarantee if they did not know that Carnol possessed properties of unusual merit? But, would it be fair to say that Carnol does not possess merit when, out of a million bottles sold, only four were returned? If the other bottles sold had not proved beneficial, they also would have been returned. These four bottles were returned and the money refunded without question, the only explanation being that Carnol had not given relief. As disease is of slow growth it naturally takes time for any medicine to eradicate it. To get the full benefit of Carnol it is clearly stated in the circular that you should take a "Course of Carnol" although many people have been greatly benefited after taking one or two bottles. Perhaps the reason why these people didn't benefit by taking Carnol was because they did not take enough of it—besides it is not claimed for Carnol that it will do the impossible.

HOME REMEDIES OF OUR ANCESTORS

Almost every man and woman in America's youth remember the botanic recipes of our mothers and grandmothers for the treatment of disease, and they were wonderfully stored away in the attic thoroughwort, pennyroyal, catnip, sage, wormwood, rue, etc., for treating ills of the family during the winter months that followed. In 1873, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was first prepared from one of these botanic recipes, and the demand for it has increased to such an extent that hundreds of tons of roots and herbs are now used annually in its preparation. It has recently been proved that 98 out of every 100 women who try it have been benefited by its use, which is a marvelous record for any medicine to hold.

Pope Strikes a Medal For K. C.

New Haven, Feb. 1.—For the first time in history, the Pope has ordered struck a commemorative medal in honor of an American organization. Mgr. F. Borgognini Duca of the Vatican State Department at Rome, in a letter to the National Headquarters of the Knights of Columbus here, states that Pope XI. has ordered a limited number of silver medals to be struck and that the Holy Father himself has dedicated the inscription, which reads in translation: "The Knights of Columbus with their own money, so that they may fulfill the wishes of Pope Pius XI. P. M., for the Christian instruction of Roman youth, A. D., 1924." The inscription refers to the $1,000,000 American welfare work being conducted by the K. of C. in Rome under the auspices of the Vatican. The observe of the medal, which will be designed by a noted Italian artist, will show Pope Pius XI. in his tiara and the reverse side will be a portrait of the K. of C. Gymnasium and Playground recently donated by the Pope.

COL. BROWN AND WIFE RETURNING

St. Stephen, Jan. 31.—(Special)—A telegram has been received by His Honor Lieut.-Governor Todd from Lieut.-Colonel J. C. Brown, who with Mrs. Brown arrived at Vancouver on Tuesday. The McLoughlin family people are fortunate in having large show rooms, both on the ground floor and the first floor, which are connected by a nice easy stairway. The show rooms will be decorated for the occasion. Red Rose Orange Pekoe tea will be served from 4 to 6 o'clock and 9 to 10 o'clock, and Black's orchestra will furnish the music. The lineup of motor cars at this display is really a complete show in itself, comprising the entire line of McLoughlin cars, numbering over fifteen different models. Attendants will explain in detail the construction and operation of the motor mechanism, the four wheel brakes and other special features of the 1924 models; and even those who are not contemplating the purchase of a car would be well repaid in visiting this display.

A Quick Relief for Headache

A headache is frequently caused by badly digested food; the gases and acids resulting therefrom are absorbed by the blood, which in turn irritates the nerves and causes painful symptoms called headaches, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc. 15 to 30 drops of Mother Selge's Syrup will correct faulty digestion and afford relief.

BACKACHES

SPECIAL MOTOR SHOW

On another page will be found the announcement of a motor car show being put on by the McLoughlin Motor Car Co., Ltd. in their spacious show rooms on Union Street. This is rather unique in St. John inasmuch as tea will be served during the afternoons and evenings, and there will be music in the evening. This arrangement has been carried out very successfully in some of the larger cities in Canada where they have large show rooms and proper facilities for doing it. The McLoughlin people are fortunate in having large show rooms, both on the ground floor and the first floor, which are connected by a nice easy stairway. The show rooms will be decorated for the occasion. Red Rose Orange Pekoe tea will be served from 4 to 6 o'clock and 9 to 10 o'clock, and Black's orchestra will furnish the music. PEACE IN IRELAND

The announcement that President Cosgrave and Sir James Craig are in London for a friendly conference over the adjustment of the boundary between the Irish Free State and Ulster marks another milestone beside the road toward a united Ireland. The old animosities are not to be overcome in a brief period, for they are largely religious, and therefore deep-seated, but now that there is no longer a controversy between Ireland and Great Britain, the best minds north and south may be concentrated on the subject of domestic relations. Ireland's problems must be solved by Irishmen, and so long as there is bitterness between the north and south the progress of both will be retarded. None realize this more keenly than President Cosgrave and Sir James Craig. It is therefore a cause of general satisfaction among the friends of Ireland that these two meet in the friendly atmosphere of London, with a mutual desire to remove causes of dispute. The Free State Government lately decided to float at home a large loan necessary to carry on successfully the administration of affairs, and it has been well received by the business community. There is great hope for the future of all Ireland. The genius of her people can now find expression in the work of establishing national prosperity, unhampered by the agitators—whose influence has been destroyed.

CLEVELAND'S EXPERIMENT

It was said by somebody in the course of the recent discussion in this city of forms of civic government that the city of Cleveland already regretted the adoption of the council-manager form. In reply it was pointed out that as the plan has only been in effect since Jan. 7, there could hardly be any reason as yet for adverse criticism. A New York despatch offers this comment: "Satisfaction with the way Cleveland, Ohio, is getting started under its new model city charter is being expressed among the municipal reformers here in the National Municipal League. The League is deeply interested in Cleveland's new experiment for the new charter follows the League's own 'model charter' to the utmost letter and was established in Cleveland at the instance of the League's traveling charter consultant, Dr. A. R. Hatton. The same Dr. Hatton after drafting the charter and campaigning successfully for its adoption, demonstrated his practicability by getting himself elected to membership in the new council of the city against the opposition of both political parties at a cost of only $46.00 for campaign expenses."

Dr. Hatton's success was made possible by proportional representation, which put the old political party machines at a complete disadvantage. The New York despatch says: "In November the proportional representation feature worked smoothly and produced a council of twenty-five members of somewhat higher quality and very much greater independence of political bias than has been usual in Cleveland. Being the first trial, it was not fully realized that the new non-partisan election arrangements made it possible for independents like Hatton to nominate themselves by petition and get elected without the support of either political machine. There are many leading men of Cleveland in labor and business as well as political circles, who had sufficient personal following to have done just what Hatton did. Miss Marie Wing, a settlement worker well known in certain districts, found it easy to get elected, and so did Peter Witt, a lively radical of the Tom Johnson school. There were five such cases, and there could have been more if the opportunity of running effectively without party endorsement had been more widely foreseen. The stronger men among those who did receive the endorsement of the Republican or Democratic machines have discovered that they are very little in debt to the machine, and could probably have been elected without machine endorsement." Cleveland is a large city and has chosen to have a fairly large council, though not as large as that of Toronto. The Cleveland council had no difficulty in finding a city manager without going abroad in the search. He got twenty-four of the twenty-five votes, and his salary is $25,000. His name is William R. Hopkins, and the Municipal League says of him: "It is significant that he is a man to whom this salary was no inducement, and before he was chosen he issued an interview saying that he would make all appointments on merit and without regard to political affiliations. He is a self-made man of 54, who left the rolling mills to work his way through Western Reserve University and the law school. While in law school he served one term as a member of the city council and

Press Comment

AN UNREPEALABLE RECORD

(Halifax Herald.)

Nova Scotia may not always be a leader. But it is first in some matters. According to a recent publication of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association it is first in death rate. Not very long since we gave some information of a startling character taken from "The X-Ray," official publication of the Nova Scotia Sanatorium. That authority gave out the information that there are now in this province deemed to die more than seven hundred persons who are victims of tuberculosis. The Canadian Tuberculosis Association states that the death rate of this province in 1922 from the dreaded disease was 132 per 100,000. Next to Nova Scotia was Prince Edward Island with 127. Next was Quebec with 121. And next was New Brunswick with 107. The Maritimes lead the field—but we can hardly be proud of our leading. British Columbia's rate is only 74. Ontario is down to 66. Manitoba is 60. Alberta is 54. Saskatchewan takes highest honors with a rate of 44.

The drain which the disease is making on Maritime life is appalling. The loss of human material is largely due to negligence on the part of the people who are affected, and their friends. The disease is allowed to make headway from the stages in which it is curable. Much of knowledge is responsible in part for this state of affairs. Sheer neglect of precautionary measures is also responsible. We are all responsible in part for not making greater efforts to provide knowledge and means of preventing the spread of the disease.

ARE PRIZE WINNERS AT TEA DRAWING

The report has come in from the sale of tickets for the various drawings at the supper and sale at St. Patrick's Hall, West St. John, when the Church of the Assumption held its high tea in November. The prizes and winners were as follows: Motor engine, Susie Gallagher, Sea street; bag of sugar, N. E. Nowlan, Dufferin Row; electric iron, H. Taylor, 238 Watson street; mahogany candlesticks, T. Mitchell, 226 Rodney street; piece of fancy work, Jean Cormier, 96 Woodville Row; thermos bottle, F. H. Quilty, 23 Beconsfield avenue. Mrs. Thomas Morrisey, of West St. John, was convener for the successful event.

FLOWER MEMORIES.

I have a little garden in my heart Made of the days which have been spent with you, Each a flower memory of rose or blue. At thought of which the sudden tear drops start; And yet these tears are of my flowers a part. For they are like the tender touch of dew Which falls on other blossoms to renew Their strength for later hours when sunbeams dart.

My flowers are in blossom all the year. And I may pluck them even in the snow. As long as I remember those glad days— Those golden days of all my life most dear, The lessons in my heart will bud and grow And gleam like tiny lights along dark ways. —Elizabeth Scollard.

EDUCATIONAL NIGHT AT TELEPHONE CO.

Educational night has become a monthly event during the winter season at the New Brunswick Telephone Company, Ltd., Assembly rooms in their building in Prince William street. Last evening the function was made interesting by a programme following the class in First Aid, which was conducted by Dr. G. G. Corbet. Much praise was given the outside friends who sang or played. They were Mrs. George Bell, soprano soloist; Mrs. H. H. MacMichael, violinist and Mrs. T. J. Gunn, accompanist. A. C. Smith sang two pleasing tenor numbers. Miss A. Taylor, chief operator, gave an excellent talk on "Telephone Operating, past and present." Regret was expressed that Howard Robinson, general manager, was unable to be present and give his address on "Our Company's History." C. A. WAS GOOD YEAR FOR WOMEN'S COUNCIL

Reports for 1923 Submitted at Annual Meeting This Afternoon.

The postponed annual meeting of the Local Council of Women is being held this afternoon and evening at the Board of Trade rooms.

Finances The report of the treasurer, Miss Alice Estey, showed total receipts of $8,801.31, of which $4,430.95 was in the general fund and $2,370.65 in the milk fund.

Review of Work Mrs. N. Irene Peck, corresponding secretary, in her report referred to the fact that there were 35 affiliated societies in the council, with 30 standing committees and 35 life members.

Other undertakings in which the affiliated societies had participated included tag days for the War Memorial Fund, the Health Centre and Salvation Army.

The council heard several interesting speeches on various subjects. Miss Fleet, recently appointed inspector of widows and dependent mothers of soldiers in the Maritime Provinces, made a direct demand for the council's consideration of a maternity hospital or wing.

value of properly pasteurized milk and gave a description of the pasteurization process. Dr. H. A. Harding of Detroit explained the properties of pasteurized milk and assured the council that the work was being carried out properly.

Mrs. H. P. Newcombe addressed the members on the work of the Women's Council in Saskatchewan and A. M. Belding made an appeal for assistance for the Children's Aid.

Mrs. James F. Robertson explained the work of the Travelers' Aid and Mrs. Harold Lawrence, national convener for immigration, spoke on matters connected with her work and asked the appointment of a committee interested in immigration.

The council passed a resolution endorsing the action of the G. W. V. A. urging that the recommendation of the Royal Commission be put in force affecting returned men, and forwarded it to the National Council.

Resolutions submitted by the National Council and endorsed included those regarding manufacture of mattresses, etc.; conditions on isolated farms and in community life; duplication in office; educational matters in the province—no action taken.

The council was represented at the National Council meeting in Halifax in Halifax in June by six delegates who brought back enthusiastic reports.

Resignations The council experienced an epidemic of resignations. Early in the year Mrs. W. B. Tennant, convener of the Free Milk Fund, tendered her resignation, but was finally persuaded to continue.

On September 28 Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, who had been president for seven years, felt obliged to resign and her retirement was regretfully accepted.

The council heard several interesting speeches on various subjects. Miss Fleet, recently appointed inspector of widows and dependent mothers of soldiers in the Maritime Provinces, made a direct demand for the council's consideration of a maternity hospital or wing.

W. Estey was unanimously chosen as president. A reception was tendered to Mrs. Smith and an illuminated address presented at the meeting.

The council participated with five other councils in making Mrs. David McLellan an honorary life member of the National Council.

The council's sympathy was extended to several bereaved members and best wishes for speedy recovery was extended to several afflicted by illness.

The council wishes to express its appreciation to R. E. Armstrong and Miss Maud Magee for many favors and for the use of the rooms of the Board of Trade for meeting purposes.

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS. A correspondent writes:— "Seeing so many cases of kindness to animals taken notice of in your paper, I would like to tell of a case that came to my notice one day last week.

There are lots of people here who are neither very well nor very sick, but who never really feel their best at this time of the year. And the trouble, in the majority of cases, is due to the sluggishness of one vital organ.

This organ is your liver! When working properly it aids digestion, prevents constipation and purifies your blood. When it is clogged up with impurities, it cannot do these three things until it is properly cleansed and toned.

SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL ELECTS

Very Rev. Dean Tucker is Again President—Session Ends.

That the Dominion Social Service Council's seventeenth annual meeting which closed last night had been a truly great convention was the opinion of Very Rev. Dean L. N. Tucker, of London, Ont., president, and the general belief of those present.

Three sessions were held yesterday. In the morning and afternoon a great deal of business was transacted. The council re-elected Dean Tucker president and appointed its various officers and heard memorable addresses on the final day.

Many Resolutions Passed. Many resolutions were passed at the meeting. These included matters pertaining to immigration and emigration, alleviation of unemployment, more generous treatment of disabled soldiers, more strict supervision of marriages, compulsory treatment of drug addicts, instruction of children in social hygiene by their parents, the appointment of a censor board for a special type of literature and provincial action for maternity care.

Among the resolutions was one of hearty congratulation for the Province of New Brunswick on having been the first to establish a Ministry of Health and on having been able in three years to reduce its infant death rate materially. The bringing of the matter of a uniform basis for nationality within the Empire before the next Imperial Conference was urged by the council.

Officers Elected. The election of officers resulted as follows: Honorary presidents, Most Rev. S. P. Matheson, D. D., L.L. D.; Chester D. Massey and Mrs. W. E. Sanford, Halifax, N.S.; president, Very Rev. Dean L. Tucker, M. A., D. C. L.; general secretary, Rev. Dr. J. G. Shearer, assistant secretary, Miss Elizabeth McCallum, M. A.; recording secretary, Rev. McAvity and McInerney Address Gathering of Returned Soldiers. A largely attended meeting of veterans of the Great War enthusiastically endorsed the candidature of Lieut.-Colonel Ronald A. McAvity for Mayor and Ralph G. McInerney for commissioner when these two war veterans addressed the former service men last evening in the Great War Veterans' hall.

At the conclusion of the meeting the following resolution was unanimously passed: "Resolved, that we as a body of returned soldiers, representative of the returned soldiers of the city, endorse the candidature of Comrade Ronald A. McAvity for Mayor and Comrade Ralph G. McInerney for commissioner; that we stand behind them and in their campaign actively support them."

Charges Opportunism. Herbert Phillips, the spokesman of the United Organizations as he termed himself, was the first speaker. In an interesting address Mr. Phillips outlined the events which led up to the two candidates offering themselves for City Hall. Being connected with the United Organizations, he said, he had encountered the same difficulty as had many others in getting an opportunity to express their views at City Hall. It was hard to convince the incumbents of the office, he said, by any argument whatsoever to do anything which would result in a benefit to the city, while on the other hand it was an easy matter for certain large corporations to make themselves heard.

Wants to Find Cause. Ralph G. McInerney, candidate for commissioner, spoke briefly, asking the support of the returned soldiers so that the ideals for which they fought might not die; that they might be incorporated into the civic life of the city and make it a bigger and better place in which to live.

Pledged to Economy. In opening his address Lieut.-Colonel McAvity said that he was not going to defend his war record against the numerous rumors which were being circulated against it, but he invited anyone who entertained doubts as to his record to go to military headquarters, and there see it for himself.

He promised a revision of the tax law, assuring the meeting that there would be a better distribution of taxes in the future. He proposed to inaugurate a new system in the collection of taxes. Under the new system, he said, the payment of the taxes would be made less of a burden. The taxes would be collected on the easy

THE POISONED GIRL

BEVILL HERE TODAY

A novelist, seeking nocturnal adventures, finds a girl in evening dress in Grosvenor Square, London. The girl informs him that she has taken poison and wants to die. To all his pleadings she answers "Go away." He asks a strange man to help him to take the girl to Middlesex Hospital.

On the way to the hospital the girl fights to jump from the cab. Call it at the hospital early the next morning he finds the girl conscious and is assured of her recovery by the nurse in charge.

The girl says she is Lady Grace Target of 210 Grosvenor Square and that her father is the Marquis of Grosvenor. She says she has quarreled with her lover, Carlo Sciarlati, pianist.

The novelist follows Carlo to Hotel Europe, Brussels, and begs him to return to his sweetheart. Sciarlati says he has been married for several years to Jeanne Darbot. He says Jeanne disappeared so Mr. George goes to the district of Chartres, France, the land of her birth, to hunt for her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Chartres seems to be full of music mistresses, and not one of this is called Darbot. Inquiries at hotels, postoffice and police station, revealed no Darbots of any kind, musical or otherwise. Then I decided to advertise, and enlisted the happy periods of waiting by regular visits to the cathedral; this was the only possible amusement, together with sweet sirups in cafes. If I had not received a grateful letter from Lady Grace, I should have taken to liquor stronger than sweet sirups.

My advertisements for music lessons yielded a number of replies, not one signed Darbot. I realized that Madame Sciarlati, presumably reverting to the name of Darbot, might have chosen another city, that Chartres was perhaps not her home town. Thus you will picture me at Chateaudun, at Chateaudun, at Chateaudun—I don't know what, raising amusement everywhere by my passionate interest in music mistresses. I found some, more and more of them. Completely demoralized, I began to call on them, some were red-haired, and some were fine. But no Darbot!

At last, having spent a month on this melancholy quest, writing daily to Lady Grace to keep up my courage, I arrived at Dreux, a small town, where the hotel informed me, to my great relief, that there was only one music mistress in the town. Carried away by habit, I went to see her. She was fine, as Sciarlati had said, too fine. But her hair was black, and her name, alas, was Madame Bordat. I was in such a state that I took an elementary lesson in harmony and left the town.

It was in the train that my anemic fancy began to play with this visit, and that suddenly I saw the implication of unjust. Perhaps you are right, I will let bygones be bygones and return to my husband's arms." Then, as if moved by an afterthought, she said: "You will understand, Monsieur, that I am relying on your word. You tell me that you have a message from my husband, but you do not bring even a letter from him. You ask me to take an expensive journey to England. I think the journey should be paid for."

"Oh, of course," I said. "I'll wire this minute, and you'll have the money tomorrow morning."

"I found myself strangely popular in Lord Goswyn's house. Indeed I found the situation slightly altered. Sciarlati called daily and was allowed the society of Lady Grace, but she seemed to find equal pleasure in mine. Her gratitude was touching; by degrees I became her familiar friend, to whom she liked to talk of perils past and joys to come. With Sciarlati it was different; he used to take me into corners, ravel his hair, beg me to say how long this was going on, what was going to happen, and when I would produce his wife. I was malicious enough to refuse information. As for the marquis, he was pathetic; he confided to me that his daughter must be crazy, and so persistently asked me whether I couldn't do something to stop it that I became suspicious. Indeed, one evening, when I had dined there alone, he drank three or four glasses of port, looked upon me benevolently, and remarked: "Ah, if only this hadn't happened! She might have married an Englishman."

In other words, my position was unsatisfactory. I was confronting the girl I loved, and who insisted upon being grateful to a man to whom I was doing a good turn, and who was most ungrateful; a father who was hinting to me that I should do something I wanted to do, but could not. And still I dared do nothing. The wedding was fixed for six weeks hence; pleasurable excitement was stirring in the breast of only one player in the comedy.

Perhaps, however, Lady Grace was not as happy as she ought to have been at such a season. She seemed preoccupied. Now and then I found her eyes resting upon me with a peculiar expression. When we were alone she would occasionally leave a sigh. Once she even remarked that it would have been better if I had let her die in Grosvenor Square.

"But why?" I asked. "Haven't you got your heart's desire?"

"I suppose so," she replied. "Nothing more was said, but our companionship grew more continuous, more intimate, more confident. This was assisted by the fact that Lady Grace played tennis and golf with ferocity, while Sciarlati played the piano. Meanwhile, in spite of letters and telegrams, Madame Sciarlati was making difficulties, suggesting that Sciarlati should come to her. It took me some time to realize that the key to her heart was made of gold; I made Sciarlati promise her £500 on arrival; she fixed her journey so as to arrive on the eve of the wedding. My tender friendship with Lady Grace developed day by day. But I was not prepared for a fact which I put down to natural excitement; on the eve of the wedding Lady Grace burst into tears, and rushed away from me, refusing to speak. This was just before dinner. But she recovered, as women do. Later on, as it was a soft night, I saw her with Sciarlati make for the terrace which overlooks the grounds of Goswyn House. I do not suppose he enjoyed it, since he knew what was going to happen. It was agonizing, but I looked at my watch; only five minutes to go. I went downstairs. As the clock struck ten I met Madame Sciarlati, who insisted on counting the five hundred pounds. At last I ushered her up the stairs, then upon the terrace where the couple were standing looking up toward the moon.

"Lady Grace," I murmured, and they turned round.

"Jeanne!" cried Sciarlati. Then, on a changed note: "Marguerite! what are you doing here?"

RUMMAGE SALE NEWS—SECOND DAY—THE SALE WAS POSTPONED ANOTHER DAY UNTIL SOME ONE COULD BE FOUND WHO WAS ABLE TO MAKE THE HEATING STOVE DRAW—

"What's this?" screamed Lady Grace, as Sciarlati reeled against the coping. Sciarlati turned to me savagely: "This is not my wife. It's her sister Marguerite."

Madame Bordat giggled: "Yes, Carlo, I don't know where Jeanne is, but I thought I'd get out of you a little of the money you owe to your miserable wife."

Lady Grace gave a muffled cry and fell fainting into my arms. A little later, when she had recovered, I murmured: "And now, are you going to kill yourself?"

"Oh," she murmured, as she clung to my arm: "I am so happy."

"What!" I said. "Have you already forgotten Carlo?"

"Don't mention him again," she said, with a shudder. "It was only going through with it because I had given my word."

"I wonder," I asked, "whether you prefer someone else?" She laughed low, and that was all her reply. But, about an hour later, just before we went into the drawing-room, she asked me to tell her the whole story, which I did. When I had finished, she looked up to me with wet eyes, and

HYGIENE OF THE TEETH. Poor hygiene of the teeth is responsible for more disastrous consequences than we are usually pleased to admit. Mouth breathing, which is sure to follow obstruction of the nasal passages, is one of the earliest developed teeth are often seen in the mouths of children suffering from scurvy or rickets disease and also in those suffering from congenital syphilis. Do your best for your children's teeth. Give them a hygienic mouth, if you value their success in life. Remember that proper diet is important in teeth forming and development. It has been pointed out by leading dentists that the teeth that are the least called upon for propretation are often the worst in structure. Use the proper carbohydrates and have strong, healthy teeth.

A WARM RIDDLE

"Ho, Ho, Misses Cross Patch," said the Riddle Lady next day. "Here is a riddle for you to guess. It's the place where you like to sit and spin. But I never like to have company in the piece about you says."

"I'm glad you don't," answered Misses Cross Patch gratefully. "For really I just love to have company in to tea. I never drink it up and then ask in the neighbors. But what is the riddle?"

"Here it is!" said the Riddle Lady: "Crackie! Crackie! What am I? Winking with my cheery eye, beckoning you to come to tea, and sup with pussy-cat and me."

"Pussy purrs the loveliest tunes in the winter afternoons. We don't bother with the weather. We love to be together."

"And the kettle—you should hear it! I just love to be so near it. Sings away down in his nose. H'm! H'm! That's how he goes!"

"If you come we'll have some toast. I make that nicely (it's my boast). As I hiss and sparkle and sputter, will you please spread on the butter?"

"Old Jack Frost just cannot bear me, but I never let him scare me, as he roars along the street, nipping kiddies' hands and feet."

"They come in out of the storm, and run to me to keep them warm. As I roar and flash and hiss, they know that it's just a kiss."

"I'm the cook's most trusted friend. I bake things for her without end. But the stove's no place for me, I love the hearth where folk have tea."

"Where pussy purrs and kettle sings, and people talk of many things, and kiddies come and warm their toes, and shake the snowflakes off their clothes."

"I can guess what it is," whispered Humpty Dumpty to Nancy. "But it's a name I don't care to mention. Something that is just as big as an egg as a stone-wall. When the Riddle Lady mentioned toast I had to groan."

How to Keep a Child Healthy

A GENERATION ago parents thought that sickness was a part of a child's life, but we know better now. The secret is in the food the mother allows the child to eat, and in watching that elimination occurs regularly two or three times a day. Mrs. W. E. Margeson, Centreville, N. S., and Mrs. Pratt, 45 Gillson Ave., Runnymede, Toronto, always keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin in the house, ready for use, and avoid many of the ills to which children are subject.

A Substitute for Physics Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a scientific compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and suitable aromatics. The formula is on every package. You will find you do not have to force children to take it, and it is much better for them than castor oil, calomel or cool-tar drugs like phenolphthalein even if covered with sugar or chocolate. Laxative Syrup Pepsin is mild and gentle in action and your child will have an easy passage without griping or strain. It does not contain narcotics, and you can give it with absolute safety to an infant at the breast. "Magic" in a Teaspoonful Every store that sells medicines sells Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. Give half a teaspoonful to any ailing baby or child at night when you put it to bed and you will find a happy, laughing youngster in the morning. Take Laxative Syrup Pepsin yourself when constipated, and give it to any member of the family young or old, for any ailment due to constipation, such as biliousness, headache, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, bad breath, cankers, fever sores, indigestion, and to break up fivers on every package. Mrs. J. F. H. Teed was hostess yesterday afternoon at her residence, 88 Summer street, for six tables of bridge, in honor of Mrs. Frank Young, of Strathmore, Alberta. The prize winners were Mrs. Herbert C. Sparling and Miss Doris deVeber. Those present were Mrs. Gordon Macdonald, Mrs. Cortland Robinson, Mrs. Philip Nasr, Mrs. E. Stanley Bridges, Mrs. R. G. Schofield, Mrs. Reginald Wright, Mrs. Gordon Snelton, Mrs. Gerald Furlong, Mrs. King Hazen, Mrs. Ronald A. McAvity, Miss Edith Schofield, Miss Doris deVeber, Miss Edith Cudlip, of New York, Mrs. Frank Macdonald, Mrs. Douglas White, Mrs. Guy Le Short, Mrs. Frank Young, Mrs. Herbert C. Sparling, Mrs. Mariner G. Teed, Mrs. A. K. Harvie, Miss Marjorie Lee, Miss Fozia Mackenzie and Mrs. Peniston Johnston. Mrs. M. G. Teed presided at the tea table, and the younger set came in for the tea hour.

Mrs. John C. Belyea, of Rothesay, was at home yesterday at the luncheon hour for Mrs. J. R. Harrison, of Windward N. S., who is the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. Morris Robinson, at the villa Hall. Covers were set for 10 and several others came in for the afternoon when bridge was played. The table was centered with spring flowers very attractively arranged. Those present were Mrs. J. Morris Robinson, Mrs. J. R. Harrison, of Windsor, Mrs. John M. Robinson, Mrs. John H. DeArce, Mrs. Belyea, Mrs. Allan G. McAvity, Mrs. Harold C. Schofield, Mrs. Heber Vroom, Miss Frances Snelton and Mrs. Charles M. Boatwick. Coming in for the afternoon to play bridge were Mrs. H. W. Frink, Mrs. P. R. L. Fairweather, and Mrs. Beverly Armstrong. Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Fairweather were the prize winners. Some of the guests went out from the city on the train, returning by motor. Mrs. Belyea served tea before the guests left for the city.

Mrs. W. Grant Smith entertained at a bridge of four tables at her residence, Princess street, yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. E. N. Williams, of England, who is visiting her sisters, Mrs. W. A. Fisher. There were roses and sweet peas artistically arranged in the rooms and rose shaded lights and candles gave a very pretty effect. Those who played bridge were Mrs. W. A. Fisher, Mrs. E. N. Williams, Mrs. Sidney Jones, Mrs. Freeman Hamm, Mrs. Harold O. Clark, Mrs. Donald Miller, Mrs. A. McAvity, Mrs. W. A. Fisher, Mrs. Howard P. Robinson, Mrs. Allan Beattie, Mrs. James M. Colton, Mrs. T. Moffat Bell, Mrs. Leslie Jones, Mrs. Kenneth Golding, Mrs. Harold O. Evans, Miss Jean Fenton. The tea guests were Mrs. Joseph Key, Mrs. John R. Gales, Mrs. Robert Langford, Mrs. E. Ernest Smith. Those who assisted in serving were Mrs. Hugh Gregory, Mrs. John McLean, Mrs. Mel Blake, Mrs. Robert Langford, Miss Marion Belyea and Miss Helen Smith. Those winning prizes were Mrs. Howard P. Robinson, Mrs. H. O. Clark, Mrs. W. A. Fisher and Mrs. Beattie. This function is one of a series of delightful events that are being given by Mrs. Smith for her many friends.

Mrs. George H. Moore was hostess at a bridge of five tables yesterday afternoon at her residence, DeMonts street, Beausfield. Daffodils and yellow candles made a pretty decoration in the rooms. Mrs. Samuel S. Elliott, Mrs. Harold Crouse and Mrs. Fred Lewis assisted Mrs. Moore at the tea hour. Those present were Mrs. David W. Puddington, Mrs. Arthur Hoyt, Mrs. J. William Hart, Mrs. James Nicholas, Mrs. W. C. Paynter, Mrs. Annie Melick, Mrs. W. J. Wetmore, Mrs. A. W. Covey, Mrs. E. B. Nixon, Mrs. George T. Polly, Mrs. W. A. STILL SEIZED;
TWO REMANDED

Large One Found in Gilbert's Lane—Three in Queens County.

Henry Brown and Louis Urdang appeared before Magistrate Henderson in the police court this morning to answer a charge of having an illicit still contrary to the provisions of the Inland Revenue Act.

Three stills were seized in Queens county recently by Excise Officer Daves. On Dec. 23 he visited O'Connell's in a shack in the woods, on the property of Stephen Starkey, found a still and a quantity of mash.

On the same day he visited the home of William Ryder, Sr., on the Queen's road, near Cole's Island, and reports discovering a quantity of spirits and part of a still.

The same day at the home of Charles Cole, about four miles from Cole's Island, reports he found a large still and a considerable quantity of mash.

The owner of the place was taken before Magistrate Vandenberg, who imposed a fine of $200.

Other Seizures. Three stills were seized in Queens county recently by Excise Officer Daves. On Dec. 23 he visited O'Connell's in a shack in the woods, on the property of Stephen Starkey, found a still and a quantity of mash.

ROTHESAY WINS TROPHY AGAIN

Cadets of Collegiate School are 1922 Victors as Marksmen.

The Rothersey Collegiate School Cadet Corps has been receiving many congratulations on their success in winning for the year 1922 the Governor-General's Challenge Trophy, which was presented to the Corps by Colonel Commandant J. Houlston, D. S. O., district officer commanding M. D. No. 7, on Monday last.

This trophy is competed for annually by cadet corps throughout the Dominion of Canada and is awarded to that corps which makes the greatest all-round effort and shows the highest training by entering successfully the largest number of teams in the Imperial Challenge Shield Competitions. The quality of the shooting of the various teams and the percentage of boys from the various corps who shoot the Imperial Challenge Trophy, which Competitions are the governing factors in the award of the trophy.

The trophy was competed for for the first time in 1921 and was won by the Rothersey corps in competition with 132 other teams. In 1922 it was awarded to the Cadet Corps of the Saskatchewan Collegiate Institute, but it was recently discovered that the returns submitted by that corps were incorrect and that the trophy had actually been won for the second time by the Rothersey Collegiate School. The trophy is made of silver, particularly in 1922, when there were 209 other teams from all over the Dominion entered.

The trophy consists of a very handsome silver cup which is now in the possession of the corps and will be held by them until the award for 1923 is made.

FORMER ST. JOHN LADY WILL JUDGE

Mrs. A. Alban Sturdee Will Officiate in Boston Dog Show.

Premium lists for the annual show of the Eastern Dog Club, Boston's most important kennel feature, have been issued. The show will be held in Mechanics' Hall on February 21, 22 and 23, as usual, two weeks after the Westminster show. Not only has the Eastern Club continued its policy of recent years of giving real cash for the exhibitor, but it also has stuck to the practice of giving a good list of judges. Mrs. A. Alban Sturdee of Albany, formerly of St. John, is to judge the Gordon setters and the Irish setters. Rev. F. J. Hooney of Staten Island is to be judge of bull terriers and Manchester terriers.

Shepherd dogs and terriers continue as popular as ever, according to a last survey made of the entries for the Westminster show, New York, during the process of tabulating them. George W. Gall, superintendent of the show, said that the race for the largest number of dogs in any breed is between the shepherds and the fox terriers.

Other members of the terrier group have done well, particularly the Scottish, but the little wire haired fox terrier is as usual way ahead of other branches of the terrier family. The shepherds were reported to be losing some of their popularity in England, but they have certainly not lost any ground in this country. The embargo against the exportation of dogs from Germany is too recent to make itself felt at this show, and there will be a number of dogs imported since the last big show, which will test their mettle against the older and better known shepherds. The entry in this breed is a fine tribute to John Gans, who will judge them, as is the fox terrier entry to F. H. Farwell, who will pass on them.

Mr. Gall said the indexing of the entries showed an unusually large number of "one dog" entries this year. That is to say, there is an uncommon number of persons entering only one dog.

At last the Welsh terrier is coming into his own. The coming Westminster show is going to see a revival of interest in this sterling class. Dr. Samuel Milbank has purchased the famous British champion Welsh terrier, Welsh Terrier Coming Back.

WINNING RINKS ARE BANQUETED

Carleton Club Members Arrived Home From Chatham With Trophy.

The Carleton Curling Club members, who succeeded in vanquishing the Chatham "knights of the broom" and walking away with the McLellan trophy returned home yesterday afternoon. They had not been expected until 5:30 and as a result they arrived home with about the same sort of welcome usually accorded a losing team. This, however, was more than made up for later when they were guests at a banquet last evening. The banquet repast was served in their club rooms and was largely attended. The members of the victorious rinks were all called upon to speak and responded. It is expected that the next game for the cup will be played here on February 6 when Amherst will seek to capture the trophy.

Brother of Jerome Will Re-enter Ring

George Doherty, younger brother of Frankie Jerome, has decided to resume boxing within two months. Jerome died several weeks ago as the result of a bout with Bud Taylor and it was expected that the younger brother would quit the ring for good. However, George has the consent of both his mother and father to remain in boxing. The parents feel that Frankie's death was an accident and should not be made an obstacle to prevent George from carrying on.

SUSPENDS MURPHY, ST. JOHN GOALER

P. J. Legge, secretary of the Maritime Province Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, issued a bulletin last evening, suspending William J. Murphy, goal keeper for the St. John Hockey Club following the decision of the St. John registration committee. Further investigation will be held within the next few days in Murphy's case and decision made as to whether his amateur card will be cancelled.

Siki Outpointed By Joe Lehman

Minneapolis, Feb. 1.—Joe Lehman, of Toledo, outpointed Battling Siki, Sencigales in their 10 round contest here last night, according to newspapermen. Lehman weighed 176½ and Siki 179½.

In the seventh round Siki, swinging a right hand punch, knocked Lehman clear across the ring and up against the ropes on the other side where the Toledo fighter hung dazed for a moment.

Lehman was jerred by the crowd in the tenth round when he slipped and as Siki attempted to help him to his feet, Lehman cut loose with rights and lefts. Siki only smiled and shook hands.

Ermio Spalla In Buenos Aires

Buenos Aires, Feb. 1.—Ermio Spalla, Italian heavyweight, arrived here from Europe yesterday aboard the steamer Pincio, appearing to be in good form for his coming match with the winner of the Firpo-Lodge fight. Spalla said he weighed 193 pounds.

PICK MORIN TO DEFEAT DUNDEE

New York, Feb. 1.—Johnny Dundee, world's featherweight champion, will temporarily drop his title regalia tonight to meet Pal Morin, New Orleans lightweight, in a fifteen-round match. Dundee's title will not be at stake, as both participants will weigh in over the junior lightweight limit of 130 pounds.

Among ring followers Morin is a favorite, due to his sensational knockout victory recently over Charlie White and Johnny Shugras. Kid Kaplin will meet Eddie Brady, Brooklyn featherweight, in the semi-final.

HOCKEY CLASSIC IN ARENA TONIGHT

Fast Fredericton Team Will Play Important Game With St. John.

The Fredericton team which will play St. John in the arena tonight is one of the best in the Province and holds the distinction of having been the only team to defeat Sussex this season. Their forward line is very fast and in Bidlake they have one of the greatest goalers this province has produced. The St. John team are satisfied however that they can defeat them as they have prepared for this game in a way that practically assures success. They have gone through a very thorough drilling and eliminated what weaknesses they had in passing and shooting.

With their stone wall goalie back in the nets and a strong wing player added to their line-up their chances for tonight are of the best. Capt. Brad Gilbert and Halley will take care of the defence with Nicholson in goal and Richard, Gregg, Kiley, J. Gilbert, Tardivel, Short and Rathburn as forwards the locals will have their best team of the season. Watling of Chatham will referee, which is a guarantee to the fans as well as the players of a well handled game.

This is the last local game in the M. A. H. A. schedule as the only other game St. John has in is Fredericton where they play next Tuesday. Gregg, who will appear on the St. John line-up for the first time this season is a fast wing man who formerly played with the Halifax Crescents. The prominence given to Canadian hockey by the wonderful showing of the Greats at the Olympics should make every red blooded Canadian feel anxious to encourage this game which is our real national sport.

VERDICT FAVORS ST. STEPHEN TEAM

Sussex, Jan. 31.—At a meeting held here of the executive of the Western Hockey League section this evening Fredericton's protest over a disputed goal at St. Stephen was disallowed on the grounds that Fredericton forfeited its right to protest as they did not complete the game as ordered by the referee. The game in dispute, which was played a few days ago in St. Stephen, ended 2 to 2. Fredericton contended that one of the St. Stephen goals did not count and refused to continue to play after time was up.

NEWS NOTES GATHERED FROM THE WORLD OF STAGE AND SCREEN

MILLIONAIRE PLAYWRIGHT WAS ONCE TELEGRAPHER IN ST. JOHN OFFICE

George Hobart was fired for Tossing Rubber at Wire Chief's Nose.

Zing! A rubber tossed playfully into the air sailed past, a fraction of an inch from the face of the wire chief of the Western Union's cable station at North Sydney, nearly dashing from that surprised and irate individual's nose his spectacles. And upon that incident, trivial though it may seem, hung the destiny of one of the most successful playwrights in North America today, a man who is reputed to have made more than a million dollars in the creation of successful stage productions. His life story is of intense local interest on account of the fact that at one time he held the position of telegraph operator in the St. John office of the Western Union.

Came to Work Here. Some years ago a young man arrived from his home in Port Hastings, N. S., and entered the employ of the W. U. Telegraph Co. His name was George Hobart Philpott and he was not in the office very long until it was seen that he was going to make a good telegraph operator. After mastering the intricacies of the key, he yearned for other fields to conquer and the cable service attracted him.

Accordingly he was transferred to the North Sydney office and his wish was gratified. But there were breakers ahead. Young Philpott was a chap of much spirit and had a keen sense of humor; there were others, however, who could not see a joke very plainly, particularly if they were on the receiving end of it—the chief operator was one of them.

Penniless, He Is Fired. Came the incident of the rubber. Philpott apologized, but apparently that was not sufficient—he was paid off and his name wiped from the roster of employees. He had not visualized the proverbial rainy day to be stepped on to the street workless and with empty pockets.

He pawned his watch, borrowed a few dollars and bought a ticket for New York. Despite the fact that he was fired from one office of the Western Union he was engaged in the cable office and after good service switched over to the press end of the telegraph game in one of the big dailies.

Into Newspaper Game. It was there that he first dipped into the realm of writing. He had an invitation to attend a cock-fight, but on arrival at the place found that the cocks had beaten the sports to it and took charge of the combatants. He hammered out a humorous story and left it on his city editor's desk. When that official found out who the author was, he dragged him from the telegraph key and put him on the writing staff. There he found his vocation and, one after another, he produced musical comedies, sketches and plays until the selling prices and royalties shoved his bank balance through three, four and five digits above the seven figure line. He is now owner of a palatial home in Riverside Drive and financially independent.

Wrote Many Successes. This was an insignificant incident the turning point in the life of George Hobart Philpott. The telegraph-reporter-author produced all his works under the name of George V. Hobart, the adopted surname being that of his mother. Amongst the most outstanding of his successes are the comic operas, Broadway to Tokio, After Office Hours, Sally in Our Alley, The Han Tree, Comin' Through the Rye, The Song Birds, Moonshine, The Boys and Betty, The Candy Shop, The Yankee Girl, Alma Where Do You Live, and in addition he has written the book for the Greenwich Village Follies for the last six years. Included amongst his success and royalties are Mrs. Black Is Black, John Henry, and What's Your Husband Doing?

He was co-author in the drama, Wilfred, and in the comedy, Our Mrs. McChesney, written for Ethel Barrymore, and one of his most distinctive pieces of work was the morality play, Experience, which was played in St. John a few years ago. Others of his works have also been played on local boards.

Buddies, a musical play, which will also be presented in St. John in the near future, is one of his most recent successes.

ARE RE-UNITED AFTER 44 YEARS

Sisters Separated in Babyhood Together After a Long Search.

Lawrence, Feb. 1.—When the 11.15 train from Portland rolled into Lawrence station two sisters who had not seen each other for 44 years, were happily reunited. They were Mrs. Robert F. Stewart, South Broadway and Mrs. Blair Brewster of Eastport, Me. They were united through a baby picture of the town clerk of Edmunds, Me., and a woman who had dressed one of the sisters on the day they were separated.

It was the old, old story of a father dying and the wife and mother unable to keep her little ones together, sending three to the Little Wanderers' Home in Boston. The mother of the sisters was born Harriet A. Wilcox. Ruby had been at the home less than three weeks when she was taken by Mrs. William Brooks of Saco, Me. She lived with Mrs. Brooks until she became the bride of Robert F. Stewart, who is at present employed by the Boston and Maine Railroad.

Twenty years ago Mrs. Stewart started out to find her sister, Bessie now Mrs. Brewster. She sent a baby picture of herself to the town clerk in Edmunds where the little family was broken up by death 44 years before. The clerk, J. H. Curtis became interested in the case. A woman resident when shown the picture, recognized it as the child she had dressed on the day that she was sent to the Little Wanderers' Home. After considerable correspondence and checking up, Mrs. Brewster was finally located in Eastport, Me.

ELEPHANT STOPS TRAIN BY PULL AT BRAKE CORD

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 1.—One of two elephants on a Pennsylvania railroad train on the way from Philadelphia to the winter quarters of a circus at Havre de Grace, Md., brought the train to a sudden stop about two miles north of Newark when it wrapped its trunk around the emergency airbrake and gave a hard pull.

Hammerstein Looks For Philanthropist

New York, Feb. 1.—Arthur Hammerstein is as anxious to find John T. King, mysterious benefactor of William T. Anderson, head of Anti-Saloon League, as is Assistant District Attorney Pecora. He is as anxious as a man could be. He wants to offer King the title role in another company to play "Gypsy Jim," because that character goes around making unobtrusive donations and doing modest philanthropy and being as much of a prince as the mysterious King is.

Forthwith Miss Alcock became the protegee of Mrs. Schwab. She will do many of the things that Mrs. Schwab might have done if she hadn't been the wife of a millionaire.

All of which is the story of how a little song reached through the years and made three people happy.

SHOW FOR SING SING.

New York, Feb. 1.—Sing Sing has accepted the offer of Holbrook Blinn to put on a performance next Sunday at the prison for the benefit of the Mutual Welfare League.

Harold Healey, who has hitherto played one of the marines in "Rain" in New York and guided Jeanne Eagles through the convulsions of her jazz dance, sprained an ankle on Saturday night, and as it is impossible for him to be very graceful with one ankle only in commission for a week, the star now has a new partner in the convulsions.

Actor Takes Ill; Writer Fills Post

New York, Feb. 1.—The one humdrum performance of "Spring Cleaning" was properly emphasized this week at the Eltinge Theatre by the abrupt appearance in the cast of Frederick Lonsdale, English playwright, who wrote the piece. Lonsdale made his world debut as an actor after Edgar Selwyn, the producer, routed him out of bed with a four alarm announcement that two of the company had unfortunately fallen ill, just in time to signalize the one hundredth performance.

C. Haviland Chappelle, general understudy, had been assigned the role of Bobbie Williams, usually portrayed by Robert Noble, but, as Selwyn pitifully remarked, that left nobody to play Archie Wells, since Gordon Ash had fallen out of the part. Then the manager, who is a terrible tease, added that of course Lonsdale might play it if they wanted to resort to desperate measures.

Fay Bainter has attained her fiftieth performance in "The Other Rose," the Belasco production at the Morosco Theatre, New York. "White Cargo," at Daly's Sixty-third Street Theatre, this week, celebrated its 100th performance, owing to a head start.

RED IS JINX OF NORMA TALMADGE

A Costume of That Color Causes String of Mishaps in Filming.

Hollywood, Feb. 1.—Norma Talmadge's pet superstition has been discovered! She won't wear red costumes. Miss Talmadge says that red is her only bugaboo. It came to light in a controversy over a costume which Walter Israel, wardrobe designer for Joseph M. Schenck productions, made for her to wear in her historic drama, "Ashes of Vengeance."

NORMA TALMADGE

The costume was one of those tight-bodied, fluffy lace and silk creations that French court ladies wore in 1872, a gown such as any woman might delight in. Unfortunately the color scheme was red.

Norma insisted it would be bad luck for her to wear the gown. Director Frank Lloyd scoffed at her fears. In the end Norma went on the set seeing, feeling and wearing red. Then the fun began.

First the electric current generators went bad.

Next an onyx ring, a precious antique, disappeared from Miss Talmadge's dressing room.

After that one of the swordsmen caught the point of his blade on the red costume and ripped the train.

Ten minutes later an actor was badly cut by an opponent's rapier.

The excitement of these mishaps worked on Director Lloyd's highly wrought nerves. The nervousness spread to the actors. The result was that none of the rehearsals went off smoothly enough to be filmed.

"It's this red dress, I'm sure," said Miss Talmadge, almost in tears.

"Then take it off," said Lloyd, finally surrendering. And off the gown came, to remain off, though the scenes in which it had been worn must be entirely re-taken.

K. of C. Planning A Theatre Night

The attractions for the next seven weeks at the Opera House were announced last evening by F. James Carroll, manager of the group of players that are holding forth there. Next week the company is playing "Buddies," a musical play, with Jimmy Coats in the principal role.

The following week the week following will be Jim Swift's week "Charlie's Aunt" while during the week of February 18 Miss Marsh will be the centre of attraction in "Woman Against Woman."

The week of the 25th will be Irish week, the vehicle selected being "Isle of Dreams." The Knights of Columbus have taken over part of the house for the initial performance on Monday night of that week. The following week Clyde Franklin will hold forth with the farce comedy, "Twin-Boys," and after that the bill will be "Sis Hopkins," with Edna Preston in the title role. Dorrit Kelton will have her innings during the week of March 17 in "The Thirteenth Chair."

CARDINAL AT ALGIERS

Cardinal O'Connor arrived at Algiers on Jan. 29 and offered a prayer of thanksgiving at the Cathedral Notre Dame de l'Afrique. He visited the local clergy, walked in the botanical gardens and took a drive through the city and suburbs. He met Monsignor Enard, Archbishop of Ottawa, Canada, an old friend, who is on his way to Rome. All in the party are well.

MARITIME SAFETY LEAGUE

From the published list of directors of the Maritime Safety League the names of two St. John men, Col. A. E. Massie and T. P. Regan, were accidentally omitted. Col. Massie is chairman of the St. John section.

Kernan Clippis has succeeded John F. Ward in the role of the sheriff in "The Shame of Woman," but otherwise shooting continues as usual at the New York Comedy Theatre.
