Little Beauty Chats

By BLANCHE BEACON

Rest Your Hair

Do you ever think of granting your hair a short respite during the day from pins and combs? You need not reply as I know beforehand that your answer would be no with a capital N.

This is a pity as hair needs to be rested once in awhile, resembling in particular the eyes. Those were women who make a practice of giving their tresses a daily rest from hairpins and hands and pads, are generally women whose hair is luxuriant and gleaming.

Why not decide to give this new beauty treatment a trial? It will cost you nothing to loosen your hair and it will undoubtedly do much good.

"How does one rest the hair?" queries a fair voice. I will tell you.

Every morning after breakfast, allow your tresses to hang loose and free. No ribbon must confine them, no hairpins fasten them.

When your various household tasks are finished, and you are at leisure to think of your hair needs, I advise sitting down in a "comfy" chair and rubbing strand after strand of your hair between the palms. This hurrying process causes the hair to gleam and shine in a most fascinating manner.

Wear your locks unconfined until the noon whistle blows, then dress them in some accustomed way and run down to luncheon with an easy conscience.

Do as I say each and every morning for the next two months, and you will find that your hair will respond to the treatment.

MANY AT THE MOTOR SHOW

The largest crowd of the week attended the motor show in the Queen's Bunk last evening. All the booths were in fine condition. The motor cycles seemed to attract much attention from the young men and it is said that many of them will ride back and forth to the summer resorts on this style of machine during the summer. The dealers seem to be particularly pleased with the show and they express themselves well pleased with the new business secured.

Many members of the local military corps were present last night and the band of the 62nd Regiment gave a very fine programme.

WIRELESS MESSAGES SENT 3,000 MILES TO SCOUT CRUISER

Washington, April 3—It was announced today that a preliminary report on the results of the experiment in radio telegraphy between the scout cruiser Salem, on her voyage to and from Gibraltar, and the great wireless tower at Arlington, had proved this station to be second to none in the world, not excepting the Eiffel Tower or the great German wireless tower.

In this first test the contract requirement of the dispatch of messages from Arlington to a vessel at least 3,000 miles distant could be only realized at night, but such messages were delivered to the Salem by day up to a distance of 2,383 miles. It was demonstrated too that by the use of kites on the vessel with wire connections, messages could have been exchanged throughout the entire transatlantic trip.

Results of interesting experiments made during this voyage with new forms of apparatus, are said to mark a new era in long distance radio communication.

SISTERS OF CHARITY SUCCEED GREY NUNS

Newark, asking for the retention of the Grey Nuns, but it failed in its purpose. When the Nuns left they said they would soon return to take charge of a hospital in Atlantic City, which is to be opened by Bishop McPhaul, of the diocese of Trenton.

If some folk had their way about this world how few people could live comfortably in it.—Bright.

Morristown, N. J., April 3—The Grey Nuns, a French-Canadian order, who have been in charge of All Souls Hospital since it was founded twenty-two years ago, have been succeeded by the Sisters of Charity of New Jersey, who are in charge of the institution today. The change was made because there is a large deficiency in funds and it is hoped that the new management will be able to obtain larger contributions.

The first of the Grey Nuns left here last night. A crowd of about 150 persons, Catholics and Protestants alike, was at the depot to see them off. A petition signed by 2,500 residents of this section was presented to Bishop O'Connor, of

ADDRESS BY POPE CRITICAL OF MATTER OF RELIGIOUS LIBERTY

Rome, April 4—Pope Pius made strong comments against the lack of religious liberty existing in some Catholic countries in the course of an address written by him, but delivered on his behalf to a large body of Italian and French pilgrims he received today. He declared that in the countries to which he referred the laws of liberty were intended to work against the Catholic church, while plenty of liberty was granted to the other Christian churches. For instance, the Catholic church, unlike other citizens, does not enjoy the liberty to possess property in the law of the state, which he referred to the laws against the religious orders. His Holiness also said that the liberty of the press was degenerating into license and was chiefly employed against religion.

The Pope urged upon the faithful to exercise their influence in bringing back their governments to respect the Catholic church in the interest of their own countries.

TAX REFORM

One of the arguments presented by Sir James Whitney and other opponents of the tax reform in Ontario is that the adoption of the land tax would bear heavily upon the humble owner of a modest building, while the owner of a skyscraper next door would get off very lightly. The argument was also presented by Mr. J. H. McVey, a socialist leader in Vancouver, who claimed that the single tax would result in an increase in taxation on the working man's home in the suburbs while favoring the owners of apartment houses and other large buildings. Mr. McVey cited his own property as an example. The Vancouver World, however, has given a conclusive answer to Mr. McVey's argument. By an inquiry at the city hall it discovered that under the previous system of levying a tax on a 25 per cent assessment of improvements, Mr. McVey's taxes in 1911-12 would have been higher than he paid under the single tax plan. In 1912 the taxes were a little higher than they would have been under the old system, and the World says they will undoubtedly increase from year to year. But it points out that the property is now worth $10,000 as a result of the development of the district and the extension of car lines, whereas in 1900 the land and house were only assessed on $2,500. Hence the World says:

"Mr. McVey may even be compelled one of these days to sell his little home for some such trifling sum as ten or fifteen thousand dollars when, but for the capacity of a tax gatherer, who insists on collecting for the community about one per cent of the value the community has created, he might have legs on living in it watching the unearned increment grow. But when that happens, Mr. McVey will not need to be a workman any longer, if he does not want to be one."

The charge was made not long ago that Vancouver was suffering from the effects of a building boom, and that many of her largest blocks and office buildings were nearly empty, or only partly occupied. The World shows that these statements are without foundation, and Ex-mayor Taylor in a recent speech pointed out that in January Vancouver occupied sixth place among the cities on the continent in the matter of building permits. Mr. Taylor said, so far as the single tax was concerned, no real opposition had been advanced, and that the assessment had been increased year by year practically without protest. "The people of the city recognizing that the unearned increment is an equitable basis on which to raise a revenue for the city's needs."

The Square Deal in its last issue directs attention to the fact that in the city of Toronto a property has recently been offered to the city for a park for $800,000. This property is only assessed on $300,000. It is not necessary, however, to go to Toronto to discover conditions of this sort. They exist in St. John, where there is a great need for tax reform as in any city in Canada.

TOO MUCH LEGISLATION

One of the most interesting portions of Dr. Adam Shortt's address before the Canadian Club dealt with the essential difference between the Canadian and American systems of government in relation to legislation. In the Canadian parliament or a provincial legislature the government of the day is not only held responsible for the legislation which it initiates, but for all that is adopted, whereas in the American congress or state legislatures there is not the same degree of government responsibility. One of the results of this is that a great mass of legislation is introduced in state legislatures, and laws are passed in which very few people are at all interested, and which remain a dead letter. Dr. Shortt pointed out that as a result of this condition of affairs some of the state legislatures hold only biennial sessions, to protect themselves from what he describes as a "welter of legislation."

Confirmation of Shortt's statement is found in the following article which appears in the Bangor Commercial:

"Massachusetts is noting an agitation in favor of a change from the annual to a biennial session of the legislature, a system that has been adopted by nearly all the sisterhood of states. We note from Massachusetts papers that this demand is fostered by the large amount of legislation that is transacted by the Massachusetts legislature and which might be considered a point in favor of annual session but which is regarded from a contrary view. From 1888 to 1912, inclusive, the Massachusetts legislature adopted 4,100 measures, of which 3,347 were acts and the remainder resolutions. The people of Massachusetts seem to regard this as legislation with a vengeance and a disease that calls for a heroic remedy, which they would supply by cutting the sessions in halves on the proposition that with but half as much time the volume of legislation would be vastly decreased. Possibly it would, but there would be no surety incumbent upon them to pass as many laws as possible not realizing that perhaps the best test of the ability of a legislative body may be found in its ability to discriminate and to refuse unnecessary as well as obnoxious measures. Every state legislature is imported to pass scores of measures that are absolutely of a private or special nature and that are intended to fit one particular case. There is altogether too much of the private and special legislation, a vast proportion of which could be settled in five courts, in five meetings or by referees, or in some other manner. Many legislators are inclined, if a measure seems to them to be harmless, to incline toward its passage whereas if its value cannot be conclusively demonstrated it should be kept from the statute books which are lumbered by far too many laws."

So far as the Canadian provinces are concerned, there is not so much objection to the amount of legislation adopted as to the waste of time caused by members making long speeches directed at their constituents and not necessarily bearing upon the measure which may be up for consideration. There is not enough of business method in our legislatures as a rule, although in at least two of the Canadian provinces at the present time the government has everything its own way, and is not even subjected to a healthy criticism when the legislature is in session. It is, of course, impossible to get ideal conditions, but the most desirable state of affairs would be such a division of parts as would ensure effective criticism, and such a self-restraint on the part of members as would lead them to refrain from inflicting upon the house and the country long speeches that were not warranted by the importance of the issue under discussion. At all events Canada is more fortunate in this matter than the United States, and there is no immediate danger of an agitation for biennial sessions because of the great number of measures presented for consideration.

The emergency failed to emerge at Ottawa yesterday, and the house gave its attention to such matters as relations with Japan and the West Indies.

A commercial club has been organized in Moncton and a board of trade is to be organized in Sussex. The forward movement is steadily gaining force.

The exports from St. John by the winter steamships show an increase over those of the corresponding period last season, while there has been a very large increase in the volume of imports.

Mr. Bonar Law has again been talking tariff reform in the British house of commons, but makes it clear that there is to be no protection for the farmer. Since the United Kingdom was never more prosperous than at the present time, no serious attention will be paid to the efforts of the Conservatives to secure a change in the fiscal system of the country.

It is said that President Wilson is having some difficulty with the Senate over the question of tariff revision, as there are Democrats in the senate not willing to go quite as far in their advocacy of sweeping changes as the members of the house. No doubt there will have to be more or less compromise, but substantial reductions in the tariff may nevertheless be expected. The president is pledged to downward revision and that without delay.

The experience of the German military airship which landed on French territory confirms the statement of Lord Northcliffe that no satisfactory method has yet been devised of directing the movements of military aircraft. These German officers were far out of their course and were compelled to descend in French territory. They appear to have created a good deal of excitement among the French people of the district, but the affair has no international significance.

The Conservative press is very foolish in asserting that the opposition to the navy bill at Ottawa is promoted by some ex-members of the house who are aided and abetted by Dr. Pugsley and one or two others. The Standard refers to them as the "Pugsley element." The Tory writers are pursuing a ridiculous course in this matter. The whole Liberal party at Ottawa are against the Borden naval bill, and have been against it from the first. Their attitude has not changed. They are united under the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The English suffragettes have replied to the sentence of three years' imprisonment on Mrs. Pankhurst by declaring that human life is now in peril, and that they will carry on a more violent campaign than ever. They threaten a reign of terror and declare that they will more than stagger humanity. The government is confronted by a serious situation, because there is a natural feeling against subjecting women to severe punishment. It becomes necessary, however, to restrain persons of unsound mind if they betray violent tendencies, and this is clearly a case for treatment of that kind.

To read the Tory version of the proceedings at Ottawa one would assume that the charge made by Hon. Mr. Lemieux regarding the contract for 350,000 new locks was a gross libel upon certain eminently deserving persons. Mr. Lemieux, however, is pressing for information, and yesterday compelled the government to admit that the new locks were patented by a Quebec railway conductor, that he and two political friends of the postmaster general had them patented, and that they assigned the patent rights to an Ottawa company which secured from the postmaster-general the contract for 350,000 locks. The whole transaction ought to be investigated, and the Liberals are endeavoring to secure a full enquiry.

BIRTHDAYS OF NOTABILITIES

FRIDAY, APRIL FOUR.

Professor A. P. Coleman, one of Canada's foremost geologists, was born on April 4, 1832, at Lacchu. He has undertaken numerous geological expeditions both in Europe and Canada and is a Fellow of the Royal Society. He holds the position of professor of geology at Toronto University.

J. G. Gaudaur, famous oarsman, was born on April 4, 1838, at the Narrows, Lake Concheing. From his earliest years he had a strong fancy for aquatic sports and developed into a remarkable oarsman, rowing in races all over the world with continuous success until 1866.

J. E. B. McCready, for many years editor of the Charlottetown Guardian, and recently appointed publicity agent for Prince Edward Island, was born on April 4, 1869, in Sussex, N. B. He became a member of the St. John Telegraph staff in the days of Livingstone and Elder, and subsequently was the Ottawa resident correspondent of the Toronto Globe, and was president of the Parliamentary Press Gallery for several terms. Later on he became editor of the Moncton Transcript, leaving that paper to become editor-in-chief of the St. John Telegraph. Mr. McCready, in addition to his newspaper work, has contributed to the Canadian Magazine and other publications. While he was a resident of St. John he was a member of the Senate of the University of New Brunswick.

LIGHTER VEIN

Lines to my furnace.
Of furnace in the cellar, whenever I descend.
To where you boil so faithfully, you greet me like a friend.
Your ruddy smile and genial so warmly welcomes me,
I hail you with a brother's love, a brother's sympathy.
I found you chinking yesterday when home from lodge I came.
No word we spoke; each understood—the women were to blame.
Like you, dear furnace, now and then to women's rule I bow.
They think that they can run us both, but oh! they don't know how!
To you how many a Sunday disconsolate I lie,
And find a brief but sweet relief from galling company.
You never libel Roosevelt or scoff at Wilton's steamships show an increase over those of the corresponding period last season, while there has been a very large increase in the volume of imports.

THE CRITIC

My father says the paper that he reads isn't put up right.
He finds a lot of faults, he does, perum! it is at night.
He says there ain't a single thing in it worth while to read.
And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need.
He tossed it aside and says it's strictly "on the bum."
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.
He reads about the wedding and he moans like all git out.
He reads the social doin's with a most derisive clear through.
He says they make the papers for the women folks alone.
He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan;
He says of information it don't contain a crumb.
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.
He's always first to grab it, and he reads it plumb clear through.
He doesn't miss an item or a want ad—that is true, don't know what he want, them darn newspaper guys; I'm goin' to take a day some time and go and put 'em wise.
Sometimes it seems as though they must be deaf and blind and dumb,
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

C. P. R. OPENS GREAT SHOPS NEAR CALGARY

World's Greatest Will Employ 2500 Men—Capacity 600 to 800 Locomotives a Year

The C. P. R. has opened its new shops at Ogden, near Calgary, which are the largest railway repair shops in the world. The opening of these shops, which are called after one of the company's most popular officials, mark a new era in the Canadian west, for where less than twelve months ago was open a primitive land today there exists a great hive of industry. Springing up around the new Ogden shops is the city of Ogden, which is very rapidly extending through the advent of the largest repair shops in the world. The C. P. R. has already expended several millions of dollars on the erection of buildings and equipment forming these huge and colossal works, but there still remains more to be done before the shops reach the state of perfection which is always a part of the policy of the C. P. R. The shops, which occupy 120 acres, are of the most modern construction, and contain the latest appliances used in the construction of the repair of a locomotive that the mechanical world has devised and constitute a group of twenty buildings, the locomotive being by far the largest, occupying a space of eight acres. Eleven and a half months from the start of the work and C. P. R. turned out its first engine. Between five and six hundred men are now employed in the shops, but it will be about four months before they are in full working order, when it is expected that fully two thousand five hundred men will be found employment. The capacity of the locomotive shops, which will be used for the present to do heavy work on the engines, will be between six and eight hundred locomotives a year.

STOMACH STARVERS EAT ANYTHING NOW

No Indigestion, Dyspepsia or Sour, Gassy, Upset Stomach For "Pape's Diapepsin" Users

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, greasy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors. Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach was normal. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store. These large fifty-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

FOR BETTER ROADS

A lecture on good roads was given before the members of the Provincial Good Roads' Association yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms by Mr. Van Scoyoc of the Canada Cement Company. The lecturer advocated the use of cement or concrete roads instead of Macadam and accounts of its durability and economical upkeep.

W. F. Bonnett suggested the need of a change in the assessment to meet the requirements of road maintenance. Judge Armstrong said that he knew that good roads increased the value of property, but this was not realized by the property owners of St. John, who had petitioned against the proposed permanent pavements.

A HARD WINTER For People in Poor Health!

Winter with its sudden changes is particularly trying for old people or those who suffer from a weakened, run-down condition, chronic coughs, colds or bronchitis, but if such persons would only apply common sense methods in the treatment of their condition, much discomfort and suffering might be avoided. The most essential thing to do is to build up strength, enrich the blood, increase vital resistance and to accomplish this nothing equals Vinol, our cod liver and iron tonic without oil. Mrs. H. Hartmann, of Albany, N. Y., says:—"I was in a run-down condition for about five years until this spring, when I learned of a great tonic and strength-giver Vinol. It is certainly the best I have ever used, and it has done wonders for me."
Old people, delicate children, run-down, overworked and tired women, those suffering from bronchitis, chronic coughs and asthma should try a bottle of Vinol. We will return your money if it does not help you. Watson's 3 Drug stores, King street, Main street and Haymarket square.

MORNING LOCALS

Arrangements are being considered for the formation of a $200,000 company to take over the patent rights and manufacture the reinforcing fabric controlled by C. S. Blackader who has been in the city for several days in the interests of the invention. If the plans are put into effect the St. John factory will supply the material for all of Canada.
Henry Holgate, chief engineer of the Atlantic Sugar Refineries, Ltd., arrived in the city yesterday to make an inspection of the work of constructing the foundations of the new plant.
Professor S. A. Williams, of Wisconsin, passed through the city yesterday returning from Chester, N. S., where he has been making surveys of the pit, where pirates' treasure is supposed to be buried. He will return early in the summer and is confident of securing the treasure.
Mrs. W. A. Smith, of West St. John, has received from her cousin, John M. Marks, commissioner for Harmony, Indiana, a letter and papers telling of the damage done to his town by the tornado.
The fire department responded to a false alarm from box 152 last night about 11 o'clock. It is thought the alarm was rung in from one of the connections in the C. R. yard.
The mystery concerning the disappearance of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pickles and family has been cleared up. Rev. T. J. Deinstadt says he was talking to Mr. Pickles when he landed from the Tunisian at West St. John, and had seen his tickets which showed the destination of the family was Salsatoon, and 204 Montreal.
Schooner Elisha Barritt, formerly owned by Capt. J. W. Spicer, of Harberville, N. S., has been purchased by Captain Glasby of St. John.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL
The members of the Trades and Labor Council last night condemned the mayor and commissioners for their refusal to call a public meeting in connection with the matter of increased house rents. The matter of immigrants coming here without the necessary money qualifications and of those who were induced to come here by misrepresentation was also taken up. The meeting was adjourned until the third Tuesday of the month. The eight hour day was approved.

Once Immigrant Boy Now Chief Rabbi of British Jews

Ellis Island, New York, the place where the immigrants come from—and to—has just landed one of its graduates in what some people might think is the most important position in the religious world. The chief rabbi of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and its possessions beyond the sea—the head of all the Jews in the British Empire—has only held the title, but is actually the spiritual leader and intellectual adviser of a great religious community than any other man on earth except the Pope. And the Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Hertz, who has just been installed in that office, was an immigrant from Hungary to the United States.

Rabbi Hertz was selected for his calling position by the people of England because he possessed above all other candidates the culture, scholarship, human interest and qualities of leadership the position requires. He is eminent as a writer, as an orator, a sociologist, an authority on religious matters. He speaks English, Hebrew and German so fluently that he is celebrated as an orator in all of these languages. He is forty-one years of age first synagogue was in Syracuse, N. Y., where he remained four years, leaving there to go to Johannesburg, South Africa. He was expelled from South Africa by President Kruger for his bold denunciation of the policies of the Transvaal executive. Returning to America, he assumed charge of the congregation of the Oranah Chayim Synagogue in New York City.

Dr. Hertz is the fifth chief rabbi to be chosen by the Jews of England since the days of Oliver Cromwell. He was selected from a host of candidates from all over the world, the electoral college of the English Jews, presided over by Lord Rothschild, sifting carefully the qualifications of the eminent scholars and orators until only the "immigrant boy" was left. He was chosen because he possessed all the things necessary for the great office.

80,000 IMMIGRANTS LAND AT HALIFAX IN THE LAST YEAR

Halifax, April 3.—During the fiscal year just ended, approximately 80,000 prospective settlers have landed at Halifax bound for different points in Canada from the United Kingdom and Europe. This is an increase of 20,000 over the figures for the fiscal twelve months ended March 31, 1912, and before the winter port season closes next month will have surpassed the 100,000 mark. A notable feature of the rapidly growing influx, the immigration officials say, is that Canada is catching the cream of European manhood, while the less desirable races, those from countries about the Mediterranean sea, are confining their travels to the United States. The immigrants to Canada comprise practically all those who leave the British Isles for America, while in addition we get a goodly share of the Teutonic races from Germany, Russia, Holland and Denmark.

LARGE CLASS FOR INSTRUCTION IN THE PLAYGROUND WORK

Miss Murray, of Amherst, will have a much larger class taking instruction in playground work than had been anticipated. There were sixteen present at the high school assembly room last evening, and several others have signified their intention of taking the course. The number will include most of last year's teachers on the three supervised playgrounds. The classes will be held in the afternoon. In the evenings Miss Murray desires to have classes of employed girls for three evenings. High school girls for at least one evening, and perhaps a boys' class for one or two evenings. Folk games and campfire work will be part of the evening programmes. Plans will be arranged before the first of the week. The first class for the teachers will be held on Saturday afternoon at half past two o'clock, but on other afternoons the hours will probably be from four to half-past five.

Miss Murray is enthusiastic in her work, and desires to be of the greatest possible service while in the city. The assembly room of the high school is admirably suited for the work to be done, although if volley ball is taught it will be necessary to get another place for that particular purpose.

Miss Murray will attend the meeting of the playgrounds executive this evening, when the general programme will be considered. It is hoped that arrangements can be made to have a class of children on certain afternoons for demonstration work when the class of teachers are taking their course.

Our only chance to preserve our teeth is to preserve their enamel. Acids are constantly forming in the mouth. They gradually dissolve the tooth enamel. Once this protection is penetrated, the ever present decay-germs complete the tooth's destruction.

Hence, the dentifrice that will really save the teeth must be something more than a mere cleanser and polisher. It must also keep the mouth in a normal, healthy state—free from acid. Pebecco Tooth Paste does this. It beautifully cleans, whitens and polishes. It is famous for purifying the breath. Its refreshing sensation is a delight. But more than this—just where most dentifrices fail—Pebecco protects the teeth from the mouth-acids, the chief cause of decay.

Those who use Pebecco have a good chance to keep their teeth for life. Lyman Bros. & Co., Limited, Toronto.

NO NAVAL BILL IN THE COMMONS YESTERDAY

Ottawa, April 3.—There was no navy bill in the house today. Present indications are that there will be no naval bill in the house this week. Instead the public business on the order paper had right of way and the members spent the whole day in making progress upon the bill to ratify Canadian concurrence in the recent Anglo-Japanese treaty. It is mooted today that the Japan treaty bill will be followed tomorrow by the West Indies treaty bill. The threatened re-consideration of the "emergency" has again been postponed. Shrewd politicians connect the failure of the naval bill to make its promised and much-heralded reappearance today to the fact there was a Liberal caucus this morning. Liberal members fresh from their constituencies, assembled to take counsel. It must have been an inspiring conference. It was marked by outbursts of enthusiasm which rang through the corridors at frequent intervals like broadsides from a dreadnought. Following the adjournment of the caucus, Premier Borden visited Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the latter's office and the two leaders were engaged in conference for some time. It is taken for granted that the premier was assured that there was no possibility of compromise. Liberalism is battling for a traditional Liberal principle of self-government and sound Canadianism within the empire, and will battle to the end that the Canadian people must be consulted.

"We congratulate the prime minister and the government," said Hon. Dr. Pugsley, when consideration of the Japanese treaty was resumed in parliament today, "on making progress with public business by proceeding with the consideration of this matter. It seems to me that the course followed in this case might well be followed to the public advantage in the bringing of other important public measures to the early consideration of the house, particularly the bill ratifying the treaty with the British West Indies and other prominent pending measures. These are more urgent than the naval bill and more important to the public. It has now been demonstrated beyond doubt that there is no urgency and the duty of parliament is to proceed with public business. The naval bill may well wait. There will be every opportunity for its consideration at the proper time."

MR. O'BRIEN OF THE GLOBE AND MISS MILLETT WED; THEY LEAVE FOR EUROPE

Richard O'Brien, managing director of the St. John Globe, and Miss Mary Millett, daughter of the late Henry Millett, were married in Holy Trinity church at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. J. The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Quinn, cousin of the bride, and Dr. R. P. Quigley, K. C., attended the groom. The bride wore a traveling tulle Bedford cord tail-coat with hat to match, the latter faced with blue, with blue ostrich feather, and she wore a tulle and lace plaid chiton blouse. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and ferns. The bridesmaid wore a white Norfolk serge tailored suit and old rose hat with green and rose feather and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. Mrs. P. J. Quinn, aunt of the bride, was gowned in black satin trimmed with jet and white duchess lace, and she wore a black toque with white lace and white ostrich feather. Mrs. E. A. McSweeney, of Dorchester (Mass.), a cousin of the bride, wore old rose tulle silk trimmed with black velvet and an old rose hat with feather to match. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of Mrs. P. J. Quinn, where supper was served. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, Miss Mary Quinn, Mrs. P. J. Quinn, Mrs. McSweeney, Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. Lawrence, Miss Elizabeth Furlong, Dr. Quigley, Harry McCullough, E. A. McSweeney and Timothy O'Brien. A great number of friends of Mr. O'Brien and his bride were in the station to bid them farewell, when they left on the Boston train at 6:45 o'clock. On Saturday at noon they will leave Boston on the Celtic for Naples. After touring the continent for about four months they will return to St. John, where they will reside.

The bride and groom received many magnificent presents, including a handsome solid silver tea set from the employees of the Globe Publishing Company. Bodily Health Affects Character

Character, as well as success in life, depends very largely on the condition of the health. You cannot imagine a sufferer from indigestion being cheerful in disposition. Nor do you expect a person with exhausted nerves to be other than nervous, irritable, easily excited and short-tempered. There was formerly much guess-work in the treatment of exhausted nerves, but since Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proven so successful in restoring nerve force to the system there is no necessity for experimenting. Some experiments are necessary for the advance of science, but they need not be at your expense or your risk.

AUTO DRIVER FINED $10

In the police court this morning the case of John Marr, reported for speeding his car, not sounding his horn, driving on the wrong side of the street and using his cut-out, came up before Magistrate Ritchie. Commissioner McEllen said that he had seen Marr coming up Charlotte street on the evening in question and that he thought he was exceeding the speed limit. Police Constable O'Neill also gave evidence.

Harold Wood and Phillip Simms, who were in the car at the time, told the court that the horn was sounded before the car came to the corner, and that they did not think the defendant was on the wrong side of the street any longer than was necessary for the car to turn the corner. A fine of $10 was struck against Marr for using his cut-out unnecessarily and the other three charges were allowed to drop.

E. A. Bent was fined $2 for not having a light on the fence which has been built around the site of the new post office, on the night of March 22.

FRED. LUPEE WILL GET HIS PIPE

Frederick Lupee, charged with beating his wife, was again in the police court today and further remanded. His wife, who displayed a deeply colored eye, told the magistrate that she received it as a result of being pushed against the sink by her husband. Lupee said that he was not drinking, but he objected to some friends his wife had in the house, and perhaps went a little too far with his objection.

On his being sent back to jail he was assured by his wife that she would send him his pipe and tobacco to him right away. Edward Hanlon was fined $8 or thirty days in jail for profanity in Mill street last night.

Felix Blanchard, arrested this morning between two and three o'clock for wandering about South Water and not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself, was fined $8 or two months in jail. William Mullin, charged with being drunk in Douglas Avenue and with resisting the police when placed under arrest, was fined $8 or thirty days for drunkenness, and $10 or two months for the resistance.

There were three other prisoners on the bench charged with drunkenness; one was remanded, one was fined $4 or ten days, and the other $8 or two months.

DREDGING RESUMED

Start Again in Harbor Today; Courtenay Bay in Few Days

The dredges which have been at work in the harbor on federal government contracts, but which have been held up since the first of the week, have resumed work again on instructions from Ottawa.

The Norton Griffiths Dredging Company is completing preparations for commencing operations in Courtenay Bay. The elevator dredge will be ready for work in a few days and it is expected that by that time the weather will be favorable enough to permit a beginning to be made. The other dredge will commence work later.

ALBERTA TOWN AFIRE

Serious Outbreak in Langdon, Twenty Miles From Calgary

Calgary, Albr., April 4—Langdon, a town twenty miles east of Calgary, is burning. A telephone message was received in Calgary at one o'clock this morning, stating that a fire, starting in a livery stable, had consumed that structure and spread to a hotel. A strong wind was blowing and the roof of the hotel had just fallen as the operator was telephoning. Help was asked for and the motor truck of the Calgary fire department left a few minutes later for Langdon.

The roads are good and the firemen were expected to make the run in twenty-five minutes. A later telephone message said the fire had consumed the hotel and jumped across the street where there were several business places directly in its path. It is thought to have been caused by a cigarette.
