

What is Involved in Church Membership.

CIRCULAR LETTER READ AT THE N. S. EASTERN ASSOCIATION.

The Baptist churches of the Maritime Provinces contain over 43,000 members. Such a membership should represent great spiritual influences. The advancement of God's kingdom upon the earth should be correspondingly great.

It involves individual Christian life. This necessitates vital contact with the Lord Jesus-Christ. Union with Christ must come before union with the church.

It involves individual Christian testimony. It is the duty of every Christian to give evidence of his or her faith in Jesus Christ.

It involves individual Christian benevolence. We use the word benevolence where we might use a stronger one. The cause of God does not ask a charity, but demands its dues.

It involves individual Christian fellowship. Only in this way can Christian love be tested, Christian talents exercised, and Christian patience perfected.

It involves individual Christian character. The character of the church should be such as to give evidence to the world of the reality of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian holiness. Holiness is the glory of the church. It is the glory of the individual Christian.

Heaven. How they can answer for their sins, if they are dead in sin. The law of Christ is this, and on this is laid the greatest stress.

It involves individual Christian obligation. Joining the church is something more than crossing a threshold. Among other things it means responsibility.

It involves individual Christian witness. The church is the witness to the world of the Christian faith. It is the witness to the world of the Christian life.

It involves individual Christian service. The church is the servant of the world. It is the servant of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian mission. The church is the mission of the world. It is the mission of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian unity. The church is the unity of the world. It is the unity of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian love. The church is the love of the world. It is the love of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian hope. The church is the hope of the world. It is the hope of the world of the Christian faith.

Things By Their Right Names.

"Another way of keeping the tithes off our moral sense is to call things by their natural and simple names. The real name of a bad thing regularly stigmatizes the thing, and so stirs in us an antipathy to the name.

It involves individual Christian holiness. Holiness is the glory of the church. It is the glory of the individual Christian.

It involves individual Christian witness. The church is the witness to the world of the Christian faith. It is the witness to the world of the Christian life.

It involves individual Christian service. The church is the servant of the world. It is the servant of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian mission. The church is the mission of the world. It is the mission of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian unity. The church is the unity of the world. It is the unity of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian love. The church is the love of the world. It is the love of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian holiness. Holiness is the glory of the church. It is the glory of the individual Christian.

It involves individual Christian witness. The church is the witness to the world of the Christian faith. It is the witness to the world of the Christian life.

It involves individual Christian service. The church is the servant of the world. It is the servant of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian mission. The church is the mission of the world. It is the mission of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian unity. The church is the unity of the world. It is the unity of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian love. The church is the love of the world. It is the love of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian hope. The church is the hope of the world. It is the hope of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian holiness. Holiness is the glory of the church. It is the glory of the individual Christian.

Getting up Sermons.

Many of our readers will be interested in the following particulars, given by Dr. Maclaren, of his method of pulpit preparation.

I write my sermons in part. The amount of written matter varies. When I can, I like to write a couple of sentences or so of introduction, in order to get a fair start, and for the rest I content myself with jottings, fragmentary hints of a word or two each, interspersed here and there with a fully written sentence.

It involves individual Christian holiness. Holiness is the glory of the church. It is the glory of the individual Christian.

It involves individual Christian witness. The church is the witness to the world of the Christian faith. It is the witness to the world of the Christian life.

It involves individual Christian service. The church is the servant of the world. It is the servant of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian mission. The church is the mission of the world. It is the mission of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian unity. The church is the unity of the world. It is the unity of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian love. The church is the love of the world. It is the love of the world of the Christian faith.

A Great Event

In one's life is the discovery of a remedy for some long-standing malady. The poison of scrofula is in your blood. You inherited it from your ancestors.

It involves individual Christian holiness. Holiness is the glory of the church. It is the glory of the individual Christian.

It involves individual Christian witness. The church is the witness to the world of the Christian faith. It is the witness to the world of the Christian life.

It involves individual Christian service. The church is the servant of the world. It is the servant of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian mission. The church is the mission of the world. It is the mission of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian unity. The church is the unity of the world. It is the unity of the world of the Christian faith.

It involves individual Christian love. The church is the love of the world. It is the love of the world of the Christian faith.

The Two Ways.

The one way is narrow, the other broad—that is to say, the course of conduct which belongs to the disciples or subjects of the kingdom is one of restraint and limitation, constant self-denial, and abstinence, while the path of the worldly man is pleasantry to the ignoble self, and permissiveness to the unwelcome self.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The importance of our public schools to the well-being of our people is not fully understood, if we may judge from reports: To these schools the vast majority of the community will be indebted for all the school training they will ever receive.

There are two great forces in a good school. One is the teacher. The schoolmaster is the school. The power of the teacher is very great. If his mind be clear, his tact as a teacher pronounced, his moral character worthy, the same qualities will, to a large degree, be stamped upon the susceptible minds of the children.

Another factor in the school's power is the school house, its appointments and surroundings. How often, as we cast a glance backward, does the school house of childhood stand before us.

Trustees should be appointed who will tolerate no half measures in securing the conditions of health in the school room. But even the appointment of good trustees does not relieve parents of the obligation to see that the rooms are well kept.

It is announced that a chair in Logic and Ethics is to be established in the University of New Brunswick by the Alumni of that institution.

THE WORLD'S INDEBTEDNESS TO THE PAPACY.

At the ordination of a coadjutor bishop at Charlottetown, P. E. I., Archbishop O'Brien, of Halifax, is reported to have made the following statement:

"What mankind owes to the Catholic church and the priesthood is broadly written across the face of the world's history, is indelibly stamped on its every page, and forms the brightest and most consoling of its episodes.

Until a few years ago Rome accepted, in sullen silence, the verdict of history. But the world moves, so does Romanism. Of late its ablest men have been put forward to re-write history as the apologists of the papacy.

In the early days of Christian religion, before papacy came into existence, the Christian church transformed heathenism into Christian civilization. It must also be admitted that ever since the days of popery many good things have been done in the world by the Romish church.

The church of to-day is the apostate of the church in all the past. The scourge of the nations now poses as an angel of light. Every people controlled by Rome has been plunged into the depths of ignorance and poverty, and held there till delivered by the Nemesis of retributive justice.

Italy is doing in the nineteenth century what Britain and Germany did in the sixteenth. Rome has given that people four paupers out of every seven of the population in Venice; has reduced the women of that fair country to the position of beasts of burden, porters in the streets, hard day laborers in the fields and carriers of stones on their heads in the quarries.

Does Archbishop O'Brien know that the schoolmaster is abroad, that history is read, and that the newspaper goes everywhere in the mail bag?

It is announced that a chair in Logic and Ethics is to be established in the University of New Brunswick by the Alumni of that institution.

N. B. Southern Association.

The New Brunswick Southern Association began its eleventh anniversary with the Baptist church at Oak Bay, Charlotte Co., at 10 o'clock, a. m., Sept. 21st.

The afternoon session was devoted to hearing of reports by different committees.

The report on Systematic Benevolence was submitted by Bro. Pincio, spoken to by Bros. Grant, Hickson, Pincio, and Thos. Todd.

Bro. Pigeo reported on Temperance; discussed by brethren Hickson, Coombs, Grant, and Martell.

Committee on Nominations reported as follows: 1. On committee to advise in reference to calling ordination councils.

The chairmen for the various groups of churches were appointed as follows: St. Stephen group—Rev. W. C. Goucher. St. George group—Rev. C. E. Pincio.

Bro. Coombs spoke briefly on education. Evening session devoted the first hour to unfinished business.

A vote of thanks was passed to railroads for reduced fares.

The report on Denominational Literature was presented by Bro. Martell in an excellent address. He emphasized the value of the Bible, a good and pure hymn book, and a denominational paper as helpful agencies in the development of Christian life and character.

Bro. Grant spoke in behalf of the Baptist Book Room at Halifax. Four reasons were given why it should receive the moral and financial support of all Baptists in the Province.

Bro. Black, the new editor of the Messenger and Visitor, presented the claims of the paper upon the sympathy, prayers and support of the people.

The report on ministerial education was pretty freely untraveled. A lively spirit awakened, especially in the case of the moderator of the Association, when on returning from his vacation in the United States, where all the avenues of polite and public society were thrown open to him.

The report on Foreign Missions was submitted by Bro. Stewart, the secretary of the Board. It briefly reviewed the work of the past year.

Bro. Stewart made a soul stirring address, in which he pressed home the claims of the Telugu missions upon our sympathies, prayers and financial support.

Bro. Coombs gave two reasons why we should be interested in giving the gospel to the heathen. 1. For their sakes, that they may be happy now and saved eternally.

The report was adopted. After reading of the minutes, and prayer by Bro. Black, this Association adjourned to meet the third Saturday in Sept., 1891.

Bro. Goucher presented a paper on the "Claims of the Sunday-school upon the adult membership of the church."

The African Baptist Association.

This Association convened on the 6th of September, in its thirty-seventh annual session. The weather was fine, the assemblage large, and friends of Digby Jiggins outdid themselves, to make happy and comfortable the visitors who assembled through curiosity, as well as the delegates that congregated for business.

Through the kindness of Pastor Bleakney, the Hillgrove church was placed at the disposal of the Association for Sabbath services.

The brethren who preached at the Association, church were Revs. Jackson, Dixon and Carvery. To all of these services the best of attention was given and assemblies very large.

The afternoon session was taken up with the discussing of the letters from the various churches, many of whom complained of their destitute condition and entreated the ministering brethren to come oftener than they now do.

The evening session was turned into a missionary meeting. Some of the brethren receiving aid from the Home Mission Board gave an outline of their labors in the harvest field.

Some of the brethren waxed warm on this subject, whose remarks bristled with fire as doth the busy lightning on a dark night in a tropical zone.

Tuesday sessions were spent in the reading of the circular letter by the writer, Bro. Gabourel, also the secretary's annual report.

The other report, on Sunday-schools, which is of vital importance to the denomination, was also warmly handled, and many of the delegates who represented churches which had allowed their schools to die out, got the full benefit of the arguments, which we hope will result in the reorganization of the sleeping schools.

The report on ministerial education was pretty freely untraveled. A lively spirit awakened, especially in the case of the moderator of the Association, when on returning from his vacation in the United States, where all the avenues of polite and public society were thrown open to him.

Ontario Letter.

September has been, so far, a quiet month. The vacation is practically over, yet the various departments of work have not opened out in full activity.

Through the kindness of Pastor Bleakney, the Hillgrove church was placed at the disposal of the Association for Sabbath services.

The brethren who preached at the Association, church were Revs. Jackson, Dixon and Carvery. To all of these services the best of attention was given and assemblies very large.

Letter of Commendation.

It gives me great pleasure to commend to the churches Mr. D. L. Chubbuck as an accredited evangelist of the Clarendon St. Baptist church.

Bro. Coombs gave two reasons why we should be interested in giving the gospel to the heathen. 1. For their sakes, that they may be happy now and saved eternally.

Chicago Letter.

A PRINCIPAL GIFT. Mr. John D. Rockefeller has added a million dollars to his former munificent gift of six hundred thousand, to the new University to be established by the Baptists in this city.

Mr. Marshall Field has donated a plot of land for the new institution of learning, valued at one hundred thousand dollars, in one of the finest parts of the city, and the trustees have added more land by purchase.

A new era has dawned upon our educational work. How wonderfully God answers prayer! When, through jealousy, strife and blundering, the old University was a by-word and a hissing.

The secular press of the city is hearty in its congratulations, and what seems remarkable is the fact that the advantages resulting from a union of the two departments of learning, as proposed by Mr. Rockefeller, is universally recognized and admitted.

PROFESSOR HARPER, OF YALE, has been chosen president, and it is confidently expected that he will accept; if so, he will be a tower of strength to the new institution.

William Rainey Harper is a son of the State of Ohio. He was born in New Concord, July 26, 1856, being now thirty-four years old.

Not many years had passed before young Harper had acquired a knowledge of the Semitic languages, which surprised and gratified his instructor.

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY are beginning to attract a good deal of attention in our churches. There is a growing feeling that our young people should be organized into societies under the direct control of the churches.

HERE AND THERE. We spent our vacation in Ontario, preaching four Sabbaths for Bloor street Baptist church, Toronto.

Dr. Lorimer, of the Immanuel church, Chicago, on account of ill health, has been granted leave of absence for one year. He is now in Scotland with his family.

Dr. Henson took no vacation this past summer, remaining at his post through the hot months, and is looking as fresh as if just returned from the mountains.

Acadia College.

Rev. W. H. Young, recently of Washington, D. C., has been selected by the faculty to take charge of the English department in the college for the present year.

The committee named by the governors to co-operate with the senate in selecting a suitable man to be appointed professor of English are prosecuting inquiries, and in due time a nomination will be presented to the Board.

The college is opening with favorable prospects. The new class will probably number about thirty.

Obituary. REV. J. O. REDDEN. [The following letter, the writer informs us, was prepared early in August, but owing to his sudden departure from home was not forwarded at the time.]

We wish through the columns of the MESSSENGER AND VISITOR to convey to Sister Redden and the many relatives and friends of our dear departed brother our deepest sympathy.

He was a man of God, and his life was a life of sacrifice. He was a man of God, and his life was a life of sacrifice.

"LITTLE GIANT" THRESHING MILL. We have sold this Mill with Hall Threshers and Cleaners for the past three seasons, which have given the best of satisfaction.

WHEN "END" CAME.

The naked earth lay brown and bare,
And not a green thing anywhere;

But soon her presence here below
A charm o'er nature seemed to throw;

A shadow from the troubled past
Across our life its gloom had cast;

Dear Father, aid our trembling might
To guide these little feet aright;

These little hands to fold in thine,
And wilt thou hasten to my shrine?

Dear Father, aid our trembling might
To guide these little feet aright;

Struck His Sister.
