The Well Dressed Man:

A Short Talk to the Man in Need of a Suit.

CLOTHES do not make the man, but they at least go a long way toward commanding respect. In these days of the "strenuous life" when nearly everything that goes toward the necessity or comfort of our daily life is higher in price than in former years, the question often arises, how shall I save enough for a new suit?

Strange to say, ready to wear clothing, while it has improved in quality, fit and general make up, has not increased in price to any appreciable extent. We would like to place before you some of the Stylish New Suits of this season. We would like to have you examine the workmanship, the well padded shoulders, the good quality of lining, the pretty patterns, stylish cut and all that goes to make up a

COURT NOW IN SESSION.

His Honor Mr. Justice Hannington Presiding at Meeting of Supreme Court

NO WITNESSES.

Subpoenas were not issued so Grand Jury had to Adjourn.

The Supreme Court opened yesterday morning at eleven o'clock. His Honor, Mr. Justice Hannington presided.

Two criminal cases were presented to the Grand Jury,—John Flemming, charged with breaking out of the lockup at Chatham and the other, the King v. John McCormick, an assault case to which reference was made in a previous issue. When the Grand Jury had been sworn and retired to the jury room it was discovered that no subpoenas had been issued to the witnesses. The result was that none were present and the jury had to adjourn.

There were two civil cases, John Young, and Richard Young, v. James McLaughlin, and John J. Clark, v. John W. Vanderbeck. In the former case Archie Haviland appeared for the Plaintiff. The Defendant did not appear. In the latter, Robert Murray, appeared for the Plaintiff and T. W. Butler, for the Defendant. The action is brought for alleged slander by the Defendant of the Plaintiff.

One other case had been down in the docket but at the request of the complainant it was not presented to the Grand Jury. The action was one of criminal libel and the Judge took the opportunity of suggesting in a manner most commendable the advisability of keeping such cases off the criminal docket. He thought that it was only another way of a man using the criminal court as a means to overcome the disagreeable consequences in case the complainant should be unsuccessful.

The Court adjourned at twelve o'clock to meet at 2.30 when the civil cases will be taken up.

1. We recommend the building of a shed at the Power House 25x12 feet, shed roof all covered by metal for the storing of tools and supplies in connection with this department.

2. That the foundation for the new pump be built by days labor and that we be empowered to proceed with the work at once.

3. That Mr. Geo. McWilliam be given water to run a motor for printing purposes at a flat rate of $55.00 per year payable quarterly in advance, subject however to any change in rate which may be made hereafter in our bye laws governing the same.

4. That Anslow Bros. be put under the same terms and conditions as Mr. McWilliam.

5. That the attached agreement between Mr. Clement Ryan and the Town for sawdust etc., to the Power House be accepted and signed.

6. That Alfred Basque be put on the outside work in connection with the Water and Public Works with the understanding that he is to have his position as fireman at the Power House when not engaged in the outside work.

7. That the following bills be paid:

Matthew Russell, $ 141.60

Jno. Russell & Co., 32.81

B. N. Call, 136.20

OLD CLOCK BEING REPAIRED.

Grandfather's Clock Belonging to McKeen Family is Nearly 200 Years Old.

R. Anderson & Son have in their cabinet shop a very old clock the case of which they are repairing and placing in good condition. Mr. P. H. Eaton is repairing the works.

This clock is the property of Miss Charlotte McKeen, having come down through several generations, and is believed to be the oldest clock on the river.

On the inside of the case is printed directions for setting up the clock.

These instructions were printed for Thomas Windmills, clockmaker, in Tower Street London, in 1724.

The case is a beautiful piece of work and the movement, which includes a perpetual calendar is in keeping with the case.

The Advocate learns that a gentleman who is interested in antique furniture has made an offer of several hundred dollars for this but as it is highly prized by the family the offer has been refused.

Died of Consumption, but this Linden lady used Psychine and is strong and well

"My mother, brother and sister died of consumption," says Ella M. Cove, of Linden, N.S., "and I myself suffered for two years from a distressing cough and weak lungs. I suppose I inherited a tendency in this direction."

"But thank God I used Psychine and it built me right up. My lungs are now strong. I enjoy splendid health, and I owe it all to Psychine."

Consumption, whether hereditary or contracted, cannot stand before Psychine. Psychine kills the germ, no matter how it attacks the lungs. Psychine builds up the body and makes it strong and able to resist disease. Psychine is an aid to digestion and a maker of pure, rich blood. The greatest giver of general health is

ROOSEVELT REFUSES CANADA'S GIFT

Inform's British Ambassador that Frisco's Sufferers Don't Need $100,000.

Ottawa, April 26.—Hon. Mr. Fielding read the following despatch which he had received from Sir Mortimer Durand, British ambassador at Washington, and addressed to the governor-general.

"United States government requests me to inform you to convey to the Canadian Government an expression of their deepest gratitude and most profound appreciation of the magnificent contribution by the Canadian government for the relief of the distressed citizens of San Francisco. The United States government is assured that the Canadian government will understand that they appreciate its generous action none the less highly because of the conclusion they have reached that outside assistance will be unnecessary."

Mr. Fielding said that as soon as the house unanimously intimated its approval of the vote the British ambassador was communicated with and the result was shown by the message. The vote, however, would be passed in due course so that should circumstances arise to cause the United States government to change its views upon the question the money would be available.

COLD SETTLES IN THE BACK

It hits people in a tender spot and makes it mighty hard to brace up. Nervine takes that link out of your spinal column in short order; it soothes, that's why relief comes so soon. Nervine penetrates, that's why it cures. Five times stronger than ordinary remedies, Nervine can't fail to cure lame back, lumbago, sciatica and neuralgia. Nervine is a constant death to all muscular pain. For nearly fifty years it has been the largest selling liniment in Canada. Better try it.

Artificial Gem Betrays itself.

NO MATTER HOW PERFECT IT LACKS SYMPATHIC ATTRACTION FOR ITS HUMAN MATE.

Science has come to the fore to testify that the belief that precious stones have a peculiar sympathy with human character and bearing thereon is no idle superstition. A professor of the conservatory of Arts and Crafts says that the mutual attraction of people and stones is beyond dispute.

He throws cold water on the belief that sapphires can open prison doors or that diamonds make brave men invulnerable. But after three years experimental observation he maintains that a preference for certain temperamental qualities and even characteristics of physiognomy.

For instance, the ruby invariably attracts people of dark eyes with long eye-lashes.

The diamond tempts the blue eyed who boasts long eye-lashes. And both blonde and brunette alike if of a nervous temperament yearn for emeralds.

Easy going natures fall under the spell of blue stones.

But more than all these scientific facts is the discovery that the sympathy of the stone is a sure sign of genuineness. A cure may be effected by applying Chamberlain's Salve as soon as the child is done nursing. Wipe it off with a soft cloth before allowing the child to nurse. Many trained nurses use this salve with the best results. Price 25 cents per box. $1.11 by R. C. Vye.

San Francisco. The City by The Golden Gate.

BY MICHAEL WHELAN.

Vesuvius belched forth in flame
And spread destruction far and wide,
Thy traffic still went on the same
Unknown what should soon betide;
While poor Italy's people wept
And those beneath her mountain groaned,
The city of St. Francis slept,
By far Pacific waves enthroned.
While forth from Vast Vesuvius streamed
The lava and the fires of hell,
On thee the golden sunlight gleamed,
Thy trade went on and all was well;
When lo! at once the crisis came
And you awake, but all too late,
The earthquake followed by the flame,
O city of The Golden Gate.

O city by the western sea,
To-day in ashes lying low,
Our sympathy we send to thee,
In this thy day of deepest woe:
In this thy day of dreadful loss,
We mourn thy most unhappy fate,
With thee we bear this bitter cross,
O city of the Golden Gate.

From fair Canadian homes of peace
A prayer ascends in hope and pain
That death and devastation cease,
That our beloved may breathe again
The western air so sweet and pure,
Made foul in darkness desolate,
Ah, God, what anguish we endure
For friends beside the Golden Gate.

O splendid city by the sea
O Paradise far in the west,
Our hearts go out to thine and thee,
Thy peerless people sore distressed;
Ah, would to God we could assuage
At once thy want and sorrow great,
Within whose homes the demons rage,
O city by the Golden Gate.

Our hearts and hands are open wide
To send to thee some swift relief,
Like lava flows the tender tide
Of pity in thy greatest grief;
From All America there springs
The cry of tenderest, truest love,
Ah, could we give our succor wings
Far swifter than the wings of a dove.

Resurgent! thou shalt rise again
Replenished from thy ruined site,
All thou hast lost thou shalt regain,
And rise redeemed, reclothed in light;
Thy palaces again shall soar
In splendor and surpassing state,
And thou shalt be, beloved, once more
The City of the Golden Gate.

SYMPATHY FOR WONDER DOCTOR.

There was a riot in the district court at Kempton, near Berlin, Germany, Josepha Welf, a woman wonder-doctor, 72 years of age, was sentenced to six weeks imprisonment. She had earned large sums of money by her practice, and the peasants had unlimited faith in her powers.

Recently two patients sustained lifelong injuries from her treatment and when the cases were reported to the public prosecutor he took action.

The court was crowded with believers in the old woman, who attended to give evidence of the cases she had effected in their own cases, and hundreds of people waited outside for the verdict.

When sentence was passed, the court was stormed by the crowd, who attempted to rescue Welf. They stoned the judge as he left the building, smashing the windows, and had a stubborn fight with the police, who made some arrests.

Rebuild Your Tired, Aching Body

Winter has left you in a state of fatigue and weariness. The vitality of your blood is gone. Your nerves are weakened and you find it hard to sleep. The temptation to "brace up" with an alcoholic mixture is great,—but it's uselessness is plain to everyone. Better follow Nature's plan; it's always a sure one.

First create new appetite. Improve your digestion. Perfect the process of assimilation. This will ensure a supply of rich nourishing blood.

Healthy blood soon makes a healthy body, and a system fed by pure, rich blood is bound to gain in energy and strength. To get well and stay well, use the food tonic "Ferrozone" which is composed of concentrated vegetable extracts that supply nutrition that every sickly person needs.

No matter how long you've been in poor health, Ferrozone will win you back like it did Mrs. Sadie E. Hielop of Whitby, Ont., who writes: "Ferrozone not only brings health to the sick, but has power to cure quickly. After being confined to bed with sickness, I seemed unable to make any headway on the road to complete health. My vitality was low and I was in a great need of strength. My nerve force was gone, and from headaches and poor sleep I was in bad straits. Ferrozone was just what I needed. It increased my strength, gave me a new feeling entirely. I used about eight boxes and was made perfectly well. My doctor thinks Ferrozone a wonderful cure."

Your druggist tells it in 50c. boxes or six boxes for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A. and Kingston, Ont.

A woman once told Lord Palmerston that her maid, who had been with her on the Isle of Wight objected to going thither again because the climate was not embracing enough.

What am I going to do with such a woman? she asked. You had better take her to the Isle of Man next time, said Lord Palmerston.

Why Red Rose Tea is Economical

RED Rose Tea has all the good points of two good teas and none of the weaknesses of any. You never drank a cup of straight Ceylon or Indian tea that could compare in strength, richness, delicacy and fragrance with the "rich fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea.

Yet Red Rose Tea goes further and costs no more than either Indian or Ceylon teas alone.

Red Rose Tea is better than either Indian or Ceylon tea and is more economical because it goes further.

TO SET OUT FOUR MORE ORCHARDS

Local Government Department of Agriculture Continues Educational Policy.

St. John April 21.—It is the intention of the New Brunswick department of agriculture to set out four more experimental orchard plots early next month. They will also replace those trees which were killed by the hard winter of 1904-5. Arrangements have also been made for Farmer's Institute meetings at seven provincial points, which should prove of special interest. The orchards will probably be set out at Balmoral, Restigouche county; Riverside, Albert county; Perth station, Sunbury county, and New Bandon, Gloucester. Besides these new ones, all those orchards set out in 1904 will have to be visited and some trees renewed.

Professor Lockhead, of Guelph Agriculture College, has been engaged as the principal speaker at the institute meetings to be held in June at Andover, Victoria county; Lindsay, Carleton county; Springhill, York county; Gagetown, Queens county; Kingston, Kings county; Fox Creek, Westmorland county, and Chatham, Northumberland county. There will be two meetings at each point. At the first in the afternoon, Professor Lockhead, will speak on weeds and weed eradication and on injurious insects. The second meeting, in the evening, will be held in some hall. It is likely that the meeting at Kingston will assume the form of a picnic in which the pupils of the Consolidated School will participate.

Early settlers tell us that in the early days, while Kansas was still an unsettled prairie, animal and vegetable matter did not decay as it does now, but simply dried up. ## RIOTS IN PARIS

Trouble Expected Over Working men's Great Strike.

According to a semi-official statement made by a high functionary of the prefecture of police to-day, the military and police are prepared to meet every eventuality May 1. He said the police canvass shows that 80,000 men have stopped work, of which number the disorderly element does not exceed 20,000. Against these can be massed 42,000 to 45,000 troops, namely, 20,000 infantry, 10,000 cavalry and 10,000 to 15,000 republican guards and police, with large additional reserves. The police will endeavor to localize the manifestation to the Place de la Republique, which is the great labor centre, and to the vicinity of the labor exchange. This will prevent the manifestations from gaining west of the Place de la Concorde, into the residential sections of the Champs Elysee or Passy. It is expected that the strength of the military and police will readily enable them to confine the disorderly element within its own eastern sections, thus reducing the demonstration to districts which should easily be controlled. The police are convinced that there is no danger of a lack of food supplies during the strike in the provision trades. They declare that the dealers in provisions are reaping a harvest by spreading alarmist reports. The police are in favor of closing the stores together.

In conclusion the official prefecture stated that the situation, while being serious, does not warrant it being represented as tragic. The painters have decided to stop work May 1 and to remain out until they are granted an eight-hour day and a weekly holiday.

WHY THAT WEARINESS?

You're uneasy, restless, without appetite. Still worse you are thin and lagged out. Work must be done, but where is the strength to come from? Make you blood nutritious and you'll have lots of strength. Your only hope is Ferrozone, an instant blood maker, blood purifier, blood enricher. It brings keen appetite, digests food and supplies nutrition for building up all the body tissues. Ferrozone makes muscle and nerve fiber, increases your weight, instills a reserve of energy into the body that defies weariness or exhaustion from any cause. To have virility and healthy vigor use Ferrozone which all dealers sell in 50c. boxes.

FASHION FOR MEN.

The tendency among men this spring and summer will be to wear the quietest clothes possible. Some wonderful creations in the way of waistcoats have been introduced to go with the dinner coat, but the plain black remains the only correct form. It is cut U shaped, and has three buttons. There will be no loud-patterned shirts or brilliant ties so much in favor some time ago, and the variety of queer greens introduced last season will be used only in mixtures. Gray remains a favorite because there is so much motoring and driving, and there is no better color for the road. The colors so far imported by fashionable tailors are all of the most sober description. There is a general tendency to be informal and to discard afternoon dress. In America top hats are rarely seen after May. In fact, at two fashionable country weddings last spring, the bridegroom and ushers wore business suits and straw and felt hats. There has been much speculation regarding the modish collar for spring and summer. The flaps of the winged collar are pointed, as they are found at the best haberdashers on fifth avenue and Broadway. The collar for ordinary wear with colored shirts will be the turnover or Eton, not too high, with rounded ends. The Panama hat has come to stay. The real article was too expensive to be cast aside in a single season. Comfort above all things is to be desired in the spring and summer, and this cannot be found in a stiff hat. A straw hat that can be made into any shape will come with the blossoms of May and remain the entire summer.

FIVE GOLDEN RULES.

First—Eat only 3 meals a day, 5 hours apart.

It requires 4 to 4½ hours to digest a meal. This leaves ½ to 1 hour for the stomach to rest.

Second—Eat nothing between meals.

If anything is taken into the stomach while digestion is going on, digestion stops and may not start again for an hour.

Third—Eat slowly and chew food thoroughly.

This insures food being well mixed with saliva and partially digested before it reaches the stomach.

Fourth—Drink little fluid with meals.

The stomach gives out about a pint of gastric juice to digest each meal. If you take another pint of tea, wine or water, then the digestive juices are too diluted to properly digest the food.

Fifth—Take one "Fruit-a-tives" tablet about twenty minutes before meals. "Fruit-a-tives" tone up and sweeten the stomach—insure an abundant flow of digestive juices—and cure Dyspepsia.

Follow these directions for a month and see how much better you are in every way.

The Eyes of Animals.

RESULTS OF RECENT INVESTIGATION BY A BRITISH SCIENTIST.

For some years past the eminent British ophthalmologist, Dr. Lindsay Johnson has been investigating the eyes of animals, and has made some valuable discoveries of great interest to zoology and our knowledge of the evolution of various animals.

One of the most remarkable of these researches, says the Scientific American, is a confirmation of Darwin's theory that man is closely related to the primates. From his investigation Dr. Johnson has found that the eyes of all the apes, including man, are practically identical. Each has the highly complex system of veins and arteries, and the direct or parallel vision.

According to this authority, the dog has two ancestors, one round-eyed and the other oval-eyed. The first is the hyena and the latter the bear through the raccoon. All animals exposed to chase by enemies, such as the hare, rabbit and squirrel, can see all around, and all the rodentia squint.

The lower animal in the scale, the further is its eye from the from the parallel of vision. According to this authority, also, the corpus niger, or black body of pigment, in the eye of the horse, which has proved such a source of speculation to the naturalist, veterinarians and zoologists, reveals through the ophthalmoscope a new means of tracing the ancestry and relationship of the horse. The eye curtain is precisely the same as that which is found in all tropical animals, such as the onaga, camel, antelope, etc., and fulfill one important function—the protection of the eye from sunlight.

One result of Dr. Johnston's researches will necessitate a reclassification in one section of zoology.

NORTHUMBERLAND IS HEARD.

For years Northumberland County had been represented by a man who was not able to stand up on the floors of Parliament and deliver an address on any subject which might be to the interests of his constituents. But recently this long silence was broken, and last week we published in full a very able address on the Grand Trunk Pacific route delivered by Northumberland's representative, Mr. W. S. Loggie, M. P. From what we learn the maiden address of our representative has made a good impression and he has been complimented on all sides on the able manner in which he dealt with this question.

We quote the following from an editorial in a recent issue of the Moncton Transcript:

"Mr. Loggie recognizes the true spirit underlying the proposed construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific from ocean to ocean and especially so from Winnipeg to Lewis and from Lewis to Moncton, the colonization and developing aim of the road.

"If a favored argument that the construction of a railroad imperils the forests of New Brunswick were to be applied elsewhere along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the road as located would have to be abandoned altogether from here to Winnipeg and skirt parallel with the C. P. R. for hundreds of miles the barren littoral north of Lake Superior.

"If the central or back route in this province is demonstrated by the surveyors and engineers to be the shortest and cheapest in construction, then it is fortunate for New Brunswick that the construction of this railway will open for settlement and development a vast area of beautiful and fertile lands in the center of our province.

"Conditions have changed from the days when our forefathers would go away into the woods and hew out homes for themselves and allow the railroads to follow them, but the modern principle is that the railroads shall precede the settler rather than the settler shall precede the railroad, and eloquent as may be some of the advocates of the rival route, they live rather in the traditions of the past and overlook the principles which govern settlement in the present."

THE INSURANCE PROBLEM.

An interesting question has been revived by the late devastation in San Francisco. Some five years ago two reverend gentlemen, one from Fredericton and the other from Lower Cove, St. John, held a public meeting in the latter city in the interests of Organized Labor in which they discussed Old age and Pensions, and Pride and Poverty. There aim was to aid by their little influences to place Organized Labor in such a position that it could command a more equal distribution of the world's wealth; a principal differing from Socialism only in this, that the means to be adopted should be legitimate, both legally and morally. The utter impracticability of such a scheme was there pointed out to them by a Jew who was evidently well schooled in the Anti-Social doctrine. He took for an example, Standard Oil and showed how utterly impossible it was to regulate the profits by any sort of Legislation. If Government should raise the standard of wages, the company was sure to retaliate by raising the price of oil. If the Government fixed a price for oil, then the company would lower the price of wages. If the Government undertook to regulate both, why then the company simply put what money they had earned into their pockets and went out of business entirely and threw the laborer out of employment, so no matter whatever course was adopted the laboring public was the sufferer. The Jew certainly hit the mark; and to-day we find the Insurance Companies doing the very thing which he had laid at the door of Standard Oil. In the late conflagration, the Insurance Companies reported a loss of $119,440,000. But do they purpose bearing the loss? By no means; although in years past some of the companies who have been late sufferers have actually paid in a single year dividends of 90% on their paid up capital. But they do not purpose standing for this loss: they purpose making the policy holders meet it. They do this by raising their rates. They have met in concave and the result is that throughout the whole of the United States Insurance is to be raised twenty five cents per hundred dollars. In this way they will soon have recovered back all that they have lost by the late conflagration and a whole lot more besides. The same thing is soon to result in Canada. To the recent demands for a reduction of rates in St. John they are told that when the rates are raised elsewhere affairs will then be pretty nearly equalized. This is very little consolation to the long suffering policyholders of the Eastern Provinces; for it is an undisputed fact that the rates in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are much higher than elsewhere.

The announcement of the intended twenty five cents per hundred dollars advance has been received with a howl throughout the entire United States, and well it should, for these very same insurance companies who are complaining of the present low rate of insurance here are actually paying each year all the way from 20 per cent. to 90 per cent. dividends on their paid up capital which in many instances figures well up into the millions.

But the people of the Eastern Provinces are alive to the issue and already forty of the most prominent men of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have formed a plan of mutual insurance whereby the policy holders obtain their insurance at cost. The plan is briefly this. The company agrees to all commercial risks at the tariff rate, the premiums paid representing the capital stock of other companies. At the end of the year, instead of declaring dividends on the capital stock and handing it over to a few shareholders they declare the dividends on the premiums paid, and hand it back to the policy holders. In this way the policy holder gets a rebate on his policy of from 20 per cent to 33 per cent. of the premium which he paid. In addition to this they agree to carry residential risks at about one third less than the present tariff rate of $1.30 per hundred for three years and farm risks from $1.45 to $1.60 per hundred with rebate as above. The tariff for the same is $2.20.

The benefits to be derived from such a system of Insurance in addition to the cheapness of the rate, are many. But if it was nothing more than keeping within our own Province the millions of dollars or more that it every year sent up to the Upper Provinces or over to the United States and England, it is worthy of consideration. Last year more than a million dollars went out of two cities of this province in premiums and only $60,000 came back in the way of indemnity claims. When the people of the Maritime Provinces are fully awakened from their long dormancy Toronto and Montreal will cease to be their treasury.

THE INDEMNITY GRAB.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Borden are in line with public opinion in regard to the increase granted last year to members of parliament and have pledged themselves to give an opportunity for a full discussion of the matter in parliament.

It is interesting and at the same time shameful to note that the measure seemed to meet with approval from both sides of the House last year and that not a single tongue was raised to oppose it; but several have spoken in defence of it and the last and probably the most amusing defence was that put up by Mr. Miller, the honorable member for South Gray, Ontario; and the manner in which he endeavored to rake up items of expense to cover the amount of the indemnity puts even old Shylock in the shade.

We wonder what the great statesmen of England think of the mercenary politicians of her great colony in the West. At the present day the members of the House of Lords in England do not receive any remuneration at all for their services. In the year 1870 a private member brought in a bill to have them paid on the ground that in no country except England and Spain the law was in force. Mr. Gladstone, at that time prime minister of England, opposed the bill with great force on the ground of degradation as contrary to morals. Even without such an enactment it is possible for a member there to obtain a right for levying the expenses of his time and trouble coming to parliament. As a matter of fact such a right was once procured, but the honorable member who procured it never had the privilege of issuing another. Such, too, might have been the fate of our Indemnity Grab supporters had it not appeared that they consisted of the whole House. We may denounce them, but to what effect. Alas there may be a worse return. Certainly Mr. Borden cannot boast of the virtue of his followers—it will aid him very little in his fight for victory at the next election. The whole house seems to have been tarred with the same stick, and the only possible remedy is to administer shame in large doses; it moved even the great Insurance magnets to repentance.

WORK IN THE WEST.

Our Western correspondent is loud in his praises of the great West. Under date of April fourteenth he writes: "Spring has set us free from the dreary winter. The farmers have been very busy seeding for the past week or more. Mr. J—— is rushing things as he has only himself and one hired man with which to crop eight hundred acres. It is now seven, thirty and the men are not in for supper yet. This statement is enough to surprise some of our readers: How it is possible for two men to make ready 800 acres of land for crop. But in the west the task is not beyond the limits of possibility. Seated each upon a gang plough drawn by four horses these tireless western farmers work with the energy of despair. The soil is mallow and easily turned and they usually turn over from nine to ten acres per day with two gang ploughs. The spring is much earlier than in this province, allowing more time for seeding, and in addition to this there is a great deal of summer and fall ploughing. The grain is sowed by ordinary seed sowers but the harrows are of a much larger type. The grain once sown, grows rapidly in the rich alluvial soil and is ready for harvest long before our wheat is ripe. The work of harvest then begins and for a month or more the farmers are again working with the energy of desperation. That there is plenty of work is shown by the last sentence of our correspondent's letter. Throughout all the spring and summer they are on the "go" from early morning until late at night, and the horses, fattened up during the winter and in the very best of condition when the spring work begins, are often reduced to skeletons before the crop is harvested. And the men. Well they are not made of iron either, and when the horses feel the effects of the hard work so much the drivers cannot be far behind them. If you want WORK, go west."

FOILED AGAIN.

The evidence of Mr. W. F. Sumner one of the most prominent conservatives in Moncton, given before the public accounts committee at Ottawa, came at a very inopportune time for those who have been accusing Mr. Emmerson of wholesale graft because, in his capacity as minister of railways, he purchased oil for the L. C. R. from the New Brunswick Petroleum Company, of which he was once president and in which he has invested some money.

After Mr. Lodge, the secretary of the company, had testified that the New Brunswick oil was sold to the government railway for five cents a gallon less than the road had been paying to the Imperial Oil Company. Mr. Sumner, who is now president, gave evidence that Mr. Emmerson never got a dollar out of the company and has not for two years had any active connection with its management. The oil wells were in Albert and Westmorland counties, he said, and Mr. Emmerson's interest in them was largely sentimental, as, if they proved a success they would be of considerable benefit to those counties and the province generally. So conclusive was Mr. Sumner's testimony that Mr. Baker, M. P. for Hamilton, who has been the chief mover in the investigation, declared the inquiry closed.—Ex.

Under the auspices of the department of agriculture an extensive test of the milk producing quality of various foods for cows is being made at St. Edwidge, Que. The results, which will be published for the benefit of dairymen generally, will undoubtedly convey much valuable information.

Druggery.

The everyday cares and duties which men call druggery are the weights and counterpoises of the clock of time, giving its pendulum a true vibration and its hands a regular motion, and when they cease to hang upon its wheels the pendulum no longer swings, the hands no longer move, the clock stands still.—Longfellow.

A Protest.

The Lion—The leopard, you know, cannot change his spots. The Zebra—Well, I can't change my stripes either, but no one ever thought it of sufficient interest to make a proverb of.

Good Nature May Be Costly.
"Don't look so glum, Filbertson. Use cheery words. They cost nothing."
"Cost nothing! If I speak ten cheery words to my wife, she asks me for some money."

A Little Misunderstanding.
"Sir, your son's performance on the French horn is execrable. It will drive everybody from my house. You told me he was a teacher."
"I did not. I said he was a tooter."

Men are often capable of greater things than they perform. They are sent into the world with bills of credit and seldom draw to their full extent.—Walpole.

The "Sunshine" furnace and "sunny" ways are synonymous.

The cold, dreary winter days can be made cheery and warm with a pure, healthful heat if you have a "Sunshine" furnace.

Is easier to operate, cleaner, uses less fuel and "shines" in many other ways over common furnaces.

Two shakers are used to shake the heavy, triangular-shaped grates. This just cuts the work of shaking-down in half, besides being easier on the furnace than the old one-shaker style.

Sold by enterprising dealers everywhere.

SCOTT'S
Emulsion

When you go to a drug store and ask for Scott's Emulsion you know what you want; the man knows you ought to have it. Don't be surprised, though, if you are offered something else. Wines, cordials, extracts, etc., of cod liver oil are plentiful but don't imagine you are getting cod liver oil when you take them. Every year for thirty years we've been increasing the sales of Scott's Emulsion. Why? Because it has always been better than any substitute for it.

GROUND BOUGHT FOR NEW SHOPS

I. C. R. Purchase a Tract of Land
Near Moncton For This Purpose.

Moncton, April, 28.—The Intercolonial Railway virtually closed the purchase today of a tract of land about one mile and one quarter long and one-third of a mile broad along the northern track of the Intercolonial from a point near the Exhibition or Frotting Park to the junction with the Mountain Road.

There are some details not yet closed but the purchase as a whole is so complete as to leave little doubt that satisfactory arrangements can be made for the remainder of the property by expropriation or otherwise. It is doubtful, however, if expropriation will be necessary.

Trouble For Government Clerks.
"Congress makes lots of unnecessary trouble for the government clerks," said a veteran employee, "but the worst case I know of occurred some years ago. A certain senator asked the comptroller of the currency to tell him how much stock a certain man had in a national bank. He was informed that such information was regarded as confidential and could not be given out."

"We'll see about that," said the senator, who was plainly disappointed and displeased.

"Several days later he secured the passage of a resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury to furnish the senate with the names and holdings of the stockholders in all the national banks in the country. He really wanted to know only the interest of one man in a bank, but he knew that he couldn't get a resolution of that kind through the senate, so he included the stockholders in all national banks. It took the entire force of the comptroller's office several weeks to prepare the information, and when it reached the senate nobody paid any attention to it except the author of the resolution, and he merely looked at the mass of papers only long enough to see about the man he was after and then tossed the papers aside. It was an immense lot of work for nothing."

The Abbe's Criticism.
An American lady residing in Rome presented to a friend, who is an abbe, an intellectual man and familiar with English, although no traveler, a copy of one of Mary Wilkins' New England stories.

"The author of this, my dear friend," she said, "is the best portrayer of New England character we have. No other writer has caught so well the charm of the place and the people. I hope you will like it."

The abbe took the book and thanked her. In a few days he came again and returned it gingerly, saying a word or two of thanks.

"Were you not pleased with the quaint portrayal of the life?" asked the lady.

"You say this is a faithful portrayal of life in New England?"

"Very faithful indeed."

The abbe sighed and said, with deep sympathy, "How and!"

The Curse of Shiftlessness.
Whether shiftlessness is a vice that is incurable or a habit that can be overcome, it is anyhow a condition that perplexes and irritates relieving officials. Shiftlessness is paying one's last 50 cents for a circus ticket without learning where tomorrow's breakfast is coming from. It is a refusal to repair the leak in the roof when the sun shines. It is killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. It takes no thought of the morrow. It never lays up anything for a rainy day. It always ignores opportunities. It prefers to rely on neighborhood bounty to hustling for itself. It won't work, except under the pressure of necessity. It never gets ahead.

Man Who Behaved Charles I.
The mysterious masked man who headed Charles I. remains British analogue for the Man With the Iron Mask. Lilly, the lying astrologer, denounced Cornet Joyce at the restoration, but Joyce on the fatal 30th of January was not in favor of Cromwell. The parish register of Whitechapel records the burial in 1649 of Richard Brandon, the common hangman, and opposite the entry a contemporary hand wrote that "he cut off the head of Charles the First." Brandon himself asserted that "they made him do it for £30," with which he drank himself to death.—Dundee Advertiser.

Drinking Hot Water.
Persons who have irritability of the heart should not drink hot water. Hot water will cause palpitation in such cases. Persons with dilated stomachs should avoid the drinking of hot water; persons afflicted with "sour stomachs," persons who have soreness of the stomach or pain induced by light pressure should also abstain from drinking it. Hot water will relieve thirst better than cold water, and for that purpose it should not be condemned, but hot water is an excitant, and in cases in which irritation of the stomach exists it should be avoided.

FIRE IN TORONTO POST OFFICE.

After the fire the Engineer's Body
Found Floating in the Basement.

Toronto, April 29.—The lower floor of the Toronto general post office were gutted by fire at 3 o'clock this morning. When the flames had been extinguished the body of Geo. L. Tray, the engineer, was found floating in 10 feet of water in the basement.

The upper stories of the building were undamaged. Officials state that there was not much mail matter on the lower floors and that much of that which was in the building was only damaged by water. The registered letters were in the vault and saved. The total loss is estimated at thirty thousand dollars.

THE AGITATOR'S DIFFICULTY

The reformer often discovers qualities in his fellow man that others do not discern. His findings out are, moreover, apt to be painful when it is borne in upon him that moral courage is among the rarest of human traits.

A peril that requires the exercise of physical bravery almost never fails of a response that translates itself into deeds of heroism, but the courage that has to face social embarrassment, or possible commercial loss, be it ever so little, is conspicuous by its lack among both women and men. Since the success of reforms depends wholly in the last resort upon a sustaining public opinion it is in the last degree discouraging for one whose heart is in a worthy cause, and who is unselfishly devoting energies to its advancement, to encounter at every turn this cowardice which acknowledges the justice, need and timeliness of the propaganda, but shinks from identification with it, but such associations prove inconvenient.

The reformer when he most needs the endorsement of his fellows, thus who, by reason of influence or riches, have it in their power to quicken the movement as it can be quickened in no other way. Because of this cowardice reforms are unnecessarily retarded, and the way of the evangel made unduly arduous and discouraging. For, however possessed of his reform ideas a man may be, and however generally hopeful, he has inevitably his periods of disheartenment over the slow growth of public opinion, and quite the hardest experience to endure at such times is the knowledge that many who are sufficiently imbued and enlightened to appreciate the need of the special reform fear to come out in the open.

The really good cause of course, persists and eventually triumphs, and when it is finally accepted as beyond is desired, the reformer who first presented it and who fought for it the heat and burden of long years of contumely, finds, to his infinite scorn, that among those who pose as pioneers are the very cowards who dared not show their heads until the public acclaimed the cause.

SIR WILFRED 'AND CARNEGIE.

Andrew Carnegie Addressed Canadian Club at Ottawa Saturday Last.

OTTAWA, April 29.—At the Canadian Club banquet Saturday, Andrew Carnegie talked of universal peace and better relations between the Anglo-Saxon peoples and the French. He referred to Sir Wilfred Laurier as one of the five greatest men of the world. He recalled with pleasure a statement Sir Wilfred made in an English speech that Canada was a nation. The Canadian prime minister's greatest service had been performed in parliament, where he had declared Canada would never allow herself to be drawn into the vortex of militaryism.

"Your governor-general," Mr. Carnegie said, "is a great asset. He captured every one on the occasion of his recent visit to the United States. If you ever want to win the United States government, send down the governor-general and Sir Wilfred Laurier and you do not know you have done."

Sir Wilfred in reply said: "The time is coming when all branches of the Anglo-Saxon race are bound to become united. He was as sure of this as of his own existence."

Mr. Carnegie will tomorrow open the library which he donated to Ottawa.

WED IN CHURCH

With Bath well Represented in the Bridal Party—Episcopalian Service with Flower girl and Two Rings.

At high noon on Wednesday occurred the marriage of Miss Edith R. Copp, a well known New Brunswick book-keeper, and Miriam A. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Walker, of Bath Me. The marriage occurred at St. Paul's Episcopal church, being solemnized by Rev. Charles Follen Lee, of Newcastle.

Promptly at half past one the wedding party entered the church to the strains of Lohegrin's wedding march played by Miss Alice Lincoln. The bride, who was gownned in a creation of white voile trimmed with white silk lace, was attended by Mrs. Louis Allen of Bath, as matron of honor, while Louis Allen of Bath attended the groom as best man.

Miss Ruth Heaton of Bath, was the flower girl and Miss Beatrice Washburn, of Bath ring bearer, both little tots being gownned in dresses of white lace.

The two-ring Episcopal service was used after which the bridal party returned to the residence of the groom where a short reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Walker left on the afternoon train for Boston and vicinity, where they will pass their honeymoon.

Miss Edith R. Copp is a sister of Mrs. Allan Russell, of this town.

THE PHARMACY

NEWCASTLE, N. B.

Whom Key Unlocked the Door?

There is a true story told by a doctor. This doctor had a patient, a brother physician, who was ill of a disease no one has ever cured yet. The sick man realized that his case was hopeless, and he knew, too, that before he died he would go through horrible convulsions. He begged his friend to kill him in order to spare his wife the sight of anything so unforgettably hideous, and the physician, bound by his code of ethics, refused. The sick man begged his wife to let him have his revolver, but she refused. The physician locked the drawer of the bureau in which it lay and gave the wife the key. Two days later the sick man shot himself, and the revolver he used was his own. He had unlocked the drawer.

"We found the key in it," said the doctor. "It was not the one I had given to the wife. I took it, and when I had a chance I went quietly into the room occupied by the man's mother. The key exactly fitted the lock of her bureau. That's all I know, except that the mother came out of the house with her bonnet and cloak on two minutes before her son shot himself."

Half Deaf People.

"If you are deaf in one ear," said the bootmaker, "I don't care about giving you a job."

"Why?" asked the applicant. "Because you can't tell what direction sounds come from; hence in a place like this you would be in great danger."

"How do you know I can't tell what direction sounds come from?" the applicant demanded.

"No person deaf in one ear," replied the bootmaker, "can do so. A man deaf in one ear will look behind him if a gun goes off on his right. He will look up in the air if a child shrieks at his feet. He will look wildly in front of him if a locomotive whistles in his rear. A booter shop is no place for such a man."

"I knew I was like this," said the applicant, "but I didn't know all half deaf people were."

"They all are," said the bootmaker, "and my shop is no place for them."

All a Matter of Doubt Anyway.

A young man from the south who a few years ago was so fortunate as to be enabled to enter the law offices of a well known New York firm was first entrusted with a very simple case. He was asked by the late James C. Carter, then a member of the firm, to give an opinion in writing. When this was submitted it was observed by Mr. Carter that, with the touching confidence of a neophyte, the young southerner had begun with the expression, "I am clearly of opinion."

When this caught his eye he smiled and said: "My dear young friend, never state that you are clearly of opinion on a law point. The most you can hope to discover is the preponderance of the doubt."—Success.

Out of the Public.

When I was a very little boy, writes Sir William Gregory in his autobiography, my grandfather, who was then undersecretary for Ireland, took me to the chief secretary's room in Dublin castle and formally introduced me to Lord Melbourne.

After I had been with him for some little time he said, "Now, my boy, is there anything here you would like?" "Yes," I answered, pointing to a very large stick of sealing wax.

"That's right," said Lord Melbourne, pressing on me a bundle of pens; "begin life early. All these things belong to the public, and your business must always be to get out of the public as much as you can."

Omens of Bricklayers.

Bricklayers believe it is unlucky to lay the top brick at the north corner of a building. Some of them would lose a day's pay rather than imperil their future by doing such a piece of work. A bricklayer often bricks up in the hollow of a wall a horseshoe with a cent tied to it. This he does for good luck. To lay the first brick of any building but a church brings good luck to the bricklayer. Churches are the luckiest buildings to work on; theaters are the unluckiest. It is bad luck to break a trowel.

Corroborative.

"This," exclaimed the orator, "is a decadent nation! As before the fall of Rome everything was rotten, so today in our erstwhile fair land everything is rotten. Just here an egg struck him fairly. His nostrils dilated.

"I desire," he continued, "before retiring to add that this egg is corroborative evidence."

A Case For Sympathy.

"I have three children, who are the very image of myself," said Jones enthusiastically.

"I pity the youngest," returned Brown quietly.

"Because he is the one who will have to resemble you the longest," said Brown.

Desperate.

Aunt Ruth—"This said to grow old Her Niece—How much would you give to be as young as I? Aunt Ruth—I would almost submit to being as foolish."

Unexpected.

"Can your wife make as good pies as your mother did?"

"Yes, indeed. Mother uses my wife's recipe."

Assistant Fool Makers.

It doesn't take much of a girl to make a fool of any man. Nature did it first.

Icebergs.

Icebergs sometimes last as long as 200 years before they melt entirely away.

Robert, King of Wessex.
The first monarch to bear the title king of England was Egbert, king of Wessex, who, having subdued the other states of the heptarchy, established his dominion over the whole English Territory.

Two Eventful Occasions.

The bridal veil of a Japanese young lady is subsequently used as her shroud. Just after the marriage it is carefully put away and reserved until death makes its use again necessary.

Color Blindness and Eyes.

It has been noted by the oculists that blue eyed people are seldom color blind, the percentage of those so afflicted being greatest among persons with hazel and black eyes.

The Best Eyes.

Americans have the best eyes of any nation.

Bosh.

The word "bosh" is simply the Turkish for nothing and came into England about the time of the Crimean war.

Charcoal For Potted Plants.
Charcoal is the most beneficial to potted plants if broken in pieces the size of small chestnuts and added to the soil in the proportion of one part to twenty of earth.

Arkansas.
Arkansas a great many years ago was nicknamed the Bear State, from the abundance of bears in the mountainous districts. For over forty years Arkansas had almost a monopoly of the bear stories of this country.

American Indigo.

The first indigo grown in this country was from seeds sent by Governor Lucas of Antigua, who forwarded them to his daughter in South Carolina in the year 1743.

Flats in Denmark.

The custom of living in flats is very general in Denmark, and the Danish women are most excellent housekeepers. There are no open fireplaces, only stoves, and in order to exclude the intense cold of the north in winter double glass windows are fixed, with trailing plants growing between the two sheets of glass.

Dentistry.

The art of dentistry was introduced into New York by John Greenwood in 1788. He is said to have made the first artificial teeth ever manufactured in this country.

The Whole Hog.

"Going the whole hog" was originally a piece of butchers' slang. In the colonial days of America purchasers would frequently buy a whole hog to be cut up at home; hence the butcher would ask if the customer meant to go the whole hog or wanted only a part.

Animated Bed Warmers.
Strange bed warmers are used by Chilean women. In cold weather, when in bed, they keep their feet warm by placing them on a dog.

The Barber's Art.

The barber's art in Europe dates from the time of Alexander the Great, B. C. 330. He ordered every soldier to shave, lest the beard should give a handle to their enemies.

The Early Eras.

In the early days of Christianity many styles of dating were in vogue, and eras were established with the annunciation, the birth, the transfiguration, the ascension and other events in the history of Christ as starting points.

Our First Religious Journal.
The first religious journal in this country was the Recorder at Chillicothe, O., in 1814.

Imitation Maple Sugar.

A good substitute for maple sugar is made by using equal parts of granulated white and dark brown sugar, add one-half the quantity of water and boil until it is of the desired thickness. When cool add three drops of vanilla extract.

The Vastness of the Earth.

Some idea of the vast extent of the surface of the earth may be obtained when it is noted that if a lofty church steeple is ascended and the landscape visible from it looked at 900,000 such landscapes must be viewed in order that the whole earth may be seen.

Fire Insurance.
Insurance against fire in the case of residences, shops, ships and warehouses was in general use in Italy as early as A. D. 1194.

The Week.

As a division of time the week has been used in the east from immemorial ages. It does not seem to be a natural division of time, though several periods of animal economy, such as the incubation of eggs, correspond with weeks.

Bunions.

A bunion is nearly always caused by badly fitting footwear and pointed toes. Wear boots especially made, and remove all pressure from the bunion. When pain and inflammation subside, some apparatus may be applied to straighten the toe into normal position.

Nineveh.

The excavations made at the site of Nineveh prove that the city was burned and then deserted by its inhabitants, who were probably deported after the last great siege.

OUR MOTHER TONGUE.

He may be a druggist who drugs. But he's not a huggist who hugs. And no tinker ever has tunk. Though you can't get a craftsman to crawl. A respectable draftsman may draw. And a drinker may often be drunk.

We say of the swimmer, "He swam." But not of the trimmer, "She tram." And we never rowers have rowa. Though a man who has brought may not brach.

The one who has caught still may catch. And many a thrower has thrown. 'Tis common for sailors to sail. But it isn't for tailors to tail. And more than one plan are not plen. If the broker is not one who brokes. Still the smoker may be one who smokes. And more than one man are called men.

Though never a spender has spoan. The kind hearted lender may loan. And many a dealer has dealt. We may say that the man who weaves wove. But not that the one who grieves grove. And no squealer ever has squeal.

How It Was Done.

"He carved out his own fortune." "Nonsense! He married it." "Well, he had to cut out a lot of other fellows, didn't he?"—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Proof of His Standing.

A certain minister who was famous for seizing every opportunity to point a moral, was walking one day with one of his parishioners and expostulating with him on account of his sinful way. Presently they came to a place where ice had formed on the walk, and the sinful man's feet flew from under him, giving him a bad fall.

The minister quickly seized the chance and, looking down upon him, said, "My friend, you see that sinners stand on slippery places."

The sinful one looked ruefully up and answered: "Yes, I see they do, but I can't."—Judge's Magazine of Fun.

Out of Sight.

The pretty girl was telling her chums how Jack had dared to kiss her while out automobilizing.

"And did you hide your face afterward?" they asked in breathless curiosity. "No, but Jack hid his face."

"Jack?" "Yes; something broke under the machine, and he had to get down beneath it."—Detroit Tribune.

What He Wanted.

"Ah," said the fortune teller, sighing deeply and getting a mystic expression into her eyes, "you wish to learn what the future will hold for you?"

"Not exactly," replied the patron, passing over his dollar. "I want to find out what the future will let go of for me!"—Judge.

It Looked That Way.
Mrs. Henpeck—I don't think she'll ever marry him.

Mr. Henpeck—Why not?

Mrs. Henpeck—Oh, she quarrels with him so and is so disconcerting.

Mr. Henpeck—Indeed? I'll bet they've been secretly married already.

—Houston Post.

In His Own Line.
"It seems to me you're a trifle familiar," said the humorist when the highwayman held him up.

"Well," replied one of them, stuffing a handkerchief into the victim's mouth, "here's something that will be more familiar to you. It's an old gag."—Philadelphia Press.

An Immunity.
"Won't you be handicapped in Europe by your deficient knowledge of French?"

"Not at all," answered Mr. Dustin Star. "It will prevent me from being bothered in Paris by any inquiries about where I got my money."—Washington Star.

Her Experience.
The Parson—Did you ever try casting your bread upon the waters?

Mrs. Homer—Yes, once.

The Parson—And did it return after many days?

Mrs. Homer—No; it sunk.—Chicago News.

Might Have Known Better.
"How did you come to propose to me?" asked the widow coyly.

"I didn't come to propose to you," replied her visitor dazedly. "I came merely to spend the evening."—Houston Post.

Degrees of Reform.
"I believe every ballot should be counted."

"I go further than that. In a case of emergency I would count some of them twice."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Maud's Culinary Skill.
"Yes, Maud cooked the dinner all alone."

"Well, well."

"And she ate it all alone too."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Wash oilcloths and linoleums with warm water and Sunlight Soap, rinse clean and wipe dry. The colors will be preserved and the surface unharmed.

Common soaps fade the colors and injure the surface. Sunlight Soap cleans, freshens and preserves oilcloths and linoleums.

Sunlight Soap washes clothes white without injury to the most delicate fabrics, or to the hands, for it contains nothing that can injure either clothes or hands.

Sunlight Soap is better than other soaps, but is best when used in the Sunlight way (follow directions).

TO OPEN RIVER.

Str. Montcalm has Orders to Orders to Open Campbellton and Dal-Harbor.

Campbellton, N. B. April 25.—Jon. X. Lavoie, Esq. of Perce, P. Q., is here to-day attending a meeting of the shareholders of the Interprovincial Navigation Co. Mr. Lavoie leaves on the Maritime Express tomorrow morning for Mulgrave, N. S., where he will go on board the S. S. Lady Eileen. This is rather a roundabout way of getting to Gaspe but Mr. Lavoie says that the roads on the coast are almost impassable and that he will get home almost as quickly by going to Mulgrave and sailing to Gaspe. He also informed us that an order had been issued by the Government for the icebreaker Montcalm to come into the Restigouche River and open up Navigation. The Montcalm was spoken yesterday off Cape Race and the order will probably be conveyed to her by wireless telegraph. The icebreaker is expected in on Saturday.

Should the order not reach the Montcalm in time, orders will probably be issued to the Minato which was at Passaic yesterday.

Owing to the backwardness of the season it is felt that this move is necessary in the interests of the business people of the coast.

STOMACH TROUBLES.

Mrs. Sue Martin, an old and highly respected resident of Falmouth, Me., was sick with stomach trouble for more than six months. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured her. A number of ailments, some of them extremely dangerous, are comprised under the general head of postage-stamp tongue, said a physician. Postage-stamp tongue, in a word, is any disease contracted from the licking of postage stamps.

Three or four persons a week visit me with postage-stamp tongues. They have a throat trouble, or a skin disease, or a pulmonary complaint, brought on by the reckless habit of stamp-licking.

What place?

The place you came from.

Where do you live?

I live on the island.

Well, but what island?

The other man looked at him in amazement. Then he said with an emphasis that left no doubt of his feelings.

Prince Edward Island, man.

What other island is there.

JOVE AND THE PEASANT.

How to Fell a Tree Without Chopping It Down Yourself.

For a number of years a large dead tree had stood close to the cabin of the peasant, and a hundred times over he had vowed to cut it down and use it for firewood. He was, however, of a lazy disposition and kept shirking the task. One day a traveler came along and remarked the tree and added:

"It would take you a whole day to chop down that tree, and you would find the work very exhausting. Why don't you call on Jove to do it for you? One wallop from one of his thunderbolts would do the trick nicely."

"By George, but I never thought of that!" exclaimed the peasant. "I will call on the old man for sure, and you can stand by and see the fun."

"I shall be delighted to serve you," said Jove as he appeared in answer to a call. "Just give me room to swing one of these bolts and you'll see the splinters fly."

The dead tree not only came down with a crash, but it fell directly upon the peasant's cabin and smashed it to the earth.

"Alas, but what have you done?" cried the man as he saw the destruction wrought. "I now call upon you to rebuild my home."

"Oh, as to that," replied Jove, "my specialty is knocking down old trees, and I must stick to it. If it will be any consolation to you, however, I will say that while it would have taken you only one day to cut down the tree it will take you four weeks to rebuild your cabin."

Morals: He who shirks work makes more for himself. Don't call upon a bull to help you lift a lamb over the fence.—Chicago News.

Father Knave. "Papa?" asked the little wise boy. "Well, my son?"

"Papa, what are poker checks? Are they anything like checks you give on a bank?"

"Why, they are given on a bank—yes, my son."

"But are they the same?"

"No; the difference is in the dating." "How are poker checks dated?"

"They are antedated, my child. Is there anything else you wish to ask papa before he reads his paper?"—Judge.

Heard in a Hospital. Patient (to pretty nurse)—Will you be my wife when I recover?

Pretty Nurse—Certainly.

Patient—Then you love me?

Pretty Nurse—Oh, no. That's merely a part of the treatment. I must keep my patients cheerful. I promised this morning to run away with a married man who had lost both his legs.—Mallia American.

Good News. "Hurrah!" exclaimed Mr. Phamley. "I see they've passed a law which requires all wires to be put under ground."

"Well," replied his wife, "why should that make you so jubilant?"

"Why shouldn't it? That includes Mary Ellen's piano. There are wires in that."—Catholic Standard and Times.

WHO SHE WAS

ETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert their mother, combined forces to restore the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a grove of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkham sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased.

In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until to-day Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself.

During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and today these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equaled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence.

To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With woman assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.

Correspondents will kindly remember that communications cannot necessarily be inserted either on or after the day of their being received. Sometimes correspondents are under the impression that a newspaper is simply waiting for something to fill up its columns with, whereas the real difficulty with the ordinary newspaper is, what shall it reject, not what shall it insert.

Have faith in your town, your country, your province and country. Be not of little faith! Nothing is so discouraging as to converse with a man devoid of optimism. Usually the men who talk with the least hopefulness for their city or country's future, are those who do the least for themselves, and never have time to even do that much for a public interest. The men who stand off and criticize most vigorously a public body are too frequently those unwilling to assume or discharge a single public obligation.

The ice broke up and started to run out on Thursday of last week but jammed at the Cove. On Saturday morning the river was clear and the steamer R. R. Call made the first trip from Chatham. On returning however, the boat was caught in the ice near Chatham and narrowly escaped going ashore. The Steamer Miramichi made her first trip on Saturday afternoon and commenced her regular trips Monday. D. & J. Ritchie Co's steamer the David Ritchie was in the water on Saturday. The ferry commenced regular trips on Monday.

A gang of Miramichi stream drivers who arrived in the city by the L. C. R. train yesterday, made things rather lively on Regent street for a time last evening. Several of them, while under the influence of liquor, had a falling out and an old time round and tumble fight ensued. When they got tired pounding one another with their fists, they started in to chew and one man had his face so badly lacerated that he had to be taken to a doctor's office to be sewed up. One of the ringleaders fell into the hands of the police and was locked up.—Fredericton Herald, Friday.

The St. John Globe's afternoon rivals have been giving away advertising for the purpose of attracting patrons from the old favorite, but the Globe's prosperity is not lessened. Advertisers accept all they can get for nothing or at low rates from the other papers, and then go to the Globe and pay the same old price. A new brick building was erected alongside of the old one, and most of it will be used by the newspaper and its job department. The paper will have a large, airy and well lighted composing room in the new building, on the same floor as the editorial offices, and this will considerably facilitate matters by keeping the writing staff and compositors in touch, every second being valuable when the hour for putting an evening paper to press is near. The Globe's job department will have twice as much room as it had heretofore. World.
