AMATEURS SCORE ANOTHER SUCCESS

Bumper House Present to See Drama Staged Under Auspices of Citizens Band.

The reappearance of the Campbellton Dramatic Company before the public here was attended with hearty applause on Monday night when this company of amateurs presented the play "The Boy Who Wasn't There" under the auspices of the Citizens Band, the well-known western drama "Fris" or "Beyond the Range".

The Opera House where the play was staged, was crowded to the doors, late arrivals being forced to stand in the aisles. The recently organized company of amateurs, each of their respective parts with considerable skill and succeeded in most admirably in handling a very difficult drama in a very creditable manner.

In selecting "Fris" as a vehicle the Dramatic Company made a bold choice. Not only is it obvious that this drama is more difficult for amateur players to succeed in but a play of the type of "Fris" has several times situation, which demands professional ability to be effective. Notwithstanding these facts, however, the result of the "Dramatic Company's" venture was a decided success and the congratulations they won are the more deserved because of the obstacles they had to contend with.

Mrs. Frank McKinnon, who was responsible for the idea and in her portrayal of "Fris" the Angel of Blue Canyon, played a very convincing part. Her ability of unquestionable quality. Mrs. McKinnon had not appeared on the stage for several years but her performance on Monday night proved that she has not lost any of her erstwhile talent.

J. H. Brown as Judge Amos Lovetoy, filled his responsibilities in a most capable manner. His part was one of the most prominent and most difficult in the cast but in interpreting the character of the Judge, Mr. Brown used keen judgment and kept his performance well-balanced throughout.

J. M. Cantwell, as Hank Jordan, Tris's foster-father, handled his part in an admirable manner. He is one of the old members of the Dramatic Company and as an honest, tender-hearted old man, he was well cast. As Nat Wagner, a proprietor from the town of "Fris", he was well cast. Fred Watson made a most favorable impression. He played this prominent part without any hint of affectation and his clear, deep voice lent an added strength to the role.

As Jack Hamlin, a gambler and the villain of the play, Amos Lovetoy, discharged his responsibilities in a very satisfactory way and showed the confidence and aplomb that his part called for.

As Zenas Grimes, the bartender, George Graham not only contributed a death to the story but did good work prior to the turn of the plot.

Bornace Jardine as Hallelujah Billy, enacted his part in a most admirable way. He was careful to keep interested in each event as it occurred in turn and never allowed his glance to rove over the audience as is frequently the case with amateurs.

In their respective parts the Misses Hectorine Stevens, Viola Hachey and Bessie Graham did very satisfactory work. Miss Stevens as the demure Susie Smith, was well cast as was also Miss Hachey as the mother of Tris. As the austere spinster, deaf and uncertain, Mrs. Hachey was a perfect man. Miss Graham kept her performance rigidly within its straitened limitations. In handling their parts as "Fris" or "Beyond the Range", Louis Cormier and Harry Cantwell gave entire satisfaction.

The specialties between the acts were also a feature of the programme. Mr. Omet, Gully's skillful step dance evoked repeated rounds of applause while the solos rendered by Messrs. H. B. Laffey and Leo Wagner were two of the most enjoyable numbers on the programme. The humorous impersonations by Mr. H. B. Laffey were much merited applause. The music furnished by the orchestra was splendid and was received with evident appreciation by all present.

The Campbellton Dramatic Company wish to thank all those who contributed to the success of the occasion, including Mrs. D. E. Graham and Miss Muriel Flinn as wardrobe mistress and hair dresser, respectively.

CURLING GAMES DURING WEEK

Campbellton Holds A. A. Cup Curling Games At Dalhousie.

Two clubs of Newcastle curlers arrived here last evening and played local curling for the A. A. Cup, but lost out by eleven points. The visitors got away with a good start, but failed to keep the pace, nevertheless, the series was exceptionally good.

The rink and scores were as follows:

After the games the visitors were entertained in the usual manner. Two visits of Campbellton curlers visited Dalhousie Tuesday afternoon and brought a trimming home with them. The score was:

BAD FIRE HERE SATURDAY MORNING

House and Barn Owned by Ferdinand Vermette Totally Destroyed.

At an early hour on Saturday morning last the house and barn of Ferdinand Vermette, located on the corner of Queen and Main streets, were almost completely destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at approximately $4000 as it included the house, barn, furniture and household effects and also the contents of the barn which included a truck wagon and numerous other items. The insurance on the buildings and contents was $2000.

The blaze which originated in the barn from some unknown cause was first discovered about three o'clock this morning. The flames were then completely wrapped in flames and as it is directly behind the owner's house the fire soon spread to the dwelling and the inmates had barely sufficient time to escape with their clothes. Neighbors who had gathered on the scene assisted in an effort to salvage some of the furniture but this procedure was abruptly stopped by the rapid progress of the fire.

The fire department promptly responded to the alarm but were considerably hindered in their work as the nearest hydrant was out of commission and streams of water had to be taken from another which was some distance away. A strong westerly breeze was blowing and the flames, fanned into fury by the wind, repeatedly caught in the nearby wall of Constable Eoghan's residence which is located on the site next to the Vermette building.

The firemen, however, under the capable direction of Chief O'Donnell were ready for such an emergency and extinguished the blaze each time before it occasioned much damage. Another house, on Ramsey Street, and situated in the path of the great shower of sparks, also caught but this blaze was put out before any damage resulted.

Mr. Vermette's loss will be a heavy one as his house was built recently during the high cost of materials.

After all danger was averted Mrs. Alex. Campbell, next door neighbor, invited the firemen in and served them hot coffee and a lunch. In speaking to the Graphic the chief and all members of the brigade were enthusiastic in their expressions of gratitude for this kind and thoughtful act.

CAMPBELLTON RINK AT QUEBEC

Made Good Showing at the Quebec Bonspiel Playing for Renfrew Cup.

Quebec, Feb. 24.—Play took place yesterday in the final competition of the 102nd Quebec bonspiel, the Holt Renfrew granite trophy. Yesterday's games were featured by the excellent play of the Campbellton and Oakwood rinks, the latter hailing from Toronto. Both rinks disposed of their opposition in the early stages of the competition and qualified for the semi-final from which, in the opinion of many curlers, they will emerge victorious, to meet each other in the final this afternoon.

Campbellton's score was as follows:

Club	Score
Campbellton	16

The draw for to-day has Campbellton, No. 1, playing Quebec, No. 1, in the semi-finals this morning.

MEMBER WANTED FOR RESTIGOUCHE

Board of Trade Active, Lessing Restigouche Claims for Adequate Representation.

At a meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade held in the Firemen's Hall on Monday afternoon the matter of redistribution of the representation of Restigouche County was discussed and a resolution was passed which provided for taking initial steps in dealing with the question.

Hon. William Currie addressed the meeting and outlined what appeared to be a feasible plan for the restoration of adequate representation for this county. A resolution was unanimously passed instructing the president and secretary of the board to take up the matter with Mr. Pius Michaud, liberal member for Restigouche and Madawaska and also with the New Brunswick members of the redistribution committee asking them to kindly withhold any final decision in this matter in N. B. until a delegation from the Restigouche Board of Trade be heard with suggestions they had to make.

A telegram from the Maritime Board of Trade urging the local board to co-operate in the fight against the proposed new eastern division of the C. N. R. was read. The message expressed the view that the maritime provinces had not been equitably treated in this matter, and that the eastern division had been made too small. Mr. Joseph Duncan, president of the board and Mr. D. A. Stewart were appointed delegates to attend the meeting of maritime representatives at Amherst tomorrow.

PUNCH BOARD CASE AT CHATHAM TO-DAY

Magistrate Gaynor Decides Payment for Chocolates Cannot Be Enforced.

Chatham, N. B., Feb. 22.—Police Magistrate T. M. Gaynor gave a decision in an interesting case which has attracted much attention here when he dismissed the action of J. Arthur Leggett vs. C. H. Goldberg, the locality of the so-called punch boards being involved. No award was made as to costs and each party will therefore bear their own. The plaintiff sued for the value of a chocolate assortment delivered to the defendant. The defendant claimed that the transaction was illegal, as the chocolates were to be used as premiums on a punch board which accomplished the shipment, the operation of which was contrary to law.

MILLER-MacNAIR.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. McLennan, New Mills, was the scene of a very pleasant event when Miss C. Stella MacNair, second daughter of Mr. A. A. MacNair, was united in marriage to Mr. S. Clinton Miller.

Rev. C. F. McLennan performed the ceremony in the presence of several friends of the bride and groom.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Murray Nichol. The bride looked charming in a dress of white satin with radium lace and veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations with sprays of maiden hair fern.

After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the home of the bride's very pleasant musical evening was

FINE COSTUMES AT CARNIVAL

Looked Like Old Times At Skating Rink Monday Evening.

The second carnival of the season which was held in the local skating rink on Monday evening under the auspices of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital Aid proved an even more notable success than the preceding one which took place about a month ago. On this last occasion citizens generally took a more active interest, the attendance was considerably larger and the costumes both more numerous and more varied in design.

Four prizes were awarded. Mrs. Harold Keith ingeniously masqueraded as a Fortune-teller, carried off the ladies' prize. Harry Hachey, costumed in the romantic garb of a Spanish Toreador, won the gent's prize. The girls' prize was awarded to Little George Miller who represented the Queen of Hearts, while Francis Matheson captured the boy's prize. Francis represented Charles I. and his costume in its likeness to the attire of that famous ruler, evoked many flattering comments.

Patrons of the rink will be glad to hear that the manager intends to stage another similar event on Friday, March 16th. This will be a St. Patrick's Carnival and the last this season and it is hoped that everybody will be on hand as this will practically mark the close of the skating season.

CHILDREN AND SCHOOL.

In St. John a girl of sixteen has been discovered who has never been at school. If a census were taken of all who never got beyond the third grade, the people of several cities with free schools would get a severe jolt. And this would apply more or less to smaller towns. In Campbellton there are probably no children to be found who have never gone to school but there are doubtless many boys and girls who, for no good and sufficient reason leave school far too soon and before they have secured enough education to properly equip them to fight life's battles. These boys and girls will naturally be forced into the crowded ranks of laborers and as a result will, in nearly every individual case be doomed to an obscure life plying dispiritedly along in mediocrity. The world needs laborers. There will always be a position of the world's work waiting for the hands of people as well as a portion waiting for the minds. But the laborer should be a laborer by choice and not through a mischievous unwillingly in youth. If this were the case today, if all laborers were satisfied with their station in life and were content to be good workmen there would be much less unrest in the labor class and industries and conditions in general would be much nearer to normalcy than is at present the case.

Keeping the children at school is something which is not, as a rule, very seriously considered by a great many parents but when the future of the child and his station in later life is reflected upon, the vital importance of this problem becomes more apparent. The truth of the statement "the child is father of the man" is obvious in this case for the children of today will be the citizens of tomorrow. And it naturally follows that if a large percentage of the youths of this generation are allowed to grow up in illiteracy the successful day and race will suffer accordingly.

Then there is the tragedy of lost talent. Children should be kept at school until they reach the age at which their individual talent presents itself and until they are competent to decide of their own free will what line of work they wish to make their life's vocation. In this way much of the world's lost talent would be saved and fewer people unnecessarily doomed to a life of aimless drifting and ineffectual effort.

Thus when considered from its various angles this matter constitutes one of our country's economical problems and is surely worthy of serious consideration by parents, educators, welfare workers and citizens generally.

ANOTHER NEED.

With Campbellton's steady advancement another need becomes prominent. That is the need of a large and thoroughly modern hotel. And this necessity has not risen to the surface over night. For several years past this town has lacked, more or less, the proper means to adequately accommodate the travelling public. The hostilities now established here are meeting the present requirements as best they can, but neither of them are sufficiently large to cope with the situation as efficiently as travellers and tourists wish for. As for the lumberjack or the man prepared to rough it and who, as a rule, are neither fastidious or expensive in their tastes, there are a number of smaller houses which are prepared to cater to this trade. But for the transients of the commercial world and the tourist who demands the maximum in comfort and service there is not the accommodation to be had here which is modern enough in its various appointments to assure absolute satisfaction in the busiest season, to evoke any considerable praise or to prove an advertisement for the town itself.

The matter of a new hotel in Campbellton is something that may be regarded from two angles and considered by two different parties. If Campbellton's industrial and commercial condition were stagnant and the immediate future held no promise of advancement, the establishing of a big modern hotel would be a precarious undertaking. There would be very reason for those materially interested to go slow and careful. But such is not the case. Campbellton is taking rapid strides ahead. With post war penury and subnormal business conditions almost a thing of the past, Campbellton has bright hopes for the future. With a revival of trade and traffic our town is destined to become a busy centre and offer an unexcelled opportunity to any party

EDITOR'S MAIL

THE TOWN COUNCIL
VINDICATED
Feb. 28th, 1923

H. B. Anslaw,
Editor, The Graphic
Town.

Dear Mr. Editor:
In the last week's issue of "The Tribune" the editor of that paper, makes a very strenuous effort in his editorial to discredit the Town Council.

When Mr. Crockett says: "In fact the whole affair was sprung upon the ratepayers at the last meeting of the Council by Councillor Belle Isle. He is either totally ignorant of the facts or he is deliberately making a false statement."

In the first place, this plan has been discussed several times by the Town Council during the last couple of years, and in Committee of the Whole meeting held just three or four days before our annual meeting, when all members of the new council were present, this matter was brought before the board by Councillor Moore, who made a motion in the regular way, proposing that this Council take the necessary steps to secure the services of a Town Manager. I seconded the motion and speaking to the question every member of the board took a part in the discussion. Then the matter was brought to a vote and we unanimously voted in favor of the appointment of a town manager.

Then His Worship appointed a committee to interview the Town Solicitor on the matter and get the necessary legal advice from him as to what steps to take in order to bring the matter to a head. This committee interviewed Mr. H. A. Carr, the town solicitor, as delegated, and as a result the town solicitor sent to the Council at the annual meeting, his opinion in writing which was read at the last meeting of the Town Council. This fact alone will conclusively show that I did not spring this resolution on any matter to a head. This committee, being present when the town solicitor's letter was read, shows conclusively that the resolution known to be a deliberate uttering a falsehood when he says in the editorial that I sprung the whole affair upon the ratepayers.

He also says that the Town of Woodstock has been under the Town Manager system for some time and that its manager, has recently resigned and that this resignation was accepted. But he does not state that Mr. Armstrong has resigned for a bigger position in Ontario and that another manager has been appointed in Woodstock and that Mr. Armstrong has remained there for some time to initiate this resignation. He says that the resignation was accepted, and he stops there without giving any further detail, one would think that Mr. Armstrong some way or other was forced to resign and that the resignation was accepted. Mr. Armstrong, in his effort to mislead and misinform the ratepayers of Campbellton goes so far that it could be well taken as a libellous article against Mr. Armstrong the successful and much appreciated manager of Woodstock.

Now, what is a town manager after all? Well, it is only a town employee under the orders of the Town Council and its several committees, one man responsible to the Town Council for the good working of the different departments of our civic administration. Instead of having a street commissioner at $1500. per year, an engineer and manager of the water and sewerage at $2000. to $2500, which I understand is the salary our engineer will require this year and a manager for the electric who can erect a large and up-to-date hotel and run it on a modern system. Then there is the town's interest in the matter. Campbellton must have more adequate hotel accommodation to keep in step with her present growth. A big modern hotel here well operated would be a drawing card for the town. This is something that should not be overlooked. If any movement for a hotel is under way now it should have encouragement and support.

SHEDDIAK PROTEST DISALLOWED
At the meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island League held in Moncton on Monday, the protest entered by Shediac in the matter of the recent game at Shediac in the northern section of the league was not allowed. This leaves Shediac the winner of the northern section. The protest concerned the eligibility of the referee.

A GAME WITH MONCTON.
The manager of one of the local league teams received a challenge from the Moncton Crescents this week. Arrangements, however, could not be made for a match this week but it is hoped that the Crescents will be here a little later on. This contest has played on Campbellton for before and the fans will doubtless welcome them if a contest is arranged for. The Crescents are a strong, fast aggressive team of hockey and if they cross sticks with a picked team of players from the local league the contest is sure to be an interesting exhibition.

TURNED UP SAFELY.
Recently considerable uneasiness was felt over the loss of a young son of Mr. Ray Ferguson who had gone out in the Federick district trapping. He had taken provisions with him for two weeks and his family after some three weeks hearing nothing from him naturally became uneasy. Two of his brothers started out in search of him, but had not gone far until they met a cousin of theirs who informed them Mr. Ferguson was quite well and they had seen him the previous day. Mr. Ferguson has since returned to town, but is at present off on another of his trapping expeditions.

The Ladies Aid of the Baptist Church will hold an apron and home cooking sale at Miss Hazel Murray's store on Saturday, March 3rd at 2 o'clock.

SHEDDIAK PROTEST DISALLOWED

At the meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island League held in Moncton on Monday, the protest entered by Sheddak in the matter of the recent game at Sheddak in the northern section of the league was not allowed. This leaves Clouston chairman of the northern section. The protest concerned the eligibility of the referee.

A GAME WITH MONCTON

The manager of one of the local league teams received a challenge from the Moncton Crescents this week. Arrangements, however, could not be made for a match this week but it is hoped that the Crescents will be here a little later on. This material has played on Campbellton ice before and the fans will doubtless welcome them if a contest is arranged for. The Crescents are a strong, fast aggregation of hockeyists and if they cross sticks with a picked team of players from the local league the contest is sure to be an interesting exhibition.

TURNED-UP SAFELY

Recently considerable uneasiness was felt over the long absence from town of Mr. Ray Ferguson who had gone out in the Kedgewick district trapping. He had taken provisions with him for two weeks and his family after some three weeks hearing nothing from him naturally became uneasy. Two of his brothers started out in search of him, but had not gone far until they met a cousin of theirs who informed them Mr. Ferguson was quite well and they had seen him the previous day. Mr. Ferguson has since returned to town, but is at present off on another of his trapping expeditions.

TOOK GARAGE COURSE

Among those who took the winter vacation course in automobile work conducted at Fredericton by the N. B. Vocational Board was A. R. McMillan of Campbellton.

ENJOYABLE SNOW SHOE TRAMP

After the regular meeting of the T. S. N. N. Group of Canadian Girls in Training of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Tuesday night, the girls and their energetic leader, Mrs. R. B. Gerard took advantage of the fine night and beautiful moonlight to carry out the social side of their programme and went for a moonlight tramp on the river. After an enjoyable tramp they returned to the home of Christine Taylor, one of the group, where another hour was pleasantly spent in music, singing, fun and frolic. After which a bountiful lunch was served by Mrs. Taylor, assisted by Mrs. James Alexander who so many times assisted the girls on their social evenings. After giving the group yell and three cheers for their hostesses, they left for their homes, having spent a very pleasant evening.

TODAY'S BIG EVENT

A treat of unquestionable quality awaits patrons at the rink tonight when Miss Lora Jean Carlisle, and her skating partner Royal T. Winslow will give an exhibition of their skill on skates.

Miss Carlisle who will appear at the rink tonight has earned the appellation of "The Skating Whirlwind" and according to reports her recent performance have proved her richly deserving of the reputation she has won. "Affixed in beautiful costumes she gives a wonderful exhibition of sensational acrobatic and trick skating."

She and her partner R. T. Winslow have performed during the past three seasons at the New York Hippodrome and their astonishing feats there made the huge audience gasp in amazement.

In their hitting spin known as the "Aeroplane" Mr. Winslow takes his partner by the hand and foot and whisks her up and down with much speed as to make the two performers appear as one. Spectators find it difficult to understand how the artists can retain their equilibrium.

MET WITH ACCIDENT

On Friday afternoon Mrs. W. E. Yorton met with a severe accident while out driving. She had called at the home to drive Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McMillan across the river, and when coming down Chapel Hill owing to the slippery condition of the road, the sleigh slid and was upset throwing the three occupants out. Mrs. Yorton received several bad bruises and was rendered unconscious. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McMillan escaped injury. Mrs. Yorton was carried into the home of Mrs. B. R. Humphrey, and a physician called in. She was able to be driven home in a few hours time. Her many friends will be glad to learn that while her injuries were quite painful they were not serious and her condition is improving satisfactorily.

YOUNG DAUGHTER MADE WELL

Mother Tells How Her Daughter Suffered and Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vancouver, B.C.—"My daughter is a young girl who has been having severe pains and weak and dizzy feelings for some time and had lost her appetite. Through an older daughter who had heard of a woman who was taking it for the same trouble, we were told of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The daughter has been taking it for several months and is quite all right now. It has done all we were represented to do and we have told a number of friends about it. I am never without a bottle of it in the house, for I myself take it for that weak, tired, worn-out feeling which sometimes comes to us all. I find it is building me up and I strongly recommend it to women who are suffering as I and my daughter have."—Mrs. J. McDonald, 264 1/2 Ave. East, Vancouver, B.C.

From the age of twelve a girl needs all the care a thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time.

The complaints of headache, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a glow of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for such conditions.

THE CORRECT WAY TO SET THE TABLE AND SERVE DINNER

These present were: Rev. E. J. and Mrs. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Dan MacCurdy, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wafer, Miss Helen Dawson, Greta Dawson, Marie Dawson, Kathie Atkinson, Willis, Beth MacCurdy, Mary Nevins, Alice Thompson, Mrs. Geo. Miller, Mrs. Margaret MacNeil, Mrs. J. MacLean, Mrs. Rankine Nevins and Messrs. Russell Dawson, Leslie Macintosh, Wesley MacLean, Scot Blair, Ogilvie Thompson, Hugh Archibald, H. Miller, Mrs. Mary E. Blair and Mrs. Dan MacCurdy.

When population ceases to multiply and the generations that crowd on after you stop coming on.

When you have convinced everybody that men will touch you, that you have better goods than they can ever get elsewhere.

When you perceive it to be the rule that men who never do, and never did, advertise are outstripping their neighbors in the same line of business.

When men stop making fortunes right in your sight, solely by a discreet use of this mighty agent.

When you can forget the wails of the shrewdest and most successful business men concerning the maintenance of their property.

When you would rather have your own way and fall, than take advice and win.

When the cup is to be served from the water glass and at the top of the fork place the bread-and-butter plate with the spreader laid across it.

If raw oysters are to be served instead of soup, or before the soup, place the oyster fork across the knife at an angle. If an extra knife is needed for an extra course, it should be placed just outside the meat fork.

If the soup is to be served from the tureen, it should be placed before the hostess. The soup-plates should be on the service-plate, and the ladies at the right of the knives, the hollow of the bowl uppermost. There is a reason for this, as the person who waits on table takes out the tureen and brings in the roast, removes the carver's plate and brings in the serving-plats, and while the carving is going on removes the rest of the soup or oyster plates.

With each trip out with empty dishes to the kitchen she should bring in a vegetable dish, which makes serving quick and easy.

The carving knife, fork and steel lie at the carver's right, just beyond his own knives.

During carving is an excellent time to fill water-glasses a second time. When the plate is placed, remove the glass, fill and return it. By that time another plate will be ready at the carver's end of the table.

Place all food on the table from the right side of the person served and remove all dishes from the left. This saves all confusion in placing food on the table. If a maid waits, or one of the young people helps out, the dishes are offered at the left side and should be held firmly and low enough so that they can be reached easily and conveniently.

The person who is setting the table should know what is going to be served for dinner in order to provide the needed dishes or silver. Don't start to set the table and then call loudly: "Mother, what are we going to have for dinner?" Go quietly to her and ask her, so that her secrets may not become common property. This is the hint for the daughter who is learning to do things the right way.

If little asparagus tongs are used, they lie across the top of the plate. A large pair of tongs is placed on the serving dish with the asparagus. If carver's knives are used, they occupy the same place as the tongs.

When the right foundation in table-setting is laid, however, any addition of table-setting customs take care of themselves with little added thought.

Then, too, it aids digestion.

RAMBLERS WIN LEAGUE TROPHY

With their victory over the High School team in Tuesday night's double-headerd hockey event the Ramblers clinched their hold on the top chair in the local league and won the league trophy. While their win over the H. S. boys was a decisive one the series would have resulted in a tie had not the Ramblers defeated the Rink Rats in their engagement the same evening. The score in this contest was 6-3, while in the second match the Ramblers won to the tune of 6-1. Except for a few instances both teams showed stellar hockey for junior hockey and the games were crowded with tense moments.

The First Game.

The first engagement of the evening between the Bankers and Rink Rats was more closely contested than the match which followed. The Rink Rats gave promise of putting up a good fight for they showed some admirable speed in the opening session. But one goal was all they could get past Bourgois who played his usual fine game in the Bankers nets.

The Bankers on the other hand kept up a steady bombardment on their opponents' net but their work did not seem quite so effective although they scored once. Their defence line was not quite as tight as in the first game. The Bankers came on steadily and their repeated rushes were goal-getters. When the bell rang the score stood 5 to 2 in their favor.

In the last section the Rinkers worked hard and their efforts were rewarded in the form of a goal. Referee Matthews was obliged to hand out several penalties in this match but in exciting moments of play. Both teams played their regular game.

The Second Game.

Although the Ramblers did most of the scoring in this match the play was not as one-sided as might be supposed. Dewar notched one for the Ramblers in the opening period and the High School failed to score but the terrific play was pretty equally divided and it was by no means apparent which squad would carry off the honors.

In the second session, however, the Ramblers showed more speed and seemed determined to sweep the ice. Dewar notched another while McInyre slipped in the third goal. The H. S. boys worked hard and found their opponent's net on a neat shot from the wing but Dunham played at centre for the Ramblers, did some of his best work this season and tallied twice before the period expired.

Coming on for the final stanza the H. S. boys showed good spirit and played nice hockey in spite of the 5-1 score against them. Their efforts were checked, however by the heavier Ramblers who kept up a steady attack on their defence line. Murray scored the sixth and final goal.

The line-up of these two teams was the same as in other recent matches. Ray Matthews handled the whistle very satisfactorily showing both tact and good judgment.

Why It Took Time.

They were looking down into the depths of the Grand Canyon. "Do you know?" asked the guide, "that it took millions and millions of years for this abyss to be carved out? Well, well!" ejaculated the traveler, "I never knew this was a Government job."
