

THE CRISIS IN MEXICO STILL ABOUT SAME

Huerta Will Not be Eliminated And Carranza Won't Recognize Him.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—As stumbling blocks in the path of preliminary attempts to compose the Mexican problem, appeared to be gradually disappearing to-day, suggestions of the mediators' tentative plans unofficially were revealed.

LONDON, May 13.—(Montreal Gazette Cable)—What is called an "unofficial wager" has been made by the Bishop of London, and he wants Londoners to help him to win it.

HENRY SIEGEL TO BE ALLOWED TO DISEMBARK

American Ex-Millionaire Must Face the Bar of Justice, However.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Henry Siegel, awaiting trial on charges growing out of the alleged mismanagement of his mercantile enterprises, here will be allowed to land at Plymouth, when the vessel he sailed on a few days ago reaches the English terminal, according to an agreement reached here to-day between his attorney and District Attorney Whitman and consented to by Supreme Court Justice Seabury.

Conflicting Views Are Expressed Re Ulster

LONDON, May 13.—(Montreal Daily Mail Cable)—The Morning Post, understanding that the Government proposes to introduce its amending bill in the House of Lords alongside the Home Rule Bill, urges that Premier Asquith at once declare his proposals, and insists that the complete and ungrudging exclusion of Ulster forms the only solution.

HOME RULE SITUATION IS VERY TENSE

John Redmond Delivered An Electric Speech in House of Commons.

NEW YORK, May 13.—A cable to The Tribune from London this morning says: The Home Rule situation suddenly developed an acute phase again last night when the government found themselves on the brink of a precipice, with Redmond warning them that in certain contingencies he will push them over.

UNIONIST WAS ELECTED IN GRIMSBY YESTERDAY

Big Majority Rolled Up—Fight Was a Hot One, the Liberal Nominee Not Introducing Home Rule Controversy.

LONDON, May 13.—With a majority decreased by 420 votes in a greatly increased poll, the Unionists yesterday retained the Parliamentary borough of Great Grimsby, Lincolnshire, in a bye-election necessitated by the death of the late member, Sir George Doughty.

Then, in an electrically tense scene, he laughed the amending bill to scorn unless it were introduced to give effect to an agreed upon settlement. Otherwise he will hold himself absolutely free to deal with the amending bill on its merits. This declaration has caused the greatest sensation throughout political circles, and Liberal as well as Unionists are now eagerly discussing the prospects of a general election this summer.

The present position is that the Home Rule Bill will be sent to the Lords before Whitsuntide, the House of Commons having last night voted in favour of the remaining stages of the bill. Then, if no agreement is reached with the opposition, Mr. Asquith will introduce an amending bill enabling the Ulster counties to vote themselves out of the Home Rule Bill for six years.

While some interpreters say the speech is a warning to the government against further concessions to the Unionists, others interpret it as a warning to Ulster that once the Home Rule Bill is on the statute book any further concession can only be had by consent of the Nationalists.

TWO AIRMEN KILLED AS BIPLANES CRASH

Third Man Seriously Hurt in Aviation Accident at Aldershot.

ALDERSHOT, Eng., May 13.—The second fatal collision of aircraft this year resulted in the death of two flyers here yesterday afternoon, when two army biplanes crashed together about eight hundred feet in the air.

Captain Edward Anderson piloted one of the aeroplanes, and the other one was being manipulated by Lieut. C. W. Wilson, who escaped death, but was seriously injured. Capt. Anderson and his mechanic, whose name was Carter, were dead when the crowd reached the wrecked planes. Both machines were practically demolished. The machines were going at high speed when they came together. A crowd of one thousand people witnessed the accident.

Quite a Row Between New York Sculptor and Art Critic in Paris, France

PARIS, May 13.—The Latin quarter was excited yesterday by the prospect of a duel between Edgar MacAdams, a New York sculptor, and Yaldimer Georges, art critic of the Paris Journal. The trouble between the two men arose on Saturday night at a studio party given by a prominent Paris painter, Kees Van Dongen.

Mr. MacAdams, it is said, objected to M. Georges' attention to a young woman, and asked him to desist. M. Georges paid no attention to the request. MacAdams who is the champion amateur boxer of the Latin quarter, then struck him on the jaw.

ANNA SHAW GIVES ADDRESS

Woman Suffrage Theme of a Striking Oration at Rome.

ROME, May 13.—The Rev Dr Anna Howard Shaw of New York to-day delivered a striking address on woman suffrage at the fourth public meeting under the auspices of the International Council of Women and in the presence of the distinguished audience.

Dr. Shaw said the first duty of Patriotic women was to bring the practical life of government into harmony with the fundamental principle of justice, which demands that the laws governing the people give equal privileges and equal opportunities to all regardless of sex.

During the past five years she said, woman suffrage had grown from an academic to a practical question and all political parties had realized that it was one with which government's must speedily deal. She declared that the growth of the suffrage movement had been proved in several ways. These were: First—The changed attitude of the people in that woman suffrage has become the most frequent subject of conversation everywhere, while the press gives more space to it in its news and editorial columns than to any other political or moral reform.

ASKS GOVERNMENT TO AID THE WIDOW OF MAIL CLERK TYE

Mr. Morphy Calls Attention to Fact That Ordinary $200 Grant Was Given

OTTAWA, May 13.—Mr. Morphy of North Perth today asked the government to give financial recognition to the widow of W. P. Tye, a mail clerk, who had been burned to death in the performance of his duties. He said that Tye had been on the run between Wychwood and Paris for 33 years. Though he had met death in the service under striking conditions, the government had only given the widow the ordinary grant of $200.

Postmaster-General Pelletier stated that the case had been considered by the government. A decision had not been reached, but he hoped that there would be favorable decision shortly.

THE LIBERAL CHIEF AND HIS "CHIEF ADVISER"

This is a Happy Day For Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier

OTTAWA, May 13.—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will celebrate tomorrow the forty-sixth anniversary of their marriage. The Liberals of Parliament will present their felicitations to their chief and to his "chief adviser" in the form of forty-six of the most beautiful roses that the Capital can provide.

The married life of the Liberal leader and of his helpmate, through nearly half a century, has been an ideal one. On May 13, 1868, Wilfrid Laurier, then a struggling barrister or Arthabaska, married Miss Zoe Lafontaine of Montreal. Sir Wilfrid has since often borne eloquent testimony to the constant help she has ever been to him in every step of his honorable career up to the highest place in the land.

BALD JACK ROSE'S TESTIMONY UNSHAKEN

Evidence in the Becker Case Today—Attorney For Prisoner Thundered at Witness But Failed to Upset Him.

NEW YORK, May 13.—"Bald Jack" Rose, the informer, underwent the ordeal of cross-examination to-day at the trial of Charles Becker, for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

Martin T. Manton, chief of Becker's counsel began by asking Rose why he changed his name from Rosenzweig to Rose. Rose said he had changed his name 23 years ago. He denied that he had ever been in jail during that time. Manton hurled at him a long list of questions asked to bring out the questionable life the witness had led.

The witness was closely questioned about a series of newspaper articles on the underworld for which he was sponsor. Rose admitted that in them he had mentioned meeting Becker at several places not mentioned in his testimony yesterday. The defence here introduced transcripts of yesterday's testimony and from the first trial showing discrepancies in the matter of these meetings.

EWART BREAKS OUT AGAIN

Ottawa Lawyer Gives Utterances to Opinions Re Teck's Appointment.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 13.—That Canadians should be eligible for any position in Canada and that the position of Governor-General should be filled by a Canadian, is the conclusion of John S. Ewart, K.C., author of "The Kingdom Papers," in a statement to the Canadian Press to-day.

"If proper distinctions are made it would not be difficult to formulate the opinion of the vast majority of Canadians," said Mr. Ewart. "We desire our association with the British crown to remain unimpaired. We have no objection to respectable people of other lands joining our community, whether or not they bear titles."

"Historically, wars have never required that the representative of our sovereign should be chosen from among British commoners, and if there is no reason why our Governor-General should not belong to the nobility, there can be objection to his having close family connection with our sovereign."

Mr. Ewart once delivered an address to the Canadian Club of Brantford, and his remarks on Imperialism did not meet with much favor from his audience.

IT WAS JUST LIKE BRANTFORD

Lots of People at Beachville Did Not Recognize the Duke.

HAMILTON, May 13.—An amusing incident occurred at Beachville when the royal train stopped there for a short time yesterday. His Royal Highness, accompanied by H. F. Whittenberger, general superintendent of the Grand Trunk at Toronto, were taking a stroll up the street. The residents heard that the train had stopped there and made a rush for it. They failed to recognize the distinguished visitor, and rushed both him and Mr. Whittenberger into a ditch. The Duke took it good naturedly.

Before leaving Hamilton, he presented Mr. Whittenberger, who conducted the Western Ontario tour, with a diamond stick pin. Mayor Allen received a telegram from the Duke at Toronto last night, asking a holiday for the school children. Both the Duke and Princess Pat were much concerned about the children, who had to stand in the rain for hours.

ADVISES FATHERS TO KILL PHYSICIANS

If They Attempt Medical Inspection of Children Against Parents' Will

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 13.—Governor Cole L. Blease, denouncing in campaign here the proposed medical inspection of school children, declared he would pardon any father who killed a physician who attempted against the father's will to make a physical examination of his daughter.

Governor Blease asserted that the proposed law would give the opportunity to an unscrupulous physician to blight for ever the life of an innocent girl who was the daughter of a political enemy, by making a false report.

She Was Cool

Mme. Schuman Heinek Quoted Audience of 2500 in Chicago.

MONTREAL, May 13.—A despatch to The Gazette from Chicago says: Mme. Schumann Heinek by a commendable display of coolness, prevented a panic at a concert in St. Joseph's Tabernacle, Clinton Harbor, Mich. Madame Schumann Heinek was singing the Rosary, when, following a terrific peal of thunder and continued flashes of lightning the lights went out leaving in complete darkness 2,500 people, many in a panicky condition.

Realizing the situation Madame Heinek continued to sing and the fears of the audience had been disposed of when the lights had been flashed on again.

KENT COUNTY UNDER WATER

Great Damage Done to Newly-Planted Crops by the Rain.

(By Special Wire to The Courier)

CHATHAM, Ont., May 13.—Scores of farms in the low lying section of Kent County, and particularly those on the Raleigh Plains are inundated as a result of the heavy downpour of the past few days, and great damage has already been done to the newly planted crops.

It is not uncommon to see houses, and barns completely surrounded with water and the farmer using a boat. It was necessary to move the stock to the high lands, and had this not been done the loss would have been heavy. Floods in the spring are usual because of ice jams in the river, but this was averted by an ice breaker this spring. The present flood is the result solely of recent heavy rains. Every stream and creek in the entire county is filled to overflowing. Rain fell steadily for over two days, but it ceased early this morning. Bridges have been washed away and traffic on the Erie Beach Electric Railway is tied up owing to the subway at Charing Cross being filled with water.

CO-OPERATIVE BILL

OTTAWA, May 13.—In the Commons to-day, Hon. Arthur Meighen introduced the co-operative of credit societies' bill, and Hon. The post office estimates were under discussion throughout the morning.

PURSE OF GOLD

Was Presented to Mr. P. McCusker by Local Business Men.

A very pleasing event took place yesterday afternoon in the offices of the Greater Brantford board on Dalhousie street, when Mr. P. McCusker was presented with an illuminated address of magnificent workmanship and a purse of gold. He is retiring from service as chief freight shipper on the T. H. & B. after serving on railroads for forty-one years. Twenty-five years he has spent upon the Grand Trunk and sixteen upon the T. H. & B. About one year ago Mr. McCusker happened to an accident which injured one of his knees and he has never fully recovered the use of the injured part and he does not feel justified in further holding his post. He announced his intention of leaving the railway service, and within a short time merchants of the city got up a testimonial of appreciation, and the outcome was the presentation yesterday. The address, with its frame of pretty brown maple, was a study in color harmony. Upon it was inscribed:

Dear Sir,—We, the undersigned merchants and manufacturers of Brantford having learned of your resignation of the position of head shipper at the T. H. & B. freight sheds here after many years of service, desire to recognize your ability and courtesy in the discharge of your duties and ask that you will accept this address and the accompanying purse of gold as an expression of our appreciation and good will.

We wish Mrs. McCusker and yourself a happy married life.

Signed: Franklin Grob, I. O. Kelly, John Bishop & Son, E. F. Stark, T. W. Ranton, H. Cocksutt, J. N. Sanderson, F. A. Ellis, J. H. Ham, C. J. Mitchell, J. B. Detwiler, J. S. Hamilton & Co., M. Wilkes, G. Watt & Sons, E. B. Crompton & Sons, C. H. Watertons, T. L. Wood, W. A. Turnbull, J. H. Spence, John Muir, Harley Bros., Geo. Harris, B. and M. Bixel Co., C. J. Parker, J. H. Bassett, T. H. Whitehead, N. W. Creich, A. Tomlinson, W. C. Nelles, Scarfe & Co., W. J. Hampel, Fred Chalcraft, F. W. Ryerson, John Mann & Sons, Slingsby Woolen Mills, J. R. Vary, A. G. Olive.

Mr. J. S. Hamilton, speaking for the merchants, said that as they had heard he (Mr. McCusker) was leaving the city, they felt that they could not let him go without showing their appreciation of his services in some shape and they had therefore decided upon an illuminated address and a purse of gold.

Mr. Hatley then read the address, and Major Hamilton made the presentation.

Replying, Mr. McCusker said he was totally unprepared for anything of kind and he did not think himself worthy of such a tribute, an ordinary shipper of freight. However, it must be so, or they would not have shown their respect for him, he said, tapping his pocket, wherein lay the purse of gold. Growing reminiscent, the speaker went on to say he had been in railroad service for forty one years, and during that time he had seen many changes. He remembered when there were only two freight men in Brantford. At that time the now large factories were in their infancy and he had passed the years amongst the improvements and had not particularly noticed them, but now he came to realize the vast change that had come about. He would now retire to the background and watch the progress go forward. He had not been prepared or he would have given them a good speech, but at the present time he was too overcome to speak eloquently. The little throng of merchants urged him to go on, as his extemporaneous speech had proved excellent. Thanking the gentlemen for their great goodness "Mac", as he is generally known, took his seat.

Mr. T. L. Wood spoke of the sphere which Mr. McCusker had so excellently filled in life. As a good citizen and honest worker, his services had been greatly more so than "Mac" had imagined.

This good opinion was corroborated by Messrs. E. L. Good, J. Colter, D. T. Williamson, A. G. Oliver, W. D. Schultz, C. S. Messecar, all of whom were prominent in the general appreciation.

A cordial handshake and good wishes from all present and "Mac" was alone in his glory.

PRESBYTERIANS ARE IN SESSION

Montreal and Ottawa Synod—Fewer Protestant Schools in Quebec.

(By Special Wire to the Courier)

MONTREAL, May 13.—The Presbyterian Synod of Montreal and Ottawa began its business sessions in St. Andrew's church, Westmount, this morning.

Rev. Dr. Love of Quebec, the moderator, reported that in the rural parts of the province of Quebec there had been a diminution of the Protestant faith. In districts where it had remained stationary there had been a large increase of Roman Catholic. Substantial progress had been made in rural education. The salaries of teachers, while still not large had been increased since 1902. In that year a female teacher with a diploma received an average $151 a year. Now the average for women teachers was $281 per annum.

In 1902 there were 899 Protestant elementary schools in Quebec, and in 1912 this number had fallen to 829, and in 1912 totalled 35,643. The city of Montreal accounted for over half of these. The number of Protestant pupils attending Roman Catholic elementary schools in 1912 was 453. The Roman Catholics attending Protestant elementary schools was 1799; 279 Protestant pupils attending Roman Catholic model schools and 153 Roman Catholics attending Protestant model schools.

The totals worked out at: Protestant pupils attending Catholic schools of all kinds, 1,105, and Catholics attending Protestant schools 2,118.

There were many Protestant children scattered about the province, and many of them, Dr. Love said, were growing up without much education, some reaching manhood who had never received any education at all. He hoped the day was not far distant when the Presbyterian church would have schools for this class.

Rev. Dr. Scrimger, Montreal, said the work of the Pointe aux Trembles school had been as successful as heretofore, though a difficulty had been found in securing competent teachers.

Financially, said Dr. Scrimger, they were about equal with last session, and if the liberality of the church continued they would be able to increase the salaries of teachers and be able to get really efficient masters.

A HOT TIME

HAMILTON, Ont., May 13.—Councillor Dickenson created a sensation in the County Council meeting today when he called councillor Guest of Anaster, a liar and threatened to "knock his block off." Councillor Guest said Dickenson remarked yesterday he would slip a motion over to get a bigger grant for the Caledonia road.

"You are a liar," roared Dickenson. Guest remonstrated.

"You surely are," repeated Dickenson, "and I can knock your curly head right off. You always were a bull-head. I mean what I say and come on outside if you don't believe it."

Warden Bertram finally smoothed matters over.

Tramp Uses Expression in Judge Peeveeple's Court in Delhi.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The New York Telegraph's despatch this week from Delhi, Texas, follows:

A tramp, who said he was from New York city, was arrested here for vagrancy yesterday morning and taken before old Judge Peeveeple in police court. The judge is hard of hearing. Calling the tramp before the bench the judge said:

"Are you guilty of vagrancy?"

"Not me," replied the prisoner. "I'm a teacher of the modern dances, on my way to join the soldiers. The government want me to teach them to maxixe."

"Max who?" shouted the judge putting his hand on his ear.

"Maxixe," replied the tramp.

FRAUD CHARGE

East Oxford Farmer is Being Prosecuted by Insurance Company.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., May 13.—Orlando Harrison, a prominent farmer of East Oxford Township was placed on trial here to-day before Magistrate A. S. Ball on a charge of defrauding the Atlas Fire Assurance Co., out of about $700. Harrison was the owner of a farm in Blandford Township in 1910 when fire destroyed his barns and contents. The accused carried fire insurance in the Atlas and his claim amounting to $1,500 was put in and paid. The crown now charge that this claim was "padded," and that Harrison claimed and received payment for grain, produce, etc., which was never in the barn when the fire occurred. The chief witness heard this morning was the third who thrashed at Harrison's place day before the fire. In his evidence he claimed that the amount he thrashed was far short of the Harrison claimed was $1,500. In this case, it was expected, would last of day.

SIMCOE, May 13.—At a vestry meeting of Trinity Church last night it was decided to call for tenders at once for the erection of a parish hall to be built as a memorial to the late Canon R. Hicks, and to be named the Richard Hicks Memorial Hall. The committee appointed at a former meeting to solicit subscriptions, reported that the members had been successful in obtaining more than $6000, which will enable the work to be started at once. The cost of the building is estimated at $8,000.

Emmerson, a Liberal, has placed himself on record as being opposed to the appointment of members of the royal family to the office of Governor-General of Canada. Will they please give equal prominence to the endorsement which the Ottawa Citizen, Conservative organ at the Dominion capital, gives to Mr. Emmerson's position?"—Brantford Expressor.

In the meantime, how would it do for our local contemporary to reprint the editorial in its own columns in which it questioned the advisability of the Duke of Connaught—the only remaining son of Queen Victoria, the beloved—receiving said appointment? Will it dare deny that it printed such an article?

ECCENTRICITIES OF GENIUS.

It is now denied that Sir James Farrie, the famous author and playwright is to marry Lady Scott, widow of the late Robt. F. Scott, the distinguished explorer, who two years ago perished in such heroic fashion after his successful trip to the South Pole.

The rumor recalls the extraordinary circumstances under which Barrie not long ago separated from his first wife. He found that she had bestowed her affections elsewhere and at once facilitated proceedings for a divorce. That obtained he gave the wedding couple a house in which to live, settled so much per annum upon his erstwhile spouse and remains on a most friendly footing with both herself and second husband.

A parallel case is to be found in that of John Ruskin, the most eloquent and original of all writers upon art, and who also beautifully illustrated some of his own works. After his marriage he got his great chum Millais, afterwards Sir John Millais and President of the Royal Academy, to paint the portrait of his beautiful young wife. They also fell in love and Ruskin seeing the state of affairs, made a divorce easy and, submitted as the only stipulation that their marriage should not in any sense affect the friendship of the trio. He was a frequent visitor at Millais' home and a great favorite of the children by whom they were surrounded as the years rolled on.

Swift, the noted author and satirist, afforded another notable illustration of the queer course of genius with regard to matters matrimonial. For years he paid attention to a couple of women at the same time and when he finally married one of them the pair occupied separate portions of the one house and there was always a chaperone in attendance. Small wonder that one of the dictionary definitions of genius is "peculiar character."

SIR JAMES WHITNEY

The Mail-Empire points out that Sir James Whitney has had a wonderful recovery of the health he lost at the beginning of the Winter. Few men have survived an illness so severe as the one he went through, and still fewer have had their vigor restored as this has been. Being a man of exceptionally strong constitution and of temperance in all things but work, he has steadily progressed, until he is now close to the high mark of his former fitness.

For a man by nature impatient of restraint and by habit accustomed to working at high pressure, Sir James Whitney's self-control in convalescence has been remarkable. He resisted the temptation of his growing strength to fling himself too soon into the thick of public business. Though he thus kept the curb on his inclinations, he did not isolate himself from affairs. He had come back into some touch with them even before he left the hospital, and by easy gradations his interest increased until his hand began to be felt again in the conduct of them weeks before the end of the session. But he had the wisdom to keep the balance between income and outgo of energy on the right side, so as to let the fund of it accumulate. From day to day he went on renewing his interest in and grasp of the people's business, while at the same time getting himself in better condition to take full charge of it again. For some days he has been back at his post of duty, putting in several hours at his desk and taking part in the proceedings of Council. He is living his public life again, almost in its former fullness. He has fair promise near perfect realization even now of being as great a driving force as ever. After the discipline of his prostrating illness, he will doubtless make it a rule of his life to husband his powers and be more economical of the vitality upon which he was wont to draw unsparingly, often unnecessarily, in the performance of his public duty.

About a dozen years ago Sir Wilfrid Laurier passed through an illness as serious as that Sir James has come out of. Sir Wilfrid recovered his vigor of mind and body, and we are glad to say he is now enjoying excellent health. The very trying experience of his illness had this good effect, that it made him afterwards careful not to overtax or needlessly exert his strength. Sir James has doubtless learnt the same lesson. The people of Ontario, irrespective of party, were sincerely grieved at his illness, and wished for his recovery. Irrespective of party, they rejoice to see him back again, and hope he will have a long life of public usefulness.

THE CRISIS IN MEXICO

However, Carranza's agents were emphatic in their declarations from El Paso that the Constitutionalists would agree to nothing short of the elimination of Huerta and of his entire party. Roberto Pesqueira, Carranza's confidential representative asserted: "We have beaten Huerta at every turn, and why should we yield our advantage when we have the reform for which we have striven almost without our grasp. This has been a fight of 100 years for reform, and we will not be content to have those years of fighting wasted." Other Constitutionalists asserted that there was no basis on which Huertistas and Constitutionalists could co-operate in a provisional government.

Another Factor. Assertions of the Constitutionalists that there was an understanding between Zapata, the southern insurgent leader and Carranza that Zapata would not attempt to enter Mexico City until after it had been captured by the Constitutionalists, had a tempering effect on fear expressed that if the Huerta regime suddenly were to collapse, the southern rebels might pillage the capital. The constitutionalist agents asserted Zapata had recognized Carranza as his chief, and that there were among his ranks many men from Mexico City who would not countenance pillaging. While the envoys proceed with their plans for the Niagara Falls conference to-day with the United States mission, Associate Justice Lamar of the Supreme Court and former Solicitor General Lehmann, conferred to arrange details of their work. They will consult President Wilson and Secretary Bryan about the personnel of their party, which probably will include several members of the staff from the state department. Probably their plans will have been completed so that they may leave for the Canadian border town the latter part of the week. By that time, it is expected, Huerta's representatives will have been landed at Key West.

Battle at Tampico. Additional reports of the Tampico battle were received to-day from Rear Admiral Badger. It was stated the rebels with their reinforcements of men and artillery were fighting fiercely in an attempt to bring the siege to an end. They appear to be meeting with stubborn resistance, from the Huerta garrison. On the west coast the rebels were reported to be drawing their net closer about Mazatlan, and they declared the fall of the city was imminent.

The situation at Vera Cruz to-day has assumed a routine calm. General Funston reported that no Federal attack on the city was feared. Practically the only interesting developments there, it was said, consisted of the narration of stories of refugees' experiences as they reached a haven from the interior.

On the west coast the rebels were reported to be drawing their net closer about Mazatlan, and they declared the fall of the city was imminent.

important questions of the debate and for the first time in American history favorable reports have been made by both the senate and house committees and it has become a national question. Fourth—More nations and states have granted the vote to women during the past five years than in any five years in history. Dr. Shaw then enumerated the details of the progress made and concluded amid applause.

Conservative Association of the South Riding of Brant

A meeting of the Conservatives of the South Riding of Brant will be held at Conservative headquarters, corner of Dalhousie and King Streets, in the City of Brantford, in the County of Brant, on Thursday, May 21st, 1914, at 8 p.m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Provincial Legislature of the Province of Ontario.

All Conservatives invited. Only those will be entitled to vote who are duly elected delegates. W. M. CHARLTON, President. GOD SAVE THE KING

THE WIND.

The wind comes singing from the south, as hot as though 'twere fried, suggestive of a furnace mouth, and blizzing coal inside. And now the wheat will die the death, the corn will say good-bye; for in that fierce and fiery breath all growing things must die. The wind comes nosing from the north, to see what it may see; and when that sort of wind coes forth, I murmur, "Hully chee! 'Twill kill the blossoms on the trees, the garden sass must go; when nature trots out such a freeze, the poor man has no show. The wind comes wailing from the east, and floods will soon appear; I hoped to see my store increased in goodly shape this year, but endless rains will spoil the oats, and drown the geese and ducks, and give the mildew to the goats, and I'll lose many bucks." Thus speaks the kicker, and his wail is rising every day; he's sure that everything will fail, that grief is on the way. If he were farming Canaan's land, with milk and honey near, he still would kick to beat the band, and shed the briny tear. WALT MASON.

Birthdays of Note

WEDNESDAY, MAY THIRTEENTH

To-day marks the fifty-sixth birthday of the Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, one of the ablest lawyers in Canada. He was born in Woodstock, Ontario, and was called to the bar in 1881. After attaining the highest rank among the lawyers of Toronto, he was induced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1903 to take a seat on the Supreme Court Bench at Ottawa. He only remained there for two years, however, preferring to practise rather than to deliver judgments. Since then he has been a consulting counsel. Always keen and quite self-possessed, he has distinguished himself in many cases. An amusing incident occurred in 1909 when he appeared before the judicial committee of the Privy Council in the famous Steel and Coal Case. The Dominion Iron and Steel Co. had also engaged Sir Robert Finlay to argue their side. The latter was delivering his argument but was interrupted by time and again by his colleagues, who threw in explanatory remarks. At last one of the law lords became annoyed at the frequency with which Mr. Nesbitt chimed in and said to Sir Robert, "It would greatly facilitate the hearing in this case if you could manage to keep your junior quiet." It is said that Mr. Nesbitt remained silent after that for about an hour.

Also born to-day:—Professor A. T. McLary, University of Toronto, born at Manilla, Ont., 1864. Lieut.-Col. John Bruce, Toronto, born at Beaverton, 1851.

BALD JACK ROSE

As at the first trial of Becker, Rose proved to be an unusual witness. His answers to questions came without hesitation, although he frequently let his voice fall as to be almost inaudible. And several times it was noticeable that he had lost his former power of self control. Persons who heard Rose at the first trial and again yesterday commented upon the fact that he frequently used his handkerchief to wipe away tears that formed in his eyes, as he told of the plot, the same story that resulted in Becker spending more than a year in the death house at Sing Sing prison. Throughout Rose's recital, Mrs. Becker, wife of the defendant, watched the witness intently and her display of interest spread to others in the room, among whom were Mrs. Seabury, wife of the trial justice; Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, Mrs. Inez Mulholland Boissevain, the suffragist leader, Ogen Mills and Lydig Hoyt.

The cross-examination of Rose by Martin T. Manton to-day was expected to furnish another interesting chapter in the history of the now famous case for in his questions, the leading counsel for Becker has intimated he would give a line on the probable course of the defense.

Local News

Are Making Inspection. Supt. Latimer and General Foreman McKenzie of the Hydro Electric Commission are in the city to-day inspecting the low tension circuits of this city. These gentlemen are inspecting all the low tension wires of the province in connection with the Hydro Electric Commission.

An Inspection. Fire Chief Lewis and Hydro Engineer Ireland were looking over the duplication of poles at certain spots in the city yesterday. At one place, the corner residence of Mr. Robert Taylor, Brant avenue and Bedford street, it was found that several poles could be removed by having different sets of wires placed on one pole.

Commotion on Hill.

A young woman appearing to be half demented was travelling around Terrace Hill this morning in a peculiar manner, tapping windows and screaming about justice. She was causing quite a sensation and the police were 'phoned for. P. C. Stanley left for the scene in a Ford car and in a few minutes had returned with the troubled girl. She appeared quite rational in the police office and said she had been working for a relative for a time and instead of paying her wages in cash, her employers gave her some clothes in lieu of money. This upset her. She could not account for her actions and broke into tears, while telling her story. She was not detained her father taking her from the police station.

Auto Hit Street Car.

A serious motor car accident was narrowly averted last night at the corner of Market and Colborne Sts. when a powerful Keeton car in which was seated, Mr. John F. Schulz, upon rounding the bend they came upon a street railway car, which was at a stand still, only a few yards away from the on-coming auto. Street traffic blocked all passages out of the difficulty and a prompt application of the brakes almost averted the inevitable collision. The front of the automobile came into forcible contact with the back of the car, and some damage was done but fortunately no injuries were received by the autoists, who were jolted from their seats unceremoniously. After the impact the party were able to proceed upon their way little worse for its adventure.

With the City Police

John Blain sued John Rowe for the payment of $27.50 which he claimed was due to him as wages for work done at defendants sawmill situated at St. George. Blain has worked for 64 days at a wage of $2.50 a day. For this work he was paid but there was a dispute as to the amount which amounted to $27.50. Blain and a man named Hill were, according to Rose and Hill, chipping in on the board bill, but when Blain was asked for his portion of the costs, after a period of nine weeks, he denied that he agreed to chip in and said his agreement provided for wages and board. It was purely a verbal agreement and did not seem to be definitely settled between the two, although Hill had no doubt as to his part of the board bill, which he always paid. The Magistrate decided that plaintiff did not have a definite agreement with defendant and was therefore entitled to some consideration. Upon reckoning up from the books of the parties, it was found that Rowe owed Blain $14.92 on the board bill, and for that amount with the costs he found for complainant. A cheque for $18.45 settled the dispute. The list appear from this was composed of drunks, who were dealt with as usual.

FUNERAL OF VICTIM.

QUEBEC, May 13.—The funeral of the late Miss Dubois, the victim of Sunday's brutal murder, took place this morning from her mother's residence to St. Saviour church. There was a large attendance of mourners, and the streets through which the funeral procession passed were crowded with mourners, who stood with their heads uncovered as the remains were being borne to the church where the service was held.

SMALLPOX AT ERIE

ERIE, Pa., May 13.—Two nurses, three patients and a visitor were taken from St. Vincent Hospital here to-day to the municipal hospital when it was discovered that smallpox had appeared at the institution. Forty persons were taken from St. Vincent's to their homes for observation. Twenty cases have been reported in various parts of the city.

Boys Jump Freight.

A Woodstock despatch says: Five local lads, the oldest scarcely 15 years old and the youngest just past nine, were in the police court to-day, charged with "stealing" rides "on" freight trains. This perilous pastime seems to have been a favorite pursuit with them for some time. They were caught by a fireman on the back of an engine returning from Paris on Saturday. They had ridden to Paris on a freight train. At the request of the local G. T. R. agent the magistrate suspended sentence after delivering a stern lecture.

REV. J. ROUNTHWAITE

Former Rector of St. John's Church, This City, Died in Toronto Tuesday.

Many Brantford friends will be extremely sorry to learn of the death which took place in Toronto yesterday of Rev. J. F. Rounthwaite, M. A., a former rector of St. John's Church of this city. The late Rev. Rounthwaite officiated at St. John's Church and in Mt. Pleasant for a period of four years, coming to Brantford from the diocese of Toronto. He was succeeded here by the present incumbent, Rev. C. W. Saunders. While discharging his parochial duties in Brantford Mr. Rounthwaite fell into ill-health and was forced into temporary retirement. He again took up work in Toronto however, and it was at his home, 69 Howland Avenue, where his regrettable demise occurred. He was a graduate of Trinity College, Toronto, and had seen missionary service in the West. In his passing, a thorough Christian gentleman has been called to his reward.

BOB CROOME

Former Brantford Man Now Full Fledged Toronto Detective.

Two new detectives were added to the Toronto headquarters staff by the police commissioners yesterday afternoon. They are Arthur Levitt and Robert Croome. Both men will commence their new duties at the beginning of next week.

Detective Croome is 32 years old. He was born in Brantford, Ont., and joined the police force there on September 22, 1908. He had previously served one year with the Brantford force. He was placed in No. 9 (West Toronto) division at the time the suburb was annexed to the city, and has been attached to that division since. While his district has not afforded him the opportunities No. 1 gave Levitt, still he has shown himself to be a man of ability in all the cases he has handled since he was made acting detective for No. 9 on July 7th, 1910.

A LIGHT PENALTY

Butcher Who Failed to Deliver Meat From Market Merely Paid Costs.

By merely paying costs and making restitution John Cubbridge of Vanessa was allowed to go in the police court yesterday on the charge of failing to deliver meat for which he had been paid on the market. Mrs. Schram, Nelson street, and Mrs. Corter, Wilkins street, were both victimized on the same day and the matter was reported to the authorities. Dr. Cutcliffe was the complainant and Cubbridge came into the city yesterday and offered to settle. He succeeded in doing so at the police station.

Market officials say that hundreds of people have been victimized in the same way and they are somewhat peeved that having secured a concrete case such a light penalty was imposed, as the payment merely of court costs.

HE WAS HONEST

Tried to Deliver Potatoes but Could Not Find the Right Address.

Reports of traders taking cash for orders and not delivering the goods, have been frequent lately, but the state of affairs were reversed on Saturday in one instance. An unknown lady stepped up to George W. Misner a farmer from Jerseyville and ordered two bags of potatoes, paying for them $1.25. She gave her address at 151 Wellington street and without giving any name, continued on her way. Yesterday Mr. Misner was looking all over Wellington street, but he could not find number 151, and consequently he still possesses the bags of potatoes, paid for by the unknown. He is anxious to do the right thing and has left the vegetables at the feed store of Mr. Simmons on Colborne street, where they will remain until claimed.

Mission Circle Elect Officers.
The Jackson Mission Circle of Sydney St. Methodist church held their annual business meeting and election of officers last evening at the home of the superintendent, Mrs. I. D. Scruton, Wells Avenue. The reports showed that the year had been a most prosperous one. Over forty-six dollars has been raised for missions and much information gleaned by the members of the circle. The election resulted as follows: Hon. President, Mrs. I. D. Scruton; president, Miss Hazel K. Huffman; vice-president, Miss Ursula Willis; cor. secretary, Miss Mary McWhinney; sec. secretary, Miss Edna Bayless; treasurer, Miss Grace Kilgour; pianist, Miss Lily Dungey; superintendent of the department of Christian Stewardship, Miss Margaret English. The Mission Band under Mrs. Ern. Alderson has had an exceptionally good year. There are about seventy boys and girls in the organization and they have raised over $7 for missions.

The Sons of England Football Club will hold a practice match at Tutela Park to-morrow night at seven o'clock when all players are asked to put in an appearance. The team to oppose the Dufus will be selected after the trial.

Old Landmark Gone.
The L. E. and N. workmen are to-day removing one of the largest elm trees in this city on the old Kerby Mill site. This tree has for many years been a landmark but at last it had to be removed to allow the railway to have its right of way.

Two Brantford Patients.
Two patients from this city were admitted to the Hospital for the Insane at Hamilton for the first quarter of this year, and the city has received a bill for their keep from W. W. Dunlop, the Inspector of Asylums, Toronto.

Will Address Masons.
Rev. H. P. Boyle, Professor of History, Toronto University, will deliver an address in the Masonic Temple to-night under the auspices of Ozaia Lodge A. F. and A. M. Prof. Boyle will speak on Masonic Citizenship and all members of the craft are cordially invited to attend.

Boys Jump Freight.
A Woodstock despatch says: Five local lads, the oldest scarcely 15 years old and the youngest just past nine, were in the police court to-day, charged with "teaching" "rides" "off" freight trains. This perilous pastime seems to have been a favorite pursuit with them for some time. They were caught by a fireman on the back of an engine returning from Paris on Saturday. They had ridden to Paris on a freight train. At the request of the local G. T. R. agent the magistrate suspended sentence after delivering a stern lecture.

REV. J. ROUNTHWAITE

Former Rector of St. John's Church, This City, Died in Toronto Tuesday.

Many Brantford friends will be extremely sorry to learn of the death which took place in Toronto yesterday of Rev. J. F. Rounthwaite, M. A., a former rector of St. John's Church of this city. The late Rev. Rounthwaite officiated at St. John's Church and in Mt. Pleasant for a period of four years, coming to Brantford from the diocese of Toronto. He was succeeded here by the present incumbent, Rev. C. W. Saunders. While discharging his parochial duties in Brantford Mr. Rounthwaite fell into ill-health and was forced into temporary retirement. He again took up work in Toronto however, and it was at his home, 69 Howland Avenue, where his regrettable demise occurred. He was a graduate of Trinity College, Toronto, and had seen missionary service in the West. In his passing a thorough Christian gentleman has been called to his reward.

BOB CROOME

Former Brantford Man Now Full Fledged Toronto Detective.

Two new detectives were added to the Toronto headquarters staff by the police commissioners yesterday afternoon. They are Arthur Levitt and Robert Croome. Both men will commence their new duties at the beginning of next week. Detective Croome is 32 years old. He was born in Brantford, Ont., and joined the police force there on September 22, 1908. He had previously served one year with the Brantford force. He was placed in No. 9 (West Toronto) division at the time the suburb was annexed to the city, and has been attached to that division since. While his district has not afforded him the opportunities No. 1 gave Levitt, still he has shown himself to be a man of ability in all the cases he has handled since he was made acting detective for No. 9 on July 5th, 1910.

A LIGHT PENALTY

Butcher Who Failed to Deliver Meat From Market Merely Paid Costs.

By merely paying costs and making restitution John Cubbridge of Vanessa was allowed to go in the police court yesterday on the charge of failing to deliver meat for which he had been paid on the market. Mrs. Schram, Nelson street, and Mrs. Corter, Wilkins street, were both victimized on the same day and the matter was reported to the authorities. Dr. Cutcliffe was the complainant and Cubbridge came into the city yesterday and offered to settle. He succeeded in doing so at the police station. Market officials say that hundreds of people have been victimized in the same way and they are somewhat peeved that having secured a concrete case such a light penalty was imposed, as the payment merely of court costs.

HE WAS HONEST

Tried to Deliver Potatoes but Could Not Find the Right Address.

Reports of traders taking cash for orders and not delivering the goods, have been frequent lately, but the state of affairs were reversed on Saturday in one instance. An unknown lady stepped up to George W. Misner a farmer from Jerseyville and ordered two bags of potatoes, paying for them $1.25. She gave her address at 151 Wellington street and without giving any name, continued on her way. Yesterday Mr. Misner was looking all over Wellington street, but he could not find number 151, and consequently he still possesses the bags of potatoes, paid for by the unknown. He is anxious to do the right thing and has left the vegetables at the feed store of Mr. Simmons, on Colborne street, where they will remain until claimed.

That Son-in-Law of Pa's—By Wellington

(Copyright 1914 by Newspaper Feature Service)

CLASS "A" FOR THE CANADIAN

That is Prediction Made by Some of Heads of the League.

BRANTFORD, Pa., May 13.—The Times says:—"Talk is going the rounds just now to the effect that the Canadian League will be a Class A organization next season. The plan is to drop two of the smaller cities and take in Montreal and Youngstown. With the addition of these two cities the population of the league would be sufficient to warrant a Class A rating."

"The above was broached at the dinner tendered Peterboro' fans by Owner George O'Neil of the Erie Club at the LaFrance Hotel Thursday evening at which President Fitzgerald of the Canadian League was present. While the matter was not discussed by President Fitzgerald, he said it would be one of his greatest desires to see the Canadian League secure such a rating."

"Next season, no doubt, will see many changes in baseball. Just now the Federal League is playing and American Association. It is these two circuits that are being hit hardest than any other by the Federal League. In fact they are shouldering nearly the whole brunt of the baseball war."

"As a result there is sure to be a shakedown next season. The tip has been handed down that Montreal may be frozen out entirely, and, if such is the case, would no doubt welcome the Canadian League with open arms. Likewise would Youngstown, as that city is without organized baseball this season. With Erie, Youngstown has always been the meat ticket for the other clubs in every league in which that city was represented during the past four or five years."

The weather man promises fair weather to-day, with stationary or a little higher temperature.

Sport Comment

Rube Deneau says he would be tickled to death to get Eddie Wright, the former star third baseman of St. Thomas for Brantford, despite the fact that he holds the opinion that ball players who go up to the big show and who come back are not as good as before they went. But Deneau holds the opinion that there is no chance of getting Wright back, because he will make good, if not in the International, in the American Association. The Rube thinks Wright is the best ball player turned out of the Canadian League since it started.

With Toronto appearing here several times this year there seems little sense in pulling off a double header to-day. Four hours of baseball at this time of the year is a little too much. Besides it is not good for the peanut business.

President Nelson and Treasurer Roy Brown will accompany Mayor Spence to Hamilton to-morrow and it is to be hoped His Worship makes a better showing with his smoke ball than he did behind the dyke.

The management of the Eagle Place Stars who will play in the "Wobbly" League this year, are to be commended in the wise course they are pursuing in the selection of players. Only one game a week is to be played and the management rightly considers that players in the "Wobbly" must work during the week. It looks to be either high financing or meal ticket financing to attempt to pay players on the gate receipts of one game per week. We are afraid that when Jimmy Bradley attempts this stunt his supporters in Woodstock will either go broke or the league will go bust. We would like to see it prosper, but one rainy Saturday may put a decided crimp in the ambitions of the magnates. The Brantford end of it are pursuing the right course and will be playing ball this year when the other teams are counting the ties homeward.

The Hamilton Herald says Brantford sport writers have got off a lot of piffle about the Hams, not being up to standard, but the following from the Herald show that Doc Yates shares the same opinion as Brantford writers:

"That Manager Yates is not satisfied with the present make-up of the infield, and that changes are to be made, is evidenced by the fact that he has agreed to give Beltz, the Brantford cast-off, a chance to show his wares in a Hamilton uniform. While in Brantford Yates told Beltz to keep in touch with him if he was released, and this the former Brant did by wire last night, after he received his walking ticket from Deneau. Just what Manager Yates' intentions are is not known, but two and probably three of the present squad will be sent on their way when the team comes home on Thursday. The third base position is not being filled as Yates would like. Dudley has been filling in and nicely, too, but he is wanted for another position, and it is the Manager's intention to make the third corner one of the best protected in the inner portion of the lot. Enlick has also been erratic, and has been showing very little of his early form. The arrival of Dolan also means that one or two of the pitchers will be let out, with Dwyer and Padgett battling it out to see who stays."

Fanny's Fancies.

Fanny Fagan, the cute little poetess of Grassie's Corners, is in the city today to see the Duke. She collaborated with the janitor in scratching off the following:

I'm glad to see you, dear old Duke, and also Princess Pat; As I give you the once over, I wonder where I'm at. I wonder if the Duke of Teck will be as sociable as you. And if his wife, the Duchess, will give us all our cue. When to make our curtsy and when to make our bow; When to eat our doughnuts and when to milk the cow; When to wear our evening gowns, and how to butter bread; When to serve the sauerkraut and how to hold our head; I wonder if in her palmy days, in her home across the ea. She ever met a handsomer man, than our noble Knotty Lee. —Hamilton Suctator.

The Limit.

The public will stand for many alleged jokes, but when D. B. Wood comes out flat-footed and says that Chili would be an appropriate place for H. L. Frost to spend his vacation, he is trifling with the mercury.—The Spectator.

JIBE AT THE RUBE.

The Hamilton papers are acclaiming Red Fisher as the greatest catcher in the Canadian League. Didn't he throw out Rube Deneau trying to steal the other day? When one remembers just how fast Rube is on the sacks, it is our duty to rise up and say that Red certainly is one grand peger. Merry lawfyer.—London Free Press.

J Dunn of the Orioles refuses to discuss the Federal situation in Baltimore further than to say that his Orioles are a good ball team and that he is willing to have the Baltimore fans decide whether his team or the Feds play the better ball.

New Jersey Tennis Club's President Insisted Club "Go to Church," and It Did

NORTHERN New Jersey is doing great work in the GO TO CHURCH movement.

Thirty-seven churches from Ridgefield to Chester, in that state, collaborated in a plan to get the layabouts out to worship on the Sabbath. Pastor Cooper of the Cresskill Congregational church broke all records as the result of his forceful GO TO CHURCH campaign. He prepared a sermon that especially appealed to the people in his section, where he plays tennis on summer days and where he is greatly liked despite the fact that the members of the tennis club generally only go to church when somebody gets married or somebody's new baby is christened.

Of course Mr. Cooper doesn't play tennis Sunday. But his congregation is composed mostly of commuters, and Sunday is their only day of recreation. They say they have just got to play tennis then. The pastor received help from an unexpected source. Jack Young, a big Scotchman, is president of the tennis club and director of the choral society. He delivered himself thus:

"AS PRESIDENT OF THE TENNIS CLUB AND DIRECTOR OF THE CHORAL SOCIETY I CALL ON ALL MEMBERS TO BE UP AND SHAVED EARLY NEXT SABBATH. THOSE IN THE HABIT OF SHOVELING COAL, CUTTING WOOD, PATCHING UP HEN HOUSES OR PLAYING ON THE SABBATH DAY SHOULD ABANDON THESE EFFORTS THIS TIME. BROTHER COOPER IS TOO GOOD A TENNIS PLAYER TO LACK SUPPORT IN ANY SUCH MOVEMENT AS THIS. THE TENNIS CLUB AND THE CHORAL SOCIETY WILL BE THERE IN THE FRONT Pews AND WITH BOILED SHIRTS ON NEXT SUNDAY OR I'LL RESIGN."

There was a great turnout. The church was crowded. More Jack Youngs are wanted. Do your part in helping this great movement. GO TO CHURCH next Sunday! GO TO CHURCH every Sunday!

Do You Know That--

The White Sox and Tigers were invited to Help Wanted in Chicago the other night. The whole staff of Comiskey's pitchers went, because, it was alleged, they need it.

Frank Schulte, former home-run king of the National League, who is now warming the bench for the Cubs, visited the Federal park the other day, and gossips insinuated that he went over on business.

Jimmy Callahan says Sam Crawford has eight more years of big league service left in him. Which means that for eight years more American league pitchers will be in danger of losing legs, arms, fingers, etc.

Heine Wagner denies the report that he is through as a player and says he will be back in there for the Red Sox as good as ever within a few weeks.

George Weaver, the White Sox shortstop, who made the world's tour with Comiskey and McGraw, is slightly off in his batting and his fielding has been below par. Otherwise the little outing had no effect on him.

Nap Lajdie, who is fast going back smashed out a liner earlier in the week and the hit all but drove Harry Covelesky's right elbow through his body.

The Cleveland players who were hopelessly crippled a week ago—Wood, Graney, Lelivelt, Liebold, James and Billings—are merrily playing right along without a trace of their terrible disabilities.

Politicians threatened to cut streets through Schuyler Britton's ball park in St. Louis the other day. "Go ahead," advised the Cardinal's owner "Then I can sell my land for building lots and make some money."

English cricketers it is said, could knock the stuffing out of a spit ball should they ever break in on the glorified rouser.

Kippert, the outfielder, whom the Reds sent to Montreal, is, according to Cincinnati papers, a sensational batsman, great base thief and a fine fielder. But still Heroz does not want this kind of player.

Football

The P. S. A. Football club will hold a general meeting in the basement of the Congregational church on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. All committeemen and players are requested to be present, as business of importance will be discussed.

Cockshutt Practice.

The Cockshutt United team will hold a practice on the grounds facing the Old Parkdale Hotel, Erie Avenue, Thursday, May 14th. This ground will be used for practice until further notice. A meeting of the committee will be held after practice.

Softball

The game scheduled for May 12 between the G. S. and M. and H. and N. softball teams and postponed because of rain, will likely be played tonight, weather permitting. All teams are ready for the opening clash forward to the G. S. and M. line-up will likely be as follows: Smoker s. s.; Page 1b; Burke 2b; Dowling c.; Appell l.f.; Graham 3b.; Hendershot r.f.; White c.f.; McQuinn p.; Clawsey, Betts, Stuart and Woodley, utility.

JACK JOHNSON

Champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, who is scheduled to defend his title on June 27 against Frank Moran of Pittsburgh in a twenty-round bout that will be staged in Paris. The French capital is about the only spot in the world where Johnson is now allowed to exhibit his skill and strength as a boxer.

Outfielder Twombly of the Orioles, who strained a ligament in his back while at bat Monday's game at the Island Stadium, will probably be out of the game for several days. Monday was his first appearance after a ten day lay off from the same cause.

CUBS TO "FIRE" O'DAY ACCORDING TO REPORT

One More Change in Chicago National League Management—Cobb and the Federals.

CHICAGO, May 13.—Hank O'Day's regime as pilot of the Chicago Cubs will end May 15, according to a report which gained wide circulation about the baseball Riato yesterday. The same story had it that Roger Bresnahan, once manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, would be elevated to the office. The threatened removal of O'Day is said to have followed a series of star chamber sessions attended by the Cub management.

'Ty' Cobb, with a salary of $17,000 a year from the Detroit Tigers, is reported to be flitting desperately with a prospective three-year contract with the Chicago Federals at $25,000 a year. Ervins' team mates of Cobb are authority for the story. Mr. Weeghman, President of the Chicago Federals, intimated that overtures might be made to the Georgian.

The Chicago Feds are adding another thousand seats to their grandstand on the strength of having outdrawn the White Sox and Cubs ever since the opening of the season.

DREAM MURDER IS RELATED TO JURY

Chicagoan, Fighting For Life, Bares Confession of His Faithless Wife.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 9.—William Marshall Keith's dream—the dream that caused a death—was told dramatically yesterday on the witness stand in court by the man whose thoughts, then tortured, held it and who now is using it as his weapon for a fight for life and liberty.

Keith's right hand flashed through a world of dreams and into the field of realism. His forefinger pulled a trigger and Walter Paul, butcher, went to his death—a penalty for an alleged wrong step.

William Keith's story was set off with things realistic—things that he said had wrung his heart and had stripped his life of all that he treasured. The only two things he wanted to talk about were his daughter Thelma and his romance. The romance and Thelma had been born in Alabama, when William and Rosebud Keith were young.

Recalls His Dream.

It was his wife's confession of unfaithfulness, the attended attempt of "Butch" Paul to attack Thelma, his pal since birth, that caused Keith to grow bitter. He said he could forget his wife's downfall and go through life with a broken heart, but when Thelma was threatened—why, there was nothing he would not do.

"I don't know what happened," Keith was saying. "I remember a dream. I saw myself sitting in the parlor of my little home. I was thinking of Thelma. I thought she was in the bedroom. Then I saw him in there. I saw him, I saw him."

Keith paused; his head dropped forward on his chest and he wept. "I saw him," the man went on, "and then—Oh, I don't know."

Keith paused; his head dropped forward on his chest and he wept. "I saw him," the man went on, "and then—Oh, I don't know."

There were strange men and one was lying on the floor. It was then that I realized it was not all a dream."

The daughter, Thelma, age 16, by her testimony, strengthened her father's "dream defence." She told of strange deeds committed by her father in an apparently somnambulistic state. She painted him as a man wandering with unseeing eyes along the shadowy border and that divides the known from the unknown.

She also told of the relations between the murdered man and her mother.

In response to the question by Attorney Geo. Popham, for the defense, she stated that she recently had been living with her grandfather in Alabama. During her recital Keith sat with his face buried in his hands.

"I first became acquainted with Paul," she began, "nine months before he was killed. He was a butcher's clerk. I met him when he came to our house."

"Do you know whether he was intimately acquainted with your mother?" asked Attorney Popham.

Miss Keith asserted the visits of the butcher's clerk to her mother had lasted from 15 minutes to half an hour.

John H. Keith and Charles Keith, father and brother respectively, of the defendant, related other acts which the accused committed while he was in a somnambulistic state.

Patten Justifies Slayer

Then court adjourned and they led him back to his cell.

James A. Patten, the wheat king, whose money is backing the trial of Keith, delivered himself quite calmly of the following today:

"Any man whose daughter has been attacked has a right to kill the perpetrator of the outrage. I hope Keith gets off. I want to see a man like that go free."

Police Pay Increased

Bristol police, who were recently given one day's work off at a cost of £5,000, were, at a meeting of the City Council some time ago, granted advance of pay estimated to cost £4,400.

Canadian League Notes

"Ye Gods."

"'Tis strange what a few short hours will bring about. The Brantford dailies yesterday were shouting from the house-tops of the great ability of their 1914 representatives, and the poor looking lot from Hamilton. Today the Athletics are alluded to as the likely looking club in the league, possessing everything that goes to make up a great team which every member of the Brants is charged with making some blunder or pulling a bonehead of some sort. 'Twas ever thus.—Hamilton Herald.

Who Is He?

The Brantford outfit from Deneau down, are bone-heads, according to the Herald's correspondent. If they win to-day they'll be heroes. Such a baseball life, oh, fickle fan.—Hamilton Herald.

Goos Back to Athletics

Buffalo, May 12.—Jimmy McAvoy, the former Rochester semi-pro, back stop, who was signed by the world's champion Philadelphia Athletics after only one season in league company, is to remain with the Mackmen, at least for a time. Last week announcement was made that he had been turned over to the Baltimore International League Club for more seasoning under the tuition of Ben Egan. However the deal could not be consummated, owing to Manager Geo. Stallings of the Boston National League team refusing to waive on the young catcher.

McAvoy, who has been home for a few days, has therefore been ordered to rejoin the Athletics. He trained with the Hustlers in Anniston a year ago, but after the club came north was given his unconditional release. He hooked up with the Berlin Club of the Canadian league and his work there attracted the attention of one of Connie Mack's scouts, with the result that a draft was put in for him.—Toronto News.

Somebody Pulled Bone.

Is it because Peterboro is recognized as one of the weak cities in the Canadian league, or is it merely a skip by the schedule makers?

That is the question that should interest the directors of the Hamilton baseball club, for it is the Hamilton club that suffers most by the fact that the Petes had a Sunday game in Erie after having reaped the benefit of the opening day crowd, and also that of the Saturday half holiday. There big gates like that drawn by Peterboro is sufficient to give that club a grand start financially and the attendance in each case was far larger than the sloumten could draw on their home lot.

The schedule called for the Petes' harvest though, and the question arises, Why did not the Hamilton club see to it that they were given a slice of the money? It does not seem at all fair that a club playing before a Saturday crowd should also be allowed to hold forth again on Sunday. Still such was the case. Again we ask, Is it because the Peterboro club is considered weak financially, or was it a slip by the schedule makers?

It might also be interesting to know why the Hamilton club, was content to spend the three days in Brantford last week, when considerable money could have been saved by bringing the

PREACHING "MIXED FARMING"

Everybody is advising the Western farmer to go in for "mixed farming"; but everybody might as well save his breath to cool the "wheat porridge"; he degenerates now consume. The Western farmer will go in for mixed farming exactly when he must. So long as he can make more money with less exertion by "tickling the prairie with a plough and seeing it laugh in a harvest," he will take this ticklish course—and let the future take care of itself. Only when nature issues her mandate, will he buckle down to the steady task of establishing real farms where now his wheat fields wave in the summer breeze.

We might as well expect a miner to stop digging gold and plant New Brunswick potatoes amidst the stones. The potato crop might possibly last for more years than the gold product; but the gold will pay higher dividends so long as it holds out. It is always possible, of course, that the farmer may not know what is most profitable. But if this be the case, we should turn the scientists loose on him, and not the profs who are very likely, however that, when we find a whole army of farmers pursuing the same course over an island empire, they are not planting homesteads for future generations—they are trying to wrench enough wealth out of the land to "escape the city." This may be bad policy in every sense, but the lure of the city is the most dominant force in the civilization of this continent.

The first emigrant special over the National Transcontinental Railway brought direct from Quebec to Huronian, a hundred and forty miles east of Cochrane, two hundred and twenty settlers and their effects.

Cleveland Hit Ball Hard.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—Cleveland knocked Bush off the rubber in the fifth inning and also hit Pen-nock's delivery hard and won here by 12 to 4. Jackson led in the slugging with three singles and a double in five times at bat.

Boston Blanked St. Louis.

BOSTON, May 13.—Boston shut out St. Louis 7 to 0 in the opening game of the series. Foster held the visitors to three scattered hits. It was "Leary Day," and several hundred friends of the young St. Louis first baseman came with a brass band from Waltham, where Leary played on a High school team and presented him with a diamond ring.

Co. Leskie Good.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Harry Covalski, known since 1908 as the "Gaint-killer" for his series of successes over the New York Nationals in that year, revisited the Polo grounds in a Detroit uniform, and shut out the New York Americans by a score of 4 to 0. Covalski yielded only four hits, and only one New Yorker reached third base. Detroit won the game in the first innings, when they hit Schultz hard and scored three runs. Bush played a spectacular game at short for Detroit, besides making three hits. A delegation from Harrison, N. J., attended the game in honor of Second Baseman Kavanagh of Detroit, whose home is in Harrison. Mayor Jos. R. Jordan of that city, presented the player with a gold watch, when he went to bat in the first innings. Kavanagh responded with a single.

Washington Beat Chicago.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Washington won the first game of the series with Chicago today, 3 to 2, by a ninth-innings rally. In the locals' half of the last innings, Shanks started with a single, stole second, and scored on Morgan's single. Johnson was hit rather freely in the early innings, but tightened up towards the close. Milan hit a home run, a two bagger and two singles in four times at bat.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

10 Inning Tie.

PITTSBURG, May 13.—Pittsburg and Boston went ten innings to a 1 to 1 tie, Umpire Klem calling the game on account of darkness at the end of the tenth inning. Rudolph and Cooper pitched excellent ball, and each pitcher scored his team's only run. Cooper's single in the sixth was Pittsburg's first hit off Rudolph. He too scored on an out, and scored on Carey's triple. Dudolph singled in the sixth, advanced on Evers' sacrifice, took third on an out, and scored on Dungey's infield hit. Wagner's hand was badly spiked when Mann was retired at second trying to stretch a single in the tenth. He may not play in the New York series.

Doing Great Work

Irvin Trout has been going like a big leaguer with the Toronto Beavers. In the two games in which he has played he has had three doubles. Thursday he started with a sensational running catch of a foul fly, and Saturday he started the rally that defeated the Tecumsehs.—Peterboro Review.

One Did—Other Didn't.

The two docs. Reising and Yates, took a turn at flinging on Saturday. Yates scored a win over Brantford, while Lee's Beavers made Reising forget he ever pitched for Washington and another big league organization.

The Petes' road trip, or at least the first series, proved rather disastrous. Off to a great start in the opener, the team seem to have fallen a shade below their true form and hit St. Thomas with a record of one win and three losses, or a percentage of .250. The team should do better from now on, as it was hardly ready for the flag, owing to the wretched weather encountered in spring training.—Peterboro Review.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright 1913 by W. G. Chapman.

"But madame has retired," said the maid in answer to Rokoff's request to speak with her.

"This is a very urgent message for the countess' ears alone," replied Rokoff. "Tell her that she must arise and slip something about her and come to the telephone. I shall call up again in five minutes." Then he hung up his receiver. A moment later Paulvitch entered.

"The count has the message?" asked Rokoff.

"He should be on his way to his home by now," replied Paulvitch.

"Good! My lady will be sitting in her boudoir, very much in negligee, about now. In a minute the faithful Jacques will escort M. Tarzan into her presence without announcing him. The count will break in upon a very pretty scene in about fifteen minutes from now. I think we have planned marvelously, my dear Alexis. Let us go out and drink to the very good health of M. Tarzan in some of old Plancois's unparalleled absinth, not forgetting that the Count de Coude is one of the best swordsmen in Paris and by far the best shot in all France."

When Tarzan reached Olga's Jacques was awaiting him at the entrance.

"This way, monsieur," he said and led the way up the broad marble staircase. In another moment he had opened a door and, drawing aside a heavy curtain, obsequiously bowed Tarzan into a dimly lighted apartment. Then Jacques vanished.

Across the room from him Tarzan saw Olga seated before a little desk on which stood her telephone. She was tapping impatiently upon the polished surface of the desk. She had not heard him enter.

"Olga," he said, "what is wrong?" She turned toward him with a little cry of alarm.

"Jean!" she cried. "What are you doing here? Who admitted you? What does it mean?"

Tarzan was thunderstruck, but in an instant he realized a part of the truth. "Then you did not send for me, Olga?"

"Send for you at this time of night? Jean, do you think that I am quite mad?"

"Francis telephoned me to come at once; that you were in trouble and wanted me."

"Francis? Who in the world is Francis?"

"He said that he was in your service. He spoke as though I should recall the fact."

"There is no one by that name in my employ. Some one has played a joke upon you, Jean," and Olga laughed.

"I fear that it may be a most sinister joke," Olga, he replied. "There is more back of it than humor."

"What do you mean? You do not think that?"

"Where is the count?" he interrupted.

"At the German ambassador's."

"This is another move by your estimable brother. Tomorrow the count will hear of it. He will question the servants. Everything will point to what Rokoff wishes the count to think."

"The scoundrel!" cried Olga. She had arisen and come close to Tarzan, where she stood looking up into his face. She was very frightened. In her eyes was an expression that the hunter sees in those of a poor, terrified doe—puzzled, questioning. Her look, her attitude, her words were eloquent of the age old appeal of defenseless woman to her natural protector—man. Tarzan took one of the warm little hands in his own strong one. The act was quite involuntary and almost equally so was the instinct of protection that threw a sheltering arm around the girl's shoulders.

The result was electrical. Never before had he been so close to her. In startled guilt they looked suddenly into each other's eyes and where Olga de Coude should have been strong she was weak, for she crept closer into the man's arms and clasped her own about his neck. And Tarzan of the Apes? He took her into his mighty arms and covered her lips with kisses.

Raoul de Coude made hurried excuses to his host after he had read the note handed him by the ambassador's butler. Never afterward could he recall the nature of the excuses he made. Everything was quite a blur to him up to the time that he stood on the threshold of his own home. Then he became very cool, moving quietly and with caution. For some inexplicable reason Jacques had the door open before he was halfway to the steps. It did not strike him at the time as being unusual, though afterward he remarked it.

Very softly he tiptoed up the stairs and along the gallery to the door of his wife's boudoir. In his hand was a heavy walking stick—in his heart murder.

Olga was the first to see him. With a horrified shriek she tore herself from Tarzan's arms and the ape-man turned just in time to ward with his arm a terrible blow that De Coude had aimed at his head. Once, twice, three times the heavy stick fell with lightning rapidity and each blow aided in the transition of the ape-man back to the primordial.

With the low, guttural snarl of the bull ape he sprang for the Frenchman. The great stick was torn from his grasp and broken in two as though it had been matchwood, to be flung aside as the now infuriated beast charged for his adversary's throat.

Olga de Coude stood a horrified spectator to the terrible scene which ensued during the next brief moment, then she sprang to where Tarzan was murdering her husband—chokeing the life from him—shaking him as a terrier might shake a rat.

Practically she tore at his great hands. "Mother of God!" she cried. "You are killing him, you are killing him! Oh, Jean, you are killing my husband!"

Tarzan was deaf with rage. Suddenly he hurled the body to the floor, and, placing his foot upon the upturned breast, raised his head. Then through the palace of the Count de Coude rang the awesome challenge of the bull ape that has made a kill. From cellar to attic the horrid sound searched out the servants and left them blanched and trembling. The woman in the room expecting to see the maniacal light of murder in the eyes above her. Instead she saw horror and contrition.

"Oh, Jean!" she cried. "See what you have done. He was my husband, I loved him, and you have killed him."

Very gently Tarzan raised the limp form of the Count de Coude and bore it to a couch. Then he put his ear to the man's breast.

"Some brandy, Olga," he said. She brought it, and together they forced it between his lips. Presently a faint gasp came from the white lips. The head turned, and De Coude groaned.

"He will not die," said Tarzan. "Thank God!"

"Why did you do it, Jean?" she asked.

"I do not know. He struck me, and I went mad. I have seen the apes of my tribe do the same thing. I have never told you my story, Olga. It would have been better had you known it—this might not have happened. I never saw my father. The only mother I ever knew was a ferocious she ape. Until I was fifteen I had never seen a human being. I was twenty before I saw a white man. A little more than a year ago I was a naked beast of prey in an African jungle. Do not judge me too harshly. Two years is too short a time in which to attempt to work the change in an individual that it has taken countless ages to accomplish in the white race."

"I do not judge you at all, Jean. The fault is mine. You must go now, say must not find you here when he regains consciousness. Goodby."

It was a sorrowful Tarzan who walked with bowed head from the palace of the Count de Coude.

Once outside his thoughts took definite shape, to the end that twenty minutes later he entered a police station not far from the Rue Mailla. Here he found one of the officers with whom he had had an encounter several weeks previous. The policeman was genuinely glad to see again the man who had so roughly handled him. After a moment of conversation Tarzan asked if he had ever heard of Nicolas Rokoff or Alexis Paulvitch.

"Very often indeed, monsieur. Each has a police record, and while there is nothing charged against them now we make it a point to know pretty well where they may be found should the occasion demand. It is only the same precaution that we taken with every known criminal. Why does monsieur ask?"

"They are known to me," replied Tarzan. "I wish to see M. Rokoff on a little matter of business. If you can direct me to his lodgings I shall appreciate it."

A few minutes later he bade the policeman adieu and, with a slip of paper in his pocket bearing a certain address in a semi-respectable quarter, he walked briskly toward the nearest taxi stand.

Rokoff and Paulvitch had returned to their rooms and were sitting talking over the probable outcome of the evening's events. They had telephoned to the offices of two of the morning papers, from which they momentarily expected representatives to hear the first report of the scandal that was to stir social Paris on the morrow.

"Why did you do it, Jean?" she asked.

"I do not know. He struck me, and I went mad. I have seen the apes of my tribe do the same thing. I have never told you my story, Olga. It would have been better had you known it—this might not have happened. I never saw my father. The only mother I ever knew was a ferocious she ape. Until I was fifteen I had never seen a human being. I was twenty before I saw a white man. A little more than a year ago I was a naked beast of prey in an African jungle. Do not judge me too harshly. Two years is too short a time in which to attempt to work the change in an individual that it has taken countless ages to accomplish in the white race."

"I do not judge you at all, Jean. The fault is mine. You must go now, say must not find you here when he regains consciousness. Goodby."

It was a sorrowful Tarzan who walked with bowed head from the palace of the Count de Coude.

Once outside his thoughts took definite shape, to the end that twenty minutes later he entered a police station not far from the Rue Mailla. Here he found one of the officers with whom he had had an encounter several weeks previous. The policeman was genuinely glad to see again the man who had so roughly handled him. After a moment of conversation Tarzan asked if he had ever heard of Nicolas Rokoff or Alexis Paulvitch.

"Very often indeed, monsieur. Each has a police record, and while there is nothing charged against them now we make it a point to know pretty well where they may be found should the occasion demand. It is only the same precaution that we taken with every known criminal. Why does monsieur ask?"

"They are known to me," replied Tarzan. "I wish to see M. Rokoff on a little matter of business. If you can direct me to his lodgings I shall appreciate it."

A few minutes later he bade the policeman adieu and, with a slip of paper in his pocket bearing a certain address in a semi-respectable quarter, he walked briskly toward the nearest taxi stand.

Rokoff and Paulvitch had returned to their rooms and were sitting talking over the probable outcome of the evening's events. They had telephoned to the offices of two of the morning papers, from which they momentarily expected representatives to hear the first report of the scandal that was to stir social Paris on the morrow.

Fears are felt in Chatham of a flood, the Thames river having risen more than three feet since Monday with the still continuing rains.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back Its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Agent, T. George Bowles.

THE COURIER EMBROIDREY PATTERNS

DIRECTIONS FOR TRANSFERRING

Lay a piece of impression paper, face down, upon the material. Place the newspaper pattern in position over this, and with a hard, sharp pencil firmly trace each line. If the material is sheer, this may be laid over the pattern, and the design drawn direct on the goods, as it will show through. When handled in this way, impression paper, of course, will not be required.

HALF OF EMBROIDERED CANDLE SHADE.

These shades are very effective when finished and mounted over colored foundations. The flowers and leaves are solidly worked, with the dots as eyelets and the stems in the outline stitch. Mercerized cotton No. 25 should be used. The shade is finished by narrow Irish lace sewed at the top and bottom.

END FOR HAND TOWEL.

The scallops should be padded and closely buttonholed. The flowers and leaves are worked solid with the dots as eyelets and the stems in the outline stitch. Use mercerized cotton No. 20.
