STEAMSHIP APPAM, WHICH WAS THOUGHT LOST, SAILED THIS MORNING INTO VIRGINIAN PORT FLYING THE GERMAN FLAG

Captured by Submarine Off African Coast, Submarine's Crew Must Have Boarded Her, Abandoning the Undersea Boat and Sailed For America—Said There are German Soldiers on Board Captured in South Africa.

INTERESTING LEGAL POINTS

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 1.—The British steamship Appam flying a German flag (sashed quarantine) off Old Point at 6.30 this morning.

PRISONERS ON BOARD

Washington, Feb. 1.—Customs Collector Hamilton at Norfolk reported to the Treasury that the German prize steamer Appam, which came into Hampton Roads this morning has prisoners of war aboard. His report was referred at once to the State Department which will determine the status of the vessel.

Newport News, Va., Feb. 1.—The British steamer Appam, which was given up for lost, was brought into Hampton Roads this morning flying the German flag, with a German prize crew of twenty-two men commanded by Lieut. Berg. She was captured at sea on January 13, four days after she left Dakar, British West Africa.

OVER 400 ON BOARD.

The Appam brought her original passengers and 138 persons said to have been taken from other vessels by the Germans. Four injured passengers on board are said to have been taken from an English ship from Australia. About 425 persons, including passengers and crew are aboard the ship.

While Lieut. Berg came ashore to pay his respects to Col. Haynes, commander at Fortress Monroe, quarantine officers boarded the ship. Meanwhile no one was permitted to come ashore.

PRIZE CREW IN CHARGE.

Newport News, Va., Feb. 1.—The British steamer Appam, which was given up for lost, was brought into Hampton Roads this morning flying the German flag. It is said that a prize crew from a German submarine is in charge. The Appam's name is painted on the liner herself, but is plainly visible on the small boats carried on her decks.

There are 34 large number of passenger on board including many women. The ship is now at the quarantine station and the quarantine officer is on board. Until he has completed his investigation, no one is allowed to visit the boat. Small boats were not allowed to stop alongside.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 1.—It is said from Old Point that there seem to be about one hundred women and children on the Appam, which has not yet been boarded. The vessel is reported about to leave for Newport News.

The Appam sailed from Dakar in January 17, bound for Plymouth, England. She carries 168 passengers and a crew of 138. High colonial officials of the British Government are said to be aboard.

SAILED JANUARY 11.

The Appam sailed from Dakar in the French colony of Senegal, West Africa for Plymouth, England on January 11; when about four days' travel, she was contacted with the vessel suddenly ceased, and as the days passed without further word of her she was virtually given up for lost.

THOUGHT LOST.

A despatch from Hull, England, to London Lloyd's on January 28, said that the British steamer Regentia had reported having passed at sea on January 16, at a distance with the name Appam painted on the stern and with the bows knocked away. It was feared she had gone down in a severe storm which occurred in the waters through which she was passing, or possibly had encountered a German submarine operating off the African coast. The Appam, under ordinary conditions would have reached Plymouth on January 21. The Appam sailed with 166 passengers and with a crew of 138.

BRITISH COLONIAL OFFICERS.

New York, Feb. 1.—The Appam sailed with 166 passengers and with a crew of 138. Among the passengers were British Colonial officers. After leaving Dakar, she called at all ports on the west coast of Africa, picking up officials who intended to return to England on furlough. These men

Young Girl Murdered in City of Cleveland

Is Believed to Have Been Former Resident of This City—Detective Chapman is Now Making an Investigation.

The Cleveland police have reason to believe that a girl strangled to death in that city is a native of Brantford and in this regard the Chief of Police of that city has sent the following to Chief Constable of this city:

Cleveland, Jan. 30, 1916

Chief Constable,
Brantford:
Dear Sir,—An enclosing herewith a copy of an anonymous letter received by this department regarding a girl named Dolores Evans, who was strangled to death in a room in the Perry Hotel this city, night of the 15th instant, by an Italian named Lewis Bianchetti, now in our custody. Cleveland, Ohio and says the victim is Bernice Harris of your city. While we usually do not pay any attention to missives of this kind, I would appreciate any effort you may make to verify the source of information, as the dead girl has not been positively identified as yet in spite of our efforts and the fact that her body was viewed by thousands of people while in the morgue. Photo of the Evans girl is herewith enclosed.

Respectfully yours,
W. S. Rowe,
Chief of Police.

The Anonymous Letter,
Cleveland, Jan. 25.

Chief Rowe:
I am positive you will find relatives of Bernice Harris in Cleveland and as they have not identified the body at the morgue, as a result I feel it's my duty to add that the girl is not Dolores Evans, but Bernice Harris of Brantford, Ontario.

INVESTIGATION PROCEEDING.

The photograph is that of a good-looking girl whom the local police remember to have seen on Brantford streets. Detective Chapman now has the matter in hand and is making an investigation. The police Department will be pleased to receive any information which will lead to identification.

LIFE OF THE "MAD FOURTH" IN BILLETS

Colonel Leonard Receives a Letter From Corporal Walter.

Colonel Leonard has received the following letter from Corporal Charles Walters of the "Mad Fourth":

Through a billet at the time of writing, the men were not allowed much time off being kept busy drilling every day. I acknowledge with thanks receipt of Christmas cards from Col. Leonard and Mayor Spence.

On Christmas day we were in trenches only 30 yards from the German front line.

Somewhere in France, 14-1-16. I have at last made up my mind to send a letter home. Seems to me it is the one duty we are backward at, for none of us are particularly partial to it. Well I must inform you that I am fairly well. We are having what I call a three weeks rest. I doubt whether you'd call it the same. Physical drill a.m. and route marching after dinner, etc., etc. "Well we're soldiers." We have been doing five days in and same out of the trenches. Have been very lucky; little or no casualties, but very wet and not particularly warm. We are holding one of the most important positions on the British front. We are course I dare not say where. We are still keeping up the good reputation of the brigade. No doubt you've heard about W. Dawson, your old S.M., being injured wounded, and sent away at the hospital on furlough, so cannot give you particulars; but there's one thing certain—with the red cross system, little or no casualties, and if they don't pull him through, Dear Major, the old Brantford boys of the 4th have seen so many different sights from time to time, it has rendered us quite callous, but if you would speak anything, but lightly of it, the rest of the boys are fine. Corpl. Carr, Rhodes, ex-Sergt. Brooks, Macdonald, etc., etc. and all send their obedience to you, and the season's compliments. Thanks very much for the Christmas cards and good wishes, received them in advance trenches, also one from Mayor Spence. 'Twas quite cheerful on Christmas day; we had quite a talk with our opponents, but nothing further, being only 30 yards distant in places.

Berlin, via London, Feb. 1.—A despatch from Constantinople to The Berliner Zeitung says that Henry Morgenthau, American Ambassador to Turkey, will leave Constantinople to-morrow on a vacation trip to the United States, and that he may pass through Germany on his way home. The correspondent adds that there is active discussion regarding Mr. Morgenthau's departure at the present time, especially as the business which devolves on the American embassy in Constantinople has increased enormously owing to the necessity of caring for the interests of the countries at war with Turkey.

AMERICAN NOTE NOT LIKED BY BERLIN PAPERS

BRITAIN RESPONSIBLE FOR LOST VESSELS

Another Paper Frankly Does Not Believe in U.S. Neutrality.

by Special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, Feb. 1.—Via London.—The Tageliche Rundschau, commenting on Secretary Lansing's note to the powers regarding submarine warfare and the armng of merchantmen, indulges in a sarcastic attack on President Wilson and Mr. Lansing and expresses its disbelief that the note is intended to be taken seriously and much less that it will accomplish any good. It expresses a faint hope, however, that the publication in America of communications to London and Berlin will, on their being compared, fail to weaken the growing sentiment in the Congress of the United States against the English tendencies of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing.

The Rundschau says it does not believe that Americans will ever be warned not to travel on armed steamers and it declares it is of the opinion that British and French vessels, even though armed, will always be allowed to enter American ports. It charges Mr. Lansing with carefully avoiding all the logical consequences of the "talking back in the last paragraph what he enunciated in the first."

"It adds finally that Great Britain or the Entente must be made legally responsible for what ever losses are incurred by the destruction of merchant vessels."

The Grizuz Zeitung, publishes a lengthy editorial on the note in which it states that it does not believe in America's neutrality. "Words, nothing but words, ring across the ocean to us," says the newspaper. It charges the note as a subtlety to agitate which conceals how greatly Anglophobe America fears the strenuous application of our weapon."

The Boersen Zeitung expresses the conviction that if America really carries out its proposals, the advantages that will thereby accrue to Germany will outweigh the disadvantages which will carry out its own proposals.

The New York World says the U. S. has given Germany till Feb. 3 to disavow the attack on the Lusitania.

The United States has asked Austria if any of its submarine commanders have knowledge of the destruction of the liner Persia.

Amazing Story of How Four Eminent German Savants Who Attended the Scientific Congress in Australia Just After the War Started Had Planned and Worked For Years to Obtain Military Information For Germany.

"GEOLOGY" IN ISLE OF WIGHT

by Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, Feb. 1.—A special to the Herald says:

Melbourne, Jan. 5.—That four German savants who attended the Congress of the British Association for the advancement of science, held in Australia in August and September 1914, mocked the hospitality lavished upon them, as upon other guests of the association by Australians—in plain words, turned themselves into spies—has just been revealed by the "Age" of this city.

These German professors were Dr. Albert Penck, Eugene Goldstein, Grebner and Pringsheim. The "Age" says:

"These learned gentlemen still lingered in the Commonwealth when war was declared. They immediately approached the federal government for permission to return to Germany, representing that they were international scientists and therefore neutral, and that, although by accident of birth, German citizens, they belonged to the whole world and ought not to be detained. The Commonwealth government assented to this proposition, and merely required them to take the oath of a neutrality. Dr. Goldstein and Penck promptly took the oath. The former went to Java and the latter took ship to England. EXAMINED THEIR LETTERS

"Drs. Grebner and Pringsheim were more dilatory than their confederates and they raised certain objections. At length, however, they took the oath, but suspicion fell on them and their correspondence was intercepted and examined before they sailed. This correspondence proved that they were spies and they were immediately arrested and interned. Dr. Goldstein got away, but not so Dr. Penck.

MAPS DISCOVERED

"The last named professor's baggage was overhauled during his journey Europe under cable instructions, and when it was examined contained even more complete information concerning Australia's military preparations and intentions than the correspondence of Grebner and Pringsheim, and it contained, in addition, the most excellent contour

Air Raiders Seem to Have Sought Out Manchester

Questions of International Law Likely to Arise Over Status of Steamship Appam—What the Hague Rules.

by Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Feb. 1.—One of the most stirring marine happenings of the war developed today with the arrival of the missing British steamer Appam at Newport News with a German prize crew on board. She had been captured off the Canary Islands by a German submarine while on her way from Dakar, Africa, for Plymouth, England, the captors being effected on January 13, four days after the Appam left Dakar.

The Appam left port with 168 passengers, a crew of 134, and a number of German prisoners taken in the African military operations. These prisoners are said to have been 29 in number. The prize crew on the Appam also brought into Newport News 138 persons said to have been taken by the Germans from other vessels. Many of the original passengers of the Appam, which days ago was given up for lost, are believed to be high colonial officials of the British Government.

The status of the Appam, from the viewpoint of international law, has yet to be determined.

Last night's Zeppelin raid on England, apparently was not directed at Brantford, the brief comment that has come through concerning it, indicating that the course of the raiders was more to the north, possibly taking in the great manufacturing center of Manchester and apparently being intended to seek out and damage or destroy munitions factories. No details of the damage done has been received.

WHAT STATUS HAS APPAM?

Washington, Feb. 2.—Perplexing questions of international law may arise from the arrival of the Appam in Hampton Roads. First, the United States must determine whether the ship simply is a prize of war, or whether she has been supplied with any armament which would give her

"I was always tired and nervous and very sensitive and there were hollows under my eyes.

J.J. McCaffery Stabbed by Drunken Man.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—James J. McCaffery, president of the Toronto Baseball Club and proprietor of the Bay Tree Hotel, was stabbed in the right arm last night while ejecting an intoxicated man from his hotel. A doctor was promptly summoned and the wound dressed. While the injury was not considered serious it is of a painful nature.

A man who gives his name as William Delaney, and who claims that he has no permanent place of abode in the city, was arrested at short time after the stabbing by Policeman Smith and is now held in Court St. station charged with wounding Mr. McCaffery. The prisoner was under the influence of liquor when taken into custody, but strenuously maintains his innocence. He says he was born in England and is about 45 years of age. About 9:45 o'clock last night Mr. McCaffery says Delaney entered his hotel noticeably under the influence of liquor, and declared that he tended to make a tour of inspection of the rooms. Mr. McCaffery attempted to dissuade him, but Delaney became disorderly, and then Mr. McCaffery found it necessary to put him out. As he was forcing Delaney through the revolving doors, it is alleged Delaney drew a jack-knife from his pocket and inflicted a deep wound in Mr. McCaffery's right arm.

Once out of the hotel, Delaney made his way north on Bay Street. Mr. M. King, of 32 Church Street, who witnessed the stabbing, followed Delaney, and at the corner of Telephone Street saw Constable Smith. He at once called the officer, and Delaney was placed under arrest. The hotel where Mr. McCaffery and Mr. King identified him. He will appear in the police court this morning.

by Drunken Man.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—James J. McCaffery, president of the Toronto Baseball Club and proprietor of the Bay Tree Hotel, was stabbed in the right arm last night while ejecting an intoxicated man from his hotel.

A man who gives his name as William Delaney, and who claims that he has no permanent place on the city, was arrested a short time after the stabbing by Policeman Smith and is now held in Court St. station charged with wounding Mr. McCaffery.

It is stated that Chancellor McKenna has decided on a war tax on theatres, music halls, cinemas, and all entertainments. A tax on railway tickets is also under consideration.

The London Mail's neutral correspondent says that he disguised himself as a workman and actually got on the payroll at Krupp's. He was promptly "sacked" for inefficiency.

The Frankfurter Zeitung says Germany will make no further concessions to the United States over the Lusitania.

The Situation.

There can be little question that the Zeppelin raid over England last night resulted in far more damage than is given out in the brief official announcement.

The British steamship Appam is safe after all. She has arrived at a U. S. port flying the German flag, and those aboard her have come back as if from the grave.

It is officially announced by Russia that the operations against the Turks in the Caucasus have proved entirely successful, and that the troops of the Czar can now descend from the present rigors of a mountainous region into much more comfortable territory.

To Promote Canadian Trade With the Allies. The Canadian Manufacturers Association has formed an organization in England under the title of "The Export Association of Canada."

Canada has been well advertised for a decade and a half as the granary of the Empire. It was practically unknown to the world at large that she had, during the same period, developed manufacturing industries, many of these of the first importance.

In the opinion of Mr. Armstrong, the United States and Germany will, after the war, engage in a fierce struggle for the markets of South America, and Great Britain may find it profitable to sell out part of her South American securities and transfer the capital so realized to aid in the development of Russia's resources.

possible is being done in this direction under the present conditions of stress, the working out of the problem in the future will require the most careful consideration and co-operation between the Mother Country and the Dominions.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The honorary mayor of Clervaux has been sentenced by the German authorities to three years' imprisonment for circulating a pamphlet, "Martyred Belgium."

Toronto has established a new record of the enlistment of 328 in one day. In the giving of men and money in this war the Queen City has certainly done a good deal to mitigate its well-known soubriquet of "Hogtown."

Pardoe, chief Liberal whip, in the Dominion House yesterday, urged men of all political faiths to rise above partisanship in the present Empire struggle.

INDIANS' DEPENDENTS TAKEN CARE OF BY PATRIOTIC FUNDS

The following letter from Mr. H. T. Watt, Secretary-Treasurer of the Brantford Branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, explains how the Fund regards the dependents of Indians on active service.

"With regard to the matter of the Indians on the Reserve in Tuscarora Township, who are enlisting in the Haldimand Regiment at Dunnville—As announced through the papers, a few days ago, the County Council passed a Resolution to the effect that for the reasons as embodied in the Resolution they could not see their way clear to render financial assistance to the wives and families of these volunteers.

"As they are enlisting at Dunnville it will likely be more expedient that they would apply at that Branch for assistance, but any applications which may come through our Branch here, as well as Dunnville, will be promptly and gladly cared for."

He was silent before the people and silent before God. He held his peace because he felt all his sufferings were just, as he was man's substitute. He held his peace because of His own love. Holland as Neutral Watches U. S. Protest.
Seizure of Mails Affects Dutch as Well as Americans.

The Hague, via London, Feb. 1.—The protest of the American government to Great Britain regarding the seizure of mails is noted here attentively as it is interesting to Holland, another neutral power affected by the same conditions. The tone of the protest evokes a favorable comment but it is doubted whether it will be effective soon, since the note accorded to the statement of Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, must be communicated to Great Britain's allies before a reply can be sent. This necessarily will take some time. It is the understanding here that the mails of the Dutch steamers Noorderijk and Nieuw Amsterdam will be received here in their entirety, although how much, if any, will be missing is not ascertainable.

The speech of Sir Edward Grey concerning the blockade, wherein he acknowledges the rights of neutrals, finds warm appreciation here. The general feeling here is one of regret that the necessities of the war override the postal conventions, but it is argued that if Germany had control of the seas, she would not have acted any differently than Great Britain.

South America For Germany if She Wins.
Monroe Doctrine Would Not Stop the Hun.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Feb. 1.—The Morning Post, commenting today on the question asked by President Wilson in his speech at Cleveland, "but when the world is on fire, how much time do you want to take to be ready?" says: "It appears that America has let eighteen months pass. We in this country have lost more time than that, and the price we are paying is exceedingly high. If Germany conquered Europe she would in due time proceed to swallow South America without the slightest respect for the Monroe or other doctrines.

"But we quite understand that these abstract considerations do not necessarily affect the business of diplomacy. If the United States considers the regulations laid down by the British conflict with the law of nations as interpreted by the President Wilson, there is no doubt that the United States will duly explain its views to this country. But war is a neutral and least of all, the United States, can expect a belligerent to part with belligerent rights in suit a neutral's mere commercial convenience.

OBITUARY

Death of Dr. Harry Frank—His Notable Medical Career.

The Courier regrets to record the death of Dr. Harry Frank, who fell asleep last evening. He suffered an attack of erysipelas, following a fall on the icy road as he was getting out of a buggy to visit a patient, and towards the end pneumonia also set in. The doctor, who was in his 44th year, was born in Snowdon, Townshipp, but the family removed here when he was a child, and he had ever since resided in this city. He was a son of the late William Frank, for many years City Tax Collector, and brother of Mrs. Oscar Bixel and Mr. Fred Frank of this city. Another brother, Charles, resided in Washington Territory. The deceased had a very brilliant career at Trinity College and passed all his medical examinations at so early an age that he had to wait six months before the Medical Council could grant him his certificate.

He first of all acted as assistant to Dr. Langrill, Medical Superintendent of the Six Nations Indians, and twenty-two years ago commenced practice in the city on his own account. He met with immediate and well-deserved success. His great cogitation over the entire Province, and when still a young man he was made one of their examiners by the Ontario Medical Council and examined in Obstetrics by his Alma Mater.

He was identified with many orders. A member of Brant Lodge, A. F. and A. M. Court, Physician for Court Brant, C.O.F., Court Physician for the Knights of Pythias, and so on. In addition he was doctor for the Public School Board and Director for Railway Corporations and Medical Adviser in other directions.

He had been a member and chairman of the Public School Board and was one of the main workers in the establishment of the Brant Sanatorium. Throughout his life, in fact, he took an active interest in the affairs of Brantford and the welfare of this community.

In politics he was an ardent Conservative and had been Secretary and finally President of the local association. He was a member of St. Jude's Church and the affairs of that congregation he always received his ardent support.

In addition to his exceptional skill as a physician, he had a most affable manner in his sick room, as indeed he did on all occasions, and he possessed in a marked degree "personality," defunctive thing universally popular. His passing will leave not alone a blank in the medical ranks of this city, but also in those of the community.

To the bereaved widow and two children, Mary and Jack, the sympathy of all classes will be extended.

Entertaining Lecture at the Congregational.
Rev. J. W. Pedley on "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

Rev. James W. Pedley of Toronto, delivered his famous lecture on "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" on Monday evening, at the Congregational Church. The lecture was a most successful one, and the church was crowded by an enthusiastic audience. The pastor of the church, the Rev. M. Kelly, presided. The programme of the evening was opened by a few remarks of the chairman, the Rev. Mr. Wiggs, followed by a violin duet by Misses Sanderson and Brooks, which was much appreciated. Mr. Pedley was then introduced. The main idea of the lecture was a wholesome philosophy of life adequate to carry one through a world full of trouble. There were at least three ways of facing the difficulties of life: (1) The stoical, (2) the militant, (3) the way of Mrs. Wiggs. Mrs. Wiggs was a poor woman who had everything to make her down-hearted—a drunken husband—five little children dependent upon her, with no domestic help. She was a philosopher in the community who she was having to look upon the bright side of things. These characteristics were amply illustrated by the lecturer in his most humorous vein, who also kept the audience convulsed with laughter. But while the merriment ran high at times during the lecture there was also a deeper note struck and there was no one present who did not go away happier and wiser and better for having been present.

formed a considerable portion of her passenger list.

Among the passengers who were booked to sail on the Appam were Sir Edward and Lady Merewether and their suite; Frederick Seton James, former acting colonial secretary and closely identified with colonial administrative affairs in Africa; Francis Charles Fuller, who was appointed chief commissioner of Ashanti in 1905, and Mrs. Fuller.

The Appam is 425 feet long, 57 feet beam, of 7,781 tons gross. She was built in 1913 at Belfast, Ireland, and is owned by the British and African Steam Navigation Company, which is under engagement of the Elder-Dempster Line.

GERMAN PRISONERS
New York, Feb. 1.—A special despatch received in New York from Liverpool last night gave the number of German prisoners on board the Appam as 22. A statement issued by the Elder-Dempster Company at Liverpool said the prisoners had been taken on board the steamship at three West African ports.

I know nothing at all of Dr. Penick and Dr. Golstein (Mr Pearce and the ministry of which he is a member did not take office until October, 1914), but the accusations against the two doctors are perfectly correct."

Approx of all this now, it is known that Otto Johannsen, who until the war began was the German consul at Newcastle Australia's great coal port, was instrumental in filling the bunkers of the Scharnhorst and Gneisenauers with Australian coal, which he man-coal and provisions to carry her to the nearest home port.

WILL BE INTERNED
In any event officials here regard it as a foregone conclusion that the Appam will remain in Hampton Roads until the end of the war. British cruisers, patrolling the Atlantic lanes of commerce probably already advised of the arrival of the Appam, to guard the entrance outside the three mile limit. As a merchant ship she could remain voluntarily in port and the only question for the United States to determine would be the position of the German prize crew and the prisoners of war which the ship carried.

The probabilities are that if the Appam still has the character of a merchantman, and the prize crew does not elect to take the risk of running the gauntlet of British cruisers outside of the three mile limit, the customs collector will take charge of the vessel and after probably interned her prize crew, would return the ship to her owners.

ZEPPELINS RAIDED ENGLAND; MIDLAND COUNTIES VISITED

Over Half a Dozen Took Part in Venture Last Night and Dropped Number of Bombs—Raids Expected Now and Britain is Ready for Them.

London, Feb. 1.—A raid by six or seven Zeppelin airships took place last night over the eastern, north-eastern and Midland counties of England, according to an announcement of the War Office.

A number of bombs were dropped, but up to the present considerable damage has been reported. A resumption of the Zeppelin raids on London and the east coast of England was expected by the British authorities, and on January 26, a special warning was sent out by the police, which, after referring to the increase in the offensive protection against hostile aircraft recently provided in the metropolitan district, advised the public on the occasion of air raids to take cover.

The latest raids on England by German aircraft occurred on January 23 and 24, when hostile aeroplanes dropped bombs along the east coast. Kent, Milling on, and a few persons, and an aeroplane attacked the station, barracks and docks at Dover. Only the defence of London from air attacks has been placed in the hands of the war office; previously the Admiralty had charge of this matter. Both these departments, however, have been co-operating harmoniously.

Prior to January 3, there was an interval of several months' duration when England was exempt from air raids. From June 15 to October 15, there were six Zeppelin raids on London and the east coast of England, in which 121 persons were reported killed and 313 injured.

NOT SATISFIED
Discussing the possibility of serious damage to London from a Zeppelin attack, the Times says:

"Any raid intended to do serious damage to London, the defences of which are still in process of development, is not likely to be of the hazardous nature of the Paris raids. It remains for us to provide a really serious reception.

"Hitherto London's principal efforts in this direction consisted chiefly of guns, largely manned by chery but inexperienced and ill-equipped amateurs. No one who witnessed the raids on London last autumn can have failed to have been impressed by the inadequacy of the defensive preparations. Since then considerable progress has been made, but we should be better satisfied if we had also sufficient aeroplanes to attack the raiders.

"We are perfectly aware of the difficulties of attacking airships with aeroplanes. The modern Zeppelin has a speed of fifty miles an hour. Suppose it is at a given moment over a given spot at a height of 11,000 feet. An aeroplane, starting from the ground underneath, will take half an hour to reach the spot where the Zeppelin was seen, but by that time the Zeppelin may be thirty miles away. The only remedy seems to be to have at suitable places patrols of quick-climbing aeroplanes, ready to take the air as soon as the approach of a Zeppelin is announced, so as to deal with the enemy when he arrives.

"The matter is not easy, owing to the difficulty, not only of hearing and seeing a Zeppelin from an aeroplane, but of seriously damaging it when discovered. There is also the risk of landing in the dark, but the knowledge that it certainly will meet some kind of an attack at close quarters is likely to prove a deterrent to a raiding aircraft."

BAD COLD? TAKE "CASCARETS" FOR BOWELS TONIGHT
Get a 10-cent box.
Colds—whether in the head or any part of the body—are quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets to-night and you will wake up with a clear head and your cold will be gone. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.

TORONTO PUT IT OVER LEADERS

Easily Defeated Wanderers Last Night by 8 to 2.

BLUE SHIRTS VERY SPEEDY
Pitcher Fred Herbert, Tried Out With Giants, Returns to Leafs.

Toronto, Feb. 1.—Without the services of the two Cleghorns and Roberts, the Wanderers presented only a patched up team last night at the Arena, the result being that the Toronto had little difficulty in winning the M. H. A. contest by the score of 8 to 2.

The visitors never had a chance at any stage as the locals were ahead 2 to 0, at the end of the first period, and 6 to 2 at the end of the second. Moreover, if the Blue Shirts had tallied for every time they got by the visitors' defence they would have run up the biggest score of the season.

So far as hockey was concerned there was only one team that played it, that being the Blue Shirts. The visitors had a defence that opened up like a sieve while their line at no stage had speed enough to check back and get the locals. On the play the Toronto should have had double the goals, as they were constantly getting inside the visitors' defence, but shooting badly. It was a very clean game and only 12 minor fouls were handed out.

Que Cleghorn was present in uniform, but didn't play. In fact he could hardly see, owing to sustaining a cut over the eye against Ottawa that required six stitches. His other eye also became swollen yesterday. Gordie Roberts, their star, forward, sustained a loose cartilage in his left knee in Saturday's game, and he also was absent, as was Sprague Cleghorn who is still in the hospital. The Toronto had speed to burn against the weakened visitors, and also displaying nice combination at times, while their clobbering back was also good. Both the Wanderers' goals were from outside the defence, Tyland catching Lesueur asleep on the first one and scoring from the face-off, while his other was from outside the defence. Content Denny, of the locals, showed the most speed of the season, and looked to have rounded into last season's form.

The players, comprised of the ice greatly cooled in it was very sticky, with two or three cracks in it. At any rate the players had difficulty in keeping their feet. Keats once falling and sliding into the goal bars gave him a slight twist, but he came on again and played. The score represents the game from every angle, except in the case of Bas Murphy, the Wanderer man, who, as a defence player is a great comedian.

Back to Toronto.
New York, Feb. 1.—The New York National League Club last night announced it had released Pitcher Fred Herbert to the Toronto Club, of the International League. Herbert played with Toronto last season, and was given a short trial by the Giants last Fall.

OPPOSITION DOES ALL THE TALKING

Debate on Speech From the Throne Kept Up by Liberals.

MR. KNOWLES TO RETIRE
Hon. Robert Rogers Announces No Election is Thought Of.

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—Yesterday's proceedings in the House constitute a debate. The speeches were all from the Opposition, and more Liberal members are on the list for tonight. The debate on the address was opened two weeks ago yesterday, and will close on Wednesday.

Hon. George F. Graham, who was to have spoken yesterday, was replaced by Mr. E. F. Pardee, the chief of the Opposition who contributed a definition of what an Opposition ought to do, the definition being inclusive of all those things which Mr. Pardee and his associates have not been doing, "giving sympathetic and hearty support to the Government in all legislation making for the attainment of the national and imperial objects immediately in view," and "to pass with the utmost freedom and despatch all war grants and all bills designed to make effectual Canada's part in the conflict." Without referring specifically to the Pugsley-Carvell fiasco, Mr. Pardee defined the duty of the Opposition further as to "bring promptly and frankly to the Government's attention all cases of imprudence or waste, etc., putting aside mere party criticism."

For the rest, Mr. Pardee advocated preparedness as the one means of preventing another war, and he pressed his personal dislike to the presence of knights in a democratic country. Other speakers were Mr. J. H. Sinclair, Guyon; Mr. W. E. Knowles, of Moose Jaw, and Mr. J. G. Turritt, of Assiniboia, all of whom attacked the Shell Committee on the score of alleged political control. Mr. Sinclair declared that Sir Alexander Bartram has been a stool pigeon for a political machine at Ottawa.

Mr. W. E. Knowles attacked the National party in Parliament, on the ground that they had not stood by their principles, and stated that Canadian independence had been attained, but when those 21 men had played Judas Iscariot. Mr. Knowles also criticized the United States for inactivity in the present crisis.

The question of a general election was touched upon in the course of Mr. Pardee's speech, the West Lambton member stating that the Government must take the responsibility of going to the country. Hon. Robert Rogers, who was leading the Opposition, declared that the Government had no intention of an election.

30,000 AUSTRIANS BAGGED BY ITALY SINCE THE WAR

Rome, Feb. 1.—An official resume of Italy's entrance and operations in the war was given out here yesterday. It is stated that 30,000 Austrian prisoners, five guns, 82 machine guns and quantities of rifles and other materials have so far been captured by the Italians from the Austrian forces.

The explanation of Italy's entrance into the war was the necessity of rectifying her Austrian frontier, imposed by Austria in 1866. During times of peace, the statement said, Austria made her Alpine frontier practically impregnable, while at the same time she held the key to Italy. Twenty-five Austrian divisions, about 425,000 men, are said to have been massed along the Italian frontier, at the beginning of the war.

"Despite the formidable Austrian defences and adverse conditions," the resume states, "Italian troops crossed the Austrian frontier at the opening of hostilities and occupied important strategic positions in Cadore, and on the Isonzo. Italian artillery soon commanded Tordino and Gorizia, preventing the Austrians from approaching these important supply passes."

Attempted to Make Raid, But Thought Better Of It.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Paris, Feb. 1.—A Zeppelin started in the direction of Paris last night at 9:45 p.m., a warning was sent out from Compiègne that a German airship had been sighted in movement. The military governor of Paris gave orders that preparations be made to give the alarm if necessary. When the Zeppelin, however, got into the field of the searchlights on the French front, it turned back and is supposed to have abandoned a projected raid.

Great Minds Opposed To PROHIBITION

This is what the foremost men of Great Britain, Canada and the United States, in the Church, on the Bench, in literature and public life, have to say about Prohibition:

Read Their Very Words:

"When a law is flagrantly and habitually violated it brings legislation into contempt. It creates a spirit of deception and hypocrisy, and compels men to do insidiously and by stealth what they would otherwise do openly and above board. You cannot legislate men by civil action into the performance of good and righteous deeds."
Cardinal Gibbons.

"Prohibition drives underground the mischief which it seeks to cure, making it more difficult to deal with the evil and impossible to regulate the trade, as, for instance, in the quality of liquor sold."
—Bishop Hall, Vermont.

"When you enact a law intended to do more than it ought to do; it generally ends in doing less than it should do. For that reason I am opposed to prohibition by statute. I would rather see America free first and then have its citizens use its freedom for moral ends."
—Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn, N.Y.

"He (Christ) condemned drunkenness, but never in a single instance lifted up His voice in condemnation of drinking. On the contrary, He commended His public ministry by making wine in considerable quantity, and of fine quality, and this apparently only to add to the joyous festivities of a wedding."
—Rev. Lyman Abbott.

"It is not in the power of Parliament, by an Act of Parliament, to change the habits of the people and in all probability a law such as you propose (Temperance Bill), if it were to be passed, would fail absolutely and become a dead letter."
The Rt. Hon. John Bright, M.P.

"I have been a great traveler and I have seen prohibition abundant in the United States, and it only leads to drinking in more forms than under the old system."
—Joseph Chamberlain, M.P.

"Prohibition has been disastrous to the cause of temperance."
Bishop Clark, Rhode Island.

"While I recognize the evils of the liquor traffic, I am nevertheless driven to the conviction that prohibition will be a failure in the attempt to cope with such evils. In many states it is already a failure, the net results of such legislation being to multiply illicit bars, and

One-half Available Enlisted in Ireland

London, Jan. 31.—From the outbreak of the war to January 8, the recruits raised by Ireland numbered 86,277, according to the report of Baron Wimborne, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, published here. He estimated that at the present time there are about four hundred thousand unattested single men of military age in Ireland, but deducting those indispensable for agriculture, commerce and the production of munitions and those medically unfit for service, concludes that the single men actually available would hardly exceed one hundred thousand.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
London, Feb. 3.—The removal by the government of most of the restrictions on the publication of news about the air raid has released a flood of accounts of the latest visit of the raiders.
A part of Staffordshire was the only place in which much material damage was done. The towns in this district were fully lighted when the Zeppelins approached and the light appears to have been of considerable use to the visitors, before the electricity could be shut off. The deaths and injuries in this district were in circumstances as for instance the killing of a woman missionary with a child in her hand, of a baby in its mother's arms as she was nursing it, of a whole family as it sat around the fireplace, as also the decapitation of a workman and the cutting off of a woman's legs in the street, while she stood watching the airship. Workmen's houses were blown to atoms, churches were destroyed, buildings were unroofed.
Nowhere did the raids cause any panic. The story of the killing of the woman missionary is thus given in detail by a correspondent who is a member of the same parish:
STRUCK A CHAPEL
Not far from the center of the town is the church, separated by a short distance from the chapel in which a mission for women and girls was in progress. The woman missionary, wife of a well known vicar, was an audience watching the service, and girls, when a bomb dropped between the church and the mission chapel, it made a hole in the ground four feet deep and twelve feet in diameter, within twenty feet of the Saloniki, Feb. 3.—The Zeppelin, which on Tuesday bombarded Saloniki was of very large dimensions. After making a wide detour of the city, it began its operations by dropping five bombs which fell into the sea. The warships opened fire on it, but after fourteen shots, were obliged to cease for fear of wounding the population which was now filling the streets. The raiders missed the next target, but tore a woman to pieces and wounded a small boy. Another bomb set fire to the warehouses filled with fats, oils, benzine and sugar. The buildings flared up like a torch and the population became wildly excited, while the Zeppelin continued to rain down its missiles of destruction, one of which demolished the mosque of Yusoff Pasha, killing three and injuring eleven Greek refugees from Asia Minor, who were sheltered in it. Another bomb crashed through the roof of a house and instantly killed five persons. The flames from the blazing warehouses lit up the whole harbor with a red glow against which stood out the white sails of the coasting ships, fleeing under all canvas.

Fast aeroplanes rose in pursuit of the Zeppelin, while British, French, Italian and Russian sailors operated a fire boat at a wharf and poured torrents of water on the fire. Generals Sarrail, Mahon and Moschopoulos, with the prefect and the mayor, organized the fire fighting. They were then all in the city, and the mission for women and girls was in progress. The woman missionary, wife of a well known vicar, was an audience watching the service, and girls, when a bomb dropped between the church and the mission chapel, it made a hole in the ground four feet deep and twelve feet in diameter, within twenty feet of the
