A NOBLE HERITAGE.

CHAPTER XXV.
(Concluded.)

AND you will be always with me," she murmured. "You will never leave me; we will go through life side by side."

Think of that, Cyril! Does that thought make you happy? To-morrow I wish it would come. I long to tell them, to tell all the world that you are mine. Cyril, it will not make you love me less nor will it tempt you to think less of me—if I tell you how proud—how proud—I am of you, love?"

"Proud!" he echoed, wondering. "You proud of me?"

"Yes, yes," she answered, "I am so proud at having won you that I should like to tell all the world to hear it."

A sudden cluck—not of doubt but of reflection, hesitation, crossed his brow.

"You will make me vain, my darling," he said, in a low voice, then he added, suddenly, "Leola, will you mind if we keep this secret of ours a secret still, for a little while?"

She looked up at him gravely, wondering.

"Why?" she asked.

"Only for a little while—a few days at most," he answered. "There are reasons which I do not want to tell you now—you see how I trust in your love!" he said with a gentle smile. "I know that you can trust me, my darling; that you will not ask me to tell you the reason why I wish the great happiness and joy of my life kept a secret for a little while. Believe me, it is for the best. There are reasons—"

"The best of all reasons for me," she said, with simple faith, "is that you wish it to be so."

"There spoke your true, loving heart my darling!" he said, fervently. "Our secret will not be the less sweet because we help to keep the cold world out of it for a short time. You have trusted me in so much, you can trust me in this Leola?"

"I trust you with my life from to-night," she said, simply.

He looked down at her wistfully, and with a great love in his eyes.

"Not one word have you asked of my past life," he said. "You have no doubts, no misgivings?"

"No doubts, no misgivings, only perfect love and trust," she replied, looking up at him proudly.

"And with Heaven's aid I will repay such perfect love and trust," he said.

She did not understand the significance of his words, but she was content. Love asks little for all it gives—it asks but for love in return.

"It is late," she said, wistfully; "You must go now, Cyril."

"Yes," he said, reluctantly, "we must part for to-night. Thank Heaven, morning will soon be here—and then I shall see you again. We will go into the park, down to the mill—anywhere out of the reach of prying eyes. Good-night, my darling, my own," and he bent his head and kissed her.

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM. This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (they are almost innumerable), its symptoms are much the same: the more prominent being, depression, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vigour.

VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY to know off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated life-reviving tonic.

THERAPION No. 3 LIGHTED UP AFRESH. This wonderful medicine is purely vegetable and innocuous, is agreeable to the taste, suitable for all constitutions and conditions, in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a case of debility that will not be speedily and permanently benefited by this never-failing recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this wide-spread and unerring remedy.

THERAPION is sold by Chemists throughout the world. Price in England, 2/6 and 4/6. Purchasers should see that the word "THERAPION" appears on British Government Stamp in white letters on a red ground affixed to every package by order of His Majesty's Her Majesty's Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

THERAPION may now also be obtained in Drugee (Tasteless) form.

Leola put a white hand on each shoulder, and standing on tipto, kissed him sweetly, gravely, on the lips.

"Good-night, Cyril," she said, and drew her hands away slowly, lingeringly.

He went down the steps, and turning, watched her as she went into the house, looking back at him over her shoulder with a sweet, loving smile.

Then the door closed, and the moon seemed to have dropped from the heavens.

Cyril bared his head and looked up at the stars, and the whole nature of the man expressed itself in one long, silent thanksgiving.

For the moment he seemed bewildered and staggered by his great happiness. It seemed unreal, illusory.

He looked back at the Abbey, at the place where she had stood in her soft, cream-white dress. Was it a vision—had he been dreaming?

Then he remembered the crimson patch upon that dress, the rose, and quickly looked down; yes, there at his breast he wore the rose which had nestled against her bosom. It was no dream. Leola Dale, the mistress of Lorne Abbey, loved him!

He took the rose from the place, and kissed it reverently and walked on. As he turned in the farm gate the church clock struck eleven.

"So late!" he thought, forgetting how time flies when it bears happiness on its wings, and he looked at his watch.

Mrs. Tibbett was waiting for him, and looked immensely relieved at sight of him; she dreaded that he would be out again all night.

"Oh, here you are, Mr. Cyril," she said; "and I've got you some soup—and it's all nice and hot, and—bless me, how well you look!" and the good soul stared at him.

"Well!" said Cyril, with a short laugh, and a flash of the manly eye. "Of course I'm well. I've never had an illness in my life, barring Cape fever, Mrs. Tibbett."

"But—but—you look so different to what you have lately!" said Mrs. Tibbett, setting the soup before him, and staring at him with a pleased smile. "You've heard good news, I should think, Mr. Cyril. You look for all the world like my dear Miss Leola looked when she heard the Abbey had come to her. God bless her!"

"God bless her!" echoed Cyril, with such solemn and yet joyous gaiety, that Mrs. Tibbett's tears sprang to her eyes.

"Ah, you may well say that, Mr. Cyril!" she responded. "A sweeter, purer, better angel never lived."

"Never!" responded Cyril, fervently.

"And the man as is lucky enough to win her will be the happiest man under the sun!"

"He will, he will, he is!" almost shouted Cyril, as he rose and put his hand on Mrs. Tibbett's shoulder, and shaking her gently, laughed aloud.

"Whatever is the matter, Master Cyril, dear?" ejaculated the good woman.

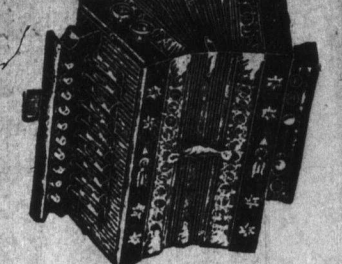

"Don't ask me—in case I should tell you," retorted Cyril. "Give me my pipe, Mrs. Tibbett, you are a good—soul; but if you had committed all the crimes known to man I should love you because you love—ahem! Give me my pipe and go to bed."

"Dear, dear me! how strange you do talk!" murmured Mrs. Tibbett, staring at him as she lit her candle.

She half thought, I am afraid, that he was intoxicated; and so he was, but not with drink.

"Oh! there's a letter for you, Mr. Cyril," she said, reaching it down from the mantel-piece. "It came by to-night's post. It's marked 'immediate.' I'd almost forgot it, you talking so strange put it out of my head," and she wished him good-night.

Cyril opened his letter, and grew grave and thoughtful. He walked to the window, and throwing it open, leaned out and smoked, thoughtfully, as he was trying to come to some decision.

Suddenly, something struck him on the shoulder, and dropped at his feet.

For the moment, he thought it was a bat or a large moth, that had been attracted by the light; but, looking down, he saw something white lying on the ground, and, stooping, picked up a piece of paper, tightly folded, and tied round a small stone.

He looked at it closely, and turned it backwards and forward—as one does with anything mysterious; then he picked off the twine, let the stone drop, and unfolded the paper.

It was a letter, and anonymous.

"Mr. Cyril Kingsley—If you would learn something further concerning the mysterious visitor to the Abbey, you may do so by going to No. 13 Suffolk Street, Kingsley, and watching. There is no time to be lost. Take the advice of a friend—who is none the less a friend because he, or she, choose to advise you anonymously—and go up by the midnight train."

The writer of this, knowing that he—or she—has to deal with an honourable man, feels confident that you will burn this note of warning and advice as soon as you have read it, and will impune no unworthy motives to the writer.

That was all. Cyril read it, and re-read it. What should he do? Should he take this man's advice—or woman's—which was it? He scanned the writing curiously, and tried to remember it.

It was a woman's hand. Where had he seen it before? Yes! It was like Cicely Stanhope's! He had seen her hand-writing on a piece of music, and in the Howth Album. And yet—

But there was no time for conjecture. Go, or not go—that is the question!

The clock chimed the half hour. Suddenly he made up his mind, ran upstairs for his great-coat, thrust a purse and some papers into his pocket, and was out in the open air before five minutes had elapsed.

The Evening Chit-Chat.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Ruth Cameron

This is a peachment on the value of the appeal.
I was most interested in the other day to hear of a woman in St. Louis who by a simple, earnest appeal to a burglar, caused him to return the money and Jewelry he had stolen.

She waked up one night and saw a burglar rummaging in her bureau draw, and instead of screaming for help she appealed to him.
"You are a burglar, aren't you?" she asked. "I'm not going to take you to task for that. My husband is an invalid and I'm trying to support this little family. I know you need the money or you wouldn't be here, but I probably need it more than you. You see these children are dependent on me, a woman. You are a man. It is for you to decide who needs the money most."

And the burglar decided. He showed that the man in him that she appealed to did exist, by tossing her husband's pocket-book on to the foot of the bed, slipping the jewelry onto the dresser and disappearing.

Most people are better than we think them.
I do not think many people realize to the full the power of an equal.
I believe there is a great deal of goodness and kindness and desire to help under the surface in the average person that a well put appeal will bring out.
Of course, I do not mean that many of us are apt to meet burglars, but we are apt to sometimes be in positions where an appeal to someone's goodness and kindness of heart would be the very best way to cut the Gordian knot of our difficulties, if we only had sufficient trust in human nature to realize it.

Most people like to be appealed to.
An appeal puts him to whom it is made on a pedestal of superiority of some kind or other, and everyone likes that.
When I was first in the newspaper business and used to be sent on difficult assignments to outlandish places and could not find my way I discovered that far better than to ask questions about my destination was to make a frank appeal to some friendly looking policeman, throwing myself wholly on his mercy.
That always touched his vanity and whether the place was to be found or not he always found it.
When you had to go shopping alone and simply didn't know whether the garment you were trying on looked well on you or not, did you ever try appealing to the saleslady and asking her to cease being a saleslady for a few moments and really tell you frankly whether you looked a fright or not? It seldom fails. I assure you.

Appeals sometimes even create the qualities they appeal to. For instance, an appeal from a woman will sometimes make a coward into a brave man.

An appeal is like mercy, in that—"It is twice blessed.
It blesses him that gives and him that takes."

If people treated more in each other's goodness and good intentions this would be a happier place.
Next time you got into some difficulty, instead of trying to find your way out by your own wit or strength or ingenuity, why not try the possibilities of an appeal to someone.
I wouldn't wonder if it paid.

Dr. Keegan's Reply.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—An anonymous writer in last night's issue of your paper contributes a lengthy letter in reference to the recent outbreak of diphtheria at the General Hospital, and says he waits anxiously for a reply to his effusion. If the writer was as anxious to display his name as he is to show his familiarity with the hospital, it would be much easier for me to enter into a scientific discussion; but until such time as he chooses to throw off the cloak of anonymity and come out manfully over his own name, I must decline to enter into any discussion on the matter. If, however, it will in any way relieve his nervous tension I may state that I am not "stolidly awaking," as he puts it, from anything. I am, and have been, quite awake for some time to the gravity of the situation, and am quite able to cope with it, assisted as I am by an able and efficient staff and the prompt action the Government has taken in the matter.

"Observer" states that the public will no longer care to have its sick friends and relatives sent to the hospital, nor the medical men send their patients there, if such be the case, it is because of the existence of diphtheria at the hospital, not because of the discharge of my duty towards the public and the patients, made the fact known to the proper authorities.

I did not state that diphtheria was bred in the basement, as every one knows that the particular bacillus was introduced. I said that the basement, as I found it, was a "disease incubator," and in this the Public Health Officer agreed with me.
This statement in reference to the basement I now repeat, and if "Observer" had only awakened earlier he could have spent a few days in the basement, isolating germs and satisfied his most bacteriological desires.

"Observer" also doubts the possibility of cutting off connection between the basement and the hospital. This is all practical purposes will be completed in a few days. Again "Observer" states that two nurses were the only inmates affected with the disease, and from this fact he advances large theories. When I tell him that the first case, under my administration, was not a nurse but a patient who had been in hospital for some months, it may occur to him that he does not know what he is writing about. The patient I refer to could not be removed from the hospital, but was promptly removed from the ward, isolated, the matter reported to the Health Officer and my diagnosis verified by a bacteriological examination.

As I am kept constantly busy, it is not my intention to take any further notice of any anonymous scribbler who may choose to air his little learning in the newspapers, but would in conclusion point out for "Observer's" special benefit that heretofore it would not be necessary for any patient or nurse to enter the basement in order to contract any disease incubated there.

Truly yours,
L. E. KEEGAN,
Medical Superintendent
General Hospital.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Carrots will make delicious preserves. Take three-quarters of a pound of sugar to a pound of carrots.
Add sufficient water to make a syrup and boil until the preserves are thick.
A little ginger or lemon should be added to flavor.

While it is advisable to pack a water bag flat, occasionally there is necessity for rolling it. If so, it is well to lay a piece of cloth or paper over the bag first, then there will be no possible danger of the sides of the bag sticking together.

To use cold halibut or other white fish, remove the bones and flake it and arrange it in layers in bread crumbs and seasoning, in a buttered baking dish. Cover the top with buttered crumbs, turn in hot milk to moisten sufficiently, sprinkle grated cheese over and bake.

Cases of scissors, containing three, four or five pairs of scissors of assorted sizes, make as acceptable a gift as any woman can wish. Some of these cases quite handsomely ornamented with silver, a monogram being added sometimes to give a distinctive and personal touch.

English molasses pudding is made of one cupful of chopped raisins, three-quarters of a cupful of molasses,
three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one egg, one and a half cupfuls of the oven.

To break up a cold, fill the bathtub half full of warm water. Get in and turn in more hot water until the limit of endurance is reached. Then go immediately to bed, lying between blankets and piling on much cover.
If a glass of hot lemonade is taken it will help the opening of the pores and Twillingate Sun Changes Hands.

We notice by the last issue of the Twillingate Sun, that the proprietor and editor, Mr. Roberts, states that it is the last issue under his direction. Mr. Roberts finds that the calls of other business are too great for him to continue running the "Sun." In his valedictory notice Mr. Roberts writes:— "The Twillingate Sun has maintained a firm and fearless Liberal front during all the time since it was established in 1880 (nearly half of the thirty years it has been owned and controlled by the president editor and proprietor) and we have no reason to think that with the present change of editor and proprietor the "Sun" will change its politics. In fact we have every reason to believe that it will not, but will continue to live under the same old Liberal banner, the standard and popular banner, of this district, at least." Mr. Temple takes the paper

Returned With With Her Fish.

The schr. Annie E. Larder, Capt. Henderson, 49 days from Oporto, arrived here Saturday after a very stormy passage. The vessel went over to Oporto some time ago, but the owners would not accept the prices offered for the ship's cargo and she was ordered to return with it. This does not very often occur, and no doubt most of the cargo will again be shipped away when a more favorable market prevails. The vessel experienced terrible weather on the run to this port and had to lay to on several occasions. To prevent her from being engulfed the crew had to jettison a considerable portion of the cargo, the water occupying about 15 hours. Some of her sails were torn into shreds and she received other damage, though the crew escaped without injury.

Native Pulp and Paper

Mr. H. LeMessurier, the Assistant Collector of Customs, to-day received from Grand Falls a collection of paper turned out at the mills at Grand Falls. The printing paper is of excellent quality, white and spotless, and the wrapping paper is flexible and strong and shows the excellence of this country's pulp product. He also received some samples of sulphite pulp turned out at the mills, and the collection is very acceptable one and will be treasured by the recipient.

Wedding Bells.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the R. C. Cathedral at 2 p.m. on New Year's Day when Dr. McDonald, of Bay de Verde, led to the altar an estimable and popular young lady of the same place in the person of Miss Nellie Moore. Both were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents. After the ceremony the happy pair drove to Donovan's, where the honeymoon will be spent. We wish both a prosperous and happy married life.

GLENCOE'S PASSENGERS.—The GLENCOE arrived at Placentia this morning at 7 o'clock, bringing R. G. Fife, E. J. Burdock, A. Rose, W. Rose, J. Kearley, J. Burke, J. S. Smith, J. Hardy, Miss Foote, Miss Vigus, Miss Pike, S. Tibbo, V. Turpin, C. Brek, J. Curtis, A. Darby, J. Lockyer, M. Hollett, J. Vieux, W. Churchill and 2 in second class.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

In the police court to-day T. Evans was charged with stealing a bottle of milk worth 40 cents, a can of meat, 70 cents, the property of Mr. Bearns, and a quantity of fish from Job Bros., valued at $1. He was given 6 months. A drunk was discharged. Seven drunks were each fined $1 or 5 days. A disorderly was fined $5.50 or 14 days, and a drunk who broke a pane of glass in Mr. Waugh's house was fined $1 or 6 days. A man brought in for safekeeping was discharged. A drunk who broke a pall in the Western Station was also fined $1 or 6 days.

"The Man in the Box."

Robinson-Allsworth Co. On New Year's night the theatre was crowded and very many were unable to gain admittance. The comedy, "The Man in the Box," was staged and met with much applause. Mr. W. D. Steadman, "The Man in the Box," played with much acceptance. Miss Morton also made a good impression in delivery, bearing and acting. Mr. Jesse Sydney met with much applause, as did Mr. E. C. Horton, Cecil Magnus and Mr. Crowley did good work. Miss Allsworth and the other performers all contributed to the success of a good night's entertainment, which foreshadowed a successful season.

Marine Notes.

The Geo. R. Alston left Twillingate last Tuesday for Oporto with a load of fish. The schr. Gertrude L., owned by P. Templeman, is being loaded with fish at Twillingate by Mr. Ashbourne and will soon sail for Europe. The S. S. Almeriana arrived at 7 a.m. Saturday. The Thunda is set down to leave Halifax for this port to-morrow. The Florizel arrived at Halifax at 5 a.m. Saturday and sailed at midnight for New York. The Siberian sails at 6 p.m. for Glasgow. She takes 600 packages of fish, and oil. Her passengers are—Mrs. Brooks and child, P. E. Knowling and wife, Thomas Bride and one steerage. The Portia passed Cape Race at 10.50 to-day and is due here at 6 p.m. Wednesday. The Prospero sails north at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

WEATHER REPORT.—Wintery weather west of Bishop's Falls; from three to seven feet of snow on the ground. At the Quarry, wind S.W., strong, snowing and drifting; temperature 12 above.

Olsen's Acceptance.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—I have to apologise for again trespassing on your space, but hope this will be final. As Mr. Opett was the one to first suggest the idea of wrestling for charity, I would say to him that I think we ought not sail under any false colours. I am a professional, and make no secret of it, and would be at all times willing to take any share of receipts that may be coming. In the present case, however, if we are to wrestle for charity I think the proceeds should all go to charity, and that there should be nothing coming to either of us in any event, the only expense to be deducted being those usual charges for such events. If we are to have any money at all to go to the principals, then I think the usual course of percentages ought to be followed, otherwise Mr. Opett should accept one of the other conditions named by me. As I expect to leave the city shortly I am obliged to ask that the date named by me be fixed, and that the match take place in the British Hall, on Monday next, catch-as-catch-can style, two hours time limit. This latter provision will, I think, probably give spectators a more interesting match. In the event of Mr. Opett agreeing to the suggestion of having the entire proceeds go to charity, I would recommend that the whole arrangements be left to a committee of outside parties, three each to be nominated by us through the Press, and that we do not meet till we go on the mat. Mr. Opett's answer to this within twenty-four hours would be appreciated.

Yours truly, YOUNG OLSEN.

Train Notes.

By the regular which left here Friday at 6 p.m. there went about seven passengers.

The local arrived at 9.40 Friday night bringing Miss Carter, Geo. Davis, Miss Susie Sheppard, A. Reid, Miss Byrne, Mrs. Byrne, W. Penny and about 20 others.

About 80 passengers left by the 8.45 train Saturday morning. The local at noon and the regular at 6 p.m. New Year's Day had only a few passengers inward and outward, respectively, the same applying to the inward train which arrived at 9.15 that night.

The Bruce express which left at 6 p.m. yesterday took Mr. Buchanan, Miss Buchanan, G. H. Press, Rev. Mr. Worrall, Miss Bearns, Mr. Hynes, T. Walsh and 30 second class. A freight train arrived at 6.40 p.m. yesterday with a few passengers. The west bound express left Bishop's Falls at 9.15 a.m. to-day. The incoming express left Port aux Basques at 10.15 a.m. yesterday and is due here at 11 p.m.

Coastal Boats.

REID BOATS. The Argyle left Placentia at 7.15 a.m. Saturday for the west. The Clyde arrived at Lewisport at 4.10 p.m. Saturday from the south and will sail this p.m. for the north. The Dundee arrived at Port Blandford to-day. The Ethie arrived at St. John's at 3.30 a.m. yesterday, having finished the service. The Glencoe arrived at Placentia at 7 a.m. to-day and sailed this p.m. The Home left Bay of Islands at 7.10 a.m. Friday. The Invermore arrived at Port aux Basques at 9.25 a.m. yesterday. The Bruce is still on dock and will not have repairs completed till the middle of the month.

SCHOONER LOST.—The schooner Hustler, belonging to Mr. Moore, of Bay de Verde, was driven from her moorings there in the recent storm and went on the rocks and became a total wreck. She is about 35 tons burden and is not fully insured.

Now Cured of Rheumatism

Cost him $100.00 for medicines which failed.—Cured by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS. Mr. James Clark, Maidstone, Sask., writes: "I suffered for four years with rheumatism in my shoulders and could not lift my arms above the head. I tried nearly all the advertised remedies but none of them gave me relief. It cost me at least $100.00 for medicines before I used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. "With the use of this medicine, I soon found relief. I followed up this treatment for six months and was then quite free from rheumatism. While using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I also used Dr. Chase's Backache Plaster when so stiff that I could scarcely bend. They always found the weak spot and gave relief while the internal treatment was bringing about a thorough cure." The success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been phenomenal. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Recipes will be sent free on request.

Letter From Doctor Grenfell.

PEAT DRIVING. Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Mr. Editor,—I thought that a few cuttings with regard to some experiments we have been trying on the coast might interest some. In regard to peat: During the past three years we have drained a bog near St. Anthony Hospital which gives us a depth of fully ten feet of peat, which comes favourably with the peat I am familiar with in the west of Ireland. We have fishing flakes erected on which the peat dries, and a roof shade serves to keep the rain from the dried peat until it is carried in for use. We did not only will it burn well in closed stoves, but it serves to maintain for quite a long time the heat of a wood fire in an open fireplace, while in a furnace a layer of wood with a thin layer of soft coal banked over with peat keeps a very economical and satisfactory fire. So many of our Newfoundland harbours are being utterly ruined, so far as beauty goes, by the absolute cutting out of every piece of wood that would burn within reach of the houses. If some attention were given by the people themselves to the burning of peat it would not only supply them with warmth but in many places be made to preserve the comfort and beauty that attaches to groves and trees near the water side. I understand the Government are arranging to greatly foster the use of peat in Newfoundland. Any effort in that direction deserves every bit of support we can all give it.

HAND LOOMS.

The efforts we have been making to introduce the use of hand looms in making homespun has been very satisfactory. Naturally under the impression that the looms we might expect that where we had provided the looms we should get a good article. But it was therefore doubly pleasant to find that through the efforts of one of the girls from fifty miles south of St. Anthony a branch of the work has made great success. It was shown in a drawing-room one evening in Boston two rolls of homespun made at Roddickton Mill, side by side with two rolls just brought from Scotland. The general consensus of opinion was that ours was the superior article. Every yard made by the girls at both places was snapped up immediately. The looms can easily be made by any handy Newfoundland woman on her own now. When dogs can be done away with and sheep kept instead, this could become as valuable a source of income to our people as those of Harris, Shetland, and the north of Scotland. We believe that proper sheep can be kept out all winter in wooded places if some feed is put out. A flock of hardy Cumberland sheep we brought out this year are still finding their own food outside.

RABBIT RUGS.

Another pretty and successful little experiment was the cutting of the skins of the Newfoundland rabbit and making them into baby rugs. Even with the few visitors that come to the coast in summer we could not satisfy the demand for these, and it might say the same concerning silk ornaments work done on deer skin, after the pattern of the Indians, by our Labrador women. The help of the Hudson Bay agents' wives and others have brought this work on prominently, so that what we sent to Edinburgh for the exhibition was highly commended, and other specimens that we sent to the United States and Canada were snapped up as prizes.

REINDEER TRIVING.

I should like to say also that the multiplication of the reindeer makes us very enthusiastic with regard to their future. This next year we are moving part of our herd to Labrador, where the natural food for these animals is endless. If Labrador were of no value for any other purpose it could maintain with great ease one and one-half million of these beasts which were as protected and not slaughtered by the Indians, wolves and settlers indiscriminately as the caribou are. A regular export of from two to three thousand caribou would give at least an average of two hundred and fifty pounds. This would mean a very valuable export at the present price of meat. We have not tried the deer yet for a rapid transit. Some students, down with me this winter, are hoping to break some of the stages in this view. But we met with considerable success with the hauling of logs over snow that could not carry horses. Further acquaintance with the land round Grand Falls makes me believe that the caribou themselves do not remain in that neighbourhood, which seems to me eminently unsuited through lack of proper mosses for their support all the year round. The failure of the herd during the summer months was a thing to be expected, and has not in the very least discouraged our herders in the north. The remains of the Grand Falls herd was returned to us and has not lost a single additional deer. For hauling firewood they are all that is needed.

but our hope is that people will spare the woods and use peat.

CAPT. FRADSHAM.

While credit is being given to the splendid sea genius of the Newfoundland fishermen, and especially to Capt. Bartlett, who so surely deserves it, it might be worth noting that a young Newfoundland skipper, comparatively unknown, from Bay Roberts, took our 55 ton schooner, the Lorna Doone, to Baffin's Land and back this summer. She is unheated for ice, through over 100 miles of which she had to pluck her way. Not a soul on board had been on that coast, that is knew anything about it, as a pilot; no chart was procured at all, and the strong currents make overland bad seas in Hudson Straits. Moreover we were unable to obtain a cent of insurance for the boat. But Capt. Fradsham took her down and back in six weeks, giving the two missionaries time to build their little houses and land their stores in that short time, and that without hardly taking a scratch of paint off her.

SPECIALISTS FOR HOSPITALS.

During the coming summer we are expecting the visit of two or three special surgeons to our hospitals at Battle Harbor and St. Anthony from the very best clinics in the United States. Dr. John Little has gone to Vienna, and Dr. John Grieve, to Edinburgh, for further post-graduate work during the winter. Dr. Wakefield, of Cambridge, England, Dr. Seymour Armstrong, of Brighton, England, Dr. Norman Stuart, Dr. Hare and myself are remaining on the coast. The staff of nurses will be reinforced by the addition of four nurses next summer. The enlarged clinics in these two hospitals make it imperative for us to enlarge the staff, all of whom, would, I am sure, wish to join me in a New Year's greeting to our many friends in this country "who go down to the sea in ships and do business in great waters." We hope most earnestly by this time next year to have for their accommodation when they visit St. John's, an Institute worthy of men who embody that genius for the sea, which after all is one of the noblest heritages of our nation, one which has put us in the position where we are to-day, and one which deserves all the best help in the best possible way that their fellows can provide for them.

Faithfully yours, WILFRED T. GRENFELL.

Hulk Goes Adrift.

At 1.20 to-day the old coal hulk Eduard and Susanne drove from her moorings in the stream in the gale of wind blowing and drifted out the Narrows. Quite a number of laboring men were on board her and the signal tower telephoned Capt. Strong, who promptly sent the John Green after her. After much difficulty she was towed back to port. Had there been no tug available the vessel might have gone ashore with disastrous results to those on board.

Personal.

Mr. H. Howlett, of Twillingate, is in town on his usual business trip. Mr. S. Loveridge, agent for the firm of W. Ashbourne, Twillingate, arrived by the S. S. Prospero on Saturday evening, completing the buying of the firm's winter supplies. Mr. Ashbourne is extending his business at Twillingate, and has a branch on the north side, of which Mr. Loveridge is in charge. Mr. Ashbourne will come along later in the winter to finalize his business. Mr. Loveridge is staying at the Osborne.

Crew of Steamer Rescued at Sea

Atlantic City, N.J., Dec. 27.—By means of the breeches buoy, the crew of the freight steamer Thurman, variously reported, numbering 27 and 22, were rescued by life savers early yesterday morning during the height of the storm which was sweeping the Jersey coast. The vessel was on her way from a Virginia port to New Haven with coal, and had a barge with five men aboard in tow. During the worst of the storm the tow line parted and the barge was lost. In an effort to recover her tow the Thurman struck the bar at Tom's River, and was still hard and fast aground last night.

The local arrived here from Carbonar at 12.55 p.m. to-day bringing over 100 passengers from points in Conception Bay, chiefly men going to work on Bell Island. They had been home for the Xmas holidays.

A HARD NIGHT.—The train bands on the Bruce express which arrived here Friday say that Thursday night was the worst time they ever experienced on the line as the train sped along between Tickle Harbor and St. John's. The wind blew a hurricane, and an inch of sleet covered the tracks, giving a slippery rail, which accelerated the train's speed on down grades.

FISH CARGOES FOR MARKET.—The following vessels have sailed from the northward the past few days fish laden for Europe. Elizabeth, from Herring Neck, Dec. 29th, 1,185 qtls., Labrador for Gibraltar; schr. Kuviera, from Pilley's Island, sailed Dec. 23rd; Laura, from Twillingate, sailed Dec. 26th; Muta, 29th; Earl, 29th; Geo. H. Alliston, Dec. 29th, for Gibraltar, and the John for Lisbon.

Weather Report.

LaSalle.—To-day wind E.N.E., blowing a gale with weather dull and snow squalls. On the 1st 2 feet of snow fell, the first heavy fall of snow for the season. Birely Cove.—Herring plentiful in North and Middle Arms. Vessels loading and sailing for Gloucester, and others arriving for cargoes; weather stormy. Lark Harbor.—Weather heavy; nothing doing.

MR. HAGEN ILL.—Mr. Wm. Hagen, assistant storekeeper at Baine Johnson's premises, has been very ill the past few weeks of meningitis. For a while it was feared that he would not recover, but his condition is now more favourable and it is hoped he will pull through.

DIED OF DIPHTHERIA.—A little girl named Thomas, who had been in the hospital only a few days suffering from diphtheria, died there yesterday. She was 10 years old and her parents are grief-stricken over her demise from this dreadful disease. The other patients in the hospital are doing well.

MR. ALLCOCK ILL.—Mr. Clem Allcock, the popular Surveyor of Shipping, we regret to record has been very ill for the past two weeks. He is suffering from peritonitis. The disease has now reached an acute stage and much anxiety is expressed for his safety on the part of his friends. He is, however, a man of fine physique and strong constitution, and his many friends hope soon to hear that he is better.

DIED.

Indigestion Dyspepsia Means Slow Starvation.

Let those who have Experienced with Doubtful Remedies turn to-day to Dr. Hamilton's Pills And be Cured Quickly. By the testimony of actual cures by the words of those who have proved the merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, you can satisfy yourself that indigestion and dyspepsia are curable. "Four years ago I got into a condition of low health—suffered all possible torture with acute indigestion, wind on the stomach and dizzy headaches. The very smell of food often was sufficient to make me violently ill. Energy was gradually fading away, I no longer had any desire for work or for the company of other people and was in the depths of despair. Worsened nardytom brain and body could not suffer, and live. I used so many remedies without success that I was in poor hopes of getting relief when I started on Dr. Hamilton's Pills. In a month I noticed a slight improvement and kept right on using one pill every second night. In a month I was another man, looked ruddy, strong, hearty, and I felt as if I had been made new. Four years have gone by and I still rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills and attribute to their power my present condition of robust health. (Signed) H. P. ROCKFORD. ROCKFORD, P. O.

The Nereus Disaster.

The widow and family of the late Wm. Fridman who was lost in the Nereus with Alexander Forward, are not in the best of circumstances, and we feel assured that it is only requisite to remind the charitable people of the city that such is the case to impel them to lend a helping hand to tide them over the winter. It is sad to contemplate a deserving wife and little children being so suddenly deprived of a good husband and father and under such pathetic circumstances. Already something has been done and all praise is due to those who have been instrumental in helping those stricken ones, but more could be accomplished if the effort were made, it has been suggested that if Messrs. Oppelt and Olsen again wrestle that some of the proceeds should be devoted to the family and also to the two little forward girls. This suggestion is a good one, and if the match materializes we feel assured that both these gentlemen will be willing to help. Private contributions in goods and cash would be gratefully acknowledged and it would also be a charitable act if the Nickels and the theatrical companies now performing here would give benefits for the family.

Had Eczema In Both Legs Remarkable cure of Chronic Eczema by use of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT. You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctors and the cures commonly recommended. Mr. Fred W. Clark, Petworth, Ont., writes: "My mother had Eczema in both legs for about 20 years and suffered from the dreadful itching, stinging sensations which can never be described. She doctored and treated everything for it but got no relief until she used Dr. Chase's Ointment which was recommended to her by a friend. She found that this brought relief and by continuing its use has been cured of Eczema. I do not think any one could have this horrible disease any worse than she did and can recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as a thorough cure for Eczema."

The absolute purity of Sunlight Soap makes it alone safe for dainty laces and linen.

At the R. C. Cathedral.

Solemn High Mass coram pontifice was celebrated at the R. C. Cathedral New Year's Day by Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan. Rev. Fr. Fyfe was Deacon and Fr. Rawlin Sub-Deacon. His Grace the Archbishop vested in cope and mitre occupied the throne, and was assisted by Rt. Rev. Mons. Roche as High Priest; Rev. Frs. McDermott and O'Flaherty as Deacons at the throne. Yesterday at 11 a.m. Missa Cantata was sung by Rev. Fr. Fyfe. After the Gospel, Rev. Fr. Fyfe delivered a sermon on the Gospel of the day. At 7 p.m. Pontifical Vespers were chanted; the chanters being Rev. Mons. Roche and Fr. Fyfe. His Grace the Archbishop was assisted at the throne by Rev. Frs. Gough and Rawlin. The "Veni Creator Spiritus" having been intoned by the Archbishop to invoke the blessings of the New Year, was sung by the choir. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament followed.

More Damage Reported

The storm of Christmas Eve did much damage in St. Mary's Bay, especially at John's Pond, where nearly all the wharves, stages and flasks were carried away by the high sea-running, and a number of fishing boats were beaten in pieces. A lobster factory and house owned by Mr. E. Bona, of North Harbor, were destroyed by the sea. Mr. Bona had a lot of fishing gear, nets and a trap stored there. They were all swept away and he is a loser to the extent of a $1,000 at least.

The Contest at Home.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, Jan. 1. With the first pollings of the general elections only a fortnight away, the campaign shows less popular excitement than the last stages of the last previous general elections. Since the first tremendous uproar over the rejection of the Budget by the House of Lords, and the general explosion of oratorical efforts by rival politicians, the contest has settled down in a dull bombardment of speeches and newspaper articles, dealing with the House of Lords and Tariff Reform. The list of candidates is still far from complete. The peers on the platform continue to furnish a picturesque element in the battle. They feel compelled to face the public in order to vindicate the claims of their class to power. As a good proportion of them shine more brilliantly at fox-hunting than statecraft, their audiences get plenty of fun out of them. When the writs will be issued for the election, the peers will be debarred from taking further part in the campaign. They are showing feverish anxiety to do what remains to be done during the week. Peers will address 116 Conservative meetings. A list of candidates so far prepared shows no fewer than fifty three contested seats. The Liberals are making efforts to avoid such contests which are likely to give seats to the Conservatives, but the Liberal candidates apparently have no disposition to yield for the first time. The Conservatives may have four Labor candidates in the field. The Unionists Association of Ireland has issued a manifesto to the British electors accusing the Nationalists of separation designs, which is proved, the manifesto says, by the party's acceptance of Separatist Irish-American funds, and the recent Irish tour of Condor and O'Callaghan, delegates from the United Irish League of the United States, as John Redmond's guests. The manifesto warns the British people that the granting of Home Rule would lead to Irish independence, involving a standing menace from a military and naval viewpoint. Wm. O'Brien, who formerly represented the Nationalists of Cork, has decided to return to politics. He was nominated to-day as candidate for Cork City.

Famous Solicitor Retires.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, Jan. 2. Sir George Henry Lewis, the most famous solicitor of the present generation, who has been engaged in all the greatest legal contests in the past half century, retired with the new year. Sir George Lewis knows more of the social life of Great Britain than any other man, and he has been called the keeper of English society skeletons. He numbered among his clients many royal personages, but it is believed that all their secrets are safe, for he has declared that he would write no memoirs.

Disastrous Floods.

Special to Evening Telegram. PHILIPPINES, Jan. 1. Eastern Rummelia has been swept by the most disastrous flood in fifty years and the whole plain resembles a vast lake. Many persons are reported drowned, while the losses in crop and live stock will be very heavy. Soldiers in pontoons are busy rescuing the people cut off by the rising waters.

Burns John's Literature

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, Jan. 1. A woman, believed to be a suffragette, attempted to-day to destroy with acid a quantity of literature at the political headquarters of John Burns at Battersea. The clerk in charge was seriously burned about the face and hands by the fluid before he could prevent her designs. The woman gained an entrance on the pretence of assisting to address envelopes.

Prolonged Shocks.

Special to Evening Telegram. LONDON, Jan. 2. Prolonged earth shocks extending over two hours were recorded on the Isle of Wight and at the observatory at Laachach on Saturday. They were estimated to be about 5,000 miles distant. The West Indian Cable Company reports all well.

Morse Goes to Prison.

Special to Evening Telegram. NEW YORK, Jan. 2. With a supreme effort to be cheerful, but with emotion occasionally getting the better of him, C. W. Morse left New York to-day to serve 15 years in Federal prison at Atlanta for violation of the National Banking Laws. C.C.C. & B. Companies will parade on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock sharp. Every member is ordered to be present. By order, P. J. KENT, Capt. & Adjt.—Jan. 11.

Steamers Arrive.

THE SIBERIAN.
The Allan liner Siberian, Capt. Tuncock, arrived here at 10 p.m. Friday morning after a very stormy passage of 9 1/2 days. She left there Christmas Day, and had very stormy weather all through. Thursday night the ship met a hurricane from the S. W. with a mountainous sea, and had to lay to for 3 hours. She made in at Cape Race at 3.30 p.m. Friday and had fair run to port. The ship has 200 tons cargo, 12 bags mail matter and 3 steerage passengers for here.

THE MONGOLIAN.
The Allan liner Mongolian, Capt. Williams, arrived from Liverpool at 4 a.m. Saturday after a very stormy passage of 9 1/2 days. She left on Wednesday, Dec. 22nd and had fairly fine weather until Thursday night, the 22nd, when strong head winds and very heavy seas were encountered. Thursday last while off the coast the ship had terrific weather with a gale of wind, high sea and heavy snow sea swept, but she was brought along to port without damage. Her passengers were:—Mr. A. D. Ritchie, for this port, two others in saloon for Philadelphia and one steerage. She brought 16 bags and 8 other packages of mail matter and 240 tons general cargo. The ship sails for Philadelphia to-morrow night omitting Halifax owing to her lengthy voyage from England.

THE BELLAVENTURE.
The S. S. Bellaventure, Capt. Taylor, arrived from Sydney at 1.30 p.m. yesterday after a run of two days. She left Sydney on Friday afternoon and had fairly fine weather for the first 24 hours, though early yesterday morning she encountered a strong S. W. gale with heavy sea and some snow. This impeded the ship's progress. The ship has a coal cargo for A. J. Harvey & Co.

Makes Stomach Trouble Vanish.

No Indigestion, Heartburn, Gas or Dyspepsia five minutes later.

Why not get some now—this moment and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and Indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapiesin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn; sick headache and Dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of Indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and, besides, one single dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapiesin works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to take a little Diapiesin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapiesin, because you want to become thoroughly cured this time.

Remember, if your stomach feels out-of-order and uncomfortable now, you can get relief in five minutes.

The Prospero's Rough Trip.

The s.s. Prospero, Capt. A. Keen, arrived here at 5.30 p.m. New Year's Day from the northward. The ship had a very stormy time of it since leaving St. John's, and on the run northward had to face gales of N.E. and N.W. wind with sea running mountains high. It was one of the most boisterous runs in Capt. Keen's experience going north. The ship arrived at St. Anthony on the way north at 4 a.m. Monday, but such terrible shivers to enter Griguet, and she dropped anchor at St. Leonard's at 10 a.m. Tuesday. On arrival at St. Anthony on the way northward a regular blizzard raged and detained the ship for 32 hours, it being impossible to leave during the progress of the storm. The ship started on the return trip Tuesday and had fairly fine weather up to White Bay. On arrival at Hill Cove she discharged the freight which she could not land in some places on the run north. The ship made a very good run to Twillingate, where she arrived at 2.30 p.m. Thursday. The ship had to remain there that night until 9 o'clock owing to a heavy snow storm which prevailed through the intervening hours. When the storm ceased the ship steamed for Herring Neck, arriving there at midnight. After a short stay there she ran to Change Islands, and thence to Fogo, while dense fog prevailed and the ship had to run at very slow speed. She remained at the latter port until 7 a.m. Friday owing to the thick weather, and then went to Seldom, which she left at 9 a.m. During her stay in Seldom a snow storm sprang up, which increased in severity, and the ship had not long left that place when she was forced to retreat. About 12.30 a.m. it cleared, and she had fairly fine weather to Greenspond, Solvace and King's Cove, but a heavy sea raged right along the coast. The ship remained in Bonnaville until 4 a.m. Saturday, thence proceeded to Catalina and Trinity, and had a splendid run across to Old Perlican, and thence made a record run of four hours to St. John's. The ship brought a large cargo of fish, oil and herring and the following passengers: Messrs. Boyde, Strong, Thistle, Rowell, Barnes, Howard, LeDrew, Martin, Osmond, Hodder, Foley, Howlett, Gillett, Peyton, Winsor, House, Burden, McGrath, Fitzgerald, McKnight, McNally, Sellars, Keen, O'Neill, House, Dick, Hall, Christian, Coombs, Mrs. Whaley, Misses Vatcher, Taylor, Pike, DeLochery, Perry, Gill, Thompson, Snelgrove, Ryan, Bailey, Malmont, Collins and 68 steerage.

The Tonk Piano is famous for its bright tone and responsive touch. Scores of homes in Nfld. testify to this. CHESELY WOODS, Sole Agent for Nfld.—Jan. 31.

Mas de la Ville Wines.

CROWN IN FRANCE.

THE GRAPE CURE AT HOME.

Add to the highly nutritive qualities of grape-juice—a bottle of Mas-de-la-Ville contains from four to six ounces of grape-sugar—the laxative and regularizing virtues it owes to the gummy or mucilaginous matter it contains, and you will readily understand why the grape cure has for so long time been so popular in grape-growing countries. This cure, however, could only last as long as the vintage; and men of science have for some time been trying to devise a way of preserving the grape-juice without its fermenting or losing any of its valuable and wholesome properties.

Several attempts in this direction have been made in grape-growing countries, and even in Great Britain; but we do not know of any so successful as that of the Mas-de-la-Ville, where the fresh and fruity taste of the grape has been so remarkably preserved.

LOOKING BACKWARD—AND FORWARD.

"The difficulties we have had to contend with no one knows but ourselves." These were the words of Monsieur Albin Peyron, junior, 30 in effect said all those principally concerned with the Mas-de-la-Ville. This makes the wonderful development in one short year of what is virtually a pioneer industry all the more wonderful.

In spite of difficulties, disappointments and the unpleasant surprises inseparable from pioneering, Duckworth St. & Queen's Road, Agent for Newfoundland.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Mr. Editor,—We have read with interest the letters of Western Banker in your paper defending his fishery on Labrador, and do not see any points to commend him. In the first place the rules and regulations governing the Labrador fishery forbid trawling up till the 15th day of August. Now, fishermen, what is this for but in the interest of the fishery, and I consider it rightly too. Isn't it just as well to go to bed as fish a trap on the West Coast where trawling was allowed for years? But if our lawmakers think that trawling is over the 15th day of August, they make a big mistake, as now traps are rarely taken up before the first of September, and are in many cases left out till the middle of September if anything is to be had. Now the last 3 or 4 years our friends, the bankers, have come along. First he was satisfied to work off, but now lately he has been invading the very trap grounds, setting gear on the back of traps that are set from island rocks and along shore.

In the second place, where is our fall fishery? Since the failure of the herring fishery our people have been getting salt squid from home, when procurable, to prosecute this fishery; but now, here comes along the banker with his fresh bait nicely laid down, sets his trawls along our favorite banks, just because they are nice and handy, whereas in his clipper schooner he could just as well go off. What is the result? What is the good of any man going fishing on salt bait when he has to throw his hook down amongst trawls baited with fresh? Unhappily this frozen bait is unavailable to our shoremen. Everybody knows it is useless to fish with salt bait when the ground is baited with fresh, as the man with salt bait will do nothing. The GOLD H

A Sketch of the Australian and Hope

Very typical of Australia is the gold prospector—hardy, hopeful, a good deal of a gambler, and always ready to play dice against fate, with his own life at stake.

It was in 1851 that the gold magnet first began to draw men to Australia. The first fields were around Bathurst and Ballarat, and the discoveries around Ballarat and Bendigo in Victoria, eclipsed all others, and the settlement at Melbourne became the port of entry into Australia for all the adventures of the earth.

Wild beyond imagining were the scenes of those days. A stream composed of all the elements of our humanity poured to the fields. Such men as the late Lord Salisbury justified side by side with wild cow-boys from Western America, deserting soldiers from foreign ships, doctors, barristers, "young sons" workers of all sorts, and a goodly portion of plain ruffians. The story was that gold was to be picked up in the fields, and certainly fortunes were often made by the lucky turn of a pick. Money—vast sums of it—came into the most inconspicuous hands. A typical story is of an Irish navy—of a sudden made rich past all his compatriots—who came down from the fields, resolved to live a life of pampered luxury for the future. He was going to have, he declared, "bacon and eggs every day for breakfast, and bacon and eggs for gold."

Better stir much, just bite nicely. It is all you can do. Then follow situation, bit his advice. He knows, T.C. Egan & Co., Gold.

Trawling on Labrador.

Letter From Conception Bayman.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Mr. Editor.—We have read with interest the letters of Western Banker in your paper defending his fishery of Labrador, and do not see any points to commend him. In the first place the rules and regulations governing the Labrador fishery forbid trawling up till the 15th day of August. Now, fishermen, what is this for but in the interest of the fishery, and I consider it rightly too. Isn't it just as well to go to bed as fish a trap on the West Coast where trawling was allowed for years? But if our lawmakers think that trawling is over the 15th day of August, they make a big mistake, as now traps are rarely taken up before the first day of September, and are in many cases left out till the middle of September if anything is to be had. Now the last 3 or 4 years our friends, the bankers, have come along. First he was satisfied to work off, but now lately he has been invading the very trap grounds, setting gear on the back of traps that are set from island rocks and along shore.

In the second place, where is our fall fishery? Since the failure of the herring fishery our people have been getting salt squid from home, when procurable, to prosecute this fishery; but now, here comes along the banker with his fresh bait nicely iced down, sets his trawls along our favorite banks, just because they are nice and handy, whereas in his clipper schooner he could just as well go off. What is the result? What is the good of any man going fishing on salt bait when he has to throw his hook down amongst trawls baited with fresh? Unhappily this frozen bait is unavailable to our fishermen. Everybody knows it is useless to fish with salt bait when the ground is baited with fresh, as the man with salt bait will do nothing. The result is that after several futile attempts he gives it up and looks for the first chance home, hoping for work on Bell Island, Sydney or elsewhere.

Where in years past the fall fishery of Labrador was equal to the summer, now it is threatened with extinction. Mr. Editor, we have no one to work this fishery, as men will not go to have to depend on the few short weeks of trapping alone.

Our friend, the Banker, says we have no Government who will stop a fisherman from getting what fish he can. No, sir; no Government will do that, but a Government will preserve its fisheries for its people, and not allow its people to be driven off the Labrador or any other grounds for the sake of a few, during their harvest season—by people who at that time of the year have their good wages made, as our Western Banker starts his season the end of March, and by the middle of August, it fortunate at all, have made good. Then they attack our grounds, which are just commencing, as Mr. Editor, I was on the southern part of Labrador this past season and I did not see one codfish or caplin before the 20th day of July; and, say just ten days after this, our Grand bankers are looking at us and fitting out with their frozen squid, with their good wages already on the merchant's books. I and my chums having to give up early in September, whereas of old, if unbattered in our calling, for our boat we would be hauling for 120 to 130 qts. more.

Now, Mr. Editor, we would call on our people to rise and protest and forward petitions to their members to prohibit this trawling till, say, the last day of October in any year. I am sure that the Government will see fair play for everybody.

Yours truly,
CONCEPTION BAY MAN.
Brigus, Dec. 28th, 1909.

IN MEMORIAM.

MICHAEL J. DOOLEY.

We mourn the heart, that's ceased to beat,
Whose every throb was friendship true,
The genial voice that ours would greet,
The firm and faithful hand clasped too!

The friendly eyes, that to our own,
Shall flash sincerity no more,
Until, beneath the Great White Throne,
We meet on God's eternal shore.

The flag's half mast he loved so well,
And served with manhood's vigorous true,
Of his whole life, its letters tell,
Benevolent and Irish, too!

Let Terra Nova's turrell light
Above the breast that loved it so,
And let that turf kept green and bright
By friendship's tears that long shall flow.

Columbus from his Table Round,
Hath lost a gallant Belvedere,
Whose zeal would never know the bound
Of selfish thought nor sordid fear;

A knightly man, who towards the weak
Was gentle even as a child, Whose sympathy, the poor might seek,
So gracious was he, and so mild.

To her, whose woe is past belief,
For little children's sobbing tears,
For father mother's quiet grief,
We'll pray throughout the coming years

That God may from His Mercy's Fount,
Dry tears that all unbid shall start,
And grant Him what upon the Mount
He promised to the clean of heart.

A Close Call.

By the Prospero we learn that at Conche about two weeks ago a man had a very narrow escape from being killed by a companion who with the other was out shooting birds in a boat off that place. One of the men was in the bow of the boat and the other in the stern. The man in the bow after loading his gun had a box of caps in his hand and was in the act of putting a cap on the nipple of the piece which he handled when his comrade brought his gun to the sight, on seeing a flock of birds, the trigger snapped and the whole charge went towards the man in the bow. The leaden missiles whistled past his face with the explosion of the gun and took the box of caps out of his hand. How some of the shot did not strike him is a mystery. The men each received a terrible fright and needless to say no more gunning was done that day.

Tragedy at Griguet.

By the Prospero we learn that a terrible tragedy occurred last week at Griguet, the victim being a man named Boone of that place. He with another man was out gunning, Boone sitting forward in the punt which they held. His gun rested on the thwart, and seeing a flock of birds he reached for it. The gun was cocked and charged with heavy shot and ready for instant use when the man drew it quickly towards him. In his excitement at seeing the birds close by he momentarily forgot that the trigger was caught in his hand and forward, and the gun exploding sent the whole load into his abdomen. Blood spurted everywhere around the little craft, and his friend on board will never forget the occurrence. They were not far off the place, and the other man seeing that to reach land was his only hope of helping his friend, rowed with might and main to the place. Blood-letting and unconscious Boone lay in the bottom of the boat, and on arrival willing hands bore him to his home where he died in less than a half hour. The poor fellow sustained terrible injuries. The bowels were torn with the shot and it was a surprise that he lived to be brought home. He left a wife and 6 children, and it is said they are not in the best of circumstances either. The people of the place were appalled at the accident.

Al. Marx Exhibition.

Mr. Al Marx, the strong man, will give another exhibition of his wonderful physical prowess in the British Hall to-night. There are thousands in the city who have not seen this man do wonderful feats; and now that the stores are closed none should miss seeing him. His two little girls are wonders. They do the most surprising tricks, and the oldest is a contortionist like of which has not been seen here since "Prince Pharaoh" performed with Baird's Minstrels in St. John's. The trick dogs dancing, turning the rope and skipping make the most staid laugh, and two hours of splendid entertainment will be afforded at popular prices.

Rheumatism and Kidney Troubles

ARE QUICKLY, SURELY "FATHER MORRISCY'S No. 7."

It is doubtful if any other form of disease causes so much acute suffering as does Kidney Trouble, with the Rheumatism which results from it. In treating the sick of his parish Father Morriscy soon found this out, and he set himself at once to find a safe and certain remedy.

He succeeded, and has left us a prescription, known as "Father Morriscy's No. 7," which has already relieved and cured thousands.

The Kidneys have been called the "sewers" of the body. Their work is to take out of the blood the worn out tissue and other impurities which it gathers up from different parts of the body. When the Kidneys get sluggish, and fail to do their work, the blood gets loaded with these impurities, which form Uric Acid—a most irritating poison.

This Uric Acid is deposited in the joints, the muscular tissue, and in the valves of the heart, causing agony in every movement,—in short, Rheumatism.

"Father Morriscy's No. 7" begins by toning up and stimulating the sluggish Kidneys to clear themselves of the accumulated poison. When they once get working properly, they soon filter out the Uric Acid from the blood—the whole system is cleared of it—the joints limber up—and the Rheumatism is cured.

FATHER MORRISCY MEDICINE CO., LTD.
Two years ago I was that with Kidney Trouble that six hospital doctors told me that it was not possible for me to live. I was bloated so that I could scarcely walk, my usual weight being one hundred and ninety pounds and I was bloated so as I weighed two hundred and thirty. I went to see Father Morriscy and after using his medicine for eight days I went to work and have been at work ever since, and I am glad to say that at present I am in perfect health.

Respectfully,—DAVID FAHEY.

I can testify to the benefit derived from Father Morriscy's cure for Bronchial Trouble.

For some time I was a sufferer from this trouble, and could get no relief from it, until I used his medicine prescribed.

On taking Father Morriscy's medicine, to my surprise I began to improve, and was completely cured.

YOU CAN STOP THAT COUGH

WITH FATHER MORRISCY'S "No. 10."

If every cough had been treated in time, with "Father Morriscy's No. 10" (Lung Tonic), many a man and woman, now under the sod, would still be in the full vigor of life.

"No. 10" is an absolutely harmless preparation of Roots, Herbs and Balsams, without a trace of Opium, Morphine, or any such drug—which with so many cough medicines are loaded. It promptly clears the air passages and lungs—stops the cough and inflammation—and rebuilds and strengthens the delicate cells and membranes, so that they can resist future attacks. It's a real Lung Tonic.

FATHER MORRISCY MEDICINE CO., LTD.

During the Fall of 1906 I contracted a Severe Cold which settled upon my Lungs. After being treated by two Physicians of high standing my condition was not any better, but in fact getting worse.

My friends began to have serious doubts about my recovery. I had heard of Father Morriscy's remarkable career as a medical adviser and wrote to him explaining my case. In a few days I received an encouraging letter from him, and some of his "Lung Tonic," and immediately I began to improve, gaining fourteen pounds in two months.

I am, Yours sincerely,—ANNIE McDONALD.

These are exactly the same remedies as were prescribed by Father Morriscy himself. They are put up by the same druggists, from the original prescriptions left by the priest-physician. ACHES AND PAINS DISAPPEAR

BEFORE FATHER MORRISCY'S LINIMENT.

Pains and aches, due to accident or disease, are all too common in every family, and there is a vast amount of needless suffering among those who do not know Father Morriscy's Liniment.

Father Morriscy prescribed this Liniment regularly in his practice, and with most satisfactory results. It is mild and pleasant to use, yet most effective in getting right in to the seat of the trouble and curing it.

It makes a splendid rubbing Liniment, as it makes the skin very soft and smooth, and does not blister. Moreover, it feels and smells clean. In Rheumatism it gives valuable assistance to the "No. 7" prescription in promptly relieving the pain.

In Sore Throat and Cold in the Chest, the Liniment, well rubbed in, with a few drops more applied on a piece of flannel wrung out of hot water, will help "No. 10" (taken internally) to break up the cold and stop the cough.

For Backache, Toothache, Earache, Sprains, Strains, Sore Muscles, Chapped Hands or Chilblains, Burns or Frost Bites, Cuts or Bruises, Father Morriscy's Liniment gives quick and certain relief.

The GOLD HUNTERS.

A Sketch of the Australian Prospector—Hardy and Hopeful.

Very typical of Australia is the gold prospector—hardy, hopeful, a good deal of a gambler, and always ready to play dice against fate, with his own life at stake.

It was in 1851 that the gold magnet first began to draw men to Australia. The first fields were around Bathurst, N.S.W. But soon the discoveries around Ballarat and Bendigo, in Victoria, eclipsed all others, and the settlement at Melbourne became the port of entry into Australia for all the adventurers of the earth.

Wild beyond imagining were the scenes of those days. A stream composed of all the elements of our humanity poured to the fields. Such men as the late Lord Salisbury jostled side by side with wild cow-boys from Western America, deserting sailors from foreign ships, doctors, barristers, "young sons," workers of all sorts, and a goodly portion of Main ruffians. The story was that gold was to be picked up in the fields as stones might be in England.

Certainly fortunes were often made by the lucky turn of a pick. Money—vast sums of it—came into the most incongruous hands. A typical story is of an Irish navy—of a sudden made rich past all his computing—who came down from the fields, resolved to live a life of pampered luxury for the future. He was going to have, he declared, "bacon and eggs every day for breakfast, and bacon and eggs for dinner, and, by gosh, bacon and eggs for tea!"

It was into such strange hands that fortunes fell.

The money made by the diggers themselves seldom remained long with them. What had come quickly went quickly. In the true digger's blood the gold fever always burned. He made wealth, spent wealth, and was then again out "prospecting" for more gold.

It is characteristic of the most typical Australian gold-miner that he hates to work for wages. He likes "to be his own boss," will prefer to work on some little claim of his own, making enough to keep him in food, or less, rather than to accept high wages from an employer. He always cherishes the hope of "striking it rich" once again.

Prospecting still goes on in most of the Australian states, and there is no doubt at all that big discoveries are yet to be made. The Northern Territory, which is yet unexplored, except in the most casual way, will probably be the site of the next great gold discoveries in Australia. The country is known to be mineral-bearing, and around Port Darwin gold has been already discovered. Once the news goes around of a big alluvial find, and the story of Soles of Bendigo, of Coolgardie will be repeated, and from all quarters will stream the prospectors, eager on the trail of the gold.

Your Liver

Better stir up your liver a little! Not too much, just a little, just enough to start the bile nicely. One of Ayer's Pills at bedtime is all you need. These pills act directly on the liver. Made for the treatment of constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick-headache. Sold for over 60 years.

Ask your doctor if he knows a better pill for a sluggish liver. Then follow his advice. He knows. J.C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Parades Saturday.

NFLD. BRITISH SOCIETY.

Headed by the C.L.B. band the Nfld. British Society paraded on New Year's morning. The weather and walking being favorable there was a large gathering of the members. Leaving their hall at 9:30 the Society marched up Prescott Street, down Military Road and on to Government House. The President, Mr. A. H. Martin, on behalf of the Society tendered the greetings of the N. B. S. to His Excellency as the representative of His Majesty the King. He also tendered a welcome to Sir Ralph and Lady Williams, and hoped that they stay in Newfoundland would be a happy one. At the close of his address Mr. Martin called for cheers for the King, which were given with a will, as also were cheers for the Royal Family and His Excellency and Lady Williams. The Governor in reply said that it was a great pleasure to him to receive such a fine body as the British Society. He tendered them his sincere thanks on behalf of the King. His Excellency was pleased to know that the members and the excellent work that was being done. He was deeply gratified for the kind sentiments expressed towards himself and family. The officers were then entertained by His Excellency, after which they formed up ranks and proceeded along King's Bridge Road, Military Road and New Gower Street to Casey Street, where they attended Divine service at St. Michael's Church. Rev. J. Brinton, the pastor, preached a very impressive sermon suitable to the occasion. The Society then marched back to their hall.

L. O. A. PARADE.

About 300 members of the L. O. A. Lodges paraded on New Year's Day. At 9:30 they left Victoria Hall, and headed by the M.G. band marched to Government House by way of Queen's Road, where the Society through Hon. D. Morrison paid their respects to His Excellency the Governor as the representative of His Majesty the King. Mr. Morrison also tendered the loyal sentiments of the body, and in welcoming Sir Ralph and Lady Williams wished them a happy New Year. His Excellency made a suitable reply. The Society having lined up again marched to service at the Congregational Church, where Rev. Mr. Thackeray delivered an appropriate sermon. The Society marched back to the hall at 1 p.m., having had a very successful parade.

T. A. & B. SOCIETY.

The Total Abstinence and Benefit Society had their annual parade yesterday. They left their hall at 9:30 and marched to Patrick's Street, headed by the Mount Cashel band. The Society followed the route along McBride's Hill and up Water Street, returning by way of New Gower Street and Theatre Hill and thence on to the R. C. Cathedral, where they attended High Mass at 11 a.m. The T. A. band, the C.C.C. also accompanied the Society and played in turns appropriate selections on the march. After Mass the Society called on His Grace the Archbishop and tendered their respects through the President, Mr. W. J. Ellis, and wished him a happy and prosperous New Year. The Archbishop made a suitable reply and reciprocated the good wishes of the Society as expressed by the President. Mr. Rev. Mons. Roche also made a short speech, congratulating the Society. After leaving the Episcopal Library, the Society marched to Government House, where President Ellis in a suitable speech tendered the Society's sentiments of respect and loyalty to His Majesty the King and His Excellency the Governor. The Governor made a very happy reply and warmly thanked the Society for the expressions of loyalty to the King. After the officers had been given for His Majesty, the Royal Family and the Governor, the Society marched back to their hall.

Vessels Arrive.

BARQT. LADY NAPIER.

The barqt. Lady Napier arrived here New Year's Day from Macleod after a stormy passage of 45 days. Leaving there early in November she had very rough weather nearly all through the voyage, and she was badly yanked Thursday night. One huge comb struck her when the storm was at its height, carrying away her jib boom and she had to be carefully handled to avoid other and more serious damage. The vessel is in ballast to Croebie & Co.

SCHR. GOLDEN HIND.

The schr. Golden Hind arrived here just before the storm had yesterday after a run of 44 days from Pernambuco. She had fine weather on the run until about 10 days ago, when off this coast. She had a succession of storms with high seas, and in the storm of Thursday night last she lay to about 30 miles off Cape Race. The bosun was hurt on the voyage up and will be sent to hospital.

BRIGT. ROSINA.

The brigt. Rosina, Capt. Dillon, 43 days from Macleod, reached here yesterday. She, too, had very bad weather and she was knocking about on the coast for over a week. She was about 60 miles off Cape Race when she encountered the storm of Thursday night and had to lay to, making a leeway of about 30 miles. The vessel came through without mishap. The captain and crew are all well.

C. M. B. C.

Dr. Grenfell attended the C. M. B. C. meeting at the Synod Building yesterday and delivered a stirring address to a crowded lecture room. Rev. J. J. Bell presided, and after wishing the members a happy New Year introduced Dr. Grenfell, to whose visit a year ago he referred and also his intention of raising $75,000 to build a new Fishermen's Home in the city, a sum which since had been successfully raised. Dr. Grenfell delivered a forcible address and gave his experiences in Canada and the States and the many successful meetings he had held. The British Ambassador had presided at the meeting in Washington. After describing the kind of building that they intended to erect on Water Street, he alluded to the recent efforts of the temperance people to carry local option in this city, a movement which he was pleased to find that Rev. Mr. Bell and some of the Bible Class were closely identified with. He believed that local option would yet be carried in the city. A vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. Grenfell by the Bible Class after the address.

Seals at St. Anthony.

The Prospero reports the appearance of seals at St. Anthony and neighbourhood last week, nets were hastily put out and 4 or 5 were captured, but no great number were seen in the waters about. In Conche a few were also secured in nets, and to see them come along thus early it is hoped will presage a good seal fishery for the sealing ships.

Fog, while dense fog prevailed and the ship had to run at very slow speed. She remained at the latter port until 7 a.m. Friday owing to the thick weather, and then went to Seldom, which she left at 9 a.m. During her stay in Seldom a snow storm sprung up, which increased in severity, and the ship had not long left that place when she was forced to retreat. About 12:30 a.m. it cleared, and she had fairly fine weather to Greensport, Savage and King's Cove, but a heavy sea raged right along the coast. The ship remained in Bonavista until 4 a.m. Saturday, thence proceeded to Catalina and Trinity, and had a splendid run across to Old Perlew, and thence made a record run of four hours to St. John's. The ship brought a two-thirds cargo of fish, oil and herring and the following passengers: Messrs. Boyde, Strong, Thielle, Rowell, Barnes, Howard, LeDrew, Martin, Oswald, Hodder, Foley, Howlett, Gillett, Peterson, Winsor, House, Burden, McCreath, Fitzgerald, McKnight, McNally, Solars, Kean, O'Neil, House, Dicks, Hall, Christian, Coombs; Mrs. White; Misses Vaucher, Taylor, Pike, DeJonckere, Perry, Gill, Thompson, Snelgrove, Ryan, Bailey, Maidment, Collins and 68 stevedores.

Ville Wines.

IN FRANCE.

The non-alcoholic wine industry of the de-la-Ville has prospered sufficiently to call for the formation of a limited liability company, with a membership of fifty and a capital of $25,000.

It was only last spring that this course was decided upon, and the first step taken for securing an adequate plant. Only a few months were available before the vintage. Yet during that time, owing to the uttering energy displayed, the necessary machinery was devised and built, important industrial premises were erected, and last, but not least, a competent staff was formed and taught the many secrets and tones de main of the new, or shall we call it the converted Trade, with a capital T.

A perfect product and an artistic get-up—these have been the watchwords of Messrs. Peyron and their friends, and in order to attain perfection neither pains nor money have been spared. Anyone caring to write for a free sample to Messrs. Ingersoll and Melluish, 49, Botolph House, Eastcheap, London, E.C. (mentioning name of procer and enclosing four stamps for postage and packing) will be able to judge for himself of the measure of success with which these distinguishing qualities have been secured.

If now rests with the vast army of Temperance friends on the one side, and the advocates of natural food and drink on the other, to help to make this undertaking the success it certainly ought to be.
