The Archbishop by Walsh's -letter to Pigott, part of which was read yestereday, was read in extenso. The Archbishop is was in view of the Archbishop is was in view of statement of the Pigott and declined to employe from Houston. Witness' other work had been systematic lying concerning the Nationalist catiss. The witness now admitted receiving this letter. He said that when he wrote to the Archbishop is was it very distressed crucimstances owing to having received no money from Houston. Witness' other work had been neglected and lost. He therefore wrote to Archbishop Walsh hoping he would submit the mister to the Parnellite members of Parlament and induce them to provide witness' file was not asked a private to the part of the Witness was startled when the letters ap-peared in The Times and considered it a breach of faith. He wrote to Houston strong-ly protesting against their publication. Sir Charles denianded that the letters be produced. Houston here said he had forgotten receiving Charles denianged that the receiving it.

On being pressed Pigott exclaimed: "I may say at once that the statements I made to Archbishop Walsh were unfounded." This statement produced a sensation.

Sir Charles: "You deliberately wrote lies?" Witness: "Well, exaggerations."

Sir Charles: "Did the exaggerations have no truth?"

Witness: "Very little. [Laughter.] I forget what I meant when I wrote to Archbishop Walsh that the charges were a mixture of what I believed to be true and untrue."

Witness said he knew criminal proceedings were projected when he wrote saying he could nullify them by exposing the discreditable means by which it was sought to institute proceedings. He could not say what the proceedings were to be taken for. He imagined they were for complicity in the Phoenix Park murders, but there was no foundation for the attenuent. Witness again wrote to Archbishop Walsh on Mav I offering to furnish further information. In reply the Archbishop said: "Innderstand you are anxious to make a statement to assist the victims of fraud and alander by exposing this fraud and stander. I cannot refuse to accept such a statement fully. I accept your assurance that you took no part in the publication." Witness said he forgot writing the statement.

Otherwise, the public learned nothing of the reasons which were adduced in favor of the passage of the bill until it had become law. The bill was finally passed through its second stage.

The Right to Bring Actions. The discussion to which attached the greatest interest was that on Mr. Whitney's Bill respecting the Action of Seduction when it came up for its second reading. The bill provides:

Any person authorized so to do in writing by my unmarried female who has neither father or mother living, or who has neither father or mother capable of bringing an action for er seduction under this Act, may bring and anintain an action as the master of such un-her seduction under this Act, may bring and maintain an action as the master of such unmarried female, for her seduction; and upon the trial of such action it shall not be necessary to give proof of any act of such service performed by the person seduced, but the same shall in all cases be presumed, and no proof shall be received to the contrary.

The Commissioner of Public Works "sat on" the proposed amendment at once and vigorously. There were too many actions for seduction already, he said, which were quite unwarranted. He concluded by saying emphatically: "I don't think this bill gought to pass its second reading." For a moment there was almost complete silence. Then one of the commissioners, in a low voice, called across the floor of the House to Mr. Whitney: "Withdraw it; withdraw it."

The bill was finally passed through its second reading and referred to a special committee.

To amend the Municipal Act.

When Mr. Ferguson's bill to amend the Municipal Act was reached a good deal of opposition was raised to its second reading. Should this bill become law in all cases where arbitration is directed or permitted, the judge or senior acting judge of a county shall winess the parties interested otherwise agree, be the arbitrator.

Mr. Meredith thought the bill was one of great importance and that it should receive the consideration of the House and Government.

Lodge, A.F. & A.M., and certainly if good music, good dancing and perfect arrangements go to make up the success of an entertainment, the "at home" of last evening was successful in the highest degree. The committee marshalled by W. Master Bro. John Nicholson with Bro. W. R. Gubbert as chairman; Bro. H. Kerrison, secretary; Bro. J. Sawle, treasurer; and Bro. complete silence. Then one of the commissioners, in a low voice, called across the floor of the House to Mr. Whitney: "Withdraw it."

Mr. Whitney got on his feet. He could not, he said, after so decided a condemnation of his measure by a Government member, do otherwise than withdraw the bill. Buthed in the fall back one jot from his original position. It was a very imperfect law that extended protection to one class of women, yet failed to give to that small but unfortunate class the justice which his bill provided. Mr. French also favored the provisions of the bill.

Mr. Meedtith was a strong supporter of the measure. If a wrong had been committed the wrongdoer should be pumphed. "There is," he continued, "unfortunately a class of men in the consumuity who need such a stringent measure. I say this bill ought togo to a committee, in order to see if this particular grisvance cannot be met." An effort, he concluded, should be made to meet this pulpable wrong and injustice.

By this time the importance of the measure under discussion was so evident that the Attorney-General deemed it advisable to express an opinion.

He thought that a new bill should be framed. The present one was too general it is character. "I do not think," Mr. Mowat continued, "that a fare-mouth, however, that remedy through civil proceedings had gone quite fare-mouth, however, that remedy through civil proceedings had gone quite fare-mouth, however, that remedy through civil proceedings had gone quite fare-mouth, however, that remedy through civil proceedings had gone quite fare-mouth, however, that remedy through civil proceedings had gone quite fare-mouth, however, that remedy through civil proceedings had gone quite fare-mouth. The lecture was thoroughly appreciated and a cordial vote of thanks, moved by Mr. Manley, was heartily voted Mr. Bengough.

We have crowded the last together as much as a regard for their applications on hand and more coming in every day from the city and the country, we have been compelled to close our doors. We have done all we can and have undertaken heavy financial responsibilities in erecting the buildings and providing for the proper maintenance of over one hundred boys.

The crying need of the school is evidenced by the number of applications pouring in. Its efficiency has been shown by the improvement of the boys under our control; but we cannot under present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, more-present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which we cann of the boys under our control; but we cannot under present circumstances proceed with the erection of another cottage, which would, moreover, accommodate only 60 of the 70 present applicants. We can only place the responsibility on the people in general.

The case is serious. We realize the hardship that these boys will undergo and we can do nothing. Scores of boys are drifting, through force of circumstances, into a life of idleness, dishonesty, drunkenness and rapine and maybe murder. We can only look on and grieve.

levoted to the consideration of the proposed greement with the Toronto Street Railway Co. and the University lease. Chairman Mc Ald. Crocker, Carlyle (St. Thomas), Fleming, Peter Macdonald, Dodds, Denison, Gillespie, Tokes, the Mayor and City Solicitor

The street car agreement was the first taker up. The Mayor explained that the new ar rangement would save the city the expense of rangement would save the city the expense of heavy law suits and settle long pending disputes between the two corporations.

The Chairman: "I believe the city comes out well, but I frankly confess that I do not believe that we would ever have got these terms if the company's franchise did not call for its expiration in 1891. It feels that it has to do something to molify the public or it would not dare go before the citizens two years hends."

Opening the debate on the address in reply to the Queen's speech Mr. Gladstone said he hoped the Government would enlighten the House regarding affairs in Samoa and Zanzibar at the earliest possible moment. Parliament must be very exacting as regards proof of the necessity of any unusual increase of credits for defence. He said the Government had rendered an elaborate Irish debate inevitable by inserting a sentence in the address implying approval of their Irish policy, which was totally at variance with the views of the Opposition.

The agreement also arranged that, as behereto.

This practically arranged that Toronto should assume the whole drainage debt of Parkdale. Neither the Mayor nor Ald Gillesnie could see any justice to Toronto property owners in this little arrangement, and were a unit in vigorously opposing it. Both councillors, Sinclair and Carlaw, exhausted themselves in subtle arguments in favor of the clause tut the Executive could not be moved from its nosition as outlined by the Mayor. Sheppard has cause for congratulation.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

A slight delay was caused on the G.T.R. resident part of the consideration of the consideratio in the same position as any other ward, but the minority stood out.

The Mayor: "You practically ask us to assume all your debt except that tied up in the sinking faunt. It would be impossible for the Council of Toronto to burden the cisy in this way. We are willing to carry out the spirit of the annexation agreement, but must do justice to the citizens."

Ald. Fleming moved that the committee after having heard the representatives of the town of Parkdale desire to place on record its wish to have the annexation of Parkdale consummated as soon as possible on the terms and conditions voted on by the people of Parkdale and approved of by this committee, and the assimilation of the local improvement system of Parkdale to that of Toronto for the future and give them all the rights and privileges accorded to the citizens of Toronto.

The Polymath on Freemasonry. Dr. Wild lectured last night in Bond-str.

At the regular church meeting of the Western Congregational Church the following were appointed a committee on finance:
H. Staines, S. H. Flask, E. H. Ames, John Lucas, Thomas Coombs, J. A. Troutman, F. Tepper, J. W. Hewitson and W. O. Riddle. Upon organizing they elected H. Staines chairman and S. H. Flask secretary. The treasurer of the church showed a very encouraging report. The congregation has increased very much and the receipts are double what they were in the old church. Pastor McGregor will preach to-morrow night on "Protestantism and Roman Catholicism Contrasted."

The following Report was submitted:
EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT AND STATEMENTS OF ACCOUNT FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 1888.

To the Shareholders of the Ontario Industical Loan, and Investment Company:

Your Directors have much pleasure in laying in referor you their Eighth Annual Report, showing the results of the business of the Company for the year 1888, also the Financial Statements duly verified.

There was paid in on Capital Stock account as 31st December, $310,581.58.

The amount actually invested in Real Estate owned by the Company and held for sale or as rent-bearing investments will be seen to be $456,645.32—about the same as last year, the sales made during the year having been of offset by additional purchases and the development of the Company's property in Lombard. Street and elsewhere, through the several fine buildings which are being well ast year of $53,568.11, and the item $7995.77. Loans on other securities show a reduction of $19,259.06.

GENTLEMEN.—We have carefully audited the books and accounts of your Company, and compared vouchers with expenditure for the year ending 31st December, 1888, and have found them correct. We have also had free access to all bonds, mortgages and other securities held by the Company, and have much pleasure in certifying to their accuracy as shown in the Directors' report.

We find $23,000 of the funds (Reserve and Disbursement) invested at 6 per cent., $11,300 at 7 per cent., and all deposits in banks are drawing 4 per cent.

We would also express our approval of the very satisfactory manner in which we find the affairs of the Company.

Following the reading of these reports were congratulatory speeches made by several policy holders present, among whom we mention Rev. Dr. Smyth of Montreal and Mr. Wm. Petley of Toronto.

Most excruciating are the twinges which rack the muscles and joints of the rheumatic. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, by promoting increased action of the kidnoys, by which the blood is more effectually depurated, removes through the natural channels certain acrid elements in the circulation which produce rheumatism and gout. The medicine is also a fine lexative antibilious medicine and general corrective.

Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup stands at the head of the list for all diseases of the throat and lungs. It acts like magic in breaking up a cold. A cough is soon subdued, tightness of the chest is relieved, even the worst case of consumption is relieved, while in recent cases it may be said never to fail. It is a medicine prepared from the active principles or virtues of several medicinal herbs, and can be depended upon for all pulmonary complaints. The Young Toronto's "At Home."

ESIDENCE CENTRE OF TORONTO'S BEST CITIZENS.

A HIGH AND COMMANDING PLATEAU, lying between Rosedale and Deer Park, now presents itself to our people of taste and refinement as a suitable location for elegant homes and charming villas.

THREE MINUTES' WALK FROM YONGE-STREET, along Rose Hill-avenue---which passes Reservoir Park, North Toronto, brings you to the entrance of Moore Park. Formerly a road, winding down, and then up the dell, was the best access. Now, after two years of persevering effort, a handsome high-level Steel Bridge spans this dell, which is designated "Vale of Avoca," and thus at a stroke Toronto is given what is destined to be her most distinguished accession.

distinguished accession. "THE FINEST HIGHWAY VIADUCT IN CANADA"---Is the opinion of an eminent engineer concerning this bridge. Purposely it has been built far stronger and heavier than needful; so as to more than provide for the great traffic of the future. In its construction provision has been made for laying thereon a double line of Street Railway Tracks, which is contemplated at an early day, thus giving Yonge-street connection by Street Railway with the Eastern Junction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which is only a few minutes' walk east of Moore Park.

MOORE PARK:

IT ADJOINS RESERVOIR PARK with its miniature lakes, hanging gardens and terraced walks; and overlooks the entire city and lake front from Scarboro Heights to Mimico. The immediate surroundings are Rosedale, Chestnut Park and Summer-Avoca" and Deer Park on the west nd north, and then with Epring Talley on the east you have a rare tting for a home. Beauty all round and a wide prospect.

THIS PROPERTY, SO HEALTHFUL AND ICTURESQUE in its situation—has been subdivided into choice building lots, with broad streets and avenues. The aim is to make this district conspicuous for well-kept roadways, perfected systems of drainage and water supply, as well as the latest improvements in el. ctric lighting; so that in doors and out, it will be the best lighted lo-cality in ou city. The well-known energy of the owner (J. T. Moore, Esq.) justifies the prediction that he will make it the pride of Toronto.

THE PROJECTED SUBURBAN BELT LINE RAILWAY passes up a pring Valley through this property, promising rapid transitat an early day, which meansthatresidents of Moore Park will reach, by luxurious cars, their places of business in less than half the time required from present uptown streets; and thus revolutionize resi ential ideas. Time saved and solid comfort! fifteen minutes from your breakfast table to your omce!

THE CENTRAL AND CONVENIENT SITUA-TION of Moore Park will be obvious when it is stated that the Metropolitan Street Cars and Omnibus Lines on Yonge-st. are distant only 3 minutes' walk; while 5 minutes' walk down Yonge-st. reaches the Toronto Street Cars, or the Canadian Pacific North Toronto Station. Then to the east, 8 minutes' walk brings one to the new Canadian Pacific Eastern Junction; while two or three minutes will suffice to take one from his own door to the station of the Suburban Belt Line Railway when erected in Spring Valley.

THE NEW UPPER CANADA COLLEGE BUILDINGS having now been placed under contract, their completion is confidently expected before the end of the year. They will be in full view from Moore Park, being only ten minutes' walk distant. The Public School Trustees of a new section embracing Moore Park and Deer Park have just secured a beautiful site fronting on St. Clair-view from Moore Park, being only ten minutes' walk distant. THAT THE PROPOSED SYSTEM OF BOULEVARDS and Park Drives enters Moore Park from the Reservoir Grounds on the south and threads its way through the "Vale of Avoca" may be an interesting feature to some. Others might be glad to lay out some of the nicely wooded lots in park-like surroundings for their homes, affording retired and restful retreats. Visit the place

The SAY FIGHT LEGE that this offering is a real opportunity. Those who grasp the combination of favorable conditions and foresee the certain issue, will do well to act promptly. The possibilities are sufficiently obvious. Nature has done her part well, and soon art and enterprise and architecture will also have done theirs. We repeat, that Moore Park challenges attention by reason of its attractiveness, healthfulness, prominence and accessibility, and we predict that values here will rapidly advance abreast of, and in a little while, beyond those which now prevail in fashionable residential quarters.

THAT A SUBURBAN BELT SYSTEM OF RAPID TRANSIT WILL BRING IN TORONTO, AS IT HAS DONE ELSEWHERE, A PERFECT REVOLUTION IN RESIDENTIAL NOTIONS.

REASONABLE BUILDING RESTRICTIONS WILL BE IMPOSED TO SECURE A GOOD CLASS OF DWELLINGS.

Do you have to have and cough frequently in the effort to clear your throat?

At one time the city was bounded acceptable your sense of taste begonhip. At one time the city was bounded east by the River Don and on the west by the Garrison Creek, at most two miles, but when the limits have been extended far beyond both of these landmarks, until Scarboro has been reached on the east and Etobicoke on the west, and even the Humber is not likely to mark the westerly bound for very long. Alteready the enterprising real estate man has crossed the Humber, and is at the present moment busily engaged in laying out drives and streets and villa and village lots in what is soon to be known as the incorporated village of Mimico, and which promises to be the new Parkdale of the greater city of Toronto.

The New Subarb. Sw the limits have been extended far beyond matative of The World drove out to the new suburb one day this week and found plenty of evidence of the boom which seems subuling off the floor? the new suburb one day this week and found plenty of evidence of the boom which seems to have settled on this new district and which it is proposed to at once have incorporated as a willage. The new municipality will extend from the Humber westward for about a mile and a half and south of the Great Western Railway track. The exact limits will have to be fixed on when the petitions are put in and the municipality organised. This area embraces a lot of splendid building sites, a magnificent piece of beach on the lake front and any number of sopportunities for laying out beautiful drives. The Mimico River, which is parallel with the Humber and three-quarters of a mile west of it, runs through this section. At present Mimico has an Episcopal Church, a Methodist Church, both of which are to be immediately rebuilt, a good school bouse, a large boarding house, a new railway station, and is badly in need of a first-class hotel. A large number of new dwellings were put up last summer and these are to be greatly increased in number during the coming season, including a Presbyterian church. The Ontario Government have begun the expenditure of $300,000 or more in the exception and is the present western terminus of the Grand Trunk's suburban train service.

What then are the features which have in-

Its Railway Facilities.
First, that of accessibility. Already the problem of rapid transit between Mimico and the centre of Toronto has been settled, and it is now possible to go from any of the houses in the centre of Toronto in twenty innutes or less, with the choice of 15 or 20 trains each way daily, and the prospect of that number being largely augmented in the near future. The track of the Great Western runs from Union Station through Parkdale, High Park, Windermere, Humber and Mimico, and the authorities of the road have already in view the extension of the double track from Exhibition Park westwardly to Mimico, and the erection of a new bridge over the Humber, which would give a good, safe and very speedy mode of travel between Mimico and the centre of the city. A still further improvement is the probable early construction of a Grand Trunk loop has from Minico to Weston, and then along the northern boundary of Toronte acceled the contraction of the form of the contraction of the centre of Toronto has been settled, and it. Weston, and then along the northern boundary of Toronto parallel with the C.P.R., to dary of Toronto parallel with sthe C.P.R. to Little York, relieving the lines along the water front as much as possible of through traffic. With this done the Grand Trink will be free to run a double track suburban service from Victoria Park to Mimico. And there is the immediate prospect of the construction of the Niagars Central and the C.P.R. extension to the Niagars River. These two roads may be consolidated, but certainly one of them will be built immediately right through Mimico and along the lake shore to Union Station, making a competing line with the Great Western. But even as things are the question of rapid transit, as has been already stated, is settled; and there is less difficulty in getting from Mimico to the centre from many of the northerly, northwesterly and northeasterly sections of the city, which are merely dependent on the street carservice. The railway service is not only more rapid than the street cars, but it is cheaper, cleaner, warmer and more reliable.

Other Advantages The next great feature of Mimico is that it is right on the lake front, occupying one of the most delightful situations which command the blue waters of Ontario. From the mouth of the Minico river westerly there is a magnificent beach and already a driveway has been planned along it, forming, as it were, an extension of the lake shore road. The view of the lake, of Hunber Bay, the Island, the city, from Minico is a glorious sight by night or day.

supply, which can be made of the most ample character at a very small expense for pumping engines and street mains. The water is of the purest quality.

The next feature is that of drainage. The next feature is that of drainage. The new district slopes gradually down to the lake and no trouble need be found in constructing the necessary sewers and securing for them a satisfactory full.

Still snother teature is that the new musi-Still another feature is that the new muni-cipality is within half a mile of High Park, which is stready in the way of becoming one of the finest public resorts owned by any city on the confinent

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Does your nose always feel stopped up, forcing you to breathe through your mouth?

Are you generally short of breath, and do you breaths with labor and difficulty?

The above are some of the many symptoms by which Catarrh may be known.

Probably not one case in a hundred will have them all, but every case will show more or less of the symptoms. The more of them you have the more serious your trouble, and the more urgent the necessity for a speedy treatment with NASAL BALM, and a constant use of it until a complete cure is effected.

NAUSEOUS DROPPINGS.—Mr. James G. wa, says:—I am pleased to state that the NASAL BALM has already relieved my catarrh to a very great extent. I have not used one bettle, but the nauseous droppings from the head into the throat have almost ceased. I have not used one bottle, but the nauseous droppings from the head into the throat have almost ceased. I breathe easy now; get better sleep, and altogether feel and appreciate the wonderful virtue of the BALM. Its merits cannot possibly be exaggerated for catarrhal treubles, and as a cure I believe it to be ware, McIntosh's Mills, Ont., says:—NASAL BALM completely cured me of a case of catarrh from which I had suffered for over ten years. It cannot be too high-ly recommended, and should be used by overyone croubled with catarrh. It is one of the wonders of science.

UNPLEASANT ODORS—E. A. Cardlant,
—After ineffectually trying many of the so-called remedies for catarry, I made a trial of NASAL BALM, which gave me instant relief, and since commoncing its use itality uses the beneficial changes it is producing after a few applications. It changes the unpleasant odor of the virus in the throat and the poisonous secretions over which every breath must pass. To any fines troubled it is a priceless medicine.

SUFFERED SEVERELY -- Mr. Thoma-Roche, Roche, Roche

STOPPED MY COUGH—Mr. Hadle, Down, Hensul Ont., says:—Your NASAL BALM has done me more good than all other romedies I ever tried. My case i one of the worst kind but BALM has helped me from the start. It has stopped my cough and relieved me of all the unplensant sensations accompanying the disease. I am confident of a thorough cure, and I know a number of others in this section who have all been cured of catarrh by NASAL BALM.

CATARRHAL HEADACHE. Wm. H. Sharp, and the being me wonderfully, although I have been using it but a very short time. It speedly cleared out the head and stopped the disagreeable droppings into the throat. For some time lihave suffered severely from cutarrhal headache, NASAL BALM has removed every trace of it. I have every confidence in its completely cutring me. It is deserving of all you claims for pletely cutring me. It is deserving of all you claims for lit. "A Positive Cure for Catarrh. Easy and Pleasant to use." I hope it will soon be for sale in every town and village in Manitoba.

Mary J. Little of Muscotah, Kansas, says: I am pleaser to say your NASAL BALM has wonderfully helped me, although I have not yet used one bottle. The numerous droppings from the head into the thront have ceased, I breathe easier, sleep better, and altogether feel a new person. I am glad to offer my testimony for the bonefit of others afflicted with catarrh.

EFFEGT ON BREATH WONDERFUL.

Miss addie Howison of Brockville, Ont., says: I had catarth for years, my soad was stopped up, I could not breathe through my nostrils. My breath was yor impure and continually so. Nothing I could get gave me any relief until, using NASAL BALM. From the yery-first it gave me relief and in a very short tin chad removed the accumulations so that I could breathe freely through the nostrils. Its effect on my broati was truly wonderful, purifying and removing every vestigo of the unpleasant odor, which has never returned.

A CURE IN THE WORST CASE.

Alex. Burns, Sudbury, Ont., says: I may atute that I have been affected with catarrh for seven or eight years, and it was attended by consequent symptom such as foul breath, constant dropping into the throat, hawking and spitting, partial deaffaces, ringing in the cars and alekeming pains in the head directly over either eye. I have used powders and douches, but all to no effect, the only resultarising from the use of such being temporary relief followed by the usual symptoms in a more aggravatoriform, The results arising from the use of NASAI BALM are: Sweet breath, stoppage of the droppings into the throat (consequently less hawking and spitting), dearness of hearing, and not once since 1 began its use have I had pain in the lead. In fact it is my opinion that a careful and persistent use of the BALM will effect a careful in the worst case of catarrh.

John Brady's Experience,
From Toronto "Life."

The note from Kurtz reached Brady about five o'clock in the afternoon. He was hard at work at the time, and thrust it into his pocket.

on the stairs and floor; in his head was the sound of rushing waters, mingled with explosions that seemed like thunder bursts.

This was the end of it all, then! Ruin and disgrace had overtaken him at last. To morrow all the world would know of his crime; some would pity, others scorn him; some would put themselves in his place and realize how great his temptation was; others would simply inoralize in the old puritancial way and point to him as another instance of that vaulting ambition which overleaps itself and brings behind it financial and moral destruction. It was curious, but for those first few moments dropped three points.

For one awful minema Braty's head seemed bursting. The vare building resisted; the wals to make states and floor; in his head was to be sound. Or rushing waters, mingled with explosions that segmed like thunder bursts.

This was the end of it is, these I fluid and all the world would know of his crimes and all the world would know of his crimes and all the world would know of his crimes and the temptation, was others would simply the temptation, was others would simply to be an author. Ven wy shoulds ma ama.

If trystsypere?"

Another voice sounded clearly within, but that one sang a wordless fullaby, "sh-shing to sleep a gurding taby; and either the coo nor the lullaby struck a false note against the shrilling song of the theologicality-minded little musician, who piped on gloriously.

John Brady stuped over the threshold of his home on tip-tee. Nobody from within had seen him yet. They would not expect him for another hour. As a general thing it was after seven o'clock when he got back from the store; now it was soarcely six. A child's tin horse, without a head, stood in the entry and trundled about when his foot hit it.

The little tinkling noise betrayed his presence, and the lullaby in the inner room ceased abruptly. A woman's voice said:

"The we, said John. He hang his hat and coat up and stood hesitating. The little boy was singing with piercing shrillness:

"Why shoulds ma-a-ma, It twy alsy pres?

My omeizzen Ye-ey.—"

"'Sh-sh, Tominy," interrupted the woman's voice, dropping on meanwhile contentedly into her lullaby. "Go see who that is in the entry. Tommy. Sh-sh-sh-h, my dear. Lie still and salumber?"

Tommy Chesked himself in the midst of his beligious aspirations and run out to the door.

slumber!"
Tommy checked himself in the midst of his religious aspirations and run out to the door, where he stood pecring—a pleasant little rogue, well built and sturdy. He had on a blue jersey suit and had been eating gingerbread, Tommy said:

wen built and sturdy. The had on a once jersey suit and had been eating gingerbread. Tommy said:

"Wy, it's pupper!" with the eternal surprise of childhood to which all things are forever new. His father pated him on the head, picked him up in his strong arms and kissed him—once, twice, the mother crooned on the gurgling baby; John Brady put the child on the floor again, leaving a wet spot glistening on his cheek.

short, and the woman's voice said;
"Wily, John!"
He flushed and came back again. As he entered the room details blurred and slipped away before his eyes. The first fading light was still quivering in the corner of the room where the mother sat with their child. The child was still cooling and gurgling, kicking its fat little legs about in her long maternal arms. The light blinded her a little, and she moved out of it, holding up her face like a Madonna to the Lord. John kissed her with silent reverence.

ont of it, nothing up nor race like a mindoma to the Lord. John kissed her with silent reverence.

"You are home early to night, dear," she said.

"Yee, I—I didn't feel very well. I came home early. I want to go and lie down, dear. Don't let me be disturbed. I don't want any dinner. I have a headache."

She looked at him curiously, but said nothing. He passed out in silence, and went up stairs to the room he called his study—a small, cosy den in the front of the house, with a couple of easy chairs, a sofa, a writing table, and a few books and pictures in it.

He pushed the door half to, and threw himself down heavily on the lounge. The light had quite faded now. The street lamps were shining. In the cobalt sky a leach of stars glowed golden. He looked about the little noom, which, through the use of years, had become part of his life. He wondered if he should ever occupy it again. What would they do with him to-morrow? Arrest him and send him to jail, he supposed. Well, it was bui just. He had sinned; he must be punished. There was no help for it now. It was hard on Martha and the children, but he should have thought of that before. The innocent would suffer for the guilty again—just as they had ever since the world was made; just as they would until its end He saw his wife slighted, his children scorned. He saw the woman he had sworn to love and cherish struggling on alone and friendless, clinging to a burdensome existence for the sake of the children. He pictured the grief, the agony, the despair his crime would bring into his home on the morrow. And they had been so proud of him, so faithful and true a helpmate, so tender and considerate.

And now he had come home to her a ruined man; to-morrow he would be disgraced.

In this self-criticism he did not spare himself in the least. He was not a bad man at heart, this John Brady. He was weak, "pitfully yweak, and when tempation assaided him through the guise of a glib-tongued stock broker, he had not the moral courage to resist. He shivered now when he thought o

Tommy struck up his song again:

"My omeizzen Ye ev ing, my Resizzenere, Ven, wy should a ma-a-ma? If twyaisypere?" As the childish voice floated up to him, John and fell on his knees and prayed long and rnestly, and the burden of his prayer was: jod have mercy on Martha and the little les."

"God have mercy on Martha and the little ones."

The evening wore away. Huston, who worked down town in the Bon Marche dry goods house and boarded with him, came in and had his dinae. Huston was tired, and went to bed shortly after. Brady heard Martha taking the children to bed, and he tip-toed noiselessly down to the sitting boom. The baby woke and cried faintly, but Martha had a way with the child, and its sobs soon relaxed into a gurgle. Then it coosed softly, laughed and gurgled off to sleep again.

He stood in the sitting room help-lessly. He thought of little things. He remembered his young days when he courted Martha, He recalled all her gracious, tender ways, her honest, consistent purpose. His thought traveled back through his years of married life. He remembered the little mound in the churchyard where their first child slept; the day they laid her there; the return to the desolate home: the days of sailness which followed, and the happiness of later years. How peaceful and tender his home life had been, and now—now—.

He stretched his arms with one mighty, pathetic gesture above his head. The awful power of a human home was on him: he felt as helpless before it as the child in the cradle. His soul shot out tendrils everywhere. He could have clapsed and kissed the tall rocking-chair, the baby's sock, that had fallen benerth to the general said that had stood before his wife's sewing chair, the soraps of her work scattered

Then the mother took up the words of the old work at the time, and thrust it into his pocket.

A few moments after he remembered it and tore it open hurriedly. It was written on Olding's paper—Olding & Co., stock brokers.
There was simply the one line in it: "Wheat dropped three points."

For one anviul moment Brady's head seemed bursting. The vas) building reeled; the walls staggered; his fellow-clerks danced wild capers on the stairs and floor: in his head was the "Wy should ma-a-ma" "Wy should ma-a-ma".

He roused himself with an effort. Martha stood by him wondering, but silent. He did not speak. She turned and left him then, As he scretched his cramped limbs, he heard Toning strike up, as he dressed himself in his little had won.

"My omeizzen Ye-ev-ing, my Resizzenere, Ven wy should a ma-a-ma, If twyalsypere?"

Hesturned from the window with a heart sick sigh. Martha had gone into the kitchen prise of childhood to which all, things are forever new. His father patted him on the head

John Brady fell on his knees and prayed with a fervor and sincerity to which he had long been a stranger. The relief was so great he could almost have shouted for joy. As it was he dashed into the kitchen, caught Martha in his arms and kissed her again and again on her mouth, her cheeks, her opes.

When he ceased for a noment, she said:
"John, dear, what has been the matter?"
"And it is all over?"
"Part of it, my love. I have been saved from disgrace, from the effects of the blind folly of a deluded man. My folly has taught me a lesson, love, a terrible lesson. Let me tell you the whole story, dear. Some time ago I for—"

A Painless Cure. A Positive Cure.

M.V. LUBON'S SPECIFIC NO. 8, THE GREAT HEALTH RENEWER,

Marvel of Healing, and Kohingor of Medicines, the terrible consequences of Indiscretion,
Exposure and Overwork. Who are broken down from the effects of abuse will find in No. 8 a radical cure for nervous debiffly, organic weakness, involuntary vital losses, etc.

Symptoms for which No. 8 Should be used. The confidence, avoidance of conversation, desire for solitude, listlessness and inability to fix the attention on a particular subject, cowardice, depression of spirits, giddiness, loss of memory, excitability of temper, spermatorrhosa, or loss of the sentinal fluid—the result of self-abuse or marital excess—impotency, innutrition, emaciation, barrenness, palpitation of the heart, hysteric feelings in females, trembling, melancholy, disturbing dreams, etc., are all symptoms of this terrible habit, oftentimes innocently acquired. In short, the spring of vital force having lost its tension, every function wanes in consequence. Scientific writers and the superintendents of insane asylums unite in ascribing to the effects of self-abuse the great majority of wasted lives which come under their notice. If you are incompetent for the arduous duties of business, incapacitated for the enjoyments of life, No. 8 offers an escape from the effects of early vice. If you are advanced in years, No. 8 will give you full vigor and strength. M. V. LUBON'S RUPTURE REMEDY-For the Speedy Relief and Permanent Cure of Hernia or Rupture.

Lubon's Rupturel Remedy must be applied exactly in accordance with the directors accompanying each package. The Remedy allays inflammation, separates adons, softens indurations, and trengthens the abdominal wall, so that in a few weeks few months, depending of course upon the age of the patient and the length of time he been ruptured, the use of the truss may be entirely discontinued. A box of the edy for a single rupture usually lasts six or eight weeks, and in recent cases is quite. Remedy for a single rupture usually lasts six or eight weeks, and in recent cases is quite sufficient to effect a permanent cure; double rupture and cases of long standing naturally require a larger quantity. Young children are often quickly cured without the aid of a truss by simply apulying the Remedy morning and evening, rubbing it well in with the hand while the child is lying down. If, however, the good effects of the Remedy are not apparent after several days use, I would recommend that a truss be obtained. Trusses alone fail to cure: but Lubon's Remedy, with the aid of any good truss, never fails. Address: M. V. LUBON, Toronto, Canada.

has again been demonstrated, this time by the Moriety April 10th of this year, after a thorough exmannifim: made the following award.

REPORT ACCOMPANYING THE MEMAT.

Excess of praise is kardly possible when spenking of this new and superby beautiful design, which is intended to ment the demand for a me re expensive exterior or cablinet, together with a most superbaction. This organ is at most substantial and pleasing propertions, and of a style of finish neithfille for any situation. In pleasing balance of proportions, paneitical utility of form, richness of ornancertation and delicany of finish, this instrument will not only compare flyombly with the best but surpass all organs of any make; while for strength and purity of tone, variety of expression and freedome freehous it is tar in advance of anything yes produced.

SIR HENRY V. COOLD, Hon. Pres.
Society Science. Letters and Art, Lemion, Eng. REV. IRWIN COATES, M.A. Don. Suc.

This certainly shows that the Musical Bachelers and Doctors of Oxford and Cambridge Universities know something about an organ.

Its Policy enables you to leave an estate that cannot be taken from those you love by any circumstances. It will sective your wife freedom from those distressing experiences which come to the destitute. It secures means to continue the education of your children and mointains an unbroken home for them should you be cut off before they are able to care for themselves. It secures your business from being sacrificed, as is so often the case, for want of ready money to meet the demands that come in the process of torced liquidation of an estate by strangers.

ITS ANNUITY BOND WILL PROVIDE A COMFORTABLE LIVING FOR YOUR OLD AGE.

"Much of the unequalled success of the NORTH AMERICAN LIFE as a Home Institution is to be attributed to its very liberal and varied forms of insurance, combined with its liberal principles and practices, and especially to its prompt payment of all just and approved claims, upon maturity and completion of proofs, a practice introduced here by the Company, which has continued to aford the representatives of deceased plicy-Holders the greatest eatisaction."—SHARRIGLDER.
