PARIS, Jan. 26.—The success claimed by Berlin over the British at La Bassee was short lived. The Germans had captured a trench or two at a point in the lines called Givenohyles-Bassees from the British troops guarding them, and the next night they followed this up with what was intended to be a grand alvance upon orders from Potsdam. But the Germans were unable to do anything against the troops which had defeated them four to one in Flanders last them four to one in Flanders last autumn, and instead of carrying any more British trenches there the enemy himself was tumbled back much faster than he went forward, and did not cease his flight from the British bayonets until he had abandoned all the points he had previously carried. To the British first division belongs the honors of the day. The Germans also made an attempt to advance from La Bassee to Bethune, along the only road available, and paid dearly for the attempt. They fled, leaving behind three hundred dead. The British here captured fifty-five prisoners, including two officers. The Germans have claimed success in their attacks south of the canal in this section. They were defeated with great loss by the French troops oppo-

The Germans, evidently from these ctivities, war critics believe, have begun a new grand assault on the lines of the allies. The British and French are presumed to have plenty of men are presumed to have plenty of men in France, and are expected to come out of this contest with great profit. If the Germans make a great sacrifice of life it may be the prelude to what the allies are waiting for, a grand, general advance.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The Russians are making another effort to advance in East Prussia, while in Poland there has been a slackening in the fighting on both sides for the moment. The russians appear to be concentrating preparations to meet the Russian advance thru the passes of the Carpathians and in southern Bukowina.

Russian submarines have made their appearance in the western portion of the Baltic Sea, and have succeeded in torpedoing the German cruiser Gazelle, which, however, reached port with the assistance of as day Make Up a Big Program.

GREAT BATTLE IS ON

Aeroplane Raids and Decisive Naval Fight Scheduled for Today.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World. PARIS, Jan. 26.—The Germans are ed port with the assistance of a Swedish steamer. Their activity has stopped the trade carried on by German steamers between Germany as a birthday present to their emperor, a surprise of great victories. From different quarters, Holland, Italy and Switzerland, come reports for a general offensive on the whole front, Zennelin and acronions taids on Lonsaid to be preparing to give tomorrow Zeppelin and aeroplane raids on Lon-don, Calais and Paris, and a sortie of BURST IN FLAMES don, Calais and Paris, and a sortie of dreadnoughts for a decisive battle.

Reinforcements of German troops are being concentrated in Flanders and several sharp engagements have already been reported. German prisoners, and also German soldiers, in conversations with French in nearby trenches, have been saying a great battle, the greatest of the war, will be fought this week in the southern part of Belgium. How nearly true these reports are, it is difficult to say, but it is unquestionable that enormous numbers of infantrymen and numerous guns are being rushed by railroad and automobile toward Courtrai and Lille. These new troops are said to amount to 200,000 men.

A letter just received from Germany states that surprises this week in states that surprises this week in the survivors a monoplane flew overhead and dropped bombs. Which, tho they did not fall nearer than a hundred yards, prevented many of the drowning men from being taken out of the water.

One British destroyer was struck by a German shell, which pierced her boilers and put her out of action. She was towed to the east coast base for repairs.

Thruout the progress of the action the British vessels were constantly attacked by German submarines, but British torpedo boat destroyers kept.

A letter just received from Germany states that surprises this week in France have been promised the German people. It is realized here, however, that these reports may have been allowed to pass for the purpose of frightening the French population.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 26.—A despatch from Trelleborg, Sweden, says that a German ferry which left yesterday afternoon on its daily trip to Sassnitz, Prussia, returned two hours after its departure. The captain received a wireless message from German warships ordering him to turn back, as hostile submarines had been sighted in the Baltic, near Ruegen Island.

"From Capt. K. Vuil of the steam trawler Holland IV.. owned by the Praxes Company of Ymudden, I have received a vivid account of the battle in the North Sea, of which he saw the greater part. He had been two days at sea and was returning to Holland with a good catch on Sunday morning, when about 9 o'clock he heard heavy gun firing, but he could not see any ships anywhere. He continued on his homeward journey and in a few minutes he was able to make out a series of bright flashes on the horizon in the southeast direction. The flashes became more numerous, until they were so incessant that scarcely a second passed between them, and there was an increasing thunder of guns. Shortly afterwards he was able to make out two separate squadrons coming straight for him at full speed firing as they came. He realized quickly that he was right in the path of the British and German squadrons. He counted 24 British vessels.

"The British were trying their best to cut off the retreat of the Germans, who were flying homeward, and to bring them to a final, decisive combat. The skipper supposed that the Germans had had a longish start and so the British were unable to come up quite to the level of the enemy and head him off from his home waters.

"Putting on all speed the skipper took his trawler out of the warships way and then lay to in case he could later be of help and pick up any survivors.

"Speaking of the firing, he said that it, was indescribably terrific, making the bridge of his trawler tremble, while the report of each big gun so jarred her that it was as if she had collided with some soft dead neutrality. Germany violated her oath. England kept hers. These are the facts.

Admitted Violation.

"In the second part of the German chancellor's thesis, namely, that Germany 'took her 'responsibilities toward the neutral states seriously,' he alleges nothing except that 'he spoke frankly of the wrong committed by Germany' in invading Belgium.

"That a man knows the right while doing the wrong is not usually accepted as proof of his serious conscientiousness. The real nature of Germany's view of her 'responsibility toward the neutral states' may, however, be learned on authority which cannot be disputed by reference to the English white paper.

"If those responsibilities were in truth taken seriously, why, when Germany was asked to respect the neutrality of Belgium if it were responding question at the same time, agreed. This would have guaranteed Germany from all danger of attack thru Belgium.

Wanted First Blow.

"The reason of Germany's refusal was given by Herr Von Bethmann-Hollweg's colleague (the German foreign secretary, Herr Von Jagow), It may be paraphrased in the well-known gloss upon Shakspere: "Thrice is he armed that hath his quarrel just, but four times he that gets his blow in fust."

"They had to advance into France, said Her Von Jagow, by the quickest was select way so as to be able to get is he armed that hath his quarrel just, but four times he that gets his blow in fust."

"They had to advance into France, said Her Von Jagow, by the quickest and easiest way so as to be able to get well ahead with their operations and endeavor to strike some decisive blow as early as possible."

"Germany's real attitude towards Belgium was thus frankly given by the German foreign secretary to the Britlish ambassador, and the German chancellor in his speech to the reichstag claimed the right to commit a wrong in virtue of the military necessity of hacking his way thru. The treaty which forbade the wrong was by comparison a mere scrap of paper.

Explanations Futile.

"The truth was spoken in these first statements by the two German ministers. All the apologies and arguments which have since been forthcoming are after-thoughts to excuse and explain away a flagrant wrong. Morever, all the attacks upon Great Britain in regard to this matter and all talk about, 'responsibilities toward 'neutral tates' come badly from the man who in July 29 asked Great Britain to enter into a bargain to condone the violation of the neutrality of Belgium.

"The German chancellor spoke to the American correspondent of his 'efforts' ryears to bring about an underanding between England and Germany.' An understanding, he added, hich would have 'absolutely guaraneed the peace of Europe."

"He omitted to mention what Mr. 'squith made public in his speech at ardiff that Germany required as the price of an understanding an unconto defend her own independence. She kept her oath. The other powers were bound to respect and to protect her neutrality. Germany violated her oath. England kept hers. These are the facts."

Roumania Ready for War

Germany and Austria-Hungary are reported no doubt correctly, to be ting their utmost influence to premania from entering the war side of the allies. It is said they differ in opinion regarding the kind of influence to be used—Germany ally inclining to bluster, while the dual monarchy favors blarney. ither will apparently have the effect ed, for whatever the inner mind dlable, some 450,000 men. with cavalry and batteries of the latest entered into by the late King Carol with the German powers, and fensive alliance. It had never been made public, because such a compact would have been highly unpopular with the Roumanian people. That knowledge compelled the king and his lieving the tension between Bulgaria ceed in adjusting the relationship of Bulgaria and Servia, and the way will be cleared for the final settlement of the Balkan problem. The greater Roumania, which is the goal of Roumanian hopes, will have nearly double the population of the country and reand Bukowina.

War and the Empire

When this war ends with victory for the allies, the British Empire will enter upon an entirely new epoch in its eventful history. It will possess an intimate sense of solidarity to a degree quite unknown before, but it will no less recognize the value of self-government and the vast strength that ocmes from voluntary association for a common end. That to this time has been a matter of belief rather than of knowledge. Hereafter it will be thoroly realized and driven home by the hammer of experience. Already a call has been heard that this unity of consclousness must be embodied in some central representative body, which shall deal with joint affairs, and particularly with the conduct of foreign which has been presented in various forms and no one can say it is impossible of realization. But if and when it does come it can only be as an or derly evolution of the empire as now constituted.

These are large figures that sufficiently disclose the measure of public confidence in the Confederation Life.

Last year policyholders were paid $1,869,077.18, representing both policies payable at death and matured endowment policies. The allotment by way of dividends to participating policies was $235,349.40, showing a gratifying increase over the allotment for any previous year in the company's histors. 43rd ANNUAL REPORT

The forty-third Annual Meeting of the Confederation Life Association was held at the Head Office, on Tuesday, January 26th, when the Report of the Directors for the year ending December 31st, 1914, was presented The statement submitted evidenced the company's progress and the continued careful management of its offairs.

Payments to Policyholders

All moneys are invested in securities of the highest standards, and in strict conformity with the requirements of the Canadian Government. The rate of interest earned upon the Company's funds exceeded six per cent., which assures to policyholders, a continuance of the favorable dividend returns which have governed in the past.

Ultimately sold the government will be given back the sum advanced, and in addition, the nominal fee of 75 cents per ton charged for the rossing process.

This method is designed to bring relief by means of a business method. Whether interest will be charged or not cern as the sum each man receives will be small. The plan is the joint outcome of conferences between Chairman Englehart of the commission and Hon. G. H. Ferguson.

In regard to surplies, the figures show an increase of $164.400.66 over those of 1913, and the total fund held at December 31st, for the protection of policyholders over and above all existing liabilities, amounted to $2,246.

PATRICIAS CAPTURE GERMAN PRISONERS

Major Hamilton Gault Slightly Wounded in Ear-Kitchener Paid Men Tribute.

Canadian Press Despatch. MONTREAL, Jan. 26.—The Princes Patricia Light Infantry, now in Flanders, have taken their first German prisoners. This is revealed in a letter from Mrs. Hamilton Gault, wife of Major Gault, to relatives here.

Mrs. Gault, describing the Patricias' engagement on Jan. 2, says: "Three men were killed and six were wounded in the fight, which was evidently successful, as they took their first German prisoners. It was a terrible day. Constant fire. Poor Denzil Newton was shot thru the abdomen just as he was shot thru the abdomen just as he was getting out of a trench."

Mrs. Gault says Lord Kitchener referred to the Patricias as "the premier regiment of my second army" when asked whether they were to be considered as Territorials or regulars.

Mrs. Gault gives several instances of the unquenchable cheerfulness of the men. One sergeant told an officer he had been reduced to the ranks, pointing out that a shell had ripped off the stripes from his sleeve. Another sang stripes from his sleeve. Another sang the "Maple Leaf" while being carried away on a stretcher. He had been very badly wounded. Major Gault himself had his ear grazed by a bullet while going into a trench.

A Sheffield sailor, a first-class stoker on the light cruiser that took part in the naval action, came home on Sunday night on short leave, and told a vivid story of the engagement. The battle cruisers, he said, did the work. Once the enemy were sighted the light cruisers fell back according to orders. The own must bear in mind that before the fighting began, there had been a deck and watch the fun. The enemy spell off, so I was able to be on the deck and watch the fun. LONDON. Jan. 26.—Benjamin Stead, former member of the navy, who witnessed the battle Sunday between the German and English fleets from the steam trawler Octavia, arrived at Hull today. He says that those on beard the Octavia suddenly heard a heavy cannonade and almost immediately found themselves in the very midst of a terrible naval battle. The German squadron of six battleships tore by the Octavia at full speed, their stern guns belching at the pursuing British. The latter fired a veritable stream of shells at the Germans, many of which scored clean hits.

The enemy were obviously trying to reach their own shores, says this eyewitness, while the British were striving to drive them on in a southerly direction. He declares that the Germans losses were much heavier the German losses were much heavier the German losses were much heavier the German losses were much heavier.

meking missed an open net twice and then Riversides broke in front when Crane beat McGiffin from a three-man combination. He made a bluff pass and then shot thru Haffernan's legs. Heffernan evened it up with a grand lone rush, crossing over in front of the goal and shooting from close in at the side Aird rushed down from the face-off and drove one in from the side. Crane got the next from a scramble in front of the Vic net. Aird batted in a rebound and Applegath was waiting to take a pass from Dennison to get the last counter of the period.

ONE MORE FOR SEAFORTH.

SEAFORTH, Ont. Jan. 26.—In the O. H. A. game played here tonight by Seaforth and Goderich, the home team added another link to their unbroken chain of victories, the score being 10 to 3. The locals outclassed the sailors all the way, and but for the good work of Snazel in goal and Belcher at left defence, Seaforth would have been credited with additional goals. The combination of the home team was again in evidence, and by winning onight's game Seaforth cinches the district championship, having won six straight games. The line-up:

Now that the Canadiens have broken be hard to stop. They play Jack Mar Quebec in the Capital City, and a win for Quebec in the Funning. Ottawa entertain Quebec in the Capital City, and a win for the Ancient City outfit will materially help Torontos' chances. Therefore, it is seen that they cannot afford to lose here, and will put on their strongest outfit against the Frenchmen. All the local players are in excellent shape again, and, after Saturday night's performnce, will be favorites in the betting. Canadiens have always put up a sterling article of hockey on local ice, and can be counted on to make it interesting tonight.

For the winners Capitain Scott and Murphy were the losers. The Express line-up was as follows: Goal, Rapson; defence, Scott and Lynch; rover, Folger; centre, Ashforth; left wing. EATON'S MADE-IN-CANAD CAMPAIGN

Bargains for You--Employment for Other

THE greatest period of bargain-giving in the history of Canadian manufacturers started with the inauguration of the EATON Made-in-Canada Camadian-made goods from almost every department, been afford simultaneously.

Just how big an event this is, and just what can be accomplished by the co-operation of manufacturers an retailer, can be judged by taking one item, for instance-paints at 33c a quart. These are absolutely reliable an uaranteed paints. By manufacturer and buyer agree to sell without profit, an order was placed for 25,00 quarts of paint, probably the biggest single order for pain ever given and received in Canada. And these orders will be placed as needed until a certain date, for it's not likely that even 25,000 quarts will last long at such a figure.

The story of this one item practically covers all the bargains in this Made-in-Canada Campaign. COME AND SEE!
