Canadian Headquarters in France, Monday, April 30.—Via London.—Another creased front was ironed out today. The German gunfire is increasing in volume as the menace to their positions becomes more serious.

Paris, April 30.—In a powerful attack today in the Champagne region the French troops captured several fortified lines of trenches in the neighborhood of Mont Carnillet to a depth of five hundred to a thousand metres according to the war office report issued tonight. The text of the statement reads: "Quite violent artillery actions took place between St. Quentin and the Oise and on the Chemin-des-Dames. There was grenade fighting in the sector of Hurlubais Farm.

Germans, After Surrendering, Take Up Rifles to Shoot Men in Back—Fighting for Arleux Proves Sanguinary.

On April 29 our pilots brought down four German airplanes; six other enemy machines seriously hit and descended within the line, where they were forced to make a landing. One bombing airplane dropped projectiles on the aviation fields at Colmar, Hurlubais and Frescati (a suburb of Metz, in addition to the railway stations at Ars, Novesant, Amagne-Lacquey and Bachelin. The FEVERY bridge and enemy bivouacs were likewise successfully bombed.

Washington, April 30.—In addition to loans to France and Italy totaling between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 the United States will soon make a loan to Belgium, the amount of which is yet to be determined. Unofficial estimates of the size of the Belgian loan place it approximately at $150,000,000.

Another article by Herr Harden culminates in an appeal to Germany to put the matter of her house in order and introduce democratic conditions, which the writer says is the only sure basis for future peace.

WAR SUMMARY
THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

It was the French in the Champagne yesterday who made the principal advance. They attacked a salient on each side of Mont Carnillet and they swept forward for a considerable distance. On the western side of the hill they carried several fortified lines as far as a point south of Beine to a depth of 550 to 1100 yards, and on the eastern side they pushed forward up the northern slopes to the northeast of Mont Haut as far as the road between Naurey and Moronvillers. Violent fighting continued on this front. The country here presents difficulties for an advance owing to its gentle slopes. These afford excellent cover for machine guns. Careful reconnoitring must precede all attacks in this region.

FOOD PRODUCTION IS UP TO CANADA

Hon. Sir Wm. Hearst Says Dominion Must Help Feed England and Allies.

Hamilton, Tuesday, May 1.—"Are we in Canada going to permit starvation to do what Germany with her twenty years of silent preparation has failed to do?" said the Hon. Sir William Hearst, prime minister of Ontario, during an earnest appeal for a greater crop production, before the St. Giles Men's Association last night. Sir William strongly emphasized the need for an immediate increased production.

"It is up to Canada," he said, "to help feed England and her allies, and to do that we must cultivate every foot of ground and exercise great economy in food stuffs.

"We have taken no action in regard to placing the country on rations like they have in England, but it is hard to say just what we will do in the future."

Instant action was asked for by Sir William. "It is no time for criticism," he continued. "Our government is doing all that it can, with the co-operation of the people we will have a bigger production, thus rendering England and her allies the greatest service in our power."

Sir William stated that the entry of the United States into the war had shattered all hopes of victory for Germany and that the "sub-point" was a real menace. However, he said, "the British navy has never failed us yet and it will not do so now." (Applause).

Canada's magnificent part in the war was reviewed, and the speaker stated that while men were not being signed up as fast as the government would like, Canada had sent 247,000 men to the firing line.

"There are 200,000 French-Canadians who have not entered into the war as energetically as we would have liked," he said.

"Consecrate yourself to the cause," said Sir William, and applause. "And as Canadians we will pass thru the crucible and win the war, which will mean a victory for civilization."

MOTHERS OF FRANCE

Women of United States Ought to See Mother Film. ("Zit" in N. Y. Evening Journal)

Probably no greater lesson has been shown since the war began than the heartrending five-reel feature film "Mothers of France." It will give to American mothers an opportunity to see what is happening to their sisters abroad. "Mothers of France" is a work of art.

Moves Audiences (N. Y. Times)

"Mothers of France" stokes for most of the sins of the movies; to see it is recompense for having sat through a series of atrocious and banal war films purporting to point a moral. It is subtle and powerful and must move even the most calloused observer.

Thunderous Applause (N. Y. Tribune)

Every man forgot that he was in the theatre. The applause became so thunderous that the music was drowned and people stood up and waved their programs. It is hard to tell just why this picture had such a great appeal to the heart and to patriotism; but the fact remains that there was on the screen yesterday that which brought men to their feet and was bound to give the most careless observer pause.

One of the Finest Things Ever Done (N. Y. Herald)

In this picture art and good taste are combined and it fairly breathes patriotism. It is one of the finest things that have been done in films. Mme. Bernhardt gives a notable portrayal of the bereaved and patriotic mother.

Film a Triumph (Morning World)

Spectators in the big moving picture theatres as a rule do not applaud, but the crowds at the Rialto Theatre received "Mothers of France," a new patriotic film

Capacity Crowds Great Picture (Evening Telegram)

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt in "Mothers of France" amply fulfills the expectations aroused by the announcement that she had posed for a photodrama which was to typify the spirit pervading and upholding the French Republic of today.

A Triumph (Evening World)

It is a really great picture, one which evokes applause from the crowds which see it.

Enthusiastically Received (New York Sun)

"Mothers of France" was received with enthusiastic appreciation. The crowds which attempted to see the picture were the equal of any in the history of the house and the waiting lines outside reached half way down the block. "Mothers of France" gives a more graphic picture of fighting France than any of the so-called "war pictures" because the civil and military authorities co-operated with the makers of the picture and the battle scenes were made in France with "polish" in the trench-stained uniforms.

A Thrilling Film (N. Y. Evening Mail)

The tragedy that is war and the glory that is courage are the dominant notes of "Mothers of France," the master picture shown at the Rialto.

It is a stirring picture; most of it reaches down to the simple emotions stirred up by human suffering and up to the greater emotions which are the heritage of a courageous people.

Sarah Bernhardt so wonderfully typifies the indomitable courage of her country-women that there could not conceivably be another choice for the role. It will make better men and women of all who see it.

FOSTER GAINED NO PROFIT ON HORSES

His Financial Supervision Was, However, "Grievously Weak," Says Report

By a Staff Reporter.

Ottawa, April 30.—The series of transactions which culminated in retirement to private life of A. DeWitt Foster, M.P. for Kings, N.S., was made public tonight. It is very voluminous, telling all about the buying of four hundred horses, some of them of great age, as horses go. Mr. Foster, ex-M.P., the outstanding figure in the case, is acquitted of speculation, and his personal honor is vindicated, but his conduct as having been "weak in administration methods and grievously weak in financial supervision."

The two principal buyers, Todd Woodworth and F. B. Keeler, are found guilty. In accounting for public moneys which they spent in securing remounts for the militia department, Sir Charles Davidson finds Woodworth short to the amount of $2224 and Keeler to the amount of $2968. W. F. McKelvey, a buyer under Keeler, is personally exonerated, and so is G. H. Onkes, but regarding the former the commissioner remarks, "as a horse buyer he does not rank high, or at all."

Ancient Steeds Bought.

That some very old horses were bought is fully established, including the famous steed of 23 years of age, and the one which, a sale some years previous, was traded for two ducks and a drake. Dr. Chipman, the veterinarian who passed most of the questionable horses, somewhat puzzled the commissioner by his action. Sir Charles does not entertain the charge of commissions being paid to that officer, but thinks the condition of his health impaired his judgment. Chipman at last reports was in a sanitarium in an advanced stage of tuberculosis.

The commissioner, preliminary to the above conclusions, goes into an exhaustive review of the evidence. He finds that out of 428 horses bought, none was switched or substituted, but that sixty, including the old ones, were unsound and unserviceable.

"HARD CHASE; BIG HAUL" OPIUM RUNNERS CAUGHT

With $3000 worth of opium in their possession, Chas. Johnston, alias Brant, and T. P. Ward were arrested yesterday on No. 1 C.P.R. train going west at Port Arthur. Provincial Constable Symons made the arrest. "Hard chase, big haul," said Chief Rogers yesterday when he received the telegram.

MUCH LIQUOR BOUGHT FROM MEN ON THE ROAD

Evidence Presented at Griffin Inquest Shows Big Illicit Whiskey Business Exists.

On evidence given at the inquest before Coroner Graham and Jury last night in the Humber Beach Hotel on the body of William Griffin, who was dead in the hotel, a breakfast on April 23, the jury brought in a verdict of death from drowning under suspicious circumstances. On the afternoon of Griffin was around the Lakeview Hotel at New Toronto in an intoxicated condition, and in the afternoon went to the city with two fellow workmen, Mortimer Galvin and William Littleton. They returned to New Toronto shortly after midnight, and in place of getting into the car, they went to the hotel, where he roomed, Griffin stayed and got out of the hotel with his companions. According to their evidence when Griffin got off the car he sat down on the hotel steps and left Littleton and Mike Carroll, the proprietor of the hotel, who met the three men on the car, went into the hotel and left Griffin outside. Questioned by Attorney Greer as to their reason for leaving their friend outside when they knew he was incapable of looking after himself, Carroll and Littleton said that they were paying no attention to him and thought that he intended catching the next car going back to where he lived. They denied that Griffin accompanied them into the hotel, but after the Attorney had heard the result of the post-mortem examination given by Doctors Godfrey and Evans, they returned to their feet and believing the evidence of the men to be untrue. The men were hard pressed during the examination by both the crown and coroner as to where the whiskey was obtained, but the witnesses, further than to admit that there was more liquor being consumed in that district since the enforcement of the temperance legislation, would only say that they made their purchases on the road from unknown bootleggers. A recommendation was made by the jury that the Lakeview Hotel license be canceled, and that immediate steps be taken to stop the illegal liquor traffic.

Mike Carr declared that the liquor was not obtained at his bar. He admitted that County Constable Meyers had taken a quantity of whiskey from the hotel porter, Fat Carl, who has since left town, and his whereabouts is unknown.

AUSTRALIA HAS FARMS FOR HER RETURNED MEN

Former Resident of Earls Court Who Fought at Gallipoli Tells of His Experiences.

As an instance of the manner in which the Australian Government is looking after its returned soldiers, the following letter from a former resident of Earls Court, W. Tomlin, who fought for a number of years at Hatherley road, North Queensland, and who with his family, left for Adelaide, Australia, about four years ago, is of interest. On the outbreak of war Tomlin joined the Australian expeditionary force for Gallipoli, and after fourteen months' service, was returned to his home in Wall Plats, River Murray, South Australia, and says: "The Australian Government are looking after the returned Anzacs in the following manner: "Each man is allotted 15 acres of reclaimed land on the River Murray, the best soil it is possible to get; 3 acres for fruit, oranges, etc., and 10 acres partly tilled. I have on my allotment six cows, a five-room house free, and each man is loaned 2500 ($2500). In two years' time I will be right on my feet. Near the Town of Fompeda they have a large farm, where they train men to be farmers. This is what the Anzac Government is doing for their men who have done their bit."

HOMING ASSOCIATION MEETS

A well attended meeting of the Great Northern Homing Association was held last evening at the residence of the president, G. Budge, Harvie avenue, when arrangements were completed for the racing season. It was anticipated that over 30 members will compete in the 600-mile competition.

SENIOR OFFICERS CAN'T REVERT.

Major M. S. Boehm, who went overseas as second in command 19th Battalion, returned to Toronto yesterday. He says it is unfair to criticize senior officers for not reverting to junior rank in England to get to France, because this is not permitted if an officer is over 40 years of age.

An inquest was opened by Coroner Dr. W. F. Plewes, at the morgue last night into the death of nine-year-old Percy Wagon, who was killed on Sunday morning, near his home on Terauly street, by a motor car driven by Arthur Parmiter, 54 Alexander st., and adjourned till May 4. No evidence was taken.

Success in Growing Vegetables

By S. C. Johnston, Vegetable Specialist, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

HAVING discussed the methods of preparing the garden soil to receive the seed, we now turn to the sowing of the seed itself. There is no need to hurry the sowing of the seed. Better results will be obtained if the amateur gardener will wait until the soil is warm and easily worked. The vegetables discussed are arranged as nearly as possible according to the time they should be planted.

Lettuce May Be Planted Early

Lettuce is grown for its leaves, and is our best known salad plant. It is a short-season plant, and is often grown to follow or precede another crop. It is quite hardy and may be planted quite early in the spring, grown to maturity, and followed with a tender crop, such as tomatoes, or it may be planted between any plants of the cabbage family. It is a good plan in a small garden to plant only a few feet at one time and follow this with successive plantings made every ten days or two weeks until July 1st. The lettuce seed may be sown in rows, comparatively thin, at a depth of a quarter of an inch. The plants should be thinned to stand two inches apart.

Sowing the Seed

If one desires large single heads of lettuce the plants should be thinned to stand from seven to nine inches apart. The thinnings may be transplanted to another part of the garden.

Radish Are Hardy, Too

The radish plant is grown for its roots, which are eaten raw just as soon as they are large enough to use. It is quite hardy, and may be planted very early in the spring. Radishes are frequently sown with other crops which are not such rapid growers, such as peas and beans. They should, however, be pulled out before the peas or bean crops reach the ground. Successive plantings of radishes for this crop. Radish seed may be planted in rows, four inches apart, or broadcasted, the seeds being sown at a depth of a quarter of an inch only. Radishes at a general rule require thinning, and the soil between the rows should be kept loose with the hoe. A crop of winter radish may be obtained if the seed is sown about the first of August. These should be thinned out to three inches apart.

The Popular Onion

The onion is grown for seasoning, pickles, and for eating raw. A large percentage of onions stored for winter use are grown from seed planted in the soil very early in the spring. The soil should be moist and well drained, but fresh manure is not to be applied. The seeds should be planted at a depth of about one-half inch, and the rows should be from twelve to fourteen inches apart. The seed should be planted very early in the season. They should be barely covered with soil, and should be well firm by tramping on it, and the green onions should be pulled as soon as they are ready for use.

And, of Course, Peas

Peas may be planted very early in the season, and for the early crop the seeds should be sown in a furrow two inches deep for the seeds placed an inch apart. Some arrangements should be made so that the pea vines will have some support. Bundles of trees or chicken wire may be used for this purpose, and the vines will cling to this for support and will be kept up from the ground. This support should be set preferably at the time of planting. This soil should be drawn up around the vine.

Beans Need No Loam

Generally speaking, it is not a good practice to add fresh manure to the soil where one expects to grow beans. They prefer a moist, deep loam. The seeds should be planted fairly early in the spring, the rows being at least eighteen inches apart. A furrow two inches deep may be made with the corner of a hoe and the seeds placed from two to three inches apart in the bottom of this furrow. Another way which is sometimes followed in planting beans is to make holes two inches deep twelve inches apart and in each hole three or four seeds be placed. It is always best when not to touch the plants when they are wet.

Do Your Bit By Growing Vegetables

ALL SIGNS POINT to a world-wide shortage of food. Those in authority impress upon Canada the stern necessity of increased production. The planting and tending of the backyard vegetable garden presents itself to the householder as a patriotic duty. But nothing short of success in the undertaking will achieve the desired end. Good, full-sized vegetables are the only result with which we should be content.

And thus, for the assistance of readers of this page who have bought seeds with the purpose of growing their own vegetables, we have arranged for the publishing in an adjoining column of a series of articles by a Government expert, Mr. S. C. Johnston, vegetable specialist and lecturer for the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Mr. Johnston's advice will be wholly practical, and will deal with the various problems that arise from week to week in the care of vegetable crops.

Mr. Johnston's talk to-day, on Seeding—column 1—should not be missed.

This is Interesting

IF YOU are of a mind to appreciate something new and extremely nice in veranda cushions, look at those in the Art Needlework Department which are made of natural creamy linen embroidered in new art designs in red and blue wool. They are smart as can be for the couch, hammock or willow sofa, and the gay stitchery on them is very easily done. The linen cover—top stamped ready for embroidery—is priced 65 cents. In its completed state the edges are finished with blanket stitch.

In the same heavy, creamy linen are what the Americans call "Porch Sets." Consisting of cushion top, tea cloth and table runner, each piece is stamped in some bold, effective design for wool embroidery in bright tones, the edges scalloped for button-holing. They are priced as follows: Cushion cover, 69 cents; round or square tea cloth, 75 cents; and runner, 65 cents. They should appeal immensely to anyone who has a summer cottage and takes pride in its artistic equipment.

Such fascinating knitting bags as have lately arrived in the department above mentioned—dark mellow silk tapestry bags in charming New Yorkish designs, lined with silk and finished with gold galloon. The prices are $8.50 and $7.50. Interesting, too, are the large chintz bags for knitting or needlework, made in smart, unusual styles and priced at $3.00.

And apropos, the large callisoid and tortoise shell rings, so fashionably Chinese, for the handles of knitting bags are to be had in green, red and other smart colorings at prices ranging from 15 cents to $1.25 each.

A man's dressing gown that is delightfully light weight, and takes up practically no room in a club bag for travelling, is made of self-toned figured silk, available in green, brown, wine color or blue. The reverse and cuffs are of blue corded silk. The price is $25.00. Would it not well fill the role of birthday or anniversary present?

Ready to delight the heart of a little boy or girl is the bedroom furniture made of white enamel wood stencilled with red or blue squirrels, rabbits or even Mother Goose herself. Each piece is specially constructed on a small scale so that a kiddie may look in the mirror or reach the top drawer with perfect ease. The prices are as follows: Dressing table, $9.00; bureau, $16.00; chiffonier, $12.50; bed, $9.50; chair, $6.25.

The humble gingham has been exalted. It appears in some of the smartest of the sub-trocks just arrived from New York—ordinary, old-time gingham, in stripes and sunbonnet checks. The story goes that a well-known Canadian girl wintering at Palm Beach exploited a series of morning gowns in the quaint cotton fabric. The idea immediately "took." Other sojourners followed suit. And now all New York is talking gingham for the summer wardrobe.

The Kaiser's Soliloquy on His Submarines.

What is it works in waters deep, What day and night its vigils keep, Its daily toll of life doth reap?

What is it roams the sea so wide, Beneath the waters smoothly glide, And from the allies snugly hide?

What cheeps me up when I am sad, What from Hindenburg is bad, And I am almost raving mad?

What is it soothes my wounded pride, But from my men my anguish hide, And even up the western tide?

Sometimes I think my time is o'er, When Hindenburg can't make a score, 'Tis then I sink a few ships more—

How can I ever cease to be Affectionate and kind to thee For ruthless deeds upon the sea—

Have Done With Puttering.

It is expected that the Canadian casualties for the Vimy Ridge and subsequent advances will reach 25,000. The government must have been aware of what was going ahead, and yet in spite of the growing knowledge that must have been available the militia department kept on with such puttering schemes for recruiting as C. D. F. plans and other voluntary shifts.

Mr. Stewart Lyon has scarcely done himself justice in his early despatches, but in those published yesterday he seems to be getting into his stride, and his account of the work that the Canadian divisions are doing in the trenches is a model of plain, unadorned, but accurate reporting.

It is a splendid idea to let every man declare how much taxes he should pay. But it isn't applied to the workman. It is adapted to the man of wealth only. At present it is said they have income tax experts at the city hall, but the only expert way of dealing with the income tax shirker is to put him down for his accredited wealth and let him prove the difference to the courts.

It appears to us that the only objection to genuine democratic government all these generations past is that it is so unimpeachably just. In the meantime let us have the income tax laid on the first instalment.

income tax grade and be considered worthy of the honor of contributing on that basis to the support of the city. But the roughly income tax citizen is in the same class as the shirker in the war. He wants George to do it.

The United States is a great democratic country, whatever else it may be, and whatever the faults of democracy may be, and the government there has taken up income tax on account of its equity and fairness. Great Britain also has made it the basis of her war budgets and is doing thru it what can be done to pay as she goes.

It is interesting to watch the manoeuvres of all who wish to escape paying their share of the common expenses of the nation. They are as anxious for a voluntary plan of taxation as some of their friends are for a voluntary plan of enlistment.

SATURDAY FOR GARDENING?

Editor, World: As it is an impossibility for business people to do their work in the short hours of the evening, it surely is a national necessity that every firm in the city should close on Saturday afternoons from May 1, that is the time that a garden should be put in. If such firms as Simpsons, Adams and Murphree should be induced to do this, hundreds of men would be able to do their food production campaign whereas now they can do nothing in their spare time.

Austrian Pole Loses Suit Against Western Hospital

Dismissal of the case of Henri Churni, an Austrian Pole, against the Toronto Western Hospital for $5,000 for the loss of his teeth was made by a jury under Justice Latchford in the assize court, after 30 minutes deliberation, yesterday afternoon.

The plaintiff was working in a munition plant at the Junction, and sustained an injury to his eye in an accident November 9. He was admitted to the Western Hospital, and alleged that he was taken to the operating room under an anæsthetic, where every tooth in his head was extracted without his consent. The defence maintained that any treatment given the patient was with his consent, and that the dentist was an employee of the city, who released the defendant from all liability.

RECONSIDER ALIEN ENEMY PROBLEM

Council Would Disfranchise Those Unnaturalized, With Some Exceptions.

By a vote of seventeen to five the city council yesterday requested the Dominion Parliament to provide that only such naturalized natives of alien enemy countries that have lived in Canada for twenty-five years be allowed to exercise the franchise at any election in war time, except such as are on active service themselves or have sons and daughters in the service of the King.

The following is a list of the members for more magnanimity in dealing with the men who had become naturalized citizens of Canada, and created a mild sentiment in declaring that he was born in an alien enemy country. He anticipated editorial comment in the newspapers and also proved their loyalty; had given their sons on the altar of sacrifice.

There was no doubt there was German influence at work in the country at present, and there were men who would aid the enemy if given the chance, but he wished to deal intelligently and fairly with the matter. In Canada, there were men working in munition plants earning from $4 to $6 a day who considered they were doing their bit. But he wanted to tell them that they were not doing their bit even if they did work in munition plants, if they were fit and able to go overseas.

There were many naturalized citizens still heartily in sympathy with the Allies, but because of the influence of the German character is an intense fanaticism, and in this respect, they are only looking after their own interests, said Ald. Ball, who invited the criticism of the assize court, saying he would be glad if they would point out where they, the board, had shown any unnecessary expenditures.

LIUET. GEORGE FLEMING IS KILLED IN FRANCE

Well-Known Toronto Man Was Second in Command of a Flying Wing.

Flight Lieut. George Fleming of the naval air service, one of Toronto's prominent young business men, was reported in a cable received Saturday from the admiralty to have been killed on April 19. He is the son of Atwell Fleming, 238 Russell Hill road, and was in business with his father in the Atwell Fleming Printing Company.

In April, 1915, he joined the local aviation school and in September work was promoted on the field to the rank of flight lieutenant. On April 6 his parents received the last letter from him, in which he said he was near Luxemburg, 30 miles from a flying wing. He took part in many important raids, chief of which was on Goodenham sheld. In 1907 he graduated from the school of science, Toronto University.

Flight Lieut. Fleming was born in London, Ont., 80 years ago and came to Toronto a boy when he was very young and a member of the Toronto Ad Club, Broadway Tabernacle, and bowling and purring organizations. At Christmas he was here on a month's furlough and addressed the club, Broadway Tabernacle, London Canadian Club, and also spoke at Massey Hall. He is survived by his father, one sister and two brothers, Gordon and Atwell, and Mrs. B. L. Macgregor.

SPIRITUAL SCIENCE A BLAZED TRAIL

Christian Scientist Lecturer Describes His Faith as Supreme Discovery.

FROM EARLY FATHERS Says It is a Revelation of Truths Taught By First Christians.

"Christian Science: The Supreme Discovery of the Age," was the subject of an address given by John Randall Duffin, C.S. member of the board of the mother church, at the First Church of Christ, St. George street, last evening. In the beginning of his address the speaker stated that it was not an extravagant statement to say that Christian Science was vastly more important to the human family than the most notable achievements chronicled in the realm of natural science or human invention.

His likeness spiritual science to a "blazed trail," and pointed out when the world seemed immersed in the materialism of Jewish theology and Roman paganism, there appeared one whose mission was to point the way to spiritualism, to deliverance and healing, and he "blazed" a trail to the Father's house so plain, so simple, that a child could follow it. He spoke of the "woman-pilgrim," Mary Baker Eddy, who gave her discovery the name of Christian Science, and she rested not until she had written a book showing you and me how to find it. This guide book is called "Science and Health," which has appeared in the English and is the text book which Christian Scientists use in connection with their manual of life, the Bible.

"Without a doubt the great error of Christian history lies in mankind's ignorance of Jesus' mission. Mrs. Eddy's spiritual interpretation of His words and works reveals Him as humanity's 'way shiner,' teacher and friend rather than humanity's ruler. She discovered that the facts involved in this interpretation were 'unknown, unlearned and hid from the eyes of all men.' The inhabitants shall not say 'I am sick.'"

"Mrs. Eddy discovered that the religion taught by Jesus is as exact a science as the science of numbers; that a Christian should be enabled to overcome sickness, fear, discouragement, poverty or any other discord with the same readiness and certainty of correct result that he could in mathematics. The speaker said that the power given by Jesus to His followers was a spiritual understanding, just as a teacher in school gives his pupils power to solve problems in arithmetic when he shows them the rule and principle basing arithmetic. It was not a mysterious magnetic current flowing from the personality of Jesus to those around him, as some would aver, for, as has been stated, Jesus insisted that on arrival of himself he could do nothing, and that it was the Father dwelling in Him that did the work. Jesus said, 'Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.' The all-important question therefore is, what is truth? and answering this stupendous question Mrs. Eddy directed thought to the first chapter of Genesis, where the truth as revealed there is infinitely simple, and at the conclusion of the chapter appears that mighty statement basing all truth, 'And God saw every thing that He had made, and behold, it was very good.' The second chapter of Genesis, the speaker mentioned, which heretofore religionists have regarded as an amplification of the statement in the first chapter, 'So God created man in His own image,' the first record is positively correct, and no record is to be found that God ever changed. His perfect handiwork, 'The Adam and Eve narrative,' said the speaker, 'symbolizing as it does materially sin, and sin's unhappy consequence, is called in the text book, 'an object lesson for the human mind, in which you and I are shown the sad results of a departure from the spiritual sense of things recorded in the first chapter.' The story is a fable is self-evident. In conclusion he said, 'You have dominion over soil and are not a member of the spinning race of worms, for you have been victimized by the lying arguments of the carnal mind and by the false education of generations.'"

Followed Him From France to England

On December 16th, 1916, a Michie parcel was dispatched to Lieut. J. A. Linton, M.C., with the 15th Battalion in France. It was not till two months later that he received his parcel. Read his own explanation of the delay:

"Received above Feb. 13. Contents gave me a great deal of pleasure. Delivered because it had to follow me from France to England and around hospitals. Regret that I have not acknowledged it sooner. Such delays are beyond our control. The best we can do is to see that every parcel is securely packed to guard against loss or damage. The above letter proves that a Michie parcel reaches the recipient in good shape—a welcome assortment of smokes, candies and good things to eat. Hundreds are shipped from our store each week.

CAPT. ROSS CAMERON GETS MILITARY CROSS

Decorated for Bravery in Leading Men Forward After Having Been Wounded.

His friends in Toronto received word by cable yesterday that Capt. Ross Cameron, former manager of the branch of the Bank of Ottawa, at Queen street and Pape Avenue, had been awarded the Military Cross. Capt. Cameron is the first officer who has received the 11th Regiment, and joined the 20th Irish Battalion when it was formed. He was one of the 25 officers who resigned from the 20th in order to go overseas. On arrival in England he reverted to the rank of lieutenant in order to get to the front. Two weeks after he arrived in France he was given a captain's commission, took part in the fight at Vimy Ridge, and was wounded. It was while he was recovering from his wounds that he was awarded the Military Cross.

Dr. Norman Allen yesterday received a cablegram telling the news from his son, who resigned from the 20th and went overseas with Capt. Cameron. Capt. Cameron is in a hospital at Boulogne recovering from his wounds. His wife is now living in Barrie.

The Finest in Canada

Leaders in the Manufacture of Light Beverages

Successful Achievement Only a Matter of Months----

A Statement by the York Springs, Limited

O'Keefe's Ginger Ale eleven months ago was a new idea—to-day it is the most widely known temperance beverage in Ontario.

Travelers along Yonge Street, north of the city, are familiar with the springhouse nesting in the hollow.

It is only a matter of a few months ago that O'Keefe's Special Pale Dry Ginger Ale was first offered for sale. The manufacturers felt assured that a profitable business could be done in Ginger Ale and like beverages. One thing was essential, however, that O'Keefe's Ginger Ale should be first in quality, in fact, up to the standard of the O'Keefe reputation in beverages they have manufactured and sold for over sixty years.

For many years the purity of York's springs water has been proverbial, and when, eleven years ago, this company was formed to make the water more readily accessible for city dwellers, the instant demand proved the popularity of the venture.

And so for eleven years we have been privileged to cater to an appreciative public, supplying not only the bottled Spring water, but also beverages of which the base was York Springs Water— notably

O'KEEFE'S Special Pale Dry Ginger Ale

As equipment was installed, which although entailing the expenditure of a large sum of money, assured the Company the most up-to-date, hygienic process of manufacture.

The most experienced men available were procured, and after painstaking and exhaustive efforts, O'Keefe's Special Pale Dry Ginger Ale was produced and offered for sale to the public in July. From the day of the first announcement in the newspapers, the sale of O'Keefe's Special Pale Dry Ginger Ale increased from week to week, until now it is in greatest demand in THE HOME, the clubs, and hotels.

Just recently York Springs, Limited, has been absorbed, and it is now announced that York Springs Dry Ginger Ale, York Springs Belfast Ginger Ale and the famous YORK SPRINGS WATER will be bottled under most hygienic conditions and sold by O'Keefe's, Toronto.

It is anticipated that with York Springs Water reaching the consumer as pure as when it bubbles from the springs, the already large demand will greatly increase, and every preparation has been made to meet this demand.

YORK SPRINGS

Dry Ginger Ale Belfast Ginger Ale

On account of the war, the labor problem has become acute with us. Many of our oldest and most skilled employes are in khaki, and others have heard the call for farm help.

After due consideration the York Springs Company decided to ally its interests with O'Keefe's, Toronto, whose sanitary, up-to-date plant and efficient force of skilled workers would provide the organization necessary for a thoroughly satisfactory distribution of York Springs products.

O'Keefe's reputation guarantees the maintenance of high standard in the manufacture of York Springs Ginger Ale and the prompt delivery of York Springs Water as taken from the Springs.

In thus transferring operation of the Springs, we bespeak for O'Keefe's the same valued patronage which we have enjoyed during the past eleven years and for which we now take occasion to express our hearty appreciation.

The Keene Horses To Race at Windsor

Windsor, April 30.—One week from next Saturday the curtain will rise on the 1917 racing season in Windsor with the opening meeting at Devonshire Park. One of the prominent stables to race at the meeting will be that owned by J. O. and G. H. Keene, who have asked for spots for 15 horses. Geo. Phillips with 15 Clyde Free man 8, Doland stable (S. H. Golf Dealers in West Rated Good Amateurs

Chicago, April 30.—For the first time since its formation in 1899 the Western Golf Association has severed diplomatic relations with the United States Golf Association regarding the amateur rule. For 18 years the rules of the organization have been practically the same, but after May 1 they will differ enough to cause friction and possibly a breach of wider dimensions.

Abdication of Greek King Reported to Be Imminent

London, April 30.—The report that King Constantine of Greece is soon to abdicate is reiterated in a despatch from Rome to The Star, which says it has been confirmed from neutral diplomatic sources. It is suggested that the king and queen may land at an Italian port and proceed overland to Denmark.

Kemp Frowns on Practice of Criminals Donning Khaki

By a Staff Reporter.
Ottawa, April 30.—There seems to be a growing tendency throughout the country where men found guilty of serious crimes have been remanded for sentence or allowed to go on suspended sentence in order that they might enlist and appear in uniform. Sir Edward Kemp strongly deprecates this course of action in the case of criminals of a serious nature, as he does not believe that such men would make dependable soldiers, and, moreover, he does not consider that they would be welcomed in the ranks.

purpose of purchasing anaesthetics for use in the hospitals of the allies at the front.

Proportional Representation. Mr. Turriff (Assiniboia) moved the adoption of a resolution in favor of proportional representation in the election of members in the house of commons. Mr. Turriff said that proportional representation was by no means an untried experiment, having been for years in force in Belgium, Sweden, Switzerland, Tasmania and Japan. The City of Ottawa, he said, had endorsed the principle by a plebiscite, but had been unable to obtain the necessary amendments to its charter from the Ontario Legislature. It was, however, in force in Calgary and other municipalities. The purpose of proportional representation was to give a voice in national affairs to any considerable body of public opinion. If we had it in our parliamentary election we might expect to see a certain number of farmers, workmen and nationalists who were not in accord with either of the old political parties.

Many Voters Disfranchised. He said of course it would be necessary to do away with the single riding and group constituencies. The experiment, he thought, might first be tried in large cities like Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg. He pointed out that under our present system many thousands of Liberals were practically disfranchised in Toronto, and the same injustice was perpetrated upon Conservatives in other parts of the country. In the present house the Liberals had nine out of ten members for Saskatchewan, but no one would prefer to give the Conservatives a seat in the house of commons, although the Conservatives polled only one-third of the total vote cast in Nova Scotia at that election. It was quite possible under our present system for one of the two political parties to be in the minority on the popular vote and yet have a large majority in the house of commons.

Details of Proposal. Explaining the details of the proposed plan, Mr. Turriff suggested that the City of Ottawa and the contiguous counties of Carleton and Russell might constitute one constituency, with the right to elect four members to parliament. Any candidate who was the choice of four thousand and one voters would be elected, assuming the total vote to be twenty thousand. If party leaders like Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier headed their respective tickets they would probably receive considerably more than the four thousand and one votes required to elect, and a proportion of the surplus vote would be credited to the men marked second choice who had not received the required number of votes to elect. The labor party at such an election might run a candidate and be elected by voters of either political party who designated him as their second or third choice. The general effect of the proposed reform would be to ensure any fair-sized minority securing some representation.

Mr. Turriff called attention to the fact that the principle of proportional representation had been included in the British home rule bill and that it was recommended by the "speakers" committee which recently considered and reported upon electoral reforms for the United Kingdom.

White Not Convinced. Sir Thomas White said he was not impressed by the example of Tasmania or Japan, nor did he think it threw any light on the subject to show that proportional representation had worked well in Canadian municipalities. We had in Canada a representative or party government system. It was inaccurate to say that parliament ruled the country. Parliament had no executive function whatever. The country was ruled by the prime minister, but of course he had to maintain a majority in the house. It was important that this majority be a good working majority, and it was quite undesirable to have any device by which a few members could hold the balance of power and be able to turn our governments at will.

Sir Thomas admitted that he had never given the subject any thought before this afternoon, but said it seemed to him almost trifling with serious matters to be discussing such reforms when all our thoughts should be devoted to winning the war. However, if Mr. Turriff insisted, the government would consent to the subject being referred to a select committee to investigate and report.

Gives Labor a Chance. Hon. George F. Graham thought the minister was holding fast to many old ideas, which would soon have to give way to more progressive ones. There was a strong feeling in this country in favor of proportional representation, especially in the west, and governments should not be in terror of anything in the way of innovation. There were many anomalies in our present electoral system. Thus parliament in redistributing the country for the coming parliamentary election had decided that it required thirty-five thousand people to choose a member of parliament for Leeds and Brockville, but that seven thousand would be enough for Grenville. He felt sure that proportional representation would secure representation to the labor party in industrial centres like Toronto.

W. A. Buchanan (Medicine Hat), and G. W. Kyle (Richmond, N.S.), spoke in favor of proportional representation. Mr. Kyle thought it would have a marked effect in decreasing corruption and breaking the strangle-hold of the political party machine.

Protest Against Embargo. Mr. Copp (Westmoreland) adjourned the debate.

The house then adopted without dissent the resolution proposed by Dr. Schaffner (Souris) declaring that an early opportunity should be taken to endeavor to have removed the embargo on Canadian cattle entering the British Isles.

Dr. Schaffner and Mr. Blakerdike (Montreal) agreed in saying that the embargo was a protective measure and that the claim of Canadian cattle being infected with pleuro-pneumonia was a mere pretence.

Dr. Edwards (Frontenac) said the British Government had imposed the embargo in 1892 on account of the widespread propaganda in Canada at that time for unrestricted reciprocity with the United States. He said there was no doubt that the British authorities would lift the embargo if the Liberal party formally renounced its adherence to the reciprocity pact.

Urges Cattle Raising. Mr. Smith (S. Ontario) thought that question not a very practical one at present as we were not raising enough cattle in Canada for our own needs. He thought the farmers of the western provinces would be better off if they devoted more time to raising wheat and less time to talking free stock, and in favor of the resolution.

Mr. Nesbitt (N. Oxford) said the Ontario farmers were now finishing their own cattle instead of shipping them to England for that purpose, which he thought was a distinct benefit to the country.

Hon. George F. Graham said that senatorial appointments might not be political patronage, but it was a singular coincidence that every government filled every vacancy in the senate by appointing one of its own partisans. The house of commons was getting on very well with the vacant seats in the senate and he thought the country would not suffer greatly if the senatorial vacancies were not filled until after the election. Sir Thomas White indignantly denied that the government was retaining office by grace of the opposition. The government had just the same authority today as it had in 1912. The parliamentary term had been extended by common consent, because it would have been almost unresponsible to think of dividing the country by a general election during the war.

Mr. MacDonald (Picton) said the government had quite complacently prepared for an election in 1915, nearly a year after the war commenced. They had printed ballots and sent them overseas, and Hon. Mr. Rogers had declared that the people in thunderous tones were demanding an election. The government today was appealing to the opposition to sink their party differences for the good of the country. Would the government cease peddling out political patronage and give more thought to the good of the country?

Clark Deprecates Friction. Dr. Clark (Red Deer) said every good citizen of Canada wanted to devote all his energy to winning the war, and for the purpose desired the public men of the country to forget their party differences and to work together for winning the war. This had been done in Great Britain and every British country except Canada by coalition governments. It had been pretty well accomplished in Canada by the extension of the parliamentary term. That extension was upon a mutual understanding that party differences should be lost sight of. He sincerely hoped there would not be an outbreak of partisanship which would bring on an election. A terrible responsibility would rest upon the party responsible for the election. The opposition should refrain from such an outbreak, but certainly the government should set the example. The government should not by its treatment of the opposition stir up political feelings and rancor. The government, Dr.

Clark said in conclusion, had the legal right to pursue a partisan policy and devote itself to distributing political patronage, but he thought they would make a great mistake in voting down the resolution offered by Mr. Maclean of Halifax.

The motion was then declared lost on division.
