SMILING, BUT HE LOOKS CAREWORN

Lloyd George Away Today to Genoa Conference.

Twenty in the British Party to Keep Tongues Quiet—Limited Powers of French Delegates.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, April 7.—Smiling cheerfully, but unable entirely to conceal his careworn expression, Premier Lloyd George headed a party of twenty, including his wife and daughter, Megan, who left at 8:20 a. m. today for Genoa, the scene of the international economic conference which will open on next Monday.

The continued illness of Marquis Curzon, foreign secretary, who is suffering from neuritis, has caused postponement of his departure until next week, but Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, secretary for war and Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, accompanied the premier. Others in the party were Sir Maurice Hakey, secretary to the delegation, and Sir Philip Sassoon.

The journey to Paris will be unbroken, and after a few hours delay in the French capital, during which Lloyd George will confer with Premier Poincaré, the party will proceed direct to Italy. The remainder of the British experts and secretaries will leave London tomorrow.

Paris, April 7.—Extraordinary precautions are being taken to prevent indiscretion by members of the French delegation at Genoa. Louis Barthou, head of the delegation, has warned his colleagues that the first one who communicates directly with Paris in regard to the proceedings of the conference will be sent back to France.

French Instructions. Paris, April 7.—The French cabinet this afternoon approved the text of Premier Poincaré's written instructions to the French delegation at Genoa. The instructions were based on the government's memorandum of January 31, in which discussion of the reparations question was declared to be outside the scope of the conference.

French Instructions. Paris, April 7.—The French cabinet this afternoon approved the text of Premier Poincaré's written instructions to the French delegation at Genoa. The instructions were based on the government's memorandum of January 31, in which discussion of the reparations question was declared to be outside the scope of the conference.

The French viewpoint is that when the head of a government is at a conference it is possible to undertake engagements of a more comprehensive nature than when a nation is represented by minor members, but that in no case under a republican parliamentary regime is it possible to bind a government without the approval of its parliament. It is recalled by French officials that the U. S. sent its president to Paris to negotiate peace, but that the U. S. congress exercised its right to make the final decision.

PRES. MAXWELL ENTERTAINED

Mayor Schofield's Guest at Luncheon Today—Off to Moncton and Chatham.

President R. B. Maxwell of the G. W. V. A., accompanied by G. Earle Logan, provincial secretary treasurer, left this afternoon for Moncton, where they will speak tonight. Tomorrow they will go to Chatham, and will return here on Monday, and Mr. Maxwell will go on that night to Montreal.

At 12:15 Mayor Schofield entertained President Maxwell at lunch at the Union Club. Some G. W. V. A. members and several other guests were present.

In response to the toast to his health, Mr. Maxwell expressed his thanks for the cordial reception given him in St. John, and his pleasure that the local branch was getting along so well. All over Canada by a process of elimination the best of the ex-service men were forming the branches of the G. W. V. A., and that success would continue, he desired also to thank Mayor Schofield personally for all he had done and was doing in the interests of returned men. The value of his services was recognized at Ottawa, and the speaker wished to add his own personal tribute.

Mr. Logan paid a tribute to the kindness of the press, and in response to a toast A. M. Belding of the Times and Edward O'Brien of the Globe briefly responded. Before dispersing the assembled guests, at the mayor's request, drank a silent toast in honor and memory of the fallen.

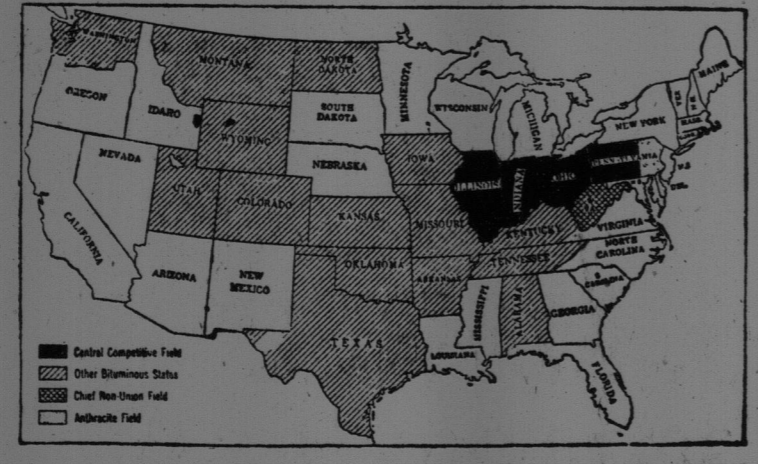

WOULD HAVE MORE FROM ENGLAND MOVE TO CANADA

London, April 7.—(Canadian Press)—The Bishop of Birmingham, presiding at a meeting convened by the National Council of Public Morals to discuss the "vivisection" of the British race, said he regarded emigration as one means to be desired.

The Duke of Devonshire dwelt on the attractions of Canada and declared it was important that there should be a greater influx of Britishers to Canada than at present.

A LARGER ONE. A large new bulletin board was erected at the Union Station today. It is larger than the old one and is eleven feet square. The time of the arrival and departure of trains is prominently displayed.

DR. WATSON AND "MEDIUM" AT ODDS

Former Quits Spiritism and Latter Takes Issue With Him Over Statements.

Toronto, April 7.—Louis Benjamin, a "medium" through whom Dr. Albert D. Watson of this city, for some time claimed to hold communication with the spirits of famous men in the spirit world, takes exception to Dr. Watson's recent statement that the messages of mediums are either unreliable or fakes, also Dr. Watson's intimation that engaging in spiritism injuriously affects the health.

Benjamin yesterday said Dr. Watson's withdrawal from the "Twentieth" magazine was due to a difference of opinion over what should be published in the "Twentieth" magazine.

Samuel Taylor Coleridge, English poet, was the originator and organizer of the "Twentieth" magazine, Benjamin said, and when Dr. Watson's literary effusions crowded Coleridge's spirit communications out of the magazine there was trouble.

As to the matter of health, Benjamin cited Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir Conan Doyle and other spiritists in disproof of Dr. Watson's remark about spiritism being injurious to one's health.

SOVIET SENT VAST SUMS TO GERMANY

Millions of Marks Spent for Communist Propaganda.

Berlin, April 7.—The presence here of the Soviet delegation to the Genoa conference has been seized upon as the psychological moment for revelations concerning alleged Bolshevik subsidies to the German Communist party.

The revelations are made by the Poutsch-Parlamentarische Nachrichten Agency, often used as the mouthpiece of the Majority Socialist wing of the present German government.

According to a story widely published today the Communists received from Russia in 1921 sixty million marks, of which about five million marks were for the support of the party organ Rote Fahne (Red Flag), which, however, has lately been reduced to 300,000 marks monthly.

Moreover, it is asserted, the Bolshevik organized at enormous expense the so-called West European secretariat, and vast propaganda work by German Communist publishing houses in Hamburg and Leipzig. These publishing houses alone in 1921 drew thirty million marks.

It is alleged that the subsidies were formerly mainly in shape of pearls and other jewels, but these were apt to be lost in transit the latest method of payment has been in dollar bills and other high value currency. It is charged that adequate control of these funds did not exist and that pilferings have been rife.

The Rote Fahne ridicules the revelations as a childish political manoeuvre. It says the German Communists have never denied receiving assistance from the Russians. The newspaper makes a veiled accusation that the Majority Socialists' electioneering fund has been largely obtained from bourgeois capital.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY A LIVE WIRE

Toronto Man Employed by Hydro as a Splicer Meets Death at Stony Creek.

Hamilton, Ont., April 8.—When his hands came in contact with a main line of the Hydro, carrying 22,000 volts, Joseph H. Hobson, seventy-seven Essex street, Toronto, was electrocuted on the Barton street road two miles from Stony Creek. Deceased had been with the Hydro Commission for three months, attending to trouble calls, and was sent to the 69th Battery, with which unit he was engaged in a splicing extension as a splicer. It was while engaged in this capacity that he met his death. So far as is known Hobson took hold of an underground cable, loaded with electricity, to splice it. His hands were burned to the bone, and he died instantly. Coroner Dr. B. E. Thompson of Salford, was called and ordered an inquest, which will be held Thursday night.

Deceased was single and thirty years of age. He was born in England and came to Canada some years ago. When war was declared he enlisted with the 19th Battery and in England was transferred to the 69th Battery, with which unit he served in France and Russia. After the signing of the armistice he returned to this country and went to Toronto to live.

WANTS NAMES OF PAPER OWNERS ON THE FRONT PAGE

London, April 7.—(Canadian Press)—Captain G. T. Ramsden, Coalition-Unionist member for Etobicoke, in the commons yesterday asked whether in view of the fact that certain newspaper proprietors had acquired large monopolies of the press throughout the country, thereby dictating to a large section of the community their personal policy and opinions, all newspapers should be compelled to publish the names of their proprietors on the front pages of the paper.

Premier Lloyd George replied that if the proposal were carried out it might, in many cases, disclose the name of a company, which would be ineffective for the purpose desired.

As Hiram Sees It

"I see," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to the Times reporter, "some fellow up to Fredrick 'ud like to kill off some editors." "That is not a new disease," said the reporter. "It usually breaks out when anybody wants to put something across without attracting too much attention. Editors are of a perverse and stiff-necked generation, and no doubt ought to be subjected to severe discipline. Still, as I read your paper, you are not a fellow up to Fredrick 'ud like to kill off some editors." "That is not a new disease," said the reporter. "Most of us 'ud like to lick one once in a while," said Hiram, "but I guess we need 'em after all. Yes, sir, if it weren't for the newspapers we might get let in for a hull lot o' things that wouldn't be good for us. I want to stop my subscription every now an agin—but as time goes on I find the paper stand up for the gang. There are worse things than that."

"Thanks," said the reporter. "You will be one of a large crowd intent on the same benevolent errand. I can see you all coming."

The French airplane, piloted by Aviator Mire, aided by a mechanic, was carrying three passengers. It left Le Bourget, near Paris, at noon, for London. The British airplane, which left Croydon, in the London area, this morning, carried mail and was manned only by a pilot.

ARRESTS MADE IN BOSTON OIL CASE

Alleged Fraud Said to Involve Loss of Million Dollars to Investors There.

Boston, April 7.—An alleged oil fraud said to involve the loss of one million dollars to investors here and possibly millions in other parts of the country was disclosed by federal attorneys here yesterday when they made public the names of 18 oil financiers in New York, Boston and Holyoke who have been indicted secretly by the federal grand jury for alleged fraudulent use of the mails.

Charles M. Ludden, an attorney, and John E. Gilchrist, an official of the Exchange Trust Co. both of this city and Frederick E. Hensley, president of the Motor Specialty Co. of Waltham, were among the names disclosed.

The government alleges that the petroleum corporation, organized under the laws of Delaware, falsely advertised that its capitalization was $60,000,000, that the Standard Oil Co. was interested in it, and it constituted the holding company for thirty-one oil concerns, that it had capital stock for sale and that it had properties producing 120,000 barrels of oil daily with an annual income of $50,000,000.

MEETING VITAL ONE FOR SPORT

Halifax Comment on Next Week's Gathering Here.

Settle Fate of the Maritime A. A. U. or Decide Whether Nova Scotia Will Have Separate Organization.

(Canadian Press) Halifax, N. S., April 7.—The Herald on its sporting page today says: "The fate of the maritime provinces branch of the A. A. U. of C., will probably be decided at the semi-annual meeting scheduled for St. John on April 12 and 13. Some Nova Scotia athletic officials announce that they will go to St. John and ask for a showdown. It is said unofficially that a move is on foot to have President Covey withdraw his plan to force every amateur in the maritime provinces to sign affidavits or resign from an office."

"At any rate, on the outcome of the St. John meeting will depend largely whether or not Nova Scotia will have an organization separate from the M. P. B. A. A. U. of Canada. Numerous clubs favor the proposed provincial association. "Clubs in Halifax, Stellarton, New Glasgow, Pictou, Moncton, Amherst, Halifax, Dartmouth, Sydney, Glace Bay, Antigonish, Caledonia, St. John and elsewhere, have announced their intention to ignore the affidavit scheme until it is endorsed by the board of governors. They do not say that they will not sign, but at present refuse to take action one way or the other."

"And on the other hand, President Covey's argument has something behind it. He says that he adopted the affidavit scheme when his colleagues on the M. P. B. A. U. of C. and himself had already yelied for a clean up in the maritimes. He says that investigation held in the last six months, the following being suspected of professionalism, the charges being made in legal form. It was then, he further states, that President Covey put his scheme over, some of the men who promised to back him, took cold feet and left him to fight his way out, and the fight promises to be a merry one, with the boosters of professional hockey and baseball looking on with happy smiles, and the amateurs standing by with looks of uncertainty."

A. W. Cover in Amherst. Amherst, N. S., April 7.—The semi-annual meeting of the M. B. A. A. U. of C. will be held in St. John at 2 p. m. Wednesday, April 12. The meeting will be conducted in the rooms of the Commercial Club, and President A. W. Covey, who is in town today, predicts a record attendance of delegates. They will be assured of a heated gathering. In answer to the criticism against St. John as a meeting place, Mr. Covey said no meeting of the M. P. A. A. U. of C. had ever been held in St. John; also that the maritime boxing championships were being held in St. John next week and the delegates would act as an attraction for the delegates from all parts of the three provinces. The president took up another question that has long bothered athletes, which is the matter of the so-called "clubs"—The executive was the coach of governors. Mr. Covey said that the executive held the same position as did a council in a town—appointed for the purpose of conducting the people's business—"and this we intend to do," he concluded.

BRITISH BUDGET AT FIRST OF MAY

Keen Anticipation—References in Lords to Effect of High Taxation.

London, April 7.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The budget will be introduced on May 1. No budget has ever been awaited with keener anticipation. There was some reference in the House of Lords last night to the effect of heavy taxation, Lord Gainsford suggesting that many people were being driven abroad and many others within the empire prevented from coming home as they were unable to face the stiff taxation. Lord Hylton, representing the treasury, said he did not accept Lord Gainsford's statements but assured the House that no one realized the burden of taxation better than the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

BIGGEST JUNK SHOP PROPOSED FOR THE NAVY

Experts Consider Storing Metal from Scrapped Ships for a Rise in Prices— Might Require $75,000,000.

Washington, April 6.—Congress will be called upon to provide capital for the largest junk dealing business in the world if one of the plans receiving serious consideration from American naval experts for scrapping the battleships doomed by the Naval Treaty is adopted. A fund estimated as high as $75,000,000 may be needed to carry out a scrapping plan which technical experts say would eventually prove to be the most economical way of disposing of these ships, particularly the old ones. This proposal provides that the government itself shall undertake the gigantic task of breaking up the seventeen old battleships slated for destruction, and new ones as well, at least those building in navy yards.

The advantages of this plan, the experts say, are that it will provide employment for some of the skilled and many of the unskilled workmen recently furloughed from the yards, and that it will be possible for the government to carry out the scrapping in accordance with the treaty terms but to store the scrap metal, steel and brass, until the present price depression is over.

The majority of naval officers, however, believe that the most expedient method of disposing of the problem will be to offer all the doomed ships to the highest bidder and let private concerns undertake cutting them up. This, they urge, would provide employment for just as many men, would stimulate private enterprise and help to develop what the country is said to need badly, shipbreaking experts. At present this industry is in its swaddling clothes. No one in America has completed the job of scrapping a battleship, though other countries, with Germany and England in the lead, have made rapid strides in developing this commercially since the war.

This probably will receive the support of the Board of Naval Technical Experts that is preparing a report to be submitted shortly to Secretary Denby, along with the plan described above, and one or two other schemes as alternatives.

The report will set forth, it is understood, that an obvious solution of the whole difficulty, with the price of scrap metal at rock bottom and wages high, would be to tow all of the discarded ships out to sea and sink them.

The principal objection raised to this is the economic waste, and the failure to provide employment for idle workmen. Another proposal to be brought to the front by commercial interests will be to permit certain well established firms, or shipbuilders and others, to take over some of the old ships and scrap them on shares, making a fifty-fifty division of whatever profits accrue.

The battle cruisers and battleships still under construction offer a different problem, and various solutions are being considered by the board. One is cutting up of these ships on the ways in navy yards by the yard forces. Another is to sell them and have them cut up by labor supplied by the purchaser.

The Naval Board, which is headed by Rear Admiral David W. Taylor, chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, was named by the Secretary to "formulate instructions to carry out the scrapping rules of the conference on limitation of armaments." Suggestions from every quarter were solicited by the board and it has been flooded with suggestions and plans. The board is to meet tomorrow to formulate its final report to the secretary.

In its deliberations the Board has been confronted at all times with the practical certainty that no methods to be decided upon with the exception of that by which the Government finances and does the work, takes the risk and holds the scrap for a rising market, will bring any money into the treasury. If all the doomed ships are cut up and dumped on the market, it is said prices will fall so that they probably not pay for the labor employed in the work.

more than 800,000 displacement tons of ships, built or building. This will represent something like 800,000 tons of steel and 4,000 tons of brass scrap, with a market value of millions of dollars.

Among the many suggestions which the board has received was one made by Rear Admiral Josiah McKean, commandant at Mare Island, who proposed that twelve of the old battleships be used to extend the breakwater at San Pedro. His proposal was that the boats be completely stripped and material salvaged, and then that they be taken out and sunk, providing a quiet anchorage for the Pacific Fleet in Los Angeles Harbor, which at present is lacking.

LABOR TROUBLES ON TEA PLANTATIONS.

The high wages paid to workers on the tea plantations in India and Ceylon during the war, and the present scarcity of the leaf, have led to a constantly increasing price for good tea. It is reported that the cost of producing tea, which has advanced between 12 and 16 cents a pound during the last eighteen months, will soon make necessary a general increase in retail prices.

AMATEURS OF ST. DAVID'S CHURCH WIN NEW LAURELS

"Comrades," an appealing comedy drama, was splendidly staged in the auditorium of Knox church last night by the members of the amateur dramatic society of St. David's church. The performers, who already have a reputation as capable actors, achieved a brilliant success. An audience of about 600 packed the hall and, by unstinted applause, showed plainly its appreciation of the rich humor, which was cleverly handled, and of the sustained interest of the plot which works up to a fine climax. In pathetic and dramatic moments, as well as in the amusing episodes, the actors were equally successful.

Those who took part were as follows: Royal Manning, the hero, Murray Lawson; May, his wife, Miss Phyllis MacGowan; Bessie Bradley, May's friend, Miss M. Alberta Nelson; Marcus Graves, Bessie's fiancé, Kenneth R. Nelson; Simon Stone, Jack-of-all-trades, Ronald W. Shaw; Nancy Nipper, the housekeeper, Miss Kathleen M. Shaw, and Matt Winsor, the tramp, Alan N. MacGowan. The accompanists were Mrs. J. M. Barnes, Miss Marion Cruikshank and Miss Myrtle J. Fox. Between the acts pleasing specialties were given. Miss Estelle Fox sang a solo and Clinton Regan contributed some Scottish wit and humor.

Kenneth Stirling was the business manager and stage helpers were Miss Lillian Berwick and Miss Annie Parks.

orphanage was reported on at the meeting of the board of directors of the Protestant Orphanage held yesterday afternoon in the British street institution with the president, D. C. Clark, in the chair. The building committee told of the delegation which went to city hall asking for a grant of land on the Manawagonish road and reported that no definite reply to the request had yet been received. The committee was continued and authorized to proceed with the negotiations. Reports were also given of the bills now before the provincial legislature to amend the constitution of the orphanage and to change the name from the St. John to the New Brunswick Protestant Orphan Home. Reports of the management of the present two institutions in British street and West St. John were very satisfactory. The homes were said to be practically full with sixty-five children in West St. John and forty-three in the British street home. A clean bill of health for both homes was reported.

BETTER THAN HARD COAL

Soft coal to free from soot that it does not make whiskers on stove covers or pipe and does not mat or cake when burning, is far better than Hard Coal for general household use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and can also be used for open fires and small heating stoves. Such a coal is Broad Cove soft coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article. No other soft coal burns just like Broad Cove. You will know it by the above characteristics. 4-8

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING

Two facts about last night's meeting at the Imperial may be taken as a clear indication of popular feeling in regard to hydro. These facts are that the house was crowded to the doors at least a quarter of an hour before the time announced for the opening of the meeting, and that throughout the meeting every expression of sentiment in opposition to New Brunswick Power Company control, and in favor of civic distribution, brought quick and hearty applause from the audience.

last night that is worthy of particular emphasis, because that rate has been described as too high. In that rate are figured interest and sinking fund and other charges, and at the expiration of thirty years the capital cost of the development would be wiped out. Thereafter, only the trifling cost of upkeep would have to be taken care of and the people would get the full benefit in reduced cost of light and power. In paying the 1.2 cents they would be providing something for themselves, to come back again in due time. Would anything they paid the power company ever come back? Last night's audience saw the point and every citizen should see it and oppose to the utmost any deal that would deprive the people of their rights.

THINKING NATIONALLY

Hon. R. B. Bennett of Calgary addressed the Commercial Club of Halifax last week. In the course of his remarks he said: "The real danger of the country is that we are drifting back to old times. We are thinking of provinces instead of the country. You find it in Nova Scotia, in New Brunswick, in British Columbia. Canada consists of nine provinces. Unless we are able to think of Canada alone and have common regard for the Dominion we have failed."

We in the maritime provinces are not unfamiliar with the advice that we should think nationally. That is where we began more than half a century ago, and Mr. Bennett, as a native of New Brunswick, ought to know it. He ought also to know when and why we began to discard that advantage which was taken of our national thinking by those who thought provincially. We gave up our natural market, accepted assurances given us that the markets of the upper provinces and the west would be open to us on fair terms, and that the traffic of Canada would flow through our ports. For years we thought nationally and helped to open up the west and develop the larger Canada. But in time we discovered that we were supporting a policy which centralized our financial institutions elsewhere, sacrificed our manufacturing interests for those of the central provinces, and prevented our growth.

Mr. McEllan pursued this subject a little farther, and asked why it should be proposed to give the power company twelve cents for the current the first year when the Kirby-Phillips report showed that 10.17 cents would be ample not only for the distribution, but to pay the deficit on street railway and gas plant, and the dividends on preference stock. Mr. McEllan also pointed out that the period proposed for power company distribution would just about bring the company up to the time when it might by methods not unknown to such corporations give a value to that $2,000,000 of common stock.

Mr. Phillips, as the spokesman of the United Organizations, set forth with great clearness their policy, and Mr. McEllan declared his emphatic acceptance of that policy; and the applause given to both speakers on that score was as strong an evidence of popular feeling as either could have wished. In brief, the United Organizations demand that the hydro current from Musquash be given to the consumers at cost, through civic distribution, and they are opposed to any further delay or any deal with the power company that would add one cent to the cost to the consumer; and Mr. Phillips pledged the United Organizations to stand on the job after the civic elections, and exert their utmost influence to see that the public interests are safeguarded at every point.

If the speakers last evening fell short in any respect it was perhaps in taking too much for granted in regard to public knowledge of the possibilities of hydro. They might with good effect have gone a little more into detail in regard to prices, and the actual saving and financial gain to the community through civic distribution. The friends of the New Brunswick Power Company are doing all in their power to frighten the people with talk about increased taxation, as well as trying to get into the public mind a fear that the required power is not to be found at Musquash. The speakers last night proved clearly that all such fears are groundless; but with the data in their possession, if time had permitted, they could have exposed much more fully the fallacy of the arguments with which the friends of the power company seek to win the taxpayer to their side.

Consider for a moment the actual contract. If the mayor's policy prevails, the rate per kilowatt hour will be twelve cents for the first year and eleven cents for the second year, and in those two years the company would be able to control the situation as to make the Musquash development of no advantage whatever to St. John, whose people would be compelled to go on paying excessive rates, which would be fatal to industrial expansion. On the other hand, under civic distribution a rate for light and power could be made at the very outset which would result in a rapid development of the market, and when the rate would be down to four cents.

There is a point in regard to the rate of 1.2 cents charged by the hydro-electric commission which the speakers made

THE HERMIT THRUSH.

(Rev. George Scott.) There is a joy that comes too near The borders of dependent sorrow, And hushes so sweetly clear Whereof no sinful man may borrow.

One said it was a hermit thrush That set the woodland echoes ringing, When in the sunset's rosy blush The tarry crows were homeward winging.

I stood entranced as one who hears A voice long vanished from his hearing, As tremulous as one who fears, Yet craves the boon his soul is hearing.

All else within the little vale Was silent, when this song ascending, This rapturous hymn of Holy Grail With all sweet fragrances blending.

So unobtrusive was the song, I heard the aspens gently sighing, As who recites a buried wrong, To some gray hermit priest a-dying.

So sweet and hushed was the strain, So interlaced with vague appealing, I would that I might taste again, Such potencies of tender feeling.

One said it was a little bird That set the woodland echoes ringing, My very heart was stirred, As though it was an angel singing.

And when it ceased, ah me, the dark Time, the solitude grew cold and stark With sorrow that was past believing.

Tough on the Colonel. The colonel of a Scotch regiment who was disliked by his men, wanted to let a sniper. He called for Sandy, the crack shot of the regiment, and said: "Sandy, there's a sniper over there. He's been shooting at us all day. The fir-st time, he knocked the hat off me, and the second time he knocked the cigarette out of my mouth. Go over and get him. I think he's in your clump of bushes." Sandy went toward the spot and found a German hidden in a small tree. Sandy shook the tree and down fell the German, who threw up his hands and cried: "Kamara! Mercy!" Sandy looked at him disgustedly and said: "Mer-cy? Yell get nae mer-cy from me! Ye missed the Colonel twice!"—Judge.

BLINDS KEEPER WITH PEPPER AND ESCAPES Tombs Prisoner Throws Restaurant Table Spice Into Guard's Eyes.

New York, April 6.—The presence of Sidney Brown, a twenty-one-year-old automobile salesman, alleged by the police to have sometimes sold machines he did not own, was required in the Tombs cell he has called home since March 7, when Magistrate Silverman in the Washington Heights Court held him in $10,000 bail on a grand larceny charge.

Two other prisoners, William Voorhees and Clifford Clements, were also up to the Bronx, each with a keeper as bodyguard. The case in which Brown was to have participated was postponed a week, however. Clements remained at the court house while Brown and McMann started back in the general direction of the Tombs. So did Voorhees and his keeper, Martin Kane.

Brown's home is at 7 West 116th street. When Lenox avenue and 116th street were reached the party adjourned to a luncheon for a bit to eat. When everybody was comfortably seated, Brown began fumbling with the pepper shaker. In a second he got the top off, threw the fiery spice into Keeper McMann's eyes and dashed out the door.

McMann, blinded, stamped about in pain. Kane, afraid to give chase because his charge could then escape, pursued the escaping prisoner only vocally. The shouts were of no avail. Brown disappeared in the crowd.

When McMann managed to get the pepper out of his eyes he accompanied the second keeper and Voorhees to the Tombs and reported the escape to Warden J. Hanley. McMann and detectives from the East 126th street station, who originally arrested Brown, were sent out to look for him.

ELECTRIFICATION IN BRITAIN. (Toronto Globe.) In Britain, where coal is cheap and plentiful, two important steam railways have decided to proceed at once with electrification of their lines because of its obvious advantages.

The first section of the scheme of the South Eastern & Chatham Railway covers all lines within a radius of fifteen miles from London, and means the electrification of nine-and-a-half miles, equivalent to 210 single-mile lines. The complete scheme covers all lines within a thirty-mile radius of London. The scheme of the London, Brighton & South Coast Railway will also be built in sections and the contract for the electrical equipment of the first section has been awarded. In both cases the system adopted will enable the rolling stock to be run without alteration over any railway which may be electrified in the future.

The Electric Railway Advisory Committee. The two schemes will provide work for about 18,000 men for several years.

In Ontario, where coal is imported at an extravagant cost, while abundant water power is running to waste, railway men are lagging behind the slow-going Britisher.

HON. T. L. METCALFE.

SANDY CORBET'S PLATFORM. No. 3.—(a) Meetings called on all important questions. (b) A standing list for recall. No. 4.—Two elections for city office unnecessary.

In the near future there are several important questions which will be as important as the present issue of Hydro. In order to sound thoroughly the public mind on such questions, meetings will be held in various parts of the city in the order to safeguard each section of the city. The general opinion of such will be my endeavor to promote, and I will not attempt to override at any time the public desire.

The present system of elections is a waste of time and public money. One election would answer the purpose just as well—and save money.

At the election the people would make their choice and the majority rule. Come to our headquarters at Moon's Hall, on Coburg street, or to Prentiss Hall, West Side, join the Reform Party.

TRAPPED THREE DAYS ON CLIFF. High Seas Maroon Washington Couple Near San Francisco.

San Francisco, April 6.—Mrs. Jack Bailey of Washington, D. C., was rescued by coast guards from a shallow niche in a cliff over Mussel Rock, near here, where she had been trapped three days and three nights. Her husband, trapped at the same time, clambered down the rocks and summoned aid. For three days and three nights they had been without food or water beyond the small amount caught in hollows of the rock during showers.

The Baileys told the coast guards they went for a walk along the beach late last Wednesday when the tide was low. When they reached a point near Mussel Rock a wave dashed them from their feet and deposited them against the cliff higher up.

With a pocket knife Bailey cleared a little hollow, and there they were forced to remain until the sea moderated and he could scramble down and summon help. The Baileys were hauled up by a rope nearly 200 feet to the cliff top with ropes.

FIRE FOOLS A DOG HERO. Woman of Eighty-three Dies From Flames Despite Aid Brought by Toby.

"Toby," a black and tan dog, did his best to save the life of Mrs. Ellen Isaac, eighty-three years old, when her clothing caught fire in her home on the third floor of 401 West street, New York. Before the animal aroused the attention of neighbors the woman was so badly burned that she died.

Mrs. Isaac was preparing breakfast for her invalid husband, Mark, eighty-four years old, and "Toby," owned by Thomas McNamara, who lived on the same floor, was in the Isaac flat. Mrs. Isaac's sleeve ignited from the stove. She was too feeble from a recent illness to get help, but reached the room occupied by her husband. "Toby" ran yelping to Mrs. McNamara and tugged at her dress. Then Mr. and Mrs. McNamara hurried to the Isaac apartment after the dog. They found the furniture afire, and the woman trying to put out her blazing garments with her hands. McNamara wrapped a blanket around her and smothered the flames. She died before a physician arrived.

A STORIED SHORE LINE. (Toronto Globe.) If King George read the despatches telling of the fire at St. Anne de Beaupre, he must have recalled his visit in 1908, as Prince of Wales, to the storied parishes by the St. Lawrence, as far as the Chateau Bellevue, five miles below St. Anne, where Bishop Laval in 1670 established a school for training boys as well in farming and mechanics as in doctrines and discipline. The old school is still a holiday resort in summer for professors and pupils of the Quebec Seminary. Wood carving was taught here, so that the Cote de Beaupre may lay claim to the first art school and the first model farm in America. From the hill on which the chateau stands one looks down on a fine meadow, which is said to be the location of the first Canadian farm.

This whole shore line to Quebec is considered the fairest part of the province owing to its fertile farm lands, set against the river, with a background of the moody Laurentians. "If you have never visited the Cote de Beaupre you know neither Canada nor the Canadians," wrote Abbe Perland, one of the French-Canadian historians. "In the habitants of Cote de Beaupre you have the Norman peasantry of the reign of Louis XIV., with his legends, his songs, his superstitions and his customs."

But it has not always been peaceful. Sir David Kirk, the commander of a British expedition, harried the coast line in 1633, and at the time of the Conquest by Britain in 1759, the Fraser Highlanders, part of Wolfe's army, burned nearly every house in the parish of L'Ange Gardien, immediately to the east of Montmorency Falls. The habitants have had their revenge, for these same Highlanders settled the country, mainly at Murray Bay and Kamouraska, where they have forgotten the language of their ancestors. Once a visitor from Ontario entered a store in Murray Bay with the name Warren on the sign. He expected a ready conversation in English, but Mr. Warren assailed him volubly in French, and declared he knew not the language of his call.

LYONS FAIR SHOWS BUSINESS MUCH BETTER

London, April 7.—(Canadian Press)—The results of the Lyons spring fair, says a Reuter despatch from Paris, show that business is three times more flourishing this year than last.

Of 400,000 visitors, 120,000 were buyers, and of these 95 per cent were French, but this figure is misleading because the majority of foreigners were ready to give large orders. Complete figures regarding transactions are not yet available, but so far as ascertained the exhibitors averaged 105,000 francs with a further 48,000 francs for business to be concluded. While it was remarked that luxury articles were less in demand, Parisian fancy goods proved a success.

Easter's Thrilling Approach

THE important place of new wearables for the Easter season seems more assured than for years past. An unusual diversity of design, an uncommonly comprehensive color range—an unwonted attention to those details which give individual character to the different models, prophesy a spirited season for these deservedly popular garments and the smaller articles of dress that go to complete the successful spring outfit.

Smart New Styles in Tweed Costumes

Tweed Suits are the latest word in smartness and convenience. Showing in a pleasing assortment of sport shades and fancy mixtures. Coats are belted and pocketed and in some cases have both skirt and knickers to match.

Suits for dressy wear are in fine serges and tricot; plain or effectively trimmed with borders of contrasting color or rich embroidery. Plenty of the popular box-coated styles among them. Really the nicest variety you could wish to see.

Frocks With Capes or Fancy Sleeves Favored

Clever little long waisted frocks are being accorded much favor, while the straight line dress still holds a prominent place among the modes for spring.

Charming individual touches are given by the use of youthful Peter Pan collar and cuffs, loose capes that fall gracefully from the shoulders, fancy sleeves in new and stunning shapes, boat shaped necks and delightful trimmings of every kind you can think of.

There is a strong tendency for bright color and sports styles; however, those who prefer quieter models will find them here in abundance.

Popularity of the Topcoat Spreads

Every woman needs a wrap or a Topcoat with sunny frocks or to slip on when evenings are cool.

Our Easter collection comprises coats of good-looking tweed or linen colored blanket cloths, polos or chinchillas. Fancy wraps in soft toned browns and other shades—some of them quite elaborate. There are many styles from which to choose a suitable model for any occasion.

Easter Hats Are Effective in Color and Style

Snug little toques, artfully draped, and neat sailor shapes, plain or simply trimmed, are being favored for wear with the tailleur in the morning.

Afternoon brings out dressier models and shapes; high tilted at the back or wide at the sides. These are made extremely smart with trimmings of exquisite flowers, fancy feathers, ribbon ornaments and well blended color effects.

Many of them are very moderately priced.

Easter Blouses Are Here

There are many delightful style variations this season, among them the bateau neck—peasant sleeve—and two color combinations. The Tailored Blouse for use with tweed and other plain suits, is showing with convertible or Peter Pan collar and neatly tucked front. Crepe de cines, Georgette crepes and Jap silks are all represented.

In blouses for dressy wear you will notice many undeniably smart models in plastron effects or with lace trimmed vestees. There are overblouses and tuck-in styles in white, pale shades, or the rich, bright colors in favor this season.

Hand-made Blouses of sheerest voiles are also among the prime favorites, and little net affairs to wear with jumpers are in appropriate and jaunty styles.

Handkerchiefs

A dainty handkerchief is a nice Easter gift. You can find them here as plain or as elaborate as you wish. Pretty colored bordered handkerchiefs are having a popular demand, while plain linens with half or inch borders are also much appreciated. If you prefer the fancier kinds you may choose from an assortment of embroidered corners or delicate pieces with edges of Maltese lace.

You'll Want New Hosiery and Gloves

Hosiery To Match the Costume, of Course.

Here you will find the newest shades and best qualities in fibre and pure thread silks. These are plain, clocked or smartly embroidered. Plain Heather Hose are showing in green, brown, blue and grey shades; Silk and Wool Heathers in drop-stitch patterns are in brown or black with white; Clocked Heathers in silk and wool have white clocks on black or brown.

Gloves

It Wouldn't Be Easter Without New Ones.

Women's and children's sizes are well assorted in our spring stocks. All the fashionable colors are well represented.

For women there are plain and gauntlet wrist styles in silk, chamamoisette, doekin and cape—also dressy two-dome styles in French kid and suede. For children you will find both chamamoisette and kid gloves in white and serviceable colors.

New Easter Clothes for the Kiddies

Reefers in all sizes from 2 to 12 years are made in regulation style of serviceable navy blue chevots. They are double-breasted with brass buttons and sleeve emblems; lined throughout.

Among the gingham dresses you will find the 'Pidge Frock' for tots 2 to 6. These have little bloomers with cuff knees, attached to skirt. The prettiest and most serviceable garments you could wish for. Older girls will find here many brand new styles that are wholly attractive.

Silk and Sateen Underskirts

It isn't always you can find Underskirts like these in sizes for school girls. They are in dark and bright colors and are finished with pleated flit.

Easter Lingerie is Lovely

Smart little two-piece sets consisting of vest and knickers of colored batistes are showing in a variety of dainty colorings including flesh, maize, pale blue, green, etc.—white, too, of course. Some are trimmed with pipings and medallions of checked gingham; others are nicely embroidered.

Pajamas, knickers, envelope chemises, and night gowns are in similar shades, with many new and appealing trimming effects.

Easter Footwear

All the newest modes of Spring, as well as styles ever in favor, are here in splendid array for those who prefer to make early, unhurried selection, to the uncertainties of last minute choosing. And one of the pleasantest points about them is the very modest prices which prevail for shoes whose quality is as desirable as their smart style.

A very late arrival is a Brown Spot Oxford in the New Apron Effect at $6.50.

"HOME RULE ALL AROUND"

London, March 21.—(Associated Press By Mail)—The birth of the Irish Free State has led to renewed talk in some quarters of "home rule all around" that is, autonomy for Scotland and Wales as apart from England proper. Home rule for Wales has already entered the range of practical politics, says an article in the Fall Mail Gazette. Hitherto there have been among Welsh politicians two schools of thought. One has urged the setting up of a Welsh secretaryship similar to the office of the secretary for Scotland, so that Welsh administration may first be disentangled from English affairs; the other favoring a comprehensive home rule scheme without any preliminaries. Premier Lloyd George, himself a Welshman, has hinted that he would look with favor on a comprehensive home rule measure. This prompted the Welsh National Party at Westminster—composed of all the Welsh members of the House of Commons—to draft and adopt a home rule scheme as the basis of a measure to be introduced in parliament at the earliest opportunity. This has, in turn, fired the Scottish members, who at a party meeting have appointed a committee to confer with the Welsh members with a view to joint action. Under the Welsh plan the imperial parliament would reserve its powers on questions affecting the crown, peace and war, foreign affairs, regulation of trade and industrial legislation and postal and other communications. To a Welsh parliament would go control of local government, education, judiciary, agriculture and internal commerce. Restoration of the ancient office and title of Lord President of Wales is proposed. To save the Welsh rural areas from domination by the great industrial population of the south, the Welsh parliament would include an Upper house, consisting of two representatives of each county and county borough and two from the national university of Wales. There is some opposition to the plan even in Wales but the proposals come nearer to meeting the aspirations of moderate nationalist Wales than anything that has hitherto been advanced. Though there is little likelihood of immediate legislation, belief among the Welsh members that the principle is within sight of a parliament in Cardiff is firm and general. NOVEL ATHLETIC TEST. Psychology of Athletics to Be Tried at Illinois. New York, April 5.—"Psychology of Athletics" is a new phase of college sports which has been taken up at the University of Illinois and which is expected to have an important bearing on the selection of students for competition in baseball, football, and track athletics. Dr. Coleman R. Griffith, associate in psychology at that university, has been appointed to the advisory staff of Coach Zuppke, according to an announcement that comes from Urbana, Ill., and he is to conduct experiments for a year, after which he will issue a textbook for the use of coaches in their work of developing men to the highest degree of ability in the various branches of sport. This spring Dr. Griffith will subject every member of the gridiron squad to an exhaustive series of tests, through which he will attempt to select the personnel for the 1922 Conference eleven.

MOUNTED POLICE EXCLUDED FROM THE CONSOLIDATION

National Defence Bill, Thus Amended, Ready For Passage

(Canadian Press Despatch) Ottawa, April 6.—After further discussion, the bill to create a department of national defence went through committee stage in the house today and stands for third reading. An important amendment excludes the Canadian Mounted Police from the scope of the bill and the new department will therefore comprise the militia, military, naval and air forces. When the bill was last before the house objection was made to the inclusion of the Canadian Mounted Police on the ground that it was essentially a civil organization. Today Hon. G. F. Graham, who was in charge of the bill, himself moved the amendment and it was carried without objection. Another amendment made affects the superannuation allowance of officers to be retired. The original bill authorized the government, in such cases, to add from one to three years to the actual term of service. An amendment reduces the years which may be added to from one to two years.

Pleas for the retention of experienced and highly trained military officers were made in the course of the committee discussion. Hon. J. B. M. Baxter (Conservative, St. John and Albert), said that the bill created a distinction between the "militia" and the military. He asked what this distinction was. Mr. Graham replied that the volunteer forces were usually referred to as the "militia."

R. B. Hanson (Conservative, York-Sunbury) asked if the province requisitioning for the mounted police was liable to the costs involved. Mr. Graham said probably it was. Mr. Hanson asked whether the department had the intention to re-establish a company of the Royal Canadian Regiment at Fredericton. Mr. Graham could not encourage any hope of this.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, asked the minister if he could say what officers were to be retired. He objected to the retirement of Major General Sir Henry Burstall if such was in contemplation. Hon. R. J. Manion (Conservative, Fort William) said the retirement of General Burstall had been a puzzle to him. Mr. Graham agreed as to the standing of the officer in question. Sir Henry Burstall had reached the highest peak in the service of the Canadian militia and was entitled to a pension.

T. W. Caldwell (Progressive, Victoria and Carleton) objected to the clause in the bill which provided for adding from one to three years to the service for superannuation purpose of officers to be retired. He considered the principle unsound.

Third reading of the bill was allowed to stand over until another day. Civil government estimates of the department of finance amounting to $419,545 for salaries and $50,000 for contingencies aroused sharp discussion. They included an increase of from $6,000 to $10,000 for the deputy finance minister. Mr. Meighen objected that the increase was too high. Sir Henry Drayton, however, was convinced that work done by the deputy minister was cheap at the price of $10,000 yearly. Mr. Fielding said the age of the deputy minister was fifty-nine and that he had been in the service of the department for forty years.

The vote carried. The Night Session. The civil government estimates of the department of immigration and colonization were seized tonight as an opportunity for a general overhauling of that department. The minister, Hon. Charles Stewart, was kept busy for more than an hour answering questions and explaining policy.

When Hon. Jacques Bureau brought the civil estimates of the department of customs and excise amounting to $559,985 for salaries and $48,000 for contingencies before the house he met the first barrage of questions with a plea to let him get acquainted with the department.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter took issue with the statement that farm implements were dearer because of the duty. He said that in a certain contract it was specified that machinery must be bought in the American market. When it arrived in St. John it was found that the price was the same as the machinery bought in Canada less the duty.

T. W. Caldwell (Carleton-Victoria) said Ford cars were $260 higher in Canada than in the United States. This was evidently a case of taking advantage of the duty. It was also a fact that in a town in New Brunswick and a town in Maine, a few miles apart, farm implements in the Canadian town were dearer in the case of one machine by $68 than in the American town. Fertilizer was also higher in Canada.

GERMAIN STREET IMPROVEMENTS
The annual meeting of the Germain street Improvement Association was held last night in the board of trade room, and the election of officers for the coming year, resulted as follows:—President, L. G. Crosby; vice-president, Col. E. T. Sturdee, and secretary-treasurer, Victor F. Crosby. It was decided to replace some of the older trees which are in bad condition and to continue the care of the grass and trees. The association has done a commendable work in beautifying the street, and Germain street is admittedly one of the most pleasing to look upon, to a large extent through the activities of the improvement association which assesses residents in the street each year to pay for the upkeep of the lawns and trees. The amount of replacing to be done this year is less than usual, as the winter has been less severe.

Olivia Stone Is Acquitted of Murder

(Canadian Press Despatch) New York, April 6.—Miss Olivia P. Stone, who shot and killed Ellis Kinkead, former counsel of Cincinnati on August 5, 1921, was tonight acquitted of murder by a jury in the Brooklyn Supreme Court.

Miss Stone fainted in the court room twice during the trial. She is a nurse.

CANCEL SIXTEEN DEALERS' PERMITS

Permits to sell milk during the ensuing year were denied sixteen proprietors of shops where heretofore milk had been sold, by the board of health at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The manner in which the milk had been handled was the cause of the refusal of the permits.

About half of the thirty-one samples of milk from different dealers which had been submitted to sediment tests were shown to be dirty. The samples were submitted to the board.

The bill before the legislature regarding sewerage at East St. John was approved by the board, which appointed a committee to go to Fredericton to recommend the adoption of the bill.

Three houses were ordered closed as unfit for human habitation. Reports covering the month of March were submitted by Dr. T. Fred Johnston on dairy and slaughter house inspection; by Miss Brophy on tuberculosis work; by Dr. H. L. Abramson on tests made on the city water supply; by Dr. M. Hanington on medical inspection of schools, and by several sanitary inspectors of the county.

NO REDISTRIBUTION BILL AT THIS TIME

(Canadian Press Despatch) Ottawa, April 6.—In the house of commons this afternoon, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen asked Premier King if it was the intention of the government to bring down a redistribution bill during this session.

"The government has no desire to delay the bringing down of such a measure," said the prime minister, "but the government does not wish to proceed with undue haste in the matter. As Mr. Meighen knows, a measure of redistribution is one that is likely to occupy a considerable amount of time in committee and in subsequent discussion in the house, and as it is not anticipated that there is any desire for a general election between now and the end of the year, the government has felt that the matter might well stand until the next session of parliament."

THINK U. S. MEN WORKED FRAUDS

(Canadian Press Despatch) Halifax, April 6.—Post office inspector W. E. MacLellan, chief of police Frank Hanrahan and Temperance inspector E. S. Tracey, deny knowledge of any scheme by which a Nova Scotia firm is alleged in Boston despatches to have swindled citizens of that city out of large sums of money by use of the mails. According to the story, the firm and others in Canada, mailed price lists intoxicating liquors to persons in Boston, many of whom forwarded the prices asked, thereby bidding goodbye to their money.

Mr. MacLellan believed that those operating in the scheme are Americans, working from a Canadian vantage point, and familiar with the names of likely buyers in the United States.

IMMIGRATION THE SUBJECT OF DEBATE

A keenly contested debate in which both sides put up good arguments and presented them well, was the programme of the meeting of the men's club of Stone church last night. The subject of debate was "Resolved, that it would be advisable to prohibit immigration into Canada for four years." The affirmative, upheld by W. E. Anderson and T. Ross Hanington, won out in the debate. The negative was taken by Dr. James Manning and John Jackson. The judges were: Rev. A. L. Fleming, W. E. Golding and G. Wetmore Merritt. J. Hammond Evans, the president, was in the chair, and after the debate light refreshments were served. A hearty sing-song also was a special feature of the evening, which was one of the most successful of the regular meetings of the club.

The feasibility of connecting up a proposed sewerage pipe from Cranston avenue to Newman Brook was looked into yesterday afternoon when the mayor, Commissioners Frank and Jones, went to Cranston avenue and looked over the ground. They were accompanied by G. G. Hare, city engineer.

PASTEURIZATION OF MILK SUPPLY

(Article 4) In my last letter on this subject, I promised to give my readers some astounding facts as to what the proper pasteurization of milk had done since the system was established in some Canadian cities.

Starting with the City of Montreal, I may say that only a small percentage of her milk supply is pasteurized and bottled, and in consequence her infant death rate is the largest on the continent, in fact is given by some authorities as the largest in the world, unless it would be famine stricken Russia; and starting from an address delivered in Montreal a few days ago on the prevention of disease, by Dr. J. C. Elliott, he said after dealing with the question of a city's water supply:

"No less important is the fact that a city's milk supply must be pure. Fifty per cent. of the deaths of babies under one year are caused by impure milk."

Is it not appalling that out of every thousand babies deaths, five hundred are allowed to die from disease caused by impure milk, when pasteurization would have saved them? But to one who knows the facts concerning the Montreal milk supply, and the system of handling and delivery, one is not inclined to doubt the accuracy of the statements, for that city has about five times as many milk dealers distributing to about 700,000 people as the City of New York has, with a population of approximately six million; and if you will consider again that the greater part of this milk has been carried through the hot, dusty streets in open vessels and deposited in the vestibules of the homes in open containers, you cannot doubt the statements made.

Let us now see what has happened in the City of Toronto. In 1909 no milk was pasteurized and the death rate for infants was 182 per 1,000 born. Two years later approximately 93 per cent. was pasteurized, and the death rate dropped to 144, showing a saving of 38 babies per 1,000 born. In 1918, two years later, 99 per cent. of the milk supply was pasteurized, and the rate dropped to 136 per 1,000; but in 1915, all milk was pasteurized, and for that year the rate dropped to 109 per 1,000 births, which shows a saving in babies lives of 73 per 1,000 from the year 1909, when no milk was pasteurized to 1918 when all milk was pasteurized and bottled. But Toronto health authorities did not stop there. They were not hampered by political influences, but were allowed a free hand, and continued to raise the country standard for production, with the result that with the constant improvement in dairy machinery and icing, the death rate for infants in 1921 was reduced to 86.8 per 1,000. Toronto health authorities are not relaxing one particle in their efforts to still lower their death rate, and the intensive work they are following will show still better results for 1922.

In the City of London, Ont., practically all milk is pasteurized and bottled, and her infant death rate is down to 71 per 1,000. Her rate previous to a rigid country inspection and pasteurization was nearly as high as Toronto's.

The City of Ottawa, following in the footsteps of her sister cities, has 90 per cent. of her supply pasteurized and bottled. The remaining 10 per cent. is either milk from tuberculin tested cows or is certified. Her infant death rate is about 80 per 1,000.

At the present time in our own city there is a tuberculosis finding campaign being waged, and I am sure every citizen will do all in his power to assist those engaged in the work, with a view of eventually curing and curtailing the dread disease. It has been proven that tuberculosis can be cured by proper treatment if taken in time, but why not stop part of the source of infection? It is a well known fact that the bovine type of tuberculosis is communicable to human beings, and it is also a well known fact that 80 per cent. of our milk cows are suffering from the disease to a greater or less extent; and, in consequence, the susceptible infant or the susceptible adult who drinks the raw milk or improperly pasteurized milk of this or any other city, is liable to infection.

In the City of New York since pasteurization of milk was made compulsory her death rate from pulmonary tuberculosis has been reduced from 229 to 89, and from other tuberculosis diseases from 35 to 14, yet some people will tell you that there is no danger from using milk from tuberculin cows. Here is what Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, director of sanitation and health, Washington, D. C., says of pasteurized milk:

"It is a wise provision in a city for all milk to be pasteurized and bottled, as it comes from all kinds of herds, but I prefer the unpasteurized if it can be obtained pure and free from disease. Nevertheless it is highly desirable that bovine tuberculosis should be exterminated."

The superintendent of the poor farm of the City of Worcester refused to purchase a pound of skim milk from a milk plant in that city unless it was guaranteed to be properly pasteurized. This milk was to be used for the feeding of pigs and calves, and when the writer enquired of him why he demanded it to be pasteurized, (knowing that he collected all the garbage of the city), he said:

"I lost practically all my stock of pigs and calves—amounting to several hundreds—by feeding them on raw milk which I found to be tuberculous."

If unpasteurized milk is not fit for hogs, is it worth while to experiment with it on infants and children? Proper pasteurization kills the germs causing tuberculosis. It was changed a few days ago by one of our local milk dealers to name one medical health authority who would say that bovine tuberculosis could be transmitted to human beings. Here are a few:—Dr. Chas. J. Hastings, medical officer of health, Toronto, Ont.; Canada's greatest milk expert; Dr. Herbert W. Wiley, director of health, Washington, D. C.; Prof. James O. Jordan, director of health department, Boston, Mass.; Dr. Royal S. Copeland, commissioner of health, New York city; Dr. Charles E. North, director public health bureau, 30 Church street, New York city.

The opinions of these scientists on the subject can be obtained direct from them by writing to the addresses given. My next article will deal with certified milk, how it is produced, diseases which have been traced to it, and my own observations of it. Certified milk is not a pasteurized product.

COURT MAN TALKS "RED REVOLUTION"

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Montreal, April 6.—Nothing but red revolution will solve the unemployment question in this city, according to Albert St. Germain, stenographer of the superior court, who addressed a meeting of about 8,000 workmen on the Champ De Mars in front of the city hall this afternoon.

Speaking through a megaphone, Mr. St. Germain announced that further demands of a peaceful nature were futile and the league of the unemployed would be formed. An executive council on the soviet model would be chosen and a "plan of campaign" would be studied.

From the windows of the nearby court house could be seen judges and advocates in their robes listening to the speeches of Mr. St. Germain and others. One of the latter wore light grey suede gloves, a raglan spring overcoat and spats and gave the crowd the benefit of some Latin quotations.

HOME FROM OLD LAND, SPEAKS OF CONDITIONS THERE

R. Morton Smith Says Business Seems to be Improving But Some Factors are Not Pleasing.

R. Morton Smith of Manchester Robertson Allison Ltd., returned to St. John this week after a buying trip to England and Ireland. In an interview with the Times, Mr. Smith gave his impressions of conditions at present in England.

Business conditions in the old country seemed to be improving, Mr. Smith said, and the people were optimistic, although the labor situation might be considerably better.

Mr. Smith said that he found business men very optimistic about the future of trade. Their greatest markets for manufactures seemed to be Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. In the last mentioned place the conditions were looking up since the settling of the rebellion there and the hampering effect it had upon trade seem to have been mostly overcome.

The cost of living, Mr. Smith said, was still very high and the rents and taxes would seem enormous in comparison with ours. The demand appeared to be for small houses, either for purchase or rental, and he seemed to want the larger houses, which were being offered for sale and to rent in numbers. Many of the fine old estates were being offered for sale on account of the lack of funds for their upkeep experienced by the families owning them.

In speaking of the labor situation, Mr. Smith said that strikes were sapping the life blood of industry and that the leaders present at the head of labor seemed to be extremely radical, the reasonable and thoughtful ones having been forced aside. Unemployment was also very prevalent, he said, it being estimated that there were more than 2,000,000 men out of work at the present time.

One city mentioned as having 18,000 unemployed out of a population of about 200,000.

Dr. Smith characterized as a great menace to the future of the country. He tells of seeing men and women crowded into some of the public houses, drinking and waiting for drinks, while their children stayed outside on the sidewalks and watched baby carriages.

German goods were entering England in great quantities, Mr. Smith said, although they were hampered by the reparations tax regulations, sometimes being held up for some time on this account. The German industries were also hampered by the lack of raw materials which they had to get from other countries.

BUSY ON THE RIVER NEXT WEEK

Opening of Services Expected by Thursday.

A Good Deal of Freight is Waiting—Ice Moves a Bit Near Fredericton—News of the Provincial Capital.

(Special to The Times.) Fredericton, N. B., April 7.—Preparations are being made for the opening of navigation on the St. John River not later than next Thursday. Although ice still is hanging here, it is not heavy and may move any time. A slight movement last night resulted in the river clearing some distance on the Devon side. The bridge piers still are holding it.

Coal-dumps for the use of the tugboats which will be hanging booms and doing other work as soon as the ice runs out are now being prepared. The run of logs is expected by the St. John River Log Driving Company to be very light, and to contain few, if any, new logs.

W. J. Southern, local agent of the Crystal Stream S. S. Company, was in St. John yesterday making arrangements, and Capt. Henry Crab of Jagetown, who again will be in command of the Majestic, also has gone to St. John.

No damage is anticipated from the ice run, as the river is low and the ice little more than slush.

Joshua Lorette, aged sixteen years, elected to be tried before Magistrate Americk here this morning on a charge of breaking into a freight car in the C. P. yards on March 16 and stealing six suits, a hat, a pair of shoes, and a pair of trousers. He is held in lieu of $100.

Roy Davis, saying he is from Toronto, charged with the theft of a bicycle and having stolen goods in his possession, was remanded until the 10th.

LAY ON, SPRING POETS! Spring poets are hopelessly sane. In spite of the gibes they croak; The arrow of satire in vain Is shot at the magical cloak; For earth is his greenest and best Is set for the lyric they sing; Spring platitudes double our joy; And our trouble Takes flight at the mention of "Spring!"

Let critics whose intellects rise In Woolworths of bone and of brow, disdain with a lofty surmise; The din of the poet's powwow; Spring songs are a blessed relief; To taxes, to strikes and to pain; And so I will hail them, "My ins! Never fall them!" Spring poets are hopelessly sane! Elias Lieberman in New York Times.

DESTROY HALF A MILLION GALLONS

Republican Army Men Raid Bonded Warehouses.

Limit Attention to Liquor from Belfast—De Valera Makes Declaration That the Irish People are Against the Treaty.

Belfast, April 7.—About 100 members of the Irish Republican army forced their way into the bonded stores of the customs house in Dublin last night, according to a despatch received here, and smashed the casks containing wine and whiskey. The damage is estimated at hundreds of thousands of pounds. The wine and whiskey are believed to have been shipped from this city.

The two policemen on duty in the store house were overpowered by the raiders, who arrested two other officers who came to search for their absent comrades. All four were released when the work of destruction was completed. Nothing was destroyed except liquors of Belfast origin.

Belfast, April 7.—The barracks at Fal. carragh, seven miles from Dunfingh, have been seized by Republican forces.

Southern extremists recently have destroyed much merchandise shipped from Belfast following the night's smashing of the Irish people are against the treaty, said Eamon De Valera in an address yesterday at Kingstown.

"If the people do not want 'Messianic politics,'" he said, "they must remove the treaty by the roots, and if they want a stable government, pending its removal they must allow the Dail to take its rightful place as the government of the nation."

"But," he added, "if the Dail attempts to do what cannot legally be done, and establish the provisional government as the government of the country, then I tell you such a government will not be obeyed and will not function."

Women Burn Papers. Belfast, April 7.—Three women armed with revolvers left a train at the Donegan road depot in County Donegal today, held up the officials and burned the bundles of newspapers from Belfast. They then re-entered the train, which resumed its journey.

Dublin, April 7.—It is reported that the republican section of the Irish Republican army in this city gathered during the night with the intention of seizing the Dublin telephone exchange but that they withdrew upon finding the building guarded by Free State troops. No disturbance was reported. The troops today were replaced by an adequate force of police.

ITALY IS HAPPY
MINUS FLAPPERS

Important Youngsters Grouped Under Name of "Small Fry."

Chicago, April 7.—The "flapper" is distinctly an American institution. Signorita de Castelvechio, professor of the Italian language and literature in the University of Birmingham, England, who is the guest of university women here, said there were no flappers in her country.

"The nearest equivalent to what you call 'flapper,' she said, 'is what we designate 'small fry.' We apply that term to a young girl who reaches the age when she believes she counts for more in the universal scheme than she really does. All young people reach that stage, don't they?"

"The Italian girl matures earlier than American girls, and at eighteen she is supposed to have reached a sensible age. And in the years from fourteen to seventeen, the Italian college girl is so busy learning that she has no time for frivolity.

"An Italian girl does not use rouge or the lipstick. It is considered very underebred. When the girls grow older and go into society, they may use paint and powder, but never before. We do not have the social problems you have in American colleges, because there is virtually no collegiate life, the universities being non-residential. Parents in Italy have their daughters at home every night, and know just what they are doing."

FALLS 5 STORIES,
LANDS ON AUTO

Window Cleaner, Picked Up "Dead," Comes to Morgue and Asks "Where Am I?"

Peter Gurnik, twenty-six years, a window cleaner, owes his life to an automobile top upon which he fell recently when he slipped off the ledge of a fifth story window of the offices of the Hayes-Green Corporation, 92 East Twenty-fifth street, New York.

His body hurtling through the air attracted the attention of lower-floor tenants of the building. They thrust their heads through the windows and shouted warnings to the street below at the moment as the window cleaner's body landed on the automobile.

The commotion attracted a great crowd from Madison Square, and among the first to arrive was Traffic Patrolman Walter F. Graham, who was on duty at Fourth avenue and Twenty-sixth street.

Graham, assisted by two men who had seen the accident, lifted the unconscious window cleaner from the automobile to the sidewalk. The patrolman commanded the automobile of Max Lindenauer, 2,629 West Twenty-fourth street, Coney Island, and started to Bellevue Hospital.

Lindenauer drove to the morgue instead of the hospital. He assisted the policeman to take Gurnik's inert form from the motor car into the morgue, where it was laid upon a slab.

Former Student of Colgate Settles Long-standing Bill for Board.

Hamilton, N. Y., April 7.—That a sense of obligation still persists despite the passage of fifty years of time is proved by Professor F. L. Sheperdson, treasurer of Colgate University.

The letter is from a former student of Colgate, then Madison University, class of '71, who left college owing a board bill of $7. Board at that time cost about $1.25 a week. The letter is as follows:

Wolverine, Mich., March 31, 1922. Treasurer of Colgate University, Hamilton N. Y.

Dear Sir:—In the year 1871 I was a student in the university and boarded at the boarding hall operated by Byron Richardson. I think you are unable to pay my board bill to the amount of $7. I was obliged to leave college because of defective vision, and was unable to pay about $1.25 a week. The letter is as follows:

FRANK S. LYON. Professor Sheperdson read the letter to a body of students in the college commons. Afterward Harold B. Hamilton, Nuts, chief of the water route in shipping large quantities of intoxicants from Florida to New York, Commissioner Hayes in his capacity as chief of the international revenue bureau, was in Jacksonville in conference with officials of the railroad, when he was interrupted by a feeble inquiry:

ATTENDANCE AT MOTOR SHOW GROWS

Last night the attendance at the St. John motor show was larger than it had been on any day since the exposition opened and from the smiles that were evident on the faces of the distributors the evening had been a great success in other regards.

The mayor reaffirmed the position which he outlined earlier in the week in connection with the subject of civic distribution of the hydro current from Musquash. "So far as I am concerned," he said, "I have laid down the plan which I think is most feasible, whether it pleases everyone or not, and I am prepared to stand behind it and go down to defeat if necessary. It is the way I should spend my own money and it is the way I shall spend the money of the people. I do not care if the whole press of the country is against me, I am standing on the platform that I have laid down."

After congratulating the promoters of the show on the fine exhibition, his worship said that, in spite of statements appearing in the press after his public meeting in the Imperial, he never felt less gloomy in his life. He said his only interest in the matter was that of looking after the interests of the citizens and taxpayers, of whom he was one. He said that, in the platform taken, he had tried to be perfectly fair to all concerned. His suggestion was for the city to take the power offered and use it through the present distribution system until the matter could be tried out or until it was definitely known that the question which bothered engineers at present should not bother the city.

He said that some people apparently misunderstood his stand in the matter, but he would be pleased to explain it to anyone in detail.

I'M THROUGH! NO BASE BALL FOR ME THIS SEASON! I'M THROUGH!

GOOD BYE, MUTT, I'M LEAVING!

AIN'T THIS KINDA SUDDEN, JEFF?

THAT BIG BOOB OF A MANAGER INSULTED ME JUST NOW AND I QUIT RIGHT ON THE SPOT!

WHAT DID HE SAY TO YOU?

HE SAID—"YOU INSECT, YOU'RE FIRED!"

THE IDEA OF CALLING ME AN INSECT!

YOU'RE A NUT!

MOTORS MILE
19.07 SECONDS

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 6.—Driving his specially constructed motor car at 180.27 miles an hour, Sig Haugdahl, of Norway, today negotiated a mile on the local beach in 19.07 seconds. The trial was conducted under the auspices of the International Motor Contest Association and was electrically timed. The world's record as sanctioned by the American Automobile Association is held by Tommy Milton at 23.07. Haugdahl yesterday exceeded records held by Milton for the kilometer, five mile and ten mile straightaway courses.

COMPULSORY ATHLETICS

Advocated as Cure for Effeminacy at Colleges.

New York, April 7.—As a cure for what he calls the male effeminate, the man of today who is losing his manly qualities, Knute K. Rockne, athletic director of Notre Dame University, in an article entitled "College Athletics Cure the Male Effeminate," in The Sportsman magazine for April, urges compulsory boxing and football for every male student in every college in the country. He declares that the colleges which excel in athletics, particularly football, are not bothered much by the male effeminate. Among other things he says: "It is true that we have bob-haired women and men who stretch their eyebrows; that for every woman who smokes we see the male lizard who uses complexion dope; that for every woman who wears the corsets or pincushion back coat, and that for every woman who drinks we have that lowest form of degenerate effeminacy, the skinny, bound. I feel that our women can take care of themselves. They are merely swinging around the cycle, and I am sure that the sweetness and purity of our womanhood will ever be the same as it was in the time of our mothers.

"Regarding our men I am not so certain, but I am optimistic. The effeminate type of cookie eater has become quite prevalent on some of our college campuses, and it is a sure sign of moral decadence. The old-fashioned type of college boy who drank slightly to excess on Saturday nights was bad enough, but at least he had many positive manly qualities. If the male effeminate has any manly qualities, he keeps them well in the background. I do not mean to imply that coarseness or uncouthness is desirable, but what the world needs more of today are real men of the masculine leader type. The red-blooded give-and-take chap who is a gentleman without being foppish or girlish is what I mean. He and he only are the kind who make leaders.

"Now, it is perhaps only co-incidental, but those colleges which excel in athletics, particularly football, are not bothered much by male effeminites. Whereas in those colleges which have little or no athletics one would have to look long and late to find a he-man. I would suggest compulsory boxing and football for every male student in every school in the country."

FRANK FRISCH MAY BE UNABLE TO PLAY IN OPENING TUSSELE

Knoxville, Tenn., April 7.—Frankie Frisch, the Fordham flash, will possibly be missing from the Giant's lineup when the world's champions take the field at the Polo Grounds on April 12 to open the National League campaign. This fact developed when a local physician, after examining the ankle wound on the right foot received by McGraw's second baseman about a month ago, declared it would be unwise for Frisch to participate in a game for at least two weeks. Frisch is now hobbling about on crutches, with his injured foot swathed in bandages. It was expected that Frisch would start for his home in the Bronx, but he declared he felt better and expressed a preference to remain with the team until it arrives at the Polo Grounds. Either Johnny Rawlings or Ross Young will take his place at second if he is still incapacitated when the pennant season opens.

HOPPE WILL ENTER BILLIARD BUSINESS

(New York Times)
R. B. Benjamin, manager of Willie Hoppe, has returned to New York. Interviewed yesterday, he explained at some length just why the man who won the world's billiard championship for sixteen seasons and who recently failed to regain his 182 title from Jake Schaefer in a 1,000-point match at Chicago has definitely decided to retire from competitive billiards. It is the intention of Hoppe, Benjamin and Charles Peterson, the fancy expert of St. Louis, to open a string of rooms in the leading cities of the east, and in future they intend to devote themselves exclusively to conducting the business.

PENITENTIARY AND LASH FOR ROBBERS

Attacked Woman in Street and Wrenched Ring from Her Finger.
Three years in the penitentiary and ten lashes of the cat-o-nine tails was the sentence imposed on Antonio Brazeau by Chief Justice DeCarie in the Court of Special Sessions on Montreal. Brazeau stole a ring valued at under $5 from Miss Rose Kavanagh of 2,867 Avenue des Belges, attacking her as she was walking along the street near her home on the evening of February 23. After accosting her, he suddenly struck her a violent blow, which for a moment stunned her, and he had just wrenched the ring from a finger of her left hand when she regained consciousness and shouted for help. Brazeau escaped in the darkness, but was later arrested, identified and found guilty. He will receive five lashes soon after beginning his term and the balance immediately before leaving the penitentiary.

OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE MAKE RADICAL CHANGES

London, April 7.—The joint athletic committee of Oxford and Cambridge Universities, in session here last week, agreed to work out radical changes in the programme of events for the annual dual meetings between the Light and Dark Blues. In the first place it was definitely decided to banish the hammer throw from the list of dual events. A further suggestion to abandon the shot-put, along with the hammer, and to add a 220-yard hurdle race, a pole vault and a javelin throw will be acted upon favorably, it is understood, in the near future.

BODIES THAT ARE HOTHOUSE PLANTS

Houses and Offices Likened to Black Hole of Calcutta

Quarantine for Colds—American Lecturer Gives Advice Concerning Influenza and Treatment of Pneumonia.

(Montreal Gazette.) That the majority of the houses and offices in Canada are as unsanitary as the Black Hole of Calcutta, and that a great many Canadians by living in such an atmosphere have gradually turned their bodies into hot-house plants was the statement made last night by Dr. J. C. Elliott, who is conducting a campaign at St. James' Methodist church, in his lecture on the Cure of Colds, Influenza, Pneumonia and Tuberculosis.

According to the lecturer, people have an incorrect idea of how they contract colds. Wet feet and chills were commonly supposed to be the primary causes of the common cold, but the inhabitants of Alaska and the Arctic regions are not susceptible to this disease until they come into our milder climates, and as for the statement that wet feet produced a cold, Dr. Elliott said if many people got their feet wet often than they do, they would be more likely to be immune from that complaint.

An old adage was blown sky-high by Dr. Elliott, that one should stow away and starve a fever. The practical and scientific method of treating a cold was to stay away from the dinner table altogether, keep the body warm, and stay in bed for a couple of days. The speaker made a strong protest against the habit of sending children suffering from a cold to a public school, and prophesied that in a very few years quarantine laws will be enforced in the schools against the common cold just as against the more serious diseases.

Dealing with influenza, Dr. Elliott said that the plague of this disease which swept over the world a few years ago was only second in malevolence to the black plague of the fourteenth century. Its ravages of human life were enormous. It had been computed that in India alone it claimed six million victims, and from the latest reports there had been at least 18,000,000 deaths from it all over the world, while the plague raged. "What it really was nobody knew," said Dr. Elliott. "The physicians neither knew its cause nor its cure."

In Los Angeles while the epidemic was at its height there was no room in the hospitals for patients. Those institutions were filled with their own nurses and attendants, who were affected by the disease.

disease, with the result that camps were formed in the open air, and by keeping the patients in these camps warm, and giving them no food, better results were obtained than in many of the hospitals. "What I have said regarding the common cold applies equally well to influenza," remarked the lecturer. "The man or woman who takes care of the body by proper dieting, regular bathing, and scientific breathing can become practically immune to influenza."

Danger of Pneumonia. "The danger of pneumonia comes from the fact that it is a stealthy disease," said Dr. Elliott. "Before you are aware that you are the victim of anything more malignant than a common cold it has forced itself on your lungs, and in a few days you are fighting for your life." In most cases the remedies adopted by physicians to fight pneumonia proved unavailing, but the lecturer had seen a remedy used that in every instance had been successful. It was to make a pad of flannel, having in the centre of the fold one ounce of wormwood, and having steeped this pad in hot vinegar, to apply it to the chest of the patient underneath the bed clothes, taking care not to let any air get near the patient, to leave this pad on for ten minutes, and by repeated applications for from three to six hours keep the sick person with a continual freshly steeped pad on the chest for that period. After physicians had frequently given up all hope of saving life, Dr. Elliott had seen this remedy completely turn the tide of the disease in a few hours.

In reference to tuberculosis, Dr. Elliott said that no child can inherit anything more from tubercular parents than a weak lung, and if children were dressed as they ought to be, as lightly as was consistent with sanity and were kept in the open air, the death rate from the white plague would be materially decreased. The old-fashioned remedy called the "rest-cure" had been the cause of thousands of deaths from tuberculosis.

STAR GLOBE CIRCLER ARRIVES IN STATES

Miss Miller of Chicago has Covered 900,000 Miles in Forty Years and Hasn't Stopped.

(New York Times.) One of the first cabin passengers who arrived yesterday from Antwerp via Cherbourg and Southampton on the Red Star liner Lapland, was Dr. Emile Gallenaerts, professor of Ophthalmology in the University of Brussels, who is making his first visit to the United States. He will go first to Washington to attend a conference, and then make a six weeks' tour of the principal medical colleges to lecture on the ophthalmoscope, an instrument upon which he says he has worked for thirty-two years to bring to perfection. The professor declares that the instrument has revolutionized eye examination methods.

Another passenger was Celeste J. Millar, known as the Chicago globe-trotter. She told the reporters that she had traveled 82,000 miles in the past six months in Europe, and by the time she reaches her home will have covered 900,000 miles by sea and land in forty years. Miss Millar carried a cane which she regarded as a mascot, and which she said had saved her life on three different trips around the world, either in beating off hostile natives or procuring chicken for her tiffin in villages where she could not make herself understood. She went through Palestine and Syria when travelers rode on horseback and slept in tents, and says she was the first white woman to cross the Andes from Buenos Aires to Valparaiso on mule-back, more than thirty years before the railroad was constructed. During her forty years of globe-trotting she says that she had been on 200 steamships and twice as many trains and never missed being at the pier or station on time.

FOR CHAIR MEMBER. Between thirty and forty of the members of the choir of the Exmouth street Methodist church met at the home of E. E. Thomas, the choir leader, last night, and tendered a novelty shower to Miss Mabelle Shaw, one of their number who is to be married soon. Miss Shaw received many beautiful and useful gifts. The evening was pleasantly spent with games and music, and refreshments were served.

LEARNING FROM THE WEST.

Kentucky Tobacco Growers Engage an Efficiency Expert.

That the selling methods so successfully practiced by the fruit growers of California can be applied with equal success to marketing other agricultural products is being demonstrated by the tobacco growers of Kentucky, according to C. S. F. McCready, of Winchester, Ky., who as in New York. Mr. McCready says that the Kentucky men were dealt a heavy financial blow as a result of the demoralization of their market in 1920, and therefore organized for protection under the leadership of Judge Robert Bingham, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, formerly owned by the late Henry Waterson. The first move of the organization, he said, was to engage the selling expert of the California Fruit Growers' Association at a salary of $500 a day to come east and put the Kentucky product back on a sound basis. "The outcome of this experiment," said Mr. McCready, "was an increase of 150 per cent. over the price for 1920 when the market for the tobacco crop of 1921 was opened at Owensboro, Ky., last December. The market has continued strong and active, and the tobacco growers are jubilant, for they see an end of the fluctuating prices which have caused many of them to go under. The Kentucky Tobacco Growers' Association now has ninety-seven per cent. of the tobacco growers as members. Its members own land estimated to be one-tenth the area of Kentucky. The association has the backing of a hundred banks in the state.

"The key to the explanation of these vastly improved conditions is that a grower is no longer forced to dump his crop on the market and take the best price he can get. If he does not like the price offered, the association gives him the use of a warehouse to store his crop until the market improves. And while waiting, he is now able to borrow from the banks fifty per cent. of the market value of his crop. Thus the market is automatically stabilized, and there is little danger of a recurrence of conditions that existed in 1920, when the growers used most of their crop for fertilizer, as it meant only further loss to haul it to market."

L. O. G. T. DISTRICT MEETING.

The St. John District Lodge I. O. G. T. met with Dominion Lodge No. 445, Murray street, on Tuesday evening, with T. B. Browne, D.C.T., in the chair. There were between sixty-five and seventy members present. The district degree was conferred upon thirteen new members. After the routine business, the following programme was carried out and greatly enjoyed—Mandolin solos, Brother B. Ring; harmonica solos, Ist Flewelling; vocal solo, Mrs. E. Chapman; piano solo, G. After the programme refreshments were served by the sisters of Dominion Lodge.

Tag on Wrist Read: "Larus; Boy, March 22."

Stepping to his automobile, after paying a visit of half an hour to a friend at 40 St. Matthew street, Montreal, the other night, O. W. Barwick of Isarville, Ltd., 185 Notre Dame street west, was surprised to find the back seat of his machine occupied by a baby boy. No one seemed to know who had placed it there, and Mr. Barwick decided to report the matter to the police. He drove to the St. Catherine street west station, and reported to Lieut. McCrae. Examination of the baby showed that it was about a week old, and in good health. It was sent to headquarters, and placed in care of the matron, Mrs. Albert. Around the baby's left wrist was a small silk band holding a small tag. On the tag were the words: "Larus; boy, March 22." Investigation was started with a view to finding who the parents are and how it came to be placed in Mr. Barwick's automobile.
