It was a few moments after t p. m., while President McKinley was holding a public reception in the great Temple of Music on the Pan-American grounds that the cowardly attack was made.

of ordinary appearance and plainly dressed in black, approached as if to greet the President.

Both Secretary Cortelyou and President Milburn noticed that the man's hand was awathed in a bandage or handkerchief. He worked his way amid the stress of people up to the edge of the dais until he was within two feet of the President.

President McKinley smiled, bowed and extended his hand in that spirit of geniality, the American people so well know, when suddenly the sharp crack of a revolver rang out lond and clear above the hum of vuices, the shuffling

The President stood stock still, a look of hesitancy, almost of bewilderment, on his face. Then he retreated a step while a pallor began to steal over his features.

Kinley. The men were all found in one house at the corner of St. Johns place and Zarrom avenue. The arrests were made on information from the police officials of Buffalo, who said that the men were members of a society to which the assailant of the president belonged, and that they had knowledge of the plot. The police have not yet given out the names of the men, but one is Abraham Isekk, president of the Free Society. He was formerly editor of an anarchistic paper. Byery loyal heart will utter tonight a devout prayer that the President's life may be spared, that he may be permitted to continue in his good work and that his years may be many with the people who love him so well."

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.— Postmaster General Smith left here on a late train tonight for Buffalo. He expects to be at the President's bedside by 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 6.— The news of the attempted assassination of the President did not reach Cardinal Gibbons until nearly 7 o'clock. Upon being informed that the condition of the President was still very grave, the cardinal said:

"It is sad indeed that an insame fanatic can have it in his power to endanger the life of the head of a great nation like this and a man possessing the many virtues of President McKinley. The man who did it must be a madman. The President has no personal enemies and no me but a madman would have committed such a deed. If, however, he has a spark of reason left, and it can be shown that he is responsible, no punishment would be too great for him.

"You may announce, if "ou will, that I will order immediately that prayers shall be held in every church in my diocese on Sunday next. If the President still lives, and God grant that he may, they will be for his recovery."

I was just lighting my pipe, when the train came to a standstill. Simultaneously a roar of rifle fire came from the right. There was nothing to be seen, and I dropped on to the floor of the compartment, making myself as small as possible. The bullets were smashing and crackling through and This kept on for, I should say, three or four minutes. I made a move to get at my overcoat, with a view to rolling it up, and endeavoring to proceased, although dropping shots were fired for some considerable time. It was the youngsters—fourteen or fifteen years old, I should say—who kept this up. Four Boers came along up. Four Boers came along and shouted "Hands up!" There were old on the train. My hands went up, and within a minute I was stripped of my trousers. My spectacles, watch, chain, papers—everything, in fact were taken from me. The ring of my dead wife was snatched from my fing-er, although I told frem what it was. I went along to the truck that the Tommies had been in. Seven were lying dead, stripped, although not yet cold. Nine were wounded. (The de-tails are too shocking for publication). Every man had been hit with explo-sive or expanding bullets. Water bot-tles, pipes, knives everything was water for the wounded, or to let me fetch some, without result. At this point the narrator, a civilian official, a personal friend of mine,

Would that it were possible to have your sleek, well-fed carcases lying in the bottom of a truck, while the explosive bullets of your "friends" were flying round! This is what the "war" in South Africa has come to. The desperadoes still in the field will not fight; they run at the sight of a half-squadron, and, under the guise of warfare, murder and rob defenceless

LINCOLN AND GARFIELD.

The Assassinations of 1865 and 1881, and the Perpetrators. William McKinley is the third Amcan president to be assailed by an assin. Abraham Lincoln was shot April 14, 1865, while attending a play at Ford's theatre in Washington; James A. Garfield was shot in the Baltimore and Potomac railroad station in Washington, on July 2, 1881, when about to set out for a trip to New England to witness the com-

The assassination of Mr. Lincoln was in many respects the most startling crime of the kind in history. The nation had just emerged from the long tragedy of the civil war, and the north had hardly ceased its celebrations and look that had reflected on the face of the great president the nation's sor-rows, was about to be lifted by the advent of peace. His country was safe; and if thoughts of personal am-bition ever entered the kindly and de-voted soul of Abraham Lincoln, he knew that his own place in history will endeavor to avoid all exaggeration.

The necessary "permit" being available, one presents oneself at the railway station some ten or fifteen minutes before the advertised time of departure of the I. M. R. train by which one wishes to travel. The railway staff officer vises the permit and authorizes the issue of a ticket. You take your seat—it may actually be a seat, of times it is a stand in a truck. Ultimately the train starts. The locomotive, three or four horse trucks, house across the street.

The were heard in quick succession. The president sank to the floor, bleeding profusely from a wound in the back caused by one of the shots. He was unconscious at first, and was taken to the executive mansion. The assassin was promptly seized and taken into custody. He proved to be Charles J. Guiteau, who had been an unsuccessister to Austria, and then for the consul generalship at Paris. It was believed that he was somewhat un-balanced on account of fancied grievces connected with the politic factional contests of the times; but th and executed. RODE ON A MOOSE'S BACK.

Paul Libby Can Prove It by Photograph—A Long Canoe Trip.

Paul Libby and Charles Wake, two young New Yorkers, reached Fredericton, N. B., Thursday night from a canoe trip of more than 50 miles. They started from Greenville Junction, at the foot of Moosehead Lake, Me., five weeks ago in canvas canoes, with two guides, chief of whom was Samuel Cole. They traversed the waters leading to Allegash river, and came the entire length of the St. John river to Fredericton. They saw lots of game, including 25 moose, and enjoyed great fishing.

Mr. Libby had quite an adventure with a bull moose in Churchill Lake. The party came upon the animal taking a swim. Guide Cole wagered Mr. Libby that he could not mount the moose's back in the water, and was apportant takes.

Guide Cole wigered Mr. Libby that he could not mount the moose's back in the water, and was promptly taken.

Leaping from the cance, Mr. Libby landed safely on the back of the animal, which promptly dropped to the bottom of the lake, carrying Mr. Libby with him. They came to the surface together, and Mr. Libby had another try. This time he succeeded in enjoying quite a ride on the animal's back, long enough to enable his companion, Mr. Wake, to rake an excellent picture.

Mr. Libby says he does not expect his New York friends to believe the moose story offnand, but if doubts are expressed he will produce Mr. Wake's snapshot.

MEN OF THE DAY.

General Leonidas Plaza, who succeeds General Eloy Alfaro as president of Ecuador, is 42 years of age and a native of Bahia de Caraquez. His parents were Colombians. He will be the youngest of South American presidents. The new chief executive has had an exciting career. Less than a year ago he returned from exile in Costa Rica to the country over which he is now to rule. General Plaza has participated in several revolutions in Ecuador, and was prominent in the uprising of 1895, which placed General Alfaro in power and ousted Senor Luis Cordeiro. To him belongs much credit for the success which has marked the incumbency of his predecessor. General Plaza, who is a member of the liberal party, while civil and military chief of the provinces of Cuenca and Coja, succeeded in reconciling a great part of the conservative element. But there came a breach in the friendship with President Alfaro, and General Plaza was banished from the country. He went to Costa Rica, where he had previously spent several years, and was appointed inspector-general of the army by his friend, President Iglesias of that republic. About eight monars ago President Alfaro relented and invited General Plaza to visit him at Quito. He returned, and was not only made liberal candidate for the presidency by Alfaro, but became engaged, it is said, to marry the latter's daughter, although this report has been denied. Being the candidate of the liberal party, his election was assured. There was another quarrel recently between General Plaza and President Alfaro, and the latter, it was reported, would influence congress against approving the election of his successor. Again the two made up. The term of office is four years, although the retiring president served six years. He was before beginning his term as constitution president what is known as supreme chief. Those who know something of Ecuador's politics say that while General Plaza will be president de jure, General Alfaro will be the real power in the government. Its policy will probably continue

Don't Spend Your Money In Travel and at Hotels

Stay at Home, Rest, and Use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and Your Health Will Be Restored.

It Puts Your System in Shape to Withstand the Withering Summer Heat.

To persons without leisure and means, travel and res idence at some watering place is impossible, or only obtained with worry, unnecessary expense, and consequently strain on the system which more than makes up for any slight benefit received. Like scores of others who have profited by the above advice you will be thankful if you follow it. There is no more certain way of recuperating the wasted tissues of the body and preventing the weakening and debilitating diseases consequent on the trying heat of summer.

The rosy cheeks and healthful appearance of people who use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are an outward indication of the revitalizing influence which is going on in every part of the body. Loss of flesh is prevented, nervous prostration and exhaustion averted, and all diseases of the nervous system thoroughly and permanently cured by the reg ular use of the famous treatment. You can rest better at home than any place in the world. Rest and Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will be of more lasting benefit to your body and mind than any amount of tiring and expensive travel or wearying and restraining life at a summer resort.

The Canadian reciprocity issue mentioned in the Sun last week is still a live issue both here and at Washington, notwithstanding that many supposed it heyond resurrection. The in-posed it beyond resurrection. The in-fluential business men of the large eastern cities are making a demand on Washington to take some measure towards paving the way for improved trade relations with Canada, and there is reason to believe that the matter will come before congress at its next session. The attitude of the Canwith, of course, and so also is that of the United States senate, where a two-thirds vote is necessary before a re-ciprocity agreement can become effec-tive. There is a growing belief that the joint high commission will re-sume its cittings this fall or next winter. If the commission is called to-gether again, it is certain the ques-tion of reciprocity between Canada and the United States will be taken up. The Boston chamber of commerce assisted by boards of trade elsewhere, are bringing strong pressure to bear on the powers that be to do something along the line of improving trade re-lations with Canada, and it will not be the fault of this city if the attempt comes to naught.

The Episcopalians of the United States are making preparations for the general convention of that body, which will open at San Francisco Oct.

2. Many important questions are to come up for discussion, including a proposition to divide the country into previous each province to comprise provinces, each province to comprise several dioceses with an archbishop as the head of the entire church. At present there is no archbishop in the Episcopal church here, and because of the lack of an authoritative head, the lack of an authoritative head, there has been much confusion, especially as regards missionary work and ceremonies. The plan is proposed by the high churchmen, but it is said many leading men outside of that wing favor it. Another question to come up is the change of name issue. The name at present is "The Protestant Eqiscopal Church in the United States of America." The word "protestant" is objectionable to a large number of the clergy, particularly to States of America." The word protestant" is objectionable to a large number of the clergy, particularly to those of the high church faction, but as a substitute which would suit all shades of opinion is difficult to find, it is doubtful if any change will be made just now. Some favor dropping out the word "protestant." while others suggest as a name "The Church in the United States," or "The American Church." Those apposed to these names claim they have an arrogant sound and would seem ridiculous in a country where there is no established church. The high churchmen who control seven or eight western dioceses want as a substitute "The Anglican Catholic Church," or "The American Catholic Church," while some who are neither high nor low churchmen suggest "The Holy Catholic Church in the United States." The ritualists vehemently assert that the Episcopal Church is not and never was Protestant, but Catholic in teaching, practice and ceremonics, and that the objectionable word in the fittle hampers work in states where the population is largely made up of European immitionable word in the title hampers work in states where the population is largely made up of European immigrants. The question of ceremonies in general will also probably be taken up by the convention. The question of prohibiting the clergy from marrying persons who have been divorced will also be considered, and it is thought several sweeping anti-divorce measures will be adopted.

The Experience of a Sunbuey Farmer Who Did the Harvesters

(Special Cor. of the Sun.) WOLSELEY, N. W. T., Aug. 31.-In continuation of your correspondent's trip, as before noted, to the golden grain clad prairies of the great Northwest, by that greatest transcontinental line, the Canadian Pacific railway, carrying passengers and freight from ocean to ocean, a distance of nearly 4,000 miles, without change of cars is needs be, and with all the comfort and luxury that can be found in the most palatial home, coupled with an ever changing panorama of grandure and magnificence on every side. Commencing then on the morning of the second day of our journey to the West, we leave Matawa, with its Algonquin Park, a grand preserve forest, on our left. We soon pass Calvin, Eace Claire, Ruther Glen, of the G. T. railway in the Nippising district. Then comes North Bay, a railway center, with repair shops. There is also a breakwater for lake traffic located there. The track then follows the shore of Lake Nippising for some distance, giving a piquancy to the interest of the occasion as you speed along. THE LESSON FOR CANADA. Canadians may be tempted at this ime to indulge in reflections on their wn immunity from such crimes as that committed on Friday at Buffalo. We may indeed have cause to be ankful that the doctrine of the anchist has not as yet been proclaimed in this land, and that in this country the sanctity of human life has been ntained by law and public opinion It is not known that the Dominion arbors even one professed anarchist who would commend the murder of men in authority. If there are such ersons in this country, and if they hould use such language in regard to the Buffalo crime as was openly used n Paterson after King Humbert was lied, they would be arrested and their hat Canada is free from these danger ous classes, it is well not to be boast-ful. The road is open and no country can know when its ourn may come. At east, however, we can resolve that the romoters and open advocates of these rimes in other lands shall have no

THE DANISH ISLANDS.

It is commonly believed that ase of the Danish West India lands St. Thomas, St. Croix and St. John, has been accomplished by the United States. The price, some four or five million dollars, is not large and though the estate has no great value as a producing property, it is worth much for the United States to strengthen the strategie position in that part of the world. St. The has a splendid harbor and the island is convenient as a base for the protec-tion of United States interests in the Nicaragua canal. The population of the Danish islands is only some 32,000. They will have free trade with the Upited States and thus enjoy an advantage over the British and French West Indies. The French possessions get along well enough without the United States market, as they have a sufficient advantage in the market of Mrs. Lambert, who had been spending a day in the city, left for home on the Sydney express last night. Arriving at Coldbrook the train stopped, but for some reason or other she did not dismount until after if had again started, when, in attempting to leap from the moving conveyance, she was thrown heavily, striking her head violently against the ground. The accident was at once noticed and the train stopped. The unconscious woman was carried to a place of comfort and Dr. Thomas Walker, who was immediately sent for, arrived as quickly as a special shunting engine could carry him. He advised that Mrs. Lambert be brought in to the hospital, and after the indured woman had been tenderly placed in a car, she was brought to the city and conveyed in the ambulance to the hospital, where she received careful attendance and where she now lies in a precarious condition.

TO EXPROPRIATE LANDS. TO EXPROPRIATE LANDS.

The C. P. R. have begun expropriation proceedings under the Railway Act for the acquisition of lands in the parish of Lancaster, required by them for the contemplated extensions. The lands liable to be affected by these proceedings, lie between the Negrotown road and the Bay Shore and comprise sections of quite a number of different properties. The notices which have been served by the C. P. R. on the land owners state that more ample space is required by the companies for the convenient accommodation of the public and of traffic on the callway than is now possessed or can be taken public and of traffic on the railway than is now cossessed or can be taken without the consent of owners of the land, and notifies them that on Friday, the 20th of September, the company will apply to the minister of railways and canals in Ottawa to authorize the taking of such tands for this purpose.

SEVERELY INHERED

Mrs. William Thompson of Musquash was severely and possibly fatally injured at that place Friday. With her husband and a lady friend Mrs. Thompson was driving down Anderson's hill, when some of the harness gave way. Mr. Thompson jumped out and endeavored to prevent the carriage striking against the horse's heels. His efforts were unavailing, and the horse ran away. The carriage landed in the woods, both ladies being precipitated to the ground. Mrs. Thompson had three ribs broken and was otherwise hurt. The feeding of infants is a very serious proposition, as all mothers know. Food must be used that will te easily digest, or the undigested parts will be thrown into the intestines and cause sickness.

At is important to know that a food a can be obtained that is always safe; that is Grape-Nuts.

A mother writes: "My baby took is first premium at a baby show on the 8th inst., and is in every way a prize baby. I have fed him on Grape Nuts since he was five months old. I also use your Postum Food Coffee for myself." Mrs. L. F. Fishback, Alvin, Tex.

Grape-Nuts food is not made solely for a baby food by any means, but is manufactured for all human beings who have trifling, or serious difficulties of manufacture, not by any drugs or chemicals whatsoever, but simply by the action of heat, moisture, and time sugar. This presents food to the system ready for immediate assimilation. The sepecial value as a food, beyond it feact that it is easily digested, is that it supplies the needed elements to quickly rebuild the celis in the brain and nerve centers throughout the body.

June 1900 in fants is a very serious afficulties in the stomach and bowels.

Sussell P. Hoyt, manager of the Mineral Products Co., says that all the fact that it is easily digested, is that it supplies the needed elements to quickly rebuild the celis in the brain and nerve centers throughout the body.

There was quite a discussion over the matter, and finally Messrs Kelly and McCullough's offer to do the work for $310 was accepted.

Mayor Daniel did not like the idea of having a display of fireworks on Queen equare, and he said he knew of many who objected to it. He suggested a harbor illumination.

The members of the committee proceeded to give their views, and the general feeling seemed to be in favor of harbor illuminations instead of a torchlight procession in view of the difficulties which seem to have thrust themselves in the way of a successful torchlight procession. Extraordinary and Aerimonious Debate on South African Great Disorder and Frequent Interruptions - Sou hern Delegates Defend England.

LONDON, Sept. 5.-The most strikng feature of the conference yester-lay was an impassioned plea of the colored bishop, Walters, of Jersey City, who received the heartiest welcome of any of the American delegate. He de-clared that there was a systematic ef-fort on foot on the part of white Amcans to destroy the good opinion ich the English people had of American negroes. He recapitulated the ynching figures of the year 1900 and declared that though ninety negroes were lynched, in only eleven cases had assault on white women been proved "The English people have always been our friends" declared Bishop Walters "You gave us refuge, and now when are struggling to improve our old times, we look to you, our old time selves, we look to you, our 'old time friends, to give us sympathy and encouragement as you did in the past."
The bishop's asseverations of negro morality elicited loud cheers from the English part of the audience and several of the many Southern delegates went out, while others did not conceal their disagraphers. helr disagreement with the speaker Another incident which attracted comment was a declaration of Sir Charles Skelton formerly mayor of Sheffield, who, in welcoming the Americans, severely criticised the war in South Africa, exclaiming: "Hell is let loose in South Africa." A LIBEL ON CANADA.

(Toronto World, Cons.) The Duke of York comes over the cean to see Canada, its people, its ities, its industries and other things Canadian. We are sorry in this connection that the government has seen fit to go to the United States to procure a car for the Duke's use during his tour through the country. We have the skill and artistic ability in Canada to build a car that would be quite acceptable to their royal highnesses, and that might be the equal of dominion. The sending out of the country of orders such as this belittles the dominion in the eyes of foreigners. It is a libel on Canada to say that we cannot produce a car that would be perfectly suitable for the occasion for which it is to be used. The government was guilty of circulating an injurious libel when it sent to the United States for a car for the Duke of Yook's trip through Canada. York's trip through Canada.

GOOD NEWS FOR LEVIS. The Vanderbilt Railway Interests Are Seeking Entrance to the Harbor

by the South Shore Line. (Quebec Chronicle.) A bright future for Levis as well as the Quebec side of the St. Lawrence is practically assured. It will be remem bered that the Chronicle some few weeks ago heralded the information that Mr. Veilleux of Levis had sold his property, comprising 3,000,000 feet of land, to an American syndicate of capitalists. The deed was practically closed with the exception of the purchase money, which was not forthcom-closed with the exception of the purchase money, which was not forthcoming, and still is in abeyance. The reason for this delay, we learn, has been occasioned by a legal fight between the purchasing parties, which is now, however, in course of settlement, and it is expected that in a short time Mr. Veilleux, who will leave next week for New York in connection with the transaction, will close the contract. In the meantime the Vanderbilts, or the New York Central rallway, have stepped in and acquired a controlling interest in the South Shore railway, as they desire an independent entrance into Quebec. They already have trackage rights into Montreal over the St. Lawrence and Adirondack, which will be shortly taken over altogether by the New York Central on the basis of a 5 per cent. guarantee. The New York Central is planning extensive operations in Canada, and for this reason purchased a controlling interest in the South Shore railway, a short line running from St.

Sorel, 50 miles east along the south shore of the St. Lawrence, and carrying with it the right to continue the road to Levis, and thence to the Atlantic seaboard. Fifty-one per cent. of the South Shore railroad stock was secured a short time ago by Robert J. Campbell of New York, president of the Cane Breton Construction Com-specially along the south shore to uebec, and thence to the Atlantic saboard. They have an eye on the Quebec, and thence to the Atlantic seaboard. They have an eye on the mineral resources of the province of Quebec, and realize that in the near future a mammoth sieel and from industry is about to manifest itself not only at Cape Breton but in and around the port of Quebec. They have information of the vast discovery of iron ore on the north shore of the St. Lawrence, and especially the great stores of magnetic and bog iron ores on the coast of Labrador, and their move along the south shore is only the forerunner of reaching those deposits. They have also come to recognize that the great shipment of pulp wood has already taxed the resources of the United States product. They are bound to have a share of Canada's wealth in this particular. The plans so far projected in relation to Levis are the erection of saw mills and pulp mills, building of cold storage, which they realize will be required in the near future for the shipment of provisions, in connection with wood, to Europe, over the St. Lawrence route. They also have come to realize that the ports of New York and Boston have become so cramped for want of sufficient shipping facilities, which is on the increase from year to year, and the expense of cramped for want of sufficient shipping facilities, which is on the increase from year to year, and the expense of landing goods from these ports proportionately advancing, that they must, in their own interest, seek some other seaboard outlet. Last summer they sent representatives to investigate the port of Quebec, who have reported favorably, with the result that the Vanderbilts are about to put into practice a project that is bound to enhance the trade of the St. Lawrence and as well boom the Levis side of the river at this port. The matter has been carried on very quietly, and it was only when their representatives approached Mr. Veilleux that the scheme leaked out. Even up to a few days WANTED.

TREACHERY OF THE BOER WOMEN.

They Have Materially Aided the Enemy in the War in South Africa.

Not Much Fighting in the Trenches

Especially shot for her treachery. I wonder how many graves Boer and inspiration. women have filled this past year or so? How many brave fellows have given their lives through a wo treachery? Women have played a great part in this war, not so much the part of heroine as spy. Not so much in the way of fighting in the trenches as luring the unsuspecting to destruction. The symbol of her patriotism is not the eagle of war, it is rather the decoy duck.

There were, I believe, women fighting in the trenches against Buller. Two of their dead were round acce-the fight at Pieters' Hill, but the Boel of their dead were found after has sufficient regard for his women folk to keep them well out of danger, and the ambition of the Boer Amazo has found very little scope in the fight-ing line. Nor, I honestly believe, has there been any organized attempt to no secret service spies drawing large sums of money from the Boer treasury in paymen for information secured. In paymen for information secured. And some one wished to clear a site on which to build a shed. Such women exist only in certain fer-tile imaginations.

The women I speak of are the wives and sisters of the poorer Boers, peo-ple who believe that the secret service fund is an English myth, and are actuated in their treachery only by their hatred for the British, and the knowledge born of experience that however badly a woman behaves we shall treat her with the same courtesy, and gentleness that we should employ towards her were she our dearest friend instead of our unreasoning foe.

It has been one of the problems of the war this question of women enemies and what to do with them, and through ill-nature women and children make war on us, we loftly refuse to acknowledge that they are making war, refuse to take them seriously in fact, and after we have buried man's invitation to step in and have a cup of coffee, and are shot from the a cup or conee, and are snot from the window by gentlemen friends of the hostess, we return the hospitable in-vitation of the lady of the house, give her tea, and tell her that we are awfully sorry, don't you know, but we are confoundedly afraid she will have camp. So we take the murderess into a camp where she will be well fed and kindly treated and we don't burn her nond shall ask questions in the house.

If I were to write down every story I have heard of Boer women's treachery I should fill these columns, but here is a peculiar instance.

Two wounded troopers were out on a patrol when they came to a Boer farm house, which apparently was deserted, except by a woman, who, standing on the stoop, beckoned the men to advance. This they did, and walked to within a few paces of the building, when the woman suddenly disappeared from view through an open doorway, and the next moment a volley was fired from the house.

Now I have cited this as peculiar,

Now I have cited this as peculiar, and the peculiarity is this: Show this paragraph to your returned Yeomanry friend, or your returned brother, and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, he will say: "Yes, that is perfectly true: it happened to me, or to a friend true; it happened to me—or to a friend of mine." And this he will say, not because the story I have told is the very incident of which he is thinking, but because this sort of thing has happened so often in South Africa that there

Very few people know that De Wet has not once, but often owed his wonderful escapes to the aid of women sympathisers. When he was last in the Cape Colony, and we had driven derful escapes to the aid of women sympathisers. When he was last in the Cape Colony, and we had driven him off northward to the Orange River, the women on some of the farms in the Hopetown district had arranged a signal whereby De Wet's hidden scouts should be made aware of the proximity of our scouts. A patrol of Victorians who rode up to a farm house was somewhat astonished to see the good lady, who had been taking a steeta on the step, suddenly rise from her chair and, making for the door, for apparently no other season than to make a noise, violently slam it twice. As she did so a horseman broke from the bushes a few hundred yards beyond, and galloped for all he was worth. De Wet, who was in the angle formed by the Brak and Orange rivers, waiting for one or two streams to fall, moved that night eastward, and Plumer, who was marching to intercept him, only managed to get on to the tail of the enemy's column.

The arrival of a woman at a refugee amp does not mean that her oppor-unities for evil-doing are ended. In

COMING TO ST. JOHN.

A correspondent from St. Stephen writes: Many people here are already making plans to go to St. John at the time of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of York. It is recalled that at the time of the visit of King Edward to St. John, when he was Prince of Wales, the only means of travelling to St. John was by team or by boat. With train communication now, it is likely that many more will visit St. John to see the Duke and Duchess of York than were able to go when the king visited that city years ago.

FISHERY MATTERS.

(St. Andrews Beacon.) The seizure of a number of netters on the Grand Manan spawning grounds by the fishery cruiser Curiew has re-vived the long-standing dispute be-tween the weir owners and the net men with regard to these grounds. Long before confederation these grounds were set apart by the government for spawning purposes and as such received a limited amount of protection. Some years after the federation of the provinces, the late government granted licenses to several individuals for weirs upon the pute. The net men can see no reason why these weir men should be per-mitted by law to take and sell hundreds of hogsheads of herring, while they are classed as outlaws when they seek to capture a few fish with nets. So long as there was an abundance of herring at other points the spawning grounds were not much frequented by the net fishermen, but as fish grew scarce at other places an increasing number of them visited the grounds and cast their nets. In some instances they have not been very considerate of the rights of the weir men, and there has been much bickering in con-sequence. Nets have been destroyed, and feeling has run so high at times that there was a danger of blood be-ing shed. The weirmen have appeal-ed to the government for protection, but the amount of protection afforded has not been satisfactory. It has been asserted of late that several of the weir men have been in the habit of setting nets themselves, but whether this assertion is true or not, there ermen in the lot. The net men have now petitioned the government to appoint a commis-sion to investigate this spawning ground matter. They set forth in their petition the fact that though are many other spawning grounds in Canadian waters these are the only grounds that are reserved by law. They also complain of the injustice of their property being subject to seizure if they attempt to take fish on the spawning grounds, while the welr men, under the protection of the law, can take as many as they please. investigation as they ask for the gov-ernment will see the necessity of doket, with a view to requiring the ves-sels carrying these fish to report to well before passing any regulation that will impose any more burdens upon our fishing class. Of course, it would be American boats; while this may be true the interests of the peomay be true the interests of the peo-ple of the two countries are so closely linked together in the sardine busi-ness that what affects one affects both. In pursuing the sardine busi-ness, it is a prime essential that the fish shall reach the factories as promptly after leaving the water as possible. A few hours would destroy possible. A few hours would destroy many hundreds of dollars worth of fish. If every boatman before the can start for the factory with his fish nust seek out a customs officer and report to him it means a long delay, and delay means either the deteriora-tion of his cargo or its entire destruction. Again, he cannot choose his hours for visiting wiers; he must go when the tide suits. This offers anther objection to reporting. Unless the government appoints a revenue of-licer for every mile or two of coastline, or fixes a customs station within easy call of Eastport, Lubec and other Maine sardine centres (and this seems sardine centres (and this seems cannot see how a satisfactory system of reporting can be carried out. The present system of reporting is working well enough. We have heard of no abuses arising in connection with it. The revenue inspector might be much better employed in looking after smugglers than in endeavoring to impose burdens upon an industry that is already sufficiently burdened.

(St. Stephen Courier.)

An Ottawa despatch tells that F. L. Jones of the Canadian fisheries department has been at Campobello for ome time, making enquiries concern-ng the conditions which exist among the islands with respect to the sar-dine industry. Mr. Jones has discovered some things which everybody down this way already knew, and has told some things, evidently, which are nothing more than the products of omewhat vivid imaginations. It is rue, as Mr. Jones was informed, that the boats carrying sardine herring to the Eastport and Lubec factories are American boats, but it can hardly be fings and are Canadian at one time fand fly the Stars and Stripes at another. It is true also that the fish taken by these American boats are admitted to the United States free of duty, but it cannot be true that United States true of duty, but it cannot be true that United States true of the C.P. R., accompanied by H. H. McLean and other gentlemen made a tour of inspection over the road in his hoats to Eastport and back to Canadan waters without reporting at the customs. This is too great a reflection on the customs officials, who are able and faithful men, to be believed for a moment, and we think that Mr. Jones has been wrongly informed in this particular. It is to be hoped, however, that the parties who furnished Mr. Jones with the information which brought him to Charlotte county will accomplish much good. There is no doubt that many violations of the ags and are Canadian at one time fisheries laws and regulations occur frequently. Hiegal seining has been going on for years. It is almost im-possible to take the fish from any river on the coast without violating in each and every year are caught and used for fertilizing purposes. In some particulars it is difficult to comply with the fishing laws and regulations and at the same time carry on the sardine fishing industry. In order to encourage this industry, which is a source of great world to the recome of source of great profit to the people of Charlotte, it seems to be necessary to revise the law and the regulations, so that the fishery will be amply protected and, at the same time, so that it can be carried on without constant danger of technically violating some rule which is indefinite and is at the same time unreasonable and harsh. Should a revision of the law and regulations relating to the industry be deemed advisable by the government, however, it should be undertaken and nade only after consultation with intelligent men and so that it will prove of benefit to the great body of shermen, without regard to the selfish interests of a few.

A South African correspondent writes to the London Telegraph: But I must tell you how the capture of Steyn's eleven came about on the morning of the 12th inst. Gen. De Lisle's column had passed through Beltz in the posthography. Reitz, in the northeastern part of the Orange River colony, a few days pre-viously. Gen. Broadwood, with the Seventh Dragoon Guards, the Fourth Imperial Yeomanry and the Third Dragoons, I think, were near the place when they received an order from Lord Kitchener to turn back and search the taken by the Curiew. Considering the complaints as to the number of poach-ers frequenting these grounds there town. The columns had been annoyed by snipers, but these had drawn off somewhat when Reitz was passed. Broadwood turned back as directed, intending to surround the place at daybreak. It is a square or rectangular built town of straggling dimen-sions, with about 100 houses of all force. When one mistake was discovered day was breaking, no less than a dozen of the Seventh Dragoon Guards turn-ed and rode for the town, led by Lieut. ed and rode for the town, led by Lieut. Shaw. They saw a tent behind a house in a garden, with a fire smoking near, and early coffee being prepared. As they charged up about an equal number of Boers came running out of their beds. "Hands up!" our fellows yelled, and the majority of the Boers instantly compiled. One of them, now identified as General Commandant Cronie, reached into the tent for his investigation as they ask for the government will see the necessity of doing one of two things, either to grant equal privileges to net men and weir men on the spawning grounds, or to close up the grounds to both and establish a strict system of protection. There is considerable involved in the question on both sides, so that it should be thoroughly examined into before any decided step is taken.

The Ottawa despatches tell us that the chief preventive officer of the dominion has been enquiring into the manner of shipping sardines from Canadian weirs to the American market, with a view to requiring the vessels carrying these fish to report to lad were the members of Steyn's cab-net or war council. To Lieut. Shaw and his men their shirted captives were but ordinary burghers, and they were unaware they had caught Steyn's young brother, the Orange Free State retary and treasurer, Mr. Brain, ommandant Fraser, General Cronje, ens. Darvel and Wessels or Mr. Moreover, creeping away around the corner of an adjoining house, bare-headed, in night dress, and with only socks upon his feet, was a tall, stout, swart, full-bellied, partly baldheaded, elderly man. If anybody saw him he probably smiled at the spectacle, and did not trouble in particular about an inclad burgher more or less. But the skulking personage was none other than ex-President Steyn himself, now reduced to this woeful plight. A Boer companion near him found him a pony and assisted Steyn to mount, for the ex-president prefers a wheeled vehicle to horseback. With a cut and a kick to horseback. With a cut and a kick the Boer sent Steyn adrift upon a most uneasy seat. If, in the hurry, there had been a saddle thrown upon the pony it was ungirthed, and had turned beneath in a stride or two. Then the unwonted apaprition appeared in the one long main street of Reitz of a dark, heavy figure of a man, bareheaded and barelimbed, with a flowing shirt, clinging to the eastward. He had to pass the corner where some of rang out for him to halt, yet not Steyn, but the horse, was in charge of Steyn would have gladly stopped, but could not; and looked pitifully as if he would have liked to. Sergeant he would have liked to. Rumors are again current to the effect that the Canadian Pacific has purchased the Shore Line railroad, the sale of which was postponed from Saturday, Aug. 31, to Sept. 21, and on Monday last Superintendent Gborn, of the C. P. R. accompanied by H. H. McLean and other gentlemen made a tourlof inspection over the road in his private coach. It is known that the C. P. R. desires to enlarge its terminal facilities at St. John, and in order to do so may deem it necessary to acquire the Shore Line. If public announcement of the acquisition of the road is not made before long many persons will be surprised. The Intercolonial, the government road of Canada, is said to have an eye on the Shore Line, but the acquirer measured the plant.

THE ADVANTAGES ALBERTA OF-FERS FOR CATTLE RAISING.

To the Editor of the Sun: Sir—In your issue of the 21st I notice a small article taken from the Toronto News. It is headed: "A Kings Co. Man Who is Putting His Money Into Al-berta Ranching."

Now, as one who has been in this country about eleven years, and has had der to me is that more of the young men of New Brunswick do not come out here and grow up with the country. Instead of going to the States to earn a precarious living there, why not help build up your own country, when you can do far better? The chances here are two to one that they are there. And is it not worth something to live under the British flag? How is sorts. Unluckily, the scouts, about 5 it that some of our moneyed men of thinking they were part of their own their surplus in this great western country of ours?

Let some one get out the prospectus of a mining concern that they think promises big things, and they put their money into it at once, but they would not think of putting it into ranching, which would pay a good fair profit. which would pay a good fair profit, but has not the attractions that a fake mining scheme has to a good many ton, and one ton will carry any ar through the winter. Allow another dollar for care, as one man can easily feed two hundred head. Buy yearlings for eighteen or nineteen dollars, keep them two years, say eight dollars, which is plenty for the keep, and they are selling three year olds now for from forty to forty-three dollars per freed. ad. Allow five per cent, for loss, and head. Allow five per cent, for loss, and I think almost any man should be satisfied with the profit. But some one says that looks well on paper, but will it pan out? Yes, and it has been done here, when run on business principle Some of the Sun's readers who has some money to invest and want a safe investment should come to Alberta and look it over, and if they cannot see and look it over, and it they cannot see a field for profitable investments I think fhey must be blind.

If any of your readers should think of wanting to look into this matter, the writer would be pleased to give any information that would be rethe writer would be pleased to give any information that would be required about it. They could get the mame and address of the writer by applying at the Sun office. I think if any person came here personally he would be struck with the grand possibilities of this western country, and, unlike Hon. John Dryden, would invest his money here instead of in Dakota.

The three little girls are daughters of Morris J. Cohen of Pike street, and were taken to Buffale within two days after their unexpected arrival in the world. They were in charge of Dr. S. Fishel, physician in chief to the institution, and a trained nurse. They weighed scarcely nine pounds altoweighed scarcely nine pounds alto-gether, but on their return the scales show that they have not only nearly doubled in weight, but, according to Dr. Fishel, are perfectly normal and healthy infants, with the same pros-pect of reaching the allotted three score and ten as any other human heings

Dr. Fishel regards this experiment as one of the most sterling proofs that the claims of the incubator to lower the percentage of premature infant mortality from ninety to ten are fully sustained.

RETURNED FROM THE PAN.
The Moncton Times had the pleasure of a call on Friday from Father Burke of Alberton and Dr. Murphy of Tignish, P. E. Island, who were on their they took in the Pan-American, and were delighted with the electrical dis-play, which they say is the feature of the show. As for the rest, like other the show. As for the rest, like other visitors, they were not particularly impressed. Father Burke is a talented and enthusiastic divine of the Roman Catholic church, while Dr. Murphy, who is a fine specimen of Island manhood, is quite a prominent politician, being president of the Tignish Conservative Association. This was Dr. Murphy's first trip to the Upper Provinces, and the thriftiness of the habitant in Quebec surprised him; in some cases that came under his observation one and sometimes two families living in comfort on a strip of land that in the comfort on a strap of land that in the other provinces would be regarded as a very small farm. Ontario, on the other hand, heralded as a great agricultural district, hardly came up to the doctor's expectations, and he thinks P. E. Island will compare quite favorably with such parts of it as he saw. The visitors left Moncton on Friday afternoon for the Island. fternoon for the Island.

AN UNWILLING PRISONER. A story is in circulation in the city about a well known constable who is against him and took possession of the furniture, making himself comfortable in the parior, as is the custom of constables, in order to watch the place. He engaged a fellow-constable as night watchman, and a morning or two ago, shortly after the night man had gone, the tenant appeared on the scene slightly annoyed at the proceedings. He at once proceeded to eject the landlord-constable, and after putting him from the parior into the kitchen lockfrom the parior into the kitchen lock-ed the doors and left him there. Here the discomfited constable remained in single blessedness until evening, when upon the arrival of his assistant he was released.—Star.

FORMER ATTORNEY GENERAL GRIGGS

MILBURN HOUSE, Buffalo, Sept.

—After the 9.30 p. m. bulletin had een assued from the Milburn residence been issued from the Milburn residence conight, announcing a continuance of the favorable conditions of the president, there were many indications that the bulletins were but meagre indications of the real improvement of the distinguished patient. At 9.45 o'clock Miss McKinley, a sister of the president, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Baer, the latter a niece of the president, and the Misses Barber, meces of the president, left the house, and, taking carniages, announced their intention of returning to their homes tonight. EMMA GOLDMAN.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 9.—It is reported here that Emma Goldman, an anarchist leader, was here last Monday and that she occupied a house a few doors from where Czolgosz lived, Supt. Bull is said to have asked the New York police to arrest her. The New York police are said to be investigating the case at the request of Governor Odoli

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.- Chief O'Neil later announced that Emma Goldman was under surveillance not far from Chicago, although not in this city. He Chicago, although not in this city. He insisted that she had been located and intimated that she would be arrested soon. The following description of Miss Goldman was furnished by the chief: Between 30 and 35 years old; about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches in height; pale complexion, thin features, and weight about 140. She has a heavy head of hair, slightly Roman nose, Jewish cast of countenance and rather full lips. She is dressy and stylish in amearance and weeps spees.

THE POPE IMPRESSED. LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Pope been so impressed by the attack President McKinley, says the Re-correspondent of the Dally Meil a cathering of sympathy, the prayers were supplications for early recovery, praise for his personality, and admonition to Mas. Mckinley to stand firm in this trying time.

The congregation, which was large, transformed itself into a mass meeting, and voted that the following expression he sent to the president:

"The board of the Metropoliban Methodist Episcopal church and congregation assembled extend to you and your devoted wife the deepest sympathy, and earnestly pray that God in His great mercy may comfort and sustain you and spare your valued and useful life to the church and nation."

When the meeting adjourned the congregation gathered about the altar, exchanging condolences. Mingled with the general conversation were remarks in deprecation of Dr. Naylor's reference to summary punishment.

PRAYERS FOR THE PRESIDENT.

The universal sorrow occasioned by the recent destardly attempt upon the life of the president of the United States we voiced Sunday in the city churches, near ly every pastor referring to the sad incident, speaking in eulogistic terms of the sufferer's character and offering heart prayers for his deliverance from dangey. The latest bulletins regarding his condition were also read.

Leon Czolgosz is the son of Paul Czolgosz, who lives at 106 Fleet street, that part of Cleveland.

For about 16 years the family has lived in or near Cleveland, most of the time on a farm on the Kinsman road, in Orange township, which is reached from stop 16 of the Cleveland & Chagrin Falls line.

The family consists of Paul, the father, and his second wife, Waldeck, aged 32, the oldest son, who now lives on the farm; Frank, who is in Michlgan; Joseph, who works about logging camps in Wisconsin; Leon, the wouldbe assassin; Jacob, a pensioned soldier, and John, the latter two living on the farm; Michael, the younger

"I ran the saloon for a year and a half and then traded it for the farm. I offered to take all my boys with me, but some would not go. "Leon was among them. He found a boarding place and went to work as a wire drawer for the Cleveland rolling mill. For a year or so he worked there and his health became such that he was forced to quit.

"He then came to me on the farm, where he stayed until two months ago. He determined to go west, and where he has been since I have no idea."

Mrs. Czolgosz confirmed her husband's

The name Nieman, given in the early despatches as that of the would-be slayer, as the name by which Paul Colgosz and his family are commonly known in the neighborhood where they live. The name was acopted because the men employed in the milks found difficulty in making the Polish name understood.

It is estimated that there are more than 1,000 anarchists in the city of Cleveland.

They have in the few past years adopted

From the Sun's Buffale Correspondent.)

BUFFALO, N. Y. Sept. 9.— With reference to alleged interviews with the prisoner Czolgosz, at 6 o'clock this evening, assistant superintendent of police H. V. Cusack said to the Sun representative:

representative:

"You can say positively that no re"porter for any newspaper has either
"seen or interviewed Czolgosz. Supt.
"Bulland and District Attorney Penny "are the only people who know what he said to them when he was exam"ined and no confession has been given out." What appeared in the "papers is guess work. Czolgosz has "made a statement, but what it con"tains has never been seen by any
"may are works."

Following is a sample of the bogus confessions above referred to, palmed off on the public by sensational St. John and New York papers:

(New York Sunday Herald.)

T AM NOT ALONE: T DID MY I am an anarchist. I do not believe in the American form of government. My fatth in this government was destroyed by Emma Goldman, whom I heard deliver lectures in New York a few years ago, and with whom I have since been in correspondence. I believe that any man who accepts the presidency is a foc to the common people. He represents only the class of oppressors.

"I know nothing about my son's crime," said the father through the medium of an interpreter, "other than what has been told in the papers."

INSANE, SAYS HIS FATHER.

"I believe the man who shot the president is my son. I think he is insane. I don't think he is an anarchist. He is, I believe, a member of the socialist labor party, but of no other organization. Leon is about 27 or 28 years of age. He was always weak and sickly, and I spent lots of money in an effort to cure him.

"When I came to Cleveland years ago I purchased a saloon at Todd street and 3rd avenue. Hhere Leon first showed signs of insanity. He was taciturn, would never speak to anybody and would often mumble in an unintelligible manner.

"I ran the saloon for a year and a half and then traded it for the farm. I offered to take all my boys with me, but some would not go. Leon was among them. He found a boardine place and went to work as a wire drawer for the Cleveland rolling mill. For a year or so he worked there and his health became such that he was forced to quit.

"He then came to me on the farm, where he stayed until two months when I heard that President McKinley would have a public reception I knew that fortune had thrown my opportunity in my way.

After studying the matter over, I decided that I would attempt to kill the President while he was in Buffalo.
Therefore I came to the Pan-American Exposition, and for the last three days I have planned carefully my attack upon him. With the 32-calibre revolver I had practised frequently in wrapping my handkerchief about my right hand so that the weapon was concealed in the paim, while its protruding muzzle might be taken to be my thumb.

I am not sonty for what I have done.
Why should I be? I have been simplan agent in the accomplishment of a work which, I hope, will succeed.
Of course, I know that, as it is now constituted, the government possesses the power to punish, and I know that the great majority are still too ignorant
