TOWN MARSHALL WANTS MORE PAY

New Problems Continually Spring up and Town Should Turn Out.
En masse at next Meeting on June 2

On Monday evening there was a special meeting of the town council. None of the topics for which the meeting was called reached a conclusion and all of them had to stand over until the next monthly meeting which will be the first Monday in June.
One of the items considered was the removal of H. N. Boyer's gasoline tank back from the street limit and the widening of the approach of the bridge. Mr.
Boyer expressed his willingness to meet the town's requirements in every respect. The roofing of shingles was also discussed and there are many topics that The Observer is not justified in announcing but will do so after the next monthly meeting.

It must not be forgotten that ratepayer may be admitted to these meetings and on motion, they may be heard.
A full attendance of councillors and a good proportion of ratepayers will pen the next meeting as much as to be discussed and the ratepayers should know what is going on.

Goes to Grand Falls

R. E. Cornell, for the past fifteen months employed on the reportorial staff of the Standard, sawered his connection with that paper last evening, and will in a few days proceed to Grand Falls, where he will resume his law studies with William E. Mc-Monagle, at present practicing at that centre. Before joining the staff of the Standard, Mr. Cornell was a student at St. Joseph's University, 1916. He will leave the first part of the week on a short visit to his home in Fredericton, then proceed to Grand Falls to take up his studies commenced at the St. John Law School last year. His friends will wish him much success.

The Valley Railway

No confirmation could be secured here today a story which appeared in a Fredericton newspaper on Saturday to the effect that Premier Foster was to present D. B. Hanna, chairman of the C.N.E. board, a request that the government should take over the Valley Railway as it stands, complete construction and charge the cost of the work to the province. So far as is known no proposal of this nature has been made, and the province will complete the road before expecting the federal government to take it over for operation.

Here is Another Hero

In 1916 Frank MacCallum of the Royal Bank force of Montreal, and son of Postmaster J. E. Mac-

Callum decided he would quit his job and enter into the Royal Navy.
He saw much squirming in Irish and English channel water and was for a time commander of a mine sweeper on the Belgian and English coast and was engaged also in battles with the Austrian of the Zeebrugge and it was in the daring dash to blow up the Zeebrugge Harbor he gained one of the patrol boats that effectually won undying fame along with his fellows.
He with his brave friend won fame that will ever live and the fact that he went through fire, blood and death unscathed is still more remarkable.

He has been given the D.S.M., medal which has been justly won.
Lient. MacCallum was home last summer but is still in the service.

The highest quality in No. 1 and 2 seed. To those who always sow the best Timothy your attention is particularly called to York Brand. Although our government analysis allows a limited quantity of harmful weeds to every pound of No. 1 Timothy, the seed that tests the highest is always bought for this brand.

It Always Begins on The Outside

Letter of Sympathy:

DEAR MRS. HARTLEY:

The members of Wiggins Loyal Orange Lodge No. 74, of which your late husband, brother Chalmers Hartley was valued member, wish to express to you and your family, their sincere sympathy in your great loss and sorrow. Our own sense of loss is so great we feel we can in some measure realize what your bereavement means and offer heart-felt consolation.

Your late husband had been for many years a valued and honored member of our association having received the highest offices and degrees in the power of the Lodge to grant. His constant aim was to promote the lodge's interests and the welfare of his brethren. His place in our ranks will be most difficult to fill. In the home and the community we realize his good qualities were no less conspicuous. If therefore, there is gratification in the consciousness that he served well his day and generation you have much to please and console you.

Our fervent prayer is that our God and Father in Heaven may Himself give you this blessing and His Peace.

I behalf of the Lodge we remain Yours in sympathy

How to Live Long

Upper Kent Items

The ladies are trying to arrange for a circulating library in connection with the Institute. West Philadelphia, Pa.—“During the thirty years I have been married, I have been in bad health and had several attacks of nervous prostration until it seemed as if the organs in my whole body were worn out. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will guarantee they will derive great benefit from it.”—Mrs. F. A. WIGHTMAN, 25 E. 12th Street, West Philadelphia, Pa.

YOU CAN'T RUB RHEUMATISM OUT

It is Rooted in the Blood and Must be Treated Through the Blood

The pain of rheumatism is something that you cannot rub out. Every sufferer from rheumatism has been advised to rub this liniment or that on the affected part, but after all the rubbing the pain remained. Rubbing did not cure it and can't cure it.

Thin blood and rheumatism come together and if they are properly treated they will go together. Rheumatism is rooted in the blood, in poor, watery blood. Sometimes cold, damp weather starts the aches and pains, but it is the condition of the blood that is at fault, and only by correcting this, and making the blood rich and red can the rheumatic poison be driven out. This is exactly what is done in the treatment of rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Acute and muscular rheumatism show improvement as the thin blood is built up, and when the blood has been restored to its normal condition the rich and red. There is no part of Canada in which some rheumatic sufferer is driven out and does not return as long as the blood is kept fever has not been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they do not hesitate to express their thanks for what this medicine has done for them. As an example, Miss Annie St. Dedrick, R. R. No. 2, St. Thomas, Ont., says:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me of rheumatism after a great many other remedies had failed. The pain in my arms and shoulders was so great that I could scarcely sleep. I could not raise my arms to comb my hair, and could not dress myself without help. In this condition I read of a cure of rheumatism through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. I got half a dozen boxes and I am thankful to say they not only cured my rheumatism, but that my general health was greatly improved. My appetite was increased and I gained in weight. Since then a number of cases have come under my observation in which cures have been made by this splendid medicine. As for myself I shall always speak a good word for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EXTENDS TIME FOR VALLEY WORK

Ottawa, May 19—The house spent practically the whole day in discussion of the immigration estimates. Opposition criticism of the estimates was based largely on the ground that while immigration was decreasing, expenditures on salaries was increasing.

To this, Hon. J. A. Calder replied that the work of the Ottawa department was increasing. The immigration problem, Mr. Calder declared, would never be settled if Canada pursued a niggardly policy.

Third reading was given to the dominion water powers bill and a resolution by Hon. Dr. Reid was carried, to extend the time of construction of that portion of the St. John & Quebec Railway between Centreville and Andover.

Premier Foster Urges Reunion of Liberals

Ottawa, May 19—Premier Foster of New Brunswick said today at the conference with D. D. McKenzie, leader of the Opposition, and members of the Opposition that he was in full accordance with the plans for the National Liberal convention at Ottawa on August 4, 5 and 6.

"Let bygones be bygones," said Premier Foster in urging this afternoon that the time is ripe for a reunion of all Liberals and his words were applauded by Hon. W. M. Martin, premier of Saskatchewan, and Hon. O. T. Daniels, attorney-general of Nova Scotia. The latter did not arrive in time for the morning conference, but all that transpired then and on Saturday was explained to him by Mr. McKenzie. He fully agreed with the conclusions arrived at and his arrival helped to complete the growing feeling of confidence that the August convention will be fully representative of Canadian Liberalism without reference to what happened in December, 1917. Hon. W. M. Martin will be here for a few days and a dinner will be tendered him by the Saskatchewan members of Premier Foster left on the evening train for Montreal but Hon. O. T. Daniels will stay for a day or more.

Hon. W. M. Martin disagreed with the proposal that the provincial riding should be the unit of organization in the west, urging that it would avoid confusion to reorganize the federal ridings. It was practically decided that this would be done. Both premiers promised that the provincial organizations would issue the invitations to the individual ridings to send representatives to the National convention and help in any organization to be done. This method will be followed all over Canada.

"I Am So Afraid it is My Heart"

VERY many people live in constant dread of heart trouble when the heart is in no way diseased.

There is perhaps no organ in the human system which is worked so hard and yet the heart seldom goes wrong so long as it is supplied with plenty of rich, red blood.

In fact the heart repairs its own waste and plods on, lifting tons of blood each year and pumping it through the body.

But the heart's action is the result of the contraction and expansion of muscles and these muscles are operated by the nervous system. When the blood gets thin and watery and the nervous system is starved the action of the heart, just like that of the stomach, bowels and other organs, is slowed down.

As a result, you are easily tired out, experience shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and general bodily weakness.

The quickest and most rational way to overcome this condition is by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to enrich the blood and build up the exhausted nerves.

With the nerves in a run-down condition you are sure to get downhearted and discouraged and to imagine that all sorts of dreadful things are likely to happen to you.

But when you have been using the Nerve Food for a week or two you will begin to see the silver lining to the cloud and to realize that you are on the way to health, courage and happiness.

Mrs. Nellie Derringer, Simcoe, Ont., writes: "I was a great sufferer with my nerves and with pains about the heart. I could not sleep at night and though I tried several doctors could not get much relief. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I am happy to say the results have been a surprise. My health has been built up wonderfully. I have no more pains about the heart, my nerves are steady and I sleep and rest well."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, 6 for $2.75, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. The portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every box.

POTATOES

Potatoes have during the past week brought from $3.75 down to about $3.50 which would be about the price now if any were coming in. However, so few are coming the past few days that it is hard to tell what the price really is. There is said not to be much call for stock just now from the big markets. The fact that so few are arriving now in the local market may be due partly to the desire of the few who still have potatoes to sell to receive a higher price for them than they could now get, but it is without doubt to a greater degree due to the present great pressure of farm work, which does not allow farmers to bring their stock to market. Some of the experienced estimators are saying that Fort Fairfield, Caribou and Presque Isle, with a few adjacent towns, may perhaps put in about the usual average of potatoes this spring, but that, in most other parts of the county, the plant will fall off about 25 per cent. Quite a few farmers, it is reported, are coming out a little short of fertilizer for planting. The three starch factories have been going as usual, but during the past few days have got so little stock that they will probably have to close very soon. —F. F. Review.

GOAT AS A MASCOT.

Billy Got "Cigarette Habit" From the Tommies.

Billy, a goat, mascot of the 33rd Flying Squadron in France, is a wonderful animal, if he is alive. Should Billy be dead, an "ally" has been lost. But he will always live in the minds of many men who fought in France, particularly those of the 33rd Squadron. An interesting tale of the animal's life and experiences is told by Lieut. Noel S. Jones, of the Royal Air Force, recently arrived home. When Billy was a kid, probably about three or four weeks old, he was bought for 10 francs by flying men from a peasant at Franqueville, and was turned loose among men of the 33rd Squadron for bringing up in every sense of the statement Billy was a "h. h. flyer." He didn't think anything of "stunts" at an altitude of 10,000 feet, he was horribly addicted to cigarettes, and ate chocolate in as great quantities as a girl, and the story has it that he had a fondness for liquor. But Billy, as the story goes, could "always keep on his feet."

Billy wouldn't accept a cigarette from the hand. That goat demanded he be allowed to accept a bag from a silver and initialed case, or from a box. He was a positive "fend," having been known to eat as many as 50 cigarettes at one time.

When the squadron moved Billy was strapped in a plane and taken along. Arriving at the destination the goat was lifted from the plane and would commence eating grass or wandering about in a matter of fact manner. The shelling of the squadron by enemy craft had no terrors for him.

Life in a Hun Prison

THE Canadians required more men to guard them, did less work, and caused more worry and trouble than any other prisoners, said Lieut. J. Beverley Robinson, R.A.F., two and a half years a prisoner of war, escaping on his second attempt, being the only Canadian officer who succeeded in doing so.

"The Germans tried more to break the spirit of the Canadians than of any other prisoners but they didn't do it. Our men stuck it, and when they got a chance they got back at the Germans with interest," asserted Lieut. Robinson.

"Never have I read a single line which exaggerated the treatment of the prisoners of war by the Germans. I have found a disposition on the part of some to make light of the stories of cruelty which have been told. Do not make light of them, for they are all true. There are worse stories than any you have heard yet. If you are inclined to make light of imprisonment, then try to think what it means to live for months or years in the unsanitary, pestilential camps in Germany, where every possible effort was made to keep inmates in a state of indescribable cruelty upon the men. Think what it means to work twelve or fourteen hours a day in the salt mines, to be tied up to posts in zero weather, to be hung up by the wrists, or even only to wash your clothing in tea-sold water.

"I have seen even German Red Cross workers spit in bowls of soup which they brought into the train, then throw it into the faces of allied officers. I have seen wounded soldiers dragged to the doors of the cars and there spat upon and jeered by the people."

Lieut. Robinson was taken a prisoner when flying in a fog, and he was forced to make a landing in territory captured by the Germans. His machine was seriously crippled by German bullets, so close was he forced to fly to the ground.

"A short time after landing I saw an individual approaching me," he narrated. "He was pointing a large horse pistol. I never saw anything like it—one of those archaic weapons seen in castles. I walked up to him and started cursing as hard as I could. It worked well. The average German soldier is accustomed to having his orders shouted at him. I was certainly shouting. He dropped the muzzle and stood there open mouthed. But suddenly I noticed his clothes and the double eagle on the buttons. Then another came on a horse, the most magnificent black charger I have ever seen. He was a German military policeman, and the scales fell from my eyes immediately."

"When I was captured arrangements were being made by my squadron to drop on Prince Rupert. I was told that the plane was being dropped. This, strange as it may seem, was known to the German staff officer who examined me, and he said that arrangements had been made to give our boys a warm reception. Well, I got information back to the squadron by writing a postcard to my mother, saying: 'Please tell that the man of evil habits has changed his address.'"

He told of the conditions in a series of camps in which he was confined, referring especially to Strohan, which had formerly been used as a punishment centre for Russian prisoners. "It was a camp totally lacking in sanitation, with a madman for a commandant, and a record for bayoneting prisoners. With two other officers he escaped from this camp on a dark, windy, rainy night. After three nights he was recaptured and sent to Postmunden, recognized as one of the escapees in Germany. He was captured at the point of a shotgun in the hands of a German farmer, following discovery by his wife."

Postmunden was commanded by Charles Niemeyer, "Milwaukee Bill," who, the lieutenant believed, will be one of the first of the German officers to be demanded for the allies when the day of reckoning comes. Niemeyer lost no chance to be insulting to the prisoners, and for a long time refused to allow them to sit up shower baths for their use, because he wanted them as kennels for his dogs, which continued to occupy them.

So bad were conditions that it was decided an attempt must be made to get news to England, so the prisoners started to tunnel to freedom. Under trying conditions they tunneled for nine months, and were successful in securing the escape of 24 officers (he was not present), ten of whom crossed the frontier to safety. They dug from an unusual cellar to the prison through 50 yards of earth, using crude air tubes of tin to keep the workers alive.

Lieut. Robinson escaped from a temporary camp. He stocked up with essentials, in the hope of being able to jump from the train on a journey which he knew would pass along the Dutch frontier. As he was suspected, he was searched for an hour before being allowed to board the train. Yet, in spite of that hour's search, he took with him two compasses, a map, a flashlight, some forbidden German money and a civilian cap. He didn't get a chance to jump from the train as the trip was made by day, but the evening of his arrival at the latest camp Lieut. Robinson, with an officer named Milne, made their escape over a high retaining wall, while a third officer detained the German guard with an argument on the value of Zeppelin air raids.

The Optimistic Chickadee.

A walk through the woods on a nice winter day reveals many wonderful things to the person who believes that Dame Nature does up her shop during cold weather. You probably will hear the chickadees before you see 'em, because they sing and are merry even though cold winds blow and food is scarce. "Chick-a-dee-dee" or "tee-bee" they sing as they scratch in the leaves of yesteryear in the fence corners. The chickadee, or black-capped titmouse, is optimism's trademark.

Rich Red Blood means health—means mental vigor and physical strength. What women in particular need to fortify and enrich the blood—build up and invigorate the system, and clear the complexion—is

Dr. Wilson's HERBINE BITTERS

It is a true blood purifier—a blood food—made from Nature's healing herbs—and has given new health and happiness to thousands of women during the 50 years and more it has been before the public.

At most stores, 25c. a bottle. Family size, for times as large, $1. The Brainerd Drug Company, Limited, St. John, N.S.

The chickadee is too well known to warrant a description for those who have lived in the country. Striped collars will recognize the chickadee as a flock of sparrow-like birds, each with a black & white cap and a black patch on the throat and chin. If you will listen they will sing, not merely when the music moves, but all of the time. "Chick-a-dee-dee" tee-bee; tee-bee-day-day-day." Translated into English this means:

"Look at that poor frozen turnip with his mackinaw coat and arriars and red nose; wonder what he'll do when it gets cold." Some times, too, they have a scolding chuckle, but fear not! It soon blows over, like the pattering of a busy housewife, and in a moment they are singing again. The song of a flock of chickadees requires no "claque."

These birds do little traveling, being content to pass unnoticed among our summer birds, knowing that they will again take the centre of the stage when cold days drive the tender ones to the Southland. Winter would be drearier than ever without these little citizens of fence corners, hedge rooms and woodlet singing and serenading and making the best of bad days and biting winds.

Moral: Consider the chickadees and—

Downed the Last Zeppelin.

Now that the busy and varied "hush" incidents of the war are coming to their end, it will be interesting to tell how a Montreal aviator accounted for the last Zeppelin to be brought down. The aviator was Lieut. Stuart D. Culley, D. S. O., who enlisted in the Royal Naval Service nearly two years ago.

Early Sunday morning, Aug. 11, 1918, word was brought in by motor boats that a Zeppelin had been sighted. When he was some 10,000 feet up, Culley sighted the Zeppelin a considerable distance away. He decided to attack it. He kept straight on until the Zeppelin was almost directly over him, when he pulled up the nose of the plane and emptied his machine gun into the bottom of the airship, it being some 200 feet above the plane. The plane itself was 15,000 feet in the air.

In about half a minute or so sparks of flame appeared in several parts of the Zeppelin.

The ships had been watching the performance, and immediately the admiral saw the flames he sent this signal to all the ships round about: "Turn to hymn 223, last verse," which is as follows:

"A Happy Band of Pilgrims"

FRIENDS THOUGHT HE WOULD DIE

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" Cured Dyspepsia and Restored His Health.

MR. ROBERT NEWTON.

Little Ben d'Or, C.R. "I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation for years. I had pain after eating, belching gas, constant headaches, and did not sleep well at night. I lost so much weight—going from 185 pounds to 145 pounds—that I became alarmed and saw several doctors who, however, did me no good. Finally, a friend told me to try 'Fruit-a-Lives'."

In a week, there was improvement. The constipation was corrected; and soon I was free of pain, headaches and that miserable feeling that accompanies Dyspepsia. I continued to take this splendid fruit medicine and now I am well, strong and vigorous." ROBERT NEWTON.

Box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-Lives Limited, Ottawa.

Look upward to the skies, Where such a light affliction, Shall win so great a prize." Later Lieut. Culley was called on by the admiral to stand on the deck of a destroyer, while the fleet went by with the crews lining the gun-walves cheering him.

Watch for Potato Wart

Keep a sharp lookout for potato wart this season and report suspicious cases and send specimens immediately to your county agents, your State experiment station or the United States Department of Agriculture and thus aid in controlling this menace. If this dangerous new disease gets established it will put a stop to potato growing in the infested area and lead to a quarantine of the locality. At present potato wart has appeared only in a few gardens in mining sections of Pennsylvania which are now under strict quarantine. It reached there in a shipment of European potatoes in 1911 or earlier. Thirteen million bushels came in that year and some of them may have been infected; consequently every potato grower is urged to watch his spuds, particularly at digging time, for signs of small warty growth particularly at the eyes. These growths may increase until ultimately the entire tuber becomes a spongy warty mass. The United States Department of Agriculture has published a circular which describes the wart disease.

You cannot afford a car less good than the Gray Dort. You do not want service less complete.

Measure the service and satisfaction it gives you. Judge the power and quietness of its motor; the size and comfort of its body; its equipment; and the years of service you get from it. All these things the Gray Dort gives you abundantly. And for heaping value adds economy of operation. The touring car is $1245; the Gray Dort Special—the car with added refinements and extra equipment, is $1385 extra; there are also a coupe, and a sedan. All prices f.o.b. ## C. E. VAIL

Jeweller and Graduate Optician

Wishes to thank the people at large for their patronage in the past and solicit their Watch and Optical work in the future.

A few suggestions which might be helpful: In the State of Maine persons fitting lasses have to pass the state board and only those who are qualified are able to do that as there is a heavy fine for intruders.
Therefore our country is being flooded with so called opticians who are travelling from house to house pretending to be experts. I have been in the Optical business 17 years. The first 5 years I took home courses and studied hard, day and night, and could do good work in very many cases. When I went to Montreal and took a course in the Montreal Optical Institute of Canada and passed all exams with great praise from Professor Fox, who ordered a diploma for me which hangs in my office for inspection. If you want to find out what I know about fitting glasses look at my diploma and see what the Optical Institute of Canada has to say about me.
I carry in stock all kinds of the latest Tortoise shell or Shell, ray frames, carried anywhere, as well as all kinds of gold filled or gold frames. And will fit in any kind of glasses made anywhere. From a sphere or Cylinder or Compound lens. Toric or punctate, or Toric Kryptok. Prices range from $1 up to $15, according to what it takes to make the correction and please my customer. An up-to-date line of men new line of wedding rings and marriage licenses. Thanking you again for your patronage.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL ITEMS

Arbor Day was quickly observed on Friday by the usual small duties about the School house.
The young folk of to-day seem to have lost in a great measure their sense of the real significance of Arbor Day. If children had any adequate idea of the real joy accruing in adult years, from the beautifying touch that nature is lent by some large pleasant shade tree, which they early in life may have transplanted as a small sapling, we would have not only a great many more landscape gardeners, but a far more fetching landscape. Groups of two or three husky youths or buxom maidens could easily plant one tree each season and soon transfigure the setting of the time honored and undesirable edifice into an attractive resort, where the school boy with shining morning face would cease creeping like a small unwillingly to school and would lose all desire for hooky.

The attendance at the pictures is increasing each evening and will continue to increase if the proprietor puts out the necessary effort to procure a good class of pictures. The average person will not attend regularly unless the program is interesting.

The base ball management has procured the use of the Exhibition grounds for a diamond for the season. Considerable interest is manifest in the different localities in the matter of Baseball, and with a little energy added a good many pleasant hours could be spent by the sporting element in the several communities.

Carl and Eric Brown returned home from overseas duty on Monday. These two young men, through some of the heaviest fighting with the same unit, the
