PRESENTATION

To Rev Father Gauvin Before His Departure From Campbellton

The Rev Father Gauvin, who has been stationed here for the past few months as assistant to the Reverend Father Wallace, has been transferred to another parish and left here last Tuesday morning for his new field of labor. On Monday evening a number of his acquaintances among the Parishioners met him at the Geo StOnge Hall where the following address was read to him in French by Alderman J. T. Vaudour:

To the Rev George B. Gauvin, Reverend Sir—It is with a feeling of sadness that we have gathered here to-night to give expression to our sincere regret at your intended departure from our midst, causing a vacancy that will be hard to fill. Only a few months ago we were strangers to you, but in that short space of time, you have known by your sympathetic kindness, your keen and sincere interest on all occasions as well as by your devotedness and paternal solicitude how to conquer our affection and gratitude. Since actions speak louder than words, these few words of esteem and regret are accompanied by a purse which we respectfully ask you to accept as coming from your friends in Campbellton. You will probably meet Parishioners who will do better, but nowhere will you meet any with better intentions to do what is right. Since we must part we say to you "Au Revoir" with the hope that you will ever remember the Catholics of this Mission, among whom you are always welcome.

To this Father Gauvin replied feelingly, thanking the many friends for their kindness in their address and the purse which accompanied it and expressing his deep regret in having to sever his connections with them.

SEVERE STORM

H. McIntyre's House Struck by Lightning

CONSIDERABLY DAMAGED

A Barn at Black Cape Struck and Burned to the Ground.

The storm of Saturday was probably one of the worst that has been experienced in this vicinity for some time. The thunder and lightning was unusually heavy rain came down in torrents at times. The house of Henry McIntyre was struck by lightning ripping off a considerable portion of the clapboards, and breaking a number of windows. The course of the lightning could be easily traced from the top of the house to the cellar. A ventilator pipe was thrown down and fell beside the cradle in which the youngest child was lying asleep. The barn door was also shattered by the electric fluid and although two boys were standing inside the barn at the time they were not injured.

It seems almost miraculous that none of the inmates of the house were hurt or that the house was not burned.

Lightning also struck a barn at Black Cape setting it on fire. The building was completely destroyed.

County President and Others Visited Dalhousie Union on Tuesday.

In order to stimulate and promote the interests of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in the County of Restigouche, the County President, Mrs. J. S. Benedict accompanied by Mrs. Connacher, Mrs. Firth and Mrs. Lingley paid a visit to Dalhousie Union on Tuesday last. They were met at the station by Mrs. C. McDonald, the energetic Corresponding Secretary of the Union, and most cordially welcomed.

The meeting in the afternoon was well attended and one new member added to the ranks of White Ribbons. Miss Cameron, the President of the Union, occupied the chair, and after the regular routine of business was gone through with short addresses were given by the visiting members. A most unexpected feature of the programme was the serving of a very enjoyable tea at the close of the meeting. A pleasant social half hour was spent and the visitors departed with the utmost confidence in the future of the Dalhousie Union.

It has been suggested that a picnic of the Campbellton and Dalhousie Unions be held in the near future at the Inch Arran. If this is decided upon due notice will be given.

PUBLIC HOSPITAL

Movement on Foot To Build One

THIS SUMMER

Orangemen will Contribute $4000 If Citizens Raise $3000.

A meeting of the citizens of the town was held on Monday evening to consider a proposition of the Heine L. O. Lodge for the erection of a public hospital in the town this summer.

A committee from the Lodge composed of Rev. J. W. Keirstead chairman, Rev R. J. Coleman, John Devereaux and Duncan Noble were present and after Mr. H. F. McLatchy, M. P. P. had been elected chairman of the meeting, and J. T. Reid Secretary, Mr. Keirstead went fully into the details of the proposition.

He read the resolution adopted by the Lodge which is as follows: Whereas, there is great need for a good well, equipped hospital in the town of Campbellton; and,

Whereas Heine L. O. L. No 64 has a lot of land in a suitable place for a hospital and is contemplating the building of a hall for their own convenience;

And whereas this building can be made suitable to serve the double purpose of hospital and hall combined according to plans prepared by Mr. Buller, architect for the sum of $6,500 or less.

Therefore resolved, that this Heine L. O. L. No 64 offer the citizens of the town to build the hospital and hall combined according to plans and specifications, aforesaid and lease the hospital part to a board of directors appointed by the citizens of the town (who may be subscribers to the hospital) for the term of thirty years for the consideration of $2,000 to be paid by citizens outside of the Orange order to help construct the building, and also on consideration that the directors of the hospital shall give the Heine L. O. L. No 64, free light and heat in their Lodge during the terms of this lease.

Further Resolved: That in case the town accepts this proposition this Lodge furnish three beds, one in private ward and one in each of the private wards.

Still Further Resolved: That in case such arrangements as are set forth in this resolution shall be carried out satisfactorily that at the expiration of the term of years set forth in the lease of the hospital the lease shall be renewed as may be considered in the best interest of Protestantism and the health of the community.

Mr. Keirstead stated that the lot of land mentioned in the resolution was valued at $1000 and was situated near Dr. Murray's residence. The scheme was not proposed for financial gain to the Orange Lodge. They could build a hall according to their first intention, with tenements on the first two floors and have considerable revenue from it. Some persons objected to the hall being over the hospital on the ground of the noise that might be made, but they were assured by the architect that the floor could be laid so that no sound could be heard in the wards below. It was the opinion of the medical men that the hospital would be self-sustaining with the expected grant from the government.

MOOSE SLAUGHTER.

Poachers Getting in their Work in Antinuri Lake Region.

Deputy Game Warden Verge visited Antinuri Lake this week and says he found the carcasses of four large moose lying in the water. This seems to be a favorite spot for poachers and it is too bad the moose are being slaughtered in such a manner. The government ought to appoint a special guardian for this region who could be on the ground all the time.

In conclusion the reverend gentleman said that the meeting had been called to-night in the absence of other ministers because if the building was to be erected this fall work must be commenced by Aug. 15th.

Rev R J Coleman said he was in hearty sympathy with the movement and hoped that the scheme could be carried through to a successful issue.

Mr. Devereaux also spoke endorsing the scheme.

Mr. McLatchy said that in regard to the grant from the government he would see that this hospital received the same treatment as the Hotel Dieu hospital.

Considerable discussion followed on the details of the proposition, Mr. Dickie contending that the lease was too short, Mr. A. G. Adams favored the formation of a joint stock company.

It was finally resolved that a committee of two from each denomination be appointed to confer with committee from Orange Lodge and talk over details of the scheme which, when agreed upon would be laid before the different congregations.

The following were appointed as said committee—Rev A. F. Carr, Wm. Currie, R. D. McNair, J. E. Miller, Rev W. A. Thomson, J. T. Reid, Dr. Graham and K. Shives.

The Committee were called to meet next Tuesday evening in the Baptist Vestry.

The Rev E. R. Roy, Church of England Travelling Missionary in the Matapédia Valley, purposes holding divine services during the next ten days as follows: At Grand Cascapédia, Thursday, July 13th at 7.30 p. m.; at Carleton on Friday evening; on Sunday, 16th at Black Cape at 11 a. m.; New Richmond at 7.30 p. m.; on Tuesday, 18th at Oak Bay, 7.30 p. m.; Wednesday evening, at Broadlands and Thursday at Salmon Lake; on Friday at Amqui and on Sunday, the 23rd, at Sayabec, at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED
Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up, you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, overlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Madame Josephine Riville, Mass., Que. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "I suffered for four years with female troubles—inflammation of the stomach and fallopian tubes which caused me violent pain and often torture, so much so that I could not walk at times and attend to my daily duties. Life was misery to me. I was so blue and despondent I did not know which way to turn for relief. I had tried the doctors but they did not help me. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I bought a bottle. I am glad that I did so, for I am well and strong to-day and the world looks bright, for I have perfect health, thanks to your medicine."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

BATHURST HORSE

Won at Moncton Races Last Week

OWNED BY F. GOODWIN.

Captured 2.30 Event in Three Straight Heats

The Transcript has the following in reference to the 2.30 trot and pace on the Moncton Speedway on Friday—Storm King had the pole in the first heat of the 2.30 trot and pace.

Storm King took the lead on the first turn with Kinkora second. The Summerside horse broke and dropped back, but Storm King held his head and was well ahead at the half with Parker L. pulling up the back stretch they went and on the last turn Parker L. began to pull up. It was a pretty race down the stretch and they shot under the wire with Parker L's nose in Storm King's stutky. Alice H. went out at the first turn. Harding's mare driven by Reckford, formerly of Moncton was acting badly all the time and went in the air at the start. Time 2.23 1/4. By quarters 35 1/4, 1.10, 1.46 1/4, 2.23 1/4.

There was very little between Storm King and Parker L. in this heat. The pole horse Storm King took the lead at the start and at the first turn Parker L. pulled into second place and drew away from the bunch at the half, Parker L's nose was once more at Storm King's hie and then at the three mark Etta Mae pulled out from the bunch and began to race for second place. Parker L. had too much of a lead and when the horses turned into the stretch Storm King, Parker L. and Etta Mae were in the order named with less than a length between each. It was a nice race for the wire but there was no change in the positions. Just inside the distance flag, Little Tom fell pitching the driver over the horse's head. The driver almost miraculously alighted on his feet and neither horse nor driver were injured.

Time—2.21. By quarters 35 1/4, 1.10, 1.46 1/4, 2.21.

There was nothing but Storm King to this heat, and Parker seemed to be the only horse who could give the chestnut a race. The Bathurst horse took the lead at the first turn, and followed by Parker L. drew away from the bunch by several lengths. The positions were unchanged at the half, but at the three quarter Parker L. pulled up a little. Storm King was not being driven very hard and won without a touch of the whip, with Parker L. half a length behind in second place. Will Patch had been drawn before this heat, as well as Little Tom. Time 2.23. By quarters 36, 1.11, 1.47 1/4, 2.23.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—The best in Existence

T. M. Wood, manager of the White County News, Beebe, Ark., is a representative southern business man, who does not hesitate in expressing his good opinion of a well known remedy. He says: "It gives me pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy having used it myself and in my family with the best results. In fact I believe it to be the best remedy of the kind in existence." Sold by all druggists.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

A disastrous fire entirely swept out of existence the lower end of Albert Village Albert County on Friday afternoon, when a fire from some unknown cause, broke out in Brewster's and Co's Carriage and woodworking factory on Bridge Street on both sides as far as the McNulty buildings was in flames. Under the pressure of the still gale the burning embers were carried enormous distances, and several buildings outside of the district named were set afire during the afternoon and early evening, but fortunately were suppressed. Clouds of smoke arose bearing the burning embers and scattering the same even as far away as Riverside at more than one mile away several fires were started but fortunately put out without serious damage. Great quantities of lumber, half a mile back of the village, caught from an ember but the fire was quickly master.

The fire swept up Bridge Street until the Baptist church was reached. This caught several times, but the bucket brigade made an heroic stand and by saving the church, it is believed saved the rest of the village. If the church had been overcome by the flames, the fire would have leaped the gap and destroyed the rest of the village. Within four hours, that is between 3.30 p. m. twenty-two houses and buildings were razed to the ground; nearly $40,000 loss sustained with very little insurance. The village has suffered a severe blow. There were no means of stopping the progress of the flames. Men, woman and children worked to save their homes, and it was only by heroic efforts that the houses which remained were saved from the flames. There is no water system of fire apparatus of any kind in Albert, and the only manner in which the flames were fought by a bucket brigade.—Transcript.

JACQUET RIVER.

The closing exercises of our public school took place on Friday afternoon, June 30th in the presence of about sixty of the parents and friends of the pupils. Outside the school flag floated and the spacious play grounds never looked better. The interior of the school room was tastefully decorated with red, white and blue and the black boards with colored drawings, the work of the pupils, which with the bright and happy faces of the children presented a very pretty appearance.

An interesting oral examination was conducted by the teacher, Miss Ullman, succeeded by a very pretty entertainment, the programme of which read as follows:

Encouraging and complimentary addresses were then delivered by Alex Turvey, Esq., and Rev. F. W. Purcell trustees. The pupils acquitted themselves most creditably and both teacher and pupils were commended for good work evident from the closing proceedings.

The names of the prize winners and those deserving special distinction and honorable mention in each of the grades were next read by the teacher.
The afternoon's entertainment came to a close by the singing of God Save The King.

A silver medal handsomely engraved, donated by Rev. W. F. Purcell for general excellence was merited by Miss Mary McNair.

A prize Milton's Poetical Works, morocco bound, donated by Miss F.
Ullman for polite deportment among the girls was taken by Miss Emma McMillan.

Many were the expressions of pleasure and satisfaction from parents and friends, and congratulations were showered on the prize winners and the teacher for her successful year's work.

to a close by the singing of God Save

The average man does not save 10 percent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on.

It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.

POKEMOUCHE

I wonder what has happened to our Pokemouche correspondent we have not heard from him for a long while I guess they have changed their Residence and gone to the beaches, however, in their absence I will presume to report in their stead the doings of our little village. I am rather rather late in beginning, but they say it is better late than never.

The weather of late has been very warm which is beneficial to the crops after the recent rains, especially the hay crop is said to be the best for some years.

Lobster fishing is drawing to a close Report says there has not been as good fishing as last year. There has been a few mackerel taken this week.

Cod are quite plentiful now and are a good price which is a good thing for the fishermen.

A very pretty wedding took place here last week when Miss Mary Crowley of Pokemouche was united in marriage to Mr. Bernard Driscoll of Black Rock. The bride looked lovely in a dress of white silk and carried a bouquet of white jasmene and roses. She was attended by her sister Miss Clara Crowley who was dressed in white muslin and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The groom was supported by Mr. Patrick Crowley. After the ceremony the party repaired to the Brides home where supper was served. Among those present were Chas. Driscoll, Mrs. Daniel Mahoney, Mr. and Mrs.
Richard Dempsey, Mrs. John Crowley and Mr. William Crowley after which the happy couple drove to their home in Black Rock.

Mrs. James Haddley of Nacadah, Wisconsin spent last week with friends in Pokemouche. Mrs. Haddley was born here and was heartily welcomed by her many friends and relatives here. We hope she will have a very pleasant time and that this visit will be the prelude to many others.

Miss Ethel Hurley who has been teaching in Baron Point has returned to her home here.

Miss Minnie Sisk is in New Ban-don the guest of her sister Mr. Alister Haddley.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs.
Hoppert on the arrival of a son.

Quite a number of our young ladies and gentlemen availed themselves by the entertainment in Grand Anse last week.

Our teacher Miss Artinise "Melanch" has returned to her home in Quebec.

Mr. John Coughlan of Tetagouche spent last week in Pokemouche the guest of his aunt.

Miss Beatrice Foley has returned to her home after spending the winter in Carleton Place.

Mr. Ernest Foley has returned from Quebec.

Miss Annie Hurley spent last week in Carleton Place the guest of her sister Miss Ethel Hurley.

NEW CARLISLE

The people of New Carlisle are very indignant because the S. S. Lady Ellen does not call at their wharf and they cannot understand why the steamer or the captain does not consent to do so. Mr. Blair, the manager gave Mr. Charles Marcell, M. P. the following reasons—that there was a certain piece of wreckage at the head of said wharf which was an obstruction to steamer approaching same.

Certificates were sent to Mr. Marcell from competent persons; who had explored the bottom around the wharf which declared that nothing of any nature that might be obstructive could be located. Their certificates do not seem to have been believed by the manager of the company and Mr. Marcell was asked to send a driver to New Carlisle. This was done and he reported that there was no obstruction whatever to prevent steamer coming to the wharf. Yet the company was not convinced and sent a man who we do not think was competent, to take soundings, and yet the steamer does not land here nor does it seem that it intends to do so. Why does not Mr. Blair say that the steamer does not intend to stop here, then the people would know how to deal with the matter.

TOWN COUNCIL

Offer of Messrs. Duncan Considered

IN RESESVOR

Robert Hickey Appointed Caretaker and Street Commissioner Pro. Tem.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held in the Council Chamber at 8.30 o'clock Thurs. day evening last. There were present His worship Mayor Murray and Councillors Ferguson, Taylor, Vator, Joudry, Laughlan, Miller, Blair, and Blackhall.

The order of business was suspended in order to hear Dr Doherty, who in addressing the Council took exception to the payment of an account rendered by Dr Graham on the ground that the said doctor was not a duly registered practitioner of New Brunswick.

Coun. Ferguson explained that Dr Graham had been engaged by Coun J. E. Miller of the previous council and as he had rendered the services and the account had been certified by Mr Miller he had recommended that it be paid.

A communication was read from Mr S. S. Harrison asking what encouragement the town would give for the erection of a suitable opera house or music hall. This was referred to the Finance committee.

A petition from residents living on Pamsay street was read. This asked that Sewerage system be extended along said street. Referred to Water & Sewerage Committee.

The special committee appointed to see Messrs. R. L. Duncan and Joseph Duncan in reference to claims against town in reference to reservoir extension reported, through their chairman, J. H. Taylor, submitting the following offers:

Joseph Duncan will sell 4.29 acres for $1,500.00, or if allowed to erect dam and haul ice $250.00, or if the town only took up to cedar tree, or elevation 240, $600.00. If took 4.29 acres and allowed him privilege of cutting ice $900.00.

R. L. Duncan will sell 6.56 acres for $5000.00, or he will allow town to raise dam to 240 elevation on the plan and allow town to take all material for the completion of the dam to this height together with the right of way over the land for use in the construction of the dam, and the privilege of the right of way across his land surrounding the reservoir for $3000.00.

Coun Blair asked if town accepted second offer would reservoir be large enough to supply town for the next five years.

Coun Taylor thought that the second offer would permit the construction of a reservoir sufficient.

Royal Household Flour

BREAD

iently large to supply the town for many years to come. In fact there would be more water than the main could carry off. Last winter water was running over spillway continuously.

The report was laid on the table for future consideration.

Coun Laughlan from the Electric Light Committee submitted a report recommending payment of the following account.

Packard Electric Co. meters $122.40
R. E. T. Priegle & Co. 42.75
W. P. Grey, sawdust & wood 12.00

Intercolonial Railway freight 1.12
Reports adopted and bills ordered to be paid.

On motion of Coun. Joudry Mr Boomer was heard in reference to vaults.

Mr Boomer explained various kinds of vaults but strongly advocated the use of porous terracotta in preference to hollow wall. This would cost no more. He would not recommend solid brick wall as these had proved not fireproof at the board of trade and other large fires.

Coun. Joudry asked if a wall sixteen inches thick with a space of two inches would be fireproof.

Mr Boomer, Unquestionably, as you would have an air chamber to keep heat from radiating.

Coun. Blair asked if vault was lined with firebrick would it not be better than if lined with red brick.

Mr Boomer—No he did not think so. In all his experiences in building vaults he had never seen it used.

After further discussion this matter was dropped until after tenders for vault were opened.

Coun. Joudry of the Public property and streets moved that Robt Hickey be appointed caretaker of town team, and road commissioner as same wages as Mr Taylor.

After discussion it was moved in amendment by Coun Blair that tenders be called for position of caretaker and road commissioner up to July 15th. Amendment was carried.

A lengthy discussion took place over a granting of a license to do business in Campbellton to David Coldenberg at the previous meeting, but after reconsidering the matter the action taken at the previous meeting was satisfied.

The council went into committee of the whole to further consider report of Special committee on claims of Jos Duncan and R. L. Duncan.

On resuming business Chairman Blair reported that the Special Committee had been authorized to interview the town solicitor before anything further was done.

The council then adjourned to meet Friday evening at 8.30.

The Council reassembled on Friday evening at 8.30.

Couns. Taylor from special committee on reservoir settlement asked for an extension of time as information required was not to hand. Granted. Coun. Blackhall from the Finance Committee reported on following accounts of Board of Health recommending payment.

Isidore Mercier $5.00
Wm. Christie 4.00
Fabien Doiron 7.00

Coun. Joudry said that he was not satisfied with the work being done in his department and wanted the cooperation of the Council in his endeavor to bring about a reform.

After some further discussion of the matter it was moved by Coun. Ferguson, seconded by Coun. Blackhall that Robert Hickey be engaged as caretaker of town houses and street commissioner pro. tem. Carried.

Coun Blackhall said that the town account at the Bank of Nova Scotia was kept under the title of "S. H. Lingley, Town Treasurer," and thought it should be changed. On motion Coun. Blackhall was authorized to have the title changed to "Town of Campbellton."

VALIDICTORY ADDRESS
Delivered by W. Gordon
Firth, of Glenoe at High School Convocation.

Campbellton, June 30, '05
Your Worship, Mr. Principal, Fellow Students, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Another year has passed, and it is with feelings of mingled pleasure and regret that we now turn to review its record.

During the past school year we have been striving more or less faithfully to maintain the high standard set for us by our predecessors and to prepare ourselves for the stern conflict of life upon which they have already entered.

The struggle during the past year has been a hard one. The grade, for reasons best known to ourselves and Principal, was deficient in several subjects which were of great importance to us in the coming examination and these were a source of considerable anxiety to us during the past year.

The issue at stake with us is greater than may be thought by most people, and means the advantages of a normal or college course as set against the total extinction of our dearest hopes.

Since the beginning of our school career we have looked forward with feelings of mingled pleasure and dread to the time when, having passed from the jurisdiction of class room No. 7, we should file into the presence of the august potentate who rules the 9th, 10th and 11th grades.

We were led to believe by our predecessor that he ruled like Tennyson's King holding his sceptre like a pendant wand to lash offence, and with long arm and hands reached out and picked offenders from the mass for judgment. We found this to be distinctly true in the case of those who failed to employ the hours set apart for the prosecution of their studies.

To those who came determined to make the most of their opportunities and I think I may here add that we have all striven hard, our Principal has always been ready to extend a helping hand, and the grateful memories of advice freely and kindly bestowed will never part from us.

Naturally after our studies, attention is drawn to amusement. Most High Schools throughout our province can boast of an enviable record in regard to athletic sports.

We regret to say that this part of our education has been seriously neglected, though we do not wish our hearers to suppose for an instant that we attach any blame to our instructors for this omission. In our humble opinion the great majority of our boy students, who leave before their tenth grade course is completed, do so mainly because of their lack of interest in school life.

The fault mainly lies among ourselves for the need of a good organizer—one who has been familiar with college life, who has taken part in its sports, and who could awaken the interest of the students in this direction. A thorough knowledge of football, baseball, etc., would quicken the interest of the pupils and help them turn their minds to the broader future awaiting them in our country's universities.

We are deeply grateful to the Chairman of the School Board and trustees for their timely aid in assisting us to start our basketball but for their thoughtfulness in placing the ball at our disposal, we would have been debarred from many of the enjoyable hours spent last winter.

We cannot speak too highly of the educational privileges afforded by our high school. The advantages offered by the educational system of today afford a striking contrast to the methods employed for the education of the student of a century ago. The Laboratory has been a source of keen interest and much profit to our course in chemistry. The new Lunar Tellurian Globe provided by the Board a few months ago has greatly assisted us in obtaining a more complete knowledge of the Solar System. The introduction of the Sloyd System into our school has been of great benefit to all. The keen interest shown by the different grades is a unqualified proof of its success.

Campbellton may well be proud of a school which has sent out so many young men and women who now fill posts of honor and responsibility in various parts of our Province. May our High School long continue to carry out its important part in training up the youth of our town, may its students never depart from the high standard set before them by their instructors and may we who are leaving do nothing to bring dishonor or discredit on its name.

And now fellow students, the time for our parting has come. Happy are the days we have spent together during the past term. Some of us have kept together in the different grades since we first commenced to attend school, others of us less fortunate, have only met on an equal footing at the beginning of the past school year. Although the past year has been a period of close and severe study to all, it has not been without its pleasure. Many are the entertainments we have taken part in for the benefit of the school, since our Grammar School course commenced; many excursions we have been on together; many difficult positions we have got into through our folly. But it is all past, and we disperse to meet in Class room No. 8 no more.

"But what's for?"
"Why—it's—it's likely meant for decorations."
"It seems to have been here some time."
"It has. I reckon it's most due to be called in. It's been up ever since—"

"Who put it up, Rose?"
"We did."
"What for?"
"Ross was visibly embarrassed. 'Why—for the other editor.'"

"For Mr. Fiske?"
"Land, no! You don't suppose we'd go to all that work and bother to bribe things up for that old gentleman, do you?"

"I meant young Mr. Fiske. He is the other editor, isn't he?"
"Oh!" said Ross. "Young Mr. Fiske? Yes; we put 'em up for him."

"You did? Did he appreciate them?"
"Well, he seemed to kind of like 'em."

"Where is he now? I came here to find him."
"He's gone."

"Gone? Hasn't he been here this afternoon?"
"Yes; some time. Come in and stayed during the levy you was holdin' and saw the levy of all right."

"When will he be back?"
"Since it's been a dally he gets here by 8 after supper, but don't stay very late. Old Mr. Fiske and Parker look after whatever comes in then, unless it's something special. He'll likely be here by half past 8 at the farthest off."

"I can't wait till then. I've been wanting to see him every minute since I got in, and he hasn't been near me. Nobody could even point him out to me. Where has he gone? I want to see him now."

"Want to discharge him again?" said a voice from the door, and, turning, they saw that Mr. Martin stood there observing them.

"No," said Harkless. "I want to give him the Herald. Do you know where he is?"

Mr. Martin stroked his beard deliberately. "The person you speak of hadn't ought to be very hard to find in Carlow, and—well, maybe when found you'll want to put a kind of a coldid to that deed to the Herald. The committee was reckless enough to hire that carriage of yours by the day, and Keating and Warren Smith are sitting in it up at the corner with their feet on the cushions to show how used they are to riding around with four white horses every day in the week. It's waiting till you're ready to go out of Brecon. There's an hour before supper time, and you can talk to young Fiske all you want. He's out there."

The first words young Smith spoke had lifted the veil of young Fiske's duplicity; had shown John with what intelligence and supreme delicacy and sympathy young Fiske had worked for him, had understood him and had made him. If the open attack on McCune had been made and the damnable evidence published in Harkless' own paper while Harkless himself was a candidate and rival he would have felt dishonored. The McCune papers could have been used for Harkless' benefit, but not for his own, and young Fiske had understood and had saved him. It was a point of honor that many would have held fatal and inconsistent, but one that young Fiske had comprehended was vital to Harkless. And this was the man he had discharged like a dishonest servant, the man who had thrown what (in Carlow eyes) was riches into his lap, the man who had made his paper and who had made him and saved him. Harkless wanted to see young Fiske as he longed to see only one other person in the world.

As the barouche drove up to the brick house he made out through the trees a replete flutter of skirts on the porch, and the thought crossed his mind.

But when the barouche halted at the gate he was surprised to see her waiting to him from the steps, while Tom Meredith and Mr. Bence and Mr. Boswell formed a little court around her. Lige Whittles rode up on horseback at the same moment, and the judge was waiting in front of the gate. Harkless stepped out of the barouche and took his hand. "I was told young Fiske was here."

what it all means.

"It means nothing," she answered. "There was an editorial yesterday," he said, "an editorial that I thought was about Rodney McCune. Did you write it?"

"Yes."
"It was about—me—wasn't it?"
"Yes."

"It said—it said—that I had won the—the love of every person in Carlow county."

Suddenly she found her voice. "Do not misunderstand me," she said rapidly. "I have done the little that I have done out of gratitude." She faced him now, but without meeting his eyes. "I owed you more gratitude than a woman ever owed a man before, I think, and I would have died to pay a part of it."

"What gratitude did you owe me?"
"What gratitude? For what you did for my father."

"I have never seen your father in my life."

"Listen. My father is a gentle old man with white hair and kind eyes. My name is my uncle's. He and my aunt have been good to me as a father and mother since I was seven years old, and they gave me their name by law, and I lived with them. My father came to see me once a year; I never came to see him. He always told me everything was well with him, that his life was happy, and I thought it was easier for him not having me to take care of, he has been so poor ever since I was a child. Once he lost the little he had left to him in the world, his only way of making his living. He had no friends; he was hungry and desperate, and he wandered. I was dancing and going about wearing jewels—only I did not know. All the time the brave heart wrote me happy letters. I should have known, for there was one who told me that I had always wanted to come to see my father—he told me that I had written of his life before, but it was not till I came that he told it all to me. Do you know what I felt? While his daughter was dancing callions a stranger had taken his hand and—"

A sob rose in her throat and checked her utterance for a moment, but she threw up her head proudly. "Gratitude, Mr. Harkless," she cried. "I am James Fiske's daughter."

He fell back from the bench with a sharp exclamation and stared at her through the gray twilight. She went on hurriedly, still not looking at him. "I wanted to do something to show you that I could be ashamed of my vile neglect of him—something to show you his daughter could be grateful—and it has been such dear, happy work, the little I have done, that it seems, after all, that I have done it for love of myself. It is what I had always wanted to do—to earn a living for myself, to live with my father. When I came here, I and uncle were terribly afraid I would stay with him. It was to protect this that they determined to go abroad, and my father said I must go back to them. Then you were—"

He was hurt, and he needed me so much he let me stay. When you—when you told me—she broke off with a strange, fluttering, half-articulate little laugh that was half tears and then resumed in another tone—"when you told me you cared that night—that night of the storm—how could I be sure? It had been only two days, you see, and even if I could have been sure of myself—why, I couldn't have told you. Oh, had so brazenly shown myself at your head time and again those two days in my—my worship of your goodness to my father and my excitement in recognizing in his friend the hero of my childhood, that you were every right to think I cared; but if—if I had—I had—loved you with my whole soul I could not have—no woman could have—I mean the sort of girl I am—couldn't have admitted it—must have denied it. Do you think that then I could have answered 'Yes,' even if I had wanted to—even if I had been of my own? And now—"

Her voice sank again to a whisper. "And now—"

"And now?" he said tremulously. She gave a hurried glance from right to left and then left to right, like one in terror seeking a way of escape; she gathered her skirts in her hand as if to run into the garden, but suddenly she turned and ran to him. She threw her arms about his neck and kissed him on the forehead.

When they heard the judge calling from the orchard they went back through the garden toward the house. It was dark. The whitest asters were but gray splotches. There was no one in the orchard. Brecon had gone indoors.

"Did you know you are to drive me into town in the phaeton for the fireworks?" she asked.

"Fireworks?"
"Yes. The great Harkless has come home." Even in the darkness he could see the look the vision had given him when the barouche turned into the square. She smiled upon him and said, "All afternoon I was wishing I could have been your mother."

He clasped her hand more tightly. "This wonderful world!" he cried. "Yesterday I had a doctor—a doctor to cure me of love-sickness!"

After a time they had proceeded a little nearer the house. "We must hurry," she said. "I am sure they have been waiting for us." This was true; they had.

From the dining room came laughter and hearty voices, and the windows were bright with the light of many lamps. By and by they stood just outside the patch of light that fell from one of the windows.

"Look!" said Helen. "Aren't they good, dear people?"

"The beautiful people!" he answered.

THE END.

"You!" he said. "You!"

HYMENEAL.

Our Lady of Snows R C Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday morning, when Miss Grace Kean, one of Campbellton's most popular young ladies, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to J. Valter Howard, of Rogersville.

The bride, becomingly attired in a travelling suit of navy blue broad cloth with tan trimmings and hat to match, entered the Church on the arm of her father, carrying a shower bouquet of white roses and evergreen. Rev Fr. Wallace officiated. The singing was beautifully rendered by her young lady friends. After the ceremony Mr and Mrs Howard left on the Ocean Limited amid showers of rice and good wishes from her many friends.

They were the recipient of many useful and beautiful presents.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr D. R. McMillan on Wednesday, July 5th, when his daughter Isabella was united in marriage to Mr Alexander Barclay of River Louison. The bride was given away by her brother Mr R. A. McMillan, and looked charming in a gown of white dotted net, trimmed with insertion and satin ribbon and wore the conventional veil. The brides' cousin, Miss Elizabeth McNichol acted as bridesmaid and was beautifully dressed in dotted swiss over pale blue while the groom was supported by Mr John Currie. Numerous friends of both parties witnessed the ceremony. Light refreshments were served after which the bride party followed by a host of well wishing friends drove to their future home at River Louison where a bounteous supper was served and a general social evening enjoyed. Mr and Mrs Barclay received many handsome, valuable and useful presents testifying to the esteem in which both bride and groom were held.
