SCRIMMAGING AT SLIGO

The Rival Factions Indulge in a Fight.

Potent Application of the Blackthorn Argument.

The Townspeople Receive Parnell with Jeers—The Voting Classes Decidedly Hostile to Kitty's Lover.

DUBLIN, March 28.—Mr. Parnell made a triumphal entry into Sligo to-day. He was escorted by 50 carloads of supporters from the rural districts, armed with blackthorns. He was received with jeers by the townspeople. Mr. Davitt and his supporters afterwards made a counter display. Three hundred police and a squadron of cavalry were in readiness to prevent any collision between the opposing factions. Previous to the arrival of Mr. Davitt, a fight with blackthorn sticks took place on the steps of the town hall. Subsequently Mr. Parnell complained that he had been assaulted during the progress of the affray by one of the residents of the town.

Sligo was crowded all day with persons who had come to attend the market held there. Mr. Parnell visited outlying friendly districts in the morning with the object of gathering his supporters together for the purpose of accompanying him in his formal entry into the town.

OPPOSED TO PARNELL.

The voting classes of Sligo are unmistakably hostile to Mr. Parnell. The struggle which took place on the steps of the town hall, in which Mr. Parnell claimed to have been assaulted, was a contest between the two factions for possession of the hall. Each side fought fiercely, but the Parnellites being assisted by the police finally entered the building. Mr. Parnell made a speech in which he described a "cowardly attack" which had been made on him by a townsman named McHugh, who, Mr. Parnell claimed, had threatened to "swab the streets with his body." The remainder of his speech was inaudible in consequence of the interruption of the seceders from his ranks. On returning to his hotel Mr. Parnell made an attempt to deliver a speech from one of the windows, but was compelled to desist owing to the hooting and yelling of a body of McCarthyites, who drowned the speaker's voice.

DAVITT WELCOMED.

Mr. Davitt received a different reception to that accorded Mr. Parnell, being welcomed to the town with the utmost enthusiasm. Mr. Davitt was not feeling well, and only responded briefly to the greetings of his friends. He denounced the dictatorship and what he termed the sham [illegible]er sympathy of Mr. Parnell.

A SUNDAY FIGHT.

Of C[illegible], March 29.—To-day was the [illegible]liv-poor y so far in the North Sligo election bloody. By 8 o'clock in the morning fu[illegible]meets were alive with people listen-Jose the music of several bands. The Nic[illegible] contingents, with their leader, the [illegible]t by 10 o'clock engaged in per-sho[illegible]anvassing. In their zeal they even [illegible]opted to devote attention to Coney [illegible]nd, in Sligo Bay, although there are only 25 voters on the island. Parnell met with a hostile reception at Strand Hill, where he found it impossible to hold a meeting owing to the piercing yells of his opponents, and was finally compelled to retreat to Sligo. The bishop of the diocese, together with the priests of the whole district, denounced Parnell to their congregations at mass this morning. Meanwhile the anti-Parnellites — Messrs. Sexton, Collery, Maurice Healy, Michael Davitt and their party, bent on an unfortunate attempt to carry the fight into the enemy's country, started at 9 o'clock in the morning for the Tireragh district, addressing small gatherings on their way, till Templeboy was reached. Here hostile camps had been formed. The Parnellites gathered on the brow of a hill armed with blackthorns and other weapons, threatening to move toward their opponents, but the police interposed, and with a line of bayonets awed the antagonists, and the storm subsided. All now moved in the direction of Dromore West, where, after a similar scene, the Parnellites pelted their opponents vigorously with stones until they were chased and clubbed by the police. Michael Davitt led his adherents off, all ducking their heads, and some covering themselves with rugs to avoid the

FUSILADE OF STONES.

Mr. Pinkerton, M.P. for Galway, had his head cut, and several others were injured. On trying to enter Easkey the anti-Parnellites found the road barred by a formidable array of Parnellites, and on the advice of the police they retreated in the direction of Sligo, amid another shower of stones and other missiles. The fusilade of stones continued until the party was half a mile from Easkey. The party reached Sligo in the evening, when a large meeting was held. A car with a couple of newspaper men following 100 yards behind the Davitt party were attacked by Parnellites and the occupants were thrown to the ground and were so seriously hurt that they were obliged to stop at a village to have their wounds dressed. On learning who the wounded men were the assailants expressed contrition.

THE TIPPERARY CHARGES.

The Cork jury on Saturday disagreed as to Michael O'Brien Dalton's case, but found a verdict of not guilty as to the other prisoners charged with assaulting the police at the time of the Dillon and O'Brien trial in Tipperary.

Michael O'Brien Dalton has written Timothy Healy apologizing for the assault he made on the latter on the 23rd. Dalton denies that anyone had instigated the assault, and begs Mr. Healy to remember that he (the writer) had just been released from jail, and was smarting under an unjust accusation.

Prominent members of the anti-Parnell party in Belfast are forming a committee to supervise the publication of an anti-Parnell daily newspaper here. Funds for this undertaking are being raised.

A telegram from Ballina reports that Dr. Tanner was seriously assaulted by a hostile mob to-day, being knocked down and dragged prostrate through the mud.

Mr. Murrough, M. P. for the southeast division of Cork, in a speech at Youghal today, challenged his colleague, Dr. Kenny, to seek a re-election with him.

Very few Parnellites were elected to the Boards of Poor Law Guardians in Ireland last week, showing that Parnell has a very small hold on the country.

OMAHA, Neb., March 28.—Envoy O'Keefe, of the Parnell faction, arrived yesterday and was informed by a delegation of representative Irish-Americans that Omaha would not contribute to the Parnell funds until the present difficulty was adjusted.

FATAL COLLISIONS.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—A disastrous wreck occurred on the Reading Railroad, two miles from Ashland, Pa., by which three men were killed and as many injured.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 28.—Passenger train No. 4, on the Delaware and Hudson Railway, which left this city at 12:40 p.m. yesterday for Albany, crashed into accommodation train No. 17 about a mile east of Wellsbridge. Engineer Frank White, of train No. 4, had an arm broken, and Fireman Fred Pierce was caught between the engine and tender and crushed to death. Engineer William Lagrange and Fireman Fred Cooper, of train No. 17, were both injured, the former, perhaps, fatally. The wreck took fire and several freight cars were burned. No passengers were injured.

THE WORKING WORLD.

Coke Miners' Wages Cut Down—Serious Lockout in Rochester—Trouble Among St. Thomas and Brantford Tailors.

Several large mines in the Connellsville coke regions have begun work at a 10 per cent. reduction in wages.

The lockout of the clothing cutters of Rochester by the leading manufacturers is already assuming a serious phase among the thousands of employes who are dependent upon the clothing industry for employment and support. The manufacture of clothing in that city has grown to an annual output of nearly $11,000,000, and has become one of the principal industries. Unless the cutters return to work, or others take their places next Monday, 20,000 people will be thrown out of employment. Major William Sheldon has begun an action against the Clothing Cutters' and Trimmers' Local Assembly for $10,000 for conspiracy, intimidation and extortion.

There is trouble among the Brantford and St. Thomas tailors, and journeymen are warned by the unions to stay away from those places.

Owing to the depression in the iron trade the Reading Iron Company will slightly reduce the wages of 2,000 employes April 1.

One hundred plumbers were locked out at Indianapolis Friday because they refused to work for bosses who employed non-union men.

The boss carpenters and the journeymen of Chicago on Thursday ratified the agreement made by the joint conference committee last Saturday, and their differences are at an end.

THE FAR-REACHING "GRIPPE."

CHICAGO, Ill., March 28.—Damp cloudy weather continues here, and the epidemic of the grippe has steadily grown more severe and more fatal since the beginning of the present month. Officials of the Department of Health say the death rate for the present is unprecedented. The number of deaths this week is estimated at 900.

NEW YORK, March 28.—For the last 24 hours, ending at 9 o'clock this morning, three deaths were reported from la grippe, making a total of fourteen for the week.

DUBUQUE, Ia., March 28.—The grippe is epidemic here and over 1,000 cases exist.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Attorney-General Martin Re-elected by His Portage Constituents.

WINNIPEG, March 30.—Attorney-General Martin, who resigned his seat in the Legislature to contest Selkirk in the Liberal interest at the late Dominion election, was re-elected by his Portage constituents Saturday. The contest has been a warm one, but no one doubted Mr. Martin's election. The final figures give him 61 majority. Mr. Garland, who opposed Mr. Martin, was a strong man, and the Conservatives hoped by his personal popularity to capture the seat.

Count and Countess Drowned.

VIENNA, March 28.—Count Arthur Kesetstadt and Countess Anne Fries were caught in a storm in a pleasure boat off Albazia yesterday and were drowned. The youthful Count Fries was saved.

Suicide of a Girl.

LANSING, Mich., March 28.—Miss Myrtie Coats, 17 years old, and daughter of well-to-do parents living in Northern Lansing, committed suicide Thursday night by poison, probably strychnine. Miss Coats was a bright and pretty blonde. No cause for the suicide is known. It has been discovered that Miss Coats left a lengthy letter of explanation addressed to her parents. The latter decline to make known its contents further than that she told how she purchased the poison, when she intended to take it, and what she wished done with her effects. She was engaged to a young man named Conklin, and next Wednesday had been fixed for the date of the wedding.

Inland Navigation in the States.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 28.—The United States revenue steamer Lot M. Morrill arrived here yesterday, having made an inland passage all the way up from North Edisto River. This feat has demonstrated that small war vessels drawing no more than ten feet of water can navigate all the inland waters from Charleston to Fernandina and from Philadelphia to Fernandina save for a small stretch of coast between Moorehead City and Charleston. It is expected a system of torpedo flotilla service will be devised to take advantage of this inland navigation for purposes of coast defense. The Morrell is 145 feet long and draws nine feet of water. She carries a crew of 38 men.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

Important Deal Between the C. P. R. and N. Y. Central.

A New Live Stock Tariff—General Railway News.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—An arrangement which was completed Saturday between the Canadian Pacific and New York Central Railways may have an important bearing upon the future of Canadian railway interests in this country and also upon the regulations which the Treasury Department or Congress may establish, relative to the amenability of foreign roads to the interstate commerce law. President Horne of the Canadian Pacific road at [illegible] has achieved the object which he has had in view for years—an entry into the heart of New York city over the New York Central tracks. The agreement was signed Saturday night between President Horne and President Depew. The Canadian Pacific will come to New York from Brockville over the new bridge which is to be built at that point, by way of the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg to Utica. No Canadian Pacific trains will come over the Vanderbilt lines by way of Buffalo or Suspension Bridge at present, although this may follow if the Canadian Pacific completes its line either to Buffalo or to the Bridge. The details of the agreement are to be worked out by the traffic officers of the two companies and they are to go into effect immediately.

President Depew says: "This arrangement will give the Vanderbilts the transcontinental line from Nova Scotia to Vancouver, and the foreign roads will bring a great amount of business to the metropolis. The Central will get from the north products which go another way at present. Pro-rata arrangements will enable the Central to reach any point in the British possessions at the lowest practicable rates and New York merchants will have the benefit of correspondingly low rates. Freights will go through in bond directions without breaking bulk, and the through trains will be a feature. The Canadian Pacific will run its own trains into Weehawken, where the West Shore has one and a half miles of waterfront, and will give it terminal facilities. Freight tended for New York city will come over the tracks of the New York Central. As for the passenger service, the Canadian Pacific may have its own trains if it likes, but probably a through car service like that in connection with the Lake Shore Railroad will be the arrangement which will be made for the present."

One result of this arrangement is probable be to leave the relations between the New York Central and the Delaware and Hudson Railway, over which the Central now sends all its passengers to Montreal, somewhat strained. When the new bridge at Brockville is completed the Central will establish a through train service by that route, because the use of the Rome, Watertown-Ogdensburg road will give it a longer haul. The Canadian Pacific by its arrangement with the Boston and Maine already has an entrance into Boston; by the aid of the Wabash it has a terminus in Chicago; by means of the Soo road it touches Duluth, Minneapolis and St. Paul; and now, by this alliance with the New York Central, it reaches New York. Inasmuch as it is a foreign road, it is not amenable to the interstate commerce law, and whenever during the past year or two there have been rate difficulties at the junction points named the Canadian Pacific has not often escaped suspicion. This new alliance will attract attention to it more closely than ever, and the Canadian Pacific can be certain that the representatives of the trunk lines which are rivals to the Vanderbilt line will keep it under close surveillance.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has issued a new live stock tariff from western points to Eastern Canada. The tariff shows a reduction of about 2 per cent. compared with the tariff it supersedes. It has been adopted with the view of encouraging the stock-raising industry in Manitoba and the territories.

Mr. Lumsden, of St. Thomas, divisional engineer, accompanied by Mr. A. C. Godby, surveyor, have just completed a survey from Brantford to Niagara Falls for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The right of way for the branch line of railway from Park Head to Owen Sound was purchased recently by a pair of Owen Sounders sent out for the purpose. Park Head people consider that this settles the matter, and fixes their place for the junction for sure.

The Lake Erie, Essex and Detroit River Railway Company will ask power at next session of the Dominion Parliament to extend their road to the town of Simcoe, and authorizing the amalgamation with the Provincial Railway Company known as the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway Company.

Two Northern Pacific surveyors have been at Morden, Man., locating a branch line, which, it is said, will run from Walla Walla, North Dakota, over the international boundary to Morden, and thence on to Portage la Prairie. This is the first heard of the road, and it is not thought likely that the road will be built at present, as there is no business to demand it.

A decision just rendered in Utah is interesting in view of the efforts being made now by railroads to abolish unlimited tickets. E. K. Campbell bought two unlimited first-class tickets of the issue of the Union Pacific road at Blue Rapids, Kas., for San Diego, Cal. He used them to Ogden and sold the unused portions to a ticket broker. H. E. Drummond bought them of the broker and presented them for passage for himself and wife from Ogden to Los Angeles. The conductor took up the tickets and made Drummond pay full fare. Drummond sued the company for $10,000 damages, and was allowed $115 by the District Court of Utah. The Union Pacific took an appeal, and the Supreme Court reversed the judgment on the ground that the conductor had a right to take up the tickets by the terms of the contract printed upon them.

In Trousers.

QUANAH, Tex., March 28.—As the State Rangers were on Wednesday in search of a murderer they discovered two suspicious-looking persons in the Pease River breaks. The officers brought them here, and it was found one of them was a woman in man's attire. Last evening the Montague owners of stolen horses arrived and identified them horse thieves. They also recognized the male prisoner as Pearl Starr, daughter of the notorious Belle Starr, and reputed daughter of the noted desperado, Cole Younger. When captured they had no weapons, but Pearl can handle a Winchester and six shooter with rapidity and precision.

THE FIRST DIP.

To have seen Port Stanley on Saturday afternoon one would have thought the summer season, with its rush of excursionists, had commenced at that charming spot and a couple of months earlier than usual, or that people had taken advantage of the first fine day to wallow in the refreshing breezes of Lake Erie.

The attraction, however, was the launching of Captain Ellison's steamer, the "Joe Milton," a somewhat uncommon event in that place. About 150 people boarded the regular train at London, and St. Thomas increased the delegation five-fold, while a goodly number were picked up at the flag stations on the way. The farmers of that section turned out en masse, and by the time announced for the gallant craft to make her first plunge fully 1,500 persons —a great many were ladies—lined the banks of Kettle Creek near its mouth, on the east side of which the steamer stood erect, a huge Union Jack floating gaily from the stern.

Capt. Ellison was sharp on time, and with his brave crew on deck, he gave the signal at 4:15 p.m. Instantly the four restraining ropes were cut; down went the boat, in a broadside position, over the slippery beams, and as she struck the water sent up a cloud of spray that obscured her from the spectators on the west side for a moment, the next she was gallantly riding the element, her flag bearing the name "Joe Milton" unfurled to the breeze, looking as proud of her pretty launch as the members of the crew themselves, as they answered heartily the ringing cheer that broke from the crowd of spectators.

The christening ceremony fell to the lot of Katie, the little 10-year-old daughter of Captain Ellison, who smashed a gaily-ribboned bottle of wine over the bow with admirable skill. "Joe" and "Milton" are the names of two of the captain's promising sons, in honor of whom the boat has been thus called.

The "Joe Milton" will prove a welcome addition to the pleasure facilities of the Port, and will be a vast improvement on the "Ruby" in point of accommodation and comfort. Captain Ellison says that she will carry with ease 150 passengers; when circumstances require it, more. A detailed description of the steamer's dimensions has already appeared in the ADVERTISER; it is sufficient to say therefore that this latest product of the worthy captain's enterprise is a staunch, neat craft of between 80 and 100 tons, has an engine of 100 horse power, and will draw about 7½ feet of water aft. She will be painted white. It is expected she will be ready for use on May 10. Starting about June 6, a trip will be made to Cleveland every Saturday afternoon, weather permitting, and a return made on the following Monday. Londoners will hear of this fact with no small degree of pleasure.

"It was the prettiest launch I ever saw," said Captain McBride, who has, in a wide experience, seen many. And so everyone appeared to think. Congratulations were showered on the jolly owner by a legion of friends, and all felt that with such an auspicious birthday, the "Joe Milton" will live a long and useful life. That she for many a day, with her genial commander at the helm, may plow the surface of Lake Erie's blue expanse is the wish of the ADVERTISER.

"WOULD YOU LIKE BELGIUM!"

Revelations Made by Prince Napoleon.

The Alleged Franco-German Scheme to Gain Control of Europe.

PARIS, March 28.—The account of the interview which the late Prince Napoleon is said to have had with Prince Bismarck in 1866 was related to the Marquis de Villeneuve by Prince Napoleon, who read the Marquis' written notes, and authorized their publication after his death. After Prince Bismarck, as already cabled, had stated his design to Prince Napoleon, that is, for France and Germany combined to practically control all Europe, Prince Napoleon said: "France would have to receive for her share in the transaction the Rhine frontier."

Prince Bismarck—I thought so. But that is impossible. Public opinion would never consent to the cession of a single German village. Would you like Belgium?

Prince Napoleon—We might talk of that; but how about England?

Prince Bismarck—I don't care a rap for what England could say. What can she do? She could not mobilize over 100,000, or, at most, 150,000 men. Well, are we not strong enough together to sweep them into the channel?

Prince Napoleon—Would it not be useful to jot down these ideas on paper—to make a memorandum that could be shown to the Emperor?

Prince Bismarck—You would like a signed secret treaty. What would be the use? If the pact is to my advantage I will execute it without its being written out. In the contrary case—. A gesture finished the sentence.

Prince Napoleon told the Chancellor that he would inform the Emperor of the conversation in the following terms: "Sire, Prince Bismarck proposes a great act of knavery. We cannot arrest him and take him before the police commissary, then let us be knaves with him."

The Marquis de Villeneuve concludes by saying that Prince Napoleon returned to Paris and advised the Emperor to invade Belgium the day Prussia declared war on Austria. But the Emperor's love of peace and justice, which the Chancellor had termed "absurdities," carried the day in the mind of Napoleon III.

Ontario Forestry Report.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

If you can spare space I should like to inform your readers that the forestry report for the year is now ready, and that I will send copies free of all charge to those interested in such matters who will send their addresses to me at 251½ Richmond street west, Toronto. It is full time that in Ontario people were planting trees, not only for protection from wind, along the roads and fences, but also in close plantations of ash, hickory, elm, and such hardwoods as will, in a few years, be of great use on the farm, and will command a high price when sold to the manufacturer. If we plow and harrow a field—in fact, get it in order for any ordinary farm crop—and then plant, four feet apart each way, such trees as we want, and make a point afterwards of passing through the lines twice a summer for two or three years with a cultivator, taking care not to cut the roots, we shall find these young trees, emulating each other in their endeavor to rise upwards, will grow tall, straight sticks, clear of knots, and furnish good timber for any purpose—timber which, in a few years, will be hardly obtainable here. These young trees will thin themselves, or can be thinned by hand at the option of the owner. Either way I have known answer well. Yours truly, R. W. PHIPPS.

CATARRH

Is an inflammatory action of the mucous membrane of the nose. It is not to be cured by simply treating that organ, as the inflammation extends to the mucous membrane of the throat, and unless that is also treated a cure cannot be effected. By using the Curative Fluid as a gargle and douche the inflammation is subdued and nature effects a cure.

For Indigestion.

It is the only scientific preparation that neutralizes the acidity, prevents fermentation and restores a healthy tone to the stomach.

GREAT GUNS.

What They Cost to Make and Keep in Working Order.

The forging of the immense guns is a most interesting process. The rifled guns of the present are made by reinforcing the tube with rings and repeated layers of steel called jackets, which are fitted one over the other over the original tube or barrel of the gun. The jackets or hoops must fit as closely to the gun as if forming an integral part of its composition. The only way to get them on is, of course, by heating, and thus enlarging them. When they cool they fit snugly. It is evident that the exact size of the jacket and ring when heated so that it can be put in its place must be a matter of the nicest mathematical calculation. The coarse powder now used makes such havoc with the rifling of the largest guns that 100 charges are about all that can be expected from them. The jackets and rings can then be removed and fitted to another tube.

The various parts of a gun are not put together at Bethlehem, but are sent to Washington, to a department of the arsenal called the assembling room, where the tube is rifled, and the gun is finally completed. A steel gun of the largest caliber costs about $100,000. The ordnance of our modern navy is therefore one of the most costly items for which Congress is expected to display a patriotic generosity.—[Harper's Weekly.

THE TAMBOURINES RATTLED.

Marriage of Two Savation Army Officers at Toronto.

TORONTO, March 28.—The local corps of the Salvation Army celebrated the day of hot cross buns by gathering at a marriage feast of two of their officers. The ceremony was performed at the temple on Albert street during the afternoon, and this central barracks became the rallying point of all the Salvation soldiery. The lucky groom was Brigadier Margetts, principal of the Canadian Training Home in this city. The bride was a fair English lassie who has just crossed the ocean to rejoin the lover of her youth. Staff Captain Ashton was the name she bore at yesterday's sunrise and the one that her comrades in the old land will chiefly remember her by.

The interior of the temple was gaily decorated with flags, banners and mottoes. One reading "Welcome to Staff Captain Ashton" stretched across the front of the room, and various other appropriate wishes flashed in red letters above the platform. In the absence of Major Adams, Brigadier Holland performed the ceremony, which was of the usual impressive character. He was assisted by Brigadier Spooner of Hamilton; Staff Captain Sharpe, of Woodstock; Staff Captain Banks, of Bowmanville; Staff Captain and Mrs. Read, and Captain Butler, of Uxbridge, who was at one time lieutenant under the bride in England. All the city corps were represented, and their bands united to form a strong musical combination. "The Musical Musketeers," who have just returned from a trip through Western Ontario, were present and led many a rattling hallelujah chorus.

In the evening an immense meeting was held in the tempel, under the name of a wedding carnival. The happy couple were present, and came in for warm congratulations. The addresses and singing were of the vigorous style that was wont to characterize a "big go" in the early days of the Canadian army, and the meeting was a striking success.

Cowboy Mary.

Disheveled hair, a face hardened by a reckless life and beaming evidences of continued dissipation, dark, bright eyes that have a keenness in them still, a dress worse for wear, that is, shiny with age, soiled with stains of liquor, a tall form, careless gait, a matter-of-fact way at times and frequently an exhibition of devil-may-care philosophy, a voice rather harsh than musical—that's Cowboy Mary. This woman has been brought rather prominently before the public, and that will serve as an excuse for again putting her on the news boards. Her surroundings are like herself—rough, with no regard for appearances—a mean hovel in a bad locality.

A man died at Cowboy Mary's house the other night—a poor, wretched opium-eater—Tamale Pete. A reporter, accompanied by a stout policeman, went in to learn the particulars of the man's death. He had taken his own life by swallowing a powerful dose of "venshee."

"Yes, I knew that man," said Cowboy Mary, in response to the reporter's query. "He was a good enough fellow of his sort, too. He was unfortunate, like some of the rest of us, and like more of us, was a fool. I helped him out time after time when he was in a pinch for money. But that's nothing; I'd help anybody out."

"What was the man's name?"

"Name? I never asked him, and didn't care to know, anyhow. I called him 'Pete' and he called me 'Mary.' He never knew my name, either. Still we were well acquainted, and when he hadn't any other roof to shelter him he came down to my shack and wasn't turned away.

"I guess he just thought, seeing he was on death's road, he'd shorten it up a little, and so he concluded that he could get a room to die in at my house, and so he came in and died.

"He was an opium smoker—all used up with the poison—and was dying by inches, and I suppose he was right in helping himself off with the least possible trouble. You see, he had reached that point where he wasn't of any use to himself or anybody else, and I think that when a man hasn't got any excuse for living, he might as well go off and croak."—[Seattle Telegraph.

SOLID FACTS FOR SMOKERS.

Reasons Why S. Davis & Sons Maintain the Quality of Their Brands.

It has taken the best part of a life time to establish them.

They have spent thousands upon thousands of dollars to introduce them.

Having obtained the confidence of the public they wish to merit a continuance of same.

A deterioration of quality in their brands would not alone destroy the structure upon which they have spent their time, money and labor, but would result in a loss of that confidence the public have favored them with that money again spent in advertising to introduce new brands could not purchase.

Therefore, is it to be supposed that any sane business man would be so foolish as to destroy in a short time what it has taken so long to establish?

Their brands, "Cable," "Mungo," "El Padre" and "Madre e Hijo" are undoubtedly the best value, the safest and most reliable smoke, and cost no more to the consumer than cigars of much inferior quality.

Why smoke other brands or permit dealers (for the sake of additional gain) to sell you those that you are in most cases unfamiliar with? 88tf tz

THE SAVIOUR'S SEPULCHRE.

"Come, See the Place Where the Lord Lay."

Inspiring Reminiscences of the Resurrection Morning.

Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage's Easter Sunday Discourse.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Dr. Talmage preached an Easter sermon to his two audiences to-day. His text was Matthew, xxviii., 6, "Come see the place where the Lord lay." Visiting any great city, said the preacher, we are not satisfied until we have also looked at its cemetery. We examine all the styles of cenotaph, mausoleum, sarcophagus, crypt and sculpture. Here lies buried a statesman, yonder an orator, here a poet, out there an inventor, in some other place a great philanthropist. But with how much greater interest and with more depth of emotion we look upon our family plot in the cemetery. In the one case it is a matter of public interest; in the other it is a matter of private and heartfelt affection. But around the grave at which we halt this morning there are gathered all kinds of stupendous interest. At this sepulchre. I have to tell you in this sepulchre there was buried a King, a Conqueror, an Emancipator, a Friend, a Brother, a Christ. Monarch of the universe, but bone of our bone, and flesh of our flesh, and sorrow of our sorrow, and heart of our heart. "Come, see the place where the Lord lay."

It has for surroundings, the manor in the suburbs of Jerusalem, a manor owned by a wealthy gentleman by the name of Joseph. He was one of the court of 70 who had condemned Christ. He had laid out the parterre at great expense. It was a hot climate, and I suppose there were broad branched trees and winding paths underneath them, while here the waters rippled over the rock into a fishpool, and yonder the vines and the flowers clambered over the wall, and all around there were the beauties of kiosk and arboriculture. After the fatigue of the Jerusalem court-room, how refreshing to come out in these suburbs botanical and pomological. I walk a little farther on in the parterre and I come across a cluster of rocks, and I see on them the marks of a sculptor's chisel. I come still closer and I find that there is a subterranean recess, and I walk down the marble stairs and come to a portico, over the doorway—an architecture of fruits and flowers chiseled by the hand of the sculptor. I go into the portico and on either side there are rooms—two, or four, or six rooms of rock; in the walls, niches, each niche large enough to hold a dead body. One of these rooms of rock is especially wealthy with sculpture. It was a beautiful and charming spot. Why all this? The fact was that Joseph, the owner of the parterre, of that wealthy manor, had recognized the fact that he could not always walk those gardens, and he sought this as his own last residing place. What a beautiful plot in which to wait for the resurrection!

Christ had just been murdered, and his body must be thrown out to the dogs and ravens, as was customary with crucified bodies, unless there be prompt and effective hindrance. Joseph, the owner of the mausolenm, begs for the body of Christ, and he takes and washes the poor and mutilated frame from the blood and the dust, and shrouds it and perfumes it. The funeral advances. Present: Joseph, the owner of the mausoleum; Nicodemus, who brought the flowers, and the two Marys. Heavy burden on the shoulders of two men as they carry the body of Christ down the marble stairs and into the portico, and lift the dead weight to the level of the niche in the rock, and push the body of Christ into the only pleasant resting-place it ever had. These men coming forth, close the door of rock against the recess. The Government, afraid that the disciples would steal the body of Christ and play resurrection, put upon the door the seal of the Sanhedrim. The violation of that seal, like the violation of the seal of the United States Government, or of the British Government, always followed with severe penalties. A regiment of soldiers from the Tower of Antonio is detailed to guard that mausoleum. At the door of that tomb a fight took place which decided the question for all grave-yards and cemeteries. Sword of lightning against sword of steel. Angel of God against the military. The body in the crypt begins to move in its shroud of fine linen, and slides down upon the pavement, moves through the portico, appears in the doorway, comes up the marble steps. Christ, having left his mortuary attire behind him, comes forth in the garb of a workman, as I take it, from the fact that the woman mistook him for the gardener. There and then was shattered the tomb so that it can never be rebuilt. All the trowels of earthly masonry cannot mend it. Forever and forever it is a broken tomb. Death that day, taking the side of the military, received a horrible cut under the angel's spear of flame, and must himself go down at the last—the King of Terrors disappearing before the King of Grace. "The Lord is risen." Hosanna! Hosanna!

O weep no more, you comfort's slain,
The Lord is risen, he lives again.

When one of the old Christians was dying he said he saw on the sky the letter "V," and he said: "I cannot understand what that is I see against the sky; it is the letter 'V.'" A Christian standing beside him said: "I know what it means; that letter 'V' stands for 'victory.'" I gather up all these flowers to-day, and I strew them over the graves of your Christian dead in the letter "V" for "victory," "R" for "resurrection," "T" for "triumph," "H" for "heaven." "The Lord is risen." Hosanna!

While standing around the place where the Lord lay, I am impressed with the fact that mortuary honors cannot atone for wrongs to the living. If they could have afforded Christ such a costly sepulchre they could have afforded him a decent earthly residence. Will they give a piece of marble to the dead Christ when they might have given a soft pillow to the living Christ. If they had put half the expense of that mausoleum in the making of Christ's life on earth comfortable, the story would not have been so sad. He wanted bread; they gave him a stone. Christ, like every other benefactor of the world, was better appreciated after he was dead.

Westminster Abbey and monumental Greenwood are to a certain extent the world's attempts by mortuary honors to atone for neglect to the living. Poets' Corner in Westminster Abbey an attempt to pay for the sufferings of Grub street. I go into that Poets' Corner of Westminster Abbey, and there I find the grave of Handel, the musician from whose music we hear to-day, as it goes down reverberating through the ages. While I stand at the costly tomb of Handel I cannot forget the fact that his fellow-musicians tried to destroy him with their discords. I go a little further in the Poets' Corner of Westminster Abbey and I find the grave of John Dryden, the great poet. Costly monument, great mortuary honors, but I cannot forget the fact that at 70 years of age he wrote about the oppressions of misfortune, and that he made a contract for 1,000 verses at 6d a line. I go a little further on in the Poets' Corner and I find the grave of Samuel Butler, the author of "Hudibras." Wonderful monument, costly mortuary honors. Where did he die? In a garret. I move further on in the Poets' Corner and I find the grave of a poet of whom Waller wrote: "An old school master by the name of John Milton has written a tedious volume on the fall of man. If its length be no virtue, it has none." I go a little further on in the Poets' Corner and I find the grave of Sheridan. Alas! for Sheridan. Poor Sheridan! Magnificant mortuary honors. What a pity it was he could not have discounted that monument for a mouthful of something to eat! O, unfilial children, give your old parents less tombstone and more blankets, less funeral and more bedroom. Five per cent of the money now expended at Burns' banquets would have made the great Scotch poet comfortable and kept him from being almost harried to death by the drudgery of an exciseman. Do justice to the living. All the justice you do you will have to do this side the gates of the necropolis. The dead cannot wake up to count the number of carriages in the procession, or see the polish on the Aberdeen granite or to read the words of epitaphel commemoration. Costly mausoleum of the gentleman in the suburbs of Jerusalem cannot atone for Bethlehem's manger and Calgarean cross and Pilate's ruffian judiciary. Again! Standing in this place where the Lord lay, I am impressed with the fact that floral and sculptural ornamentation are appropriate for the places of the dead. I cannot quite understand what I see in the newspapers where amid the announcements of obsequies, the friends request "send no flowers." Why, there is no place so appropriate for flowers as the casket of the departed. If your means allow—I repeat, if your means allow—let there be flowers on the casket, flowers on the hearse, flowers on the grave. Put them on the brow; it means coronation. Put them in the hand; it means victory. Christ was buried in a garden. Your little girl loved flowers while she was alive. Put them in her hands, now that she cannot go forth and pluck flowers for herself. On sunshiny days twist a garland for her still heart.

Standing in this place where the Lord lay, I am also impressed with the dignity of unpretending obsequies. Four people only at the burial of the King of the Universe. Long line of glittering equipages, two rows of silver handles, casket of costly wood, pall-bearers scarfed and gloved are not necessary. Christ looks out from heaven at a burial where there are six in attendance and remembers there are two more than he had at his obsequies. Not recognizing this idea, how many small properties are scattered in the funeral rites, and widowhood and orphanage go out to the cold charity of the world. The departed left enough property to have kept the family together until they could take care of themselves, but it is all absorbed in the funeral rites. They went for crape which ought to have gone for bread. A man of small means can hardly afford to die in one of our great cities! No one was ever more lovingly and tenderly put into the grave than Christ, but there were only four in the procession.

Again, I am impressed with the fact that you cannot keep the dead down. The seal of the Sanhedrim, a regiment of soldiers, floor of rock, roof of rock, wall of rock, niche of rock, cannot keep Christ in the crypt. Come out and come up he must. The first fruits of them that sleep. Just as certainly as you and I go down into the grave, just so certainly will we come up again.

Wake up, my friends, this day this glorious Easter morning, with all these congratulations. It means peace toward heaven and peace toward earth. Bring flowers. Wreath them around the brazen throat of the cannon, plant them in the desert until it shall blossom like the rose, braid them into the mane of the war charger as he comes back. No more red dahlias of human blood. Give us white lilies of peace. Strew all the earth with Easter garlands, for the resurrection we celebrate this morning implies all kinds of resurrection, a score of resurrections. Resurrection from death and sin to the life of the Gospel. Resurrection of apostolic faith. Resurrection of commercial integrity. Resurrection of national honor. Resurrection of international goodwill. Resurrection of art. Resurrection of literature. Resurrection of everything that is good and kind and generous and just and holy and beautiful. Nothing to stay down, to stay buried, but sin and darkness and pain and disease and revenge and death. Let those tarry in the grave forever. "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill to men."

A Citizen of Vancouver Speaks.

A gentleman, well-known in the city of Vancouver, and a large speculator in real estate, speaks plainly regarding the value of Paine's Celery Compound. He says: "After settling in the city of Vancouver, I went into the real estate business. All at that time were excited, and I must confess, were neglecting more weighty and important matters in the race for wealth and fortune. I was one of them at the time, and in the rush of business and investment and reselling, I neglected the laws of nature, and brought on myself a condition of nervous prostration, sleeplessness and general debility, which forced me to remain at home, a helpless and broken down man. Before deciding to call in a medical adviser I remembered that some of my friends in Toronto, where I had lived for years, had used with grand results Paine's Celery Compound. I immediately decided to try it myself, and very briefly and gratefully will give you the result. In less than two months I became as strong and as active as ever before. I secured sound sleep, good appetite, great mental vigor, and my nervousness was swept away, and I am now as steady as a rock. Your great remedy certainly deserves all the praise and publicity I can give it without at present giving the public my name."

"The Advertiser" is a believer in Christian Union, and considers the time has come when the various Christian denominations should come closer together. Those bodies which are now nearest should unite first. Under the present system there is an unjustifiable waste of men, means and effort. The ADVERTISER will endeavor to promote the movement for Christian union not alone by direct appeal and argument, but by seeking to present the best rather than the worst side of each denomination.

"The Advertiser" advocates Obligatory Voting as both necessary and practicable. Nothing would so much purify electoral contests. Nothing would so much enforce the idea that the franchise is a duty, not a chattel.

We are aware that the foregoing planks of our platform are by no means endorsed in their entirety by the members of either of the present Canadian political parties. But we believe they will both have to get nearer and more near to the ADVERTISER'S platform with every succeeding year.

London, Monday, March 30.

—[BROWNING.

DEFEATING THE POPULAR WILL.

Under the present Ottawa regime the pathway to political preferment lies in defeat by the populace, paradoxical though it may seem. The announcement that Hon. G. W., Howlan, of Prince Edward Island, was defeated in the House of Commons contest on March 5 is followed by the statement that he has been re-appointed to the Senate. The people have said, in the clearest possible form, that they wanted none of this man; but the Government of the day, through the agency of the Senate, the appointments of which—unfortunately for the country—they control, say that they must take him as a legislator, and pay him $1,000 a year and perquisites so long as he lives, whether they want him or not. Is it not a farce?

NOT AFRAID TO COMPETE.

During the recent election contest Conservative orators endeavored to frighten the furniture workers in London by asserting that under Reciprocity their industry would be swamped by Grand Rapids manufacturers. Strange that the competition of Grand Rapids men was such a bogey to these trade restriction advocates while no bar to the starting of new furniture factories in Michigan. We read in the Detroit News the following item:

"The Hastings furniture factory building has been started, and it will be the largest manufacturing affair in the city. Local capital is behind it."

Surely if the villagers of Hastings can hold their own against Grand Rapids with a new industry, the old-established factories of Canada could.

—The Windsor Evening Record proprietors and employes celebrated their first anniversary in the Crawford House last (Friday) night. A jolly gathering it was. The Record is a power in Windsor, and has made a fine record during the first year. It has come to stay and deserves success

CANADA'S FUTURE.

The ADVERTISER believes that an independent future, with the most cordial relations between Great Britain and the United States, is in store for Canada. We have made no secret of this belief. With a magnificent country, capable under wise administrators of almost endless development, we have no misgivings as to the ability of Canada to hold her own as a nation. Wise statesmen have ever objected to the policy of drift, which has sometimes ended in the wreck of a nation that, under better management, might have had a glorious career. What we need in Canada is the cultivation of a thoroughly patriotic spirit—a spirit that shall stimulate courage in the youth of the land, give them faith in their future, and prevent so many of them looking to a foreign land for those opportunities to achieve success which they ought to find at home.

We have a class of politicians among us, and a class of newspapers that pander to them, who, for their own selfish purposes, are perpetually running down their own country, and who assert that our farmers, our manufacturers, and our mechanics are such puny, inefficient, non-progressive men that they are in perpetual want of "protection" from their neighbors in the States. The inculcation of this idea has done enormous harm to the people of Canada, has stimulated the yearly exodus of many thousands of our best young man, and has cultivated the idea that Canada is so poor a country that no future career is open to her but absorption in the United States or perpetual dependence on the motherland. Would not the cultivation of the opposite spirit be far more to the advantage of the Dominion? Surely it is time that a truce were declared to the high tax warfare against the inculcation of Canadian patriotism.

It is a disgrace to the trade restrictionists that they should be so ready to follow in the footsteps of the bygone advocates of class privileges. These old-time Family Compact enemies of the people never faced a reform without alleging that its proposers were enemies of England, traitors and annexationists. It is the same to-day. Grudgingly, and in most contradictory terms, the high tax advocates say they favor a certain amount of trade with the United States—that would be patriotic, they allege. But let anyone propose an extension of that freedom, to embrace the general products of both nations, and thus aim a blow at the combine system, and he is a traitor! Similarly in the early days of Canada it was deemed patriotic to give the franchise to a favored few, but when the Liberals of that time argued that the common people should have a vote as well as the rich, they were denounced as traitors, anxious to sell their country to the Yankees, and to pave the way by adopting Yankee notions regarding the rights of the people! And so it has been down to the present day. Here we have a foolish Tory paper trying to mislead its readers by the assertion that the ADVERTISER is hostile to Britain and British institutions because it has faith in this grand country of ours, faith in its people, and faith in its resources—shamefully though they have been managed by the Ottawa centralizers—and at the same time believes that the best destiny which Canada can ultimately obtain is an independent existence. We shall continue to hold those views, no matter how unscrupulous organs of the combines may misrepresent them. Our faith is great in time, and in definite, intelligent, patriotic, progressive aims.

OUT WITH IT, NEIGHBOR!

The Free Press has found space for a great deal of false and foolish reasoning about the declared belief of the ADVERTISER regarding Canada's future. It has published columns regarding Hon. Edward Blake's views on various public matters, but up till now it has suppressed the arraignment of the Conservative policy by Mr. Blake. Here is Mr. Blake's declaration:

"The Canadian Conservative policy has failed to accomplish the predictions of its promoters. Its real tendency has been, as foretold twelve years ago, towards disintegration and annexation instead of consolidation and the maintenance of that British connection of which they claim to be the special guardian. It has left us with a small population, a scanty immigration and a Northwest empty still; with enormous additions to our public debt and yearly charge; an extravagant system of expenditure, and an unjust and oppressive tariff; with restricted markets for our needs, whether to buy or sell, and all the hosts of evils (greatly intensified by our special conditions) thence arising, with trade diverted from its natural into forced and therefore less profitable channels; and with unfriendly relations and frowning tariff walls ever more and more estranging us from the mighty English speaking nation to the south, our neighbors and relations, with whom we ought to be, as it was promised that we should be, living in generous amity and liberal intercourse.

"Worse, far worse; it has left us with lowering standards of public virtues and a death-like apathy in public opinion; with racial, religious and provincial animosities rather inflamed than soothed; with a subservient parliament and autocratic executive, debauched constituencies and corrupted and corrupting classes; with lessened self-reliance and increased dependence on the public chest and legislative aids, and possessed withal by a boastful jingo spirit far enough removed from true manliness, loudly proclaiming unreal conditions and exaggerated sentiments, while actual facts and genuine opinions are suppressed. It has left us with our hands tied; our future compromised and in such a plight that, whether we stand or move, we must run some risks which else we might have either declined or encountered with greater promise of success."

Everybody knows the truthfulness of this indictment. It is a concise statement of the condition into which the high tax policy has landed the Dominion. Yet the Free Press, while wishing to be regarded as a newspaper, and though we have called its attention to its shortcoming, has so far suppressed Mr. Blake's statement.

Why?

AS VIEWED IN BRITAIN.

The Statist, a well known British financial newspaper, discusses the venomous attack that Sir Charles Tupper recently made on the Grand Trunk, its officials and those of its employes who voted against trade restriction. It shows that Sir Charles Tupper wrote a letter that was used to bolster up the infamous Dead Meat Company project, in which Sir Hector Langevin was a director, into which Englishmen were induced to put large sums of money, only to be swallowed up by the greedy projectors. The concern is now in bankruptcy.

On the subject of General Manager Seargeant's temperate exposure of Tupper's attempt to secure the adoption of a policy intimidation on the Grand Trunk, this representative British journal says:

"If the effect of Mr. Seargeant's manifesto is to promote a friendly feeling between the United States Government and the Grand Trunk Railway Company, the interests of the Grand Trunk shareholders will be better served than they would have been had Mr. Seargeant held his hand.

"As to the effect upon Canadian railways of a reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States, it should not take a business man very long to understand that the abolition of the custom houses between the two countries would probably very nearly double the traffic of the Grand Trunk Railway. We are no annexationists, and we do not want to lose Canada; we are simply regarding the matter from the common sense standpoint of men of business. There is no doubt that when Congress assembles the McKinley tariff will be greatly modified. If so, we would ask any reasonable man who understands interchange of traffic, on which railway companies depend so largely for their profit, whether it would not be better for Canada to have unrestricted reciprocity with the United States, with a moderate tariff at the seaboard? Far be it from us to recommend such a view while the McKinley tariff lasts; but the McKinley tariff is not a thing which will last very long, and we venture to entertain the view that with unrestricted reciprocity Canada would prosper, and she would become even a better customer to Great Britain than she is to-day. So far as the Canadian railways are concerned, unrestricted interchange of business would probably double their American traffic. This is the direction to which things are tending, whether we like it or not, and a peaceful solution of this great question would not only be a blessing to Canada, but also to the mother country."

Tupper and his minions have been able to pull the wool over the eyes of some of the British newspaper editors, but it is evident that he and his disgraceful tactics are too well known in financial circles over the water to mislead such standard organs of public opinion as Herepath's and the Statist.

AN IMMIGRATION SCANDAL.

"Young Paupers for Canada—The Surplus of English Workhouses Shipped Here—A Batch of Children from the Croydon Workhouse Now on Their Way to Canada—Not the Kind of Emigrants We Want in This Country."

The article chronicles the shipment of another batch of waifs collected from the streets of the world cities. They certainly are not the kind of emigrants that Canada needs, but they are the kind for whom two dollars a head has been paid by the Department of Agriculture, over which Mr. Carling, late M. P. for this city, has for some time presided. It is perhaps nothing to him and those who have supported him in the system that there are to-day working men walking the streets of every city of the land who have to pay their share of the thousands of dollars so squandered, while their own children are left hungry. But all the same it is time the practice was put a stop to.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

—Townsend, Norfolk county, claims to be the banner Liberal township in the Dominion. It gave Mr. Charlton 491 majority. Westminster would compete with Townsend, if it were not in a Liberal hive, and the full vote were polled.

—Good work has been done by the Pasteur Institute, New York city. Of all the patients inoculated none are reported to have died from hydrophobia, although the cases aggregate 185. In 643 cases it was proved that the animals which attacked the persons were not mad.

‡‡‡

—Sol. White, M. P. P. for North Essex, Mr. Meredith's chosen lieutenant in the Ontario Legislature, is still talking annexation among his political friends at Toronto, and it is said he is making converts. It is really too bad that these men have so little faith in their own country, but what can we expect from the high tax advocates?

—Chauncey M. Depew, the well-known railway man and after-dinner orator, recently caught a severe cold while acting as a pall-bearer at a funeral, in consequence of which he was led to express the opinion that "pall-bearing is a more fatal disease than typhoid or diphtheria." "You have," says Mr. Depew, "to come out minus your hat from a room heated to 70 degrees into a street where the thermometer stands at 20 degrees, but you musn't put your hat on. It's risky business and the custom should be changed. I believe it is a system got up by the undertakers to help business; for I remember when six pall-bearers used to be considered enough, and now our first-class undertakers are not satisfied with less than twenty." A London preacher puts a stop to all that sort of nonsense. He invariably requests the people to keep their headgear on, taking the ground that respect for the dead, no matter how well-meant, cannot properly be shown by imperiling the health of the living. If all preachers and all secret society leaders were to follow his example, there would be little complaint of colds from attending funerals.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

THE WHEEL.

The chief of police in Cincinnati has sent in a requisition for bicycles to be used by the patrolmen in the suburbs of the city.

Kaufman, the trick rider, has a new trick. He rides inside of the wheel, but the wheel has no spokes. Placing his head and feet against opposite sides of the rim, he rides around the stage in that position.

Eugene E. Stevens and George D. Mitchell, of Washington, D. C., will start about the middle of May on a bicycle tour around the world. They spent four months on a similar excursion through seven countries of Western Europe in 1889.

THE TURF.

M. Develle, the French Minister of Agriculture, has proposed a bill to the Chamber of Deputies for the regulation of horse-racing by the Government. The following clauses appear in the bill: 1. No racecourse can be opened without the previous authorization of the Minister of Agriculture. 2. The only races authorized are those whose sole aim is the improvement of the equine race, and which are organized by societies, the statutes of which have been approved by the Minister of Agriculture after consultation with the State Stud Committee. 3. The annual budget of every racing society shall be submitted for the approval and examination of the Ministers of Agriculture and Finance. 4. The societies are intrusted with the interior arrangements of their racecourses, and the direction of all transactions and contracts which may arise from the races given.

The following is the programme for the Driving Park Association's meeting in Windsor: July 7—2:27 trot, 2:30 pace, each for $400; half-mile heats, running, $100. At the first annual combination sales of trotting stock Thursday, Shipman, by Kentucky Prince, out of Katie Clark, was sold for $2,500. Eight other animals sold at prices ranging from $260 to $1,000. PIGEON FLYING.

The Queen City Homing Club had a sweepstake race from Brampton Friday. The judge, Mr. Wm. Giles, was stationed at the College Street fire hall, Toronto, where there was a great deal of interest displayed while the arrival of the birds was awaited. The pigeons were liberated at Brampton at 9 a.m. and at 9:38 Mr. A. Cotton presented the winner to the judge. A bird belong to Mr. R. Macdonald was shown at 9:42 and one from Mr. F. Bauckham's loft was a good third at 9:43. All the other birds followed in rapid succession.

The Columbus Dispatch says: "As matters now stand, the Association is in a position that a compromise would not greatly benefit them, except in the playing of games and a recognition of contracts by the League" It might be said that "a recognition of contracts by the League" is about the only thing that will keep the Association alive.

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvelous. Remarking this to a physician of experience he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy, and that in every house hold a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, is ear-ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

TERRESTRIAL HEALING

A branch office of the Magnetic Meridian Vitapoise Company is now permanently located at 294 Dundas street, for the purpose of giving practical demonstrations of the healing virtues of the "Vitapoise," (or miniature earth.) It is the most wonderful healing instrument ever discovered. It only fails to cure the afflicted when their case is hopeless, and it makes no difference what ails you.

If you would like to investigate "TERRESTRIAL HEALING," call at the office, and Prof. Reid, will cheerfully explain to you the mysteries of the subtle healing force contained in a Magnetic Meridian Vitapoise.

Separate rooms are fitted up for the treatment of ladies and gentlemen. We want every family and physician in Canada to buy a "Vitapoise," and we will accomplish our object if an afflicted member of every tenth family will give the instrument a trial, by taking a "course of treatment." Its application is absolutely painless and is also harmless; but disease will flee from before it as if driven away by magic.

Physicians! try a "Vitapoise" on one of your patients, having either la grippe, inflammation, fever, insomnia, neuralgia or rheumatism, and thereafter your "medical case" will be a secondary consideration so long as you have a "Vitapoise" with you.

Send for catalogue which fully explains everything; free. Address, The MAGNETIC MERIDIAN VITAPOISE COMPANY, 294 Dundas street, London, Ont. nm

NEWFOUNDLAND AFFAIRS.

The Situation Satisfies Frenchmen — Comments by the London Times.

LONDON, March 28.—The Journal Des Debates, of Paris, in an article on the Newfoundland question, expresses satisfaction with the convention recently concluded. It regards the presence of Queen Victoria and Lord Salisbury in France as an excellent symptom of the situation. England, it says, has acted perfectly correct towards France, but has displayed remarkable weakness in dealing with Newfoundland. Commenting on the calls of the British press to suppress the Utrecht treaty, the Journal reminds them that the same treaty gave Gibraltar to England. The Journal says France will relinquish none of her rights.

The Times, commenting on the foregoing, warns France that England does not intend to drag on her colonies, and reminds Newfoundland that foreign opinion asks whether she has any desire to become a French colony.

Petitions Presented.

In the Ontario Legislature the other day the following petitions were presented:

By Mr. Awrey—From the Tavistock Milling Company and others, against being compelled to employ licensed engineers or portable and stationary engines.

By Mr. Guthrie—From the Mutual Fire Underwriters' Association of Ontario, for the appointment of officers to hold inquests into fires, and also that no insurance company may be compelled to pay losses caused by farm engines placed within 100 feet of the separator.

A Proud Position.

We have traveled not only in 33 States of this country but in Europe as well, and we are giving the New York Central but just praise when we say that in every respect it is a perfect road and anyone going west, either on pleasure or business, who travels via any other simply takes an inferior route. Its splendid roadbed admits of the highest speed with perfect safety. The scenery is most beautiful and richly historic, while its equipment, sleeping cars, drawing-room cars, and dining cars is suberb, and the latter's cuisine is equal to that of the best hotel in America. New England is as well served as New York in the service of the New York Central, as (via the Boston and Albany Railroad) through sleeping cars are attached at Albany to all the former's trains. All in all, the Central richly deserves the proud position it now holds, and which we believe it will never yield to a competing line. Its high reputation is really what would be expected from its management.—[Christian Leader. b

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Detective Wesley Webb, of this city charged Thomas Freeborn, of Listowel with breach of the Medical Act the other day, but the case was dismissed.

—The city butchers intend to raise the price of best joints of meat to 12½ and 15 cents per pound on and after April 1. This had been agreed upon at a meeting of the various meat dealers.

—Thomas Fogarty was lodged at the jail here Friday on a charge of stealing $36 13 from Duncan McEacheran, of Ekfrid. Several other robberies are alleged to have been committed by Fogarty.

—John Powers, of London township, is at present spending four days in jail here for contempt of court. The prisoner was a defendant in a recent Division Court suit over an account the total of which amounted to $53 32.

—Through a mistake, in not summoning the proper witnesses, the case against George Minhinnick, charged with impersonation in the recent East Middlesex election, was dismissed by Squire Jarvis Saturday afternoon.

—The London Southeastern Band of Hope, which was organized by Mr. W. H. Winnett on Dec. 26, now numbers over 100 members. The fortnightly meeting held Friday evening took the form of an entertainment, in which a few citizens took part.

—Census Officer Rufus Stephenson left for Chatham Saturday morning after holding several days' councils of instruction in the City Hall. Mr. Stephenson intends returning shortly and will make London his headquarters during the taking of the census.

—The quarterly Official Board of the London West Methodist Church have extended an invitation to the Rev. T. E. Harrison, of the Elizabeth Street Church, to become their pastor for the coming year. Mr. Harrison has accepted, subject to the Stationing Committee.

—Thomas Fox, the pawnbroker, alleged in the Police Court Saturday that Hugh McGurdy came into his store on Thursday, armed himself with a chair and threatened to make things warm around there. McGurdy claimed Fox to be the aggressor, but he was fined $5 or twenty days.

—The Finance Committee of the city of Quebecisat present wrestling with the question of civic officials' salaries. The city clerk has written to City Clerk Kingston, asking for information respecting London's treatment of its servants. A copy of the auditor's report was sent in reply.

—The several lodges of the Sons of England in this city have decided to celebrate the Queen's Birthday in royal style. An excellent programme of sports, including farmer gentlemen's horse racing, will afford amusement for all. The committee will meet every Friday until after the demonstration.

—The ladies connected with the Mount Bridges Baptist Church tendered the members of the congregation an oyster supper Friday evening. About 200 accepted the ladies' hospitality, several of whom were from this city. A good programme followed the supper. The funds will be applied to the purchase of the organ.

—Sir Knight C. Pugh, supreme adjutant of the Knights of Sherwood Forest, has returned to this city after paying an official visit to the conclaves of Ontario. He reports them all as in a very flourishing condition. The anticipated six days' camp at Woodstock in August, he says, is having a very beneficent effect on the conclaves.

—The jury in the case of Hampton vs. Lawrason disagreed Friday. The case was the outcome of a quarrel between Fred Lawrason, of this city, and George Hampton, of the Proof Line. The plaintiff endeavored to put Lawrason, who was riding a bicycle past his house, off the sidewalk, and received a broken shoulder for his pains. Hence the action.

—Inspector Carson, in looking over the teachers' pay roll this month, met an entry which will form subject matter for a warm debate at the next meeting of the Board. It related to the salary of Miss McDonald, which by the pay roll had been increased by $50 per year. As the generosity of the Board in this respect is new to many of the members, the matter will be ventilated at the next meeting.

—Detective Allen on Friday arrested William G. Collins in Lucan on a charge of stealing a watch. Squire Smyth remanded the prisoner for eight days. The watch is a Waltham and is inclosed in a filled case, open face and screw bezel. The number of the movement is 2,830,127, and the case bears the number 398,872. A small gold twisted chain is attached to the watch.

—"Do you know why so many people get deaf as they grow older?" said a leading physician Saturday in the course of a conversation. "It is because they sleep with their mouths open. Any man or woman who does this persistently for years will finally grow deaf. But that is not the only disadvantage of so sleeping. It is the cause of a score of affections of the throat and lungs, not to speak of snoring, which unfits anyone at once for human society. But the subject of improper breathing is wide. Not one person in 100 draws and expels the breath in a natural, healthy way."

—A friendly congregational social was held in the Talbot Street Baptist Church Friday night. Refreshments were served in the basement, and an adjournment made to the church, where addresses dealing with church matters were delivered by the pastor, Rev. Ira Smith, Messrs. Joseph Jeffery, J. V. Westervelt, F. Holman, Dale, Hotson and others. The musical part was well supplied by the choir, and Misses Sage and Messrs. Drewe and Brown.

—Notwithstanding the stormy weather there was a good attendance at the social entertainment in the King Street Methodist Church Friday night. After singing a hymn and prayer the company were delighted with the following: Quartet by Messrs. Goodge and A. Parker, lecture on "The Translations of the English Bible," by Rev. S. Bond; a solo by Mr. Goodge; a recitation, "Tennyson's Northern Cobbler," by Mr. A. George; a duet by the Misses Reason, and one by Miss Parker and Mr. Parker. Instruction and entertainment were very happily combined.

A Philosophic Entertainment.

The Congregation of Askin Street Methodist Church celebrated Good Friday evening by attending an "At Home," given by the Laidies' Aid Society. There was a large attendance, and for an hour or two pleasant social intercourse was indulged in, a plenteous supply of refreshments being served. The ladies had zealous assistants in entertaining their guests in Rev. Mr. McIntyre, the pastor, and the veteran Rev. Mr. Cosford.

In Aid of the Library.

The energetic committee of the Workingmen's Library Board which had the arrangements in hand for Friday night's concert, held in the East End Hall have cause to feel satisfied. Their efforts were not in vain, as in every particular the entertainment was a decided success. In spite of the inclemency of the weather the hall was crowded to the door, many being unable to obtain seats. Water Commissioner George C. Davis acted as chairman, and recorded himself in favor of the efforts of the workingmen of London to furnish the public with a free library and hoped the

ARMY PORTIA.

By Charles King, U. S. Army.

THOR OF "THE COLONEL'S DAUGHTER," "THE DESERTER," "FROM THE RANKS," "DUNRAVEN RANCH," "TWO SOLDIERS," ETC.

"I beg the indulgence of the court. I have allowed the case for the prosecution to rest rather than infringe longer on time that is so valuable, but I find myself unable to proceed at this moment, and I beg that you take a recess until 2 p.m.

The court demurred. It was utterly adverse to a recess. Hearn's witnesses were all ready to proceed—four or five, at least.

"What is the need?" asked Thorp and Maitland, neither of whom felt like giving Lawler an inch of leeway. But courtesy to the staff-officer of the division commander prevailed.

It was barely 11 o'clock when the throng came pouring forth from the court-room, and Lawler hoped that, rather than wait three hours, the mass of the people would depart. But his hopes were vain. If anything, the number seemed augmented. The noon train brought a couple of car-loads from the eastward towns. It also brought a sergeant and private of infantry escorting a dilapidated-looking party in shabby civilian dress whom old Kenyon, the adjutant, and a file of the post guard were at the station to meet. The stranger was bundled into an ambulance and trotted up to the guard-house, into which he slouched with hanging head and an air of general dejection while the men were at their soldier dinner Kenyon was busily interviewing his tough-looking prisoner, a squad of excited newspaper men, meantime, kicking their heels outside and raging at the military assumption which gave the post commander precedence over the press. The word had gone out all over the crowded garrison that the escaped prisoner Goss was recaptured, and the commanding officer's orderly had been rushed with a note to the provost-sergeant.

"You bet he'll not get away," muttered this veteran of Brodie's company, as he glanced along the lively mess-room, where the big bowls of bean soup were being emptied by rare soldier appetites. "You bet he don't, unless he can carry a cart-load of lead in him."

Twenty minutes after, Corporal Greene of the guard came to the door-way and sung out—

"Say, fellers, who do you think's captured and brought back? Trooper Goss, begad, the bosom friend of the patriotic Welsh."

And Welsh dropped his spoon and his eyes and turned a dirty yellow. He essayed presently to quit the table, but the old sergeant bent over him:

"Finish yer dinner, me buck. Don't let eagerness to see yer friend spoil yer appetite. 'ou can't see him, anyway, till he has given testimony before the court; and they'll need you, too, Welsh, me jewel, and I'm charged not to loose you—d'ye mind that, Welsh?—and I never lose anything but an occasional slice of me temper. Ate yer dinner, like the high-spirited American ye are, now." But Welsh's appetite was gone.

The court-room was crowded to suffocation that afternoon when, sharp at 2 o'clock, Colonel Grace rapped for order:

"I suppose you are ready now, Colonel Lawler? Call in the first witness."

Lawler looked resigned, even martyred. The court had come back from luncheon at the Lanes' in high spirits. The ladies again sat close to Hearn's table. Private Goss, with untrimmed beard and an air of general dilapidation, was sworn by the judge-advocate, gave his name, rank, regiment, etc., and responded in answer to Lawler's question, that he did know the accused very well.

"What do you want to ask the witness?" said Lawler, in a tone as much as to say, what could you ask that would be of any earthly account?

"State where and how long you have known Private Welsh, C troop, Eleventh Cavalry" were the words on the penciled slip, and Lawler read them grudgingly.

"I've known him six or eight years. Knew him when he enlisted in the Twenty-Third, where he was by the name of Webster. Served with him at Fort Wayne until he got a 'bobtail' discharge, and when I got mine I went to his home in Ohio and hunted him up. He owed me money, but was no good—couldn't pay it. His people wouldn't do anything more for him. He was Mrs. Blauvelt's nephew, but she had about got tired of trying to support him, so we came away and enlisted again, in the cavalry service this time, and then he got things fixed to go into Blauvelt's troop for both of us."

"What was your reasons for deserting here while awaiting trial?" was the next question.

"Well, both Welsh and Schonberg told me I was bound to be convicted. Everything pointed to my being Corporal Brent's slugger, though I swear to God I never left the barracks that night. They said if I didn't get away before the court tried me I might get several years in State's prison at hard labor, and worse still if he didn't recover. Welsh and Schonberg both said that there was no show for me, the evidence was so clear, even to the red pepper in the pockets. Some scoundrel put it there, and wore my things, too. Welsh got put into the guard room, purposely, opposite my cell, and threw a stone with a string through the grating, and I hauled on it and got a letter from him and Schonberg telling me how to escape. There were saws and tallow in the package I drew in, and Schonberg was down in the bottom with a buggy after I got out, and he drove me nearly all night around by way of Barclay to the other road, and sent me by rail to Omaha, where he promised that plenty of money would come to me; but no money came at all, and I was recognized and arrested by the police."

"Had you any idea that there were other reasons for getting you to desert than the one given?"

Lawler bounced up and objected to both questions and answer; but both were ordered recorded.

"I hadn't—then," was the sullen reply: "I'm not sure now. That Jew got me to go because I accused him of being a receiver of stolen property. It was him Welsh gave the papers he took from the lieutenant's desk in Captain Blauvelt's quarters. I went there with him one night after taps when the lieutenant was officer of the guard, and Schonberg gave Welsh ten dollars and me five to keep mum. After that Welsh began to run with Schonberg entirely and turn against me, and it was through him that I was always getting into trouble."

In vain Lawler propounded questions tending to show his witness, thus assailed, in a better light; but the more he examined the more damaging was Goss's testimony. At last the witness slouched out under escort of a sentinel.

But a greater sensation was still awaiting the patient listeners in the court-room. The next man to enter, leaning heavily on the arm of the hospital steward, and accompanied by Dr. Ingersoll, was Corporal Brent, looking white and feeble, but very calm and self-possessed.

"Give your full name, rank and regiment," said the judge-advocate, without looking up.

"The name under which I enlisted is Malcolm Brent, corporal Company C —th Infantry."

"The court will note, I trust, the singular character of the witnesses introduced by the accused," said Lawler, promptly. "The last, by his own admission, is a thief and a deserter whom Welsh very properly essayed to cut loose from on discovering his real character; and now we have a second who plainly intimates that the name he gives is not his own."

"It is the one by which he is known to military law all the same, Colonel Lawler. Please to proceed," said Colonel Grace, testily.

"You know the accused, I presume, or he would not have called upon you?" was Lawler's snapping query of the witness.

"Only as a soldier knows an officer whom he has every reason to respect. I have never exchanged a word with the gentleman, but I recognize him as Lieutenant Hearn, of the Eleventh Cavalry."

Again there was a ripple of applause in the crowded court, which brought Lawler, angry and protesting, to his feet. Silence restored, he presently read aloud the next question from a slip handed him by Mr. Hearn, which he slowly pasted on the sheet before him:

"What do you know with regard to the amounts charged against the accused on the books presented before this court and alleged to be unpaid?"

"I know they were paid long ago. I heard the story of the whole transaction from the lips of Captain Rawlins himself.

"Hearsay evidence," promptly interrupted the judge-advocate, rapping on the table.

An Eye-Opener for Connoisseurs and Others on Imported Cigars.

As it well known to all tobacco dealers that the Vuelta Abajo district is conceded to be the finest on the Island of Cuba, and that no other tobacco is equal in quality or commands as high a price on the market, we wish to inform the connoisseurs of imported Havana cigars that seven-eights of the imported cigars brought into the county are not of Vuelta Abajo tobacco. In order to convince the public that we are sincere in what we state, we will pay to the charitable institutions of this city the sum of $1,000 if our statement can be disproved. We will also forfeit for the same purpose a like sum if our La Cadena brand of clear Havana cigars is not manufactured exclusively of Vuelta Abajo tobacco. S. DAVIS & SONS, Montreal. 87-tf vtz

Good Friday Services.

Services were held in the Anglican Churches of the city on Friday morning and were attended by large congregations. The music was appropriate and the sermons dealt with the event for which Good Friday is commemorated.

A pre-sanctified service was held in St. Peter's Cathedral in the morning. Rev. Father Ferguson, of Sandwich, preached acceptably to a large congregation in the evening.

The union love feast in Queen's Avenue Methodist Church in the morning was well attended. Rev. Dr. Sanderson presided, and all the resident ministers were on the platform.

Presbyterian Home Missions.

The Home Mission Committee of the Presbyterian Church, which was in session in Toronto for two days, made a number of summer appointments, including the following: Owen Sound—Messrs. W. H. Grant, D. M. Martin, M. C. McLennan, James Skene, K. McLennan. Saugeen—Mr. W. T. Hall. Guelph—Mr. E. A. Henry. Hamilton—Messrs. T. McLachlan, J. H. Barnett. London—Mr. R. Monteath. Chatham—Mr. Milne. Graham, J. C. Corbett, James Steele.

Modern Puritanism.

The members of the congregation of the Colborne Street Methodist Church celebrated Good Friday in a very fitting manner. The entertainment was provided by the ladies and was christened a Puritan Tea, with a first-class concert thrown in as a special inducement to attend. Early in the evening tea was served in the lecture room. Everything that met the eye suggested the primitive days of yore. In the mellow light of 50 flickering candles resting in their yellow candlesticks, the toilets of the ladies, the arrangement of the supper and the general appearance of the surroundings impressed one strongly of Puritanism. After tea the company was ushered into the church, where the following programme was introduced by Ald. Spencer, who occupied the chair: Solo, "The Sentinel," Mr. E. Forsythe; recitation, Miss Colver; solo, "Surely," Miss Gott; duet, Mrs. Courtice and Miss Hiscott; recitation, Miss Alice Greene; solo, "The Bugler," Mr. W. L. Graham; and solo, "The Pilgrim Fathers," Rev. E. B. Lanceley. Prof. W. J. Birks presided at the piano. Short and pleasant addresses were also made by Revs. A. C. Courtice and M. P. Talling.

"Hands Across the Sea."

Of the above production the Toronto papers say that it excelled anything seen in that city in years. The Hamilton Times concludes its criticism as follows: "The first scene is laid in a Devonshire country village, the second and third in Paris, the fourth on board the steamship Australian, and the fifth in the harbor of Sydney, Australia. Mr. Edwards, as Jack Dudly, gave a good representation of the sterling English farmer. Mr. Lytel, as Tom Bassett, also did a good piece of work. The French villain, Jean de Lussac, was also well acted by Mr. Carl Smith. Of the ladies, Miss Powis Day, as Lilian Melford, and Miss Mary Celeste, as Lucy Nettlewood, shared the honors between them. The stage settings were very good, and mechanical features added greatly to the realistic representation of the drama, notably the ship scene."

Do Not Want the "Jack."

At the last meeting of Mutual Grange, No. 32, Westminster, the following motion was carried unanimously: "That we, the members of the Mutual Grange, disapprove of the action of the insurance companies in urging upon the Government to pass a law making the use of the "Threshing Jack" compulsory upon threshers, as we consider it detrimental to the interest of the farmers; for in a large majority of farm yards there would not be room to use it without placing the engine nearer other buildings than it is to the barn by the present system. We hope their efforts will not meet with success in securing this legislation, as we believe, with proper care, the present system to be comparatively safe."

Funeral of the Late Rev. Wm. Morton.

A funeral service in memory of the late Rev. William Morton, formerly of London South, was held in Centenary Church, Hamilton, on Thursday. Rev. Dr. Sutherland, in the course of his address, said that "no truer, purer or better man ever labored in the cause of Methodism." Rev. J. S. Ross, among other things, said: "On looking through the records I can find no break in his long service of 40 years for the cause of Christ. From circuit to circuit he has labored in Canada since 1842, and since his superannuation, during his residence in this city, there has been no work which he has not attended to cheerfully and effectively." Rev. Mr. Wakefield also spoke of 38 years of acquaintance with deceased. At the conclusion of the service the cortege reformed and proceeded to Burlington Cemetery. The burial casket was covered with handsome floral tributes from the many friends of the deceased clergyman.

Their Annual Concert.

The annual concert given in the First Presbyterian Church Thursday evening under the management of Prof. William Caven Barron, was a gratifying success. The attendance was large, and as a result a satisfactory amount will be placed to the credit of the Sunday school funds, in aid of which the concert was held. London Cases at Toronto.

Tootle vs. Frederick.—Judgment on appeal by the plaintiff from an order of Meredith, J., in chambers, discharging the defendant from custody under an order of arrest made by the judge of the County Court of Middlesex. The court held that it was shown upon the affidavits that the defendant had no intention to flee the country at the time of his arrest, and also that there did not appear to be any such dealing with his property as is within the meaning of the statute, and also that the circumstances indicated want of candor in the original application. Appeal dismissed. Costs to the defendants in the cause.

Burns vs. Davidson.—Judgment on appeal by the plaintiffs from an order of Ferguson, J., refusing to continue an injunction restraining the defendants from further alienating certain land in Oregon, U. S. A., the action being by execution creditors of the defendant Ebenezer L. Davidson to set aside a conveyance of the land of the defendant Alexander Davidson and a mortgage by the latter to the defendant Purdom, on the ground that the conveyance and mortgage are fraudulent and void. Ferguson, J., held that the land not being in any case eligible under the plaintiffs' execution, the plaintiffs could not succeed in the action. Appeal dismissed with costs, on the ground that there was no evidence upon which the injunction could have been granted. Gibbons, Q.C., and Aylesworth, Q.C., for the appellants; Purdom (London) for the respondents.

A Victim of Electrocution.

"What's the matter?" was the natural question addressed to a yawning, tired-looking individual in a leading hotel Friday evening. "It's the electric light," responded the sleepless one. "A glaring, dazzling, confounted arc light just across the street from me, and all the blessed night my room is as the whiteness of the noon-day sun. Draw the curtains? Pull down the blinds? That's just it. Alarm clocks with the vigor of a cable car gong and the alacrity of a buzz saw will not awaken me in the morning, the uncertain door rappings of the short-memoried servant girl are not to be depended upon, and I must be at the office by 8 o'clock or I will receive my resignation. But the first gleams of morning coming through a window pulls me out of bed, and so I cannot afford to have a curtain shut out the light. Nor can I move, for my landlord has a leading pipe clinch on me for a year's contract, and money is scarce. There is absolutely nothing for me to do but spend the night hours staring at the electrified ceiling of my arc-lighted room through smoked-glass spectacles and indulge in spasmodic flights of pyrotechnical expletives. Unless that electric globe is cut out I am a destined victim of electrocution."

A Great Blessing.

Sirs,—I have taken three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters and find it a good medicine for constipation and poor appetite. I will continue taking it, as it is a great blessing, and I feel a great change in my health since taking it. MRS. J. V. GREEN, 5 Sydenham street, Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Newbride—Oh, doctor, tell me what is the matter with my husband? Dr. Sensible—Um—er—he is suffering with a severe, but only temporary, paralysis of muscles, inluced by an exaggerated internal application of stimulants. Mrs. Newbride—And the horrid cab driver who brought him home said he was drunk.
