FREE ALDERMEN IN FAVOR OF SMALLER COUNCIL Railways Fight Restoration of Crow's Nest Pass Rates

MAJORITY OPPOSED TO SMALL COUNCIL

All Favor Plan For Two-Year Plan For Aldermen.

ASKS FURTHER CUT

Eight Members or Less Meets With the Approval of Mayor.

Reduction of the city council from twelve to eight members, as proposed in a motion by Ald. Edwin Smith last night to the finance committee, is favored by five members of the council, and the mayor. Aldermen Shaw, Drake, Greer, Smith and Walsh are in favor of the reduction. The other members are opposed.

Every alderman is heartily in favor of the introduction of a two-year term of office for aldermen on the ground that it will give continuity of plan to the work of the council, and abolition of the ward system of electing the aldermen is agreed to by Aldermen, Walsh and Shaw, as well as the mayor. Following are opinions of the aldermen on the question. Ald. Ed. Warren was not in the city and could not be reached. The mayor is an enthusiastic supporter of the idea of a further reduction to four aldermen and a mayor, as suggested by the Chamber of Commerce Alderman McKay.

"Some four or five years ago the people voted in favor of the commission form of municipal administration and I think the council would do better to ask the legislature for permission to reduce the council from twelve to eight members. I do not see that there would be any great advantage received from the reduction to eight aldermen and the reduction in the direction of greater efficiency in municipal government."

Alderman Shaw.
"The suggestion is a good one, to my way of thinking. The two years term of office is the best part of it. It would give continuity of plan in the work of the council. Abolition of the ward system and the reduction to eight aldermen are both steps in the direction of greater efficiency in municipal government."

Alderman Douglass.
"I have nothing to say on the question just now. But I think the people should have a chance to vote on it at the next municipal election."

Alderman Drake.
"I am in favor of reducing the council to eight aldermen, and the two years term of office, but I would not do away with the ward system of electing aldermen. It has not been abused in London."

Alderman Greer.
"The present system is obsolete, and some change is certainly necessary. I am not in favor of doing away with the ward system, as there is always a danger that it would put the city's business under the thumb of a few men."

LIBERALS IN B. C. NOW HAVE TWENTY SEATS

Ft. George Is Only Riding in Doubt—Success of Beer Plebiscite Uncertain.

Canadian Press Despatch. Vancouver, June 27.—With the exception of Port George, the only seat now in doubt, the standing of the parties in British Columbia elections held last Friday is likely to remain unchanged until July 11 or 12, when the absentee vote is counted.

The standing at present, therefore, is: 20 Liberals, 17 Conservatives, 4 Provincials, 3 Laborites, 2 Independent Liberals and 1 Independent. In regard to the beer plebiscite, which was taken in conjunction with the election of members, Attorney-General A. Manson, in Victoria yesterday, declined to say anything except that as soon as the absentee votes are counted the beer problem must be taken up immediately by the executive council.

An authority close to the government said that beer by the glass will be permitted in districts in the province voting for it only if the absentee vote in Vancouver shows that city in favor of the change. Should Vancouver vote against beer there probably will be no beer by the glass in any district in British Columbia.

WITH MIND DERANGED WOMAN HELD BY POLICE

She Gambled and Won—

Her own head was the stake, but Rostia Forbes gambled with adventure to reach inner China. No white man had preceded her; none is likely to follow.

The world-renowned woman adventurer tells her own story of the thrilling journey in tomorrow's magazine section of The Advertiser. One of a dozen specially written articles, it is but an example of reading material which will interest every member of the family.

The magazine section tomorrow tells of romantic corners in old Kingston and the city's countless memorials; of the birth of great locomotives that have made famous Canada's thousands of miles of national railways; of the old world atmosphere in Nassau.

Then, too, there are authentic fashion articles; the fascinating "Page About People"; "Life's Little Comedies"; and new fiction by Ellis Parker Butler and Lucian Cary.

The eight-page Magazine Section accompanies The Advertiser's fine four pages of Rotogravure Pictures, the first in London and the eighth pages of colored comics—twenty extra pages added to the regular news edition.

ADEQUATE NAVY FOR CANADA IS ADVISED

Sir Frederick Field Tells Vancouver Audience Need Is Imperative.

OUTLINES DANGERS

Famous British Naval Officer Says Commerce Requires Protection.

Canadian Press Despatch. Vancouver, B.C., June 27.—Canada's duty as regards naval protection was hinted at by Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Field at the Canadian Club luncheon here yesterday. He did not put it in so many words, but that a great dominion like Canada should have a navy to protect her commerce was a certainty. His speech, however, suggested Canada's lack in this respect.

Sir Frederick gave a tremendous ovation. Once when he asked if, in an emergency in any part of the empire, would Canada stand aside, he was interrupted by a tremendous "No."

"Nobody who has read the history of the British Empire," said Sir Frederick, "can fail to understand its great sea power."

"After war there is always the reaction, for all governments find themselves in debt and faced with the necessity for rigid economy."

Big Navy Essential.
"Our minds and the minds of governments are crowded with the idea of forgetting in a great empire like ours a great navy is necessary for our safety."

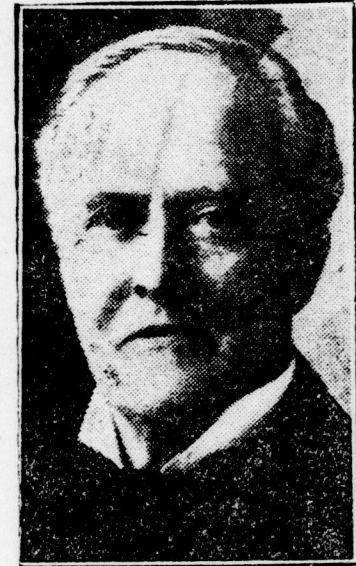

"If we spend money on a navy when the ships may soon become obsolete and the need be only for aeroplanes and submarines. I can suppose a country decided to have only submarines. We could easily overcome that and at little expense or trouble we could soon produce a fleet that would bottle all the submarines up. The country that had only submarines would build something that would hold our mosquito fleet back. Then we should build something stronger yet and finally we should come to what we now have—the ships we call capital ships."

Now as for aircraft. However good an air force may be, it cannot prevent Great Britain being starved out. For that protection we need the navy. The radius of a bombing plane is after all only about 200 miles. There would be thousands of miles of sea lanes which would be totally unprotected without a navy.

Would Canada Help?
"The duties of the navy in war are to prevent raiders coming out and attacking our commerce. But with our present reduced state it would be impossible to prevent a certain number of raiders coming out. Therefore I ask you to think with your constantly increasing trade and at the rate your dominion is advancing, do you feel safe? Do you feel that increasing trade is safe on the seas? It would be impertinent for me to suggest what Canada should do. All I ask is that you think of this. Do you feel safe? Will you be safe in time of war?"

TWO ELECTROCUTED.

Associated Press Despatch. Little Rock, Ark., June 27.—June Surgeon Rock and Will Bettis, negroes, convicted of first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Effie Latimer, a white woman, at her home near Calcher, December 23, were electrocuted at the state penitentiary today.

ST. THOMAS CITIZEN TAKES OWN LIFE

A. E. Campbell Commits Rash Deed Due to Business Worries.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, June 27.—Albert Edward Campbell, lifelong resident resident and prominent businessman of St. Thomas, shot himself early this morning at his residence, 167½ Wellington street. Business worries are ascribed as the cause of the suicide.

Coroner Dr. Ewin stated that an inquest would be unnecessary. Deceased was born in St. Thomas 57 years ago and has resided in the city ever since.

Until very recently he was engaged in the hardware business, operating stores for years, first on Talbot street and later on Ross street. He was an active member of Knox Presbyterian Church.

Besides his widow (nee Ida Penwarden), he is survived by two daughters, Hilda and Helen, at home; one son, Roger, at home; his wife, Mrs. J. R. Campbell, McIntyre street, city; one sister, Mrs. Houston, Toronto, and two brothers, Walter of this and Lorne of Calgary. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

E. G. PORTER RESIGNS SEAT IN COMMONS

Will Appeal to the People Following Murdock's Exoneration.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 27.—E. Guss Porter, member for West Hastings, who made the charges against Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, has resigned his seat. Mr. Porter informed the house this afternoon that, following the vote of the house approving the report exonerating Mr. Murdock, he intended to appeal to the people the highest tribunal, and to give the electors of his constituency an opportunity to judge between Mr. Murdock's conduct and his own.

BANDINI'S PREDICTION ON EARTHQUAKES TRUE

Associated Press Despatch. Faenza, Italy, June 27.—Raphael Bandini, famous for his predictions of earthquakes, was able to announce today that the seismic disturbances which he forecast recently for the last ten days in June, began yesterday, when earthquakes were registered by seismographic instruments in various places.

According to his instruments, heavy shocks occurred at 2:57 Thursday morning about 11,000 kilometres distant. The vibrations lasted for four hours, and were so violent as to upset the instruments.

Bandini thinks that unless this series of shocks occurred under the ocean the consequences will have been most disastrous.

LOCAL PAINTER INJURED IN TWO-STORY FALL

John Ward, a local painter, suffered painful injuries at noon today when he fell two stories from the residence at 517 Waterloo street, while engaged in outside work. He was rushed to Victoria Hospital, where it was found he had suffered a dislocated shoulder and other minor injuries. His recovery is expected. Dr. U. E. Bateson is in attendance.

UNIONISTS IN LONDON SURE BILL WILL PASS

Believe Dominion Parliament Will Shortly Ratify Entire Proceedings.

WILL NOT OPPOSE

Dr. Beattie Feels Senate Will Not Block Bill When Introduced.

Adoption of the principle of church union by parliament yesterday leaves no doubt in the minds of local unionists that the entire proceeding will shortly be ratified.

"Now that the principle has been accepted, we may be assured that the bill will pass the house," Rev. Dr. D. C. McGregor of St. Andrew's Church, said this morning.

"I don't feel able to prophesy with regard to the senate. We have no basis for judging their action, and particularly where church union is concerned. But at the same time, I think the situation gives rise to the greatest optimism."

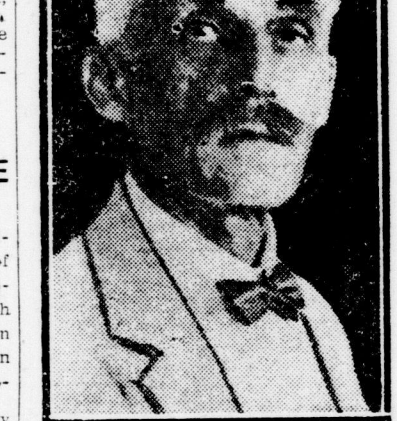

Rev. Dr. William Beattie of the First Presbyterian Church, was more ready than Dr. McGregor to vouch for the action of the senate.

"In general, the senate seldom opposes a vote with a large majority of the house, and I can hardly conceive that they would fly in the face of such a firmly-expressed sentiment on the part of the people by vetoing the bill for church union."

Action Expected.
"The action of the house yesterday is no more than we expected. The bill now reverts to its original form. The vote itself gives us quite an assurance that church union will be ratified. Of course, we cannot tell what amendments may be proposed even yet. But the churches are going ahead on the assumption that they have declared for union, and that the necessary legislation will be achieved."

Basing his assumption on the result of the vote as announced in the morning papers, Rev. H. J. Uren, president of London Methodist Conference, and pastor of Colborne Street Church, expects that the first meeting of the General Council of the United Church, of which he has been appointed a member, will be called within a short time. Mr. Uren would give no opinion other than that he was personally very delighted with the action of the house.

Official Pronouncement.
He suggested that since the committee on church union of the Methodist Church is meeting in Toronto today, an official pronouncement would please See Page 4, Column 8.

PORT ARTHUR IS CHOSEN AS DISTRIBUTING CENTER

Canadian Press Despatch. Port Arthur, June 27.—The Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission has stated its intention to make Port Arthur the power distribution center for the southern section of the Niagara zone. This will mean the location of a permanent distributing station at Bare Point, in the north end, which will entail an expenditure on construction and equipment of about $600,000.

There Must Be Fair Play

Statement From the Mayor Means Unnecessary Discomfort For Innocent Officials—Alleged Irregularities Should Be Dealt With Directly—If Publicity Is Required Names Must Be Given.

A statement has been given to the city newspapers by Mayor Wenige in which members of the city council are warned that there must be an end to an alleged practice of encouraging drunkenness among civic officials to the detriment of their work. Otherwise Mayor Wenige declares that he will make public the names of culprits.

The advertiser is not publishing the text of this statement because it believes that the general charge implied is unfair to the majority of the council and of the city hall staff who have no part in irregularities.

The fairer and more sensible course for Mayor Wenige to follow is to give his warning privately and directly to the city council and others concerned. Only if this method proves ineffectual should there be a resort to publicity, and in such case the names of the guilty parties should be stated at once and definite action against them should follow.

The broadcasting of a blanket insinuation accomplishes little but to create for innocent individuals and for London's municipal bodies an unsavory reputation which is not deserved.

STORM TIES UP TRAFFIC IN CITY

Miniature Flood Takes Place On Dundas Street—Cars Stopped.

Short interruptions were caused, telephone, telegraph, hydro and street railway services shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon when a severe electrical storm passed over the city. The heavy rainfall, with some hail, effected a standstill to traffic on the streets for some time.

Coming at a time when many business people had just returned or were just returning to work, little could be done for 15 or 20 minutes. Pedestrians flocked into doorways or under awnings along Dundas and Richmond streets. Street cars were halted for about five minutes. The heavy deluge of rain and hail made automobile traffic difficult. Two interruptions of several minutes' duration were caused in the hydro power and some telephone boxes were put out of commission.

Blocked drains on Dundas street between Richmond and Clarence streets flooded the pavement and came up high on the axles of motor cars. Sidewalks were covered with several inches of water.

Power interruptions were confined to local districts, and there was no interference on the main lines. Lightning running along transmission wires and blowing fuses was given as the cause of slight stoppages here. No serious damage was caused at any of the sub-stations.

Larry Berger Dies In New Hamburg

Well-Known Athlete Is Victim of Pneumonia.

Canadian Press Despatch. Stratford, June 27.—Larry B. (Lawrence) Berger, known athlete and hockey player, died at his home in New Hamburg last night from pneumonia with which he was stricken a little more than a week ago. His death will be mourned throughout the province, where his ability as a hockey player was well established. He was considered one of the fastest men in the Ontario Hockey Association. Berger was a member of the Stratford junior team of 1920, which lost in the finals to Toronto Canoe Club.

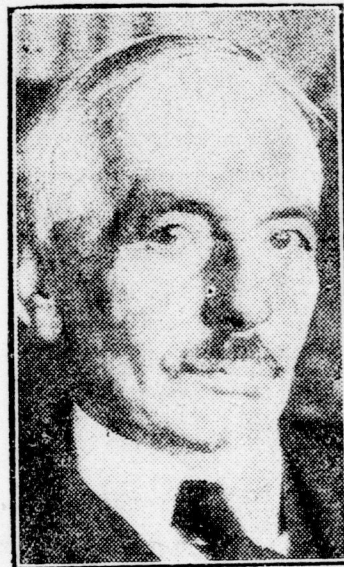

Next year he entered intermediate series, and was a member of the championship team in 1923. Last year, with his team member, he graduated to senior company, and held down defence position with the team which lost out in the final to Hamilton Tigers. He was also well-known in association football, lacrosse and baseball circles. Larry was born in Tavistock, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Berger, now of New Hamburg, and was 24 years of age.

PHILIP FOX WAS NAMED BY REGRETTABLE ERROR

Philip Fox was recently reported in The Advertiser as appearing in police court charged with drunkenness in a home on Pall Mall street. This was an error which The Advertiser regrets and wishes to correct. The prisoner's name was James Fox, and Philip Fox, who lives at 59 Dundas street, had no connection with the case in any way.

PRIVY COUNCILLORS WILL HEAR APPEAL

Middleton Judgment To Be Taken Up Next Week.

Associated Press Despatch. London, June 27.—It is understood by the Canadian Press that the appeal of Hon. W. F. Nickle, attorney-general of Ontario, against the judgment of Mr. Justice Middleton of the Supreme Court of Ontario, directing a speedy trial before a county judge in the charges against the directors of the Home Bank of Canada, will be taken up by the judicial committee of the privy council at the end of next week.

The attorney-general of Ontario will be represented by D. L. McCarthy, K.C. of Toronto, and it is probable that Sir Patrick Hastings, attorney-general of Great Britain, will personally attend the proceedings, because of the fact that a contention which will be made by the attorney-general of Ontario involves the question of the constitutional powers of Canada.

The Dominion of Canada was yesterday given the right to be represented by counsel, but so far as can be learned here, no appointment has yet been made.

CROW'S NEST PASS RATES COMBATTED BY RAILWAYS

Companies Claim Restoration of Old Schedule Would Mean Losses.

BEFORE CABINET

Arguments by Counsel Intended To Show Inequalities of Plan.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 27.—The abrogation of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement was asked for by Eugene Lafleur, K.C., counsel for the railways, in a hearing before the cabinet today. This agreement, unless parliament enacts otherwise, comes into full force on July 7 next. In the event of parliament not being willing to abrogate the agreement wholly the railway court urged that it should at least be suspended for a further period.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 27.—Before the cabinet this morning, the railways opened their fight against restoration of the full Crow's Nest Pass rates, which came into force on July 6 unless amending legislation is brought down in the interval. Eugene Lafleur, K. C., for the railways, argued that a return to the full Crow's Nest rates would at once destroy the equality in rates established in the whole territory west of and including Montreal.

The Windsor-Chatham group would have lower rates than those applying from London; London lower than Woodstock and Hamilton, and all these points less than Toronto, Peterboro and Montreal, now taking equal rates with Toronto, would take a higher basis, which, in turn, would adversely affect the rates from the Maritime Provinces to the entire western territory.

C. N. R. showed lower earnings on western than on eastern lines. Restoration of the Crow's Nest Pass would mean a serious rate disadvantage for the railways, and would handicap the traffic of the country, but would provide a continuous rate agitation as would be caused only by the removal of these sections of the Crow's Nest agreement and by submitting the matter to the railway commission.

Dealing with the anomalies and discriminations that, it was argued, would be brought about by the Crow's Nest rates, he said only by fresh fruits and apples, these lower rates would not apply to the Niagara peninsula, nor to the Annapolis Valley, which had been finding a market in the prairie provinces. During the recent years, British Columbia fruit had pretty well monopolized the prairie market, but it would not enjoy these lower rates, for the Crow's Nest rates did not apply to British Columbia. This showed that the railway advantage which, through proximity, British Columbia enjoyed in the prairie market, would be entirely lost.

DEBT DISCUSSION WILL BE AVOIDED

U. S. Informed That Dawes Report Only Will Be Taken Up.

Associated Press Despatch. London, June 26.—Premier MacDonald has informed United States Ambassador Kellogg that the forthcoming allied conference in London will be confined to the Dawes report, it is understood, and that Great Britain has obtained the promise of the other allies that the question of interallied debts will not be raised. It is stated in well-informed circles that Germany will be invited to be represented at the conference, but whether officially or through observers only has not yet been made known.

Ambassador Kellogg, who, it is understood, will represent the United States, probably in the capacity of official observer at the conference, must wait the official invitation from the British government before taking further steps. It is expected, however, that he will meet Premier MacDonald after the arrival in London of Colonel James A. Logan, American observer in the reparations commission, when they will discuss the position of the United States both as to the part it would take in the conference and its share in supporting the Dawes report.

It has been suggested that the attitude of the United States bankers towards the proposed loan to Germany will have much weight in preliminary discussion, particularly in making the report acceptable to Germany. Much of the success of the Dawes report depends upon the railroad committee, which was suggested by the report and is already functioning.

tioning. It is believed that this committee will be able to file a full report on the relations between the German railroads and reparations payments.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, June 26.—The government has not yet reached a decision to drop the bill providing for the alternative vote in single member constituencies. Premier King, in reply to a question from Robert Forke, Progressive leader, as to the accuracy of the report that this bill would not be proceeded with at the present session.

"AD" CLUB'S PICNIC IS HUGE SUCCESS

Tall Men Lose To Short—Miss Ross' Team Wins Game.

CONTESTS NOVEL

The fourth annual picnic of the Advertising and Sales Club held yesterday afternoon at Springbank Park was just as jolly and successful as the picnics of the previous three years, which is saying a good deal. The members of the club and their families attended to the number of about 150, and nobody could remember a dull dragging moment.

The "Tall Men" succumbed to the "Short Men" in an interesting game of softball by the score of 13 to 16. Bob Burns was the umpire, and O'Dell was the official scorer.

The tall men lined up as follows: W. Donahue, ss; G. A. Wenige, cf; J. Le. Ward, rf; G. W. Wesley, p; R. G. Griffin, c; W. D. Moffat, 1b; H. Paryon, 2b; Malcolm Moffat, 3b; R. Frank, lf.

The short men paraded as follows: C. A. Lumb, 1b; G. Knapp, ss; E. Hayden, c; L. Spry, 3b; T. Walsh, p; L. Walsh, lf; G. D. Sauter, rf; F. W. Wauha, cf; C. S. Bowie, c.

Mayor Wenige was the star at bat, banging out a homer, with two men on bases.

Following the men's game, the young ladies cavorted about the diamond. Mayor Wenige officiated as umpire at the plate, while C. A. Lumb, first vice-president, and Gordon Knapp, president, divided the arduous duties of base umpire. The side captained by Miss A. Ross galloped away from that led by Miss D. Santo, the score was 24 to 8. The team lined up as follows: A. Ross (captain), lf; G. Crawford, p; D. Yull, c; G. Cockrane, 1b; E. Gibberd, 2b; S. Long, 3b; M. Brown, ls; E. Timbrell, rf; H. Wenige, cf; V. Keene, ss; D. Santo (captain), 3b; V. Fritz, p; V. Curno, c; Kenney, lf; E. Hilbury, 2b; M. Santo, ls; H. Humeston, rf; L. Darling, lf; G. Hodgins, cf.

Breaks Bat.

Miss Veeda Fritz broke a bat in a vain attempt to reach first base on a slashing liner to Miss E. Gibberd, which the latter handled in real manly fashion. Miss D. Yull started behind the bat for the winners and knocked out a triple as well.

Charles Keen superintended a successful clock race, in which the shining light was Miss Veeda Fritz, who putted six flags with the splendidly low total of 12 strokes. Mrs. Keen won second prize for the ladies with a score of 17 strokes. Other ladies who competed were: Mrs. G. A. Wenige, Mrs. T. Walsh and Misses M. Santo, D. Kenney, L. Darling, M. Brown, E. Hayden, H. Humeston, E. Gibberd, H. Humeston, O. Santo and B. Clark.

First prize for the boys' competition, also putting from side flags, went to Stewart Keen with 18 strokes, closely seconded by Eddie Hayden with 17 strokes. Other boys who competed were V. Franks, E. Keen, L. Shaw and J. Stry.

Hole In One.

Ultimately a "hole in one" proved to be the winning shot for Lorne Stry in the gentlemen's event. The "one" came as the climax of a "secondary" contest between Stry and G. D. Sauter. C. S. Bowie and Arthur Gleason, all of whom had sunk their balls from four flags in eleven. After Mr. Stry had entered the ball of fame Messrs. Bowie and Gleason enjoyed themselves in a tete-a-tete match, stroke for stroke, for four extra flags, when G. Gleason finally succeeded and won second prize.

The races, which were run off as the opening number on the program, resulted as follows:

Girls over 10—Marion Keen, Virginia Black.

Boys over 12—David Lumb, Munroe Black.

Girls over 10—Lillian Hayden, Betty Knapp.

Boys over 12—Elmer Keen, George Sauter.

Twin race—Miss Crookford and G. W. Sauter, Mrs. C. Bowie and N. F. Donahue.

Elopement race—Miss Curno and R. Brewer, Mrs. Cynett and C. A. Lumb.

Relay race—Miss Fritz, Miss Cumbe, Miss Timbrell, Miss Cochrane, Miss Long, Miss Crookford.

The success of the picnic was due largely to the energetic committee in charge of the arrangements, consisting of G. Lumb, Gordon Griffin and Charles Keen.

WARD ABOLITION SOUGHT BY SMITH

Alderman Would Also Reduce City Council in London.

INTRODUCES MOTION

Ald. Edwin Smith's motion that the city solicitor be instructed to prepare a bylaw providing for the reduction of the city council from twelve members to eight, and for the extension of the term of office for each alderman from one to two years for submission to the electorate for a vote, made last night to the finance committee, was referred to the full council to deal with at its next meeting in July.

Included in this request to the city solicitor by the committee for inclusion in the bylaw was abolition of the ward system of electing the aldermen. The proposal was not discussed by members last night.

Ald. Smith also asked that in event of the people being in favor of this change, application be made to the legislature to make the changes valid and give the city a permanent government.

Backed By Chamber.
A letter was read from the secretary of the London Chamber of Commerce, suggesting a change of from twelve to four aldermen, each of whom would serve a two-year term, and a mayor who would serve one year. Abolition of the ward system of election was urged in this letter also.

A request by Dr. A. O. Jeffray, chairman of the library board, for the granting of the issue of debentures for $5,500 for the purchase of a building in London South to house a branch of the public library was recommended to the council. Dr. Jeffray explained that the library board had estimated the cost of the building at $5,500, and that it would be cheaper to buy the property than to rent a house. The interest on the debentures would be met from the library estimates. The bonds are for a twenty-year term.

Mayor Wenke demanded that some action be taken by the committee in the matter of the registry office, and was assured by Chairman Douglass that there was a prospective buyer in view. Ald. Douglass also stated that it had already been assessed by this official at $3,000. He promised that a tender for the building would be before the committee at its next meeting.

On Town Planning.

A delegation from the London Chamber of Commerce, headed by Jared Vinson, asked the committee what could be done in the way of finishing the Thomas Adams town-planning plan of the city in view of a cable lately received by him to the effect that he would complete the original contract for the original sum plus $500 expenses. His original contract called for an allowance of $500 for expenses, and there was some doubt as to whether this cable meant an additional $500 or merely the fulfillment of the agreement with the city. Mr. Vinson told the committee that the secretary of the chamber would get in touch with Mr. Adams during the week-end and find out his intention.

Chief Clerk Atkin reported the service truck at headquarters again out of action owing to a breakdown, and Thomas Terry, who at the request of the chief had inspected the truck, advised the committee that the motor in the engine was not capable of running the truck at a greater speed than 17 miles an hour without burning out. He advised the installation of a new differential on the rear axle that would allow a speed of 27 miles an hour without danger to the committee. The cost will be $200.

On the recommendation of Chairman Douglass, a letter will be sent to Ottawa asking the federal government is prepared to do in meeting the cost of removing the level crossing danger in the city.

Call For Tenders.

New tenders will be called for the printing of the city index. The fire chief was given permission to carry out repairs to the furnaces in numbers 2, 3, 4 and 5 fire halls. The market clerk was instructed to rent the new stalls in the east side market sheds at $20 a stall as soon as possible.

A letter from Frank White, M.P., stated that he had interviewed several members on the position of the city in the new redistribution plans and that the interests of the city would not be sacrificed. In answer to a request of the committee, stated that constables were paid a witness fee of 50 cents. The total witness fees paid to constables in 1923 had been $400 divided among 50 men. The same amount had been paid as witness fees to pure food and O. T. A. inspectors in 1923. The constables had to go without sleep after coming off their night shifts in order to attend morning police courts.

Lights will be installed immediately in the new east side market shed. The claim of Gordon Wright for remission of his fine incurred for failing to comply with the city plumb-bowling was paid. It was decided that all booths selling soft drinks should pay a business tax, and it was felt that the license which at present costs $1 was too small. It will probably be raised.

Alderman John Anderson informed the building inspector that the new fittings in the comfort station on the market square were not properly installed.

PHONOFILM STILL AROUSES INTEREST

Large Audiences Laud Talking Picture Shown At the Majestic Daily.

The newly-invented "Phonofilm" continues to be shown to interested Londoners at the Majestic Theatre. The Phonofilm is the most advanced step yet taken by science toward combining actual recording of sound with moving pictures, and has been made possible by an invention of Prof. Lee De Forest, which enables the sound of the human voice to be recorded simultaneously with the taking of a motion picture of the person talking, and then the production of the two as a "talking picture." Shown free of charge, for the first time in London, the picture has interested and continues to interest a great many people. It is shown three times daily.

THE ISLAND OF DEATH

A Weird Tragedy of a Man Who Called Himself
"Monsieur the Devil."

By H. BEDFORD JONES.

CHAPTER IX. In the Whalerboat.

The other smiled. "My dear fellow, absolutely impossible!"

"All the same, let us have the Nourme report that came in two days ago."

"Ten minutes later the man at the desk read aloud a sentence."

"Drowned in attempting to escape," he said. "I trust this satisfies you?"

"Evidently." The bearded one sighed. "Evidently! What about this American, this man Smith? The information that he was believed to be here in Saigon—"

"Was correct." The man at the desk glanced up, nodded. "I found this afternoon that he had been here, had been employed as a laborer at the quay."

"Had been?"

"He vanished from sight two days ago."

The newcomer made a gesture of resignation. "Not Smith has vanished, then, but a thousand dollars, which is more to the point." He picked up several official cables and telegrams and began to open them.

"Ah!" His voice again drew the eyes of the man at the desk. "Here is word from Hanoi. We must look out for two men, known as L'Etoile and Le Morpion—descriptions given. Also a request from the governor-general himself that we leave nothing undone to locate the man Smith. Devil take it! Who is this American, and what has he done? Why do they send us no details?"

The other man shrugged his shoulders. "Who knows? But we may find him. Five of our best men are going over the lower end of the city at this hour. What about the two men who are wanted?"

"A murder and robbery in Hanoi. See that the bulletins are copied and posted in the hall at once. With luck, we may pick up all three before dawn."

At this precise moment, the men under discussion were engaged in getting supplies aboard a whalerboat which lay at the wharf, not a hundred yards from the customs house.

Lebrun had taken in charge the whalerboat, which was moored openly. Presumably, the palm of the quay at the Messageries wharf on the river, watchman had been gilded, to prevent interference.

Curel and Smith were handing down provisions and boxes, while in the boat L'Etoile and Le Morpion stowed them away. Smith had known M. le Diable twenty-four hours, yet he had not the least idea of where they were going or what they were going to do. If his companions knew, they said nothing to him. Smith had not shared in the removal of Paul, the Breton boatman, but Curel had participated in that murder, with his usual bored air.

Suddenly an indistinct figure appeared from the shadows of the godowns, darted forward and was gone again. Lebrun came to the boat and spoke, addressing the two men below.

"Messieurs! The police are looking for you gentlemen. Le Morpion, you will have to go with us instead of remaining here."

There was a sound of hearty oaths from below. Monsieur the Devil took the arm of Curel and drew him to one side. He spoke in a low tone.

"You told me that you had been in the navy. You can navigate?"

"Perfectly," said Curel. "That is, if I have opium. My pills are gone, and I can find only pipe outlets."

"I know, I know," said Lebrun impatiently. "You who eat, cannot smoke, eh? Very well! I have a supply of pills ready for you. You must remain and take charge of that Des Gachons boat—apply for the job. Felice will make things easy for you, if you tell a convincing lie. If you cannot do it, then the devil take you! I want no inefficient ones."

"Oh, I'm second-rate enough for anything," said Curel philosophically. "You had better be," said Lebrun dryly. "We must get out of here at once. M. Smith! The police are in search of you!"

Smith chuckled as he joined them. "Not for the first time. I like this way of leaving town, too—right under the noses of the customs people, from the biggest wharf in the city!"

"Always audacity," quoted Lebrun, with a soft laugh and a glance at the lights of the nearby customs house. "Everything is stowed?" Very well. We must get down the river and be off Cape St. Jacques before daylight. Curel, can you accomplish your share?"

"If I have the opium," Lebrun handed him a package. "Then au revoir, and the devil's luck! Down with you, Smith, we're off this instant!"

"Up with the sail, once we are in the tide," he ordered softly. "Watch for police boats!"

The craft floated silently out into the current of the river. It merged into the mists that writhed slowly about the surface of the muddy water, and then it was gone into the night, absorbed. Curel gazed after it for a little, then turned and walked away, tearing at the package of opium with rumbling fingers. A queer smile was set upon his dissipated face, the smile of one who sees in prospect some very singular events.

The four men in the whalerboat went down the river without hindrance. Lebrun conned the lights and steered their course; once they passed within 30 feet of a gay Fluviale steamer, whose bright lights flooded them with brilliancy. Lebrun waved ironically at those who lined the rail, as the searchlight touched him.

When dawn heaved up out of the ocean, the whalerboat was swimming along beneath a brisk wind. The river and its narrow, widening entrance had fallen behind. To the east was a faint bar upon the horizon—Cap St. Jacques. Lebrun headed the boat into the south, steering by a cap impulse, lay beside him. This remarkable man was not questioned by his companions as to his navigating ability; one takes for granted that M. le Diable can do anything.

A little afterward the four breakfasted. Then Lebrun gave over the tiller to Le Morpion, who crouched above it like a bulking-jawed dog, and lay down to sleep upon some canvas. As he stretched he glanced at Smith and put one hand into his pocket.

CHAPTER X.
Red Death.

"Here is something that may interest you," he said, and handed Smith the folded paper which he had received from Felice, and which Felice Bonnard had taken from the table in the room of Berangere des Gachons. Then he closed his eyes and slept.

Smith, sitting beside L'Etoile, glanced at the paper and smiled sardonically. He took out his pipe and lighted it. Certainly, he reflected, this picture of J. Hudson Smith, shaven and trimmed and collared, looked very unlike the Smith whom he was now—the dirty-jawed ruffian bound for he knew not where!

The paper fell from his hand as he puffed. L'Etoile bent over, caught it as it fluttered. He saw the picture, and his one blazing eye opened wide in astonishment as he read at a glance the heavy lines of type below.

"Name of a dog!" he ejaculated softly, lifting his eye to Smith. "This—why this ventre-bleu looks like you!"

Smith laughed. "Thank you, my friend. Looks are not deceiving."

L'Etoile started. "You—why, it's not possible! I know who this man Smith is—at least, I heard in Hanoi that he—"

Here all in an instant, Smith perceived disaster leaping at him. His face hardened.

"You don't know everything!" he said, in a low voice. "Be careful." L'Etoile was so utterly taken aback by astonishment that for an instant he could not stare, in incredulous "But—why, I never connected you with him! This dog of hell is the one who—"

Smith's fingers gripped his arm. "Be careful!" said Smith, quietly. He realized that Le Morpion, who could hear nothing of what they said, was gazing at them curiously. "Be careful, I warn you!"

From L'Etoile broke a sudden bursting snarl of fury.

"You—hell be kind to you!" he gasped. "So this is your name, is it?"

The hand of Smith tightened on his arm. But the other arm moved, flashed, drove in and out like the head of a striking snake.

The other hand of Smith was in his jacket pocket. That pocket vomited a splash of red flame, gave vent to a single smashing report. From Le Morpion came a hoarse, inarticulate bellow. The figure of Lebrun seemed straight up, pistol in hand. But there was no need.

L'Etoile had fallen back against the corner of thwart and gunnel. His two hands were clasped about his throat, and through the fingers seeped a dreadful tide of bubbling crimson. A knife had fallen from his fingers into his lap. His eyes were staring for a moment at Lebrun, his lips were open and vainly trying to utter a word. Then his lips closed, his one eye fluttered shut, and he fell back limp in death.

Smith sat motionless, his left hand bringing a pistol into slight view. His face was creeping a deathly pallor. His eyes went to Lebrun.

"What's this?" crackled the latter's voice.

"We disagreed," said Smith. "You've lost L'Etoile. Don't ask questions, you fool! You'll lose me if you don't give me a hand—quick!"

His right hand, pressed against his side, came away red. L'Etoile's knife had bitten him. Then, quietly, he laid down the pistol and doubled forward, unconscious.

"He shot L'Etoile!" cried out Le Morpion, his voice terrible. One would have said that this scoundrel, this unspeakable ruffian, was pierced by grief for his dead comrade in sin. "He shot L'Etoile!"

"Don't be a fool, you! What caused the quarrel?"

"I couldn't hear. They were talking," L'Etoile snapped with his knife.

"And paid for it," said Lebrun. "I am sorry. But this fellow Smith—did you note how he used his brains? Said I'd lose him if I didn't act! Clever, I call it. He knew that I couldn't afford to lose two at once. Keep your hands off him, understand? This man is worth a hundred. He has more brains than L'Etoile."

"How about me?" grunted Le Morpion.

"You're a friend. He's a mercenary. Besides, he is to be blamed for our future sins."

Le Morpion saw sense in this, and said no more, although his eyes were very dark and evil.

Meantime, Lebrun was bending over the figure of Smith. Removing jacket and skirt, he laid bare the side—white, firm skin marred by an ugly scar that was slowly welling. Then, and coolly enough, Lebrun searched the unconscious man from hair to socks; searched him thoroughly, carefully, unmercifully. What ever the object of his search, it was unattained. He replaced everything.

After this, he gave his attention to the wound, which was not serious. He bound it very deftly, replaced shirt and jacket, and left Smith to recover of his own volition. He picked up the body of L'Etoile, poised it a moment at the boat's edge, and sent it overboard.

"A good friend, a faithful friend, an honest friend," he said, gazing out after the bobbing speck. Yet, perhaps, the words were sardonic; there was a queer gleam in his eyes as he gazed.

"What brought it on?" demanded Le Morpion sulkily. "What caused it?"

"Who knows? Waken me when this man opens his eyes. Touch him not. Speak not. Only—waken me." With this, he took his former place on the canvas, and appeared to fall asleep at once.

The morning wore past in magnificence of solitude, the sun blazing in the sky, the ocean all blue-green and desolate, empty of ships. The whalerboat skimmed on and on, pushed steadily by the crisp breeze, Le Morpion steering her skillfully and cunningly. The seas swung past endlessly, the foam hissing and swirling under the lee rail to bubble out behind in a thin wake. On the canvas, Lebrun slept, an arm over his face; above the tiller crouched Le Morpion, watching, always watching. Then, suddenly, the eyes of Smith opened.

Le Morpion was gazing upward at the moment. Like the Indian who does not see the waving grass yet perceives something amiss, with nature's ordering, the man perceived the movement. An inarticulate word came from his lips. Instantly, Lebrun sat up and gazed at Smith; he was wide awake, speaking even as he sat up. One would have thought that he had slept with the words breaking on his lips, so swiftly did he speak.

"Ah, Smith, what did you and L'Etoile quarrel over?"

Where Brass Bowls Indicate Barber.

In many of the European cities barber shops do not use the familiar striped pole, but instead a small brass bowl is hung over the entrance door. Most of the shops are patronized by both men and women.

ONLY CHILDREN SHOULD BE LET TEASE CHILDREN

They Are On the Same Plane and Are Able to Answer Back.

OFTEN UNKIND

Crown-Ups Sometimes Hurt
Sensitive Children by Their
So-Called Fun.

By JULIA HOYT.

Number eight of the commandments concerns something of which I spoke in a former article of mine in regard to children. It is: "Thou shalt always answer a child's questions." I must confess to a little sympathy for parents, relatives and friends of children who take that commandment literally. Although I believe strongly that we should answer every question put to us by a child when an answer is within the range of possibility, I know from personal experience that they ask many questions which I, at least, have found myself quite incapable of answering.

The theory is the right one, however, and not at all followed by many older people. They often coolly dismiss any question that may be a little bit difficult for them to answer merely by saying, "Oh, you wouldn't understand," or "You are too little to know." No matter if there are a thousand a day, answer the questions.

No Teasing.

Another commandment is, "Thou shalt not tease a child," to which I say, "Hear! Hear!" Children, as we all know, are extremely sensitive and generally rather shy. Besides, the quality which we all claim (but few really possess)—a sense of humor—is not very highly developed in them. The child is not unique in lacking a sense of humor about himself. We find this lack in people of all ages, and not only in children, but in adults. The child is not unique in lacking a sense of humor about himself. We find this lack in people of all ages, and not only in children, but in adults.

The thing, however, which makes teasing a child extremely unfair is that the child is probably not capable of answering back and is certainly not permitted to do so. Many people seem to think that they have a right to take advantage of this fact, and tease a child for this reason when they would not dare to tease an adult.

They seem to think that a child has no feeling and will tell you that they are too young to be made unhappy by any such little thing as teasing. Yet I have seen an expression of absolute suffering come over a child's face while its doting mother or father tells some acquaintance some wrong word or expression used by the child, or some question that has been seriously asked and which they considered extremely funny.

To an adult it is, perhaps, a small thing; to the child it is at that moment tragically important. A child's sensitiveness is very highly developed and many of the qualities

Boyle Memorial Club Makes Presentation at Picnic.

At their annual picnic held this afternoon at Queen's Park, the members of the Boyle Memorial Mothers' Club presented their retiring president, Mrs. Golby, with a handsome set of jet earrings and necklace. The presentation was made by Principal Ferguson of the school.

GIVES PUPILS' RECITAL.

Miss Dorothy Munroe presented her piano pupils in recital at the Institute of Musical Art last night. The delightful program which they presented included numbers by two assisting artists, Mrs. S. Orth, vocal pupil of Miss Nora Little, and Miss Hazel Partridge, elocution pupil of Miss Jean Ferguson. Those taking part were: Louise Blake, Evelyn Blake, Hilda Cadbury, Margaret Glen, Peggy Campbell, Edith Jones, Annie Holif, Jean Ferguson, Ruth Northey, Mary Armstrong, Dorothy Postle, Dorothy Wright, Mary Campbell, Lorna Ashplant and Della Peckham. The orchestra accompaniment on a second piano was played by Miss D. L. Munroe.

which later on may tend to protect him from that sensitiveness have not as yet developed. Consequently he is humiliated and hurt by what is sometimes called innocent teasing.

Illustrates Her Point.

I can remember the case of a little girl and her bachelor uncle, which illustrates how important teasing is to the mind of a child. This uncle really loved the little girl very much, but seemed to think that the way to gain her affection was to tease her incessantly. The child grew to dread his visits to a point where she had to be almost forced by her parents even to see him. In fact, it made such an impression on her youthful mind that even later, when she grew to understand him, that curious subconscious feeling was never eliminated. The impressions of childhood are deeper and more lasting than any impressions gained in later years.

The only kind of teasing that is any good for a child is teasing from another child. The reason for this is that there they are on an equal plane; they can tease back. A certain amount of this kind of teasing is actually of benefit, I believe. None of us must take ourselves too seriously; that we cannot stand a little humor at our own expense, and the teasing of a brother or an intimate friend cannot do a child much harm. But it is my belief that this should be left entirely to the child's equal and never done by the people against whom the child is helpless to retort.

CLEVER VIOLIN PUPILS ARE HEARD IN RECITAL

Mrs. Grant Harris Directs
Enjoyable Program Given
Last Night.

The audience which gathered in New St. James' Church school last night to hear the closing recital by the violin pupils of Mrs. Grant Harris was delighted with the excellent rendition of the program. In the ensemble work especially the small pupils showed up to advantage. Together they played a Chopin waltz and nocturne, a Schumann nocturne, "The Blue Danube Waltz" by Strauss, Dvorak's "Humoresque," Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" and a "Feet Day" by C. Jacobs-Bond. The piano and violin solo numbers were also attractively played, sometimes even reaching points of brilliance.

During the evening, the presentation of certificates from the Royal College of Music, London, England, to nine pupils, was made by Prof. Quantz.

Do You Know Mrs. Discourager?

Wages War on This Type of Joy-Killer.

Let's Have an "Open Season" for Killing Off the Human Pests Who Are Always Taking the Joy Out of Life by Looking On the Very Darkest Side of Everything.

Do you know a woman whose alias may be Mrs. Brown, or Mrs. Smith, or Mrs. Thompson, but whose real name is Mrs. Discourager?

You have a new frock and a new hat that cost you a lot of money and that the saleswomen swore to you were the last word from Paris. And, as you survey yourself in the mirror, you thank God that your lines are still in your figure and not in your face, and you inwardly purr with that sense of well being that a woman only feels when she knows that she is smartly dressed. Then you meet the Discourager. She gives you the once-over and says:

"Oh, you have got a new hat, haven't you? Very pretty, but blue isn't your color. Always makes you look sallow, and I think you make a mistake in buying simple little things. They're so popular with the young for you, and makes you look older—sort of old sheep masquerading as spring lamb, you know."

"And your dress! Of course, that printed crepe is attractive, but it is getting so common. Everybody has it. No distinction to it. Why, I saw a woman yesterday with a dress on exactly like yours, only handsomer. That drape on the side accentuates the size of your hips. You're getting quite stout, aren't you?"

And all of your pleasure in your pretty costume is gone, and never again will you put it on without every one of Mrs. Discourager's strictures coming to your mind. While you are gulping down your chagrin your precious darling only child comes into the room.

"Ah," says the Discourager, "here's little Betty. My dear, how badly she looks! So thin and pale. Looks as if she might have had tonsils, or perhaps she is threatened with tuberculosis. Have you had her examined for anemia? I have known so many children who just pined away and died, with nothing apparently the matter with them. Just didn't have the stamina to live. Poor, puny little creatures that looked just like her."

And you shudder as if an icy hand had been laid on your heart, as she puts into words the fear that you will not admit even to your secret soul. You show the Discourager your new house.

"Very nice, I'm sure," she says, "but I am afraid you made a mistake in building in this location. It is too far uptown, and the surrounding property is too undeveloped. You never can tell what sort of neighbors you are going to have, and they may build oil stations and garages all around you. Don't you think your living-room is too dark and your dining-room too small?"

"Of course, that white woodwork is beautiful, but it takes one maid continually scrubbing to keep it clean, and goodness knows whether you will ever be able to get any servants to come out this far or not. You should have those back stairs changed at once. They are entirely too steep. Really, I think that contractor is nothing short of a highway robber. The price he charged you for a house like this! Why, it isn't worth half the money."

And you look with disillusioned eyes forevermore on the home that had seemed so precious to you, but upon whose every fault the Discourager has turned the spotlight.

The Discourager's own affairs do not go very well. Concerning them she says:

"No, my husband does not get along very well. I am sure I don't know why, because he is energetic and industrious, and when we were married he was full of enthusiasm and ambition, and was doing splendidly. But he seems to have sort of let down. Lost his grip."

"But he can't say I haven't warned him against things. I have. When we were married he was just working his head off for a big company and I told him how foolish it was, that they never would appreciate it and that he would never get anywhere, and I just kept at him about it until he threw up the job."

"Then he went in business for himself, and I had a time holding him down. He has wanted to branch out and expand and do things new ways, but I have always told him he would fail, and that he didn't have the ability to put through big things, and that he was too self-confident and optimistic. And so, at last, he has given up and just plods along."

"Yes, my daughter Millie's marriage has turned out unhappily. Too bad, for she was just crazy about her husband when they were first married, and she thought he was perfect; but I showed her her mistake and pointed out all of his faults to her."

"I made her see how foolish she was to be sacrificing herself to do every little thing he wanted done, breaking her neck to try to please him. I bucked her up to stand up for her rights. Why, if it hadn't been for me she would have been a perfect slave to that man yet!"

"And Tom's wife has left him and gone back to her mother. It nearly killed Tom, because he was perfectly infatuated with her, and so blind to her faults that he didn't even know she was a wasteful housekeeper and dressed extravagantly, and played bridge nearly every afternoon until I opened his eyes to her faults."

And so the Discourager goes her devastating way. Isn't it a pity there isn't an open season when it is lawful to kill such human pests?

A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, in Marley Place, when Helen Victoria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins, was married to Kenneth S. Walter Hawkins, rector of the Anglican Church at Blyth, and a cousin of the bride. The wedding march was played by Miss Dorothy Unshill, and the bride who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held, with buffet refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Charters left later on a boat trip to Montreal, and upon their return they will reside in Toronto.

HOWE-BROWN.

Egerton Street parsonage was the scene of a quiet wedding yesterday morning, when Lillian Pearl Brown was married to Russell Dean Howe, both of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McIntyre, 1010 Gladstone avenue, Windsor, Ont., on Wednesday evening, June 25, at 5 o'clock, when their only daughter, Cora Mae, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter Richard Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanders, 46 Catherine street, St. Thomas, Ont. The Rev. Mr. Thomas of Windsor Central Methodist Church officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a gown of pink georgette and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley. The house was prettily decorated throughout with palms and roses.

After the ceremony, at which only the immediate relatives were present, a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Later in the evening the happy couple, who were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts, including several substantial checks, left, amid showers of confetti and good wishes, on a trip to the Western States, the bride travelling in dress, with hat to match, and gray point-toe coat. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Sanders will reside at 391 Talbot street, St. Thomas, Ontario, and will be at home to their friends after July 20.

HALE STREET MOTHERS ENJOY MERRY PICNIC

Members Present Miss Lottie Garrett With Lovely Bouquet of Handkerchiefs.

One of the most successful events ever held by the Hale Street Mothers' Club was the picnic at Springbank yesterday. After a lively baseball game and program of races supper was served out under the trees. Marking the event as a special feature, was the presentation of Miss Lottie Garrett of a great shower bouquet of handkerchiefs. Miss Garrett leaves in August for England, where she will spend the coming year as an exchange teacher. The address was read by Mrs. Lashbrook and the presentation made by Mrs. Beamish.

It is interesting to note that Miss Garrett attended the Hale Street School when a small girl, and that her brother is now principal of that school. Two teams met each other on the baseball field, Mrs. Watson's team defeating Mrs. Werner's team with a score of 26 to 23. The following program of sports was run off: Stunt races, Mrs. C. Thompson, Mrs. J. McEwen and Mrs. J. Lewis; time race, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. Kew, and Mrs. Mustill; bobbed hair race, Miss Garrett, Mrs. Hodgins, Mrs. J. One hundred chapters were represented at the convention by 419 members.

The date of the chapter picnic, which was to have been July 9, has been changed to July 30, the event to take place at Springbank.

Toronto Hires More Postal Workers As Strikers Again Reject Govt. Plan

LETTER-CARRIER SERVICE IS AIDED

More Postal Workers Taken On at Toronto as Strikers Refuse Plan.

SITUATION SERIOUS

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, June 27.—Rejection by local striking postal workers yesterday of the government's offer of June 15 of a sub-committee to investigate the differences between the men and the Dominion authorities was followed up this morning by the employment of an additional number of substitute workers, whose names had been placed on the "accepted list" at the last oral examinations conducted by representatives of the civil service commission.

It was also announced by Postmaster W. E. Lemon that a limited letter-carrier service was inaugurated this morning from station "G" in the eastern section of the city. The men were not allowed when they commenced their rounds.

The strikers declared that they will not return to work unless taken back in a body, and then to receive their former position and former wages and without losing their seniority or pension status.

Despite the efforts of local officials to effect distribution of the mail, the situation is extremely serious. Business houses maintain that the skeleton service provided is totally inadequate and only a small percentage of the normal day's mail is being received in the majority of instances.

FRANCIS FACES THREE BAD CHECK CHARGES

Youth Pleads Not Guilty in Court Today—Bail Is Refused.

Edgar Francis, arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of false pretences, pleaded not guilty in police court today, the case being adjourned till tomorrow on request of Crown Attorney Judd. Bail was refused by the court today, and another was laid later on in the evening. The crown attorney stated there might be several others as a result of telephone conversations he had had with business men.

Prisoner's counsel, J. G. Gillanders entered a plea of not guilty to the charges, the first being laid by R. H. & J. J. Dowler, who allege Francis obtained $35 from them on May 30 by issuing a check, not honored at the bank.

Francis was charged with obtaining $45 on June 11. "I admit my client owes some money, but it is a civil matter, not criminal matter," declared Mr. Gillanders, in appealing for bail.

Mr. Graydon refused bail, stating he had received a good many complaints about the prisoner.

THIRD APPEARANCE BRINGS FINE OF $25

Leniency Denied Young Man—Shooting Craps on the Street.

The third court appearance in several weeks of a young man charged with intoxication brought him a $25 fine or a month in jail, when he appeared in court this morning.

Sent down for being drunk, he was brought up from the jail a week ago to answer a charge of disorderly conduct, by shooting craps on the street. He promised to leave London, but was back again in the prisoner's box today.

"I'm afraid I'll have to send you to the reformatory," stated Mr. Graydon.

"I'd like to get suspended sentence," I won't be here again," pleaded the young man.

"Three times in a few weeks—leniency doesn't seem to do any good," declared the court in imposing sentence.

LONDON HEALTH SOCIETY SUES FOR $584.87

Graydon & Graydon have issued a court writ on behalf of the London Health Association against Mrs. Isabel Day of this city, for $584.87, alleging this amount is due for board, lodging, medical attention and other necessities for J. G. Day, son of the defendant, and supplied by the plaintiffs at the request of the defendant.

The particulars include 191 a year's board and lodging at $3 a day, a telegram and $10 worth of cigarettes.

FAVORITISM BY ADMIRAL CREATES TROUBLE IN NAVY

Grecian Naval Officers Demand Removal of Minister of Marine.

DISAFFECTION GROWS

President of Republic Takes Sides With Dissidents.

Associated Press Despatch. London, June 27.—The disaffection in the Greek navy, reported in Athens yesterday is due to the suspicion of some of the officers and the minister of marine Admiral Hadjirakos has been guilty of favoritism in making some recent promotions, says the correspondent of the Morning Post. Eighty-one of the total of 170 higher officers demanded the removal of the minister, and the reversal of the promotions, threatening otherwise to resign.

Premier Papanastasiou is quoted as declaring this action tantamount to mutiny for which the officers would be suitably punished.

According to the Daily Express, President Constantine is in favor of the dissidents, and has quarrelled sensationally over the issue with the premier. The latter is said to have told the president that his intervention might lose him his position. The premier ordered the arrest of several officers, including the president's son, who was among the malcontents.

The strikers declared that they will not return to work unless taken back in a body, and then to receive their former position and former wages and without losing their seniority or pension status.

Despite the efforts of local officials to effect distribution of the mail, the situation is extremely serious. Business houses maintain that the skeleton service provided is totally inadequate and only a small percentage of the normal day's mail is being received in the majority of instances.

GoodShip 'Aitken' Homeward Bound

Elaborate Ceremony Planned On Arrival.

No plans have been made yet for the arrival of "H. M. S. Aitken" at the fire hall next Wednesday, but the fire chief plans to give the lost ship a warm welcome.

The ship has been ordered for several months to be used in accident cases in the river, but till a few days ago nothing was heard of it. It is expected that the admiral of the Swiss navy will be invited to attend the ceremonies which will be very elaborate. Although nothing is known of the ship's fate, it is expected that the contents of the bottle that was thrown over the bow will be of some value.

P. S. The tender for water wings for the firemen has not been let yet.

RECORD FETE PLANNED FOR DOMINION DAY

All ex-service men who are going to the celebration will find in front of the Dugout at the City Hall at 10:30 and be ready to march off at 10:45.

An invitation has been sent to all ex-service men in the industrial plants in London.

TOWE RECOMMENDS CENTRAL RELIEF PLAN

Alderman Will Call For Action at Juvenile Court Meeting.

At the meeting this afternoon of the juvenile court committee, Alderman Allan Towe will recommend the work of the various charitable and relief societies in the city be centered in one office and that a central clearing office be instituted. This is in line with his suggestion in January of this year and is in accordance with the statement of Judge Quintin Warner of the court.

Mr. Towe believes that whoever is placed in charge of this work should be paid a salary by the city, and in the event of the work being turned over to the judge of the juvenile court that this would meet his requirements and the requirements of his congregation which at the present time has to pay an assistant to do his work that otherwise the sector would do.

ATHLETIC MEET AT FAIR IS PLAN

M.A.A.A. Will Negotiate With Board For Big Event at Exhibition.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Manufacturers' Amateur Athletic Association, held in the Y. M. C. A. last night, attended by representatives of 21 manufacturing, industrial and commercial houses of the city, Secretary G. R. Sinclair was instructed to write the Western Fair Board proposing that the M. A. A. A. meet be held on Saturday, Sept. 6, the concluding day of the Fair.

Such a decision was arrived at by the M. A. A. A. after due consideration of the report of the president, John C. Doldge, concerning an interview the association's delegates had with Secretary W. D. Jackson regarding the scheme Wednesday afternoon. Secretary Sinclair was also instructed to ask the Fair Board for a joint conference on the matter at the board's earliest convenience.

Were the scheme to go through as proposed, the meet would parallel the big sport meet held on the concluding day of the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, and as such, in the opinion of the M. A. A. A. officers, would prove of mutual benefit and profit to all concerned.

Other business transacted at the meeting by the association included the appointment of the program and prize committees for the big meet. The committee on prizes consists of the following: J. J. McHale, M. Mitchell, R. Watson, W. A. Godfree and Misses Kennedy, Procks, Porter and Walsh. The committee to arrange the program of sports, includes the following: J. J. McHale, M. Mitchell, R. The inquest into the death of Richard Leathorne, a deaf mute, who was killed last Friday night, when he attempted to cross the C. N. R. tracks, near Hale street, will be held tonight at the police station at 8 o'clock. The jury met last Saturday noon to view the body, and then voted an adjournment until tonight.

Leathorne was found by a brakeman of a freight train about an hour after the accident. He thought he saw an object lying along the side of the track, and when he went back he discovered the body of the victim.

Constable Nollis stated he picked up the defendant's car at Hyman street and paced him from Piccadilly street. He stopped Mr. Putterbough and asked him if he was aware he was exceeding the speed limit and got no answer.

Mr. Gillanders stated Mr. Putterbough was willing to accept the constable's evidence, the latter admitting defendant's car was the only one on the street at the time.

CHILDREN AT HOSPITAL GIVEN FRESH AIR FUN

A new system has been in operation at the Children's Hospital since the warm weather has arrived. There are a number of shade trees on the lawn of the hospital and when the day is warm the children are brought out on the lawn.

It makes a picturesque scene when all the little ones are gathered out there. The afternoon is usually spent playing games that most of the children can join in although those who are unable to play seem to enjoy the spectacle of the others hard at play.

ROOSEVELT SPIRIT CALLED BIG NEED

Modesty may be a delightful thing in woman, but it is not particularly admirable as a national virtue, according to John McHale, manager of the Scott-McHale Shoe Company, who addressed the Kiwanis Club today. Modesty, Mr. McHale stated, is Canada's besetting sin.

"What we need," he declared, "is a Roosevelt, who will go from one end of the country to the other, preaching the doctrine of 'Canada know thyself'; adjusting us to realize the good gifts the Creator has put in our laps, and not to bow the knee in false worship before the industrial gods of other lands."

Mr. McHale criticized the Canadian lack of self-appreciation, a tendency to underrate the products of her own factories, and to overrate those of other countries, particularly those of the United States and Great Britain. The prestige afforded imported goods by the buying public, he said, forces dealers to include them in stock, even though they know that they are forced to ask a higher price for an inferior article. FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1924.

There Is One Law in Canada.

A peculiar situation has developed in the Grande Prairie district, some distance from Edmonton, where a group of foreign residents have set themselves up as a law-making body, regardless of the fact that this business is fairly well attended to already.

The Edmonton despatch, telling of the condition, says the secretary of the organization, known as the Lakeview Community League, admits having made threats to Anglo-Saxons living in the community, and will come up for trial in September.

Why September? If the conditions are as serious as the report indicates, the matter should be attended to at once.

Canada gives an opportunity to all who come to make good, but only on the understanding that there is one source of law, and one court for the administration of that law in this country.

And if there are those who think otherwise, there is no need waiting until September to make the point very clear to them.

We Have Freedom and Safety.

An Armenian came in to inquire about being naturalized in this country. He was not sure how it was done.

Was it for himself that he required the information?

No, for a brother who had not yet come to Canada, but whom he was anxious to have in this country.

His broken language told the following: I want him here in Canada if I can get him in. He has had to flee with the rest of his countrymen three times to escape the Turk; if the Turk again gets control of the place where he now is he will be killed with thousands of others. I want him here in Canada where he can work and go home at night with no person to bother him.

The average Canadian never takes that into consideration when thumbing over his personal or national assets. It never occurs to him that he cannot go where he likes with no fear of a people organized for butchery assaulting him.

The Canadian accepts these things in a matter-of-fact way, and he may imagine that conditions are the same all over the world.

If our British citizenship means anything to us, it spells freedom and safety, two qualities that the Armenian has never known.

What An Electric Storm Costs.

Scientists have a way of talking about things that gives the impression of calm indifference to all that scares and concerns the ordinary man.

A great big streak of lightning that hurtles through space, opens the sky up for a strip that looks like a yard and a half wide, and seems to be satisfied only by taking the steeple off a church or knocking the chimney from the back kitchen—the scientist looks on quietly, takes a pencil and starts to figure on the back of an envelope.

He announces that it is forceful and impressive because of its high voltage. In a few more minutes he has it figured out that it was not worth 78 cents as far as electrical energy is concerned.

The late Dr. Steinmetz before his death claimed that the average bolt of lightning was no greater in power than the energy stored up in a pint of gasoline. At the rate paid for electric lights in cities with which he was familiar the average streak of lightning was not worth $1; on the basis of prices paid for power, not over 20 cents.

The same authority had it figured out that a person with a very small gas engine could make as much electricity for 80 cents worth of gas as was developed in an average thunder storm.

It's very interesting to have it all worked out on that basis; it might even make a timid person resolve not to be afraid of any 60-cent electrical storm, yet there would be the mental reservation that it would be much nicer to make one's own supply of electricity rather than have it shot at him from the heavens.

A Gift Wisely Bestowed.

The late Dr. F. R. Eccles, through the provisions of his bequests, will continue to make his helpful influence felt in connection with the medical school of the University of Western Ontario for many years to come.

His intimate knowledge of the beginning and present attainments and requirements of the school made it possible for him to extend his assistance in a way best suited to count to the greatest advantage.

The late Dr. Eccles' gift to the medical school is not only munificent, but wisely stated.

Still Safe at Thirty.

The Prince of Wales has passed the thirty mark as calendars go, and all the old gossips can hardly sit still because he has not been married.

If the prince had scampered off with all the brides that have been picked out for him and often tossed at his head he'd be the world's most-married man.

Long before the world war started, the match-makers had it planned that he should marry a daughter of the royal house of Russia; then a daughter of the German kaiser. He did neither.

Every time a royal visitor arrives in England with an eligible daughter, the rumpus starts again. Of late it has been a princess from Rumania; a little while before a princess from Italy.

In between times it is Princess This and Lady That, and all the wagging tongues get a fresh start in a desire to shove the prince from the path of single carelessness to the place where he will have to pay the taxes and lock the back door at night.

No doubt he will get married some time, but why not leave him alone? He has demonstrated that he can't be coaxed or driven, but he'll go plunging in some day, because men over thirty fall hard when they do tumble.

Wasting a Day.

The discussion of the report of the committee investigating the charges laid by Guss Porter against Hon. James Murdock shows how easy it is for parliament to waste a whole day.

There was nothing brought out in the discussion that had not been reviewed in the committee.

The vote might just as well have been taken the first half-hour of the afternoon sitting as at 2:15 o'clock the following morning.

And yet the whole day went in a discussion that was purely partisan from every angle.

It was not a day of accomplishment. It was a waste of time.

Where Noise Counts Most.

When the name of McAdoo was brought before the Democrats' convention in New York there was a demonstration that lasted for an hour. When the name of Governor Al. Smith came the following day, the demonstration lasted another hour and was louder and more awful than the McAdoo affair.

Bands marched through the place, paid rosters in the galleries broke loose, all manner of noise-making contraptions were let loose. Noise, more noise, and still more noise was the one thing required.

The old gentleman who taps his cane gently on the floor and says "Hear, hear," now and then—well, there's not even a seat in the aisle for him.

No Turns on Saturdays.

The traffic committee of London has decided that there shall be neither right or left hand turns at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets on Saturdays, and the motorists will agree that the move is necessary to make the handling of traffic there a simpler and a safer matter.

The left hand turn has been eliminated at times when the traffic was very heavy in the late afternoon or evening, but the right hand turn, a more dangerous thing from the standpoint of the pedestrian, has been so far left alone.

The safety of the pedestrian is the chief consideration in making this move, and the right hand turn, whereby a motorist goes through the stream of traffic rather than with it, is a source of danger on a crowded corner. Drivers should give the traffic committee every assistance in making this rule effective. It is in the interests of street safety, and a reasonable regulation.

Only Twenty Per Cent Voted.

A money bylaw was placed before the people of Stratford, and of a possible 4,500 votes only 813 were polled.

The Beacon-Herald of Stratford says that the vote would have been smaller had not many of the voters been taken to the polls and others urged to get out and vote.

The result may signify apathy and indifference, but that is not the danger point.

In such an atmosphere, would it not be possible for a doubtful proposition with an aggressive backing to get out enough voters to carry the thing?

Indifference about voting is not simply an annoying feature, but there are cases where it can be a dangerous one. The history of municipalities readily proves this.

Note and Comment.

The St. Catharines Standard man is sure that confidence is all a lot of people have in the bank.

Turnip growers had an organization meeting at Galt. Now then let's watch for an "Eat More Turnips Week."

Wild woman has been discovered near Port Arthur. Yes, and there are more of them not so far away as Port Arthur.

On a sultry evening the radio says: "The next number—gzzzzrh—will be by—gzzzzrh—who has seen—gzzzzrh—the famous gwwww."

They're playing ball now on the site where the new city hall was supposed to stand. Still the cry "You're out!" is one that's heard after every civic election.

When the young men tie a rag around their heads when playing tennis, it's hard to decide whether it's to keep the brain from wiggling or the shiek cut from getting ruffled.

Two London men were arrested for creating a disturbance by starting a fight. One man had money, the other had none, so the one who had put up two bail fees for appearance the following day. Rather a bright spot on the police court blotter.

Divorce was discussed by a speaker from Iowa at a gathering of social workers in Toronto. That he had a prolific subject to talk about is proved by the fact that in 1897 U. S. had one divorce in 17 marriages, while in 1919 the figure was one to seven.

It is to be regretted that the resignation of Principal M. W. Althouse of Rectory Street School means his departure from London to Toronto. During his teaching period of 35 years Mr. Althouse has made a large contribution to the aims and ideals of the boys and girls who have attended his school. He is the type of citizen who should remain in London.

Dr. Frank Crane

The Blessing of Graciousness.

Graciousness is the kindness and gentleness that clothes power. It is the opposite of flattery and severity.

Any common person may be polite and considerate when he is afraid or when he has something to gain by it.

It is the pure adornment of a superior nature. The literal meaning of the word "grace" is that it is a "shining." That is to say, it is the natural good-will of a person shining through his speech and manner.

It is one of the best tests of good breeding. It is the sign of earth's true aristocracy, just as brusqueness, domineering and tyranny are signs of innate vulgarity.

Graciousness is a subtle charm that renders its possessor attractive.

Most of us want the affection and esteem of those with whom we have to do—not only our neighbors and social acquaintances, but the butcher, the baker, the iceman, the janitor and the housemaid. And the price we pay in order to get ourselves surrounded by the good-will of these people is graciousness.

Graciousness is not benevolence, for it contains no element of superiority.

It is not condescension nor patronage. It is simply kindly and genuine good-will and it shines from our heart through our actions and speech upon those around us.

Graciousness is much more common in the Orient than it is in the West. It seems to be a late product in the life of a people.

The person who thinks that graciousness is not worth while and that he has no time to bother about it causes himself a great deal of trouble. He will find that his life moves with a good deal of friction, as an automobile would go without oil.

Those who are inherently selfish and vulgar accept graciousness as a sign of weakness and do not hesitate to take advantage of it. Very often if you are gracious to an employee he will proceed to reward you by neglecting his work and if you are gracious to a merchant he will overcharge you, and if you are gracious to a man with whom you do business he will either think that you have designs upon him or set you down as a fool.

Woman, especially, whose power lies in her charm, needs graciousness, and many a beautiful or gifted woman finds herself generally disliked simply because she neglects this.

Graciousness is not something that you can put on or off at will. The secret of it lies in your inner thought and in your real disposition. If it is there you need have no fear that in some way or other it will shine out.

Those Fickle Men

Men's styles, of course, do not change much, and are much more conservative than those followed by the ladies.—Note from fashion paper.

The man who wrote such stuff as that ain't keen enough to walk and live, he has a brain much like a squash, a memory like the family sieve.

Why, can't he mind not long ago, when men was wearin' pants so tight, they had to get the boot-jack in to get the things off for the night—they made 'em tight clean to the ground, a-jammin' in at every point, and skinnin' men they used to look as though they'd snap off at the joint.

And then they carved them big on top and later big around the feet, a-flappin' out about the boots each time they venture on the street.

Then can't you mind when men had boots with toes a-racin' to a point, they squeezed the toes into a knot and threw the bunions out of joint.

Why, men wore paper collars once, then rubber ones around the neck, and then they had such monstrous ties that two would overflow a peck.

And fancy vests they had their fling, you'd see the things for most a block, and some was red and green and blue, they'd stop the staid old kitchen clock.

Then more wore whiskers on their face, a goodly growth of lilac trees, to decorate their frontispiece and waft upon the summer breeze.

There was a time some years gone by when my young memory takes its roots, when men they plastered lard and oil upon their pair of Sunday boots.

Yet some galoot he starts to write how men ain't bothered 'bout the style, and how they let the world go by, sweet bliss encirclin' them the while—why, men has gone the circle round, a-flin' up from head to feet, and makin' changes just as fast as any flapper on the street.—ARK

What a Trial Proved

(From the Christian Science Monitor.)

A moral which can be drawn from the exhaustive test made by a large American taxicab company to prove that speeding through crowded city streets, while highly dangerous, only rarely saves time, is the fact which almost all observant motorists must have half convinced themselves of many times, namely, that the general rate of motor traffic in such conditions is an extraordinarily efficient speed regulator, which refuses to be disregarded. In this particular instance it was shown that of 1,000 test trips, the 500 which were conducted at an attempted reckless speed, with the drivers taking advantage of every trick known to the craft, effected only an insignificant saving of time over the 500 made at a rate of less than 20 miles an hour, in which every traffic regulation and driving courtesy were carefully observed. Surely such a demonstration ought to convince the average driver once and for all that it is useless to attempt to "beat the traffic" along crowded city thoroughfares.

To Returned Soldier.

There is Only One Way To Proceed, And That is First To Secure a Divorce.

An inquiry from a returned soldier about his wife stated that he had left her in 1919 because she went to live with another man, and since then has neither seen nor heard of her. The inquirer wants to know if he could bring his 16-year-old daughter to the city and have her act as housekeeper for him.

The father has a perfect right to have his daughter act as housekeeper for him, providing he is able to find and keep suitable premises.

He further asks if he can marry again. There is only one course open to him, regardless of where his wife is, and that is to secure a divorce, and if the facts are as stated in his letter, he has grounds for such procedure.

When writing to The Advertiser for information he inclosed $2, which will be returned to him if he calls at this office.

WHERE NATURE REIGNS SUPREME.

To get away from the smoke and stifling heat of the city, to put on old clothes and live a vagabond's life in the great out of doors, there is no place quite so suitable as Timagami. Almost four million acres in extent, plentifully scattered with wonderfully cool, deep lakes, the whole area traced with a network of rock-churned rivers or quiet shadowy brooks, Timagami is just the place to get back to the primitive.

Canoelists can paddle hundreds of miles through ever-changing scenery without a single portage. The waters of Timagami are alive with speckled trout, black bass, while for the nature lover the number of moose, bear and mink to be seen allows ample opportunity to study wild life at close range.

Stomach In Terrible Condition

Toronto Newspaperman Finds Wonderful Relief in Dreco, the Famous Herbal Remedy and Health Builder.

Mr. George Chadwick, who is on the staff of the Toronto Daily Star, and resides at Stop 34, Lake Shore, Toronto, Ontario, is highly delighted with the results he has obtained from Dreco.

"My stomach has been in a terrible condition for a long time," says Mr. Chadwick, "and I could hardly eat a thing. The most simple food would cause pain and everything seemed to sour. Gas would form after each meal that felt like a lump of lead. I was troubled also with constipation, had pains across my back over my kidneys and spots would float before my eyes from liver trouble. I tried many medicines without result, until I started taking Dreco.

"My case was of long standing, but that made no difference to Dreco. It has effected a wonderful improvement in my general condition. I am no longer troubled with spots before my eyes or dizzy spells, digestive pains and gastric attacks are now almost unknown, and my bowels are regular. I can also eat much better and feel stronger and healthier in every way."

Dreco is a splendid corrective for digestive complaints. It acts on all the organs of digestion, strengthening each one and regulating its action. Dreco is made from herbs, roots, bark and leaves, and contains no mercury, potash or habit-forming drugs. POSTMEN REFUSE TO ACCEPT OFFER

Hopes For Strike Settlement At Toronto Are Shattered by Decision.

STATE CONDITIONS

Canadian Press Dispatch. Toronto, June 26.—The hopes of the citizens of Toronto today failed to see the end of the postal strike failed of fulfillment when a meeting of strikers this afternoon declined to accept the offer of the government, which was conveyed to them by a committee representative of the Toronto Men's Libel Association, after an interview with the government at Ottawa. The proposal failed because the men insist that all the strikers be taken back at wages they received when they were out, whereas the government declines to dismiss the men take on since the walkout, and the old rates must come back unconditionally at minimum wages of $5 per month.

The offer brought back by the Libel Association, according to Hon. Charles Stewart, acting postmaster-general, contains only what the government has been prepared to give all along, namely that when the final adjustment in civil service salaries has been made by the commission, if the figures are still unsatisfactory to the postal workers, the government would appoint a committee which would confer with the executive of the federation and thresh out the wage question.

The postal strikers in Montreal also declined to accept the offer for the same reasons as those in Toronto.

Effective In Hamilton. A offer similar to today's was received by J. E. Archer, secretary of the Canadian Federation of Postal Employees, on June 18 last from the government and was effective in persuading the postal workers in Hamilton to return to their jobs. However, since then many things have happened to make conditions different, most important being the engaging of new employees to take the place of the men on strike and the government's offer is only to take sufficient old hands to fill the remaining vacancies.

The meeting of the strikers this afternoon was unanimous that they would stick together and none go back unless all did. It was held behind closed doors and lasted several hours.

It looks late tonight as if the strike will go on, much to the regret of the people of this city, many of whom have received no mail at all for over a week and others of long waits have been able to get a day's letters, or two days' perhaps, at their branch postoffice.

Gas Prices Drop As Dealers War

Special to The Advertiser.

Tillsonburg, June 26.—When a local gasoline agent dropped the price of gas to 23 cents yesterday he started a real gasoline war. By 3 o'clock hundreds of cars were in line on Broadway to secure a supply of gasoline at 12½¢ per gallon, and by 4 o'clock the congestion blocked all traffic. When one tank sold out the price immediately went up again to 26¢, but promise of cheaper gasoline again for the morning was given.

The committee of the Liberal Association which has been conferring with the government and presented the proposal was composed of C. H. Collins, W. H. McGuire and R. D. Ross.

Open for Negotiations.

At the close of the meeting tonight strikers said that under the government's offer only sufficient men would be taken back to fill the positions on the postal staff now vacant, and the matter of selection would be left in the hands of the postmaster. Furthermore, there was practical certainty that a certain proportion would not be taken back under the scheme, and those who were not would be taken back unconditionally and at a salary of $5 a month. Men with years of experience in the service would waive their seniority rights and be classed as postal helpers until such time as the sub-committee of the cabinet was in a position to hear grievances, and that in their opinion might be a matter of a year or two. In any event they had no assurance and no time was specified to the proposal. "We are still open to negotiations with the government if they will give us something fair to consider."

R. D. Ross, a member of the committee that went to Ottawa, stated tonight that while technically the men had forfeited their positions with the postal service by their disregard of the ultimatum sent out on Friday last, and those applying would therefore be enrolled as postal helpers only, at the minimum salary, he was of the opinion that there would be speedy adjustment and the men would be restored to their former positions at the salary stipulated in the 1924-1925 schedule.

Postmaster W. E. Lemon stated today that he would proceed forthwith to build up his staff to full strength. He had deferred action today while the government considered the latest proposal of the government.

LOEW'S PRESENT FINE VAUDEVILLE

Acts Now Showing Newer and More Livelier Than Ever.

Officially the dog days may be here, but they have not yet become apparent in local vaudeville. To consider the entire bill, the current offerings at Loew's are, if anything, newer and more lively than acts shown when the winter-surge of theatregoing was uppermost. Then, too, they are shown in company with one of the most thoroughly enjoyable pictures yet issued, "The Fighting Coward," the James Cruze successor to his "Covered Wagon."

There are those who might not agree with the placing of the acts. Bell and Le Clair in second place have something vastly newer and more clever than "The Three Rounders," who are given the position of headliner. The opening act, "Bob and Girl Revue," would have been no disappointment in the featured place. More than merely a hodge-podge of songs and dancing, it was based on an original idea, and the dancing showed that all the steps which might be invented had not yet been used. Three ineptly chosen gentlemen, whose wives were in the country, returning home from a mid-night spree was the not very original way in which the three rounders commenced their act. However, all disclosed fairly good voices, and those who enjoy "blue" songs may with safety entrust ten minutes of their time to the act.

Best On Bill. Bell and Le Clair are the best on the bill. Not satisfied with giving some of the best dancing that vaudeville might offer, they give it in the newest form, and lead up to it with comedy that is the genuine article. They were not only applauded, but whistled and cheered into an encore.

One could scarcely think of a better combination for a picture than the store "Magnolia," written by Booth Tarkington and turned into film form by James Cruze. "The Fighting Coward," as it is renamed, is a successor not only to "The Covered Wagon," but to "Hollywood," since it combines the comedy of one with the picturesque setting and story of the other. The romance is that of a peace-loving boy who lived in the time when Southern chivalry was rampant among the cotton fields. He prefers a butterfly net to a revolver, but his family scorn the choice. He is driven from home as a coward, but returns in the title role, and also "the wildest alligator in the twenty-four states."

Cullen Landis is the youthful hero; Mary Astor his sweetheart; Ernest Torrence, a picturesque river-boat character, played as only he could, play it, and Noah Beery, arch-villain, throws in one of his deepest and darkest-dyed pieces of villainy.

THOUSANDS ATTEND BIG COUNTY PICNIC

Crowds of Middlesex People Journey To Springbank For Annual Event.

The second annual Middlesex county municipal picnic attracted a crowd of nearly 1,000 people to Springbank Park yesterday afternoon. Warden C. C. Henry acted as master of ceremonies in a capable style. He was ably assisted by County Clerk John Stuart, J. E. Johnston, D. Calvert, James Johnston, Ed. Guest, A. E. Hall and others.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the afternoon's program was one of the concluding events of the day—boxing in barrels. The spectators were stirred into a veritable gale of merriment to see Warden Henry and Sheriff Dan Graham mix up for two snappy rounds. The warden secured the popular victory, since, when both barrels were upset in round two, he came up smiling with the hoop of his barrel still hanging about his neck.

The second bout, between License Inspector Walter Bolton and High Constable A. J. McPherson, tickled the fancy of the audience to an even greater degree than did the first. Honors appeared to be about even between Messrs. Bolton and Warton. The third and final fight provided the best actual boxing, in that each fighter was able to knock his opponent over, and at the same time retain his own position in his barrel. The fighters in bout three were John N. Sullivan, reeve of Adelaide township, and Fred Last, London M. Last scored in round two, round two was a draw, while round three saw Mr. Sullivan the hero.

A unique and impromptu item on the program was the passing around of two boxes of cigars, the gift of Eli R. Barclay, veteran clerk of Lobo township, in token of his being the oldest clerk in Middlesex county, he having served in his present position for upwards of 50 years.

Picks Best Team.

Captain T. E. Robson, county treasurer, picked a better team from among the county and township officials than did Warden Henry from among the county and township councillors since Captain Robson's nine proved victorious in a five-inning softball match by the score of 10 to 6. Walter Campbell, Lobo, officiated as umpire. The teams were:

Warden Henry (Captain), p.; J. W. Rowe, 1.f.; J. Sullivan, c.; W. Bowler, c.f.; B. Galbraith, 1.b.; R. T. Reynolds, r.f.; J. Johnston, 2.b.; D. Calvert, 3.b.; J. T. Crawford, s.s. Captain Robson (non-playing captain); B. Dawson, 1.f.; V. Jackson, 1.b.; B. Barr, 2.b.; S. Kerrill, c.; Last, 3.b.; L. Warner, r.f.; G. E. Cornelle, s.s.; Sheriff D. Graham, c.f.; J. McLarty, p. Warden Henry started the game off on the right foot when he tripped to deep left field and then came home on a wild pitch.

Miss Rowe Wins. Miss Annella Rowe captained the team which carried off premier honors in the ladies' match by defeating the nine led by Miss Eva Lewis by the close score of 12 to 10. The teams were:

Miss Annella Rowe (Captain), r.f.; Miss Gretha Gill, p.; Miss Ruth Galbraith, 3.b.; Mrs. C. C. Henry, 1.f.; Miss Hazel Phillips, c.f.; Miss Anne Morrison, 2.b.; Miss Adeline Thompson, 1.b.; Miss Audrey Martin, s.s.; Miss Beatrice Rowe, c. Miss Eva Lewis (Captain), p.; Miss Mildred Calvert, 2.b.; Miss P. Robson, 1.b.; Mrs. O. Ames, c.f.; Miss Jean Galbraith, 3.b.; Miss Marion Henry, c.; Miss Marion Dunn, c.f.; Miss Florence Dawson, 1.f.; Miss Sadie Cowan, s.s. Umpire—L. D. Galbraith.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT SIFTS PLANS FOR CHANNEL TUNNEL

Associated Press Dispatch.

London, June 26.—Hopes of the promoters of the channel tunnel, which would connect England and France, were raised today by the statement of Premier MacDonald that he had decided to summon a special meeting of the imperial defence next week to consider the project.

He said he would ask the committee to report on the matter soon in order that he can make an announcement in the House within a few weeks. He added that he would preside over the committee meeting because of the great importance the government attaches to the subject.

The premier's views were given to a deputation of members of the channel tunnel committee which visited him this morning. He said his decision had been made in view of changed circumstances and the necessity of promoting harmonious relations between Great Britain and France.

Flint, Mich., June 26.—London lost a tough ball game to the Velhos today 4 to 3, and thereby permitted the league leaders to make it seven consecutive wins since starting the home stay last Sunday. Better pitching and hitting gained the verdict. Beatty's troupe fought the winners to the finish, but lacked the punch. It was lacking mostly because Lefty Fiebert gave them a one blow in nearly six frames. That's the way of it. The southpaw caught Beatty with a bunch of left-handers in the game, and he side-wheeled 'em down in fine style.
London made trouble for a right-hand rookie named Darby in the fourth, and after he loaded the bases and gave a run, Fiebert went in. He hit Nason on the knee to force in the second run, but was unhittable until the eighth, when, Effert walked, and Sandquist tripled to right center. Sandy made a clean steal of home, too, but Mike Baker didn't see him coming and lifted a long fly to John, whose peg was too late to double the runner at third.
Hank Luce got his second homer in two days, the blow coming in the sixth with Regan on base. It helped a heap. Hudson's single, theft of second and Loepp's long base knock to center gained the first marker in the third.
The winning run came in the seventh when Delman erred. Fiebert singled to right and moved up on Morehart's infield out. Runner spanked one off Del's glove, and beat it out, but Joe tried to catch him and threw away from Beatty, so Fiebert scored.

TED MOORE GAME

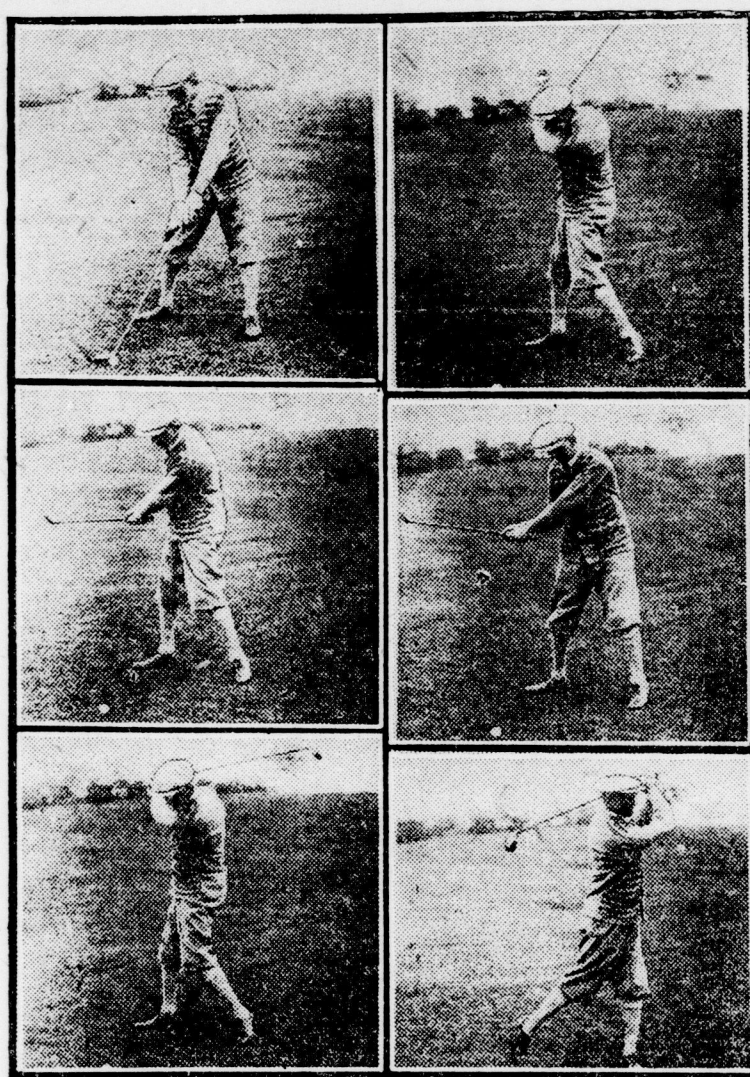

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, June 26. — Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, successfully defended his 160-pound crown against his English challenger, Ted Moore, in a fast 15-round match at the Yankee Stadium tonight. It was Greb's fight from the start, but the battered Englishman was game.
A crowd estimated at 50,000, a sprinkling of them convention delegates, jammed the American League baseball park to witness the card, the net proceeds of which go toward the maintenance of the milk fund.
In a six-round semi-feature match, William L. (Young) Stribling, Macon, Ga. light heavyweight, was given the decision over K. O. Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia. Stribling was decidedly unpopular with the crowd, which gave vent to its feeling with a conventional-like demonstration of hisses and boos.
Gene Tunney, United States, light heavyweight champion, soundly defeated a knock-out over Erminio Spalla, a lightweight champion of Europe, when the referee stopped the bout in the seventh round of a 12-round scheduled bout, to save Spalla from further punishment. The Italian's left eye was completely closed and blood streamed down his cheeks when the end came.
In a sensational 10-round bout Larry Estrine, negro middleweight, wrested the world's negro middleweight crown from the veteran Panama Joe Gans. Estrine cut the champion about the face with his stinging jabs, and thrice floored the titleholder.

MEN'S SUITS SELLING NOW AT 1912 PRICES

East-End Team Beats St. Martins

C. A. A. League Leaders Take Crucial Game 6 to 3.

	STANDING.	W.	L.	P.C.
St. Marys	5	3	1	.700
St. Martins	6	5	1	.545
St. Michaels	4	6	0	.444
St. Peters	4	6	0	.400
Marconis	3	5	0	.375

Showing a remarkable reversal of form over their last game, the St. Marys C. A. A. nine came out on top 6 to 3 in their engagement with St. Martins at Sunshine Park last night. A lot of real head work by the three or four youngsters on the East End team was a big factor in the win. Kelleher and Bernie Fitzmaurice were about half in the second inning that looked about as good as anything seen at Sunshine in many moons. Kelleher laid a neat bunt down the first base line, connecting with the sphere. Fitzmaurice was about half way home. The batter got to first safely, the runner scored, and Howard, who had been on second, was carried on the third sack when the dust had cleared away.
Errors by the South Enders overbalanced the fact that they out-hit St. Marys 6 to 4, and several of their boobies let in runs. Joe Fitzmaurice covered third well for St. Marys during the entire game, despite the fact that he went in with a badly-sprained ankle. A victory for St. Marys would have seriously jeopardized St. Marys' chances of taking the first series championship.

Tonight Marconis and St. Michaels will mingle at 6:30.

PAN-DRIED PAIR WIN FIRST EVENT

Mayor Rennie and Spencer McDonald Beat Wilson-Brown.

LAUR-BLUETT WIN

Mayor A. S. Rennie and Spencer McDonald, the Pan-Dried pair from Tillsonburg, captured the Free Press Trophy last night at the Thistles Scotch doubles by defeating Frank Wilson and Frank Brown, 13-15. A big gallery watched the match. The Tillsonburgers piled up a long lead after the London pair took the first end, taking the next five for a total of ten. In the middle section of the 14th, the London driver up, but toward the end, were five shots down. They ran several ends dead in the hope of leaving the man on a new end, but finally one runner gave the kitty a reverse roll away from the ditch and with nothing to hinder the Londoners were forced to take the last end, one up. The scores:
McDonald—62, 111, 012, 161, 000, 110, 110-19.
Brown—200, 000, 300, 020, 113, 002, 001-15.
Laur and Bluett, the veteran Thistle combination, defeated their clubmates, Ross and Rath, in the final of the Nash Trophy last night near midnight by a score of 12-8. McGill and Darkin of Mitchell were the only foreign pair who went into the semi-finals of this affair. This pair stuck to the semi-finals of the first event, going out to Spencer McDonald.

Scott-McHales

Halt Perrins 3-1

Russell Holds Biscuitmakers To 3 Hits—Whiffs 8.

Scott-McHale toned down Perrins' threat at the first series title last night in the Manufacturers through a 3-1 St. Marys win. Russell got off a bad start, but after the first frame piled up seven strike-outs. An error and singles by Connors and Halsey got the Biscuitmakers their only run. Scott-McHale crew in check, despite a double by Isaac to start off the first frame, until the third inning, when an error and Isaac's single, between the stumps, scored the run. Russell's single. Quick grew awfully wild in the fourth and walked four men, but after the fifth inning one gone, he the sixth, quick drew a walk, but McCallum, pinch hitting, rolled out, and Silverthorn struck out. THISTLE JUNIORS MEET ROVERS TOMORROW

What will undoubtedly be one of the best games of the season will be played at Spangbank Park tomorrow, when the Thistles will meet the Elgin Rovers of St. Thomas in a league game. The two teams are tied for top place in the league, and are both determined to break it. The Thistles were defeated in St. Thomas lately by 2 goals to 1, and are out to turn the tables on their rival.
The Rovers suffered their first defeat of the season last Saturday, when the C. N. R. defeated them 1-0, and they will be anxious to break into the win column again. The kick-off will be made at 3:15 p.m. sharp, and all players are asked to be on hand not later than 3 o'clock. Thorney Devlin will likely handle the game.
The following team will line up for Thistles: McAuley, goal; Dillon and Bruce, backs; Graham, Smith and Fisher, half-backs; Low, McKinnay, Beasley, Saunders and Dunbar.

UNITED VETS BEATEN 3-2 BY MAPLE LEAFS

United Vets held Maple Leafs to a 1-1 count last night at half time, but Leafs added 2 in the second, while the Vets were getting 1, giving them a 3-2 win.
Kelly and the two Davey brothers were the best for the visitors. Holt, Bowman and Taylor did some great work for the Leafs.
Barney Devlin refereed.

or fifteen-pound turtle and the day before making the soup cut off the head and hang it up by the tail to bleed. In the morning separate the upper shell from the lower shell with a sharp knife, being careful not to cut the gill bladder. Cut the meat from the breast in thick slices; remove the gill bladder and entrails and throw away. Detach the fins and remove the green fat and set aside with the meat from the breast. Place the shell in a soup pot with three quarts of water, cover and simmer slowly until the bones can be easily removed. Strain the water off of the shells into a clean soup pot, add the head, fins, liver, heart, all other meat, half a pound of chopped lean ham, a kitchen bouquet, a bay leaf, one onion stuck with four whole cloves, one tablespoon of chopped tarragon and one tablespoon of chopped parsley. Simmer slowly until the meat is tender; strain off the stock into a clean pot, dice the meat and stir until smooth. Just before serving stir into the soup two finely chopped hard-boiled eggs, the strained juice of two lemons and one cup of good green turtle soup can be made with the canned green turtle by following the directions on the can.

CHASE DENIES CHARGE IMPROPER STOCK SALE

Case of Former Manager of L. R. Steel Company With Jury Today.

Associated Press Despatch. Buffalo, June 26.—Evidence was closed today at the trial of Paul L. Chase, former manager of the L. R. Steel stock-selling company, on a charge of improper sale of stock. Justice Larkin will give the case to the jury at noon tomorrow. Chase was a witness in his own behalf. He denied that he had told John F. Burke, complainant, that he had invested $20,000 in Steel stock. The indictment charges that this alleged statement prompted Burke to invest $1,000 more than he had intended.

Another defence witness was Walter M. Wilkins, former general counsel for the steel enterprises, and the president of the Steel Consolidated, Inc., the organization formed by the stockholders' protective trust to take over the stock of two Steel corporations.

PRINCIPLE OF CHURCH UNION IS ADOPTED IN FEDERAL HOUSE

By Vote of 110 to 58 Commons Kills Duff Amendment Asking For Court Ruling On Jurisdiction of Presbyterian General Assembly To Present Union Bill.

TWO MORE AMENDMENTS EXPECTED

Ottawa, June 26.—The principle of the church union bill was approved in the House of Commons at 1 a.m. Friday, when the Brown amendment to clause two, providing that the bill would come into force on June 10, 1925, carried in committee vote, 110 to 58. Clause two thereby is defeated. It is the Duff amendment, asking that the courts be asked to rule on the jurisdiction of the Presbyterian Assembly to present the bill and of Parliament to enact it.

Nearly two days' discussion in committee had resulted when the House rose tonight in the adoption of the first three clauses.

The vote came at the end of a sultry debate, which saw members of the various parties divided against each other. Government and Conservative leaders indicated that every member of the House was committed to no opinion but his own. The prime minister and his senior member of the cabinet, Hon. George P. Graham, took opposite sides. In the vote, Messrs. Meighen and Forke supported the Brown amendment, as did the whole Progressive bloc. Premier King voted against it, having in mind his amendment to clause 28, which suggests the reference of the question of jurisdiction to the supreme court.

COMMITTEE VOTE.—A number of French members supported the Brown amendment. Others opposed it. It was the regular committee vote, unrecorded, a swift count of heads by the clerk, which left little time for identification of individuals. The House is in favor of the bill taking effect next year.

Government and Conservative leaders spoke at length tonight, the prime minister taking the stand that parliament should not be asked to rule on a matter which saw such sharp cleavage within the ranks of a church institution. Mr. Meighen, on the other hand, contended that only the right of the church to change its doctrine was involved, and parliament had no business to interfere with doctrine. A reference to the supreme court would only decide the jurisdiction in matters of property of a committee of the Presbyterian General Assembly and not of the assembly. The question would still be in abeyance, and several great religious organizations which had voted to unite would be left to stagnate in indecision.

Today, there came another amendment. It was moved by Mr. Stork, of Skeena, and provides that so far as the Presbyterian Church is concerned the bill will not come into effect until all doubt has been removed as to the power of the Presbyterian General Assembly to agree to union and that, to this end, the minister of justice shall refer the question to the Supreme Court of Canada for opinion. The Stork amendment was moved shortly after debate opened today, but was ruled out of order on the ground of insufficient notice. This debate on it went over to permit sufficient notice to be given.

In addition, there was another amendment of which the prime minister had given notice. This stated that as questions have arisen respecting the powers of parliament under the B. N. A. act to pass the bill, it is intended by the bill to sanction its provisions so far only as it is competent for parliament to do so.

A Stork (Liberal, Skeena) moved an amendment providing that the act "shall apply only when all doubt has been removed as to the power of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, under its constitution and rules, to agree to a union of the Presbyterian Church in Canada with the Methodist and Congregational churches upon the basis of union as set forth in schedule A of this act, provided further that this question shall be submitted for decision to the supreme court of Canada, by a reference by the minister of justice."

Mr. Stork said he believed this to be an amendment which would bring definite action in the shortest possible time and reduce the friction and hostility that had grown up about this matter. It would secure a definite verdict regarding the legal rights. The amendment came as an amendment to the amendment of J. L. Brown (Progressive, Lisgar).

W. J. Hammett (Liberal, Muskoka) contended that the amendment of Mr. Stork was out of order, as the required notice had not been given.

Hon. E. A. MacDonald, minister of justice, pointed out that the amendment had appeared in the votes and proceedings, and was therefore quite in order.

Supported By Premier.—The prime minister said he believed the amendment to be in order, and in any event it would be in order tomorrow, and it was better to proceed at once with the matter, inasmuch as all parties were anxious to expedite the work before the House. He hoped the House would see fit to allow the amendment to stand.

Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King said that one day's notice was sufficient on amendments to private bills, and the clerk of the House, incorporating this into the day's proceedings.

KARL K. HOMUTH, former Labor M.P.P. for South Waterloo, Ontario, who was re-elected, defeating W. C. Shaw, Conservative, by 2,525 votes. His former election was contested on the ground of alleged irregularities.

had followed the usual course. Notice of the amendment would have to be in the hands of the clerk before 5 p.m. yesterday in order to have been incorporated in votes and proceedings today.

Deputy Speaker Gordon, who was in the chair, said that it seemed to be a consensus of opinion that sufficient notice had been given of the motion. While it was true that notice must have been deposited with the clerk yesterday, it must be admitted that votes and proceedings would reach the members at the earliest at 11 a.m. today. Many of the members seemed to have had no notice of amendment at all. He would therefore rule that one full day's notice must be given, and the debate on the Stork amendment could not proceed today. He had no objection to accepting it after today.

Debate Amendment.

The debate then proceeded on the Brown amendment and Rev. A. J. Lewis (Progressive, Swift Current) proceeded to give his reasons for supporting that amendment. He made references to the fact that he was a minister of the Presbyterian Church.

Lucien Cannon (Liberal, Dorchester) objected. Mr. Lewis could not address the House as a minister of the Presbyterian Church. Chairman Gordon suggested that the point of order was rather highly technical. L. H. Martel (Liberal, Hants) added his objection. Mr. Lewis, he said, must speak as a member of the House and not as a clergyman.

Chairman Gordon said he had not caught Mr. Lewis' exact words, but he could not, of course, address the House as anything but a member of the House. Mr. Lewis said that he was speaking as a member of the House. He supported church union because the churches had spoken with no uncertain sound in favor of it, and it was his duty as a minister of that church to support church government. He had been at first opposed to union, however.

Vote Is Questioned.

Gordon Wilson (Conservative, Wentworth) opened by saying that he was not opposed to church union. Those who believed in union had a right to try and obtain it. Those who dissented from union, however, should not be deprived of the right to remain in the church of their fathers.

He contended that there had been a growing feeling against church union recently in the Presbyterian Church. When his attention was drawn to the result of the vote at the meeting of the Presbyterian Assembly in Owen Sound recently, he declared that this meeting was not representative of the Presbyterian Church.

Hon. H. H. Stevens said that he could not agree with Mr. Wilson except on his defence of religious liberty. Reports of commissions were generally accepted as an index to the House of the wisdom of legislation. But he found himself on this occasion compelled to reject the Duff amendment and support the bill. It was not the function of parliament to dictate the policy of any church and decide the wisdom of doctrine.

Mr. Stevens argued that the three churches concerned had followed the procedure recognized by the constitution. Therefore, it was improper for parliament to say that one of the bodies had not acted constitutionally.

He contended that the churches had a good deal of objection to requiring the minority in the Presbyterian Church to vote themselves out of the union.

Robert Forke (Progressive leader) believed the procedure towards union had been regular throughout. There could be no question of it. Mr. Forke spoke of the West, where thousands of churches in Ireland had done that. The Presbyterian traditions were not being lost in the union of the churches. To take the matter to the courts would lead to endless litigation, and endangered the consummation of the union.

V. K. Baldwin (Liberal, Stanstead) strongly advocated union.

T. G. McBride (Independent, Carleton Place) said that the church union issue had convinced him "that a number of people calling themselves Scotch were forgetting they were now in a civilized country." They could claim no credit for setting up the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The Presbyterian Church in Ireland had done that. The first Presbyterian clergyman in Canada came from County Donegal, and a review of the earliest missionaries of that denomination showed that they were mostly Irishmen. Those who said that 75 per cent of Canadian Presbyterians were now forgetting they were now in a civilized country.

Robert Forke said that the rest of their arguments were not worth considering.

Hon. George P. Graham spoke briefly. He did not want to take any attitude, for or against. But the churches had the right to decide on union, through their properly constituted courts. It was the duty of a member of parliament to give effect to the decision of the churches and support that great enterprise.

Premier Speaks.—Premier King rose just before midnight. House and galleries were still well-filled. The prime minister made it clear that the government had no policy on this private bill. The cabinet was divided in opinion. He hoped each member would vote according asked if Mr. Stevens thought the manner in which the vote was to be taken was fair. "Not only fair, but generous," replied Mr. Stevens.

Procedure Regular.—Robert Forke (Progressive leader) believed the procedure towards union had been regular throughout. There could be no question of it. Mr. Forke spoke of the West, where thousands of churches in Ireland had done that. The Presbyterian traditions were not being lost in the union of the churches. It was the duty of a member of parliament to give effect to the decision of the churches and support that great enterprise.

Premier Speaks.—Premier King rose just before midnight. House and galleries were still well-filled. The prime minister made it clear that the government had no policy on this private bill. The cabinet was divided in opinion. He hoped each member would vote according to his conscience. He spoke now for himself only. Church union was a great purpose. Incorporation was necessary to give effect to that purpose and it was the duty of parliament to do everything in its power to give effect to union if it was unanimously desired by its constituent parts. There were two questions to be decided; whether the Presbyterian Assembly had the right to enter into union and whether the union was in the interest of the province. The question of the rights of minorities would come up at a later stage of the bill. It must be remembered that property and civil rights was the prerogative of the provincial authorities. This bill involved those rights and this parliament should make it clear that it was not trying to go beyond its rights in that respect.

Parliament was faced with the fact that it held two extremes of opinion about church union, and parliament could not "justifiably" scorn either view.

The premier urged the wisdom of the act to the supreme court. Nobody could quarrel with the decision of that impartial body. The decision of that court would be available before the end of the present year. If it found that the Presbyterian was unable to enter into union, the exact nature of that disability would be indicated and parliament would be in a position to remove that disability, and he had no doubt parliament would be ready to do so.

Robert Forke, sponsor of the bill, asked what would happen if the supreme court ruled against the Assembly. Then the Methodist and Congregational churches would be united without the Presbyterian Church. And that was never intended by any of the churches voting on union.

Hon. Arthur Meighen said his inclinations were to cling to the church with which his family had Band Concerts and Beach Movies Will Add To Entertainment.

The greatest Dominion Day celebration in Western Ontario is scheduled for Tuesday next at Port Stanley, when a feast of fascinating fun for everyone will be staged on land and lake, day and night in a continuous melange calculated to excite the enthusiasm of the holiday thousands.

Probably nowhere else in the province will a program of such diversity be offered for holiday merry-makers.

There will be sports for young and old, rollicking music, baby shows, a big trap shooting tourney, a girls' softball championship match, beach movies and a dazzling fireworks finale, with other attractions so numerous that the favorite resort of Western Ontario will bear all the earmarks of a three-ring circus.

Tourney of Indians.—The sports will commence in the morning when the Dominion championships contests and the annual tourney of the Canadian Indians will be held on the beach. More than a hundred famous trapshooters from all parts of Canada and the United States have entered for the contests and will be seen in action smashing clay pigeons out over the lake with the sure fire of the banging shotguns.

The Indian shoot is an event of special interest in that the contestants are compelled under the rules to wear full Indian regalia while competing. Two parties are coming in their own chartered boats, one from Detroit and the other from Amherstburg, so keen is their interest in the competitions.

The London Brownies, the sensational girls' softball team, have been negotiating for some time with the champions of Ohio, the Favorite Knits of Cleveland, for a match in Port Stanley as part of the program of the holiday afternoon. They have practically completed their plans and expect confirmation of the arrangement by wire from Cleveland today.

The Cleveland girls plan to come over on the Steamer Colonial and to take part in all the holiday sports, together with a big following of been associated for generations. Personal ties bound him to people who desired earnestly and passionately to cling to the church of their fathers.

But reason and foresight impelled him in another direction. He could not support either the Duff or the Stork amendments. So far as Hon. George Graham had gone in his analysis of the bill he found himself in entire accord. The whole question, it seemed to him, was whether or not the church had the power to modify doctrine. Conceding that right to the church, what was there to prevent its union with another church which was congenial in its doctrine. Dr. Murray MacLaren asked if there was not a question of what was fundamental and radical change. Mr. Meighen said that he did not hope to convince Dr. MacLaren, but he took the ground firmly that parliament had no right to say what was a fundamental or radical doctrine.

If the church decided through its properly constituted courts that it wanted union, who could possibly say it nay? The ruling of the House of Lords council on the Free Church of Scotland's right to unite had been based on a question of constitution and was entirely absent from this issue.

The beach movies feature for Monday and Tuesday is "Strangers of the Night," the screen version of the sensational stage success, "Captain Applejack," by Walter Hackett. It is produced by Fred Niblo, producer of "The Three Musketeers," who, in "Strangers of the Night," surpasses his best previous efforts in a brilliantly spectacular picture of thrilling romance and baffling mystery. The superb all-star cast is headed by Matt Moore, Barbara LeMay, Enid Bennett, Robert McKim, Emily Fitzroy, Otis Hoffman and Thomas Rick.

Harold Lloyd Stars.—The beach movies tonight and Saturday night are offering the chief of all funmakers, Harold Lloyd, in his screaming hit, "Dr. Jack," topping an all-comedy bill with "Extra Seven" and "A Man About Town."

CHARGES OBSTACLES IN WAY OF FARM HELP

Government in Canada Blamed For Lack of First-Class Workers.

Associated Press Despatch. London, June 26.—At a meeting of the British Passenger Agents Association, Charles Wright, honorary secretary, said that the Canadian government, and the Ontario government in particular, seemed today to be putting obstacles in the way of helping good farm workers to go to the Dominion. The consequence was, he stated, that Australia and New Zealand secured a better supply of empire builders or the homeland retained these first-class agricultural workers.

Ontario was turning down such applicants, he added, all assistance being stopped for this year. It was difficult to understand this, while the entry of Russians and other foreigners continued, he concluded.

ANTI-UNIONISTS STILL HAVE HOPE

Postal Strike-Breakers Chased By Women

ANTIS PUT LAST HOPE ON ACTION OF COURTS

Constitutionality of Measure They Claim Yet To Be Decided.

UP TO PROVINCES

Secretary of Presbyterian Association Says Church To Remain.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, June 27.—With the principle of the church union bill adopted by the Dominion parliament, the anti-unionists have not lost all hope. Great disappointment is, of course, expressed by the members of the Presbyterian Association over the outcome of the long struggle, but they point out that only the preamble of the bill has been adopted, and that the passing of the legislation does not stop the litigation instituted, and also that the unionists have yet to run the gauntlet of the Ontario, Quebec, Prince Edward Island and British Columbia legislatures.

Challenge Validity.

The antis are challenging the constitutionality of the bill, and this question they say, has yet to be decided by the courts.

"In the first place," said F. W. McNamara, secretary of the Presbyterian Church Association, when asked what he thought about the issue, "the church union bill has not passed. The preamble only has passed, but I suppose you can take it for granted that the whole bill will pass."

"What about the litigation that was started by the association? Does this put you out of court?"

"No, it does not affect the action instituted in Ontario. That action is on the docket for trial. We are challenging the constitutionality of the legislation."

"Would this, if successful, invalidate the act?"

Church Will Remain.

"It would not say," replied Mr. McNamara, "it would affect the Presbyterian end of it. The Presbyterians would have to go as individuals or congregations into the new church. That, however, is a question for the future."

"Will a new Presbyterian church be formed?"

"There will be a Presbyterian church in Canada," replied the secretary. "The bill," he added, "has yet to pass in Ontario, where it was withdrawn. The province only has jurisdiction over property rights. To make it effective, it has to be passed in this province, Quebec, Prince Edward Island and British Columbia."

TOMORROW DECIDES SERIES IN INTERCLUB

Knights and Orients Will Meet at Sunshine Park at 3:15.

Tomorrow afternoon the first series championship of the local interclub intermediate O. B. A. A. League will be decided when the Orients and Knights of Columbus meet at Sunshine Park at 3:15.

The Orients have won four and lost one while the Knights have won three and dropped one. As both the London View and Forest City nines are definitely out of the first series race, it was agreed to have the Knights and Orients play out to decide the series.

The Orients have strengthened up considerably for this crucial engagement and have practically a new infield to trot out. The Knights' lineup will be intact, with the exception of shortstop, where Wilfred Kelleher, the youngster whose consistent hitting and good fielding have had much to do in keeping the St. Mary's C. A. A. nine up on top, will hold forth.

DEATH OF BERGER IS MOURNED HERE

Speedy Stratford Hockey Star and All-Round Athlete Dies Today.

Death has cut short the career of one of the foremost athletes of Ontario in the person of Larry Berger, defense man of the Stratford senior hockeyists and all-round athlete.

London sportsmen join with hockey lovers all over the province in mourning his death, news of which came as a great shock today to those who knew him.

He was one of the most promising players in hockey in this part of the country. Only 24, he showed the best development of his career during the past winter, and was expected to go even better as he continued to play in fast company.

Here in London he appeared often in practice, in exhibitions and in league games last winter. Against the Kitchener-Waterloo, the Grimsby Peach Kings, he impressed the Londoners with his surprising dash and stamina.

After the Indians won the "Big Four" Senior O. H. A. title, they came here for the first of the O. H. A. senior finals against Hamilton Tigers, and won out by a 2 to 1 count, only to lose on the round by a single tally in Hamilton.

The popular Larry was seen to advantage on the left defense position of the team. He was never substituted during the entire winter, and his clean playing in all kinds of going made him popular with all. He was a tough defense worker in the cleanest sense of the word and dazzling lone rushes on the offences were of great advantage to the team.

He was the speediest skater on the team, and his former team mate, Howie Morenz, was the only player to show such brilliance in Stratford during recent years. Besides that, Larry was perhaps the best conditioned, year-round athlete in the Classic City.

He was not merely a hockeyist. He played a lone hand in trying to revive rugby in Stratford last fall. He was on the city championship football team there last year. He played baseball, was on the fast-traveling Stratford soccer eleven this season, one of two Canadians amongst some rather good old country players. He turned out with the lacrosse crew. He was an all-round, peppery, well-conditioned sportsman, admired by his opponents as well as his home friends. His death has created a gap in the ranks of amateur hockey that will be hard to fill.

Chased by Women.

The letter carriers, according to information received today, had not been subject to any violence from the men on strike, but on Ashdale avenue and some other streets they were booed, heckled and chased by the women. People on some streets refused to accept mail from them. It was reported that this happened on Beech, Willow and some other streets.

The police in the districts, on foot and motorcycle, were keeping a sharp lookout for any attempt at interference with the carriers, but those seen on the streets stated that beyond the heckling and chasing by the women, they had as yet not seen anything of the kind.

Without Uniforms.

The new men went out without any uniform and without any postal identification. They were dressed in civilian clothes. Unfamiliar with their work, delivery was slow. A postman in the Scarborough district invariably occupied the doorbell and waited for the occupant to answer before delivering the letters. In some cases mistakes were made, and the postmen had to be called back. Some were very nervous, but others, despite the risk were calm, cool and collected.

Apparently their loads were not very heavy.

DR. AMYOT WILL SPEAK AT SOCIAL CONVENTION

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, June 27.—Dr. J. A. Amyot, deputy minister of health, Ottawa, arrived this morning and will speak on the all-Canadian program on federal co-operation in provincial health activity. Judge Murphy (Janey Canuck), Edmonton, presiding.

This morning an illuminating address on the "relation of the professional worker to his community" was given by John A. Lapp of the Chicago chapter. Rev. Bryan J. McGowan, director, diocese of children Catholic charities, New York, threw much light on the institutional situation under modern methods when he described how the institutions of New York had introduced normal life with family ideals where formerly the aggregate rather than the group system maintained.

Postmaster Lemon Declares Situation Is Gradually Improving.

Special to The Advertiser.

Toronto, June 27.—After the failure of yesterday's peace negotiations in the Toronto postal strike, both sides are apparently more firmly resolved than ever not to give in.

Postmaster Lemon has resumed the placard of new men, extension of services in postal stations, and in two cases stated actual delivery by carriers.

A total of about 150 men may be on the carrier routes by tomorrow. Officials at the main postal station said today that 110 men were being added today to the force of carriers already at work.

Carrier service has been given for two days now from stations at Bay and Front streets. The carriers are also going out from station G at Queen and Spadina, and this afternoon it is expected to start them from the Yonge and Charles street station.

built in their midst they wrathfully swore to boycott it, but they changed their minds when this lovely white stucco Italian villa, decorated with trellises of roses and set back of a broad, green lawn, arose, and now the firm of Schaefer and Vinton is doing a record business. A neat driveway runs around to the rear door where the delivery trucks are loaded while there is no sign or other indication of business in front.

ANNUAL PEONY DISPLAY IS COMPLETE SUCCESS

Enthusiasts From All Over Western Ontario Attend Show At Armories.

BIG PRIZE LIST

Londoners Carry Off Bulk of Honors in First Night.

At the end of three years of steadily applied effort, nothing could have been more gratifying to the London Horticultural Society than the hundreds of peony lovers, who visited the Armories last night on the occasion of the society's annual peony show.

The show officially commenced at noon, and visitors entered in a steady stream throughout the afternoon and evening. They numbered not only professional and amateur growers, but scores of those who have developed an enthusiastic regard for the peony since it was officially adopted as London's civic flower. Source of Interest.

The Horticultural Society have striven to their utmost to make the peony show an annual event, a source of interest not only to Londoners, but to horticulturists all over the country, and in addition to give London an added prominence among cities of the dominion. The success of the exhibition this year more than fulfills this ambition. The appended prize list will indicate the interest taken by peony enthusiasts from many points outside London, and will indicate also that Londoners were able not only to sponsor the exhibition but to carry off their fair share of the trophies as well.

Wonderful Weather.
The weather for the peony show is all that could be desired. Last evening was eminently cool and favorable. Opening under the most admirable auspices, the exhibition will continue today, ending this evening, after which the flowers will be distributed to local charitable institutions.

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT BURIED AT STRATHROY

Remains of Ted Kinder, Who Was Drowned, Are Laid To Rest.

Special to The Advertiser.
Strathroy, June 26.—The remains of the late E. L. (Ted) Kinder were interred in Strathroy Cemetery this evening. The funeral was private.

The late Mr. Kinder was drowned at Port Frank on June 15 when he fell out of a rowboat. The body was discovered this morning by a fisherman, William Dewey, while on the way to his nets. It was about two and a half miles up the lake from the point where the accident happened. In the absence of Coroner Dr. Hubbard of Forest, Dr. McDonald of Theford was called, and he issued the burial permit. The remains were brought here by motor hearse.

The late Mr. Kinder was operator for the C. N. R. at Caradoc station, and, being an expert, was frequently called to important points along the line as relieving operator. Survivors are the widow, the parents, who live here, and two brothers.

Mr. Kinder was an Associated Press operator in London about 1910 and was one of the most popular operators in the London division of the C. P. R.

Correction

In this morning's edition there were some errors in the advertisement of the Thomas Furniture Co., which are corrected in this edition.

Under Cocoa Rugs, the 4 1/2 x 9 feet rugs were quoted at $2.40. This should have been $6. Also the 6 x 9 feet rugs were quoted at $3.55. This should have read $9.35.

At the bottom of the ad. there appeared a cut of a $12 swing. This swing was quoted at $3.95. The correct cut picturing this swing is used in this edition. The Advertiser regrets these errors, and in justice to the Thomas Furniture Co. gladly runs this correction.

TEMPERANCE MEETING FOR FIVE COUNTIES

O. T. A. Is Indorsed—Government Control Pictured
As a Failure.

Palmerton, June 26.—The temperance meetings held here yesterday afternoon and evening were very largely attended, with representatives in attendance from Bruce, Huron, Grey, Perth and Wellington counties. Enthusiasm was evident in all meetings.

At the afternoon session resolutions were adopted to be forwarded to the provincial government, setting forth opinions of the gathering on present temperance legislation. Reports were presented on law enforcement in different localities, and results of enforcement of the Ontario temperance act were discussed at length.

The mass meeting was held in the evening in the Library Hall, with an overflow meeting which comfortably filled the Methodist Church. Wm. H. Kerr, editor of the Brussels Post, was chairman of the main meeting. Mr. Albert Hassard, Toronto, spoke convincingly of the benefit derived from present temperance legislation, and contrasted conditions in Ontario prior to enactment of the O. T. A. with the present.

Dr. Henry took for his discourse conditions existing in British Columbia, and claimed that government control was merely government sale, and did not control, but only legalized sale and consumption of liquor in that province. He alleged that the bootlegger had not been driven out of business; that more dives existed now than ever before; that the use of narcotic drugs had increased in that province more than in any other in the Dominion.

Hon. E. C. Drury pictured conditions existing in Ontario 30 years ago, and contrasted present conditions. He warned his audience against the possibility of losing the benefits already attained.

Dr. Oaten, field secretary of the Prohibition Union of Canada, presented a resolution, drafted at the afternoon session, which called for more rigid enforcement of O. T. A. and expressed approval of the principle of the act.

A. E. Greenlaw, Detroit, possessor of a wonderful voice, sang several selections.

Capital Trust Company Suggests Widow Be Paid Whole Amount.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, June 26.—Another chapter in the many legal activities concerning the estate of the late Ambrose J. Small was written at Osage Hall today when it was moved before Mr. Justice Lennox to pay the estate over to Mrs. Small, the executrix appointed by the surrogate court.

The motion was made by Ward Wright, representing the committee of the Capital Trust Company and opposed by W. R. Smythe, K.C., representing the shareholders of the Trans-Canada Theatres, Limited. Gideon Grant, K.C., representing the sisters of A. J. Small, suggested $10,000 be paid into court for each of them, but Mr. Justice Lennox, "I understand they have no other estate."

Mr. Wright opposed the suggestion.

On the other hand, Frank Hughes, K.C. for Mrs. Small as executrix was anxious to have all the accounts settled and squared away as quickly as possible. Mr. Smythe wanted an adjournment until after the action of Trans-Canada Theatres vs. A. J. Small was disposed of "for if the shareholders of the theatres establish their claims they are creditors of A. J. Small."

The case is proceeding this afternoon.
