ADVERTISE IN THE PLANET

HIS DEATH FORETOLD

Very Day Was Fixed 20 Days Before Bomb Was Thrown

Shows that Revolutionists Must Have Been Well Posted on Grand Duke's Plans—M. Witte Has Been Warned of Bomb, and Grand Duke Vladimir Condemned to Death by Kere-

Chicago, Feb. 20.—David Macbeth, the correspondent of the Tribune at St. Petersburg, in a letter dated Jan. 20, states that the organization of combat had been weeks in advance, the exact day of Sergius' death. The Russian idea of political murder is extraordinary. Assassination is regarded almost solely as a political—not a criminal—act. The officials themselves take this point of view. The murder of a minister or a czar means that he has met with political defeat—his political enemies have triumphed over him. That he has also lost his life is considered to be of inferior importance to the fact that he has lost his influence.

"No political assassin ever feels the slightest moral compunction either before or after his attempt. He never acknowledges that what he does is either a sin or a crime. He believes a man is a wicked ruler. He cannot strip this ruler of his political influence except by killing him. That is the only political path which in the past has been open to the radicals."

"So they have tried it. Not one of them would dream of killing a man for his purse. At the present moment, although no more open demonstrations against the troops seem likely, an era of bomb throwing is feared—the organization of combat. The executive committee of the Revolutionary Socialists has publicly announced through Paris press that it has condemned the czar to death. Grand Duke Sergius, the czar's uncle, a few days ago, received a letter: 'You have twenty-five days to live.' The next day came a letter: 'You have twenty-one days to live.' Then: 'You have twenty days to live.'"

"According to present calculations, from to-day, Jan. 30, Sergius has 18 days to live. Several notes have reached M. De Witte, former minister of finance. 'Your bomb is made,' Grand Duke Vladimir has had more than one letter: 'Your bomb is made.' We shall see if you are in a barrel of kerosene and set it afire."

CAUCASUS REGION ABLAZE

Mayor of Large City Shot—Dowager Empress of Russia Threatened.

London, Feb. 20.—Despatches Saturday evening from various parts of Russia show that a new reign of terror has been inaugurated by the assassination of the Grand Duke Sergius. The mayor of a large city in Transcaucasia has been shot and killed near his residence. The Dowager Empress has received a threatening letter, warning her that she will be the next victim of the assassins. The revolution, started by Father Gapon and followers in January, has taken a new lease of life. Disorders are spreading everywhere throughout the empire.

Whole Caucasus Now in Revolt. The reports from Odessa say that the whole Caucasus region is in revolt. Armed mobs have stopped the railway traffic, cut the telegraph wires, and looted the arsenals. The workmen in St. Petersburg, Moscow and all the great industrial centers are assuming a threatening attitude.

Funeral on Thursday. Moscow, Feb. 20.—Until the funeral, which has been fixed for Thursday, Feb. 23, the remains of Grand Duke Sergius will rest in the ancient dining-room of the Chaikovskiy Monastery. The assassin remains persistently silent. His identity has not yet been established.

Sergius Rests in Moscow. St. Petersburg, Feb. 20.—It has now been definitely decided that the remains of Grand Duke Sergius will not be brought to St. Petersburg for the present, but instead will be placed in a temporary resting place at the cloister of the Chaikovskiy Monastery, to await the completion of alterations now in progress in the Romanoff mausoleum in the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, where the permanent interment will occur, among the tombs of his ancestors.

The revolutionists have decided upon further assassinations at the earliest opportunity.

Royal Family Must Stay Indoors. Every member of the Royal Family has been warned to stay indoors, and extraordinary precautions have been adopted to prevent assassins reaching them.

The czar has called an extraordinary meeting of the Council of the Empire to deal with the entire situation. Kurapatkin has been ordered to make a demonstration against the Japanese in order to distract attention from the reign of terror at home, but the Japanese report having checked Kurapatkin's movement.

Other Crimes Expected. St. Petersburg, Feb. 20.—The public is greatly concerned over the developments of the immediate future. Other terrorist crimes are generally anticipated. According to reports, many cities and towns are in a kind of political ferment and several officials have been assassinated in Southern Russia.

According to a telephone message from Moscow, the students there are afraid to appear on the streets in their uniforms. In addition, the strike situation has again grown menacing, especially in the matter of the railroads, three of which entering Moscow are almost completely tied up. In St. Petersburg the strike has assumed the form of a lockout. Forty thousand men are out of work.

Japs Press on Sergius. Tokyo, Feb. 20.—Commenting on the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius at Moscow, the Jiji Shimpu expresses its sympathy at his cruel death, but declares the act is attributable to the high-handed manner of the Russian government in suppressing the recent labor demonstrations. The paper says that oppressive measures against expression of national wishes invite such outrages from the oppressed.

The war in the far east resulted from the aggressive action of the Russian government, with which the Russian people have little sympathy. The Jiji Shimpu adds: "In this sense Japan is waging a war against the Russian national wishes, arising from oppression by the autocracy, but Japan is fighting the government, and not the people of Russia. The paper expresses a better understanding with increased sympathy between the two peoples after the war is ended."

King Condolees With Russia. London, Feb. 20.—King Edward and the Prince and Princess of Wales paid a visit of condolence yesterday to Count Benckendorff, the Russian ambassador here.

REDMOND'S AMENDMENT.

Present System of Government Opposed by Will of People.

London, Feb. 20.—John Redmond's amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, declaring that the present system of Irish government was opposed to the will of the people, and which will be debated in the house of commons to-day, is expected to place the government in a position more difficult than the fiscal debate.

It is so framed as to enable the opposition to raise the whole question of position of Sir Anthony MacDonnell, the under secretary to the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and the Dunraven devolution scheme on which there is a hotly debated question. The bill is expected to engage all of Premier Balfour's skill to enable the government to emerge victorious.

Lord Lansdowne has admitted in the house of lords that Lord Dudley, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, knew that MacDonnell was helping Lord Dunraven in his devolution scheme, and that Lord Dudley and Sir Anthony MacDonnell. The debate will extend over two days and probably will be acrimonious. The opposition will endeavor to drive home their views that MacDonnell is being made a scapegoat.

FOXY MRS. CHADWICK.

Said to Be in Possession of a Cold Million.

Cleveland, Feb. 20.—The Leader says: "One million dollars is the amount believed to be secretly taken by Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, Customs Collector at Beach in a position to know that the item saved from her many financial transactions is $1,000,000 in cold cash. In addition to this sum, the woman has just safely placed $150,000 worth of jewels. Her arrest nipped plans right at a time when they were about to blossom. A delay of a few more days would certainly have placed her fortune at $2,000,000. It was her desire to make just one more deal, with $500,000 as the stake."

Up to the present time, there have been traced purchases in Paris and Brussels aggregating $122,000. It is estimated that the receipts of Mrs. Chadwick in four years amounted to $1,500,000. Her expenditures in that period are estimated at $500,000."

Opposed to Treaty.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 20.—On their way from Winnipeg, to Italy, Sir Charles Tupper, former Conservative Premier of Canada, and Canadian High Commissioner in London, and Lady Tupper and their daughter reached Boston on Friday. They called on Saturday on the White Star Liner Canopic for Naples.

Sir Charles, while not wishing to say anything on the Hay-Bond treaty, with Newfoundland, plainly indicated that he was opposed to such a step. He said the interests of Canada and Newfoundland are bound reciprocally together, and the two should never be pulled apart. It would be a wise from the viewpoint of the welfare of each and the empire as a whole.

More Evidence Found.

Brantford, Feb. 20.—Joseph Kennedy will be brought from the Central Prison next week and receive his preliminary trial before Police Magistrate Woodruff at the police court on the charge of criminal assault. It will be remembered that one of the witnesses for the defence testified to being on the dyke about the time Kennedy was also sworn to have been seen there. Two witnesses will, at the forthcoming trial, give evidence that he was mistaken in regard to his date, and that, in reality, he was on the dyke the day before the Cole murder.

Three Children Burnt. Akron, Ohio, Feb. 20.—Three children of Mrs. Amos Hefflinger, Irene, aged 3 years; Howard, aged 2, and George, three months old, were burned to death on Saturday. Amos, another child, 5 years old, was rescued by George Chapman, a larger boy.

The mother had left the children but 10 minutes before to warn another neighbor that her son was skating in a dangerous part of the canal. It is supposed the Hefflinger children pulled burning coals out of a stove and set the house on fire.

Bearing burdens gracefully does not always come with practice.

RUSS VICTORY CLAIMED

Japanese Squadron Reported to Have Been Annihilated.

Russians Report Trifling Loss—Oyama on the Contrary Reports Russ Engaged on Defense—Rumors That the Chinese Are Taking a Friendly Stand—Jap Artillery Much Stronger—Two Villages Burnt.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 20.—Gen. Sakharov, Feb. 20.—Kuropatkin's chief of staff, reports that a detachment of Russian cavalry, while reconnoitering, encountered and annihilated a Japanese squadron, losing in the affair one officer and three men killed and 24 men wounded. Tokyo, Feb. 20.—Field Marshal Oyama reports that the Russians are continuing their defensive works in all directions. They continued to shell portions of the Japanese line on Friday. On the same day they essayed a small infantry attack, but were repulsed.

Supplies Movements. Mukden, Feb. 20.—Rumors of suspicious movements by General Ma, military governor of the Province of Chihli, and Chinese troops in neutral territory, are causing apprehension lest they are co-operating with the Japanese, and Chinese bandits, who are reported to be advancing toward the Russian communications. Two companies of frontier guards, who were sent to investigate mysterious signals sent at night at the railway station of Goudou Pass, encountered eight squadrons of Japanese cavalry and were obliged to retire with heavy losses. The Chinese are distributing among the soldiers flammable despatches, giving imaginary details concerning the strikes in Russia.

Japs Get Artillery. Motuan, Feb. 20.—There are noticeable reinforcements to the siege artillery. The Japanese fire now exceeds that of the Russians in intensity, and Poutloff (Lone Tree) Hill is constantly being bombarded. Two new Japanese batteries are being erected east of the Russian centre. Japanese cavalry is seen with the main army of late, and it is believed that branches have been released for service in Mongolia.

Quiet at Front. Headquarters of the Russian Army, Huan Mountain, Feb. 20.—All is quiet at the front. The second and third armies are in position. The work of the Japanese made an unimportant demonstration Feb. 16, advancing on the Villages of Szeintun, Koutiatso, Vaitshan and Saehtun, but retired after two hours.

BRITAIN TO BUY PHONES.

Price to Be Fixed by Arbitration on Value of Plant and Works Only.

London, Feb. 20.—In view of the trouble which the workers are having with the Telephone Trust, special interest is lent to the announcement that the British Postmaster-General has come to an agreement with the National Telephone Company to take over its business from Dec. 31, 1911.

Lord Stanley is congratulated by the London press upon submission to Parliament of what is considered a good bargain, by which both the taxpayers and the telephone user should be well served. The price to be paid for the business is to be settled by arbitration. All that is to be paid is the fair market value of the plant and the works of the company, nothing for goodwill.

When, in April, 1886, the Postoffice took over the trunk lines, the cost was $2,295,570, but the purchase of the whole business is a more serious matter, from the fact that the company has a share capital of $22,500,000, with debentures amounting to nearly $25,000,000.

Burnt Women and Children.

Salonica, Feb. 20.—In a fight between Bulgarians and Turks at the Village of Kalkitch, near Strumitza, on Feb. 16, the Bulgarians lost 20 killed or wounded. The Turks subsequently burned the village. A commission of enquiry sent to the spot from this city, discovered in the ruins of the village the charred remains of 14 women and several children.

Sollicitors' Steel Securities.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 20.—Much mystery surrounds the disappearance by a law firm on Saturday of securities said to be the property of a client and to have a face value of $255,000. The papers, $50,000 of which are negotiable, were removed from a safe or vault about Jan. 17, since which time unsuccessful efforts have been made to locate them.

Fiendish Treatment by Comrade.

New York, N. Y., Feb. 20.—His hands tied and his clothing saturated with kerosene and then set on fire, was the treatment accorded to Max Spitz, a car cleaner, by fellow workmen in the Morrisania yards of the New York Central Railroad, according to a statement made by Spitz to the police yesterday.

Murdered on a Steamer.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 20.—John A. Hart of this city, 25 years old, and an engineer employed last summer on H. H. Rogers' power boat Vixen, was murdered on the Joy Line steamer Larchmont while a passenger from New York to this city last night.

Would Irrigate More.

Bombay, Feb. 20.—Sir William Willcocks, whose work in connection with the irrigation of Egypt is so well known, has been investigating the practicability of restoring the ancient Chaldean irrigation works on the Euphrates and Tigris.

GRAEME HUNTER AGAIN

Secures Commission to Investigate Charges of Fraud.

The Notorious Emigrant Agent, Will Call for Witnesses—The Social Democratic Federation Oppose the Sending of Young Men to Canada —Earl Derby Exposes English Ignorance of Geography.

London, Feb. 20.—Graeme Hunter made a successful appeal at Glasgow for the appointment of a commission to take evidence in Canada regarding the charge of fraud. The court ruled that the witnesses must be produced in court to tell the story themselves. During the course of the hearing the crown said it would show that Hunter had made no provision for the hundreds of emigrants who were left in the streets to do what odd jobs came along. The minister of the interior was mentioned as one of the witnesses for the defence.

Englishmen's Ignorance of Geography. At a meeting of the Empire League Lord Derby drew attention to the ignorance of many Englishmen regarding the size of the Dominion, many cases of which came under his notice when Governor-General. The late Duke of Cambridge fell into the same error, giving an order for the removal of troops from one part of the Dominion to another, which Lord Derby had to remind him was like sending men from London to Khiva. He thought a closer study of geography was necessary for the citizens of the Empire.

Reynolds' Weekly on Canada. Reynolds' newspaper publishes another warning about Canada—this time from "A British Workman," regarding British Columbia, who says that thousands of Japanese laborers are imported to work in the west for nothing, and take the places of white men. He can truthfully say there is not more than 10 per cent. of able-bodied white men at work at the coast. Protest Against Canadian Emigration.

At a meeting of the Social Democratic Federation, opposing the Tunbridge Wells Colonizing Society, which is sending young men to Canada, H. Laverie specially denounced emigration to Canada. Three classes of persons were benefiting, railway managers, land speculators and manufacturers.

Haldane's Sunny Ways. Mr. Haldane, speaking at the Empire League meeting, said the colonies were conscious enough of their duty to the Empire, as shown by the aid given in the late war. They did not like to be reminded of their duties. If for one had always been careful to avoid pressing the points about naval contributions and other points of that kind. What he looked to was the common ideals, aspirations and purposes which bound the colonies together in one country. He wished to emphasize that we were dealing with people as free as we, and who would remain in communion only if they had the same sense of freedom as we.

Brookville and Graeme Hunter. Brookville, Feb. 20.—Saturday's mail brought a letter to Chief of Police Burke from the City of Glasgow police department, saying that Graeme Hunter and Gavin Cowper are to be tried at the assize court in Glasgow on Feb. 28, current, on charges of fraud in respect that they induced a considerable number of tradesmen and others to take passage to Canada (Toronto, etc.) and to proceed there on the pretence that they or the "Associated British Canadians" had provided employment on their arrival. Hunter, the letter says, has given in a list of persons whom he alleges had arranged with him, or his agents there, to give employment to those sent out, and local information is wanted at once.

The attached list referred to: Mr. Struthers, President Farmers' Association, Brookville, and R. J. Fields, secretary Farmers' Institute, Brookville. In the early part of last summer it was told how young immigrants had arrived here with letters of introduction from Hunter to "Mr. Struthers, President of the Farmers' Association of Brookville." The young men, expected to find jobs awaiting them on their arrival here, and were greatly disgusted to find that no such person as Mr. Struthers existed, and that there was no farmers' association of Brookville. R. H. Field, secretary of the Brookville Fair, took compassion on them and secured employment for some of the dupes. He also wrote a sharp letter to Hunter that unless he stopped such work he would expose him in the Glasgow papers.

Killed Woman and Child.

Peterboro, Feb. 20.—A distressing fatality occurred here at 10 o'clock on Saturday night, when Mrs. Thomas Hanna, a widow, aged 52, and her grandson, Harry Coburn, aged 6, met death when getting off the G. T. R. express from Port Hope. When the train stopped at the diamond, where the C. P. R. is crossed, it is thought Mrs. Hanna mistook the stop at the diamond crossing for the station. The rear wheels of the car passed over her body. The boy had his neck, arms and chest broken.

Trouble Over Yukon Election.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 20.—The steamer Ramona, which arrived on Saturday, brought news that an effort is being made to oust Dr. Thompson, conservative member-elect at Dawson, on the ground that his resignation from the Yukon Council was irregular. Governor Gonsalon, who was his opponent, having resigned as Commissioner, and being, therefore, unable to accept his resignation.

COMPENSATION TO LIQUOR MEN.

Discussing the question of compensating hotelkeepers for the loss of their business, in case of the adoption of a policy involving a considerable reduction in the number of licenses, The Toronto News says:

Two methods were employed in England, both of which appear to have produced good results. For a long time far-seeing owners of public house property have insured themselves against the loss of their licenses. Insurance companies write that class of business as cheerfully as they do fire or marine risks. One corporation is said to have £60,000,000 of licensed property on its books at rates that are by no means high. It being possible to obtain insurance at reasonable rates, this is a plan that is within the reach of each license-holder. Indeed, with the state of public opinion in this country, ordinary business prudence would dictate the adoption of that form of protection. It has this advantage also, that it is perfectly fair. Any parliamentary method would probably treat good and bad alike, but a company can differentiate so that a high-class house, evidently supplying a public demand, shall not have to pay the same premium as a badly-conducted or obviously unnecessary house. Insurance companies are organized to protect the owners of property that is liable to destruction, and that surely includes a renewal license in a community where a constant agitation for further restrictions is maintained.

"In the city of Birmingham another plan was adopted which brought out in a striking way how the trade can compensate the trade without interference. In that city it was agreed that the number of licenses was excessive. The owners therefore formed themselves into a limited company for the purpose of facilitating surrender and adjusting compensation. The procedure adopted was as follows: An area having been selected for treatment, all the licensed houses therein were valued by a committee of owners, or by a valuator appointed by them. It was then determined by a joint committee of owners and magistrates which of the licenses should be allowed to lapse, and the owners of the houses were paid the value as previously fixed. Upon the principle that the trade done by the remaining houses had been increased by the closing of some of their number, two-thirds of the value of the closed houses was assessed upon the owners of the houses in the district. The remaining third, representing lost trade, was met by the owners of public houses over the whole city. Thus the matter was dealt with, and a substantial number of licenses allowed to lapse, every arrangement for compensation being made by the owners themselves, to their mutual satisfaction and without interference."

Of course, a good many people are opposed to compensation, least it should be interpreted as meaning state recognition of the legal right of the license-holder to some equivalent for the loss of his license; but on the other hand there is no doubt that many people are deterred from insisting on a vigorous application of the law by the feeling that it is not fair to take away a man's means of living, without some compensation. It is true that no man has any legal claim to a continuance of his license; but many people have a sense of fair play which they cannot express as a broad theory, and their sympathy is with individuals rather than abstract principles. Just as an aversion to capital punishment is responsible for the escape of many murderers, especially women, so the feeling against depriving a man of his living prevents a more general demand for license reduction. The methods outlined in the above extract appear to meet the objections both of those who are opposed to compensation on principle, and of those who object to the taking of a man's license without compensation.

There is no harm in thinking you are just a little better than the average individual.

COMING RECTOR

The Seaford Examiner says of the Rev. Mr. Hodgins, who will shortly take charge of Holy Trinity church, that he is "a man of independent convictions and fearless of public opinion."

His church at Seaford was much surprised when it learned that he had made up his mind to move to Chatham. He had been in charge 15 years and has built up the church. Some idea of the esteem in which he is held may be gathered from the fact that he was offered a $200 increase to stay.

Mr. Hodgins, however, refused the offer, as he desired a wider field in which to labor. Mr. Hodgins will be much missed in Seaford, where he was the leader of the choir and a prominent figure in social circles. The Examiner says:

The Rev. James Walter Hodgins was born near London and received his early education at a private school, the London Institute and the Ottawa Normal School. After seven years spent in teaching Mr. Hodgins entered the Western University, Huron College, and was ordained by the late Bishop Baldwin. Mr. Hodgins is one of the foremost preachers in the Diocese and is also possessed of a splendid executive ability. He is a Rural Dean of Huron and a member of the executive committee. He is a strong advocate of fraternal societies and has filled important offices in several of the most prominent ones. He is a Past Grand Commander of Seaford Council of the Woodmen of the World and Charitable of the London Esquimaux. Past Grand Chaplain of the Orange Order, Past Grand Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Free Masons, Past Grand Superintendent of the Royal Arch District, Past Chief Ranger of the Canadian Foresters. He is also Honorary Chaplain to the Thirty-third Regiment of Huron Militia and may be found at camp every summer.

BOMBS IN PARIS.

A Spaniard Who Says He Was Ruined Attacks Mexican Legation

Paris, Feb. 29.—Inhabitants of the Champs Elysees quarter on Saturday night were aroused by a loud explosion, and the police were hurriedly summoned, and discovered in front of the Mexican Legation a man severely wounded, and lying amid fragments of a bomb.

He was taken to an hospital and cross-examined. He claimed that his name is Garcia, and that he is a Spaniard. He asserted that he had been ruined by the Mexican Government, and in revenge, threw a bomb, which, however, exploded too soon and he himself was injured. The Spaniard found a revolver, a dagger and some anarchist pamphlets on Garcia, and a search of his lodgings led to the discovery of two bombs, identical to that which he had exploded.

Garcia declares that he was born in Santander in 1862, and denied that he is an anarchist.

Working for Arbitration.

Washington, Feb. 29.—President Roosevelt has not abandoned his idea of obtaining with leading powers of the world definite, comprehensive and effective study of the subject, and representative Barthold of Missouri, president of the inter-parliamentary union.

He discussed the subject of international arbitration on Saturday with Hayne Davis of New York, who has been a study of the subject, and representative Barthold of Missouri, president of the inter-parliamentary union.

Mr. Roosevelt's callers found him content that much would be accomplished in the cause of arbitration at the proposed conference at The Hague.

Newfoundland's Case Stated.

St. John's, Nfld., Feb. 29.—Sir William MacGregor, Governor of Newfoundland, has presented to the British Government an important statement regarding the trade and fisheries of the colony for the past 16 years, the period covered by the modus vivendi arranged at Washington as supplementary to the Chamberlain-Bayard treaty of 1888, whereby American fishermen secured inshore fishery privileges in the waters of Canada and Newfoundland.

This report has an important bearing on the Bond-Hay discussion and will place the situation clearly before the Imperial cabinet.

Didn't Know She Was Divorced.

Cincinnati, Feb. 29.—The climax of the supposed double marriage of Samuel Lawrence Barlett, the famous electric inventor, whose dead body was found in a Dayton boarding house early in the week, came last Saturday, when the attorney of the second wife showed a certified decree divorcing the first wife, who until now believed herself still married to Barlett.

Both women are solely anxious to protect whatever rights their children may have.

Prince Edward Co. Election.

Toronto, Feb. 29.—Argument was heard on Saturday by Justice Maclean in the appeal from the decision of the County Judge, in the matter of the Prince Edward County election recount. Curry (Liberal) was elected by 7, the recount giving each candidate 6 extra votes. Counsel for Norman (Cons.) contended that in subdivision 1, where the vote was 33, Norman was 48, as the D.H.O. failed to give a statement, the count should be thrown out. Judgment was reserved.

Put in Too Much Poison.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 29.—An attempt was made to murder Mrs. Jane L. Stanford within the past month by placing poison in a bottle of mineral water. Dr. Stanford drank three glasses of the mineral water, and had been used in such a large quantity that it acted as an emetic. Mrs. Stanford was taken violently ill.

Sufficient poison was found to kill a dozen persons if it had been used with any judgment. Mr. Stanford has gone to Japan.

LEADER RESIGNED

Mrs. J. S. McMichael (nee Baxter) has resigned the position as choir director and soloist of the William street Baptist church, which she has filled so acceptably for the past two years, the resignation to take effect next Sunday. The services of Mrs. McMichael have been greatly appreciated by the church, which by her resignation loses a popular and accomplished musician.

Even the B. Mistake seems to have forgotten to protest.

I anticipate a merry flood when this snow begins to go.

The County Council meets on Wednesday. Perhaps they'll pass a purchase motion and then resign it.

This is the 20th day of February and no one has yet come forward to tell us that the peach crop is ruined.

I wonder if there's any way in which the weather man could be induced to send this snow away slowly.

Perhaps the Macaulay Club could get the Government to erect a monument to Tecumseh in front of the new armory.

Alarm Clock H. S. Clements is keeping those fellows down at the law-making house in Ottawa awake to the needs of Kent County.

On Saturday, Milton Backus, of Raleigh, said that he had examined the buds on his peach trees and found that his crop had not been ruined.

The Water Commissioners might give the water users the benefit of that surplus. They could do this by throwing out the hydrants around the city.

Over in East Kent, P. H. Bowyer, M. P. P., is already getting busy. These Tory members are great hostlers for the interests of the people they represent.

Herbert Macpherson, formerly of the Post Office staff, writes this G. H. J. from Moundville, W. Virginia. Macpherson states that the cost of jail at Moundville was sold for $100, while by The Planet he sees that Ald. Westman expects to get $1,000 for the police station. The ex-Chathamites wonder why houses of detention are worth more in Canada than in the States.

A WORTHY INSTITUTION

Of all the charitable institutions in the city none are more worthy of support than the Public General Hospital. While it has been the object of the board to make it self-supporting the demands on it have been so great that this as yet has been impossible, on account of the many necessary improvements being required and the number of patients being cared for without remuneration.

The Ladies' Assistance Society are doing a noble work in aid of the hospital, and charitably disposed people can give them valuable assistance by attending the special sale at Austin's, under their auspices, on Friday and Saturday next, the object being the erection of a maternity ward.

Killed Through Dynamite.

Toronto, Feb. 29.—Nicholas Coelson died in the General Hospital yesterday from the effects of injuries to his head received last week in a dynamite explosion at New Liskeard on February 15. The deceased's left eye was blown out, and the frontal bone was seriously injured, exposing the brain. There was never any hope of his recovery from the first.

Admiral Dewey Ill.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Admiral Dewey is confined to his home here with an attack of grippe.

Grand Trunk Run, Ray.

Toronto, Feb. 18.—The civil assizes court jury decided the Grand Trunk Railway Company must pay Adamo Basso $1,000 damages for the death of his son, Francesco, who was killed at Callendar Station last May, while unloading a heavy cable from a car.

I take a great deal of pleasure in recommending them to all kidney trouble-sufferers."

Doan's Kidney Pills help the kidneys to drain off the poisonous impurities which have collected, thus cleansing out the kidneys, bladder, and all the urinary passages. AN ELECTRICAL KITCHEN PRESSING THE BUTTON GIVES HEAT FOR MODERN COOKING.

Great Advantages in This Direction Through the Notable German Invention, Kryptos —Decreased Temperature of the Kitchen by the Use of Electricity the First Great Advantage of the Method—Increased Safety Through Electrical Cooking.

Long ago it was ascertained that when an electric current flowed through a wire some of it disappeared in transit, and it was also found that if the current was large and the wire carrying it was small the greater portion of the electric energy was transformed into heat.
It is evident, then, that if a little coil of wire is placed on the bottom of a saucepan and a current from a lamp socket is sent surging through it, the heat will glow to redness and quickly heat the contents. This is exceedingly simple, but the wire must be insulated, it must be of just the right length and be placed in the correct position in order to obtain the best results with the least cost. A new substance for electric heating is called kryptos, being a recent notable German invention, consisting of graphite, carbonum and clay combined to form a loose mass. In this method the substance is arranged in the form of a cook stove instead of having the heat applied directly to the vessel used.

The first great advantage of calling in electricity as an aid in the proper preparation of foodstuffs is of course obvious to the very kitchen school miss since the temperature of the kitchen is removed from that of the bake oven. When the gasoline arrangement was devised it was considered an important improvement, and it was indeed in so far as decreased temperature was concerned, but its caprices, such as exploding just as dinner was ready to take up, made it unpopular.
In the modern electric kitchen safety reigns supreme, for electricity cannot explode, the teakettles, coffee-pots, saucepans, blenders, boilers, broilers, griddlecooks, waffle irons, water urns, electric ovens, portable stoves and what not being insulated so that it is impossible to get a shock. Then there are no oil odors, there are no products of combustion, and finally the delight of the housewife and the joy of the cook are found in its absolutely uniform temperature.

VENICE A FLOATING CITY.

Eminent Geologist Says Water Underlies It, and Bats Must Come.

Professor Hermann Berdrow, one of the best living authorities on the geology of northern Italy, says Venice is undoubtedly sinking, and nothing can save it from its coming fate. He recently returned from a prolonged and careful examination of the ground and has come to the conclusion that the decay will go on and increase, one building after another going, perhaps whole rows of buildings at once.
The foundations on which Venice is built, he says, are not foundations at all, but water pillars, layers of earth and mud and seaweed, which have formed, perhaps thousands of years ago. These layers are often thirty or a hundred feet thick, but under them is water, often deep water. The inevitable tendency of these water pillars is to sink. The buildings of Venice drove piles deep into these layers and on the piles built palaces and churches, but knew nothing of the treacherous depths below.

Scouting by Telephone.

"Scouting with the aid of the telephone has become one of the features of modern warfare and is now being made use of by the Japanese, says The Western Electrician. Two scouts proceed from the lines toward the enemy, one, the observer, is a skilled army officer who makes the observations, which are transmitted back to headquarters through a telephone line paid out from a reel carried by an electrician of the signal corps.

A ground return is used, the ground being made by thrusting a bayonet or hatchet into the earth and attaching one end of the line to it. The electrician carries a battery on his back. He also makes the connections and does the talking. A special conductor is used which will stand the rough usage. In this manner a scout may be able to stay out a long time and give valuable information without being obliged to make a number of hazardous trips to the front.

Sudden Infatuation.

"So Miss Scadda is going to marry the count, eh?"
"Yes, she took him out to look at one of those pieces of real estate her father told her she could have the choice of for a home, and he proposed on the spot."

"Case of love at first site, eh?"

Every Modern Kitchen

has its jar of Armour's Extract of Beef. Hot water and 1/2 teaspoonful of Armour's Extract make a delightful cup of bouillon. "Left-Overs" of meats, game and vegetables are made into tempting dishes, if a small quantity of Armour's Beef Extract is used in preparing them. Our Cook book tells you how. Send for it.

Catching a Thief in China.

A recent work on China tells how the Celestials sometimes detect a criminal when a western police official would find himself at a loss to secure evidence. It may be thought, perhaps, that Chinese success depends upon the truth of the old saying: "Set a rogue to catch a rogue," but the instance shows shrewdness, at least.

Outside the walls of a certain small city was a dealer in oil cakes, who sold his wares at two cents each. He would place his tray of cakes on a stone lion in front of the public building, and as the customers paid their money, he would put it by the side of the cakes yet unsold. One morning he had occasion to leave his tray for a few minutes. When he returned the money was gone. Unable to find it, he rushed excitedly to the local mandarin, calling loudly, as the Chinese do, for redress.

When brought before his honor by the underlings of the yamen, the dealer stated his case. The money was all gone, and there being no trace of the thief, the judge, who was no novice, directed that the stone lion on which the tray had rested, should be brought into his presence and beaten with a bamboo, as on it alone should the responsibility rest. The proceedings attracted a large crowd of loafers about the yamen court.

When the punishment had been inflicted, the doors were shut and a large jar of water placed at the entrance, and the crowd was compelled to retire one at a time. Each was ordered to throw a coin into the jar. A smart detective, who had been detailed for the business, soon discovered the peculiar oil of the cake-vendor rising after one fellow had thrown in his coin. Seizing him by the "pigtail," the detective said, blandly, "Have you any more? Disgorge!" The fellow at once confessed everything.

Don't Neglect the Farm Manure.

It does not seem to be a great task for some farmers to get in the habit of removing a good load of manure to the field as soon as it is ready; and a habit of this nature once formed is productive of untold benefit. Let no farmer neglect the natural farm manures for the more easily handled commercial fertilizers, but rather let the use of commercial fertilizers secure and use them with as much barnyard manure as he can obtain.

Not His.

"I don't see why Peckham should make a poor mouth all the time. He commands a good salary every week of his life."

"He may command it, but his wife demands it every week."

He Will Cure You First Then You Pay Him

The physician, who has not sufficient confidence in his ability to cure his patients, and receive his pay afterward, is the man to be avoided. He is the man who is in search of a cure, because he has not sufficient confidence in his ability to cure his patients, and receive his pay afterward, is the man to be avoided. Dr. Goldberg's Sharp Darts.

The proverbial sharpness of the child critic is recalled by a recent incident in the household of Rudyard Kipling. The boy at story teller and rhymer. Kipling was rejoicing over the completion of his latest book and began to sing "On the Road to Mandalay," when his daughter, aged eight, interrupted with, "Why, papa, didn't you write that song yourself?" "I did, pet, and now who's about it?" "Oh, nothing, only I was thinking you ought to stick to the tune better."

He Burned Wood.

"There is an old negro down in my town," said John Sharp Williams, "who did me a service, and I wanted to reward him, so I said: 'Uncle, which shall I give you, a ton of coal or a bottle of whiskey?' 'Foah de Lawd, Massa, John,' he replied, 'you all shurely know I burn wood.'"

RUSSIA ALWAYS UPSET.

"The Will of the Majority" and "Great Good of the Greatest Number" Have No Meaning Here.

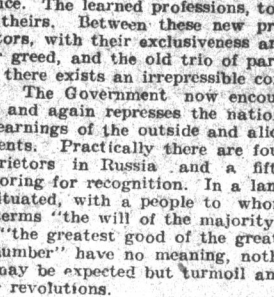

Whenever a modern idea strikes Russia there is trouble. Female education recruited the ranks of nihilists and exiles to Siberia. Concessions to any class—the workmen, the townspeople, the peasantry, the landowners or the nobles—led to a swelling of blood, and those inimicably benefited think they own all Russia. They clamor for more, and other classes clamor in another key for something too.

To begin with, the Russian body politic is all topsyturvy. The czar is the proprietor of the country, the land, the cattle, the people. The nobles have come to think in the course of centuries that they own something, too—each some land and cattle. Formerly they owned people, but the emancipation of 1861 ended all that.

With the abolition of serfdom and the curtailing of the powers of the nobility grew up a powerful body of officials, who, like the czar and the nobles, think they own Russia, or at least that part of it which the czar and the nobles don't swallow up. A sort of three-cornered party has been squeezing the orange, and now a fourth claimant is in the field, the emancipated and awakened commoners, the former serfs, peasants and townspeople.

The new proprietors outside the old grove in reactionary demands and methods. With them it is Russia for Russians, they be it noted, having a monopoly on the name and all the privileges that go with it. With them no Pole, Finn, Jew, Armenian or German need apply. For them, not only in Russia proper, but in Poland and Finland, exist all offices, high and low, in the army and navy, in the railway, postal and telegraph service. The learned professions, too, are theirs. Between these new proprietors, with their exclusiveness and their greed, and the old trio of partners there exists an irrepressible conflict. The Government now encourages and again represses the national elements. Practically there are four proprietors in Russia, and a fifth clamoring for recognition. In a land so situated, with a people to whom the terms "the will of the majority" and "the greatest good of the greatest number" have no meaning, nothing may be expected but turmoil and petty revolutions.

New Royal Seal of England.

OVERSEER.

His Dead Soldier.

This grim story of the war is quoted from a Siberian paper: A Russian regiment was surprised by a Japanese ambush and lost 2,000 killed. Of one company every man was killed, or wounded, only the captain, though wounded, departed by himself. One of his friends, alarmed at this, went to look for him. He found him on the battlefield seated on a large stone. He had dragged to the spot the bodies of the men who once formed his company and had arranged them in the ranks they filled when alive. When he recognized his friend, he called out to him to shoot him for his cowardice in being alive when all his men were dead. Then, losing his reason altogether, he harangued his dead men, calling upon them to follow him and promising them victory. When they did not follow him, he reproached them, but affectionately addressing them by their names. He laid at last to be removed by force and is now in the lunatic asylum at Harbin.

We Will Buy

A 50c. Bottle of Liquezone and Give it to You to Try.

We want you to know about Liquezone, and the product itself can tell you more than we. So we ask you to let us buy you a bottle—a full-size bottle—to try. Let it prove that it does what medicine cannot do. See what a tonic it is. Learn that it does kill germs. Then you will use it always, as we do, and as millions of others do.

This offer itself should convince you that Liquezone does as we claim. We would certainly not buy a bottle and give it to you if there was any doubt of results. You want those results; you want to be well and to keep well. And you can't do that—nobody can—without Liquezone.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquezone. We did this after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, after proving, in thousands of different cases, that Liquezone destroys the cause of any germ disease.

Liquezone has for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. It is not made by compounding drugs, nor by alcohol. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you.

Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are "vegetables"; and Liquezone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

There lies the great value of Liquezone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissue, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Every physician knows that medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

Severe Chest Coughs
And Painful Coughs

Demand Prompt and Active Treatment.

The great danger in troubles of this class is "delay." Don't neglect a Cough or Cold, it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected—Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Asthma, Catarrh and Consumption will surely follow the neglect to cure.
The first dose of

DR. WOOD'S
NORWAY PINE SYRUP

will ease the cough, soothe the inflamed throat and loosen the phlegm.

Mrs. Joseph Paradis, Blackwell, Ont., writes:—I had such a bad cold I could hardly breathe. I noticed Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so had my husband get me two bottles—I had only used one before I was cured. I recommended it to a friend, and two bottles cured her after other remedies had failed—we both keep it in the house now and would not be without it. It is the best cough medicine I have ever taken.

forty-two miles. Five sets of documents will radiate from a central point, and the fare on either line to the end of the route will be 2 cents.
The profits derived from municipal ownership go to reduce taxes or to benefit the public in other ways.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Cetarrah Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity.
Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cetarrah Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have go-tween faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure.

"Oh, yes, it does," said the still wiser

WHAT CAUSES SNORING.

When asleep, people that snore breathe through the mouth instead of the nostrils, which are choked with catarrh. Just use "Catarrh Cure" before retiring and you'll quickly cure the cause of snoring. By destroying the cause of catarrh and healing the membranes, Catarrh Cure makes a complete cure in every case; it cleans the nostrils, stops the discharge and prevents drooping in the throat in a few minutes. Nothing so pleasant or certain to cure snoring, catarrh or colds as Catarrh Cure—that's worth remembering.

An unfilled promise is apt to come back in a way not at all pleasant.

In some of the Swiss valleys the inhabitants are all afflicted with goiter, a "thick neck." Instead of regarding this as a deformity they seem to think it a natural feature of physical development, and tourists passing through the valleys are sometimes teased by the goitrous inhabitants, because they are without this offensive swelling. Thus a form of disease may become so common that it is regarded as a natural and necessary condition of life. It is in a way a large extent, with what are called diseases of women. Every woman suffers more or less from irregularity, ulceration, debilitating drains, or female weakness, and this suffering is as common and so universal that many women accept it as a condition natural and necessary to their sex.
But it is a condition as unnatural as it is unnecessary. The use of Dr.
"Favorite Prescription" makes weak themselves the delicate womanly functions, and regulates the womanly functions, so that woman is practically delivered from the pain and misery which eat up ten years of her life—between the ages of fifteen and forty-five.
"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well.

There is a streak of selfishness in every man, but some manage to keep it under subjection.

OUR OUTWARD SEEMING

ENGLISH CORRESPONDENT SAYS THE CANADIAN IS AN AMERICAN.

This is Galt and Wernwood to Englishmen Visiting Canada—Canadians, With All Their Dignity, Deny the Soft Impression—Good Enough to Say, However, That Despite Yankeeisms the Canadian Is a Good Fellow.

The excellent series of Canadian articles lately completed in The Birmingham Post, will have carried your readers across the great Dominion—from the St. Lawrence to the Pacific slope—as in a moving picture. We have had but before us, in a succession of vivid pictures, the strenuous life of the city and the settlement. We have had a detailed portrait of "Jake Canuck" of the plains, rough and ready, full of pluck, energy, self-reliance, optimism and grit, the finest of the Canadian town dwellers has been somewhat crowded out of the canvas. The Birmingham Post. His brother of the prairie is a more picturesque personality, and him our able correspondent has delineated with a full measure of appreciation.
Yet, the study of the Canadian as a citizen is at least of equal interest, and for this one must go to the older and larger cities of the eastern provinces rather than to the territories of the great Northwest, where the immigrant population, so largely of Scotch and Irish descent, is sketchy, therefore, of the older colonist from the social side—by one who knows him pretty well—may not inappropriately be offered as a supplement to those that have appeared before.

In a former article of mine, descriptive of the city of Toronto, I commented upon the American appearance of the place. With the exception of Quebec—which is French —this applies to pretty well all the cities of the Dominion. And as it is with the city, so it is with the man.
The thing is scarcely to be wondered at. The relation of the Canadian to the mother country is very like that of a man who, in his youth, should have left the paternal roof to seek his fortune over the sea. For years nothing in particular has been heard of him, nor has he been troubled much about him. But, in the fullness of time, the news reaches home that the young man has prospered greatly. Hereupon the old man begins to take a warm interest in this son he had almost forgotten, but who has done some credit to the family, and becomes filled with the desire to go and visit him, and see the place he has made for himself. But nearly who is young man—whose Christian name is "Jake"—had settled, lived shrewd old uncle of his named "Sam," who has had his eye on the lad all the time, and he had him a bit, bullied him a bit, but nurtured him a bit, chafed him a bit, but carefully kept on good terms with him throughout. And Uncle Sam being a fine, big self-assured fellow and a successful man of business, withal—Jake, who was young and impressive, has fallen very much into his ways and manners; so that when the father comes over to see him, he scarcely recognizes his son for his own.

To all outward seeming the Canadian is an American. In his dress, his manners, his tastes, his manners, in his sports, his slang and his twang, the Canuck affects the Yankee, and in everything, except his political allegiance, inclines to the States rather than to Britain. All this, of course, is gall and wormwood to the Englishman visiting Canada. I am aware that the Canadian himself would deny the impression, and in all sincerity, too; the fact being that he is not fully conscious of the extent of his own Americanization. In the matter of accent, for example, he cannot understand being mistaken for an American. Canadians, in particular, wax wroth at being called Americans; they cannot imagine how they can be any question about a thing so obvious. And obvious it may be to themselves. Americans and Canadians can doubtless tell each other apart. But to the average Britisher the accents of the two peoples are as undistinguishable as the dialects of Yorkshire and Lancashire are to the Londoner. Your special correspondent, in one of his articles, said that Americans and Canadians were sufficiently near neighbors to be learned to cordially dislike each other.
That may be so. But constant contact has had its inevitable effect, and the younger colonist is a copy of his big cousin from over the border. That would not prevent his fighting him, however, if the need arose, for Canada is as loyal as the sea is salt.

In spite of his Yankeeisms—because of them, in some aspects—our Canadian is a "good fellow." He would be a still better one did he expect less. Beside the qualities of sternness mentioned above, he has very many likeable points; he is generally cheerful, open-hearted and affable. He is almost invariably cordial in his welcome of an Englishman—that is, if he is taken from the right side. This means that the English visitor must take the Canadian at his own valuation, which is not a low one. He is cock-sure that the Dominion is the keystone of the Empire, and that the Canadian contingent turns the scale of fortune in the Boer war. His Englishman will not cavil at either thesis. The story goes of the Can-uck who heard of the death of Queen Victoria and the accession of King Edward. "The Prince of Wales come to the throne, d'ye say? Gosh! He must be well in with Laurier," was his comment. Overweening self-esteem and hypersensitiveness to criticism are the Canadian's most marked weaknesses. You are treading on thin ice this moment you begin to discuss his country with him. He is especially sensitive on the subject of his climate. He resents the popular and certainly erroneous belief held in Europe that Canada is a land of almost eternal snow. And, failing to understand that these pictures of winter scenes appeal to the imagination of the people of England—where there is no winter to speak of—he waxes wroth with tourists who take home photos of ice palaces, snowbound streets and frozen waterfalls.

Even in your praise of the land you must be careful not to sound too much of amazement at the big things he has done. It is fatal to let it be seen that the reality far exceeds your previous conception.
Of course, says he—if he detects this suggestion—"you English imagine Canada to be all backwoods and log cabins, and expect to see Red Indians tracking the paddles down the streets of Toronto and confronted. Consequently he resents the Britisher going home laden with Indian curiosities as souvenirs of the Dominion.

BADLY LAID OUT.

Ottawa Parliament Buildings Face Everybody Into Cramped Rooms.

Although very beautiful externally, the Parliament buildings at Ottawa are badly laid out inside. Most of the inconveniences, including the antiquated system of ventilation, the cramped rooms, and the fact that the members could not put up with it if they only had room to turn around.

Everybody complains of narrow quarters, writes the special correspondent of The Toronto Star. The members, with two hundred and thirty-four, are crowded into a space which would have a cozy corner to think in and write letters in, has a hundred rooms for the business and recreation of the House. The Senate, with eighty-four members, has the same number of rooms, and the lack of accommodation does not press there so hard. Even with more than its fair share of the Legislative building the Senate finds reason, however, to regret that it should be crowded, and confined, and sometimes suffers the difficulty of turning an official out and taking room. For instance, Black Rod, who used to have apartments in the building, has been evicted, and now he has to find a place for light, heat, and rent instead.

The Senate can do anything and nobody is offended, or if they are, it doesn't do them any good, for the Senate is high above the judgment of ordinary persons. In the Commons, however, they are more tender of people's feelings, and the hundred rooms have to go a long way.
If the House could take the hundred rooms and make a reasonable distribution of them much of the presented inconvenience could be avoided.
It would be possible for all the officials of the House to be properly provided and to have a large number of rooms for the accommodation of the members. But the chief thing that is considered on the subject is that nothing or nobody shall be disturbed, that no vested right shall be impugned, and no long-standing privilege questioned. No doubt that the members of Parliament should be better treated
than they do in the way of rooms.
No one but will admit that No. 16 and No. 8 are too noisy for a writing room, and that there should be provision made for the members to correspondence privately without having to leave the building to do it.
But the fact of the matter is that the members must remain crowded until somebody comes along who will leave the building to do it.

The officials are good fellows enough, modest and not overweening in their private capacity, but officially they feel very big and need lots of space to spread. They know that the members of the House are being refused of doors, but they refuse to see that they can do anything to help. When it was suggested to clerk the other day that he might take his assistant in with him, and so place Mr. Speaker at the disposal of Mr. Speaker, he was both pained and surprised. It was suggested that the members of Parliament should be better treated
than they do in the way of rooms.

One of the results of the Russian-cheaper than ever. It will take some time for the drop in the price of raw furs to affect the retail sale of the manufactured product, but the public are already beginning to get the benefit in reductions made in Russia is one of the largest fur buying countries. Canada and Russian North America and abroad their surplus of raw furs beyond what the United States market will take. The United States, except for some production in Alaska, imports almost all of its expensive furs which are used there. Smaller furs like muskrats, raccoons, skunks and opossums, are produced in large numbers in the United States, and a great part of them is exported.

THINK IT OVER.

Something You Can See in Any Restaurant or Cafe.

A physician puts the query: Have you never noticed in any large restaurant at lunch or dinner time the large number of hearty, vigorous old men at the tables; men whose ages run from 60 to 80 years; many of them bald and all perhaps gray, but none of them feeble or senile?

Perhaps the spectacle is so common as to have escaped your observation or comment, but nevertheless it is an object lesson which means something.

If you will notice what these hearty old fellows are eating you will observe that they are not munching crackers nor gingerly picking their way through a menu card of new fangled health foods; on the contrary they seem to prefer a heavy roast of beef, a properly turned loaf of mutton, and even the deadly broiled lobster, and all this with a vigorous old age depends upon good digestion and plenty of wholesome food, and not upon dieting and an endeavor to live upon bran crackers.

There is a certain class of food cranks who seem to believe that meat, coffee, and many other good things are rank poisons, but these endowed, sickly looking individuals are a walking condemnation of their own theories.

The matter in a nutshell is that if the stomach secretes the natural digestive juices in sufficient quantities, food will be perfectly safe to eat, and will be digested; if the stomach does not do so, and certain food causes distress, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal will remove all difficulty, because they supply what every weak stomach lacks, pepsin, hydro-chloric acid, diastase and nux.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do not act upon the bowels, and in fact are not strictly a laxative, as they act almost entirely upon the food eaten, digesting it thoroughly, and thus gives a much-needed rest and giving an appetite for the next meal.

Of people who travel nine out of ten use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, knowing them to be perfectly safe to use at any time and also having found out by experience that they are a safeguard against indigestion in any form, and eating, as they have to, at all hours and all kinds of food, the travelling public for years have placed their faith in Stuart's Tablets.

All druggists sell them at 50 cents for full size package, and any druggist from Maine to California, if his shop is on a main street, will say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most popular and successful remedy for any stomach trouble.

His Pleasant Speech.

Jack—Colonel Blank is the finest after dinner speaker I every heard of. Tom—Indeed! I wasn't aware that he had any ability in that direction.
Jack—Well, he has, all right.
I have heard him several times, and after dinner he invariably picks up the checks and says, "That's all right, my boy; I'll pay the bill."

thy, tones up the system, and gives smooth, clear complexion by using it and beautiful complexion by using it better as well. Fifty cents buys a box containing fifty chocolate coated tablets at any drug store.

TUMBLER TRICK.

You seem to force an Ordinary Glass Through a Table.

Many entertaining tricks can be done without the use of apparatus or confederates. To force an ordinary glass through the center of a table so that it will fall on the floor underneath will cause much astonishment on the part of the spectators.

All that is needed are a plain table, a plain drinking glass without a stem and a page from a newspaper. Have the spectators examine the table and satisfy themselves that there are no traps or springs connected with it.
Then announce what you propose doing.

Place the glass on the table mouth downward and sit down in a chair facing the audience.

Place the newspaper over the glass and carefully press the center of the paper until it conforms perfectly to the shape of the glass. Move the paper and glass around until you get the glass to the edge of the table, and it will fall noiselessly into your lap.

Continue moving the paper around as if the glass were still under it. It will appear that way to the audience. When in the center of the table hit the paper where it conforms to the shape of the glass a resounding whack, at the same time opening your knees, allowing the glass to fall on to the floor under the table. To every appearance you have forced the glass through the table on to the floor. This is a very effective trick if it is skillfully performed.

Do Not Allow It to Become Loud or Sharp or Hard.

Kind hearts are more plentiful than persistently kind and gentle voices, and yet love loses much of its power when the voice is sharp and hard. Try, therefore, most earnestly to acquire the right tone in speaking, and guard yourself carefully from falling into careless and bad habits of voice. Often a sharp voice shows far more ill will than the heart feels, but people do not know that the speaker's "bark is worse than her bite," and they believe her to be ill tempered and disagreeable. It is so easy to pick up a sharp and snapping manner of speaking, and very often it is acquired in mirth and in the give and take battles of words in which boys and girls delight. There is no malice in their sallies, and a great deal of fun, but meanwhile the voice is often acquiring a sharp and shrill tone which sticks through life, making it sit up and strike and ill will among its listeners. So watch the tone in which you speak and take care that it is gentle and sweet. A true voice is like music in the home and it is to the heart what light and beauty are to the eye.

IMITATING THE JAMES GANG

Six Men With Revolvers Held Up Twelve and Seized $800.
Chicago, Feb. 19.—Twelve men were held up by six armed robbers in the office of Max Milberg, Clybourne Place and Hawthorne street. The highwaymen fired several shots as they entered, wounding two persons. They knocked another unconscious with a blow from a revolver. They then took more than $800 and escaped.
There were four men in the office when the robbers entered. Without warning the six robbers appeared and began firing. Julius Beney, a clerk, and Milberg, dropped to the floor to escape the bullets, but two robbers were struck and slightly wounded. After the shooting the robbers ordered the four men to hold up their hands.
At this point eight of the drivers and allies who were in a bar at the rear ran in. Revolvers were pointed at them and they were told to "line up" against the wall.
While two of the robbers kept the victims in subjection, the other four took Beney into the inner office and ordered him to open the safe. An inner compartment remained locked, which contained only the private papers of the proprietor. Beney was commanded to open this, and when he said he could not two of the robbers struck him with their revolvers, making him unconscious. They then carried him to the outer office, where they forced the twelve men to lie face downward on the floor until they could be searched. When they secured all the plunder they could find the robbers ran out.
Don't brag about your future if you just won't stand close scrutiny.
