TECUMSEH PARK SHOULD BE AN ABORIGINAL MUSEUM

Ald. Thomas Scullard Offers a Suggestion Which is Original and Valuable—Scheme to Preserve Our Native Trees

The damage done in Tecumseh Park by the recent wind storm has been the cause of much comment, and on all sides are heard regrets at the loss of so many beautiful maple trees. Ald. Scullard, however, takes a more sensible and encouraging view of the matter, and his suggestion as given in the following interview is well worth consideration from the people who are so enthusiastically interested in Chatham's fame as a beautiful city.

"So far as the storm on the park is concerned, I don't think it will do any harm at all. In fact I believe it affords us an opportunity to make use of it in this way. I am told by those who are supposed to understand these matters, that the trees are at present too thick. In talking the matter over with Fred Stone, Judge Bell and others this opinion was freely and confidently expressed. I would give as a suggestion to the Parks committee that they consider some means whereby they can preserve the trees and give the grass a chance to grow on all parts of the park.

"At present all of the trees in the park are of soft maple. Now this is a public park, and as you probably know, a great many of our hard wood trees are disappearing. I would make our park a sort of a museum. It might be well to thin out a number of the trees that are still left on the grounds, and wherever it is found necessary to take out a soft maple, the committee could make arrangements to get some species of a hard wood tree from the farmers around here, and put them in the places vacated by the present trees. Native trees such as butternut, hickory, dog wood, chestnut, oak, elm, etc., should be used in the second growth, and in a short time we would have one of the prettiest and most interesting parks to be found anywhere. It would be an education to spend an hour in it.

"The soft maples have served their time as shade trees, and the change could be made so gradually that none of the shade would be lost during the process of changing the trees. A few of the hard wood trees could be planted at first, and as they grew up, keep taking out a few maples.

"In this way, we would not only be making a beautiful and interesting park, but we would be preserving different specimens of our native trees which are, under present conditions, fast becoming extinct."

THE MISSIONARIES GAS FOR CHATHAM

Helpful Discussions and Encouraging Reports Mark the Women's Meeting

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.
The 12th Annual Convention of the London Conference Branch of the Women's Missionary Society, was concluded in the Park St. Methodist church yesterday afternoon.

In the temporary absence of Mrs. Wright, the President, Mrs. Burns occupied the chair.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. Wright, London.
Hon. Vice President—Mrs. Dickson.
Hon. Pres.—Mrs. Burns.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. Langford.
3rd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Fowler.
Corresponding Sec.—Mrs. Tennant.
Treasurer—Mrs. Marshall.
Recording Sec.—Mrs. Acheson.
Mission Band Sec.—Mrs. Harrison.
Supt. Systematic Giving.—Mrs. Russell.

The election of District Organizers and of delegates to the Convention followed this. Very few changes were made from the last year's list. Mrs. Burns, St. Thomas, gave an excellent address on "Division of funds," which was received with much applause.

A great deal of routine work was gone through and full preparation was made for the coming year's work.

Mrs. Wright made a short speech at the conclusion of the conference appealing to the ladies to give even greater attention to the work than they had devoted to it in the past. Mrs. Wright's last words were, "Let us couple with our motto, 'Lord send a revival and let it begin in my heart.' The benediction from the sermon on the mount, 'Blessed are they who hunger and thirst after righteousness for they shall be filled,' and with these words in our hearts, let us endeavor to carry on the work

The Council Will Have To Consider A Proposition To Pipe The City

The Chatham City Council have some very important business ahead of them. Monday evening a special meeting will be called for the purpose of considering the agreement with the International Electric Co., Ltd., and the advisability of submitting a by-law to the ratepayers.

The following Monday, at the regular session of the council, two or more natural gas companies will ask for franchises for piping Chatham, to supply the city with natural gas, which abounds in marvellous quantities in the Tilbury and other adjacent oil fields. The utilization of this gas promises to be a great industry of the near future in this section. J. White, of the Barnswell Syndicate, is one of the gentlemen interested, and a company of gentlemen from Wellsville, New York, will also ask for a franchise. This company have purchased the Smith farm near Tilbury, it is understood, for a very large consideration.

To-day, Chatham was full of oil magnates, all of whom are vitally interested in the various surrounding oil fields.

Men very much dislike being reminded of their early love episodes.

It takes a woman to make a man feel his want of importance.

Wisdom often consists in keeping our thoughts to ourselves.

LATEST IN PEEK-A-BOOS

They Are Called "Swiss Cheese" and "Maiden's Blush"

THEY CALL FOR RIBBONS

A New York letter says:—"My firm has patented a name for a new summer shirt waist," said the female drummer, who sells "white goods of all descriptions."

"It's the Swiss cheese," and no one need ask what's in a name hereafter. This new shirtwaist can be best described as a bunch of holes surrounded by delicate embroidery.

"We are putting out another new shirt waist named, 'The Maiden's Blush.' It is might effective, too. If it becomes the fashion I will sell blunders, binders and eye shades for the men as a side issue."

"Mine is a very enterprising firm," continued the drummer. "Only today the head of the firm read about that girl who tried to button up her shirt waist in a hurry and broke her arm doing it. Of course, you guess, it buttoned up the back. Ninety-nine out of 100 shirt waists do."

"There will be no more such accidents, for the head of our firm will patent a shirt waist that will lace just like cor-well, just like another article of female apparel. Think of the possibilities in that splendid idea. Try to imagine the gorgeousness of the ribbons that will be used as laces and coquettishly tied around the waist for purposes of a belt. You may have observed—casually, of course—the opportunity for a display of ribbons that a peek-a-boo waist affords. Well, our shirt waist will double the 'show space,' so to speak.

"I see they are in a panic in London, lest the peek-a-boo become the rage there. But they need have no fear. What woman cares to wear a peek-a-boo in a fog?"

A LIGHT SENTENCE

Young Men Who Interfered With Officer Groves Fined Fifteen Dollars Each

The County Court closed last night before Judge Dowlin at the Court House.

The last three cases on the dock were those against Messrs. Field and Jackson and Frank Bedford. These were the cases arising out of the unfortunate disturbance at the Chatham Driving Park on the 25th of May. Police Officer Groves attempted to arrest a man for being drunk and disorderly. The man resisted and the crowd encouraged him, and it was alleged that these men interfered in the drunk man's behalf. The man, however, was arrested, and the three men were also arrested on the above charge. The jury found Jackson and Field guilty, but found in the case of Bedford that he had been drawn into the matter quite innocently. Bedford was given an honorable dismissal.

In both the cases of Field and Jackson, the juries made pleas for mercy, and the Crown Attorney, knowing that the men did not realize that they were committing an offense at the time, did not press for a heavy sentence. As a result they were each fined—Jackson and Field—$15. The judge gave them both a severe warning, but in passing the sentence he took into consideration the good character of the two men and put much importance upon the fact that they have never before been into any trouble of any kind, and their employers spoke in the highest terms of their character.

In the case of Bedford, it was unfortunate that he was drawn into the matter. It was clearly shown by his solicitor, J. M. Pike, that he was in no way interfering with the officer, and should never have been accused.

Bedford's case was handled by J. M. Pike in a masterly manner. His address to the jury was an able effort, spirited and convincing.

In addressing Field and Jackson, the judge said that he was sure that the incident would never have happened if the men had been sober. It should be a lesson to them to leave strong drink alone in future. If they ever came up again on a similar charge, they would not be so lightly dealt with.

W. H. Burroughs, who was found guilty of assaulting Wm. Coulter, the man who was burned to death in Wallaceburg, was sentenced to one month in the county gaol.

The session was then declared closed.

PRESENTED HIM

At a meeting in their mess rooms last evening, the Non. Coms of the 24th Regiment, did honor to their comrade, Color Sergeant William Glover, who is shortly to join the ranks of the benedicts. Mr. Glover was presented with a beautiful parlor table and an address. The address was read by Quartermaster Sergeant Leitch, and the presentation was made by Sergeant Northwood. Mr. Glover made an appropriate reply, and the balance of the evening was spent in a pleasant, social way.

HUGH MALCOLMSON RETURNS FROM A TRIP TO THE COAST

The Wonderful Possibilities of the Canadian West are Beyond the Comprehension of the Average Easterner—An Interesting Interview.

Hugh Malcolmson, one of Chatham's most prominent and influential citizens, returned yesterday from a most successful business trip through the Canadian Northwest and British Columbia. Mr. Malcolmson is a very observant traveller. During his business trip he never fails to see the beautiful in nature, and the interesting in human life, and he is very generous in imparting his knowledge to his many friends. Last evening a Planet representative called upon Mr. Malcolmson at his apartment at Hotel Sunia, and in a very fascinating hour's conversation learned many things about Canada's wonderful possessions in the Northwest, that he did not know before, and of which many people in this, and many other countries, have no conception.

"It is five years since I have been through the Northwest," said he, "and I could not but wonder at the marvellous improvement and development of the country. Winnipeg is fully twice the size that it was then and the other towns and cities have grown in proportion. Everywhere as you go west you find the most hopeful spirit among the people of the country. There are no pessimists and I can find one man who did not seem to be brimming over with enthusiasm. Going west on the main line just before we reached Regina we travelled for half a day, and as far as the eye could penetrate on all sides there was nothing but green fields of grain. It was a sight well worth seeing, and gives a small idea of the vast amount of grain grown in that country."

"The development in the smaller towns has been very great during the past five years. I noticed a wonderful difference in Banff. This is as you know, one of the most beautiful resorts in the west, and it is becoming more and more popular every year. The large hotel there, which is one of the most elaborate in that country, has doubled its capacity, and now has three hundred bedrooms, beautifully fitted up. The manager told me that if next month is anything like the same month last year that they will be turning people away every day. People from all parts of the globe, from the Orient on the left, Ontario on the right, and the States on the south, are found in this city."

"The values of the land are astounding, and are increasing very rapidly. Winnipeg is destined to be a great city, and Brandon is also going to be a city of importance. We tried to travel during the day time as much as possible, and we succeeded in making the most of our journey during the day, so that we were able to see quite a lot of the country."

"Qu'Appelle has made the most progress of all the cities that I visited. Regina, with its 8,500 population, is also advancing, and Moose Jaw claims to have 7,000. When I was there before they had only 2,000. One thing I could not help but notice was the substantial manner in which the cities are built. There is an air of prosperity about every place."

"From Medicine Hat we went west to Calgary. This is known as the stone-built city. All of the buildings there are of stone, from the fact that the stone can be secured so handsomely and so cheaply. While there I met Hugh Neilson, who at one time was in business with me. He showed me through his warehouses, and from all appearances he is doing an extensive and profitable business."

"In Calgary we visited all of the whole sale houses, and met a very intelligent and hospitable class of people. Our next stop was in Edmonton and Strathcona. These two cities are only separated by the Saskatchewan River, and there is great rivalry. Both are very beautifully situated on high banks and will be large cities. Land on the main street of Edmonton is held for $800 per foot. I walked three-quarters of a mile into the future residential section of the city, and was informed that land in this part of the city, which is not yet opened up, is held for $30 and $40 a foot front. The Canadian Northern Railway gave good accommodation, and it is expected that the Grand Trunk Pacific will go into Edmonton, and this will add to its importance."

"Vancouver is increasing at an enormous rate. It is a hustling place with many warehouses and is an important distributing point. We went from Vancouver to Victoria by boat in four hours, making it about 21 miles an hour, and during that trip I had the pleasure of seeing a few whales sporting themselves. Victoria is a very beautiful city, but very conservative. Its location is against it, but the Grand Trunk Pacific is considering the advisability of building a bridge to it. This may never come to anything, however. There are beautiful climatic conditions there, just like the south of England. Flowers are in abundance and are very luxuriant. Some Scotchmen took the trouble to spread broom all over, and as a result there is abundance of it to be seen. At Oak Bay, which we visited, there is a fine summer hotel, which by the way, even all the year round, Victoria is not growing very fast. Land values are not as high as they are in Vancouver, but there are a lot of wealthy Englishmen who make their homes there, and merely live on their money. It is the city of homes."

"At Penticton, where we went from Seamus Junction, there is a hotel built out on the water. The station platform adjoins the hotel, and right next to the track on the other side is a large mountain, so that the hotel could not be there unless it were built on the water. Arriving at Revelstoke, we started on a trip down the Okanagan valley where the fruit is all grown. This was one of the most enjoyable parts of our journey. All kinds of fruit are grown in this valley, and the trip by boat is very beautiful. The banks are high, and the scenery is magnificent. From Arrow Head we went to Nelson and Cranbrook and Rossland. Nelson seems to be holding its own, but Rossland is going back. They have nothing there to depend upon but mining, as there is little agricultural land in that district."

"At Moosejaw we struck the main line again. After visiting Glacier City, we went to Lethbridge, where all the coal mines are situated. This is going to be one of the best cities in that section of the country. The people there have left a large square in the centre of the town for a park, and have planted a number of fine maple trees. It reminded me very much of our own Tecumseh Park. There is little wheat grown there; it is all mining. When we were there a strike was on among the miners, and the mounted police were on guard, and they certainly did good work. There were 500 men on strike, and they were kept in a house guarded by thirteen mounted police, while the non-strikers worked in the mines."

"It was in Lethbridge that I saw the most beautiful sunset that I have ever seen my privilege to witness. The sun went down behind the rolling lands with no trees to obstruct the view. All that separated the glowing sky from the green lands was the distinct horizon line. It was a sight well worth travelling miles to see. The evenings are long, and at ten o'clock I read a newspaper in the open air. We left there at 1:45 in the morning but it did not seem so late. It seemed more like eight o'clock."

"Around Strathcona the land is magnificent. When we went there I saw some men digging the earth went down 23 feet and the black loam penetrated the ground 20 inches, making it very fertile. Farm land around Edmonton is valued at $50 an acre, and at this it is not all cleared. The cheerful and hopeful of the people and their faith in the country is unbounded."

"We passed through all that was left of Frank. The rocks from the landslide were piled up on both sides of the track. Other places of interest were visited, but you cannot gain any conception of what this country is capable of. It is so vast that you are merely astounded."

"The trains are all crowded with tourists, and it is hard to get a berth of any kind. There are lots of Americans travelling through. I met two young men from India coming down on the steamer from Fort William, and they said they had travelled all over the world but they did not find another country that could compare with Canada."

"Mr. Malcolmson's trip was made principally for the purpose of visiting the wholesale houses in the West, and he has come back well satisfied both intellectually and commercially."

Hot Pipe Bites the Tongue.

"You see smoking tobacco advertised every now and again guaranteed not to bite the tongue. Dealers sell it of course, but inwardly they smile at the idea." So spoke a tobaccoist. "You see, it's this way. The fire in the pipe will bite the tongue if the tobacco burns too fast—namely, if it is a very loose long cut tobacco or a very short dry cut and not packed closely enough in the bowl. There is a point where tobacco may be too closely packed to draw and a point where it may be so loosely packed that it burns fast, and minute sparks pass through the stem and reach the smoker's mouth. These are the causes of burnt tongues."

Men are the sport of circumstances, when the circumstances seem the sport of men.

He who would be a great soul in the future must be a great soul now.

The Elephant's Trunk.

An elephant's trunk answers that animal as nose and hand. He also uses it for drinking, drawing up the water through his trunk and then pouring it into his mouth. The elephant has a singular habit of his nose down from the heat of poking his nose into his throat into his stomach, and with drawing a quantity of water, which he then squirts over his back and sides to cool his body. As during a warm day this operation is repeated about once in every five minutes riding an elephant in the sun is no pleasant undertaking.

To pity distress is but human; to clean house is no sign that she is intellectual.

Narrow Silk Belting Makes the Smoothest Belts

To Obtain and Retain the Ideal Servant

By Mary E. Carter

Copyright, 1905, by A. S. Barnes & Co.

IT SEEMS trite to state that ideals depend upon the stage of soul development of the human being, nevertheless the truth needs reiteration. For ideals are as various as are individual characters, and they advance with the spiritual unfoldment of the soul. The ideal of man in the savage state is very far below those of man civilized, and generally in the present stage of humanity's march are far below the altruistic ideals now just coming into our range of vision.

Simply stated, the ideal twentieth-century servant must be honest, sober, competent, respectful, obedient, patient and steadfast—have the staying power. These requirements would probably constitute that ideal servant's equipment which might justify the title of "ideal" in his will. Having discovered and obtained that rare servant, the next equally important question is how to retain the rare bird.

The method is easier stated than followed. The master or mistress of such an invaluable auxiliary in the household ought to be as well equipped for his or her role, therefore, the ideal employer should be of course, honest, sober, kind, considerate, courteous, appreciative, just, and also steadfast, having "retained" the servant.

By steadfast on the servant's side is meant one who remains loyal in one place, who is not easily changed, who is not easily won over by personal convenience. By steadfast on the employer's side is meant one who keeps his or her word, who is not easily changed, who is not easily won over by personal convenience, and who could not think of closing a house and discharging a good servant without careful thought for the well-being of every reasonably good servant.

SEWING THE LACES

Lace mending has always been one of the bugaboos of the mending basket. But valentines face can be mended without betraying the fact, if the torn mesh is filled in with the lace stitches used in doing the finer sort of renouveau. The mesh may be copied exactly, or, if the lace is badly torn, the only satisfactory way is to cut the torn place entirely away, and match the design where it unites again, perhaps applying a separate motif on to the design. A little bit of the torn mesh is left, a motif cut from one of the torn bits you've cut away. Smooth every little thread or group of threads out and wind them deftly with fine cotton.

Heavy laces are always easier to mend than light ones, but light ones can be treated the same way. If the mesh is cut in a straight line and a fine thread binds the two pieces together.

The danger from a belt torn out by hooks and eyes is that the cloth of the skirt may yield to the strain and make an ugly tear. It should be mended as soon as possible after the necessity for it is discovered. Slip a bit of heavy canvas in between the double thickness of the belt at the point where it is torn; mend and sew the hooks on the other side. It is hardly likely to tear out again.

But a better way, if you've time, is to replace the belt entirely. Buy a thin piece of silk or cotton, and give it the same shape as the old belt. Sew the belt on to the canvas, and give it the same shape as the old belt. Sew the belt on to the canvas, and give it the same shape as the old belt.

THE NEWEST BOWLS AND THEIR USES

There is one odd bowl of deep green glass, with trimmings and ladle and tray of some odd metal which looks like brass, but which doesn't turn green from its contact with moisture as brass almost invariably does, nor need the constant cleaning. It is a new form of that curious invention which so closely resembles pewter, and which sprang into popularity seemingly at a single bound a couple of years ago.

A rare old bowl—Chinese medallion ware—has a plate (a huge affair) to place under the bowl. That plate is flat in the peculiar way so characteristic of Chinese things.

Very few bowls are made in the popular Colonial cut, except the smaller ones and comports. For the larger pieces that cut is combined with others—perhaps the base made with the dignified clean lines of which are its hallmark, the upper part cut into involved designs which are shown off at their prettiest by the simple beauty of the base.

One of the novelties high in favor in Paris has a framework of the new metal which is so like brass, and which holds three little bowls, used over there for the serving of sardines and other delicacies, and which are used for serving salted nuts and candy—although they are so new as yet. But they are pretty and practical—two very good reasons upon which to predict their success.

Austrian glass has been given a new touch by introducing colors with the glass in a way, with soft, pretty colors, joining in a design which is necessarily opaque or stretching out into delicate, feathery patterns over the transparent glass.

INTERNATIONAL BIBLE LESSON FOR TO-MORROW.

"The Transfiguration."—Luke 9: 28-36. Read Matt. 17: 1-13, Mark 9: 2-13.

Golden Text—This is My Beloved Son; hear Him.

From the records of the three evangelists, we infer that while He was engaged in prayer, a marvellous change came over the person of our Lord. The Divinity in Him shone through His frame till his raiment became exceeding white as the light, or as the glistening snow on the mountain peaks above Him, so as no fuller on earth could whiten them. Moreover, the fashion of His face was altered and glowed with a sunlight glory. God had in our last lesson revealed His son to their heart and mind. Now Jesus is revealed glorified to their astonished vision. We have here the privileged three, Peter, James and John, "heavy with sleep" as we find them also in Gethsemane, need we be astonished, then, to find so many drowsy hearers in our churches. When they were fully awakened they saw Moses and Elijah glorified like their Lord, "for we know if He shall be manifest, we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him even as He is." 1st John, 3: 2.

They also heard these glorified ones conversing about our Lord's coming at Jerusalem; which all His earthly friends repudiated. Peter's feelings are fully aroused and he suggests a feast of Tabernacles, but the bright cloud, the Shechina, denoting the presence of God, overshadows them with awfulness and from its midst comes "This is My beloved Son; hear Him." Moses, Elijah and the prophets of Israel were all right in all. Jesus commends their silence to all men of the vision of glory. He had shown them, they had seen the Son of Man coming in His kingdom, they had glimpses of Christ, a foretaste, and foregleams of coming glory. He tells them of His cross and then shows them His glory. Friends, remember, no cross, no crown, no glory.

MANY PEOPLE HAVE

CATARRH OF KIDNEYS

AND DON'T KNOW IT.

Backache, a Warning Symptom of Kidney Trouble.

Pe-ru-na Is Invaluable in Such Cases.

Prominent Persons Who Have Been Cured.

Mr. J. Byler, 1505 Ohio street, Des Moines, Ia., writes:
"I wish to state my appreciation of your excellent remedy.
"I have always enjoyed excellent health, except frequent and painful attacks of bladder trouble, which doctors failed to relieve or cure.
"Upon recommendation I used Peruna to my utter satisfaction, not having had an attack now for four or five years."—J. Byler.

Dangerous Kidney Diseases
Cured.

WHEN the kidneys become affected by catarrh, either from colds, overwork, or an extension of catarrh from some other organ, they fail to perform their normal functions.

It is the work of the kidneys to excrete from the blood many of the poisons which accumulate in the body.

If the kidneys fail in their work, the poisons accumulate to such an extent as to cause convulsions, which often prove fatal.

Peruna, by relieving the kidneys of their congested and catarrhal conditions, leaves them free to act in a normal manner.

It also strengthens the action of the heart, equalizing the circulation of the blood in all parts of the system.

A remedy that relieves catarrhal derangements of the kidneys should certainly be considered a household remedy. Peruna is such a remedy.

High Commendation For Pe-ru-na.

Mr. C. B. Fizer, Mt. Sterling, Ky., writes:

"I have suffered with kidney and bladder trouble for ten years past.

"Last March I commenced using your Peruna and continued for three months.

"I have not used it since, nor have I felt a pain.

"I believe that I am well and I therefore give my highest commendation to the curative qualities of Peruna."

Neglected catarrh of the kidneys is apt to develop into Bright's Disease or diabetes, when a cure is almost an impossibility.

Catarrh of Kidneys Caused
Much Suffering.

Mr. Leopold Brandl, 246 Bleecker street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I was sick three months with catarrh of the kidneys and lungs. I was treated by my home physician and relieved to some extent, but after I had worked again for two weeks, my old suffering—backache and pains in the right lung—returned. The dreadful cough which bothered me day and night lasted six months and no one could help me. I tried three different patent medicines, without avail. I could scarcely eat anything and slept only a few hours each night.

"A friend told me to take Peruna. I did so and the second day my appetite had improved. I took a teaspoonful of Peruna every hour, day and night, for three weeks. Now I have taken five bottles. I can eat enough for two people and am able to sleep well. Whenever I meet a sick person, I advise him to take Peruna. I thank you a thousand times for your medicine, as it was the only remedy that saved me. We continue to keep it in our family."—Leopold Brandl.

We have on file many testimonials like the ones given here.

We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving every month.

No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

KILLED BY POISON

Emma Agnes Ions, the 17 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ions, of Jeffery street, died of poisoning yesterday afternoon. It is the opinion of the attending physician that the babe died of morphine or strychnine poison. How the little one got hold of the poison, or where she got it, is a mystery.

"We had no poison in the house," said Mr. Ions, talking to a Planet reporter this morning, "and I cannot understand where she got it. My wife took the babe out for air in the morning, and we noticed nothing the matter with her till the afternoon, when she was taken violently ill. She shortly afterwards passed away. We sent for a physician, who said the cause of death was poisoning."

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS

NO CELEBRATION

Those Chathamites who had set their hearts on a great Dominion Day celebration this year will be disappointed to know that the scheme has fallen through.

For some reason or other it was found impossible to run the July races on some other date, and as the races are set for Dominion Day, and the next day the celebration, is impossible.

The local hotel men had promised substantial financial support to the celebration scheme upon the understanding that the races would not take place on Dominion Day. The clashing of the two events would make both of a half-hearted nature and so the would-be celebrators have reluctantly abandoned the scheme.

HAIR CUTS GO UP

A movement in on foot among the barbers of the city to establish a union for the purpose of raising the charges now paid for tonsorial work.

A meeting has been called for Monday evening at 8.30, in the Rankin House, when the matter will be discussed and a plan of action decided upon.

Among the proposed changes are the raising of the hair cutting charge from 15c to 25c, and the charging of 75c each for all extras such as warm towels and other little attentions, which are usually thrown in for nothing.

Public opinion is against any increase in prices, and it is universally conceded that since prices are now as high as they ought to be, the formation of this union will be detrimental to the barbers themselves. More home shaving will ensue as a boycott to the extra charge for hair-dressing and the result will be a loss in shaving receipts equaling, if not exceeding the gain from the extra charge for hair-dressing.

APOLOGY

Referring to a local in last Saturday's issue of The Planet re Battle Creek Food, a word of explanation may be necessary. There was no intention whatever to reflect in any way on the Battle Creek Food Company of London, Ont., but simply to call attention to the fact that the Food sold by me was made at Battle Creek Sanitarium; having been under treatment at the Battle Creek Sanitarium and having received great benefit from the food manufactured there, I determined to place it on sale in my store, and it was simply to advertise the food that I inserted the local referred to. I wish to disclaim any idea of misrepresenting the food prepared by the "Battle Creek Health Food Co." of London, and would say that there was no intention on my part to either reflect or misrepresent the quality of the food offered for sale by the Battle Creek Health Food Co.

FASHION HINTS

GIRLS DRESS.

No. 4131.

Light blue cashmere and guipure lace were used for the making of the frock portrayed here. The waist is tucked at the front and back, while the closing is arranged at the centre of the back by means of hooks and eyes. The sleeves are cut in Bishop style and the notched sleeve cap may be used or not, though the addition makes the waist more dress.

The skirt is fashioned in the popular side plaited style and a hem finishes the bottom. Nits veiling, flannel, cashmere, and vellea in dark blue, red, brown and plaid will be pretty for summer wear, and if a dressier development is desired, light colored materials such as louisine, chiffon cloth, lansdowne, cashmere, mull, pongee, and organdie are appropriate.

The quantity of material required for size 10 is 41.2 yards of 32 inch goods, 3.8 yard of all-over for collar and facing, and 2 1/2 yards of insertion.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CASE.

Here is Something That Will be Welcome News to Many a Discouraged One.

"For several years I have been troubled with gas around my heart, shortness of breath, in fact, if I walked my usual gait my breath would get so short I would be compelled to make several stops during my walk."

"Of late my food did not digest properly. It turned sour in my stomach, causing me great distress; often, too, I had disagreeable attacks of belching gas and heartburn."

"I was bothered with severe pains across the small of my back, and the least bending or turning would cause me to almost cry out."

"I was induced to try Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill and from the very first found relief."

"For the last three months I have had no recurrence of my former complaints, so I am bound to say Anti-Pill has indeed cured me."

This is the voluntary statement of Wm. H. Reed, of 165 Queen St., Kingston, Ont.

All Druggists sell Anti-Pill. The Wm. H. Reed Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont.

The remedy that cured such an extreme case is surely worth trying.

EXCITING CONTEST

The Tecumseh Tie with St. Thomas In a Fast Exhibition Game—Score was 1-1.

The Tecumsehs journeyed to St. Thomas yesterday and encountered the Saints in a fast exhibition game.

There were three changes in the Tecumseh's line-up from that which defeated Windsor on Tuesday. Richards, Huntington and McKinley, the latter a junior, being the substitutes.

From the commencement of the game it was seen that a close contest would take place and these expectations were fully realized, a representative score of one goal each rewarding the teams.

The first blood was drawn for Chatham by Johnson, who scored with a lightning shot after the game had been in progress 9 1/2 minutes.

Although of a fast and exciting nature the play ruled even and both ends were visited in quick succession. After a period of midfield play in the second quarter, the Saints settled down to pull even and four minutes after the opening of the third, Marmon equalized. Nothing further was scored, although the game was fiercely contested until the finish, and the score of 1-1 was a very fair representation of the play.

A gate amounting to over $100 was taken, which is most satisfactory for an exhibition game.

W. Swackhammer was an excellent referee.

A return exhibition game will be played at 6.30 p. m., next Thursday, in Chatham, and on July 2nd, the Tecumsehs go to St. Thomas to play their second game in the C. L. A. series.

A string laid close over a corrugated surface covers a distance one third greater than when stretched over the same surface flat. The Happy Thought Range has a corrugated oven lining, exclusively its own patent, and the above simple experiment proves that such corrugation gives one third more heating surface to the oven. REPORT THE REJECTED

Insurance Officers Kept Posted by Their Association.

In the Absence of Mr. Pattison, Royal Insurance Commission is Informed of the Workings of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association, Limited—Mr. Thomas Bradshaw Tells Why It Wanted a Status.

Toronto, June 15.—A. J. Pattison, former manager of the Home Life Insurance Co., did not show up before the Insurance Commission yesterday, and so put in the time Mr. Bradshaw called Mr. Thomas Bradshaw, secretary of the Life Officers' Association.

Before Mr. Bradshaw took the stand, H. S. Osler explained to the commission that his client, Mr. Pattison, had not known that he was wanted to give evidence. He was engaged in construction work on his railroad and could not appear this week, but would come later when called on.

The commission adjourned yesterday to meet next Wednesday at 10 a. m. Life Officers' Association.

Mr. Bradshaw outlined in detail the objects and constitution of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association, Limited. It took an active part in all subjects relative to life companies, adjusted premium rates, sent deputations to Ottawa and watched all insurance legislation. The association was formed in 1894 by A. E. Ramsay and W. McCabe.

The companies in this are: British Empire, Canada, Confederation, Dominion, Excelsior, Federal, Great Western, Imperial, London, London & Lancashire, Manufacturers, Northern, Royal Victoria, Standard, Temperance & General. The association consists of the managers, assistant managers, secretaries and actuaries of the regular Canadian and British life insurance companies now members of the association, and all officers of the same standing in Canadian, British or United States companies. However, no one is admitted to the association by resolution at a regular meeting after notice—the right to vote being limited to the officer of each company highest in rank, who may be present at any meeting. The membership fee is $15.

The object is "To advance the interests of life insurance companies in Canada by promoting uniformity of practice among them in matters of general administration, by watching over the legislative measures bearing upon life insurance, and by affording opportunity for consultation and co-operation in all matters affecting the common interests of the companies represented in the association."

The companies report all the rejected applicants to a central bureau in Boston, with reasons for rejection attached. Some agents get applicants examined even before their applications are sent in, and some people get themselves examined, thinking they may avoid being put on the "black list" if unfit; but the companies send in all the reports they can get, whether the actual applications are made or not.

Sometimes, by reason of this information, a company may know that an applicant is making a misleading statement, which will nullify his policy. But they never, according to Mr. Bradshaw, take the risk under the circumstances. Litigation was not regarded as "good business."

Why It Wanted a Status.

Secretary Bradshaw said that the association asked for letters patent because it wanted to start a journal and to secure funds and letters patent would give the organization a status.

"What is the object of the association in endeavoring to obtain that status?" was asked.

"The companies feel they would be more free to work with the Dominion and Ontario Governments to secure desirable legislation. It was felt that would be a bond of sympathy between the Government and the association, the same as there is now between the Government and the Canadian Bankers' Association."

Bradshaw advocated uniform legislation by the provinces throughout the Dominion, on some phases of insurance. The Life Officers' Association had discussed this, but had not done anything definitely toward securing it.

The association had taken a part in the assessment acts of British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec, and in connection with a clause relating to the age of the assured in the act in Nova Scotia.

License Fees.

Mr. Tilley then read a memo. prepared by Mr. Bradshaw, showing the rate of license fees and of tax of licenses for the Dominion of Canada.

The fees paid for the maintenance of the Insurance Department by the Imperial Life for 1904 was $228.13, for 1905 $261.18. The total amount paid by the Imperial for taxation last year was $7,226.26. An estimate of taxes paid by the life companies doing business in Canada in one year could be put at $270,000.

"Mr. Tilley spent a good deal of time in going over the minutes of the Officers' Association."

What Agents Could Tell.

Commissioner Kent in a speech before the close of the session laid down the law on the treatment of the policyholder by the manager and officers. The policyholder had not only been asked on, but had at times received even worse treatment. The managers will let them go so far and no farther.

The commissioner also thought that each company controlled their expenses, and every time expenses went up the agent was to blame and his salary must be cut.

"It's a wonder to me that no agents have appeared before the commission." They could give a good idea of the inner workings and before the commission adjourns we will hear from the agents as to what they think.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

Where Does Your Heat Go To?

The science of furnace-building is the utilization of all the heat units.

The "Sunshine" furnace utilizes all the heat and sends none up the chimney.

You can't put your hand over the chimney when some furnaces are in use, because so much heat goes up the chimney. Your hand would be burned. That is heat wasted, time wasted, because it takes so much more firing up when a large part of your heat is lost.

The "Sunshine" furnace is built to extract all the heat units from the fuel and distribute them through the house. It does not waste heat like common furnaces.

DRESDEN JUNIORS

We have been saving all kinds of flowers to hand into Mr. Miller in books. On Friday afternoon a red and white cover, ferns and leaves of grand papa. We had them arranged with one on each page. They looked very nice. Florence Stinson.

Your books must look very pretty and gathering the flowers and arranging them. I knew a boy once who was an only child. His parents had to go to the States and they did not want him to miss school. Every Saturday one of the mothers would take the boys to the woods. The boy got a different kind of plant, would give the name, the date, and some little incident connected with the excursion, and when he came home he gave it to the mother and said, "I know I was out every day when I was out, and I did it for you." Wasn't he a nice boy? He is a book now, but his mother has the book yet.

We are working very hard now to pass and Mrs. Alex. Webster spent Saturday in Chatham.

Anna Ribble saw a grass bird's nest Saturday with four eggs in it. Leland Burns' cousin is going to spend the old boys' reunion with him.

There's a wren's nest in our woodshed and it has five eggs in it. Charlie Skiffins has a fox and ferret. He has three big chickens. The newly hatched little one, Mr. J. E. Hubbard, of Dresden, has returned from the hospital, Detroit, where he underwent an operation.

The storm did not do any damage in Dresden. It killed two horses in Dresden. The top of a barn out in the Sandhills Mission Band did not hold their thank offering meeting on account of the bad storm. It will be on Wednesday night, June 13th.

Friday night it rained very hard. I was out in nearly all of it. I got home and I was soaking wet.

To-day I went up to a chipmunk's nest. There was some young ones in it. There was a robin's nest about a foot from it. Ian Laird.

In one of our apple trees there is a cat bird's nest. It has two little birds in it and one Gertrude Heyland.

Last Saturday Annie Green went out to her uncle's farm. She went up in the barn and found a wren's nest. It had four little ones and two eggs.

Miss Bessett brought Miss Watterworth a beautiful moth. She gave it chloroform, but during the night and Sunday it was so sick that it died.

The Moccasins decoration at the graveyard was held yesterday. They played the band all the way over and back. They had a bunch of flowers on five or six graves.

The Ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual excursion to Detroit on 8:30 a. m. and arrive in Detroit at 3:30 p. m., and arrive in Dresden about ten o'clock.

There is a young rabbit around our place about three inches high and six inches long. The other day it came about three feet from me and was looking at me. I was

A NEW FEATURE TO THE EAST KENT LICENSE TROUBLE

In Mathew Wilson's Advice to Harwich Clerk Riseborough There is not One Word Authorizing him to Withhold Names Disqualified From Forbes Petition

It has been intimated that Clerk Riseborough, of Harwich, in withholding the names stricken off the certificate for hotel license in Cedar Springs, as presented by Hotelman Forbes, acted on the advice given him by Township Solicitor Matthew Wilson, K. C. Clerk Riseborough and Rev. Mr. Kennedy, of Cedar Springs, have written lengthy letters to the local press defending Mr. Riseborough's stand in withholding the names struck off the list. From these letters the reader is led to believe that the Clerk acted strictly on the advice of the Township Solicitor in all his actions with regard to the certificate.

In view of these facts, The Planet has secured a copy of the written legal advice supplied Clerk Riseborough by Mr. Wilson. It is quite apparent that nowhere in this document did Solicitor Wilson advise Mr. Riseborough to withhold names struck off the petition.

The following is a true copy of Mr. Wilson's letter of advice: Mr. G. W. Riseborough, Clerk Township of Harwich, P. O. Box "A,"

Dear Sir:—In reply to the several questions which you have asked in regard to your decision to be given under section 11, sub-section 14, I beg to advise you as follows:

The date upon which you should test the qualification of the elector is in my opinion the last date upon which the application for license should be filed with the inspector, the inspector then being authorized to consider the applicant for the purpose of reporting upon him to the commissioners or to the inspectors. In my opinion after certificate has been filed there is no power to those signing the certificate to withdraw their names from the certificate. The document causes to be under their control and any other document which might be sent in either to the commissioners or to the inspectors is not a document to be considered or which is provided for under the Act and, therefore, cannot affect that which is a legal document duly presented to be considered.

It is quite true that in local improvement works, such as your Drainage Act, the withdrawal of petitioners is allowed, but such withdrawals are based upon the proper wording of the statute, and the very fact of one statute providing for such withdrawals and the other omitting to make any such a provision confirms that under the Liquor License Act there is no power to withdraw from the certificate in question.

With regard to parties who are upon the voters' list for one polling division but who have no property in that polling division, although they have property in and reside in other polling divisions within the electoral district, I am of opinion that they are entitled to be counted as electors for the polling division in which their names are entered on the voters' list. This opinion arises from the fact that you have simply to test who would be a qualified elector in the same way practically as if you were deputy returning officer, and a deputy returning officer would not be entitled to question whether a person had been properly put on the voters' list for a particular division but would be entitled only to put to the elector the oaths provided for in the statute. If, therefore, the elector can take the oaths and his name is upon the voters' list for the polling sub-division, I am of opinion that you are justified in treating him as being an elector for that sub-division. He would be entitled to vote and could not be prevented from voting in that polling sub-division. The oath requires him to swear that he resides within the electoral division, and, of course, he, if domiciled within the polling sub-division. My opinion is confined to persons who can take the oath. As an unfranchised Indian may be properly entered as elector and may vote but although an unfranchised

Indian's name may appear upon the voters' list he may be required to take the oath that he is an unfranchised Indian and if he cannot take the oath; then he is not a duly qualified elector. Of course, if he is an Indian who does not reside on an Indian reserve or amongst Indians, or belong to an Indian band, such as provided in the Dominion statutes, he may be assessed and placed upon the roll and be entitled to vote as other persons, but in such case he does not claim the right to vote as an unfranchised Indian. I take the liberty of enclosing to you a form of certificate to be made by you after you shall have considered the matter and come to such conclusion as you think proper. By keeping closely to the form of certificate many difficulties which might otherwise arise will disappear. The certificate is made out as for Division No. 3 but you can make a similar one for any other division. You should give a separate certificate in each case.

In regard to the taking of evidence, you should advise the representatives of both sides to the dispute of a day and hour and place when you will take any evidence they desire to offer. You are not limited to hearing evidence which they produce but you may search for and find evidence on your own accord. You may satisfy yourself either by documentary evidence or by sworn testimony. You are not obliged to swear the witnesses but you will probably consider it better to do so, and you may reserve judgment and fill in the certificate at subsequent date after you shall have considered the questions raised or some new argument being advanced even as to the matter upon which I have given you an opinion, you may take evidence and reserve your final decision and consult any lawyer in regard to questions of law, as to which you have a doubt, but the ultimate decision will be with yourself.

Yours truly,
MATTHEW WILSON.
