BRITISH WILL POCKET TOWN OF BAPAUME AS THEY DID COMBLES

Driving Northward, Haig's Forces Prepare Another Blow, and are Confident of Success—Casualties Low in Offensive

By Courier Leased Wire.
 New York, Sept. 29.—The London correspondent of The Tribune cabled last night as follows:
 Driving northward slowly, but relentlessly, the British are making ready for another surge toward Bapaume. They are moving along two lines of attack—one north of Thiéval and the other north of Combles, seeking to pocket Bapaume as Combles was pocketed.
 The battle continued without pause to-day. Haig's troops, in another heavy attack, won the greater part of a redoubt 500 yards north of Thiéval, overlooking the northern bank of the Ancre. From this dominating position the ground that separates Haig's line from the Ancre can be shelled so effectively that its conquest is expected to be comparatively easy. In this action 600 prisoners were taken.
 At the other end of the northern front the British are now less than half a mile from La Sars, which blocks the way along the Albert-Bapaume road. The Germans have made only feeble efforts at counter-attacks, for they are occupied chiefly in constructing new defences to withstand the next allied assaults.
 Fierce fighting is certain to take place before Bapaume. The Germans hold a strong line from Miramont to Sally. The work preliminary to the new battle is being completed rapidly.
 With the odds always in favor of the defending force, the British are confident. The strokes that won Combles and Thiéval showed the allied superiority. The execution done by Haig's artillery has caused great gratification in the British command.
 Another encouraging feature of the last British offensive is Haig's report that the capture of the German strongholds was made at a singularly low cost. The total casualties did not exceed twice the number of prisoners.
 Much heavy fighting remains however, before Bapaume and Peronne can be won. While the British are confident, the French are not so sure. The French certainly will pocket Peronne before they attempt its capture. So far as practicable the policy of damaging towns that are larger than villages will be pursued as little as possible. This necessitates a slower encircling movement, but is held to pay better in the long run.
 The allies' offensive is not likely to slacken in the least. Rather, it seems, will increase in fury. For one of the prime efforts is to defeat the German plan of paring the western army to strengthen the eastern drive against the Russians and the Roumanians. Despite the magnitude of the western undertaking, the Germans have withdrawn a number of divisions for use in the east.
 October is considered the crucial month of the whole year for the allies. The allies are hoping for good weather, which is an important requisition. Cloudy and rainy weather during the coming month would be a great advantage to the hard-pressed Germans.

Dominion Ry. Commissioners Have Reserved Their Verdict

Heard Appeal of Local Manufacturers for Transfer of Freight Privileges for L. E. & N. With the other Railroads.

The Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners reserved their decision yesterday afternoon after hearing statements from both sides concerned in the appeal made by the Dominion Steel Products Company and other local manufacturing concerns for a ruling of the board for interchanging privileges between the L. E. and N. and the G. T. R. and T. H. and B. Railways. In the case of the latter representatives of the Steel Products Company pointed out that a switch between it and the L. E. and N. already existed, and had been used for the transportation of construction material. The L. E. and N. and T. H. and B. was that this was the express purpose for which the switch had been constructed, and that it was to be only for temporary use, and in no case for freight traffic. The representatives of the L. E. and N. claimed that their freight traffic would be injured by the establishment of connections with the L. E. and N. The G. T. R. claimed that the issue was not one of public necessity, but was backed by the L. E. and N. line.
 The plea made by the manufacturers for a system whereby freight might be transferred from the other railways to the L. E. and N. here, thus obviating the need of cartage through the city streets.
 Mr. W. S. Brewster addressed the board upon behalf of the Dominion Steel Products Co., giving a brief resume of the activities of that company here. The plant was situated on the line of the Lake Erie and Northern Railway, and would be completed within a month of the present time. A siding connected the factory with the L. E. and N., and it was desired to establish connection with the other railways passing through the city so that goods might be transferred from them to the L. E. and N. line.
 Mr. G. S. Matthews, of the Matthews, Blackwell Co., explained that the company had been in existence since 1870, and that it had not obtained transference of incoming freight to the L. E. and N., and were not allowed to cart live stock through the city. In case of the quickest possible means of transportation was essentially required by this company.
 Mr. W. P. Kellett called the attention of the board to the fact that the L. E. and N. had been that of supplying an interchange line between the other railways passing through the city.
 Mr. John Muir voiced the universal sentiment of the manufacturers.

Opening Session of German Reichstag Takes Place

Position of the Empire with the United States Discussed and Submarines Mentioned.

Berlin, Thursday, via wireless to Sayville, Sept. 29.—The following semi-official account of to-day's session of the Reichstag was given out by the Overseas News Agency:
 "The Reichstag opened this afternoon. The galleries were crowded with the foreign diplomats who are now in Berlin were present virtually without exception.
 "President Kaempff, in his introductory speech, stated that the war in its economic and political as well as military aspects had now reached a climax. On all fronts there was a violent struggle for a decision.
 "Germany's position, the president said, was satisfactory in every respect. He mentioned the arrival of the merchant submarines, Deutsch-

Hungarian Leader Speaks Against Kaiser's Ascendancy

Resents his Assumption of Authority Over All the Central Powers—Dislike Rule by a Foreigner.

London, Sept. 29.—(New York Sun cable)—According to the correspondent of the Morning Post at Budapest, the speech of Count Michael Karolyi, leader of the opposition, in the Hungarian parliament on September 20 was a vigorous protest against the ascendancy of the Kaiser over the government of all the Central Powers, especially, of course, Austria-Hungary. Count Tisza, the premier, is making great efforts to prevent this speech becoming known.
 "Should the war end undecisively," the correspondent says, "Count Karolyi asserted, 'and should the struggle of the belligerent groups be continued in fields political, our foreign politicians and statesmen give us no guarantee that they can cope with the problem.'"
 "Information I have received from the best sources, is that the German emperor has assumed the role of warlord not only over his own empire, but over Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey. I know they have transferred the high military command to the German emperor.
 "This is the most dangerous game, which has ever been played at. It is more dangerous as the German emperor, under the powers vested in him can come forward at once with a fait accompli as regards the time and terms of peace and other vital matters concerning Germany's allies, which might place us in a very awkward situation, for we gave over to Germany all our powers of self government, our rights as a nation as soon as the sovereign rights passed out of the hands of our king, who took oath under our constitution to uphold them."
 Count Karolyi also attacked the Austrian general staff, Count Tisza replying, said that the sovereign rights of the king of Hungary, which is the Emperor, Franz Joseph had been vested temporarily in the highest command, namely, general headquarters, and that this step was necessary for military considerations.
 Count Karolyi retorted that this meant his information was right and the only excuse for this drastic infringement of the laws was the old age of the monarch, but this they did not think necessary to state.
 "The situation," he continued, "is that we have given up our only remaining fortress and our independence to a foreign power."

CONGRATULATIONS FROM JOFFRE TO GENERAL SIR DOUGLAS HAIG

Message From French to British Commander-in-Chief Lands Bravery of the Offensive

By Courier Leased Wire.
 British Front in France, Sept. 29.—Via London—General Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French army, has sent a message of congratulation to General Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British forces in France and Belgium on the recent British successes in which the French general says:
 "Following on the continuous progress made by your armies since the beginning of the Somme offensive, these fresh successes are a sure guarantee of final victory, over the common enemy, whose physical and moral forces are already severely shaken."
 After saying that the combined offensive has bound still closer the ties of the two armies, and that "our adversary will find therein a proof of our firm determination to combine our efforts until the end to insure the complete triumph of our cause," General Joffre concludes:
 "I bow before those of your soldiers by whose bravery these successes have been achieved, but who have fallen before the completion of our task, and I ask you to convey in my name and of the whole French army, to those who stand ready for the battles to come, greeting, comradeship and confidence."
 General Haig, in replying, said:
 "Our brave dead, whose blood has been shed together with yours on the soil of your great country, will prove a bond to unite our two peoples long after the combined action of our armies has carried the common cause for which they have fought, to its ultimate triumph."
 "The unremitting efforts of our forces north and south of the Somme, and of the glorious deeds of your army, unaided, before Verdun, have already begun to break down the enemy's power of resistance, while the energy of our troops and the confidence in each other increase from day to day."
 "Every fresh success that attends our arms brings us nearer the final victory to which, like you, I look forward with absolute confidence."

ARE YOU TO BE NUMBERED AS A BIG OR SMALL PRIZE WINNER? YOUR WORK THIS WEEK WILL TELL

Time is Moving Fast—So Will You if Expect to Win, Excuses Will Not Get You Votes, Results Only Will Win For You

Four days of the largest period, known as "Booster Period," are gone. What have you done? This is the question that every fair-minded candidate should ask him or herself. Have I gotten all the subscriptions that it was possible for me to get, or have I stood idly by and let some other candidates get subscriptions while I was dreaming? If it is this, you have been doing, candidates, then you had better stop right where you are, as you will never make a success in this contest, or any other line of business that you enter, because while you are idling away your time dreaming about the easiest way to get subscriptions, the other live wire is out getting them and putting them on himself up and down the list of voters.
 Mr. John Muir voiced the universal sentiment of the manufacturers.

BRITISH TAKE STRONG POINTS

Capture Farm Five Hundred Yards Southwest of Le Sars.

London, Sept. 29.—An attack by British troops on the Somme front early to-day resulted in the capture of a strongly defended farm 500 yards southwest of Le Sars, the war office announces.
 The official statement follows:
 "The night was quiet on the greater part of our front. The positions were heavily shelled. Our bombing parties were active in the neighborhood of the Schwaben redoubt and the Hesban trench, parts of which are still held by the enemy.
 "A strongly defended farm 500 yards southwest of Le Sars, was captured by our troops early this morning.
 "North of Ypres and southeast of Bapaume, our aeroplanes observed a huge explosion, as if a large ammunition dump had blown up. The smoke ascended 9,000 feet."
 Further progress was made by the French last night between Pregicourt and Morval on the Somme front, according to a statement issued by the war office.
 On the Salonik front, the Serbians repulsed four Bulgarian attacks on Kainakalan.

FRENCH MADE MORE PROGRESS

Advanced on Somme Front—Serbs Repulsed Bulgars.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Paris, Sept. 29.—Further progress was made by the French last night between Pregicourt and Morval on the Somme front, according to a statement issued by the war office.
 On the Salonik front, the Serbians repulsed four Bulgarian attacks on Kainakalan.
 Chief recruiting officer of this district stated that the record of Brant County has been exemplary, but that with the approach of winter the present slackness of enlistment it was thought that a special effort to complete the battalion would be advisable. Col. Williams submitted the actual figures of Brant's record, showing that he held the admirable position of third among the counties of this district.
 It was here pointed out to the speaker that this was exclusive of the large numbers who had joined the Haldimand Battalion.
 The speaker continuing, said that the figures of the first three counties stood Algoma and Nipissing 13,2; Peel 11,8; Brant 8,8.
 Lt.-Col. Williams thought that the immense outlay of men and money that had already been made should be supplied by further contributions of the same nature, and that this entailed a lessening of the efficiency of some of our industries, as it undoubtedly would, he suggested the employment of women to

PTE. BRANT LIVING STONE IS WOUNDED

Son of Police Magistrate, with 58th Battalion, Was in Big Fighting.

P. M. Livingston received a wire to-day that his son Pte. Brant Livingston has been wounded in the fighting at the front. His injury consists of a gun shot wound, and is not reported as serious.
 Brant, who is the eldest son, joined the 58th, commanded by Lt.-Col. Genet and has been in France since last January. He has been transferred to Guildford Hospital, in England.
 Three other sons of Mr. and Mrs. Livingston are also with the colors.

GREEK WARSHIP JOINS REVOLT

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Piraeus, Wednesday, Sept. 27.—via London, Sept. 29.—1.45 p.m.—The defection to the revolutionists of the Greek warship Hydra in the small hours of this morning has caused great excitement in this Greek port. The Hydra anchored under the guns of the arsenal last night and was hoisted at 3 o'clock this morning by a party of men in civilian dress. The loyalist officer, second in command was argued from his bunk and with pistols at his head was forced to embark in a rowboat. The commander being a Venizelist, readily surrendered to the boarders.
 Two tugs were attached by tow ropes to the ship and as colorlessly as possible, she slipped her anchor chains and was drawn by the tugs from the company of the other Greek men-of-war. The tugs towed her to Salamis Bay, where the allied warships are stationed.
 The minister of marine stated to-day to the Associated Press representative that he regretted the incident as, while the perpetrators of it are unknown, owing to their attire, it was impossible to still the suspicion that they were not all of them Greeks.
 "It is more to be regretted," added the minister, "as it tends to lessen the prestige of the government at a moment when it needs all possible credit and unity to accomplish the difficult task before it."
 Despatches from Athens on Sept. 27th, reported that the warship Hydra had joined the allied fleet.
 Athens, Thursday, Sept. 28.—via London, Sept. 29.—A report that the Battleship Kilkis has deserted to the revolutionists has been received here, but is denied by the Greek minister of marine.

RECRUITING TO BE RESUMED ON BEHALF OF THE 215TH

Brant County League Undertakes Campaign—Address by Lt.-Col. Williams—The Question of Women Workers

A meeting of the executive of the Brant County Recruiting League was held yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in the Y.M.C.A., for the purpose of discussing the situation with regard to recruiting, and to engage into new methods of raising the required number of men to complete the 215th Battalion.
 Colonel Harry Cockshutt, who has lately given up the presidency of the league as a consequence of his already being actively engaged in military work thanked the members of the league and also the women's organization, for their hearty co-operation with him in the past, and hoped that the league would not disband, as has been suggested, but that the work would be ably carried on to meet the growing need.
 The resignation of Col. Cockshutt was reluctantly accepted, and ex-mayor J. H. Spence was unanimously elected to the office, following the motion of the retiring president, supported by Mr. W. G. Baymond. Mr. Spence, in assuming the chair, stated that a large portion of his time was already claimed in the administration of the affairs of the Patriotic League, and accepted the position only temporarily, until such a time as a re-organization had been effected, which would place recruiting on a firmer basis than at present.
 Lt.-Col. Williams of this district stated that the record of Brant County has been exemplary, but that with the approach of winter the present slackness of enlistment it was thought that a special effort to complete the battalion would be advisable. Col. Williams submitted the actual figures of Brant's record, showing that he held the admirable position of third among the counties of this district.
 It was here pointed out to the speaker that this was exclusive of the large numbers who had joined the Haldimand Battalion.
 The speaker continuing, said that the figures of the first three counties stood Algoma and Nipissing 13,2; Peel 11,8; Brant 8,8.
 Lt.-Col. Williams thought that the immense outlay of men and money that had already been made should be supplied by further contributions of the same nature, and that this entailed a lessening of the efficiency of some of our industries, as it undoubtedly would, he suggested the employment of women to supplant the eligibles. They all knew that the eligible manhood of Brantford and Brant County had not been exhausted, and that by a spirit of co-operation with manufacturers and farmers, more young men would be enabled to go. While Brant County, as a whole, has more than held its own, in this respect, with other counties, the rural district had not done so much, but with the arrival of the soldiers that would be a decided stimulus.
 For himself he had hoped that the Government would have adopted some more direct measures, but in their judgment this had not been done, and no doubt for good reasons. The individual appeal still remained. The 215th needed some five or six hundred more men, or else its men would have to be drafted to other Battalions. He believed that if the County were divided into districts, a good slogan adopted, and a determined organized effort put forth, that there would be full strength for the Brants. He stated that no battalion in this district, labouring under the same difficulties, had been recruited with such rapidity. The speaker closed with an earnest appeal for the giving of men and means to the point of sacrifice. He related the incident of one prosperous man who had given up his business in order to enlist and there were hundreds of others. The cry was men, more men, and still more men, and the Empire need was one which should appeal to every man and woman. What worth would individual liberty of anything else be in Canada if the Hun triumphed?
 Questioned in regard to registration and conscription, he stated that as yet the authorities at Ottawa did not contemplate the adoption of conscription, and that registration would be of an industrial nature only. If men were to be classified, the work would be done by the committee of conservators.
 Mr. A. E. Watts, County Clerk, stated that in such a national crisis, frankness was essential, and that the facts must be faced fairly and squarely. While the manufacturers had all signed their willingness to aid, they had hesitated from approaching their own employees, and a similar position had been assumed by the farmers and other employers of labour throughout the county. Mr. Watts admitted that the need of men was great but that

MOST EGOTISTICAL, FERCEST AND MOST OBSTINATE OF ALL ENEMIES

Is England Declares German Chancellor Addressing the Reichstag—Strong in Favor of Use of all Weapons

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Berlin, via London, Sept. 29.—Germany will persevere until victory is possible, the Reichstag was told by Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, according to the full text of his speech which was published here to-day. The chancellor declared that this year's harvest had made Germany's position much more secure than was the case last year.
 In his attack on Great Britain, he declared that country was above all Germany's "most egotistical, fercest and most obstinate enemy."
 "A German statesman," he said, "who would hesitate to use against this enemy every available instrument of battle that would really shorten this war—such a statesman declared his contempt for those circulating reports that all Germany's means of fighting were not being employed to the fullest possible extent.
 He added that in order to disappoint the enemy, "who is on watch for every breach of our inner determination," he would not give details.
 "When in August 1914," he went on, "we had to draw the sword we knew we had to protect our hearts and homes against a mighty and almost overwhelming coalition. Ardent, and until then unknown and often ignored, patriotism flamed up in all hearts defying death and certain victory. To-day, after two years of fighting, struggling, suffering and dying, we know more than ever before that there is only one watchword, namely, persevere and win. We will win. Last winter there was puerile anxiety as to whether our food stuffs would suffice. They have sufficed. This year's harvest makes us much more secure than was the case last year."
 The chancellor said that he realized

Additional Ground Taken by Franco-British Armies

Renewed Activities on Both Fronts, Bulgarians Being Repulsed By Serbs.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 London, September, 29.—New drives made by the French last night and the British this morning resulted in the capture of additional ground on the Somme front by the allies. The French gain as reported in the afternoon Paris bulletin, was effected between Pregicourt and Morval, in the direction of Sally, on the Peronne-Bapaume road, north of Rancourt, where the wedge being driven in the German lines between Bapaume and Peronne is almost at its sharpest point.
 The new ground won by the British, as reported by London, was something more than a quarter of a mile southwest of Le Sars on the Pozieres-Bapaume road, northeast of Courcellette. Le Sars is about 3 1/2 miles from Bapaume toward which the British in this sector are determined pressing. The captured territory

MORE BOASTS FROM HUNS

Allies Cannot Break German Lines, says Von Bethmann Hollweg, to Reichstag.

ADMITS LOSSES.
On Eastern Front, Germans Will Also Hold Their Own.

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Sept. 29.—The allies cannot break through the German lines on the Somme, Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg told the reichstag yesterday, according to an account of his speech cabled to Reuters by way of Amsterdam. The German prime minister made a similar statement in regard to the eastern front.

"The English and French it is true," he said, "have achieved advances. Our first lines have been pressed back some kilometres and we have also to deplore heavy losses in men and material. That was inevitable in an offensive on such a mighty scale. But what our enemies hoped to accomplish, namely break through on a grand scale and roll up our positions, has not been attained. The battle of the Somme will cost further sacrifices. Still another trench and another village may be lost, but they will not get through."

In regard to the eastern front where, the chancellor said, the Russians had renewed their offensive with heavy attacks, he predicted the same result. "Here too, the battle is proceeding," he said, "but just as surely shall we hold our own."

Referring to Roumania, the chan-

FRENCH LOAN OVER SUBSCRIBED

In Less Than Twelve Hours After Opening for Subscriptions.

New York, Sept. 28.—The syndicate which is underwriting the $50,000,000 loan to the city of Paris, France, announced last night that the loan had been more than ten times over-subscribed in less than twelve hours.

The loan, negotiated by Kuhn, Loeb and Company for relief work and to reimburse the city for heavy expenditures in connection with the war, will be offered to the underwriters at 97.

Bankers declare that the loan is one of the most popular ever floated in Wall Street, because a large part of the proceeds will be used to aid war sufferers. The loan will be offered to the public early next week. Nothing definite could be learned regarding the price at which it will be offered to the public.

The over-subscription by the syndicate in the short time is said to be a record. The subscriptions are said to be as large as $50,000,000, the amount of the Anglo-French loan.

The speaker said that the Entente confidently hoped that Roumania's entrance into the war would bring in its trail the cessation of Turkey and Bulgaria. "But Turkey and Bulgaria were not Roumania and Italy," he concluded.

Meeting of Schubert Choir

A well attended meeting of the executive of the Schubert Choir was held last night, when plans for the coming season were discussed. It was felt that the good work done in the interest of music in this city could not be suspended. The difficulty of getting tenors and basses, owing to the enlistment of many of the members, had of course to be considered, but it was thought that could be overcome. Then the conductor, Mr. Clifford Higgins, in outlining his program for the year, proposed a children's chorus, composed of children between the ages of 8 and 14, along similar lines to the one in connection with the Mendelssohn Choir of Toronto. It was felt this part would be extremely beneficial to General Jose Santos Zelaya says that the policy of the United States in Nicaragua means intervention in that republic.

Resigns As Caretaker of Ryerson School, West Brantford.

Sergt. Macdonald, Returned Soldier Appointed in His Place.

At a meeting of the Buildings and Grounds Committee of the Board of Education held last night the following letter was received:—

Brantford, Sept. 28th, 1916.

Mr. Wm. Lane, Chairman Buildings and Grounds Committee, Board of Education. Sir:—In tendering my resignation, which I hope you will at once accept, as caretaker and engineer of the Ryerson Public School, I do so with a great deal of reluctance; but having capacity, I feel that I am now entitled to an occupation less arduous.

Always and at all times the teaching staff, the several principals, the Inspector and the members of the Board of Education, have been unfeignedly courteous and considerate, while in the Treasurer of the Board I have had always an invaluable friend and an infallible counsellor.

You and each of you, will be pleased and relieved to know that, having severed my connection with these ancient and accepted halls of learning, I do not propose to spend the year, the yellow leaf of life, amidst the bright and blissful realms of poetry and landscape painting, but always as heretofore, in the continuous and remorseless pursuit of the "riddle" and elusive dollar, along life's more prosaic pathway.

And now, as to the "Kiddies"! Oh! How I dislike to leave the "Kiddies"; but as Rudyard Kipling would say, that is another story, and high twelve reminds me that I still remain, Your obedient servant, WALTER C. LOWES.

Several applications were received for the post, principally from returned soldiers, and Sergt. J. Macdonald, of 14 Catherine St., was appointed.

It is understood that Mr. Lowes has received an appointment as messenger at the Customs House.

THREE PLANES IN THREE MINUTES

Is Record Set By French Airman, Styled "King of the Air."

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, Sept. 28.—Three German aeroplanes brought down in two minutes and thirty seconds by a stop watch is the latest exploit of Second Lieut. Geynemer, who is known as "King of the Air" and stripped of two German machines when a shell burst beneath him and stripped every stitch of its covering. He plunged giddily earthwards.

"I gave myself up for lost," he said, "but after falling 5,000 feet I thought I would struggle with all the wind blew me over our lines and like a flash I had a picture of my funeral and all my good friends following the coffin. I continued to fall and the levers wouldn't rattle and I pushed and pulled to right and left. I made a last desperate effort all to no purpose and then I saw the field toward which I was dashing down. Suddenly something happened and my speed diminished. Then there was a resounding crash, a violent shock. When I recovered my wits I was in the midst of the fragments of my machine and practically uninjured. How am I still alive, I asked myself. I believe it was the straps which held me to my seat which saved me."

On September 16, Lieutenant Geynemer was officially credited with his sixteenth enemy aeroplane. A week later he was reported to have brought down his seventeenth and eighteenth. He was wounded in a fight in the air last March and in a subsequent flight was forced to descend behind the French and German trenches, but escaped.

DOMINION RAILWAY

Mr. W. C. Chisholm, on behalf of the G. T. R., does not consider that public interests would be served by the additional expense of such an interchange; moreover that it would mean a loss of business to the two old lines. He suggested an examination of the conditions, if so desired by the board.

Mr. Sloan, on behalf of the T. H. and B. Railway, stated that that line had nothing to gain from an interchange; he considered that the L. E. and N. was interested in the project, and stated that the L. E. and N. line could already be reached from other points. Already the T. H. and B. passenger service had suffered from the entry of the L. E. and N. and its freight business, built up for 10 years, would be taken away by the establishment of the interchange.

Mr. W. S. Brewster stated absolutely that the statement made by several speakers that the appeal of the Steel Products Co. was backed and supported by the L. E. and N. line, had been made before the G. T. R. and the T. H. and B. had interswitched, or whether it had been done by the two companies in order to control the freight traffic of the city.

Mr. W. P. Kellett stated that the switch connection between the T. H. and B. and the L. E. and N. had not been built for temporary purposes only, but that the latter line had been fully laid before the connection was made—this being for commercial purposes only. The representatives of the T. H. and B. on the contrary, declared the switch had been opened only for construction purposes, and with that stipulation.

THE SITUATION

The progress of the British on the Somme front continues to be undeterred by the foe, with more ground and more prisoners. In a steady advance, they are now making for Bapaume. It is significant that the losses are comparatively small in comparison with results achieved. The French for their part are using artillery in preparation for another assault.

The Russians have made a big advance on the Carpathian front, and have taken a range of mountains, including the principal highway.

The German chancellor, in a speech in the Reichstag, breathed renewed defiance and heartened the country up with the boast that Germany would yet win. He was specially violent in his references to the hated British, who have certainly proved the biggest stumbling block of all for the Prussian war lords and their devilish designs.

RECRUITING RENEWED

It will be noticed by the report of a meeting elsewhere in this issue that the executive of the Brant Recruiting League have decided to renew their efforts to bring the second Brant Battalion up to full strength. This will mean some six hundred more men. The number of men already officially recorded as having enlisted from this city and county is 3,944. This Lt. Col. Williams stated placed us third on the list in this district in the matter of percentage.

It is worth pointing out however, that the Indian population was included in the county figures, whereas, the Madimand Battalion has obtained their services. Brant County record is therefore even better than that chronicled by the Ottawa authorities.

There is no need at this time to dwell upon comparisons between the city and the county. Both have done excellently and it is much better for the matter to rest at that. That each will join in the further effort is also equally certain.

The fact was dwelt upon that in the Old Land women are working in munition and other factories in order to allow men to go to the front, and that some such steps should be taken here. Tens of thousands of the fair sex are thus engaged in Old Albion, and all classes are represented, including those from titled ranks. In Montreal, also, women have thus volunteered, with excellent results. It is reported that in one plant alone, no fewer than two hundred of them are engaged in various operations on the heaviest shell now being made in Canada. Other concerns also have similar help, and it is stated that the results are excellent. A move in the same regard might very well be made in this city.

That the 215th will yet be brought to full strength is an assured fact, if all put their shoulders to the wheel and bring the proper spirit of self-sacrifice into operation.

WORTHY OF REFLECTION

It is very easy to take in a situation when the facts bearing on it have actually occurred.

It requires a great deal of penetration to foresee and then act. The spirit of the real merchant is evidenced by all those careful purchasers who with known facts in possession—get busy early and supply their needs—and "do it now."

All goods, especially woollens, are going to be at "famine prices"—in the spring.

Reliable manufacturers formerly making up all pure wool in various fabrics, have assured the firm of E. B. Crompton and Co. Limited, (making this announcement) that such goods in the spring will run from 70 per cent. to all cotton.

This reliable firm announces the completion of their Autumn stock—including many special lots which when sold out cannot be repeated—all these with a vast array of articles for household use as per their advertisement—will be on display and sale Saturday, September 30th, to Saturday, 7th October inclusive, in a great 7-days Autumn offering, which will mean money in the pockets of every careful buyer.

Of course you won't miss it.

Rear Admiral Caspar Frederick Goodrich, U.S.N. (retired), aged 63 is to wed again. His engagement to Miss Sarah Minis Hays, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. Minis Hays, of Philadelphia, is announced.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts Before Breakfast if your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Sergt. Barr, Pte. Humble and M.P. Pte. Hodge attended the Paris fair yesterday, their object being to obtain recruits and to look after those absent without leave. As concerns the former part of their purpose, their quest was unsuccessful, but they returned with one A. W. L. They report a very pleasant time, but the attendance was cut down last night owing to the heavy rain which struck Paris early in the evening.

POLICE COURT.
Louis Harp, who was remanded from yesterday on a charge of breach of the dog by-law, appeared to-day on the same charge and was dismissed. An old drunk charge laid against T. Gaffney dating to 1913, was withdrawn. The same person but as restitution has been made in the meantime, he was assessed the costs, amounting to $18.40. Costs of $7 were also levied against him on a charge of assaulting and wounding Reg. Green.

BOOKS DONATED.
Mrs. Humble, 176 Darling St., Mrs. Wilson, 139 Alfred St., and Mrs. Minchin, 223 Murray St., have made donations of books and other reading material for the boys of the 215th battalion, for which they are grateful.

PASSED THROUGH THE CITY.
The members of "B" Company, of the 215th passed through the city this morning en route to Paris, where they will attend the fair. Lt.-Col. Morris alighted from the train at Brantford, and will remain here for a few days. Lt.-Col. Cockshutt, who was present at the station to see the soldiers through, was given a rousing welcome by them.

MARKET BUILDING.
City engineer M. Ferguson, of St. Thomas, has written city clerk H. F. Leonard, requesting information regarding the Brantford market building. The particulars he desires to become acquainted with are the size of the building, whether it is one storey, with basement, or two storey, the cost of the building and whether it is self-sustaining, both as regards maintenance and debenture debt.

PINE LEADER.
Mr. Harry Soper is the leader of the magnificent orchestra of twenty-two pieces, which accompanies the "Birth of a Nation" pictures at the Grand Opera House. He has a continental reputation as a conductor and the results he attains from his fine band of musicians are a delight. Mr. Wm. Walker, who was here with the company last year is still with the production as Manager and his pleasant smile as ever is a thing of beauty and a joy to everyone.

SLIGHT FIRE.
A fire in the shell factory of Kerr and Goodwin at the corner of Charlotte and Colborne streets last night at 8.30, necessitated a trip from the firemen. Upon their arrival however they found that the employees had laid a line of hose and had the fire practically under control. The fire originated in the oil furnace which the shells are tempered, becoming overheated and from it the roof became ignited. The loss sustained was slight.

Opening Rally of Y. M. C. A.

The opening rally of the Y.M.C.A. which was held last night in the form of a reception, took place under auspicious circumstances. The building, which has recently been completely renovated, presented a fine appearance which was ably supplemented by the excellent program which followed in making the evening an entire success. The programme consisted chiefly of gymnasium work and swimming exercises. The work in the "gym" was performed by an ordinary class and is merely an example of the kind of work which is taken throughout the year. In the swimming pool, a very admirable exhibition was given, consisting of racing fancy and trick swimming and diving. In a 20 yard speed race, a very close race, in a one length race, Wat came in 2 yards in the lead of Baird. George Adams was successful in the back stroke race. The events in the swimming pool were concluded by a fine exhibition of trick swimming by Gen. Moseley, the popular boy's secretary. Although the attendance was impeded by the inclemency of the weather, the opening rally will long be remembered by the citizens who were present and by the members and officials of the Y. M. C. A.

OPENING SESSION. (Continued from page one.) The chancellor alluded to the intrigues of Roumania and that country's declaration of war, saying: "Our relations with Roumania before the war were based on the treaty of alliance first concluded between Austria-Hungary and then enlarged by the accession of Germany and Italy. The contracting parties engaged under the treaty to assist each other in case of unprovoked attack by a third party." Describing the alleged events that led to Roumania's declaration of war, the chancellor said that King Carlos died "in consequence of the emotions caused by realization that Roumania was a traitor to her allies."

The Roumanian policy was now guided by Premier Bratianu," he continued, "who attempted to gain riches without making great sacrifices at the expense of the party suffering defeat in the war. The main point was to discover in time which party was about to win final victory in order not to be too late."

Roumania's policy of neutrality favored the Entente more and more, the chancellor added. He said Roumania attempted to collaborate with the British efforts to establish a blockade of Germany, with-holding grain purchased by Germany, until the grain was obtained by means of energetic pressure.

"The Russian offensive this spring," the chancellor continued, "made Premier Bratianu believe he saw the breaking down of the Central powers. Accordingly he decided to obtain a share when the robbery of the dead body began. Furthermore, the Entente powers had a freer hand in conducting negotiations than others.

those who join, and many good voices could be secured. A soloist of note would be engaged for the concert, and an attractive program rendered, and any proceeds above expenses would be donated to the Red Cross. A nominal fee of 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults to cover music was fixed.

With their usual energy, the executive are setting out to keep up and add fresh laurels to the good work done by them in past seasons, and have every hope of success.

FARMER ARRESTED ON THEFT CHARGE

Young Man from Chisholm Taken at Simcoe—Beecher Is Dissatisfied.

(From Our Own Correspondent) Simcoe, Sept. 28.—Wm. Smith, a young farm laborer of Chisholm, ten miles west, must have heard last night of Beecher's release, for to-day at eleven o'clock he was ushered in to Castle Robertson in Beecher's stead. His means of entry was the theft of $35 from his employer, Robert Hall. He struck out for town early this morning with the snug sum in his pocket and began to invest in bicycles. Constable Lou Barber told him dinner would be ready promptly at 12 o'clock, and after a formal call on Squire Earl, Smith made his bow before Turnkey McInally and entered the county hospital.

Young Beecher this morning refused to go home with his benefactor and bonds-lady Miss Carr. He stopped last night with his former high school principal at Port Rowan, who was here giving evidence on his behalf. The young fellow claimed that his sentence was unduly severe. That, however, is not the general opinion.

RELIEF FOR INDIGESTION The Most Common Cause of This Trouble is Poor Blood

All conditions of depressed vitality tend to disturb the process of digestion. There is not a disturbed condition of life that may not affect digestion. But few causes of the trouble are so common as thin, weak blood. It affects directly and at once the process of nutrition. Not only is the action of the gastric and intestinal glands diminished but the muscular action of the stomach is weakened. Nothing will more promptly restore digestive efficiency than good, red blood. Without it the normal activity of the stomach is impossible.

Thin, pale people who complain of indigestion must improve the condition of their blood to find relief. The most active blood builder in such cases is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make the rich, red blood which quickly restores the digestive organs to their proper activity, and the dyspeptic who has hated the sight and smell of food now looks forward to meal time with pleasure. As proving the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in curing indigestion, Miss Edith M. Smith, R.R. No. 4, Perth, Ont., says: "I can honestly say I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My stomach was terribly weak and I suffered from indigestion and sick headache, and was always very nervous. I was troubled this way for nearly three years, and in that time took a great deal of doctor's medicine, which, however, did not help me. I could not eat anything without experiencing the most agonizing pain. My sick headaches were most violent and I could not rest night or day. I was asked one day by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and consented to do so. After taking them some time I found they were helping me, and I continued to take them steadily for several months, until I found that I was completely cured. While taking the pills I gained both in strength and weight, and I feel it impossible to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly."

You can procure these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mr. Fred Reid Struck by Car

Mr. Fred Reid of the North American Life Insurance Company was the victim of a very painful automobile accident yesterday afternoon. In company with Mr. J. T. Townsend, he had descended from a street car at the corner of Palmerston and St. Paul's avenues, and was crossing the road at a point some half a block down St. Paul's avenue toward the Dufferin Bowling Club. Mr. T. Hendry, driving in his car along Palmerston avenue, made the turn to the left of that street, and seeing the two pedestrians half way across the road, decided that he could pass them by keeping well to the left. They, however, upon seeing his car turn the corner, leaped back once more. Mr. Reid being struck by it, and grasping the bumper, he was dragged for a distance of about six feet, and was pulled beneath the car, being removed from between the front and rear wheels. Dr. E. S. Hicks was promptly summoned to the scene, and Mr. Reid was removed to the hospital, where his injuries were found to consist of two broken ribs and a severe shaking up. Enquiries this morning elicited the information that he was already making progress toward recovery.

All the witnesses of the accident are agreed that it was entirely unavoidable, and that no suspicion of blame can be attached to Mr. Hendry.

til I found that I was completely cured. While taking the pills I gained both in strength and weight, and I feel it impossible to praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly."

Red Sox Lost to Yankees

Boston, Sept. 29.—The Red Sox lost half a game in their pennant lead to-day, New York defeating them 4 to 2 in another ten-innings battle. Carl Mays, the Sox ace pitcher, was effective in all but the eighth and tenth innings, when seven of the New York's 11 hits were gathered. Boston scored Janvin, who went to third on Walker's out and tallied on a wild pitch by Mogridge. Their second run came in the third on Walker's hit and scored on Gainer's sacrifice fly. The champions never had another chance, going out in order in the following innings. New York scored one in the fifth on Pipp's double and Gereon's single. They tied it up in the eighth on a double by Walters and singles by Mogridge and Masee. This same combination was responsible for New York's two runs in the tenth. Walters opened with a double, getting third when Walker fumbled the ball, and scoring on a single by Mogridge. Masee then tripled to right, scoring Mogridge. Score: R.H.E.
New York . . . 0000100102—4 11 9
Boston . . . 1010000000—2 7 3
Batteries—Mogridge and Walters; Mays and Cady.

Phillies Beat the Dodgers

And as a Result Press Them Hard for the Leadership.
Brooklyn, Sept. 29.—Philadelphia, behind the strong pitching of Grover Alexander, inflicted a smashing defeat on Brooklyn yesterday, 8 to 4 in the first game of a series which is expected to determine the pennant winner in the National League. The victory brought the Phillies within less than half a game of Brooklyn, only one percentage point separating the two clubs. Manager Robinson sent Larry Cheney, the left-hander in to oppose Alexander. Cheney was wild. His lack of control materially aided the Phillies in piling up a three-run lead in the second inning. Cravath walked for a starter and went to third on Luderus' double. Cravath scored on Niehoff's infield out and Luderus came in when Cheney uncorked a wild throw on Killifer's bunt, the batter going all the way to third, whence he scored on Alexander's fly. In its half of the inning, Brooklyn scored a run. Meyers singled after two were out, going to second on Daubert's hit and scoring on Niehoff's error. Philadelphia won the game in the fourth. Luderus singled and Cheney gave a base on balls to Niehoff, both moving up when the pitcher made a wild pitch. Coombs was rushed in to replace Cheney, and before he was properly warmed up, had given a pass to Killifer. Alexander singled and the ball got away from Wheat three runs scoring. Alexander stopped at third and scored when Packert singled. A base on balls, an error and singles by Olson and Miller gave Brooklyn two runs in the fifth. They scored again in the seventh when Niehoff made a two-base wild throw of Myers' grounder and Daubert singled. Score: R.H.E.
Philadelphia . . . 030040010—8 8 3
Brooklyn . . . 001020100—4 8 2
Alexander and Killifer; Cheney, Coombs and Miller.

Senators Took Second Game

At Philadelphia—Washington won the second game of the series from Philadelphia 4 to 1. Gallia pitched effectively. Score: R.H.E.
Washington . . . 000001102—4 8 3
Philadelphia . . . 001000000—1 5 3
Batteries—Gallia and Henry; Nabors, Bressler and Schang.
HERZOG LOOKING AHEAD.
Buck Herzog, it will be remembered, got a $5,000 bonus, cash in hand, when he joined the Giants. Buck has been planning the best way to invest that lock of iron men ever since, and has just decided where to spend it. A fine piece of farm and hill territory, adjoining his famous cantaloupe ranch, is now in the market, and Buck will buy it. Besides raising more melons, he intends to start a kennel of blooded dogs, and to make a special effort toward reviving the famous breed of "Chesapeake Bay dogs," almost extinct to-day, but rated as among the finest hunting canines in the world.

Music and Drama

At the Brant.
Heading a feature bill at the Brant theatre for the week-end is the celebrated stage comedian Donald Brian, in a five reel photo play comedy success, "The Smugglers," which last night won immense applause from all present. The other moving pictures upon the bill include a Paramount travel series, and the tenth episode of the thrilling serial "The Iron Claw," sustaining the interest of all throughout. The vaudeville program is well catered to by Page, Van Arden and Page, presenting a classy musical comedy number, and Dorothy Sutton and Company in an hilariously comic skit, "Does he Drink?" ## 6 PERSONS KILLED BY CANNIBALS

Children Among those Slain By Savages in New Hebrides.

(Associated Press.)
Sydney, Australia, Sept. 29.—A steamer arriving from the New Hebrides Group, about 900 miles off the northeastern coast of Australia, has brought news of the murder of six persons by cannibals. The victims were a British trader named R. J. Bridges, and at least five children, whose bodies were found fearfully mutilated with axes and knives, and another child, who is missing, is believed to have been carried off by the cannibals and feasted upon. The murderers were thought to have come from a village on Malekula Island, where there are tribes of cannibals who are bound by native custom to kill and eat a human being in order to keep up their rank. The failure of the French and British punitive expeditions just before the outbreak of the European war to capture any of the perpetrators of similar crimes, and their immunity from punishment for two years past on account of the war, is thought recently to have emboldened the cannibals.

(Associated Press.)
Manila, P. I., Sept. 29.—A plan to establish ten government plants for the manufacture of rinderpest serum, has been initiated by Adriano Hernandez, director of the bureau of agriculture. Funds have been secured and the plants will soon be in full operation. Rinderpest continues to be a serious problem for Philippine cattle owners but the bureau of agriculture is waging a vigorous campaign against the scourge. A requisition for serum has been sent to French Indo-China and this will enable the bureau to keep up its work until all ten serum manufacturing plants are in full swing. These plants are to be located in cattle centers in different parts of the islands.

An agreement has been signed between the city and an eastern Ontario syndicate under which a pulp mill will be established in Port Arthur.

IRISH REGIMENTS REMAIN IRISH

Are Not Reinforced with Men Drafted from Other Units.

(Associated Press.)
Dublin, Ireland, Sept. 29.—The charge that the Irish regiments, and particularly the Dublin Fusiliers, are being filled up from reserves of English and Scotchmen, is repudiated by the Colonel lately commanding the Dublin Fusiliers Battalion, recruited from the commercial young men. There are, he says, not twenty Irishmen in the battalion who are not Irish, and these had come in because they had Irish friends in it. Irishmen who had been serving in English regiments had applied for transfer to the Dublin and this may have given rise to the charge. Some English regiments have been recruited almost entirely from the Irish in England, notably the Tyneside Irish, which was officially called the Northernumberland Fusiliers, in the list as the 315th London regiment. The casualty lists of Scottish Highland regiments show a large proportion of Irish names.

Items of More or Less Interest From Great Britain

Germany After Wilson.
Illinois Staats Zeitung: A President who tenaciously resists the demands of his own people to protect them in their crushed rights and in their violated honor. . . . The President who is not capable to resist the threats of that same England that depends for its very existence on the good-will of the American people, is already a danger for this Republic and a greater danger than any other enemy of Aircraft.

The Importance of Aircraft.
New York Sun: Mr. Claude Grahame-White has always been regarded as a dreamer of dreams; but we confess to a feeling of satisfaction when, remembering that Congress has appropriated $13,000,000 for military aeronautics, we read his prediction that in the wars of the future great fleets of powerful aeroplanes may begin hostilities, "destroying government buildings, arsenals, factories and railways, paralyzing all communications and blotting out whole cities." He is no doubt right when he says that "disaster awaits a nation that ignores these warnings," for airships as instruments of war are plainly in the early stage of their evolution.

The Future of the Empire
London Times: The far greater problem of the future of the Imperial Commonwealth will be upon us after the war. Its solution will be complicated by the nationalism of the French-Canadians and the South African Dutchmen, while it will have more than enough complications of its own. We see too few signs at present of that hardening of educated opinion in this country to a resolve that the solution shall be found which is, in our conviction, the essential first step. The way—once that initial impulse becomes general—is clearly to be seen, though its horizon is now very far away. The Imperial Conference should be summoned and should invite the parliaments and peoples of the Empire to send delegates to an Imperial Convention. This was how Canada, Australia, and South Africa prepared to meet the question of their own future at a time of crisis. It is the way for the Empire also, though here an intermediate stage, in which all Dominion Prime Ministers should become by virtue of their office members of the British War Council, is obviously desirable.

What is Hughes' Foreign Policy?
Springfield Republican: With the Republican candidates supported by such grotesquely antagonistic elements as the pro-German New York Staats-Zeitung and the pro-British New York Tribune, by George Sylvester Viereck on the one hand, and Lyman Abbott and Robert Bacon on the other hand, by Dr. Hexamer, head of the German-American alliance at one end, and by Theodore Roosevelt at the other end, how is it possible for us to know what Mr. Hughes' policy would be on the various questions of the European war?

Three Chinamen have been remanded to prison pending inquiries into the charge against them of having been found in possession of opium in Glasgow. All the accused were about 50 years of age and of respectable appearance. It was stated in Court that the shop in which they were arrested was similar to one raided a week ago. It is an old public-house, which is being fitted up with banks to accommodate Chinese sailors. Constables found a quantity of opium in cake form and a number of small tins containing opium in a semi-liquid condition prepared for smoking.

For some days many of the inhabitants of the island of Colonsay were perturbed by a huge object, which they imagined was a submarine, floating some miles out from the coast. The mysterious object was thrown ashore one day, and lay on the rocks at the north end of the island. It proved to be a big whale of the "furrowed" species, measuring about seventy-eight feet in length. Colonsay is an island in the Hebrides, with a population of about 500. There is also a Little Colonsay, off the west coast of Mull, which boasts of two inhabitants.

The Arbroath mill and factory owners have again considered the request of the operatives for an increase of 10 per cent. in wages, and have made an amended offer of a bonus of 2s per week to all earning 20s and over per week, and a bonus of 1s per week to all earning 20s per week. Since the war began the masters have, in addition to the foregoing offer, granted two bonuses of 1s each and an advance in wages of 5 per cent.

According to the second annual report of the General Board of Control for Scotland, of January this year, exclusive of insane persons maintained at home by their natural guardians, there were in Scotland 19,108 insane persons, of whom the authorities had official cognizance including inmates of training schools for imbecile children.

An inmate of the Enniscaorthy Lunatic Asylum named Sullivan caused a good deal of commotion recently by escaping in his pyjamas at midnight. A window left open enabled him to elude the guards and he made his way to an outbuilding where the livery of the coachman was kept. Donning this he found in the pockets a key to the stable, and harnessing the horse to the market cart he boldly drove off into the country. The matter was duly reported, and the attendants, assisted by the local police, organized a search in the surrounding districts. This was at its height when a telegram marked "Collect" was received from the fugitive who generously gave particulars of his whereabouts. Discovering no money in the stolen clothes, his freedom had proved irksome, and the telegram was to notify the officials that "he would return very shortly." They did not await his convenience, however, as he was a dangerous fellow. Instead they notified the police to bring him back to Enniscaorthy, which was done.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pro-internal sanitation.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES of BRANTFORD NEWSPAPERS TO BE ADVANCED

Commencing October 1st, next, the subscription rates of the Brantford Daily Courier and the Brantford Daily Expositor will be advanced as follows:

Single Copies . . . . . 2 cents
Delivered in Brantford - 35c per month ($4.00 per annum in advance)
By Mail to Outside Points $3.00 per annum

These increases have been necessitated by the tremendous advance in the cost of white paper, labor, metal, and in all other commodities incidental to the production of a newspaper. For over 25 years the subscription prices of the two Brantford papers have remained unchanged, while during that period the price of most other things have doubled and quadrupled. During recent years The Courier and Expositor have actually been sold to the agents and boys, and to the subscriber, when delivery charges are added, for less than the cost of the white paper alone, to say nothing of the hundred and one other charges of which each copy should bear a share. Recently the situation has become so serious that the above advances, commencing October 1st, have become imperative.

Even Advanced Rate is Low by Comparison

Even these advanced rates are much lower than those charged by the papers in London, Belleville, Guelph and many other Canadian cities and many publications which for years have charged the prices the Brantford papers now propose, have announced advances considerably beyond these figures during the last few months.

Subscribers may renew their subscriptions for a period not longer than one year at the present rates, if payment is made before October 1st, but no renewals will be accepted at the old rate after October 1st.

SORROWS HEAVY ON BELGIAN KING

King Albert Never Leaves His Small Domain.

Fishing, Netherland, Sept. 29.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—King Albert of Belgium has aged under the heavy cares and sorrows of the present time, and his hair is beginning to turn gray, according to the latest news from the Belgian front. His majesty never leaves the small strip of territory over which the Belgian flag still flies, refraining from visits to places in France or to Ste. Adresse, where his government has its seat. If the King of England or President Poincaré want to meet the Belgian sovereign, they have to go to this corner by the Yser.
The soldiers deeply appreciate the fact that their sovereign and commander-in-chief shares with them the monotony of this marshy bit of country, waiting, like them, for the day when Belgium shall be free once more. His majesty is frequently seen by his men—in the trenches, in barracks, on the sands and in the dunes. It is said, indeed, that no one knows better than he the 25 or 30 miles of trenches where the Belgian troops keep vigilant guard day and night. He is particularly fond of visiting the advancing posts, and his troops always feel some amount of anxiety when they desery the king's tall figure traversing the footbridges only some hundreds of meters distant from the enemy.
Queen Elizabeth, on the other hand, has with her own hands bound up many badly wounded men in the Ocean Hospital. Here she is in daily attendance, speaking an encouraging word here and there to the patients and distributing tobacco and cigarettes. Instances are related in which she has stood by the dying bed of simple soldiers. Her majesty is held in great veneration by the entire army.

their co-operation for only nominal sums. In one case the price for an attempt to blow up one of Italy's greatest steel works at Terni was about $80. If this attempt had been successful, it would have retarded military operations for several months.
Larance had in his possession when arrested eight jointed walking sticks of about the size of a man's little finger, painted a gray-green, filled with dynamite. They were hidden in umbrellas when he tried to escape. These dynamite canes had no time fuses, but were so arranged as to explode a few weeks after being placed in position.

SISTERS THREE

"It was like this, Jim is Irish—money slips through his fingers. He is not extravagant in his tastes, but he is a favorite everywhere, and that costs money. I suppose he was a bit short. He knows I do not like debts. So far as can be made out, he was trying hard to get money from every source that he could. He came down here. He sold a few colts—a few pups. It was Lebreton—Gaston's father—who wanted a yard dog, and made an offer for a fine young mastiff pup. Jim wanted six pounds, but Lebreton was always close-fisted, and would only give four. But Jim apparently was pressed, and the bargain which wrecked him."

"How?"

"It was drawn to order, but was not crossed. Jim had asked that, it seemed. Lebreton banked in London. He was a very wealthy man. Some young man presented the cheque at the bank in the dusk of a murky afternoon. The cheque, as presented, had been drawn for four hundred pounds, and the clerk cashed it without suspicion. It looked perfectly right."

"And what had happened?"

"I have not seen the cheque; but of course my lawyer had it examined with the utmost care and by experts. It seems plain that Mr. Lebreton had used a stylograph pen in writing it. Towards the end of his life his eyesight was defective, and he was very sensitive about this. It was evident upon close investigation under strong magnifiers that after he had written the word 'Four' the pen had failed to write when he thought he was putting down the word 'pounds' immediately after. Then, when it came to the figures—they were set closely together, and a little clever manipulation served easily to turn four pounds into four hundred pounds. The pen had not made the stops at all clearly, and in the place above only the word 'four' had been written. A clever writer with a little dexterous practice could easily, as you see, change this cheque from four into four hundred pounds."

"A few weeks sped by; then the blow fell. The hard part to me is that Lebreton did not hold his hand, did not communicate with me, acted the part of an enemy, when we had been at least acquaintances of long standing, and neighbors, even if we had never been cordial friends. Our wives had been friends; our boys had played together. It was not the act of a just or good-hearted man to spring like a tiger on his prey and have the lad arrested and tried without the chance of his getting together the money and making good the loss."

"He did that? Oh!"

"He did just that! I know that there had been friction between us latterly. He had ideas concerning some of the fisher-folk and labourers on the land which I had sought to modify and combat. That, I suppose, was in part the cause of his action, and in part his rooted love of money which was growing upon him steadily. Though very rich, he was niggardly and mean. So that this loss touched him in a tender spot; and when my boy was at his mercy it was no mercy that he received."

"But he did not do it!"

"Heaven be thanked, I am sure of that! But he was held responsible. There was his signature on the back. Some tall, upright young fellow had cashed it at the bank. The clerk would not swear that it was Jim—the light had been too bad—but he said it might have been him. It was a man who looked like a soldier-chap—which my Jim had done from boyhood. The 'soldier-chap' had worn a cape—it was raining hard—the collar turned up. That went against him too. And when my lawyer pressed him to say what he had done with this particular cheque he could not get anything satisfactory out of him. Jim, it seems, had been settling up a good many small debts and accounts with a good many tradespeople and friends, and he would not commit himself to any statement as to the destination of that particular cheque."

"In case he might make a mistake?"

"The girl was breathless with interest; her lips were parted, her eyes aglow.

"It might have been that, my dear, I cannot tell. I can only tell you the fact. No persuasions or appeals could make him say what he had done with Lebreton's cheque. It might, as he said, have passed through many hands before it reached the bank. It was his own carelessness which was to blame. He ought to have seen that the word 'pounds' was lacking after the word 'four.' If he had put temptation in another chap's way by his own carelessness—my boy was always careful—then it was the fault in him his mother had never succeeded in eradicating; and, Heaven forgive me, I think I never sufficiently did my duty in trying to help him myself! Be that as it may, he would not have any one else suffer for it."

"Oh, he was noble—noble! I think he must have been very like you!"

"The naïveté of this remark drew a smile from the old General, which presently faded as he took up his tale."

"And so they tried him—sent him to a convict prison for five long years. Three years of that have run. And I am getting an old, old man. It is hard to live when the motive power seems gone. Jim was my all. If he had fallen in the war—that war he would surely have gone out to it—" for he will come back to you one day!"

"But how? With the brand of prison upon him!"

"Do not call it that! How many of the noblest men in history have suffered cruel imprisonment! Think of St. Paul and the saints of old! Were they snatched or sold by what they suffered? Ah, don't think of it like that! It is only sin that stains. And he is innocent; we are sure of that!"

"You are sure, my child?"

"Oh, quite sure! Your son—your soldier-boy!"

"Thank you, my dear! You have done me good. Perhaps you will indeed prove that help that comes out of the east."

"Ah, if only I could be anything like that—if only I could!" She clasped her hands together and turned her face, earnest with thought and feeling, towards him. "Is there nobody—no friend of his—no comrade of those days—who could tell you anything that would help?"

"There was one friend of his who I thought perhaps might have known something, for they were much together, and, though he was several years older, Jim always spoke of him as his chief chum." But he went off to South Africa just at that time, and soon we learned that he had been shot through the heart by a Boer bullet. He never came home. What was his name?"

"Willoughby—Captain Willoughby of the—"

Allardyce clasped her hands together. Her face grew a little pale, and her eyes took a strange shining. Over and over again her lips repeated the name's words.

"Willoughby—Captain Willoughby."

Chapter XIII.

When Audrey returned the call of Madame Lebreton she went alone, and was not entirely sorry that neither of her sisters felt disposed to accompany her.

Gipsy openly repudiated having anything to say to Gaston's Keep or its inhabitants, though she was ready to admit that Audrey, as the eldest sister, had a right to judge for herself and to take up the social burdens incident to her position of chief lady at Sunset Crag.

Allardyce said very little about it, but she had never begun to pay calls. In the old home-life she had been too young, and in London they had other things to do than make social ties. On the afternoon that Audrey paid her visit Allardyce had promised to take her violin and play to General Kildare.

"I don't want to be unkind to Mrs. Lebreton," she said. "I know that it had nothing to do with her, that terrible thing her husband did; but somehow I don't feel as though I wanted to go near Gaston's Keep. I do not like the name of Lebreton. It sounds to me harsh and cruel—almost wicked!"

Audrey smiled. That was so like Allardyce. From a child she had been very sensitive to the name of that name had colors and that some of these colors hurt her in some way. Names came to her charged with shades of significance quite incomprehensible to others.

So the eldest sister went on her way alone on this brilliant afternoon of early May. There was a glow in the air that was almost like that of summer, though the nip in the wind gave reminder that the caprices of springtide were not yet over. Audrey felt the exhilaration of the season and the interest of her errand. The mistress of Gaston's Keep was to her one of the most interesting personalities she had ever encountered. He life held hidden tragedy—not the garish tragedy of which the sensational press takes cognizance when it gets the chance, but that silently-borne, long-drawn-out life tragedy of the woman who has married the wrong man—the man she falls to influence—the man whose helpmeet and counterpart she can never become, so that her life consists in witnessing courses of action she cannot approve, yet is debarred by wisely loyalty from openly condemning, and in watching the slow alienation of those to whom in happier circumstances she would have been more closely drawn.

Audrey's clear young eyes had already noted the isolation of Madame Lebreton's life. She was scarcely ever invited to the small social gatherings in the neighborhood, for the reason that there were many persons in the district who had more or less cause to dislike meeting with any one of that name.

To be sure her recent widowhood had made for this isolation during the past two years, and it would have been thought out of taste to press invitations upon her. But Audrey very well knew that there was more than this. She had met Mrs. Lebreton once at the Rectory, when they two were the only guests, and again she had felt that her interest was stirred beyond its wont, and that this lonely woman with the quiet manner, the gentle dignity of sorrow, and the face where so many slumbering expressions found a home was worth an effort to get in touch with. Also Audrey felt some instinctive assurance that any effort she might make in this direction would neither be misinterpreted nor repudiated. The friendship with a woman so much older than herself was to this girl possessed of many and great attractions.

Further, she was interested in the fine old house itself. From various places she had looked down upon it or up towards it. She was familiar with the grim bulk of the ancient keep, draped in ivy and dominating all the rest of the surrounding buildings. She had had glimpses of extensive and romantic-looking ruins, of a fine house of somewhat medieval aspect from these. There were surrounding gardens which began to show splashes of color from flowering shrub or springtide bedding. She would like to see all these things for herself at closer quarters, and was now in the way to do it.

Down the carriage road she took her way with first the bay and then the stream upon her left. But where the road forked and the right-hand branch led to church, village, and post-office, the left-hand branch led to the wide stone bridge which picturesquely spanned the stream and then immediately forked again. The straight on road led to the gates of Gaston's Keep, while the narrower way led down to the shore and onwards thence to the black reef where the Kildares had their castle. The great wrought iron gates swung open to admit Audrey, and she found herself in a pile of green glades, laughing streamlets, fine timber, and in one place a long inlet from the sea which was spanned by a suspension bridge of modern construction and of great elegance of form. It was altogether a romantic-looking place, where water-fowl brooded over a wide mere and deer browsed in the green glades. In this warm and sheltered spot the trees were beginning to shake out little crumpled leaflets of vivid green, and a lacquer of dancing shadow was flung over the emerald of the grass. Here and there splendid masses of rhododendron were bursting into bloom, and the glory of crimson, scarlet, pink and gold made a checker work amid the solemn darkness of ilex or pine.

"What a splendid place!" thought Audrey as she pursued her way. "How Gipsy would love galloping in these long green glades and watching the birds and beasts of this silent place!"

And Audrey found herself building castles in the air in which her favorite sister played the part of heroine and chatelaine; and before she had done with this erection she found herself at an inner gate opening upon a wide sweep of golden gravel upon which stood the great portico before the entrance door. Madame was at home, Audrey learned, and she was conducted through a splendid baronial hall and down a wide carpeted corridor into a sunny south room, of noble proportions, which appeared to be less the drawing-room of the house than the private apartment of a mistress. And here Audrey found herself quietly yet cordially welcomed by Mrs. Lebreton.

Madame was at home, Audrey

HOW TO KEEP WELL

BY JOHN W. S. McCULLOUGH, M.D., D.P.H., CHIEF OFFICER OF THE PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

HEADACHE.

HEADACHE IS A SYMPTOM, and not a disease. If you have a headache it is in most cases due to some bad habit. You eat too much, drink too much, sleep too little, strain the eyes too much, or work too continuously in bad air at some trying occupation. True there are headaches due to Bright's Disease or other organic diseases, but these are infrequent compared to those coming from causes which are remediable. Let us consider some of the common causes of headaches and see how this discomfort may be prevented.

(1) From over indulgence in beer, whiskey, or wine. The remedy is to cut them out, or so lessen the quantity to give your kidneys and skin a fair chance to eliminate the poison. If you have indulged, better get rid of the booze as quickly as possible. This may be done by a combination of two cathartic pills, a hot bath, hot cloths applied to the head, hot broth, and rest in bed.

(2) From biliousness or over indulgence in food. Nothing is better than a good dose of ordinary Epsom Salts and rest in a quiet, darkened room.

(3) Want of outdoor exercise. The city man (or woman) at a desk in a close room or the editor at work under cover of a desk in the afternoon, with hurried meals is often the subject of headaches. All these people need more outdoor air and exercise. Golf, bowling or tennis, especially golf, with one-fifth the quantity of fresh meat, potatoes, and bread and the difference in fruit, vegetables and water will do more for sick people than all the rest of the world.

(4) Eye strain, due either to defective eyesight or to trying eye work, causes lots of headaches. Headaches of this kind usually come on in the evening, (sometimes in the morning) after a trying day. They are usually in the forehead or temples. A simple way to test eye strain is for one to lie on the forehead or temples. A simple way to test eye strain is for one to hang up a test-card and see if you can read the line marked 20, first with each eye separately and then with both eyes, and if the letters are not clear-cut, distinct, and separate one's eyesight is faulty and glasses are required. Go to a first-class optician and get the eyes properly fitted.

(5) Fatigue headache. Some people get headache from fatigue. These headaches develop towards the close of the day. The only cure is to avoid over-exercising oneself.

(6) Too light a breakfast. Many people, especially women, eat nothing for breakfast but tea and toast. This is insufficient to carry one through the day. After the long fast overnight one needs a good breakfast. It ought to be one of the best meals of the day. A good type of breakfast is—Oranges or Grapefruit, Cereals, with Milk and Cream, Eggs; soft boiled, poached, or in omelette. Toast and Butter.

(7) A cupful of Hot Water, flavored with Cream and Sugar.

(8) Neurasthenia headache. A headache of this character is often described as a band about the head. There may be feelings as though the top of the head is coming off, or it may be such as to make a man feel he is going insane. The way to prevent a headache of this character is to improve the general physical condition by good food, outdoor life, relief from excessive nervous strain and worry—especially from worry.

(9) Migraine. Boys and girls (over eight or fifteen years of age) frequently have headaches of a particular character. The subjects of these headaches waken in the morning with a heavy loggy feeling. There may be a disturbance of the eyes, such as flashes of light first in one eye then in the other. These symptoms are succeeded by periodicity without any sometimes vomiting. These headaches come on periodically without any families. Some women have them well into the prime of life and are in bed in a darkened room with them for a day or two every month. This form of headache is called migraine. It is often confined to one side of the head, hence the name hemiplegic. The best treatment is to use hot and cold applications to the back of the neck and cold to the forehead and top of the head. If the face is pale use hot applications; if flushed use cold. The person addicted to migraine should lead a simple and healthy life, keep the bowels regular, and avoid any excesses. By these means the tendency to headache will probably disappear.

None of the remedies proposed, as will be seen, include headache medicine, for the reason that all headache medicine which has as their basis is one of the coal-tar products and is injurious. Some are positively dangerous. Numerous people have been killed by their use, and the best course is to avoid their use entirely.

RUSSIANS TAKE MANY PRISONERS

Total of 425,000 Organized the Present Great Offensive.

Petrograd, Sept. 29.—The Russian command, Gen. Brussloff, has sent forward his extreme left during recent days to the highway running between Kimpoulog and Maranaros Sziget, cutting that important Austro-German line of communication some miles above Kirilbaba. A series of desperate battles the Russians succeeded in capturing a mountain overlooking the highway which gave them an important strategic advantage. At the same time they took a range of mountains overlooking Kirilbaba.

According to the correspondent of the Novoe Vremya, that town for the first time in the campaign is under the fire of the Russian cannon. The extremely difficult mountainous country offering every advantage to the defenders, and the advance has been made against tremendous odds.

A noteworthy success has been achieved by Gen. Brussloff's centre in the neighborhood of Manouva and Kharbuzoff, villages on the upper Sereth, where the Russians have made an advance in the face of strong German reinforcements, capturing 1,500 Austro-German prisoners.

A recapitulation of the prisoners and booty taken by the staff, shows a total, since the offensive began, of 425,000 officers and men made prisoners and the capture of 2,500 machine guns and mine-throwers and 600 cannon.

Buffalo is abolishing slum districts. Philadelphia has this year entered 92 convention. Burlington, Cal., forbids barking by dogs in village limits. St. Louis, Mo., is urged to spend $3,000,000 for new schools. Kansas City has sold 1,000 tons of hay to the British army. Chester, Pa., in 1917 will spend $500,000 for new schools. Mrs. Russell Sage has given $15,000 to Syracuse University.

Giants Took Two From the Braves

And Increased their String of Victories to Twenty-Five.

New York, Sept. 29.—The runaway Giants increased their string of straight victories to twenty-five games yesterday, shutting out Boston in both games of a double-header and practically eliminating that club from the pennant race. The scores were 2 to 0 and 6 to 0. Big Jett Pearson had the better of Dick Rudolph in a pitchers' battle in the first game, while in the second, Ferdie Schupp was never in danger. He allowed only one hit, a single by Konetchy in the seventh. Blackburn, who walked in the sixth, was the only other man to reach a base on him. Neither advanced beyond first. It was Schupp's sixth victory in the Giants' string, and four of them were by shut-outs.

Benny Kauff drove out a home run off Neff, with the bases filled, in the third inning of this game, putting it on ice. A long lomer by Dave Robertson scored again in the sixth when, after forcing Herzog, he went to third in while Zimmerman's single came in while Zimmerman's single and came in while Zimmerman's single was stealing second, Maranville's throw to catch Robertson hitting the runner in the back.

More than 35,000 fans were present at the double-header. Score:—1st game—R. H. E. Boston . . . 00000000—0 6 0 New York . . . 01500000—7 0 0 Batteries—Rudolph and Gowdy, Tesreau and McCarty. 2nd game—R. H. E. Boston . . . 00000000—0 1 3 Batteries—Regon, Neff and Gowdy, Blackburn; Schupp and McCarty, Koehler.
