JOCKEYS IN ARMOR.

Peculiar Horse Race Is Annual Affair In City of Siena.

The most peculiar horse race in the world is the famous "Palio" which takes place every summer at the picturesque Italian city of Siena. Magnificent mediaeval costumes are worn by all who take part in the proceedings. Before the actual racing begins, the jockeys, clad in glittering armor and their horses beautifully saddled, make a tour of the course, accompanied by cavaliers, pages, archers, heralds, and others.

The scene of the race is the huge public square before the communal palace. Here an oval course is fenced off for the occasion, and sand spread over the concrete. The public are admitted free to the centre of the square, and the outer side of the course is surrounded by stands and houses for the use of those who are willing to pay for seats.

Every district of Siena is represented by a jockey and has an emblem, amongst them being the snail, unicorn, caterpillar, giraffe, and porcupine. Each contingent in the procession has a standard showing these emblems, and the bearers juggle with them as they march along.

Before the racing each jockey takes his steed into a church in his district, and both receive a blessing.

As soon as the procession is over, the jockeys retire to doff their armor. When they reappear they resemble our own jockeys, but the horses are without saddles, barebacked riding being the rule. Amidst thunderous cheering they at last get away and race three times round the square. Every jockey is allowed to use his whip freely on the shoulders of any of his rivals within reach?

Directly the winner arrives at the post he is seized by the crowd, kissed and embraced, and carried to the judges to receive the Palio or prize, which is an elaborately-painted banner. This he bears off in triumph and deposits in the church of his district.

Moon's Big Mountains.

For a small body, the moon has some astonishingly big mountains. They are bigger than any we have on the earth, says Tilt-Bits.

By the manner in which massive rocks overhang dizzy precipices many thousands of feet high, they are thought to be of much harder material than ours.

Many of them differ also in their color, some glowing like an opal. One of them, indeed, can be seen shining on the dark part of the moon, and this led to it being mistaken for a volcano in full blast.

There is a mountain range in the extreme south of the moon whose peaks are said to be from 30,000 feet to 36,000 feet high. Mount Everest can boast only 29,140 feet. Altogether, the moon has nearly forty peaks which are higher than Mont Blanc. If the earth had mountains in proportion to its much greater size, they would be very many miles high.

As it is, they are mere pigmies in comparison. The loftiest peak of the Himalayas is but 29,002 feet high. In the Rockies 14,000 feet is about the limit, and 16,000 feet in the Alps. The Caucasus are content with a maximum height of about 15,000 feet.

True, there is a great volcano on the island of Hawaii which rises to a height of nearly 14,000 feet, and which, if the sea were drained away, would be more than 30,000 feet high.

But the sea remains — and the moon mountains are easy winners.

Mystery Messages.

While recent experiments in long-distance telephony have disclosed the immense possibilities of wireless, the average man is as yet considerably behind some of the natives of Africa in the matter of easy and accurate transmission of messages without visible means.

When Gen. Gordon fell at Khartoum the news was known by the natives in Cairo, over a thousand miles away, within a couple of hours. There were no physical means of communication, and the information was naturally discredited by the British residents.

A similar incident relates to the death at sea of Prince Henry of Battenberg, who was struck with fever in the Ashanti expedition of 1895. Three Englishmen were in their store hundreds of miles inland in West Africa when a native came in and announced that the "Great White Man" had just died at sea. The men made a note of the time in their diary, and when the news came through they found that the native had informed them within a couple of hours of the prince's death.

This faculty, possessed by various tribes, does not operate only on special occasions. It serves the natives in their everyday affairs. The manager of a large store declared to the writer that it is useless to think of paying a surprise visit to a native branch manager. He had tried it several times. Even when he ordered his conveyance at the very last moment, and kept his destination secret, he always found the native smilingly awaiting him.

This manager's experiences are confirmed by others, but no one has been able to fathom the mystery of native "wireless" messages.

Give us a Hand!

CITIZENS of Ontario—The only salvation for Ontario's revenue-producing forests is the prevention of forest fires. Your support and co-operation is absolutely essential.

Forest fires are rapidly diminishing our resources of timber and pulpwood. Over 90 per cent. of Ontario's forest fires are caused by human carelessness.

If everybody was careful to prevent the start of fire, Ontario's Forest would be safe.

Save Ontario's Forests
They're Yours

BUSINESS MEN of Ontario — Lend us a hand. The various business associations — of bankers, boards of trade, manufacturers, merchants, lumbermen; engineers, educationalists, tourists, and sportsmen, and all other bodies of weight and influence, can do a great work for this province and for their own interests as well by actively promoting educational propaganda to reduce forest fires.

RAILWAY OFFICIALS can help. Railways cause 40% of Ontario's Forest fires. The Forestry Branch is being well supported by improved co-operation on the part of railway officials and by the Dominion Railway Board. Let us reduce the number of railway fires one-half this summer. (The train passenger in Northern Ontario who nonchalantly throws his cigarette or cigar out of the window during the forest fire season is deserving of a jail sentence!)

CAMPERS, tourists, fishermen, picknickers, berry pickers, prospectors and hunters should feel their responsibility even though out of sight of the policeman.

SETTLERS can co-operate by exercising more care in setting out fire on their own property.

LUMBER FIRMS can help by impressing on all foremen the need for carefulness. River-drivers in dry seasons should be specially warned. Gangs of men going in and out to the camps need special attention, because of the danger along the slash-lined trails from the inevitable cigarette.

THE PRESS could do more public-spirited constructive work to reduce forest fires than any other single agency. This is a non-political campaign in which the whole press could join.

LEADERS OF PUBLIC OPINION in every community should be the first to extend a helping hand. Tell the Chief Ranger or write the Head Office any time you have information or suggestions to impart, or questions to ask.

The Cow a Food Laboratory

(National Crop Improvement Service.)

How can we build a new breed of men without we start with the babies? It is impossible to improve our race unless we nourish our infants that they may develop both physically and mentally.

The dairy cow is at the foundation of every industry. She is a most wonderful laboratory. She fills her stomach hopper with grain, grass and silage, then she lies down and by chewing her cud, converts this raw material into the most perfect food in the world.

Doctor McCallum, of Johns Hopkins University, tells us that the "water soluble A" and the "fat soluble B," two mysterious somethings, are found in milk as nowhere else. Without these mysterious vitamins children will not grow, so milk-fed babies have the greatest possible advantage over the wolf-reared children raised without milk to drink.

How are the slim babies fed? Black coffee, pickles, imitation jams and molasses on their bread, constitute the daily rations of thousands of our poor families in the cities.

Without milk children languish, the vigor of the adult declines and the vitality of the human race runs low.

Money to Move the Crops

(National Crop Improvement Service.)

"Every year we see in financial news that the bankers are conserving money to move the crops.

"How does the farmer get his money? He has been carrying all of the risk and the sum total of this risk by all the farmers makes the risk carried by speculators fade into insignificance," says Mr. R. S. Rider, president, Canadian Steel & Wire Co.

"The farmer has always resented a fixed price because he considers that his wheat may be worth more than that at any time when he wants the full value for his property, but really the fixed price has very little to do with the selling price because at no time during the war period did wheat sell below the guarantee.

"Farmers have always said that if the middleman could be eliminated that they could get more for the wheat and the public could buy it for less.

"The Wheat Growers Association has demonstrated its ability to market its wheat co-operatively and it has not been difficult to finance every wheat transaction when placed upon a business basis."

Double-ended Wrench.

Double-ended wrenches are popular, especially among autoists, for their sturdy simplicity, as compared with the awkwardness of the ordinary monkey wrench, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Even the latter's advantage of adjustability now has been conferred upon the former, for a two-ended wrench that handles ten sizes of nuts has been placed in the market. One jaw at each end is slidably mounted, with a pin moving in a slot, and locks in place against a ratchet edge. The body, which is seven and three-fourths inches long and three-eighths inch thick, has positions for the various sizes, from one-fourth to seven-eighths inch, marked upon it.
