MOTHERS TO BE

Should Read Mrs. Monahan's Letter Published by Her Permission.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, some days I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when seven months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. PEARL MONAHAN, Mitchell, Ind.

Good health during maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

portable oil stove is a handy thing when it comes to heating an imperfectly warmed bathroom.

If tan shoes are soiled, moisten a cloth, rub it across a piece of pure white soap and clean the shoes.

Lemon juice and cayenne are excellent used in French dressing instead of black pepper and vinegar.

Stale pieces of bread can be put through the meat grinder and added to any muffins you are planning to make.

If a small lump of alum is put into the paste for putting paper on the wall, the mice will never gnaw the paper.

The secret of saving meat is to extend the meat favor by gravies, or combinations of the meat with vegetables.

After roasting a piece of meat which is to be served cold wrap it in cheesecloth white hot. This preserves the flavor.

While the dishes are being washed the silver cleaning bottle can stand on the table and any silver that is dark can be polished.

Long sausage-shaped bags of cotton cloth can be filled with sand and serve to keep the cold out when there are cracks beneath doors and windows.

HE WAS SHORT OF MONEY.

Negro who had an injured head entered a doctor's office. "Hello, Sam! Got cut again, I see." "Yes, sah! I don't got carved up with a razor, doc." "Why don't you keep out of bad company?" said the physician, after he had dressed the wound. "Deed, I'd like to, doc, but I ain't got nuff money to git a divorce.

Minard's Liment Cures Dan-druff.

CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE.

A special constable in a suburb of London relieved his mate at midnight, and, to his astonishment found him in a most honorable condition. Both his eyes were in mourning, his nose was flattered, his mouth was askew, and his clothing showed further testimony of a terrific combat.

"My Gawd!" said the relieving officer of the law "You're in a 'orrible state. You're beaten up sumptin' terrible an' no mistake. Wot 'appened?"

"Yer knows that pretty little widdar as lives down at the end of the street—'usband was killed at Gallipoli?"

"Yes."

"Well, 'e ain't."

SPLENDID GIFT TO DALHOUSIE 'VARSITY.

Senator Wm. Dennis, president of the Halifax Herald Co. has given Dalhousie University $60,000 for the purpose of founding a chair of government and political science in memory of his son, Captain Eric Dennis, who was killed in action. The gift provides also that prizes shall be given and that the student taking the class who stands highest at graduating shall receive a prize of $250 with the Eric Dennis gold medal.

HIS TALE OF WOE

Scotsman, recently arrived, was chatting with a friend over conditions overseas.

The new arrival told feelingly of the terrible toll of war upon the fair land of Scotia, the sad tale of young men killed and maimed, the sufferings of the families left behind.

"Why, mom, we're just plum abstract wi' it all," he concluded.

"And, I suppose, the war has caused the price of provisions to go up in Scotland as well as everywhere else?" commented the questioner with sympathy.

"Aye, mom, ye're richt," agreed the visitor. "Provisions has gone up in price four shillings a bottle the one sort and saxpence quart the 'ither."

TO A HERO.

We may not know how fared your soul before Occasion came to try it by this test

Perchance, it used on lofty wings to soar;

Again it may have dwelt in lowly nest.

We do not know it bygone knightly strain

Impelled you then, or blood of humble clod

Defined the dread adventure to attain

The cross of honor or the peace of God.

We see but this, that when the moment came

You raised on high, then drained, the solemn cup—

The grail of death, that, touched by valor's flame,

The kindled spirit burned the body up.

MAY BE MILLION AMERICANS THERE.

Washington, Mar. 7.—Troops and supplies for General Pershing's forces now are moving to France on schedule time, it was learned today on high authority. While figures may not be published, it was stated positively that transportation requirements of the army are being met by the Shipping Board, and the immediate situation as to ships was described as satisfactory. A substantial American army already is in the trenches on the Western Front, and Secretary Baker has indicated that there may be at least a million American troops in France during 1918.

THE sole head of a family, or single male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. CONVENTION CALL, MARCH 26, 1918.

The 12th Annual Convention of the N. S. Temperance Alliance will meet in the Board of Trade rooms, Halifax, Tuesday, March 26th at 10 a. m.

The Executive Committee will meet in the same place and the date at 9 a. m.

There will be three sessions: viz, morning, afternoon, and a Public Meeting in the evening. Addresses will be given by some of the best speakers in the Province. All the Churches, Temperance and Reform Organizations will be represented.

Pastors of Churches and presiding officials of all affiliated organizations are hereby earnestly requested to give this notice the widest publicity and see that delegates are appointed and sent.

Every citizen who has the temperance cause at heart should spare no effort to make this Convention an unqualified success. County Treasurers should see that all money is forwarded to the Provincial Treasurer.

Mr. P. McG. Archibald, Truro, not later than March 20th.

Let us make this Convention

a thoroughly representative gathering of faithful earnest determined men and women who are anxious to fight for the total suppression of the liquor traffic in the Dominion of Canada. The time is critical, the work important, the call urgent. Railways will grant the usual reduced rates.

Each delegate should ask for a Standard Certificate at the point of departure and thereby ensure cheaper transportation.

Remember the date, March 26th, 1918.

Issued by order of Executive Committee.
CANON ERNON, President. D. C. ROSS, Secretary.

MORE SUBS DESTROYED THAN WERE BUILT.

Washington, March 7—More submarines were destroyed by the Allied and American naval forces in December than Germany was able to build during the month according to information reaching Washington. This fact developed today in discussions of the statement made to Parliament on Tuesday by Sir Eric C. Geddes, First Lord of the British Admiralty, that the submarines were being checked. Whether succeeding months have shown a net loss in German submarines is not known here.

It is believed, however, that the anti-submarine campaign has proved so effective that increased efforts this spring will see a steady decrease in the number of U-boats available to prey on Allied and American shipping.

THIRTY THOUSAND FOR N. S.

QUEBEC, March 7—At a conference held today between Dr. J. W. Robertson, representing the Food Board and the Federal Minister of Agriculture and the Hon. J. E. Caron, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, the former made the statement that the Federal Government will give $60,000 to Quebec and the same amount to Ontario with a view to encouraging an immense production of food stuffs. Nova Scotia will get $0,000; New Brunswick, $25,000; Prince Edward Island, $5,000; Manitoba, $25,000; Saskatchewan, $35,000; Alberta, $25,000; British Columbia, $15,000.

Thanksgiving Day In Burgess Pass

FOR one who thinks of Banff as the only place in the Canadian Rockies—or for those who think of summer days playing tennis, afternoon teas at the hotels, bridge and dances in the evenings, the following paragraph may be of interest.

Having spent the summer and fall in the mountains making my gradual climb of Cathedral (10,425 ft.) to become a member of the Alpine Club, staying in camp south of Hector and spending the remainder of the time at the Club House in Banff, I still had not had enough of the mountains and took the morning train from Banff to Field, where I had a full seven hours before leaving at night.

Where to go in that time was the question as there were so many delightful and charming spots. Burgess Pass was said to be a very beautiful walk, and being fond of walking I started out alone at 1:15 p.m. The trail was good, having been used by ponies all summer going to the Yoho Valley. It was a steady but gradual ascent all the time; the timber was heavy and beautiful the autumnal tints on poplar trees and fruit bushes gave just the needed touch of color. Added to the beauty of the foliage were high banks of moss in varied shades of green and bronze, and the bright scarlet of the pigeon berries was seen along the trail; a stream came rushing madly down the mountain side, as if to retard one's progress, but the usual "stepping stones" were there. I already felt repaid by my first hour's climb. Mount Stephen and Cathedral could be seen to advantage at this point and needless to say the summit of the latter interested me for I had not forgotten my seven hours climb to reach it.

Time passed, at last the peak loomed up which I thought must surely be my goal. I immediately took a short cut over some rock and shale thinking it would soon lead to my wonderful view, but alas! nothing but dense timber was ahead. After several attempts the trail was found and I was a steady climb till another ridge loomed up. As Mount Burgess was now on my left and I was walking along the base of the summit, and could see the sky line between some scraggy trees (they were now fewer and farther between) I knew it was no distance to my summit. Two and a half hours had now gone by, though the day was perfect and the sky cloudless, so that one could obtain the best of views. I wondered if it would be worth the climb. Unless one has climbed the index errible expectancy as you reach a summit cannot be understood, nor can it be even by those who climb. You hold your breath and wonder in which direction to look first; each step means so much like steps taken slowly and deliberately in some great crisis in life. They are of such import. The first snow-capped peak appears—a few more steps are taken when a glacial hung summit comes into view; then more peaks with their snow fields, even the crevasses were discernible, another few steps and the summit is reached; never as long as I live shall that moment be forgotten; looking ahead for the summit I little dreamt of the view behind. Mountains mountains in all directions, as far as the eye could reach—Mount Burgess to my left with Emerald Lake lying at its base (more green, if possible, than any emerald) in a most beautiful valley. President and Vice-President ahead of me, Mount Wapta to my right, with its pony trail leading to the Yoho on its side, Cathedral and Mount Stephen southeast of it, and to the south range upon range of snow-capped mountains. I was literally dumb and numb of soul. No thought or words could express such a moment. It was several minutes before I could think, and when I found my soul breathing a prayer of joy—after joy in the fact that I was alive and could enjoy such a view—it surpassed even the Grand Canyon of Arizona. To be under the canopy of heaven with no other thing in sight as far as the eye could reach, where only silence is heard, for a silence such as that is not silence, for the "mountain" speaks. It surpassed any service ever attended on Thanksgiving Day. I was not only on the summit but further away I knew not where, on another plane; another world—at least in the world of thought.

The sun was now dipping behind Mount Burgess and how quickly the colors changed. The Emerald Lake became the color of olives, the mountains began to grow hazy. It was time to leave or darkness would overtake me, so I started, loath to go. After an hour and a quarter walking steadily I sat down to rest. The color ing was now in all the rich tints of Roman days. The mountains were blue and purple, the pine trees looked dark and dismal, and the yellow and reds of other trees looked deeper and richer than they had an hour ago.

The dusk was falling quickly, and the path was barely discernible when nearing the end of the trail. The lights of Field now began twinkling through the trees like so many stars. There were fifty minutes before my train left, though one had just passed and I wondered if I had mistaken the time on account of the mountain and Pacific time, so why leave! I sat down on the trail the night had come, the day was passed and my wonderful walk a thing of the past, but what memories, and what a Thanksgiving Day. One never to be forgotten "Alone!" No, one is not alone when with Nature, for many voices are heard; such were my thoughts at this moment when I heard a sound—what was moving on the trail? A figure emerged from the gloom, and he too was "alone." I spoke first and asked if the train that had just passed was the regular, and to my joy it was not. This "Lonely Figure" had walked fourteen miles. We went back to the hotel together. Kindred spirits and one with nature. He told me of his travels in the Alps and the Sierras, but nothing touched this for grandeur. He asked if there was much snow at Banff, and I said nothing that compares with this. "I should," he said, "wondering if were rather the edge of things" and my answer said that expressed it perfectly. We both agreed that to see the real nature of the mountains the beaten trails and high roads should be left and the pony trails and high roads should be taken either on foot or riding, that the grandeur, the magnificence, and awe inspiring Canadian Rockies can be seen to the best advantage. A few days should be spent at Field, or if time will not allow, at least miss one train to go through Burgess Pass, for the whole trip is certainly worth that one glorious view.—E. C. MELI.

CANARD

Miss Minnie Wright, daughter of C. H. Wright, Annapolis Co., has been at Springhill visiting her brother, Mr. Rupert Wright. The family were formerly residents of Canard.

Corwallis Division has been quite flourishing of late. On Feb. 28th the members of the Division went to Canning and engaged in a debate there with members of Canning Division.

The subject debated was: — "Resolved that the Problems of Country life are greater than those of City life". The Canard speakers were Rev. A. J. Prosser, Mr. James E. McGowan and Miss Gertrude Eaton taking the affirmative. The Canning speakers were Rev. F. H. Bone, Messrs. N. W. Eaton and G. W. Parker. The debate was most interesting and fine arguments were advanced for both sides. The Judges appointed decided that Corwallis had the best of the argument. The Canning members provided excellent refreshments and a most enjoyable and profitable evening was spent by all.

With the great necessity for increased production, Canard will do its very best this year to grow as much as can be produced on the land with the limited help available for the season.

Mr. J. G. McBride has been reported among the wounded.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If you are afflicted with any of the above conditions, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

CENSUS RETURNS.

Ottawa, Feb. 27, 1918.—The Census and Statistics Office has published today its annual estimates of farms values in 1917 as compiled from the reports of correspondents at the end of July, 1918. The estimates comprise (1) the average values of farm land (2) the average wages paid for farm help and (3) the average values of farm live stock and of wool.

Average Values of Farm Land.

According to the returns received, the average value of farm land for the whole of Canada, including land improved and unimproved together with dwelling houses, stables barns and other farm buildings, is approximately $44 per acre as compared with $41 in 1916. The average values by provinces are as follows: Prince Edward Island $43.7; Nova Scotia $33.6; New Brunswick $28.8; Quebec $53; Saskatchewan $26; Alberta $26.7; British Columbia $149. In the last named province the higher average is due to orcharding and fruit growing.

Average Wages of Farm Help.

The average wages paid for farm help during the year 1917 have increased substantially since 1916 and have again reached the highest level on record. In many cases they are double what they were before the war. For the whole of Canada the wages per month of farm help during the summer, including board average $63.63 for male and $34.31 for female help, as compared with $43.23 and $22.46 in 1916. For the year 1917, including board, the wages averaged $610.60 for males and $364 for females as compared with $397 and $228 in 1916. The average value of board per month is returned as $19.44 for males and $14.79 for females as compared with $17 for males and $13 for females in 1916. By provinces, the average wages per month for males and females respectively, in the summer season, including board, were as follows: Prince Edward Island $39.74 and $22.63; Nova Scotia $53.75 and $26.43; New Brunswick $57.19 and $28.14; $59.09 and $28.98; Ontario $59 and $31.96; Manitoba $67.97 and $40.28; Saskatchewan $73.21 and $41.09; Alberta $76.09 and $44.44; British Columbia $78.12 and $48.20.

Average Wages of Farm Live Stock and of Wool.

On the whole there is but little change reported in the value per head of horses; in some of the provinces the value has remained stationary or has even declined. For cattle sheep and swine, however, values are substantially higher than last year and are higher than in any previous year which records have been collected. For Canada the average value of horses, three years old and over is $167 as compared with $160, milch cows are $84 as against $70; cattle between one year old and three years average $52 against $43; sheep are $14.93 against $10.48 last year and swine are $17.33 against $11.98 per cwt. The average value of wool is 59 cents per lb, unwashed and 75 cents per lb washed. Correspondents were requested to ascertain as nearly as possible the average value per head of each description of farm animal, and for calculation of total values these averages have been applied to the total number of farm animals as returned in June last. The results are as follows: Horses $429,123,000 as compared with $418,686,000 in 1916; milch cows $274,081,000 as against $198,896,000, other cattle $270,595,000 as against $204,477,000 sheep $35,576,000 as against $20,927,000 and swine $92,886,000 as against $60,700,000. The total value of farm live stock in Canada is estimated to be $1,102,261,000 as compared with $903,686,000, the estimate for 1916 as finally revised by the Census returns for the Prairie Provinces. In 1917, for the first time, the total value of farm live stock exceeds one billion dollars.

BILLIANT DISPLAY OF "NORTHERN LIGHTS."

New York, March 7.—Brilliant lights over the city tonight brought thousands of persons into the streets to observe what was believed to be a great fire in the direction of New Jersey. The bright varicolored lights, with a vivid red predominating, proved to be Aurora Borealis, and officials at the Weather Bureau said the display was the best they had ever seen in this latitude. Telegraph and telephone service especially between New York and Canadian cities was seriously interrupted.

DULUTH, Minn., March 7.—The most elaborate display of the Aurora Borealis ever seen in Duluth appeared tonight. The lights took the form of an eagle with full spread wings.

FRANCE CALL TO ME.

Harry Webb Farrington, in Boston Transcript.)

I.
Across the sea
There comes the call
Of France to me.
I hear the muffled, tender sound
Of little children, under ground,
Denied, bereft of everything:
The right to play, to learn and sing.
Dear little child
Across the sea,
I'll come to sing
And play with thee.

II.
From over there,
I hear the call
From France in prayer:
The women calling for their mate,
Now widowed by the Huns of Hate;
Brides, homeless, childless, all alone
Are brooding o'er a pile of stone.
Heroic souls,
I'll come to share
Thy bitter grief,
And blind despair.

III.
From over sea,
There comes sad sound
From France to me:
The painful peal of broken bells,
Now shattered by Satanic shells;
The war-sick wind, that walls and whines
Through battered walls of sacred shrines:
O House of Prayer,
Where God's yet found,
I'll help to heal
Thy wicked wound.

IV.
Beyond the Seine,
I hear the cry
Of France in pain:
The shrieks from shell-hole, trench and wire,
Men crazed by gas and liquid fire;
Dumb agonies from No-Man's Land,
Low groans beneath the surgeon's hand.
O stricken land,
Where evils reign,
Thy call to me
Is not in vain.

JAPAN AND SIBERIA.

The Japanese apparently do not intend to allow any menace against Vladivostock. They cannot afford to do so. According to the Associated Press Japan is ready to strike a telling blow to Pan-German hopes in Siberia where the situation is grave owing to the fact that General Semenov, the Cossack leader of the forces opposed to the Bolshevik movement in that territory, has not been able to secure Allied support he has appealed to Japan, and there is every reason to believe that the Japanese have not been slow in arranging to come to his aid.

A glance at the map will show why Japan is not likely to let the German seriously threaten Vladivostock. If prompt action is necessary to prevent this we may be sure Japan will act promptly. Military observers point out that the Bolsheviks have actually armed German prisoners in Siberia and have paved the way for a general distribution of German goods throughout that province. The Allies have refused to recognize the agreements entered into by Russia and late despatches indicate that they are considering the protection of their own interests in a forcible way. They know that friendly protest will avail them nothing. What their plan of campaign may be is too early to say, but experts believe the time has come when Japan must enter the conflict on a scale far beyond anything she has hitherto undertaken in this war. She is well prepared for a long and sustained campaign. Her troops are trained and in fine fettle, and they are anxiously awaiting a chance to meet the enemy on the field of battle. In Siberia they would have the hearty co-operation of a considerable force of Russians under Semenov and other faithful officers who are standing solidly behind the Cossack leader. Military critics have no very good idea regarding the strength of this army, but they are convinced that it will fight loyally. Japan may be the Allies' trump card in the east. Time will tell. Meanwhile the civilized world will await with keen interest the developments of the next few weeks.

Search for Secrets.

Ponce De Leon started out to discover the Secret Fountain of Youth. Men are always looking for secrets: the secret of health, wealth, or happiness. But the secret of successful advertising has been discovered. It is strange it was not discovered long ago, but it was not until recent years, although it is remarkably simple. It is to "Tell the truth and shame the devil." Put into your advertisements the exact facts, without exaggeration or elaboration. When people see that you are entitled to confidence, they will make a beaten path to your doors.

THE BEST VARIETIES OF VEGETABLES.

(Experimental Farms Note)

Owing to the scarcity of seed of many varieties of vegetables this year it will not always be possible to get those which are desired, hence the importance of ordering early in order to make sure of getting at least some of the best sorts. In the following list, based on tests made at the experimental farms and stations in Canada, several varieties, of almost equal merit of some kinds of vegetables are suggested so that if it is not possible to get one it may be possible to get the other.

BEANS.—(Round Pod Wax) Round Pod Kidney Wax, Pencil and Bettle Wax, (Flat Wax,) Wardwell Kidney Wax, early, and Hodson Wax, late, (Green Pod), Stringless Green Pod, and early Red Valentine, early and Refugee or 1000 to 1 (late Lina and Pole beans are not very satisfactory except where the season is long and warm. The bush varieties of Lina are not most satisfactory. Scarlet Runner is the most reliable Pole bean but Kentucky Wonder is one of the best in quality.

BEETS.—Crosby Egyptian, Detroit Dark Red, and Early Model.

BORECOLE or KALE.—Dwarf Green Curled Scotch.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS.—Improved Dwarf. The varieties have been found more satisfactory than the tall ones.

PARSNIP.—Hollow Crown of a good strain is the best. Intermediate is also good.

PEPPER.—Early Neopolitan of the large varieties and Cayenne, Chili and Cardinal of the small ones.

The Cost of Growing Potatoes in New Brunswick Under 1917 Conditions.

On account of the various investigations conducted by the Food Controller into the costs of production of various crops and the controversy arising especially in regard to potato growing, it may be of interest at the present time to give an actual statement of the cost of growing this crop at the Experimental Station, Fredericton, N. B.

In approaching this question it might be stated that on account of the larger estimate of the cost of production of potatoes in New Brunswick as compared with other provinces, that doubt has been expressed in some quarters as to the genuineness of the figures submitted by some New Brunswick growers.

The Experimental Station is in a position to help in dispelling these doubts by giving an official statement of cost actually incurred on one acre of potatoes especially set apart for this purpose. At the same time these figures may serve to call attention of growers to the desirability of keeping a business like account with their own individual field operations.

The conditions under which potato growing was undertaken last year necessitated higher expenditure than ever before. Labour, fertilizers and spraying materials were much more costly than in previous years, while the price of seed was higher than before known in the history of the country.

As a comparison of cost and illustrative of its increase in 1917, it may be stated that based on the same details as given for the season of 1917, an acre grown in 1915 cost $73.98, the crop was 80 barrels of marketable worth $1.75 ad 7 barrels culls worth 50 cents; a total value of $143.50 leaving a profit per acre of $69.52. A cost per barrel of 85 cents and a profit per barrel of 80 cents.

In 1916, the acre cost $88.09, the crop was 120 barrels marketable, worth $2.75 per barrels culls, worth 50 cents a total value of $333.00, leaving a profit per barrel of $1.94.

In 1917, the following are the details of the actual time and expense put on the test acre. It might be stated that this land lay immediately alongside the acre grown in 1916 and the soil was similar except that it was better drained.

Fall ploughing 5 hours $1.70, harrowing 68 cents, sixteen tons stable manure at $1.00, $16.00 Labour in applying it $3.70. Ploughing in manure, 5 hours, $1.70, harrowing 68 cents. Fifteen barrels wood ashes at $1.13 1-3 per barrel, $17.00. 835 pounds acid phosphate at $23.50 per ton, $9.81. Nineteen and one-third bushels Green Mountain potatoes at $2.40 per barrel, $46.32. Cutting and disinfecting seed at 15 cents per barrel, $2.90. Planting, 2 men and team, 4 1-2 hours $2.43. REGISTRAR WARNS MEN WHO HAVE LEFT FARMS.

Registrar E. Hart Nichols has issued the following notice: "Much altitude has been given to men exempted from Military duty as farmers so long as they continued in their occupation as farmers. Great numbers of such men have left the farms and are working in other occupations. The winter season is now practically over from the farming point of view, and all such men granted exemption as farmers or farm laborers should get back to the farms, as instructions have been issued to the police that any men of this class who fail to do so will be arrested, and their exemption considered as expired through the condition on which they were granted having ended. The instructions to the police are definite and will be energetically carried out from the 15th inst. Men exempted as farmers or farm laborers will have ample opportunity to get back to their work on the farms before the police round-up commences."

CARE OF SWINE.

At a time when every person who can is being urged to raise a pig, a pamphlet reprinted by the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, entitled, "Feeding and Housing of Swine," comes most opportunely. The pamphlet, which can be had free from the Publications Branch at the federal capital, contains sections by three of the leading authorities on the subject in Canada.

The first of these is Professor G. E. Day, formerly of the Ontario Agricultural College, who writes on the selection of the boar and sow and the management of both and of the young pigs. The second is Mr. E. Achibald, Dominion Animal Husbandman who deals with the farmers' cheap piggery, supplying diagrams of appropriate buildings with dimensions and other useful particulars. The third is Mr. G. B. Rothwell, Assistant Dominion Animal Husbandman, who deals with the same subject, but from a different standpoint. He describes a cheap, portable hog cabin that can be built and utilized by practically anybody who is willing to take trouble. Illustration of the cabin and diagram with specifications are also given.

SHIPPING SITUATION IS VERY GRAVE.

LONDON, March 7.—Barron Inchcape, complaining at a meeting of the Chamber of shipping, today, of what he termed the unpromising outlook, said that not a sound had been heard along the Clyde since noon last Saturday. It might be, he suggested, that no war was going on and that no new ships or destroyers to hunt submarines were required. He said he thought more information about shipping losses might be given the people to make them appreciate the gravity of the situation, adding: "Our tonnage is being sunk at a rate of which the people have no conception. There is a curious lack of realization in many parts of the country as to the grave situation with which we are faced.

There are 300 soldiers, just arrived in Sackville, N. B. from the 1st Depot battalion, Manicoba Regt. They were 12 days on the journey. They will be in that town four weeks.

CALL FOR 5000 NURSES. already have been supplied by Washington, March 7—A call for 5000 nurses between now and June 1 for services in military hospitals at home and abroad has been made upon the Red Cross by Surgeon General Gorgas, of the United States army. Nearly 7,000 nurses

THE ADVANCEMENT OF AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

The promotion of welfare of the agricultural community as a basis for the industrial and commercial prosperity of the country, was the object aimed at by the Parliament of Canada when, in 1913, at the instance of the then Minister of Agriculture, The Honorable Martin Burrell, it adopted the measure known as the Agricultural Instruction Act. By means of this Act the sum of ten million dollars was set apart for distribution among the provinces over a period of ten years to provide for a greater extension of instruction and education for those engaged in farming.

An investigation made prior to the introduction of the measure has revealed two outstanding deficiencies in connection with agricultural development. In the first instance, the response to the teachings of colleges of agriculture and experimental farms was too slow to effect an immediate and noteworthy improvement in the conditions surrounding farm life. The second weakness was found in the fact that little or no attempt was being made to adapt the country's educational system to the specific requirements of country boys and girls. The form of instruction was the same whether the child was destined for employment in the country or in the town.

The placing of funds at the disposal of the provinces in the manner indicated has led to a much wider extension of instructional work among the men and women and boys and girls who are living on the land. A marked development of the short course idea has resulted in the extension of courses in agricultural topics and in household science throughout the country. These courses are designed not only for farmers and their wives but for the young men and women who have left school and are about to actively enter upon the affairs of life. In the schools themselves an attempt is being made to develop a system of instruction which will utilize the objects associated with rural life as a medium through which to educate the child. In the higher departments of education, the efficiency of the provincial colleges of agriculture has been promoted, and, in several provinces, at least, schools of an intermediate grade, between the public school and the agricultural college, have been established. The object of these special schools is to provide vocational training in agriculture and household science. As time goes on and their usefulness is demonstrated, it is certain that, owing to the financial assistance given by the Act, their influence will be greatly extended. How wide a field is being covered by agricultural instruction work is indicated in a pamphlet just issued by the Dominion Commissioner of Agricultural Instruction, Mr. W. J. Black. It is entitled "Agricultural Instruction in Canada," and a copy may be had on application to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.
