COMMENTS! Look out!—Counterfeit one dollar Dominion bills are in circulation.

We see by our city exchanges that the steamer "Empress" received some damage on Friday morning.

The Princess Louise is to spend the next five or six months in England, the winter climate of Canada being too severe for her constitution.

The British Army, with the exception of the Guards, are to discontinue the use of the pipe-clayed belt.

WALMOT.—The shop and contents of J. C. Healy, at this station, was completely destroyed by fire.

In another column we reprint a portion of an article from the Halifax Herald, which takes up in solid, forcible language, the refrain of the cry, which we have been hearing in the ears of our readers time and time again.

Consider the tribute that eminent men in other countries, who pass through this Province, pay to our hospitals and resources, and then stay home and try and get imbued with the spirit of the patriot that has made the neighboring republic what she is today.

THE CAPABILITIES OF OUR FARMING DISTRICTS must be more explicitly and systematically presented to emigrants.

Distance from railway station, Distance from shipping point, Nearest town or village, Size of farm, No. acres cleared, No. acres in meadow, No. acres in wood, Water privileges, Church, School or Mill accommodation, General character of soil, What best adapted for raising, Cost of building, Lowest selling cash price, Market facilities.

Mr. John Lewis, of Truro, Nova Scotia, is going into the manufacture of fishbone wood such as is used in boat and shoe factories.

Mr. Lewis offers his home made fishbone wood to the manufacturers at 12 1/2 cents per roll.

Mr. Lewis has sent some of his samples out and a gentleman experienced in the boat and shoe business, who has seen them says they are first class.

Good again! There are plenty of just such enterprises open to the people of this Province, if they only had the pluck to go into them.

We want a little of Col. Sellar's mania—speculation in our Country.—We want to live up to a little less of the principle of doing "as my fathers did before me," and a good deal less of the business of looking money up in the Banks, where...

Schr. Forast, Capt. Nicholson, arrived safely at Annapolis on Friday morning last. The vessel left Boston on Sunday morning and Tuesday night at six o'clock reached the Gut, but being unable to see the light, which is situated altogether too low, the captain mistook the Gut for the Passage, and kept on until he had passed the Gut, and continued on his way until he reached Spencer's Island, 65 miles from the Gut. He remained there until the sale was made, when he was sent to Annapolis, arriving safely as before stated.

Very many of our readers will learn with sorrow and regret of the death of the Rev. Dr. Henry Pryor Almon, D. D., which took place at Halifax, on the 24th inst., at the residence of the Rev. Mr. Abbott—his brother-in-law. The deceased gentleman had been in very poor health for some time previous to his death, and had gone to Halifax for medical treatment, which unfortunately proved of no avail. He was the son of the late Hon. M. B. Almon, who was born in Halifax in 1836, educated at Kings College, Windsor, and afterwards entered the ministry of the Church of England. After he was admitted to holy orders, he was first appointed at Digby Neck; he next was stationed during the past season in the country of administration here he made many friends among all classes; from here he was removed to Windsor, and was installed at the residence of the late Hon. M. B. Almon, where he was occupied up to the time of his death. The Rev. Dr. was of a kind charitable disposition—ever ready to respond to the cry of the needy—warm friend and a most loving and kind father. His loss will be deeply deplored by his wife and three children to whom we tender our earnest sympathy. A host of friends and acquaintances in this town as well as many other portions of the province will also heartily deplore his death.

DEATH OF MRS. ISABELLA H. YOUNG.—The news of the death of this estimable lady has cast a gloom over the community. The sad event took place yesterday morning at the residence of her father, Rev. B. Hume Allen, Upper Allen. She had been ill for nearly ten weeks with gastric fever.

Mrs. Young was the eldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Hurlbut and was born in St. Louis Oct. 24, 1834. Her parents soon after removed to Upper Allen where she was educated. Her marriage was with the exception of brief intervals, until her marriage to Rev. J. M. Young. She was a graduate of Monticello Seminary in the class of 1855. From her youth she was remarkable for her scholarly abilities. She was gifted with remarkable talents as a writer and had won an enviable position in the literary world. She was a widow a brilliant and facile pen, and whatever her topic, whether grave or gay, profound or descriptive, she was equally able to entertain and instruct. Her many letters to the Telegraph, mainly scenes of travel, were always gratefully admired for their vivid description, elegant diction and satirical humor. She exhibited only one phase of her versatile talent as a writer. Her papers on social and literary subjects, her editorials, her reports, her addresses, her sermons, and her rights as a woman, were distinguished in skillful presentation of facts and logical argument by those of any writer on similar themes.

As the devoted daughter, the faithful wife and mother her character exhibited the most beautiful aspects of Christian womanhood. Her death is a sad and terrible ministering angel to all about her; self sacrifice and singleness of purpose in laboring for others making up her daily life. To what extent her charitable services were displayed can only be appreciated by those upon whom fell the steady sunlight of her tender care and affection. And these same qualities she carried into her life work as a minister's wife, winning the love and affection of her husband, and the respect and admiration of her grace and scholastic accomplishment raising to a higher plane the social and moral life of the communities with which she bore connection.

Nearly ten weeks ago, at her home in Windsor, she was stricken with her last illness. About eight weeks later she was removed to her old home at Upper Allen, where she was attended by her last illness. About eight weeks later she was removed to her old home at Upper Allen, where she was attended by her last illness.

Mr. J. M. Young, the husband of the deceased lady, is a son of Edward Young, Esq., of this town.—Ed. Mon.

A man in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, has just ended a lawsuit of six years duration. The plaintiff, a reasonably good one, but the defendant complain that they are getting "nothing" for their fish—a not unusual contingency in seasons when there has been plentiful take. We earnestly hope that there may be some brighter outlook ahead, not only for our friends in the fishing district, but for our friends everywhere.—Yarmouth Tribune.

For the national census to be taken next April, the census districts will be nearly as possible the electoral divisions and the population of each district will be ascertained by a house-to-house visitation. The following information is to be gleaned by the census takers:—The number of persons in each district, classified as regards sex, age, social condition, religion, education, race and occupation. In buildings, public and private, classified into dwellings, shops, uninhabited buildings, inhabited buildings, churches, schools, etc. In the land, the quantity of land, the quantity of land under cultivation, the quantity of land in pasture, the quantity of land in woods, the quantity of land in meadows, the quantity of land in other uses, the quantity of land in other uses, the quantity of land in other uses.
