Paris, Nov. 7.—With ever-increasing and on all the rest of the front which the French are fighting over, according to the war office announcement tonight. An advance of ten miles has been made at certain points since yesterday.

The statement reads:
"Out troops continued without cessation their pursuit of the enemy dur-

Vervins and Avesnes, north of La Chapelle. South of this locality we reached on the west the railway be-

"Further east we are along the Thon River, an affluent of the Oise, as far as Leuze, 15 kilometres north of Rozy-sur-Serre.
"On the Aisne front we hold the general line of the southern outskirts of the Signy Forest, Wagnon, Viel-St.
Geny, Muzery and La Horne, reassuring an advance of more than 16 kilometres beyond the Aisne.

"On the right in the valley of the have gone beyond St. Aignan-sur-Bar, gaining a footing south of the Meuse on the heights which dominate Sedan.

"We have freed during the course of the day one hundred villages and a great number of civilians.

Pilgrims. His New York bells were ringing and whistles blowing to celebrate the surrender of Austria-Hungary, but England, whose soldiers had de-over the Prussian terror in France, remained silent in the hour of her

London, Nov. 8, 12.45 a.m.—Virtually all the German fleet has revolted, according to a despatch received from The Hague. The men are complete masters at Kiel, Wilhelmshaven, Heligoland, Borkum and Cuxhaven. At Kiel the workers have joined the navy men and declared a general strike, says the despatch.

The Hague, Nov. 7.—Scant food, bad treatment by their officers and exas-peration caused by the collapse of Austria culminated in a movement of revolt in the German navy. The revolt broke out at Kiel Nov. 3. Sailors ashore, aided by workmen, seized the fort and arsenal. The movement spread rapidly to the crews of warships in the roadstead.

On the 4th the labor unions proclaimed a general strike. On the 5th the revolt reached Wilhelmshaven, Heligoland, Borkum and Cuxhaven.
Almost the entire fleet is now in revolt.

The mutineers have seized the wireless and are communicating with each other. Their officers are powerless. A few units remain loyal. The submarine crews at sea are ignorant of the armistice proposal, this news having been hidden from them.

London, Nov. 7.—The greater part of the submarine crews in the German naval harbors have joined the revolution, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen.

REPUBLICANS OBTAIN
CONTROL OF CONGRESS

Senatorial Contests in Michigan and Idaho Still Remain in Doubt.

Washington, Nov. 7.—With the Michigan and Idaho senatorial contests still in doubt, late returns from Tuesday's elections tonight gave the republicans a total of 48 senators—just half the membership and lacking one vote necessary to ensure control—and 46 to the Democrats.

In Michigan the Republican candidate, Truman H. Newberry, was reported to have increased his lead to about 8500 votes over Henry Ford, with 59 precincts records missing. In Idaho the Democratic candidate, Senator Nugent, was credited with an increased lead of about 600 over former Governor Gooding, the Republican candidate.

Republican control of the house is now beyond all question. With only one district missing—the second Montana, the returns tonight show: Republicans, 238; Democrats, 195, including 1 independent; Socialist, 17.

Imperial General Headquarters Makes Wireless Request to Foch to Admit Armistice Delegation --- Firing Ceases as Plenipotentiaries Move Towards Chimay-Guise Road.

Paris, Nov. 7.—It was officially announced late tonight that the German armistice delegates should pass the French outposts between eight and ten o'clock tonight, Paris time.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Just before midnight the American Government was informed by cable from Paris that the German armistice envoys had approached the French lines and were due to arrive for their meeting with Marshal Foch between 8 and 10 o'clock tonight, Paris time.

The statement was authorized at the state department that no information had been received of the signing of armistice terms, or even of the actual arrival of the Germans within the French lines.

Paris, Nov. 7.—German grand headquarters requested allied grand headquarters by wireless to permit the passage of the German delegation for armistice negotiations thru the lines. The order was given to cease firing on this front at three o'clock in the afternoon until further orders.
The German wireless message asking for an appointment to meet Marshal Foch, says:

"The German Government would congratulate itself in the interests of humanity if the arrival of the German delegation on the allies' front might bring about a provisional suspension of hostilities."

The message announced that the German plenipotentiaries would arrive at the French outposts on the Chimay-Guise road on Thursday, between eight and ten o'clock in the evening.

The mission is headed by Matthias Erzberger, secretary of state, and head of the war press department, and includes General H. K. A. von Winterfeldt, former military attache at Paris; Count Alfred von Oberndorff, former minister at Sofia; General von Gruenell, and Naval Captain von Salow.

The documents published tonight follow:
"There was received on Nov. 7 at 12.30 a.m., the following from the German high command by order of the German Government to Marshal Foch:

"The German Government, having been informed thru the president of the United States, that Marshal Foch had received powers to receive accredited representatives of the German Government and communicate to them conditions of an armistice, the following plenipotentiaries have been named by it:

"Matthias Erzberger, General H. K. A. Winterfeldt, Count Alfred von Oberndorff, General von Gruenell and Navy Captain von Salow.

"The plenipotentiaries request that they be informed by wireless of the place where they can meet Marshal Foch. They will proceed by automobile with subordinates of the staff to the place thus appointed,
"Orders were given to cease fire on the front at 3 o'clock p.m., until further orders.

"On Nov. 7 at 1.25 a.m., Marshal Foch sent the following to the German command:

"If the German plenipotentiaries desire to meet Marshal Foch and ask him for an armistice they will present themselves to the French outposts by the Chimay-Fourmies-La Chapelle-Guise road. Orders have been given to receive them and conduct them to the spot fixed for the meeting."

"The following wireless despatch in German was received at 1.50 p.m.:
"German general headquarters to the allied general headquarters:
The supreme German command to Marshal Foch: From the German outposts to the French outposts, our delegation will be accompanied by a road-mending company to enable automobiles to pass the La Chapelle road, which has been destroyed."

"The following wireless in German was received at 6 p.m.:
"The German supreme command to Marshal Foch: By reason of delay the German delegation will not be able to cross the outpost line until between 8 and 10 o'clock tonight at Haudroy, 2 kilometres northwest (northeast?) of La Chapelle."

"A German wireless despatch received Nov. 7 at 1 p.m., said:
"German general headquarters to the allies' general headquarters:
The German commander-in-chief to Marshal Foch: The German plenipotentiaries for an armistice leave Spa today. They will leave here at noon and reach, at five o'clock this afternoon, the French outposts by the Chimay-Fourmies-La Chapelle-Guise road. There will be ten persons in all, headed by Secretary of State Erzberger."

Washington Nov. 7.—Late tonight George Creel, chairman of the committee on public information, issued the following statement as the result of widely circulated reports that the cable censorship was holding up despatches which might confirm the false announcement cabled today that an armistice had been signed:
"Any such report is absolutely untrue. No despatch bearing upon any phase of the armistice negotiations is being stopped, or even halted, in the New York office. The channel is wide open."

TORONTO CRAZY W BUT RUMOR WAS TRUE

False Report That War Had Ended Led to Biggest Celebration and Excitement Since Close of South African War.

Toronto went crazy yesterday following the receipt of an unconfirmed report that Germany had signed armistice terms and that fighting had ceased at 2 o'clock.

Factories closed down, stores turned their customers out and locked their doors, employees from everywhere flocked down town.

Within an hour after the first word was broadcast, street car traffic was hopelessly disorganized and completely blocked on Yonge, King and Queen streets and the connecting thoroughfares.

Motor cars were jammed with men, women and children as they tried to wend their way thru the crowds and finally all vehicular traffic was shifted to the side streets, leaving Yonge, King, Queen, Bay and others clear for pedestrians.

Streets Blocked. Thousands upon thousands of people blocked the corner of King and Yonge, more than a million believing the news to be correct.

Police May Act. Specific instructions were issued by the chief of police regarding the handling of the crowds.

The Overcoat Shop. There's every quality in the cloth and making to commend these London tailored Overcoats.

The class there is to these London-tailored top coats for men puts them "out of bounds" with any critic of high-class tailoring.

The splendid quality British wools—English, Irish and Scotch—leaves no room for question of the quality.

And these London tailor folk see to it that the workmanship upholds all the hereditary traditions for goodness.

to prevent any damage. Police authorities stated last night that never in history has there been such a quiet celebration from their standpoint.

The restaurants in the downtown section were like every other concern absolutely unable to carry on for the time being.

Lots of Flags. The industrial plants disgorged employees from every door at the continued sound of the noise.

Earls Court went mad with joy at the first sound of the downtown whistles. Doors opened as if by magic.

Riverside Join Crowds. Riverside G.W.V.A. was among the many organizations which joined in the parade during the night.

ing the celebration yesterday, but, in spite of the greasy pavements and innumerable motor cars, there was only one motor accident reported.

When he lost his balance while riding on the roof of a street car on Yonge street, Howard, 635 Brunswick avenue, fell to the ground and escaped with a sprained ankle.

Reports from other cities and towns in the province showed few or no exceptions, including Brantford and Ottawa, the false report of the signing of an armistice by Germany was greeted with enthusiastic celebrations.

Intense excitement prevailed through the eastern district when the news spread that the armistice was signed.

Altho practically all the factories in Toronto stopped work at one o'clock yesterday afternoon when peace rumors were circulated.

MILITARY MEDICAL COUNCIL IS CONDEMNED BY THE JURY

The Verdict. We find that Cadet Davidson, R.A.F., came to his death at the Base Hospital on Oct. 13, from the effects of influenza, complicated by pneumonia. We also find, and strongly condemn, the military medical council of Ottawa for not providing better hospital accommodation for soldiers after four years' duration of war.

After Four Years of War Should Have Had Better Hospital Accommodation in Largest District in Canada, Says Verdict on Death of Cadet Davidson.

That after four years of war the military medical council of Ottawa should have had better accommodation for soldiers and that that body was to be severely blamed for not having provided suitable quarters in the largest military district in Canada, was the verdict last night of the jury at the inquest into the circumstances surrounding the death of Cadet Davidson, R.A.F., at the base hospital.

In his charge to the jury, Coroner MacCallum referred to the fact that both civilian and military medical men had been overwhelmed by the suddenness of the epidemic of Spanish influenza, and said there was no doubt as to the attention received by the patients, but that the kernel of the whole situation was the question of the value of the hospital.

The jury members were William Parot, foreman, and George Emilio, Frank Armstrong, Dave Mulheer, Robert Marshall, William Moore, Thomas White, William Gibbs and Duncan McLean.

DRIPING RECEPTION FOR PREMIER ORLANDO

Dresden and Leipzig will be immediately exposed to aerial attack and Berlin is no great distance away from the frontier.
There is no disposition to attempt anticipating the intentions of Marshal Foch, who has been appointed generalissimo for the purpose of co-ordinating an allied attack on Germany on the new southern front to be created before the spring of 1919, but it may be pointed out that he will have at his disposal not merely the Italian army of 3,000,000 men, but the British and French forces in Italy, the French, British and Serbian forces in Serbia and Macedonia, and the British forces released from Palestine and Mesopotamia. A high military authority points out various alternative routes by which an attack might be directed.

STEADY ON---CANADA

That day is at hand. Behind Canada lies fifty months of blood and anguish, fifty months of the fires of trial and of sacrifice--of glorious, triumphant battling against the hosts of evil.

And in the surging joy will come to us the sobering sense of duty yet to be performed.

Canada's part in the finish of the war must be as well done as was her part in fighting and winning it.

Canada's great duty to her living and her dead must be met with the same manliness, seriousness and determination which won for her the respect and admiration of the world in waging the war.

Canada's Victory Loan, 1918, must be over-subscribed--that Canada may discharge in peace the great responsibilities which the war thrust upon her willing shoulder.

Canadians, let us with devoutly thankful hearts and proud consciousness of duty well done, proceed with our great task---

ROBERTSON TAKES LABOR PORTFOLIO

Crothers Hands Resignation on Premier Borden on Ground of Ill-Health.

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—It was officially announced today that Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, who is now en route for California, has handed his resignation to Sir Robert Borden and that it has been accepted. Hon. Gideon Robertson, who has represented labor in the cabinet for some time past, in addition to acting as chairman of the Canada Registration Board, has been appointed minister in succession to Mr. Crothers and was sworn in at noon today. Mr. Crothers resigned on the grounds of ill-health.

Senator Robertson, the new minister, has been closely in touch with the work of the labor department since entering the government a year ago, and has been largely instrumental in promoting industrial peace throughout the Dominion during the war.

He was the promoter in Canada of the adoption by Canadian railways of the McCaude award and its amendments. Senator Robertson will be the second minister with a portfolio holding a seat in the senate, the other being Sir James Loughheed, who heads the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment.

Two other appointments have been made: Col. Hugh Clark, M.P., parliamentary under-secretary for external affairs, becoming parliamentary under-secretary for the department of militia and defence, P. R. Keefe, M.P. (Fort Arthur and Kenora), has been appointed parliamentary under-secretary for external affairs.

The position of parliamentary under-secretary for the department of militia and defence has been vacant since the appointment of E. B. McCurdy, M.P., as parliamentary secretary of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment.

The appointment of P. R. Keefe, M.P., as parliamentary under-secretary for external affairs is expected to foreshadow forward developments in regard to power development. As counsel, Mr. Keefe represented the Dominion Government in recent proceedings before the international waterways commission. He has made a long study of international power questions.

E. B. McCurdy, M.P., has resigned as parliamentary under-secretary for soldiers' civil re-establishment. A successor has not yet been appointed.

WEST PART OF SEDAN TAKEN BY AMERICANS
Large Masses of Germans Concentrated in Eastern Part to Give Battle.

With the American Army on the Sedan front, Nov. 7.—The matter of peace negotiations failed to slow down in the slightest degree the operations along the front today. The news that Germany has taken definite steps to secure an armistice reached advanced headquarters, but was not accompanied by any orders affecting the big drive now in progress, and it is expected that the American line will be carried forward to a new position.

With that part of Sedan resting on the western bank of the river occupied, the American army is consolidating its positions and preparing for a further advance. Wilson's, Sivy and Haraumont, to the south and east of Dun-sur-Meuse, were among the places taken this morning. The American troops are in close touch with the line between Bour and Martincourt, where the roadhead has been destroyed, the material having been carried away to strengthen the German positions on the heights beyond. The news that this Remilly was captured.

It is evident that the Germans are not to yield Sedan absolutely, but forced to do so. They have made big concentrations on the heights back of the city and in such places as can be defended both above and below on the river. Concrete entrenchments near the city are strong, while all the woods and bridges in the neighborhood have either been destroyed or mined.

German general headquarters notified allied general headquarters last night that a delegation was on the way to receive the terms of armistice. The issue of peace or further war will therefore shortly be decided. Sir Robert Borden and other ministers will have Canada send for England to discuss peace terms, so the inference is that the allied governments have reason to believe that Germany will surrender. Germany can do better by accepting the allied terms at the present time than by protracting the war to certain destruction and the only sensible course for her is to yield.

It may be argued that the conduct of Germany in beginning and waging the war until the present hour shows lack of good sense, but defect is a great clarifier of the human mind. With Hamburg in revolt, the German fleet tied up by mines, and big demonstrations for peace in Berlin, the German home front appears to be collapsing.

On the French front the pursuit passed ten miles beyond the Aisne on the general line of St. Quentin, Wagner-Viel-St. Remy-Mazerny-la-Tourne. This is the line reached by the French center and the progress represents a gain of 10 miles since yesterday. On the right the French have advanced quickly down the Barr Valley, have passed beyond St. Amand-sur-Bar, and have gained a footing in the region south of the Veslère, the heights which dominate Sedan. On the left the French crossed and advanced beyond the Verdun-Avesnes road, north of La Chapelle, and south of La Chapelle they reached the general line of Effry and Origny. The other line also moved along

Associated Press Also Refutes Story Circulated by the United Press.

New York, Nov. 7.—False reports that Germany had accepted the terms of the armistice and that fighting had ended threw the country into a delirium today and turned out to be the greatest hoax of recent years.

Official assurances that the report was false failed to check the almost riotous demonstrations which swept over many American cities, and millions of Americans will not know how they were fooled until they have read the morning papers.

At 2.04 o'clock this afternoon a telegram, in reply that of the department, was received from Paris stating that the armistice had not yet been signed and that the German representatives would not meet Marshal Foch until 5 p.m. Paris time, or 12 noon Washington time."

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

The Rhine River, a tributary of the Oise and reaching about 120 miles north of Rozer-sur-Serre, the French appear to have made their advance with little fighting, for the Germans were in too much concern about the British menace to the Huns, that they were reluctant to risk a strong rear-guard resistance. In view of the enforced swiftness of the German flight, they have certainly found their retreat disastrous in guns and war material.

On the French front the Americans continued their progress down both banks of the Meuse. The occupation of the western part of Sedan means the cutting of one of the three German lines of communication with Germany, so that the enemy has only two gaps left for his withdrawal to the Rhine. The Americans, besides, at Sedan, are too close to the communications thru Luxembourg for German safety. The Germans are preparing to give battle on the eastern part of Sedan and have made big concentrations of troops on the heights.

Britain and France declare their Turkish policy to be the liberation of the oppressed and the institution of popular governments. Both powers will jointly be guardians of the new states. They will not force on the various peoples any particular institutions, but will allow them to develop in perfect freedom their own institutions and governments. As these new administrations must creep before them, the two allies will guide them in perfect freedom, but that the two allied governments will pay in Turkey the part of Britain in Egypt.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peppermint, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drug and various other remedies, and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic, try just the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, or heavy, lumpy, effervescent, practically any drugist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water over your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach, which now converts food to ferment and sour, making your food, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated, heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or indigestion. The action of Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOV. 8.

Yesterday's Celebration.

Toronto was undoubtedly premature in her celebration of Germany's submission yesterday, but a few hours more do not greatly matter. The intention was good and the fact of Germany's defeat was not anticipated, for that is now patent. Germany admits defeat in a spectacular way which no living German can ever forget. Four representatives of the German Government, bearing white flags, approached the French lines and asked to see Marshal Foch so that they might ask for terms.

In that episode, which no doubt the cinematograph has recorded for future generations to see, France had her revenge for many diplomatic indignities, and not a ignoble one. Greater questions remain to be settled and in good time we shall hear the solution.

Whatever may take place in connection with the formalities of surrender, the actual fact of defeat is abundantly demonstrated. The occupation of Sedan by American forces yesterday marked another stage in the defeat of the German forces. If the terms of the armistice are not accepted immediately by the German Government, the German armies now in the field are likely to meet with such a crushing disaster as befel the Austrian armies last week. It is believed that the terms imposed by the entente alliance will be accepted, however, just as quickly as the necessary formalities can be compiled with.

After all, it was a beautiful day, yesterday, for a celebration. The soft, mild air, like May, and the slight shower that fell in the early afternoon, like joyful tears, were a more pleasant setting for a jubilant crowd than could have been expected ordinarily in November. The tremendous tension under which our people have worked was indicated by the readiness with which they laid aside all usual obligations yesterday and joined in the spontaneous celebration. Deep thankfulness lay underneath the crude demonstrations of delight, and the cause for thankfulness is very real and not to be denied.

Revolt and Defeat.

Those who have disbelieved in the possibility of revolution in Germany scarcely relied sufficiently on the inherent love of liberty which characterizes even the lowest types of humanity. As long as the German people were hoodwinked by their leaders, persuaded that they were fighting for their homes and their freedom, convinced that they had been attacked and made victims of a plot, the Kaiser was able to mold them like wax and send them to slaughter. But as soon as the tradition of inviolability was shattered, as soon as the withdrawal of Bulgaria, of Turkey, of Austria from the fray proved that the cause of Mitteleuropa was lost, as soon as the publication of President Wilson's terms was permitted among the German people, and they learned that all we sought was justice, and that the author of all the evil was the Kaiser and his accursed system, then the spirit of revolt stirred anew even in Germany.

We shall make a mistake if we do not recognize that the hope of a progressive and peaceful Europe lies in the principle which must inspire such a revolt. It is at the worst a selfish insurrection against intolerable suffering, but at the best it is a recurrence of the age-long struggle of humanity against tyranny. In either case we cannot refuse it some sympathy.

But our sympathy must not mislead us from justice. Those who perpetrated the foul and shameless deeds that will make Germany a horror forever in the villages and farms, the towns and cities of France and Belgium, of Serbia and Poland, of Rumania and Armenia, must give an account for their iniquities.

The German people have consented to all the crimes of the war, crimes by hand, by sea and by air. These things were done for four years and no German voice was raised in rebuke, or if there was it was drowned in the clamor of frightfulness and hatred. So we must be just. The troops of France, of Britain, of the United States and of Belgium are on the eve of a great triumph in the field. Whether the signing of an armistice interferes with the consummation of that triumph or not, no military authority of the future but will know that Germany met with utter defeat in 1918. This knowledge, too, lies behind the clamor of revolt. The German nation knows itself beaten, and has no wish to prolong the agonizing torture longer. The details of the revolt are necessarily severe, but the main point is that the revolutionists demand an immediate peace. They are anxious to regain their sanity, and to return to the world of men.

The U. S. Elections.

Later returns increase the Republican majority in the next house of representatives. The Republicans will control the house in which all money bills must originate and will therefore be able to at least initiate all fiscal legislation. The senate will be almost a tie and the presidential veto can prevent any tariff increases, but the country is at least secure from any further tariff reductions.

The Democrats suffered most in the last campaign from that clause about "economic barriers" in Mr. Wilson's fourteen points that seemed to squint in the direction of free trade. The Republicans made much of this and to some extent were successful in forcing the tariff issue into prominence as an issue in the election. The popular verdict was not against President Wilson or his war policy, but against the Democratic party and its tendency toward free trade.

The Americans are already busy with their program of reconstruction, and with their aggressive campaign for foreign trade. They distrust doctrines like Kitchin of North Carolina and Champ Clark of Missouri, and all the more so as these Democratic leaders in the present congress gave only a half-hearted support to many measures of the administration. They fear the continued predominance of the educational law, but develops little aptitude for big business or business administration.

The business men of the country are mainly to be found in the Republican party. That party when in power was too tender with the big interests and too much dominated by the stand-patters. Hence the revolt of the western farmers, who joined with the southern planters in 1912 and 1916 to return the Democratic party to power. After six years in the cold shades of opposition the Republican party has learned much. Evidently the people feel that it can better deal with the big problems of reconstruction than the Democratic party. We in Canada are only interested in so far as it indicates that our American friends are looking ahead and that they intend the moment the war is over to get into the world race for business and still more business. We may profit by their example.

IDA AND THE PEACE RUMOR

BY IDA L. WEBSTER.

Yesterday was the day for mothers, fathers, wives and sweethearts of the boys "over there," but then it was only their day for such a little while that one cannot help wondering if it would have been much better not to have held out the hope to them in the first place.

When the word went forth that at last, after nearly five years, peace was once more going to hold the earth in its grip the citizens of Toronto went wild. Business houses closed, also department stores, in fact, even the most necessary of all places, the eating emporiums, refused to cater to the hungry until such time as it was proven beyond all shadow of doubt that the news was merely a rumor.

As for the city hall and its worthy officials, they were like a mob of school boys on a picnic. Everyone, from the mayor down to (if you will) the lowest official, forgot that there was such a word as "work" in their lives, and gave themselves over absolutely to the business of celebrating the end of the war.

For instance, Mr. Chisholm, the property commissioner, stood in the James street entrance to the city hall and he was in enough flags to make him a union suit, and then every few moments he would break forth with a cheer which could be heard by the passengers on the Bloor street viaduct.

Controller McBride was sadly misled from his usual haunts, but unfortunately he has not sufficiently realized there is every reason to hope and believe that he will be spoken of again in a few days. When spoken of again, the telephone, he said: "Just tell everyone that Sam McBride is an idiot, and I can only say that the end cannot come too soon nor the Germans cannot be licked too hard."

His worship the mayor did the disappearing act shortly after the rumor was made public, and he did not reappear, at least not while we were hanging around. But then Thomas is one of those fellows who can go into a place with the least ado in the world and also he can get out of one in exactly the same manner.

Commissioner Harris was too happy for words, and he just contented himself with shaking hands all around and saying: "Isn't it wonderful for the mothers of the boys?" This coming from him means more than a two-hour speech from many other people. Certainly each time that we have the pleasure of meeting the gentlemen we are impressed with his genuineness.

Street Commissioner Harris has been predicting the termination of the war for some time, so that it was just brought to pass. He, however, had the good grace to forego the pleasing of saying "I told you so," and contented himself with being just as spontaneous as the rest of the gang.

And in the meantime do not refuse to buy a Victory bond, just because we are at the end of the greatest struggle which the world has known, or rather the new world, but keep remembering that the more money the country has on hand the sooner your boy will be back to you, and now we German blood is the cursed of the world, so let your Canadian blood come to the surface in the purchasing of another bond.

Mrs. Clayborne Arrives—Ruth and Brian Meet Her.

CHAPTER LXXXIII.

The next day Ruth was visibly happy and excited.

"Something's happened; that fool husband of hers has been promising something, or doing something to make her happy." Arthur Mandel said to himself.

"Mr. Mandel, I am going to ask a favor," Ruth said during a lull in the morning's business.

"It is granted," he smiled at her.

"Wait until you know what it is," she returned. Her voice carried a joyous lilt. "I want to remain at home all day Saturday, please, unless you need me for something important."

"No, indeed! But may I ask what it is that is going to happen on Saturday? You look so happy. No one has let you in for such a little while, so making you leave me altogether?"

"Oh, no! My aunt, Mrs. Clayborne, who mothered me always, is coming." Then, impelled by the interest in his eyes fixed upon her, she added: "You know she wouldn't come because I displeased her by taking a position. She is a little old-fashioned, her ideas of what is proper for a woman to do! And while she has written me regularly, she has refused to visit me because of my work."

"No wonder you want Saturday. Don't you want Monday, as well?"

"No, thank you. She may as well get accustomed to the idea of having a working woman for a niece. But I thought it would be rather lonely if I left her tomorrow, as she does not get in until seven o'clock tonight."

"How would this do for a quick-conceived plan? You work only one morning while she is here. Then you can lunch and shop and matinee together."

"That would be lovely! But—do you think you can spare me? She said in her letter she would only remain a few days."

"Didn't I propose it?" He was pleased that he could give her so much pleasure as he evidently had by his thoughtful arrangement.

"I am going to ask something more." "Very well. It is also granted."

"If Aunt Louise will—she may refuse—may I bring her to the shop, some day, and let her see that my work isn't—degrading?" She had paused for a word, and they both smiled when she found one.

"I shall be delighted! And if she doesn't quite disapprove of the place, everyone will be prejudiced against the proprietress, perhaps you will allow me the pleasure of showing my respect by taking you both to lunch."

"That is being altogether too kind," Ruth objected, but her eyes shone. It would be delightful for her aunt to be entertained even for one meal by a man who knew so well how to do things.

"It will be kind to me," he returned. "But we must not think too much about it! Your aunt may refuse to have anything to do with me or mine," he indicated the shop.

"She would not if she knew you."

The words were spoken without thought, and Ruth blushed violently as she realized that perhaps Mandel would think they meant more than she had intended. But with his usual sang froid he bowed and replied: "I hope she will be persuaded."

Ruth was delighted with the plan he had outlined for her. Her aunt never had been an early riser. Rachel would take her breakfast to her room long after she and Brian had left the house. Then her aunt would slowly dress—as she was her custom—and amuse herself by reading or taking a short walk until luncheon time. Then, too, she would have Rachel with her, and the question, she really had no fear she would tell anything that would hurt her.

Dinner was postponed that night until seven-thirty. Brian came home at the usual time and "littivated up," as he called it.

"When a man's wife's relatives visit him, it's up to him to put his best foot forward," he laughingly remarked as he commenced to shave.

"You're a dear to think of it!" Ruth replied.

Just then the bell rang and some flowers were delivered to Rachel.

"Oh, Brian! How thoughtful!" Ruth exclaimed, delighted. She had opened the box and then ran to kiss him.

"Be careful there!" he grumbled. "You'll make me out myself."

The little apartment had quite a festive air as they left for the train. The very best linen and dishes had been used to make the table attractive; and the deep crimson dahlias gave just the touch the dining-room always needed—always "responded to," as Ruth expressed it.

The train was on time, and Mrs. Clayborne was pleased to be very loving toward Ruth; very gracious to Brian. Ruth consequently bubbled over with enthusiasm.

"Here we are!" she said to her aunt as the cab stopped at their door. "I do hope you will love my home."

WAR RELICS.

Editor World: On Saturday evening I paid a visit to the armories to view the war trophies captured by the Canadian forces, and was surprised to see by the catalog that the captures of the 3rd Battalion were credited to the Queen's Own Rifles.

As a member of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, and one who went over with this battalion, I think this is somewhat unfair.

The 3rd Battalion was not by any means a Q.O.R. battalion, but was made up of Grenadiers, Q.O.R. and G.G.B. Guards. In fact, we were made up from our tunics the badges of our home battalions and were distinctly given to understand that we were only to be known as the 3rd Battalion (Toronto Regiment), and it was as such we went to France.

I would also state that before going to France we had quite a large draft from the 9th Battalion, so as to bring the 3rd Battalion up to strength and replace those who could not qualify for France.

I think, therefore, the officials in charge of the exhibition of these trophies should give credit to whom credit is due.

A Line of Cheer
Each Day of the Year
 By John Kendrick Bangs.

MY SOLDIER BOY.
 My boy across the sea
 Seems very far from me,
 And yet, despite the wide,
 So measureless wide,
 In soul and mind and heart,
 We're not so far apart.
 For I'm with him always
 In spirit, night and day,
 And well I know that he Still lingers here with me,
 And in our dreams we meet
 In a communion sweet.

TO REGULATE PRICES OF ALL FOODSTUFFS. A recommendation was passed by the board of control yesterday in connection with the regulation of prices charged for foodstuffs in Toronto.

That the police commissioners be requested to further regulate restaurants and license holders with regard to their rates and notify those whose rates are exorbitant to appear before the board, giving their reasons why their license should not be cancelled and require each applicant for a renewal to file a list of prices, as no renewal for a license should be granted if the rates are proved unreasonable.

That the attention of the food controller and attorney-general of the Dominion and province be called to the excessive prices being charged in Toronto, and that they be requested to investigate any combines and restraints of trade.

That Sir Robert Borden and the federal government be requested to appoint federal officers in the various centres of population in Canada to fix prices on similar lines to the legislation in other countries, under the War Measures Act.

With but two to hear from, the council members of the D.F.A. have expressed themselves in entire accord with President Campbell's motion to the Federation International, that Germany be kept outside the association for five years, and can therefore be considered as passed. The only objection offered by D.F.A. people is that five years is not sufficient. Secretary Spencer will now forward the motion to Amsterdam, to be acted upon as thought fit by the supreme council.

REVISED SCHEDULE FOR MULOCK CUP

Teams Get Back to Work on Monday - Saturday's Big Card.

The Mulock Cup series of the University of Toronto will start, on Monday, after a long lay-off due to the "flu" epidemic.

Senior Meds have dropped out, but two groups are still intact, and a double schedule will be played.

Group No. 1 is composed of S.P.S., St. Michaels and Junior Meds. In Group No. 2 are found O.T.C., University College and Dentists.

The revised schedule is:

Nov. 11—S.P.S. v. Junior Meds.
Nov. 12—O.T.C. v. University College.
Nov. 13—S.P.S. v. St. Michaels.
Nov. 14—O.T.C. v. Dentists.
Nov. 15—Junior Meds v. St. Michaels.
Nov. 16—S.P.S. v. University College.
Nov. 17—O.T.C. v. St. Michaels.
Nov. 18—S.P.S. v. University College.
Nov. 19—O.T.C. v. University College.
Nov. 20—S.P.S. v. University College.
Nov. 21—Dentists v. O.T.C.
Nov. 22—Junior Meds v. St. Michaels.
Nov. 23—Dentists v. University College.

It has been definitely decided that there will be no O.R.F.U. senior patriotic game at Scarborough Beach on Saturday. The O.R.F.U. and the club officials decided that they would postpone the game between Beaches and Dentists, in order not to conflict with the big patriotic game atVarsity Stadium between C.O.T.C. and Royal Air Force. As both games were for patriotic purposes, it was felt that it would not be right to have them clash. This will mean that all the Rugby fans will, and should, turn out at Varsity Stadium and help swell the fund for the S.P.A. Christmas tree. There will be a double bill to attract the fans. At one o'clock University Schools and Hamilton Collegiate meet in an O. R. F. U. Junior game. The exhibition game will start at three o'clock.

The Central Y.M.C.A. Rugby team will hold a signal practice on Saturday, at the gymnasium floor tonight at 7 o'clock. All players are expected out in gym shoes.

The Excelsior rugby team will practice on Trinity College campus at 2 o'clock sharp on Saturday afternoon. All players are requested to be out on time and in uniform.

Babe Dya will play centre half for Central "Y" against Beaches on Saturday.

LOOK AHEAD

Imagine, if you can, what your situation will be in five, ten, fifteen years, and then study the possibilities for your country

As to your own future condition there may be some doubt, especially if you have not yet joined the ranks of the country's sagacious and patriotic army of Victory Bond holders---if you have not yet absorbed the gospel of wise investment. But as to Canada----can there be any doubt?

Do you know what will happen in this country when peace returns? Everyone will leap back into his work and set the wheels of genuine progress spinning more rapidly than ever before.

Industry will hum; farms will thrive; mines will boom; labor will strive; commerce will wax to greater proportions than ever before.

A few years from now 9,000,000 human beings will be working harder than ever before to earn the interest on Victory Bonds.

The bond you buy now has great possibilities before it.

The essence of business acumen is to buy something that will be worth more to you in the future---and worth more to the rest of the world so you can take your profit.

Opportunity is here. Buy Victory Bonds. Keep them for the great and cumulative gains of the future
