WIDOW ATTENDS FUNERAL UNDER A POLICE GUARD

Italian Arrested For Attempting to Steal—Unusual Sermons Preached From City Pulpits.

HAMILTON, Feb. 6.—(Special.)—The funeral of Alfred Noville took place Saturday afternoon. His widow, who is under arrest on a charge of aggravated assault, and who will be held until after the inquest Monday night, was allowed to attend in charge of detectives.

John Crow, Italian, one of the principal crown witnesses in the recent "black hand" case, was arrested Saturday night on a charge of attempting to stab William Fickley. The encounter took place near King William and John-streets. It is alleged that the Italian made a lunge at Fickley with the knife, but Fickley was able to ward off the blow, although his coat was cut over the heart. Constable Line made the arrest.

H. Edgar Allen, pastor of the Victoria-avenue Baptist Church, preached this evening on "Why I am a Protestant," declaring that the confessional, in which a priest came between a man and God, was blasphemous.

The new Baptist Church, The Hughson-street Baptists opened their new church to-day. Rev. Dr. Brown, Toronto, and Rev. Jas. Grant, Dundas, were the preachers.

Martin and Martin have filed the statement of claim in the suit started by the hydro-power commission to compel the Andrew Gorman, proprietor of the Franklin Hotel, to make a business agreement to allow the commission to erect towers on his land, and also for $300 damages, for alleged breach of the contract.

There were 210 new cases of measles reported last week, but Dr. Roberts, the medical health officer, does not deem it advisable to close the schools.

One of the police commissioners has been finding fault because Inspector Nicholson and Detective Blackley testified in favor of the jockey club before the committee on the Miller Act, but chief Smith says they were served with subpoenas and were forced to attend.

A Pastor and the Press. Rev. E. H. Tippett, pastor of the First Congregational Church, preached on "The Altitude of the Church," under the title "The Church." He said that there were papers sold on the streets of Hamilton, which were run by men actuated by the greed of gain. In order to secure a pure press, the church should publish its own papers, and not publish pernicious news, and advertisements.

The remains of the late Alex McLennan, Toronto, will be brought here for burial. The funeral will take place from the T. H. & B. station at 2.30 on Monday.

WOULDN'T BELIEVE WARRINGER And Jury in Ford Blackmail Case Fail to Agree.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Jeannette Stewart Ford, charged with blackmailing Charles W. Warringer, after being out 24 hours, failed to reach a verdict and was discharged by Judge S. Wing to-day. Eight jurors stood for acquittal and four for conviction.

The eight asserted that a man who had confessed to an embezzlement for 25 years would not hesitate to perjure himself against the woman who he believed had been the cause of his exposure.

CACTUS AS CHEAP FOOD Burbank's Creation May Help to Solve Cost of Living.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 6.—The demand for a cheap and satisfying substitute for meat gives Luther Burbank, the plant breeder, an opportunity to educate the public taste for spineless cactus. Burbank himself refers to his cactus fruit to peaches. It appears on his table variously boiled, in green, dried like a pickle, sliced in a salad or sweet pickled as dessert. Some months ago he gave a banquet at which nothing was served but spineless cactus.

Dr. D. N. Doud, president of the Thornless Cactus Farming Co., says it is a food stimulant, finding it rich in the salts needed to keep the human system in repair.

WOULD HELP THE CITY MAN GET "BACK TO THE LAND"

Governor of Washington State Proposes a Commission to Improve Rural Life.

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 2.—To relieve the congestion of the cities, make life attractive for the present residents of the rural districts and to increase the productivity of every acre of tillable land in America is the object of Governor M. E. Hay of Washington, in requesting President C. M. Fassett of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce to appoint a committee of educators, business and professional men to formulate a practical working plan for the country life movement inaugurated by former President Roosevelt.

In his letter to President Fassett, Governor Hay says: "I am firmly convinced that there are more dissatisfied people in the cities than in the country. It is not the adult population of the country which is lured to the city, but the younger generation attracted by the glare and glimmer of better remuneration, more leisure, less hardship and more social advantages. The city man in his wisdom, brain and body weary of the maelstrom of strenuous commercialism, looks longingly at the green fields, the rivers and the hills, and the fresh air, and the life of the country."

"It is my desire that you appoint a committee to formulate a practical working plan whereby these conditions will be so changed that the country life will be attractive alike to the tired city man and the younger generation. Farming must be made a business, and that business will soon become a pleasure. Every year the city demands its toll of humanity from the soil. In thousands of thousands and demands more. It is our plain duty to repay a part of that debt and to return to the country a large portion of the men who have been sacrificed upon the altar of greed."

When the committee makes its report, which is expected shortly, Governor Hay will appoint a chairman of a commission to start the work of a permanent organization which promises to be one of the most far-reaching and important movements in the history of America. Intensive farming makes conditions ideal in the inland empire for the successful establishment of Roosevelt's ideas.

Pastor Russell's Sermon

Federation Value—The Church Militant's Surrender to the Church Triumphant—Text: "Say Ye Not, A Federation, to All Them to Whom This People Shall Say, A Federation; Neither Fear Ye Their Fear, Nor Be Afraid." (Isaiah viii. 12).

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The fourth and final meeting for the consideration of doctrinal surrenders necessary to church federation was held to-day, Brooklyn's largest auditorium, the Academy of Music, being crowded. Pastor T. C. Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle delivered the address as follows:

Having viewed during the past three Sundays what the leading denominations would need to sacrifice in the interests of federation, we come to-day to the final discussion of the subject, the church militant and triumphant and her interest in the federation movement. Let us endeavor to take as our text, "Say ye not, a federation, to all them to whom this people shall say, a federation; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid." (Isaiah viii. 12).

The term church militant signifies the church in warfare, struggling with the powers of evil, while the church triumphant signifies the church victorious, gloriously joined with her Lord, the heavenly bridegroom. His bride and queen in the millennial kingdom soon to bless and uplift the world of mankind. I should further add that while in this discussion we have considered those who turning from Christendom and their creeds, we must to-day ignore all human systems and creeds. We must take the broad, general ground of the scriptures and recognize only one church.

Taking, therefore, the scriptural view of the church, we recognize it as the "Body of Christ" of many members, over which He is the head. It is composed of consecrated followers of Christ irrespective of all denominational lines—those who turning from sin, accept Jesus as their Redeemer, thru whom they have forgiveness of sins and reconciliation to the Father thru the Holy Spirit. The city man in his wisdom, brain and body weary of the maelstrom of strenuous commercialism, looks longingly at the green fields, the rivers and the hills, and the fresh air, and the life of the country.

It is my desire that you appoint a committee to formulate a practical working plan whereby these conditions will be so changed that the country life will be attractive alike to the tired city man and the younger generation. Farming must be made a business, and that business will soon become a pleasure. Every year the city demands its toll of humanity from the soil. In thousands of thousands and demands more. University Sermon

"I know a lot of men in my own profession, and in the scholastic world as well, who dip their hands into empty bags and make a show of presenting to the world a series of spiritual judgments. They are not men of prayer, and they are not men of power. They are men of words, and they are men of words."

Preaching from the text, "And He spake many things unto them in parables, saying, 'Behold, a sower went forth to sow.'"

"Many remembering past discussions on this text," said the speaker, "propose at once to classify themselves as one of the different species of soil enumerated in the parable. I myself, in the course of years, have been 'all light afflictions but for a moment' and not worthy to be compared with the glory that shall be revealed."

"The church in glory and in power will contain no hypocrites and no merely nominal Christians. It will be a church of the living and the dead, of the living and the dead, of the living and the dead."

All the soldiers of the cross, experienced without and within against the powers of sin and darkness and their own weaknesses, surely long for the time of their 'change' in the 'first resurrection.' His faithful followers, the antitypical underpriesthood—otherwise His "Bride," together these are styled a royal priesthood or a kingdom of priests. St. Paul tells us that the church is a temple, a holy temple, a temple of God, a temple of God, a temple of God.

But in the federation the moralists and higher critics will be dominant forces. The saintly will less than ever be in evidence and appreciated. The outward and apparent success of the federation will seem wonderful for a moment, but the results will be disastrous.

The saintly few, guided by God's word and holy spirit, will awaken to the true situation and become separated from the nominal mass. Their misguided hopes as respects the bringing about of a spiritual kingdom on earth will be shattered, and they will look to the Lord as the source of help and wait for His kingdom to come thru the Redeemer's advent and the resurrection 'change.'

PITTSBURG ORCHESTRA ON PERMANENT BASIS

Corporation of Citizens by Subscriptions Will Ensure $50,000 Income a Year.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 6.—After fifteen years of uncertain existence, the Pittsburgh orchestra, one of the few orchestras of the country, is to be placed on a permanent basis, with an annual income of about $50,000.

On May 4 the orchestra will pass from the control of the Art Society to that of the Corporation of Citizens, which it has been maintained, to a corporation of citizens, who, by subscription, will provide a permanent organization to secure the desired income. This fund is to be raised by a series of subscription membership, to which any one is eligible.

Contributing memberships are $500 a year, $2000 for a life membership, and $5000 makes one a founder. This plan is similar to that by which the endowment of the Chicago orchestra was accomplished.

Heretofore the Pittsburgh orchestra has been maintained by guarantors whose agreement had to be renewed every three years, and at the end of these periods there was always more or less of a struggle for financial maintenance. The orchestra now has 68 men, but it will be increased another season to 80 men. Emil Paul will probably be asked to retain his leadership.

SCENT SECOND CAMPAIGN Electioneering Has Already Been Resumed in Great Britain.

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 6.—The Unionist party has started electioneering already. Complaints of the indecency of the Conservative organization and suggestions for its 'family' appear daily. "All our party machinery needs to be set in motion again, at once," says the Saturday Review, adding "There is no time for rest."

The Liberals are also urged to prepare themselves for the fray again. The Gladstone League asks for funds for an immediate and extensive propaganda of radical views on the land question in the counties where they have been so disappointed. While the Chronicle is collecting a "fighting fund for free trade," to be devoted at once to a campaign of enlightenment.

Meanwhile the Times has opened 19 columns of suggestions for the reform of the house of lords, the one thing which all recognize must now be brought about.

PEOPLE'S SUNDAY SERVICE Large Audience Enjoyed Pictorial Sermon and Sacred Music.

Despite the arctic weather, a large audience enjoyed the People's Service in Massey Hall last night. The musical features were unusually numerous and varied, and the pictorial sermon delivered by J. M. Wilkinson, B.A., introduced a series of very fine views.

The City Band, under the direction of J. A. Wiggins, gave several renditions of a high order of excellence, including selections from the oratorios "Elijah" and "The Messiah," and the "William Tell" overture. P. Redfern, Hollinhead, tenor soloist in Bloomsfield Presbyterian Church, was in exceptional voice, and created a most favorable impression. Others who were listened to appreciatively were Mrs. A. K. Callan, Mrs. K. Charlotte-Morton, Mr. H. Norris, vocalists, and Mr. Alford, an accomplished cornet player.

TORONTO'S TRANSPORTATION NEEDS.

Mayor Geary has a splendid opportunity now to give effect to his pre-election assurances that he had no connection or sympathy with the street railway machinations against the city. The citizens trusted him that he would not deliver them into the hands of their enemy, and they still hope that he will do something to prevent the loss of the city's rights to its own streets and subways.

The situation that is steadily developing, and which is being revealed with rather more speed in the last few weeks, is one that few citizens had any suspicion of last December. Many of them are not yet alive to the extreme importance of blocking the proposed action by which the railways, will be enabled to set up a system which would make the city street railway franchise of practically no value.

The argument used by ex-Controller Hocken was that by building a subway and connecting surface lines the street railway franchise would be rendered of not sufficient value to the Street Railway Company to make it worth fighting for.

Mr. Fleming's remark will be remembered. He said they had nothing to ask the city for, which they could not get or could not compel the city to give.

The Street Railway answer to ex-Controller Hocken's argument is to put into operation the very plan against the city that Mr. Hocken wished the city to put into operation against the company. If the Street Railway interests get the powers they seek to build subways and link up their radial lines, the city will be tied up for ever, and instead of recovering its franchise in 1921, it will have a partial service of its own, and a corporation service in competition with it which will perpetuate the present wretched state of affairs in an aggravated degree.

The city must recover control, complete control, of its streets and subway rights at once. This must be done by legislation, by purchase, by expropriation, by whatever means is necessary. No excuses will avail the city officials who permit the city rights to pass into the hands of the corporations at this time.

The city should have the very best legal and engineering advice obtainable at once on the whole situation, and whatever is necessary should at once be done to preserve to Toronto the inheritance which it is evident is now in jeopardy.

The people are getting anxious to know what the city hall is doing. Controller Spence has spoken. It is going to act? Mayor Geary was very emphatic and indignant before the elections. Is he working for the people now? No time is to be lost, and there must be action as well as talk.

alists and the opposition. Mr. Austin Chamberlain has declared very emphatically that the Unionists "are not in the market as bidders for Nationalist support, and will neither sacrifice Irish loyalists nor compromise the interests of the empire, the the entire Nationalist vote be theirs for the asking." No one conscious of the Unionist position anticipated any other attitude and Mr. Redmond will belie his reputation if he uses his power to destroy the Liberal administration.

WHY NOT INVESTIGATION? From the way The Brockville Times abuses The World there must be more in that Long Sault power scheme than appears on the surface. "Thin-skinned critic," "erratic and flighty," "blind furies," "high pitch of frenzy," "knockers and knifers," "voluble misrepresentation," are a few of the phrases scattered over what it calls "gentle chiding." How does The Times talk when it is "real mad." If this is gentle chiding?

"The promoters of the Long Sault power scheme have shirked no investigation—they have invited it," declares The Times, and then it indulges in what it calls "gentle chiding" when The World takes it at its word and asks that the investigation be carried out. If everything is as it ought to be it will do no harm, but a great deal of good to have the Ontario Hydro-Power Commission or the Dominion National Conservation Commission make a report upon the project.

Perhaps the Brockville people have had a happier experience than the citizens of Toronto, but here it has been found that the more plausible and rosy are the representations of a corporation, the more necessary is it to see that the legal documents are all in proper order.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT AGENCY. The Alberta Government has established an immigration and information agency at 127 West Front-street, in this city, in order to furnish a convenient place for Ontario enquirers about land and settlement in the western province. The agency is in charge of F. W. Brown of Edmonton, who will furnish all available information about the new districts of the west to those who apply personally or by mail. The extension of the railways, the Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern in Alberta has opened up new fields for settlement, and to secure settlers for these lands or for locations anywhere in the province is the main object of the agency.

PROPOSED CHANGES IN ARTS COURSES. "The Variety" says editorially: For some time past the university authorities have been discussing changes in the curriculum for arts. One of the proposed changes is the substitution of the term "special" courses for those known now as "honors" courses, and the reservation of the term "honors" for those students in the "special" courses who obtain over 60 per cent. for second class and over 75 per cent. for first class standing in the "special" courses will be 50 per cent. The admission of pass men into special honor courses seems to us a mistake in that it tends to detract from the idea of an honor course which is to train men thoroughly in a certain department of study. The pass men admitted into such a course would not be thoroughly trained, and their admission would conduce to a lowering of the standard of our honor courses which are low enough as it is. The time seems to have come for the raising of educational standards throughout the country, and the university, the pinnacle of our educational system, must not be lacking in this much-needed change. This elevation of standard might better be obtained by keeping the pass men in the general course and by making the minimum in it 50 per cent. instead of 40 per cent. as is proposed. This general course should be made as broad as possible in its subjects of study, so that students who are not sure what work they will take up after they leave the university might obtain a general education along whatever line they desire. By making the course as broad as possible, the peculiar tastes and needs of all students could be satisfied. But of all students could be satisfied. But of all students could be satisfied. But of all students could be satisfied.

MR. ASQUITH'S COURSE. United States and some Canadian newspapers continue to publish dispatches regarding the probability of Mr. Asquith "assuming" office in a new government. In this connection the point really is whether the premier will resign. Since it is also stated, no doubt with truth, that he is occupied with the reorganization of his cabinet the matter of resignation can scarcely be within his contemplation, unless personal rivalries among its members exist intensely enough to prevent a harmonious agreement. If there are any, they were not disclosed during the progress of the electoral campaign, which found ministers, allowing for temperamental differences, in substantial accord. By why should Mr. Asquith be credited with any immediate intention of withdrawing from his post. Notwithstanding the numerous Unionist gains, that party returns to the house of commons weaker than it has been for a quarter of a century, with the one exception of 1906, an election entirely abnormal in its result. The Liberals alone will be as numerous as they were in the parliament of 1892, which lasted for nearly three years.

MR. ASQUITH'S COURSE. Mr. Asquith's immediate course will be conditioned by urgent public considerations. Speaking during the budget controversy and discussing the action to be taken should the peers reject the bill, Mr. Winston Churchill declared that it would be governed entirely by these grounds, and in this he certainly reflected the view of the government. They will again be paramount, and they require the re-passing of the budget bill at the earliest possible moment. The World thinks that this will be the order, and Unionist leaders have already admitted that the budget must become law. What the premier will do concerning the future of the hereditary house is in the meantime speculative. Various courses are open to him, but the preparation of the financial measures for the year beginning on April 1, cannot be delayed. One thing is clear, there will be no truce between the Nation-

ONLY COURSE FOR CITY TO EXPROPRIATE ROAD

So Long as it is in Private Hands Will There Be Danger of Invasion.

"The only effective way for Toronto to safeguard all her internal transportation franchises is to absolutely control them all. Immediate expropriation of the street railway is the course for the city."

This statement was made last night by Controller Spence, in allusion to the dangers arising from the demand of three radial railway companies for right of entrance.

"The application of the Hamilton, Waterloo and Guelph Railway may be just a beginning of what the city may have to face," he said. "The fact that nobody knows how many moves of this kind may be made in the next 12 years before the street railway franchise expires, should be sufficient warning. So long as the surface railway is under private control so long is there danger of invasion of the city's rights."

$10,000 BILL IS LOST BY DAZED BOY CLERK

Overwary by Immensity of Bank Note, He Showed It to Several — Then He Missed It.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—A small army of messenger boys trailed through the streets of the financial district Saturday, their eyes on the sidewalk, the street, the curb, on anything against which a yellow-backed bill could find lodgment. And even some silk-hatted financiers glanced furtively at the same points as they walked along because it's not every day that a $10,000 bill is likely to be picked up in the streets.

The search was set in motion when the ficker, who usually clicks out monotonously, carried this message into hundreds of offices: "Lost—A $10,000 bill. Notify, Hornblower & Weeks."

Investigation showed Saturday that the bill went astray Friday morning, but was not reported lost until Saturday. Hornblower & Weeks have not been able to recover it, owing to the difficulty of passing a bill of such a large denomination. On Friday morning, Benson, Lang, seventeen years old, who has been employed by Hornblower & Weeks for four months as a messenger, was given the bill to take to the National City Bank for deposit. The bill was pinned to a deposit slip and both bill and slip were enclosed in the firm's bankbook. Young Lang never reached the bank and did not return to his office. Saturday morning he reported the loss to his employers, accompanied by his mother. Now he is locked up in police headquarters charged with being a suspicious person. This is the story he tells the police:

"I never had seen so much money in one bill before, and I couldn't help showing it, first to the elevator man, then to another bank runner, and then to a bootblack, who has a stand in front of the building. I let him handle it and held it up to the light. He gave it back to me. I put it into the passbook, put the passbook in my overcoat pocket and hurried to the bank. When I took the passbook out the bill was gone."

Lang says he was so dazed by his loss that he wandered about the streets all day until night, when he confessed his plight to his mother and went to bed. The boy has been an outdoor patient at the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital, as was shown by two cards in his pocket, both of which, however, gave fictitious addresses. When asked why he had not given the hospital his true name, a could only say "I don't want to." By other particulars of his story, close questioning has failed to shake him.

ENGLAND'S UNEMPLOYED Great Rush to Register at New Labor Exchanges.

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 6.—Eighty labor exchanges opened in different parts of the United Kingdom on Tuesday. Two hundred and thirty more will be added soon. They are the board of trade's scheme to cope with the unemployment question.

How far the scheme may succeed five days' working cannot be expected to show. In some few places employers have shown willingness to co-operate with the board of trade by notifying the bureaus of their wants, but more generally they seem to be more than able to fill vacancies without resorting to any agency of the kind.

So great was the rush at the London bureaus that the police had to regulate long lines of respectable looking men, women and youths, whose orderly pressure in many cases broke windows and doors. By mid-day most of the bureaus had to close their doors. After that a few of the applicants were admitted at a time.

The officials worked at high pressure from 8 to 4 o'clock, and then more applicants remained to be dealt with than had been attended to. Similar accounts come from the rest of the country. Nearly everywhere the assistance of the police was required to regulate the streams of applicants. Attempts were made the following day to get figures from the different bureaus, but all enquiries were met with the answer that an order of the board of trade had been received the evening before forbidding any information to be given. These facts are being extensively used by the Unionist press to point the moral that it is not employers, but employment that the government has to find for the working classes.

PRISONS UNFITTABLE TO HOUSE DAMAGE SUITS

Tunnels, Which Became Raging Torrents and Flooded Cellars, Provide Cause For Penalties.

PARIS, Feb. 6.—An exceedingly important question has been raised relative to the responsibility of the owners of the utility companies for the damage done by the tunnels.

In the case of the Orleans and Western Railroads and the Metropolitan Subway, experts agree that the tunnels, constructed below the level of the Seine, which were converted into raging torrents by the flood, were the direct cause of the inundation in numerous streets of cellars of houses, which otherwise would have escaped.

M. Berthemy, professor of municipal law at the Sorbonne, and several other eminent lawyers, who have been consulted by the companies, are of the opinion that the owners are responsible, they say, in nowise relieving them of the risk involved in the execution of the works.

It is probable, therefore, that thousands of claimants will enter suit against the companies. The Western Railway company has already indicated its intention to appeal to the council of state and the principle involved is likely to attract wide interest beyond the frontiers of France.

Among the numerous projects under consideration for avoiding future floods, four are selected as the most practical: first, to increase by half a metre the present uniform depth of the Seine, which is 2 metres 20 centimetres; second, to construct a large aqueduct north of Paris, between Pantin and Aubervilliers, and third, to build a canal along a very ancient bed of an arm of the Seine, which once flowed in a northerly circuit from Bercy along the side of the streets now known as the Chateaux d'Autres, Richer, the Grande Batellerie, the beginning of the Boulevard Haussmann and the Place de l'Alma. This project, which is not as a project of gigantic overflows.

The fourth project, which seems to be most in favor, is that of Bertinot, in whose bill has already been introduced in the chamber of deputies, which provides for transforming the moats of the present fortifications into a canal, which would also thus become an overflow water drain, and it has the advantage of being a very cheap and simple proposition, besides being already practically dug.

UNCONSCIOUS FOUR HOURS

Prisoner in Esther Street Station Stricken in Cell.

While locked in a cell at Esther-street Police Station charged with drunkenness, William MacIntyre, 46 years of age, suddenly fell over unconscious, early Sunday morning.

Police and Policeman Harrison worked with him for some time, but being unable to bring him around summoned Dr. J. M. McPherson, 115 Spadina-avenue. He was also unsuccessful, and the man was sent to the Western Hospital, where he recovered two hours later.

He was unconscious about four hours, and the physicians who attended him are at a loss to explain the cause, but he was discharged by the police when he returned from the hospital.

NATIONALISTS BACK ASQUITH

But It's Not So Certain as to Labor Element.

T. P. O'Connor, in his London cable to the Chicago Tribune: The first business of the government will be to pass the budget. The budget has been denounced in Ireland by the Nationalists, and by O'Brien and Tim Healy, as wasting Ireland with an addition of two million sterling a year.

Healy is of the kind of man that some Irish people readily swallow. An attempt will be made to bustle Redmond and defeat the government. I don't think Redmond has the least intention of yielding to this.

The Irish party may be relied on to stand by the Liberals in the campaign against the budget, but it is not a reliable factor, able at certain moments to destroy the government. Keir Hardie is a socialist, but he is not a socialist in the more rational leaders of the Labor party.

W. Rutherford, 454 Church-street, both were arrested on Saturday.

WOODWARD GIVES CAST FOR WONDERFUL PLAY

The Story of Rostand's Remarkable "Chanteclair," Which Was Wonderful Premiere in Paris.

PARIS, Feb. 5.—The dress rehearsal of Edmund Rostand's "Chanteclair" at the St. Martin Theatre to-night, in the presence of a remarkable audience, comprising the elite of the literary, artistic and dramatic world of Paris as well as other European capitals, was an artistic success of the first magnitude.

The play, which is the most exquisite work of Rostand's poetic genius. The brilliancy of the first act, which was preceded by a charming prolog, delivered by Jean Coquelin, preparing the audience for the atmosphere of the piece, fairly set the theatre mad with enthusiasm.

The second and third acts, which were somewhat tedious, were less favorably received. In the last act, however, enthusiasm was revived to the boiling point.

The secret of the many delays incident to the presentation of the play is now explained by the changes made in the original text. The play, then, the pleasant, after vainly trying to induce Chanteclair, whom she has enticed to the forest, to prolong the night 36 hours, during their nuptials, betrays him, and he returns to the barnyard to his faithful hen.

The play generally commends that the brilliancy of the verse surpasses even "Cyrano." If that is possible, but the artistic note struck so high that they doubt whether the play will be a popular success, after the curiosity has worn off.

THE PLAY AND THE PLAYERS.

Rostand's "Chanteclair" is probably the most remarkable production ever presented on the stage. No human character appears in the play. The drama in personae are birds and animals, and as they are necessarily as large as life and speak in human language, the parts, everything which appears upon the stage is upon a corresponding scale.

The first act opens with the sun rising in a cloudy sky. The barnyard is filled with illusions about his place in the world. He imagines he is the master of the sun, that the sun rises at the end of night because Chanteclair has awakened and crowed. The play, however, is not a comedy, but a tragedy.

GERMAN PROFESSOR SAYS THAT JESUS NEVER LIVED

Stirs Germany Deeply by Publicly Attacking Basis of the Christian Religion.

BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 6.—(N. Y. Times Cable.)—Berlin this week the scene of one of the most remarkable theological discussions since the days of Martin Luther. It was provoked by Prof. Arthur Drews of Karlsruhe, who caused a public sensation by plastering the billboards of the town with posters propounding the startling question: "Did Jesus Christ ever live?"

On Monday night he addressed a huge concourse of people at the Zoological Garden in defence of his theory, and the following night he appeared in the same forum in order, Luther-wise, to defend his thesis against all comers.

A score of the most eminent theologians of the country responded to the invitation. The debate was carried on with fervor and passion before an audience of over 2000 persons, who were held spellbound until 7 o'clock the next morning. The last hour was employed by Drews in a final retort to his critics.

His onslaughts on the most cherished tenets of Christian doctrine were so graphic and ruthless that many women in the audience were overcome with emotion and had to be carried from the hall, shrieking hysterically.

An intensely dramatic scene was presented by one woman, who stood on a chair and held her arms outstretched in the attitude of supplication to heaven to send down retribution upon the head of the Karlsruhe heretic.

Prof. Drews appeared in Berlin under the auspices of the League of Monists, whose position, as their name denotes, is akin to those who profess their creed in the formula, "There is no God but God; for heat, O Isra-1, the Lord thy God is the one God."

Drews laid down his theories after the classic manner of old-time university disputations. The gist of his position was in a large measure like the mythical theory of David Strauss, which created a sensation 50 years ago.

Strauss held that there was verily an historic Jesus, but that the wondrous had been woven like wreaths around the head of Jesus. Drews has gone further. He alleges that there never was such a person as Jesus of Nazareth.

Baron von Soden, who is professor of theology at the University of Berlin and pastor of the Jerusalem Church in Berlin, led the theological onslaught on Drews. He maintained that, even if it were firmly proved that no such person as Jesus ever existed, that would hardly injure the heart and core of the Christian religion.

Prof. Soden declared that it was beyond doubt that neither heathen, Jewish, nor Christian writers of the apostolic age had ever once questioned the reality of the historic person of Jesus. It was impossible that their message could have been reconstructed around a myth of a redeeming and dying Son of God.

Other speakers attempted to ridicule Drews out of court by quoting semi-satirical works which had been written bearing such titles as "Historic Doubts About Napoleon," "About Mark Twain," and "About Frederick the Great."

The discussions have aroused a tremendous interest, through Germany. The newspapers have published exhaustive accounts of them, and they have provided the talk of the town in spite of the fact that the court session is at its zenith and the public mind is occupied with social gaiety.
