

DEBATE THE ORIGIN OF GROCERS' PROBE

At Hamilton Inquiry, Say That Electrical Firm Worked for Investigation of Grocers.

NEXT PROBE IN TORONTO

Hamilton, March 12.—The intimate relation of the origin of the attorney-general's complaint against the wholesale grocers led to a dispute in which the Canadian General Electric Company is defendant and the Lako Electric Company complainant, at the session of the board of commerce, this afternoon. This concluded the session as far as Hamilton was concerned. A. S. Porter, local agent of the Canadian General Electric, was placed in the box and examined by Major Duncan, solicitor for the board.

The construction on Mr. Porter's action, which was brought to establish that the instructions given to the firm of the dispute by the grocers' investigation before the board of commerce in order to delay the hearing of the dispute by the Canadian Electric Company, as a result of which the firm's investigation might lose its patent rights.

CLOTHING COMPANY SUFFERS BY FIRE

Upper Storeys of Yonge Street Building Burn From Unknown Cause.

Fire of unknown cause broke out on the fourth storey of a five-storey building at 312 Yonge street at 1 o'clock this morning, causing about $3000 damage. The fire burned through the ceiling of the fourth floor, and the top floor was burning at great rapidity when the firemen arrived, the whole premises being filled with dense clouds of smoke from burning clothing. Five lines of hose were used, but only two of them were used. Deputy Chief George Sinclair and his men confined the fire to the centre of the two floors, and after putting out the flames, tarpaulins were laid over the contents of the other floors to prevent the stock from being damaged by water.

A number of expensive oriental rugs were laid out on the third floor, which is occupied by N. Courian & Co. Rubber covers were put over these rugs, and none of them were damaged. The International Clothing Company and the Regent Dress & Clothing Co., tenants of the fourth and fifth floors, suffered the heaviest loss. The second and main floors are occupied by the Canada Shoe Company. The loss was placed at $1500 to the building and $1500 to contents.

HOPE OF GOVERNMENT IS AGAIN DASHED

(Continued From Page 1). promise negotiations. For this language, thirty Democratic votes were understood to have been promised, but several last-minute changes in wording made by Senators Lodge and Watson threw out the reservation was presented were held to have invalidated the Democratic pledge, and a new canvass had not been completed tonight.

On the Republican side, the defection was not confined to the presidential alone, Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, who had voted for ratification with the original reservation, declaring on the floor that he never would take the substitute, and Senator Wadsworth of New York, telling his party leaders he could not see wherein they had improved on their original measure. The Republican leaders insisted, however, they could hold at least thirty votes in line, and the Democrats who favored the substitute hoped to get more than thirty from their side. It takes sixty-four to ratify.

The text of the new reservation follows: "The United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country by the employment of its military or naval forces, its resources, or any form of economic discrimination, or to interfere in controversies between nations, whether members of the league or not, under the provisions of Article X, or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States under any article of the treaty or any purpose, unless in any particular case the Congress, which under the constitution has the sole power to declare war or authorize the employment of the military or naval forces of the United States, by act, or joint resolution, so provide."

Does Not Alter Substance. In presenting the substitute Senator Lodge declared it did not alter in any respect the substance of the reservation, or weaken the sense of the nation's obligations under article ten. He made the move, he said, because he did not feel justified in insisting on a mere matter of phraseology. It was understood that Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, the administration leader, objects to the substitute and would make an effort to line up enough Democrats to prevent ratification should the substitute be adopted.

In some quarters there was much speculation tonight as to whether President Wilson, now that the Republican modifications have taken definite form, might not take some step to inform Democratic senators, as he has done in the past, of his attitude toward the substitute. It was said by the Democratic leaders, however, that they would make no effort to ascertain his views, and that they had no knowledge of any intention on his part to make them public or private.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS DANFORTH RATEPAYERS INSIST ON PAPE CARS

The ratepayers in the Danforth and Riverdale sections are determined, as far as lies in their power, to see that the order of the Ontario Railway Board, regarding the construction and completion of the Pape street car line, is carried out promptly on the dates specified in the order. The work is to commence on April 15, and to be completed by July 15. In this connection, Ald. R. Honeyford, Ward One, received a communication from D. W. McIntyre, chairman of the Ontario Railway Board, under date March 10, in reply to his letter, requesting the enforcement of the order. Mr. McIntyre replied as follows: "The board has had no communication recently from either the city or the company indicating the attitude of either towards this work. I do not see that the board can do anything to expedite matters at present, but all we can do is to wait until the time of commencement has arrived, and, if no move is made by the company, the board will then have to exercise any pressure it may be able to ensure the work going forward if at all practicable."

Reputations in the meantime are being organized among the various ratepayer and other bodies east of the River Don, in readiness to visit the board of control and the Ontario Railway Board, and to insist that the work is ignored on April 15.

O. Flett occupied the chair, and in the course of an interesting address pointed out that the work of construction of the new church on the southeast corner of Bee street and Pape avenue would shortly commence. He also pointed out that there was a wide field for work among the Baptists in Todmorden.

SKATING CARNIVAL SCENE OF SPLENDOR

Sinbad and Ali Baba Leave Orient for Western Ice.

Mystic legend was combined with oriental scenes, costumes and customs with a delightful effect at last night's skating carnival in Arena Gardens. The Persian court, gay companies from eastern countries, Ali Baba and his forty thieves, Aladdin and the Genie, and Sinbad, the sailor, were all represented in the merry throng of skaters. Perhaps nothing more elaborate has ever been presented at a Toronto carnival than the rich oriental costumes and court scenes shown in last night's pageant on ice. The carnival was given by the Toronto Skating Club, in cooperation with the Minto Club, Ottawa, and the Winter Club, Montreal, in all about 200 skaters taking part. The four thousand skating enthusiasts, who witnessed the performance, were more than delighted with the graceful skating and elaborate costumes. The pageant was entitled "Arabian Nights."

At the north end of the Arena ice sheet was depicted the ballroom of the palace of Shah Shalim of Persia, where members of the royal household, ladies of the harem, dancing to the mighty Caliph, were seated luxuriously on a divan in their midst. Scheherazade (Jeanette Rathburn) was presented to the Caliph (J. J. Ashworth) by her father, the Grand Vizier (H. A. Locke), and it was she who recounted to the Caliph the stories which led the court spellbound. As she told her tales, the characters appeared on the ice and filed their parts as the story unfolded.

The Chinese court enters a gorgeous spectacle—decked out in rich, multi-colored, oriental silks. They come Egypt with costumes of black and white. The Circassian court follows in brilliant costumes, and last appears India, headed by the sacred Indian cow. The proceedings around the ice with queer tremors and shakings of the head.

Suddenly the forty thieves, all in dark, dusky figures, dart about with stealthy action on mischief bent. It is the clan of Ali Baba. Hearty whistles of danger sound and the thieves scurry in haste to find hiding places. Their laughter low as they crawl into wide caekas. Then comes the Bagdad out for a stroll and gossip. They see the caekas and cannot resist looking into them. Then comes the forty thieves leap out and make the fortune. This act was splendidly executed and brought rapt attention.

Then Aladdin appears, finds the wonderful lamp, unwittingly rubs it and is confronted with the forty thieves. The two do some clever figure skating. The "best singles" in fancy skating were given by Miss Jeanette Rathburn, lady champion of Canada, 1920, and Miss Jeanette, instructor of the Toronto Skating Club. Miss Rathburn closed second. Miss Chevalier closed first. The right of the skating supremacy of the Dominion as she combined grace in every motion with marvelous agility and will ability. Her career was well earned.

In the "pair" events there was little to choose between the champions, and Major D. H. Nelles, Minto Club, and Miss Chevalier and Mr. Melville Rogers, who is holding a piece of Pierette. The latter pair attempted more difficult figures, but the former executed with grace and precision.

G. H. Mesinger, amateur champion of the world in 1911, played the part of Sinbad the Sailor, and proved to Toronto that he had not lost his time and dexterity in the last thirty years.

The whole program was a great success and those privileged to attend will not soon forget the spectacle.

A HERO IN BATTLE; PREACHER IN PEACE

What The Belfast News Letter says about the noted evangelist, Capt. Gipsy Pat Smith, who is holding an evangelistic campaign, would bring blushes to the boldest. The redoubtable captain, once a ragged and was engaged, as he himself quaintly remarks, in the time of the selling clothes pegs from door to door. He became an evangelist about this time, and met with striking success, being now the most famous preacher of the present day. When war broke out he joined Lovat's Scouts as a private.

He was subsequently engaged in recruiting, and early in 1915 was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Tyneside Scottish. He went over the top on July 1, 1916, and was severely wounded. After that he was 19 months in the hospital, but on his recovery he volunteered again for France and was there in the midst of the last seven months' scrapping. The farewell services of his campaign are to be held this week-end. Over 25,000 people have attended his meetings these last 19 days. He has a busy day tomorrow, Sunday, at 3.30 he is to address a men's mass meeting in the Massey Hall; at 6.30 a great meeting for women only at Cooke's Church, and at 8.30 a united meeting at Massey Hall. Monday night is his farewell service.

FLOOD MAROONS TWELVE TRAINMEN

The waters stretch from the Bloor street viaduct as far north as the eye can see. The damage done is already great, and unless the tide goes down there is no knowing what those helpless men will suffer, or where the damage will end.

Two years ago, Fred Moody, the superintendent, lost hundreds of cattle, and his farm was entirely swamped by the floods. Now he is a victim of them himself.

A bird's-eye view of the effects of the torrent and the overflow of the river could be seen from the Bloor street viaduct for some distance north and south. The Don Valley-Brick Yards were inundated during the early hours of yesterday morning, and considerable damage was done to the plant and buildings. The fires of which were extinguished. The works were closed down yesterday, and large gangs of men were engaged clearing away the piled-up ice and snow carried down by the torrent when the water began to subside.

An ice jam at Donalda, in the vicinity of Dunlop's farm, was expected to break during the evening, but up to a late hour nothing happened. North of the Gerrard street bridge the C.P.R. tracks are clear of water until just above the Bloor street viaduct, where they became submerged, and also the Rosedale station.

Surrounding the C.N.R. yards, the ground is still covered with water. There are about 100 freight cars in the yards, and the contents of many are damaged.

The Don Flats and the low lying section of Riverdale Park resemble a lake, being completely covered with water several feet deep. The floods tie up the trains over the C.P.R. from the east and the Tweed and Trenton locals were diverted by West Toronto yesterday morning. The civic incinerator plant on the Don Flats near Dundas street was immersed in a deep sea of water, and the foundations of the Farmers' Feed Company's building; McColl Brothers, oil dealers, and the Conduit Company's factory, north of East King street bridge.

One of the most reliable tests of the Don River in flood is at the steel girder bridge of the Don Road in the valley where the two forks join near Thorncliffe farm gate. Wagons, cutters and motors got thru on dry land Friday morning; at noon the wheels were five inches in water; at 3 o'clock fifteen inches and at 8 and 9 o'clock when the last motor cars went thru it was quite twenty inches. At that hour the chances were the river would rise higher. But it was hard to get exact records.

The water rose above the foundations of the road by cakes of ice this year; the ice got down more easily, but the flats were covered with water for hundreds of acres and some of the trunks of trees were in it three feet deep.

There was quite an ice blockade in the valley on the Dunlop property at the head of the Don road.

But the flooding of the valley from the Forks down to Gerrard street, over four miles, was very pronounced this year, and from the Bloor street viaduct looking north the railway yards of Grand Trunk and Canadian National were all submerged. There was a lot of damage done to cars, yard, plant and equipment.

Hon. W. S. Fielding and Dr. Michael Clark, Sir Henry Drayton had stated that the proposal now was to amend the scheme that it would be more popular and so that the government could make a little money out of it.

Hon. Mr. Fielding contended that the idea in the minds of the originalators of the scheme was not to make money for the country, but to help the annuitants. "It is simply proposed now," he said, "to put more money into the treasury."

The house adjourned at six o'clock until Monday afternoon, after seven private bills had been referred to committees. To Enfranchise Indians. Hon. Arthur Meighen introduced a bill to amend the Indian act. The bill, he said, looked for more ready enfranchisement of Indians, that was to say, the elevation of Indians to the full status of citizenship. It also provided for the compulsory education of Indian children and made other minor changes in the Indian act. The bill was given its first reading.

Mr. Fielding asked if any consideration had been given to the use of nickel, and Mr. McMaster questioned if any attempt had been made to establish a standard fineness among different countries for silver coinage.

Sir Henry replied that silver was merely token money. He, therefore, could not see any advantage in establishing a standard between countries. The government had under consideration the casting of nickel five-cent coins.

The Hon. Dr. Beland asked if anything had been done to cut down the size of the one-cent copper coins. Sir Henry Drayton said that the dies for the new one-cent coin had not arrived yet from England. When they did, it would take about forty-eight hours to get the new coinage under way.

GENERAL HOSPITAL GETS MUCH PRAISE

Report Issued by Provincial Secretary Shows Inspector Favorably Impressed.

The department of the provincial secretary of Ontario has issued a report on the official government inspection of the Toronto General Hospital made by Dr. Helen MacMurphy, an assistant inspector of the department.

The report states that the financial receipts for the past year were $777,113.85, and expenditure for maintenance $823,027.11. The government grant was $227,708.81 and the town or city grant $91,843.66. The number of patients in residence was 677; of this number 15 were on the free list and 662 on the paying list. There were 186 deaths recorded during the year and 1089 births registered. The hospital employs 226 men and 181 women. This number does not include the 270 nurses serving at the hospital. The visiting staff of doctors number about 175.

The report goes on to say the furnishing and the fire arrangements were found to be most satisfactory and everything in perfect order. The records in all departments are well kept, says the report, and the quality of the food above criticism. Continuing the report says:

Rapid Growth.
"To one who visits the hospital from time to time the first thing to be noticed is probably the rapid growth of the departments—the X-ray, the venereal diseases clinic, the department of nursing, etc. The X-ray department, on account of its success and growing importance and the general development of X-ray work, is seriously overcrowded and urgently requires more accommodation."

The hospital authorities are coming to the conclusion that before long hospitals will have to meet changes in hours and organization, the most important of which is the eight-hour day. Perhaps the most important aspect of this matter is the pressing need for enlarged accommodation for the nursing staff, which shall not only be adequate for present needs, but capable of still further expansion in the near future because the need is going to arise.

After reviewing in a most favorable manner the various medical and surgical departments of the hospital, Dr. Helen MacMurphy concludes by stating: "A few suggestions were made, but the whole inspection was satisfactory, and it was a pleasure to see the residential buildings and houses, the private pavilion, the outdoor departments, the emergency, the main hospital in its parts, the kitchen, dining-rooms and the outlying buildings, such as the laundry, with all the staff at their posts and carrying on the work of this institution with commendable care and faithfulness."

MAYOR SAYS TAX RATE LIKELY THIRTY MILLS

Finance Commissioner Bradshaw informed the board of control yesterday that he would be able to announce the tax rate next Thursday. In connection with this, there has been a rumor current around the city hall the last few days that the tax rate would be not more than 27 mills. This prophecy, it is said, is based on revenue from the waterworks and other sources which have not apparently been taken into account as yet.

Mayor Church, when asked concerning this by The World yesterday, announced himself as very skeptical. "I don't see how it can be less than twenty mills," he said. "The city estimates are away up, and the board of education are swamping us with expenditures."

MAYOR THREATENS TO LEAVE COUNCIL

Will Resign Rather Than Sign 37 Mill Tax Rate.

If the board of education continues to be naughty, and will not agree to a cut in their 1920 estimates of more than ten million dollars, a dreadful calamity may befall the City of Toronto, in the form of a resignation from the city council of His Worship Mayor Church. At least that was the threat which his worship made yesterday morning at the board of control meeting, when the educational estimates were under consideration.

"I don't intend to sign the tax rate," said the chief magistrate. "If you are going to have a tax rate of 37 or 40 mills it will be necessary to have a by-election for mayor. I will not take the responsibility."

Another momentous decision reached by the board was that of agreeing to the mayor's suggestion to apply to the weekly courts for a (friendly) suit to determine if the city has the right to cut the estimates of the board of education. The city will seek a full interpretation of the statutes from 1891 to date. Included in the information sought from the weekly court will be that of whether the province has any right to dictate as to how many pupils shall be accommodated in public school classrooms.

The only attempted cuts made by the board were on capital account and maintenance. The original total as presented for this was $4,905,020, and from this the controllers slashed away $4,041,680. The original total for building account and maintenance was $10,189,837, and from this a total cut of $4,241,680 was made. With regard to the building account, $863,300 was sanctioned in 1919, and added to that for 1920, $435,000 for this year, so that in 1920 a total of $1,298,300 will have to be raised by taxation.

Mostly for Salaries.
When the maintenance account came up, a general cut of $200,000 was made from the total of $5,282,867, leaving a balance of $5,082,867. According to W. W. Pearce, general manager of the board of education, seventy-five per cent. of the money requested for maintenance was for salaries.

The mayor then opened up a fusillade on the school board for continuing to transact business with contractors whose names had been adversely mentioned in reports of investigations concerning the board.

"Any contractor doing business with the board will do so according to plans and specifications," said Mr. Pearce. "I am not responsible for the board's conduct. The mayor stated that there were men on the board's payroll that should have been discharged years ago. Mr. Pearce denied all knowledge of this, saying that not one man mentioned in the judges' reports was in the employ of the board of education at the present time."

The controllers refused to approve of an increase in superannuation allowances from $32,485 to $43,513 for former public school employees, and from $2652 to $5027 for former collegiate employees.

WRONG IMPRESSION, SAYS FALCONER

University Made No Request to Rockefeller Foundation, Says President.

Sir Robert Falconer sends the following letter in regard to Toronto University relations with the trustees of the Rockefeller Foundation:

"To the Editor of The World:
"By the authority of the board of governors I write to correct, if possible, a wrong impression that has been created by the publication of unauthorized extracts from a report made to the faculty of medicine of the University of Toronto concerning the development of that faculty. The report was prepared for the use of the faculty, and had not yet been laid before the board of governors. It outlined what the faculty of medicine regards as being a desirable policy to be attained within a reasonable period, and it was drawn up in order that the faculty might be able to present as fully-considered a view as possible of the future of this faculty when Dr. Vincent and Dr. Pearce, the representatives of the Rockefeller Foundation, would visit the university."

Not Unmindful of Others.
"Dr. Vincent had announced to the dean of the faculty of medicine that Mr. Rockefeller had written to the trustees of the foundation that he would be glad if they would offer $5,000,000 for the development of medical education in the Dominion of Canada, and, in view of this offer, he, with another representative of the foundation, would visit this university and others of the Dominion. The University of Toronto has presented no request whatever to the trustees of the Rockefeller Foundation, nor was the report in question to be so interpreted. It is a matter for deep regret that an impression may have been made that this university has been so unmindful of the needs of the rest of the Dominion as to seem to wish to secure an undue share of the gift which, unsolicited by the Dominion or by this university, has been generously offered by the trustees of the Rockefeller Foundation."

C.P.R. OFFICIALS' ANNUAL BANQUET

Heads of System Gathering at Toronto for Reunion Tonight.

Six hundred C.P.R. officials will sit down to dinner tonight at the King Edward Hotel. These 600 men are the responsible heads of the railway and guide its affairs from Halifax to Vancouver. The occasion is the "officials'" fourth annual banquet, and is the first to be held outside Montreal since the inauguration of the event. The officials of the line are coming from almost everywhere. A special train, carrying all the western men, arrived yesterday afternoon; a second special, with the eastern section, is due this morning. An advance guard of the officials in the persons of J. W. H. Snell, G.P.A., Montreal; A.B. Calder, A.G.P.A.; F. R. Purry, general agent, New York, and Frank Fox, publicity agent, arrived yesterday and helped to perfect the arrangements for the gathering.

The chairman of the dinner will be Sir George McLaren Brown, general European manager of the C.P.R., and he will propose the toast of "Our Guests," to which the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario will respond, and in his turn will propose "The Company," to which President Edward W. Beatty will reply.

Toast List.
Other toasts on the list are: "Vice-Presidents and Officers," which will be proposed by Hon. Harry Mills, minister of mines, Grant Hall of Winnipeg will respond. "The Em-

FIFTEEN-MINUTE PARKING.

The committee of certain bodies interested in motor traffic and the police officials held a further conference in Chief George's office yesterday afternoon regarding the framing of new traffic regulations. Some of the men favored increasing the parking time from 15 to 30 minutes on the downtown streets. The majority present were opposed to this and it is likely that the 15-minute time will be asked to be made lawful by the board of commissioners at their next meeting. As to the handling of traffic on the busy streets, nothing definite was decided upon and this matter will be taken up again by the committee.

BARGAIN TOO TEMPTING.

A pair of ladies' shoes hanging outside of an East Queen street store, with a "were six dollars, but are two dollars" sign on them, are said to have proved too much of a temptation for Annie Warren and she lifted them from the mall and put them on her arm. She was seen doing this, and Detective Black of East Dundas street station placed her under arrest charged with theft.

DEAD INFANT FOUND.

The body of a newly-born child was found in a lane in the rear of 623 East Queen street yesterday afternoon. The police were notified and they removed the body to the morgue.

The Toronto World

FOUNDED 1890. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company of Toronto, Limited.

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 13.

"Let Dogs Delight."

The barking serial between the board of education and the board of control reached a stage yesterday that ought to lead to a firm understanding as to where the financial responsibility for education in this city resides from year to year.

The temper of the educationists towards the city council is that the council has no business to reason why. The situation is a legacy from days when education was regarded as an almost negligible expense, over which no conflict could arise, so long as our holy religion were kept out of discussion.

The final power in our scheme of government, whether Dominion, provincial or municipal, has always resided in the disposition of the purse. Having clear statutory provision one would imagine that recourse to the city council with detailed estimates admits the council's superior authority.

Yesterday Mr. Pearce conducted his business like a proprietor of the board of education. He also gave out an interview in which these phrases occur: "I am not asking." "All I actually want." "I'm asking approximately."

In Vindication of Orthodoxy. Because Sir Oliver Lodge will lecture in Massey Hall tonight on "The Evidence for Survival," there is some fluttering among those who fear that the foundations of their faith may be undermined by the discussion of a spiritual problem by a veteran scientist, who only tells what he has found after many years' searching.

The truth is, of course, that the survival of the human spirit after the body has died is of the essence of Christian orthodoxy. The New Testament is saturated with teaching, not only that there is survival, but that the survivals may become manifest to human consciousness.

A generation to whom has been revealed the power over invisible things that is represented by the telegraph, the telephone (in wireless as well as by wire), the phonograph, and the airplane, surely need not be scandalized by hearing that there is definite proof that what the Christian has believed for centuries is literally and magnificently true.

That is really what Sir Oliver Lodge is telling the people of this continent with restraint, and, as those who have heard him agree, with reverence. He says he has learned more about spiritual things than at one time he conceived to be possible. He is vindicating orthodoxy, not assailing it—and this can be said with perfect truth by one who has never dabbled in spiritualism, and has seen much disregard of orthodoxy.

Dr. Wild, whom long-established Torontonians will remember, used to say that a Christian could hear anything. A devout reader of the New Testament who cannot hear Sir Oliver ver Lodge—the New Testament in that case can scarcely be known by its fruits.

Contribution's New Turn.

The naval debates has begun everywhere, except in parliament. With four Jellicoe schemes to choose from, without obligation to accept either of them, the people have abundant scope for enquiring, and sising up, and looking into the future—with an occasional backward look to see what progress we have made. The old contribution issue is revived, but is now presented the other way on, with some initial results that provoke doubts as to the clarity of thinking in quarters where pellucid thought is believed to be something of a monopoly.

Thru Lord Jellicoe, the admiralty, which never waits too patiently on the naval initiative of the dominions, offers us contributions of ships, even if we decide only to provide for a purely Canadian defence, which will reduce the capital cost to only one-fourth of the price of annual maintenance.

The principle involved in the new basis would mean that a dreadnought costing us ten million dollars might well cost forty million dollars per annum to maintain. That, of course, is only reducing the new admiralty policy to an absurdity, but it provokes enquiry as to what is implied in the policy.

The good Globe, which fought strenuously to prevent Canadian contributions to the British navy, gratefully accepts British contributions to the Canadian navy, the it reproduces and endorses Sir George Foster's 1926 declarations against financial contributions, and restates the objections to them, so long as they carry no control of the consequences of their expenditure.

If it is wrong for Canada to make contributions to the British navy, can it be right for Britain to make contributions to the Canadian navy? Recently a benevolent scheme for furnishing aid to Ontario education was turned down by the government, at the instigation of the organized farmers, on the ground that none but a government should discharge the obligations of the government. Vast moral and patriotic issues are involved in the sacrifice of a government's financial independence.

If the Canadian nation is obligated to create a navy, why should it accept contributions of ships from across the sea? Why should the admiralty, which has no sort of responsibility to Canada, offer to furnish us with ships of war? It is more than a bull to say that these ships are so many gift horses that should be kicked in the mouth.

The admiralty, in the height of the war, tried to commit the dominions to a navy imperially centralized from prow to rudder. This was flatly turned down. The admiralty is to present ships to Canada and train the staff officers for the Canadian navy at Greenwich, in the Greenwich atmosphere. Under these circumstances the naval factor in Canadian nationalities will not be at Greenwich, but in Chelsea Hospital, where impotent sailors are cared for thru the beneficence of a parent state.

An Injustice to Ireland.

It is the business of the newspaper to give a portion to seven and also to eight. There are all sorts of people in the world, and many to whom editorials are too light reading, and stimulants in the daily brain test.

Sam Loyd is a genius, and like others of the breed, he sometimes gives more than he knows. Yesterday he contributed an injustice to Ireland, which is now exposed. Puzzle 133 was a little piece in which he said eleven geographical names were hidden. The brain test was to find eleven. There were twelve.

The Loyd eleven are given in another column on this page. The story containing them was this: "There were nine vehement mutineers conspiring to capture their ship. A risky piece of business, muttered the mate to his pal. 'My rank makes this part an easy matter, but the best plan is to bind the captain during his noon nap lest he wake up. He is usually ugly, so hand over the sword over the sofa, then secure the revolver on a shelf by his head. From every passenger we can then exact a ransom.'"

The Irish geographical name that's in the story, but not in its writer's list, is—well, look the puzzle over and let us know.

On Bottle Street.

A friend comes in with a sincere word of the milk, as an aid to the economy which is necessary if the high cost of living is to be redressed.

NECESSARILY

"I shall move toward the end we all have in view with due deliberation."—Premier Drury to prohibition deputation.

On Palmerston avenue, between Arthur and College yesterday afternoon he counted twenty-one milk bottles lying where they ought not to be. Some were on the boulevard, some on the sidewalk's edge, some among the snow remains, and some in the street.

The exalted price of milk is not all due to the producers' demand for more. The distributors' overhead expenses count. The householder has no occasion to empty his pocket into bottles that are worth ten cents apiece.

Perhaps there is an inevitable winter waste in bottles, due to the exigencies of snowdrifts. But it should be no greater on Palmerston than anywhere else. Somebody may appear with the authentic statistics of the wastage of bottles, and with a calculation of what might be done with a capitalization of disregarded glass. Housewives are not guilty, of course. Neither are the faithful milk handlers. Mr. Nobody is the author of waste. But Mr. Nobody does not pay the shot. If we can't keep down the cost of milk we can at least depress the loss on bottles.

The Day at Ottawa

BY TOM KING.

Ottawa, Ont., March 12.—Some interesting discussions occurred in the house of commons this afternoon, altho the business before the house was not widely exciting. Mr. Rowell had a bill to correct a clerical error in the act relating to the pensions of the Northwest Mounted Police, and this opened the door to a lively tilt between Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. T. W. Crothers upon the general subject of pensions.

Mr. Fielding admitted that the Liberals made a great mistake in repealing the superannuation act. He thought that all employees of the government should retire upon a pension after a certain number of years in the civil service. A better class of men would be obtained and it would no longer be necessary to keep men on the payroll after their years of usefulness had passed.

From this doctrine Mr. Crothers most emphatically dissented. He said people entered the civil service not because they were asked, but because they were eager to get short hours and high pay. For every government job there were always a hundred applicants. Why should these men be provided for in their old age by taxation? They should take their chances with the men who worked for private corporations.

Mr. Fielding replied that a pension system was intended not so much for the benefit of employees as for the improvement of the service. All the big corporations were pensioning employees grown old in their service, and the government should not be less progressive.

Sir Henry Drayton put thru a resolution upon which a bill will be founded amending the government annuities act. The amendments are designed to make the annuities more popular and to give the government a better chance to compete with the insurance companies.

The finance minister also put thru the committee stage legislation permitting him to decrease the percentage of silver in our fractional currency. For years the government cleared 77 per cent. profit on every silver quarter they passed out to the public, but lately they had been losing 4 per cent. Hence Canadian silver coins had been shipped to the United States and melted down for bullion.

While on the general subject of coinage, Sir Henry Drayton announced that we were soon to have a nickel coin to replace the silver half dime. The new one cent pieces, about the size of an American cent, will also be in circulation before long.

THE GIRL WHO SMILED THRU

By MARION RUBINCAM

A PROPOSAL

CHAPTER 30. One afternoon, a week after Alice had, as she expressed it, given him his freedom, David was crossing the meadow near the model farm house, when a girl rode up the lane on horseback. He did not know her at first, for David had been lost in thought. It had been a week since he had seen Alice and he was desperately lonely—and at the state when he was a bit resentful because of it. In other words, David was at his weakest place.

And he looked up and saw Lois riding towards him, up the lane leading from the farmhouse. She sat astride, and she was dressed in the smartest riding habit, with leather puttees and a rough straw hat pulled down over her hair. She leaped off the horse when she came up to him, and stood laughing up in his face, the bridle rein over her arm, conscious of her prettiness as she threw her head back against the horse's black mane.

"Oh gee, I'm so glad I could eat you!" he said with boyish enthusiasm. "Then stop working, and we'll tie up my horse and go sit on that log above the creek," Lois said. "David thought he would send her home in an hour, but two hours and then three passed, and he could not let her go. She laughed and snatched, told him all the stories of the neighborhood, 'reminisced' about familiar theatres and restaurants in New York, and frankly coquetted with him.

As the afternoon waned, she let the talk become more serious. Finally she held out her hand. "I must go," she said, but did not pull her hand away. "I came on an angel's errand, Davey-boy, but I'm not good enough to go thru with it." "What was your angel's errand?" David asked, content to hold the small white hand she seemed so willing to have him possess.

"Well, I wanted to make it up between you and Alice," Lois said and looked away. "Is she unhappy?" David asked eagerly. He wanted her to say yes, and she knew it. "I—I don't know," Lois answered. "I don't think Alice is the type that is very unhappy. I think she feels her life work is looking after her mother and she wouldn't be contented doing anything else."

"But she isn't as well, as gay and cheerful as she was, is she?" "She's—I think she's relieved," Lois said as an inspiration to Lois. "I don't think Alice is the type that is very unhappy. I think she feels her life work is looking after her mother and she wouldn't be contented doing anything else."

Landlord Finds Decomposed Corpses of Tenants—Gas Jet On.

The decomposed bodies of two men and one woman were found in a room over a Chinese laundry at 335 West King street yesterday afternoon. The bodies were those of John Callcott, his wife, Mary, and M. Johnston, who had been living with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Callcott, whose bodies were identified at the morgue by Charles Callcott, 231 Christie street, a brother of the dead man, were each 35 years of age.

Thought They Had Left. On entering the laundry office of Lee Long, Jacob asked if the people upstairs had moved.

Examining the fixtures connected to the small gas stove, the police found that the jet to the stove had been turned fully on.

Police notified Chief Coroner A. J. Johnson of the affair, and removed the bodies to the morgue. It has not yet been decided as to whether or not an inquest will be held.

CITY HALL NOTES

City Solicitor Johnson, acting under instructions, has beaten the city council to it, and in this week's Ontario Gazette, appears an advertisement of a civic bill whereby the legislature is asked to enable Toronto to issue debentures for the raising of $945,000 for the proposed Mount Pleasant civic car line.

The board adopted the mayor's motion to instruct the works commissioner to get in touch with the chief constable, requesting him to report on the matter of enabling a certain number of jitneys to operate in Toronto during the rush hours.

The civic works committee seems to be catching the popular spirit among the city hall and is rapidly developing the habit of referring back the majority of matters which confront them.

Mount Pleasant road was brought up again, but this time only in the form of a communication from the city to the Hydro-Electric Commission, recommending the acquisition by the city of additional land whereby the road could be extended.

This extension is necessary on that section of the road near Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and it was suggested that the city buy 50 feet to the west of the road and 25 feet to the east.

A petition of L. Reynolds and 400 residents of the locality, asking that the St. Clair avenue civic cars be run north and south on Lansdowne avenue, was referred back to be dealt with by the transportation commission.
