The Scenes In City Streets As Volunteers Marched to Depot and Left For Sussex For Mobilization —Thousands of People Gathered to Cheer Them As They Marched

A quarter of a century ago today, St.
John was the scene of great excitement, the streets were lined with cheering people, the air was rent with loud commands, martial music was heard on all sides, men in uniform were the idols of the day and were conspicuous everywhere, for this was the day, May 18, 1885, when the loyal-hearted defenders of their country started for the northwest to take their part in quelling "Louis Riel's Rebellion." From almost every family in the city some member, or at least a relative, had fallen in line and taken arms in the muster call.
The weather was such as to be today, a clear fine day, quite warm, and with a gentle breeze blowing sufficiently strong to send the gallant soldiers along a dusty road of march. From the public buildings flags flew, the wind whistled with bunting and the defenders of the nation must have been proud of the efforts of their fellow citizens to make their honorable and enthusiastic departure.
Despite the fact, however, that every preparation was made to meet the foe, and that all in the line were anxious to get their share, Riel was captured, the rebellion crushed, and the New Brunswick militia did not go farther than Sussex, where they had been mobilized.

The 18th in St. John 25 Years Ago The departure for Sussex was an historic event for the loyal city, and one long to be remembered with pride by the citizens. Early in the morning of the 18th the people assembled in the streets for the purpose of seeing the troops off.
The route of march was along the principal streets, lined by thousands of people, who cheered themselves hoarse and tried to outdo their neighbors in their efforts to make themselves heard above the music of no less than four bands. The New Brunswick militia, as it was styled, was under the command of Lieut. Col. Mansel, while Lt. Col. Blaine had command of the 62nd Fusiliers, both were officers popular with the men and thoroughly capable. The order of march was as follows:
City Brass Band,
City Cornet Band, 82nd Brass and Rifle Drum Band.
Representation from the Sussex Legion, Harrison Walker, Lt. Col. Blaine, Q. M.
S. Hall,
Maj. Tucker, on horseback,
No. 1 Co., Capt. Sturdee, No. 2 Co., Captain Hegon,
No. 3 Co., Capt. Edwards, No. 4 Co., Capt. Godard, Lt. Col. Armstrong, Adj. Langan and Lt. Crawford.

At the depot, the people cheered again.
First they cheered the local boys, then the York county contingent, which had just arrived, then Lt. Col. Blaine, then the bands, then a dog fight under a car, in many cases there were no bounds, and many had to drop for a week or two afterwards. Food vendors and fathers bade a last farewell to a brave son whom they never might see again, sisters tearfully said goodbye to a loving brother, blushing maiden acknowledged their sweethearts and forgot to write, and three or four kisses the train steamed on its way.

When the local boys had arrived in the depot they found the York county contin-gent had arrived and taken possession of the cars. The contingent embraced the infantry School corps, the 2nd Battalion, and the 1. N. band. They were given a hearty reception by the people of St. John before they left for Sussex. There was some slight misunderstanding concerning Woodstock, and they were entertained in Dennis Costigan's boarding rooms until plans were made for their departure.

The N. B. brigade encamped at Sussex and remained there for a short time, awaiting orders from headquarters to strike tent and leave for the northwest but Riel was captured and the battalions at Sussex returned. An event which recalls the spirit of loyalty which existed at the time, and still exists in St. John cannot better be recalled than on May 18, Loyalist Day.
Many a prisoner referred to in his journal at the time, and lodged in the outposts of St. John and special sermons were preached on the subject by Rev. Dr.
Macrae in St. Stephen's church, Dr. Dobson, in Cemetery, and Dr. Reid in Queen square church.

Rickard Seeking Transfer of Permit Held by Frisco Man for Ring Contest There—Governor is Strong to Let the Battle Go On—It's of More Interest Than the Comet, He Says

San Francisco, May 18—Practically abandoning his plans to hold the Jeffries-Johnson contest in Esplanade on July 4, Promoter Tex Rickard today had a conference with John L. Hergert, chairman of the police commission of the local board of sur-pervisors, and Jack Griffin, the prize fight promoter who holds the judicial permit for a contest in this city. The result has been the re-opening of negotiations to hold the fight here instead of across the bay.

It was said by prominent sporting men here today that the promoters tentatively have agreed to accept Griffin's offer of his permit on the assurance that the city and county ordinance, which limits ring contests to twenty rounds, will be repealed.
Superior Hergert has expressed himself as agreeable to an extension of the round limit on fight.

Jeffries Takes a Day Off Ben Lomond, Cal., May 18—Instead of the usual half holiday which Jeffries takes on Wednesday afternoons to break his week's training grind, he will take a whole day off today. The camp was early saturday for an automobile trip to Santa Cruz. The greater part of the day is to be spent by Jeffries and his companions in a fishing excursion on the bay. If luck attends the fishermen, Jeffries will remain on the water until evening. Another trip to Santa Cruz is planned by Jeffries for Saturday evening. He is expecting to participate in an athletic exhibition at the seaside town, the programme to include boxing in a pavilion on the beach.

Governor Strong for the Battle Chicago, May 18—Governor J. N. GILlet California, who passed through Chicago on his way home from Washington, in discussing the Jeffries-Johnson fight said:
"The fight seems to be of the biggest national interest there, and I do not believe there is any sentiment against the meeting has taken form."
"It will bring hundreds of people to the coast and leave thousands of dollars in business, and will be a big thing for a big city."
"Judging by the way our party has been met and the questions put up to us there is no doubt about the interest in the fight. To the people of the United States at least it is a bigger thing than the passage or defeat of important legislation; Roosevelt's triumphal tour or even the approach of the comet."

THE NEWS FROM THE NORTH SHORE LUMBER DRIVES
Chatham, N. B., May 18—(Special)— Driving conditions are still bad on the upper waters of the Miramichi, caused by logs getting upon the meadows and the marsh when the water was high, and in-less more rain comes, some drives will be temporarily shut in for some time. In fact, the drives are not yet in the hands of the corporation and have then to be passed on to the corporation operating on the river waters in the Miramichi before finally reaching the booms.

drews, N. B., on October 23, 1844, and Reid Company's Passenger Vessel Collides With French Trawler; Latter

North Sydney, N. S., May 18—(Special)— The Reid Newfoundland company's steamer Invermoe, which has taken the Bruce's place on the North Sydney-Port Aux Basques route, while the latter is in dry dock, at St. John's, returned to port at 6 o'clock this morning with her stern twisted out of shape and a gaging hole in her bow as a result of a collision with the French steamer Zailee off Lloyd's Cove last night. The Invermoe was in the bottom of the harbor near Dominion as a result of being crushed by the big trawler.

The Invermoe left her berth here at 1:30 with eighty passengers for Port Aux Basques and when near Lloyd's Cove sighted the Beluga. On the Invermoe's bridge at the time were Captain Parsons, her master; Captain P. DeLaney, marine superintendent of the Reid Newfoundland company, and Captain John King, all of whom believed the trawler to be at anchor, as only her mast head lights showed. It was not until the two steamers had approached closely that other lights were sighted and the Captain of the In-

No Trouble Expected

Compass
HIDDEN BY SUN
No Human Eye Will Observe Today's Passage of the Visitor In Heavens—Tail Now Estimated At Twenty to Forty Six Millions of Miles—Trying to Catch it Halley's comet will today come closer to the earth than at any time during its present apparition and as it turns the pole of its orbit this evening watchful astronomers tell us that the little planet earth, with all its human freight, will glide quietly, through the long tail of the celestial visitor. To many, who are superstitiously inclined the promise passed through the tail and the crisis in the comet's flight is an event regarded with fear and apperhension.

The scientists, fortified by their accurate knowledge of the comet's idiosyncrasies, have no fear of danger. But they regard the day as a most important one and all of them will be found this evening at their instruments eager to observe whether any strange phenomena—such as magnetic disturbance in the compass, interference with wireless apparatus, or showers of meteors and shooting stars—attended the passage of the mysterious visitor.

About 11 o'clock tonight the comet will pass between the earth and the sun. No human eye will observe the passage, for it will occur on the other side of the earth in broad daylight, where the glare of the noonday sun will completely obscure the lesser brilliancy of the comet.

The comet has been hiding itself in the sun's glare for the past two days, but it will be visible from the earth again by Friday evening, when it will be seen just after sunset in the western horizon, just north of the planet Mars. It will be there for several weeks until it finally fades from view for seventy-five years.

As to the passage through the tail of the comet, the scientists have repeatedly assured us that there is nothing to fear. The earth has passed through very similar tails before—for example, in 1811, when the globe was whisked through the tail of a comet without anyone being the wiser. In fact the event was not known until revealed by observations afterward. Prof. Dayard of the Yerkes Observatory, says the most probable phenomena that all laymen may perhaps tonight will be the antics of the compass.

TWO DEATHS IN

stock, Ernest Hanson of Woodstock

Woodstock, May 18—(Special)—Agnes, aged twenty-seven, daughter of Charles Kelly, of Lower Woodstock, died at her home on Tuesday afternoon after an illness of two months. She is survived by her father—Mrs. B. Stevenson, and Stephen Kelly, of Houlton, Grace and Myrtle at home —and three brothers—Arthur, Charles and Burton. The body was taken to the Holman burying ground in York county for interment. Rev. J. C. Boushney of the United Baptist church officiated.

NURSE GIRL POISONS

Had Been Refused Permission to Go Away and This Was Revenge

Demplos, Ala., May 18—Because she was refused permission to go to Birmingham, a ten-year-old negro employed by a nurse for her two small children, gave poison to them. The younger, aged three months, died in agony, and the condition of the other is serious. The negro was arrested and seems unconcerned. Indignation is intense and the child is being closely guarded.

LOYALIST DAY
For the first time in many years flags are not flying at the masthead today in honor of the landing of the Loyalists, because of the usual gale display there is an air of gloom with the funeral dirges of purple and black and flags at half-mast out of respect to the memory of the late king.

The school children are enjoying a holiday today and the unusual salute of twenty-gun salutes was fired from Dorchester Battery at noon. Otherwise the day is not being observed by an outburst of demonstration.

Do You Have Headache

My first experience with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills was a simple package handed me. They relieved the pain so promptly that I have never been without them since.

Women quite often care more about the home garden in the house than in the back yard. Leaving the tending of vegetables to the male members of the household while they care for their indoor plants and flowers.

Beginners should not be too ambitious, but should select plants that are not of difficult culture. Do not attempt too much in the way of novelty, yet one or two things you have never tried before will be of great interest.

The windows should not be overcrowded with plants, like people, no plants should be allowed to touch, for if they do both will suffer.

What has become of the old-fashioned picnic? It has not been so many years ago when the picnic was an established institution, but now it is almost extinct.

The sun climbed higher and higher. Men and children glanced from behind trees toward the place where they had left the "women folk." They were shy glances and anxious.

The picnic grounds were reached before the heat of the day. Sometimes a faint electric haze was in the air, but the picnic grounds were reached before the heat of the day.

Then, when the sun was getting pretty high, the picnic grounds were reached. Hats were thrown into the air, where they remained until the owner was ready to retrieve them.

Now the old-fashioned picnic is almost forgotten, and why? The sun climbed higher and higher. Men and children glanced from behind trees toward the place where they had left the "women folk."

What a man can't understand about his wife's relatives is why he lets them impose on him.

THE HOME GARDEN

This is the time of year when the home gardener is a very busy personage. There is nothing more delightful than working in the small garden. The housewife may be a farmer on a very small scale, yet there is not the hard labor of the tiller of the soil to contend with.

At this time of the year all house plants should be reported, and the old soil removed from the pots and replaced with new. It is best to have on hand a good supply of potting soil.

Have proper appliances for indoor and outdoor use. The electric fan is a convenient sprayer, watering cans, pots, etc., that will spray for the money put into them.

It's easy for a man to write a long love letter to a woman if he isn't married to her.

An Interesting Calculation

HERE is an interesting calculation for young housewives or old ones for that matter. A pound of the best bread in the world made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR costs less than four cents.

Royal Household Flour is the most economical food in the world. Especially is bread made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR good for growing children. They can't eat too much of it.

Statistics also prove that ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR will sustain life longer than animal food. It is extremely rich in high quality gluten which comes from the best Red Fye Wheat—the finest in the world.

The first thing accomplished by the grown-ups was to rig up a great, high swinging old-fashioned kind, with long ropes and not the up-to-date lawn affair.

The beautiful white color of ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR is natural. It indicates the richness of the wheat from which it is made.

The one safe way in buying flour is to get ROYAL HOUSEHOLD, and in that way you will make sure of getting the largest percentage of no. 1 wheat and the cleanest, purest and most uniform flour.

Money cannot buy anything better in the line of Pianos. Have the best.
