Foreigners Who Escape Tell of Experiences

Chinese Outlaws, 2,000 to 3,000 in Number, Have a Pitched Battle With Soldiers—British Citizen Said to Have Been Killed.

(Canadian Press)
Tien Tsin, May 8.—Messrs. Day and Jacobsen and Miss Corbett, three of the foreigners who escaped from the bandits who raided the Peking express train at Suchow on Sunday, arrived here this morning. They said that Miss Lucy T. Aldrich, sister-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., her companion, Miss Minnie McFadden, and Miss Schenberg, had stopped in Tsinanmen where they were admitted to a hospital suffering from shock. Their feet were cut and bruised.

Mr. Day said that the bandits divided the captives into several parties after forcing them to leave the train. The prisoners, guarded heavily, were brutally hurried into the hilly country.

"A prisoner I was with was prodded with a rifle butt," said Day. "We had to take the roughest path. It was no less to protest and strict silence was enforced. Anyone speaking was mercilessly hit. I was struck on the forehead with a mallet for talking to my neighbor."

The fair of the bandits, Day continued, was a village in the hills encircled by a stone compound. Within an hour or two after the arrival of the prisoners, soldiers appeared outside the town, and soon a lively engagement was in progress.

The brigand chief persuaded Day to take a note to the commander of the military force informing him that if the fire did not stop the captives would be shot. Day had a harrowing experience in making his way across the open ground to the troops, as he was fired on by both the military and the bandits, some of the latter being ignorant of his mission.

Day delivered his message whereupon the commander of the troops ordered that the open ground be cleared. Day was fired on by both the military and the bandits, some of the latter being ignorant of his mission.

BIG EMPIRE
AVIATION PLAN

Super-Express Mail and Passenger Service—The Swift Transport of Troops.

London, May 8.—(Canadian Press)—A super-express mail and passenger service to a distance of 10,000 miles across the British Empire by rigid airships of a type larger than any hitherto built, which have been perfected recently, is contemplated by the government, according to the Daily Chronicle. It says it has it on the most reliable authority that the cabinet is being received so favorably that general government approval of the plan, with state co-operation on the part of the Dominions, is regarded as almost a foregone conclusion.

Experts have been preparing showing that by means of the proposed service hundreds of troops could be carried swiftly to vital points of the empire if needed.

Experts also have been investigating the question of an aeroplane-carrying airship, the Chronicle says, and the Admiralty is very much interested in the matter.

Relations With China May be Affected

Other Nations May Become Entangled—War Department Ready to Back Up—Missionaries Report Conditions Bad.

(Canadian Press)
Washington, May 8.—Action of Chinese bandits of Shantung province on Sunday in holding up an express train and capturing several foreigners including nineteen from the U. S., has created a situation regarded as seriously affecting the continuance of friendly relations between the U. S. and China.

The situation is held by some officials as possibly involving other governments in a similar entanglement with China.

Minister Schurman at Peking was instructed by the state department to press his inquiry, report the facts to Washington and make strong representations to the Chinese Government.

The council of ministers of the various governments represented in Peking is expected to meet today.

Acting Secretary of War Davis, announced that the war department was ready to "back up" any plan approved by the council of ministers of the state department.

The U. S. has at present a force of 85 officers and 888 men stationed at Tien Tsin under the command of Brig. Gen. Wm. D. Connor. The British have 60 officers and 244 men.

The prosecution also asked that a sentence of ten years and a fine of one hundred million marks be imposed on each of the three directors present at the trial. For the two absent directors, counsel demanded a prison sentence of twenty years and the same fine.

A severe penalty was recommended for Herr Mueller, the factory councilman. The prosecution contended that Mueller was the organizer of the attack on the French detachment.

It is expected that the judgment of the court martial will be returned late today.

SHARP BRITISH
NOTE TO RUSSIA

Strongly Worded Complaint About Several Matters

Reported That There May be Break—Communists in England Issue Manifesto; British Official Shot in a Bandit Chase in Moscow.

(Canadian Press)
London, May 8.—A British note to Russia which Ronald McNeill, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, told the House of Commons had been sent to Moscow, is unofficially reported to be a strongly worded complaint against the discourteous treatment accorded the British protest in the Zeeplak case, the seizure of the British trawler James Johnson, off the Murman coast, disregarding the recognized three mile limit and the brusque treatment given the British agent at Moscow.

The under secretary said he understood the Soviet commissary of justice was considering cancellation of the verdict against the captain and crew of the vessel and was making arrangements for the immediate return of the crew. Mr. McNeill intimated that he might make a further statement next week.

Meanwhile the British Communists have taken a hand in the campaign against what Labor believes to be the imminent cancellation of the trade agreement with Russia. The Communists have issued a manifesto calling for the organization of "councils of action" to prevent the closing of the headquarters of the Russian trade delegation in London.

Such action, the manifesto asserts, would be "the first step to war," adding that the British Government is leading "a capitalist offensive against the workers' republic of Russia as they hate the Russian workers as they hate you, for they know the growth of trade with Russia means the strengthening of the workers' movement throughout the world."

The Independent Labor Party is organizing a demonstration to be held in Trafalgar Square on next Sunday at the request of several members of parliament who said to have promised to speak.

The Daily Herald, labor organ of London, reported on Saturday that there was good reason to believe the Government had decided to send a strong note to Moscow complaining of Russia's treatment of priests, the seizure of British travelers, the tone of the communication to the British embassy in Moscow and alleged breaches of the trade agreement.

The note, according to the Herald, was not couched in ordinary diplomatic terms, but appeared to be "deliberately calculated to force a quarrel and a rupture of both political and commercial relations."

Moscow, May 8.—According to reports from Petrograd all exports to Great Britain have been stopped. Apparently this step has been taken by the Government because of the British note which might result in breaking off relations.

British Official Shot.
Moscow, May 8.—Henry Sliggett, a member of the British mission was seriously wounded last night when his official automobile was boarded by a bandit who was trying to escape from the scene of a burglary. The man was fired upon by the pursuing militia and a bullet struck Sliggett in the head. L. Patterson, another British citizen, who was riding in the machine was not hurt.

The relations between Great Britain and Russia are regarded as rather critical, but the British mission accepts the incident as a regrettable coincidence. The bandit who was the cause of the shooting was seriously wounded and will probably die.

REORGANIZE
V. A. D.'S IN THE OLD COUNTRY

London, May 8.—(Canadian Press)—A scheme for the re-organization and future utilization of the women's voluntary aid detachments which rendered such conspicuous service to the Empire during the war is being completed by the war office. During the war these detachments were enrolled only for home service although many battalions of them voluntarily followed the territorial forces abroad.

The new scheme provides that the women's forces shall supplement not only the military but the naval medical forces and also the air force. They would be asked to serve wherever the forces themselves were sent.

Two branches will be organized accordingly, first, those able and willing to serve overseas; second, those able only to give their services within reach of their own homes. The whole strength of the newly organized women will comprise the main reserve of the medical force for all the crown's forces.

NOVELTY FEATURE AT THE IMPERIAL

"Adam's Rib" a Sumptuous Film, With Much Human Interest—Concert Tonight.

A story with real human interest is "Adam's Rib," Cecil B. De Mille's latest Paramount at the Imperial theatre. The theme of the production is the untangling of the affairs of a husband and wife by their young daughter, a typical example of the sensible type of the modern girl.

Anna Q. Nilson, as Mrs. Ramsay, the wife of Michael Ramsay, a prosperous Chicago business man played by Milton Sills, has taken a fancy to M. Jacomin (Charles Kroloff), the exiled king of Morania. Her husband, fearing that he is going to lose her, hits upon a plan to get her out of the country, a typical example of the sensible type of the modern girl.

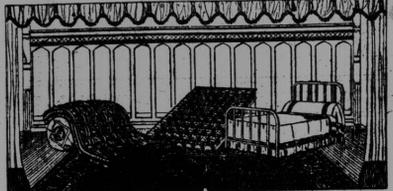

Morania is in need of funds, and Ramsay, an enormously rich man, buys up all the wheat in Morania and in return they recall Jacomin to his throne, and he is thus gotten out of the way. His wife returns to him, after realising that her interest in Jacomin was only a passing fancy.

The daughter, played by Pauline Gagon (a Montreal girl), saves the mother from discovery while she is at the apartment of the king. Ramsay sees his wife's pocket-book on the table. Mathilda pops out from behind the curtain where she and her mother are concealed and says that she is the one that came to visit Jacomin.

Ramsay is completely taken back, and tells her that she is an outcast, and no man would marry her. Prof. Nathan Reardon (Elliott Dexter) whom Mathilda had met at the customs inspection on her return from Europe, steps up and professes his love. Mathilda and he are married, and everything turns out well in the end, thanks to the girl.

This is the first production which has inserted a part of "vision" scene similar to the noted "bacchanal" scene in "Manila" and is compared to that of present day beings. You will be surprised to note that while costumes primitive man as compared to that of the present day beings, the love affairs of the entire human race are now much the same as at the primitive time of the "steagosaurius angustus" or in plain English—the smooched dog.

WORST IN THE WORLD'S HISTORY

The Moral Debacle in Russia Spoken of by Rev. Mr. Komlosy, Who is to Give Address Here.

Quebec, May 8.—(Canadian Press.)—Among the passengers on the steamer Minnedosa, from Cherbourg, Southampton and Antwerp, yesterday, was Rev. F. Komlosy, M. C., who is coming to this country in the interests of the Russian Relief and Reconstruction Fund, registered under the War Charities Act of 1916.

In an interview here he said:—"Any appeal on behalf of Russia is at once associated with the starving masses whose sufferings have been so terrible that even yesterday the rigors of the famine had not abated. But, in spite of all that, the famine is not the worst feature of Russia's agony. All reports, Bolshevik as well as from independent circles, are making very apparent the fact that the moral debacle is beyond."

"I will quote an extract from a Bolshevik newspaper to prove what I am telling: 'There are thousands and thousands of homeless children in Moscow living in abandoned houses and cellars, gangs of them from ten years and upwards congregating together as beggars, thieves, prostitutes swarming in the streets.'"

"Can the condition of these children be wondered at, when the Soviet Government itself has approved the establishment of the 'Kensonski', or union of young people, which consists of youths and girls deprived by systematic outrage in the last five years?"

Rev. M. Komlosy is to address the St. John Canadian Club later in this month.

J. B. M. Baxter, Conservative, St. John, in the House yesterday.

The order was about to carry without opposition when Mr. Baxter rose to ask why the Government was unable to produce this information for Mr. Coote when a short time ago it had refused to bring down some of the same correspondence at his request on the ground that it was not in the public interests to do so. BANKS FROWN ON 50-50 MARRIAGES

Only One of Family Should Work is Their Claim—Very Few Accept Both Husband and Wife.

New York, May 7.—The "50-50" marriage, in which both husband and wife continue as breadwinners after the wedding ceremony has been performed, just as before, and which has found increasing popularity of late, is frowned upon by some of the most important banking institutions in the city.

When the two principals to a romance work in the same bank, one or the other is requested to hand in his resignation after the wedding. In some cases it is the bride who is asked to quit; in other cases the more efficient of the pair is retained and the other is let go.

Efficiency is Factor Here.—In the majority of cases the young woman hands in her resignation as a matter of course, usually quitting a month before the marriage in order to prepare for the event.

EIGHT OF POLICE FORCE SUSPENDED

Allegation of Drinking on Duty at Sand Point

Practically Means Dismissal, Says Commissioner Thornton, and Steps Will be Taken at Once to Bring Force to Strength—Strength Inquiry Also.

A surprise was sprung in police circles last evening when eight policemen were notified by Chief of Police Smith that they had been suspended indefinitely on a charge of drinking while on duty. William Powell, ambulance driver, has also been suspended on the same charge. The policemen involved are Constables Gorman, McAuley, Lobb, Durian, Laird, Phinney, Hart and Blackwell. The alleged offense was said to have been committed in No. 4 Warehouse, Sand Point, on February 6. Commissioner Thornton said last night that but the ambulance driver admitted the offense. The ambulance driver, it is said, denies having been present at the time mentioned. Commissioner Thornton said it was understood that an employee of the Robert Reford Company had given the men liquor. It is said that the policemen were engaged in a drinking party at the time. Chief of Police Smith said this morning that he had nothing to add to what already had been said. Some rearrangements had been necessary in the allocating of beats to policemen and the matter of holidays for members of the force was held up pending some final settlement of the matter of suspension. Many wild rumors were afloat this morning but most of them appeared to have little foundation in fact. The chief denied that there had been any mention of a sergeant being involved in the matter. The indefinite suspension of eight police constables and an ambulance driver by Chief Smith last evening, practically means dismissal, Commissioner Thornton said this morning. He said that no further investigation would be made in the case unless demanded by the suspending officers and steps would be taken immediately to bring the force up to strength by appointing new men to replace those dealt with in the matter. PRAISE GIVEN ST. JOHN GIRL

Miss Marjorie Jean Johnston's Recital at Mt. Allison Much Enjoyed.

(Sackville Tribune).

Beethoven Hall was filled by students and townspeople on Friday evening when Miss Marjorie Jean Johnston of St. John, N. B., gave her graduation recital. Miss Johnston's programme was exceptionally well chosen. Her numbers were not all of a serious vein. The numbers on the programme that might be called "heavy", only served to give this clever reader opportunity to display her versatility and the results of four years excellent training in oratory. By her clever handling of the difficult numbers Miss Johnston won the admiration of all who heard her. Her diction was at all times clear and her well-trained voice was indeed pleasing. Possessed of a fascinating personality, Miss Johnston had no difficulty in holding her hearers and having done so, she portrayed her characters in an exceedingly realistic fashion. In her interpretations she displayed on required occasions a depth of feeling which was truly remarkable. Miss Johnston was greeted by insistent applause after each number and at the end of her final number, the famous scene from "Hamlet" the audience left no doubt as to whether or not they had enjoyed the programme.

Miss Johnston was very ably assisted in her recital by Miss Helen Rankin, soprano, Miss Rebecca Brody, violinist, and Miss Marion Swan, accompanist.

It will be remembered that Miss Johnston played the feminine lead in the College play, "Daddy Long-Legs." Miss Johnston is also Associate Editor of the Mount Allison Weekly and tri-annual publications.

OPERATING OVER OWN LINES

C. P. R. Resumes After Disruption Due to Floods

Montreal Service Resumed and Boston Train Will be in Commission Tonight—Some Branch Lines and Valley Railway Reports.

The first C. P. R. train from Montreal, over their own line, in eight days arrived in the city this morning, and a second, No. 16, was due in the city at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Unless something unforeseen happens the regular schedule over the C. P. R. between Montreal and St. John will continue. Trains both enroute to Montreal and to this city will be running behind their regular schedule because of the fact that the recent floods played havoc with sections of the line from here to McAdam and over their section in Maine, and the repairs so far have been only temporary. Until permanent repairs have been effected the trains will have to run slowly over these sections.

It was announced at C. P. R. headquarters early this afternoon that the regular service between here and Boston will be resumed this evening, the train leaving Union Station at 6:45 local time. Thirty passengers are enroute to St. John from Boston and today reached Calais. From there they will be transferred to St. Stephen and brought to the city tonight over the C. P. line.

J. M. Woodman, general superintendent of the C. P. R. New Brunswick district announced this morning that no time would be lost effecting permanent repairs to his district. He has called a meeting in McAdam tomorrow of all superintendents, engineers and road masters to go into the situation thoroughly and map out a programme which will be undertaken at once. A number of bridges will have to be constructed and large sections of road bed rebuilt.

The water in the St. John river was steadily falling, according to a report received today. This morning the steamer Majestic left Indiantown on her first trip of the season to Cole's Island in the Washademoak. The Premier reached Indiantown last evening about 7 o'clock, after completing her first trip of the season to Chipman and return.

A considerable amount of damage was caused at Crescent Beach on the Sandy Point Road by the freshet. The high water and the wind combined to ruin the main road, and many of the houses were damaged by floating logs.

Fredericton, N. B., May 8.—The C. N. R. is making more rapid progress than anticipated in the repair work after the floods on the Canada Eastern and St. John Valley lines by the employment of large crews.

The C. N. R. sent a train over the Valley line to Woodstock this morning and tomorrow afternoon will start a daily mixed train service from here to Woodstock. Tomorrow night it is hoped to send the first train from Eastern to Newville over the Canada Eastern, although it will take a long time before that line is fully restored.

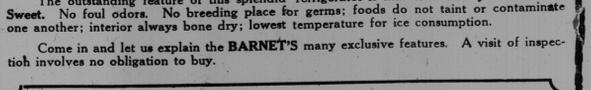

Supt. R. Z. Walker of the C. N. R. said this morning he was hopeful of getting the St. John Valley line from here to Westfield repaired so as to get trains through to St. John by Saturday night. A work train is to go through from here to Fredericton tomorrow morning. It had been hoped to have a train over the Gibson branch of the C. P. R. from Fredericton to Woodstock today, but half a mile of washed away roadbed remained to be repaired today and the starting of the first train over this line was postponed until tomorrow.

Through by Auto.
Fredericton, N. B., May 8.—Allen Grace, formerly of Fredericton but for some years a resident of Boston, and J. Fowler, also of Boston, are here in an automobile in which they came from Boston through the flooded districts of Maine and New Brunswick. They are enroute to St. John. They helped to replace bridges and build temporary structures near Mattawamung and Danforth in Maine, and in order to get here from Woodstock along the St. John River, where several bridges are washed out, they drove their car a considerable distance along the tracks of the Valley Railway.

Indians Revert to Old Customs For a Day

1. Temporary tepee village at Banff. 2. Led by their chief the Indians ride in for the day. 3. Bucking contests are part of the day's program.

Despite the fact that the West is rapidly losing its "wilderness" and that civilization is each year making greater inroads into the country and proving an irresistible attraction for many of the younger men, the Stony Indians of the Morley reserve still retain to a marked degree the characteristics and customs of the days when the prairie was their own. Their name, Stony or Assiniboin, is derived from two Ojibway words, "asin" - stone and "bwin" - to mean "two by roasting," the reference being to their custom of boiling water by dropping red hot stones into it. This custom was discontinued many years ago, but when the Stony's celebrate "Indian Day" at Banff in the summer of each year, many others of their old customs are carried out in pageant, play and all seriousness, and the event is most colorful and interesting on this account.

The whole tribe comes to Banff on horseback, wrinkled grand-parents and young children, youths and maidens and the gaily painted parents of the plump papooses who are dragged behind in the ancient travois. Arrived, and they parade the town in all their paint and glittering bead-work, after which the games at Minto with the C. N. R. is the feast of horsemanship, the tepee striking and pitching contests and other events which please the Indian and delight the visiting pale-face. Indeed it is for the benefit of the visitor that the gala day is held, it having been originally made thirty years ago when a violent storm caused several washouts along the lines traversing the Rockies, and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company invited the Indians to go to Banff and entertain the steam bound travellers. This year the event will be spread over two days, July 16th and 17th, and it is understood that reservations have already been made at the Banff Springs Hotel by many of those who desire to be present again when the Braves enter into friendly contest.

C. N. R. IS TO USE MORE MINTO COAL
Project for a Spur Line of Five Miles to Connect at Chipman.

The Fredericton Gleaser says that an agreement has just been completed between operators of coal mines in the Grand Lake district and the C. N. R. Management whereby much larger quantities of coal from the Minto district will be utilized by the Government railways during the coming year than ever before.

dition to that the expectation is that there will be other developments which will have an important bearing upon the mining industry in the Minto district. This letter arrangement includes construction of a new spur line five miles in length which would give Minto a connection with the C. N. R. on the Transcontinental Division at Chipman. The only thing which stands in the way of much larger immediate contracts for the companies operating in the province with the C. N. R. is said to be the rate charged for the haul from the mines to Chipman, where the C. N. R. officials and the expectation is that the project will be favorably reported upon.

Conference at Montreal. Representatives of the companies operating the mines at Minto, have returned during the last few days after conferences at Montreal with officials of the C. N. R. The contention has been that the C. N. R. should, in fairness, use at least sufficient coal from the Minto district to be used on the C. N. R. during the next year.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION
Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to undergo because of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. Early Use of Concrete

It has been called the "Concrete King," owing to his extensive use of cement in building for nearly half a century.

It is difficult to say who was the first to use reinforced concrete, but there is no doubt that Sir Robert used it 45 years ago in the construction of Burnbank, a village which afterwards became a borough and finally was incorporated with Hamilton. He had always been a great believer in the use of cement for building, and at Burnbank reinforced concrete beams with iron bars. The experience was a daring one as it was regarded as a very doubtful innovation and it was almost impossible to secure money for it. But Sir Robert pressed on and achieved a triumphant success with the novel material. Contracts and orders flowed in from all quarters, and the Empire Stadium and the Great Exhibition buildings at London built with reinforced concrete, will doubtless, prove the crowning triumph of construction in this connection with the building of Burnbank. Sir Robert tells an interesting story. He says that the House of Commons one evening with the late Colonel Denny, M. P. The latter, who was present, was in the habit of wearing a white shirt and a white tie, and he had a white handkerchief in his pocket. He said: "Do you remember the 'handy laborer' at Burnbank?" "If so, well," said Sir Robert, "that was the name we gave him because he was so ready at any job." "Well," said Denny, "I'm sure he was."

Sir Robert always speaks with great respect of Hamilton as a splendid worker and a clean liver. Both qualities appeal to the contractor, who is himself an indefatigable worker and attributes his success mainly to careful living and avoidance of alcohol. He says little about his private life, but he is a man of seventy years of age, and is fond of almost all sports, especially yachting.

SHOW PRODUCTS OF CANADA AND U.S.
New York, May 8.—Plans are nearly complete for the renewal in this city, from July 22 to August 3, of the International Merchandise Fair, an exposition of commodities produced in the U. S. and Canada. It is the largest and most important of its kind in the world, and is expected to resume manufacturing within a few days.

Fire last evening badly damaged the candy manufacturing plant of Frank White at 229 Westworth street. The damage was confined chiefly to the stock. Mr. White said he could not estimate the amount of the damage but that he was severely injured by insurance and he expected to resume manufacturing within a few days.

Sir Robert McAlpine The "Concrete King"
A Notable Career—Still Full of Enthusiasm and Energy for Work and Sport at Age of 78.

Sir Robert McAlpine, head of the great firm of contractors which bears his name, is now in his seventy-seventh year; yet he carries his years as lightly as many men of half his age. Every day he may be seen superintending the building of the Great Exhibition at Wembley, moving with incredible activity for a septuagenarian, and encouraging all engaged on the work by his infectious enthusiasm.

Sir Robert started business life as a builder in a very small way in Lanarkshire, where he was born. In a few years he was the largest builder in the county, running his own brick works and on the lookout for large fields of enterprise. In competition with big contractors he boldly tendered for the construction of a section of the

Of great importance, perhaps, in the minds of American manufacturers and merchants, is the solid foundation of the Canadian financial structure. In a world upset for several years through the cataclysm of the World War, with an almost universal weakening or wiping out of exchange values, the monetary situation in the United States has stood almost at close to 100 per cent. of their face value. Of hardly any other country has this been true, because the desire of American merchants to increase their trade with their great neighbor to the north.

The first National Merchandise Fair was held in Grand Central Palace and the building will be used Decro in this year, together with the 186th (old 99th) Regiment Armory and the Littleton Theatre. The Palace alone will furnish space equivalent to four large city blocks and the other two buildings are huge structures, affording an idea of the enormous scope of the enterprise.

AVALANCHE HITS HAVERHILL HOUSE
Fifty-foot Landslide Lays it Open from Roof to Cellar.

Haverhill, May 8.—Undermined by recent rains, a 50-foot section of a huge brick and cement embankment on the side of Mt. Washington, this city, collapsed recently and, carrying about 20 tons of earth, rocks, trees and cinders down the building, laid it open from roof to cellar.

Severe Kidney Trouble

Mrs. F. Rinehart, Campbellville, Ont., writes:

"I had trouble with my kidneys and very frequent urination. This was followed by pains which at times were very severe. The doctor said I had inflammation of the bladder and that an operation might be necessary. To this I refused, and began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. From the first few doses I felt the benefit. The pains left, urination was corrected, and I have had no recurrence of these ailments."

side and the crash as it struck the house, were heard by many residents of the district. One of them sounded a fire alarm.

Those who were sleeping in the house when the "avalanche" struck it were Mrs. and Mrs. Augustus and their children, Edward and Mary, tenants of the upper floors. Because of its situation on the side of the hill, the house has no door at the front, and the tons of rock and dirt, striking the rear of the building, ripped away the back stairs and wall and left no ordinary means of exit.

National Museum To Get Collection Of Rare Old Coins
Philadelphia, May 1.—(A. P. by mail).—The forthcoming removal of the Philadelphia Mint's invaluable collection of coins, tokens and medals to the National Museum in Washington has aroused a feeling of disappointment in this city.

The collection, begun when the mint was established in 1792, is said to be one of the finest in the world. It comprises 1,688 coins minted and used in the United States since the coming of the colonists. There also are thousands of other coins representing more than forty nations.

It is impossible to estimate the exact value of the collection, which includes specimens of the New England shilling, an almost plain silver dollar, dating from 1651 and made in the first Colonial Mint, established at Boston without the authority of the English Crown.

There are specimens of the "Franklin cent" minted in copper from 1787 on. Because of the expression, "Mind Your Business" engraved on the coin, it was thought Benjamin Franklin was responsible for the design. This has since been considered improbable. The coin was struck in New York by James Harris, who, when Congress contracted to coin 200 tons of copper.

A rare five-cent, or 500 gold piece, minted in 1871, is included in the collection, together with Ephraim Brasher's doubloon, struck by a New York Jeweler in the eighteenth century.

The greater number of coins are those from foreign countries. There are antique coins from Great Britain, France, Greece, Belgium, Norway, Sweden and other European countries. Some of these coins were minted by imperial cities, such as Augsburg and DRECO Greatly Helps Mrs. C. F. Jones—Husband Says She is Like a New Woman Since Taking This Splendid Herbal Remedy.

Dreco is growing daily in popularity because of its certain action on the digestive system. Its power to relieve constipation, indigestion, headache, gas in the stomach, belching, bloating, flatulency and other distressing symptoms, all of which are traceable to poor digestion. Many people enthusiastically testify to the results obtained from Dreco as, for instance, Mr. C. F. Jones, of 138 Mecklenburg Street, St. John, N. B., who says, on behalf of Mrs. Jones:

"Dreco has made my wife feel like a new woman. Before she used Dreco she was terribly run down in health and was feeling very sick. She had stomach trouble and indigestion of the worst kind. Everything she ate seemed to make her feel as though she was losing weight. She read about Dreco and on her third bottle now. She can eat almost anything and is gaining weight. Dreco certainly is a wonderful tonic."

Dreco is made from roots, herbs, bark and leaves of established medicinal value, and does not contain mercury, opium or any habit-forming drug. It aids the stomach to digest the food; corrects constipation and purifies the blood. Dreco is pleasant to take and prompt to act. It is a splendid spring tonic and regulator.

Canadian Mothers Have Healthy Children
WHY? READ THIS!
London, Ont.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was so beneficial to me that I felt it my duty to send this statement for publication, so that it may be of help to other young mothers. During my last expected period I felt just miserable, nauseated so that I could not retain my food, my back ached and I just seemed to ache and pain all over. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription put me in perfect physical condition. I was able to eat my meals without that awful sick feeling and I kept well and strong right up to date. My baby seemed to be benefited, too—was as strong and healthy as a baby could be. I think so much of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as an aid to nature in motherhood that I would not go through expectancy without its help."—Mrs. Ernest Morris.

U. S. DRUG EVIL FOUND TREBLED IN TWO YEARS

Forty Times More Narcotics Than in Any Other White Nation

Experts Urge Curb on Production—Alcoholism Also Declared Gaining Enormously in Face of Prohibition.

Washington, May 7.—Appeals for immediate conclusion of an international agreement limiting world production of opium and other habit-forming drugs marked the opening sessions here last week of the National Anti-Narcotic Conference, called to organize a national-wide programme for combating the evil.

In one of the opening addresses Eugene C. Bromeyer, legislative representative of the National Association of Retail Druggists, emphasized the point that the problem facing the country concerned directly the illicit smuggling and peddling of "drugs." Physicians and druggists are not responsible, according to Bromeyer, Secretary of State Hamilton, of New York, and Dr. William A. Pearson, dean of Hahnemann Medical College, of Philadelphia.

"The responsibility for drug addiction does not rest either with the medical profession or with retail druggists," said Mr. Bromeyer. "Official reports show that only a fraction of 1 per cent of the habit-forming drugs used for illegal purposes filter out through these two sources.

Smugglers Defy Ban. "Smuggling on a wholesale scale and peddling by a village group are the cause of the drug habit. The Federal Government is impotent to stop it. Law has failed to break it.

"The only remedy I champion is the limitation of the production of opium and other drugs," continued Mr. Bromeyer. "That is a rational policy and the only one likely to be effective. I think there should be some international agreement on this point.

"If we could limit the production and sale of opium to legitimate medical purposes, we would have no dope problem."

Dr. George M. Kober, dean of Georgetown Medical School, permanent chairman of the conference, said that "alcoholism and drug addiction are on the increase in the United States despite prohibition and legislative restriction, and he urged education of children and normal recreation to combat the evil influences that are undermining the country.

Forty Times More in U. S. "Although America is on a higher intellectual plane than any other country," he said, "forty times as much drugs are consumed here per capita as in any other of the white nations."

To show that prohibition was not causing the hoped-for restriction in the use of liquor Dr. Kober read statistics giving the increase from about Elizabeth's in 1920 to about 6000 in 1922.

Dr. Wilfred F. Barton, former president of the Washington Medical Society, pointed to the fact that 1,000 tons of narcotics were produced in India and Asia yearly, where only three and a half tons were required for legitimate purposes. The use of drugs in the United States has trebled in the last two years, he said, and now Americans are using seventeen times as much per capita as the Chinese.

Sinister Side of Evil. The most sinister side of the evil comes of the use of unsterilized hypodermic needles, Dr. James A. Hamilton, former New York State Commissioner of Correction, told the conference. They help on the ravages of addiction many skin diseases, he declared. Dr. Hamilton said he had been in charge of 11,000 cases of drug addiction and that the history of the majority of them was along this line.

"Small envelopes called checks are given the young addicts at first for sniffing purposes," he said. "Soon they discard sniffing and take to the injection method. After that they are lost."

Scientists Combine Yeast With Iron To Make Greatest Tonic and Health Builder

For the first time you can get the utmost of health-building benefit from yeast. Scientists have accomplished this in Ironised Yeast by combining iron with yeast in a way that revitalizes the blood and increases the number of red corpuscles in the life stream. Thousands are taking advantage of this new method of building strength.

The iron supplies the vim and stay-the-power of healthy nerve force to pale, weak, thin blood while the yeast is putting firm, solid flesh on your bones. Ironised Yeast is the scientific way of building up run-down people and brings improvement that you can feel in as short a time as ten days.

Scientists now agree that brewer's yeast is the richest source of vitamins known. So thousands of pale, sick and underweight people are gaining health and strength through Ironised Yeast, which is a combination of iron and other valuable tonic ingredients with yeast imported from Best's Ale Brewery, England, and especially concentrated under the process recommended by Dr. A. Seidell of the Hygienic Laboratory of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Get Ironised Yeast from your druggist today. It is convenient and pleasant to take, being in handy tablet form. The ten-day treatment costs only $1.00. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results or your money will be cheerfully refunded.

The W. A. of St. John's (Stone) church held its closing meeting for this season yesterday afternoon when Mrs. A. L. Fleming entertained the members at the rectory. There was a large attendance and the meeting was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Percival Foster read a paper on "Service" which was a splendid inspiration. The president, Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, was in the chair. A resolution of deep sympathy was extended to Mrs. Leonard Tilley in her recent bereavement.

MANY APPROVE OF TRAVEL PERMIT TO GO IN THE FORESTS

Department of Lands and Mines Receives Flood of Letters Commending Registration—Will Keep Keen Watch For Possible Forest Fires.

Federicton, N. B., May 7.—Although floods and rains have inundated a considerable portion of the province during a period usually considered as the beginning of the forest fire season, forestry officials anticipate a dry period following a return to normal conditions which will be a period of increased fire hazard.

With the run-off of the flood waters, conditions which have occurred in previous years are expected to be repeated. Consequently, while the summer menace to New Brunswick's forests has been temporarily removed, foresters are not overly sanguine with regard to the coming season, and the usual precautions will be fully observed.

The no-forest-fire record for the month of April this year has established a record which has not been made during all the years in which records of early fires have been compiled.

The announcement of the new forest travel registration scheme, which went into effect officially on May 1, has been met with hearty response according to the flood of letters which have already been received at the office of the Forest Service Branch of the Department of Lands and Mines. Approval of the new method and promises of hearty co-operation in its enforcement are the features apparent in these communications.

PISTOL IS CALLED CURSE OF AMERICA

Police of Nations for World Ban on Firearms.

New York, May 7.—An international agreement between nations to restrict the manufacture and sale of firearms and other weapons used by criminals was recommended recently by police heads from all parts of the world at the international police conference.

The use of firearms is the greatest problem facing peace in Ireland, Gen. E. O'Duffy, head of the civic guards of Dublin, reported. Armed criminals operated in the guise of patriots, he said, because for the last six years British occupation forces and later the Irish Free State government had been too busy quelling rebellion to deal with individuals.

"We have had to resort to executions to suppress the use of firearms," Gen. O'Duffy said. "Only by making the carrying of firearms a capital offence have we made progress."

This Morning Millions removed the film

You know them by their whiter teeth. When you see pretty teeth, remember this. There is now a new way of teeth cleaning. Millions of people employ it. All the world over leading dentists advise it.

That dingy film. Teeth are made dingy by a film—that vicious film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. Film also holds food substance.

Now different. Now you can combat it. Dental science has found two effective ways. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring. Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was Created, based on modern research, and these two great film destroyers were embodied in it. That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Careful people of some 50 nations are employing it today.

Research proved other things essential. So Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids. Pepsodent is bringing a new dental era through these unique effects.

New beauty comes. Pepsodent brings whiter teeth, cleaner, safer teeth, and quickly. One week will prove this to you. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the vicious film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

A CLEVER GROUP OF AMATEURS.

These are the young people of the North End who scored a hit last night in their production, the Japanese comic opera, "Yokohama Maid."

Yokohama Maid, a bright and tuneful Japanese comic opera, was capably presented in St. Peter's Auditorium last evening under the auspices of St. Peter's Young Women's Association. A large and appreciative audience was in attendance and how thoroughly they enjoyed the performance was manifested by their frequent and hearty applause. The soloists made a decided hit, their voices being well suited to the lyric roles they sang and their acting throughout being pleasing and consistent. Special mention should be made of the two leading characters, Miss Florence Kierwin and Fred Joyce. The opera was gorgeously costumed and the stage settings appropriate and very pretty, the chorus was strong and their voices blended into rich harmony, making the production one of real musical merit. One of the features of the opera was the dancing of a number of little girls as Japanese dolls. The opera was under the direction of Rev. James Moran, C. S. R., and he deserves credit for the excellence of the performance. It will be repeated again tonight and tomorrow night.

Panama Years For Piping Days Of Revolutions

United States Regarded as Tyrant Reeking With Law and Order - New Treaty is Demanded - Bridge Over Canal, Panama, May 8.—Panama is working for a new treaty with the United States. Surprising as it may seem to most Americans, and especially to those who have visited the isthmus and seen the golden harvest of the American activity and enterprise—not to mention the hard, constant work to keep the country healthy—the Panama business man regards Uncle Sam as a ruthless and tyrannical exploiter.

the canal against ships of the world. America has paid $10,000,000 for this sovereignty to Panama and is paying $250,000 a year besides. She also has paid $25,000,000 to Colombia for depriving her of Panama. Stamp Revenue Cited. Some of the American officials here also point out that under an agreement made by President Taft the United States, in a very generous way, compels Panama Zone residents to use stamps of the republic. This means a revenue to Panama of $60,000 a year, for which the great absolutely no service.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The third trial of Ralph Miles, on a charge of the murder of his former sweetheart, Florence Miles, ended yesterday in a verdict of not guilty after three and a half hours disagreement. Little public interest was evidenced. The four-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Druet of Chatham, died at the hospital there on Sunday night as a result of burns sustained when her clothing caught fire from a lamp. Mrs. Druet was badly burned in a vain attempt to save the child's life. Attorney-General W. J. O'Hearn of Nova Scotia, last night issued instructions for the arrest of Malcolm Bruce, editor of the Worker, Toronto, if the words he was alleged to have used in a speech at Glace Bay on Sunday were found to have been used.

WILL FIGHT MILK CUT

It was announced last night that a mass meeting of the Kings County Producers' Association would be held shortly. A meeting of the Sussex, Norton and Apohaqui producers was held last night in Apohaqui at which the reported effort on the part of the St. John dealers to bring about a cut in the price of milk was discussed. It is understood that the producers will fight the cut. The training school committee of the General Public Hospital met last night in conference with the superintendent of nurses, Miss Margaret Murdoch, and discussed matters of importance.

STAFF MATTERS AT THE HOSPITAL

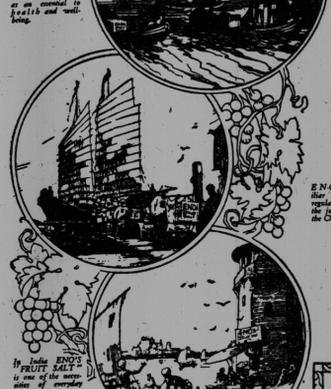

Matter of Increasing Number of Internes Discussed - Two Applications Received.

The matter of keeping the interne staff at the General Public Hospital up to the full number was emphasized yesterday at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners. The appointment of the visiting staff was deferred until a matter concerning the legality of the constitution is looked into. M. S. Agar presided. Mrs. J. V. McLellan drew attention to the by-law providing that no member might remain on the visiting staff after he had reached sixty years of age. She said she understood that the regulation had never been approved by the Governor-in-Council. It was decided to lay the matter over until May 14. The application of Walter Chestnut of Sussex for a position on the interne staff was received, and also a conditional application from M. Evans, son of Percy

Evans. The sub-district Board of Health sent a supplementary bill of $440.68 for fuel and cleaning in the Isolation Hospital when epidemic patients were being cared for there. The report of the superintendent told of 205 patients admitted, 222 discharged and 143 remaining, with an average of 142.5, as compared with averages in April of other years as follows: 1918, 118.4; 1919, 119.5; 1920, 124.15; 1921, 133.8; 1922, 134.3. There were eighty-one operations in the operating room and twenty-three in the out-patient department. Miss B. Bonnell had taken up her duties as pupil dietitian. Because of railway disorganization the hospital had been without four nurses while they were five days en route to Montreal for training in maternity work and those returning had not arrived. J. Hughes was appointed orderly, filling the duties of J. Creary now doing gardeners work. The hydro-electric canvassers had approached the hospital. It was said the hydro-electric contract called for alternating current only. It was pointed out that the elevator and the food lifts were worked by direct current. The section regarding hydro electric power, Mr. Kelley moved, should be laid over. In amendment Dr. Roberts moved that information regarding the cost of a transformer be secured and the amendment carried unanimously. Dr. Ryan said a city institution would have to use hydro current.

The financial statistics showed total receipts of $12,967.98 including paid patients, $4,010.77; X-ray, $960.50; city chamberlain, $7,016.94. Expenditures were $15,813 and the balance was $10,553.99. The report of the superintendent of nurses told of sixty-seven nurses enrolled, including eleven probationers. Three were ill and two were called home by illness. Since the first of the year there were five operations for members of the nursing staff. A member of salary for Miss Ada Hoyt, night nurse, was recommended by Miss Murdoch, and Miss Murdoch asked the board to send her to the June meeting of the Canadian Association of Nursing Education in Toronto. Dietician's Report. The dietitian's report drew attention to the slight increase in cost of foods due to the season of the year and some special foods having been necessary. She pointed out private patients might obtain any kind of food that could be purchased. Miss Hamon reported also that the diet kitchen was much too small for the present increased hospital population. The number of meals served was 23,610 in April. It was said in two months the cost of each meal in the hospital had increased by 1.7 cents. The matron's report told of details of cleaning done, and 348 new articles of linen made and put in use. Dr. Ryan asked that the hospital drugs be bought from the National and the Canadian Drug companies in equal amounts. Mr. Kelley recommended a system of requisitions should be adopted for buying supplies. The tender of the St. John Window Cleaning Company for cleaning the outside of windows was awarded at $135. Nurses' Memorial. The St. John chapter of the Graduate Nurses' Association offered as a memorial to Anna Stammers to furnish a boys' ward, which ward they felt was a necessity. The letter was received and it was decided to ask the nurses to send representatives to a meeting of the board. It was said there was no space in the building for such a ward. Bills totalling $15,894.36 were ordered paid. When the $4,000 was received from the marine department there would be a balance of $4,705.24. Mr. McMillan was appointed commissioner for the month. At a meeting of the St. Vincent's Alumnae last evening, plans were made for holding a badminton tournament on May 18 and 19. Miss Mary Chalmers president. Two prizes, $10 and $5, were voted towards the essay competition of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae. The sum of $25 was voted to Miss Anna Hoyt, now teaching in the west, to be used towards the erection of a chapel in her district.

ENO carries GOOD HEALTH to THE ENDS of THE EARTH

WHEREVER the British race has journeyed, ENO's "Fruit Salt" has followed in its train. The builders and guardians of our vast Empire—soldiers, sailors and pioneers—all know and value ENO as an ever-helpful passport to health, which is valid in every clime, from the Poles to the Equator.

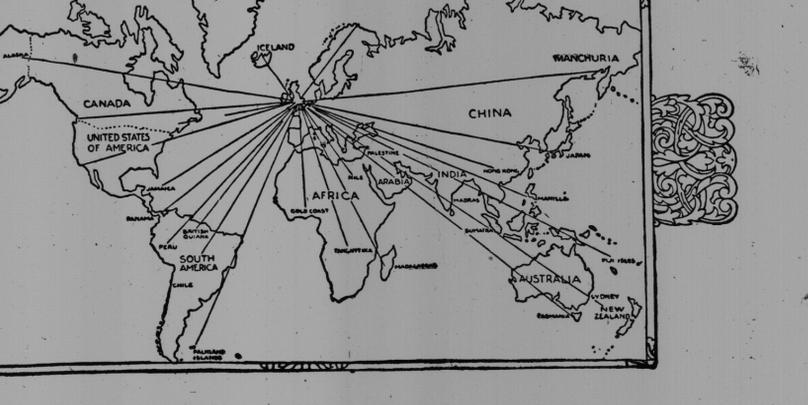

From the shadow of the minarets, from the icepacks of the North, from the torrid wastes of the desert, come demands for ENO's "Fruit Salt" and messages of praise and appreciation of its virtues. No substitute can ever fill its place or supplant its unique and world-wide reputation.

The particular merit of ENO lies in the purity of its composition and the unvarying high standard of its quality. ENO contains no drastic mineral salts and, therefore, is harmless and has no lowering effects. It is a pleasant, effervescent saline, cooling and invigorating. It stimulates the digestive and other organs of the body to gentle and natural action, and thus purifies the bloodstream, tones up the whole system and imparts a delightful sense of physical well-being. ENO stands to-day unique and supreme among salines. It possesses an individuality that cannot be copied.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"

The value of ENO is unequalled at its price, even if judged merely by quantity for quantity or dose for dose. For with ENO there is no waste—every particle dissolves—whether you take it in warm or cold water. There is no gritty residue—nothing nauseating—nothing left over. English in origin and make, it has, during half-a-century of well-doing, established a reputation unique in the history of human welfare. Its efficacy and its gentle, natural method have received the widest endorsement of the medical profession.

HARDING VISITS NEW TRIBUNE PLANT; MAKES UP EDITORIAL PAGE

First Telling of His Union Card, President Proves He Is Still a Real Printer After Tour of Inspection Through Model System; Wife Starts Presses.

(Frederick B. Edwards in New York Tribune)

The editorial page of this issue of The Tribune was "made up" by Warren Gamaliel Harding, publisher of "The Marion (Ohio) Star," and for the moment, only incidentally, President of the United States.

President Harding and his party visited The Tribune's model new plant at 225 West Fortieth street at midnight, coming to the Tribune office direct from the performance of the "Music Box Revue." For more than an hour the President dropped the cares of office from his shoulders, set international problems aside and immersed himself completely in the delights of "putting the paper to bed."

Found It Lot of Fun.

This is not hyperbole. To some members of the Presidential party the trip to the Tribune office was just another one of those things required of people in a Presidential party, but to the President and his wife it was a lot of fun. They had not been in the plant five minutes before they were completely at home.

The President and his retinue arrived at about 11:30. They were taken immediately to the editorial rooms on the fifth floor in an elevator which had been reserved for their use. The proud chap who operated the elevator was Eddie Murphy, who admitted he was glad when his responsibilities ended.

On the fifth floor the party was greeted by Ogden Reid and Mrs. Reid, who took personal charge of the tour of inspection which followed. The various members of the editorial staff were introduced to the President and Mrs. Harding.

Reads About Himself.

The inspection began with the room which houses The Associated Press automatic typewriters and the other news service machines. These ingenious contrivances particularly attracted Mrs. Harding, and she laughed gaily when the President, reading the running copy in the first machine, found that he was reading the story of his visit to the theatre.

"You came just in time to read about yourself," she said.

In the telegraph room, which adjoins the service machine alley, the President proved himself a true newspaper man by refusing to break in on Joseph Remington, a veteran Western Union operator and one of the old-timers of the Tribune office. "Remmy," intent upon a story which he was receiving, failed to notice the entrance of the Presidential party, which is nothing unusual for a telegraph operator absorbed in his machine. The rest of the force, less intently occupied, rose in a group to meet the President, but "Remmy" stayed at his key.

The handshaking procedure was over and "Remmy" remained oblivious of everything except his work. Mrs. Harding, as the President turned to go, remarked to him:

"You didn't shake hands with the little man. I think that's rather a shame, because he's the only one who's working."

Smiling, the President walked to the corner of the room where Remington stuck by his key.

"I'm sorry to break in on you," he said, and the operator jumped as though he had been shocked by his own wire.

"Sorry, Mr. President," he said, as they shook hands, "I didn't notice you were here. Pleased to meet you."

It was in the composing room that President Harding reached his supreme height. The make-up man on the editorial page for the evening was Alexander Grant Torrey, Jr., another Tribune veteran and a staunch Democrat. The President as he approached the form which yawned for the galley of editorial matter set alongside it was surrounded by a group of expert-printers intent upon the coming performance, keen to criticize and equally ready to applaud. One of the first things the President did was to tell of holding a card and shake hands with George Beatty, the chairman of the Tribune chapel of "Big Six."

The photographers posed the President and Mrs. Harding with Torrey and J. T. Bardsley, the composing room foreman, while a half dozen flashlight pictures were taken.

The pose called for the President to take his position on the wrong side of the form, and with true printer's instinct he refused to touch a piece of type while the pictures were being taken. Immediately the camera men announced "all set" he moved around the table and picked up his first "take" of type.

A performance utterly amusing to those who had formed the idea that President Harding was merely a "picture printer" followed. With unerring accuracy and speed the President picked up take after take and dropped them into the form in the proper position. He worked with both hands, a custom which adheres to Ohio from long tradition and was strangely new to some of the New York experts who watched it.

Doesn't Miss a Line.

The President completed the first column of the page without missing a line. He repeated this performance with another column, and when he had completed the tally he was just one line short.

By this time the Presidential hands were all grimed with ink and the white Presidential vest had an ink streak clear across it, but the Presidential smile was getting more and more illuminating with every motion. If ever a man thoroughly enjoyed himself a his work it was President Harding at that moment.

Faced with the problem of a column one line short, the President picked up a handful of leads and prepared to insert them. "Torry," watching his job develop under the Presidential fingers, indicated a spot where a lead might conveniently be inserted. This may or may not have been done with cunning intent to confuse, for the spot which Torrey pointed out was immediately before a dash placed to connote the end of an editorial. Leads in this particular spot are taboo to all good printers.

The President's eyes sparkled as he looked up at the make-up Democrat, and winked.

"I wouldn't put it there," he said, and the printer grinningly confessed defeat.

"He's a master printer," Torrey said, as the President swiftly completed his task of leading the page out and malletted the type solidly home.

Meanwhile Mrs. Harding had been watching with much interest the making up of a news page under the hands of Joe Bardsley, she displayed a keen appreciation, too, of "Ding's" daily cartoon which she studied from the proof and in the original cut.

From the composing room the party, piloted by Howard Davis, business manager of The Tribune, George Hafnager, the building superintendent, and A. H. Burns, the engineer, passed to the steam tables and to the press rooms on the floor below.

There the party was taken over by John J. Lynch, the press room foreman under the guidance Mrs. Harding pressed the button which started the double battery of monster presses on their nightly run. The detail of the room absorbed the interest of both the President and his wife, and they took a keen delight in the operation of the automatic roll change, which enables the huge rolls of newsprint to be shot into position without the necessity of stopping the presses.

Whole System Admired.

Their comments on this, as on every other detail of the vast equipment, indicated their admiration of the whole scheme, in detail and in the mass. They repeatedly asked for information regarding this or that detail and nodded delightedly at the manner in which the various details were planned to dovetail one into another as explained to them.

In the mail room Mrs. Harding was obviously completely at home. Leaning across a table to shake hands with George Hirsch, one of the handlers, she commented—

"This seems familiar to me. The mail room is my specialty. I used to run our mail room in Marion."

To Claude H. Sandham, the circulation manager, the President expressed his congratulations again, and as the party left the whole mailroom force broke into a spontaneous cheer.

Although there had been no previous notice of the President's visit to The Tribune, a great crowd had gathered in front of the building, attracted by the presence of the police body-guard. There was a further outburst of cheering as the party left the building and passed into the automobile which awaited them.

From the Tribune office the party went directly to the Pennsylvania station, where the Presidential car was attached to the 12:45 train for Washington.

MIDDLEBURY'S GHOST IS CHASED TO ITS LAIR

Dublin, reported. Armed criminals sense and the application of a simple law of physics has chased back to its lair the Middlebury college "ghost," in which even Conan Doyle himself expressed an interest. Edwin Long, of Greenfield, Mass., a sophomore, has been awarded the prize offered by the student newspaper for an explanation of how a face of a man came to appear on a photograph taken through a window of the old chapel at night.

Conan Doyle was shown the picture, but although he expressed deep interest in the apparently ectoplasmic figure, he refused to make a statement concerning its nature because he was not present when it was taken.

Back on the campus, however, Long was busy looking for a natural solution of the mystery. Several oil portraits hang in the rear of the room from which the photograph was taken, and the practical-minded sophomore became convinced that one of them had a lot to do with the case.
