PRICE-FIXING MAY BE RESULT OF RUMBLINGS

Protests From All Over Dominion at Present Prices Reach Ottawa

(Special to The Toronto Star.) Ottawa, Ont., June 18.—Rumblings of protest against the rapid rise of retail prices throughout the Dominion and against the lack of action of the Food Board to prevent or stem it, are reaching the government from various parts of Canada. The Labor Department's figures continue to show startling increases in retail prices of almost all the necessities of life, despite "price fixing" in the case of certain wholesale commodities.

Comparative prices between Winnipeg and Minneapolis are given. For instance, eggs sell for thirty-five cents in Minneapolis and for forty-two cents in Winnipeg; bacon twenty-seven cents a pound in Minneapolis and forty-five cents in Winnipeg; bananas for twenty cents in Minneapolis, and for forty in Winnipeg. These Winnipeg prices are practically those of the rest of the Dominion. The Canada Food Board has fixed prices in the case of certain wholesale commodities—namely in the case of flour. And in the case of flour a report recently published states that the limiting of profits has not been limited at all, since the mills never made the profit allowed.

The next few weeks may bring forth protests from various parts of the Dominion, which will force the government to inaugurate at least a modified system of price fixing for the consumer.

A new order has been passed affecting the sardine industry of the province. The new ruling provides that the maximum price for sardines at the wharves, along the coast of New Brunswick, will be 85¢ per bushel for the entire season.

Two men arrested on drunkenness charges were before Magistrate Ritchie in the police court yesterday afternoon. They were sent back into jail and warned that they were liable to a fine of $25.

Thomas Conzolino of Sydney left last evening for Montreal in search of laborers for the Valley railroad. He said the labor situation is daily growing worse. He said he favored the scheme to bring coolies into this country from China.

Privates Abbott and Whitley, who were held in custody on suspicion of stealing a telephone cash box from Cameron's drug store in Charlotte street, were given their freedom yesterday as there was not sufficient evidence for a conviction.

In order to bolster up the revenue of the department, Commissioner Bullock has decided to increase the rates on city wharves. He considers the existing rates too low and will raise them for wharfage, storage and rental. The question of repairing Quinn's wharf is undecided. It is understood the department is willing to dispose of this property to George Dick for $12,000.

"DRY" FORGES WEAKEN

Some Senators Object to Cutting Revenue by Enforcing Prohibition

Washington, June 18.—War time prohibition seems doomed to defeat so far as the senate is concerned. Coupled with the president's opposition to adoption of prohibition as a rider to an agricultural bill, discussion has developed in the ranks of the prohibition forces. Many of the strongest "dry" declared openly that they will not support the sudden shutting off of beer and light wines for two reasons—the loss of a large amount of revenue, and the effect on the nation's morale.

"It would be a serious reduction in our revenues," said a prominent democratic "dry" senator, who declined at present to allow the use of his name.

"With a new tax bill being framed, and immense revenues needed, we should not deprive ourselves of a sum so considerable as that taken in from beer and light wines."

In addition, the sudden cutting off of these beverages would, as the president has pointed out, create a situation which might become serious. It would put the nation to drinking whiskey. While the whiskey now on hand would not last long, yet the removal of all alcoholic beverages suddenly would have a bad effect.

"Again, this is an unconstitutional way of getting prohibition. We should either wait for adoption of the constitutional amendment or enact a resolution for prohibition."

Senator Sheppard, prohibition leader, said it mattered little to him whether the end he seeks is accomplished through an amendment to a food or under an original resolution. He declined to comment on the president's opposition, expressed to Senator Smith of South Carolina.

Members of the committee on agriculture indicated the belief that the committee will quietly strike out the Rand-

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulled coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and ceases the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, shiny and easy to manage.

You can get mulled coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

(Toilet Talk)

Any woman can keep her skin free from unsightly hair or fuzz if she will follow these simple instructions: When hairy growths appear, apply a simple paste, made by mixing some water with powdered delonix. Apply this to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a harmless treatment, but be sure you get the real delonix.

"AMERICANS FOR AMERICA"

An article by David Lawrence in the Saturday Evening Post sheds a flood of light on the difficulty of the situation which confronted President Wilson before war was declared on Germany. Not only is it now known that a German propaganda had been carried on for years with the deliberate purpose of demoralizing America, but that its success in some states had been so great as to shock the nation when the facts were revealed by documents submitted recently to the senate. In the words of Mr. Lawrence:

"That dread German Kultur, which has hypnotized a nation beyond the Rhine and driven it into mad combat with the world has been preached and practiced in our schools, colleges, churches, and its sinister hand placed on our political parties to bring about the choice of persons in federal, state and municipal elections favorable to Germany."

The president of the National German American Alliance said in 1915:—

"We will not permit our Kultur of two thousand years to be trodden down in this land (the United States). Many were born here and many are giving our German Kultur to the land of their children. But that is possible only if we stand together."

How well they stood together is shown in the statement that there are 401 public schools in which German is the only language taught, and that in Wisconsin, Nebraska, the Dakotas and some other states public money has been spent largely for the maintenance of exclusively German schools, where English is the foreign tongue.

All this is now being changed. The different states have been aroused and drastic legislation has been adopted. In no proper sense, Mr. Lawrence's article sets out very fully the whole German policy of poisoning public opinion in the United States long before the war began. But the country is now wide awake. Its sons are giving their lives on European battlefields to crush the very Kultur which had so insistently sought to Germanize their native land, and those at home will know how to deal with even the whisperers who seek to impede the onward march to victory.

The heart-rending, now going on in the great democracy will be followed by a steady rising tide of wrath against the whole tribe of Germany, at home and abroad. As Mr. Lawrence points out, the Munro doctrine did not reckon with the policy of "peaceful penetration" adopted by the National German American Alliance, but the awakening has come in good time, and "America for the Americans" must hereafter be supplemented by the dictum "Americans for America."

CROPS AND THE WAR

The May Bulletin of Agricultural Statistics says that 96 per cent of the fall wheat of Ontario was winter killed. For all Canada the area that will produce a crop of fall wheat is reduced from 699,100 acres to 388,000 acres. The yield will be 29 per cent below the average for the past nine years.

It is fortunate that to offset this serious reduction there is a large increase in the acreage of spring wheat. A statement issued last week says:—

"The total area sown to wheat for the whole of Canada for 1918 is estimated at 1,090,900 acres, as compared with 1,125,800 acres, the finally established figure for 1917. The area to be harvested of fall wheat is 388,000 acres, and the area sown to spring wheat is 1,574,800 acres, so that the increase of the latter as compared with 1917 is 1,212,200, or 12 per cent. The area sown to oats is placed at 18,799,000 acres, as compared with 18,218,400 acres last year, an increase of 580,600 acres, or 3.2 per cent. The acreage of barley is 2,998,800, as compared with 2,992,200 in 1917, of rye 294,480, as against 211,890; of peas, 300,480, as against 198,881; of mixed grains, 608,280, as against 497,284; of hay and clover, 8,200,800, as against 8,228,284, and of alfalfa 108,800, as against 109,285.

"The areas sown this year to wheat, oats, barley and rye are the highest on record for Canada."

If the spring wheat should yield well and be harvested in good condition it will be a very satisfactory crop situation, but the demand for food for the Allied nations in Europe will be so enormous that Canada must release the largest possible portion of her crop for export. As a matter of fact the people of the United States are today showing a keener desire to use substitutes for wheat than has yet been shown in Canada. The relation of the food supply to the winning of the war cannot be too strongly emphasized. There will be grave hunger in the world for a considerable time after the war is over.

Last week marked the first anniversary of the arrival of the vanguard of the American army in France. The Germans at that time desisted and they sneered but the year has brought a change. They find they cannot ridicule President Wilson's army with any greater degree of success than they did the "contemptible little army" with which England began her share of the fighting.

WELL DONE SOUTH END

The meeting held in the assembly hall of the King Edward school last evening may well be the beginning of a neighborhood community movement which will be of great benefit. This ground for the boys. The pastors of two of the churches were there, and there was an excellent representation of older men who were formerly active in athletics as representatives of the south end. The ladies also were there, and a fine spirit of community fellowship prevailed. With such a beginning, if a playground can be secured, there should be a new and brighter era for the boys. Rev. H. A. Cody must have been deeply gratified with the response to the appeal of his recent letter, and his personal efforts to get public sentiment crystallized into action. If we had good neighborhood playgrounds in different parts of the city there would be developed a healthy rivalry in clean athletic sports which would quickly make the big athletic field at the entrance to Rockwood Park the arena of competitions in which St. John would not be put in the shade by the athletes of any other community in the province. But, more important than that, the boys of St. John would be built up physically by clean sport and given an entirely different outlook. They would not be young outlaws dodging the police in their efforts to give expression to the play instinct that is in them. The city council may very well ally itself with a healthy community movement of this sort. To discourage it would be to hamper the development of that community spirit which is so great an asset to any city. It may well be that we are at the beginning of a development which will bear lasting fruit. The south end folk have set a fine example. The older boys overseas would be very glad to know that their younger brothers were to have the opportunity for free play which is so essential to real manhood growth.

For Playground In South End

Public Meeting Decides to Take Action—Will Interview Council This Afternoon

A delegation from the south end of the city will wait upon the city council this afternoon with an appeal to have the section of ground at the foot of St. James and Britain streets cleaned up and converted into a baseball diamond and athletic field.

This course was decided upon at a very representative public meeting of south end citizens, both ladies and gentlemen, held in the assembly hall of the King Edward school last evening.

King Edward school last evening

If a favorable reply is received an organization will be formed at a later meeting to head up the project so that play will be properly organized under the leadership of south end citizens interested in healthy sports for the boys.

In spite of the unfavorable state of the weather the meeting was largely attended. At the outset A. M. Belding was elected chairman, on the motion of R. E. Armstrong, seconded by John I. Power. Rev. George Scott was named secretary of the proceedings. His name was put in nomination by Rev. S. S. Poole, seconded by William C. Cross.

The chairman outlined the present status of the movement in the city looking to the establishment of neighborhood playgrounds and athletic fields in the different quarters of the city. He and Rev. Mr. Cody had looked over the situation in the south end and had come to the conclusion that a portion of ground lying along Courtenay Bay between St. James and Britain streets could be secured. This with a vacant lot adjoining which might also be got would make a playground and baseball diamond. In conclusion he called upon Rev. Mr. Cody who in introducing the resolution said the ground in question was far from being ideal for the purposes in view. Still there was no other obtainable and they must just make the best of a bad situation.

The resolution was seconded by Thos. Killen but before it was put to the meeting Mr. Alward objected that the field was too small for a baseball field even with the addition of the vacant lot. Engineer Hatfield, however, said although the property was undoubtedly small there was no trouble in making it quite big enough for the purposes intended. The chairman also, while admitting the baseball diamond would not be fit for professional ball, yet pointed out the boys of the south end would have fine opportunities upon it and after all it was worth while to cater to their needs.

Mr. Armstrong, while he also regretted the smallness of the proposed baseball diamond, yet thought it would be distinctly worth while for the south end to endeavor to acquire it and clean it up as it was a disgrace to the city in the present condition.

In reply to a question by the chairman Engineer Hatfield said that he estimated the cost of cleaning up the lot at between $400 and $500.

F. L. Potts said that he was born in the south end of the city and had lived in it all his life. He took a great deal of interest in everything that was for the benefit of the people of that section and he was prepared, if necessary, to give $50 towards the expense of having this work done. As he looked upon the present scheme it was merely a temporary expedient. What they ought to look forward to and work for would be a large permanent playground. (Applause.)

At this point Engineer Hatfield said there was another vacant lot on the south side of Britain street which might be secured and Mr. Potts remarked the city had power to expropriate land for necessary purposes and they should make it clear to the council that this was one. It was then moved and carried that a committee of seven be appointed to wait upon the council at 8 o'clock this afternoon. Their names were A. M. Belding, Rev. H. A. Cody, Thos. Killen, F. L. Potts, John I. Power, Mrs. Hoyt, and Miss Stella Payne.

There was a general discussion participated in by Messrs. Armstrong, Power, Killen, Mrs. W. C. Good and others. F. H. Quirt, Messrs. Armstrong and Hatfield represented the Rotary Club.

The chairman reminded the meeting that the appointment of the committee was only the first step in the work and that it would be necessary for them to form a permanent organization which might superintend the sports of the boys on the ground when it had been put into shape. He expressed the thanks of the gathering to R. E. Emerson, chairman of the board of school trustees, for the use of the assembly hall.

After it had been decided to meet again at the call of the chair the meeting adjourned. Later Mayor Hayes was communicated with and the committee will be given a hearing this afternoon.

KILL THE SLUGS.

These soft bodied molluscs are decidedly destructive in vegetable gardens. They are liable to attack any kind of plant. They are nocturnal in habit, hiding during the day beneath stones, clods of earth, etc. As they come out to feed in the evening an excellent remedy is to spread broadcast over the soil, before nightfall, freshly slaked lime. This adheres to their bodies and soon kills them. Three applications on consecutive evenings are advisable. Slugs, placed here and there throughout infested gardens under low growing plants, will attract many slugs, for they will form suitable shelters for the little creatures and, incidentally, will lure them to their doom. If the slugs are turned over in the morning the slugs hiding there may be easily destroyed by scraping them off and crushing them under foot.

Senator Pittman Best Man—Congressional Minister Uses a Modified Form of Episcopal Service—Gift From President Wilson

On last Wednesday Mrs. Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt of Racquette Lake, N. Y., whose husband, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, lost his life in the sinking of the Lusitania, and Raymond T. Baker of Washington, the director of the United States Mint, were married at Holmwood, the country home of the bride at Laurel Lake, near Lenox, Mass. The wedding was marked by simplicity. Intermittent thunderstorms throughout the day caused a change in plans for the ceremony, which with warm, fair weather, would have been held under a great elm in the lawn, but which led to re-arrangements of the setting early in the day to an indoor wedding.

The reception looks out on Laurel Lake and the lawns which slope to its shore. It opened with a large southern orchestra was stationed behind a screen of palms. There was music while the guests were arriving.

The wedding procession formed upstairs and entered the reception room.

There was a bank of peony blooms on the mantel and filled in the fireplace, flanked on either side by tall palms. It was all very simple yet most effective. Other garden flowers arranged with wood ferns were used in the hall and other rooms.

Bulgarian Army Is Poorly Fed

St. Petersburg, June 18.—The correspondent of the Daily News in Geneva says that serious political and economic discontent is reflected in the latest Bulgarian newspapers reaching here. So violent are some of the attacks against Germany that the censor has felt obliged to interfere. The food shortage is most acute, but the government newspapers assure the people there is no fear of a famine and call for the public hanging of Socialist agitators.

The Athens correspondent of the same paper telegraphs: "I have visited 300 Bulgarians who were taken prisoner at Salonica by special train. They are ill-fed and are living evidences of the conditions of the Bulgarian army."

"All expressed themselves strongly against the Germans and曹 England, and regretted that the conspiracy against his life last winter had failed. They sympathized with the Russian revolution and wished the same revolt had occurred in Bulgaria."

"Desertions are so frequent in the Bulgarian army, they said, that the men have to get a special written permit even to visit another company only a few yards away. Great unrest seems to reign in the interior of Bulgaria, but the authorities make every effort to prevent news disaffecting the soldiers."

with Mrs. Vanderbilt walking with her father, Captain Isaac E. Emerson. Preceding them were Mrs. Vanderbilt's sons, Alfred G., who is five, and George W., who is four years old, and Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, who was the bride's only attendant. Mr. Baker, with his best man, United States Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, met the party as they came before the floral setting.

Mrs. Vanderbilt wore a plain flesh-colored chiffon gown of soft clinging lines, which accentuated her slender figure. It was smartly trimmed with rare Venetian lace and was quite long, falling well toward the tops of her white satin slippers.

Her hat, which set off her pale face, was of delicate pink straw, faced with georgette of the same shade, and was trimmed with a deeper shade of velvet roses around the crown.

Her bouquet of mauve orchids was arranged with maidenhair ferns and was tied with satin ribbon of a contrasting shade. She did not wear gloves.

Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt's youthful white chiffon afternoon frock with rather low bodice and flaring sleeves was very simple. She carried pink roses tied with wide white satin ribbon bows. Her hat was of georgette.

From its station on the inclosed porch a string orchestra played softly during the service, which was read by the Rev. Benson N. Wyman, pastor of the Lenox Congregational church. The Rev. Mr. Wyman used a modified form of the Episcopal service. Captain Emerson gave his daughter in marriage.

At the close of the service the Rev. Mr. Wyman shook hands with Mrs. Baker, and then with Mr. Baker, offering them congratulations. They turned and stood alone before the bank of peonies for a half hour receiving the good wishes and congratulations of their relatives and friends.

A collation was served in the dining room, which had been decorated in Copenhagen blue, and here the decorations were of iris and yellow California poppies. There was dancing during the reception.

Mr. Baker's gift to his bride carried the note of patriotism, being Liberty bonds. President and Mrs. Wilson, who had been invited to be at the wedding, sent a set of books of the president's writings. Mrs. Baker received many beautiful gifts.

Honeymoon at Racquette Lake.
Mr. and Mrs. Baker went away from Holmwood very soon after the ceremony in Mrs. Baker's limousine. They will go to Racquette Lake, where Mrs. Baker has a lodge, for the early part of their wedding journey. Later this month they will start for Denver and San Francisco, where Mr. Baker is to inspect the government mines, combining a business trip with his wedding journey.

Mrs. Baker will continue her army cantonment and Red Cross work on her return. Mr. and Mrs. Baker will be at Holmwood until late in the season. He will make frequent trips to Washington, returning to Lenox for each week-end. In October they will go to Washington, where Mr. Baker has taken a house.

Members of the Vanderbilt family at the wedding were, besides Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt and her daughter, Miss Kathleen Vanderbilt, Mrs. George W. Delafield.

Vanderbilt and Miss Cornelia Vanderbilt, Mrs. William Douglas Sloan, and Mrs. William B. O. Field.

Mrs. George Baker, mother of the bridegroom, and his sisters, Mrs. John Grisim and Mrs. Cleveland Baker of California, who had been guests at Holmwood, were present.

The official life in Washington was represented by Rear Admiral and Mrs. Cary T. Grayson, ex-ambassador to Russia, and Mrs. George T. Mayre. United States Senator James D. Phelan, Joseph Tamulty, secretary to the president, and Mrs. Joseph P. Tamulty, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Titus.

Others present were Mrs. Isaac E. Emerson, Mrs. F. H. McAloon, Mr. and Mrs. E. Vanderhorst Koch, and Henry V. Anderson of New York; Mrs. George Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Pense, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Donald, Mrs. George E. Tauraus, Mrs. John E. Alexander, Miss Anna E. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Schenck, Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Penno, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. The whole family appreciates ENO'S FRUIT SALT

It keeps them in good natural health. Dad takes a spoonful in a glass of water each morning to remove gases from the stomach—clear his liver, and get ready for the day's business. Mother wards off that approaching headache. The kiddies get a drink of Eno's, whenever they are not regular, or when too many cakes or goodies have been eaten.

Thousands of families who never need "dope" take Eno's in this way, as a corrective. We even know of officers where Eno's is supplied by the firm for its staff as a refreshing drink to offset the results of too close work at figures or typing.

Palmer Says He Hit Peters and Latter Stabbed Him — North End Liquor Case

William Peters was called on in the police court today to answer a charge of wilfully and maliciously cutting Geo. Palmer with a knife. The complainant swore that he was walking along Princess street last night when he saw the defendant come along with his wife. He said he struck him with his fist, whereupon the prisoner drew a knife and drove it through his clothing into his shoulder and arm, inflicting a deep wound. He said the defendant then fled down the street. After notifying the police the witness said he went to the hospital, where sixteen stitches were put in the wound. He said that the prisoner had been going with his wife for some time and that he had threatened to beat both his wife and the defendant if he caught them together again. The prisoner was remanded to jail until other evidence in the case was obtained. Both the complainant and the defendant are colored, and hail from Nova Scotia. The case is taking the form of a preliminary hearing.

William McDonald appeared on a charge of unlawfully having liquor on his person, drinking in public and for interference with the police. He pleaded not guilty. Policeman Gibbs said that he was at the corner of Brooks and Sheriff streets on last Sunday afternoon and saw the defendant and two other men walk down Brooks street and enter a partially torn down building and start to drink out of a bottle. He accosted the three and showed his badge, whereupon two of the men ran away. The defendant was drinking when the witness seized the bottle and in the struggle it was dashed to the ground and broken. The witness said that from the fumes he took it to be gin. He placed the defendant under arrest. While he was taking him to the North End police station, he said, McDonald threatened to strike him, and before he could get out his handcuffs the prisoner broke away. The prisoner acknowledged that the facts of the case were as the police stated only that it was not liquor in the bottle, but beer. He was warned that he had a large fine and a long term in prison and was then remanded.

Frank Walsh was summoned to answer a charge of using profane and abusive language to John D. Maxwell on last Sunday afternoon and yesterday at noon. The complainant swore that the defendant entered his yard in Brunceis street on Sunday afternoon and abused him because a plank he owned had disappeared. He said he again used abusive language to him while he was going home to his dinner yesterday. The defendant swore that the complainant had cursed at him first and that he had passed remarks about him. Both desired to call witnesses so the case was set aside until tomorrow morning. The defendant had to put up a deposit of $16.

More evidence was taken in the preliminary hearing against Private Harrison, who is charged with stealing a suit of clothes from the American Dry Works, Elm street. Daniel J. Barrett identified the suit as his property. He said he valued it at $85. Max Lambert testified that the defendant had offered to sell the suit for $4, explaining that he had joined the soldiers and had no use for it. He said he gave the prisoner the suit for the suit. The receipt was placed in evidence. The prisoner was then remanded until Friday.

According to information gleaned from the guards, the prisoners have given no trouble as yet, and they work steadily each day under the supervision of the guards, who belong to the St. John Signal Battery.
