SPEAKERS IN CONSCRIPTION DEBATE MAINTAIN HIGH TONE

F. F. Pardee, Chief Liberal Whip, Announces He Will Support Bill—out Asks Another Fair Trial for Voluntary System Passage

Ottawa, June 21—Parliament heard today the conscientious conviction of men sitting on the same side of the house, life-long supporters and admirers of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, differing among themselves as to whether or not he was right in saying that national interests and war interests would be seriously jeopardized if parliament forthwith enacted conscription. Those who differed with him paid eloquent tribute to his lofty patriotism and his far-seeing statesmanship, but at the same time, they believed that conscription had to come, and that this parliament had a right to give the lead along that line. Those who agreed with him were equally sincere in claiming that under present conditions, especially under the present administration, the attempt to pass and enforce conscription would be folly enailing the most serious national consequence. The debate, maintained again today at a high level, emphasized the greatness and the complications of the issue forced upon Canada by the precipitate action of the Government.

Mr. Pardee's Break With Leader
F. F. Pardee, the chief Liberal whip, recorded the first difference of a lifetime with his revered leader. The close associations and the affection of the Liberal whip for his chief were known to every member of the house. When Mr. Pardee spoke this afternoon members on the government side who have perhaps been prone to play or suspect politics in every parliamentary stand realize probably as never before, the mistake of throwing the conscription issue into politics without reckoning on the consequences.

Mr. Pardee's voice choked twice as he paid his feeling tribute to "the man I have been proud to follow since I was a boy and knew enough to be Liberal." Sir Wilfrid Laurier, sitting just in front of his young lieutenant, bent his head upon his hand, drew his handkerchief and wiped his eyes, and when Mr. Pardee concluded an impressive eighteen-minute speech, it was the veteran Liberal leader, paying tribute to a life of devotion, who led the applause in which a moved and sympathetic house unanimously joined.

Mr. Pardee supported conscription and opposed a referendum. He voiced his respect for French-Canadian Liberals who direct from him, abiding by the patriotic fight they had waged in their native province against the ominous and insidious doctrines of agitators whose aims were parochial and whose objects were detrimental to Canada and the empire. He stated with utmost frankness the reason for his opposition to a referendum. Conscription has been peremptorily thrust at a people unprepared for it—a people who had received repeated government assurances that it would never come—without any preparatory education to bring the public mind to a state of calm and sober judgment. Under these conditions he believed conscription would be defeated on a referendum—and the door shut absolutely in the face of recruiting and in the face of all other kinds of conscription which ought to be enacted.

Mr. Pardee faced the objection that he was going against the will of the people by expressing his conviction that the people wanted to be led rather than to lead. The chief Liberal whip spoke plainly and without re-remination. He demanded the conscription of wealth and national resources. He unequivocally declared that mistakes had been made, that leadership had been lacking, that organization had been faulty, that lethargy had been dominant and that partisanship had run riot.

Asks Another Trial.
In concluding, Mr. Pardee accepted Premier Borden's invitation to the opposition for suggestion. He urged that, before proceeding with the operation of the bill after passing, "a last big and sincere appeal should be made to the patriotism of young Can-

MADMAN AT HEAD OF GERMAN COURT.

Dr. Ivers, Who Held Inquiries at Louvain, Condemned as Criminal.

The Saturday Times, under the headline "Madman Who Condemned Belgium" prints an Amsterdam despatch as follows:

"Condemnation by the Berlin first Landgericht of the notorious Dr. Ivers to nine months imprisonment for having extorted from another soldier 120,000 marks, under a threat coupled with evidence that he is a chronic alcoholic and morphine-maniac, throws a lurid light on German official investigation in Belgium as published in the German White Book. Ivers was specially appointed to direct these enquiries. It was he who claimed that he discovered documentary evidence of the existence of Belgian franc-tireurs. He presided at a commission of enquiry into the horrors of Louvain. This man, whose findings were accepted without question by the German Government, and who presided at innumerable court-martials in Belgium, and on whose condemnation hundreds of Belgians have been shot or imprisoned, was thus described by the judge:

"He trampled under foot for lust and lucre the sacred functions with which he was invested. He acted in a way which thank God, this tribunal rarely has seen exemplified. He abused in an outrageous fashion the affection of his mother and the holy sentiments of the Catholic religion."

In his defence on the stand Ivers said he was one of those "who could never work until half drunk." Medical testimony gave it that he was a degenerate, and "possessed of defects and vices which rendered all moral resistance very difficult to him."

The Dutch review Von Onzen Tijden says: "No one can read the declaration of the court in passing sentence, "that in inflicting punishment it has taken into account the services rendered by accused to his country," without a shudder as he thinks of the fate of the unhappy Belgians who had to submit to the judgment of such a monster.

"The Condemnation of Ivers," continues the Dutch review, "damns the German White Book forever. Not a word of its findings can be accepted for the doctors colleagues must have known they were working with a madman, who never appeared among them unless drunk."

"There are several neutral people," the review concludes, "who refuse to believe it possible that such horrors could have been committed as reported in Belgium. Will these be convinced by what is revealed before the Landgericht of Berlin, which by the condemnation of Ivers, proves the existence of a judiciary system 'lithely' inconceivable."

WAS CHASED BY HIS CREDITORS

Chatham Merchant Serious Difficulty (Chatham Gazette)

Felix Greenberg, who has conducted a grocery, light drinks and ice cream parlor business in Chatham for a year or two, and who suffered from a severe fire in his premises a few days ago, collected his fire insurance and started to leave for parts unknown with a nice nest of money and without going through the polite performance of paying his bills first.

Felix went down river in the morning to throw aside any suspicion as to his intentions, but got off the boat and doubled back to Newcastle where he waited for Mrs. Greenberg and family and also the midnight Maritime Express for Montreal.

Not only was there quite a list of local creditors, but the big wholesale houses who had furnished most of the stock in trade, had some considerable sums due them.

One firm, Baird & Peters, was fortunate enough in recovering the amount due them, through the exertions of their representative, Mr. William Hogan, who secured a warrant for Greenberg's arrest and hurried by auto to Newcastle.

The departing one refused to pay the bill, which was about $75, and Mr. Hogan was obliged to have him arrested and brought to Chatham, and here he was finally glad to disgorge and retain his liberty.

Greenberg beat it again for Newcastle, though the hour was two in the morning and he and his wife and family took the first train north and then took the Montreal for Montreal.

Seven of the local creditors banded together yesterday and put their case in the hands of a lawyer who made endeavors to have Greenberg arrested on his arrival in Montreal or en route to that city.

Mr. Lawlor, who is acting for the creditors in question, has men up and down the line keeping a sharp watch out for Greenberg. His whereabouts are not exactly known as yet though it is quite certain he took the suburban train towards Campbellton, but whether or not he has attempted to go the whole distance into Montreal is not yet cleared up.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

The following extract from an American contemporary should make the average Canadian sit up and pat himself on the back, and think what a fine fellow he is. In the term "average Canadian," we do not include the slackers and shivers who are opposed to universal military service.

"When the world takes inventory of what Canada has done in the war, a great many American sceptics will be rudely shocked. So will a great many American optimists be mightily heartened. Canada has enlisted practically ten per cent of her population in the war—400,000 men for troops, and about 300,000 in munitions, packing, and incidental war-preparation activity. She has shipped overseas huge supplies of food to the British and French armies. She did all this voluntarily. In some of her provinces her people gave $18 per capita for patriotic purposes.

"Her first war production food campaign resulted in the greatest crop in history. She met the drain of men from her farms and industries without shock or disturbance to her economic stability. She went into the war owing $200,000,000, and after a little more than two years she had a credit balance of $300,000,000. While gaining these great ends, Canada made numerous mistakes and muddled a lot. She admits it. She has many acute problems now, both industrial and agricultural, war problems and after-the-war problems. But notwithstanding all she has done, she is now at the highest point in her systematic organization to meet the food crisis, to re-absorb tens of thousands of returning soldiers.

"All Canada's problems and achievements hit home to us with vital force and every patriotic American, farmer or otherwise, should study the record of what Canada has done already and what she is still doing. We have got to pull together for the salvation of New World Democracy, and if we under the Stars and Stripes can set our teeth to it in the way the Canadians have done, there need not be the slightest of doubt as to the outcome."

The St. John, N. B. Times said a few days since: "It is now new experience for the Tory politicians in New Brunswick to be found guilty of acts which are not creditable to them. Indeed the province has had so many exposures of this sort in the last few years that the man who can read the record and still boast of his connection with the Tory party must have a political hide like unto the hide of a rhinoceros."

WOMAN'S THOUGHTLESSNESS

A discussion arose recently in regard to the practice of some ladies going to the larger cities to do their shopping or patronizing the mail order houses. One of the members of the group, while defending the ladies against any wrongful intent, stated that women did more harm through thoughtfulness than men did from deliberate malice. There seems to be considerable foundations for this contention, and certainly if our fair friends gave as much thought to the matter as they should, they would appreciate the far-reaching effects of their actions.

It is strange that women will give largely of their time, energy and money towards educational and charitable institutions, with a public spirit and disinterestedness that is highly commendable, and yet will thoughtlessly do their community sufficient harm to more than offset their good work in other directions. Yet it is true that many of the evils which these ladies work so assiduously to overcome, are directly traceable to this pernicious habit of dealing with mail order houses.

If there is poverty or distress, the ladies will bestir themselves. For the sake of sweet charity they will do wonders. They will organize bazaars and patronize them, paying ridiculous prices for things they do not want, or at least do not need. They will waste sufficient money in this way to buy many useful articles for our local merchants. If the same amount of vital force that was expended in these charitable schemes was directed in other channels, our whole community would be benefited, morally, physically and spiritually. We emphatically state that much of this charity is necessitated by the worse than foolish habit of discriminating against our own town and our own neighbors. Our friends can surely see that if the benefit of their purchases remained with the local merchants, these merchants would be in a better position to contribute to local institutions, and would also be better able to offer employment to many of the young people who have at present to seek other fields.

Putting the matter into plain language, the women who do not patronize the merchants of the town where their living is made, are blind to their own best interests. The fathers, brothers or husbands of these women are making their livelihoods here in Fredonville for themselves and those dependent upon them, and if home of these men are forced out of employment on account of lack of business, bad times, etc., the respective wives, mothers and sisters are apt to complain of things in general and this town in particular. How many of them will go into the matter sufficiently to realize that they themselves are partially responsible for the best business of their own town? How many of these men are forced out of employment on account of lack of business, bad times, etc. Do not wait for some person else to act. Do your duty as you see it. Deal at Home—Daily Mail.

The Oshawa Reformer tells of the "startling statement" recently made by the manager of a big Toronto Mail order House. He said: "We have a bureau whose duty it is to read the country paper. There is not a paper of any consequence in our territory we do not get. The bureau looks over these papers and where we find a town where the merchants do not advertise in the local papers or where advertisers do not change their advertisements regularly we immediately food that section with our catalogues and literature. It always brings results far in excess of the same effort put forth in territory where The Local Merchants Use The Local Papers."

THE CHANNEL TUNNEL.

One of the results of the war will probably be the construction of a tunnel under the English Channel between England and France. Already the project is being revived in the press, and what is looked upon, when first proposed, as a danger is now regarded as a safeguard. When last year the question was considered by the British Government nine years ago, the military objections to the Channel tunnel were allowed to prevail over the strong commercial arguments in its favor. But great changes have since taken place since 1907. On the eve of the war the Times military correspondent, after a masterly analysis of the arguments for and against the tunnel declared that "the military objections to this country of a national army, sufficiently numerous and adequately trained." Now the national army is in existence and any peril of all kinds have been minimized. It is not altogether quite indicated, the tunnel would be safe from a national standpoint. We can easily see what an advantage a tunnel under the Channel would be in the present war, where hundreds of thousands of soldiers and enormous quantities of supplies of all kinds have had to be transported through waters infested by German submarines and made dangerous by mines. With a line of communication with France secure against torpedo attacks, a submarine campaign, no matter how large a fleet of such boats the enemy might possess, could never deprive Britain of food and raw material. Half the food of the United Kingdom comes through the Mediterranean and wheat and meat could be transported through France if proper arrangements were made and if the tunnel was built of sufficient dimensions to carry a large traffic. But even so, such precautions for war time, the advantages of a tunnel under the Channel for travel and commercial purposes are so great as to make the project very attractive. Some of these have been pointed out by a writer in the London Daily Mail. "This tunnel," he says, "would give the country and its railways all the high-class passenger traffic from the continent to the United States and also a large express traffic. There would be nothing to prevent non-stop trains from being run between London and Paris, and in another ten years electric traction will probably have been adopted on the lines between the two capitals. The construction of a tunnel would give Liverpool the superiority in the competition with Hamburg, which was growing fiercer with each year before the war. Geographically Liverpool has immense advantages, and lies much nearer to the United States. But so long as the risk of bad weather and intense discomfort, people on the Continent will prefer Hamburg, where, though the voyage is longer, they have their berth and comfortable accommodation all the way. Those who before the war have stood in some great Continental junction such as Bale of Munich or Cologne and watched the international trains pass through will understand how great would be the traffic which would quickly converge on London. The writer is confident that the tunnel is coming. Of that, he says, there can be no doubt, and he adds, "It should be begun the moment the close of the war sets free the necessary labor."

Dear Editor:—I remain yours, PTE. A. METHOT 5th Can. Machine Gun Co.

Would you kindly allow space in your valuable paper for these few words I received your paper pretty often that is sent to me by a friend. Some time ago I saw in a certain paper how some old ladies tried to stop the rum and cigarettes of the boys at the front which I think is very mean. Although for myself I don't care for the former but the long and wet nights in the first trench speaks for itself. Would the said party or parties kindly correspond with the sender of this and let him know if she really cares for the welfare of the boys. If they think it's going to learn them bad habits they want to consult a mind specialist. Thanking you Mr. Editor.

THE FRUIT CROP

Ottawa, June 1917.—There is not likely to be a particularly heavy crop of fruit in the Niagara Peninsula this year. Representatives of the Dominion Fruit Branch at Ottawa were through the district last week and have prepared the following report.

Peaches are a fairly good crop along the Niagara River and in the section in and around St. Catharines, but at Grimsby, Winona and Stoney Creek the crops are lighter and will probably be further reduced by "leaf curl" which is extremely prevalent there.

Pears, plums, and cherries have set for a good crop, and unless a heavy "drip" takes place within the next few weeks, the nearby markets will be well supplied with these fruits.

Apples are almost a failure in Niagara, and reports from other sections of Ontario indicate a light crop generally in the province.

Strawberries are light in the Clarkson-Burlington section, but promise much better east of Hamilton to the Niagara River.

The help situation in Niagara is not so serious as has been generally supposed. The orchards are being well cared for, and appear to be in excellent condition. Many growers have offered their services to assist in harvesting the crop, and the growers are not anticipating any serious difficulties in securing labour at that time.

The season has been very much delayed by continued cold weather and blossoms were about two weeks later than usual in coming out.

Speaking in a general way the Niagara fruit crop will not be above average, and the Ontario apple crop is certain to be light, and quite possibly of poor quality. The spring weather has been favourable to the development of apple scab, and unless orchards have been well sprayed, the fruit will be seriously affected.

HE FOUND IT PAID TO
"BUY AT HOME."

He quietly placed his paper to one side and looked thoughtfully at the window. He carefully considered all the new suggestions brought to him in an article which he had just read and then burst out with the exclamation:
"Mary, I am convinced that the sending of money out of this town to buy goods is all wrong—the principal is all wrong. I want a pair of boots and I am going to buy them right in our town. We owe it to the town.
And that very night, for it was Saturday night, he bought down town the first pair of shoes he had purchased there in years. He is an enthusiastic over the new "BUY-AT-HOME" campaign, says it is the greatest thing ever.

THAT is a true story told by one merchant who knew. It is another example of the splendid effect the "BUY-AT-HOME" campaign is having.

SACKVILLE GIRLS WILL HELP TO MAKE SHELLS

They will Start Next Monday and Will Work an Eight Hour Day

Four Sackville young ladies, Misses Helen Ford, Carrie Cahill, Margaret Pichard and Sybil Calkin, will next Monday become employes of the Fawcett Munition plant. They expect to begin work at seven each morning and spend eight hours in doing their bit to assist the cause of the Allies. This is rather of an innovation so far as Sackville is concerned but we have no doubt that these girls will "make good." They feel that they should do something as many operations on shells are of a character that can be done without heavy lifting or unusually difficult work, the success of their attempt is assured. Even were the work much harder than it is these Sackville young ladies would undoubtedly be equal to the task entrusted to them.—Sackville Tribune.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY IS WOMAN'S CENTURY

Woman is coming into her own. On every side she is showing those abilities which were long kept down. It is to her that men are now looking to solve many of the greatest problems that the world has ever faced.

She is now to be found in the two great professions, law and medicine. Lawyers and doctors of the old school held up their hands in horror and rolled their eyes to Heaven at the thought of women breaking into their sacred professions. But they have been recognized as foggies of a musty, bygone age, and woman with her broom has swept away the cobwebs.

Bright, eager ambitious and keenly competent young women are daily taking up the study of law and medicine. Are they making a success of it?
Well, rather. They invariably lead the men in the examinations or come very close to it. And in the actual practice of their professions they have been not a bit less successful.

In all lines of business they have been rapidly forging to the front. Hundreds of inspiring stories could be told of women who put such enthusiasm and such excellent ideas into their work that they have put businesses on their feet where men have failed.
Some of the most successful real estate brokers in the larger cities of the Dominion are women. The banks have swung into line and all over the country young women, bright, clever, well dressed, ambitious and very competent young women, are taking a big hand in handling the finances of the nation. Truly, an astounding development.

She took a giant stride with the coming of the war.
You know the old idea was that woman was a poor weak, sort of a creature, all right to look after washing dishes, but that was her limit. And coupled with that idea of lack of business ability was the theory that she should keep well in the rear in a time of war while the men big, strong, fearless men —pom! pom!—would see that all was well.

That has all been changed now. Isn't it wonderful? Woman is taking her full share in this fight and she is going to have a big say about the starting of any more such outbreaks. She is to be found in the munition factory by the tens of thousands making shells, making 'em all day long, and making them better than a large percentage of the men.

She is to be found on the farms taking her place between the handles of the plough, cultivating the fields, harvesting, aiding in providing food for those at the front.

Millions of women are keeping up a constant stream of supplies to the lads in the trenches, conducting a business of supplying goods that staggers the imagination, and conducting it well.

And now that the Russian troops lag and will not fight, who is it that is going to show the way? A battalion of women has volunteered to go into the trenches and take up the rifles laid down by the men.
Oh the women of this century are a miracle!

It is with a great deal of confidence then that an appeal is made to them now. We New Brunswickers have so persisted in our policy of buying our goods outside the province that our commerce and business houses have received a serious blow. The idea of buying away because it seems cheapest is all wrong. The cheapest way is to buy at home for then the money is kept here and you get another chance at it; if it goes away, you never see it again.

Women of New Brunswick, Buy at Home.

This is the Great BUY AT HOME Campaign.

Buy at Home for it means the greatest saving in the end.

BUY AT HOME.

WOMAN AVOIDS OPERATION

Medicine Which Made Surgeon's Work Unnecessary.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired, I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had gas in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not do it. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I bought a bottle. I will try this. I feel much better. I am now in the best of health and did not have an operation."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I feel much better. I am now in the best of health and did not have an operation."

Every one needs the woman's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do but sometimes doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy for all the ailments of women.

A rather heavy thunder storm, accompanied by a miniature flood, passed over Belledune and vicinity, on Wednesday doing considerable damage to the crops and also breaking a telephone pole. The roads greatly resembled swollen brooks.

A band of Brazilian gypsies also passed through on Wednesday afternoon in advance of the storm and did more damage in this locality than the electrical storm. They visited all the stores and seemed to help themselves to anything which took their fancy as well as money at one store where the proprietress happened to be out they took ten dollars. They had a large number of horses but seemed rather unimpressed in their ideas as they possessed no cash.

A very enjoyable whist party was held at Nashes Creek in the parish hall on Saturday evening. A concert was first on the programme, which was most creditably executed by the children of the Parochial School, the entertainment being bi-lingual. Whist was next indulged in and several pretty and useful prizes won as follows:—Ladies first, a fountain pen awarded to Miss Mildred Hickie, ladies consolation was carried off by Mrs. A. Hickie. Gentlemen first prize, a razor strop, won by Mr. Sanford Goodin, gentleman's consolation to Mr. James Flapette. The baskets were then auctioned off by Mr. Mallet and a hearty luncheon partaken of. The proceeds, which were very gratifying were in aid of the Parochial school.

A whist party was also held at Nashes Creek on the preceding Saturday evening being a very successful affair. The sum realized was in the vicinity of forty three dollars and will be in aid of the church there.

Miss Irene Ullrich who has been training as professional nurse at the Fanny Allen Hospital, Burlington, Vt. has graduated recently and her many friends here offer their sincere congratulations.

A special school meeting was held on Friday the 22nd inst. to arrange the procuring funds in order to enlarge the accommodations of the school. DALHOUSIE

Dalhousie, June 26.—Nothing is more interesting to the friends of education than the closing exercises of a large school. The proof of that was shown here on Monday afternoon, when the parents and friends of the convent pupils crowded the large hall, to witness a splendid programme. The many prizes distributed made a very cheerful ending of a successful school year.

The Dalhousie Convent was built fourteen years ago, by Rev. A. A. Boucher, of Dalhousie, to fill a long felt want in the place, on account of the great increase in population of French families. He will deserve the title of public benefactor, as the good results of the grand work can already be seen in many families.

The good sisters from the opening have taken great pains to teach both languages. It was the first real experience of teaching French in the school. In the way the English children handled French and the French children English at the examinations speaks well for the convent school.

Improvements are to be made to the interior of the convent during the holidays.

While on the subject of education and as we are approaching the fifth anniversary of confederation let us look back at school matters as they have progressed in the whitetown.

In the early days the first school was started in a vacant house then owned by DuGald Stewart the father of Ex. Sheriff James E. Stewart, now the home of Mr. Ingram and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Comacher, after teaching for nine years she was succeeded by Mr. Loyd, who taught in same building as did his successor Mr. Parrott.

The number of pupils continuing to grow the school was provided with a Mr. Mackenzie as master.

A short time previous to confederation a Grammar School was built near where Dr. Dabrows' house is now, a School Principal being first entrusted by Mr. Hutchison, who in turn was succeeded by Mr. Miller, who was succeeded by Mr. Ross. Ross was succeeded by a Mr. Dickson. Shortly after he came the school was burned down in 1896, and during the time the school was being built, school was held in the Court House, Mechanic's Hall and also in the Masonic Hall. Mr. Dickson was succeeded by Mr. Macdonald. The late Peter McLean followed him and then came in 1901, the energetic and able principal, Mr. L. D. Jones, now in France.

The present staff consists of Principal, G. B. Mowat, Miss Emma Harcourt, Miss Annie McMorrey and Miss Wright. The ratenagers speak highly of the success of the public school.

Thus the change in 60 or 70 years. From a small school with one teacher and four teachers, a convent school with six or seven teachers.

Lady Foster arrived here today from Ottawa, to spend the summer months at the Inch Arran.

Mr. Robert Lynch, Anderson, and Mrs. E. Pettin, Kedgewick, were guests over Sunday at the Queen Hotel and on Monday took in the closing exercises at the Convent.

Mr. A. B. McKay, who had enlisted for the war, and could not go on account of illness has returned to the Royal Bank here, and now occupies the position of teller. Mr. George McNeil, who so successfully led the "Revolution" here, has been transferred to Arthabaska.

Ex. Councillor Thos. Hoy of Nashes Creek was in town on Friday a guest at the Queen.

Mr. Frank Troy who has been with the Dominion Merchants Ltd. for nearly two years has gone to St. John to enter a city store.

Miss Louise Allan, who has been attending the convent at Carleton Place, is at home. She will return to Carleton to be present at the celebration of the fifth anniversary of the building of the institution, which is to take place on July 3rd and 4th, and for which 600 invitations have been issued to former pupils.

Mrs. Lucy Devereux of Dalhousie, Minn., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Frederick LaPointe of Nashes Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes of Nashes Creek, visited Campbellton recently.

Miss Myrtle Hayes of Belledune was the guest of Miss Mildred Hickie over Sunday.

Mr. Bannon Woods, Shives school, spent Sunday the guest of Mr. Charles Dalry, Jr.

A special meeting of the Centre Auxiliary of the home of Mrs. J. A. Harvey on the 16th inst. resulted in the organization of a new Auxiliary in New Richmond, West, the home of Rev. John Hardy of New Richmond for many years a missionary in India, to be called the Hardy Auxiliary.

The address as follows was read by Miss Sarah MacWhirter— Dear Mrs. Henry:

On Tuesday 21st inst. the Montgomery Mission Band held the annual meeting at the home of Mrs. R. H. Montgomery.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:— President Mrs. Henry, who has been President since the organization of the Band, was re-elected. Vice-President Miss Bessie Montgomery. Secretary Miss Sarah MacWhirter. Treasurer Miss Doris Campbell (re-elected).

New Richmond Model School has had a busy ending to the term. The Superior school examinations however, are now over for 1917, and the results from Quebec, will be eagerly awaited. A large number wrote examinations.

The closing was held on Friday 22nd inst. The school-house was crowded to its utmost capacity, and those present did justice to the ice-cream and cake which were served.

On Sabbath, July 1st it is the purpose (D. V.) of Rev. E. J. Rattee, to hold a special jubilee service in commemoration of the fifth Anniversary of the organization of the Dominion. We trust that a large audience may be present on this important day in the history of Canada.

On Sunday, p. m., 24th inst.—Miss Hall, Principal of the N. R. Model School was presented at the close of the Sunday School with a Nippon Chocolate set. Mr. Robert Hardy, Superintendent, made the presentation on behalf of the Bible Class and School. Miss Hall has been an earnest indefatigable worker in the school, whose place, it will be hard to fill. All branches of work in the congregation will miss her help. Her many friends in New Richmond join in wishing her God speed in the future.

What most men compare instead of sacrifice

Family expenditure. Applied to the daily shave, thrift means the use of a Gillette Safety Razor.

GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR

The Razor of National Service. The Gillette reduces shaving time to five minutes or less—an actual saving of a week's working days a year! To the man who depends on the razor, it saves still more time and from $25 to $50 or even more annually.

Moreover, there is not a man living with a beard to shave who cannot shave himself with a Gillette if he will use it correctly. The blade is screwed down tight and a light single stroke.

For the thousands of young men just reaching shaving age the Gillette Safety Razor is a source of good habits—not only in shaving, but in cleanliness, neatness, and economy in little things. For yourself or your son, or some of your sons, it is a splendid investment.

Gillette's "Blade" "Aftershave" and Shaving Soap cost 25¢—Pocket Edition 25¢ to 50¢—Combination Set from $9.50 up. Send for Catalogue.

London, June 27.—Ten units of American woodman sent over by New England States and organizations to turn various forests of the United Kingdom into lumber have arrived in England.

AMERICAN FORCE HAS ARRIVED

A French Scout, June 27.—The second contingent of American troops arrived and disembarked this morning. The troops landed amid the frantic cheers of the people, who had gathered for hours before in anticipation of duplicating yesterday's surprise. Enthusiasm rose to fever pitch when it was learned that the transports and convoys had successfully passed the submarine zone. The port was speedily belaguered in honor of the occasion.

All the troops now arrived were transferred today to a camp not distant from this point, where Major General William Sibert is installed. Thence they probably will go soon to a point near the front. All the troops are in excellent shape, enthusiastic over the successful trip and their reception, and eager for action.

Major-General Pershing, the American commander, is expected to-morrow, when additional troops are expected.

The harbor is dotted with convoys. The streets are filled with soldiers in khaki with blue-jackets. Great numbers of trucks are transporting immense supplies to the camp in which the troops are concentrating.

DOES IT PAY?

Does it pay to advertise in dull seasons? No use answering a question with a theory when facts are at hand—facts like these:

August used to be the dulllest month of the year in the furniture business—now it is the very busiest because advertising turned dullness into activity.

January was formerly a time when men's clothing stores did no business. Now, by advertising, they make record sales.

Right down the list instances can be cited where merchants and manufacturers have turned supposedly dull periods into busy ones.

And they did it by advertising—by newspaper advertising in most instances.

Sitting around cursing the weather won't ring the cash register, but advertising will. Newspaper advertising coupled with good merchandising will drive any dull month from the calendar.

Perhaps not at once, but little by little.

Now is the time to increase business for the immediate present and get a flying start for the fall.

Now is the time to make your advertising plans and to begin an aggressive bid for business.

Perhaps the advertising manager of this newspaper can make some suggestions, if you want information about other cities write to the Bureau of Advertising American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

HOW TO KEEP SUPPLY OF FRESH VEGETABLES

"To many people sow their first seeds with enthusiasm, but forget the continuation of fresh vegetables, which is so desirable," says D. W. George in "Everywoman's World" for June, in his "Garden Gossip."

"Lettuce and radishes in particular," he continues, "should be sown at frequent intervals during the whole season, so that young plants are continually coming along."

When necessary it becomes to make every foot of space count for results; and for that reason it is quite desirable to follow the early crop with later ones planted in the same positions, care being taken to work the soil well between the plantings and to add plenty of fertilizer to reinforce the soil the nourishment that has been taken out of it.

Thus, early potatoes may be followed by late celery, lettuce may be followed by cabbage or parsnips, and peas and beans by winter radish."

In the happy homes of Europe, The Europe of yesterday?

To the shell-torn plains of Europe, Where shrapnel and bayonet fly, Where scarcely a breathing ply, The brave bright lads of Europe, Have gone to the front to die, In the No Man's Land of Europe, Where fathers and brothers lie.

Where are the Maids of Europe, The innocent, pure and good, The red-lipped maidens of Europe, To whose untainted blood The future children of Europe Must look for motherhood?

From morn to night, in Europe, They work on the shot and shell, They toil, these maidens of Europe, With scarcely a breathing spell; And the War goes on in Europe, With a horror no man can tell.

What can we do for Europe, We of the Land of the Free? What must we do for Europe? Over the menacing sea We must sail, 'neath the Flag for Europe.

The Europe that is to be, And the Beast that is bleeding Europe Must die by the Freeman's sword, That the children of blood-drenched Europe May 'scape from the Thing abhorred. For God hath smoken to Europe, And us, "In the name of the Lord."

CAN CONSERVATION DAY IN MISSOURI

All Housewives Busy Today Jefferson City, Mo., June 22.—No longer will the small boy in Missouri be able to indulge in his favorite outdoor sport of tying a tin can to Tom-ter's tail for the reason that To-day's State-wide observance of "can conservation day" has left no cans at the boys disposal. The day had been widely advertised by the State preparedness organizations and the aid of the women's clubs and other societies has been enlisted. The housewives were up betimes this morning and reports from all sections indicated that before nightfall every tin can, glass jar and earthenware vessel fit to contain fruits and vegetables will have been mobilized.
