THE "SUN" AND THE BRIDGE.

The Saint John Sun asks if Mr. Blair does not know on competent authority that the superstructure for the Fredericton Bridge will not sustain its own weight. It is only reasonable to suppose that in asking such a question the Sun is speaking from some information in its possession, and we invite it to be more specific in regard to the subject. Upon what facts does it base its question? In justice to itself, as well as to the public, whose interests it presumably desires to serve, if our contemporary has any information upon this point it is its duty to make it public. A bare allegation that a certain bridge will not sustain its weight is valueless, and if the Sun is really desirous of preventing the carrying out of the plans which, if what it professes to believe is correct, will be just so much money thrown away, it ought to give the government and the public generally the benefit of any information in its possession. It is not supposable that the local government have any desire to build a bridge which will fall down as soon as it is completed; or that even the most violent opposition organ would desire to see forty or fifty thousand dollars thrown into the river, when it had within its knowledge information which would prevent such a waste of money. Pending further explanations by the Sun we have to say that we are quite satisfied that any information our contemporary may have in its possession, leading to the conclusion that the bridge when built will not carry its weight, is erroneous; but now that the point has been raised, we would like the Sun to give particulars in order that any doubt may be set at rest.

As to the Attorney General we feel justified in saying that he does not know that the bridge will not sustain its own weight, but that his information is to the contrary.

OUR CENTENNIAL.

It is the intention of the Mayor to call a public meeting at an early day to consider in what way the Centennial of the founding of Fredericton can be best celebrated. Although it is nearly, if not quite, a year before any celebration can take place, it is not too soon to begin to think and talk the matter over.

The first question is: Shall the Centennial be celebrated? Upon this point we anticipate that there will be only one opinion. Since we mooted the matter three months ago many persons have given their views and they are all to the effect that there should be a celebration of some kind.

The second question is: What form shall the celebration take. Our view is that in deciding this, two considerations should be kept prominently forward; namely, that something of a permanent nature should be set up in commemoration of the anniversary, and that the festivities should be of a character to attract a large gathering of people. It must also be borne in mind that the citizens cannot be expected to make large money contributions towards a celebration.

Among the events of a permanent character which might mark the occasion, are the opening of a fountain on Phoenix Square, a matter which the Mayor has given some thought to; the opening of a fountain on Parliament Square, to which the Government might feel disposed to contribute. Tree-planting might form a feature of the occasion.

What about an Exhibition? Is this beyond our reach. An Exhibition implies the construction of a large building—a palace if you like—and this will cost considerable money. Can it be managed? The indefatigable Mr. Reid would, we think, say yes; and if he undertook to build one he would probably succeed; but will the citizens second an effort in that direction? Or will the local government give the city aid towards a building and an exhibition?

It would not be a very difficult matter to provide for three days sports, with a Trades procession, a torchlight procession, and pyrotechnic display. A water procession by torchlight would be an interesting feature. We have not spoken of religious services and a memorial mass meeting, but these, would form part of any well devised plan.

It is time for our citizens to be turning these things over in their minds, as they will soon be asked to form an opinion upon them. The first step is to have a public meeting and if the voice of the people is favorable to a celebration then to have a large committee appointed to take the matter in hand.

THE ANNEXATION OF JAMAICA.

Our contemporaries are divided in opinion as to the advisability of annexing Jamaica to the Dominion. In considering the question, it is well to look at the proposition as involving the ultimate annexation of all the British West Indies, Guiana and Honduras. These countries contain a population of over a million; they produce articles which the Dominion has to purchase, and they purchase articles which the Dominion has to sell. Take for example two principal articles, sugar and cotton goods. If the West Indies could have the advantage of free admission of sugar into Canada, and Canada the right to send cotton free into the West Indies, it would be better for the sugar planters and better for the cotton mill owners. It would also be advantageous to the farmers of the Maritime Provinces to have a free market there for their produce, as all tropical countries buy large quantities of agricultural produce.

The memorandum submitted on behalf of Jamaica does not specify that the Canadian tariff shall apply to the Island after annexation, but it is open to that construction; although we note that the Toronto News thinks this is not intended. It is manifest, however, that unless the tariff was the same in Jamaica as in the other Provinces, there would have to be a tariff between that island and the other parts of the confederation, which would be an incongruous and absurd arrangement.

It is objected by some, and we observe the Toronto Globe among the rest, that the proposed annexation would introduce a disturbing element into the Confederation. This is of course true, and it was equally true of British Columbia and of Manitoba. The addition of every new Province introduces a new element of disturbance, but this consideration does not dispose of the question, which is, whether the compensating advantages of an enlargement of the union are equal to the admitted drawbacks. The population of Jamaica is 580,000, of whom less than 12,000 are white. Efforts at self-government have not been successful. Indeed it may be said that the government of the colony has been a failure. There does not appear to be any good reason why this should always be the case, or that a population largely of African descent, should continue fifty years after the abolition of slavery to be incapable of self-government, because they could not efficiently deal with popular institutions thirty years after the emancipation proclamation.

We are by no means disposed to scout the question of West Indian annexation; but are quite ready to admit there are some good things to be said of it. One question arises, namely, how would public opinion in England regard a scheme which would shut British merchants out from one of their largest markets.

ELECTION OF HON. MR. FIELDING.

The Hon. W. S. Fielding, the new Liberal Premier of Nova Scotia and Provincial Secretary was elected yesterday by a handsome majority. In this contest Mr. Fielding has been opposed by the whole strength of the Dominion Government, and he was handicapped by dissensions in the Liberal ranks. Under these circumstances his return is all the more gratifying. We congratulate him upon his return. Mr. Fielding is an able man, pushing and full of pluck. He deserves the success he has achieved and we wish him a long and prosperous career.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Transcript enquires when, where, or how did the Fredericton Capital find out that the Scott Act had been defeated in Pictou County, Nova Scotia?

An Ottawa despatch of the 18th inst. says that the Dominion Government temporarily ran out of funds on Friday last. The section B contractors were to have had another liberal payment on account of their claims, but the Government had no funds. It is also stated on reliable authority that the Canadian Pacific recently realized money upon the Dominion Government's endorsement.

BLASTING.—Work has been resumed on blasting rocks at the Falls; the water in the river at present is low, and falling.

The above item is from the Victoria Star. The rock-blasting at the Falls is being done by the Dominion Government, but it is hard to tell just what object is to be attained by the work. What do they want to blow up the Grand Falls for? A prominent resident of Grand Falls, on being asked this question last summer by the writer, said that the Hon. Mr. Costigan wanted to dispense some patronage in that locality and that the only way possible for him to do so was to undertake to level the bed of the river at the Falls. His son-in-law, Mr. Walter Armstrong has charge of the work.

The scythe had entered the left side and lung of the younger. Dr. McIntosh is attending him, but fears the case is hopeless.

TO THE EAST OF US.

A Chance for Some Fine Settlements

In the Country to be Opened to the East by the New Railways.

The construction of the Miramichi Railway, and the prospect of the early beginning of the Central are calculated to attract public attention to the country to be opened up by these new highways. As is well known these roads will be exclusively upon the coal measures, and consequently no one who is familiar with the character of land in the Province will need to be told that much of the soil is not of first quality. Nevertheless the future of an agricultural point of view, of the district to be opened by these roads is by no means unpromising. Two points are worthy of notice in connection with wild land in New Brunswick; one is that even inferior land near a railway will be taken up and profitably tilled, and the other that much land which at first sight appears not of high rank, is found to improve in cultivation, and be capable of being converted into excellent farms. Again there is so much land of the very highest quality, yet remaining uncultivated, that it has not yet been found necessary for the growing population to cultivate soil that in many countries would be readily taken up and worked to great advantage. These railways above mentioned will open a very large area. On as careful an estimate as can be made from existing data there are within it about 100,000 acres of very good land. Of this about one-half lies to the north of the Miramichi, and the remainder between the Miramichi and the Central, principally between the head of Grand Lake and the Intercolonial Railway. That is to say, it is possible to make one thousand hundred acre locations within this tract, upon land sufficiently good to be attractive to settlers. The conclusion is warranted by the history of other settlements that the occupation of 100,000 acres by settlers implies within a few years a population of fully 10,000 people. This would serve as

A Basis of Settlement, and the occupation of lands of not so good quality would follow as a matter of course, as has been the case in the settlements along the Intercolonial in Kent County. When that road was first located there was a general outcry that the land would never be settled, but it has been, and the settlers are doing fairly well, although the contrary to this has been represented. It is impossible to form even an approximation of the acreage within the tract in question which will ultimately be found capable of successful cultivation; but it must be very large. It is worth the consideration of the government whether two or more highway roads might now be advantageously made through this section which will be surrounded on all sides by railways. The poorest of the land is that nearest Fredericton. The back part of Margerville Parish and the northern corner of St. Mary's are not of good quality. A very thorough survey of this area, which comprises about 120,000 acres, was made in 1835 by Kilpatrick, Deputy Crown Land Surveyor. His returns show

Considerable Good Land, but it is scattered over the whole area, the several tracts being separated by barrens and tracts of poor land; but much of it will not doubt be occupied after the railways get into operation. It would not probably be an over estimate to say that within the district to be developed by the Central and Miramichi Railways, there will be found, on good and second rate land, ample space for three thousand one hundred acre locations, which would permit of an agricultural development equal to the present development in this respect of Northumberland and Gloucester counties. A large part of the tract of this section can be drawn to Fredericton, and it becomes therefore a matter of local interest that steps should be taken to have the country opened up and settled.

Business Notes.

Miller & Woodman's, Cushing's & Barnhill's mills, St. John, are shut down.

There were 264 failures in the United States reported to Bradstreet's during the past week, as compared with 276 in the preceding week. Canada had 17 failures, a decrease of 8.

Says the Montreal Witness.—There has been a decided improvement in the state of the wholesale trade since last week. Confidence in the future is general throughout the whole country and among all classes but those who are engaged in manufacture.

Mr. D. Irving, of Buctouche, has recently erected a mill building 110x32 feet in which he intends to place a planer, moulder, matcher, patent lathe maker, shingle machine, a shock saw and double edger. The mill, it is expected, will be in running order about the 1st of September.

Excursion from Bangor.

A grand excursion from Bangor to the Upper St. John and Aroostook is announced to take place next Wednesday. Senator Blaine and other distinguished gentlemen will accompany the excursionists.

Hymenaeal.

The Reporter states that his business manager, Mr. H. H. Pitts, is tired of the frivolities of life and has joined himself with the rapidly increasing number of benedictines. Mrs. Pitts is a native of King's County and is a sister to Miss McLeod of the Model School.

Commandant's Parade.

The Commandant's parade yesterday accompanied by the band was watched through out by a large number of spectators. The soldiers are making splendid progress in their work.

Hooper Bound.

Mr. N. D. Hooper, of the firm of Whittier & Hooper, leaves in a few days for Texas, where he has obtained a permanent situation. Capt. Whittier will henceforth carry on the business alone.

SPORTING NOTES.

At a meeting held last week it was decided to have the Nagle-McCormick race rowed on the Kennebecasis.

George Jones of St. John has received a proposal to play with the I. Zingari Cricket Team on their New England tour this fall.

Fred. Scott won the professional foot-race at the St. Peter's Church picnic at Toorbyburn on Tuesday last.

A New York dispatch of the 19th inst. says that Turf, Field & Farm, to-morrow, will announce that Maud S. was sold to Robt. Bonner, of New York, on Monday night for $40,000. Vanderbilt was lately offered $100,000 for the same chestnut, but he declined it, preferring to sell her for less than half that sum to Mr. Bonner, who he knew would not trot her in public races.

At the Trotting Park on Tuesday afternoon, D. J. Stockford drove the Stallion "Colonel Lang" a mile and repeat in 2:30 and 2:37.

Jay-Eye-See Tries Again.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—Not since the eventful day when Maud S. made the fastest three consecutive heats ever recorded—2:12, 2:13, 2:13—has there been such an attendance at the Belmont course as was gathered there to-day, when Jay-Eye-See and Phyllis attempted to break the records—2:03 and 2:04.

Phyllis herself at Chicago. Promptly at 2 o'clock Mr. Van Oasen, who acted as starter, called out the trotters, and Phyllis made his appearance. About fifteen minutes later there was a murmur of admiration from the spectators as the stallion slowly jogged past the grand stand. He was given a couple of slow miles and then sent in 2:31, a warning-up mile. On reappearing after a scrape down he was accompanied by a bay running horse hitched to sulky and driven by Charles Myers. After three times scoring without the runner and once with him, Bithers nodded for the word, and the big bay stallion went off with a smooth, powerful gait, passed the quarter pole in 34 seconds without a skip, but left his feet for an instant on entering the second quarter. Bithers had him in hand before he had taken three strides and passed the half as level as a die in 1:04, the three-quarters in 1:40, and finished strong in 2:15 amid loud applause.

Jay-Eye-See was next introduced, and he passed the grand stand amid hand clapping. The sulky he pulled weighs only 400 pounds. He was jogged in a couple of miles, and then gave a warmer in 2:30. While he was cooling off, Phyllis was brought out, the runner before accompanying him. Phyllis went to the half without a skip in 1:04, doing the second quarter in 32 seconds. Just after passing the half-mile pole he was "up" for a few steps, but Bithers caught him cleverly, and he finished the mile like clock work, and did the last quarter in 33 seconds.

Jay-Eye-See was then brought out for a fast mile. He was accompanied by Old Jake, the same horse that had been trotted, so as to encourage St. Julien. Myers handled the rearing behind the runner, and waited at the head of the stretch while Jay-Eye-See scored up two or three times. A light scraper had just been run over the track to obliterate all signs of the heats that had been trotted, so as to give the title gelding a perfectly smooth track. It was "go" for the first time scoring with the runner. The little horse was at his gait as he passed under the wire, and going so smoothly that but few who saw him could realize the speed. His stride is a peculiarly deceptive one, and there was a general exclamation of surprise when he whisked past the quarter pole in 32 seconds, doing the quarter in 32 seconds, but just after passing the three-quarter pole he broke and did not regain his stride for half a dozen jumps. The runner that was several lengths behind when he broke came up alongside, and would have taken the lead had not Myers pulled him back. This shows how much Jay-Eye-See lost by the break. He had his stride in faultless style, passing under the wire in 2:11. Every one conceded that but for the break he would have beaten Maud S.'s record of 2:03. He occupied 35 seconds in going the last quarter, while the second quarter was done in 30. Could he have gone the last in 34 seconds, which is slow time for him, he would have equalled Maud S.'s time. That break cost Jay-Eye-See the best record.

Phyllis in his third mile went off on the second time scoring, and was hurried to the quarter in 33 seconds. The pace was a little too fast for him, and he was "up" for a couple of steps just after entering the second quarter. At the half-mile pole he was trotting gamely, and climbed the grade in fine style. He came down the homestretch under the whip, applied only lightly, however, and finished in 2:15, amid loud cheering.

Jay-Eye-See looked fresh and eager on coming out for his repeat. Old Jake again accompanied him. Jay-Eye-See went off at a great rate of speed on getting the word, and hurried himself into a break half way to the quarter pole. Bithers pulled him up and came back for a fresh start. This was obtained after one false score, and the little bay trotted to the quarter in 33 seconds, to the half in 1:04, passed the three-quarters in 1:37, and finished in 2:10 amid the wildest applause, having made the entire mile without a sign of a skip or break.

The cheering was loud and prolonged. Bithers was overwhelmed with congratulations. He attributes Jay-Eye-See's break in the first fast mile partly to the "cuppy" track and partly to the fact that Myers hurried him a little with the runner.

Methodist Concert.

The Methodist bazaar and concert on the church grounds Tuesday evening attracted a large number of people. The grounds were handsomely decorated and presented a very inviting appearance. The proceeds a little over $50 will be appropriated towards beautifying the grounds.

Contract Awarded.

Mr. Chas. Kilburn has been awarded the contract for building the Kitchen bridge at Lower Prince William.

Sports and Business at the North.

A Sketch of the Life of the late Dr. Dow.

(From a Special Correspondent.)

The fourth annual Miramichi Regatta takes place on the Miramichi river, Thursday 21st inst., between the towns of Newcastle and Chatham. Mr. E. Hutchison is chairman of the sports. Parties who intend participating in the contest may be seen constantly practising on the river; and occasionally some one who is a novice in the art of rowing makes a mistake and is compelled to swim ashore with his boat under his arm. However, there is muscle and science too on the Miramichi, and the 21st will reveal to the public what the Miramichi water boys can do in the art of sailing.

On the evening of the regatta, the Odd-fellows of Chatham will hold a literary and musical entertainment at that place.

The steamer "Andover"—the boat must be well known in your county—carried a large party of excursionists down the river to Bay du Vin, on Friday last, in the interests of the Chatham square committee. Bay du Vin is a very popular summer resort for the Miramichi people, and a more romantic, picturesque and health-giving place cannot be found in the Province. Before many more hot seasons pass, and when the Valley Railway is completed, I will venture to say the people of your city will learn the truth of the above statements, and run regular excursionists thither.

The proceeds of the R. C. picnic, held on the grounds of St. Mary's Church, exceeded one thousand dollars. This is considered one of the largest and most successful picnics ever held in the county, and the managing committee are to be congratulated upon their success.

The mills, schools and people generally have adopted standard time in the towns of Newcastle and Douglastown. Chatham still runs on local time.

Robbins' circus in the course of its peripatetic tour of the Maritime Provinces, is at Chatham on Saturday night. It was on exhibition here yesterday, and is showing at Newcastle to-day. The show is considered a poor one about here.

The Newcastle Field Battery of Artillery, Major Call commanding, went in camp on Monday.

CHATHAM, Aug. 19th.

DEATH OF DR. DOW.

A Sketch of the Life of the Deceased.

The death of Dr. Dow removes from our midst one of the most widely known residents of Fredericton. His long illness, and consequent confinement to the house caused him to drop somewhat out of the public mind; but when the word went out that he was dead, a memory of the off-hand, jovial and ever welcome doctor of fifteen years ago came fresh to the minds of his hundreds of friends.

Hiram Dow was born at Lindenville, Vermont, Aug. 23, 1823, and was in his 50th year at the time of his death. He began the practice of dentistry in Oldtown, Maine, when quite a young man; and meeting with some success was encouraged to make trial of a larger field. In the year 1847 or 1849 he Came to Fredericton and began to practice as a dentist. In 1850 he went to Europe and made a tour of England and Scotland, delivering lectures on Biology and other topics. Returning from the old world, considerably replenished as to his purse, he went to Boston where he studied medicine and in 1853 he came to Fredericton again and hung out his shingle as an M. D.

In later years, when his practice had passed into younger hands and he began to take pleasure in telling of his younger days, he used in confidential moments to tell of his efforts to work up a business. "The first thing I did," he once told a writer, "was to buy two horses, when I had no money, for one. Sunday was my great day for advertising, and as the folks were going to meeting I would either drive out of town in great haste, or else would go out early and drive in to see the meet with the

My Horse Covered with Foam.

At other times I would manage to meet them as they were coming home. Often on week days I would drive out into the country for some miles and back, and taking a fresh horse start out again in great haste. In that way people began to think I had great practice and I soon got one."

Dr. Dow did acquire a very large practice, and as he was well known amongst a handsome competency. He intended at one time to establish a hospital for consumptives here, and purchased Beechmount, where Mr. J. H. Phair now resides, for that purpose. Shortly after he bought it the large dwelling house on it was consumed by fire. His method of dealing with his patients was original and scarcely orthodox in a medical sense; but he had great success and great reputation at one time, especially in surgery. He was the inventor of the widely known and popular Surgeon Oil Liniment, which bears his name.

His Political Career

began in 1862 when we was returned at the head of the poll. He sat in the House of Assembly for sixteen sessions.

Dr. Dow was unmarried. Many stories have been circulated as to his having a wife elsewhere; and when asked about it he would neither admit nor deny it. Many persons believed that he had some secret of his early manhood, which he kept concealed; but that such should be the case is exceedingly improbable, the elderly age which he came here and his prominence since render the existence and keeping of any such secret very improbable. He never talked much of his life before he came here; but probably there was not much to talk about.

Dr. Dow had long quite a reputation as a lecturer. He was an inimitable story teller and had an apparently inexhaustible fund of anecdotes. In the height of his popularity no man could count more certainly upon a crowded house. With all his faults, and like the rest of us he had his share, the Doctor in his nearly thirty five years of life in Fredericton made on the whole a good record. If he was not a generous giver, it can at least be said of him that the poor never asked in vain for his professional assistance. If his political career was not brilliant, it was not disgraced by acts of corruption and treachery. His memory will have a warm place in hundreds of hearts, and that man's life has not been a failure of whom this can be truly said.

The funeral will take place at 5 p. m. to-day. He will be interred in the Methodist cemetery.

Minor Matters.

The harvest moon is next in order.

The water in the river is getting lower.

The interest in fishing sports appears to be waning.

We are now having a taste of July weather.

The old graveyard fence is receiving a coat of whitewash.

The raspberry season may now be considered a thing of the past.

The stages on the Marysville road appear to be doing an immense business this season.

Nothing has yet been done by the authorities towards trimming the lawn in front of the Post Office.

A large and pleasant social party was given by Mrs. Miller, on Tuesday evening, at her residence, Queen Street.

A shed, 100 feet long, has been built by Mr. McFarlane at the rear of his factory, St. Mary's, for the storage of coal.

A forlorn and wretched looking old woman wanders about the streets begging for money. The way in which the coppers and silver pieces were shelled out to her yesterday, she must have gathered together several dollars.

Complaints, similar to the kind referred to by our New Maryland correspondent continue to come in from the country districts. The cloth sold must be more than worthless, and the farmers would do well if they would turn upon the shoddy bunnies and drive them out of their districts.

The Picnic Season.

Quite a large number of excursionists went to Woodstock yesterday to attend the Catholic picnic at that place. Large numbers came from the surrounding parts and the day was generally observed as a holiday. Among the other attractions the Boulton and Woodstock Base Ball clubs played a match game.

The tea-meeting at Gibson, by the ladies of the Methodist congregation, is announced to come off next Tuesday. The "May Queen" will carry excursionists from St. John leaving there at 7 a. m. on the day of the festival and returning the same night.

The children of the Catholic Sunday school spent a most enjoyable time at the Hermitage last Tuesday.

A Bazaar and picnic will be held at Pokok on Wednesday Sept. 3rd, by the ladies of the Pokok Sewing Circle.

The Kirk Robinson school picnic will be held on Col. Robinson's grounds next Saturday, and the steamer "Forest Queen" will convey the children across the river.

The Valley Division, S. of T., of St. John, will picnic at Odell's Grove, next Tuesday.

A professional foot race is announced among their other amusements. The Infantry School Band will furnish the music.

A tea meeting is announced to be held at Upper Kewic, near Zealand Station, on Wednesday the 3rd of Sept. next, to raise funds to defray the expenses of repairing the Union meeting house at that place. A concert consisting of instrumental music, speeches, &c., will be held in the evening.

Persons.

Judge King came from St. John to-day and is registered at the Queen.

Hons. Provincial Secretary, G. S. Turner and T. F. Gillespie arrived in town to-day.

Amongst other Canadians at the Canadian office, London, during the week ending the 18th inst., were Dr. and Mrs. Atherton, of this city.

Dr. E. M. Patterson, of this city, has joined the Medical Association for the advancement of science and will attend the Montreal meeting.

F. St. John Bliss, B. A., and W. B. Carman, M. A., returned recently from a camping tour on the lower parts of the St. John and the lakes.

Mr. Stewart, of the Maritime Bank, in this city, has been temporarily transferred to the Woodstock Branch, to allow Mr. White, of the latter place, to enjoy a holiday.

Mrs. Moses Pickard, of Bright, is seriously ill and fears are entertained for her recovery. Her friends and relatives in other parts were telegraphed concerning her condition yesterday.

The Principals of the Model School.

Mr. J. F. Rogers, formerly Principal of the schools at Apohaqui, Kings Co., has received the appointment of Principal of the Model School. Mr. Rogers is a teacher of the first class and has had charge of the Apohaqui school for the last four years. On Tuesday evening last, previous to his departure from that place, the residents of the village and vicinity met at the Apohaqui hotel, when Mr. Rogers became the recipient of a flattering address and several handsome presents as a token of the high regard in which he was held by the people, and the successful manner he has conducted their school during his stay among them. The new Principal arrived here last night and will commence his duties at the opening of the school on Monday next.

Queen Hotel.

The "Queen" is the headquarters of commercial travellers in Fredericton. N. B. John Edwards is a thorough hotel man, and knows how to treat his guests well. He has made extensive improvements in his house this year, and, all told, the "Queen" is one of the best houses in the Maritime Provinces.—Toronto Commercial Traveller.

The Harvest Prospects.

Cheering accounts come from all parts of the country of the promising outlook of an abundant harvest. Wheat, oats and in fact all the grain crops are looking exceedingly well, and a good yield is expected. The potato crop gives promise of an abundant yield, and the farmers say there never was a better season for corn.

WHAT CAN SHE DO?

By E. P. Roe.

"Where I can secure the whole cloth, I shall not worry about the salvage of etiquette and passing opinion," was Mr. Fox's cynical reply.

"Well, sir, something is due to my own position, and I can not treat my daughter like a bale of cloth, as you suggest in your figurative speech." "However," he added, "I will take the necessary steps as soon as possible, and will trespass upon your time no longer."

As Mr. Fox glided out of the office with his sardonic smile, Mr. Allen felt for the moment that he would rather break than make terms with him.

Meanwhile the month of February was rapidly passing, though each day was an age of anxiety and suspense to Mr. Allen. The tension was too much for him, and he evidently aged and failed under it. He drank more than he ate, and his temper was very variable. From his wife he only received chidings and complaints that in his horrid "mania for business" he was neglecting her and his family in general. She could never get him to sit down and talk sensibly of the birthday and debut party that was now so near. He would always say, testily, "manage it to suit yourselves."

Laura and Zell were too much wrapped up in their own affairs to give much thought to anything else. But Edith, of late, understood her father and felt deeply for him. One evening finding him sitting dejectedly alone in the library after dinner she said,—

"Why go on with this party, papa? I am sure I am ready to give it up if it will be any relief to you."

The heart of this strong, confident man of the world was sore and lonely. For perhaps the first time he felt the need of support and sympathy. He drew his beautiful daughter, that thus far he had scarcely more than admired, down upon his lap and buried his face upon her shoulder. A breath of divine impulse swept aside for a moment the narrow stifling curtains of his sordid life, and he caught a glimpse of the large happy realm of love.

"And would you really give up everything for the sake of your old father?" he asked in a low tone.

"Everything," cried Edith, much moved by the unusual display of affection and feeling on the part of her father.

"The others would not," said he bitterly.

"Indeed, papa, I think they would if they only knew. We would all do anything to see you your old jovial self again. Give up this wretched struggle; tell Mr. Fox to do his worst. I am not afraid of being poor; I am sure we could work up again."

"You know nothing about poverty," sighed her father. "When you are down, the world that bowed at your feet, will run over and trample on you. I have seen it so often, but never thought of danger to me and mine."

"But this party," said the practical Edith, "why not give this up? It will cost a great deal."

"By no means give it up," said her father. "It may help me very much. My credit is everything now. The appearance of wealth which such a display insures, will do much to secure the wealth. I am watched day and night, and must show no sign of weakness. Go on with the party and make it as brilliant as possible. If I fail two or three thousand will make no difference, and it may help me to succeed. Whatever strengthens my credit for the next few days is everything to me. My stock is rising, only it is too slow. Things look better—if I could only gain time. But I am very uneasy—my head troubles me," and he put his hand to his head, and Edith remembered how often she had seen him do that of late.

"By the way," said he abruptly, "tell me how you get on with Mr. Fox."

"Oh, never mind about that now: do rest a little, mind and body."

"No, tell me," said her father sharply, showing how little control he had over himself.

"Well, I think I have beaten him so far. He is very demonstrative, and acts as if I belonged to him. Did I not manage to always meet him in company with others, he would come at once to an open declaration. As it is, I cannot prevent it much longer. He is coming this evening, and I fear he will press matters. He seems to think that the asking is a mere form and that our extremity will leave no choice."

"You must avoid him a little longer. Come, we will go to the theatre, and then you might be sick for a few days."

In a few minutes they were off, and were scarcely well away when Mr. Fox, dressed in more style than he could carry gracefully, appeared.

"Miss Edith an out," said Hannibal loftily.

"I half believe you lie," muttered Mr. Fox, looking very black.

"Search de house, sah. It am a berry gentlemanly proceeding."

"Where has she gone, and who did she go with?"

"I hab no orders to say," said Hannibal looking fixedly at the ceiling of the vestibule.

The knightly suitor turned on his heel, muttering, "They are playing me false."

"Twas a pity and he so true."

The next day Edith was sick and Mr. Allen's stock was rising. Hannibal again sent Mr. Fox baffled away, but with a dangerous gleam in his eyes.

On the following morning Mr. Allen found a note on his desk. His face grew livid as he had read it, and he often put his hand to his head. He sat down and wrote to this effect, however,—

"I am arranging the partnership matter as rapidly as possible. In regard to my daughter you will ruin all if you show no more discretion. I cannot compel her to marry you. You may make it impossible to influence her in your favor. You have been well received. What more can you ask? A matter of this kind must be arranged delicately."

Mr. Fox pondered over this with a peculiar foxy expression. "It sounds plausible. If only thought he was true," soliloquized this embodiment of truth.

Mr. Allen's stock was higher, and Mr. Fox watched the rise grimly, but he saw Edith, who was all smiles, and graciousness, and gave him a verbal invitation to her birthday party which was to take place early in the following week.

The fellow had considerable vanity, and was ensnared, his suspicions quieted for the time. Valuing money himself supremely, it seemed most rational that father and daughter should regard him as the most eligible young man in the city.

Edith's friends, and Gus in particular, were rather astonished at the new comer. Laura was frigid and remonstrative, Zell and Mr. Van Dam satirical, but Edith willfully tossed her head and said, "He was clever and well off, and she liked him well enough to talk to him a little." Society had made her a good actress. Meanwhile on the Tuesday following (and this was Friday) the long expected party would take place.

CHAPTER VI.

THE WEDDING.

On Saturday Mr. Allen's stock was rising, and he ventured to sell a little in a quiet way. If he "unloaded" rapidly and openly, he would break down the market.

Mr. Fox watched events uneasily. Mr. Goulden grew genial and more pronounced in his attentions. Gus, on Saturday, showed almost equal solicitude for a decisively favorable answer as Mr. Fox, if the language of his eyes could mean anything; but Edith played him and Mr. Fox off against each other so adroitly that they were learning to hate one another as cordially as they agreed in admiring her. Though she inclined in her favor to Mr. Fox, he was suspicious of nature, and annoyed at never being able to see her alone.

As before, they were at cards together in the library, Edith went for a moment into the parlor to get something. With the excuse of obtaining it for her, Mr. Fox followed, and the moment they were alone, he seized her hand and pressed a kiss upon it. An angry flush came into her face, but by a great effort she so far controlled herself as to put her finger to her lips and point to the library, as if her chief anxiety was that the attention of its occupants should not be excited. Mr. Fox was delighted, though the angry flush was a little puzzling. But if Edith permitted that, she would permit more, and if her only shrinking was that others should not see and know at present, that could be soon overcome. These thoughts passed through his mind while the incensed obtained what she wished. But she, feeling that her cheeks were too hot to return immediately to the critical eyes in the library, passed out through the front parlor, that she might have time to be herself again when she appeared. On what little links destiny sometimes hangs!
