Sir John A. Macdonald moved, that the following paragraph of His Excellency's speech of the opening of this Session, be read at the table, that is to say:

"I am advised that the judgment of the Eords of the Industriated of the Industriated of the Privy Council, delivered last June, on the appeal of Russell vs. The Queen, goes to show, that in order to prevent the unrestrained sale of intoxicating liquors, and for that purpose to regulate the granting of shop, saloon and tavern licenses, legislation by the Dominion Parliament will be necessary. Your carnest consideration of this important subject is desired."

Motion agreed to.

A Lt. deliaguent Justices, Commissioners and A Collectors of Rates, previous to the year 1882, are hereby notified that unless they are cens on patched for a moment the inconveniences which are to result from the adoption of the proposition. The adoption of the proposition of the Government know what they are. This is a Government formed from most of the beautiful formed from most of th is a Government formed from most of the Provinces at levents. It has machinery annels for acquiring the knowledge which some extent, at all events, that measure then, at any rate, it had been obvious Provinces at all events. It has machinery ample for acquiring the knowledge which some extent, at all events, that measure that the Local Legislature had no power ample for acquiring the knowledge which it may not itself possess. The Statute-books of the Provinces are to be found in the Library and in the Departments. There are several lawyers in the Administration. There is the Minister of Justical in the Sanate there is the rejult lon. istration. There is the Minister of Justice in the Senate, there is the right hongentleman hiu self, there is also the Minister of Public Works, and the Minister of Militia, and one or two others, I think, who belong to the same profession, so legal advice is not altogether absent from the Cabinet itself. Nor are there absent other means of obtaining information. This is a Government of commissions. They wanted information about the factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the domestic factories and they sent Mr. Black and Mr. Lakes to inspect the dupon that theory, it is network the Throne, and by his utterances early in June—that he was prepared to begislate here, but he did not say so. It would not do; and Mr. Meredith was put to the forefront of the battle to declare what the Conservative party of Ontario would do in this regard, and they agreed to dojust what the hone gentleman, the hongentleman designed—restored the power of issuing licenses to the municipalities. But they affirmed impliedly, if not expressly—aye, expressly and that he would not widen any of the there,

And when the hon, gentieman minimates the long self, in his capacity, not as leader of the large was permitted, to announce party marshalling his forces at Toronto for a Provincial contest, but in his calculations are reconstructed. And the particular decision gentleman so spoke, he said distinctly He had excited, by these statements of opinion. And the particular decision referred to in the Speech from the Throne took place as long ago as last June. From that period, at least, the attention of the Government was directed to the subject of legislation. They were absorbed in other matters just then, and I do not call on them to state why they were not engaged in culling the laws of as to what legislation is advisable and perhaps we shall not know all that perhaps we shall not know all that well known to themselves. But after the hon. gentleman called a Conservative but we have some account of what passed 20th June, hon, gentlemen were at their case.
