DISASTER AT THE FORESTERS' FETE.

London, Aug. 6.-At the Foresters' fete at Brighton last night, during a display of fireworks, a bomb burst, injuring sixteen of those present, several of them seriously.

THE WAR IN CUBA. Madrid, Aug. 6.-Official dispatches from Cuba confirm the rumor of the landing of a band of 50 filibusters near Santa Clara. It is also stated that a battalion of Spanish troops has de-feated the insurgents under Matias Vega, near Mayari. In the engagement near Santiago, in which the rebels under Jose Maceo were defeated, ten of the insurgents were killed and a number wounded, and five were taken prisoners. The rebels were surprised in camp. The Spanish loss was one killed and twelve wounded. THE U. C. COLLEGE PRINCIPAL-SHIP.

'A cablegram from London announces that the position of principal of the Upper Canada College had been tendered to George R. Parkin, formerly principal of New Brunswick College, and well known as an advocate of and an authority upon Imperial Federation. He accompanied the delegates from Britain to the Intercolonial Conference at Ottawa in 1894, as correspondent for the London Times. In the event of Mr. Parkin's refusal, the position will be tendered to one of several Englishmen of repute who are being

BREAD RIOTS RESULT IN SLAUGHTER.

London, Aug. 6.—The Times publishes Tabreez advices, saying that the offictals have fulfilled their promise to secure a reduction in the price of bread. This, however, did not satisfy the rioters, who, it is reported, attacked the palace of Muzaffer-ed-Din, son of the Shah, and Governor of the city. The latter, it is stated, ordered the bodyguard to fire upon the mob, nearly twenty of whom were killed, while many others were wounded. A further and more vigorous attack upon the Governor's palace is expected.

The rioting resulting from the agitation over the scarcity of bread here is still being carried on. The mob today attacked and wrecked the residence of the city governor, who has resigned. The officials continue to promise to obtain a reduction in the price of bread, but, despite this fact, the excitement has not in the least abated. Many of the female residents of the place have taken refuge at the Russian consulate TURKISH CRUELTY UNABATED. London, Aug. 6.-The Daily News prints a long letter dated Armenia, July 20, which represents Turkish cruelty as unabated. The condition of affairs, the letter says, has never been so grave, and the Armenians have nearly reached the limit of despair.

The Daily News also publishes a Vienna dispatch, giving a version of the Porte's reply to the demands of the powers for reforms, which confirms the previous statements of that paper. The opinion in political circles now is that it is impossible to obtain a favorable result without pressure. and that the issuance of an ultimatum or the holding of a European conference will be necessary.

SALISBURY DISAPPOINTED. London, Aug. 6.-After all, the result of the elections have not come up to the Tory expectation. Lord Salisbury is disappointed.

The Premier had confidently anticipated an absolute and working Tory majority over all other parties. Dissident Liberals and Radicals included. He has an absolute majority, but not a working one.

It used to be a saying of the great Sir Robert Peel that a Government could be conducted with a majority of one, but there was more bravado than judgment in the saying. Lord Salisbury's *coalition following-the Unionist party, as it calls itself-contains 73 adherents of the Duke of Devonshire and Joseph Chamberlain. Were these to go over in a body to the ranks of the Opposition, they would leave him with an absolute majority of only

It follows, therefore, in practical politics that while they may not be numerically necessary to him now, he can never regard himself as really independent of them. The contingencies of a Government depending for its life on a majority of six could not be regarded as pleasant from any Tory point of view. The victory, which two weeks ago looked like a Tory victory, is not that, but a Unionist victory. The life of the new Administration hangs upon the continued coalition of old and new Tories, with 48 Devonshire Whigs, and 25 Chamberlain Radicals, 15 of whom are the personal following of the Birmingham Doumouriex. FUSION NOT COMPLETE.

London, Aug. 6 .- The elections have proved another thing-there has not been an absolute fusion between the Liberal-Unionists and the Tory party. If the result of the polling had been a large Tory majority, very little would have been heard of "the necessity of maintaining the independent existence and organization of the Liberal-Unionist party. The Liberal-Unionists in that event would have been absorbed exactly as the Tories had hoped and anticipated. But there is no absorption. The watchword of the Duke of Devonshire and Mr. Chamberlain is not "fusion," but alliance." The policy is not one of merger, but of coalition. This is the drop of gall in Lord Salisbury's cup: He must recognize some of the aspirations of Mr. Chamberlain if he would remain in power for any-thing like the legal life of a Parlia-

It does not follow, however, that there is to be no check upon the more radical schemes of that statesman.

There is a check that will prove quite sufficient. The 48 Devonshire Whigs may be relied on to stand out resolutely against the more revolutionary projects of the man from Birmingham if he is rash enough to attempt to carry them out. Devonshire would never consent to the expulsion of Chamberlain from the Cabinet; but he would meet with an equally unbending oppo-sition any revival of the earlier and extreme radicalism of the brilla.it, aggressive and insinuating Secretary of State for the Colonies.

ASQUITH THE COMING MAN. London, Aug. 6.-When it comes to a trial of oratorical and debating powers in the new Commons, the Government will not find the Opposition lacking in talent of the first order. If the House were reconstituted today-with Gladstone and Harcourt left out of it-Mr. Asquith would probably be recognized as its ablest debater. As the Secretary of State in the last two Governments he proved himself to be a great administrator. The House, which has an opinion of its own quite independent of party prejudice, and welcomes a man of remarkable gifts, whether he is a Liberal, Tory or Irish Nationalist, has acknowledged the capacity of Mr. Asquith just as freely as it has that of Arthur Balfour, Joseph Chamberlain and Mr. Sexton.

There is no case in recent English Parliamentary history where a man's rise has been so rapid and decisive. When Mr. Gladstone made him Home Secretary there were those who asked, "Why Asquith?" They soon found out why. That peculiar instinct for selecting men of talent which is developed so highly in Mr. Gladstone discovered Asquith. The old Parliamentary hand did not hesitate to intrust to a man of 36 one of the most important portfolios in his cabinet. Nor was the confidence misplaced. The Gladstone divining rod had not erred. Mr. Asquith was scarcely seated before Mr. Chamberlain, armed cap-a-pie, rode into the lists and challenged him to a Parlia-mentary duel. The challenge was promptly accepted. The result was never a moment in doubt after the first hundred words of reply had fallen from the young Home Secretary. The hel-met of the boasting and insolent challenger was cloven to his chin, and from this day the House of Commons has not questioned the pre-eminent talent of

Mr. Asquith for debate. There is no disposition on the part of the Liberals to shunt the old warhorse, Sir William Vernon Harcourt. He will continue leader of the party in the Lower House. But it is a source of keen gratification to the Opposition that the first lieutenancy of the Parliamentary organization is held by the resourceful and fearless Asquith. the inevitable reactions of the United Kingdom in favor of a Liberal rule, Mr. Asquith, if he lives, will cercalled upon to fill the high office that can be conferred upon the leader of a victorious party. Asquith is a Prime Minister in futuro.

A WISE KING DYING.

King Oscar, of Sweden, the Most Learned Monarch on Earth.

Copenhagen, Aug. 6.—Oscar, king of Denmark and Sweden, passed a bad night. He suffers frequent recurring pains, and his condition is thought to be serious.

Oscar II. of Sweden is regarded as the most learned monarch in the world. He was born Jan. 21, 1829, being the third son of Oscar I., who was the son of the French General Bernadotte, who became king of Sweden during the Bonapartist wars. The present monarch came to the throne Sept. 3, 1872, in consequence of the death of his older brother, Charles XV. Previous to that time he was a general in the army and a noted orientalist, for which he was chosen president of the international oriental congress. In addition to his mastery of oriental literature, he is familiar with the principal languages of Europe and is a poet of considerable merit.

PEARL FISHING IN QUEBEC.

A New and Profitable Industry Suggested In the Rivers of the Prevince.

Quebec, Aug. 6.-Recent investigations by those versed in the subject have made it evident that the rivers of Quebec teem with pearls. Though the fact is not generally known, it appears that for some time past a few individuals have devoted much of their time to inland pearl fishing in this Province with very satisfactory results. though they may not have become wealthy at it. Fine stones are very rare, though some are occasionally found of the right color and as large as a goodsized pea and perfectly round. But the less valuable kind are very numerous, pearl-bearing shells being common in all the streams below the city of Quebec and in many of those above it. The shells themselves are of beautiful col-

A fine collection has been taken from the River Nicolet, near Montreal, and if people who really know something about the habits of the pearl-bearing mollusks were to go into the business here it is possible that a profitable business might be established. Some of the richest pearl rivers in the Province are believed to be those in the newly opened up Lake St. John district, which are now so much frequented by Canadian anglers. Remarkably fine specimens have recently been taken out of one of the tributaries of the Peribonca. Fishing for them is not an easy task as the good shells generally keep themselves in pretty deep water, and are only distinguished with difficulty from the others. Even after obtaining the shells the search for the pearl is a long and delicate one. It may be hidden in the body of the mollusk or broken in too violently opening the shell. Quebec, Aug. 6.—Recent investigations by those versed in the subject have made it evident that the rivers

THE LATE REV. MR. STEWART Quebec, Aug. 6 .- Among the missionaries massacred in China was Rev. Mr. Stewart, who with his wife visited Toronto last year. He delivered address before the alumni of Wycliffe College on the subject of missions in October last. As a result of the visit some changes were proposed in the working of the missionary system.

LET HER LEARN. San Francisco, Aug. 6 .- Lady Sholte Douglass, the wife of the second son of the Marquis of Queensberry, who lately left the concert hall stage to be-come the wife of the young lord, in her desire to fit herself for his station in life, has applied for admission to the Alameda High School. The eligibility of a married woman to enter the school is doubted, and her application has been referred to the superintendent.

Further Details of the Chinese Atrocities.

The Authorities Did Nothing to Prevent the Butchery, Though Plenty of Troops Were Near the Scene of the Missionary Massacre.

London, Aug. 6.—The Daily Tele-graph prints a dispatch from Shanghai saying that Rev. H. S. Phillips, of the English Church Missionary Society, witnessed the atrocities at Whasang, but was powerless to do anything to prevent them. The Chinese magistrate, the dispatch also says, waited until the foreigners were murdered or had fled before he appeared. The massacre was carefully planned. There are about 1,-000 soldiers stationed at Kucheng, and they covia have stopped the riot had the officials chosen to do so. The same dispatch states that the American mission at Shashi, near Hankow. on the Yangtse-Kiang River, has been destroyed, and its former occupants are fugitives. The American consul here has advised the missionaries in other parts of the country to retire. A meeting of the foreign residents of Shanghai of all nationalities was held last night under the auspices of the China Association. Foreigners were urged to appeal direct to the Governments of the various countries to secure reparation for the many outrages committed in the Chinese empire, especially for that at Whasang. Some of the speakers at this meeting declared that no confidence was to be placed in the diplomatic representatives at Pekin.

The American residents desire the appointment of a committee to inquire into the outrages in Sezechuen and other inland provinces, apart from the British commission, and be under the control of American Consul Jernigan. Mr. O'Connor, the British Minister, has given his assent to the proposition. The existing commission is composed of British Consul Tratman, of Shung King; one missionary, the native prefect at Chengtu, the provincial treas-urer and the provincial judge. All of the latter are regarded as having been implicated in the attacks upon the foreigners.

The Times prints a Shanghai dispatch saving that the ladies at the missionary station begged for life, promising to surrender their property and valuables, but the leader of the mob shouted out orders to kill them outright. D. Taylor, a missionary who has just returned to London from the districts in China where the outrages had been committed, said today that all the trouble had been caused by the secret society-Lai-which has been increased in strength enormously since the war The society was established with the object of overturning the dynasty. It is especially inimical to foreigners. The Government has been informed of its practices, but has done nothing. Taylor paid a high tribute to American Consul Hixon, at Foo Chow, and expressed the opinion that the escape of the Americans at Kucheng was due to his energetic action.

Dr. Gregory and Miss Hartford, Dover. N. H., ho were reported in Sunday's cables to have been either massacred or injured, escaped either fate.

HOLMES' CASE.

Peculiarities Pointed Out by the Prison ers' Counsel-The Mysterious Box that Quinlan Shipped. Philadelphia, Aug. 6.-Lawyer Shoemaker, who represents Holmes, was asked yesterday how long his client could be kept in the county prison awaiting sentence on the charge of conspiracy, to which he pleaded guilty. The attorney said the Holmes case throughout is a peculiar one, the like of which the courts have never before had to handle. Holmes pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiring to defraud the Fidelity Mutual Life Association, but as the case against him cannot be made complete without the conspirators being brought to trial, he practially now rests incompletely guilty, but is liable under the law to a sentence of two years, the maximum penalty, he having pleaded guilty to an indictment in which the names of other alleged conspirators were mentioned. warrant has been lodged against him by the Fort Worth, Tex., authorities, which, I think, has the precedence. I do not think the Toronto authorities want to try him, as they have but a slim chance of conviction, and I cannot see what weight the Chicago testimony would have against him.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Detective Geyer, of Philadelphia, has rendered the Chicago police material assistance in Holmes case. He has written to Chief Badenoch requesting him to get from Quinlan some information about a heavy wooden box, 4 1-2 feet long, 2 1feet wide, and 1 1-2 feet deep, shipped by Quinlan to Holmes from Chicago o Tilton, N. H., in November, 1894. Y., Aug. 5.-Fire broke out tonight in the basement of the building, corner of Main and Academy streets, occupied by David Peterkin, fancy goods and millinery. In the efforts to reach the fire some 25 or 30 firemen were overcome by the dense smoke and had to be carried out. Loss about $15,000.

FIRE LOSSES OF A MONTH. New York, Aug. 6.-The Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin says: The fire loss of the United States and Canada for the month of July, as compiled from our daily records, shows a total of $9,085.000. The losses for the same month in 1893 were $12,118,700, and in 1894, $16,307,000.

A BRANTFORD SENSATION.

Coachman Shackle's Persistency Nearly Costs Him His Life.

Brantford, Aug. 6.-Fred Shackle, a ccachman in the employment of the Messrs. Hunt & Colter, was shot by Mrs. Watt, matron of the Widows' Home, between 1 and 2 o'clock on Sunday morning. The matron heard someone at her bedroom window, and going there found a man on his hands and knees on the window sill. She ordered him to go away, but he refused. She thereupon pulled a revolve and fired. The bullet entered Shackle's forearm just below the elbow, and seriously shattered the bone.

Shackle went away and returned later with his wife and another man. His wife demanded to know why Mrs. Watt had shot her husband. some further talk Mrs. Watt again ared upon Shackle. The police appre-hended Mrs. Watt and Mr. Shackle and took them both to the lockup. Shackle was subsequently taken to the hospital, where his wound is being treated. The case will come before the police magistrate on Thursday.

Launch of a $175,000 Ferry Boat for Canadian-American Traffic.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 5 .- In the presence of 25,000 people, Henango, No. 1, a car ferry built at a cost of $175,000, was successfully launched at the yards of the Craig Building Company in this city this afternoon. She is destined for service on Lake Erie, to run between Port Dover, Ont., and Conneaut, Pa. connecting the Grand Trunk Railway and the Pittsburg, Shenango and Lake Erie Railway. She is 300 feet in length, 54 feet beam, 25 feet deep, and will carry 28 loaded cars. She has special machinery for crushing ice to enable her to navigate the year round.

BOYS FIGHT WITH KNIVES. Friends Turned to Fiends-Both Painfully Wounded.

Leavenworth, Ind., Aug. 6.-William Welton and John Stangoul, school boys, 13 and 11 years old respectively, fought a deadly duel with knives on Saturday The boys have always been friends and schoolmates, and have borne good reputations. They quarreled over some trivial matter, and, urged on by their associates, agreed to fight it out with knives. They fought for twenty minutes. When the crowd of small boys around them found they could not separate them, the alarm was given and their parents sent for. They arrived just as the younger lad sank to the ground with a deep wound in his left side. He is in a dangerous condition, and the other is painfully wounded.

A FIENDISH DEED.

A dispatch from St. John, N. B., of Aug. 5 says: A shocking assault occurred in Iberville, opposite here, last week. Four men brutally assaulted a 14-year-old girl who was tied naked to a tree with a frog in her throat to prevent her crying out. All of the men are well-known bad characters around here, and three have already skipped.

General business of a rather interesting character gave the aldermen three hours' work at the regular meeting of the council last night. No very large questions were fought out, but the council placed itself on record as being able to discuss small questions at as great length as larger ones. Ald. J. W. Jones was in his seat again after his trip to the old country. He returned on Sunday much benefited by his trip. James Bell filled the chair of the city clerk-and filled it well from the point of view of clerical fitness and aptitude, if not from the view of avoirdupois. The mayor was in his usual place, and the following aldermen sat around the semi-circle: Pritchard, Heaman (J.), Brener, O'Meara, Jones, Powell, Carrothers, Heaman (W.), Skinner, Armstrong, Garratt, Dreaney, Ardill, Nutkins, Parnell and Marshall.

DR. WILD GOT $700. No. 1 committee will have to wrestle with a goodly number of petitions for remission of taxes at its next meeting. Dr. Wild was taxed $48 07 on an alleged income of $2,300, as pastor of the First Congregational Church. In the course of his letter asking for remisst October I engaged with the First Congregational Church of London to take charge of the same, with a view of becoming their regular pastor. If my health would allow, and all were agreed, I was to settle down with them. I was to receive $3,000 per year, and have three months' vacation and an assistant. In spring my health failed me. then retired for rest. The last foun Sundays I again supplied the pulpit, that Rev. J. R. Adams might have a vacation. What the outcome will be l cannot say now. Still, I do hope my health will permit me to settle in London. For the time I preached I did not receive a salary, but an amount to pay my expenses liberally in going and coming weekly between Bronte and London and hotel and carriage charges. I find I have not received $700 for the year, and for this reason I ask you to free me from income tax."

This, with tax communications from Mrs. Matilda Carr. Moses Bramand Catherine Cowan, J. G. Marghets, R. J Blackwell (on behalf of the Free Library board). Wm. Kirkpatrick. J. H Leishman, J. H. Cowan, claimed compensation, the amount not being named, for damage done to his property on Ridout street south by the water being flooded into it, owing to the alleged defective construction of a culvert across the road near his place. No 2 committee will deal with the cases.

REFERRED TO NUMBER THREE. Thomas & Buchner gave notice that T J. McDonagh intends resisting payment of street watering rates. Jacob Smith asked permission to build an addition in rear of his stall in the market bazar.

Alexander McRae, through Magee McKillop & Murphy, asked for $10 damages for injury done to his cab in collision with a fire wagen. A DOLEFUL TALE.

Probably the most dismal letter that has been read in the chamber for some time was that of H. Hilbert, 172 Wreay street, South London. He had been getting gradually behind for the last couple of years, owing to hard times, the letter read, and he was obliged to sell, one after the other, his two cows, to live on the proceeds. Then his horse was so poorly that he was obliged by the city to kill it or be prosecuted. In January, 1855, while on duty on a Canadian ship, in a storm, he had both feet so badly frozen as to necessitate their amputation. Then he was ruptured, he had eight children—none of them able to earn a living-and a very sick wife. The letter, which was a request for relief, was sent to No. 1. ARE THEY MAKING MONEY?

A. F. Wicks, the secretary of the teamsters' picnic committee, wrote a pleasant little letter asking the presence of the mayor and council at the teamsters' demonstration on Civic Holiday. Incidentally, it requested that the city pay for twelve electric lights at the evening performance. It is the intention to have a wedding under these effulgent rays, which will cost continued Ald. Jones, "but I am in s position to know."

Ald. Parnell—So am I.

Ald. Powell favored granting the petition. Ald. Marshall opposed it.
"I suppose I might explain that this is entirely illegal," said the mayor. "If there is any serious objection to it I will have to rule it out of order. Ald. Marshall raised the point of or-der, but the matter was referred to No. 3 committee with power.

ANOTHER GRANT REFUSED. Joseph Marks, on behalf of the Trades and Labor Council, asked for the use of the City Hall for the holding of the Trades Congress during the week commencing Sept. 3; also for a grant of $200 towards expenses.' Ald. Skinner (to the mayor)-Is the grant legal? The Mayor-It is not. Ald. Jones-There is no provision in the estimates for the grant.

The council was almost unanimous in refusing the grant.
Canon J. B. Richardson petitioned to have Alice Freeland, an invalid, admitted to the Home for Incurables.

Referred to the mayor. IS THE HALL SAFE? The question of the safety of the East End Hall for purposes of dancing was resurrected again on the reading of a letter from Mr. Hugh Johnston, Priness avenue, asking for the use of the hall for a dance on the afternoon and evening of Sept. 2. The engineer reported against the use of the hall for the purpose of dancing last year, and the firemen, who are supposed to sleep underneath, have long complained of the noise. "It is a well-known fact," said Ald.

Pritchard, "that it is not fit for danc-

Mayor Little-I think the engineer should examine the place and report before any more dancing is held. Ald. Carrothers-Well, the engineer will have to go right away, as there lis a dance in progress there at this moment.

Several aldermen opposed the motion, but the application was referred to the city treasurer to make financial arrangements.

THE FIRE LIMITS BYLAW. The first clause of No. 3 committee's report recommended that Alex. Harvey be allowed to erect an addition in the rear of the Mechanics' Institute, to be covered with sheet iron.

"Is that in accordance with the bylaw?" asked the mayor.
Ald. Powell—We think so. Mayor Little-If it is not in accordance with the bylaw I understand it requires a two-third vote. Ald. Garratt-As a member of No. 3 committee, I will move that that clause be struck ont.

Ald. Nutkins seconded. "It is all very well for Ald. Garratt and Ald. Nutkins," said Ald. Powell, but I will tell them that there is not very much chance of a brick structure being put up there. It is too far from the ground.

"I understand," said Ald, Carrothers, "that the engineer has reported against this clause. I don't believe in having a city engineer, and paying him, and having all the committees overriding his rulings."

The clause was eventually struck ALARM BELL WILL NOT RING. The next clause recommended the ringing of the City Hall bell in cases of fire. This momentous question evok ed nearly as much discussion as the letting of a $75,000 paving contract. "I hope that clause will never pass," said Ald. Jones. "This city is not a village, and the alarm bell it not rung in any city on the continent with a population of over 5,000—especially where there is a regular brigade. If you want to call everyody to a fire then ring the bell. Ald. Skinner urged that the bell should be rung for the benefit of the thousands who had not telephones in their homes. Ald. O'Meara also urged the adoption of the clause. Ald. Garratt moved that the clause be struck out. Ald. Jones seconded. Ald. Marshall opposed the clause. Ald. Brener opposed it also, and Ald. Powell urged the adoption. He said that Janitor Merritt had volunteered to do the

The vote was a tie, and the mayor gave the casting vote. "I have no hesitation," he said, "in voting to strike the clause out, because the chief of the fire brigade and the chief of police have both told me that their work would be hampered by having the alarm rung." And the fire bell will not ring. THAT ELUSIVE MONEY. > For a long time the council has, on and off, dealt with the question of paying the hands of the L. and P. S. R., who kept the road in repair while the city and the Miller syndicate were watching one another, and wondering who was running the road. The first clause of No. 1 committee's report dealt with the matter by recommending as follows: "That the petitions of Parke & Purdom, Robinson & McDonald, Fitzgerald & Fitzgerald, D. W. McKay, et al., re wages of the L. and P. S. R. syndicate, be filed, the solicitor having expressed the opinion that your committee has no power." Ald. Armstrong moved the following resolution in relation to the clause, and Ald. Skinner seconded: "That this council regrets that the wages of the employes of the late L. and P. S. R. syndicate were left unpaid, and as we are advised by the city solicitor that the council has no power to pay the men, recommends that the matter be submitted to the vote of the citizens at the next municipal election for power to make such payment. 'Is Ald. Armstrong in earnest "ask ed Ald. Jones.

"I am," said Ald. Armstrong "And you would expend $500 in advertising the necessary bylaw to expend $700," added Ald. Jones. "Better move that the grant be made in the name of charity-the only way in which the city can legally grant the amount. It has no right to withhold from a workman his hire. Those employe especially citizens, should be paid, if not in full, then in part."

The matter was referred back for onsiderajon. CORPORATION VS. WASHER-

WOMEN. A great deal of discussion ensued over a proposal to cancel the special water rate of 5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, enjoyed by the Parisian Steam Laundry. This was recommended because another laundry had applied for a similar rate. Mr. J. H. Flock appeared for Chiera & Vier, to protest against the matter being sprung upon the company. He pointed out that the company employed from 80 to 100 men, and expended over $800 a week in wages, and that they could easily have received a bonus

Apollinaris Chinese Atrocities.

One Massacred Family Well-Known in London.

Their Death Evidently Caused by a Secret Society,

Which Sprung Suddenly Into Existence Japanese Victories Worried the Johns.

Latest dispatches from China confirm the news of the atrocious massacre of Christian missionaries at Ku Cheng. Among the victims of the fiendish onslaught, the Rev. Dr. Stewart, his wife and one child is reported, as having been burned to death in their house. Another report states that Dr. Stewart's whole family, numbering five, except two, were sacrificed. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart were well known in London, and during a visit to Bishopstowe a year or two ago endeared themselves to many, and created a deep interest in their work in China. The following letter received from Mrs. Stewart, under date Dec. 10, 1894, from Ku Cheng, Fco Chow, China, was received by Mrs. Baldwin and inserted in the Letter Leaflet of the Woman's Auxiliary, edited by Mrs. H. A. Boomer. in May last. It will be seen by the dispatches elsewhere that the Mandarins have blamed the present atrocities upon "certain secret societies," and that the Europeans "regard this as nonsense." Mrs. Stewart, in her letter below, refers to the existence of these secret societies and their menacing attitude toward foreigners. The letter, which is partly reproduced, will be found of interest in view of the frightful fate which has overtaken the Stewart family and their fellow missionaries. MRS. STEWART'S LETTER. "My Dear Mrs. Baldwin,-You will,

of course, have guessed that owing to the war between China and Japan, Chinese people are in a state of great unrest, and hardly know what to expect from day to day. In this part of the Fuh Klen Province a new source of danger has arisen. A secret society, which has been slowly growing for two vears, has suddenly become very active, and is rapidly increasing in numbers; some hundreds have joined them within the last few weeks, and they are daily growing in numbers. The mandarin has no power to check them; he made an attempt a few weeks ago, and his house was soon surrounded by an angry mob, who said they would bull it down if he did not agree to their wishes. At last the poor man yielded, as he was quite terrified, and actually allowed his own secretary to be beaten, merely because the mob manded it, and then liberated a few of their number he had imprisoned, and sent them home in state in sedan chairs. The victory over the mandarin has made them very bold, and they say quite openly they can now do as they like. They have many times the proceeds to be applied to public threatened to burn down our houses. and either kill us or drive us away, but DRINTING TYPE, INKS, PRESSES—

But we know nothing can hurt us without our Father's will, and we feel quite content. Our little girls, aged 10 and 12, sometimes feel the strain rather, and when people begin talking of possibilities they feel rather frightened, but even this the Lord is using for good, for it is teaching them to turn to him for help and comfort, as they never would in peaceful days. We feel most for our poor Christians, and it is for them I want specially to ask you to pray. Even now many are having a time of severe testing, and much worse may come if the war is prolonged. The heathen think they have now a good chance of injuring them, as the Government is quite unable to take their part at present. Some have had their crops of rice cut down and carried away before their eyes; others have been beaten, and one poor man had his shop attacked and everything he had carried off. We know that those who are grounded and settled in the faith will not be moved, but we feel so much for the inquirers and those just lately come out of heathen darkness. "God is able to make them stand." Will you join with us in asking that all this trouble may lead to a spiritual blessing and that the Christians may be given courage to bear whatever may be the Lord's will to send them? Will you also pray that this

Strange, but True

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anæmic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

harm, may be in some way broken up, and not allowed to injure the Lord's work in this place? They are going to have a great gathering of some hundreds of these conspirators at this city in about a fortnight, and we are praying much that the Lord will keep them from doing any harm. They threaten all sorts of things, but we know they cannot carry it out unless God permits them. The consul is anxious we should all leave these inland stations, and go to the Treaty Port for safety, for he thinks that if Pekin is taken there may be a general rising of the people, and then the foreigner would be the first to suffer. But so far we cannot see that it is the Lord's will we should leave our posts, and we fear it would much discourage the Christians if we did so. The Lord will guide day by day, and we simply want to follow his will. Will you pray especially for two dear men, leaders in the church here at Ku Cheng? The first is named Ling Sing-mi; he is an ordained clergyman, the pastor of our church in the city, and head of the Ku Cheng district work under my husband. Will you work under my husband. pray that he may be given wisdom and strength at this time of trial, that God may bless him, that he may be a blessing to others? The other is named Li-Daik-in, also a leader, and also a very good man. Will you ask that he too may receive much blessing through this trial, and learn to trust God more fully than ever before? We are all well in health, thank God. My husband had one attack of illness summer, but is now well again; he is constantly busy, and, indeed, can hardly get through the work of these two great districts. Will you ask the Lord to send more men, men fitted and prepared by himself Our warmest thanks for your sympathy in our work."

Ald. Armstrong pointed out that the cent rate of the company was subject to a 20 per cent discount, making it really a 4 cent rate.

Mr. Flock said that the company was willing to pay 5 cents net.

Ald. O'Meara opposed the giving of a special rate at all. "You are giving," said he, "free water to a rich corporation against your own citizens-the hundreds of widow women who, before the laundry was started, washed the shirts and sheets of the citizens." The matter was referred back to the committee to bring in a general laundry

SCHOOL EXPENDITURE. Both the following clauses passed, although Ald. Parnell protested that $2,000 for Collegiate Institute closets was an outrage. However, the closets were already erected, and the council was pledged:

Ald. Pritchard—Well, I am informed on the very best authority of a citizen that it is a fact. The matter dropped, and then Mr. Pritchard obtained a confession from the city engineer that the stone crusher had been injured by the builders of the bicycle track in London West. A bill for repairs had, however, been sent to Mr. W. J. Reid for settlement. Ald. Parnell was anxious about the "T" rails that the street railway company is laying in South London. The engineer produced letters to show that the rails were only a temporary arrangement, and Ald. BYLAWS.

A bylaw making it obligatory for civic contractors to pay union wages, received its third and final reading. Bylaw authorizing the expenditure of $2,000 on Collegiate Institute closets also passed.

The next bylaw called for the expenditure of $34,000 for new schools. Trustees Blackwell and Jeffery were heard in favor of the grant, and Trustee Griffin opposed it. Ald. J. W. Jones protested emphatically against the large increase of expenditure. So did Ald. O'Meara and Parnell, until the aldermen shouted "Question" at 11:15. Ald. Carrothers moved, seconded by Ald. Pritchard, that the bylaw be read six months hence. The motion carried and the council

Natural Exclusiveness of Women.

Women are generally considered more aristocratic and exclusive by nature than large number of these visits have been don't ge 'em, and that's how I have a men-that is, they are supposed to be made for the purpose of inspecting the slower to fraternize with people of a lower social order and more sensitive in matters of taste and breeding. The partial truth of this is probably due to the fact of their smaller contact with the world and less experience of life in its broader phases. For instance, it would have been easier for the Judge to affiliate with Maud Muller's husband than for the Judge's wife to hobnob with the rustic beauty herself, especially if the first meeting had taken place later on in life, when their entirely opposite modes of living had fixed their naturally resulting habits. The Judge and the man, "unlearned and poor," might have met for a brief space on the common ground of elections or real estate values. But the two women would in all probability have met simply with mutual discomfiture. Yet it is women even store at an early hour, and laying a small package on the counter, he said:

A Case Where Extravagance is Economy. "Here comes Madam Extravagance," gaily cried a group of girls as they were joined by a young woman in a handsome and stylish black satin gown.

"Suppose you let me give you this gown's abridged history," replied the newcomer. If you consider it an extravagance I'll agree never to wear it again. This satin was bought exactly twelve years ago by my mother before I was old enough to wear such material. She had it made into an evening gown and wore it for two or three years with slight changes, upon occasions. Then it was remodeled into a calling costume, and served another term of equal length. Then being a thrifty soul my mother ripped it up and rolled it smoothly over curtain rollers, pinned them up in old muslin and put them away. Two years ago it was resurrected for my benefit. It has already served me for "go-to-meetingbest" for one season, and is now just reaching its hack days, though I hope to get another season's wear out of the skirt with fancy waists. And the moral is, girls, by the best quality of silk or satin if you v at to be truly economical. Seeming excravagance is often true economy.

Picture-Books for Hospital Children. A pleasant and profitable employment for restless children in their long vacation is the setting them to making scrapbooks for children's hospitals. These may be all sorts of pictures pasted on uniform sheets of cardboard. When enough are collected to make a little book it may be bound by the elders in stout calico, or the separate leaves may merely be tied together, and can then be taken apart and distributed to the small invalids.

Breakfast Al Fresco. The latest form of entertaining one's friends is by means of the outdoor breakfast which takes place exactly at noon. A tent or awning gayly decorated with flowers and greens is erected on the lawn and the tables are made bright with flowers and fruit. The women guests, of course, wear light summer gowns and are without hats and the men appear in white yachting suits.

Pancake Dishes are New. A pancake dish is among the odd china shown in new wares. It is shaped like a great saucer, with a closely fitting cover that is pierced by several small holes to allow the steam to pass out. It is of a charming shade of deep dull green and makes a most ornamental part of a table

WESTERN DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION | CARDING

(Notes by the Secretary.) During the past few weeks Inspector Millar has made visits of inspection and instruction to the Silver Coners, Kenilworth, Bothwell, Vittoria, Waish, Summerville, Lyons, Thamesford, Ethel. Kinkora and Carthage factories. The Board of Trade,

422 Richmond St.

While the inspector has very much testing to do, it is not possible to give much definite instruction in making, as a large share of the time is taken up in sampling the milk and in making the test. To give proper instruction in cheese-making the person so doing should be in a position to examine the flavor and quality of the milk when being put into the vat, and to take full charge of the vat from the time the milk is heated till the curd is ready for the press. Unless he is able to do this the instructor will not be able to show his pupils how the milk should be handled at the various stages and to point out the important features as the making process is proceeded with. Hence, if factorymen, when applying for the inspector, want instruction in cheese-making, they should not expect him to do much milk testing. Applications for the inspectors' services have been coming in very fast recently; with one or two exceptions they are all for milk inspection. A great many factorymen write or telegraph for the inspector as soon as there is the least suspicion of the milk being tampered with, and expect a visit from him the next day, when it may not be possible for him to make a visit for a couple of weeks. Where possible, applications should be made at least a week before the inspector's services are required, or if this cannot be done there should not be any disappointment if a week or so elapses before a visit is made.

The cheese markets last week were exceedingly dull, very few sales taking place. Some Junes were disposed of at figures less than 8 cents. Not many Julys were sold. Factorymen preferred to hold for a while, though some Julys were offered for 8 cents, but were not taken up by the buyers.

PAY THE MEN.

We are glad that the London City Council has not refused to pay the workmen of the London and Port Stanley Railway who suffered by the failure of the Cleveland syndicate to carry out its agreement, and that the matter will again be considered.

The men ought to be paid by the city, and if there is no legal way open to the aldermen except to have the money granted as "charity," then let it be so

These workmen kept the railway going while it was in a state of transition. If they had refused to work because the syndicate did not pay them every week, the citizens would have been sufferers, for the line would not have been operated.

There is another side to the question, however. The Cleveland men put up $25,000 as a guarantee that they meant business, and if the negotiations had been managed with prudence the capitalists might have supplied the lake ferry between Cleveland and Port Stanley that it is now proposed to establish between Cleveland and Port Dover, and retained control of the railway as a complement of that scheme. When the negotiations broke through, however, the city pocketed the $25,000 indemnity. We have always contended that out of this money the Council of 1894 should have paid the wages of the men who, by their labor, prevented a cessation of operations while the negotiations for its control were in progress. We know, in fact, that some of the men would not have continued at work, without pay, if they had not believed that the $25,000 forfeit was put up to provide for back pay in the event of the syndicate withdra.wing.

It has been said that there are unsettled claims against the syndicate for supplies that would have to be paid if the workmen's back wages are voted city. No one need have misgivings on that account. It is admitted that the city has no legal right to pay the workmen, but it has a moral right, because of the special services performed by the men at a critical time. Traders who sold goods to the syndicate occupy an entirely different position, and cannot look to the city to make good their bad accounts.

CANADIAN MINES AND CANADIAN MONEY.

The value of the mineral products of New South Wales last year was $24,-270,000, and the aggregate value, from beginning of the mineral industry in that colony to the end of 1894, was $531,377,000. In Ontario the value of mineral products last year was $6,086,758, and it does not appear that this output has ever before been largely exceeded. Yet it is believed that Ontario possesses mineral resources not inferior to New South Wales; for although she has no coal, and probably no placer gold, she has other minerals in large abundance and not less easily

Why, then, is the progress of the mineral industry so slow in our Province, as compared with the Australian colony? Is it for lack of skill, or enterprise, or capital? Skill is a matter of experience, and the intelligent Canadian is quick enough to succeed in any kind of work to which he pleases to set his mind. Besides, skilled miners may be procured readily from other countries if there is employment found for them. As regards enterprise, there is no lack of it in trades and occupations which have grown and developed with the progress of the country. Nowhere else are the lumbering and fishing industries carried on with greater energy than in Canada, and in lines of manufactures suited to our conditions and circumstances very substantial progress has been made. Our merchants, too, including all who are engaged in buying and selling-in the whole wide field of commerce—are not surpassed by those of any other country in which the opportunities are the same. In agriculture our people excel. They are intelligent, thrifty, progressive, and the farmers of Ontario hold the first place among all the farmers of America, particularly as grain growers, stock breeders, cheese makers and tillers of the soil. If one could only place a farm in New York, Ohio or Michigan alongside a farm in Ontario, he would readily perceive what this statement implies, and that there is much more in it than mere natural advantages, although it is no doubt true that the ice age did much for the farm land of Ontario in building it up with limes and clays from the decomposed rocks of our northland. In the pursuits to which they have devoted themselves, and for which their country is naturally adapted, the citizens of Ontario have always done well. Is there any special reason why they should fail in establishing a mineral industry? The excuse usually offered is that we have no money, and that we can do nothing unless British or United States capital is brought in. But this excuse is harly tenable, for the official bank returns published every month at Ottawa show that there are large amounts of money in the country awaiting employment.

The fourth report of the Bureau of Mines, in discussing this subject, shows that at the end of last February there was deposited in the banks of Canada by the public, payable on demand, $64,-555,403, and payable after notice. $115,-083,710, or a total of $179,639,113. This is $100,000,000 more than the bank deposits of fourteen years ago, one-third of the whole amount earning no interest, and the rest at a rate of interest probably not half as much as was allowed in 1881. Clearly then, it is not for lack of capital awaiting investment that the mining industry in Ontario is not flourishing. "The labor of the miner alone," the report says, "may develop the mineral wealth of Ontario. as it has done elsewhere upon rare occasions; but the progress of unaided labor in this department of industry must be slow and precarious. With the help of capital the chance of successful effort may be greatly improved, and it does seem to be a deplorable situation that where nature has been so bountiful the citizen folds his arms and the enterprising foreigner is invited to step in and carry away the treasure. When the gas fields of Essex and Welland were opened, pipe lines were laid down to convey cheap fuel to Detroit and Buffalo." But this latter is given as an extreme instance of how mineral fortunes may be given away. As to what is really required to utilize our mineral possessions, the report says that what we require is: "First, the enterprise to prove by substantial prospecting work that a location has mineral value, and, secondly, a suffieiency of capital to develop and operate it in a business-like way for profit. These are risks that must be taken before the mineral wealth of our country can be utilized. There is no other way. The real estate miner, who buys and sells mineral lands without expending a dollar in labor to show what they are worth, may have his uses; but he does nothing to convert natural resources into tangible wealth. Unemployed money in the bank or the safe. and ores of gold, nickel, copper or iron in the earth, are in that form alike useless to the service of man. The ores must be won and their metals made ready for the purposes of commerce and the arts." And if work of this kind is undertaken, if a portion of the large sums lying idle in the banks is employed by the men who have deposited it to develop the mineral resources of Ontario, the time should not be far distant when our Province might vie with any of the Australasian colonies in the output of minerals and in the prosperity which so valuable an industry must ensure.

The fourth report of the Bureau of Mines contains an introduction which presents very fully the condition of the industry and the progress it has made during recent years, special importance being attached to nickel mining and the manufacture of such materials as cement and brick. Another valuable part of this report is contributed by Prof. Coleman, the geologist and mineralogist of the bureau, who deals in a very instructive way with the gold fields of the Rainy Lake and Lake of the Woods districts. There are few men in Canada as well qualified as Dr. Coleman for this work, and his paper of 66 pages on "Gold in Ontario: Its Associated Rocks and Minerals," with the geological maps of the Rainy Lake, Seine River and Manitou and Wabigoon districts, which accompany it, will doubtless be very helpful to explorers and miners in that very promising

There is an interesting paper also on the Hinterland of Ontario, by Mr. Thos. W. Gibson, the secretary of the bureau. in which is brought together almost everything that has been learned of the northern districts of the Province, and of their varied resources of minerals, lumber and fish, and the suitableness of extensive areas for agriculture. A country so well adapted as much of this appears to be for cereals, grasses and roots, as well as for dairying, must in time to come have great value, and especially as the mineral resources come to be developed.

Other subjects dealt with in the reneed only be referred to title. They include Calcium Carbide and Acetyline Gas, one of the most promising of recent discoveries in connection with fuel and light; Diamond Drill Exploration, Nickel and Its Uses, Mining Accidents, Summer Mining Schools, and the report of the inspector of mines. The report itself must be read to be properly appreciated.

To do so, even to earn the second term as Governor that has been withheld from him for years, would land Sir Mackenzie Bowell and his associates in greater straits than they are now in. The Provincial Government is not responsible to the Ottawa centralizers, but to the people of Manitoba. The hang-over Governor seemed to forget this when he made his famous pilgrimage to Ottawa in search of material to combat the views of his advisers. But because he acted with extremely bad taste, or worse, then, affords no reason why he should take one step further, and outrage decency as well as the constitution under which

MAPLE LEAFS DEFEAT GALT. Guelph, Ont., Aug. 6.—Yesterday was Quelph's civic holiday. The event of the day was the long-looked-for meeting of the two leaders of the Canadian Amateur Baseball League-Guelph vs. Galt. Over 4,000 people were on the grounds. THE ALERTS WON. Hamilton, Aug. 6.-An old-time crowd witnessed yesterday afternoon's ball game between London and Hamilton, between 5,000 and 6,000 spectators being present. Moore, who was so successful in the morning game, pitched again for the home team, with Baker behind the bat. Hiscott and Thorpe composed the battery for the visiting club. The game was close up to the eighth innings, when London scored three runs. Hamilton got two runs in the ninth and had the bases filled, but failed to tie the score. Score by innings:

in business, is comparatively independent, and loves the game of cricket with all the devotion of a true cricketer. His presence here with a team com-posed of the cream of London, London Asylum and Toronto cricketers is very gratifying to hundreds of members of the Canadian colony, many of whom count him as a former schoolmate at old Hellmuth College. There is Phil. E. Stanley, the well-known investment broker, an ex-Londoner, who has been an interested spectator at the various matches, and assiduous in his attentions to the visitors. In the old days Mr. Stanley played on the Hellmuth crease with Mr. Hyman. Lieut.-Col. Irwin, of Strathroy, who is here with the team, saw many old friends, and like the rest, is more than delighted with the reception they have all re-ceived. Umpire "Bill" Furness is another old-timer, for many years a member of London's first eleven, and now the club's most efficient official umpire. Mr. Furness is the manager of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company's office at London, out of which have come many crack telegraphers. The Canucks, we feel assured, will depart from Chicago more than pleased with the hospitality extended them; and it is safe to say that they have a high opinion of the quality of cricket put up here. The impression formed by the onlookers during the week as to the men from the other side of the line is that they are thorough sportsmen. It is to be hoped, now that they have blazed the way, many more Canadian cricketing teams may find it both convenient and pleasant to hie themselevs hither annually.

A team of Chicago cricketers will play here a week from Tuesday next. THE TURF.

ENGLISH RACES. London, Aug. 5—At the Huerst Park bank holiday meeting today the bank holiday handicap was won by Mr. Foxhall Keene's Bohemond; Lord Hindlip's Powick second, and Mr. E. opinion recently expressed by Mr. C. J. Hamlin, of Buffalo, that threeheat races were becoming too severe a tax upon our trotting horses has much to support it in the records of the running turf. When four-mile heat races were in fashion for thoroughbreds the speed wasn't shown of the same order as that possible and exacted today. In the famous twenty-mile race of five four-mile heats, wherein Black Maria won the first heat and the fifth, the fastest heat was little better than eight minutes. Four heats took longer than eight minutes, the last being in 8:47. Boston never won a leat under 7:40, and Eclipse beat Henry in 7:36, very different from the 7:15 3-4 of Ten Broeck. Among milers, Henry Perritt was long a phenomenon, on the strength of a mile in 1:42 1-2. Two-year-olds were not run. Since those times they have come to run faster and younger, and the strain has increased correspondingly, so that distances are shorter and heats have dropped out of fashion. Otherwise cripples would be in the majority.

Sooner or later the trotter must be dealt with in the same manner. During the last 50 years he has made very much greater advance in speed than the runner, and to repeat his heats now Batteries—Hodson and McAuley; Fournier and Urquhart. Umpire—Swartwood.

In covering three miles, as Azote did at Cleveland on Wednesday. with an average of 2.00 1 puts a correspondingly greater tax upday, with an average of 2:08 1-4, or four miles, like Joe Patchen on the day following, with a better average than 2:05, the wear and tear is necessarily much greater than in heats averaging 2:20. To do justice to the great flyers, many of whom are now compelled for self-protection to exhibit in single miles, without competition, the traditional "three in five" must for the fast-est classes be replaced often if not invariably by races of "two in three." After the races have been made easier for the horses, we are bound to have more of them, and the results very likely will be more interesting than ever .-

The hammer-throwing contest at the English championship meeting is still furnishing food for argument to British sporting journals. Dr. W. J. M. Barry, who is coming here with the London Athletic Club team next month, won the throw with 132 feet odd, beating Kiely, the Irishman, by about two feet, but it seems that Barry, in the 132 foot trial, broke the handle, and Kiely had to finish with an inferior implement. One of the London papers makes the following comment: "The champion (Dr. Barry) appears regularly on the ground with a bundle of what appear to be short billiard cues. When he has fixed one of these into the head and hurled it away from him the han-dle breaks off short and has to be replaced by another for the next trial." According to the terms in the contract between the London A. C. and the New York A. C., Barry can use whatever

TAKE OUR 'AD"-VICE

> None of our large trade connection has ever accused us of making misleading statements. The fact is we always aim to avoid exaggeration. On this account a word of advice from us will be heeded, whereas if made by others it would be regarded as a glittering bait to catch trade. We are just about in the center of summer. July has been uncommonly cool this year and September will likely show us how warm it can turn out when it likes. Our large assortment of Light-Weight Summer Goods reminds us that we must offer inducements or it will lay over for another season. We don't want this to occur; that is why we are offering White Spot Muslins at from 121/2c to 30c, and 25c French Organdie Muslins in second mourning and light colors at 10c. A good range of Challies, Chambrays, Ducks, Crepons, etc., at about half price.

DON'T RUN AWAY

To other stores when you can get from our fashionable stock good Tweed dress lengths for $1 80, or 30c per yard. This is about half the original price and many have taken advantage of the reduction. You should, too. Will pay you to keep them till next summer.

Our large black dress goods department is offering many advantages. Our hosiery and glove departments are always full of interest. Those who patronize it know this to be true.

Thirteen pieces double-fold Tartan Plaid were received last week. What's left we are selling at 25c. Handsome goods. Ladies who don't wear corsets won't be interested in this statement, but those who do and who are looking for the perfect-fitting kind are requested to remember that we have control of makes that cannot be bought elsewhere, one of which is the Schilling Corset. Come to S. & I. for any other kind you desire. Largest Corset Department in Western Ontario.

Get into the right store it means money to you as well as superior goods. Take a good lock at our front door. There you won't see any goods hanging around,

IN THE DEAD OF NIGHT.

Electric Car Taken from London West to South London,

And a Bob-Tailed "Hoss" Car Left in Its Place, to the Surprise and Disgust of London Westers, Who Are Used to Rapid Transit.

When the wash on the breakwater had lulled the tired inhabitants of London West to sleep last night they were secure and happy in the possession of a splendidly-equipped electric car. This morning they woke and saw an apparition on the street which made them believe that they had had the nightmare. Rolling lazily down the Wharncliffe, the bell tinkling about as lively as it would if fastened to the neck of a homeward bound bovine, was a bobtailed horse car—all that remained of the pride and joy of the era of rapid transit—the day before. London Westers have become so used to the cheerful clang of the gong that vendors of alarm clocks have not been able to do any business since the thrifty matrons found out that the gong was just as sure and needed no winding.

The interchange was effected in the dead of night, by the aid of lanterns "dimly burning," and several sturdy street car horses. The car was dragged over Oxford street bridge to Richmond street, and between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning it passed down through the city and into South London.

The surprise of the good citizens of London West at losing their motor was only equalled by the surprise of the residents of Askin street and the Wortley road this morning, when the elec-tric current was turned into the wires and they beheld the strange sight of a horseless car running as smoothly by their doors as if it had been there for years instead of hours. Up and down Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre, Mrs. J. it went, followed by a crowd of boys | bockers when bicycling.

IRISHMEN AT PORT.

It Took More Than Rain to Spoil the Irish Picnic.

Over 3,000 Go to the Lakeside - Fine Dresses Get the Worst of the Early Morning Shower-An Immense Success.

The eighteenth annual picnic of the members of the Irish Benevolent Society, the mothers and fathers, their brothers and sisters, their wives and their children, their cousins and their aunts, and their uncles, and their friends-are picnicking at Port Stanley today. The early morning looked like rain, the middle of it felt decidedly of rain, and the latter part of it was fine and clear. The picnic drew the usual large crowd, and drew it early. Those who went by the first train passed through an ordeal by water-an ordeal in which white dresses, muslin draperies, fine laces and dainty parasols came out second best. The sky looked as if the rain would fall for a week, but even when it was at its worst hundreds arrived wet and bedraggled, to seek shelter under the station roof. "It will take more than rain to harm the Irish picnic," said an enthusiastic committeeman. And so it proved. Even while it rained the hardest the president, Mr. John M. Daly, was getting an extra polish put on his tan shoes at the Tecumseh.

"This is only a shower," said he, as he gave instructions to have an extra polish put on for the fine weather that was to follow. His faith was rewarded, as shortly after 10 o'clock the clouds, evidently agreeing that it was useless to attempt to dampen Irish picnic enthusiasm and ardor, relented, the rain stopped, and the sun came out and mingled his beaming smiles with those of the men on whose shoulders rested the success or failure of "the" picnic

Nine well-laden coaches pulled out at 9:30. An equally large train went at 10:05. At 10:15 the Seventh Band paraded the street in full strength and took the 10:30 train down. Another large special went at 1:30, and the regular 2:30 was crowded. Altogether 3,000 people went to the lake. The weather at Port Stanley was somewhat similar to the weather in London. It rained early in the day, and then cleared up.

The dinner will not be held with the picnic this year, but a most extensive list of sports, games and dances will be carried out

FLYING PIGEONS.

Mr. John Daly Liberates Two Groups at Port Stanley.

The Work of Training Young Birds to Fly 500 Miles-A Cup To Be

Placed in Competition. Pigeon flying is getting to be a great sport with Londoners, and week by week the London Messenger Pigeon Club continues to add to its numbers. Flys are held every other day, each distance being slightly greater than the preceding one, in order to properly train the young birds. Yesterday sever-al birds of Mr. Wm. Court's (Wortley road) flock were released by a friend at Hornby, on the C. P. R., near Toronto.

The time was not kept, but the birds arrived in their loft in good condition during the afternoon. Yesterday Mr. John Daly, president of the Irish Benevolent Society, became a member of the club, and today he liberated at Port Stanley two baskets containing birds belonging to Messrs. Wm. Court and O. Cannom. The pigeons were taken down on an excursion train and arrived home in less than half an hour. The next fly will be held from Toronto in the course of a few days. The distances will be gradually increased until that coveted record is made—the 500 mile fly—which is the height of ambition for the owner of homing pigeons. Next season it is the intention of the club to place a cup in competition. As the club is young, and the birds inexperienced, this season will be spent in training them. Next year the pigeons will be prepared to meet all comers.

SUMMER COMES

With the flowers and sunshine. Birds pour out their melody and the chirp of the grasshopper will soon tempt the fisherman to stretch forth his hands and grasp the shadow of his flight. The playful mosquito will do her nicest to soothe weary pleasure seekers into the realms of slumber, and the stinging, aching corns will remove every sem-blance of comfort, make sad the songs of the birds, and evoke cloudiness in the soul, that even the brightest sunshine cannot dispel. Corns are thorns in the flesh, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes them in 24 hours. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the best.

A LIFE SAVED .- Mr. James Bryson Cameron, states: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than a half-bottle cured me; I certainly be-lieve it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

In face of the fact that England has received from Canada and the United States this season 348,388 boxes less for the corresponding time last year, she appears to be less anxious to buy now than she did then; and when it is considered that there are far more cheese held in cold storage on this side than there were a year ago, the prospects for holders are far from bright. The estimates of cheese stored in Montreal, according to the Trade Bulletin, at the present time range all the way from 170.000 to 250,000 boxes; but the exact stocks are believed to be nearer the smaller than the higher estimate. In New York the stocks in cold storage NEW YORK.

Besides the above, large supplies are in the hands of factory men in the interior. so that the chances of higher prices in the immediate future will be slim. The total quantity shipped from Montreal from the beginning of the season to the close of last week was 588,074 boxes, against 671,913 boxes for the corresponding period last year, showing a decrease of 83,839 boxes. The exports from New York for the same period were 261,662 boxes, against 526,211 boxes for the corresponding time last year, showing a deficit of 264,549 boxes. The reason that England has required a much smaller quantity from Canada and the United States this season is believed to be chiefly due to the large stocks of 1894 cheese that were carried over into the present season. Under the circumstances, therefore, it would probably be well for the trade if the fall make should prove a light one. CANADIAN BACON IN BRITAIN.

Smaller killings in Ireland and diminished imports from Denmark have helped prices for bacon along this week, and all round hog products are worth more money. Canadian is still on the up line, and quotations this week are about 2s per cwt over those of last week. No. 1, 46s to 50s; No. 2, 44s to 48s; fat and stout, 42s to 44s. There is a good inquiry for this bacon, and—bar another continental flooding—rates should steady themselves upward. Irish is quoted all the way from 44s to 60s; continental, 42s to 56s; American, 34s to 40s. Canadian is the best value for money on the market, and the only danger to be feared for its reputation is that inferior stuff from the States may be—indeed, is—sold for it. I should like to see all Canadian produce

New York, Aug. 6.—Wheat on passage, Dec., 3,840,000. Indian shipments 328,000 bushels.

Bradstreet's reports that the decrease in the world's visible supply of 3,941,000 is in sharp contrast with last year's increase of 2,461,000.

Chicago Aug. 6.—Wheat rallied on the strong New York markets. Corn dull; offerings not big and May firm.

Chicago, Aug. 6.-The bullish news is accumulating on wheat, but does not seem to affect the market. Full returns have not been received, but the world's exports last week appear to have fall-en below 5,000,000 bushels. The amount on passage decreased surprisingly— 3,840,000, and Bradstreet's world's visible (Pacific coast not reported) showed a reduction of 3,921,000 bushels, compared with an increase a year ago of 2,461,000. Pittsburg is reported to have made a sale today of 40,000 bbls. flour for export, and charters here for 70,000 bbls, are reported. A New York exporting house wired that a good seaboard business before long was probable, as offerings were scanty from other exporting countries. It is said that winter wheat millers have their buyers in the Northwest, and will thus intercept considerable of the fine spring wheat that might otherwise find its way to elevators at central markets. The news is really almost sensationally bullish, and it would seem impossible to long keep down prices under session, but they have now reached a level where investors will probably a ceept moderate quantities, and the de-cline from now on will be naturally

Mr. English conducting the services. The pall-bearers were Messrs. A. O. Graydon, Campbell Becher, Chas. Shanly, Thomas Beattie, H. S. Blackburn and Edward Manigault.

IN THE OLD LAND.

Ald. J. W. Jones Returns from a Five-Weeks Trip.

Former Londoners Met With-The Attractions of British Political

Gatherings. Ald. J. W. Jones arrived home last night, and at once began business by attending the meeting of the City Council. Today he has been busy explaining to his friends how he enjoyed a first-class holiday in Scotland and England, and only took five weeks and three days to do so. He spent some time at Falkirk, the home of his youth, where he has two brothers in business. This town has doubled its population in the last ten years, and there, as well as in other places visited, the business men are very hopeful for the fu-ture. In Glasgow and in London, Ald. Jones was the guest of the Messrs. Bennett, school desk and church seat manufacturers. James and George conduct a large factory in Glasgow, and Charles manages the factory in the Fritish metropolis. These former resi-dents of this city hold their own with the best of old country manufacturers and do a large business. So well satisfied, indeed, are the trustees of the public school in the British metropolis with the product of the firm that for the past three years the Bennett brothers have received the contract for all new schools without tender. The woodwork is prepared at the factory in this city, and the ironwork is added in Great Britain, where, owing to the absence of taxes on the raw material it can be obtained much cheaper. In London Ald. Jones met a former well known resident of this city, and had a pleasant visit with him-Mr. Macqualter-who formerly lived on Queen's avenue. East London. It is fifteen years since he left the Forest City, and he has prospered in the British metropo-lis. He is now chief accountant in Whitley's mammoth furnishing establishment, and has under his manage-ment over 200 clerks. Ald, Jones enjoyed the turmoil of the British elections and heard some good speeches. He was especially delighted with an address by Sir William Harcourt in Bermondsey, London. No other polisuch conditions.

Cord and Oats—Heavy most of the cessfully hold his own with the ever-present tantalizing "heckler." The poli-tician who can keep his temper and his wits about him while replying to the legion of questioners who assail him in every campaign has, in Ald. Jones' opinion, much the best chance of election. The British admire pluck and ability. Ald. Jones had a pleasant voyage, and was delighted to be back in the city which has been his home for many years, and to build up which he has devoted his best energies.

Britain Acting.

Demands of China the Safety of all British Subjects.

Europeans Threatened in Foo Chow-Gunboats Telegraphed For.

Shanghai, Aug. 6.-The Mercury of this city today publishes a dispatch from Foo Chow stating that the position of the Europeans is critical owing to the open hostility of the natives and native officials. If an outbreak occurs the native officials will be unable to cope with the mob. Fu Kien Province is said to be in a state of rebellion, and the American missionary at Fung Fuk, in that province, has been burned. The Europeans and Americans have telegraphed for gunboats to protect the foreign settlement. London, Aug. 6.—The officials of the Foreign Office have cabled instructions to the British Minister at Pekin, Mr. N. R. O'Connor, to demand the safety of all British subjects in the disturbed districts and to insist upon a full inquiry into the massacre. In addition, Mr. O'Connor has been ordered to see that the culprits are punished and that an independent inquiry be made into the Ku Cheng massacre by a British consular court. Hong Kong, Aug. 6.—In an interview today with some of the survivors of the Ku Cheng massacre, they declared that the outrage was carried out in the most diabolical manner, and that it was evidently a premeditated and carefully arranged attack, entirely unprovoked, made upon the occupants of the missionary station while they were asleep. The bodies of the victims were buried at Fu Chow. There are rumors of further riots at places nearer to Fu Chow than Ku Cheng. This district included the stations of the Church of England at Zenana, the American Methodist stations at Fukhien, Fuhning, Layong, Ningtaik, Hokchiang and Hinghwa. The male and female staffs in the early morning after crossing the river in small parties in a tiny boat, reached Kueseng Wall, which blocked their further progress and which had to be scaled with ladders. During the three following days bodies of citizens guarded the walls armed with prongs and rusty swords.

CRICKETERS RETURN HOME.

Charles S. Hyman, M.P , Tells How They Were Treated in Chicago.

The remainder of the victorious Canadian cricket team returned today. Messrs. Chas. S. Hyman, M.P. (captain) and Geo. Sippi arrrived at 11:35. "I cannot speak too highly of the courtesy and kindness extended to us while in Chicago," Mr. Hyman said, in the course of an interview. "On the afternoon when we arrived there we were taken in a six-in-hand and driven through the parks and shown all over of three persons on hand ready to entertain us. "We were extended every courtesy. not only by the cricketers, but by the old Canadians who are now residents of Chicago. As far as the cricketers themselves are concerned, I never met finer or more sportsmanslike lotthorough gentlemen in every sense of the city. And from that moment to the moment we left there were always two

"I notice in the concluding part of a press account of the Saturday game a paragraph that might be taken in an equivocal sense. The inference was that the Chicago team attempted to draw the game by coming up to the wickets slowly and endeavoring to kill time. That is not correct. The rules of the game allow the players two minutes, but even this point was not taken advantage of, and the players took their places as soon as the preceding man went out. "Further than that, the captain told me before the last wicket fell that if necessary he would extend the time to enable us to win.

"It was most pleasant to meet familiar faces and forms that you had long forgotten and lost sight of for years. Taken altogether, we had a perfectly delightful time, and during the whole of the matches there never arose a single question to make matters the least bit unpleasant."

Messrs. Collins, Boyd and Golding-ham, of Toronto, and Pope, Terry, Walker, Grew, Becher, Reid and Furness arrived home yesterday. Mr. Grew, who caught the ball that saved the game to the Canadians in the nick of time, has possession of the ball, and will have it gilded as a me-

The Berlin, Ont., Collector Allowed to Skip Out.

Berlin, Aug. 6.-The investigation into the management of the Berlin customs office has produced results much more startling than anticipated. Inspector Boultbee and his assistants are at present unwilling to state the exact amount of the shortage in Collector Bowman's accounts, but the amount now exceeds $10,000, and may be greatly increased before the close of the inquiry. It is now stated that the office was inspected at times, but notwithstanding this the collector was defrauding the country for years. Mr. A. L. Bowman was held under $10,000 security during the time that Berlin was an outport of Guelph, but since then the bonds have not been renewed, the Government cannot recover the amount embezzled. The most startling part of the whole matter is that nothing was done to apprehend the collector. One afternoon Bowman walked out towards the west end, while a rig followed and took him to New Hamburg There he boarded the afternoon train for the west, and his whereabouts is now a mystery. His friends took up a collection to enable him to leave town; the amount collected is placed at $160

Thomas Alexander, who holds the London record as a vagrant, was one of the candidates. His past has been famous. For years he has served the greater portion of his time for vagrancy, his total number of appearances exceeding three score. And when he bobbed up serenely again this morning he was sent down for another month. Eliabeth Leathorne and Nancy Rodgers, both residents of the Gore of London, were also up for vagrancy. They were arrested in the East End. The Leathorne woman has appeared eight times in as many years, and on each time was charged with being drunk or drunk and disorderly. The Rodgers girl has been living in the Gore for several years, and her reputation is anything but good. The police magistrate sent them each down for a month's vacation on the hill. Christopher Moriarity, of York street, was charged with assaulting his mother, Margaret Moriarity. Christopher has promised to leave home, and the case dropped. John Mann will spend 20 days in jail for drunkenness and vagrancy. He had not the necessary V to secure his

"Twenty years ago Philo Gretorex was on the road to fortune, but had not yet attained its summit. He was the owner of stock in a railroad, which has since made many millionaires, but he was not so rich, nor had he yet become so powerful that he could not take a journey or undertake any project without attracting to himself the attention of the social as well as of the financial world. When therefore, he and his wife decided one summer upon taking a trip through Ohio and other States lying near the Mississippi, there were no bulletins of their movements published in the papers, and they could even halt for weeks at some more pleasing spot than common without especial wonder being excited or their proceedings discussed. As the journey was for the benefit of Mrs. Gretorex's health -which really had not been good-they made these stops often, and the longest one and the most fruitful, as you will presently discover, was in a small village called M—. I can locate it exactly when you wish me to do so. Here they remained a month, and when they went away they carried with them a female infant, whom they enceforth presented to the world as their own, under the name of Gene-vieve. I have the inner history of the matter from the woman who was present at the birth of the child, and afterwards saw it transferred from the real parent to this rich, but childless, lady from New York. The circumstances were as follows: Mrs. Farley—you start at that name, yet you must have already guessed it—was a woman who had been suddenly bereft of her husband, and all means of livelihood, at a blow. She lived, or rather was staying on sufferance, in the same hotel at which Mr. and Mrs. Gretorex were then coarding, and the day had come for her to give birth to a child. Her room adjoined that of the New York lady, and though they had barely met in the halls and on the portico, Mrs. Gretorex possessed sufficient of the milk of hu-man kindness to take a certain superficial interest in her unfortunate neighbor. She was with her more or less during the day, and when she heard the child cry-it was night, but she was not deterred by that fact—she rose and hastened to Mrs. Farley's room. An unexpected sight met her eves Stretched on the bed was the mother, with almost an expression of terror on her face, and in the arms of the relative acting as nurse, and likewise in those of the doctor, was a child, each of which dropped its little head and let fall its little arms with so precisely the same act of helplessness that they looked even in that first hour her disappointment could be more easof their life like the mirror of each other. Two! and the woman did not know how she was going to support "Stop!" came from Dr. Cameron in hoarse and difficult tones. "You are speaking of my wife, and—"

"The poor girl who looked so much like her that we both took her for Genevieve." A strange smile flitted over the doc-ter's pale lips and that far-away gaze returned. But he soon mastered himself and remarked, with just a shade of bitterness:

They were sisters, then?" "They were sisters.

The silence which followed this speech was broken at length by the

"Go on with your story," he commanded. "I think I can see what happen-

"Yes, It is evident," rejoined the detective. "Mrs. Gretorex, who had no children, looked at this poor woman who was burdened with more than she knew how to take care of, and a sudden longing seized her. Approaching the infants, she looked at them both, and found they were equally healthy, pret-ty and promising. 'What would I not give for one of you,' she cried, and, turning, glanced at the mother. Her words and her look were like a sudden gleam of light to the weak and almost despairing woman. Raising her head, she looked at the relative who was with her, and smiled as that relative nodded her head; then she glanced at the doctor. 'Mrs. Gretorex is a person of means,' that gentleman declared, 'If she wants one of these little fatherless ones, you might do worse than let her have one.' The poor woman clasped her hands. 'Are you in earnest?' she 'Would you take-do you want -' 'I will consult my husband,' the lady interposed. 'Have the children dressed, and in an hour I will return.' And so she left them, and when she came back, there were the two infants laid side by side on the bed with the mother, making a picture as you seldom see, the nurse declared. And the good lady went up to them and looked at them again, and seemed still more pleased and settled in her resolve than she had been before, and finally declar-'I will take one of these children and bring it up as my own, and bequeath it my name and probably my fortune, upon one condition, and that is, that if you give her to me you will give her to me utterly, and neither try to follow her fortunes, nor concern vourself in any way with her affairs. She is to be mine and mine alone, and never by action or word of yours is she or anyone else to know anything to the contrary. Are you ready to promise this and promise it upon the Bible?' The poor mother, worn out with much suffering, gasped something, and then turned her face to the wall, but her hand seemed to grope for the Bible, which lay on a little stand near by.

Annie-which was the relative's name, and who, as far as I can learn, was the widow's adviser on this occasionplaced the Book in it, and looked on while the woman kissed it, after which the lady carried the sacred volume to the doctor, whom curiosity had kept in the room, and requested that he would do this, though he was liberal in his promises, and she had to be content with the vows she wrung from the two women. The choosing of the child was the next step. They had been laid side by side, and to all human eye there was not the shade of difference between them. But without pause or hesitation she stooped over and took the one lying furthest from her grasp, probably because she thought they ex-pected her to take the other; and with this burden held awkwardly to her breast, she went quickly out of the room, and only the little dent in the pillow remained to tell the story of the vanished babe. "Oh!" burst from Dr. Cameron's lips in a heavy sigh as his two eyes opened with an involuntary gesture. It was the overflowing of a very natural emotion. At the thought of that little dent, all his love for the woman whose infant had made it seemed to rush in a flood back upon his heart, till he al-most forgot the stern facts which had lately shaken her hold upon him.

"This was the beginning," resumed Mr. Gryce," of the separation between the sisters. It looked as if it would be a final one, for early in the morning, almost before daybreak, I believe, Mr. and Mrs. Gretorex, her nurse-she did not travel without one in those daysand the babe, had left the town. Poverty held Mrs. Farley to the west, and for ten years she heard nothing and knew nothing of the child she had given away. Then an inconsiderate from the very woman who had influenced her to part from the babe, woke the sleeping motherhood within her, and without calculating the cost .or seeing her way very clearly, she came east, bringing her little Mildred with her. She took lodgings at Bleecker street, and recommenced the old struggle for existence under less favorable auspices than before; for here she was a stranger. while there she had been known and recognized for her worth and misfortunes. But she was near the child she had parted with, and she was where she had every facility for educating Mildred, and she allowed these two facts to content her, especially as the latter was very quick at her books and gave every promise of being an honor and comfort to her. When Mrs. Farley first saw the child who upon growing up became your wife, I cannot be quite sure. With all my efforts I have but succeeded in gaining the barest outline of these days, which must have been so full of emotion for this broken-down, but still loving and unsatisfied woman. That she did not see her more than once at this time is evident from words she let fall in the letters she wrote to this friend of whom I have before spoken. But that she broke her oath by speaking to the child we have no proof, nor is it presumed that she did, though the temptation must have been great at times, especially when she came upon her alone, as she must have done more than We have even the record of a day when, after a walk of miles, she came to the house where Mrs. Gretorex was living, only to observe her daughter driving away from the door in a carriage. Though she had no right to be disappointed, and though she had often taken the same journey without any other reward than a sight of the windows behind which her child was supposed to be sitting, she felt herself strangely unnerved by this incident, and only realized what a spectacle she was making of herself, when she beheld the passers-by turn and look at her as she stood there wringing her hands and moaning feebly to herself. Then she was frightened, and turning, fled away, only to come back in the evening or when her expectations, being less,

LETTERS TO THE "ADVERTISER."

If you have a grievance to ventilate, information to give, a subject of public interest to discuss, or a service to acknowledge, we will prinit in this column, provided the name of the writer is attached to his or her communication for publication. Make it as brief as possible.

To the Editor of the "Advertiser": The committee of the emancipation celebration held in London on Aug. 1, 1895, wish through the medium of your paper to return their sincere thanks to the citizens for their kind and gencrous support. We cannot find a more fitting expression than to say that we are grateful to his worship Mayor Little and to the aldermen of the city for their liberality in granting us the use of Queen's Park and the City Hall, together with a check for $100. To the citizens generally we are grateful for their help, both mentally, physically and financially. To the mechanics and laborers, and especially those of the north part of the city, we say you have treated us nobly, and you have done so without a question of what use we were going to put your help to. We feel it our duty and your right that an ex-planation should be given, hoping that our explanation will meet your approval. First, owing to the absence of the unity that should exist among the colored people, they continue to drift farther and farther apart, and we of this committee after convening to-gether concluded that it was high time we had awakened to a sense of duty and devised ways and means to bring about social reform among our people. Knowing the necessity of having societies of respectable standing as the foundation of our success, we chose the Oddfellows as our patrons, but we were without the means to realize our hopes, hence the 1st of August demonstration. Often it has been remarked by our white friends that were we to make the move toward helping ourselves they would lend us a helping hand. It was in reflecting upon that promise that we concluded to have a demonstration. Now we thank you for the fulfillment of your promise, and take pride in being able to say that on the second day of August we organized in the city of London an Oddfellows' lodge of seventeen members.

We were sorely disappointed by the absence of so many promised visitors. The fault should not be laid to the committee, who used every means in their power by advertising and offering large cash prizes to induce the people, nor were the intended visitors to blame. But the whole disappointment was from the railroads. We had been promised reduced rates, and notified our friends of it at all points in the Province of Ontario, but when applications were made at the stations of the different lines, with the exception of the M. C. R., nothing but full fare rates could be got to London; though reduced rates could be got from the east of London to time nor money in advertising, and received promises from all points, and have learned since that stations all along the lines were besieged, but the people had to remain at home, as the rates were too high. And, now, Mr. Editor, we feel that we are intruding upon good nature in occupying so much space in your paper, but knowing of its wide circulation, and wishing to let everybody know how we have been treated by the citizens, we wish to call special notice to the treatment we received from Mr. Burdick, caretaker of Queen's Park, and Mr. Merritt, janitor of the City Hall. The writer has been connected with a great many demon strations of the kind, but never in his experience has he met with so much courtesy and help as from these gentlemen. Their kindness and good nature in removing every obstacle that might have been to our detriment will long be remembered by the committee. Thanking you kindly for inserting this, I am, yours respectfully, ALEX, LOGAN, Chairman of Commit-

N. B.—The committee stated on their bills that the absence of national burlesque would be conspicuous in the procession. What the citizens saw on a horse to the rear of the procession was no burlesque. It was the real "nigger." It had no connection with our affair whatever.

MOUNT BRYDGES.

("Advertiser" Agent, T. Pearse, P.M.) Aug. 5.—At the regular meeting of Mount Brydges Lodge, No. 217, I. O. O. F., held last Friday evening, Thomas Pearce, D.D.G.M., was made the recipient of an address and a handsome veteran's jewel, he having been an Oddfellow over 25 years. Bro. Pearce was initiated in Howard Lodge, No. 58, Strathroy, in May, 1870, and withdrew and became one of the charter members of Mount Brydges Lodge, No. 217, in February, 1879. He has been one of its most active workers, having passed through the various chairs until he has attained the highest position which a subordinate lodge can confer. Mr. Wm. Elsey, of Windsor, is visiting his cousin, Mr. James Elsey, for a few days. The members of the Mount Carmel Methodist Church held a lawn social on the beautiful grounds of Mr. R. B. Courtis last Thursday evening. The I. O. O. F. Band of Strathroy dispensed sweet music during the evening. Refreshments were served to a large crowd, and all enjoyed themselves immensely. Proceeds, between $50 and $60. Mrs. Wm. Graves, of Grand Rapids, Mich., is visiting her mother and sister for a couple of weeks. The Methodist Church was packed to its utmost capacity last evening. The Caldwell Brothers, twin evangelists, of London, were the attraction. They sang a couple of beautiful pieces, and preached in a new and pleusing way, each taking a part of the tot, and when the one got to a certain part the other took it up, and if the audience were not looking and paying attention they would never know, so near are their voices alike. They look ali':e, talk alike and dress alike, and should they visit Mount Brydges again, no doubt will be greet-ed with crowded audiences. The picnic of the Methodist Sunday school will be held next Friday at the Council House grounds, Muncey.

An unusually large number attended the lawn social held under the auspices of the Eighth Line Epworth League, Napier circuit, July 29. Socially and financially the evening was a success. It was held on the beautiful grounds of Mr. Wm. Denning, whose hospitality was much appreciated. The ladies of the congregation provided an excellent tea, after which an intellectual treat was enjoyed by all. The programme consisted of selections in song, recitals and instrumental music. The Misses McLean, of Melbourne, delighted the company by their musical talent. Little Ethel McLean's recitations were especially good. The gratuitous services of the Watford friends, Misses Jones, O'Rourke, and Messrs. Kenward and Roche, added much to the evening's enjoyment. A pleasing feature was "The Dents," given in character. The new pastor, Rev. A. Barker, assisted in the programme, and Mr. Calvert, of Napier, proved to be a genial and efficient chairman.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-Known Peterboro Lady. Peterboro, Aug. 5.—General satisfac-tion is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time, and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which rea complication of complaints, which recently became severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taking the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experi-enced the most beneficial results.

Among London ers present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Green, Reginald Green, Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, Mr. Thomas Miller, Miss Maria Coyne, Miss Powell and Mrs. Elliott. The pall-bearers were the four sons of deceased Isaac Coyne, of Ingersoll; Jas. H., John and Daniel, of St. Thomas; John Green, of London, and Rev. Wm. Kettlewell, of Paris. At the grave the pall-bearers stepped aside, and Messrs. John Pincombe, Wm. Risdon, J. C. Livesey and George Wegg, representing the Trustee and Quarterly Boards of the First Methodist Church, lowered the remains to t weir last resting place. THANKS.

The "Advertiser" is asked to publish the following: To the Editor-Kindly allow me, through the columns of your valuable paper, to thank the members of the fire department for the prompt way in which they responded to our call during Mr. Ludwig's fire; also the mayor and city council for their kindness in allowing the brigade to come to our aid. No doubt but for their ef-ferts to subdue the fire and a kind Providence (the wind being from the west) our property and others' would be now in ashes. It is time we had some fire protection we could rely on, either from the city or at home. Yours respectfully, D. COLLINS.

I am not positive, but I think that the "Bark-Well's Sure Corn Cure" that we had was got from your house. Will you kindly reply to this note, telling me if you do handle Bark-Well's, and if so, would it be possible to send by mail? If I am mistaken, can you tell me what firms do handle it? I WANT NO OTHER except Bark-Well's Sure Corn Cure. It is put up in bottles retailed at 25c. Hoping to hear from you soon, and wishing you compli-ments of the season, believe me, yours HARRY H. YOUNG.

WE HAVE Only 23 Days Left to CLEAR

We have a terrible stock of summer goods on hand, and as the season draws nearer to a close we grow more anxious. If you want the best goods with the prices hammered down until you get away below the actual cost of manufacture, and every garment sold at such a loss that it almost seems a sin to get so reckless in the matter of price-cutting -then you're the people we want to see.

We hope that never again as long as we are in business will we find ourselves so loaded up with merchandise at this season that we will have to resort to this method to close out the surplus.

But, "the first loss is the best loss," and we are going to take our loss quick and get through with it.
