FURTHER GAINS FOR ITALIANS; AUSTRIAN COUNTERS REPULSED; CADORNA COLLECTS 500 HUNS

Italian Forces Continue To Make Progress On Front Above Gorizia and All Attempts of Karl's Troops To Regain Lost Ground Prove Futile.

Rome, Aug. 30.—Austrian counter-attacks in force were made yesterday against the new Italian positions on the front above Gorizia, the war office reports. Everywhere the Austrians were driven back, and at some points the Italians made further gains.

The announcement follows:

"On the Bainsizza plateau and east of Gorizia, the enemy attempted by counter-attacking in force, to retake positions recently captured. He was driven back everywhere. Our lines were held firmly and advanced at some points. We captured 560 prisoners."

PONTIFF HOPED FOR FAVORABLE ANSWER FROM UNITED STATES ON PEACE PROPOSAL

Vatican Organ Says Pope Has Been Persistently Misinterpreted.

Rome, Tuesday, Aug. 28—(Delayed).—The Osservatore Romano, the organ of the vatican, prints a long article embodying a discussion of the objections made to the pope's peace proposals, from which it would appear evident that the pontiff hoped to obtain a favorable answer from the United States. It is intimated by the paper that any step taken by the pope is persistently misinterpreted and subjected to unfair criticism, and that the present proposal is no exception.

Regarding the pope's silence on the Balkan problem, it is pointed out, that the pope cannot offer an immediate concrete solution of a question which has long troubled the statesmen of Europe. The pope, however, in his note, the paper adds, specifically invites the powers to meet and arrive at an equitable agreement.

The Osservatore Romano, discussing the moral basis of the note, says that the holy father, like President Wilson, in his notes, suggests the substitution of the moral force of right for material force, and likewise compares passages in the statements of President Wilson to the papal note regarding the freedom of the high seas as being identical.

With respect to the expenses of the war, the paper says the present Russian policy is one of peace without annexations or indemnities, and that this policy has already been accepted by the Austro-Germans.

TROOPS OF RUSSIA OCCUPY BUILDINGS OF FINNISH DIET

Helsingfors, Finland, Wednesday, Aug. 29.—Russian troops occupied the Parliament Buildings at an early hour today to prevent the reassembling of the Diet in defiance of the decision of the Russian Government. The city is calm. The Helsingfors Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies has ordered the crews of warships to return to their vessels.

FRENCH USE GAS SHELLS TO STOP GERMANS FROM OPERATING THEIR GUNS

Paris, Aug. 30.—The number of artillery men employed in the recent operations in the Verdun region was greater than the number of infantrymen put into the battle line. This surprising fact is explained by the correspondent of the Temps at Verdun as being due to the difficulty of the gunners' tasks in addition to the immense number of cannon. Heavy shells had to be carried to the guns for hours at a stretch by men who were compelled to wear masks which rendered breathing difficult and obstructed their vision.

The correspondent adds that the object of the artillery now is less directed to destroying enemy guns than to forcing the German gunners to suspend service and seek shelter. For this purpose, he says, gas shells are employed largely.

RUSSIAN ANARCHISTS TO ATTEMPT FRESH REVOLT

Copenhagen, Aug. 30.—Another attempt at revolt by the Maximalist faction in Russia which will bring them into power is prophesied by M. Kirkoff, a Bulgarian Socialist, in an interview in the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin. Kirkoff recently returned to Berlin from Stockholm, where he had been associated closely with the Russian Maximalists there.

The signal for the revolt, he says, will be given from Kronstadt, which, as well as the Russian fleet in the Baltic, is under the influence of Nikolai Lenine and his adherents.

SECOND PEACE OFFER MADE TO PETROGRAD BY KAISER'S GOVT., SAY GERMAN PAPERS

Berlin Denial Exposed by the Socialist and Other Journals.

Copenhagen, Aug. 30.—The statement that an offer of a separate peace was made to Russia recently by the German Government is published in the Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts of Berlin. It is brought out by the assertion of Premier Kerensky of Russia, in his speech at the Moscow conference, that Russia, "a little time ago," replied indignantly to a proposal to conclude a separate peace, and that a few days ago "we witnessed another attempt, equally base, directed against our allies."

Trying to Bling World.

In this connection, the semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung is again detected by the German press in an attempt to throw dust in the eyes of the world and the German public by ostensibly denying Premier Kerensky's account of the overtures to Russia and its allies, which is characterized as in reality being no denial at all.

Tricksters Exposed.

The Tageblatt, the Vorwaerts and Vossische Zeitung call attention to a trick of the semi-official organ in denying that such overtures were made by Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg, whereas M. Kerensky did not mention the former chancellor, specifying that the proposal to Russia's allies was made a few days ago—that is, since the retirement of Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg.

Offer Was Made.

The Vorwaerts adds that such an offer was actually made to Russia, although not by Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg. It says the organ of Chancellor Michaelis would be right in claiming that Germany had done what it could to open a path to peace by adoption of the Reichstag's peace resolutions if Dr. Michaelis had acted from the standpoint of the resolution without conditions, wabbling and reservations. Unfortunately he has not done this, the Vorwaerts asserts, but has permitted the opponents of the resolution to claim him for their own.

FLYING ARMADA IS DEVONSHIRE'S ESCORT ON VISIT TO CAMP

Governor-General Inspects the Royal Flying Corps at Borden.

Camp Borden, Aug. 30.—A guard of honor, composed of airplanes, escorted the vice-regal special train to the station at Camp Borden at 11:55 o'clock this morning. The station platform had been cleared of all civilians and was well guarded by military police when the Duke of Devonshire stepped from the rear step of the car "Cornwall," accompanied by his military secretary, Col. Anderson, Capt. Ridley and Col. Hoare, of the Flying Corps. The vice-regal party was met by Major General Logie and Major Filley. The Duchess of Devonshire did not accompany his excellency.

The party set out immediately for Camp Hoare as the visit is one to the Royal Flying Corps. As the duke will not visit the C. E. F. at Camp Borden officially, the reception at the station was entirely informal.

The vice-regal party took luncheon at the officers' mess of the Royal Flying Corps, and the duke spent a busy afternoon making a close inspection of the camp. A wonderful display of flying was put on during the afternoon.

His excellency and party will return to Toronto by motor this evening.

FOISY AND CARLE MUST ATTEND NEW EXAM.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—Mr. Justice Rose has made an order that J. A. A similar order is made in respect to the present secretary, Albert Carle.

KAISER'S COMMISSION IS DEBATING PEACE OFFER

Amsterdam, Aug. 30.—The commission appointed by the German chancellor to consider a reply to the peace note of Pope Benedict held its first session on Tuesday, according to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin. Chancellor Michaelis presided at the meeting, which lasted about two hours and a half. The session adjourned until the results of the discussions over the note are available from Vienna, Constantinople and Sofia.

FRENCH WIN TO FOE'S TRENCHES, TAKE PRISONERS

Minor Success for Petain in the Champagne Sector—Stormy on Haig's Front.

Paris, Aug. 30.—German attacks on the Verdun front last night were repulsed completely, the war office announces. The French penetrated German positions in the Champagne, taking prisoners and a machine gun. The statement follows:

"There was pronounced activity by the artillery in the region of Braye-en-Laonnois and in the sector of Craonne. An attack by the enemy on our small posts south of Chevreux was repulsed.

"In the Champagne east of Teton we succeeded, without any losses, in a detailed action, in the course of which our troops penetrated the enemy line and brought back eleven prisoners and a machine gun. Two German attacks in the same region were repulsed after spirited fighting.

"There was active artillery fighting on both banks of the Meuse (Verdun front). German attempts north of Caurieres Wood and against our small posts of Vauxles-Patameix met with a complete check."

STORMY ON BRITISH FRONT.

London, Aug. 30.—"The enemy artillery was active during the night in the Nieuport sector," says today's war office statement. "The weather was stormy and wet."

RAIN UPSETS MOVE FOR GENERAL STRIKE

Wet Weather Dampens Ardor of Montreal Anti-Conscriptionists.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—The general strike called for today by the anti-conscription organization here as a protest against the signing of the military service act, was a failure. A mass meeting which was to have been held in Lafontaine Park this morning was attended by only a hundred people, a number of speakers announced to attend not putting in an appearance. It was raining hard, which dampened the ardor of the few who approved of the strike proclamation.

FIRST STANDARDIZED STEAMER LAUNCHED BY GREAT BRITAIN

Many Hundreds Will Be Constructed To Replace Sub Losses.

London, Aug. 30.—The first of the British Government's standardized merchant steamers to replace tonnage lost through submarines, it is announced, has been commissioned after completing most successful trials. The keel was laid down in February, and the hull was launched in June. It is understood that six different types of vessels, varying in size from 8,000 tons downward, are being built. Many hundreds of such ships will be constructed.

Four vessels were attacked unsuccessfully by submarines in the same period.

WILSON TALKS PLANS TO AID THE RUSSIANS

Washington, Aug. 30.—President Wilson again turned his attention to the situation in Russia at a conference today with Elihu Root, who headed the American mission.

Mr. Root and other members of the mission have been pressing the immediate necessity of material as well as moral assistance to the provisional government, and beside the recent $100,000,000 credit, other steps already have been taken toward that end. Further action may follow today's conferences.

RUSSIA ORDERS DEATH PENALTY TO RESTORE ARMY DISCIPLINE AND DRIVE BACK THE ENEMY

(Special Cable to The Advertiser.)

London, Aug. 30.—The Russian provisional government has decided on partial re-establishment of the death penalty to restore discipline in the army, according to a Central News dispatch from Moscow.

The cable quoted Premier Kerensky as making the announcement to the Russian conference, concluding:

"This hurts us to the very soul, but for the salvation of the country we will kill with all our soul."

25,000 SAMMIES THRILL GOTHAM BY PARADE ON FIFTH AVENUE; CITY GIVES GRAND SEND-OFF

New York State National Guard Leaves for Training Ground.

CHEERED BY VAST CROWD

Six Hours for Division To Pass From the Bronx To Washington Square.

New York, Aug. 30.—The spectacle of 25,000 fighting men marching down Fifth avenue stirred this great city to the depths today. Pride, patriotic fervor and the emotions that go with farewells to a soldier seemed to grip with a common intensity the two millions of people who watched the rank upon rank of khaki swing by.

The troops, New York State's former National Guard, now the 27th Division of the United States Army, marched, before leaving for the preliminary training at Spartanburg, S. C., so that the city might give them a "send off" worthy of their ultimate mission in France.

The soldiers called forth roars of cheers that were almost continuous for the more than six hours that it took the division to march from One Hundred and Tenth street to Washington Square.

Unless it may be the unpublished number already in France, this division formed the largest number of American troops yet mobilized since the United States entered the war.

WILSON PUTS A PRICE ON NEWS PRINT PAPER FOR OFFICIAL BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 30.—In an order, which newspaper publishers declare will serve as an important precedent, President Wilson has fixed a price of 2½ cents on newsprint paper for use in publishing the government's daily official bulletin. The order fixing the price was issued by Secretary of War Baker, at the president's direction, under the national defence act, which empowers the Government to commandeer supplies needed for war purposes. It was directed to the International Paper Company, which had declined to furnish newsprint for the bulletin at less than 3 cents a pound.

Newspaper publishers, who learned of the order today, noticed the hope that it might open the way for cheaper newsprint paper to publishers generally. They called attention to statements by the president that the Administration's price policy will be one that provides the same prices for the public as for the Government.

FATE'S ODD TRICK

Montreal, Aug. 29.—"This is what I'll greet those who come to conscript me with," said J. Lariviere, 17 years of age, to his friend, Gerard Parent, about the same age, this afternoon, showing Parent a loaded revolver, while the two boys were at the store of J. E. Fournier Company, 81 St. Lawrence Boulevard, where young Lariviere was employed. In a few minutes Lariviere fell mortally wounded. Parent had taken the revolver to examine it, and while doing this he accidentally shot his chum. Lariviere died shortly after having been removed to Notre Dame Hospital. His home was at 1027 St. Hubert street.

MR. GLASS SIGNED DOCUMENT SAYING WE LOVE OUR "BOB"

Name Appeared On List at Time of Testimonial.

CAUSES A CONTROVERSY

Nissouri People Wish To Ascertain If E. Middlesex Member Is On Record.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

There is a controversy in this neighborhood, Mr. Editor, which you can settle or assist in settling, and there is no better time than now.

The evidence is unrefuted that the late Minister Rogers pressed on a contract some $8,000 more than his contract and that the contractor turned round and put some $7,000 back in the hands of Mr. Rogers' party manager.

Now, it is said that S. F. Glass, M. P., signed a certificate to Mr. Rogers approving of his conduct. If Mr. Glass refused to sign the said certificate he is a maligned man and his solemn denial will be accepted. If he did sign the certificate approving of Mr. Rogers' conduct he lacks the fine sense of political honesty that fits him to represent East Middlesex in the Parliament of Canada.

If you will be good enough to print this letter, we'll send him a copy, so that he can clear himself if the record permits.

NISSOURI VOTER.

Ed. Note.—The name of Mr. Glass appears in the list of those who signed the testimonial to Mr. Rogers.

SOUKHOMLINOFF AWARE OF GERMANY'S PLAN TO START WAR ON RUSSIA

Petrograd, Aug. 30.—Germany's military preparation was known to the Russian war ministry, and it was also aware that Germany contemplated a declaration of war in 1909 and again in 1913, according to testimony given yesterday by Gen. Michelsson at the trial of Gen. Soukhomlinoff, former minister of war, for high treason. The witness was the military attache of the Russian embassy in Berlin from 1906 to 1911. He swore that he had reported Germany's military activity to the Russian war office.

The president of the court asked Gen. Michelsson with what power Germany proposed to ally herself in 1913 against Russia. The witness asked permission to reply to the president only, and the request was granted.

PRACTICAL REPLY TO DREAM, TIMES CALLS PRESIDENT'S ANSWER

Hopes It Will Discourage Similar Proposals in Future.

London, Aug. 30.—The Times describes President Wilson's reply to the pope as the answer of a practical statesman to a peace dream of the vatican, and may be of other courts as well, and suggests that it possibly will discourage similar proposals in the future. While wholly indorsing the substance of the reply, the Times renews the exception it previously had taken to the president's distinction between the German people and the German rulers. It says the distinction is sound theoretically, but that up to the present it has proved quite negligible in practice.

"It is true," says the Times, "that they (the German people) did not choose the war, because the Bismarckian constitution gave them no voice in the matter. But they accepted it with enthusiasm and have supported it throughout, while their press has exulted in its worst atrocities.

"The reply is precisely such a document as we know we could expect from the strong-minded, clear-sighted leader of democracy, secure in the knowledge that the great nation and its limitless resources are at his back on the clear-cut issue of right and wrong," says the Daily Telegraph.

"Nowhere in the note is there any echo of the sophistries with which a few perverted minds and feeble hearts seek to commend a policy of compromise to the European allies. It comes like an invigorating wind to blow away the cobwebs which pacifism and its dupes have been spinning about the central things in the great quarrel."

ENTENTE AIR SQUADRON WAS FORCED TO RETIRE

Amsterdam, Aug. 30.—An Entente aerial squadron attempted to attack Frankfort-on-the-Main last Sunday, the Berliner Tageblatt reports. The squadron, which came from the west, is said to have been forced to return when half way between Main and Frankfort, because of the activity of anti-aircraft guns.

OPPOSITION CAUCUS DISCUSSES SERVICE AND C. N. R. BILLS

Consensus of Opinion Was That Conscription Having Passed, Every Support Should Be Given Its Carrying Out—Early Elections Expected.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—There was a Liberal caucus this morning. It is understood that there was a general discussion of the situation that has been created by the conscription act becoming law. The consensus of opinion was that expressed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Parliament yesterday that since conscription has become law the Opposition should do all in its power to see that the law is harmoniously carried out in its application.

There was consideration of the Canadian Northern bill and the position that the Government has taken in putting the measure through the House by the application of closure. The consensus of opinion in the caucus was that the Government will bring on the elections as soon as it can secure the passage of a franchise bill and organize the machinery for taking the vote.

RUSS REGIMENTS LEAVE TRENCHES

Petrograd, Aug. 30.—A large proportion of two Russian regiments in the Fokshani region on the Rumanian front, left their trenches and retired yesterday, says today's war office statement. The dispersal of one of the regiments followed, and measures have been taken it is stated, to restore the positions affected in the battle now in progress.

PLANS TO SELL FISH TO PEOPLE AT COST OF 9 CTS. DELIVERED

Ald. Manness Will Distribute Through Local Dealers.

The board of control will discuss the fish question on Friday morning. Controller Shaw will present the findings of the high cost of living committee, and will urge that the city go into the business. There is a disposition to distribute through local fishmen. An offer to sell and distribute at two cents a pound has been made to Ald. Manness, who considers this offer most satisfactory. This will make the net cost of dressed fish nine cents delivered, a fair figure.

The board has not a great deal of business to dispose of, none of the committees having anything of importance to bring up.

POLISH COUNCIL RESIGNS

Abandons Attempt to Organize Govt. Under German Protectorate.

Copenhagen, Aug. 30.—The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger reports that the entire Polish council of state has resigned. The great underlying cause responsible for the council's decision to abandon its attempt to organize a government under the proposed German protectorate is the change in the Polish attitude resulting from the Russian revolution, according to the newspaper.

The direct reasons to be sought, however, are in the great hesitation and delay of the Austro-German powers in intrusting to the Polish authorities the conflict over the Polish army, in which the Germans wish to incorporate their own forces, and the German determination to exclude Lithuania from the new kingdom. The Poles insist that the kingdom be proclaimed, and have telegraphed Emperor William asking that Vilna be included in the protectorate.

WILL ASK POWER TO DEAL IN FISH

At the session of the high cost of living committee yesterday afternoon it was decided to ask the council for power to deal in fish.

Ald. Manness, the chairman, reported on his efforts to secure fish in Port Stanley, and reported that he could get a supply at 6 and 7 cents a pound.

Whether it would be better to sell direct to the citizens or through a dealer was discussed. Ald. Manness had an offer to sell and distribute at 2 cents a pound, a most favorable offer.

However, that matter will be dealt with as soon as the committee has power to order a supply. It was felt that the city could purchase at a much cheaper rate than dealers, none of whom could get fish at a less rate than 10 cents a pound.

GILLEN'S RISE IN G. T. R. TO CAUSE MANY ADVANCES

Supt. Forrester Is Likely To Succeed Mr. Davidson at Detroit Post.

MR. WILLIAMS TO GO UP

Chief Clerk Likely To Succeed To Local Position—Promotions Rumored.

It has been officially announced that U. E. Gillen, general superintendent at Chicago of Grand Trunk lines, and W. D. Robb, Montreal, superintendent of motive power, have been appointed vice-presidents of the Grand Trunk, following the present re-organization scheme. Both formerly were in charge in London, and are well known here. As predicted yesterday in The Advertiser Mr. Gillen was selected to be vice-president in charge of operation. W. R. Davidson, Detroit, formerly of London, will go to Chicago to succeed Mr. Gillen.

Other Changes Aired.

Other changes are mooted. According to an unconfirmed rumor in circulation here, Charles Forrester, superintendent in London, will go to Detroit, and Earl Williams, chief clerk here for many years, will be named superintendent in London. The latter is conversant with this district, and is capable of handling the division. Mr. Forrester is a young railroader who is climbing rapidly, and his promotion is assured.

Mr. Gillen, the new vice-president, is well known to Londoners. He came here in 1904, after having served in many railways in the United States.

In 1907 he went to Toronto as general superintendent, being succeeded in London by W. A. Nixon, who later went with the Dominion Railway Commission. Later he was sent to Chicago to be general superintendent.

CONSERVE THE COAL

Wilson Asks Coal Dealers To Reduce the Consumption.

Washington, Aug. 30.—An appeal to coal users to endeavor to reduce consumption as a wartime measure was issued today by the chamber of commerce of the United States through its committee which is co-operating with the council of national defence.

"Today coal is a sinew of war," says the appeal, "and he who unnecessarily reduces the country's available stock of coal may curtail the nation's energy in the great industrial conflict. In the great concentration of natural energy toward prosecuting the war, men are not available to open new coal mines to meet extravagant needs. Transportation facilities are burdened to the limit of capacity."

FOOD TENDERS SHOW HIGH COST OF LIVING HITS CITY HOSPITAL

Retailers Blame Increased Prices for Big Jump in Figures.

At the monthly meeting of Victoria Hospital trust last evening tenders for the year to date from September 1 were awarded. Only one change was made from the present holders of contracts, the meat contract being awarded to James Smith, which at present is held by Frank Jackson.

In all cases the contracts are for a higher amount than is the case for the hospital year just ending. This, it is claimed, is due to a necessary advancement on account of increased cost to the retailers.

The following were awarded contracts: Groceries, Willis & Co.; bread, Parnell Company; milk, London Pure Milk Company; meat, James Smith; fish, F. S. Onn; drugs, Cairncross & Lawrence.

No coal tenders were received, and this matter for a time will be left in abeyance.

The superintendent's monthly report showed that 59 males, 126 females and 98 children had been admitted up to July 31, and 63 males, 130 females and 108 children discharged during that period.

Superintendent Heard was authorized to attend the American Hospital Association convention at Cleveland on September 10.

Those present at the meeting were chairman, Col. A. M. Gartshore, F. Screaton, E. C. Mitchell and T. H. Heard.

L.-CPL. JOHN WESTON NEVER LEFT ENGLAND, FOR LACK OF FUNDS

Unable To Secure Money To Come Home.

DELAY CAUSED ANXIETY

Drew $100, But Had Business To Settle Up Before Leaving Old Land.

Fear regarding the safety of Lance-Corp. J. Weston, from whom no word had been received since July 19, was dispelled by the arrival of a letter Wednesday. He is at Buxton, and expects to sail soon for Canada, his immediate departure having been delayed by lack of funds. Arrangements are being made by the local branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission to obtain transportation for him, and he will still be able to spend some of his twelve weeks furlough at home with his children.

Had Left His Unit.

Mrs. Weston was killed by a train nine weeks ago, and her two children were left in the care of their grandmother. Arrangements were made for the father to come home, and a cable was sent telling him of his wife's death. A subsequent letter containing a fuller account was returned unopened, because, as was learned in his letter on Wednesday, he had left his unit for England, giving instructions that all mail should be forwarded to Canada, where he expected to arrive within a couple of weeks.

No letters explaining this were received by his parents here, and they became much alarmed when queries through military headquarters here failed to locate him.

No Money for Fare.

His letter to the local branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission was as follows:

"30761 Lance-Corp. J. Weston,
"Empire Hotel, Buxton, Eng.
"August 13, 1917.

"Dear Sir,—On July 8, I received a cablegram from you through Capt. Chester Butler, informing me that my wife had been killed on June 30; on July 10, the officer commanding my unit received a cable from Ottawa granting me three months' furlough. I left France on July 12, for the purpose of proceeding to Canada. I have been here now nearly a month and I find out at the last minute that I cannot get back to Canada, as I have not got any money to pay my fare, which is $60.

"Before I came to this place (Buxton Discharge Depot), I went to the pay office in London to get some money, as I had a little business matter to settle up before I left, which took most of the money I drew (£20). I had no idea then that I would have to pay £12 for my passage, so I approached the paymaster here, but he could do nothing for me.

"I then put in my claim for 50 cents per day, which was taken from me, on January 1, 1916. When the money was taken from us we were offered our discharge. I applied for my discharge, my name came back from the base to my unit that I was entitled to my discharge, and I would be sent away as soon as someone came to fill my place. But in May it was published in our orders that all discharges were cancelled and that our pay would go on the same as previously, to December 31, 1915.

In France 30 Months.

"My rate of pay was $1.60 per diem. If I could get this money it would put me in credit instead of debit, but they will not do anything at the London pay office or at this place. All the information I got today was that the paymaster had received word from London that I am to be returned to my unit in France and I feel quite upset. There is no doubt that you are aware that I have been in France 30 months. I enlisted with the first contingent and went to France with them, and I haven't a crime against me, but there seems to be nobody here that can do anything for me, so I am appealing to you, to see if you can take up my case for me and do anything for me in the way of getting me back.

"I do not know any particulars concerning my wife's death, for I have not received a word from Canada, only your cable. Of course, when I left France I told them to send all my mail back to Canada, because I thought I was being sent right away. I do not know how my babies are or who has them. They tell me that my assigned pay is not stopped, because I explained to the paymaster here that my three months' assigned pay (period of furlough), would pay my fare, but he said as far as he was concerned somebody was still drawing it, so, dear sir, if you can make inquiries and do anything to help get me back I would be greatly obliged to you. I am, yours sincerely,

"LANCE-CORP. WESTON."

INGERSOLL EXTENDED WARM WELCOME TO RETURNED SOLDIERS

Party of 150 From London Had Best Outing Yet.

With every factory whistle in the town screeching and more than 2,000 people in the streets, Ingersoll extended its welcome to 150 returned soldiers from the Central Military Convalescent Hospital at London Wednesday afternoon. The reception was the culmination of a twenty-mile automobile trip from the city and was without doubt the greatest ovation given to London returned soldiers yet. More men than ever before were taken on the trip, 27 automobiles being required to transport them.

Two miles from Ingersoll the cars were met by a delegation of Ingersoll returned soldiers in automobiles, headed by Mayor Buchanan. With these in the lead the town was entered amid the cheers of hundreds of citizens. Local factories allowed their hands to leave work for a few moments and these served to augment the already large crowds. After the procession had passed down the principal streets it drew up at the school, where an address of welcome was made by Mayor Buchanan.

A Fine Program.

Supper was served in the Methodist Church at 5 o'clock and was followed by a pleasing musical program.

Rev. Ronald Macleod, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and formerly chaplain of the 168th Battalion, presided. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Enright, Mrs. (Rev.) Janes and Mrs. (Rev.) Perkins, of Ingersoll, and by Pte. Carter, Pte. White, Corp. Griffith and Pte. Edwards from London. Trench choruses and marching songs were also included in the entertainment. A vote of thanks to the Three Thousand Club and the Red Cross Society, the two organizations upon whom the necessary work for the occasion devolved, was tendered by Corp. Griffith.

Many of the autoists commenced the return trip immediately, but many remained for an excellent band concert provided by the 1st Hussars band.

Those who loaned cars for the trip were: J. C. Beemer, W. W. Gammage, A. Talbot, W. Crackendale, W. Orchard, W. Mara, T. Baker, J. C. McGuffin, Sir George Gibbons, G. M. Kernohan, B. H. Gillies, Sir Adam Beck, A. McMahen, W. Jarvis, J. Fenlin, F. Willis, H. Hyatt, J. Brownlee, J. Chira, Lieut.-Col. Milligan, C. R. Hunt, C. Webber, R. Lawson, F. Fontain, J. Rowatt, Draper and R. J. Webster.

The trip was in charge of R. J. Webster.

At the Patricia Theatre To day, Friday and Saturday.

Peasant Yields Girl to Rival on Wedding Day.

Depths of love for a girl rarely attained is shown by the Russian peasant who, on the day set for his wedding, releases the girl who is bound to him by an oath she will not break, and places her hand in that of his rival. No less impressive is the resignation of the girl, who crosses oceans to keep her oath, and offers her life as the price of release. This, in brief, is the story of "Chains of an Oath," the Favorite Film feature, which will appear in the Unique Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

Coming to America to make her fortune, the girl loses her heart, but renounces this, her first love, and steals back to her native land at the command of her father to marry the man chosen for her by a village matchmaker. Her American sweetheart follows, and she saves him from the knife of the peasant before the final scenes. This powerful picture is featured by the following stars: Earle Williams, Edith Storey, William Shea, Kate Price and William Humphrey.

PATRICIA.

"Say uncle!" It is the well-known command of the bully who pinches the kiddie's arm until he complies with the order. In Mary Pickford's new Artcraft picture at the Patricia Theatre all this week, the "bad man" compels her to say the word in a similar manner. However, in "A Romance of the Redwoods," little Jenny, by saying the word, is not freed of her worries, as is the usual case, but rather begins to make trouble for herself as a result, which takes many feet of film to straighten out.

J. M. Egan, a classy musical act, is the vaudeville attraction today, Friday and Saturday.

A new Fox comedy in two parts, "A Roman Cowboy," is guaranteed a winner.

MAJESTIC.

"The Clodhoppers," featuring Charles Ray, showing at the Majestic again today, is one of the best photoplays seen here in months. It is a human interest story that is too good to miss. Ray appears in the character of Everett Nelson.

Everett was born on a farm and is an only son. He does all the hard work on the place for his father, who keeps the country bank. Unable to stand the bondage any longer, Everett leaves for New York in quest of work. While job-hunting he sees a sign on the door requesting the services of a janitor. On entering to apply for the position he finds himself on the stage of a theatre, where a rehearsal for a musical comedy is in progress.

The astounded manager gazes at this apparition, and then an idea strikes him. He hires the "Clodhopper" for a rural number in his show. How the "rube" makes the hit of his life, as well as showing that he is not to be laughed at as a prodigal son is shown in the events that follow.

DAIRY ENTRIES FROM THE WEST

A number of dairy entries for the Western Fair have come in this year from western prairie provinces, the last arriving yesterday from Edmonton. Grounds and buildings are being put in good shape at the exhibition grounds, and with the progress which is being made at present, it is expected all will be in readiness for the opening day, September 7. The stock buildings have received their pre-exhibition housecleaning, and straw for bedding is being stored in them today.

EXPERT CLAIMS 12 CENTS IS COST OF DOZEN EGGS

Wm. McNeil Cannot Understand Why Price Should Go So High.

MADE TWO MONTHS' TEST

And Believes There Is No Justification for the Present Market Prices.

No less an authority than William McNeil, superintendent of the poultry department of the Western Fair, is responsible for the statement that eggs can be produced at 12 cents a dozen, even under present conditions.

Under the circumstances he can't for the life of him see why it is necessary that prices of hen fruit should soar so high, taking into consideration the added fact that London, Ontario, happens to be the greatest poultry centre in the world.

He Should Know.

When Mr. McNeil says that eggs can be produced at 12 cents a dozen he isn't making speculation or talking on hearsay. He KNOWS by actual test.

The interesting test was made for a period of two months this year, from April 4 until June 4. He bought, just before that period, feed for his hens costing $8.50. He kept an exact account of all that they ate, and on the evening of June 4 he found his 18 biddies had earned $20.19 with eggs at the market prices. This meant net profit of $11.69. In other words, each hen had earned in exchange for board, lodgings and the right to live on an average of $1.12, or profited her master a trifle over 65 cents in two months.

"You must remember in this connection," said Mr. McNeil, "that this covered a part of the period which is the worst time for laying. I can't for the life of me see why it is necessary to charge 40 to 45 cents a dozen for eggs at this time of the year."

"But you didn't take into account the original cost of the birds or overhead expenses, such as housing?" the poultry expert was reminded.

Out of Proportion.

"But I had the hens at the end of the two months, in as good, if not better, condition than on April 4. So far as equipment and so on is concerned, it seems to me the prices being asked for eggs are out of proportion entirely to the cost of production. This isn't true only of eggs. Take potatoes, selling at this time of the year on the market for 50 cents a peck. Hardly anyone is buying potatoes just now, yet there the price stays. You used to be able to get potatoes at 50 cents a bushel, or a bag the end of August. Labor surely hasn't gone up this much, and demand so increased, as to justify such a big advance. Of course, where poultry feed is concerned, it has increased between two and three times the price it was before the war. Again, where the farmer is concerned, he doesn't have to pay the retail price. I made the test in order to give information at a meeting at the Agricultural College in Guelph. I knew I was going to be placed in a position where I would have questions fired at me from all sides. I made absolutely sure of my ground so I couldn't be tripped up at any point. I don't know what the experience of others is, but these are the facts as I have found them by experiment."

INGERSOLL CONCERT MARRED BY DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT

Boy Strikes Head on Iron Support and Dies Shortly After.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, Aug. 30.—An accident which occurred at the Central School grounds during the progress of the concert by the Hussars' Band of London last night resulted in the death some time later of George S. Cotton, the 14-year-old son of Charles Cotton of this town. The boy died suddenly in the office of Drs. Williams and Furlong while receiving medical attention. Whether his death was due to a fracture at the base of the skull or to heart failure is not definitely known.

The affair has shocked the whole town. The boy went to the concert early in the evening, and for some time was seated with companions under the bandstand. In rising suddenly the top of his head came in contact with one of the supports, which inflicted a cut running across the head about two inches back from the forehead nearly five inches in length. The boy was observed by two young ladies apparently in a dazed condition, and he was taken across the street to the office of Drs. Williams and Furlong, who were out, and had to be telephoned for. First-aid methods were followed up to the time the doctors arrived, and at times the boy was conscious. While undergoing medical treatment he became violently ill and expired at once. The boy was 14 years of age in May last, and had resided for years with his grandmother, Mrs. J. S. Smith. He was a clever pupil of the Central School.

One man declares that if the city does not soon take action toward the quelling of this nuisance, he is going to make a court case of it.

MEET WHILE IN SERVICE.—Marshall Macpherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Macpherson, Elmwood avenue, who has been with the signalling corps of a Highland unit for several months, recently had the interesting experience of meeting for the first time in his life a Canadian relative, also formerly of London, Major Walter Bapty. Second cousins, the two Canadian soldiers were invited to visit at the same time in the home of old country relatives. Young Macpherson was much impressed with the fine-looking doctor from Victoria, B. C., who went west when the former was still quite a little lad. Military medical authorities have refused to allow Major Bapty to return to the front as a combatant, owing to the extent of his injuries on the two ocasions on which he was wounded. He is now serving with the A. M. C.

OVER $3,000 IN FINES IMPOSED IN POLICE COURT DURING MONTH

In keeping with the bumper crops throughout the provinces, the police court records for this month show that the greatest financial harvest ever reaped at the Carling street edifice has been collected this month.

Dollars have flowed into the coffers this month in a steady stream, over $3,000 having been levied in fines since August 1. Of this amount a large proportion has been collected, no less than $1,050 having been paid into the hands of Police Court Clerk John Moule since Wednesday noon.

Nine-tenths of the total sum levied represents penalties for violations of the Ontario temperance act. Over $100 was paid in by persons found guilty of conducting or frequenting houses of ill-fame. Speeders, bicyclists and persons guilty of minor infractions of city bylaws contributed considerably over $100 during the month.

The Ontario temperance act went into effect on September 17 last, and since that time nearly $18,000 in liquor fines have been imposed in the local court.

About half of this amount has been collected. Informations laid by Inspector Keenleyside if followed by convictions and fines are handed over to the Ontario Government. Convictions made on informations laid by Inspector Birrell go to swell the city treasury, providing the fines are collected.

Sixteen persons are at the county jail now serving terms because of their inability to settle fines.

SEES CANADA SWEPT BY TRIBULATIONS IN VISIONS IN CHURCH

Strange Prophecies at Meeting of Pentecosts.

GIRL IS UNDER SPELL

Foretells Bloodshed and Turmoil in This Country Soon, and Second Coming.

Speaking with tongues, prophesyings and interpretations, were among the strange things witnessed by the congregation which attended the regular evening meeting of the Penticostalists, last night in the big marquee back of the Garland rink on the Hamilton road.

During the first hour, devoted to testimony and praise, a slender young woman, Miss Lucy Lindsay of Nashville, Tennessee, rose from her place beside the piano on the platform and advancing a few steps, began pouring forth her testimony to the power of the Holy Spirit. Her tones were those of a chant, her voice scarcely raised above a whisper. But it carried away to the farthest end of the tent and out to the curious mob gathered on the outside.

Relates Visions.

As she proceeded, swaying slightly, eyes closed, her speech became more rapid while she related vision after vision that had come to her.

In her visions she had seen this land swept by great tribulation, seen the flames burst forth, heard the explosion of bombs and watched people fleeing to hide themselves from the enemy. "I am speaking to you and warning some of you for the last time," she cried. "Christ has told me of late that he is coming soon. I wouldn't be surprised if he would come tonight. But even if he doesn't come tonight you don't know what a day may bring forth for you. Your name on the church roll won't save you. If your heart isn't right with God, there is no life for you.

At this point, without warning, she broke forth in "strange tongues," her words rushing out in torrents. Then, very pale, she dropped back into her seat.

Strange Prophecies.

Tense silence prevailed for the space of perhaps two minutes, then James Park, who was presiding, half rose as if to introduce a new feature of the service. But the young woman was before him. She had risen somewhat unsteadily, stumbled forward, then turned her face upwards, her eyes still closed. She was speaking now in the first person, even as the prophets of old, "My people, my people, why will ye reject me," she called. "Why will ye be so stiff-necked? Know ye not that I speak to many of you for the last time? Oh, why will ye not hear?"

Prophesying in tongues alternated with interpretations in the first person until once more overcome the girl sank down in her chair.

A moment the subsequent silence remained unbroken, then from all parts of the audience were heard utterances of "hallelujahs" and "amens."

One woman praised the Lord that since she had been led into the Christian life and known the power of the God, she had enjoyed more pleasure than at all the shows and dances she had attended before.

Speaks on Power.

Evangelist Armstrong chose as his subject for the evening that of "Power."

"You can't be an ordinary, every-day New Testament Christian, unless you receive the Holy Spirit as at the day of Pentecost," was the burden of his message. He declared that he spoke of what he absolutely knew and could stand up before any London preacher or anyone else here, and answer back argument for argument and prove his point.

Dwelling upon the need of Christ and of the power of the Holy Ghost for living every day in these troublous times, the evangelist prophesied still worse to come in these last wicked days.

"Thank God the false prophets who say the world is getting better have been stopped," he said. He referred to the great possibility of uprisings and troubles in Canada and the United States, now that conscription has gone through. "Don't go away and say that I said that there is going to be trouble because of conscription," he warned. "I don't say that. I say there may be. There may be revolutions breaking out all over the land."

A zealous but misguided enthusiast shouted, "Hallelujah."

With regard to the possibility of a Christian "backsliding," Evangelist Armstrong declared, "There is no sense in our getting souls today if the devil can snatch them from us again tomorrow. In all this suppositious 'backsliding' the trouble is there hasn't been any real slide forward. Once a vision has been given of the Lord Jesus nothing short of him will ever satisfy. He actually spoils for this world. The prodigal who has really known Jesus is never satisfied to stay in the far country."

At the conclusion of the meeting, James Park invited the audience to bring their sick to the meeting to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of healing by the laying on of hands.

SAW SERVICE BEFORE, HE SIGNS ON AGAIN

F. R. Campbell, one of the recruits at the Armories Wednesday, is a returned man, and has served with No. 3 Canadian Stationary Hospital at Lemnos, Greece, and also in England and France. He was injured at Le Havre, France, and was returned to Canada discharged. He has now re-enlisted, was allotted to the 7th Details and will be employed on recruiting duty with the staff of the mobilization centre at the Armories. He will be the second member of No. 3 Stationary Hospital to join the mobilization centre staff, Sergt. C. J. Gilbank, also a former member of No. 3 Stationary Hospital, having been employed there for some time.

J. A. Mann of Guelph, another applicant to pass the board, was found to be under age, and was sent to the 7th Details until he becomes of age next October, when he will join the 7th Regiment Overseas Company. Other men who passed the board were W. D. Lamon, who went to the 7th Regiment Overseas Company, and H. E. Doyle, who was sent for home service in the 7th Guard Details. Three deserters also passed the medical board.

FIFTY UNFIT MEN WANTED FOR SERVICE IN 7TH GUARD DETAILS

Fifty men are wanted for home service in the 7th Guard Details and efforts will be made to recruit the required number at once, according to instructions issued by Capt. Hindson, chief recruiting officer of the district. The men will get the same rates of pay as the overseas men, but they do not draw a separation allowance. Instead, their wives or widowed mothers will draw subsistence allowance of 45 cents per day, which amounts to nearly as much as the separation allowance. Men unfit for overseas service are to be taken, and also men slightly under military age, if they have the written consent of their parents. Men slightly over military age may also be taken. Those desiring information may apply to Major W. H. Irvine at the Armories.

TWO SONS OF ARKONA MAN ARE WOUNDED

Elmer and Nelson Smith, sons of Douglas Smith of Arkona, have both been listed among the casualties, according to word received by their parents. Elmer is suffering from gunshot wounds, and Nelson has sustained injuries from shell and gas shock. Both went over with a Middlesex battalion.

City and Farm Men Get Together For Good of Country

Gathering Planned for Fair Week at Which Proposals of Working in Closer Harmony On Next Year's Production Will Be Discussed.

Plans are being formulated to increase production next year, and the first steps will be taken this afternoon.

A special committee of the board of trade will meet the Western Fair board this afternoon to discuss matters.

It is a sort of bonne entente movement, with the city folks on one side and the farmers on the other.

Did Not Want Men.

Last spring the farmers did not take kindly to the efforts of the city people to stimulate production. They looked with suspicion on the attempts made to get men from manufacturing plants to go on the farm.

However, the farmers were compelled to take the men, no others being in sight, and they were as a rule agreeably surprised. The results were much more favorable than they anticipated. The result has been that there is a decided movement to work more in harmony with the city men.

Do Better Next Year.

The latter want to reciprocate and increase production. The slowness of the resources committee last year caused a six months' delay, although the weather man helped out wonderfully. It is the intention to get better results next year.

"We simply want to get together, and we think the Western Fair can help," said Gordon Philip.

It is probable that some gathering will be held during Fair week to produce better results.

PLANS FOR SOLDIERS' HOME PROVIDES FOR REVERSION OF PROPERTY TO CITY IN TIME

Campaign To Secure $35,000 Will Be Undertaken in Short Time—Practical Memorial More Fitting Than Conventional Monument—City To Be On the Board.

A campaign to raise a fund in the neighborhood of $35,000, for the building of a soldiers' home in London will commence within a few weeks and by present indications will meet with a most favorable response. Citizens everywhere seem pleased with the idea and are likely to contribute generously when the time comes.

If plans made by the officers of the Great War Veterans' Association here, Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles, Major Gordon Ingram and Pte. Cunliffe, are followed, arrangements will be made whereby the home will in time revert to the city, if the city is willing to grant exemption. The title will be made out in the city's name, and when, as is inevitable in the course of time the last of the war veterans has passed away, the building will become city property once more, and be at the disposal of the citizens.

The mayor and two members of the city council will be members of the board in charge of the home.

Members of the Great War Veterans' Association, which is backing the scheme, feel that the plan is a good one. The living men will receive great benefits through the establishment, and it will also be a most appropriate monument to those who have fallen. It will be a real home, for there will be large dormitories to provide plenty of sleeping accommodation. These will be at the disposal of men newly returned, and who have not been able to make arrangements for returning to civil life. No members will be allowed to make it a permanent home, but all who have served in some capacity during the great war will be welcome, and arrangements will be made to include as members of the association veterans of previous campaigns.

POTATOES ESCAPED BLIGHT AND CROP WILL BE BIG

Party of Experts Visits District and Will Compare Quality With That of New Ontario.

That the potatoes in this district are comparatively free from late blight, although many of them were touched by the early blight, is the statement made by a party of agriculturist from Guelph who visited in Caradoc the first part of this week. Dr. Zavitz, Professor Howitt, Justice Miller and R. A. Finn were the members of the party.

Further visits will be paid to potato-growing sections near Erin and Ottawa with the idea of comparing the vegetables here with that grown in New Ontario. If the tubers in this part of Ontario prove to be in better condition than those in the new section of the country efforts will be made to secure many of them for seed.

The year here has been a favorable one and the potato crop throughout the country will be up to the average. The agriculturists do not think that the crop will be exceptionally large, but supplies grown by the city dwellers may augment it considerably. The quality is reported to be exceptionally good and there is not likely to be as many of the undeveloped roots as there was in 1916.

CITY IS OFFERED COAL AT $6 A TON BY BUFFALO FIRM

At the meeting of the finance committee of the city council last evening, the agreement between the city, the London and Port Stanley Railway and Beattie Bros. for a siding to the latter's factory in Chelsea Green was finally approved of. The work is nearly completed.

A price of $6 a ton for hard coal was quoted by J. H. Botham & Co., Buffalo, laid down in London. City Clerk Baker will get information as to the quality of the coal, and the standing of the company, and report to the high cost of living committee.

The Dominion Railway Commission sent an order approving of the London and Port Stanley switch on Bathurst street between Burwell and Maitland streets.

The account of $2,577.17 for special lights on the street was considered satisfactory by City Engineer Brazier, but the matter was referred to the special committee on civic lighting.

S. H. Kent, city clerk of Hamilton, wrote saying that it was the custom there to divide the assessment of businesses, where Roman Catholics and Protestants were engaged in accordance with the proportion of stock held by each. The communication was filed.

Proper fire protection will be given the Western Fair, as arranged by Fire Chief Aitken.

The market clerk in future must give out and publish the prices of food stuffs on the market. This, it was thought, would keep a check on prices.

Much minor business was disposed of.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

REMAINS BROUGHT HOME.

The remains of William Westhead, who died in Sarnia yesterday from the effects of burns sustained in an explosion, were brought to London on the afternoon train. The funeral will be held from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Harry Floyd, 804 William street, on Friday, to Woodland Cemetery. Besides his wife he leaves one son, William; two sisters, Mrs. Paul Hanson of Chicago, and Mrs. Harry Floyd, 804 William street, London, and two brothers, Harry and Frank, of this city.

DEATH OF YOUNG GREEK.

After an illness of several months, Peter Mitges, oldest son of Peter Mitges, proprietor of a shoe shining parlor at 301 Richmond street, died in St. Joseph's Hospital this morning. He was 25 years old, and was a native of Greece. He came to this country with his parents and brothers several years ago. He was known to hundreds of Londoners. He is believed to be the first Greek to die in the city.

The funeral on Sunday will be marked by ceremonies of the Greek Catholic Church. A priest will come from Toronto or Detroit to take charge of the service, and will be assisted by a Russian priest of this city. Interment will be made in Woodland Cemetery.

FUNERAL OF CHILD.

The funeral of Dorothy Ellen Towle, 10-months-old daughter of Alexander S. Towle, 763 Queen's avenue, was held today from the parents' residence. The services were conducted by Capt. Stephens, and interment took place in Woodland Cemetery.

DANCE MONDAY NIGHT.

A dance will be held at Springbank pavilion on Monday evening under the auspices of No. 4 Nursing Division. The proceeds will go in aid of equipment, the nurses having just purchased a wheeled litter to facilitate the work of handling patients.

ONE COURSEY PAYS FOR LIQUOR SALE, ANOTHER IS CLEAR

Charles Found Guilty of Selling Bottle to "Spotters."

Charles Coursey, barber, 761½ Dundas street, was found guilty in police court today on a second charge of having sold liquor unlawfully, and was fined $200 and costs, which was paid. The charge heard today was adjourned from yesterday's hearing after Coursey had been fined on the first count of selling on July 29, the one tried today having taken place on August 5.

John Coursey, 745 Grey street, was found not guilty on one charge laid on August 15, and the prosecution, accordingly withdrew the second, as both were based on similar circumstances. He was charged with selling to Hinch and Jones, special officers, but the evidence showed that they had been taken to Coursey's home by A. G. Bayliss, who had gone into the house on each occasion and procured the liquor, which he handed over to Hinch and Jones upon the payment of $3.50.

Bayliss Made Sale.

Magistrate Graydon took the view that if a sale had been made that Bayliss had been the party who made it and not Coursey. No evidence had been introduced by the prosecution to show that John Coursey had sold the liquor to anyone, consequently he was found not guilty. W. R. Meredith, in his argument, maintained that the magistrate could reasonably infer that Coursey had not given the liquor to Bayliss, but this inference the magistrate declined to consider.

At the opening of the court the case against Charles Coursey was called. Special Officer Truman Hinch testified that he and Norman Jones had gone to the home of James Deno, adjoining that of John Coursey, on Sunday afternoon, August 5. Charles Coursey had joined them a few minutes later, and had gone into his father's home and secured a bottle of old rye whiskey.

Special Officer Norman Jones gave evidence that he had witnessed the transaction between Hinch and Charles Coursey at the home of the latter's father, and had seen Hinch pay defendant for a bottle of liquor and receive the whiskey. Hinch had paid $2.50 for the bottle.

Denies the Charge.

Charles Coursey, defendant, was the first witness called for the defence. He swore that on August 5, Sunday afternoon, Hinch had telephoned that he would be out to Coursey's home. He denied that he had procured a bottle of liquor for Hinch or that any money had been paid over to anyone in the house for that purpose.

James Deno, mill sawyer by occupation, testified he had rented a house at the rear of John Coursey's residence. Hinch had asked, when he came into Deno's house, if he could procure any whiskey. Witness had informed the officer he had none or did not know where he could get any.

Under cross-examination by W. R. Meredith, Deno said he had met Hinch and Jones, the special officers, and had introduced them to Charles Coursey.

Saw No Exchange.

William Ferguson, barber, employed in a South London shop until recently, testified he was at Deno's home during the time that Hinch and Jones were there and had seen no money or whiskey pass between the officers and Charles Coursey. He had heard the question asked of Charles Coursey by the officers if whiskey could be obtained.

John Weaver, returned soldier, who was also present, corroborated the evidence of Deno and Ferguson.

"Did you know who Hinch and Jones were when they came to Deno's house?" asked W. R. Meredith.

"I surmised, because I had been told that they were whiskey detectives," replied witness.

After reviewing the evidence carefully, Magistrate Graydon stated he could do nothing but find Coursey guilty. He then imposed the penalty of $200 and costs or 3 months in jail.

Denies Both Charges.

John Coursey, 745 Grey street, father of Charles Coursey, pleaded not guilty to two charges of illegal selling. The first charge to be tried was that of August 15.

Truman Hinch stated that A. G. Bayliss, taxi driver, had taken him and Norman Jones to the home of John Coursey at 1 o'clock on the morning of August 15. Jones had given Bayliss $3.50, and the latter had driven them to John Coursey's home. Bayliss had gone to the front door of Coursey's home and had given the latter the money and received the whiskey, which he handed over to witness when he returned to the car.

Norman Jones gave evidence to corroborate that submitted by preceding witness.

HOME WRECKED, WANTS HIS BOY SENT OVERSEAS

Soldier Betrayed While Absent Fighting by Friend of Family.

HUSBAND IS DISMAYED

Doesn't Care If He Never Comes Back From War, But Wants Chance for Son.

A member of the Children's Aid Society, who has been closely associated with investigation work for some years past, today railed at the civilian who is not only a slacker but takes advantage of the absence of braver men overseas to wreck their homes. Such a case had just come forcibly to the attention of the society, hence the outburst of wrath.

Called to the colors immediately on the outbreak of war, a British reservist who was also a South African veteran, left behind him a wife and one little child, in this city. He also left behind him a "good friend," who didn't think of donning khaki, but made it his business to show a kindly interest in the soldier's family. So kindly was his interest indeed, and so great his success in winning his way, that he has broken up a once happy home and brought discredit upon the wife.

Now, the soldier who is serving his country in France, has written to the Children's Aid Society, telling the whole wretched story, and asking that the child be sent to England, where it will be well looked after by his friends.

Since the news of what has happened in Canada in his absence has reached him, the soldier doesn't care whether he ever comes back from the war or not. But he wants his boy to have a change. He wants to see him settled where he will have proper care.

The Children's Aid Society is already taking up the case, though the letter only arrived yesterday.

The Soldier's Letter.

The letter is as follows:

Dear Sir,—I have heard that you have my boy in the Children's Home. I wish you to let me know how he is progressing from time to time. I do not wish to come back to Canada for some time to come. I would never go back to my wife again after her unfaithfulness to me. I saw my brother at a time when he was home on leave from France. He has kindly offered to lok after the boy until such time as I can get him over here to my people. Of the wife, I care not. The man that she disgraced herself with must look after her. I am writing to her at the same time, asking her to hand over my South African medals and a few things that I have treasured for years to my sister-in-law. You don't know how this affair has turned me. All I want now is to look after the welfare of my boy and to bring him up to forget he ever had a mother that turned unfaithful when her husband was going through hell for his King and country, and not only his King, but his home as well. Well, sir, I must close. Hoping to hear news from my boy soon.

Yours sincerely,

LONDONER WOUNDED BY A GERMAN BOMB WHILE IN HOSPITAL

George Short Becomes Double Casualty in England.

To be wounded in a hospital, as well as in action, is rather a unique experience, but that is what happened to Pte. Geo. Short, formerly of the 33rd Battalion, when he received a shell wound in the wrist during a raid of hostile aircraft on England on August 22. His mother, Mrs. Sarah Short, 492 York street, received word Wednesday of his being again wounded. He is thought to be the first London man to suffer in this way from Hun frightfulness, and his case will, perhaps, bring home to Londoners the recklessness with which bombs are dropped over British cities by the Germans.

He was convalescing in the hospital from wounds and shock received nearly two years ago, in November, 1915, and although partially recovered, he was not sufficiently well to come home. Pte. Short left here in June, 1915, with the first detached company from the 33rd Battalion, and served with the 1st Battalion in France, where he was buried alive and suffered severe wounds.

He has been temporarily attached to the Medical Services during his convalescence in England. He was a member of the Hermitage Club in this city, and was well known here.

GREEKS COME BY SHOE SHINING ART QUITE HONESTLY

Advertiser Man In Saloniki Tells of "Backsheesh" Hunting.

GLIMPSES OF BRITISH BASE

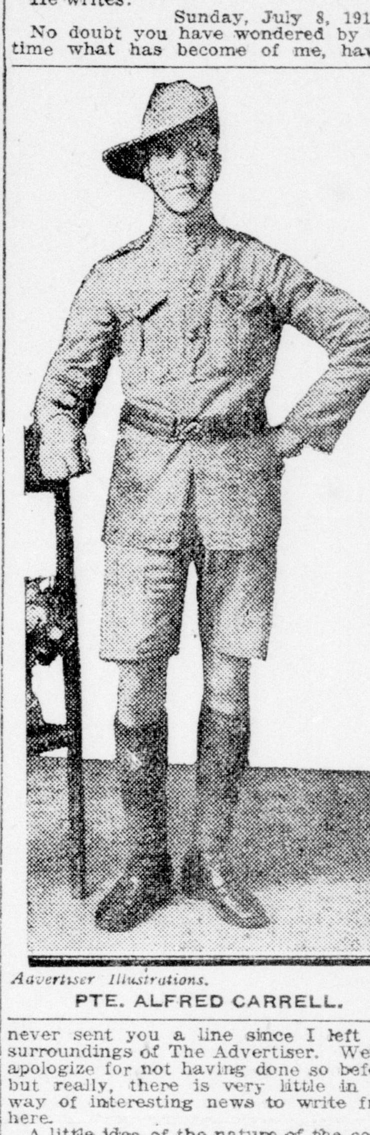

Pte. Alfred Carrell Writes Interesting Description of Life on Balkan Front.

Glimpses of tapering minarets, near-eastern costumes, with their gay and primitive colors, donkeys all but buried by the loads on their backs, and the dirty urchins demanding "leptas" are among the interesting impressions to be obtained by a perusal of a letter received by a member of The Advertiser staff from Pte. Alfred G. Carrell, a former member of the staff of this paper, who is now stationed near Saloniki with a unit of the Canadian Army Medical Corps. A flavor of Oriental atmosphere pervades the letter throughout, and some interesting pen sketches of eastern life as it appears to the Canadian lads are to be found in it.

He writes:

Sunday, July 8, 1917.

No doubt you have wondered by this time what has become of me, having Advertiser Illustrations.

PTE. ALFRED CARRELL.

never sent you a line since I left the surroundings of The Advertiser. Well, I apologize for not having done so before, but really, there is very little in the way of interesting news to write from here.

A little idea of the nature of the country, and the customs of its varied people is what you want to know, I suppose. Our surroundings are not what you could call picturesque. We see nothing but hills all around; in fact, right up to the firing line it is the same, broken here and there by a plain.

A Glimpse of the People.

As to the people, it might be said, they represent nearly every nationality of the Balkans. By their dress, one would assume they are very fond of colors. Not being of the feminine gender, I can't undertake to write the style of dress. Mind you, I am speaking of the people we met in the little villages. In the city, we see up-to-date styles.

Interesting walks can be taken through some of the nearby villages, including a look at the farms and the working.

As one approaches a village, the first thing one notices is a bunch of dusky-looking kiddies, running toward you, crying out "Backsheesh, Johnny." (Backsheesh is an Arabic word, meaning a present, something for nothing. It is usually pronounced by the Tommies as "Buckshe.") If you give them a few leptas (drachmai and leptas are the names of the Greek coin values; a drachmai is equal to twenty cents—100 leptas to the drachmai), they give you a kind of salute and say, "English, very good." If you do not separate yourself from the leptas, the cry is "English, no good."

Women Do the Work.

On arrival at the village or farm, whichever it may be, you notice the womenfolk seem to be doing most of the work, while the men lie and lounge around, smoking cigarettes. The men sometimes take a notion you are of a generous frame of mind, so they exhibit the children to you, saying "Piccaniny, backsheesh." Don't think they are offering the little ones to you for nothing. Oh, no; it's more money.

When you see their method of working on the farm, you wonder where they have been all these years while inventions have been coming out by leaps and bounds. You see them using very odd-looking hand implements for their work. The plowing is done with a wooden plow, drawn by a yoke of oxen. The transport work for these people is mainly done by donkeys, on which they pile up very heavy loads. Sometimes, the only part of the animal visible is the legs. Now and again, you might see a wagon, something like a hayrack, drawn by oxen.

I think this is the best I can do in the way of giving you an insght of the country. Now I will try and give you a glimpse of the city.

Red Roofs and White Minarets.

As you come into the harbor on the boat, you get the impression of a fine, large city. The hills in the distance make a nice background for the red-tiled roofs of the buildings. The white minarets, dotted all over the city, stand out conspicuously. One, not visible from the harbor, attracts interest, the top part having been shot away during the last Balkan war.

The city, being what might be called an eastern city, you do not expect to find it a spic and span place, so you are not exactly disappointed when you look around. Of course, you have to be pestered a bit. This time, it is a bunch of dirty little urchins, shoeblacks by calling, who run along by your side crying "Shine, Johnny! I give you good shine, Johnny. Buckshe shine tomorrow, Johnny." So to get rid of them, you commission them to start on the job. Sometimes, it will mean close to a fight as to which boy gets the job, and they will both start in to clean a boot, all the time arguing with each other.

The business section seems to be divided up into quarters, Turk, Greek, French and Jew. Quite a lively time can be spent in the stores when purchasing. Away ahead of the real value is asked for an article, and then you start in haggling and trying to beat down the seller.

The city boasts of an electrical plant and also a street car service. Five leptas (one cent) enables one to travel quite a distance.

Old City Out of Bounds.

What should prove quite an interesting part is the old city (or Turkish quarter), surrounded by the old wall and tower. This is out of bounds to the troops, so I can't tell you anything about this part.

We have a little newspaper, which is published in the city for the British troops in Macedonia. When I arrived here last September and took my first look at the "Balkan News," it did not impress me very much. But, of course, we could not expect to have a first-class paper put out by Greek compositors. The letter "w" was conspicuous by its absence, two v's being used. But great improvement has been made; new fonts of type have arrived, and now our paper is a nice-looking affair. The "B. N." has gained popularity on a large scale, and on the strength of this, the management, four weeks ago, brought out a weekly paper, christened the Orient Weekly. This paper takes fairly well, containing articles of interest, a short story and some occasional notes, with a little of the light reading. I will inclose a copy of each for your perusal.

Tributes to Fallen Friends.

Before bringing this letter to a close, I would like to say how much I regret to read in the papers just arrived of the deaths in action of Lieut. Joe Walters and Pte. Victor Vinen, both formerly of The Advertiser. Of Victor Vinen, I did not know a great deal, but the fact that he gave his life for his country proves his worth. With Joe, I was better acquainted. Some of the statements which are attributed to him in the comment on his death prove the height of his ideals. He was one of Canada's best, and one of whom we all ought to be proud. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him, especially the staff of The Advertiser.

I will now draw to a close, with kind regards to you and all members of The Advertiser staff. Yours sincerely,

ALFRED G. CARRELL.

WEDDING BELLS

BROWN—LEWIS.

On August 21 a quiet wedding was solemnized by Rev. W. H. A. Claris at his residence, when Miss Evelyn Lewis was united in marriage to Clarence Brown, both of this city.

WARNER—GILLETT.

A pretty wedding took place on August 15 at 750 Lorne avenue, when Miss Kate R. Gillett was united in marriage to Charles J. Warner, both of London. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. A. Claris, of the Southern Congregational Church. A large number of guests were present. After the dainty wedding breakfast, the happy couple left on a short honeymoon. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

MAN WHO GAVE POLICE EXCITING CHASE TO BE TRIED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

William H. Dowdell 3 Grafton street, who was arrested yesterday afternoon following an exciting chase after he was caught in the home of Mrs. W. E. Savell, 252 Oxford street, appeared in police court today charged with breaking and entering the house from which it is alleged he also stole a purse containing $3.50.

He requested an opportunity to procure counsel, and was remanded to jail until tomorrow to give him the chance of securing a lawyer.

Dowdell was found at the home of Mrs. Savell when she came home yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He made a hurried exit from the house, during which time the police were telephoned. After a chase bearing all the characteristics of a "movie staged" man-hunt, Dowdell was caught, but so far has declined to give any reason for his action in entering and breaking into the residence.

REST BENCHES PLACED AT CONVENIENT CORNER FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

Have you ever stood on the southwest corner of Dundas and Wellington streets and waited long and patiently for a street car to come? And have you ever looked longingly at the iron railings around the corner property and thought how nice and restful it would be if you could only sit there? The only thing that prevented you was the jagged projection on the supper surface of the fence.

You don't need to let this worry you any longer. Two large, comfortable benches repose in the grass plot behind the railing, and furthermore, they bear the legend "Rest a while." You only need one qualification, that is a wound which you received while trying to push the Bosches out of France, or some disability caused through service in the Canadian expeditionary forces. "For Returned Soldiers Only" is the sentence which appears below the invitation to rest a while.

The benches have been placed there by the Great War Veteran's Association after it had been generously granted the use of the property by Mrs. M. Eisler, proprietress of the Dominion Ladies' Outfitters. The seats are going to be popular with the returned men, and bid fair to make the corner as famous as the Ypres corner in Toronto, where the returned men of that city congregate during the daytime.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S REPLY.

UNLESS President Wilson's reply to the pope's peace proposals suffers severely at the hands of German translators, neither the Government nor the people of Germany can fail to realize that the United States is determined, along with its allies, to carry on this war until the world is made safe from further menace by German militarism. Furthermore, there can be no misunderstanding the plain statement that there will be no dependence placed upon the word of the German Government or Kaiser Wilhelm unless there is ample evidence that the promises made are supported by the will and purpose of the German people, and this evidence must be unmistakable.

As in all his communications, the president is careful to differentiate between the German Government and the nation. He expressly points out that the power which threatened to dominate the world is not the Teutonic people, but "the ruthless master of the people." While he does not say, in so many words, that the present Government, kaiser and all, must go before peace can be brought about, there is no difficulty in reading this sentiment into his message, and it will find hearty indorsement in all Allied countries.

Equality in national security, freedom and opportunity for development he declares to be a sine qua non. No mere military strength must be able to impose the will of a large nation upon a small and weaker neighbor. If this determination is carried out, Germany's idea of "a place in the sun" must be relinquished for ever. She can have her place, equally with other nations, but not such a place as she wanted to capture by force of arms and intrigue.

With courteous and diplomatic phrases, President Wilson points out the utter impossibility of accepting the pope's plan, and shows that it would simply be playing into the hands of the foe by allowing him time and every facility to prepare for a renewal of the struggle on an even more terrible scale in years to come.

Possibly one of the most effective and inspired paragraphs is that which sets forth so clearly what would be the effect on the newly-born Russia if the Allies were to agree with the pope. It would spell ruin to the great eastern nation. This proof that the United States and the Allies in general are giving Russia's future earnest consideration in their dealings with the enemy will be welcomed in Petrograd and Moscow and may serve to make easier the task of Kerensky and Korniloff.

President Wilson has voiced the sentiments of the Allies. His note lacks nothing in strength, in clearness or in determination. It is one which all nations, except those opposed to universal freedom and liberty, can indorse, and it should end all attempts to lead the Entente Allies into peace negotiations which cannot result in the desired elimination of Prussian militarism.

A FINE EXAMPLE.

TILLSONBURG merchants gave an exhibition of patriotism and helpfulness the other day which is full of significance at this time. Within a few minutes of the fact becoming known that a widow had a crop of oats standing in the field and beginning to sprout, fifteen businessmen were on their way to remove the crop to the barn, and a few hours saw the task accomplished.

There can have been no looking around by any of these men to see if there was not someone else who had more time to spare, or who could better perform the work. Each one acted promptly when the call came and did his bit to the best of his ability. If only the people of the Dominion as a whole would display the same spirit what wonderful results would accrue!

The country never needed unselfish men more in parliament, city or country. Those who will lay aside self interests and work for the good of the nation and Empire, as these merchants did, are worth their weight in gold.

THE EUROPEAN NEUTRALS.

THAT the North European neutrals well deserve the restrictions which the United States is putting on their imports of food is evident from an article recently written by J. C. van der Veer in a London (England) paper. He shows the extent to which the Dutch producers and commercial men helped Germany by supplies of potatoes, fish, meat, eggs, vegetables, etc. The following were the exports in tons for a number of lines during the two years 1915-1916:

	To Germany.	To England
Potatoes	334,559	3,609
Potato meal	128,514	13,837
Meat	131,467	25,445
Fish	316,219	747
Butter	68,088	4,657
Cheese	39,521	15,257
Eggs	55,548	8,535
	1,176,916	72,087

Of course, the Germans were ready to pay higher prices, a fact naturally decisive with the Dutch. But the mass of the Dutch people, according to Mr. van der Veer, are suffering from scarcity and high prices, and they are also aware that Great Britain is fighting their battle against German aggression, as well as her own. They realize, he says, the ignominy put on them by the policy of their Government in allowing such assistance to the universal enemy. They know that Great Britain's intervention "actually saved Holland from falling after Belgium a prey to German ambition." They see the insults and injuries constantly offered by Germany to their country and its shipping, and are uncomfortably awaiting what the pirate will do next when ousted from the submarine base at Zeebrugge. The one convenient point that will then be left to Germany from which to attack merchant shipping will be Antwerp, and to use that port will involve the violation of Dutch territory on the Scheldt River.

In 1916 Holland sold to Germany an immense amount more than she received. German gold came flooding in during the early part of the war, but nothing but paper was received for the balance of trade last year and this. The Dutch magnates will be hoping to see Germany win and get an indemnity with which to make good some of the scraps of paper handed out in Holland. But when the Dutch people, while generally favorable to the Allies and not asleep to the facts of German aggression and ambition, have put up with want and losses in order that their rich producers and middlemen might profit, how can they reasonably object if the United States shuts them off from American food? They have allowed themselves to be deprived of their own.

It is true that the figures for Dutch exports to Germany and Great Britain compare far less unfavorably this year than in 1915 and 1916. The British Government brought Holland to agree to export equal quantities to both belligerents. However, it appears that even yet the agreement is being violated by the Dutch, half as much again of meat, fish and dairy produce going to Germany for the first three months of 1917 as to England. Besides there is, says Mr. van der Veer, a vast deal of smuggling on the Dutch frontier, which the Government is not very keen to stop.

If such is the state of affairs in Holland, what must be the conditions in Sweden, a notoriously pro-German country, the one friend the Germans and Turks have among the nations of the earth? Sweden also has great advantages of situation compared with Holland. Not being open to blockade by our fleets, and having no colonies, like Holland, to lose, Sweden cannot so easily be squeezed into agreements. Nor is she so open to German aggression as Holland. She can afford to sup a little with the devil, as she has a longer spoon to do it with. All those northern neutral countries may be firmly handled by the United States without any misgivings of doing them unmerited wrong. It will be ultimately for their own good.

SENSIBLE LENIENCY.

DURING the last month three women have been released from the local jail on parole—in other words, they have been freed after serving a portion of their term of imprisonment. This ought to be a cause of gratification not only to the friends of the women concerned, but to the whole community.

Had the authorities insisted that the full sentences be imposed, what good purpose would have been served? The fact that the offenders had to appear in court and have their sentences meted out to them after they had been proved guilty was, probably, the heaviest part of the punishment. Then came the removal to jail and the realization of their disgrace and their position in the eyes of society. A few days would be sufficient time for them to become calm and place the blame for their trouble where it belonged—on their violation of the law. After that, the imprisonment would become merely prolonged punishment, with the danger of continued residence in jail dulling the better feelings of the prisoners and making them more callous in the future.

But if this leniency towards first offenders among women is praiseworthy, it would be equally so if applied to males. Youths sentenced to a term in jail would be more likely to shun crime in the future if paroled before the first horror of their situation had worn off. The man who has not $200 with which to pay his fine for having been caught with an unsealed bottle of liquor in his possession outside his home would be just as careful of his behavior henceforth if freed after a week or two in the cells.

There is also the question of economy to be considered. If the additional length of sentence does no good to the offender, it certainly costs the country money. There is the feeding of the man while in jail; there is often need of help for his family, and there is the loss of his labor in production. It would pay well if the law were administered with more common sense and less red tape.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Canada is not buying the C.N.R. The Borden Government is perpetrating the act and using the people's money.

The world has pretty well despaired of seeing Norway or Sweden actively resent German bullying and piracy.

Arthur Hawkes to be a Borden candidate! There must be a terrible dearth of good material in the Tory party.

There are some "hogs" in Canada, whose exportation would be a benefit to the country, but they would be useless as food.

German writers criticize Michaelis. Wonder what they would say about Wilhelm if they were free to express their thoughts?

Food Controller Hanna says that Lord Rhondda's action, by which he hopes to reduce the cost of beef by 12 cents a pound after Christmas, largely settles Canadian prices. Must we wait four months for action and then rely on Britain for it?

A SOLDIER RETURNS.

By Dorothy Douglas.

Capt. John Gavin dropped into a great wicker chair in the tearoom in Oxford street. His crutch, terribly new to him, was taken with an impulse of swift tenderness by a girl sitting in the chair near him Gavin nodded silent thanks.

The girl returned to her seat, her eyes hovering over the soldier with a soft glow of which he was quite conscious.

Gavin had come back from the war crippled, sorely unnerved and deploring the fate that had sent him back at all. He desired more than anything else to be lying out there under the elderdown of bloodstained earth that covered Stanley, Drake and Malone. Three of the finest pals ever given to man had been left on the battlefield sleeping the endless sleep. Gavin had left a leg with his pals, and with that bitter-sweet thought a smile of utter loneliness and pain crept into his eyes. He gazed at the many people drinking tea, but in a remote, impersonal way. His thoughts were still hovering over the battlefield where the splendid bodies of Drake and Maloney and Stanley were quickly turning to dust.

A blind, impotent rage had kept Gavin's brain at fever heat since after the amputation of his leg; he knew he could never return to avenge the death of his pals nor of the many brave men fighting. Cruel self pity lashed him down finally into torpid inactivity and depression.

So remote was Gavin in sense from his surroundings that he did not hear the girl who had approached. She had come to him from a nearby table at which were many laughing people. She addressed him a third time, and with that effort Gavin struggled swiftly for his crutch and would have risen had not her hand motioned him quickly to remain seated. She dropped into the chair opposite.

Gavin was shy to the extent of brusqueness with women. He feared their wistful eyes far more than enemy gunfire or the lion's jaw. And now, taken unaware, charged as it were from ambush, he colored a fine, dusky red.

The girl, Polly Malone, felt a lump rise in her throat. "These brave, brave men—what children they are," she thought tenderly.

"Please forgive me," she apologized. A softened American accent drifted along with her words. "Is there a chance, just a vague hope, that you could have known my dear, dear brother. I see you are of the Royal Sussex Regiment, and he——" she closed her eyes for a second; then Gavin saw the finest little smile he had ever seen breaking through the unshed tears—"he fell with them."

A quick, wonderful light leapt into Gavin's eyes. His face was transformed. That sweet, sweet smile struggling over the pain had been in Jimmy Malone's eyes that starry night on the battlefield when, with Gavin's arms supporting him, he had entered the Great Rest.

"Jimmy, Jimmy," he called softly and with both hands outstretched he grasped those of the girl. That haunting likeness to his pal quite unnerved him. He was not conscious of the warmth of his clasp. He knew only that he was touching someone who was kin to Jimmy Malone. The world was suddenly flooded with gold, and Capt. Gavin felt for the first time in many weary, heartsick weeks his soul—smiling within him.

He forgot his shyness with women; forgot everything that was past and ugly, while he was in the presence of Polly Malone. His nature, sensitized by acute suffering, felt the soothing charm of Jimmy Malone drifting through the person of Polly. Through Jimmy's sister Jimmy was reaching across the gulf to Gavin and offering him, if not the muscle and bone of himself, then surely the essence of their friendship.

"I was sitting here deploring the unkind fate that allowed me to live," he said frankly, "and now, because you have spoken to me, I no longer want to die. Strange," he added thoughtfully, "how a few simple words with the glance from sincere eyes can illumine the world."

Polly Malone said nothing. She was touched to the heart by the quick response in Gavin's nature. This little flurried call to friendship had made a different man of him. His need had been grave. In her heart Polly was thankful for the strength that had prompted her to address him.

"Had you not worn your uniform," she said shyly, "I should not have known——"

"I hate taking it off and getting into mufti," he replied quickly; "I seem nearer the chaps out there—with khaki on."

Polly swallowed hard. She must be a soldier, for she was facing one. The depths of his hurt lay in those simple words. His life and soul were still in khaki fighting the enemy while his body, crippled and unnerved, was lashed back in physical inability.

He told her of heroic deeds, beautiful stories of self-sacrifice for God and the good of man. The terrific havoc of warfare was made to seem but the glorious fight for eternal good, the struggle for supreme civilization and honor. The triumph and grandeur of a clarion note sounded through his words. Polly sat quietly and listened.

"And, Jimmy," he added softly, "brave old Jimmy saved our entire battalion that night. He went on a reconnoitering tour alone, and lone-handed bombed the enemy trench. But they got him, the fiends, by hoisting the flag of truce—and Jimmy—fell. I took command then, and we fought like devils gone mad. When the skirmish was over I found Jimmy and held him in my arms while he smiled through the pain—that brave, brave sile of the Borderland.

"Captain Gavin," Polly faltered eagerly, "you have lighted a great big torch for me. I have been fighting depression, grief and an overpowering sense of defeat. This horrible ache, ache, ache for Jimmy has just sickened me until I longed for oblivion. It was weak, I know, but I loved Jimmy with my entire being; he was pal, brother and friend. We had been together all our lives—just he and I." She paused while the brave little smile again struggled through the pain.

Capt. Gavin drew a heavy breath. There were fragments of emotion flying about him much like the bits of shrapnel from a bursting bomb. His smile was slow and searching.

"But now," continued Polly, "you have brought Jimmy back to me in a way that makes me ashamed of my weakness. His body is lost to me, but——"

"His soul is shining right in your eyes," Gavin said softly, "the soul of a soldier. I think between us—little sister of Jimmy Malone—we are going to patch up quite a remarkable friendship."

"It is not going to require a great number of patches," Polly commented shyly; "it is charmingly whole even now. And when you come to see me every day and ride and drive and chat with me and I try to make you forget the nerve-tearing part of war—perhaps you will not find any holes in our friendship that need patching."

The searching smile deepened in Gavin's eyes. Behind it, however, was a trend of thought that Polly intuitively followed. She knew that he was going to remain for a certainty that his mind and body were going to respond to the call of health and strength before serious affection matured. He would never, she realized, offer her the fragments of a strong life. Being of an expressive nature, Polly gave voice to her thoughts.

"You know," she said wistfully, "I shall always feel very, very small and humble beside you. You have suffered mentally, physically and given your blood and bones and muscles in this great fight for humanity, while I——"

"Don't say anything against Jimmy Malone's sister," Gavin requested quickly. "She will some day command a sturdy little army of her own, and where will a poor, battle-scarred soldier be then?" He looked with disturbing warmth deep into Polly's eyes.

"Not too far away—I hope," she managed to say before the onslaught of emotion held them both in silent understanding.

John Noble says something about assessing: An optimistic assessor essayed to launch out intuitively in his pernambulations to assess in a municipality a canine of the female species belonging to a veritable Scotsman for two dollars, whereupon at the initial session of the council the typical Scot detailed his estimable consort to obtain one dollar for the deficit in the gender, when the pessimistic clerk decreed that the spinster would make believe that she was the reputed wife of the veritable Scot. The Scotsman took umbrage at the pessimistic clerk because of the humiliation, and went forth to have an audience with the wiseacres of the municipality, and delivered the following peroration: Gentlemen, I am going to make a speech. The assessor came around and assessed my dog for two dollars, and it is no fair, and I sent my wife yesterday to get a dollar back for the dog, when you made her swear that she was the wife of my husband before you gave her back the dollar for the dog. I will make you listen to me. And thus terminated the painful incident.

WESTERN LIGHTS REQUEST BORDEN TO STAND DOWN; PARTY REFUSES

Premier Offers Leadership to Foster, But Latter Declines.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—A Conservative caucus to-day reconfirmed the leadership of Sir Robert Borden. Mr. Justice Duff gave assent to the conscription bill. Sir Wilfrid Laurier accepted the request of the prime minister to join him in the creation of a board of selection to name the exemption tribunals for the conscription measure, and expressed the opinion that now that conscription was law it was "the duty of all loyal British subjects to see that it is carried out as harmoniously as possible."

These were the interlocking events of an important parliamentary day. Emotion softened the ugly feelings that a good many of the Conservatives took with them to the caucus. The long negotiations that Sir Robert has been carrying on with one set of Liberals after another to induce them to enter a reconstructed government have been resented by Conservatives, who have felt that the publicity, marking the successive attempts and failures of the prime minister, have been in the nature of criticism upon the Government, its work and the Conservative members who have supported it.

West Wants Borden Out.

With the opening of the caucus there was some criticism of this character.

However, the prime minister made a statement of the difficulties that had encountered in his efforts at government reconstruction and closed with the statement that Messrs. Arthur Sifton, Calder and Crerar had informed him that they would go into a union government only on the condition that he handed over the leadership to Sir George Foster. Mr. Justice Duff, Sir Adam Beck or Sir Wm. Mulock. The premier then offered to resign in favor of Sir George Foster. He did this with evidence of great feeling, and his tears, which were plainly in evidence, moved many of the Conservative members and senators in similar fashion.

There were many wet eyes in the caucus when Sir George Foster arose and declined the proferred premiership, on the ground that Sir Robert was the proper person to carry the party through the war. The verdict of Sir George was unanimously confirmed by the caucus, which also authorized the prime minister to continue his efforts to achieve satisfactory cabinet reconstruction.

Few Liberals on Cabinet.

The general opinion among members of both sides is that as the result of the caucus Sir Robert Borden is stronger with his parliamentary followers than before; that in the cabinet reconstruction the Liberal element will be comparatively small, and possibly there will be none; that the coming election will be a party fight, with Sir Robert leading one side and Sir Wilfrid the other, marked by some breaking of English Liberals to Sir Robert and of French Conservatives to Sir Wilfrid.

A resolution was passed by the caucus and an official statement was prepared by a committee that was named for the purpose.

Approve Their Own Policy.

The resolution is: "We, the supporters of Sir Robert Borden's Government in the Parliament of Canada, record our emphatic approval of that Government's policy and achievements during these three years of war.

"We indorse the earnest and patient efforts of the prime minister to bring about a union of all the war forces of Canada, and to give to this Dominion in these days of ever-increasing stress, suffering and peril, the advantage of an administration which would typify that union, and speak to the world the unswerving resolution of our people to see this war through to victory.

"For the purpose of such union we are one, and prepared to make any personal or party sacrifice that the occasion may demand.

"We record unanimously our profound admiration of the great work and splendid leadership of Sir Robert Borden. We sincerely believe that no other man can discharge with like capacity the tremendous task of the prime minister during this crisis, and that now, of all time, his continuance in the premiership is indispensable to the matter, and to his support we pledge our unalterable devotion."

HADN'T SEEN WELL DAY IN 12 MONTHS

Nerves Were Fast Giving Way Under the Strain.

HEALTH WAS WRETCHED

Toronto Woman Says Tanlac Has Saved Her From a Nervous Breakdown.

"I had not seen a well day for the past twelve months, and I firmly believe that two bottles of Tanlac saved me from a nervous breakdown," said Mrs. Elsie Maeer of 322 Weston road, South Toronto, whose husband is with the Canadian expeditionary forces "somewhere in France," in a recent interview.

"I had nervous indigestion for a long time," she continued. "My appetite failed, and what little I did eat seemed to settle in a hard lump right in my chest and made me miserable all the time. My health was wretched, my system all run down, and I worried so much my nerves were fast giving way under the strain. The least little excitement would completely upset me, and I would almost jump out of my chair at the ringing of the doorbell. I couldn't hardly sleep at all, but would roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other all night long. I had no life nor strength and was as limp as a rag and too weak to do anything about the house. I was fast going down hill and thought if I didn't find relief soon I would become a nervous and physical wreck.

"One of my neighbors told me about Tanlac and advised me to try it, and I was certainly surprised to find I was getting better almost from the first dose. I am now on my second bottle, and am fast overcoming my nervousness, so that I now sleep fine every night and get up in the morning feeling stronger and better than I have in a long time. I have a splendid appetite and eat anything I want and am never bothered by indigestion at all. I am improving every day and am going to keep on with Tanlac as long as it does me as much good as it is doing now."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

Place the cocoa in a saucepan and mix with cold water until of a perfectly smooth appearance. The hot water is then added and the whole is then cooked from 1 to 2 minutes. SILENT TRIBUTE TO EARL GREY'S MEMORY BY C. N. E. DIRECTORS

Toronto, Aug. 29.—"The Canadian National Exhibition never had a better friend than the late Earl Grey," said President Marshall in proposing a toast to the memory of the former governor-general of Canada, who died in London, England, this morning.

The assembly stood in silence at the midday luncheon of the C. N. E. directors as the toast was honored.

Hon. W. D. McPherson, speaking for the Ontario Government, said that he was sure he was voicing the sentiments of the people of the province to say that they were in the great fight to the last man and the last dollar in defence of the most magnificent Empire the world had ever seen.

"Of the 426,000 odd who have volunteered for overseas, Ontario has the satisfaction of having enlisted 86,000. They have been voluntary enlistments, and no such example of cheerful willingness to serve has ever been exhibited before in the history of the world. In due course many of those who are now absent will return, and in their absence it is our duty to make adequate preparation for their return."

A. E. Donovan, M.P.P., and Lloyd Harris of Brantford, a member of the military hospitals commission, were the other speakers at the luncheon. Mr. Harris briefly reviewed the work of the military hospitals commission. He stated that the commission had now 10,000 beds in Canada in hospitals connected with the care of the returned soldiers. When the Whitby Hospital was finished there would be 1,200 beds, and possibly room for 1,700 returned soldiers. In a short time the Toronto Base Hospital would be taken over by the commission.

THOUGHT CHILD WAS DYING.

"CHOLERA INFANTUM"

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURED HER.

Mothers should look well after their children during the hot summer months, as this is the time of the year this trouble is most prevalent. It begins with a profuse diarrhoea, the stomach becomes irritated, vomiting and purging set in, and the child rapidly loses flesh, and becomes weak, prostrated and languid.

Mrs. B. A. Cirwell, Rossway, N. S., writes: "I can recommend, most highly, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. A friend of mine whose little daughter was ill with cholera infantum was given up by the doctors. The little one's mother asked me to come in and see the child. I told her I had a bottle of "Dr. Fowler's" and asked her if she would try it. When the bottle was half-used the child was well. This cure was a miraculous one, for I thought the child was dying at the time."

There is nothing can take the place of Dr. Fowler's.

There is nothing just as good.

Do not accept a substitute, and thus endanger your life.

An Easy Way To Get Fat and Increase Weight

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract fully assimilates the flesh-making material in the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new discovery in scientific nutrition, it is now possible to combine into simple and highly concentrated form the exact food elements needed by the digestive organs and to convert them into rich, fat-laden blood. This master stroke of modern food chemistry is called Saltogyn and has been termed the greatest of flesh builders. Saltogyn not only feeds the stomach with a tremendous amount of fat-making food material, in highly concentrated form, but in addition enables the stomach to literally soak up the fattening elements of your daily food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved and broken-down tissue of your body. You can readily picture the results when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Saltogyn is a food and contains no drugs of any kind, is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient. Leading druggists everywhere have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the results it gives as per the guarantee found in every package.

CAUTION—While Saltogyn has given excellent results in the treatment of nervous indigestion, it should not be taken longer than five days at a time by those who are not willing to gain at least ten pounds in weight.

"The Poor Man's Potato" has become the rich man's luxury. Whether at three dollars a bushel, or twenty-five cents a bushel, potatoes are not a complete food. Two or three Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk furnish more real, body-building nutriment than a meal of potatoes or meat, are much more easily digested and cost much less. Shredded Wheat is 100 per cent. whole wheat, nothing added and nothing taken away—gives mental vim and physical vigor for the hot days. Delicious for breakfast, or any meal, with sliced bananas, berries or other fruits, and milk.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Some "Boxites" Recipes.

Dear Miss Grey,—May I ask you to print in your Mail Box, a recipe for tomato mustard? If you should be able to find one, I'll be very much obliged. Also any other meat relishes or sauces would be appreciated. Thanking you, I remain, A KITCHENETTE.

P.S.—Also please tell me if you know of any way, or have ever heard of a method of keeping apples for pies later on. We have some early fall apples and as winter ones are likely to be scarce I would like to hear of some way of keeping them other than drying. Owing to their early maturing they spoil soon.

A. K.

Ans.—Answering the postscript first, here is a method given us by a reader whose penname I do not have. Perhaps it might answer your purpose: To keep apples for pies, pare and slice ready for pies, then put in sealers and pour on cold water and seal, but don't fill too full; then set in a boiler, having something to keep gems from sitting on bottom of boiler and boil until little bubbles come on top of gems; put away and when wanted add sugar and make pies in usual way.

No better recipe for tomato mustard than this of "Nearly Seventy-five" have I ever come across. Am sure you will like it. The other two I have not tried personally:

Tomato Mustard—Nearly Seventy-five"—(Very good)—Four quarts of tomatoes after being boiled and strained, 1 quart cider vinegar, 2 pounds brown sugar, ½ pound mustard, ¼ pound of salt, half of five-cent box of mixed spices put in muslin and boiled with tomatoes. Boil until pretty thick, and do not add sugar and mustard until near the last, as it burns easily after they are in. Put in sealers or seal with wax. Fine with cold meats.

Pepper Relish — "Five Years a Grandma"—Eighteen green peppers, 12 red peppers, 1 cabbage, six onions, 1 tablespoon of mustard seed, 1 tablespoon celery seed, 1 quart brown sugar. Cut fine and let stand over with a little salt on. In morning drain well, then put on cider vinegar, enough to cover, and pack in bottles and seal. Do not cork it.

Chili Sauce—"Help On a Bit"—One peck of ripe tomatoes, 8 large green peppers, 10 large onions, 2 tablespoons salt, 4 tablespons sugar, 2 teaspoons ginger ½ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon allspice, 2 teaspoons cinnamon 2 teaspoons nutmeg, 4 cups white wine vinegar. Chop fine and boil slowly six hours. I have always had the greatest success with this recipe. A little more vinegar and sugar may be required in the cooking, as six hours is a long time, but I think that is the reason it is always good.

Origin of "Helen."

Dear Miss Grey,—I was much interested in your answer to an inquirer as to the meaning of Eileen. Helen, Ellen, Elaine, Eileen, are but a few of the forms of this Aryan name. I do not wish to say much in relation to the Aryans, but if you will allow me to comment briefly on the name Helen, it will serve the purpose. Hellen was the son of Deucalion, whence we have Hellenes, at first dwellers in the Thessalian Heliae, later the Greeks in general. The feminine form is Helen. The meaning you give is "light." But we must be careful in determining the meaning of "light." Not heliacal, belonging to the sun, but rather the color of the complexion. The ancient Hellenes were, it is almost certain, a fair-haired people, very unlike the Greeks of today. All through the works of Homer we have evidence which seems to prove this. Who can imagine the "Golden Helen" of Troy with the midnight tress of the Greeks of today? Or who would think that the ambrosial locks of Zeus (Jove) were any other than golden? But it is more than probable that this referred particularly to the leading race of Hellenes, the Achaians. There are many others, among them the Doric, Æolic, Attic, Ionic, and from these four are descended the modern dark-haired Greeks. The tongue they now speak is Romaic. The Achaians have disapeared from history, and must be looked for elsewhere.

The Irish name Eileen is Keltic, another Aryan race. Curiously Elaine is from the Greek Elaia, the olive tree—i. e., Elainos, "of the olive tree." The Latin form is Helena; French, Helene; Italian and Spanish, Elena (a-la-na); German, Helene (ha-la-na). I cannot give the correct pronunciation without accented leters, and those interested must look them up for themselves. Other words probably from the same Aryan root are Italia, Illyria, Helvetia. The first two are Hellenic; the Helvetians (Swiss), are Keltic. EXTORRIS.

Ans.—Thank you, "Extorris," for devoting time and thought for our column. And now, may I ask another favor? Sometime will you cut out of the kindness of your heart, and your love for this subject, write us something about the name "Mary"? It is a name so frequently given that any information should interest many readers.

Squeeze Them In.

Dear Miss Grey,—Back again, well, so Pte Fatty is our original country lad! I am a little too busy just now to write but Miss Grey can send me his address some time I'll try to squeeze in a letter or two. Just one question: How to renovate a little plush hat?

Best wishes as ever

THE GIRL OF THE LIMBERLOST.

Ans. — Shall see that the address is sent you for sure. Steaming and brushing might renovate the plush hat; hold over steam from a kettle for a few minutes, then brush briskly the "wrong way" of the pile.

We Recognize Her.

Dear Miss Grey,—Although it is nearly a year since I wrote to the Page, I thought I might still receive the same kindly welcome as before. Have been busy keeping house for two months and as I have learned to use several economical recipes, thought I would send them along.

The Page is very quiet these times. I do wish some one would start a row. Guess we all have too much to think about these troublesome times. Still (there I almost wrote on two sides of the paper) I think those arguments we used to have were very interesting, and I wish we had some more.

Would someone kindly give me ideas about organizing a Red Cross Club among school children, both girls and boys to take part in it? I should appreciate these suggestions very much.

There now, I've written a whole lot and haven't said one interesting thing, so I'm going, yours as ever,

A BIG CALAMITY.

P.S.—Do you recognize me? A.B.C.

Ans.—Do I? Yes ma'am, in spite of the dignity of your two months of matronship, I fancy I do! The letters used to be typed, did they not, so I am not as familiar with the writing as I might otherwise have been. And you wish someone would "start a row"? Oh dear, oh dear. Just when the dove of peace has her nest nicely built in the Mail-Box roof and driven out the naughty little stinging bees of "back talk." Now do you, when everything is running smoothly in your "dovecote," suddenly say "I wish somebody would start a row?"—There, I caught you that time! But we are glad to welcome you again, and I hope some Cynthian writes giving ideas along the line you wish re the Red Cross work. For the recipes, please accept thanks.

"Better Than Gold."

Dear Miss Grey,—I am sending you the few verses asked for by one of the Mail-Box readers entitled "Better Than Gold." My copy, I have had for years, having brought it with me from England. I think the words are so good. If they are too late for "Rob Roy," perhaps you may find a use for them, as you have not got them among your big collection of verses. With all good wishes, from

THE ROYAL STANDARD.

Ans.—Such fine verses! It is quite too bad "Rob Roy's" request was not received just a wee bit earlier, but possibly they may help him (or other readers) on a future occasion. It does one good just to read the worthy sentiments expressed therein, and "Royal Standard" is deserving of our warm thanks. The verses appear under heading of "Verse New and Old."

An "Impudent Creature."

Dear Miss Grey,—Just a line or two, I have a letter from one of my lonelies, and oh, Miss Grey, of all the slush! The impudent creature called me his "dear," "darling," "own little girl," and such nonsense. Really I was positively disgusted and didn't lose time letting him know. But, in spite of this unfortunate incident, I am asking you to send me the address of a couple more. Maybe I'll have better luck next time. Surely all the soldiers are not such fools! I had a lovely letter from "Scottie From Dundee." He says he had quite a few letters from Pageites, and certainly enjoyed them.

Now, I'll give you a couple of "war economy" hints. After sewing, gather up the small scraps that are too small for patches and put in a bag. It is wonderful how fast they accumulate, and they can be sold to the ragman, thus helping the newspapers.

Boil the large white radishes until tender and serve with a white sauce; they make a nice vegetable dish.

Do you know, Miss Grey, "Ima Kidd" has been up visiting me? Oh, but we had loads of fun!

Nearly time to get supper, so I'll wish all lots of "eats" tonight. URA KIDD.

P.S.—Will "Jeanice" please tell us if the borax she recommended for dandruff will bleach the hair or not?

Ans.—I am sorry that you have been annoyed in such a manner, "Ura." Next to hearing of our girls writing foolish letters to "lonelies," it hurts to know that the ones overseas so misunderstand the object of our little effort. But I am pleased that you have courage to "try again." How nice for you and "Ima" to be together for a visit. There's no doubt the two of you had a right merry time.

T. A.'s an Old Friend.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please send me a lonely soldier's address? One that would like to get letters. I don't suppose I will be able to send many boxes, for my lessons keep me busy, but will try once in a while. You asked if I was all better again? Yes, I have been up and around for several months, as well as ever. This has been a pretty hot day, but "I should worry." We were grumbling at cold weather a little while ago, so I'm not saying anything. Have missed what was going on in the Mail-Box for the last month, but have gotten busy again watching for old friends.

TOMMY ATKINS.

P.S.—I've been away to Port Carling on Lake Rosseau for over a month. Isn't that wonderful? Please don't give my lonely soldier to too many people or I'll be jealous. You'll hunt me up a nice one, won't you, Miss Grey? As ever, TOMMY.

Ans.—Right pleased was I to hear again from you, "Tommy," and it is lovely to know that you completely arrived at "Wellville" so long ago. Do you still hear from "Wimi"? She has not written the Mail-Box in some time. What a delightful summer you must have had. Muskoka's beauties are so very, very charming. The "lonely's" name that goes to you is that of a most appreciative lad, I am told, and I hope you may find him so.

Little Red Ants.

Dear Miss Grey,—Can you or anyone of the readers give me a remedy for little red ants in the cellar? They are thick all over the floor and on the shelves. Would like a remedy as soon as possible as I have had to take all my butter and milk upstairs. Hoping to see this in print soon, I will sign me old name, BROWN EYES.

Ans.—If you can remove all food from the premises, place dishes of carbolic and water around the floor, and this should soon drive them away. Another method is to blow cayenne pepper into cracks and crevices where they enter; an odd remedy but not difficult to try, is to put slices of raw cucumber around places infested. It is said the ants will soon disappear. If you can find the anthill from whence the pests come, pour hot carbolic water through the hill, and thus get rid of the source of the trouble.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! 25-CENT BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

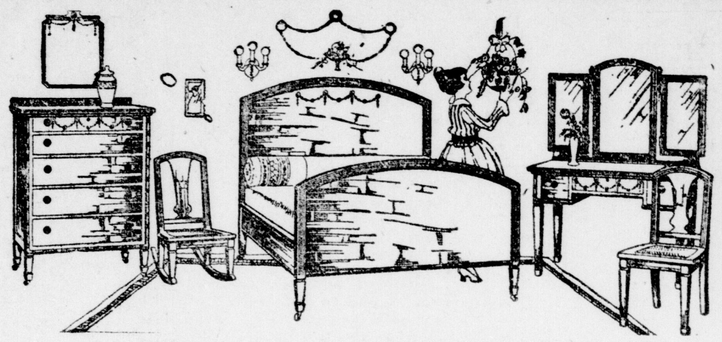

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

STUPENDOUS AUGUST SALE

The values offered are becoming this year's furniture sensation, and little wonder. Even reductions on the usual-priced furniture draw crowds. But to get reductions on furniture that is ordinarily the lowest-priced good furniture in town is an opportunity that far-sighted folks will not miss.

Regular Merchandise From Our Regular Stock

This is not special sale goods. It is the same standard furniture we have offered all season—furniture of certain quality and of extraordinary money's worth. There is but one reason for our holding this sale—the only logical reason for a general sale—CLEARANCE. So we do not need to pad our stocks with furniture of doubtful quality. When we sell the furniture we now have, our clearance purpose is accomplished.

Time Grows Short---Come TOMORROW

A few days and this sale is history. The furniture market, like all other wholesale markets, is extremely unstable as regards price. And we can never hope to equal the wonderful offers of this sale again. Come tomorrow.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty is acid in the stomach, usualy due to or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full, bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisurated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisurated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

TIRES! TIRES! TIRES!

We are offering the greatest bargains on new standard guaranteed tires or tubes. Our prices are less than second-grade tires can be purchased for, and are 20 per cent less than prevailing wholesale dealers' prices.

Our reason: We had more than 900 tires purchased last fall, before the advance in prices, for delivery during March, April, May, June, but due to the labor situation, which all tire manufacturers have been up against, the shipments have been delayed and the tires have reached us much later than expected.

THERE ARE ABSOLUTELY NO SECONDS IN OUR STOCK

SIR WILFRID LAURIER AGREES TO TAKE PART IN CARRYING OUT CONSCRIPTION MEASURE

Declares That Since the Act Has Become Law and Been Assented To, It Is the Duty of All To See That It is Carried Out—Liberals May Appoint Half of Twenty-four Tribunals of Selection.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—Events connected with the application of conscription are of much interest, and not the least interesting is the declaration by Sir Wilfrid Laurier that, now that conscription is law, the law should be observed.

When the Commons assembled this afternoon Sir Robert Borden stated that he proposed going ahead with the appointment of the board of selection in connection with the military service bill. Sir Robert stated that this board, which will be appointed by joint resolution of the two Houses, will have power to appoint one member of each tribunal. He had decided that the board should consist of 24 members—four from Ontario, four from Quebec, and two from each of the other provinces, including the Yukon. He desired that the leader of the Opposition should nominate half of the members of the board.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier rose to reply. His first words were drowned by three thundering taps on the outer door. Sir Wilfrid smiled, bowed and sat down.

"Closure!" someone called out, amid a roar of laughter.

Enter the Black Rod.

The door opened, and there was a roar of laughter as Hon. David Henderson stumped in with his stick. The Usher of the Black Rod was right behind him. He was introduced, and requested the presence of members of the Commons in the honorable Senate. Members filed out and the royal assent was given to the conscription measure.

On the reassembling of members in the Commons Sir Wilfrid Laurier rose to continue his interrupted remarks.

"I was about to ask, when I was interrupttd by the summons from his excellency," said Sir Wilfrid, "whether the prime minister would kindly repeat his proposal, and the number of representatives proposed for the board."

Sir Robert gave the information, and Sir Wilfrid resumed talking impressively.

"The House will not be surprised," he said, "if I say at once that I find myself in a very delicate position. It is not usually constitutional for one who has opposed a measure to be connected with its enforcement. I have opposed this measure. I do not approve of it. My opinion is not shared by all members of the Opposition. Some favor the measure, and some do not.

Accepts Invitation.

"The bill, however, is one of such importance, it has become law, and has been assented to, so that it is the duty of all loyal British subjects to see that it is carried out. I feel it my duty to accept the invitation of my right honorable friend. I will consult with those who have opposed the bill, and with those who favored it, and will at once communicate the result to my right honorable friend."

Hon. Charles Murphy referred to a statement to the effect that the millers were making $5 a barrel out of flour sold at present prices. "The food controller," he said, "has been going up and down preaching thrift and conservation. He has been issuing pamphlets. Can the Government say whether it is his intention to deal with the situation as claimed to exist with regard to flour prices?"

Sir Robert Borden ventured the opinion the food controller would take such action as he saw fit in the circumstances.

Adjourn Soldier Vote Bill.

Sir Robert Borden moved the third reading of the soldiers' voting bill. Sir Wilfrid demurred, on the ground that no notice had been given. The prime minister admitted this, and the debate was adjourned.

The House then went into committee of supply.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley and E. W. Nesbitt strongly opposed an item of $3,000,000 to be devoted to the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway and terminals. Dr. Pugsley declared that at a time when money could only be procured at usury rates of interest such an expenditure was entirely indefensible.

Hon. Frank Cochrane declared that a contract had been let for a large bridge over the Nelson. It would require $300,000 to complete it.

"That is only a small part of the vote," retorted Dr. Pugsley.

"The whole of the vote will not be spent," said Mr. Cochrane.

No End to Debauch?

E. M. MacDonald (Pictou) declared that the total civil expenditures proposed by the Government was $254,000,000, of which only $74,000,000 were statutory. "Is there to be no end to this debauch?" he asked. "We are piling up a debt of two billion dollars. How are we going to pay the interest on it without burdening the people with imposts which will drive them away?"

"How are we to encourage immigrants to a country which crushes its people under taxation burdens of an unbearable size?" Mr. MacDonald referred to the vote of $3,600,000 for the Forget, Quebec and Saguenay Railway.

In Guise of War Taxes.

"Can the minister deny," he asked, "that every cent of that money is to come from the pockets of the people through the various methods of taxation imposed, forsooth, to win the war? Is there to be any limit to hypocrisy?"

Cries of "Hear, hear!" from Sir Thomas White and Government members.

"Honorable gentlemen cry 'Hear, hear!'" said Mr. MacDonald. "I defy the finance minister to deny that this money which he proposes to hand over to Mr. Rodolphe Forget has not, every cent of it, been taken from the pockets of the people in the guise of war taxes. He says 'Hear, hear.' Can he deny that?"

"I was listening to the honorable member's speech," said the minister. "He asked if there was any limit to hypocrisy. I agreed with him."

MISS MAUDE HOTSON OF PARKHILL, WHO LOST LIFE NEAR IPPERWASH

CAPSIZED ROWBOAT SOLE CLUE TO LAKE TRAGEDY YESTERDAY

Miss Maud Hotson, Parkhill, Drowned in Unexplainable Manner.

FOREST, Aug. 29.—Miss Maud Hotson of Parkhill was drowned in an unexplainable manner from a rowboat off Ipperwash Beach early this morning. She left early in the morning to see the sunrise over the lake, and left a note saying that she had gone for a row. It had been her custom to take many early morning rows, and nothing was thought of her absence until she failed to return to breakfast. A search was instituted, and the capsized boat was discovered by fishermen about a mile off shore. One oar was missing.

Miss Hotson was an expert boatman and swimmer. The cause of the accident is a mystery here. She knew the lake as few other summer cottagers did, and was perfectly at home in the water. Whether she was diving off the boat and upset it, or whether it tipped over unexpectedly are naturally unknown.

The beach has been patrolled by searching parties all day, but a northern gale which blew up at 8 o'clock tonight will interfere with the recovery of the body.

WAS FORMER LONDONER.

PARKHILL, Aug. 29.—Miss Maud Hotson, daughter of Dr. A. Hotson, of this town, who was drowned at Ipperwash Beach this morning, was a former London kindergarten teacher. Her father was at one time science master of the London Collegiate.

According to the reports of the tragedy which reached Parkhill, Miss Maud Hotson and her sister, Miss Aleatha, had aranged last night to see the sunrise over the lake this morning. Miss Aleatha was asleep, however, when her sister left, and the latter did not disturb her. She had been gone some hours before any anxiety as to her safety was felt.

The Misses Hotson have been going to Ipperwash Beach for years and knew the district like a book. They were familiar with the Indians and Indian trails, and were well able to manage boats. This fact makes the death of Miss Hotson all the more mystifying.

Dr. Hotson was notified of the occurrence this morning and left for the lake at once.

Besides her father and sister the dead girl is survived by one brother, John, of St. Louis, Mo. She was one of the best-known local workers in local institute and Red Cross work, and was an enthusiastic supporter of medical examination in rural schools. Her patriotic, education and improvement work in this district was most marked.

NOW AGAINST LAW TO HAMPER MILITARY MEASURE OPERATION

Acting Deputy Governor-General Gives Assent To Bill.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—With royal assent given to the military service bill in the Senate at 3:20 o'clock this afternoon, the measure has become law. Formal assent was given by Mr. Justice Duff, acting deputy governor-general, the formality being necessary after the signing of the measure by the governor-general in Toronto yesterday.

The immediate effect of this act will be to prevent attempts to hamper the operation of the law, heavy penalties being provided.

Preparations to place the act in effect will occupy some time. The cabinet must appoint a supreme court judge to serve as central appeal judge, and Parliament must appoint members of the Commons and Senate on a committee to choose one member of each local tribunal, the other member to be chosen in each case by the county court judge of the district.

First Call to Colors.

After the tribunals have been appointed and the necessary regulations issued, the public will receive intimation that the first class, or some part of it, is called to the colors. The class in question embraces single male British subjects between 20 and 34; that is, those who have attained the age of 20 years, and were born not earlier than 1883. Widowers without children are considered single. The Government has intimated that subjects of alien enemy birth will not be required to serve.

Posters will be put up in every part of Canada notifying the public of the precise class called out. The administrators of the bill have power to divide the first, or any class, into sub-classes, but it is doubtful if this will be done with the first class, as the idea of Parliament was that the first draft should combine the steadiness of men in their thirties with the dash of men in their twenties. It is hoped to get the whole 10,000 to which the bill is limited from the one class, so that no married men are likely to be called out.

Will Name Two Dates.

The proclamations calling out the class will name two dates; one, the earlier, at which those wishing to apply for exemption must do so before a local tribunal, and the other or later date at which all who have not asked exemption or to whom exemption has been refused must report to the military authorities for service. Those whose cases are not yet dealt with or are in appeal do not have to report until there is a final judgment. A man may apply to any local tribunal in his province for exemption, but the proclamation will set forth the one handiest of access to his place of residence. When a man reports for service, he is not necessarily sent to camp forthwith. Regulations will be issued in this matter. Some may be rejected upon reporting who were refused exemption before local tribunals, as the military authorities will have their own doctors to examine every man who reports.

Men of the various militia units in Canada not enlisted for overseas will be treated just as any other citizens. Returned soldiers, men from the navy, or members of the imperial forces will, of course, be exempt.

NEW FARM DIRECTOR.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Hon. W. D. McPherson, provincial secretary, today announced the appointment of J. R. Spry, B.S.A., as farm director of his department, in succession to S. E. Todd, who was appointed to the food controller's office.

MRS. H. D. WARREN DECORATED.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—This afternoon at Government House, the Duke of Devonshire decorated Mrs. H. D. Warren with the insignia of a lady of grace of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

SIX CLUBS IN PLAY FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Play for the championship of London is on this afternoon at the Rowing Club greens before a large gathering of trundling enthusiasts. Six clubs are represented, and each one has sent out its best bowlers. With hand-picked skips and rinks some fine sport is anticipated. Play commenced at 2 o'clock and luncheon will be served at 50 cents a plate by Red Cross ladies. The trophy has been donated by the Free Press.

The Thistle Club are the defenders of the shield and leave it to C. K. Bluett and A. M. Heaman to see that the trophy returns safely to the north end club house. J. S. McDonald and W. J. Snelgrove are out from the London Bowling Club for the silverware. The Elmwoods have a strong team in rinks skipped by Dr. Jarvis and C. E. Speiran, and the Asylum Club have chosen A. Thrower and R. B. Heighway as their skips. The St. Matthews picked A. H. Whitlow and J. McLeod as their best skips and T. Harper and H. Barrows leading the All Saints rinks.

The rinks will be drawn for play just before the games commence. After the first game is played three clubs will be winners, but so that no byes occur in the semi-finals it was decided to draw the losers with the best score into the semi-finals.

JOHN McGRAW IS FINED BY DIRECTORS OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—John J. McGraw, manager of the New York baseball club, was today fined $1,000, censured and reprimanded by the board of directors of the National League for approving an interview, subsequently published, containing an attack upon John K. Tener, president of the league.

This action was taken as the result of the demand for an investigation of the case by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, after McGraw had signed a statement repudiating the interview, when brought before the league upon charges filed by President Tener.

The finding of the board, as announced after todays' session, states that witnesses in the room with McGraw at the time of the alleged interview, did not hear the remarks attributed to him. McGraw is held responsible, however, upon the grounds that he authorized and indorsed statements contained in the interview when he accepted the original manuscript for his approval, and returned it with the mark that it was "all right."

The meeting which was in session for over five hours, was attended by Presidents Percy D. Haughton, Boston Club; Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburgh Club; C. H. Ebbets, Brooklyn Club; Branch Rickey, St. Louis Club; W. F. Baker, Philadelphia Club, and H. M. Hempstead, New York Club. The latter did not vote as his club was involved.

A lengthy resume of the case, with a report of the findings of the board, was immediately sent to the Baseball Writers' Association.

INCREASE OF THREE LARGE SIZE VESSELS SUNK IN PAST WEEK

LONDON, Aug. 29.—An increase in the number of British vessels sunk last week by mines or submarines is shown by the weekly admiralty statement issued tonight. Eighteen vessels of more than 1,600 tons were sent to the bottom, as compared with fifteen the previous week, and five vessels of less than 1,600 tons, as against three the previous week. No fishing vessels were sunk.

The summary of the statement was:

"Arrivals, 2,269; sailings, 2,680.

"British merchant vessels sunk by mine or submarine, over 1,600 tons, eighteen; under 1,600 tons, including one previously, five.

"British merchant vessels unsuccessfully attacked, including two previously, six.

"British fishing vessels sunk, none.

"Most of the sinkings reported in today's totals occurred in the latter part of the week. The early part of the week was very favorable, but later British shipping had a streak of bad luck. Today's report runs only to mid-afternoon Sunday."

EARLY MORNING FIRE WIPES OUT PLANT OF GODERICH LUMBER CO.

GODERICH, Aug. 29.—Fire made almost a complete wreck of the factory of the Goderich Manufacturing Company here early this morning. How the blaze started is a mystery, but it gained headway very rapidly. The company had been busy on a large order of 100,000 egg boxes, and a large number were stored in the building, which made only too good fuel for the flames. A couple of carloads of the boxes were standing on the railway siding nearby, but were moved to a point of safety.

The factory is 311 feet by 66 feet, a solid brick building, but little of even the walls are left standing, with the exception of the sawmill at the north end of the factory, which is practically intact. A building used as an office building while the factory was being erected, and a frame grain warehouse belonging to the proprietor, Mr. Baechler, both of which are quite close to the factory, were saved by the efforts of the firemen.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION MEETS.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29.—Thomas T. Flynn of Chicago was elected president here today of the American Federation of Catholic Societies. He succeeds John Whalen of New York.

Anthony Matre, Chicago, and C. R. Schlute, Detroit, were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

A good offering of all varieties of produce was shown on a comparatively small local market this morning. Vegetables were particularly plentiful, and with the exception of potatoes, sold at unchanged rates. Spuds were easier this morning a larger range in values being recorded. The popular price of tubers was anywhere from $1.45 to $1.60, which is a general decline of 20c per bushel. The demand for potatoes was not exceptional, the majority of housewives apparently having stored an ample quantity of spuds when they were cheap, with the anticipation of a higher price. This accounts for the slow demand, and the consequent reduction in values.

Tomatoes are very abundant, and sell at an unchanged figure. The demand is not quite so brisk as that which has generally marked the tomato offering of former years, the cool weather making the demand slow but fairly steady.

Cucumbers are selling at 10c to 20c per dozen. They are in good demand on all market days, because of the fine quality of the vegetable this season.

With the exception of thimbleberries, every kind of fruit advanced considerably this morning, peaches, plums and pears all showing increases in price. Plums advanced to from 90c to $1 per 11-quart basket, which is a jump of 20c all round. Peaches remained steady, the demand for them being good, but not influencing values to any extent. The range of pear prices was smaller, 11-quart baskets selling at from 90c to $1. This general advance of pear values is to be particularly regretted as such an increase at a period in the season when the fruit should be showing signs of dropping generally presages a big jump.

Pears are small and hard this year. They are also offered sparsely, but as the demand is not brisk, because of the poor quality, a large advance will not affect materially either the grower or purchaser.

Thimbleberries are being sold in increasing abundance, and the price has declined 2c in retail and wholesale values, boxes selling at from 18c to 20c each.

The demand for hay is becoming brisker every day, and the price of the fodder showed a substantial increase today, all loads bringing from $9.50 to $10.50 per ton.

Live hogs advanced to $16.25 this morning over the prevalent value of $16 asked yesterday. Dressed porkers and fat sows also advanced slightly. It is expected that dressed hogs and butchers' meats will drop considerably as soon as the decline in the price of live hogs recorded last week begins to show its effects upon dressed pork. Because it takes some time for bacon to cure a decrease in bacon prices is not looked for until some weeks have passed.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 30.—Wheat traders were eagerly awaiting today for the announcement of the Government price. The cash market was narrow and light in volume, pending the determination of official figures.

WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 30.—Traders availed themselves of the half holiday ordered by the stock exchange today in honor of the departing soldiers to further depress prices. The break began with rails, which yielded 1 to 3 points, and soon spread to steels, coppers, shipping equipments and various specialties. United States Steel broke 3 points, and others of that group 2 to 4 points. Texas Company suffered an extreme decline of 12 points, and Industrial Alcohol 7½. Rallies of 1 to 4 points ensued at the end. The closing was weak. Sales approximated 350,000 shares.

New York, Aug. 30—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Changes at the opening of today's stock market were limited to irregular gains and recessions, in no case exceeding a fraction. Trading was active, despite the decision of the exchange authorities to suspend business at noon in recognition of the farewell parade of state troops. A heavier tone developed before the end of the first half hour, rails, steels and coppers losing large fractions. General motors and Texas Company fell a point each.

BEEF STEW BARRED; LAST WARNING GIVEN

Food Controller Will Stand for No Infractions.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—The food controller's office issued the following tonight:

"The food controller tonight has been informed that the managers of certain restaurants throughout the Dominion declare that they have been given authority to serve beef in such dishes as beef stew on Tuesdays and Fridays. No such authority has been given. The regulations affecting public eating-places have not been interpreted in any shape or form. Complaints have been received that the law is not being observed. While it was the intention of the food controller to allow managers, proprietors, etc., of public eating-places sufficient time in which to adjust their establishments to the new regulations, continued infractions of the regulations will result in early prosecution, and the act will be sharply enforced. First offences under the order are punishable by a fine of $100, and subsequent offences by a fine of $500 or imprisonment for three months, or both."

QUICK ABSORPTION OF ALL OFFERINGS

Winnipeg, Aug. 29.—The situation in the cash wheat market was unchanged today, except that there was inquiry for seedy grades. Offerings were quickly absorbed. Some lots of No. 2 northern were sold at $2.37, 1c lower than Tuesday; other prices being unchanged.

All grades of oats were in demand, with prices unchanged. Business was slow and of moderate volume. Cash barley was quiet.

Trading for future delivery was chiefly active in oats and flax. There were a few transactions in October wheat at prices 3½c better than previous closing. Future trading in this cereal ceases on the Winnipeg Exchange on Friday, so that present deals may be regarded as having no relation to actual market conditions, being in the nature of evening-up preparatory to the final closing out. Trading in oats futures was little changed. There was considerable trading in flax options at prices from 11c to 23c lower. There was no trading in barley.

October wheat closed ½c up at $2.15½. October oats closed ⅝c up; December, ⅝c higher, and May ¼c up. October barley was unchanged. October flax was 18c down; November 18c lower, and December 12c lower.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.15@2.20, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.37; No. 3 northern, $2.33½.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 63½c.

Barley—$1.20@1.22, outside for malting.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Aug. 29.—The trade in grain today was very quiet, and the market was without any new feature to note, prices for all lines being steady. The first business for the season was done in new crop Quebec oats, including sales of three cars of No. 3 Quebecs at 67½c per bushel, ex-track, for next week's shipment.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $2@2.05.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 74@75c; Canadian western, No. 3, 73@74c; extra No. 1 feed, 73@74c.

SHAKESPEARE ON SLACKERS, PACIFISTS AND PRO-GERMANS.

"Under which king, Bezonian, speak, or die?"
"A very ancient and fishlike smell"—
"With foreheads villainous low"—
"Here will be an old abusing of God's patience"—
"He is composed and framed of treachery"—
"God made him, and therefore let him pass for a man"—
"What, wouldst thou have a serpent sting thee twice?"
"Never did base and rotten policy color her workings with such deadly wounds."
"Food for powder; food for powder; they'll fill a pit as well as better."
"A subtle traitor needs no sophister"—

THE RUBE'S RETURN.

Any lingering doubt that Rube Marquard has returned to the winning fold has been scattered to the far winds by this year's work.

The spectacular Rube rose to terrific heights during the days of 1911 and 1912. He began to skid badly around 1914 and 1915. He was then thought to be on his way out, although still well under 30.

But last season he reappeared from the mists, soon began to make winning motions and point back toward the old days.

This spurt was thought to be a mere flash—largely because the Rube was toiling with a pennant winning club.

This season tells the true story. The Rube is working with a second division line-up, one that has been in the rut most of the year. But he stands well up with the winners, with a pitching percentage as high as the Giants hold today.

In place of being all through he should have many more seasons left, as today he is but 28, well short of the waning mark.

GAINING AND HOLDING.

A high place in any sport is gained only by the hardest sort of work—rarely by any natural gift.

Practice, practice and more practice usually tells the story. Norris Williams, unable to practice, found himself unable to regain his old place in the finals.

A day or two ago we were talking about the erratic tendencies of a fine golfer. "The reason for this erratic work," remarked a friend, "is simple enough. He has quit practicing. He may have a 74 one afternoon and a few days later he may be lucky to get around in 85."

It not only takes hard work to reach the top—it takes even harder work to hold it for any length of time.

L. L. T.—Yes, Jackson and Collins are still well below .300—and for the first time at this late date.

THE OLD CONFIDENCE.

Ty Cobb has any number of requisites for baseball success. No small part of the outlay is an abnormal confidence in his ability to keep on his way up.

Last season Speaker led him all the year—and finished with a substantial margin.

This season Speaker again led the Georgian for several weeks. But on the day, back in June, when Ty passed Tris for the first time by the margin of one point he remarked to Harry Tuthill, the Tiger trainer: "This is the last time Speaker will be ahead of me this year." And the margin of one point soon grew into 30 points, where it has remained for over two months.

ANOTHER ANCIENT HERO FADES.

There was a time when Joe Grimm held all records for absorbing punishment.

Night after night he resembled a sponge dipped in gore.

But Joe Grimm is no longer king of the receiving tribe.

The crown prince has gathered in poor Joe's faded laurels. Only the C. P. is a number of kilometres out of range when the ensemble reaches its height.

FALSE RUMOR.

After watching moving pictures of British tanks in action, you can officially deny the old rumor that Ted Coy or Jim Thorpe hold the records for line, hitting power.

Any line the tank hits is the "line of least resistance."

And the added thought occurs—what a wonderful fullback one of these would make.

SENATORS BRING NEWS OF $100,000 BALL DEAL

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—"Nick" Altrock, former Toronto pitcher, now comedian extraordinary of the Washington ball club, arrived in the city today with the Senators from Cleveland for the exhibition game with the Leafs. Altrock is the funniest coacher in the American League and a great asset to the team.

Walter Johnson, the greatest pitcher of all time, now in his tenth year with the Washington club, was also in the party. Johnson does not think Chicago will win the American League pennant, though he hopes they will so as to have the honors go around.

Clarke Griffith, the manager, did not come to Toronto, but went through to New York to complete a big deal for a bunch of his players with the Highlanders. Griffith is to get $100,000 and players in exchange for Pitcher Walter Johnson. Outfielders Rice and Milan, infielders Foster and Shanks and catcher Ainsmith. The Washington players are all worked up today over the deal and expect it to go through.

"Johnson is a $50,000 proposition himself," said one of them, "and would be easily worth double that to the New York club."

The Washington players were late in arriving today and were unable to accept the invitation of the Exhibition authorities to visit the Fair. Most of the players were shivering and scurried around to buy heavy underwear and raincoats. Russell Blackburne loaned his fancy vest to Walter Johnson and the "big Swede" went out to the Fair Grounds with President McCaffery and Mayor Church.

STABLER STARS IN MILITARY CRICKET

Headquarters Sub-Staff Defeats Medicals and Wins Pennant.

The Headquarters sub-staff lifted the pennant donated by the officers of the headquarters staff at Carling Heights last night, when they defeated the Army Medical Corps, 79 to 41. The game had been looked forward to with keen interest, and a large crowd of spectators were present to watch the play.

Batting first, the A. M. C. quickly lost Wright, who was followed in a steady procession by the rest of the team, with the exception of Wilson, who, in a determined effort to stop the rot, hit up thirteen runs. He did not receive much support, however, and the innings concluded with a total of 41 runs.

Going in to bat in a fast-failing light, with heavy storm clouds overhead, the chances for Headquarters did not appear very rosy. Q.-M.-S. Christall and Stabler opened the fireworks, and soon put a new light on the game. With superb strokes, including a big hit for six off Willsher, two fives and five fours, Stabler piled up a record of 54 runs before succumbing to a delivery from Chappell. The other players showed a tendency to treat the bowling with impunity, and when the umpires "called play" on account of bad light, the score for Headquarters stood at 70 for five wickets.

In addition to his efforts with the bat, Sergt. Stabler took seven of the A. M. C. wickets, the remainder falling to Bannister (two), and H. Christall (one). All the Headquarters wickets, five in number, were taken by Chappell, Willsher and Ross doing the rest of the bowling without material success attending their effort.

Standing follows:

	Pld.	Won.	Lost.	Pts.	Pct.
Headquarters	4	4	0	8	1000
A. Med. Corps	3	2	1	4	.666
A. Ser. Corps	3	1	2	2	.333
Cent. Trg. Dep.	3	1	2	2	.333
No. 1 S. S. Co.	3	0	3	0	000

Result: Headquarters, 79 (for five); A. M. C., 41 runs.

BUSY'S LASSIE WINS KNICKERBOCKER TROT

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Busy's Lassie, driven by Walter R. Cox, today won the Knickerbocker 2:07 trot for a $5,000 purse, in the Grand Circuit, but not until the event had gone four heats, although it was raced on the three-heat system. At the end of the third heat, Busy's Lassie and Brescia stood tied in the summary, and under the rules, the two horses went another heat to decide the winner of the race.

The best time of the day was made by Peter Chenault, in the Hudson Valley 2:17 class trotting, when he trotted the first heat in 2:04¾. He won the second heat, but repeated breaks in the succeeding heats lost him the race to Lu Princeton.

Expressive Lou, driven by Murphy, won the 2:09 trot in straight heats, but the finishes were very close, Koroni being the principal contender.

The Vassar, for two-year-old trotters, was won by Peter June in straight heats, Ruth Main Sheet and Miriam Guy, dividing second and third moneys. Summaries:

ALLEN'S RINK WINS IN FINAL MATINEE AT ROWING CLUB

Twenty-Four Rinks in Play on Greens — Finals Not Played Off.

F. N. Allen's rink won the first prize at the big tourney of the Rowing Club on Wednesday, F. E. Silcox was second, A. M. Heaman third, and C. K. Bluett got the fourth prize. The finals were not played off and the prizes went to players by slips drawn from a hat.

Twenty-four rinks were on the greens and the final matinee of the season for the Rowing Club was certainly some event. The greens were in good shape considering the recent showers, and the bowlers were all keen and played crack games. Some good scores were turned in. In the semi-finals eight-end games were played.

SHORTSHIP OPENS

ITHACA, Mich., Aug. 29.—Weather conditions were a trifle unfavorable, but a good crowd was out to witness the opening of the short ship trotters here in connection with the annual Gratiot County fair.

Jesse B won the 2:30 pace in straight heats after losing the first one to Hal F. The time of the first three heats was under 2:20, but it dropped in the fourth mile to 2:30 flat.
