

YORK ST. TRACKS ARE BEING FIXED

L. S. R. Finally Starts Improving "Roller Coaster" Part of System.

Ask in street's best known rival, that choppy little thoroughfare that forms part of the westerly limit of York street, is doomed to a placid and peaceful old age. The road maker today set his pick into this ancient piece of track and is quickly wrecking a block of the street railway's portion of the street. When a gang of 15 railway men is finished, the York street service of the L. S. R. will be as respectable as any in the city, and Ask in street will be the only Dublin highway in the south section.

York street, it may be remembered, is one of the historic thoroughfares in the municipality. It was part of the original plan of the city, and traces still remain of the pavement which was laid on York street when the 20th century was just two years old. They are unaccountable, disagreeable and unsightly little mounds that have long given street car patrons and motorists sensations that few country detours can offer.

Today the beginning of a new era for west York street commenced. The track maintenance program, started work on the block between Richmond and Talbot.

Average Yields Are High Through Western Ontario; Threshing Well Advanced

Oats Run as High as 100 Bushels to Acre in Lowland Counties.

FAIR IN MIDDLESEX

Corn Crop For Husking and Silage Well Up To Standard.

Threshing is now well advanced in most parts of Western Ontario, and with the threshing come reports of yields far in excess of what was anticipated earlier in the season. A scarcity of rain in the early season, amounting to a state of drought, made the early forecasts of crop yields this year very discouraging, especially in the Middlesex, Elgin and the Oxford, the Stratford district, and also toward Exeter and the country lying towards Lake Huron, the rainfall was nearly normal and crops there are particularly good.

The best crops reported are from the low country. Kent and Essex. Here oats are running as high as 100 bushels per acre, with scattered wheat yields as high as 55 and 60 bushels. These yields are not general in either of the counties named, but the average will be quite a lot higher than in the Middlesex. District agricultural officials in Kent and Essex estimate oats in the neighborhood of 60 bushels with wheat averaging nearly 40 bushels.

101 Bushels to Acre.

William Finn, a brother of R. A. Finn, local representative of the department of agriculture, who farms near Chatham, reports a yield of 61 bushels of oats per acre, and thinks this an average yield for that district. J. E. Neil of Meville has a record crop of oats, which threshed 101 bushels to the acre, while ex-Mayor Briscoe, of Chatham, has an average yield of 61 bushels of oats from one 31-acre field.

In contrast to these yields the best in the immediate London district show a marked difference. While better than was expected, the average yield of oats in this district will not likely exceed 35 bushels, in the opinion of local farmers, who have been questioned concerning this figure.

Wheat near London is a better crop than oats, as it was well established in growth before the drought struck. The satisfactory yield of 25 bushels on an average, is reported for most of this district, while many farms will produce in excess of this figure.

William Topping, near Lambeth, had a 20-acre field which threshed 50 bushels of first-class wheat. On some of the best farms more manure could be used, slightly better results followed.

Heavy Yield in Huron. Victor Hogarth, Exeter, states that oats in Huron will run 40 to 45 bushels, with wheat in the neighborhood of 35 bushels. Mr. Hogarth also reports a good potato crop from the Exeter-Huron district, and with rain not too plentiful, states that the quality will be as good as that from the light land districts such as Carleton and Kent.

Weldwood farm has had good yields of both oats and wheat, with barley also a good crop. L. B. Whale, manager, gives his yields as oats 45 bushels, wheat two varieties averaged 42 bushels, and barley, 50 bushels. These yields are well above the average for this district.

Corn cutting of both husking and fodder corn, has commenced, and it is expected that some silo filling will be under way before the end of the week. In spite of the depredations of the corn borer, the acreage set out to husking corn still remains large in this district, with corn for silage still increasing. The corn crop for both purposes is well up to the high standard expected in Western Ontario.

There is no official figures as yet on the percentage infection of the corn borer. Some damage from ear worms is reported from the Appin-Glenora district, but is not a serious factor.

Roots Do Well.

The root crop throughout this district is doing splendidly, and with the prospect of more rain a good yield is looked for. Potatoes are a fair crop, but will not be above average in this district, as the scarcity of rains has been felt by potato growers.

The acreage of roots is becoming less each year, according to statistics covering this part of the province, and the cause of this is attributed to the fact of the increased popularity of alfalfa hay, and a growing difficulty with the farm labor problem.

Alfalfa this year, while not a record crop, has afforded two cuttings on most farms where it is grown, and those having it are fortunate, as other hay was very scarce. Winter apples are a fine crop, and even in orchards which were not sprayed, scale and insect damage has not shown up to any extent as yet. Scab will not be felt much on the apple crop, unless the amount of rainfall between the present time and the late fall picking season increases greatly.

SIR JAMES AIKINS, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, who has been re-elected president of the Canadian Bar association for the eleventh consecutive term.

BABE RUTH FAILS TO SEE LANDIS

Col. Jacob Ruppert, Yankees' Owner, and Ban Johnson Back Huggins.

Associated Press Despatch. Chicago, Aug. 31.—Babe Ruth, failed today in his plan to appeal personally to Baseball Commissioner Landis against the $5,000 fine and suspension disciplinary measures imposed by Manager Huggins.

STAND BEHIND HUGGINS.

Associated Press Despatch. Chicago, Aug. 31.—Indefinitely suspended and under a fine of $5,000 for misconduct off the playing field, baseball's king of swat, George Herman "Babe" Ruth, was here today with the intention to place his case before baseball's supreme power, Commissioner K. M. Landis, who himself once disciplined the great home-run hitter in a degree comparable to that just promulgated by Miller Huggins, the midwest manager of the New York Yankees.

Without appealing to intermediary powers the Babe already had lost two decisions. Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, voiced satisfaction with the management of the club, and expressed indignation that Ruth should attempt to assume the role of dictator in the club's policy.

Ban Johnson, president of the American League, announced himself heartily in accord with Huggins' action in disciplining Ruth. He called Ruth a man with the mind of a 15-year-old boy, and intimated that the Babe probably would not play again this season.

LATE FAIR DATE AN ADVANTAGE

Live Stock and Flower Exhibits Will Be Best On Record.

With the opening of Western Fair only two weeks away, the offices of the association here have taken on a very busy aspect, and final details for the big exhibition are being rapidly pushed to completion. The opening date is a week later than usual this year. President J. H. Saunders stated this morning that this was due to the National exhibition at Toronto being a week later. It was the custom for the Toronto exhibition to arrange their dates that the second Monday of the fair should be Labor Day, which does not come this year until Sept. 7, thus making the date for a fair a week late.

In at least one respect the later date will work out to the advantage of London, as it insures the biggest live stock exhibit ever seen here. In former years the live stock men, after exhibiting at Toronto, were in the habit of sending part of their exhibits to Ottawa, but this year the live stock section, fortunately recent additions and improvements to the live stock sheds will make it possible to care for the increased entries without difficulty.

Secretary Jackson announced this morning that space in the main building had all been taken up already, and the government building also is completely filled up. Only a few spaces still remain in the manufacturers' building.

Good weather is earnestly hoped for by the executive, and it was stated this morning that unless an early frost occurs before the opening date the flower show this year will far exceed anything seen before in this city.

SPITZBERGEN HAPPY AS EACH SHIP ARRIVES

Most of the Population Swarms Waterfront To Welcome Vessels.

Fruit growers of the Westmount district near Springbank park are being plagued with armies of squirrels which have laid siege to apples and pears.

The chattering families most of whom have emigrated from the Springbank woods have been enjoying the seeds in pears and apples and scattering the remains on the ground. A concerted effort is being planned by the growers to put an end to the unwelcome attentions of the squirrels both red and black.

ONTARIO PAROLE SYSTEM IS TOO EASY, HINTS GOLDIE

Provincial Secretary, on Return From England, Says Parole Idea Not Favored.

EXTENT LIMITED

Believes Trade in Great Britain Is Greatly Handicapped by High Costs.

Special to The Advertiser. Toronto, Aug. 31.—Hon. Lincoln Goldie, provincial secretary, returned today to his office at parliament buildings after his visit to England, France and Belgium. Asked if he had come back with any new ideas for his department, he laughed and said: "No, we believe in creating ideas."

He attended in England a conference on prison reform, and the impression he had was they had nothing on Ontario in this respect. There was no provision generally for parole, and he believed there was only one institution devoted to that in England they seemed to be in favor of parole to only a very limited extent, but the provincial secretary added, "it may be we have gone to the other extreme."

Spoken to with regard to general conditions in Britain, Hon. Mr. Goldie stated that trade was handicapped in several ways. Manufacturers were at a disadvantage on account of high production costs, and had the miners' strike taken place there would have been a decided setback for British trade. The minister considered the dole a bad thing, but he qualified this with the remark, "you have to take your hat off to the Englishmen. We say the dole is a bad thing, but we do not know what they know."

Mr. Goldie also paid a visit to the war zone in Belgium and said it would be hard to tell in some of the areas he visited that there had been destruction in war. Fine brick houses and barns had been constructed.

LONDON GREET FARM TOURISTS

Three Hundred and Fifty Pass Through City en Route to Niagara.

Canadian Press Despatch. Chatham, Aug. 31.—Seventy-one cars, containing approximately 350 Essex and Kent people, left Chatham this morning on the Essex and Kent County automobile excursion to Guelph, Toronto and the Niagara fruit belt. Justus Miller, agricultural representative of Kent county, organizer of the tour, started before leaving, that he expected 90 cars to be in the van by the time London is reached.

The tourists will travel over the Longwoods provincial highway as far as London, and proceed to Woodstock for dinner. Brantford and Galt will be visited this afternoon, and the night stop will be made at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. The tourists will remain in Guelph until Wednesday morning, when they leave for Toronto. Thursday afternoon, the excursionists will go to St. Catharines and Friday visit the Niagara district, stopping at Welland for the night. They will return home Saturday.

The touring farmers were met near Lambeth by Mayor Wenige and W. H. Wood, of the chamber of commerce, the latter distributing literature regarding London and Middlesex county to all the farmers. The mayor and Mr. Wood led the way to London, arriving at 12:10.

The cars drew up on the market square, and after waiting 10 minutes for stragglers, the motorists proceeded to Woodstock for lunch.

WOMEN and THE HOME

DAUGHTER OF COL. W. G. COLES MARRIES CONNELL STEERS

St. Martin's Church Is Scene of Pretty Nuptials Early Today.

QUIET CEREMONY

St. Martin's church was ablaze with autumn flowers this morning for the marriage of Kathleen Mary, daughter of Col. W. G. Coles and Mrs. Coles, The Beeches, South London, to Connell Gerald Steers, son of the late Connell J. Steers and Mrs. Steers of Ottawa. Asters in all their lovely shades made an effective setting for the ceremony, which was performed before an altar banked with ferns and flowers.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the bride appeared on the arm of her father wearing an exquisite French gown of blue green crepe georgette trimmed with Russian braid. Her hair was a small one of black satin caught at the front with a brilliant pin. She wore a Russian sable scarf and the groom's gift, a platinum watch. The bride wore no flowers, but carried simply a prayer book.

Is Bridesmaid.

Miss Marion Coles was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a becoming French gown of coffee tone crepe georgette and a large drooping hat of pruned shade, trimmed with French flowers. Mr. Frank Steers of Ottawa, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and during the signing of the register, Miss Lillian Steers of Ottawa, sister of the groom, sang sweetly "I Know a Lovely Garden" and at the offertory "My Happy Day," a manuscript wedding song.

The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Monsignor Keon, while the Rev. Father Brady solemnized the nuptial mass. Mr. A. Bluetner officiated at the organ, rendering the wedding music.

Following the ceremony an informal wedding breakfast was held at The Beeches, beautiful home of the bride's parents in South London. Only the immediate families and intimate friends of the bride and groom were present.

The house was a mass of autumn bloom, mauve and white asters being combined effectively with pink gladioli throughout the rooms. The bride's table was centered with a basket of roses from the garden and the wedding cake, which the bride cut with her father's sword. The fact that the bride's father, an ex-soldier, was the groom having served three years overseas with the Royal Engineers.

Live in Sarnia.

Mrs. Coles, mother of the bride, assisted the bride in receiving their guests, wearing a graceful gown of white Canton crepe, while Mrs. Steers of Ottawa, mother of the groom, was becomingly attired in black Canton crepe and wore a black satin cape trimmed with ostrich.

Mr. and Mrs. Steers left today noon for Detroit on a brief honeymoon, and then will take up temporary residence in Sarnia, where the groom is resident government engineer. For some way the bride donned a smart fawn knitted suit, a small felt hat to match and shoes and hose of the same shade.

WEDDINGS

HODGETTS-BULL.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bull, Vauxhall street, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday at 7 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Ethel Miriam Bull, was united in marriage to Harold Hodgetts, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hodgetts, Major street. Rev. Dr. W. M. McIntosh, pastor of King street United church, officiated in the presence of 50 guests.

The bride entered the living-room on the arm of her father and took her place under an arch of green foliage and French marigolds. She was charming in a gown of white satin with pearl trimmings and carried a bouquet of Maiden Blush roses and sweet peas. The bride was attended by Miss Lillian Holmes and was prettily gowned in yellow flowered georgette over pale pink, with picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. The bridegroom was attended by W. M. Costler.

Mrs. Rivers, of Dorchester, played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mrs. W. M. Self sang Because, and Luther Jackson, Thank God for You.

The house was prettily decorated with ferns, asters and gladioli. After the ceremony a luncheon was served by five girl friends of the bride. The bride's mother presided in a gown of black brocade silk and was assisted by the bridegroom's mother in a gown of brown crepe de chine.

MISS JEAN PURDOM MARRIES SON OF COL. C. W. BELTON

Interesting Nuptials Are Solemnized at Home of Bride's Parents.

TO LIVE IN TORONTO

A simple arrangement of pink and white gladioli and palms at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Purdom, King street, made an effective setting for the nuptials of their daughter, Jean and James Ross Belton, son of Col. and Mrs. Cassius Wilkinson Belton of Ottawa, and grandson of the late Sir George Ross, which took place at 6 o'clock on Saturday night. Only the immediate members of both families were present, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. John Crawford of this city.

The bride, who took her stand before a bank of palms, was lovely in her wedding robe of white georgette, simply fashioned and trimmed with lace. The court train was lined with turquoise blue, and the bride veil was a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern. The bride's bridesmaid, wearing a becoming gown of yellow crepe de chine, prettily trimmed with ostrich, and carrying Sunset roses, Mr. Roy Belton of Ottawa acted as best man, and during the signing of the register Miss Margaret Peacock sang "Fair, O Sweet and Holy." A white satin kneeling stool, on which lilies had been placed, was used during the ceremony, and tall standards of pink and white gladioli were placed about the room.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was held, the bride's table being effectively centered with butterfly roses. For going away the bride donned a smart tailored gown of brown, a brown coat of furtonia cloth trimmed with beaver, and a small brown hat, modeled from gros-grain ribbon.

After a honeymoon, which will be spent in Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Belton will reside at 267 Garden avenue, Toronto. Both are university graduates, Mr. Belton having Queens as his alma mater and Mrs. Belton being a graduate of the University of Toronto.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Col. and Mrs. C. W. Belton of Ottawa, Miss Mildred Belton of Windsor, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and their daughters, Misses Helen and Catherine Smith of Brantford.

SKIRT FULLNESS VERY DECEITFUL

Men Set Styles More Than They Imagine—Felt Hats Good.

By AILEEN LAMONT, Special to The Advertiser.

New York, Aug. 30.—Like Leon Errol's stage drunk scenes, the appearance of fullness in many of the fall skirts is deceitful. Many of the skirts are slim and closely cut as ever, but the appearance of a bell like sweep at the hem is given by a deep band of fluffy flowers. One such gown just imported from Paris is of cyclamen mouseline de sole with a tight bodice and a great frill of huge mouseline de sole roses posed about the skirt.

Men have more to do with women's fashions than they imagine. Englishmen this year abandoned the straw hat to a large extent in favor of the light weight felt. The women have done likewise. Nothing is more popular at the country house parties and on the Scottish moors than the featherweight velours and felts which are waterproofed and proof also against crushing.

Fashion has turned night into day so far as pyjamas are concerned. These night time garments now are being worn in the afternoon as tea gowns. The jacksies are slightly longer and more voluminous than the ordinary pyjama jacket and the silks and satins of which they are made silver. The nether garments are heavily embroidered in gold and close fitting, do not come lower than mid calf and are devoid of ornament. The modern call to a fashionable woman has to be a massuse and a trained nurse as well as perform more routine duties. For fashion has cast a scornful eye on thick ankles and those unfortunate enough to possess them are using massuses with a variety of reducing pastes or bandaging the ankles nightly.

DRAMA LEAGUE IS PLANNING PLAYS

Kenneth Greene Named Convener of New Production Committee.

The London Drama League has interesting plans in store for its members this season. For the first time, the new executive met last week at the home of Kenneth Greene, appointing committee convener. Kenneth Greene is to be convener of the production committee, perhaps the most important committee of all. Col. Francis Ware was named convener of the entertainment committee and Mrs. A. D. Jordan of the music committee. Dr. G. C. Hale, the new president, took the chair for the first time in that official capacity. Plans were made to hold the first drama league meeting some time in October. Although the play to be presented has not been definitely decided upon, the committee is seeing to it that it will be an exceptionally fine one.

This year the league is to abandon the scheme of holding its meetings in a theatre, returning to the small hall productions, with a play each month. There will be one larger production as well.

About fourteen executive members were present at the meeting, and from the discussion which took place there the drama league season promises to be an interesting one.

NORWICH WAREHOUSE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

U. F. O. Co-operative Company Suffers Loss of More Than $8,000.

Special to The Advertiser.

Norwich, Aug. 29.—Fire totally destroyed the frame store and warehouse of the U. F. O. Co-operative company, Stover and Main streets, here last night. The loss is placed at $8,000 by Percy Robinson, manager of the company, which purchased the property and business only last week from the Loozing estate, and had barely completed stocktaking incidentally to the transfer.

Fred Derbyshire, returning from the Tilsonburg fair, discovered the fire in the building, a landmark for 70 years or more, about 1 a.m. A high east wind was blowing, and cinders and debris were carried a distance of three blocks. A light of nearly two hours was required before the conflagration was finally extinguished by the Norwich fire department. The fire was the biggest in the village this season, and in fact the largest during the past three years.

Across the street from the U. F. O. store, a big building owned by C. W. Carroll, caught fire several times, but each time the fire was put out before any particular damage was done. A house owned by H. Bell, about 50 feet east of the burning building, was saved by the hard work of the fire force, and also by the fact that the side next the fire was clad in sheet metal. The Norwich Auto Service, to the south of the store, was also endangered.

Though the origin of the fire is a mystery it is believed to have started from the outside by a carelessly thrown cigar or cigarette.

STARVED HEARTS

By MILDRED BARBOUR.

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND THE CHARACTERS.

STEPHEN LANE, wealthy, middle-aged, despotic, rules with a tyrant hand his young wife.

BARBARA, who sold herself into a loveless marriage, and MADDELON, his beautiful orphaned niece, whose father's marriage he had opposed some twenty years before and whose guardianship now devolves upon him. He broke up her boy-and-girl affair with DUANE FARLEY. Farley turned for sympathy to Barbara, who, unknown to Farley, fell in love with him. Lane, sent abroad, with business and professional ruin as the only alternative.

JULIAN BARTON, Madelon's real love, whose suit was sponsored by ANN ORDWAY, lifelong family friend, who loved Lane deeply, despite his faults, but whose loyalty beauty kept her unnoticed by him. Lane sends Barbara and Madelon to California, where the latter meets

HOWARD CHANDLER, fascinating duffer, and marries him to escape Lane's tyranny.

CHAPTER LV.

Stephen Lane's Chattel! Duane Farley bade Madelon goodbye at the door of Lane's house, smiling down at him. The great iron-grilled entrance door frowned behind her. She looked very young, and slight, and unprotected, in its shadow.

He had a momentary vision of another girl who had stood like that and looked down at him with pleading eyes. Barbara's beautiful, pale face seemed to float toward him out of the gloom. The purple-black eyes were wistful.

"I may see you again," he asked. "Surely after all these years, your uncle has released toward me."

She shook her head. "I don't know. He rarely changes. But I will let you know."

He took an eager step toward her. "Then you really care to see me?"

"Why not?" she shrugged smilingly. "Have you not always been my good friend?"

"I have wanted to be a great deal more than that," he said softly.

She found his gaze disquieting. Surely this could not mean unit, after years, her old lover still wished to return. Had he, then, not cared for Barbara? Or did men forget so quickly?

She dismissed him with a gay wave of her gloved hand. It feigned as of her gloved hand. It feigned as she entered the house, and heard the heavy door swing to behind her.

The lights burned dimly in the hall—two faint, eerie shadows. She started nervously when Masters glided silently up behind her.

"Will you wish to see Master Stephen before Nurse puts him to bed, Miss Lane?"

"Why do you call me that? I am Mrs. Chandler now, Masters."

His expression remained impassive. "Mr. Lane's orders, ma'am," he said.

Madelon sighed and followed him up through the gloomy upper halls to the nursery.

So she was not even to be permitted her own identity! Stephen Lane's niece, Stephen Lane's chattel!

Little Stephen was just finishing his nursery supper when Madelon came in. He rose shyly at a glance from the prim nursemaid and offered a rosy little hand.

"How do you do?" he said with parrot-like intonation, and stood staring up at her with eyes so like Barbara's that her heart contracted.

She dropped down on her knees and gathered him into her arms. He snuggled gratefully against her, his face buried in the perfumed laces of her frock.

"Muvver smelled like that," he volunteered shyly. "It's nice."

She hugged him close. "You miss mother, don't you, darling?"

He nodded gravely. "I like you," he volunteered. A sudden noise in the doorway caused Madelon to glare.

Stephen Lane stood there frowning. "Masters told me you had arrived. I expected you yesterday," his tone

And they like the girl who doesn't pretend to be better off than she is, and to be accustomed to going to places and doing things that are far beyond her.

No girl makes a greater mistake than the one who pretends that she has made with her own deft fingers an imported gown from a French designer, or who casually remarks that she never wears anything but hats that are Paris creations, when in reality, she has contrived her fetching little headpiece out of odds and ends that she has picked up on the bargain counter in the basement of a department store.

I have seen many a girl make a wallflower of herself at a summer resort by packing around under her arm a book on psychology, which she never opened but which scared off all the boys who never read anything deeper than Zane Grey. And I have known many a girl to lose a good husband by always talking about getting her clothes from Felice and other bankrupting dressmakers, when she sat up nights making them herself. But young men who had their way to make in the world weren't taking a chance on supporting a wife whose dress bill they figured out would be more than double their salary.

Simplicity. Sincerity. Honesty. Lack of pose. These are virtues we all admire, but they never shine so brightly and alluringly as they do in young girls. After all, when a man thinks about marrying her, he wants to know what he is getting and to feel that it is genuine gold and not just pinchbeck.

Men like jolly, good-natured girls. Girls whose laugh is hung on a hair trigger and will go off at any old joke. Girls who are always willing to make the best of things and who fit in easily anywhere.

They like the girl who doesn't get peeved over every little thing that goes wrong, who doesn't have to be persuaded to do things, and who doesn't have to be handled diplomatically to keep her in a good humor. In a word, men like girls who are good sports.

Men like women who are appreciative. When they spend money and time and effort on entertaining a girl they want her to register enjoyment and to voice some measure of thanks.

They don't like a girl who acts as if she were bored to death and who discourses to the man who is taking her to the movies about how she adores grand opera, or who tells the man who is riding her around in his flivver about what a grand car some other man has.

But most of all what men like in women is the eternal feminine. It is the womanly woman.

PLUMP MAIDEN FOUND HEALTHIEST OF ALL

"String Bean" Type Shows Highest Mortality Rate, Is Discovery.

Special to The Advertiser. Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 30.—"The string bean type of girl may be the style, but her plump sister has a better chance to live," declared Dr. Don M. Griswold, state health commissioner. His statement is based upon that men flock around as bees about a honey pot.

No real he-man likes to see a woman dressed up in trousers. The trillier and the flatter a woman's clothes are the more men admire them.

And the qualities that men admire most in women are the ones that have been identified with women for ages. Tenderness. Sympathy. Patience. Forgiveness. Love.

It isn't the hard, brilliant, gettner, successful women that attract men. It is the soft, gentle ones.

So there you are, girls. The more womanly you are the more you appeal to men. For that is the law of the attraction of the sexes. DOROTHY DIX.

charted records of 1,000,000 deaths, collected by insurance companies, comparing the weight and death-rate at various ages.

These show that at the age of 20 the lowest death-rate is among individuals 20 pounds overweight; at 25 among those 10 pounds overweight, and at 30 among the group of normal weight.

Dr. Griswold's chart shows that past 30 years persons overweight were in the group with the highest death-rate. At the age of 35 the lowest death-rate was among persons five pounds underweight; at 40 those fifteen pounds underweight, and at 50 among persons 25 pounds underweight.

"What shall I wear? How shall I look—demure in neutral tones, or vivid in brilliant reds and greens? Shall I be sheathlike, slim and straight, or may I swing along in a jaunty flare of skirts?"

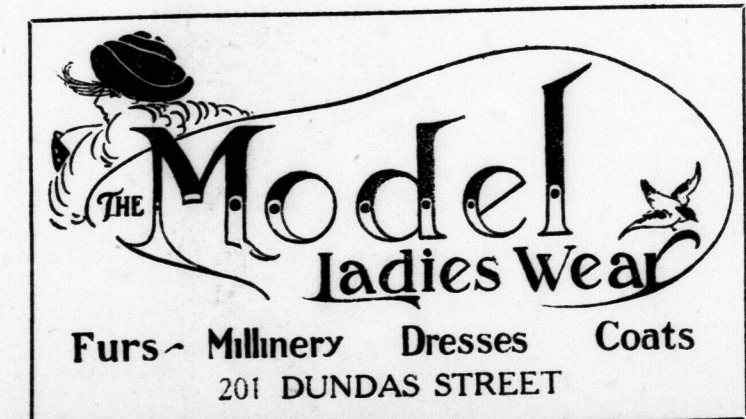

Of course you are asking these questions—every woman is, because there's a new season here. Our Formal Opening will be a revelation to you of the marked fashion changes a few months have brought. Nothing is quite like anything you have seen before. Wraps are rich with furs dyed in subtle new shades. Frocks show ingenious new lines. J. Manuel Takes Junior Honors Stambidge of Brantford Senior.

LOCALS WIN RELAY
The Western Ontario swimming championships held at Brantford, Ontario, today were a fine success, although the crowd, owing to counter attractions, did not begin to do the meet justice.

The Brantford team was late, and J. Manuel, swimming instructor of the Brantford team, gave a splendid exhibition of diving with Miss V. Dyer, and he received during the program as well as giving the crowd a laughable exhibition of comedy diving with Chandler of Brantford as a foil.

The meet was excellently run, and though the crowd was not large, it was a very successful one. The Brantford team, who are the champions of the league, were in excellent form, and the London team, who are the defending champions, were in poor form.

DIAMOND GLINTS

Southport Hallahan, who showed, when in the Michigan-Ontario league, that he had a "barrel of stuff," struck out an even dozen skaters in the Syracuse-Jersey City International League game at Syracuse.

When toiling in the Halligan circuit Hallahan was wild. He walked many men in every game. He apparently had improved in that respect, however.

Two years ago Bill Lamar "threw his arm away" in a vain effort to make a showing with the Toledo club that would earn him another chance in the big show. Today Lamar is one of the important cogs in Connie Mack's pennant aspirant Athletics. He is not only batting at a terrific pace, but is playing a great game in the outfield.

Lamar was with Brooklyn back in 1920, not very active, it is true, but wearing a big league uniform and having the satisfaction of being on a pennant winning team. Then he drifted out.

CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Wheat prices took an early swing downward today, influenced to a considerable extent by a material decline in Liverpool. Some standing orders to stop losses at various fixed limits were forced into action here by today's drop. The opening was at 2.14, followed by a slight rise to 2.15, and then a decline to 2.14. The market was active, with a large volume of trading.

T. MOORE TO GIVE ADVICE ON BANDS

Letter From Dominion Chief
To Be Read at Council Meeting.

Wednesday night a letter from Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades Congress will be read to the London trades and labor council on the band situation in London. Although it is not thought that Mr. Moore will make a ruling in the matter it is expected he will give advice on the best way to handle the situation which has cropped up here.

Other matters have been pushed to one side by the labor council. The band problem may be solved full attention. At present the union men have refused to play if the R. C. H. band is engaged for the Western Fair. Just what will be decided Wednesday night.

FERGUSON URGES COAL SUPPLY BE ASSURED

ing and the owners, so far as can be ascertained, are not importing non-union coal.

The first steps of the suspension have already taken place. At many mines the contract miners quit work Saturday after "blowing down" enough coal to keep their laborers occupied for the remainder of the week. Many of the heavy tools, such as big jack-hammers, have been removed by the men and stored away against such time as a new contract is signed.

Today many of the mine workers are preparing to set out for the soft coal fields on the hunt for other jobs. Part of the success of trade unionism in the past twenty years has been the development of that part of strikes or suspension technique known as "foraging." The ability of unions to subsist, by jobs picked up elsewhere is now half the battle.

A general "exodus" is being predicted of miners seeking vacations but the excursionists, according to latest advice, will also include the thrifter quota already starting in search of work in other industries during the suspension period.

The miners are demanding a 10 per cent increase in tonnage rates, $1 a day more for day workers, the check-off of two-year contracts, equalization of rates and other adjustments. The operators insist all demands must first be absolute themselves of any likelihood of increasing tonnage rates before they can be taken into consideration. The men in turn refuse the proposal of the owners to leave the negotiations at once unless until the negotiations agree to consider demands on their merits, regardless of cost.

Negotiations were broken off at 11:30 a.m. on August 4, and have not been resumed.

OKLAHOMA MINERS READY.

Associated Press Despatch.
Hartshorn, Okla., Aug. 31.—Three-fourths of the union miners of District No. 21, comprising the bituminous and fields of Oklahoma are expected by union officials to go on strike at midnight.

FINAL RUSH TO MARKET.

Associated Press Despatch.
Hazleton, Pa., Aug. 31.—Many of the anthracite collieries in the Lehigh field were handicapped by a labor shortage on the last day of the laboring week and production was the lowest of any day in the last two weeks.

It was stated that construction projects in the anthracite collieries that come strictly under the definition of new work and are being handled by union men will probably be shut down to go on during the suspension of mining.

NOT TO INTERFERE.

Associated Press Despatch.
Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 31.—Unconcerned at the prospect of the shut down of hard coal mines at midnight tonight, the public continues to maintain a hands-off policy.

Keeping posted on the situation through government observers, the president sees no way under the law whereby the administration can make a move to heal the breach between the operators and the miners on a new wage scale.

He declared that the law is in effect to continue his activities for the present at least, to making arrangements for government assistance in insuring that the coal supply for the home market will be maintained.

Mr. W. W. Purdon and H. J. Lawson are analyzing the voters list in an effort to make sure that every ratepayer entitled to vote has an opportunity of getting to the polls on Saturday next. Ratepayers desiring to know whether or not their names are on the list are asked to call 4360 or 4814.

Accidents In Winnipeg Total 2,517 In One Year; Truro Has None At All

City Clerk Baker Prepares Table of Statistics For the Dominion.

INCREASE IN LONDON

City Had 393 Motor Accidents in 1924, and 328 Previous Year.

What city in Canada gives the pedestrian least protection? "Winnipeg," answers City Clerk Samuel Baker who, as secretary of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, today completed a report on traffic regulations in the dominion.

Last year Winnipeg suffered 2,517 motor accidents, four of which proved fatal.

Truro, N. S., must be the nearest thing to a pedestrian's Utopia. Officials there report that there are practically no traffic accidents. They "Utome" in Truro every year apparently, for no traffic accidents are shown for the past three years.

Practically all the chief trades of labor and "to see the laborer complete" nearly four months since the Ontario Railway and Municipal board recommended immediate repairs on the bridge.

Mr. J. H. Woods, Calgary, whose recent speech in New Zealand at a banquet given imperial press delegates, aroused great enthusiasm. Mr. Woods made an eloquent appeal for closer co-operation among the dominions.

CONTINUE HEARING TOWNSHIP APPEAL

Adjourned Case of West
Williams To Be Called on Wednesday.

The adjourned hearing of the appeal of the township of West Williams against increased county assessment, passed by the county council last June, will again come before Judge T. H. Macbeth on Wednesday at 10:30 a.m.

Judge Macbeth gave instructions when the case first came before the court on July 31 that every township in Middlesex must send representatives to the hearing on Friday morning.

Judge Macbeth will then announce his decision as to whether or not he has jurisdiction to decide the matter. The county assessment was increased 25 per cent by the county council last June, each township having an increase of 25 per cent tacked on to the present assessment. It was pointed out that the township of West Williams would not mean more money in the way of taxes, but it would lower the county rates.

Reeve Tom Elliott of West Williams, after consultation with his township council, notified the county clerk that the assessment was increased and that the township would mean that the property in that township would be assessed for more than it was worth.

At the hearing on July 31, Mr. Elliott declared that the equalizing of the county assessment was passed at a special meeting and that the bylaw governing the case was not valid.

County Clerk John Stuart took issue with the reeve in that the bylaw had been declared at an adjourned meeting of the council and was perfectly valid.

If Judge Macbeth decides that Mr. Stuart is right, he will proceed with the case, otherwise the matter will go to the High Court. In any event, the township will likely cost West Williams a large amount of money.

CITY OFFICIALS WILL GO TO MUNICIPAL CONVENTION

Members of the city council and several city officials will attend the annual convention of the Ontario municipal association, Assessor's Association, Alfred Burwell, one of tomorrow for the first sessions of the assessment division. City Auditor Ashplant, City Clerk Baker and city treasurer will also be present. The council quota has not yet been named.

CHIEF SEES TRUTH SERUM AS GREAT AID TO POLICE WORK

Sees Men Subjected to Scopalin Tests at the Border.

SOON TO BE COMMON

"Truth serum" will become as great an aid to the police in future years as the fingerprint system of identification is at present, according to Chief of Police Robert Birrell, who returned Sunday from a three-day visit to Windsor, where he and Constable Walter Harpur attended the international convention of fingerprint experts.

Chief Birrell was present when three men were put under the influence of the truth serum on Friday. He declared that the tests, which the men were subjected to, were satisfactory, and proved without a doubt that the truth serum is a great aid to the police when its uses have been properly learned.

"When the fingerprint system was first introduced, there were many who scoffed at the idea," Chief Birrell said today. "There is now the same doubt concerning truth serum, but it will undoubtedly prove a great benefit to the police when its uses have been properly learned."

New systems of fingerprint identification, illustrated at the convention in the London force, according to Chief Birrell. It will not be many years before all immigrants will be fingerprinted in the London force, and the convention experts are already striving to have a general system established whereby all citizens can be recorded and identified through finger prints.

Mercury Down A Few Degrees

The weatherman climbed down a bit off his high horse today, the mercury registering 57 degrees at 10:30 a.m. and 58 degrees at 1:30 p.m. A drop of 6 degrees since yesterday at the same hour.

Sunday was the hottest day since the middle of June, and citizens in general were praying for showers over night. While one small shower honored London on Friday, the rain fell over the city for a short time, the rainfall was only .024 inches, but it was enough to cool the atmosphere to the extent noted above.

to Scrutiny.

Jail or freedom for Mrs. Mary Pork, 42 years old, will depend upon an analysis for alcoholic content of an innocent looking bottle of water-soluble fluid sold by her in a grocery store. Mrs. Pork will be sent to jail as a bootlegger.

Mrs. Pork was charged in this morning's court with selling liquor in violation of the prohibition law. She had purchased it for $1 from Mrs. Pork. Her arrest followed.

Lucas was charged with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling, but because he gave evidence for the crown, and thereby implicated himself, Magistrate Graydon refused to convict.

Clean Health Bill Will Swell School Attendance

A clean bill of health will help first day attendance greatly when London's primary schools open tomorrow. According to Dr. W. S. Downham, medical officer of health, the city is almost free from serious contagion of any sort, and few people will be held from school on account of sickness.

A few cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria have been reported during the past fortnight, but very few children or adults are at present under quarantine.

Operations for tonsils have been popular during the holiday season, and several scores of children will go back to school tomorrow proudly boasting missing tonsils.

According to Dr. Downham operations are popular in summer, where they are feared in colder months. It is a fallacy that dies hard and as a result many school children undergo minor operations during the month prior to their resuming school studies. Warm weather has no magic effect upon people undergoing surgical operations, and patients can be treated just as safely in winter as summer, the medical officer believes.

Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Aug. 30.—While there has been much talk on the part of the county and city councils regarding the abolishment of toll gates on the Sarnia-Florence road, a meeting of shareholders, recommended by the city with a view to disposal of the highway to the county, has not yet materialized. It now seems very unlikely that anything will be accomplished before the December meeting of the county council. The toll gates are the last relic of an antiquated system in the province of Ontario. The present charge for passage is eighteen cents.

CROWDS ATTEND UNVEILING OF WOODSTOCK MEMORIAL

Lieutenant-Governor Cockshutt Performs Ceremony Honor-

Special to The Advertiser.
Woodstock, Aug. 30.—One hundred and fifty-seven men of this city who gave their lives in the great war of 1914-1918 were honored this afternoon in one of the most impressive ceremonies ever held in the city, the unveiling of Woodstock's war memorial in Victoria park, at which almost the whole population of the city was in attendance.

The ceremony of unveiling, performed by Lieut.-Governor Cockshutt, was followed by the placing of wreaths on the memorial by relatives of the men to whom the monument was erected, and few eyes in the vast assembly, which covered nearly the whole of Victoria park, were dry as the solemn procession of widows, children, sisters, brothers and fathers filed past the granite memorial and laid their floral tokens on the massive steps.

The ceremony was held at 3 o'clock following a parade of war veterans through the city. At the memorial the vast crowds of assembled Canadians, who were brought to the city for the unveiling, and as the war veterans took up their stand a uniformed guard of honor marched to the front of the monument.

Duty emphasized.

The inaugural address was made by Chairman E. W. Nesbitt, who introduced the lieutenant-governor. ROTARY ADVANCING WORLD PEACE AIM

W. R. Wendall Declares It Is Doing Utmost To Prevent War.

"Rotary organization," declared W. R. Wendall, governor of Rotary International 23rd district, before the London Rotary club today, "is doing more for world peace than anything ever started anywhere."

Mr. Wendall's address to his home club, which contained most enthusiastic and informative talk on "the world-wide aspects of Rotary," followed some splendid singing by Elmer Krug, New York, and other singers, formerly of Chesley, Ontario, including "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Capt. John MacPherson."

"Rotary clubs, and there are 2,120 of them throughout the world, produce a sentiment for world peace," affirmed Mr. Wendall, "and, moreover, they have the organization to put it into effect. Foreign countries, with immense problems arising out of the great war, have turned to Rotary International as the solution of their difficulties. They have examined Rotary International with a microscope, and as a result they have adopted it with their whole hearts. They are applying the principles of Rotarianism in dead earnest."

"Rotary international has made remarkable progress since the first club was organized in Chicago 20 years ago, with no thought of the club developing along international lines. It is only during the past few years that the idea of an around-the-globe chain of Rotary clubs has been gaining headway year by year, until now it is sweeping the earth. Because Rotary international embraces the biggest, richest and most influential men in all foreign countries, different factions, which formerly pulled apart, have now been brought together to work in the interests of their country as a whole."

Indicative of the world-wide fact of Rotary's domination, Mr. Wendall stated that the 2,120 Rotary clubs are scattered over 30 countries, a few of which are as follows: United States, 1,772; England, 139; Canada, 82; Alaska, 1; Newfoundland, 1; Bermuda, 1; Cuba, 13; Mexico, 11; South America, 6; Hawaii, 2; New Zealand, 11; Australia, 8; Japan, 4; Siam, 1; S. Africa, 1; South Africa, 8; Spain, 2; France, 6; Switzerland, 5; Italy, 11.

"Preparations are under way to send Rotary clubs to the island of Fiji," Mr. Wendall declared, "so that in five years' time Rotary will be established in every civilized, semi-civilized and barbaric country in the world."

ONTARIO BEER CURE FAILED IS OPINION OF CONGRESSMANGrant M. Hudson Finds Nobody Satisfied With "Four-Point-Four."

TOUR IS CONCLUDED

Special to The Advertiser.
Detroit, Aug. 30.—"The 4.4 beer, beyond any doubt, is not a success in Ontario. The dries are against it, fearing that its introduction is only the first step toward the sale of hard liquor. The wets are against it because they do not believe it is satisfying to the liquor-consuming public."The preceding statement is the general summary of a week's investigation on the effect of the 4.4
beer in Ontario, conducted by Grant M. Hudson, member of congress from the sixth Michigan district, in cooperation with Wayne B. Wheeler, national president of the Anti-Saloon league, and several other prominent dry workers in the United States and Canada.Rep. Hudson's comment was made Saturday night, following a stormy meeting in the Windsor city hall, at which the investigating committee was subjected to heckling by members of the Moderation league of Ontario.CHARGES DRY PLOT.Canadian Press Despatch.
Windsor, Aug. 30.—Charging the United States congressional party who visited Windsor Saturday afternoon with being "merely on a dry propaganda mission," Frank W.
Wilson, M.P.P. for Windsor, drew from the visitors the admission that they have no official status, being unauthorized by the United States congress. Mr. Wilson declined to give his opinions on the value of 4.4 beer bettering conditions at the border. He said that he believed the so-called inquiry the committee was conducting was in the interest of dry propaganda rather than in the interest of the general public.Both Barrister R. S. Rodd and C.
E. Redeker, local realtor, asserted that general conditions had been much better since the Ontario temperance act was passed. Redeker said that 4.4 beer on the first night of its sale at the border had drawn women of the scarlet type to Win-dors. He agreed with Mr. Wilson that 4.4 beer is non-intoxicating. The meeting ended with both wets and dries agreeing that 4.4 is not satisfactory and its introduction has not affected the enforcement of the O.
T. A. one way or the other.VISITS CHATHAM.Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, Aug. 30.—Members of the U. S. congressional committee, which is touring Ontario with the view of securing information on the workings of the O. T. A. with special reference to the recent 4.4 amendment, met with a representative delegation of local citizens at noon Saturday. Congressman Grant M. Hudson of Michigan is chairman of the committee, which is a semi-official one.The moderation league was not represented at the conference, while a strong delegation from the temperance party was present. Ex-Mayor Charles Austin presided at the meeting. The opinion of the majority of the speakers was that 4.4
is a failure and has not reduced either the use of "scraps" or the brewing of beer or the illicit sale of liquor.HAS FEW FRIENDS.Special to The Advertiser.

quiry through Ontario, that 4.4 beer is a failure. He is chairman of the Representatives' committee on liquor, prohibition is working in Canada.The committee of the United States congress touring Ontario seeking information as to the success or otherwise of 4.4

beer held a brief conference here yesterday with representative citizens, and questioned them as to conditions in this district.Mayor T. C. Warlick presided at the meeting, and in his address declared that the falling off in bootlegging was due to the activities of the police and not to the new beer.
He believed the 4.4 beer was not satisfactory even to those who wanted the stronger alcoholic content.Chief of Police Lowes, Harry expressed by the chairman. Clifton sales were far below expectations, committee, said that those who ordered an amendment to the United new beer amendment had satisfied both the drinkers and the temper-stop bootlegging and the drinking of hard liquor, but investigation had

THE FABRICSFall is a season of common sense. The fabrics which have proven their sterling worth for many generations are seen in variations and in the same staple weaves that have served for years past. Credit must be given to those countries which have achieved immortal reputations as makers of fine fabrics. And from these world-famous looms, materials of unsurpassed richness in color and pattern, and of wonderful strength and durability, have been imported. Domestic weaves, too, equally beautiful in appearance and wearing qualities, are used as the vehicle for the finest of men's clothes.
Fancy tweeds and cashmeres, unfinished and clear-finished worsteds, blue chevrons in both narrow and wide wales and herringbones are the most popular fabrics. We may find here the beautiful fabrics manufactured in the famous looms of Kynock of Keith, Scotland.Shoulder

Dublin.Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 30.—A forecast of the Irish boundary's commission report, which is to be published this week, is made by the Daily Mail Dublin correspondent, who says the Free State will recover about one-tenth of the present Ulster territory, while Ulster receives in exchange only a small part of the county of Donegal from the Dublin government.The findings of the commission are said to be almost entirely the work of Justice Richard Feidham, of the South African supreme court, who was appointed with representatives of the Free State and Ulster to draw up the report, as the Irish delegates are understood not to have departed from the "die-hards" attitude of their governments, and were not willing to entertain a compromise. The outline of the forecast gives the Free State almost the whole of the county of niskillen, the greater portion of SouthMotorist Plunges Into Ditch

After Foiling Bandit Quartet*Special to The Advertiser.Chatham, Aug. 30.—While returning home after a holiday trip,
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brown of this city had a thrilling experience Friday night. On the provincial highway near Iona four young men passed them in a car. The men stopped a few rods ahead, and one of them stood in the center of the road brandishing a revolver as the Brown car came along.Disregarding the order to halt, Brown stepped on the gas and narrowly missed running over the would-be highwayman. The Chatham man, fearing that the men would start in pursuit, kept on travelling at a rapid rate, and after going several miles ran into some loose gravel, and the car plugged into the ditch.Fortunately Brown managed to put the car in head on, and no person was injured, with the exception of a shaking up.
Another motorist drove the Chatham people to St. Thomas, and from there they took the train for home.In addition to all of the counties of Fermanagh and Tyrone, the city of Newry and the See of Armagh, the ancient home of St. Patrick, and the present seat of the Irish Catholic archbishop.The city of Londonderry is left in Ulster, and in order to preserve its economic function, a portion of Northeast Donegal will be transferred to the jurisdiction of Ulster.The correspondent asserts that already sentiment in both sections of Ireland is dissatisfied, as the arrangement is far from meeting the claims of the Southern government, and Ulster has already declared she will resist to the last, any attempt to adjust the border, however slightly.
