CANADIAN ARCTIC EXPEDITION HAS FOUND ANOTHER GREENLAND

Explorer Stefansson Traced Two Hundred Miles of its Shore Line, and High Mountains are Noted Upon the Country--Six Members of Party Have Returned to Nome

By Special Wire to the Courier. Nome, Alaska, Aug. 16.—Six members of the Canadian Arctic Expedition under Vilhjalmar Stefansson, who arrived here yesterday on the power schooner Alaska to-day related their experiences in the Polar regions during the last three years. They said Stefansson, who remained in the Arctic to continue his work of exploring newly discovered land north of Prince Patrick Land, probably would not return to civilization during the present season.

Reached Coronation Gulf Most of the scientific work of the expedition has been carried on by this branch party. The first winter after leaving Nome, the party spent at Manning Point, near Camden Bay, after having failed to find a passage through the heavy ice to the eastward. The following spring Dr. Stefansson proceeded to the east and reached Coronation Gulf during the summer of 1914. Quarters which were established in Bernard Harbour became the base for the expedition's work. The summer and winter of 1915 were spent in scientific labors around Coronation Gulf.

In Little Known Section Most of the time since the spring of 1914, the party has been in quarters at Bernard Harbour on Coronation Gulf, east of the Mackenzie River, one of the least known sections of the habitable earth. The last member of the party to see Stefansson was the photographer, Wilkins, who was one of those who departed from the ill-fated Karuk shortly before that vessel was carried away in the grip of the Thor and His Hammer Symbolizes German Heroes, Says Prussian Writer.

GREAT FINAL BLOW COMING. Germany Waiting for the Stroke That Will Shake the Rock of Britain.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Aug. 16.—Prominence is given in Der Tag of Berlin to a long article on Thors Hammer by Dr. Reinke, member of the upper house of the Prussian diet. Dr. Reinke opens his article by recalling the fact that the hearts of millions of Germans were lifted to the God of Christians at the commencement of the third year of the war with a profound feeling of gratitude for the immeasurably great things we achieved during two years of bitter struggle in this defensive war forced on us.

Thor and His Hammer. "Thor and his hammer," Dr. Reinke asserts, "symbolize the German hero to the present day and it is the blows of Thor's hammer that are wielded by German soldiers on the fronts of the present battlefield. One great blow of this hammer is still needed in the west before the peace that Germany wants reveals its face."

Great Blow is Promised. Dr. Reinke observes that the chancellor expressly declared he holds this in reserve and he refers the chancellor to a state of constant fear and anxiety. "Thor's hammer must be swung with such strength and vigor that the blow will cut ruthlessly through all the forces and all the instruments of war at our disposal."

Slight Decrease in Awful Plague

Number of Deaths and New Cases Not so High.

New York, Aug. 16.—A slight decrease in deaths and new cases in the epidemic of infantile paralysis was noticed to-day in the Health Department's bulletin on the progress of the scourge. During the 24 hours preceding 10 a.m. the plague killed 34 children in the five boroughs of New York City. One hundred and thirteen were stricken. This compares with yesterday's figures of 39 deaths and 163 new cases.

Beginning to Take Action

Bucharest, via London, Aug. 16.—The Epoca announces that Germany has offered territorial compensation to Rumania at the expense of Austria in return for Rumanian neutrality in the war.

Members of St. John's Presbyterian church at Vancouver, turned out in large numbers to attend the funeral of their pastor, Rev. W. H. Smith, B.D., Ph.D.

Stores and Men Taken

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 16.—Between June 4 when the Russian offensive was inaugurated, and Aug. 12, General Brussiloff's forces captured more than 358,000 men, the War Office announced to-day.

Great numbers of guns also were captured, says the following figures. Officers captured, 7,757; men, 350,845; cannon, 405; machine guns, 1,326; mine and bomb throwers, 338; powder carts, 292.

The Russians have captured a series of heights to the west of Vorokhta and Ardzeny, in the Carpathians. In the Vorokhta and Delatyn regions the Austrians are retreating to the west.

Huge New Loan to Great Britain

250 Million Dollar Loan Announced by J. P. Morgan and Co.

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, Aug. 16.—Formal announcement was made to-day by J. P. Morgan and Company, as syndicate managers, of the new loan to Great Britain, aggregating $250,000,000, to run for two years at five per cent. interest. Associates with Morgan and Company are several of the leading banks, trust companies and banking houses of this city, Boston, Pittsburg and Chicago.

ITALIANS AGAIN MAKE GAINS EAST AND SOUTHEAST OF GORIZIA

Austrian Trenches on Northern Edge of Carso Plateau Taken, Also in Neighborhood of San Marco—Heavy Shelling on West Front

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Rome, Aug. 16.—Further advances for the Italians in their campaign against the Austrians east and southeast of Gorizia were announced to-day by the war office. Austrian trenches along the slopes of Monte Peccina, on the northern edge of the Carso plateau, and in the neighborhood of San Caterina and San Marco, east of Gorizia, have been taken, the announcement states.

GERMANY STEPS IN. Bulletin, Paris, Aug. 16.—5.10 p.m.—It is reported that Germany is taking over the defenses of Trieste, sending troops, especially organized for that purpose, says a despatch to The Temps from Milan.

The official statement follows: "On the Carso and in the hilly area east of Gorizia, heavy artillery and trench mortars are active. Our infantry succeeded in capturing enemy trenches along the slopes of Monte Peccina, on the northern edge of the Carso plateau, and in the neighborhood of San Caterina and San Marco, east of Gorizia. We took 353 prisoners, including eleven officers."

Activity at Verdun. Paris, Aug. 16, noon.—A violent bombardment was carried on last night on the Verdun front, at Thiaucourt, Fleury, Vaux and Chapitte, east of the Meuse. Along the greater part of the front the night passed quietly, the official report issued to-day says.

The text of the statement follows: "The night was calm on the greater part of the front. In the Champagne in the region of Triaire, and in the Argonne towards Harzeze, we dispersed some German patrols. "On the Verdun front there was a fairly lively bombardment in the last night, Fleury and Vaux-Chapitte sectors. "Aviation: Last night enemy aeroplanes dropped some bombs on Belfort. There were no victims."

The steamship City of Ghent, Halifax, was recently sold in England for $3,500 more than it cost '30 years ago.

TROOPER GRANT TUCKER KILLED

Word is Received To-day; Brother is Seriously Wounded

Word received in the city to-day announced the death of Trooper Grant Tucker, of the C.M.R., killed in action on July 22 last, after spending just two weeks at the front. Pte. Tucker, who was but 19 years of age, enlisted in the C.M.R. at Hamilton some time ago, and left Canada a few months ago, together with his brother, Jack, who is reported as seriously wounded in the same engagement in which his brother lost his life. The parents of the two young men, and also a sister, reside in this city.

Four Applied For 215th; All Rejected

Many Applications Are Still Being Received Here From Men Desirous of Going to Niagara.

A number of non-commissioned officers and men of the 215th battalion arriving in the city last evening after guarding this branch of the service at Camp Borden. They will remain in the city until Sunday, and then proceed to Niagara, there to rejoin the battalion.

Four applications were received yesterday at the recruiting depot of the 215th, but all the applicants were rejected by the doctor as unfit. A number of applications have also been received by Pte. George Tut from men rejected from active service who are now desirous of joining the home guard in accordance with the newly modified regulations regarding this branch of the service. As yet, however, Pte. Tut has received no authority to act in such cases as these, and accordingly nothing has been done up to the present.

According to a despatch received in Guelph yesterday afternoon the summer home of the Misses Hall at Beaumaris, Muskoka, has been wiped out by fire.

RESISTING POWER OF AUSTRIANS BROKEN; THEIR SPIRITS FLAG, RUSSIANS NEVER STOP DRIVING

Captured German Officers Admit That Talk of Peace is Prevalent--Austria's Fighting Power is Gone, and Lemberg Soon to Fall

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Aug. 16.—(New York Times cable)—The correspondent of the Daily Mail with the army on the Russian front, under date of August 14, sends the following: "The brilliantly rapid movement of Leitchsky's troops northward toward Lemberg causes the greatest rejoicing throughout the Russian army. This fresh blow, inflicted on the Austrians has sensibly reduced their power of resistance, and there is abundant proof that the spirit of their troops is sinking lower every week."

Keep Reverses From Them. "At the same time the Russians have taught the Germans a severe lesson by handling the troops sent to stiffen the Austrians in a manner so rough that they were glad to surrender in thousands. Nearly all the prisoners were found to be still in complete ignorance of the character of Brussiloff's drive, and of the failure of their army before Verdun. They say when these facts are generally known, all hope of victory will die away."

Longing for Peace. "Many prisoner officers say terms of peace have already been much discussed among them. Their view is that falling in any great success for her arms, Germany will make peace in the spring by giving back all the occupied territory and possibly paying an indemnity. When told the allies would never agree to such a peace, they express great surprise. They admit, however, that the whole energy of Prussianism would in such an event be directed to preparing another war."

Shorten the Line. "All the Germans can expect of their ally will be at best a passive resistance. All they could hope to do themselves if they succeeded in holding Kovel, which the fall of Lemberg now directed, would be to maintain something like their present positions. Probably as soon as the harvest was gathered in they would fall back to the line of the Niemen, with its fortresses. This would shorten the front and enable them to economize in men. They would try to spend the winter here in the hope of wearing out the allies' patience and resources."

Russians Full of "Pop." "If anything can hasten the end it seems likely to be the incomparable vigor of the Russian armies. From Generals to privates on all parts of the front all are eager to push back the Teutons as quickly as possible, and they are impatient at every delay, however necessary it may be."

Another Lull on the Western Front; Drive Will be Soon Renewed

British Already Have Almost Surrounded Thiepval and the Leipzig Redoubt—French Advance at Verdun Shows Wonderful Quality of Troops.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, Aug. 15.—A London cable to The Tribune says: "Sharp thrusts which won ground both for the British and the French on the west front Monday night have been succeeded by another lull, broken only by the incessant artillery combat."

While the Germans insist that the allied offensive is spent, military circles here declare that the way is being cleared for a greater blow yet. "The earthquake of which the German seismographs gave insufficient warning," as the French describe it, "is still rumbling."

Haig's forces have driven the Germans out of most of the trenches northwest of Pozieres in which they gained a footing Monday. Further west they forced the enemy's trenches at the Mouquet farm, directly east of Thiepval. By these attacks the loop around Thiepval has been drawn tighter and the town lies now in a pocket. The Leipzig redoubt is in a similar position. As soon as the British line further east is advanced, the British will be ready to make a new attack toward Thiepval.

Airship Raid on Trieste

French and Italians Went Together and Attacked Munition Plants

By Special Wire to the Courier. Rome, Aug. 16, via Paris.—A squadron of French and Italian aeroplanes made a raid near Trieste to-day, and is reported to have inflicted extensive damage. A French airship was lost. "A squadron of Italian hydroplanes, together with French hydroplanes and aeroplanes, this morning bombarded the munitions factories and hangar at Muggia, near Trieste, causing numerous destructive fires," says an official statement issued to-night. "The French lost one aeroplane while resisting those of the enemy. Otherwise the entire Franco-Italian squadron returned safely to its base."

LOCAL BOY TELLS VIVID STORY OF TRENCH LIFE

Entertaining letter Received from Arthur Livingston of the Princess Pats, Who Tells Just What it Means to Be Shell Shocked.

BURIED BY "RUM JAR" AND HAD TO BE DUG OUT.

The following letter, descriptive of life at the front when the men are in action, is from Pte. Arthur Livingston, son of Police Magistrate Livingston, Brant Avenue, Pte. Livingston, Ont. He is now in the Princess Pats, and was later drafted to the front as part of the Princess Pats. A number of other Brantford boys accompanied him, including Leon Watson, now on his way home, and Ray Hawkins, evidently considerably under the weather according to Livingston's account.

The letter, in part, follows:
Dear People:
Belgium, July 24th,
Pte. A. H. Livingston,
No. 487299.

I hope the whizz-bang I sent from the hospital has not caused you any undue worry but this is the first chance I have had to write a letter to relieve your minds. I won't go so far as to say I am now alright, but there is now no need for worry, as I am getting along nicely and am now back with the rest of the boys.

Apart from myself I fear poor Ray has met with a little misfortune. He came through the little ordeal in the trenches O.K., so I hear, but yesterday was taken back to the hospital to be operated on for appendicitis. Of course what I have heard about his case leaves me very vague in my mind, but I guess the poor kid has done some suffering and we are all pulling strong for him. I expect I shall be able to give you better information regarding him later on, and in the meantime we shall hope that it is not as serious as I hear.

We expect to go back where we were when we first came to France, in a day or so, and if I can write from there I shall do so. I suppose you have heard by now that I and Brant saw each other for a short time before I came up and I now can tell you about having seen him again, but I shall first proceed to tell you of my experience up in the trenches.

One night our bombers pulled off a little assault on Fritz, and according to the reports of this assault the Germans had a few casualties. It was somewhat comfortable in our own trench, let alone in theirs. Well the next night Fritz evidently took it into his head to come back and he did. The excitement started early, and trench mortars, rifle grenades, rum jars and sausages assembled about our trenches in large numbers. Having seen trench mortars and rifle grenades before and still having respect for them, however, my mind was occupied with these rum jars and sausages, which are "some punkins" in the language of the classics. The one beauty of them, if it can be considered such, is that they can be seen. Well, during proceedings we managed to dodge about two dozen of those bally things, and then to keep in training I ran a dead heat with one. Unfortunately I misjudged it, and we arrived simultaneously at the same spot. After a momentary funeral after. Thereupon every available sand bag etc. in the vicinity fell on me and buried me all but my head. I won't try to explain my feelings as I am sure I couldn't, but I had some nevertheless. A rum jar has the power of making a loud noise, a big hole and various other accomplishments, and when all these are completed, it throws stones for half an hour. Being buried is not a nice sensation in itself, but it was not improved any by the condition.

Fortunately a couple of the boys got shovels and started to dig me out, but before they had me half uncovered, the second edition of the rum jar was seen approaching. The diggers ran, but I could not budge, and I thought my last day had come. I don't know yet how I escaped, but I closed my eyes and waited and I was again buried, but still alive. The diggers came back and started again. Again they had me half uncovered and the same thing happened again. It was just an act of Providence that I escaped, but I am still here. They dug again and along with the help of Lieut. Mitchener they pulled me out. I was in full control of my senses for about ten minutes after and the strafing had died down. I went down to get a bayonet and saw another rum jar burst quite a way from me but it sent me off my trolley, and I wilted. I was put in a dugout where I slept soundly. I don't know how long, but I dimly remember being shaved into the dressing station and then to the hospital in the ambulance.

I have not been wounded at all but just badly shaken up and suffering from concussion and shell shock. I was treated wonderfully at the hospital and the meals were the best. I am now back with the boys with just a little ear ache and general dizziness, but Lieut. Haggard is trying to keep me from having to go on these working parties. I don't feel quite equal to that yet to tell the truth. My nerves are not quite up to the mark yet, but I hope they get better instead of worse. I think I would about collapse if I heard a lady fired a cracker off now, but as I am quite deaf there is small chance of me hearing it.

I saw Brant and Doug Jones just before I came up last night. Both are looking well.

I am about all in now, so shall wait till I feel a little better before I write again. I'll feel better if you don't worry, so just forget. Love to all.

Your loving son,
ART.

COMMITTEE URGES A WRITERS UNION

Says Federation of Labor Would Help Get the Universal Copyright.

SEES NO INJURY TO DIGNITY.

Believes Support of Two and a half Million Workers Would Be Beneficial.

The Committee on Affiliation with the American Federation of Labor of the Authors' League of America has issued a 3,600 word statement setting forth the advantages the committee believes writers would obtain from being unionized. The question is to be settled within six months by a referendum vote of the league's members.

Affiliation with the Federation of Labor according to the committee's statement, would help the league in four of its most important purposes and problems: It would give the league more power to correct abuses prevalent in the motion-picture field; it would aid the league in its negotiations for standard contracts in the publishing, magazine, and theatrical business; would help the league in its endeavor to secure universal copyright and to put the United States in the International Copyright League, thereby automatically securing world-wide copyright protection for any matter copyrighted in America; and it would aid the league in procuring other legislation which may be desirable to secure the rights of authors, the statement says.

The Federation of Labor, says the committee, has agreed that the league shall retain its complete autonomy. Thus, the statement says, the league would have all the liberty of an independent organization, as well as the advantages coming from a large organization.

"Individuals would have exactly the same rights as they now possess, of criticizing the American Federation of Labor, or of picturing labor conditions in writings," the committee says.

In the opinion of the committee, conditions in the motion-picture industry are more unsatisfactory than in any other field in which an author is active.

"The author is practically at the mercy of irresponsible and dishonest producers," the statement recites. "Piracy is rampant and redress uncertain. Copyright questions are obscure and contract matters are chaotic."

Next to the motion-picture industry, says the committee, conditions are worst in the dramatic field, and "so far as the established dramatic author is concerned, he has small cause for complaint. With the new author the case is different." The committee says, "Plays are frequently held by a manager as long as six months and then returned without comment. And after a play has been accepted contracts vary so widely and are for the most part not drawn so carefully in favor of the manager that the new author with a success is apt to get little compared to the amount he should receive."

As far as the higher class of publishers and managers are concerned, the committee thinks that conditions in the book and magazine business are the best with which the league has to deal.

With practically the entire motion-picture industry unionized, with the book and magazine field except the authors organized, the committee asserts that should the Authors' League also affiliate with the American Fed-

THE WIDE-AWAKE DAISY

I must tell you the tale of the daisy who couldn't attend to her own affairs. Most of the daisies in the meadow in which she lived grew pretty drowsy in the late afternoon sunlight and by the time the sun had set were sound asleep. But the wide-awake daisy, like many a mortal boy and girl, hated to close her petals and so to sleep.

"I don't see why I must sleep before I want to," she said crossly. The Wind says the nightingale in yonder forest sings all night. The owls flutter about, the evening primrose wakes up long after I'm asleep, and the honeysuckle stays awake all night long. To-night, I too, shall stay awake."

So that afternoon when the breeze hummed its daisy lullaby and the warm sun made the other daisies yonder in the meadow stand up straight and tall in the meadow, scornfully watched her companions go to sleep—and stayed awake.

"Drowsy? Not she! She must see the wonders of the night world."

Now, wide awake as the daisy tried to keep, habit was a little too strong for her. She would blink her petals and drowse a bit until, waking with a start, she saw something in the night world that almost froze her leaves with terror.

The world was on fire! The sky to the west was the color of flame and terrible. Most terrible!

"Wake up! Wake up!" cried the terrified daisy to the daisy nearest. "The world's afire. We shall all be destroyed."

Her neighbor woke and, frightened at the dreadful blaze in the west, woke up another daisy. And presently that whole field of daisies were wide awake, when they should have been asleep, hobbling their foolish heads in a panic. The world was on fire! The world was on fire!

An owl perched upon a tumble-down fence, blinked at the daisies with his head upon one side.

"You are all daisy dunces," he croaked, "who ought to be asleep. Mother Earth will punish you for this. Have you never seen a sunset?"

It was true. They never had, and old Mother Earth, rising from the ground in her earth-brown robes, scolded them all roundly. The daisies hung their heads. In the west the flame color changed to the pale yellow of the after glow.

Mother Earth raised her wand and the foolish, disobedient daisies turned for evermore to the yellow color of the sunset after-glow. Ever after the color of their petals would remain drowsy as they needed to sleep when other daisies sleep.

And now you know as well as I do why from then on some daisies were white and some where the color of the yellow after-glow.

THE SITUATION

The item of recent importance in connection with hostilities is a big Russian victory in the Carpathians. Striking against the Austrian right wing the troops of the Czar have captured the town of Uablonitz, and have thus opened the way through the Carpathians to the rich Hungarian plain.

The Somme operations continue to record a methodical advance on the part of the Allies. The progress is slow but never the less sure, and preparations are steadily maintained for another big drive.

The Italians are getting nearer to Trieste, and troops are now said to be within thirteen miles of the place. The Italian navy has sustained a regrettable loss in the destruction of one of its dreadnoughts.

The French continue to more than hold their own at Verdun. After a year spent in heroic defence of the Ypres salient, the Canadians are to take part in the Somme fighting. The record which they have made in connection with Ypres will live in history.

WHERE THE ONUS RESTS The Toronto Globe, in referring to the passage by the Ontario Government of a prohibitory enactment during the war say:

The leaders of Liberalism in the Legislature and out of it, and organs of Liberal opinion without disguise or delay, took their stand with Conservatives in putting the emphasis of public opinion on what the Premier had led the Legislature to do.

And that was done only four months ago. How comes it then that the drink evil and the liquor traffic are back again, insolent as ever, in a bye-election campaign?

The answer is very simple. Grit prohibitionists instead of backing up Hearst in what he had done, took the very first opportunity to try and twist party advantage out of his act, by voting shoulder to shoulder with those opposed to the abolition of the bar.

Their earliest opportunity in this regard came in connection with the Perth bye-election.

There were enough Liberal names on the prohibition petition presented from the city of Stratford alone to ensure the overwhelming victory of any candidate endorsing what had been done. Said candidate, however, was badly licked. Why? Simply because the Liberals who signed that petition joined with the liquor interests in voting against him.

It is to the Liberal party and the Liberal party alone that this thing is in the political arena once more.

THE TORONTO MEETING

At a meeting held in the Queen City last night, in the interests of Mr. Morris, the Conservative candidate, Hon. I. B. Lucas and Hon. G. H. Ferguson made ringing and convincing speeches.

It was not only shown that Ontario nickel is in the future to be refined in this province, but also that a retroactive tax is to be imposed on profits.

Insofar from the Government blocking Hydro railway projects, the very reverse is the case, and an Order-in-Council has just been passed authorizing the purchase of a right of way from Toronto to Dundas.

With regard to prohibition, the announcement was made that although the Government adhered to the intention of submitting prohibition to the people, the present Ontario Temperance Act was not a finality.

While this meeting was taking place, Sir Allen Aylesworth, former Minister of Justice in the Laurier Cabinet, was making this statement at another gathering in the interests of Mr. Waldron, the Liberal who is running as an advocate of the bar:

"If the Liberal party is to be turned into a temperance society and no one is to be permitted to be a member of that party, he is an ardent prohibitionist then I and hundred reds of lifelong Liberals in the Province of Ontario cannot be members." Sir Allen added that he and other Liberals repudiated the Globe and its entangling alliances.

BANKS AND THE FARMERS.

An important conference recently took place in Winnipeg, between representatives of organized farmers, and the General Superintendents in charge of all the banks of the Prairie Provinces. During the discussion the fact was disclosed that the chartered banks have at present on loan to Western farmers more than $50,000,000.

The bankers asked that the farmers follow a general practice of arranging for their seasonal credit early in the year, but pointed out that they could not grant floating credit on notes of nine and twelve months. They were quite willing to carry farmers in good standing until their crop was taken off and marketed, but to be consistent with sound banking principles, and because of the fact that most of the money in the banks was deposited on demand, it was necessary to review the securities throughout the year. On general principles, however, it was agreed that the notes where the standing of the farmers was unquestioned, would be for a somewhat longer term than had been usually practised, depending upon the merit of the individual cases.

A second form of credit was that for the marketing of the grain so that the farmers would not be compelled to throw it on the market as threshing was over and thus force lower prices, as has been the custom for years past. This, the bankers readily agreed to, and it will be their practice in the future where individual merit warrants it to assist the farmers in carrying their crop so as to market it throughout the year in order to maintain prices at a uniformly higher level.

The third form of credit discussed was that for the production and feeding of livestock. It was pointed out that the banks could not grant credit for two and three years on straight notes, but they are quite prepared to assist in every way in the development of the livestock industry and would grant such credit on notes to be renewed from time to time to assist industrious farmers to get into the livestock business as quickly as possible.

On the question of livestock-credit associations it was pointed out that this would largely be a matter of development. There were several associations already organized in the West which were securing a reduction in the ordinary rate of interest, and the bankers were prepared to follow this practice where the organization was of a kind that gave added safety to the security of the loans granted.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Forest City Aldermen don't take a tumble but a tumbler.

It is stated that most of the outfitting of the Russian soldiers comes from Japan. In return the troops of the Czar are Japanning the other fellows.

With Sir Allen Aylesworth, ex-Minister of Justice in the Laurier Cabinet, repudiating the Globe, the people get a still further glimpse of the disgruntled state of the Grit party these days.

German soldiers are to go without meat one day a week. At the same time they don't take kindly to the hash which the British are making of their defences.

During the course of a recent interview the Kaiser said:—"I do not envy the man who has the responsibility for this war upon his conscience. I, at least, am not that man."

Probably this modern Munchausen wants people to believe that it was King Albert of Belgium who started the fracas.

It was quite in accordance with things that tumbler should take part in the circus recently staged in the London City Council Chamber.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM PARIS TOWN

Miss Annie Brown Has Been Appointed Teacher in Simcoe High School.

FLOWER SHOW IS CANCELLED.

Drought Has Spoiled It—Garden Party at St. George.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Paris, Aug. 15.—Many friends in town will regret to hear of the death of Margaret Tuftord, beloved wife of the late Daniel Hathaway, which died at her home in Detroit last week. The deceased, who was in her 66th year, had been ill with pneumonia, and passed peacefully away, leaving behind her two daughters, Mrs. W. J. Nye of Detroit, Fred of Port Huron, and John W. of Detroit. Mrs. S. R. Hathaway of Berlin, John H. Luxford of Walkerville and William Luxford of Detroit are her brothers and sister to the deceased.

The engagement is announced of Miss Margaret Reynolds, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reynolds, King street, to Mr. Arthur Whitbread. The wedding will take place quietly this month.

Appointed Teacher Miss Annie Brown's many friends will be pleased to learn that she has been successful in securing a position on the High School teaching staff at Simcoe. For the past year, Miss Brown has been teaching at New Liskeard, and at present spending her vacation with her mother and relatives in this vicinity.

Took the Service Last Sunday morning Mr. Henry Fieldon of Brantford, very acceptably conducted the service in St. James' church. In the evening, Rev. Prof. S. A. Wallace, D.D., of Alexandria, Virginia, who is visiting in town, preached a very powerful and instructive sermon to the congregation.

Flower Show Off The Horticultural Society held another meeting Monday evening, and they decided not to hold the annual flower show this season, owing to the long drought. In September, the lawn and garden competitions will be judged.

An engrangement of interest to many in town is that of Miss Nellie Davidson, of Ferguson, to Mr. Chas. N. Arstad, organist and choirmaster of the Presbyterian Church at Welland. Mr. Arstad is well known to many in town, as he was organist of the Baptist Church here for some time. Quite a number motored up to St. George last evening, and attended the moon-light garden party, which was held on the lawn of the Methodist parsonage.

Social and Personal

Mr. Paddon, of Hamilton, has joined his wife and family here, and is visiting at the home of Mr. Frank Fry, Upper Town.

Master Leonard Chapple of Galt, is holidaying with relatives in town. Master Kingsley has returned to their home in Detroit, after a pleasant visit spent with Mrs. E. Pitts, Main Street.

Miss Emma Wright is holidaying at Burlington Beach. The Misses P. Myne and Stella Beggs have returned from a delightful holiday, spent at Port Stanley.

Miss Beatrice Potts left last week to spend her vacation at her home at Simcoe. Prof. S. A. and Mrs. Wallace and niece, Miss Snowden, of Alexandria Seminary, Virginia, are the guests

NOBODY HOME Pte. P. Maurice of the local Base team recruiting office, returned to the city last evening after an unsuccessful trip to Caledonia upon recruiting business. So far as he could ascertain, there was not a civilian in the place, and very few eligibles of any kind.

MIDNIGHT ALARM An alarm turned in at 12:30 in the night summoned the East end fire department and the truck from the central station to 8 Drummond Street where a blaze of unknown origin was found to have made considerable progress by the time of the firemen's arrival. The flames had eaten the way through the partitions, and on the roof in the rear of the building, which was badly gutted by the time the conflagration was finally extinguished, with considerable damage done. The firemen were at work on the blaze for about an hour. The building is owned by Mrs. Arthur Lyons.

POLICE COURT
A quartette of gentlemen of leisure appeared in the police court on the charge that their emulation of the busy little bee was not satisfactory unto the powers that be. William Windle, it was learned, had succeeded in obtaining employment, and his case was dismissed; Messrs Pat. Shanahan, Thomas King and James Lowe were given the period of one week in which to follow the luminant example set them by the colleague. A charge of using insulting language, preferred against William Corrigan, was dropped, and an assault charge against Jack Young adjourned for a week. Thomas Martin was ordered to pay Henry Ramshagen $30 due him in wages, and also to pay $6.50 costs. One solitary devotee of the bottle met with the sentence usually meted out to his kind.

TERRACE HILL WILL GO AFTER WHAT IT WANTS

Decide to Wait on Water and Railway Boards and also the Council.

The executive of the Terrace Hill Ratepayers Association met last evening at the home of the chairman, Mr. I. S. Armstrong, Dundas Street. Considerable business was transacted. It was decided that the big water petition should be presented by the executive to the Water Commissioners at their next regular meeting. The executive will also wait on the City Council, and request them to begin negotiations at once to have the St. Paul's Avenue subway opened. The committee will also wait upon the Street Railway Commissioners and offer some suggestions, which may help the commissioners to come to an early decision in connection with the extension of the line to Terrace Hill.

As authorized at the public meeting the committee have decided to add five members to the executive. These gentlemen have been selected and are being communicated with in regard to their appointment.

A proposition is under consideration to have a campaign to secure members for the association at a very small fee and to make the organization touch each ratepayer personally, thereby increasing the interest.

KENNEDY SHOWS DRAW BIG CROWDS

Many People Visit the Attraction and See Various Interesting Sight.

Crowds even larger than those of the holiday on Monday thronged the grounds of the Con T. Kennedy shows yesterday afternoon and evening, more particularly at night when all roads led to the corner of Clarence and Elgin street, despite the distance of the location from the centre of the city. Brilliantly illuminated and decorated, the grounds were a scene of festive gaiety until a late hour, all the attractions being liberally patronized by the merry-makers of the evening.

Among the principal attractions were the ever favorite motordrome, with mile-a-minute motor-cycle races; the usual side-shows, with their aggregation of freaks from all corners of the globe, including a pair of Siamese twins from Samar; the horse show, with the "Dive" of Alh. and the ever present ferris wheel and merry-go-round, as well as a new and novel riding device known as the Whip, which must be seen and sampled to be appreciated. The outdoor free exhibitions concentrated the largest gatherings of any, one particularly good illustration being presented outside the Coney Island Slide-show, where the head of a girl appears floating in the air, and apparently detached from the body. Liberal patronage was showered also on the booths of chance, where one might try his hand at anything from rifle shooting to spinning the wheel for chocolates or Teddy Bears.

Old Timer Dead at Woodstock
By Special Wire to the Courier.
Woodstock, Ont., Aug. 16.—Maurice Egan died here early this morning in his 102nd year. He was born in Ireland, March 14, 1815, and came with his parents to Canada when a mere lad. He was the first Catholic resident of Oxford County and was instrumental in building the first Roman Catholic Church here. He spent most of his life in Woodstock, but lived in Toronto for a time many years ago.

LIEUT. QUANBURY DIES IN ENGLAND

Son of Simcoe Man Succumbs to Wounds Received in Action.

(From our own correspondent.)
Simcoe, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Chris. Quanbury, received news yesterday of the death of her son, Lieut. John Henry Quanbury, in London, Eng., from a shell wound received in battle. His father took ship from New York on Sunday, going over to be present for an operation then deemed necessary, and is now on the ocean. Quanbury was connected with the Calgary Mounted Rifles.

When the circus train leaving here last night was about loaded it was found that a man was missing, as was also the circus' auto. It is thought he set out for St. Thomas, but as he had only a little gasoline and no light would not get far.

A strike of graphite is reported in the Fraser Valley, and other minerals have also been discovered there, notably alunite, which has high potash value.

In making a grant of $500 to the forest fire relief sufferers, the St. Catharines City Council passed a resolution stating that this was but for instant help.

FIGHTING AMID SNOW AND ICE

Italians Not Only Contest with the Austrians, but Also With Nature.

WONDERS OF AN ALPINE TRANSPORT.

Lord Northcliffe Tells of Sensation in Being Lowered by Gun Rope.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, Aug. 16.—(New York Sun cable)—Lord Northcliffe sends another despatch about the Italian army, this time from the Cadore front, on the central portion of the long battle line from the Stelvio pass to the Isonzo.

Sunshine and Frost "I am writing in brilliant sunshine," he telegraphs, "and yet in several degrees of frost. It is not usually realized that the Italian front is nearly 500 miles long. In the parched wilderness of the Carso plateau the chief enemy of the fighting man is thirst. His chief enemy on the Cadore front is the frost. These two facts should bring home some of the difficulties the Italians have faced for fifteen months. Picture to yourself men 9,000 feet up in the clouds, for seven months in and surrounded by deep snow, and so close to the Austrians at some points that they can see the enemy's eyes through the holes in the observation posts."

Hard on the Nerves Lord Northcliffe, after describing the cables by which guns, food, materials for huts are taken up to the troops on the high mountain peaks, continues: "The first sensation of transit down these seemingly fragile tight ropes is much more curious than one's first trip in a submarine or aeroplane, and even tries the strongest nerves."

Storms and Avalanches "Man is not only fighting man on these heights, but both the Italians and the Austrians have been fighting nature in some of its fiercest aspects. The gales and snow storms are excelled in horror only by the avalanches. Quite lately the melting snow has revealed a heap of frozen bodies, horribly life-like, of a whole platoon swept away nearly a year ago."

Troops Are Healthy "While there have been heavy casualties on both sides from the bombardment throwing machines and mountain guns, and from heavy artillery fire, there has been little sickness among the Italians, for the men know that visits of a doctor are practically impossible. Therefore they follow the medical advice of their officers. King Victor Emmanuel, whose life has been passed almost entirely among his troops since the beginning of the war, told me, however, that despite the greatest care, occasionally death resulted from frost bite."

Powerful Men "In addition to the heavy guns there are guns called on mules, guns carried by mountain artillerymen, huge fellows whose weight and carrying capacity, entirely put in the shade that of the Constantinople porters. When Queen Margherita arrived at Gressoney some years ago four Alpine gunners presented arms with guns of their battery. They were cheery fellows, proud of their strength and with backs like bulls. "Higher yet than the mountain fighting line stand sentinels whose work resembles that of expert climbers. They carry portable telephones with which they can communicate with their platoon. The platoon in turn telephones to the local commander. When thinking of our own brave men who have held the trenches in Flanders for two years and who now alongside the French are slowly forcing back

NEW STATION AT QUEBEC

(1) New Station.

The new C.P.R. station at Quebec, which was declared open today, Thursday, by the Mayor of Quebec, is a triumph of modern railway station construction and is admirably located at the corner of St. Paul and Henderson Street just north of the old station. The latter will be removed to make room for the plaza, 350 ft. x 285 ft., which will form a beautiful foreground with a large grass and flower garden, flanked by a sixty-foot roadway, flanked by sidewalks, ornamental lighting standards, and two ornamental flag-poles, transforming a once ugly portion of the city to an attractive beauty spot which will not only be appreciated by the residents of Quebec, but will give the visitor a favorable first impression of the city. The building, which consists of a central block with two wings, is a modern adaptation of the old French Chateau style of architecture and admirably harmonizes with and helps to perpetuate the quaintness and historic traditions of the city. The exterior is faced with Argenteuil granite, Deschambault limestone and steeply sloping, copper covered roofs. The main facade, which faces the plaza, is dominated by a central motif containing the main entrance which is flanked by two towers and protected by a glass and iron marquise the full width of the sidewalk. Over the main entrance is a large window above which is an illuminated clock with a seventy-two inch dial, which forms one of the principal features of the facade. The pediment over the clock bears the arms of the City of Quebec.

In plan, the building is L shaped, the main block being 142 ft x 15 ft. The concourse wing extending along Henderson Street, 142 ft x 65 ft., and the baggage and express wing parallel to St. Paul Street, 157 ft. x 44 ft. Entering the building through the 24 ft. wide main entrance and vestibule, one is agreeably impressed with the spacious, light, ticket lobby, 45 ft. wide x 65 ft. long, which rises about 12 ft. 6 in. This lobby is finished with grey tapestry brick walls with LePanto marble base, faience cornices, cartouches and balustrades and sloping mosaic ceiling with leaded glass ceiling lights, the rich colorings of the faience and leaded glass counterpointing the efficient operation of the train service, has been provided. The second floor of the main building, which is reached by a stairway from the main entrance vestibule, is devoted principally to the Company's offices and a museum in which an interesting and instructive exhibit of Canada's natural resources will be open to the public. The office corridors and museum surround the ticket lobby and are separated therefrom by glass partitions which afford a splendid view of the lobby as well as provide an abundance of light and air. Rooms for the conductors and trainmen with stairway direct from the midway are also provided on this floor. The decorative scheme of the interior is simple and artistic. The motifs in the richly colored faience depict and symbolize elements of the national life, the Tudor rose, shamrock, thistle, fleur de lys, dolphin and trident are freely used and intertwined. The ceiling light over the ticket lobby contains the provincial shields and a map of the North American continent showing the Canadian Pacific Railway lines from coast to coast. The large

A splendid train bulletin board has been provided on which the time of arrival of all incoming trains will be posted, while glass-covered bulletin boards have been provided for special announcements and posters. On the right hand side of the concourse is an exit to Henderson Street while at each end is a handsome faience dial clock. Comfortable seats have been provided, as the concourse serves also as the main waiting room of the station. The men's smoking room and lavatories are located at the North or far end of the concourse. The women's rest room is attractively furnished with rugs, table, chairs, and couch, and is conveniently located and easily reached from both the ticket and lobby concourse. The smoking room and women's rest room are equipped with wood paneling and the lavatories with marble. A feature of the lavatories are the pay toilets, a separate wing which has a covered platform on each side, everything necessary for the comfort and convenience of the travelling public, as well as the efficient operation of the train service, has been provided. The second floor of the main building, which is reached by a stairway from the main entrance vestibule, is devoted principally to the Company's offices and a museum in which an interesting and instructive exhibit of Canada's natural resources will be open to the public. The office corridors and museum surround the ticket lobby and are separated therefrom by glass partitions which afford a splendid view of the lobby as well as provide an abundance of light and air. Rooms for the conductors and trainmen with stairway direct from the midway are also provided on this floor. The decorative scheme of the interior is simple and artistic. The motifs in the richly colored faience depict and symbolize elements of the national life, the Tudor rose, shamrock, thistle, fleur de lys, dolphin and trident are freely used and intertwined. The ceiling light over the ticket lobby contains the provincial shields and a map of the North American continent showing the Canadian Pacific Railway lines from coast to coast. The large window over the main entrance, which helps to light the ticket lobby contains the arms of the seven great men of Canadian history, viz.—Montmagny, the first Governor of Canada—1638-1647; DeTracy, Viceroys of Canada—1665; Beaulieu, Governor of Canada—1726-1747; Montcalm and Wolfe, the famous French and English generals whose names are familiar to all; Frontenac, Governor of Canada—1672; and Talon, the first Intendant of New France—1665-1672. The building was designed by H. E. Pringle, architect, of Montreal, and erected by the Downing Cook Company of Montreal, under the supervision of D. H. Mapes, Engineer of Buildings of the C.P.R. In the construction of the building, which rests on 430 concrete piles, 400 tons of structural steel, 2,000 yards of reinforced concrete, 400,000 common brick, 75,000 exterior face brick, 125,000 interior face brick, and 10,000 cubic feet of exterior cut-stone, were used. Local labor and materials have been employed wherever possible; the concrete pile foundations were driven by the McArthur Pedestal Pile Company; the structural work was done by the Argenteuil quarries and the limestone for the Deschambault quarries. The interior marble and terrazzo work was done by the Mississippi Marble Co.; the ornamental iron by the Dominion Architectural Iron Works. The plumbing and heating were installed by Vandry and Mattie, the electrical work by the L. K. Gostcock Company, and the clocks by the Self Winding Clock Company. The woodwork throughout, of which, however, there is but a little, is Canadian birch, the railway company having recently adopted the policy of using Canadian woods exclusively for the finish of its buildings and cars. While the Station is the dominating feature of the improvements made by the Canadian Pacific, notice should be taken of the new freight office building and sheds constructed north of the station last year, the new power house located just west of the station and the rearrangement of the coach yard, all of which has been done on the same comprehensive scale as, and in keeping with, the station building. Quebec can well be proud of its new station, which in design, finish and appointments is second to none in Canada.

OVERCOME BY GAS IN WELL

Foul gas in a 60 foot well was yesterday the cause of the death of Thomas Watkins, of Milldale, the catastrophe occurring at the farm of Mr. Thomas Hillyard, Bookton. Watkins, was descending the well, when he was overcome by the gas which filled the place, and fell twenty-five feet to the bottom. When the body was recovered by means of grappling irons, life was extinct. The deceased leaves to mourn his sad loss a wife and five small children.

Baltimore, Aug. 16.—Montreal and Baltimore divided honors in yesterday's double-header, the Orioles winning the first game 10 to 9 and the Royals taking the second, 4 to 1. The first game was a slugfest, with the Royals continuing to hit the ball hard and won easily. Scores: First Game. Montreal . . . 231000300—9 4 0 Baltimore . . . 050010012—10 14 3

WON IN TWELFTH. Newark, Aug. 16.—Buffalo beat Newark yesterday in an exciting 12-inning contest, 5 to 4. Buffalo went to bat in the ninth inning three runs behind and Enright, who had been pitching first-class ball, weakened and was hit hard, Buffalo tying the score and chasing Enright to cover. The Bisons bunched hits on Enzmann in the 12th for the winning run. Score: R. H. E. Buffalo . . . 000100003001—5 10 0 Newark . . . 00020100000—4 15 4

PROVIDENCE BUNCHED HITS. Providence, Aug. 16.—Providence bunched hits with Toronto's errors in the second inning of yesterday's game, scoring four runs, and winning the game by the final score of 6 to 2. Score: R. H. E. Toronto . . . 000000020—2 5 4 Providence . . . 040010105—6 6 1

HIT LEAKE HARD. Richmond, Aug. 16.—Rochester won from Richmond yesterday, 5 to 3, by hitting Leake hard throughout the game. Score: R. H. E. Rochester . . . 010010021—5 11 0 Richmond . . . 010100001—3 7 1

RUDOLPH TRIMS LEAGUE LEADERS

Braves Make It Three Out of Four from the Brooklyn Team.

PHILLIES BEAT THE GIANTS.

Pirates Defeat St. Louis Twice, Each Time by One Run.

Brooklyn, Aug. 16.—Boston made it three out of four from Brooklyn by winning yesterday, 4 to 1. The victory put the Braves within two-and-a-half games of the lead. Rudolph and Marquard were both hit hard, but the former was invincible with men on the bases. Konechey's double, a sacrifice and long fly gave the Braves their first run in the second. They added another in the fourth, when Magee singled and Konechey again doubled. An out scored Magee. Singles by McCarty and Wheat, a sacrifice and an out gave the Dodgers their lone run in the fifth, while Boston went ahead adding to their score. Blackburn tripled to open the seventh, and Collins, who ran for him, scored on a fly. The final run was scored in the eighth, when Konechey smashed out his third hit, a triple, and Smith brought him in with a clean single. Score: R. H. E. Boston . . . 010100110—4 10 0 Brooklyn . . . 000010000—1 10 0

Batteries—Rudolph, Blackburn and Trageser; Marquard and Meyers. At Philadelphia.—Al Demaree, who makes a fine art of defeating the Giants, did it yesterday for the second time in the present series, 1 to 0. The victory made four straight for the Phillies over McGraw's team. The only run was scored in the first, and was the result of an error. With two men out, Byrne walked, went to third on Cravath's single, and the two essayed a double-strike. Koehler threw the ball to centre field, Byrne scoring easily. Teareau held the Phillies to two hits, but Demaree allowed only three, and was never in trouble. In the fourth inning Whitted made a sensational catch of a long liner from Robertson's bat. Score: R. H. E. New York . . . 000000000—0 3 2 Philadelphia . . . 10000000X—1 2 0

Batteries—Teareau and Koehler; Demaree and E. Burns. At St. Louis.—Three runs in eight-inning netted the Pirates yesterday. It was 1 to 0 in the first and 2 to 1 in the second. In the first battle Carey scored the only run in the opening inning. He walked, went first, and stole third. A single by Hinchman scored him. In the second game McCarthy was hit in the sixth, went to second on an infield out, tied it for the Cardinals in the eighth, but in the ninth Baird singled, went to third on Ames' wild throw and scored on Carey's single. The scores: First game—R. H. E. Pittsburgh . . . 100000000—1 5 1 St. Louis . . . 000000000—0 6 1

Batteries—Harmon and Schmidt; Meadows, Ames and Snyder. Second game—R. H. E. Pittsburgh . . . 000001001—2 10 0

JOHNSON LOST TO "BABE" RUTH

13-Innings Game Went to League Leaders—Philadelphia Lost Again.

Boston, Aug. 16.—Babe Ruth triumphed over Walter Johnson by 1 to 0 in thirteen innings yesterday in the last game the Senators will play here this season. Johnson spilled the beans himself when in the final inning he went after Barry's short pop which would have been an easy chance for McBride. As it was, the ball caromed off Johnson's glove and went for a hit. Lewis fanned but Walker singled, Barry going to 3rd. Gardner scored him with his third hit of the day. The Red Sox will raise the world's championship pennant to-day between games of a double-header with the White Sox. Score: R. H. E. Washington . . . 000000000000—0 8 1 Boston . . . 000000000001—1 7 3

Batteries: Johnson and Ainsmith; Ruth and Thomas. At New York.—Home runs by Pipp and Peckinpah enabled the Yankees to defeat the Athletics yesterday by 6 to 2. Pipp's circuit drive came in the third inning, scoring two men ahead of him, while Peckinpah's, which came in the seventh, also brought Shawkey in. Shawkey held the Athletics to four hits, while Williams, the young Collegian, was pounded freely. Score: R. H. E. Philadelphia . . . 00001001—2 4 0 New York . . . 00301020X—6 12 1

Batteries: Williams and Haley; Shawkey and Nunamaker. BROOKLYN BUY PLAYERS. Brooklyn, Aug. 16.—President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn Nationals, today announced that he had purchased Outfielder Laurence Miller, infielder J. T. Sheehan, and first baseman Warren Adams, all of Winnipeg. MAY GO TO DENVER. Pittsburgh, Aug. 16.—Babe Adams, veteran pitcher, recently released by the Pirates, is negotiating with Ebbets Oaken, manager of the Denver Western League club, for a place on the payroll, and may land. BASEBALL FLIES. A great all-around bone was pulled in one of the games of the Oakland-Portland series, and managers, umpires and everybody connected, let it get by. With a runner on third base, Martin, pitcher for Oakland, walked a batter by tossing four balls to the first baseman. Each ball so thrown was a balk, under the rules. The runner on third should have scored, and the score would have tied the game. "Rube Oldring returns to the Yankees" may sound odd, but it is absolutely correct. It was in 1905 or about then, that Clark Griffith, then managing the Yankees, was hard put for an outfielder, and Connie Mack, always a willing soul, loaned Rube to Griff. Griffith used him over his emergency and sent him back to the Yankees. The suspicion that attaches to John McGraw among other National League managers, because of his alleged habit of making players of rival teams dissatisfied and thus destroying their effectiveness, is illustrated in remarks by a Pittsburgh writer, who expresses the hope that the boost given Al Marmax by McGraw will not have the usual bad effect. So far Marmax has not complained of either hotel beefsteaks or bedbugs, a la Saffee, but one never can tell. If the Marmont wonder should decide that Pittsburgh is giving him the worst of it and doesn't appreciate him, it won't be forgotten that McGraw sold some time before that Al is a great pitcher—and that he would like to have him for the Giants.

Hook Warner, the third baseman sold by Dayton to the Pittsburgh Pirates, may be a good ball player, but he has something to learn about discipline. Recently he took French leave and was gone from the club two days, just when his services were needed most. He can't get away with much of that in the big show.

THE KING TO HIS ARMY

London, Aug. 16.—King George has issued the following order to his army in France:

"It has been a great pleasure and satisfaction to me to be with my army during the past week. I have been able to judge for myself the splendid condition for war and the spirit of cheerful confidence animating all ranks, united in loyal co-operation to their chiefs and to one another. Since my last visit to the front there has been almost uninterrupted fighting on parts of our line, and the offensive recently begun has since been resolutely maintained day and night. I had the hope visiting some scenes of the later desperate struggles and of appreciating to a slight extent the demands upon your courage and physical endurance necessary in order to assault and capture positions prepared during the past two years and stoutly defended to the last. I realized not only the splendid work done in immediate touch with the enemy, in the air, under the ground, as well as on the ground, but also by the vast organization behind the fighting line, honorable alike to the genius of the initiators and to the hearts and hands of the workers. Everywhere there is proof that all men and women are playing their part. I rejoice to think that their noble efforts are being heartily seconded by all classes at home. The happy relations maintained by the armies with those of our French allies are equally noticeable between my troops and the inhabitants of the districts in which they are quartered, and from whom they have received a cordial welcome ever since their first arrival in France. Do not think that I, your fellow-countryman, will forget the heavy sacrifices the armies have made and the bravery and endurance they have displayed in just two years of bitter conflict. These sacrifices have not been in vain. The arms of the allies will never be laid down until our cause has triumphed. I return home more than ever proud of you. May God guide you to victory."

IRELAND AS A NAVAL BASE

Self Government in That Island Might Possibly Embarrass Britain.

H. C. Ferraby, naval correspondent of the London Daily Express, writes as follows in that paper: Although the naval centre of gravity in this war is the Dogger Bank, the Atlantic is not wholly being displaced from its historic position in the strategic distribution of the British ships-of-war. The navy and all students of naval affairs are keenly alive to the importance of the present suggestions for the self-government of part of Ireland, in so far as those suggestions may lead to a change in legal control of certain important stretches of coast line. It is not necessary to assume that any change of control would necessarily endanger the navy's free use of any bay or harbors in self-governed Ireland. That would be to do an injustice to the loyal majority of the Irish population. At the same time, if once the local control of the shores passes out of the hands of the imperial authorities, an element of complexity will be introduced into the naval and civilian relations, which may develop into an unfortunate position at some time of emergency.

Ideal Bases. We have had so little occasion to refer publicly to Irish harbors and anchorages during the war that it has been largely forgotten that some of the best mooring grounds for modern fleets of heavy ships are to be found around the Irish coast. The British east coast is badly adapted for harboring such herds of ships as Sir John Jellicoe has under his command, and if he could change the respective positions on the Mercator projector of Yorkshire and Mayo, Norfolk and Connamara, and Suffolk and Galway, he would willingly do so. Twenty-five years ago the waters round Ireland were used for manoeuvres by the old-time Channel Squadron, Bantry Bay and Blackrod Bay were their respective bases. One year, when the late Sir George Tryon was in command of one fleet, he was known as the Admiral of Achill. His opponent of that year had one of his bases in Lough Swilly, a magnificent natural harbor for ships of all sizes. Berehaven, in the south, with its twelve fathoms of water and its hill-sheltered haven, was the other. Haulbowline has been a naval dockyard since the middle of the Victorian era, and has been put to good use that cannot be too minutely explained during this war.

Land Defences. Bantry Bay is four miles across and offers a safe anchorage for the largest vessels. Sligo Bay, too, is well sheltered, and Blackrod has frequently attracted attention, though they have never yet been developed. There was much talk a few years ago of developing Galway, both as a naval port and as a harbor for trans-Atlantic steamers. Effective land defences, in both Galway and Bantry Bay, would not be difficult to devise. Bere Island, which lies across the entrance to Bantry Bay, is an admirable site for anti-torpedo-craft batteries, while the Aran Islands, off the mouth of Galway Bay, and the several islets nearer to the harbor form an almost impenetrable chain of defences—if, after this war, we are still of opinion that any defence except mine fields is needed for naval bases.

NEW TELESCOPE LARGEST IN WORLD

72-Inch Reflecting Apparatus Designed for Dominion Government.

TO BE USED IN OBSERVATORY.

Which Is Established at Victoria, B.C.—Weighs 55 Tons.

The great 72-inch reflecting telescope designed and constructed for the Dominion Astronomical Observatory at Victoria, B.C., ranks in size as the largest yet completed in the world. In design the telescope is a reflector 6 feet in diameter with an equatorial type of mounting, having the main or polar axis pointing towards the north star and swinging the body of the telescope in a plane parallel to the earth's equator and the apparent paths of the stars; and a declination axis at right angles to and passing through the centre of the polar axis, to allow movement north and south. The instrument weighs 55 tons, and will rest upon massive piers of reinforced concrete. The polar axis is 23 feet long and weighs 10 tons. The declination axis weighs 5 tons, is 14-1/2 feet long, 15-1/2 inches in diameter, carrying a flange 41 inches in diameter and 4 inches thick, to which the body of the telescope is attached. The tube is 31 feet long in three sections, and weighs 12 tons. The central cylindrical casting is 12-1/2 feet in diameter, 6 feet long, and weighs 7 tons. The mirror cell, weighing with counterpoises and mirror six tons, forms the lower end, while to the upper end is firmly attached the rigid skeleton tube, made of structural steel in tension. The skeleton portion of the tube is 23 feet long, 7-1/2 feet in diameter and weighs with attachments about tons.

Driven by Clock
A driving clock similar in design to that which has been so successful in the Elkh and Yerkes telescopes, moves the telescope east or west with great precision, through an accurately cut worm wheel 9 feet in diameter mounted on the polar axis. The telescope is moved from one position to another, and is set and guided wholly by electric motors. Seven motors with solenoids and magnetic clutches are provided for these motors. With the focal length of 108 feet the guiding speed necessary for a star image is 1-300 inch per second.

The observer, at either the upper or lower ends of the tube can clamp or unclamp the telescope, make the fine settings and guide the telescope by means of push buttons on a portable key board kept at a convenient place.

Weights 43 Tons
The engineering and mechanical problems involved in designing and constructing a telescope of such great proportions and accuracy will be apparent when considering the extreme rigidity necessary for carrying the optical parts invariably in their correct relative positions without strain, and at the same time so well poised and adjusted as to enable the telescope to be easily pointed towards and accurately set on any desired object, and to enable the whole massive mechanism, weighing 43 tons, to unvaryingly follow the motions of the stars, the sun, the moon, the planets and the comets all have different rates of motion to that provided for in the controlling mechanism.

The revolving dome is 66 feet in diameter, and is provided with double shutters having an opening 16 feet wide. Its weight is 120 tons. All of the movements of the dome, telescope wind shields, shutters, etc., are by means of electrical motors. The principal mirror is 73 inches in diameter 12 inches thick, and pierced with a hole in the centre. The mirror weighs 2-1/2 tons, yet it is so accurately poised that no flexure can distort its surface, which flowed with admiration and sympathy for William II. Though right in the midst of war, Mr. Chtcheglovatov, Minister of Justice, through the assistance of his colleague, Mr. Maklakov, of the Home Office, drew up a memorandum in which he did his utmost to prove "that the downfall of Germany would be the ruin of monarchic and conservative ideas; that the triumph of England and France would bring about the victory of democracy and radicalism, which, once Germany vanquished, would spread like an invincible stream throughout Europe and deluge our beloved motherland, sacred Russia."

FREE FROM TERRIBLE GRIP
"Nothing really separates Russia from Prussia," this memorandum said. And though the country was at war these two men had the management of Russia's affairs for one year. Another who continued to hold a position of confidence was General Miasoedov, who several years ago was publicly denounced as a person suspected of treachery, who had familiar relations with the German monarch. These facts, to which one could add indefinitely, are evidence of the firm hand with which Germany judged with Russia. Yet Russia succeeded in freeing itself from this terrible grip. Russia was saved by the Russian people, peasant and artisan, merchant and manufacturer, officer, seppoiar, and commander, all united in the one faith—a faith that was semi-religious.

SECRETS KNOWN TO TEUTONS
In the east and far west Russian diplomacy more often than not has worked hand in hand with German diplomacy. This will explain Germany's influence over Russian policy. The German ambassador in Petrograd, Count Portales, and the military attaché (honored by the personal favor of the Czar) were sometimes better informed than the Russian generals of what was happening—especially of what was not happening—in the army. Paul Miloyoukov has started in parliament during the period of tension of 1908-1909 the Austrian chancellor, Baron d'Arenventhal, daily received from Petrograd the most minute and exact information on the intentions of the Russian cabinet, the weakness of the army and the attitude of public opinion. Thus war daily the Austrian chancellor played a winning game. One of the principal informants of Wilhelmstrasse was Schwannebach, chief comptroller-general and member of the cabinet council, one of the highest officials in Russia. Order of the situation of the empire he sent the first copy to Berlin.

GERMAN-BORN GENERALS
Among the superior officers of the army were many tainted with Germanism. The annual military directory during the last few years contained the names of 144 generals of German nationality, exclusive of those who, though of German nationality, had accepted the Greek orthodox faith. Russian reactionists looked with favor on the German invasion of their country. Even after the outbreak of war the press representing the extreme right, the Conservative party, over-

Nagasaki, Aug. 16.—An outbreak of cholera here has resulted in 48 deaths. One hundred and nine cases have so far been recorded. A despatch from Yokohama on August 5, stated that there were 52 cases of cholera in that port and that Tokio had declared a quarantine against the city. The Japanese steamer Hawaii Maru, bound for Tacoma, was quarantined with 15 cases of cholera on board. The ship was later released and called for Tacoma on August 10.

Strike on in Quebec

By Special Wire to the Courier.
The strike is still on with the Asbestos mine workers here. At a meeting of the local union yesterday it was decided not to accept an offer made by the companies of 25 cents per day increase. They now hold out for $2.50. The members of the International Union were ready to return, but the local union would not allow them to do so and threatened that trouble might follow if they attempted to do so.

State: Mr. Chtcheglovatov, Minister of Justice, and the proctor of the Holy Synod were removed. Gen. Southonov, Minister of War, also was removed, as were other generals under suspicion, who boasted that they directed operations without anger against an enemy with whom they sympathized. To-day it seems as if ancient, autocratic Russia were really dead; as if Czar Nicholas II. had killed it.

GOVERNMENT IN FAVOR OF HYDRO RADIA

Nickel Will Be Refined Ontario and Profits Company Taxed.

HOT SHOT FOR MR. McLEA

Temperance Law Not R and Can Be Altered Next Session of House

Toronto, Aug. 16.—Vict clear and convincingly Hon. Lucas and Hon. Howard Ferguson might set forth the position of Ontario Government in regard to issues in the Southwest Toronto election. Facing a large audience in Royal Templars Hall, an audience first disposed to be critical of the government but later enthusiastic in approving of the ministers' statements, they met criticisms of Government's attitude in regard to prohibition, hydro extension, nickel industry.

The Points
Overshadowing all else in the fsters' addresses were announcements upon three points: That the Government while in its policy to submit the question of permanent prohibition to the ple did not regard the present tariff Temperance Act as one which could not be changed in details a substantial way when the House met again. That the Government was blocking the purchase of radial way rights of way, and had sent the Hydro-Electric Commission an order-in-council authorizing the purchase of a right-of-way Toronto to Dundas for the purpose of new transmission lines and a dial railway.

Nickel Question

GOVERNMENT IN FAVOR OF HYDRO RADIALS

Nickel Will Be Refined in Ontario and Profits of Company Taxed.

HOT SHOT FOR MR. McLEAN.

Temperance Law Not Rigid and Can Be Altered at Next Session of House.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—Vigorous clear and convincing Hon. I. B. Lucas and Hon. Howard Ferguson to-night set forth the position of the Ontario Government in regard to the issues in the Southwest Toronto by-election.

Facing a large audience in the Royal Templars Hall, an audience at first disposed to be critical and troublesome but later enthusiastically approving of the ministers' statements, they met criticisms of the Government's attitude in regard to prohibition, hydro extension and nickel industry.

The Points Overshadowing all else in the ministers' addresses were announcements upon three points:

That the Government while firm in its policy to submit the question of permanent prohibition to the people did not regard the present Ontario Temperance Act as one that could not be changed in details or in a substantial way when the House met again.

That the Government was not blocking the purchase of radial railway rights of way, and had just sent to the Hydro-Electric Commission an order-in-council authorizing the purchase of a right-of-way from Toronto to Dundas for the purpose of new transmission lines and a radial railway.

Nickel Question

That not only would nickel be refined in Ontario in the future but that next session legislation would be introduced that would impose upon the nickel industry taxation in accordance with the profits derived from the product of Ontario's mines and that that taxation would be made retroactive.

Mr. Ferguson, who discussed the nickel question, gave the audience the fullest opportunity to ask questions. His address was in marked good temper until he came to deal with the charges that the Ontario Government was permitting Germany to set Ontario nickel. Then he unbent himself of some of the feelings the unfair criticism had stirred up.

He condemned the men who had knowingly circulated the slander and referring directly to W. F. MacLean characterized him as a man "knowing the truth had repeated constantly 'A slander and a base lie.' 'It is a base slander,' he said. 'To say that Premier Hearst is in different to whether Canadian nickel finds its outlet in the bodies of Canadian boys it is a cruel, heartless statement for any man to make and I want to say to his traducers that if nickel finds lodgment in the bodies of Canadian boys it is more likely to find lodgment in the bodies of Mr. Hearst's two boys, both of whom are in the trenches, than it is in the bodies of any of the MacLean family that I know anything about.'

The minister in dealing with nickel taxation declared that the way had been found to devise a new method of taxing the mining output of the province so that it would contribute as it should to carrying on the affairs of the province and lightening the load of taxation in other ways. That taxation, in respect to the nickel industry would be made retroactive just as was the taxation of the miner of finance and would give the province a fair share of the great profits the nickel industry had been making.

KING GEORGE VISITS TRENCHES, SEES WHERE ADVANCE IS MADE

Went Over Ground Recently Held by the Germans Before the Somme Offensive—Saluted the Inscription to an "Unknown British Soldier"—Anzacs Coming From the Trenches Gave Him Hearty Cheers

With the British Army in France, Aug. 16.—King George has been at the front for a week. He left to-day for England, and his departure was the first information that the majority of the troops had of his presence. As a matter of precaution the visit was kept a secret, and there was no display or big reviews as on the occasion of his visit last Fall.

The King simply went about, seeing all sections of the army at work and the fields it had won. The flutter of a bit of bunting the Royal coat-of-arms as a motor car sped along the road in clouds of dust and motor-truck drivers and passing battalions started and looked around, exclaiming, "The King!" The Prince of Wales was with the King all the time. The monarch was dressed in khaki with the crossed batons of a field marshal on his shoulders, and the Prince wore the uniform of a lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards. Neither wore any decorations, and but for their features, which were immediately recognized everywhere, they might have been taken for two of a party of officers making a round of inspection.

At one point on the line the King and General Sir Henry Rawlinson, commander of the Fourth Army, which delivered the main attack, and Major-General Congreve, whose corps struck Montauban and Macoris. Alighting from his automobile near Fricourt, the King went in to the first line British trenches, from which the British made their charge. "Now all will breast the parapet as my men did," he said, mounting it. He walked across the old No Man's Land and saw the maze of fortifications and trenches which the British had wrested from the Germans. Standing on the edge of a big shell crater the King looked through a sailor's telescope he was carrying, across the foreground of desolation toward Pozieres, the Bazentin, Longueval and Delville Wood. He watched the curls of black smoke which signified that the German guns were busy, while nearby him a battery of British guns was sending screaming answers. "You seem to have missed that," he said to General Rawlinson, indicating a siver of wall still standing in Mametz. "But there is nothing that is not down in La Boisselle, as you will see, your Majesty," said Gen. Rawlinson. "We improve as we advance."

When the King wanted to descend one of the deep German dugouts Gen. Rawlinson warned him that they had not all been cleaned out yet, and when the King came back up the steps sniffing, he said: "It smells pretty strong." Remarkable on the depth and spaciousness of the dugouts, with their beds, tables and chairs, he said to some soldiers of a reserve battalion stationed at that point: "Evidently the Germans expected to make a long stay, but you gave them a surprise, and they are not so comfortable now."

A Dramatic Moment. A dramatic moment occurred as the King was walking across a field swept by a British charge. He came to a grave at the bottom of a shell crater with a cross bearing the inscription: "Unknown British Soldier." Both the King and the Prince of Wales halted and saluted the King to come here," said one of the soldiers, "and if Fritz only knew it wouldn't he begin a strife with his guns. As it is Whistling Percy might let loose any minute." Whistling Percy is the name for a noisy shell from the German guns.

In common with all visitors the King took away some souvenirs in the shape of empty shell cases and bits of wire and other equipment. As he was leaving the field the soldiers of the reserves, the transport men, gunners with their shells and others in the neighborhood followed him until there was a large crowd around the party before they entered their automobile. Somebody called for three cheers for the were not scared when you fought the Germans," he was told. "No, I know how to act when I meet Germans, but not when in the presence of kings."

"I believe I have found my youngest soldier," exclaimed the King when he saw a 12-year-old boy among the Northampton. But little Joseph Lefevre was not English. He is the son of a dead Belgian soldier, and was found wandering alone under shell fire at Ypres, adopted by the battalion and placed on its rolls. He told his story in French to the King, and said: "They will not let me go up to fight, but keep me back with the transport." The King said: "As I was going to suggest, and being a soldier, you will have to obey orders."

Greeted by Australians

If there could be said to be any review, it was an informal one. When the King went to call on Gen. Birdwood, he met a battalion of Australians, who were just coming out of the trenches after taking Pozieres Ridge. With their steel helmets back on their heads, their shirts open at the neck, their skins tanned as Indians, their clothes rent and streaked with earth stains, they lined the road and gave him an Australian cheer.

Gen. Joffre came over from his headquarters and President Poincare came from Paris to take lunch with King George and Sir Douglas Haig. On Sunday King George lunched with King Albert of the Belgians. Throughout the week a moving picture man was doing his best to keep up with the King while the diffident Prince of Wales was noticeably proficient in slipping out of the picture just as the operator began turning the crank. Not the least of the many scenes with dramatic appeal during the King's visit was that on the quay when the King landed. He was received by a guard of honor from a battalion of the King's Royal Rifles, 75 per cent of whom had been wounded.

LETIMBRO SURVIVORS CAPTURED BY ARABIS

Rome, Aug. 16.—A Tripoli despatch reports that one of the missing lifeboats of the steamer Letimbro, sunk by an Austrian submarine, reached the coast of North Africa with eight survivors who had been given up for dead, but that the entire party was captured by Arabian rebels and carried into the interior. A rescue expedition is being formed to effect the release of the prisoners, who include one or two women.

RAILWAY COLLISION

By Special Wire to the Courier. Pittsburgh, Aug. 16.—Three trainmen were killed, three seriously injured and four slightly hurt, when two heavy freight trains, each drawn by two engines, came together in a head-on collision on the Pittsburgh and Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, at Vanice, Pa., early to-day. All traffic was tied up for several hours. The dead are J. W. Eustice, engineer; C. D. Hutchinson and C. R. Wright, firemen, all of Pittsburgh.

The Dominion Steel Products Company, Ltd.

Public notice is hereby given that under the First Part of Chapter 79 of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1906, known as "The Companies Act," letters patent have been issued under the Seal of the Secretary of State of Canada, bearing date the 25th day of July, 1916, incorporating Willoughby Staples Brewster and George Davey, Heyd, barristers-at-law, Belle Roberts Brewster, married woman, Mae Forestelle McGraw, stenographer, and Roy Thomas McGraw, contractor, all of the City of Brantford, in the Province of Ontario.

(a) To carry on the business of manufacturing, selling and dealing in all kinds of articles made from metal or wood, including all kinds of machinery, machine supplies, tools, shells, guns, munitions and implements of war, and all articles and commodities in which steel, iron, brass, copper or any kind of metal or wood forms a part:

(b) To buy, sell, manufacture and deal in machinery, implements, conveniences, provisions and things capable of being used in connection with the manufacturing and other operations which the company may carry on or be interested in or required by workmen and others employed by the company;

(c) To buy, sell or deal in all such articles and goods as the company may consider capable of being conveniently dealt in relation to establish, equip, maintain and operate factories for manufacturing articles and goods for any or all of the above mentioned purposes;

(d) To carry on any other business (whether manufacturing or otherwise) which may seem to the company capable of being conveniently carried on in connection with or in aid of the other business or to indirectly enhance the value of or render profitable any of the company's property or rights.

(e) To enter into any arrangements with any authorities, municipal, local or otherwise that may seem conducive to the company's objects or any of them, and to obtain from any such authority any rights, privileges and concessions which the company may obtain and to carry out exercise and comply with any such arrangements, rights, privileges and concessions;

(f) To purchase, take on lease or otherwise acquire, any personal property and any rights or privileges in connection with the company's business and to carry out exercise and comply with any such arrangements, rights, privileges and concessions;

(g) To construct, improve, maintain, work, manage, carry out or control any roads, ways, tramways, branches or sidings, bridges, reservoirs, watercourses, wharves, marks, factories, warehouses, electric works, and other works and other works and conveniences which may seem calculated directly or indirectly to advance the company's interest and to contribute to, subsidize or otherwise assist or take part in the construction, improvement, maintenance, working, management, carrying out or control thereof;

(h) To sell or dispose of the undertaking of the company or any part thereof in such consideration as the company may think fit and in particular for shares, debentures or securities of any other company having objects altogether of a part similar to those of the company;

(i) To prosecute, amalgamate with, or enter into any arrangement for sharing of profits, the union of interests, reciprocal concession or otherwise with any other company or company carrying on or about to carry on business similar to that of the company or auxiliary thereto; to advance money or to guarantee the contract of any other company or company carrying on business with this company or indebted to it, and to invest any of the monies of the company in the shares of any other company carrying on a similar business;

(j) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 44 of the Act to subscribe for, receive, purchase or otherwise acquire the shares or securities of any company carrying on a similar business or to accept the same in whole or in part payment or discharge of the price or consideration of the sale, lease, concession or other disposal of any property, rights or debts which may be held, enjoyed by or due to this company; and such shares or securities to hold, vote upon, sell, re-issue or otherwise deal with as this company may see fit;

(k) To purchase, lease, exchange or otherwise acquire and possess and deal in all movable and immovable property which the company may deem necessary or useful for its business or operations, including trade marks, designs, patents, patent rights, licenses, franchise or other rights and privileges of any kind whatsoever;

(l) To issue shares of the company, common or preferred, in payment for property acquired by, or with the approval of the shareholders for services rendered to the promoters in connection with the incorporation and organization of the company, or for franchise, options, contracts or other rights, benefits or privileges;

(m) To do all or any of the above things authorized by the Letters Patent as principals, agents, contractors or otherwise, either alone or in conjunction with others;

(n) The powers in each of the foregoing clauses to be in no wise limited or restricted by reference to or inference from the terms of any other clause.

The operations of the company to be carried on throughout the Dominion of Canada and elsewhere by the name of "The Dominion Steel Products Company, Limited," with a capital stock of five hundred thousand dollars, divided into 5,000 shares of one hundred dollars each, and the chief place of business of the said company to be at the City of Brantford, in the Province of Ontario.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

On August 9th, at the home of Mrs. A. Sharp, the regular meeting of Moyle Tranquility Women's Institute took place, with about 50 members present. The meeting opened by singing "O Canada." After the roll call was answered and the business for the day was transacted, the girls took entire charge of the meeting, with Miss Grace Brittain in the chair. The following program was given: Reading, by Miss Smith, of Paris; reading, by Miss Marjorie Osborne; instrumental solo and a paper on sensible and sanitary house dress, by Miss Isa Sharp and a demonstration in first dress, by Miss Kate Barrie. It was decided by the members to visit Tutela Institute in September. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Sanderson, River Road. Afternoon tea was served by the girls and the meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the hostess.

Sealed Tenders

Will be received by the Secretary of the Board of Education of the Town of Simcoe, Ont., up to noon August 30th for the various trades required in the erection of the two new school buildings. Plans and specifications may be obtained upon application to Chapman and McGiffin, 95 King St. E., Toronto. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.
