The breakdown in health, which House of Commons. suffered in September, 1919, was more serious than I realized at the time; eventually it compelled me to retire from the Premiership in July of last year. I am confident that if I had remained in the active duties of the Pre-miership for a few months longer I should have suffered a collapse from which it would have been impossible for me to

I am thankful, however, that my health has greatly improved during the past year, although I have not fully ecovered my strength.

After twenty-five years of very acive public service I feel that I am entitled to retire.

Will you be good enough to convey to our friends in Kings County my grateful thanks for the splendid support which they gave me in the election of 1917? It will always be a happy memory that in the closing years of my public career I had the honor of epresenting my native county.

It is my very earnest hope that the like support will be given by the electorate of Kings to the candidate who may be named as my successor in the representation of the county.

The Prime Minister undertook his duties in a very difficult period of re-construction, and although faced by nany grave problems he has given to the country an administration and a policy upon which no successful attack has yet been made. The issue that is to be determined at this election is of grave importance to the future of our country, and I trust that the same spirit which rallied our friends to my support in 1917 will animate them at this election

PROTECTION OF PLANTS FOR WINTER

(Experimental Farm Note.) A little protection will often bring plants safely through the winter, when, if they are left exposed, they may either be killed outright or badly injured and, in the case of fruit, the crop may be re duced. Plants are also protected from mice in winter. The plants usually protected from the weather are strawberries, raspderries, grapes and roses.

It has been found by experience that, although strawberries will often go safe mulched, there are winters when it pays well to have the plants protected by a light mulch as in such winters if the mulch is not there the plants will be killed. In mulching strawberries the plan is to wait until hard frost or just before winter sets in, and then spread a light covering of loose straw over the plants. All that is necessary in most places is enough to prevent siudden thawing and freezing, or just enough to cover the plants. A thick mulch may do more harm than good. The cleaner the straw the last work there will be in eradicating weeds next summer. Marsh hay, where it can be obtained, is good as it is comparatively free of weed seeds, and it will not lie foo compactly over the plants.

Where raspberries are injured in the winter, they will be much protected and will, taking one year with another, come through much better if the canes are bent over just before winter sets in and the tips held down with soil. The snow will cover them sooner than if they are not bent down. Where there is very little snow and the winters are very cold it has been found desirable entirely to cover the canes with soil.

Except in districts where the grapes can be grown commercially, it is necesssary to, protect the vines to ensure a crop. A few days before the ground is expected to freeze up, the vines, having been previously pruned, are bent down and covered with soil, which is left on until the following. May as it is sorted. until the following May as it is spring frost which may cause the loss of the Roses must be protected in most places in Canada to help ensure their coming through the winter alive, and protection is not always successful. The most reliable method of protection is to cover the plant with soil. Where this is not easily or possible, the base of the plant can be mounded up with soil. to a height of twelve inches or more, and the top then bent over and held down with soil. Then if boughs or leaves are thrown over the top to help collect the snow and give greater protection it is desirable. In the case of climbing roses, a good plan is to cover them with a box filled with dry leaves, making the top water tight so the leaves will keep dry.

Each winter many trees are injured beyond recovery in Canada by mice. This can be prevented by wrapping the trunks of the trees with building paper just before winter sets in, having the paper come close to the ground and putt-ing a little earth about the lower end of the paper so they will not get at the tree from below. Mice will not usually eat through the paper and, as in most cases they are close to the ground, the paper need not be more than eighteen inches to two feet high. The paper should be tied after wrapping so that it

Curiously worded advertisements, that are funny without intent, are common in the London papers, it would seem. A contemporary recently offered a prize says the Manchester Guardian, for the best collection of such announcements, and the following is the result:

"Annual sale now on. Don't go else-where to be cheated—come in here."

"A lady wants to sell her piano, a she is going abroad, in a small iron frame." "Wanted-a room by two gentlemen about thirty feet long and twenty feet

ELECTION RESULTS OF THE PAST

With the election now announced for December 6th, a brief summary of election results since 1872 will be of interest to readers of THE ACADIAN,

In the House of 1867 the Conserva tives had 101 members, and the Liber-Other contests gave the following results

1872, Conservatives, 103; Liberals, 97. 1874, Liberals 133, Conservatives, 73. Conservatives, 137; Liberals, 69. Conservatives, 139; Liberals, 71. 1887, Conservatives, 122; Liberals, 93. 1891, Conservatives, 123; Liberals, 92. 1896, Liberals, 117; Conservatives, 89;

1900, Liberals, 128; Conservatives, 78; dents, 7. nual representation and Independents, 8. 1904, Liberals, 139; Conservatives, 76;

1911, Conservatives, 133; Liberals, 86;

Independents, 2. 1917, Government (Unionist), 153;

Opposition, 82.
Probably two of the most outstanding eneral elections, carrying with them the most striking results, were those when the Government of Sir John A. Mac-Donald was thrown from power follow-ing the publicity that was thrown on the deal which passed into Canadian history under the heading of the Pacific Scandal. If my early many instances, has its eye first upon the ambition had been realized I should probably be a member of the Association upon pernicious doctrines, adapted myself. The first work I ever did after I left college was to write for the local weekly in my native town, and I had the feeling then, which I have never lost, that the newspaper writer who could man who has a family, who sees a litt impress his individuality on his own more in labor than the living wage, who have the living wage, which was the living wage, whi immediate community would, through spends less than he earns, and lays natural processes, extend his influence until the things he had to say would be read throughout a wider territory. Each one of us has in mind local news Each one of us has in mind local lies. I wish papers, of which this is true, I wish there were more of them. I am sorry perhaps, but just as truly a capitalist the facilities for speedy thought as the head of a great bank thought as the head of a transportation have brought the metro politan dailies into such close touch that needeth not to be ashamed. I ask from all the people of Canada an earnest review of the real issue before Canada to-day. I as from men and women a calm, thoughtful consideration of serious public questions; and, so far as am concerned myself, I ask not favors but fairness."—ARTHUR MEIGHEN.

WOMEN OF CANADA, the coming General Election will be one of the most momentous in Canadian history, and Arthur Meighen asks YOU to give the issue fair, unbiassed consideration.

Women and men alike are called upon to decide whether political, industrial and economic stability is to be replaced by class rule, political and industrial chaos and possible economic bankruptcy.

The facts are clear, and every Canadian woman will do her own thinking. She will not be misled by others. She will not blindly follow family political precedent, neither will she be carried away by the false theories or empty "isms" of theorists and extremists. Every woman will arrive at a personal decision by the application of

The present Canadian Tariff, so far as it affects the necessaries of life, is a very moderate one. It is simply a tariff maintained to keep Canadian factories in Canada, employing a steadily increasing volume of Canadian labor and developing Canadian imperative than in the past. All other important countries are retaining or increasing their tariffs in order that they may hold their home markets for their own people.

Meighen stands firm for the continuance of a reasonable tariff. It is now even more

Under Crerar's Free Trade policy Canada would be swamped with foreign goods, psincipally from the United States, Canadian industry would be ruined, thousands of men and women would be out of work with all the hardships to themselves and their children that must result. The farmer's great honje market would be seriously affected, taxes would be increased, and Canadian working men would have to go to the United States for employment.

While King's Tariff policy is wobbly it nevertheless tends toward the destruction of the Tariff and would bring with it practically the same results.

MEIGHEN'S POLICY EVERYBODY KNOWS. It is the only means whereby confidence may be maintained and employment given to all classes of the people.

The foregoing is a plain statement of logical conclusions arrived at from the facts. Think the matter over carefully "without favor but with fairness".

On Tuesday evening the "Live Wires" (Tabernacle) held their weekly meeting in conjunction with the "Crusaders" (Anglican). After the devotional and business part of the meeting had been concluded a lively game of basket-ball was played between the two classes. This resulted in a win for the "Live Wires" by a score of 24 to 7 as two of the best players of the other classs were unavoidably absent.

It is hoped that a basket ball league may be formed between the boys classes of the different churches. The Scoutmaster has just received from Mr. Paul Tingley a very handsome cup to be used for competition among the Scouts in any way that he (the S.M.) may see fit. If such a league as suggested above can be formed Mr. Brown will put up this cup for annual competition.

The boys are not the only ones who are getting interested. Two of the girls classes of St. Johns' (Anglican) Sunday School are now organized. The Junior class; known as the S. S. S. Class met at the Boy Scout Club Room on Tuesday afternoon, and the Seniors, the Harmony Class, met on Wednesday evening at the
