The Fox Educational Board for good boys and girls. Educate your children while they play. The Sentence and Wordbuilder consists of 48 letters and pictures from which the groups of words and sentences may be built, separate, and rebuilt, while the child plays until his interest in spelling and in writing, as well as in the meaning of words, is forever rightly fixed. Introduce the Letters and easy Words slowly. As soon as the child gets acquainted with a few letters and words, and the process of Word Building, he will be able to build his own thoughts into words and sentences. The board is in the form of a circle, is strongly made, of a bright color and is nicely decorated. A most attractive looking game and one that will stand a lot of hard wear. The price is $1.75 each, and there are only ten in stock.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Ethel rose, intoxicated with her new born happiness, to meet Lady Lackland, who was seen approaching.

"Ah, Mr. Fairfax," said the countess, eying him suspiciously with a cold smile. "How good of you to take care of Lady Boisdale. I suppose you have been cooling yourselves. Ethel, my dear, the carriage is waiting: I don't know where your papa is."

There was a crush in the street, and while Bertie, bare-headed, was placing the ladies in the carriage the earl and Lord Fitz came up.

Mr. Murpoint was with them, serene and self-composed as usual, though the crush and confusion were bewildering.

"Here you are!" said the earl. "We were just going to look for you. Fitz has been seeing the Mildmay to their brougham."

Howard Murpoint closed the door as the two gentlemen entered the carriage and stood with his dark eyes, half closed, fixed upon Ethel.

Then the carriage, was on the move, and Bertie and Howard Murpoint stood looking after it.

Howard Murpoint regarded Bertie with a smile.

"You do not fear influenza," he said, nodding at the other's bare head.

"Eh? Oh, no," said Bertie. "I'll get my hat now, though."

And with a cool nod he strode into the hall again.

Howard Murpoint turned to make his way to his own brougham, and in doing so nearly knocked down a gentleman who was standing near him.

"Ha, Smythe," he exclaimed, "you here?"

"Eh? Yes," said the man, a short, nervous-looking creature, with fair, insipid face and timid, restless eyes. "Yes, just passing on my way to the club—and stopped to look in."

"Club!" said Howard Murpoint. "Better come home and coffee with me."

And he linked his arm within that of his acquaintance.

Wilhelm Smythe, for that was the name, or rather improved name—it had been William Smith—of the

"Eh?" said Mr. Smythe, scarcely catching the idea.

Then suddenly he saw what Mr. Howard Murpoint meant.

"I see!" he said. "I'll bet you—you a—five thousand."

The captain raised his eyebrows.

"I never bet," he said, "unless the stake is worth something. If I am to enter it in my book it must be twenty thousand."

Mr. Smythe hesitated—only for a moment.

"Twenty thousand be it," he said.

"If I marry Lady Ethel I pay you twenty thousand, and if I don't—"

"I pay you," said Mr. Murpoint, softly. "It's a wager."

And he held out his claw-like white hand.

Mr. Smythe rose, clasped it eagerly, and, after a fervent and excited "Good night," took his departure.

It was morning, bright, beaming morning, by that time, and Mr. Murpoint had too many great matters on hand to allow of his retiring to rest.

Instead he stepped into a cold bath which was ready for him in an adjoining room, and, dressing himself in his business suit of dark Oxford mixture with an imposing white waistcoat, made his way to his office in Pall Mall.

Seating himself in his chair in his own private room he touched a small bell.

In answer to the summons there entered a tall, thin and cadaverous-looking man with a small dispatch envy.

"Good-morning, Ridgett," said Mr. Murpoint.

The man bowed, and took from his portfolio a number of papers.

The captain went over them with a quick scrutiny and issued his instructions.

"You will proceed in this case, Mr. Ridgett," he said, throwing one letter over.

"Yes, sir. The woman is a widow, and very poor, and suffers from an incurable complaint."

"The office has nothing to do with that," said Mr. Murpoint. "We did not kill the husband, and we did not undertake to cure her complaint. She came into our hands of her own accord, and we simply demand the fees due us. You will proceed without delay. Have you bought up the L. debts yet?"

"Not all, sir," was the reply. "You instructed me to wait further commands."

"And as he concluded with the momentous question, he laughed with the keenest enjoyment and insolence.

"Wait no longer," said Mr. Murpoint, "but get as many of the Lackland bills together as you can. You understand?"

"Certainly," said Mr. Ridgett.

And, dismissed by a nod, he took his departure.

Scarcely had he gone when the small and weather-beaten face of the smuggler entered the room.

Job, who had often paid visits to the captain at various places, but never at the office, was awed for a moment by the grand furniture and piles of papers and documents.

"Mornin', captain—"

"Have you brought the account?" said Mr. Murpoint.

Job nodded, and produced a greasy bag, which he placed on the polished table.

The captain turned out the contents of the bag, and commenced counting the heap of gold and silver.

Then he examined an account which was made out on a dirty piece of paper Job had handed to him, looking up at last with a dark frown.

"How is this?" he said, in a low, stern voice. "There is some mistake. Here is only a third of the profits—there should be a half."

"There bein' no mistake, capt—sir," said Job, with an emphatic nod.

"They've sent all they means to send, and a hard job I had to get that. The boys say that they don't see the Justice like of one man—gentleman or no gentleman—taking half the swag when they've worked for the whole of it."

"Oh, they don't!" said Mr. Murpoint, with a soft smile. "Tell them that unless I have the remainder of the money by this time next week, and a fair half for the future, paid to the very day, I will peach upon the lot of them. Not a man shall escape me. The police shall know how the great smuggling trade is done and who does it. You tell them, will you, with my compliments?"

"I'll tell them," said Job, quietly.

"How Shall I Know I Have Kidney Trouble?"

Do just as every doctor does when he suspects that a patient has Kidney Trouble—EXAMINE YOUR URINE.

In the morning, see if the urine is highly colored—either reddish or deep orange. (Natural urine is a light straw color). Notice if the odor is strong or foul. If highly colored or offensive in odor, your kidneys are certainly in need of attention—and AT ONCE.

Get a box of GIN PILLS now, and take them regularly.

If you have a Pain In The Back—if the hands and feet swell—if you suffer with Rheumatism, Sciatica or Lumbago—if you have deposits of reddish matter like brick dust or mucus in the urine in the morning, you may be sure that your kidneys are not as strong as they should be, and need the help of GIN PILLS to well.

Crookston, Ont., Dec. 6th.

"A few years ago, I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism. I had frequently read that Gin Pills were effective in cases like mine. I got a box and after taking them for a short time, the twinges became less frequent until they finally disappeared. Rheumatism is a terrible affliction and it is a blessing to know of a remedy like Gin Pills that will take the sting out of the system and relieve the sufferings."

JOSEPH STEVENSON.

Don't put off this treatment. If your kidneys show any of the signs given above, you need Gin Pills. To delay taking them is only inviting Bright's Disease, Stone in the Bladder, chronic Rheumatism or some other terrible form of Kidney or Bladder Trouble.

Gin Pills are sold at all dealers—50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Gin Pills are "Made in Canada". Sold in U.S. under the name "GINO" Pills. Trial Treatment free if you write

"Any news from sea?"

"About Master Leicester?" asked Job, looking at the ground, with a sudden change of manner.

"Hush, no names," said Mr. Murpoint, cautiously.

"No, no news," replied Job. "He's dead by this time, I'm afraid."

"All the better," said Mr. Murpoint. "Dead or alive, he's safe."

"Ay," said Job, and, touching his forehead, he departed.

The captain leaned back in his chair and gave himself up to thought.

"Leicester Dodson is dead, or buried alive. Violet's money is in my hands; the earl and all his clan are in my power; I am master of thousands, some say millions; and the world calls me one of its greatest men. Who says that honesty is the best policy?"

And as he concluded with the momentous question, he laughed with the keenest enjoyment and insolence.

Falling Hair Means Dandruff Is Active

Save your hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine to-night—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—now half-grown—falling all over the scalp.

A SELF-INFLICTED BLOCKADE.

The Berlin decree expropriating grain and meats was a practical abandonment of the rights of conditional contraband and an admission that the Government had more faith in strong administrative measures at home than in its ability to replenish its stock of food from abroad. To this extent it is itself inflicted a blockade upon itself, for since all needed grain in Germany is Government grain, all grain on the seas consigned even to private persons at German ports is by the operation of the act of confiscation made Government grain and therefore contraband.—New York World.

Passing the Hat.

Passing the hat, passing the hat! Some one forever sets busy at that! Oh, it seems useless to struggle and strain, all our endeavor is hopeless and vain; when we have gathered a small, slender roll, hoping to lay in some cordwood or coal, hoping to purchase some flour and some spuds. Hoping to pay for the ready made duds, hoping to purchase a bone for the cat, some one comes cheerfully passing the hat! Passing the hat that the bums may be warm, passing the hat for some noble reform, passing the hat for the fellows who fail passing the hat to remodel the jail, passing the bonnet for this or for that, some one forever is passing the hat! Dig up your bundle and hand out your roll—if you don't give you are lacking a soul! What if the feet of your children are bare? What if your wife has no corset to wear? What if your granny is weeping for shoes? What if the grocer's demanding his dues? Some one will laugh at such logic as that, some one who's merrily passing the hat! Passing the hat for the pink lemonade, passing the hat for a moral crusade, passing the hat to extinguish the rat—some one forever is passing the hat!

German Naval Casualties Heavy.

Copenhagen, Feb. 6.—Approximately 15,000 German sailors and marines have been lost since the war broke out. Two naval casualty lists issued to-day contain respectively 1,178 and 1,089 names. Previous reports contained more than 12,000 names.

Fads and Fashions.

The new petticoats are specimens of soft transparent chiffons, voiles and lace.

Make a last season's lace blouse new by adding a vest and collar of charmeuse.

The dark high stocks have brought back the dainty little turnover collars.

Lingerie dresses are wonders of beauty with quantities of lace and embroidery.

White waists of Georgette crepe are embroidered in pretty fan and Dutch blue.

Collars which encircle the throat are seen on the smart street and afternoon gowns.

The newest vest gowns are fashioned in one, but they look like corsege and skirt.

There are small hats with crowns of straw and the close-fitting brim is entirely of flowers.

New semi-tailored waists fit smoothly over the bust and are then drawn snugly into the belt.

Little hatpins are especially designed for mourning millinery; they are short and a charming combination of small pearls and a dull jet.

The small fur necktie, worn with a small toque, is quite as correct and chic as the superb stoles of expensive skins.

Dainty muslin collars, berthas and ruffles, recalling the mid-Victorian days, are among novel neckwear for spring.

New crocheted scarfs are being done with irregular patterns which suggest the art nouveau designs from Vienna.

The flowered frock is with us with all its freshness. Combined with a plain material it is a frock of style and beauty.

It looks as though there might be a return to the quaint, simple gowns which were worn when luxury was considered bad taste.

The Parisian woman of good taste prefers fine linen batiste and nainsook for her undergarments, rather than any silks or crepes.

The war in Europe is responsible for the large amount of jet shown in jewelry. Other favorites are pearls, onyx, crystal and rhinestones.

COMPLETE ANARCHY REIGNS IN ALBANIA.

London, Feb. 7.—The following note has been issued by the Montenegrin consul-general here:

"Complete anarchy reigns in Albania, which is continually assailed by the intrigues of the Austrians and Young Turks. Albanian bands kill and pillage all Montenegrin subjects who are obliged to traverse Albanian territory. All the merchandise transported along the River Buna is confiscated and held at enormous ransom, despite the incontestable right of Montenegrin navigation of this river.

"The consular cabinet at Scutari is without authority over the Albanians, whose misdeeds against Montenegrin commerce grow daily."

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in.

"After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."

—Mrs. ORILLA BRADLEY, 284 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can.

Why will women take chances or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Fear Germans Got Lunenburg Vessel.

Lunenburg, Feb. 8.—The schooner W. Cortada, Captain Edwin Backman, left here on the 11th of January for Ponce, Porto Rico, with a cargo of dry and pickled fish from Zwicker and Co. The passage generally takes about fourteen days, and although the weather was fine and conditions were favorable, no word has been heard from the vessel since leaving the port and grave fears are ascertained by her safety.

The W. C. McKay, Captain Deal, left here on the 26th, and arrived at Ponce in nine days, which shows that the Cortada should have arrived, or if blown off reported before this time.

Although going to a neutral port and carrying a cargo from a British port, it is the opinion of ship owners that she has become a prey to a German cruiser. The vessel as two years old, and the Captain is one of the youngest and most progressive commanders best of this port.

TROUBLE BREWING IN BOHEMIAN CAPITAL.

The Governor, Newfoundland:

The French Government reports violent fighting in the Argonne near Bagatelle. The German attack was broken by artillery and infantry fire, with heavy losses on both sides.

The Russian Government reports four new German Army Corps concentrated in East Prussia. The Russians are retiring, holding the enemy in the Carpathians, the enemy's attacks were repulsed and more prisoners were captured.

Between the sea and the Somme artillery contests. South of Bapaume the enemy exploded a mine at the extremity of one of our trenches, but we held on. Bombardment by the enemy of Tracy le Mont, and our artillery busy in Rheims and Soissons sections. In Woëvre rather sharp cannonading opposite Lambscourt and Hazelle Wood. We bombarded Thiancourt and Arville.

During an attack on Feb. 3rd, delivered by the Turkish army against the Suez Canal, two French ships contributed successfully in the defence of the Canal. The coastguard cutter Requien silenced the Turkish heavy guns, and the cruiser Entrecasteaux dispersed an important Turkish grouping. These ships were unscathed, and suffered no loss whatever.

Petrograd.—German attacks in Poland are completely broken, and the losses inflicted by the Russians on the enemy are 40,000. North of Poland, minor engagements. In the centre the situation is quiet for the present. The Germans had considerable losses in their attacks at Borzhom, Gymn, Wols, and Sydlowisk.

In the Carpathian Mountains the Russians are strongly compressing the enemy in the Dukla, Lapykowl and Uzzow Passes, where they made several thousand prisoners. In one day the Russians captured 89 officers, 5,220 men and 18 maxims. On the 7th the Germans crossed Tucholka Pass and delivered twenty-two attacks to take the Russian positions on Kozlova heights. An irresistible German advance in closely packed formation managed to reach the heights twice, but they were thrown back each time by a bayonet charge without precedent. On the front of one battalion, one thousand Germans were killed. On the 10th they renewed an attack, but were repulsed, and the Russians, pushing forward, took Germans Got Lunenburg Vessel.

Lunenburg, Feb. 8.—The schooner Lunenburg, Captain Edwin Backman, was on the 11th of January for Porto Rico, with a cargo of pickled fish from Zwicker and Co. The passage generally takes fourteen days, and although the weather was fine and conditions were favorable, no word has been heard of the vessel since leaving the port. W. C. McKay, Captain Deal, left on the 26th, and arrived at Lunenburg in nine days, which shows that the vessel should have arrived, or if off reported before this time. The cargo from a neutral port and the opinion of ship owners that it has become a prey to a German vessel. The vessel is two years old. The Captain is one of the youngest and most progressive commanders of this port.

NO ADVANCE YET POSSIBLE.

LONDON, Feb. 12.

The military correspondent of the London Times, in a survey of the conditions, says that there is little likelihood of any important advance movement by either side on the western front for a long time to come. Under the present conditions of weather and ground he argues that successful offensive is next to impossible. The district in which the British army is operating is, practically a swamp, he declares. Great works have been constructed by both armies on the top of the ground to meet the difficulties of holding the flooded trenches. Villages and farmsteads and other arrangements complete the positions. In the rear, masses of guns of all calibres are so well concealed that they are practically invulnerable, and being joined up by telephones to all advanced trenches make a strong framework for defense. During all the months that the British have occupied this district only three direct hits have been made by German shells upon British guns. An attack therefore has to deal with an intact artillery, which knows every range to an inch. As for the flying corps, despite the weather it has missed only six days in the air since August. Not easily can any hostile strategical surprise escape the notice of these armies.

GERMANS DESERTING.

LONDON, Feb. 12.

A London Times despatch from Amsterdam, says the Telegraph learns from Antwerp to-day that some 3,000 German deserters have fled to the Netherlands, including numerous officers. All these men had been commanded to proceed to the Yser. Large numbers of soldiers are reported to be deserting from the Yser, and also from the Draascha and Merrem Forts.

The Outport Record.

Reckoned in terms of immediate response in the number of recruits, the recruiting campaign of the Rev. Dr. Curtis and Messrs. Stone and Grimes, easily holds the first place. The delegates completed their work yesterday and the result of their labours is a total of 116 recruits, hailing 60 from Bonavista, 20 from Catalina, 24 from Port Rexton, 4 from Trinity and 8 from Champneys. These numbers are of course exclusive of those who had responded previously. In the District of Trinity was already in the lead so far as Naval Reservists are concerned. The recruiting of 60 men from Bonavista is especially creditable to the town itself and to those associated with the campaign, but the contribution from Catalina of 20 and 24 from Port Rexton is also good, considering the population of these towns. The number of recruits for both services enlisted either in the outport or enlisted here from the outports, during the past week, must be a record for the outports. It shows a most satisfactory state of affairs and is particularly gratifying as it follows the news of the first loss of our Naval Reservists. It is a noteworthy fact that the biggest rush for enlistment in the Naval Reservists has followed the loss of the 25 men in H.M.S. Vindex. It shows that our outport men are neither deterred from joining the Navy either by the fact that their pay is less than their fellows in the Newfoundland Regiment or by the fact that our Naval men have been put on perilous work. The threat that the Germans will engage in a scheme of sinking mercantile steamers and the men and women passengers aboard, seems to have acted as a stimulus to recruiting. This is the right spirit. Britons are not deterred by fear.

Presentation of The Grand Jury.

In the presentation of the Grand Jury to the Supreme Court to-day, particular attention was directed to conditions at the Penitentiary. In the case of the prisoner Duke, who has been confined in a cage for two years, the Grand Jury suggested that some work be given him, so as to occupy his mind. If it were not feasible to have him work in the broom factory, cobbling or some similar work might be given him to do in the cage. Mention was also made of the fact that in the case of juveniles, the birch might be used instead of having them imprisoned with hardened criminals. A Reformatory would solve the problem more satisfactorily, but in the absence of such an institution care should be taken that they do not associate with older offenders. Suggestions were made as to methods of improving the lighting and heating of the Asylum for the Insane, but the Grand Jury refrained from making observations on the existing conditions at the Poor Asylum, where no less than one hundred and thirty-six inmates are suffering from privations which can only be remedied by the prompt erection of a new building.

THE LATE REV. GEORGE ROSS GODDEN, M. A., RECTOR OF ST. THOMAS'S CHURCH.

The Passing of Rev. G. R. Godden, M.A.

Last night about 10.30, the Rev. G. R. Godden, M.A., Rector of St. Thomas's Parish, of this city, passed to his eternal rest! For the past twelve months or more he has suffered from tuberculosis, and since Christmas has been confined to his room. The Rev. gentleman was born in Harbor Grace 43 years ago to-morrow, and was the son of Mr. Joseph Godden, at one time M.H.A. for the district. He was educated at the C. of E. Academy, now known as Bishop Field College, and proceeded to St. Augustine's College, Canterbury, in the fall of 1891. Here he studied for three years and then he completed the arts course at Durham University, after studying another year at Hatfield, returning to Newfoundland in 1895 with the B.A. degree. He was ordained that year as deacon, and appointed to the arduous mission of Random, where his work was mainly by boat. In the early summer of the period he was incumbent of Random, he sailed his small yacht down to the Labrador and did missionary work there. In 1896 he was advanced to the Priesthood

BIGGEST AIR RAID.

LONDON, To-day. Aerial warfare was waged yesterday on the largest scale in its history under adverse circumstances from the standpoint of weather. The British air force, buffeted by snow in the air swept over the cities of Northern Belgium, held by Germans, dropped bombs on Ostend, Bruges and other places. Thirty-four aeroplanes and seaplanes of the British Navy took part in the operations, and all later returned safely to their base without casualties to their drivers although two machines were damaged. The raid was made in order to prevent the development of submarine base establishments which might further endanger British warships and merchantmen and inflict much damage on the enemy. During the raid, the warships bombarded German positions along the coast.

ITALIAN WAR APPROPRIATION.

ROME, To-day. The Italian government appropriated $34,000,000 for further military expenses up to July 15.

IN SINKING CONDITION.

SCARBOROUGH, To-day. A new cargo steamer, the Torquay, of Dartmouth, was towed into Scarborough Harbor in a sinking condition after striking a mine or having been torpedoed eight miles east of this port. One man was killed and two injured.

ABSINTHE BARRED.

PARIS, To-day. The Chamber of Deputies to-day adopted a Bill prohibiting the sale of absinthe. Indemnités will be granted to manufacturers affected by the Bill. An amendment was offered making prohibitive the features of the Bill apply also to alcohol and bitters but was withdrawn after the statement was made that this would be the object of a report by a special committee and that propositions tending to suppress all alcoholic extracts are being considered.

GERMANS CLAIM BIG VICTORY IN EAST PRUSSIA.

LONDON, To-day. All eyes are turned upon East Prussia, where the German army, under observation of the command of Emperor William, has taken the offensive and compelled the Russians to evacuate their position. East of Mazaria Lakes and retire to their own territory. The Russians refer to this as a strategical retirement, but a German official communication intimates that the appearance in this district of a strong new German force was a surprise to the Russians, and that the Germans captured 26,000 prisoners, twenty cannon and thirty machine guns, in addition to a lot of war material. If the German statement is true, the Russian reverse is

OUT HUNS THE HUNS.

LONDON, To-day. The Daily Express correspondent telegraphs from Amsterdam: Germany is beginning to realize that the impending blockade of England may not after all be sufficient to bring about Great Britain's doom, and the German press is under instructions from the Grand Admiral, Von Tirpitz. The Press Bureau says, is launching schemes to improve the blockade. The Deutsche Montags Zeitung publishes an open letter to Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz, in which the following savage policy is advocated: "As long as our blockade only destroys ships and goods, it remains for England a question of money and ships that are sunk, which are written off as business expenditure, and the fight is unequal because Britain puts in only money while we put in our good men. Things will be different when British passengers are drowned. Persons acquainted with the physiology of England know that the German blockade will be effective only if it costs the lives of many English women and children."

WILLIAM and MARY proclaimed 1689. While Stadtholder of Holland, William III. married Mary, eldest daughter of James II. When the latter abdicated and fled the country, William was invited to succeed him and he and Mary were proclaimed on this day. There was resistance in Scotland and Ireland but James's cause was defeated in Ireland at the Battle of the Boyne, and in Scotland by measures that were not wanting in cruelty, was shown by the Massacre of Glencoe, 1692.

Vessel With Coal Cargo
WAS JAMMED IN ICE FOR A WEEK.
The schr. Annie Marcia came into port last evening from Louisburg, after an eventful trip, which occupied fifteen days, bringing a cargo of coal to W. H. Hynes & Co. The vessel encountered heavy weather at first and then met heavy ice and was jammed in the ice off Cape St. Vincent Bay, for a whole week, without making any progress whatever. The Annie Marcia left Louisburg a day after the schr. Fleetly, which was lost off the Nova Scotian coast ten days ago, her crew being taken off by a passenger steamer. The Fleetly was also bound here with a cargo of 500 tons coal to Hynes & Co.

Feildians Victorious
Victarians Suffer a Bad Defeat in Hockey Match.

The much deferred meeting between the Feildians and Victarians occurred last evening and resulted in a decided victory for the Feildians by 16 goals to 4. There was a goodly attendance of spectators, but the exhibition was very disappointing, as play was one-sided and enthusiasm was at a minimum.

Players.

Officials:
Mr. G. Herder, referee; Messrs. Carmichael and Howlett, timekeepers.

The Game.
The Feildians pressed hard at the beginning and in quick time notched 6 goals. The Vics appeared to be mesmerized and put up a poor showing, while their opponents seemed to score at will. The first period closed thus: Feildians, 11 goals; Victarians, 1.

The second period was even worse and equally uninteresting to the on-lookers. The College lads, in their own way, their opponents being kept busy trying to prevent a record tally of goals.

Notes.
A very slow game, though the Feildians played good clean hockey and played all round the Vics.

The Feildians won every game they played so far and are the probable championship holders for 1915.

If the Feildians are defeated in their next game with the St. Hor's and also lose to the Terra Novas, and should the latter win the remainder of their games, then the Feildians and Terra Novas would have to play off for the much-coveted honours.

However, all things considered, it looks now a sure thing for the Feildians and we congratulate them on the splendid exhibition of hockey they displayed this season.

A Night With the Allies

The production on Monday at the Rossie Theatre (East End), of "The Allies" has been up to a good all-round season of sound theatrical entertainment. The children trained by Mrs. Rossie have acquitted themselves splendidly and are now first rate little performers. A Night with the Allies will be patriotic. The best of all the war songs will be heard, having only just arrived. There are some very fine pictures on Monday; good songs, hotel dances, beautiful costumes, funny jokes, comical stories, a capital show, and the orchestra with Mr. A. Crocker as leader, renders some very beautiful selections. Big matinee to-day. Send the children to see Cinderella.

RUTH CAMERON

"War is absolutely unthinkable to me," I heard a woman say the other day. "It seems inconceivable that these men can go out and kill each other." If I should tell this woman that she carries the germ of war about in her own heart she'd be horrified and indignant.

Yet it is true. What is the initial germ of war? It is just one thing, race prejudice, or since different nations are not always of different races, perhaps I had better call it national prejudice.

Hating War But Carrying Its Germ About.

Now I happen to know that this woman has several race or national prejudices as firmly rooted in her heart as the oak outside my window is rooted in the soil. Indeed more so. For I suppose a hurricane might uproot an oak, but I cannot imagine any cataclysm that would uproot these prejudices from this woman's heart.

She is as sure that certain races and nations are inferior to her own as she is that it comes after a in the alphabet. She could never receive a member of these races into her family; she could never take one as a friend on the same footing as her other friends.

Now think of the warring nations. Think of the hate between a French man and a German, between an Englishman and a German, between a Serb and an Austrian. What is it but one of these race or national prejudices?

THE KING OF ITALY.

By GEORGE FITCH.
 Author of "At Good Old Swash."

Sometimes a king is a fat loafer, who sits on a golden throne in $189,845 worth of clothes, costs as much as ten battleships to support, and yells "Off with his head," whenever he feels like it. And sometimes he is a very different sort of an institution.

The king's business is not the snap which it once was, by any means. A hundred years ago a king could loiter around in a cloud of courtiers, and wives pro tem, drawing a shovel full of shekels out of the treasury every day, and slapping a tax on bread and milk whenever he wanted a new $7,000,000 palace, in which to spend the Fourth of July. He might be as big a nuisance in his kingdom as a mallow and a war combined. Yet, no one objected, and the only evidence of discontent would be a pious longing for the opportunity to bury him with magnificent honors, and take a new chance with another.

However, with the general rise of modern fads, such as the ballot, the unbreakable constitution and the treasury time lock, there has been a marked change in kings. For the last half century kings have been working harder to hold their jobs than section hands. No enlightened country would think of harboring a king nowadays who did not obey the constitution and by-laws of his country and show every anxiety to please his employers.

The King of Italy is a fine example of the modern or improved variety of monarch. He is a young man of forty-five, Victor Emmanuel III, and was born in his business, his father having been King Humbert. When Victor Emmanuel was a boy he lived in a palace and was galuted with reverence by wise old men, but that was about all the fun he got out of it. In order to hold down his future job he had to take a university degree, serve in the army, acquire a large assortment of languages, learn how to run a battleship through the enemy in a scientific manner, become a connoisseur in art, and perfect himself in diplomacy, finance, statesmanship, city planning, botany, scientific agriculture, world geography, numismatics, hygiene, red cross work, philanthropy and the habits of volcanoes. He has been king since 1900, and is the hardest working man in Italy. Besides keeping half a dozen stenographers busy at his desk, he has to head a regular brigade every time Vesuvius or Aetna spill over, direct the army during war, preside at all national gatherings and keep his son busy learning kung-fu in good football weather. His only diversions are coin collecting and hunting in the Spitzbergen and other remote corners of the earth, and he doesn't get one-tenth as many vacations as a union plumber.

King Victor Emmanuel is very popular, and has made so good that he could probably be elected to his job by a large majority if he had to run for it. But it is doubtful if he would make the race. It is far better to be a business man and to retire at the age of sixty with indigestion and a stable full of automobiles than to be a king and to work wearily on in the late eighties waiting for death to come around and punch the time clock.

Gloucester Firm SECURES PROPERTY AT NORTH ARM.

(Western Star.)
 We learn that the property at North Arm owned by the late Capt. N. Butt has been acquired by Cunningham & Thompson, of Gloucester. It is their intention to erect fish curing sheds thereon, and also to construct a wharf so that vessels may berth thereby. Capt. Wallace Parsons came to Bay of Islands a few days ago to make arrangements for the carrying out of some of this work. He informed us that it is the intention of the firm to engage in the packing of herring by the Scotch method, and also to carry on the winter and spring herring fishery there. Besides the erection of wharf, scalds and curing sheds, there will be bunk-houses and everything necessary for the comfort of the fishermen.

100-Pound Lump of Ambergris.

(Western Star.)
 The writer has received a letter from a correspondent who states that he has what he thinks is a lump of ambergris. It weighs about 100 lbs., and corresponds very closely to the description of the valuable substance as published in the Star of Dec. 16th last. It was found off the South Coast in September last. After the receipt of a sample we hope to give further particulars relative to the find.

City Waterman Victim of Theft.

Mr. John Flynn, who attends to the watering of shipping for the City Council, had a coil of hose stolen on his last evening by an unknown party while he was engaged giving the S.S. Adventure a supply of fresh water. The hose was left on Harvey's wharf, and some one saw a man take it from there and bring it on board the ship. The police were acquainted of the matter and Sergt. Noseworthy and Constable Power made a thorough search of the ship, but failed to find the missing property.

Somewhere on your body? If so, attend to it at once. In Scabies—and Itchy spots, whether dry and scurfy, or moist and inclined to "weep," are generally accompanied by delays, are foolish, allowing the disease to spread and affect more of the good skin. WILL CONSCIENCE BE NEEDED?

(Montreal Journal)
 Are Canadians disloyal? is a question which in some parts of Canada may eventually be asked, unless there is a more general response to the call for recruits. The number of Canadian born soldiers who went over to England in the First Contingent was disappointingly small, and in some sections the response to the call for other contingents leaves something to be desired. There is no difficulty in obtaining the men required for the Second Contingent. That is a gratifying fact. If in some sections the recruiting has been slow, in others it has been rapid. But the fact remains that there is a class of young men who are not responding as readily as they should, and as there will be need of further numbers from time to time, to follow the two contingents, it is well that the class to whom we refer should be aroused to a sense of their duty. It is stated that there have been disappointing returns from the rural parts of Canada. This is not to be wondered at. In the first place, there is an alarming scarcity of young men in rural Canada, especially in Ontario. The lure of the cities and the call of the West have stripped the farms of Ontario of the virile young men until to-day there are too few left to properly till the soil. As Canada must take a large part in the feeding of the Empire during this time of stress, no greater or more patriotic work can be accomplished by our farmers than increasing the output of foodstuffs. A man cannot plant and harvest his crops and fight in the trenches at the same time.

The criticism is not against the young men of the country districts, but against thousands of young men in our cities who do not appear to realize what is their duty at a time

Are Canadians disloyal? is a question which in some parts of Canada may eventually be asked, unless there is a more general response to the call for recruits. There is no difficulty in obtaining the men required for the Second Contingent. That is a gratifying fact. If in some sections the recruiting has been slow, in others amends for this is made, and the number required is assured. But the fact remains that there is a class of young men who are not responding as readily as they should, and as there will be need of further numbers from time to time, to follow the two contingents, it is well that the class to whom we refer should be aroused to a sense of their duty. SOME OF EMDEN'S CREW ESCAPED

Berlin, Feb. 5 (via wireless to St. John's).—According to a statement made today by the Overseas News Agency, part of the crew of the German cruiser Emden, evaded capture, escaping on the schooner Aysa, on which they left Cocos Island last November at the time the Emden was destroyed. The statement follows: "H.M.S. Aysa reports that Lieutenant-Commander von Muecke, with the landing force of S.M.S. Emden, arrived near Hodeida, on the southwest coast of Arabia. The men were received with enthusiasm by the Turkish troops.

When the Empire is fighting for its very existence. Too many young men, who have no responsibilities, no family ties that should prevent them from enlisting, prefer to congregate on the street corners or at hockey matches, and the most they do towards defending their country is to sing "Tipperary." These men are enjoying all the privileges and protection which the Empire confers upon them, but are doing nothing to share its burdens. It is the indifference of this class of men that gives excuse to the advocates of conscription, who can claim with truth that that system takes such shirkers and weaklings, and, in so far as it is humanly possible, makes men of them. If such men should continue to ignore their responsibilities, they will give a strong argument to those who are urging that we in Canada should adopt the Continental system of compulsory service. Let us hope, however, that nothing of the kind will be necessary. The idea of conscription is so opposed to the British principle of voluntary service that it could only be accepted as a last resort. We must continue to appeal to the spirit of patriotism of the people, and have faith that when they fully understand the situation they will respond to the fullest extent. The fact that the numbers required for the Second Contingent are being obtained should not lead to any cessation of efforts in the direction of military organization. It is certain that more men will be needed. They ought to be obtained very largely from that class of young men in the cities who, as we have said, have not appreciated their responsibility and their duty. It is to them that the appeal should be made—an appeal to their patriotism, to their sense of duty, to their pride as citizens of the Empire.

Notes on the Patriotic Tour.

Objects of the Tour -- Impressions of Norris Arm.

I. C. M.

The present war has created many new conditions throughout the Empire, and a wider vision has dawned upon the people. Locally we have had our share of this vision, and our people are more directly interested in the "Mother Empire" than ever before. Different causes have brought this about. At first it was the fact of our sons volunteering, thereby giving us a personal interest in the war, and later it has been by the public meetings which have been held, and the patriotic tours which have been made. These tours are conducted at different parts of the country, and their personnel consisted of our leading men and public speakers. They were all important and accomplished a very great work; but one of the principal tours was that which visited the West Coast, and for four weeks held meetings throughout the different districts of that large territory.

It was the writer's privilege to be one of the number which composed this particular party, and what may be hereafter written are his personal impressions of what he saw of men and things during his four weeks of travel. The party consisted of eight persons in all, whose names are as follows:—A. W. Piccott, Esq., Charles Emerson, Esq., and Mr. Devcreaux, besides a contingent of the Highlanders Band consisting of Pipers Thomas and Morris, and drummers Antle and Wheeler. This band was a great help to the success of the tour, and proved a great attraction at every place; and many an incident, and many a reference, will be dated from the time that the Highlanders visited such and such a place. The purpose of this tour was to hold public meetings, and to impress upon the people the serious situation of the Empire, as brought about by the war and to further encourage the public to do their duty in volunteering for active service.

It was Sunday, January 10th, that our party left the station by train and crossed the country to join the Fiona at Channel. The data and impressions furnished by the railway alone are of themselves an interesting chapter, and every bend in the roadway, and every stream and lake, and every hill and mountain height presented each its own beauty, and told of its own majesty. It was Nature in all its sternness, and though wrapt in winter mantle, it was still Nature in its glory. Nature should be man's greatest study and the more he penetrates her mysteries and comprehends its immensity the more will he discover that higher and Divine power, by which all things have been created.

Among the passing features which attracted our attention, those of "Norris's Arm" came first. What amount of trade is done in this particular place we do not really know, but judging from the land and water-front of the locality we certainly think that there should be very satisfactory agricultural returns to the enterprise and industry of any who would diligently apply themselves to the chances that offer. It sometimes seems that we have only half colonized Newfoundland, and that we neglected to utilize the opportunities which she offers. Certain it is that the slopes and acres of such places as "Norris's Arm," were meant for better cultivation, and, therefore, greater population than at present exists. In their places the boats and the fishermen and the fishermen's homesteads are all right, and will long continue the mainstay of the country; but this stay would be lengthened and its strands would be strengthened fifty per cent. if more systematic attention were paid to the tilling of the soil. It is true that fishermen cannot be real farmers, but it does seem that there is room for better results than we are having. We seem to have got into a rut and are depending upon the summer months of fishing for our entire support, and then wonder why things are not better; but how can they be better when we fail to make use of the other bounties which God and Nature has placed within our reach.

The North West does not offer more beautiful slopes than are to be seen along the railway line and vicinity of "Norris's Arm," and as for the Prairies they are not as good. The Prairies are arid, parched, and treeless; but in our country we have water in abundance, foliage in profusion, and land almost asking to be cultivated. These features of our country's advantages very often appeal strongly to us in our travels, and the more we look at them, and the more we consider them, the firmer are we in our conviction, that we the people of "Newfoundland" really do not know our own country.

Aching Back Gets Relief Quick! One Rub with "Nerviline" Cures

Every Bit of Stiffness and Soreness Goes When "Nerviline" Is Used.

Pain in back or side is awful hard to reach. Deep in the tissue is a congested or strained muscle. It is a long way for a liniment to go. Liniments you have used have not reached it and the pain bothers you, whether moving or lying down.

What a pity you haven't tried Nerviline! Penetrating, you ask? Yes, and powerful, too. Nerviline strikes in far deeper than any application you have ever used. You might pay a dollar, ten dollars, a hundred, for that matter, but you could not equal Nerviline, either in strength, quickness of action, or permanency of relief.

If you think this too much to say for Nerviline, try it, and be convinced. If you receive from Nerviline even a little less relief from pain than this advertisement induces you to expect, you can get your money back.

The only pain remedy in the world sold under a guarantee is Nerviline—surely it is safe to try it.

Nerviline is sold by druggists everywhere 25 cents or 50 cents a bottle.

'abman Kelly's Challenge.

Editor Evening Telegram. Sir,—From the 2nd to the 9th January past I published a challenge in the Herald for a horse race to be held on Quidi Vidi Lake.

My reason for this was because of the fact that Mr. W. Wylie, cabman, had previously requested me in the presence of several mutual friends to run him three heats (best two out of three winning) for a $50 prize. I accepted, but Mr. Wylie, when it came to the sticking point, came to me privately, said he could not afford a $50 stake, and then I told him I would meet him for any sum that might suit his purse. He then decided on $10, but, instead of meeting me like a sportsman, he put me off from day to day and eventually threw the matter up. I was more than willing to take him on, and, for the sake of sport I went so far as to offer him a loan of the $10 stake but all to no purpose; he refused to meet me.

I would not ask for the use of our columns but for the fact that Mr. Wylie said that I was afraid to meet him though he had offered me a stake of $20. I now make him another offer: I will race him at any time he sees fit for $20; while my original challenge is still open to any other horse owner who may wish to meet me.

I would thank you for publication of this to set myself right with my friends and the public.

Yours sincerely,
MATTHEW KELLY, Cabman, St. John's, February 12th, 1915.

Here is a New Game
for the Children,
AMUSING AND INSTRUCTING.

The Fox Educational Board for good boys and girls. Educate your children while they play.

The Sentence and Wordbuilder consists of 48 letters and pictures from which the groups of words and sentences may be built, separate, and rebuilt, while the child plays until his interest in spelling and in writing, as well as in the meaning of words, is forever rightly fixed.

Introduces the Letters and easy Words slowly. As soon as the child gets acquainted with a few letters and words, and the process of Word Building, he will be able to build his own thoughts into words and sentences.

The board is in the form of a circle, is strongly made, of a bright color and is nicely decorated. A most attractive looking game and one that will stand a lot of hard wear.

The price is $1.75 each, and there are only ten in stock.
