WHOLE FRONT ABLAZE WITH VICTORY GERMAN DEFENCE SOLE TO COLLAPSE

ALLIES' SLEDGEHAMMER BLOWS BREAK THE HINDENBURG LINE

Not Since First Battle of the Marne Has There Been an Attack to Compare in Extent With the Operations Now Being Carried Out.

Paris, Sept. 29.—The allied advances on four sectors from the North Sea to the Meuse continue and important strategic points are being taken from the Germans by the sledgehammer blows of the French, British, Canadian, American and Belgian forces.

The power of the Anglo-Belgian attack is shown by the fact that the Germans have lost the great Houthulst Forest and the Village of Gheluvet, the key to the Ypres-Menin road.

of Somme-Py, Manre, Graetuit and Doucouville, and had extended the advance east of the Argonne. Since the beginning of the attack in this section General Gouraud has broken the resistance of 21 German divisions.

"The Lancashires are making progress east of Fontaine-Notre Dame and operating in conjunction with Canadian troops north of the Baume-Cambrai road. Here the enemy resisted strongly and suffered heavy losses in killed and prisoners.

to retain the approaches to the massif of St. Gobain and Leon, the enemy is abandoning them. This group of heights for four years has formed the central pillar of the German line in France. The strategy of Marshal Foch compelled the enemy, as it did on the Marne, to withdraw his center before the allied attacks to the north and the east forced him to move back on the wings. The retreat is one of the first and direct results of the French, American and British offensives of the last three days.

FRENCH

Sunday (Day).

Paris, Sept. 29.—In the Champagne and north of the Aisne the armies of Gen. Gouraud and Gen. Mangin resumed the attack this morning. The Germans are retreating desperately in Champagne.

North of the Aisne the Germans are retreating on the Ailette. French troops have captured Flin, Chavignac, Otel and Saint-Berthe.

On the western end of the Chemin des Dames the French have reached the River Ailette at two points. The statement from the war office today, in Champagne, after repulsing strong attacks, the French have taken the heights of Bellevue, northeast of Gratreuil. The text of the statement reads:

"North of the Aisne the pursuit of the enemy continued during the night. The French occupied the Forest of Flin, and reached the Ailette in this region, and also east of Chavignac. On the sector between Otel and Chavignac the enemy made strong resistance against the advance of our troops.

"On the Champagne front, violent attacks were made by the enemy yesterday, but they were broken up. The French troops resumed their progress, especially northeast of Gratreuil, where they captured the heights of Bellevue.

Sunday (Night).

Paris, Sept. 29.—In a new offensive between St. Quentin and La Fere, the French troops made some advance and took 500 prisoners. The troops continued to progress on all other sectors.

The statement says: "Overcoming vigorous resistance the French captured Urville and Cerisy, south of St. Quentin, and crossed the St. Quentin-La Fere road. Five hundred prisoners have been counted.

"Between the Ailette and Aisne the French advanced about two kilometres on both sides of the Chemin des Dames and occupied Fresnoy, Flin and Otel, and reached the outskirts of Aves. On the left they entered St. Marie.

Saturday Night.

General Mangin has captured Fort Malmaison, one of the strongholds southwest of Laon, according to the war office announcement tonight. He now holds this position strongly. The text of tonight's communication follows:

"Our repeated attacks on the plateau north of the Aisne finally forced the enemy to retire towards the Ailette River.

"East of the line of Allamont and Jouy, pursuing the German rearwards, we occupied the village and southern outskirts of Pinoy, and on the Ailette, Chavignac and Fort Malmaison also were captured.

"Further south we progressed considerably on the plateau north of Vailly.

"In the Champagne the day was marked by violent German counter-attacks on our right. Desperate fighting is proceeding in the Boucouville region on the heights south of Gratreuil."

In Macedonia.

Northwest of Monastir allied troops advanced 11 miles up to Friday, and along the entire front had captured more than 100 guns, according to a French official statement on operations in Macedonia. Further important captures of prisoners have been made. The allies are also making progress.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

In France and Belgium the allies are dealing the enemy such heavy blows and striking him in such bewildering rotation, that the whole German front is showing infallible signs of collapsing, and the German army has begun a retreat from the apex of the vast salient in the region of Chemin des Dames. The abandonment of the strong positions, forming his principal pillar of defence in France, means that the enemy has begun his retreat from France. The allies are achieving the victory by their flank blows, half of them delivered by the British and Belgian armies, and half by the French and Americans. The French in the Champagne have taken the Hindenburg line, and are within only a few miles of Vouziers, a vital point in the sole enemy communication with Germany thru Lorraine. The British have broken thru the Hindenburg line in two places in the regions of Cambrai and St. Quentin, their second army has joined battle with Armentieres to Ypres, and has achieved a big advance towards Lille, while the Belgians in an advance of two days have penetrated into the German defence six to eight miles, carrying the Houthulst Forest, Dierme, Scladorburg and Passechendale, and they are now close to cutting the Ostend railway and the German communications with Lille. In this operation the allies have begun the envelopment of the German attack.

On the British front the chief fighting was on the right wing, which heavily engaged the enemy on a front of 30 miles from the Scarpe to St. Quentin. Nowhere could the German defense stand the strain and it gave way. This British advance in part assumed the form of thrusting spearheads into the Hindenburg line. The Canadians, who were one spearhead, have advanced five or six miles and have penetrated the defenses of Cambrai and are fighting in the outskirts. They and other British units first broke the Maroing-Cantailing line, then they carried other German support positions. The other spearhead, composed of English and American forces, also broke thru the Hindenburg defenses in a wide sector north of St. Quentin, carrying Bellefleur, Magny-la-Fosse, Nauvry, Bellecourt and other positions. It is probable that they have completely broken thru in this sector. On other parts of the front English, Scotch and between Lake Prasba and Lake Ochrida, and statements follow:

"The day of the 27th was marked by a general advance along the whole front and by the capture of a large number of prisoners and important material. On the left the allied troops broke up the resistance of the enemy forces between Lakes Prasba and Ochrida, and pressed on. North-west of Monastir we made an advance of more than 18 kilometres at certain points. We have progressed beyond Krushevo, and are marching on Kichevo.

"In the centre the Serbians, who sneaked into the area, despite strong resistance by the enemy, are pushing forward on the front of Karabungla-Rudnik, 35 kilometres (22 miles) from Uskub. They have reached the region of Kocana and Ratzavitsa, and cavalry units have reached the region of Lehovc, about 10 kilometres (6 miles) from the Bulgarian frontier.

"On the right the allied forces occupied the region of Strumitza, and the Bulgarians are striking rapidly in the direction of Kichevo. The statement reads:

"The number of guns captured is more than 500."

ITALIAN

Rome, Sept. 29.—Italian troops are pushing vigorously their progress over the mountains northwest of Monastir, says the war office statement today.

The Bulgarians are striking rapidly in the direction of Kichevo. The statement reads:

"In Macedonia, according to the latest information, our troops are continuing their vigorous advance across massif of Mont Baba and have overcome obstinate enemy attempts at defence. In region west of Krushevo they have broken the resistance of strong rearwards. The Italians are striking the Krushevo-Cer road where it comes out south of 800 on the main road from Monastir to Kichevo.

"The Bulgarians are retreating rapidly before our columns, which are marching forward along the whole front. We have occupied the towns of Frilbita and Kocistie."

Krushevo, an important Bulgarian base, 35 miles north of Monastir, has been captured by Italian troops who also have driven the enemy from the mountain ranges between the Cerna and Yelka Rivers. The official statement from the Italian war office says that the Italians still are pursuing the Bulgarians on the Monastir-Kichevo road north of Demir-Hissar, an advance of 20 miles.

The text of the statement reads:

"On Sept. 25, our troops in co-operation with our allies continued their advance from the previous line and occupied Ponte di Buchin and Verlyup Malo. The enemy put up stubborn resistance on the eastern slopes of the Dragishevo and Baba mountain ranges, but was attacked with great impetus and overwhelmed. Our columns, hard pressing his rearward, occupied Krushevo on the 27th. On the 27th, in spite of the difficulty of the ground, they had passed all the mountainous massifs between the valleys of the Cerna and the Yelka. Having reached the Monastir-Kichevo road north of Demir-Hissar they are tirelessly continuing their march towards their objective."

Sunday (Night).

"Our artillery executed violent concentrations of fire upon the Asiatic Plateau, and on the left bank of the Plave, opposite Montailo and the Monte Corteziano sector. In the region of Mori and Clima di Valsella attempted enemy assaults failed.

"In Albania, in the course of a daring reconnaissance in the Valley of the Janica and the region south of Berat, our patrols engaged in lively combats with enemy advance guards."

AMERICAN

Washington, Sept. 29.—In reporting further advances of the Americans northwest of Verdun, General Pershing's communique for yesterday, received here tonight, said American aviators have "greeted command of the air." They have brought down 22 balloons and more than 40 enemy planes, while less than a third of the number of American planes are missing.

AMERICAN WINGS MAKE PROGRESS

Germans Offer Increasing Resistance to Operations Near Verdun.

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Sept. 29.—The enemy greatly increased his resistance all along the American line today, adding to his opposition to the unfavorable weather, which impeded the advance by making liaison difficult and transportation precarious. The opposition was heaviest on the right flank, yet the American extreme left made good progress despite the stiffest kind of fighting against reinforcements. The units to the right, likewise, had to contend with heavy machine gun and artillery fire from east of the Meuse.

Reports indicate that the enemy is bringing up reserves, which will be in a position to operate in the Meuse-Moselle sector in the event of heavy artillery in the woods west of Romagne. Prisoners say that heavy machine guns are being placed along the Kerchill defense line and other sectors in this neighborhood.

The Germans are believed to be now using their reserves on the basis of reports, but notwithstanding this, the American attack continued all day. At the outset of the attack the line ran from the village of Kerchill and Breulles to Clercy, to which the enemy had not been entirely expelled; thence to one kilometre south of Exermont, where the German line was in a westerly direction, so a point opposite Binerville, and from there westward to Binerville. It remained approximately the same at the close of the day.

M. Clemenceau, the French premier, was reported to be visiting the army in this sector today.

SWAMPY UNDER HEAVY FIRE

New British Division Took the Village of Bellefleur.

A GREAT VICTORY

Dramatic Incident When Americans Opened Ranks to Let Anzac Thru.

At British Army Headquarters, Sept. 29.—This morning's attack by the British army had surprised the enemy, it having been preceded by a 48 hours bombardment. A large force of Americans advanced first in waves and a big concentration of tanks moved forward, mainly on a 600-yard front south of Verdun. The weather was fine with a light mist. The Americans, using a very light tank, as a bridge, stormed forward, deploying in the shape of a fan. A British division crossed the straits in magnificent style, many men swimming under heavy machine gunfire, and entered the village of Bellefleur.

As mortar advanced it became clear that the battle was developing into a fine victory. The Catelet, the key position of the whole sector from Bellecourt to Banteux was captured by 12 o'clock. We are astride the St. Quentin-Cambrai railway in many places. The German communications, important fortified villages were taken in rapid succession. La Vaquerie, Nauvry, Bony and Villers-Guisers were taken early in the battle, while the Belgians further to the north entered Staden and reoccupied Houthulst Forest.

Hold the entire West-Roosebeke-Passechendale Ridge system. Thence the Canadian army, this morning near Zidineke, Kerocollere, Zandvoerde and positively thru Houthulst to Wytschaete and Messines.

The first phase ended at nine o'clock after a short lull in the fighting. The incident marked the resumption of the attack. The Americans opened their ranks while the Australians, who had been moving up to their support, went thru and formed the first wave of the renewed attack, amid a storm of cheering. Hard fighting occurred at many places where the Germans had established redoubts of extraordinary strength in strong positions southwest of Cambrai. The British were ably assisted by the New Zealanders, who drove in a wedge thru the enemy lines and took a thousand prisoners. The Canadians, who were approaching Ramillies, and were due north of the town, astride important communications.

FRENCH TANKS CLEAR TUNNEL OF GERMAN ENEMY'S DESPERATE DEFENCE FAILS TO HOLD SOME-PY BEFORE FRENCH ATTACK.

French Headquarters in Champagne, Sept. 29.—A desperate struggle was made by the Germans to retain possession of Somme-Py, the German stronghold repeatedly in the teeth of French machine guns on the hill south of the village. The attack displayed extraordinary gallantry in the capture of a tunnel the entrance to which had been covered by a mine. The tanks had to traverse a labyrinth of trenches, and were subjected to a very heavy artillery, but succeeded in their difficult and dangerous mission, enabling the infantry to surround the tunnel and turn the whole Somme-Py position from the east.

Further east, the height of Gratreuil was captured by a surprise attack delivered with such speed that the garrison was surrounded before it realized it was being attacked. The village had to be cleared by street fighting, however, for the Germans apparently did not realize they were surrounded.

UNDER TWO MILES FROM ST. QUENTIN

French Cross Road From La Fere, Taking Hertling Hill.

With the French Army in France, Sept. 29.—General Deneny's troops attacked shortly before noon today south of St. Quentin and captured Urville and Cerisy, their principal point in the German line of resistance running parallel to the Hindenburg line.

The enemy's troops occupying this position recently had received successive orders from General von Lechevalier in which it was sought to re-nounce them from their mind the idea of retreat.

"The position of St. Quentin must be held, cost what it may, said one of these orders, which added: 'The idea of an elastic retirement must disappear from this division.'"

The German positions, consisting of old French trenches, blockhouses and deep wire entanglements, had been considerably widened and strengthened since the enemy retired from the Montdidier salient. The advanced defences were, as usual machine gun nests thickly spread among the ravines and hollows.

Advancing with clockwork union, with a heavy creeping barrage, Deneny's men charged the quicksetters and took the culminating point of the line by storm. Further south, Cerisy was taken, and at the same time the lines were advanced in front of Urville, across the high road running from La Fere to St. Quentin.

The French are solidly installed there with a mile and three-quarters to go to St. Quentin.

Prisoners admit that the new French positions constitute the gravest menace to the city. They say they had imperatively ordered Deneny to take a foot of ground. Deneny's men in front of Urville are in close contact with the Hindenburg line.

One of the heights captured by the French had been named by the Germans "Hertling Hill" and a special order impressed upon the troops that the greatest importance was attached to the position, which must be held.

BOMBARDMENT OF METZ GETS ON GERMAN NERVES

Amsterdam, Sept. 29.—The American bombardment of the fortress of Metz is getting on the nerves of the German people. This is emphasized by a correspondent of the Rheinisch-Westphalian Gazette of Essen who visited Metz on Thursday.

When the bombardment of the Metz area started the inhabitants of the city believed an air raid was in progress and took to their cellars. When the truth became known many persons left the city, but most of them now have returned.

Between Sept. 23 and Sept. 26, the correspondent says, forty shells fell in the outskirts of Metz (where the forts are located), killing a few persons and doing damage to property.

Other correspondents attempt to appease the anxiety of the Germans by pointing out that Metz is fortified strongly with all the latest devices.

"I Ordered My Things This Morning--Charged Them to My D.A."

They'll Come as Paid Orders

"The D. A. proves so convenient—take, for instance, this morning. I simply must go to see Mrs. —, before she leaves for New York; without a 'D.A.' and being away from home, I couldn't be sure of getting my things, for they would come C. O. D., and, of course, the driver couldn't leave them with no one to receive them. Then I'd be so disappointed, for I ordered all my preserving necessities, ready to 'do down' my peaches tomorrow. Even when I'm at home, busy engaged, it's such a comfort to know that when the driver calls the parcels are paid for. There's no mislaid purse to search for or change to gather together."

To open an account a deposit is first made at the D. A. office, where a number is given to you and your signature recorded. You make your purchases in the usual way, instructing Sales Clerk to charge your D. A., giving the number. Goods are then delivered at your house as a paid parcel.

An itemized statement is rendered at the end of each month. Money may be withdrawn or deposited at any time during business hours.

Interest at 5 per cent. is given on the daily credit balance up to $1000 and 3 per cent. on any money over $1000.

LITTLE CHILDREN SUFFERING MOST

Germany Aims at Extinction of Next Generation of Belgians.

Above all, it is the children of Belgium who suffer. Already the brutal invader of the little Kingdom has noted an awful picture in the little ones. Long ago, but for the untiring energy of the many charities devoted to saving these little ones from starvation and death, and dependent upon the Belgian Relief Commission for the financial support necessary to continue their wonderful work, Germany would have succeeded in what gives every evidence of being her aim, the extermination of the next generation of Belgians.

"YOU were getting along fine until you had that nervous breakdown, but since then you have been worried and anxious. Now you have got discouraged and down-hearted, and it is no wonder you cannot make sales. The salesman must have lots of energy and vigor as well as confidence in himself and what he has to sell. But you cannot have confidence in anything so long as your nerves are weak and you spend the nights worrying instead of getting good, refreshing sleep. Take my advice, boy, and go straight to the drug store and get half a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Then make up your mind that while you are using this you will get out into the fresh air all you can and forget to worry. Now, you may feel pessimistic after all the treatments you have been taking, but I know what I am talking about. My nerves were in a worse condition than yours ever were. I could scarcely get a wink of sleep, and did not care whether I got anything to eat or not. Besides, I got so irritable and down-hearted that nothing seemed to go right. The experience that I had enables me to sympathize with you now, and also to say that I am certain that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will help you."

TO PROVIDE HUTS FOR THE SOLDIERS

Bishop Fallon, Geo. A. Warburton, Norman Somerville to Speak.

After spending nearly two weeks with Sir Arthur Currie and his staff, Bishop Fallon, Geo. A. Warburton, and Norman Somerville are returning to Toronto tomorrow morning. Bishop Fallon will be the principal speaker at the mass meeting to launch a three-week campaign, which has as its objective $150,000 in three days, for Catholic army huts. George A. Warburton, Y.M.C.A., and Norman Somerville will endorse the campaign. "All welcome" will be the sign outside these huts, and that means that they are for any soldier to use, no matter what his religion may be. There has been the Y.M.C.A. campaign to build huts for the Salvation Army, and now the Catholic organization becomes an ally and asks that funds may be provided for the huts. It is the hope of the Catholic faith that there will be a place to call home. If the men adhering to various beliefs can fight together, if the bullet in the rifle held in the hands of a Catholic soldier is as effective as that of a Protestant, if a Salvationist or a Jew, then the people at home can give together and work together for the good of every soldier. Tomorrow night a choir of 300, accompanied by the band of the 10th Regiment, will lead the great audience in the familiar hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers," and from that moment "Onward" will be the watchword. Bishop Fallon will speak with authority on the conditions that prevail in the trenches. At the invitation of the Canadian Government he went to England and France to conduct a personal investigation, and he has come home enthused with the gallantry and bravery of the Canadians and inspired by the organization that makes them such a powerful fighting force.

Sir John Hendrie, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, will be chairman, and men whose names are well known in the business, commercial and financial circles of Toronto and Canada will occupy seats on the platform.

PRESBYTERIANS TALK ON PRE-WAR TOPICS

The committee of fifty, appointed by the last general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, to outline plans for a forward movement with the view of preparing the church for the new conditions arising out of the war, met on the 26th and 27th inst. in Grosvenor Street Presbyterian Church, Toronto, under the chairmanship of Rev. Principal A. Gandler, Rev. R. Laird acting as secretary. On the previous day sub-committees had met and prepared special reports based upon surveys that had been made during the past summer. A large number of members of the committee of fifty attended, and with them were associated a number of district superintendents and others who are in possession of information of special value. The attendance was well maintained throughout, and the discussions gave ample evidence of the earnestness, open-mindedness and hopefulness pervading the church in the presence of the new era. It is believed that the church possesses reserves of man and woman power and also of money, which can be mobilized if the appeal be rightly directed. Within a few weeks, thru a system of visitation by outstanding men, information will be conveyed to the synods, presbyteries and congregations so that as speedily as possible all the working forces of the church may be linked up in a grand endeavor to bring the church to a level with the needs and opportunities. Arrangements to promote this are already under way. It is understood that other Protestant churches are taking similar action, and that the churches will in co-operation move forward toward a higher efficiency and a larger effort to meet human needs.

How about a Dress of Jersey Cloth? They're quite uncrushable and can be worn on all occasions. We describe four:

Second—A Dress of Copenhagen Blue Jersey Cloth, made very chic by the odd embroidery on the collar which forms a scarf at side and has fringe end of brown which matches the embroidery on collar. Very charming is this model, priced at$50.00

Third—Dress of Navy Blue Jersey Cloth with handsomely embroidered front of soutache braid. The collar is of rose satin and the belt is piped with same. We consider this beautiful model splendid value at the price$38.00

Fourth—This model is in Sand Colored Jersey Cloth, with overskirt effect, lavishly embroidered in King's blue. Two rows of buttons are at each side front, and the broad belt is very smart. The price for this lovely model is fixed at$45.00

FOUNDED 1826. A morning newspaper published every day by The World Newspaper Company of Toronto, Limited.

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 30.

Thrill and the Thriving

In the great campaign of thrift going on preparatory to the new Victory Loan issue it goes without saying that the thrift injunctions are not intended for the thousands of salary earners, people on small fixed incomes, and others who have had no increase and in many cases a reduction in their stipends since the war broke out and the high cost of living imposed a more rigid observance of thrift upon them than the committees on thrift ever began to imagine.

There is probably not in the whole country any class that deserves more consideration than those who, compelled by circumstances, often take advantage of by employers, are unable to help themselves, and must face an increase in the cost of living, which the government places at 67 per cent, while they have no more, or perhaps less, than they had when the war began, with which to meet the new condition. Thrift! The new slogan extra taxes alone are a burden to them, but no deduction is made for those who have had no larger income to meet the strain, and they must face the same demands as those whose incomes have been doubled, tripled, quadrupled.

It is to these latter that the appeal for thrift is properly addressed, and if they do their duty they will remember that they who are greatly benefited will also be greatly obligated. Unfortunately this is seldom realized, and they who are rejoicing in three or four times the income to which they have been accustomed are not always contributing three or four times as much to charitable and patriotic funds.

Another phase of the thrift campaign that is to be noted is that it is not miserliness, nor regardlessness of vital importance. Control of the Jaube means junction with Rumania and the restoration of Serbia, Bucharest and Belgrade will become centres of importance, and the threat of invasion will come more heavily at the gates of Hungary, Budapest and Vienna have always been accessible from the south and east. It must not be forgotten that the Italians are awaiting their opportunity both in Albania and near home, and all the enslaved races of the dual monarchy, grouped as Czech-Slovaks, are ready to take advantage of an Austro-Hungarian invasion to revolt.

We say advisedly that the German military caste are desperately wicked. The indiscriminate slaughter by tens of thousands of the best blood of Russia by Bolsheviki under the command or by instigation of German agents is directly traceable to the Kaiser and his pirate crew. This is not war, but murder most foul. The authors of these iniquities should not escape the reckoning of civilized Europe, but should pay the penalties of their crimes as any Jack-the-ripper would be compelled to do. The Russian people who are being slaughtered off in millions are the expectant of making room for German colonists are the common, ordinary citizens such as might be seen in Toronto gathered at any important public meeting. They represent Russian culture as distinct from German Kultur, and they are therefore condemned by the Kaiser as he condemned others in Belgium, in France, in Poland, in Serbia, in Armenia, in die. Abdul the Danned never equalled the record of crime which the Kaiser has made in Europe under the plea of war.

These things must not be forgotten when the terms of unconditional surrender which are proposed for Germany are being considered.

He Should Have Written Commissioner Chisholm

Editor World: Fuel, fuel and then more fuel, but not for the masses; the gods with servants and poodle dogs are the "fortunate ones." Why do you permit me to state my case? and incidentally I state the case of seven other families in my immediate vicinity. For the last two months we have been making the "rounds" of the various coal offices and the only reply, a cut-iron one, "Will take orders in a few weeks, you'll have to come again." Now it appears to me that we have a fuel commissioner, a board of sidemen and a board of control, who know very little how to control, with the coal problem, or they are too busy with other less important matters, forgetting that the winter months are upon us and we, who have small children to keep warm, have to suffer. Just here I want to say that I for one will not see my children suffer. I mean that, even if I have to secure the coal at the point of a gun. I have a family of eight children and have less than 500 pounds of coal in my cellar. I mean that I have a real live man to look after the coal situation the problem would have been an easy one to solve. For an instance: Have all coal dealers to submit to the fuel controller or commissioner all orders and the fuel controller order so as to have an equal distribution and at the same time all the people secure equal consideration and

The Springtide of War

It has taken longer than some of us expected to scoop the meat out of the German pumpkin, but he is scraping the rind at present and it has worn very thin in places. How thin it can be scraped without falling to pieces cannot be settled off hand, but current events indicate that the break-up is not far off. The pressure now being exerted on all fronts leaves the enemy without opportunity to collect any further reserve, and all that he started out with last March have been thrown, as we then anticipated, into the hopeless task of breaking an elastic, resilient and indomitable organization. It should have been obvious when the cautious and even timid counsels of such men as Colonel Repington and the school he represented were rejected, that the united command were convinced that the job was one to be done without delay and that the means were at hand to carry it off. The Versailles Council of War is the source and assurance of victory for the entire alliance. Outside their council we can only judge by events, and probably no man knows where the death-blow is to be struck outside the highest command, and events must determine the choice of various alternatives. The prodigious successes now reported on the several fronts are not, of course, incompatible with the postponement of the war into next year. Unforeseen contingencies must be allowed for and cannot always be successfully countered. But it is evident that the Versailles Council is working for a military decision this year.

Big generals are never tied up to any particular plan. The people who declared that victory could only be obtained on the western front have been busy of late explaining away some of their declarations. The thing to do is to hit the enemy where he is vulnerable. Germany did that with the entente alliance by demoralizing Russia. We are retorting in kind by our assault on Bulgaria. If Bulgaria can be detached from the enemy the military consequences will be directly of vital importance. Control of the Danube means junction with Rumania and the restoration of Serbia, Bucharest and Belgrade will become centres of importance, and the threat of invasion will come more heavily at the gates of Hungary, Budapest and Vienna have always been accessible from the south and east. It must not be forgotten that the Italians are awaiting their opportunity both in Albania and near home, and all the enslaved races of the dual monarchy, grouped as Czech-Slovaks, are ready to take advantage of an Austro-Hungarian invasion to revolt.

It seems that the air of England induces marriage or procreation. It is the winsome young lady who lives in the particular part of the world, who have proven to be such magnets to the Canadian boys. In any case we understand that as an inducement to the guilty of the offence, but surely after all it is not such a dreadful thing to happen to you. If you are a young man, you resent the fact that he did not give you a chance to look his blushing bride over before he committed the crime of matrimony with her, but he did not, and so you were left with a young wife and a young child.

If the mothers and fathers of Canada are going to resent their sons marrying the young ladies of the present time, better go down to Ottawa and talk it over with the military authorities, for the fact that he did not give you a chance to look his blushing bride over before he committed the crime of matrimony with her, but he did not, and so you were left with a young wife and a young child.

Port Credit Patriots

Editor World: In Saturday's issue of your paper I noticed a list of officers belonging to Port Credit who have either fallen on the field of battle or are in the hospital. One other officer, at least, whose parents reside in Port Credit, and whose own home is in Port Credit, has not been included in the list given. Apart from Colonel Duncan Donald, no other officer in the battalion helped more to raise and train the 48th (Highlanders) than Frank M. Ross, who was adjutant of that battalion until it was broken up at Vimy, England, and who is now acting adjutant of the 8th Winnipeg Battalion (The Little Black Devils), who are in the hardest of the fighting at present.

A sister also gave up her chosen vocation to do patriotic work here in Canada. Isabel M. Ross, being now well known all over Canada as a writer on the educational division of the Canadian War Effort. She is a heavy front-line worker, whilst a younger brother is a non-commissioned officer in the Canadian army, having previously served in the American army on the Mexican frontier.

Ida Writes About Soldiers Marrying

BY IDA L. WEBSTER.

We have received two letters from mothers who have boys overseas, and who are now suffering untold mind and heart pain because they are not yet married. Both these chaps are under twenty, and the women have written to us asking if there is not some law which would prohibit young Canadian soldiers from committing the crime of matrimony while they are in the army.

Right off the bat we might as well say that there is no such law, and just as the boys meet the object of their young love in the present time, the military authorities to marry: in fact, they may possibly have their blessing of this we cannot authentically speak, but we do know that there have been many a dozen complaints from mothers all over the Dominion to the minister of militia.

It seems that the air of England induces marriage or procreation. It is the winsome young lady who lives in the particular part of the world, who have proven to be such magnets to the Canadian boys. A BAD FALL

THE WIFE

By Jane Phelps

Ruth Hears That Brian and Mollie Dined Expensively.

CHAPTER XLIX.

Brian had gone out immediately he had told Ruth he had taken Mollie King to dinner. He certainly had no intention of having been with Mollie. She thought that, but while his frankness had made her much happier, she wondered how many times Mollie had been with him. In his sleep he had said: "I should have had a wife."

"I should have had a wife," she said to herself. "I should have had a wife." She was a young girl, and she was very much interested in the story of Brian and Mollie. She had heard that they had dined expensively, and she was curious to know more about it.

The thrift contest in The Sunday World has attracted wide attention. Last week a large number of letters came in containing practical suggestions of how money can be saved.

STRIKERS MUST WORK.

London, Sept. 29.—Although the strikers in the Clyde shipyards had voted by a small majority against returning to work, their executive have ordered them to resume operations.

SPEAKS OF POSSIBLE COLLAPSE BY ENEMY

Socialist Newspaper in Berlin Appeals to the German People to Remain Steadfast.

Amsterdam, Sept. 29.—German and Austrian papers reflect great anxiety concerning the military situation and especially the Bulgarian request for an armistice.

The Neue Freie Presse of Vienna says Austria has taken all measures to make certain that reinforcements shall reach the scene of operations at the earliest possible moment.

A telegram from Vienna reports the arrival there of King Wilhelm III and his family.

Declaring that the hour had now come when the German people must decide for or against peace, the government must do everything possible to enable it to come to the conference table together with its allies as speedily as possible.

Woodstock, Sept. 29.—John Brunner of the Commercial Hotel appeared in court for having soda biscuits on his tables before the soldiers served.

BRITISH NAVAL AIRMEN AID BELGIAN ADVANCE

London, Sept. 29.—The air force with the navy, co-operating in the Belgian offensive yesterday, dropped thirteen tons of bombs and set fire to two trains and several ammunition dumps.

DOUBLE-CROSSING GERMANY.

Amsterdam, Sept. 29.—A Berlin despatch to The Frankfort Zeitung suggests that the basis for the Bulgarian armistice offer was created in previous negotiations with the entente.

FUND GROWS STEADILY.

Chatham, Sept. 29.—The campaign fund of the local branch of the Navy League is steadily increasing, and has now reached the total of $894.

APPLE PICKERS SCARCE.

Chatham, Sept. 29.—Apple growers of the district are experiencing great difficulty in securing pickers, and fear that a large percentage of the crop will go to waste.

Tired of Giving?

You don't know what it means to be tired. Think of those poor unfortunates and compare their lot with yours. You were saved from conditions such as these by the Belgian Army. What will you sacrifice for their dependents?

BY PERMISSION OF NEW YORK TRIBUNE

TODAY closes Self-Denial Week for the relief of the Belgians.

What does your conscience say? When you buy a tag Tomorrow, will it be a reminder that you denied yourself nothing—or will you wear it, conscious of the fact that you gave all you could afford to relieve the suffering dependents of those who gave all for you?

In these days, so crowded with important events, it is easy to forget our debt to Belgium. It is easier to forget, now that we are prosperous, comfortable and success looms large—that the Belgian army purchased all this for us by their heroic sacrifice in August, 1914.

Forget no longer! For forgetting will not free us from our sacred duty nor stop the pleadings of those enslaved, starving Belgians. Your duty is clear—give of your abundance.

Tomorrow is your Opportunity—Give Liberally!

Make this Tag Day one that will go on record. If you didn't deny yourself anything last week, make restitution Tomorrow. Every dollar you give will help relieve the distress of those who, bereft of every means of livelihood, await in dumb despair—the end—or your succor.

Persons not living in the city, or those wishing to contribute by cheque, should send their contributions direct to the

he doesn't speak to them as Protestants, as Catholics, or as Jews.

He talks to them as a man to men, and he seeks to keep them healthy in body, pure in mind, and thoughtful of their soul's welfare...

It is only in the preparation for the Life after Death that soldiers seek their own communion.

When Canada calls its young manhood to service it makes no distinction of creed.

When the young fellows get into camp and "chum up" to one another they don't ask their pals what faith they profess.

They train, eat, drink, sleep, play, share hardships, and, if need be, DIE, together.

Inasmuch as Catholics have always generously supported the Y.M.C.A.—a representative Protestant organization—in its work for our soldiers, we feel that it is reasonable that Protestant citizens, as well as Catholics, should give generously in support of the work carried on by the Catholic Army Huts in the service of soldiers.

While there are differences of opinion between Catholics and Protestants, there can be no difference of opinion in regard to supporting most enthusiastically any cause that will make easier the life of our soldiers, or minister to their spiritual needs.

Remember this, therefore, and give generously when you are asked to contribute.
