LADYSMITH STILL HOLDS OUT. PREPARATIONS FOR RELIEF.

Transports Carrying 12,802 Men Have Arrived at Cape Town, of Which 6000 Men Are Now on Their Way to Durban to Relieve White.

Several British Casualties at Mafeking, Where the Boers Have Made Determined Efforts to Take the Town—Who Was Responsible for the Surrender of the Two Regiments?—French Steamer Overhauled.

There is little change in the war situation this morning. No messages have been received from Ladysmith since Nov. 6, but yesterday heliograph communication with the beleaguered town was established, showing that Gen. Buller was holding his own.

Reinforcements to the number of 12,802 have been reported as having arrived in South Africa. Of this number 6000 are already on the way to Durban from Cape Town. It is expected that nine troops, carrying 11,000 more men, will be reported at Cape Town to-day.

The latest news from Col. Baden-Powell, in command at Mafeking, says that for several days the Boers shelled that town. During the fighting the British had a few casualties, while the Boer losses are reported to have been heavy. The killed on the British side were: Capt. Hon. D. H. Marsham, 4th Bedfordshire; Capt. C. A. Petchell, 3rd King's Rifles; Capt. Fitzclarence, 3rd Royal Fusiliers, and Lieut. Swinton.

Father Mathews, the chaplain of the Irish Fusiliers, has arrived at Lorenzo Marquez. He tells the story of the surrender of the Irish Fusiliers and the Gloucestershire troops at Nicholson's Nek. The men, he said, would have held out, had not some subordinate officer hoisted a flag of truce on his own responsibility. The officers and men of the captured regiments, Father Mathews says, were furious when they found how they had been betrayed, as the Boers in the locality were not numerous.

The world has received many requests from people residing in Canada who have relatives with the troops in South Africa. To print the names of the rank and file, killed, wounded or captured, in the present war, the list of casualties in the 18th Hussars, from Oct. 29 to 28, is given in these columns to-day, also the War Office list of casualties at Farquhar's farm on Oct. 30. The amended list of losses at Dundee is also given.

Gen. Buller is carrying on his operations secretly. His latest move is to send cruisers out to intercept the transports and give his orders as to their destination, which is kept secret.

A British cruiser overhauled a French steamer, the Cordoba, at Delagoa Bay, yesterday. The French boat did not stop till a shot was fired across her bows. She was allowed to proceed, but the Paris Patrie says war with Britain is now inevitable.

London, Nov. 14.—(4.50 a.m.)—The paucity of news from the front still leaves the chief interest centered in the arrival of the reinforcements. Escourt despatches say that heliograph communication has been established with Ladysmith, but so far no news has been received, the latest date being Nov. 6th, which shows that the occupants of Ladysmith had had no news of the outside world since Gen. Buller was put in command, and that they were pined for the inactivity of the Boers. Everyone was confident and cheerful, but all were suffering the inconveniences of the siege, bread selling at 3 shillings per loaf.

Col. Baden-Powell's dashing sorties at Mafeking encouraged the hope that the British garrison along the western border are all able to hold out.

At Kimberley. Mr. Cecil Rhodes is employing thousands of men, as a remedy for destitution. According to a despatch from De Aar the Boers at Kimberley have got the exact range of the mines and are constantly throwing shells at the dynamite pits. Several of the latter have been blown up and the damage done to the mines already amounts to many thousands pounds.

Among the stories from Brussels is one that Gen. Joubert and Sir George White have been endeavoring to negotiate for the capitulation of Ladysmith, but have failed to come to terms.

Lord Salisbury and Lord Wolsey were guests of the Queen at Windsor Castle last night.

Mr. Rudyard Kipling has donated £20 and some books to the fund for fitting out the hospital ship Maine.

Father Mathews' Story. The story of Father Mathews, chaplain of the 3rd King's Rifles, regarding the surrender at Nicholson's Nek, is too vague to be very convincing; but in military circles it is considered unpleasant reading, and it will be impossible to learn the facts until the officer concerned has been court-martialed.

A Point of View. The report that the British cruiser Magicienne had fired on the French steamer Cordoba raises the doubtful point whether Great Britain has yet actually declared war. It is believed, however, that European nations have been made acquainted with the severance of diplomatic relations between Great Britain and the two republics.

Boer Losses Were Heavy. London, Nov. 13.—A special despatch from Durban, Natal, dated Thursday, Nov. 9, evening, says: "The Boers who have just arrived here report that the Boers suffered a severe defeat at Ladysmith this morning. The Boer guns were silenced after four hours' fighting, during which the Boer losses were heavy. No details have been received."

FIGHTING AT MAFEKING. Col. Baden-Powell Says the Boers Have Destroyed the Road North—Five British Killed.

London, Nov. 13.—The War Office this morning publishes the following despatch received from General Buller: "Cape Town, Sunday, Nov. 12.—(Night.)—The following reports have been received from Colonel Baden-Powell: 'Mafeking, Monday, Oct. 30.—All well here. Enemy apparently shy of attacking. Now closing to within 1000 yds. Are today destroying railway two miles north with dynamite. Shelling continued. Looking very little harm.'"

A Brilliant Attack. "Tuesday, Oct. 31.—Enemy attempted assault today on Canon Kopje, and southeast corner of town. Attack most brilliant, notwithstanding the hot shell fired by the British South African police, under Walford. Enemy lost heavily. Our casualties, five killed and five wounded."

"KILLED—Captain Hon. D. H. Marsham, 4th Bedfordshire, 3rd King's Rifles; Capt. C. A. Petchell, 3rd King's Rifles; Capt. Fitzclarence, 3rd Royal Fusiliers, and Lieut. Swinton. WOUNDED—Five non-commissioned officers and troops. All British South African police."

Up to Nov. 5. The War Office also made public the following despatch from General Buller: "Cape Town, Sunday, Nov. 12.—The following is from Nicholson's Nek, Sunday, Nov. 5: 'The following is from Baden-Powell: 'Mafeking, Wednesday, Oct. 23.—All well here. Enemy still shelling. We made successful night attack on his advanced trenches last night, getting in our own shells. Our loss, six men of the Protectorate regiment, four killed and two wounded, including Capt. Fitzclarence, 3rd King's Rifles, and Lieut. Swinton. Enemy's loss unknown, but considerable.'"

"Enemy have vacated Signal Hill and enlarged two miles northeast of town and two miles southeast."

WHO HOISTED THE FLAG OF TRUCE. Some Subordinate Played Havoc With the Irish Fusiliers and the Gloucestershire Troops.

Lorenzo Marquez, Delagoa Bay, Nov. 9.—Father Mathews, who has arrived here from Pretoria, says with reference to the surrender of the Irish Fusiliers and the Gloucestershire troops at Nicholson's Nek, that after the miles stamped, the force was held out, however, but some subordinate, without instructions, hoisted a flag of truce on his own responsibility. Noting the Boers' loss, he said, but considerable.

"We were sent out," says Father Mathews, "to prevent two Boer forces from joining. We started at 8.30 Sunday evening, and got to the Nek at 1 o'clock Monday morning."

The First Mishap. "The first mishap occurred when the mountain battery stamped, and scattered the whole lot of us. We formed up again, and the big sounded cease fire. In our locality the Boers were much put out. The Boers, our men made a breakfast of scones."

"After 12 o'clock there was a general cry of 'cease fire,' but our fellows would not stop firing. Major Adye came up and ordered the order, and then the big sounded cease fire. In our locality the Boers were much put out. The Boers, our men made a breakfast of scones."

Men Were Angry. "Our officers and men were furious at the surrender. The Boers did not seem to be in any hurry to get the spot. I heard that the men had galloped off, and were in a white rage with the officers and were sent to Commander Steenkamp."

The officers were taken away from the men and sent to Gen. Joubert the next day, traveling in motor wagons and sleeping that night in some tents on the way. The next morning they took a train at well treated, and so, I have heard, are the men.

There has been no unpleasantness in building, and are allowed to walk, as they please, in the school grounds.

The surrender, in my judgment, was a great blunder, caused by a misunderstanding. Major Adye was much put out. The white flag was not hoisted by the Irish Fusiliers."

BOERS STILL AT COLENSO. They Are Also Very Numerous on the Ladysmith Side of Colenso, a Despatch Says.

Estcourt, Natal, Nov. 8.—(Evening.)—An armored train company of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers started at half-past 11 this afternoon and reached the break in the railway line about half a mile from Colenso without incident. Capt. Hensley, with several men, reconnoitered and met a native, who said the Boers were occupying the town. While this conversation was in progress the Boers opened fire from Fort Wyke, but did no injury. Capt. Hensley thereupon retired on the train, after which the Fusiliers volleyed on the fort. As there was no response, the presumption was that the Boers had been driven from the fort. The train returned down by a King-street trolley between Church and Toronto streets, yesterday afternoon, and had his shoulder dislocated. He was taken to St. Michael's Hospital.

FRENCH BOAT FIRED ON. Cruiser Magicienne Stopped by the French Steamer Cordoba at Delagoa Bay.

The French steamer Cordoba has arrived here. When several miles out she was signalled by the British third-class cruiser Magicienne, and as the Cordoba did not obey a blank shot was fired across her bows. After her manifest had been examined she was allowed to proceed.

Paris Patrie is Angry. Paris, Nov. 13.—La Patrie prints the despatch reporting the hold-up of the French steamer Cordoba by a British cruiser at Delagoa Bay, and swells up with rage. The paper magnifies the incident, and says the outrage is due to the £200,000 bribe England has sent to Portugal, the Bank of England gold account showing a deficit of that amount, which is not covered by the La Patrie concludes that an Anglo-French war is inevitable.

BULLER WORKS SECRETLY. Cruisers to Intercept All Transports and Inform Them of His Orders.

London, Nov. 14.—It is understood that the Admiralty, on General Buller's advice, has arranged that cruisers at the Cape should go out to intercept all arriving transports and inform them of the latest orders respecting their destination, which are to be kept secret.
