SAN FRANCISCO HORROR FINDS GRIM PARALLEL IN KINGSTON, JA.

Although Early Reports Were Much Exaggerated, Great Damage Has Been Done, and There is Considerable Loss of Life-- Ruin and Desolation Stretch for Miles--Wharves and Warehouses Burned in Kingston and 300 People Are In The Hospitals--Philippine Islands Swept By Typhoon.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16--Few additional details of the earthquake disaster at Kingston, Jamaica, reached this city during the night.

The brief messages that came from Holland Bay, the cable station on the island of Jamaica, located forty miles from Kingston brought reports that the disaster was not so great as had been at first feared.

Only a part of the town was ruined by the earthquake shocks and the loss of life is placed at thirty, while 300 persons are reported injured. The fire which had started after the tremor, is said to have been brought under control late on Monday night.

The panic at Kingston was apparently short lived, as it was stated that the work of rescuing and caring for the injured was under way. Many persons, however, fled from the city and took refuge in the surrounding country, fearing a recurrence of the shocks.

An official despatch received in the colonial office, London, today confirms the reports that the destruction wrought by earthquake and fire was not so wide spread as at first reports indicated. This despatch stated that, while the total number of killed and injured had not been definitely ascertained, it was apparently not large. The greatest number of casualties occurred in the camp hospital where 30 colored soldiers were killed.

Ruin and Desolation Stretch for Miles. LONDON, Jan. 16--The extraordinary reports of news which this morning have reached London from Jamaica make it difficult to estimate the extent of the calamity caused by the earthquake and the subsequent conflagration. Messages received by steamship and cable companies here indicate that while the early reports of the destruction at Kingston and great loss of life were exaggerated, the disaster was still of a grave character. Ruin and desolation are said to stretch for miles outside the city of Kingston.

The shocks were felt from fifty to sixty miles away and one despatch from the temporary cable station at Bull Bay says that not a single house has been left there.

Fire in Kingston Now Under Control. LONDON, Jan. 16--Other cable despatches from Kingston say that the office of the Direct West India Cable Company were wrecked, but that no fatalities occurred among the members of the staff. Mr. Godner, one of the clerks, was severely injured.

The Colonial Bank of Kingston was burned down. The vaults with the books and cash are safe and the members of the staff escaped uninjured.

Cable communication has been restored to within eight miles of Kingston, connection having been made with the cable at a place called Bull Bay.

The latest information received from Kingston said that the fire was under control and added that the number of West Indian soldiers killed in the camp hospital was 40 instead of 30, as previously reported.

The colonial office this morning was besieged with enquirers, who asked for news of relatives in Kingston, but the officials had nothing further to communicate at present, except that the officials of the colonial office had every reason to believe that the casualties among the Europeans at Kingston were light.

The colonial office has instructed the government authorities in Jamaica to take all the necessary steps to relieve the distress among the earthquake and fire sufferers that the authorities have ordered the cruiser Brilliant, now at Bermuda, and the cruiser Indefatigable, at present at Trinidad to proceed forthwith to Jamaica and assist in relief work.

They are both vessels of 3,600 tons, and their combined crews number about 550 men which will enable them to land strong detachments of police and other duty in the devastated city.

Most of Wharves and Warehouses Burned. LONDON, Jan. 16--The steamship and cable companies here have received belated messages, dated Monday, via Holland Bay. A despatch to the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co. says:

"Kingston wrecked and most of the wharves and warehouses burned, but our main wharf, sheds, coal and cargo safe. Offices wrecked. Constantine, Jamaica superintendent of the company, and Captain Young, commander of the Arno, were killed."

The Arno is a small steamer belonging to the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co., and it is presumed that the superintendent and captain were killed in the wreck of the vessel.

The Royal Mail Co. simply says that Sir James Ferguson, who represented the company at the agricultural conference, is "missing" and adds that Governor Sweetenham had asked the local representatives of the company to sell provisions to those requiring them.

Chairman Phillips, of the company, is believed to be the governor, placing all the available provisions and stores of the company at his service for the relief of the sufferers from the earthquake and fire, also called for the New York office of the Royal Mail to send provisions to Kingston by the Arno and other steamers with all possible speed.

The company has not heard of any damage having been sustained by their vessels in Kingston harbor.

Three Hundred Are In The Hospitals. LONDON, Jan. 16--The destruction wrought by the earthquake at Kingston, Jamaica, and the subsequent conflagration, according to an official telegram received this morning at the colonial office, was by means as widespread as indicated in the first reports.

Although the total number of killed and wounded has not yet been ascertained, it is apparently not very large and only a small portion of the city, including, however, wharves and warehouses, suffered from the fire that followed the earthquake. The greatest number of casualties was in the camp hospital, where 30 colored soldiers were killed.

The telegram which was sent by Governor Sweetenham is undated and is presumed to have been sent on Monday. The text follows:

"Severe earthquake this afternoon between three and four o'clock caused considerable damage to houses at Kingston. It was followed by a fire, which continues though it is confined to about one-sixteenth part of the town, containing wharves and warehouses. The camp hospital was destroyed and thirty men were killed. There were no officers among them. Major Headlyman was seriously injured. The town hospital is crowded with some 300 injured persons. The fire is now decreasing. The Myrtle Bank Hotel has been destroyed and also cable office. The conference delegates and the members of Sir Alfred Jones' expedition are believed to be uninjured and are now at Port Lonsdale. In the harbor numbers of persons were killed or wounded, but the figures have not yet been ascertained. Slighter shocks continue."

Halifax Does Large Trade With Jamaica. HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 16--(Special)--Halifax is in direct communication with Jamaica, through the Halifax and Bermuda Cable Company, but that company has been cut off since 4:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon, and up to this morning communication had not been restored.

Reports received on Monday told that the weather was fair and clear, with no indications of disturbances. Jamaica is believed to be in direct communication with the Halifax and Bermuda Cable Company and by the West India and Panama cable, via Trinidad and St. Thomas.

The Western Union also has a cable from Key West, Florida, to Cuba, by which connection is made with Jamaica, but all lines are interrupted, and the only news received was from Holland Bay, the Panama cable station, sixty miles from Kingston. The destruction of the land lines made communication extremely difficult and up to a late hour only meagre news was received.

Halifax merchants who have large business relations with Kingston were greatly alarmed over the startling news contained in the earlier bulletins, but were unable to gain any information save what was contained in the press despatches.

This city does a large and important trade with Jamaica, there being two lines operating between the island and this port, the Pictou & Black line, which have the steamer, Beta and Boston, the latter calling at Santiago, and the Canada-Jamaica line, which have the steamers Vinland and Kathinka. G. Jones & Co., being the agents of the latter line. The principal items of export from here are dried and pickled fish, lumber, butter and potatoes, and as imports from there we receive rum, bananas, oranges, grape-fruit and woods.

The steamer Kiska, which left Halifax on Saturday last with a full cargo, is bound for Kingston via Santiago, but it will be some days before she reaches her destination. The steamer cargo consists principally of potatoes and fish.

LOCAL PEOPLE TELL OF VISITS TO JAMAICA

R. Keltie Jones, Fred S. Crosby and H. B. Schofield Have Been in Kingston, Jamaica, and Talk About the Stricken City.

Among the St. John people who read of the Kingston disaster with considerable interest was Fred S. Crosby, son of L. G. Crosby. Mr. Crosby visited Kingston about three years ago, in company with Ed. Rhodes, of Amherst, while on a tour of the West Indies. They spent about two weeks in Kingston and vicinity, stopping at the Constant Springs Hotel, about five miles out of Kingston on the trolley line.

Kingston, said Mr. Crosby, is right on the sea level and there is a range of mountains about ten miles back, between Kingston and Port Antonio, which is about forty miles away on the other side of the island.

They have a very fine trolley system, lines running out of the city in three directions, a distance of about six miles. The public buildings are mostly very old, but the streets, particularly in the business section, are very fine, the main roughness being paved with bricks.

The post office, customs house and other government buildings are situated on Harbor street, facing the harbor. Harbor street and King street are the principal business thoroughfares.

The Myrtle Bank Hotel, which was destroyed, is located near the centre of the city and is owned by the Elder-Deupster Steamship Company. This company also owns the Constant Springs Hotel, which is patronized largely by the tourists, as its situation is a few miles from the city makes it cooler and more comfortable.

Half links, tennis courts, swimming, etc., are run in connection with it. At Port Antonio the United Fruit Company operate a mammoth hotel. The Crosby-Molasses Company have no business connection in Jamaica, their trade being confined to the other islands.

R. Keltie Jones Tells of His Trip. About a year ago, or on February 23, 1906, R. Keltie Jones of this city visited Kingston while on a holiday trip to the West Indies and South America. He was a passenger at that time on the steamer Princess Victoria Louise, which was wrecked a few weeks ago. As Mr. Jones only stayed about 30 hours in Jamaica, and most of one day was spent at "Leston Gardens, about ten miles from Kingston, he did not see much of the city. His impression was that it was a pretty place in a tropical way, but there was scarcely anything of note about the city. The Castleton Gardens, however, were worth a visit, as they are reputed to be the finest gardens devoted to tropical trees in the world.

H. B. Schofield Was in Kingston. H. B. Schofield, of this city, has spent much time at Kingston, and this morning talked entertainingly on the country. He said that he went by the Royal Mail from Southampton to Kingston, which is beautifully situated and has a splendidly protected harbor. There are two large tourist hotels there under the management of Sir Alfred Jones. The Myrtle Bank Hotel, which was destroyed, is situated in the heart of the city and has a beautiful garden in the rear, extending to the water's edge.

The other hotel, the Constant Springs, is situated about six miles out in the country and connection is had by means of trolley lines.

"Kingston is the commercial centre of the island and has a number of very large shops. It is a big trading centre in every respect and is canvassed by representatives of both American and English houses, and in consequence competition is exceedingly keen and prices as a rule very low. Two daily papers are issued, both of which show considerable enterprise."

"I had the pleasure of spending a good many hours at different times with Canadian Commissioner G. H. Burke, who is a very active and energetic citizen of Kingston and probably one of the city's most prominent business men. He has given a great deal of his time to public interest, particularly trade and commerce."

"I also met A. H. Rowley, whose parents reside in Marysville. He is manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Kingston.

"The island has frequently been visited by terrific cyclones, which usually completely demolish the banana crop. The last of these occurred about three years ago and it was found necessary to raise public subscriptions to assist the people at that time. I have understood that the island industries have just about cleared themselves of the disaster and I fear that the earthquake coming soon afterwards would prove most discouraging."

Mr. Schofield stated that Mr. Freeman, an accountant in the Bank of Nova Scotia in this city, but who was connected with the agency of that bank at Mandaville, is now at Mandaville, a village back of the hills in the orange district.

der white fingers, and that her own will was nothing, less than nothing, when confronted by her mother's iron determination. Mrs. Bedworth was looked upon in her own circle of acquaintances not only as a woman of exceeding charm, but also as a wonderful manager. Left a widow in her early thirties, with an income that appeared quite inadequate for her position in society, she had nevertheless contrived to bring up her lovely daughter in a way suited to that position, and to make her small house the centre of a pleasant circle of men and women. Fifty-four, Manders Street, was a popular resort to those of both sexes, and Mrs. Bedworth's merits as a hostess were fully recognized by all those who availed themselves of her hospitality. People had said that she intended her daughter Stella to make a wealthy marriage, and gossip had even associated her name with one or two leading persons in society. The gossip had therefore held up their hands in unmitigated surprise when, five months earlier, the announcement was made of Stella Bedworth's engagement to a comparatively unimportant young man, Alan Dayrell. It was true he was the heir to a fortune and an estate, but still, as everybody said, fairly that engaged "everybody" shows in discussing other people's business, Mr. Haines, the young man's rich godfather, might live for years, and meanwhile a clerk in a government office was not quite the best match to be found for so attractive a girl as Stella.

PLUM POINT LIGHTHOUSE, PORT ROYAL, JAMAICA

London, Jan. 15.—The colonial office tonight received confirmation of the terrible disaster which has overtaken Kingston, Jamaica, in a dispatch from Hanar Greenwood, M. P., sent from Holland Bay, at the east end of the island. The telegram says that Kingston has been ruined by an earthquake, which occurred without warning Monday afternoon at 3.30. A very great number of buildings and dwellings were destroyed, either by the earthquake or by the consequent fire. The military hospital was burned, and forty soldiers are reported to have been killed, together with several prominent citizens and many other of the inhabitants of the city. Sir James Ferguson is reported to have been instantly killed, but no other English, Canadian or American are missing. The city is quiet, but disciplined workers are needed. The government of the colony, Sir Alexander Swettenham, assisted by Sir Alfred Jones, is directing affairs. The steamer Port Kingston will leave Thursday with most of the members of the party who went out with Sir Alfred Jones to attend the agricultural conference. The Right Honorable Sir James Ferguson, mentioned in the foregoing dispatch, was a man of considerable prominence. He served in the Crimean campaign with the Grenadier Guards, and was present at the battles of Alma and Inkerman, where he was wounded, and at the siege of Sebastopol. He was several times a member of the House of Commons. He was under secretary of state for India and the home department in Lord Derby's third, and in Mr. Darnley's first administration. He was made governor of South Australia in 1868, governor of New Zealand in 1873, and governor of Bombay in 1885. He was under secretary of state for foreign affairs in 1888, and from 1891 to 1892 he served as postmaster-general. London, Jan. 15.—The only news of the earthquake at Kingston (Ja.), thus far received in London, is contained in brief despatches from New York. In addition to a great number of Englishmen in business at Kingston there is at present a party of distinguished persons, headed by Sir Alfred Jones, on a visit there to attend an agricultural conference. There is much uneasiness here on their account. This party left Bristol (Eng.), on Dec. 30, on board the steamer Port Kingston, for Kingston. It was composed of about

SICK KIDNEYS

Mean Aching Backs and Sharp Stabbing Pains That Make Life Almost Unendurable.

An aching, breaking back, sharp stabs of pain—that is kidney trouble. The kidneys are real spongy filters—a human filter to take poisons from the blood. But sick, weak kidneys cannot filter the blood properly. The delicate human filters get clogged with impurities, and the poison is left in the system to cause backaches, headaches, rheumatism, dropsy and fatal inflammation. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the one sure cure for sick kidneys. They make new, rich blood, which flushes them clean and gives them strength for their work. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills set the kidneys right, and make lame, aching backs strong and well. Mr. George Johnson, of the village of Ohio, N. S., says: "My son, now eighteen years old, suffered from kidney trouble and severe pains in the back, which caused him many a sleepless night. We tried several medicines, but they did not help him, and he grew so weak that he could not do the work that falls to the lot of a young boy on a farm. We were advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this was the first medicine that reached the cause of the trouble. He took the pills for a couple of months, when every symptom of the trouble was gone, and he was as healthy as any boy of his age. I am satisfied Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure kidney trouble in its most severe forms." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new rich blood. In that way they strike at the root of anæmia, indigestion, kidney trouble, liver complaint, erysipelas, skin diseases, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, and the special ailments of growing girls and women whose health depends upon the richness and regularity of their blood. The genuine pills have the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box, and will be had from all dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. J. Milton Price arrived home from Chicago last evening. He spent Sunday in Montreal.

Daily Fashion Hint for Times Readers.

A perfect riot of roses, jessamine, forget-me-nots, chrysanthemums and other blossoms are scattered over the delicately tinted backgrounds of the materials that are most in favor for Southern wear. The old-time organdies are back again, with countless weaves of more novel nature to supplement them; but the fancy for floral designs in those summery-looking frocks is one that will not be denied. A most effective design is presented in the charming picture herewith. It is so simple that even the amateur dressmaker can accomplish it. If she have but the patience to make the innumerable tucks and lace insertions that constitute so large a part of its charm. The bodice is composed of alternate grouped tucks and lace insertions, this running lengthwise to make an air of slenderness apparent. Over this is draped a rich fabric, the sheer goods being folded and edged with pleated ruffles of narrow Valenciennes. The deep dentils is a separate affair, made on a featherbone foundation and laced invisibly in front. There is a slip foundation skirt, the lower flounce attached to this, while the upper one is fitted by means of the grouped tucks and lace insertion. Deep Valenciennes lace is lavishly used on the skirt to edge the two flounces, and a narrow edge of the same design is used to advantage on part of its charm.

OCEAN GREYHOUNDS

Dominion Steamship Line Will Build Two Huge Passenger Boats.

The management of the Dominion Steamship Company has decided on the construction of two huge passenger steamers, which will be placed on the St. Lawrence route, in order to meet the growing demand for high-class and speedy vessels and to relieve the congestion of the rapidly increasing business in both passenger and freight. The new steamers, it is understood, will be of immense proportions, and built from the latest designs, while the accommodations and furnishings will be equal to those of any other line of vessels plying on the St. Lawrence. The new boats will be of at least twenty thousand tons, and will have a speed of sixteen or seventeen knots.

FIVE KILLED IN AN EXPLOSION

NORRISTOWN, Penn., Jan. 16.—The boiler of a Philadelphia and Reading freight engine exploded at Bridgeport, near here, today and five men were killed. All killed resided in Allantown.

The rear portion of the boiler was hurled about 100 yards, while the wheels of the engine remained on the track. Roy Schuler, a brakeman, received the full force of the explosion and was torn to pieces. The others were scalded to death.

THE COLLINS MURDER CASE

Rev. Father MacAulay on the Stand at This Morning's Session.

HOPEWELL CAPE, Jan. 16 (Special).—Rev. Father MacAulay was the first witness called by the crown in the Collins murder trial this morning. He said he did not know whether the murdered Miss MacAulay had money or not, but he did know that she had a gold watch. He then described how the murdered woman's body was found by James Doyle, who called the witness into the woodshed. Witness then testified that the body of Miss MacAulay was found with her throat cut. He thought the woman had been killed in the shed, as there was no blood in any other part of the house. Mr. MacAulay was still on the stand when court adjourned.

THE SCHOOL BOARD

A member of the city council points out to the Times that an entirely wrong impression was given out at the meeting of the school board on Monday evening, in regard to teachers' salaries. It was there suggested that the teachers should apply to the city council. The member of the council points out that this has never been done in the past and should not now be done.

THE "VAGABONDS"

The most remarkable argument against compulsory education that has perhaps ever been set forth was that of a member of the Winnipeg school board last week. With but a single dissenting vote the board decided to again bring before the Manitoba legislature, during the present sitting, the need for a compulsory education act in the province.

SCHOOL FOR DEFICIENT CHILDREN.

Dr. Ernest Hall Says State Should Care for Unfortunate Children. (Victoria Colonist).

"I regard it as of the greatest importance that there should be a medical man on the school board," said Dr. Ernest Hall to the Colonist yesterday.

Dr. Hall referred to the resolution passed by the board at its last meeting with reference to the examination of the children of the city medical health inspector in order that they might include the care of the school children.

"The care of the children is of the greatest importance, and should be especially safeguarded. A doctor should be appointed to examine all children entering schools, and give power to prevent those children who do not consider suitable from attending the classes.

"Some radical steps should be taken in this direction," continued the doctor.

"The care of the children is of the greatest importance, and should be especially safeguarded. A doctor should be appointed to examine all children entering schools, and give power to prevent those children who do not consider suitable from attending the classes.

"Not only ought some steps to be taken to provide for the medical inspection of the city schools, and the sending out of these children who are not fitted to attend, but measures also should be taken by the government for the extension of some similar system to apply to all the schools of this province.

"It is likely that the doctor stated in the way of repairs until the opening of navigation, but they claim the monopoly for commercial purposes, but it said that a service must be given and a service by using wireless telegraph.

COLLINS MURDER CASE REVIVES GHOST STORIES

Albert County Gossips Talking About Weird Apparitions Alleged to Have Been Seen in the Past--Queer Stories of Ghosts and Phantoms.

(Moncton Transcript).

The MacAulay murder, the gloomy local surroundings in the vicinity of the place at which the tragedy took place, conspired to the more or less faint vein of superstition, and belief in things weird and supernatural which, though the idea is scoffed at, still nestles somewhere in the make-up of mankind and woman. The idea has given rise to some queer stories, which have been brought into prominence by the trial of the supposed murderer, and the accompanying discussion over those facts of the case which are already known.

Around the stoves at night, in the "country store" of every Albert county village, where nightly assemble the sages of the settlement, the MacAulay murder is the supreme, the only topic of discussion. The weather conditions and probabilities, the actions of county councils, local happenings of more or less interest, have for the present been relegated into oblivion as matters of debate, all giving way to the reigning thought in the minds of every person in Albert county—the MacAulay murder.

In no county in the province is there a greater fund of folklore than in Albert county, and the discussion of the present tragedy has revived some rather startling tales related in connection with other episodes of a tragic nature, which have occurred in the county.

WAS HELD UP BY "GHOST."

Many years ago, at Golden Hill, a locality near Elgin in Albert county, a woman came to a tragic death. Many claim that she was murdered, but this charge was never substantiated, and had almost ceased to be even a memory when revived by the Collins case, and now comes to light the story of a midnight driver being held up by something, presumably a spirit, just at the spot where the supposed crime took place.

It was about midnight several summers ago, when the hold-up, for the truth of which the narrator, who is at present a resident of his own town, took place. He was driving a recently broken colt, the animal being very skittish, and so sensitive that the merest touch of a whip would render it uncontrollable. Driving along the dark road, the moon partially obscured by clouds, the lone occupant of the wagon was endeavoring to keep it from being thrown off its track, when awakened by the horse stopping suddenly.

Looking ahead, he saw the form of a woman standing at the long black robe, standing with her hands on the horse's bridle. "As distinctly as I ever saw anything, I saw that woman standing there," the narrator says, "and I called out, 'what do you want?'"

No answer was returned, the silent figure standing at the horse's head never stirred, and the hand on the bridle, on the fingers of which the driver saw a ring glinted. He did not know whether he was becoming alarmed, the driver snatched the whip from the socket, and struck the animal, but he did not move. Again and with more force he struck, but the animal refused to budge, and again he struck, this time with all the force at his command. Like a bullet from a gun, the animal shot forward, and glancing back, the driver could see nothing in the spot where a moment before the form of a woman had been distinct, she plainly standing. Had it been a woman, the narrator of the story says, the wheel of the wagon surely had been jerked when the horse plunged forward, but he felt no jar.

The horse, once started, became almost unmanageable from fright, and dashed to the barn, a couple of miles distant, on a dead run, reaching home covered with lather.

ANOTHER MAN HAD SAME EXPERIENCE.

The story was related at Elgin the next day, and was received with the usual

TEACHERS AND THEIR SALARIES

Mistake to Balk at a Few Dollars and Lose Chances With Thousands.

(Toronto Mail and Empire).

That the agitation against that feature of the new school law which prescribes a reasonable salary for teachers is a mistake everybody who values education is bound to admit. Of course, there may be cases in which the improvement of the remuneration may seem to be a hardship, owing to circumstances that are abnormal. There, no doubt, the government should point the way to fortune. But what are such possessions in the hands of the incompetent? What blessings can they bring when united with ignorance? If material advantage is the great aim in life, the boy without fortune, but with at least, does not lie between uneducated wealth and educated poverty, but between a life struggle with education as a guide and a similar struggle without such assistance. There can be no question as to which is the better selection. Our history shows that our leaders in all branches of life are men who in their youth drew freely from the fount of knowledge. That they had university training; that they studied the dead languages and acquired high academic degrees, we do not say. But this they certainly did. Either at the hands of a devoted teacher or father, or in the public school directed by a teacher of power, both mental and moral, they received a mass of information upon which they could build as the necessities of their life in the near future required. Two things must have been accomplished by the successful men of today in their early years. First, they must have had an introduction to general knowledge similar to that which is given

HONORS FOR TWO EARNEST WORKERS

A Gordon Leavitt and William McIntosh Made Life Members of Natural History Society.

The Natural History Society of New Brunswick met last evening in its rooms, 72 Union street. In the absence of the president, Senator Ellis, Dr. G. U. Hay occupied the chair. A letter was read from the president regretting his inability to be present and cordially thanking the society for the honor conferred upon him by his election as a life member of the society.

Several valuable donations were received, including a mounted collection of weeds, the work of Miss Francis M. Crawford, of the Kingston Consolidated school, presented by Allan Schofield; a tiger cowrie, presented by Mrs. Alward; a black ear-shell, by Mrs. A. H. Pope; carved ivory ornaments from India, by Miss M. A. Rainsford; rattlesnake skin, by Mrs. Jas. Millican; tropical corals and shells, by Miss Bowman; a blackboard pointer, presented by A. Gordon Leavitt; also a number of books for the library. A hearty vote of thanks was given to the generous donors.

HEARD GROANS.

It is from the same vicinity of Elgin, a locality which will figure largely in the evidence of the Collins' trial, that there comes another story, which is however, by no means so weird as the first.

In the gate of a farm-house in the Golden Hill district, one summer afternoon, an aged lady suddenly expired. She had been taken ill while driving, and was being taken to the house, and had reached the gate when, with a groan, she expired.

A few evenings later, when all the lights were out, and the good people of the vicinity had retired, a lone pedestrian was making his way to the village of Elgin, and as he passed the gate in question, he was startled by a groan. Thinking that some one had fallen ill, he returned to investigate, but found nothing. He had proceeded on his way only a few steps, when he once more heard the groan, but this time, instead of returning, he re-doubled his speed in the other direction.

NEWSPAPER REPORTERS ALSO SEE THINGS.

Seeing things supernatural is not by any means limited to the residents of Albert County, however. It was only last September, when the Collins preliminary examination was in progress at Hopewell Cape, that two newspaper reporters, driving to Moncton on a murky, rainy night, were startled, as they passed a graveyard on the route, by an appearance which they have not yet accounted for, and which at the time they were in no disposition to investigate.

After a hard day's work, one of the scribes dozed soundly, resting his drowsy head on the fraternal shoulder of the other, who, with eyes fixed on the road ahead, was handling the reins as skilfully as he would wield pen or pencil. Suddenly, the horse swerved into the ditch, opposite the rural cemetery, in which a white tomb-stone, stood out in relief in the darkness of the night. The jar and the alarmed cry from the driver, awakened the dozing scribe, but he beheld nothing. It was related by his fellow-scribe however, that he had seen a light, a faint will-o'-the-wisp glimmering among the headstones.

The horse, which judging by his frantic prancing, had evidently also seen the specter, was urged by frantic and vigorous means to put as great space as possible between the out-kit, and the cemetery. The scribes are still telling the story.

"In connection with the above is an old-fashioned tale, which is not to be looked into the supernatural, and see things that are not visible to the human eye. A city man related an incident illustrating this, by his own experience. He had heard a sound as if something was moving about in the room near, the creek at night, by his own experience. He felt a great rush of air as if somebody had moved close to him. His dog which was dozing on the porch, began to jump up excitedly and with hair bristling, barked furiously at an invisible something, and kept advancing as the apparition evidently retreated. What it was the city man, who is not at all of a nervous or timid disposition, does not pretend to know and can only theorize as to what it might have been. But he heard something, and judging from his behavior the dog certainly saw something.

ITALIAN MURDERER HANGED AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Jan. 15—(Special)—Mysterious drafts and cheques drawn by George Blake and Charles Love and aggregating $50,000 have been pouring in on the Winnipeg branch of the Union Bank during the past six weeks from various parts of Canada. The bank officials believe the forgeries are the work of one daring criminal.

At a meeting of the local association of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew held in the Church of England Institute last evening, Allen H. Wetmore was elected president for the ensuing year. Reports of the work done in the various city churches were received and proved satisfactory.

Hon. William Pugsley returned from Montreal yesterday.

NOTICE OF MEETING.

THE Annual Meeting of the shareholders of the New Brunswick School for the Deaf will be held on Thursday, the seventh day of January at 4 p. m. in the office of A. O. Skinner, Esq., King street, St. John, N. B.

ANOTHER KNOCK FOR BLACKSOD FAST LINE PROPOSAL

Montreal, Jan. 15—A special London cable says: The Dundee advertiser referring to the proposed new fast Canadian mail service, says that with a port on one side of the Atlantic at Blacksod Bay there would be no call for the liners at hand and little cargo could be obtained. With the memory, it continues, of the unsuccessful attempt to establish a fast mail service at Galway forty eight years ago, capitalists would require to be certain that success was within reach before they ventured money in an enterprise which would be certain from the first encounter with bitter opposition from the existing lines.

R. A. Perry, who has been visiting his home in the West End, returned yesterday to Yarmouth (N. S.), where he has been in the employ of R. F. Guest. Mr. Perry is going to the Ontario College next week to complete his course and take his final examination as a veterinary surgeon, after which he will return to his city to take up the practice of his profession in the West End about March 1.

ITALIAN MURDERER HANGED AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Jan. 15—Mareri, an Italian, was hanged in the yard of the provincial jail here this morning at 9 o'clock for the murder of a fellow-countryman named Romanello, on Yonge street, this city, last spring, final appeal for a reprieve having failed.

So far as can be learned, Mareri until the last denied having caused the death of Romanello.

The sheriff had a score of applications to fill the hangman's job.

The mid-winter excursionists will celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of their famous up river trip this evening by a sleigh drive to Newcomb's. The party is expected to be a large and merry one, and will assemble at Dr. A. D. Smith's, Charlotte street, at 7.30 p. m.

SACKVILLE

SACKVILLE, Jan. 14th-The last tributes of respect were paid to the memory of the late Robert Lovison yesterday afternoon. Service at the house and grave was conducted by Rev. B. N. Nobles. Interment took place at the rural cemetery. The largely attended funeral testified to the high esteem in which Mr. Lovison was held. Bradford Carter, Hugh Fawcett, Oliver Wry, and Edward Anderson, cousins of deceased, acted as pallbearers. James Scott, a respected resident of Baie Verte, is critically ill, the result of an accident. Mr. Scott was thrown from his sleigh and sustained a fractured hip. As he is well advanced in years his recovery is doubtful. Major and Mrs. F. B. Black, Middle Sackville, returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit at Halifax. Miss Helen Richardson left today for a trip to Toronto and Montreal. Miss Helen Harper returned today from a month's visit at Campbellton. James Costin, of Baie Verte, is very critically ill. Mrs. Wm. M. Spence and Miss Mayne Spence, of Port Elgin, left today for a visit at New York, where they will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Trueman. The death of Fred De Forest occurred recently at the Monague, aged 48 years. Deceased had been ill for some months with tuberculosis of the lungs.

Delicious Soups and Tasty Gravies

Are what every lady desires to have served at her table. But unfortunately it often happens that when prepared in the ordinary way they lack nourishment and flavor. At such times

"Bovril" is invaluable

A little "Bovril" added to a weak, tasteless soup gives it richness, strength, and a delightfully appetising flavour. The next time you make soup try a little "Bovril" in it. You'll appreciate the difference.

HOCKEY

The hockey season opened in this city last evening when the Sackville team took the Marston boys into camp to the tune of 5 to 3 and the St. Mark's tied the Algonquin. The game was not so hot as the score would indicate, all one sided, but it was very fast hockey. The game opened with the Marston boys being the better of it and it looked as if the boys in maroon and grey were to win, but the Sackville boys then got down to work and landed seven goals in the first half. The second half started with Sackville continuing to have things their own way and they were not long in landing their eighth goal. The Marston boys seemed to realize that they had been sleeping and they got into the game in earnest for the first time in the evening and were successful in landing three goals for one was called, while the Marston boys were unsuccessful in increasing their score.

The game was marked by many offside plays which were played and teaching. Neither of the teams was, however, particularly during the game.

The second game, which was between the Algonquin and St. Mark's, was by no means slow, the first half ending 2 to 0 in favor of St. Mark's, while in the second half the Algonquin got into the game and scored three goals, thus standing at the end of the game 2 to 3.

The line was:

CURLING

Amherst, N. S., Jan. 15.—(Special)—At the Winter Fair building this morning a short meeting to welcome the visiting curlers was held. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. S. W. Cummings, chaplain of the Chignecto Club. Mayor Silke gave a brief address of welcome, after which K. C. Fuller, president of the Chignecto Club, and N. Curry spoke briefly. The mild weather of this morning necessitated the postponement of the playing for the governor-general's trophy, from 9:30 until 1 o'clock this afternoon. At that hour the temperature began to drop, continuing during the afternoon, so that play began promptly at 1 o'clock with the ice in perfect condition.

In the extra series called on at 1 o'clock Skip W. I. Goodwin, Sackville, beat Skip T. S. Rogers, Amherst, 14 to 11.

Skip Nat Doberty, Sackville, beat P. J. Martin, Mayflower, Halifax, 23 to 2.

Skip Jack McDougall, Amherst, beat James Yorston, Pictou, 10 to 13.

J. W. Taylor, Amherst, beat Nat Curry, Amherst, 15 to 12.

W. R. Mackenzie, New Glasgow, beat C. H. McDonald, Charlottetown, 12 to 10.

W. P. Cunningham, Antigonish, beat C. J. Kerr, Halifax, 17 to 9.

A. Costley, Halifax, beat F. McDougall, Moncton, 16 to 6.

First Round Governor-General's Trophy

Skip W. I. Goodwin, Sackville, beat Nat Doberty, Stellarton, 17 to 5.

F. E. Giggie, Hampton, beat Willard Murray, New Glasgow, 14 to 12.

J. W. Taylor, Amherst, beat Jack MacDougall, Amherst, 11 to 8.

W. H. Tennant, Amherst, beat Geo. W. Stuart, Truro, 15 to 9.

Alex. Marshall, New Glasgow, beat C. E. Sutherland, Amherst, 16 to 9.

A. C. McDonald, Truro, beat Jas. Dover, Truro, 13 to 9.

W. P. Cunningham, Antigonish, beat W. R. Mackenzie, New Glasgow, 12 to 11.

R. Robertson, Amherst, beat F. McM. Hall, Mayflower, 20 to 7.

B. DeVeber, New Glasgow, beat C. W. Moffatt, North Sydney, 17 to 9.

R. C. Fuller, Amherst, beat A. R. Grant, New Glasgow, 10 to 8.

E. W. Givan, Moncton, defaulted to A. C. Chapman, Moncton.

C. Pickett, Sackville, beat D. Patterson, Pictou, 10 to 8.

TRUE BILL AGAINST COLLINS HE ENTERS NOT GUILTY PLEA

Jury Was Almost Three and a Half Hours Agreeing on a Bill—Solicitor General Jones Outlines the Crown Case.

Hopewell Cape, via Hopewell, N. B., Jan. 15.—The trial of Thomas F. Collins for the murder of Mary Ann MacAnally in New Ireland in August last, was fairly started here this afternoon. Contrary to a generally expressed opinion, it was only the work of a very short time to secure a jury.

The prisoner, who was brought in from the jail, was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Solicitor-General Jones then opened for the crown and court adjourned at 5:30 till 10:15 tomorrow morning.

Judge Gregory's charge to the grand jury was brief. He rapidly reviewed the history of the crime, which he said was committed either Aug. 19 or 20. He also remarked on Collins' disappearance from Foster MacAnally's house on that date, and the contradictory accounts he gave of himself to several witnesses, who afterwards testified to his presence at the scene. The fact that the prisoner was found in possession of two valises taken from the priest's house, as well as various articles which many people anticipated of course, and his niece was also suspicious. He left the matter in their hands, merely giving the general directions as to their conduct.

Judge Gregory again took his seat at 2:15. At 3:10 the grand jury filed back into the court room, and the foreman reported that a true bill had been found.

The solicitor-general then moved that the prisoner be brought in and arraigned with a white collar and white muffled round his neck. He listened with an attentive face while the clerk of the court read the true bill found by the grand jury against him.

When asked to plead, he replied in a clear, strong voice, "not guilty, sir."

Solicitor-General Jones opened for the crown. He said that most people would prefer not to meet serious matters, but sometimes they are forced upon us. He reminded the jury that they were in place of the public to find the prisoner guilty or not guilty under the evidence produced before them, and he pointed out, in exacts such statements from companies whose stocks are listed on the exchange, that there is no reason why the same rule should not be followed in Canada. It is true that when application is made for a stock on the time Collins Exchange the company has to furnish a statement showing its position before the stock can be listed, but after it is listed very frequently there is nothing to show the progress being made by the companies or where statements are furnished they are supplied as confidential information. Prominent members of the Montreal Exchange, when seen today, expressed their surprise at something as made in The Gazette this morning, and the hope is expressed that it will bear fruit in the interest of the investing public.

LET THERE BE MORE PUBLICITY

More Frequent Information Needed from Companies' Stocks of Which Are Listed.

(Montreal Gazette).

Much interest was aroused on the "street" today by The Gazette's suggestion that one remedy for the present stock market stagnation might be found by companies, the stocks of which are listed on the Canadian exchanges, taking their shareholders and the public more into their confidence, and issuing statements from time to time showing their earnings and progress, such as is done by the big railway companies and the traction companies. The subject was freely discussed by members of the local stock exchange, and the consensus of opinion was that if such a method were adopted by companies which now keep their affairs a sealed book until the annual statement is issued, the public would take much more interest in the market, and there would be a great deal more investment buying than there is at present.

Such an entire approval of the suggestion as made in The Gazette this morning, and the hope is expressed that it will bear fruit in the interest of the investing public.

AN INDEPENDENT VIEW OF CANADIAN POLITICS

Growing Resentment Against Canadian Manufacturers' Association—Feeling in the West—A Movement Toward Low Tariff—No High Tariff Agitation.

(Toronto News)

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—The tariff debate may be expected to begin in earnest now that parliament is back at work. It also may be expected to close far more promptly than many people anticipated. Of course, seven hundred and fifty items cannot be passed off-hand, and a certain amount of discussion of the tariff which may appear in turn will be only natural. So, too, will proposals for amendment here and there. But if any person thinks that the Conservative party will wave the banner of high protection, clamor on behalf of the distressed manufacturer, or denounce every lowering of the tariff which may appear, he is fairly sure to be disappointed. The Conservative party has not held its final caucus on the matter, but it may safely be predicted that it will let the tariff pass with very little opposition.

LOW TARIFF WESTERN CONSERVATIVES.

The Conservative party, in fact, is confronted with a particularly stubborn fact. Its western members have struck. Out on the prairies the farmers seem to have made up their minds about the tariff. They do not want it. And as the Opposition member is peculiarly close to the people, and has little to rely upon but popular sentiment, he has been forced to take sides—and, for that matter, the Western Liberals, too—have found themselves with their constituents; and one hears tales of farmers' meetings at which the situation was canvassed, and a resolution was passed that they would not support a tariff which would be obtained, or an acceptance of things as they are; of higher protection, or of advocacy of the tariff as it stands, or of any other theory that protection on the farmer's products counter-balance protection on the goods of the manufacturer. When they get into caucus with their fellow-Conservatives from Eastern Canada they proceed extremely reluctantly to agree to any fight for protection; so reluctant that the issue was not pressed and the question stood over. Nor is that all; they are seriously in the mood for a declaration for a reduction, say a halving, of the duty on agricultural implements. In this latter matter—to the surprise of many—there is a strong support among Eastern Conservatives.

This Western revolt is the outstanding feature of the situation. But, apart from the case of the duties on agricultural implements, it must not be supposed that the Eastern Conservatives are altogether disaffected over to protection, and wholly disgusted with the Western stubbornness.

RESENTMENT AGAINST THE MANUFACTURERS.

One fact to be borne in mind is Conservative resentment against "the manufacturers" for a declaration for a reduction, say a halving, of the duty on agricultural implements. In this latter matter—to the surprise of many—there is a strong support among Eastern Conservatives.

This Western revolt is the outstanding feature of the situation. But, apart from the case of the duties on agricultural implements, it must not be supposed that the Eastern Conservatives are altogether disaffected over to protection, and wholly disgusted with the Western stubbornness.

What a number of women there are who feel that these words exactly suit their case.

There are thousands of females all over our land, broken down in health and dragging out a miserable existence, overburdened with disease peculiar to their sex, and growing old while yet young.

From early morn till late at night they have been on the go year after year, attending the household duties. Is it any wonder then that sooner or later there comes a general collapse? Fatigue of the heart, nervous prostration, indigestion and stinking spells, weakness, dizziness, sleeplessness and many other troubles follow. What is the cause of all this? It is the build up the system and for this purpose you cannot equal

ARMY OF BEGGARS HOUNDS MRS. SAGE

She Cannot Venture From Her Home Without Being Importuned for Gifts of Money.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Russell Sage is practically in a state of siege at her country home, at Lawrence, R. I., because of the importunities of applicants for her bounty.

So persistent have been the demands upon her, not only by the special messengers and by mail, but by those who hope to obtain a personal interview, that she almost deprived of her own recreation.

Scores of these beggars who would extort from her some promise or gift of money for either real or fancied needs lie in wait outside the grounds and outposts are maintained by men and women who trust to luck that fortune may favor them in their appeals.

Mrs. Sage has been in a quandary whether to remain in Lawrence or come into the city to live, but does personal friends have advised her to remain where she is. For, as one of them remarked, "Mrs. Sage is hounded to death in the country, but she wouldn't know a moment's peace where she to move to New York."

Mrs. Sage has, according to the statement of this friend, determined that she will grant an interview to no one; that she will neither see nor speak with anyone not an intimate friend or who does not come accredited from her attorney, Henry W. De Forest. Her servants have been instructed to this effect.

"As a matter of fact," said this friend, "Mrs. Sage is beginning to feel herself persecuted and things have come to such a state that she hesitates to go abroad either alone or with friends."

Mrs. De Forest, at his office, said that Mrs. Sage would see no one who had claims to present, would not announce in advance any gift, or allow it to be suggested in any manner, nor would she be interviewed.

A meeting of the committee of the Police Relief Association having under consideration the holding of the annual sports for the benefit of the association was held yesterday afternoon. A decision will be arrived at at a meeting of the association Thursday. Unless more satisfactory arrangements are made with the rink management no sports are likely to take place.

A meeting of the trustees and board of management of the Y. M. C. A. is called for this evening at 8 o'clock in the office of the president, L. P. D. Tilly. Canada Life building. The site for the new building and other matters will be discussed.

LAWYERS OPPOSE JUDICATURE ACT

A number of barristers of the province held a meeting in the law library yesterday morning while the Exchequer and Equity courts were in session and unanimously decided that it would be advisable to reconsider the question of passing the new judicature act. A communication signed by those present was sent to Allan O. Earle, K. C., the president, requesting that a special meeting of the Barristers' Society be held on this matter before the next annual meeting.

In the discussion which took place the opinion was generally expressed that a large majority of the barristers of the province were opposed to the passage of the act. It was also the general opinion that the present practice courts are better than the proposed new courts, and that under the new judicature act too many applications had to be made to the judges during the progress of a suit, inconvenience to practitioners in counties where the judges did not reside was also referred to.

The following request to the president of the society was eventually drafted and signed by those present:

The matter of holding an exhibition in St. John this year was discussed and the matter will be further discussed at a full meeting of the board of directors and definite action taken.

There were present at the meeting President A. O. Skinner, R. O'Brien, R. E. Thorne, O. H. Warwick, E. A. Schofield, D. J. Pundy, M. P. F. Alex. Macaulay, Ald. T. H. Bullock, F. A. Dyke, Mayor and Secretary J. F. Gleason.

THE NEW RADICALISM.

Remember this: that a general reconstruction of party lines and party programmes are underway; the two parties present are uncomfortably near being little more than Ins and Outs. But there has before the parties, ready for the hand of the one which has been going on for so long, the whole set of political ideas which for want of a better word we may call Radicalism. It is not the Radicalism of England; that is largely a social affair, and springs from conditions unknown here. It is the coming conflict with the new industrial corporations, great corporations, corporation control of ordinary party organizations. It presents itself mainly at present in the form of public ownership and of control of corporations. More and more that conflict commends itself as necessary and right to the mass of plain Canadians who have no influence—only votes. Now— which party is going to see the political advantage to be gained by a resolution, wholehearted acceptance of this fact, from a plunge into a war to control corporations? If the Conservative party could hold two or three first-class funerals—to use the words of a very able and very eminent Conservative—it should be in an excellent position to lead the fight. The disposition of a majority of the rank and file of Conservative members of parliament at this moment is strongly on the popular side. Many of them think they see it coming.

To the President of the Barristers' Society:

Dear Sir,—Please call a special meeting of the society to be held in the city of St. John before the question of passing the judicature act is discussed.

Dated this fifteenth day of January in the year A. D. 1907.
