ANOTHER DIVISION OF IRISH TROOPS READY FOR FRONT

Several of Redmond's Family Are Officers

THE KAISER'S BLUNDER

Irish Leader, Home From Front, Speaks of Green Isle's Part in Empire Conflict—Catholic Nationalists and Ulster Protestants in New Force

New York, Nov. 20.—A cable to the Herald from London this morning says: "The Daily Chronicle this morning announces that the sixteenth all-Irish division, commanded by General Sir Lawrence Parsons, made up of Catholic Nationalists and Ulster Protestants, has completed training and is ready to go to the front in the three brigades which form the division. The officers include the brother of John Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader, Captain William H. D. Redmond, M. P., his son, Lt. W. H. Archer Redmond, M. P., his nephew, Lt. Wm. Raymond Redmond, Captain J. D. Sheehan, M. P., Captain Stephen Gwynne, M. P., Captain A. Desmond, M. P. and Lieut. T. M. Keefe, M. P.

The division was eager to enroll the services of Lt. Robert Emmet, but his untimely death prevented. John Redmond, who returned from the western battle front and will tomorrow night address a great recruiting meeting in London, for the Irish lites, who cover themselves with glory at Loos.

The completion of the new Irish division, proves that the Kaiser made a fatal miscalculation when he counted upon the hostility of the Green Isle toward Britain.

"The 16th division," Redmond says, "for the first time in history, is eager to do her full duty to the empire, which no longer stands for repression, but for the independence of Belgium, Serbia and the small nations of Europe, and for the freedom of the world.

"Though the men of the division, if given the choice, would prefer to fight in France, where their forefathers made history, the indications are that the 16th will bulk large in the battles to save little Serbia, which, like Ireland, is a nation of gallant fighting men.

Sensational Evidence in Libel Case Being Tried in Montreal

Montreal, Nov. 20.—Sensational evidence was given this morning in the Mayor Martin-Bonville libel trial. Lorenzo Robitaille, whom the mayor had described as a lobbyist, testified that he had been told by Mr. McLoughlin that L. J. Poiroux, secretary to Controller Cote, had told him that $10,000 was needed to complete securing the asphalt contract from the city for the Astec Co. This sum, it was said, was to be divided as follows: Mayor Martin, $5,000; Controller Cote, $4,000, and Secretary Poiroux, $1,000.

The United States and the Contraband Question

Washington, Nov. 20.—Non-interference with American commerce on the high seas will be demanded of Germany and Austria as well as Great Britain and her allies in notes to be dispatched soon on the subject of contraband.

The United States will vigorously protest against the action of the European belligerents in declaring virtually all commerce contraband. It will be largely unperfunctory so far as Germany and Austria are concerned, however, as these nations are not now in a position to interfere greatly with American shipping.

The note is nearly completed now, but will not be dispatched until it has been carefully revised by Secretary Lansing and President Wilson. It will challenge the right of belligerents to extend the list of absolute contraband beyond the limits recognized by international law before the war. It will also sustain the declaration of London and reassert the right of the United States to ship food supplies to the civilian population of a belligerent country, if not for military purposes.

Honor for Dr. Adams

London, Nov. 20.—Col. J. G. Adams of McGill, now with the Canadian medical service headquarters in London, is among those recommended for election to the council of the Royal Society for 1916.

Several Vessels Missing; Fear For Many Lives

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 20.—Several packet and fishing vessels, each carrying from twelve to twenty persons, were caught in the violent storm of the last few days, and had not been reported last night. Grave fears are felt for their safety, although it is believed that some of the vessels may have found refuge in isolated harbors.

Most of the missing vessels were bound from Labrador for Newfoundland ports.

Sir Robert Calls With Good Wishes For Liberal Chief

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 20.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier today is celebrating his 74th birthday. Contrary to expectations, he is celebrating the occasion at his home in Ottawa, and not in the south, to which it was believed he would go, following the somewhat serious operation which he was compelled to undergo more than two months ago.

From all parts and from all classes came best wishes for many happy returns of the day. Among the first callers was Sir Robert Borden, who never fails to tender his good wishes on the chief's birthday.

That his brother, Cecil, has been killed since last May while in action in France with the Royal Canadian Engineers was the sad news received by Alex. Taylor of St. John's. He had known of his being wounded, having been shot in both legs in machine gun fire. It is now known that he was lying in a trench waiting removal to a dressing station when a shell struck and killed him.

Sapper Taylor joined the Royal Canadian Engineers last fall in Halifax, but as he was a resident of the 2nd Royal Berkshires, he finally transferred to that unit. He was killed in the East St. John. The late soldier, who has made the highest of all sacrifices, recently resided here and many will learn with regret of his death.

Not So Bad In Serbia As Has Been Reported

Gallant Army Retreating in Perfect Order—Winter Making Task of The Invaders More Difficult

London, Nov. 20.—A Reuters dispatch from Athens, dated yesterday, says: "Arrivals from the front depict the situation as less somber than has been reported. The Serbians are retreating in perfect order and have lost no prisoners. The guns captured by the Bulgarians are of little value, and a thousand and pieces of artillery remain in the possession of the Serbs. The latter's morale is still good. The ultimate issue depends upon the timely arrival of the allies' troops."

SEVEN TIMES AT ITALIAN LINES BUT DRIVEN BACK

Furious Fighting On The Carso Plateau

AUSTRIANS ARE ROUTED

Italians Burst Into Enemy Trenches After All Night Battle—Unabated Vigor Marks Continued Bombardment of Gorizia and Surroundings

Rome, Nov. 20.—The Italian bombardment of Austrian positions in and around Gorizia continues with unabated vigor, according to the official statement issued today.

"All along the front the artillery duel continues. Our dispersed enemy marching columns in the Astico zone and in the Upper Cardovico destroyed shelters on Mittenwald (Gall), it bombarded barracks at Gorizia and also swept numerous enemy batteries posted on heights to the east of the city, and others hidden in orchards and gardens near the city. It struck a column of troops, which retreated hastily into Gorizia."

A Sighting Fight

"On the Carso plateau our infantry renewed its attacks yesterday with success, especially in the Monte San Michele zone, where the Perugia brigade succeeded in conquering all the ground which slopes from the Pirga summit of the mountain to the Isone between Bastiano and Buschiano."

"Afterwards, driven from that position by a violent counter-attack, it counter-attacked in its rear and captured the lost trenches. Throughout the night the enemy renewed furious assaults, but the 18th regiment, their feet worn out by the darkness, completely dispersing the defenders and taking 175 prisoners besides abundant war material."

"The Carso plateau, which has been the scene of the fiercest fighting since the beginning of the war, is now in our hands. The Italian army has advanced to the heights of the Carso plateau, and has captured the lost trenches. Throughout the night the enemy renewed furious assaults, but the 18th regiment, their feet worn out by the darkness, completely dispersing the defenders and taking 175 prisoners besides abundant war material."

THE WAR IN THE DOLOMITE ALPS

Photograph taken along the line of the Italian advance into Austria. It interestingly shows the nature of the country out of which King Victor Emmanuel's troops are gradually driving their foes, and the reason for their comparatively slow advance. Austrian soldiers are here shown scaling a precipice in order to ambush a column of Italian troops.

RECRUITING FOR THE NORTH SHORE BATTALION BEGINS

Campbellton Hopes to Utilize the Old International Railway Building as Quarters for Men Who Enlist in That District.

Campbellton, N. B., Nov. 18.—(Special)—The North Shore Battalion is now an accomplished fact and the unit, which will be under the command of Lieut.-Col. Mercereau, will be known as the 182nd overseas battalion.

On Monday evening a deputation consisting of Mayor Andrew, D. A. Stewart, M. P., and Recruiting Officer McDonald met the minister of militia and had a few minutes conversation with him relative to the billeting of troops.

Mr. Thompson considers these a very fine lot of young men whom he expects to see in a good account of themselves. In addition to the fourteen who were present, he expects to see a number of others who are under age. One of the boys signed on, young Gayton, is six feet, three inches tall and tips the beam at 200 pounds.

The first public meeting arranged by Mr. Thompson was held this evening at Oulton Hall, Albert, when a gathering assembled that filled the large auditorium to the door.

Mr. Thompson was followed by Sergeant Knight who gave a most forceful address explaining his position as recruiting officer and showing need of young men coming forth to assist in carrying the standard of liberty and truth to victory.

At the close of the sergeant's address one recruit, Percy Milton, came forward and signed the roll and the announcement was made that any young men who wished to consult their people before signing on could meet the officers at the Waverly Hotel tomorrow.

ADMIRALTY USES MANY CLEVER TRAPS TO CATCH PIRATES

Chatham, N. B., Nov. 16.—Capt. Hunter of the S.S. Acadia, now in port, tells of some of the many and ingenious ways the admiralty has for capturing German submarines. Last winter he was trading in the North Sea and made several cruises to Rotterdam with supplies for the Belgians, and passed through the channel many times. The public is aware that the sea there is a steel net from the coast of Dover to the French coast. This is stretched out in the shore some distance, and is marked by buoys. Then there is a distance of about seventy yards, and a sort of a trap. Here the vessels are allowed to pass through. This portion is well guarded with destroyers, gunboats and submarines, and many of the German u-boats are captured trying to get through.

Another favorite way of "hunting" the enemy is to send two trawlers out with a steel net in tow, between them very much after the style of mackerel fishermen going after a school, and the sea-men on board of the trawlers are allowed to pass through. This portion is well guarded with destroyers, gunboats and submarines, and many of the German u-boats are captured trying to get through.

Another and more successful way is this: The authorities fit up an old coaster with heavy guns and load her with a large quantity of red ink. The coasters proceed to the waters infested with submarines, spreads the oil on the water and waits. The submarine comes along, pops up, and then the periscope becomes covered with the oil and they can't see anything. The result is that the heavy guns get them. If the periscope only shows the submarine has to go down again and it proceeds until it is out of the oil, then come up, send a man out to clean periscope and invariably is shot to pieces by the guns on the coaster.

There are many other ways which the admiralty has for catching the u-boats. The British admiralty are fully able to cope with the German submarine blockade.

PRIVATE VIEW OF FEATURE PICTURE LAST EVENING

"The Sponder," a special five-reel Pathé production, "Gold Rooster" brand, was privately screened at the Gen. Theatricals last evening. It is a story on the power of wealth and the struggle of the laboring classes. It portrayed the disengagement of a wealthy young man, given to a too gay life, by a father who had humored him for years, his going out to the work and his experiences in trying to keep up to his "station" in society.

Going to America from his home in England, he posed as a "prince" and won the hand of a rich American heiress only to be cast out by her father, who saw through his scheme. The young man secured employment in the father-in-law's factory unknown to the owner, and managed to save his life which resulted in his reinstatement in the father-in-law's good graces. The picture was particularly effective, especially a very spectacular fire scene, and the presentation of the picture was warmly appreciated by those privileged to be present.

THE KAISER'S BLASPHEMY

The mental processes of the Kaiser are peculiar. He still expresses confidence that God is guiding him and the German people, but is especially taking care of the house of Hohenzollern. Replying to a recent congratulatory telegram sent to him by the cabinet of Prussia, he said: "My warmest thanks to the Ministry of State for its inspiring words by which it renewed on the day of the 60th anniversary of the reign of my house over Brandenburg its vow of loyalty. In reviewing half a thousand years of Brandenburg-Prussian history, God's guidance appears to have been wonderful. Across the depths and the heights my house has been raised from the electoral hat to the imperial crown, and from a small mark to the centre of the German Empire, whose strength and power have been so brilliantly proved to friend and foe in the present war of the nations, the greatest of all times. With full humility, I acknowledge, together with the German people, that thus far the Lord has helped us. May He henceforth graciously assist us and guide the German people who stand together, united and imperturbable, ready for all sacrifices, through the dark days of severe affliction to the bright sunlight of peace; to new and vigorous work; to the road marked out by Divine Providence."

As the Kaiser has never been suspected of possessing a vein of humor, and as humor is not usually associated with alusion to Divine guidance, we must assume that he either believes what he says or hopes to be able to persuade the people to believe.

Subjecting his assertions to close scrutiny, in the light of the events of this war, we get a somewhat startling revelation of his conception of God. According to the Kaiser, God marked out the pathway through Belgium, approved of the violation of treaties, regarded with favor the mutilation of children, ravishing of property, murder of old people and priests, women and children; led the Zeppelin fleets as the Israelites of old were led, guided the submarines that found the Lusitania and Anconia, approved of the murder of Miss Edith Cavell, and gave the light of His countenance to all the atrocities committed by the Germans in the last fifteen months, because thereby the Hohenzollern family might be exalted, and its enemies made its footstool.

We prefer not to accept this conception of God. It belongs to an age of savagery which the world outside of Germany has outgrown. It is not now acceptable even to peoples who have not yet accepted the Christian faith. To those who do hold that faith it is utter blasphemy. Its universal acceptance would send the world reeling back again into barbarism.

And yet, if Germany is not utterly defeated, there will be no present salvation from such a faith. The future of Christianity and of modern civilization in its highest form is at stake. We know the character of the foe we are fighting and the methods by which he would rule. We know the terrible strength he still possesses, and the very grave peril which threatens humanity. This monster must be strangled or it will devour us. There is no safety in any quarter of the globe if we fall now, for nothing short of world dominion will satiate the Hohenzollern lust for power.

It has been said that this is a holy war. Surely it is nothing less. And as such it summons every able-bodied man who is fit and free to join the noblest crusade since the world began.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER
Sir Wilfrid Laurier at 74 commands the respect of all Canadians and enjoys the genuine affection of those who have accepted him as their leader in political affairs for so many years. Congratulations will pour in upon him today, not only from Canada, but from the mother country and other parts of the world. He has been so long an honorable and outstanding figure in Canadian public life, and his private life has been so pure, that he possesses in an unusual degree the confidence and esteem of his fellow citizens, regardless of party, race or creed. His whole attitude during the war period has been marked by a lofty patriotism. He has consistently avoided partisan discussion, and given the power of his influence without stint to the recruiting campaign in his native province. Neither in parliament nor in the country has he done anything to embarrass the government in the slightest degree in the conduct of its war policy, but instead he has heartily supported every step taken by them to strengthen the hands of the mother country and make Canada's aid more effective. This course has endeared him still more to his own party and gained for him a higher place in the ranks of imperial statesmen.

WHY THIS IGNORANCE?
It is very extraordinary that after it has been shown clearly that there is ample accommodation at St. John for two or even three battalions of soldiers, Gen. Benson should inform the Mayor that there is no room here for the surplus of the 104th Battalion. Gen. Benson should know better, for they have all the information at Halifax. This matter was brought to the attention of military headquarters both at Halifax and Ottawa, and it was supposed there would be no further misunderstanding about it, or lack of knowledge in official quarters, but St. John could provide. Mayor Prink has once more stated the case from St. John's standpoint, and he will have the support of Mr. Hasen, who also knows the facts. We may therefore assume that if St. John does not get as many troops for the winter as it can well accommodate it will be for another reason than that of ignorance on the part of the military authorities. The new phase of the discussion is the more unexpected because officials from Halifax have lately visited St. John and should have been able to inform themselves fully upon the whole subject. With the army, the exhibition buildings, and the immigration sheds on the West Side, the city is admirably provided with accommodations for at least three battalions. It would be necessary to make some expenditure in connection with the housing of a third unit, but that would have to be done wherever they went in this province.

WELL DONE IRELAND

A new Irish army division, the sixteenth, made up of Catholic Nationalists and Ulster Protestants, is ready to go to the front. There are four battalions among the officers, one being the brother of Mr. John Redmond, the Nationalist leader. The latter very properly says that this new division will be another reminder to the Kaiser of the blunder he committed when he counted on Irish hostility to England in this war. Ireland north and south has responded nobly to the call, and will continue to respond. The 16th Division may be relied on to acquit itself as bravely as did the gallant Irish Rifles at Loos, and Irish troops at other points along the battle front. It is intimated, however, that this division may go to Serbia, and nothing could be more to the taste of the Irish soldiers than to battle side by side with the heroic Serbs, who are performing such valorous deeds in the face of overwhelming numbers.

The campaign to fill the ranks of the 16th Battalion will gather new force next week.

Sir Sam Hughes says there is to be no color line in Canada's armies. Will he issue an order to that effect? There are many colored men eager to enlist.

Major Winston Spencer Churchill has gone to the front. Col. Roosevelt is said to be meditating on something of the sort. Two such gallant blades would add new lustre to the annals of the war.

A vigorous attempt is to be made to rid the Mediterranean of Austrian and German submarines. They are no longer regarded as a serious menace around the shores of England.

How unfortunate that St. John has not the needed elevator and other accommodations on the east side of the harbor, and the needed connection with the National Transcontinental. The latter will not be made by this time next year.

Russia is training millions of new men for service. No doubt with the aid of Japan she will be able to equip them and provide them with arms and munitions. While her strength is growing that of Germany weakens day by day.

On the subject of war profits the Halifax Recorder says: "When hundreds of thousands of our noblest and bravest are going to the front to fight for us and for our country when tens of thousands are suffering untold agonies from wounds and hardships incident to the awful business of war; when thousands are giving up their lives amid the hell-fury of battle, and while countless homes are in mourning all over the nation, while such conditions as these obtain, no man has any right to make even the average profits of peace time, still less has he any right to make excessive profits even in legitimate transactions in connection with the country's military needs. If he takes advantage of position and opportunity to reap illegal and illegitimate profits from his country, bleeding at every pore, he is guilty of the blackest treason. The books of every firm selling even a dollar's worth to the military department should be regularly examined by government representatives and all profits over a fair percentage be taken over by the government for the uses of the war. This is being done in England, and it is fair and just. The man 'who unlocks the gates of the temple of Wealth with a bloody key' is an enemy of his country and deserves to be treated as such. Let all undue profits be penalized."

Father—"Glad to see you safe back, Donald. They say London's an awful wicked place. Did you notice anything of that?" Son—"Ay, I had some awful adventures! One night I found myself in a terrible place. Why, more, the whisky was so bad, I verra nearly left it!"

The cost of living in Germany has increased considerably more than half since the war began.

"Tis Greece, but living Greece no more."
So sang her Poet, loving well
That Hellas of the days of yore,
By whom the Persian despot fell,
Those pulsant sword at Marathon
Of his own prowess Freedom won.

He sang; she woke—to fall in pride
To strive unaided—still she woke
And England, Russia, France, allied
Broke from her neck the Turkish yoke.
At Navarino's glorious Bay
On Hellas dawned a second Day.

Lo, a new curse—the Teuton hane
Again rings out the trumpet call;
France, Russia, England, joined again,
For Freedom fight, for Greece, for all;
And Greece—shall she that call ignore?
Then is she living Greece no more?

"Your philanthropists are all right," he remarked, "but it is only just that my six-door neighbor, Fred Watkins, should be included in the kindly disposed bunch."
"We are willing to add him to the list," responded one of the group; "but is he really so generous?"
"Well, I should say he is," was the emphatic and immediate declaration. "Doxens of tramps hammer at his back door, and I have never known him to turn one down—that is, completely."
"You don't mean it?" was the astonished reply.
"That's a fact," rejoined the first. "He always gives them a letter of introduction to me."

In the British army, when a soldier is confined in the guard-room for an offense, a written copy of the charge is invariably handed to the commandant of the guard. The other day a non-commissioned officer and a party of men were detailed to guard a prisoner. The corporal, having given an order, one of the men seemed disinclined to obey, when, having rebuked him sharply, he shouted in angry tones: "It's a good job for you, me lad, that I can't spell indordination, or I'd shove you in the guard-room sharp."

A VILLA VETERAN JOINS THE COLORS

IS A CANADIAN BY BIRTH
Has Had Much Experience of Fighting and Wants More—Through 175 Skirmishes
Victoria, Nov. 20—An exceptional application for admission to the ranks of the Fusiliers being recruited here has been received and accepted from Col. E. R. Stone, a man who does not look more than twenty-six and twenty-eight years of age, and yet who has seen more fighting than falls to the lot of the average individual. He held the rank of colonel in the army of Gen. Villa, the Mexican who is in rebellion against the Carranza government. His life from the age of sixteen years has been one long series of adventures. He has been through 175 skirmishes and has been wounded twice, and those, as he expresses it, "were mere scratches."
Things, Col. Stone states, were getting rather slow in the turbulent republic, and he decided that he would come to Canada, enlist, and get to the continental theatre of war. As he is a Canadian, having been born at London, Ont., he felt that his proper place was with the British Empire in the great struggle now under way. Leaving Villa's forces, he crossed the line into Texas, and came stating civic improvement organization has promised co-operation and a large membership is assured in Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton and Ottawa.

At the preliminary conference to be held at Ottawa on the 19th inst, representatives will be present from about twenty existing associations and steps will be taken to lay the foundation of the proposed league. It is intended to have a national conference in January next to launch the movement.
The general object of the league is to promote the study and advancement of the best principles and methods of civic improvement and development, and to secure a general and effective public interest in all municipal affairs.
Although there are a large number of civic improvement societies in the United States there is no society or league in Canada giving attention to civic problems and many Canadians interested in municipal affairs have to look to state organizations for guidance and information. It has been considered time that some attempt was made to study municipal problems from a Canadian standpoint and the new organization will, no doubt, be of great utility in this direction.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier
74 Years Old Today

Liberal Chief, Who is Hale and Hearty at 74. All Canada Congratulates Him

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is seventy-four years old today. He will receive the congratulations of every loyal Canadian from ocean to ocean, irrespective of party, for it is one of the marks of his public life that even in the stress and storm of politics he has known how to win and to retain the personal respect of his opponents in debate as he has the love and devotion of those who have for so long honored him as their political leader. Having more than attained the promise of human ripeness of "three score years and ten" he is active and patriotic as ever, first in keeping the strictest line the dropping politics during the war and then in recruiting, especially in his native Quebec. The reputation that Sir Wilfrid enjoys is not confined to Canada. He is unquestionably the best known of the Canadian statesmen in Europe. Sir Wilfrid was born in St. Lin, Quebec, Nov. 20, 1841.

St. John for the surplus of the 104th Battalion. There are about 800 men over the required number for the 104th at Sussex and these are being transferred to the 140th, also for the present being commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Fowler.

FATHER BURKE IS TO SPEAK HERE

Accepts Recruiting Committee's Invitation—Last Night's Meeting

Mobilization of the 115th battalion was discussed at a meeting of the Citizens' Recruiting Committee at the Citizens' Club yesterday afternoon. Colonel Wedderburn spoke in the matter.

A letter from Rev. J. E. Burke, of Toronto, was read, accepting the invitation to address a recruiting meeting in this city, and suggesting January 2 and 3, as convenient dates.

It was decided to fix January 2 as the date and to hold the meeting in the Imperial Theatre.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM

The Disease is in the Blood and Must Be Treated Through the Blood.

There are almost as many ways of treating rheumatism as there are doctors. Most of these treatments are directed at the symptoms and are considered successful. They relieve the pain and the stiffness. But the pain and the stiffness return particularly if the patient has been exposed to dampness. This shows that the poison was not driven from the system by the treatment employed. Rheumatism can be relieved in a number of ways, but there is only one way to cure it, and that is through the blood, expelling the poisonous acid that causes the aches, pains and stiffness. To renew and enrich the blood there is no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which go right to the root of the trouble and cure rheumatism by staying cured. The following is an example of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do in cases of this kind.

Mr. Henry Smith, St. Jerome, Que., says: "For upwards of a year I was a victim of rheumatism in a most painful form. The trouble was located in my legs and for a long time was so bad that I could not walk. The suffering which I endured can only be imagined by those who have been similarly afflicted. Doctors' treatment did not help me and then I began trying other remedies but with no better results. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I had begun to lose faith in medicine. I finally decided to give the pills a trial. I am very grateful now that I did so for after taking eight boxes of the pills the trouble completely disappeared, I was free from pain and could walk as well as ever. I did in my life have since taken the pills occasionally as a precautionary measure and I can not speak too highly in their favor."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 20 cents a box or six boxes for $2.00 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SAYS SYNDICATE OF BALKAN KINGS IS KAISER'S WORK

Germany Received Assurances None Would Harm Her While Same Would Aid — What Dr. Dillon Asserts

(By Dr. Dillon)

Rome, Nov. 18.—(Delayed)—The Balkan Peninsula will remain the centre of political interest until the danger of further treachery from neutral states there has been definitely dispelled. I write with first hand knowledge of facts, not all of which are yet realized or even known. For example, the circumstance is not yet appreciated nor generally believed that the league of monarchs pre-arranged by the Kaiser was completed in principle before the war broke out, and that the original conception was more comprehensive than the final achievement. This falling off between intention and realization was due in great part, not to resistance on the part of monarchs tempted, but solely to the work of certain of their influential subjects. ness of Germany, who forestalled the unsuspecting Entente Powers, formed a syndicate of kings, and began by obtaining assurances that none would harm, while some would help her.

The only way in which the Entente could at any time thwart the Teuton schemes was by deploying greater military and naval forces than are their's today. More peremptorily than ever before is the adoption of this method postulated by events. The assurances of benevolent neutrality lavished by Premier Skouliadis are less solemn and less binding than the formal treaty obligations assumed by all Greece towards Serbia. They are far less solid than the promises made by Venizelos, who was blocked by the king, cabinet, parliament and the nation at the time, and is now being systematically disavowed.

How could the Entente States accept assurances, however solemn, from any minister or cabinet appointed by the king, for special purposes of carrying out Germany's designs against themselves?

Ninety Venizelist deputies under 44 years of age have become liable to military service since the dissolution of the chamber. They have petitioned the war minister to grant them one month leave of absence for electoral purposes, and the war minister, who is Constantine's right-hand man, has refused the request, for the king is determined at all costs to create a Germanophile parliament, hostile to the Entente powers.

"Yet he expects these powers to rely upon the oral promise of a provisional minister that the allies need apprehend no stab in the back. Venizelos himself is alleged to have replied two days ago to a number of merchants of Athens and Piræus, who exhorted him to allow his party to take an active hand in the elections: 'I am of the opinion that abstention is advisable under the prevailing circumstances, for even if the Liberals won the electoral campaign and were returned to parliament in a majority, they would still find it impossible to realize their programme."

That means that even if the Greek people again announce their determination to do their duty and eschew disloyalty, the field-marshal of the Prussian army would none the less execute his brother-in-law's designs.

Effective constraint in Greece's interest and our own, is the only method that can now be employed with any hope of success.

The Man In The Street
 Some rain last night—and then some. The street cleaning department must have a splendid pull with the weather department.
 Every time the streets have reached the limit of dirtiness lately a downpour of rain has done the work and saved the reputation of the moneyless department.
 Halifax can accommodate five to seven thousand troops, but Halifax officials have grave doubts that St. John can find room for more than one thousand. Why?
 In Toronto the exhibition cattle sheds have been fitted up for the soldiers and we have a lot of good accommodation in St. John before we have to rely on that style of housing.
 They say Kitchener is going to see the King of Greece. Why not get right down to business and see the real ruling power; the queen is still there.
 Sweden's German queen is the latest to claim the limelight as an enemy of the Allies. The name of queen seems to have been one of Germany's most important industries in anti-bellum days.
 Germans thinking out an "eastern line" says news. The name of queen seems to have been one of Germany's most important industries in anti-bellum days.
 Did you notice that old silver which ran up the spinal column of the Empire when Kaiser Wilhelm delivered the toast to Great Britain.
 The note-writing habit must be contagious.
 To appreciate fully how this is an age of rapid transit, just reflect upon how long a certain diamond crossing has been in reaching St. John.
 And in these days of rapid railway construction the progress on the Yule railway must also furnish food for thought.
 St. John is still waiting for that new I.C.R. elevator too. The port faces the busiest winter in its history with no provision for handling grain over the government railway.
 Isn't It On the Level?
 The Standard hall with great glee the achievement of Hon. Mr. Hazen in securing a contract for a local factory. Does the paper mean to imply that he has used his influence to bring to St. John a contract to which the company was not entitled? Either the company was entitled to the contract on the merits of its proposition or Mr. Hazen is accused by the Standard of something improper. How about it?
 Instead of playing "See the Conquering Heroine Come" on the party organ when an odd contract is awarded to this city there should be uttered every plant in St. John is not working at full time on orders, if the work can be done well and as cheaply here elsewhere.
 Most inconsiderate of Him
 A popular politician had taken suddenly ill. He had been greatly in demand about the city at various concerts, socials and similar features. His ability made him always a welcome figure. The day after he took quite seriously ill, the phone in the office where he had been employed, rang, and a lady's voice asked:
 "Is Mr. _____ there?"
 "No," replied his associate, "Mr. _____ is very ill. His case is critical."
 "Dear, oh, dear!" replied the lady, who said she belonged to a certain local society. "What shall I do? He promised me last week positively that he'd give a reading at our concert this evening," and in recognition of the young man's kindness in having promised to help her, she rang off without even inquiring as to how he was, or expressing a regret for his sickness.
 At the meeting at which Sir George E. Foster spoke in the Imperial Theatre this week, a prominent citizen, desirous of meeting Colonel Hay of the 22nd, coming up to an officer inquired:
 "Young man, where is the colonel; I should like to meet him."
 "At the colonel's, sir," was the polite response.
 The mistake was a tribute to the gallant soldier's appearance of youth and vigor. The situation was well accepted by both civilian and officer and a pleasant chat followed.

He explained that the knife was used by soldiers.
NOVEMBER RASPBERRIES
 Ripe raspberries from the garden of Mrs. Sarah Senior, Manawagonish road, were brought to the Times this morning. They were fully ripe and the bushes bear others partly ripe. Indeed ripe berries have been picked at intervals throughout the fall season. It is most unusual to find ripe berries out of doors on the 20th day of November.

FINE NEW HALL OF THORNE LODGE I.O.G.T., DEDICATED LAST NIGHT
 Large Gathering at Interesting Ceremony—Many From the Order Are in the War
 A large number were in attendance at the dedication services held by Thorne Lodge, I. O. G. T., in their new hall in Thorne avenue, last evening. Congratulations were extended to the lodge by those present on the progress shown in the building and on the pleasant quarters they will have when completed. The beautiful dedicatory service of the order was conducted by E. N. Stockford, G.C., assisted by Misses E. M. V. T. and J. Vernon Jackson, of Moncton, G. C. P.
 After the service and a solo by John McEachern, Michael Kelly addressed the meeting, calling attention to the work carried on by the city by the lodge. He made special reference to the political aspect of the reform for which they stand, and made an appeal for the election of representatives to the legislature who will have a sense of the importance of restrictive legislation.
 John Beaulieu, a veteran Templar, gave an interesting resume of the history of the order in the province, calling attention to its usefulness in the past and its possibilities for the future.
 Henry McEachern, G. T. of Thorne Lodge expressed the hearty thanks of the lodge to the donors who had been giving of their time and money to the building of the hall. He spoke of the sacrifice made by many members of the lodge, and G. A. McKel, G. T. of St. John District Lodge, conveyed the congratulations of the district lodge. He pointed out the progress being made throughout St. John district and the enthusiasm being generally shown in work of temperance.
 Port Vernon Jackson, national secretary of Moncton, said that this occasion was the second at which he had the privilege of assisting in conducting services of dedication, as it was also the G. C. T's. Such times marked the material progress of the order. While at times the movement onward might appear slow, advance was sure and steady. The order would suffer greatly by the present war, for every country, almost, concerned in the order well established and the members of the order were almost every fighting line. From this country regular lists of the already been the casualty lists. The provincial work was going on very satisfactorily. Lodges and temples were being instituted and added to the strength and the membership was becoming more energetic in the work called for.
 C. E. Hunter, D. G. of Empire Lodge, Port William, now with the 52nd Battalion, conveyed the greetings of his fellow members present and of his home lodge. His lodge had about fifty members and he hoped to have a number of new members now, was somewhat depleted. He spoke of the effort being made in Port Vernon to procure local opinion and hoped to hear in January next that this time the temperance people would be successful in securing a hall.
 Private Huette, and other members of the order present were given a very hearty reception. Mrs. Campbell sang a sacred solo excellently. The meeting was adjourned to the National stadium. Mr. Stockford presided at the meeting.

OVERDUE SCHOONER FROM NOVA SCOTIA HEARD FROM
 Capt. William Duple of the steam trawler Spray, which arrived at Boston on Wednesday from the fishing grounds north of the coast of the British schooner Millie Louise, Capt. Bordeaux, bound from Pictou, N.S., for Boston. The Millie Louise was badly battered by gales when the fishing steamer fell in with her on Friday of last week on Georges Bank.
 Her foremast was torn to tatters and fresh water casks swept away. Capt. Bordeaux reported that he had been blown off his course, and was ignorant of his correct position. He was given his latitude and longitude by Capt. Doyle, who also put a barrel of fresh water on board the schooner.
 The Millie Louise left Pictou on Nov. 4 with a cargo of American fertilizer, which was originally shipped from Boston to Nova Scotia, but was rejected by the consignee. It is said, and is being returned to the shippers.

MARRIED IN SOMERVILLE
 On Wednesday morning, Nov. 17, in the Park avenue Methodist church, Somerville, Mass., Miss Minnie E. Fraser was united in marriage to Alfred Jacques of the U.S.A. Back Bay postal staff. Rev. Franklin Knott officiated. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques with their guests left for Boston to partake of a wedding breakfast at the Lopley Plaza hotel, after which they took train for New York. On their return they will reside in Allston. They received gifts from many friends. The bride was gowned in a very handsome blue chiffon broadcloth dress with fur trimming and hat to match. They were attended by her sister and his brother. The bride is a sister of Mrs. W. N. Collins of Adelaide street and visited St. John and many friends.
THAT WELDON HOLLOW BRIDGE
 The Times some time ago printed the statement of Edgar M. Day that he had been offered $20 and later $50 for a bridge in Weldon Hollow, near Day's Corner, for which he was receiving $100. J. F. Saunders, the road commissioner, has written a letter to the Standard declaring that the contract called for a bridge 18 feet wide and that Mr. Day only built it 14 feet wide. Mr. Day flatly denies this and adds that Mr. Saunders was there many times when the bridge was being built and passed it, and never found any fault until long after the work was completed. Mr. Day adds that he has witnesses to prove the truth of what he says.

Halifax Plans Much To Entertain Soldiers

The Large Number to Winter There Are to Be Well Provided For in Matter of Amusements

(Halifax, N.S.) Halifax has at last, as if from a dream, awakened to the fact that 7,000 soldiers will be training in the city this winter...

The lower floor of the Murphy building will be given up to a dry canteen and restaurant where a good meal may be secured at a small cost...

The A. O. H. have thrown open their club to the soldiers and sailors, and will be devoting a reading room, lounge, library and attending dancing classes...

A Jolly Jack Tar partook of these privileges before they were greatly exceeded, entering the hall during the evening at the opening of the dancing assembly...

St. George's Church have given the officers of the 8th Regiment the privilege of using the St. George's hall, the gymnasium every afternoon and evening...

Plans have been completed by the workers of St. Paul's Parish to open both the Albernethy and Argyle street mission halls every week evening...

RAILWAY MEN SOLDIERS ALSO

HAVE DONE GOOD WORK

High Praise For Fine Body of Men Who Trained in St. John Last Winter - Reinforcements Going Forward

Many fine bodies of men have been recruited and trained in Montreal, since the war began, but it is doubtful if any barracks has housed a finer looking body of men than are at present in the Peel street barracks.

Every man is trained to his trade, all are used to railroad construction work and bridge building, and quite a number have been superintendents and foremen in charge of important railroad work...

With the exception of twenty-five men who come from the military, all the others came from the west and Col. Schneider states that he never wishes for a better body of men to have under his control...

As they will be both constructionists and destructionists, they are learning their rifle and bayonet drill just as any other soldier going overseas...

Linking Up World's Biggest Steel Arch

Bridge Over Hell Gate Settled Into Place Under Direction of Dan Burns, Who Has Banned the Erection of Big Bridges For 27 Years - 26,000 Tons of Steel Worth $12,000,000 in Arch 1017 Feet Long and 308 Above the Water

Facts about the Hell Gate Bridge arch: The span is 1017 feet, forming the highest steel arch in the world. The cost of the steel arch is $12,000,000. It will support a weight of 88 tons for each foot of length.

Through the steel girders spanned 1017 feet across the tumbling tide and 60 feet above it, and a dip in the middle of the arch of 120 feet...

Now it was up to the rule-of-thumb men of the New Haven's four track bridge and the Pennsylvania tunnels. Dan Burns is the fittest, little rule-of-thumb man that ever was, when it comes to seeing that bridge and steel work done...

DECLARES STATES HONEYCOMBED WITH SPIES UNDER BERNSTORFF

Trying in Every Way to Destroy Munitions Plants and Get Workmen to Go Out on Strike - Thirty or Forty Million Dollars Spent in Efforts to Destroy Life and Property

The Providence, R. I. Journal says:— Dr. Joseph Gorkear, who has been a prominent official in the Austro-Hungarian consular service for fifteen years, and who resigned his office on December 20 of last year, made a statement to the Providence Journal in which he declares that the United States is honey-combed with German and Austrian spies working directly from Count von Bernstorff and Consul General von Nuber...

Dr. Gorkear declared to attempt to secure information and was transferred from Vienna to Berlin, April 11 of last year to Berlin. He was in Berlin five months when he was ordered to report to Vienna. Knowing that this order would result either in imprisonment or death, on account of his pro-Slavic activities, he escaped from Berlin to Rome from which city he wrote his resignation to the United States.

Dr. Gorkear denounces Consul-General von Nuber and Dr. Henrich Albert, German ambassador in London, and declares that these men acting jointly, are guilty of acts every day for which they should be sentenced to death.

ARCHDUCHESS WILL MARRY A COMMONER

Her Experience With Royal Court Unhappy - Now Doctor's Wife

Berlin, Nov. 20.—According to The Lokal Anzeiger the Arch-Duchess Isabella, Marie, daughter of Arch Duke Frederick, commander-in-chief of the Austrian army, is about to marry a commoner, having promised her hand to Professor Paul Albrecht, a Vienna physician.

ONE FROM ALASKA

One man came from Juneau in Alaska to join a distance of something like 6,000 miles, while many of the others also traveled long distances.

The arch-duchess had a short, though unhappy romance with the consort of Prince George of Bavaria, whom she divorced a few months after her marriage. She then devoted herself to nursing under the name of Sister Imgard, and in the course of her work she met Dr. Albrecht. She has been devoted in her service to the Red Cross during the war.

Torpedo-proof Monitors at The Dardanelles

"Fleeting Platforms" on Which 14-inch Guns Were Mounted

(By E. Ashmead Bartlett)

The Dardanelles, Nov. 1.—Unless we carried the Straits by a coup de main, it was obvious from the start that our fleet would not be able to remain indefinitely off the coast, because the Huns would be certain to send some submarines to assist their ally. There were scares, and more scares, followed by irrefutable proofs that the Huns were beneath us. The fleet had to retire to sheltered harbors, protected by booms and nets, and the Turks on the hills above us looked on exultingly. They forgot, however, the time-honored axiom that the Anglo-Saxons race is always surprised, but never beaten. We are never ready, but we have a marvellous talent for improvisation and adapting fresh means to meet new and unexpected emergencies. Our mighty pre-arranged fleet had suddenly become useless, and we could not afford to risk the loss of any more battleships. But the brains at home were working out a scheme to get back command of the surface of the Mediterranean. They set to work to design craft which could carry the guns of battleships without having their vulnerability to submarine attack. Only a nation with absolute command of the sea and with unlimited shipbuilding resources could have set to work to replace one fleet with another of an entirely different type, at a few hours' notice, in the middle of a great war, while at the same time blockading the German fleet and holding the world's trade routes. It was a scheme of strange craft having been sighted on their way out, the like of which had never been seen in Eastern waters before.

Strange Craft
One fine day in July the first of them arrived. She was unlike any other vessel ever seen in these parts, having a low freeboard, almost flush with the water, a 2-inch gun in her bows and long 6-inch astern. She looked more like a Chinese pagoda than a ship, but she talked like one all right, as the Turks found a few days later when she went out and tried a few shots at Asia for practice.

She was followed by another little bird of passage, even smaller, armed with two brand new, beautiful 6-inch guns, "the same as the Lisie's" as the crew delight to tell you. She was so small and so young that no one had even taken the trouble to baptize her, so she carried a number in lieu of a name. Her crew of seventy cut hardly as said to live on her; there is no room for that—they apparently hang on anywhere. The Turkish navy, having received her arrival with mingled contempt and amusement; but they sang a different tune when one day she went outside to celebrate, and they found that this baby of the deep could throw 100 lbs. of high explosive twelve miles, without over-reaching herself.

The New Monitors
The next arrival caused somewhat of a sensation, not only to the enemy but to our own troops. One afternoon there appeared at the entrance of Keplias harbor an amazing-looking object. She could hardly be said to swim up, but rather wobbled into port, like a huge goose primed for Michigan. It was impossible to tell at a distance whether she was broadside on, or showing her bows or her stern, for she seemed to quite round. Her high sides held aloft an absolute flat deck, on which nothing showed except an enormous turret, from which projected two guns of enormous girth and length, whilst rising from her centre, like the giant of some California forest, was a huge striped tripod, bearing aloft a kind of oblong jewel box.

With great difficulty, steering vily, she made her way through the crowded harbor and dropped her anchor with the eyes of thousands riveted on her. No one had ever seen the like of her before. Sensation, in fact, followed sensation, as the crew began to bathe. Apparently all possessed the divine power of walking on the water, for, on descending the ladder, instead of plunging into the waves, they walked along them by the side of her, and, having thus distributed themselves, proceeded to dive in, only to climb out again a few minutes later at their will. We set off in boats to investigate this strange phenomenon, and then found that just below the surface her hull bulged out some ten feet and then curved under forming a platform just washed by the waves.

This is the secret and mystery of these craft. In that bulge man has concentrated his ingenuity to defeat the submarine. If a torpedo hits her side it will explode amidst a variety of substances which I must not mention and the hull of the vessel will escape injury. These huge monitors carry naught but two 14-inch guns and some anti-aircraft armament. They are roomy and comfortable, unlike their smaller neighbors. Their speed is, however, very slow, on account of their strange shape and they steer badly, but at present their development is only in its infancy and they are interesting because in them you see the germ of what will probably be the battleship of the future.

Their guns go off with a terrible roar, and carry over three-quarters of a ton of metal 15 miles. Later on three more of these monsters arrived, giving us eight 14-inch guns with which to bombard the enemy's positions, in addition to a large number of smaller monitors of all shapes and sizes.

Old Ships Transformed
Then the new fleet began to settle to its work, sailing forth day by day and bombarding the enemy's positions, while balloon ships and aeroplanes "spotted" for them. The Turks and the Huns then began to grasp the sad fact that we had once more regained command of the surface of the sea, and that the effort which had led to the retirement of our high seas fleet had been wasted after all. Later on two other strange vessels, the Entomion and Theseus, cruisers twenty-five years old, also protected by a formidable waist belt similar to that worn by the monitors, turned up. It has not improved their appearance, for the protection is hung from their sides by steel stanchions and wire ropes. They look as if they had just survived a terrible gale in which most of their fittings had been washed away.

The big monitors are steady as a rock at sea, but they are no beds of roses to live in, for the coldest penetrates everywhere, and they are almost impossible to keep clean. When they fire their big guns the concussion blows great clouds of smoke and flame from the funnels, smothering everything astern. They are not really ships at all, but floating gun platforms. Nevertheless they serve their purpose well, and an experiment have proved a great success.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE TO HANDLE ALLEGED BOMB PLOTS
Washington, Nov. 13.—The policy of the department of justice and treasury department in handling investigations of bomb plots, munition factories explosions and similar matters was announced tonight in a statement authorized by Attorney General Gregory and Secretary McAdoo. It indicates that in the future the bureau of investigation of the department of justice is to be the main reliance of the government in dealing with alleged criminal activities in this country, connected with the European war.
The statement says:
"That the different departments of the federal government have been instructed to furnish, and are furnishing, to each other all information received which will assist each department in performing the duties devolving upon it."
The secret service began investigating alleged plots involving American neutrality shortly after the war began, and it is well known here that it has collected a mass of information bearing on activities of many kinds. Scores of reports have been made to Secretary McAdoo, and some of them are said to have gone up to President Wilson.

No Retreat These
During the South African war an order was issued to the men of the Highland regiments to cover up their tartan kilts, as they made good targets for the enemy. The order proved very unpopular, and caused a great deal of dissatisfaction among the soldiers concerned. When Sir George White heard this he said: "Let them cover up only the front of their kilts; the enemy will never see the other side!"

FIRE IN THE GRANITE WORKS AT ST. GEORGE

St. George (N. B.), Nov. 19.—A serious fire here this evening completely gutted the large granite works of Milne Coult & Co. The fire was first seen about 9 o'clock and had then got a good hold on the main building.

St. George has no fire brigade, but a volunteer bucket brigade set to work and while they were unable to do much to the actual fire in the granite building, they prevented its spread beyond one-half of the granite cutting there.

Several of the nearby houses were in danger from sparks, including those of John O'Brien, George L. McLean and L. B. Young, and the Presbyterian church and the mill of D. Dodds.

The damage to the granite building is estimated at $8,000, but it is not known the amount of insurance. In addition, much of the stock is spoiled.

The factory is situated on the great road.

Austrian Submarine Is Destroyed; Night Cables From War Countries

New York, Nov. 19.—A news agency despatch from Rome today says: "Destruction by French and Italian torpedo boats of an Austrian submarine in the Mediterranean is reported here today.

The incident is believed to be the beginning of a vigorous campaign to clear the Mediterranean and Adriatic of enemy underwater craft. Italy and France are said to have combined in formation of a flotilla of fast small vessels, which will patrol their own, the Austrian, Albanian, Greek and African coasts until the U boats have been exterminated."

Austrian Air Raid on Udine. Rome, Nov. 19, via Paris, Nov. 20.—Austrian aviators threw fifteen bombs on Udine, Italy, on Friday, killing twelve persons and wounding twenty-seven, according to an official announcement made by the Italian war office.

Another squadron of aeroplanes dropped bombs on Verona and Vicenza in the Italian province of Venetia and on Grado.

Petrograd, Nov. 19, via London.—Russian military observers are finding frequent indications that the German lines on this front are proving increasingly thin. These are furnished by reports from the fighting lines, notably from the sector northeast of Riga. As an instance, it is stated that in capturing the passage between two marshes, the Russians found the sole defenders of the position to be two German, with machine guns.

Drilling of the recruits with the Russians expect to strengthen their own lines on various fronts is proceeding rapidly on all sides. Drill masters report that excellent progress is being made in the drill work, because of the willing spirit of the new men, and the admirable relations declared to exist between them and their officers.

Bulgarians Repulsed at Strumitsa. Paris, Nov. 19.—The war office communication tonight says: "There is nothing to add to the previous communication.

"Army of the Orient. Quiet prevails on our front, except in the region of Strumitsa, where the Bulgarians attacked us. They were repulsed after having sustained serious losses."

The communication of the Belgian war office says: "There has been a slight bombardment on our advanced positions and of the Fervyse region. Our artillery replied to the German batteries and brought about the dispersal of the enemy weapons.

"Army of the Orient. Quiet prevails on our front, except in the region of Strumitsa, where the Bulgarians attacked us. They were repulsed after having sustained serious losses."

Germans Held on Dvina and Styr Rivers. Petrograd, Nov. 19, via London, 10.53 p. m.—The following official statement was issued by the Russian war office tonight:

"On the western (Russian) front, northwest of Friedlandstadt, German attempts to cross to our side of the Dvina river failed. The enemy everywhere was compelled to retire by our fire.

"On the left of the Styr river, near the station of Castoryk, the enemy attempted unsuccessfully to reach the river. Near the village of Castoryk our troops retired to the right bank of the Styr, well covered by our fire, which prevented the enemy from making an attack.

"Further up on the Styr, near the village of Novo Selki, the enemy several times opened fire on the bank of the river held by us.

"On the Caucasian front, the situation is unchanged."

London, Nov. 19.—A despatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Company says a telegram to the Tribuna from Athens states that the Bulgarians have occupied Monastir, and that the Serbians are in full retreat.

Germans Record Anti-Dynastic Talk. Berlin, Nov. 19, via Tuckerton.—According to advices from Constantinople to the Frankfurter Zeitung, says the Overseas News Agency, "serious measures are being considered in Athens in connection with the existing situation. It is declared that the British and French are behaving at Salonika as if that port were their property, and that indications have been made regarding the overthrow of the dynasty. It is noted that a corps of gendarmes stationed in New Greece, a body formed principally of Cretans, has been openly agitating in favor of former Premier Venizelos.

"It is pointed out that a state of siege can be proclaimed in all Greece without the action of parliament, if a sufficient emergency arises."

Bulgarian Officers on Russian Front. Petrograd, Nov. 19, via London, Nov. 20.—Many Bulgarian officers are now attached to the German staff on the Russian front, according to the Bepnes Gazette. These officers have been sent from Bulgaria to study German methods of warfare.

Serbian Making Last Stand. Athens, Nov. 19, via London, Nov. 20.—The newspaper Hestia says it believes that there are 45,000 Bulgarians in Pelop, and surrounding district, while there are only small Serbian forces. The paper says that the French, having repulsed Bulgarian attacks for three days, are redoubling their efforts to occupy Velas.

It is thought possible that the Serbians will make a stand on the historic plain of Konovo, east of the Montenegro frontier. They must either do this or retire into the mountains of Montenegro or northern Albania, where, although they would be nearer help from the Adriatic, it would be difficult to keep them supplied, owing to the absence of roads.

The Austro-Germans on the north are now within thirty miles of the Mitrovitsa-Pristina line of the Serbians, while the Bulgarians in the south are said already to have passed Monastir.

As to the position of Greece there have been no developments, although a more hopeful feeling prevails in Paris and London since Denis Coehin's visit to King Constantine and the Greek ministers.

German Get Two Gunboats. Berlin, Nov. 19, via London.—Two British gunboats have been sunk in the Mediterranean, off the Egyptian coast, by a German submarine. Official announcement to this effect was made by the admiralty today. A British auxiliary cruiser also was put out of action. The statement follows:

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST. So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach-ache, inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind attacks the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermentation of food. Such a condition is unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of burdock magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antidote, such as burdock magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. F.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores clear and free from the impurities of the skin. In cool weather this interference with the normal action of the skin is particularly injurious in that it causes the pores to become clogged with the impurities of the skin, and thus the skin becomes dry and cracked, and the complexion is ruined. Ordinary methods serve little purpose of clearing the skin, and the only way to get a clear, healthy complexion is to use a skin cream that will penetrate the pores and remove the impurities. Gradually the healthy, young skin breaks free and out and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Mercolized wax, obtainable at any druggist, is spread on nightly with cold cream and washed off mornings. One ounce usually suffices.

One afternoon a stranger debarked from a train of a hustling town in the west and headed up the street. Finally he met a party that looked like a native "prude" and said the stranger, "Are you the likely looking party?" "Are you a resident of this town?"

"Yes, sir," was the ready rejoinder of the other. "Been here something like fifty years. What can I do for you?" "I am looking for a criminal lawyer," responded the stranger. "Have you one here?"

"Well," reflectively answered the native, "we think we have, but we can't prove it on him."

LAW LETS DOGS FLAP THEIR EARS

Toronto Judge Finds Ear Cropping Illegal. ONCE SAFETY-FIRST DEVICE. Practice Started For Dogs' Advantage in Fighting-pit—Matches Now Under Ban and Need Vanishes.

(Mail and Empire). Unless the decision of the Toronto police court is successfully appealed against it will be illegal hereafter for fanciers to crop the ears of dogs. It is to be hoped that this view will prevail, for, though the attorney for the defence asserted that thousands of dog breeders were affected, the truth is that the non-cropping law will be of benefit to the bull terrier fancy. More than one fancier has given up the breeding of bull terriers in disgust because of the cropping habit, an uncropped dog being at a serious disadvantage with a trimmed dog in the show ring. In the case of one occasion a few years back, a little uncropped puppy bred in this city was only defeated in the winners class at the exhibition by a famous aged dog that came all the way from Philadelphia, and that had seen championship days in his credit. This, of course, was a very successful puppy, whose show career was cut short by theft, but it goes to show that trimming is not absolutely an essential feature of successful bull terriers.

The Reason for Cropping. Originally, of course, dogs were cropped for fighting purposes. A long eared dog was at a considerable disadvantage, for the other dog might seize him by the ear, giving him no chance to retaliate since a hold was taken. But dog fighting has been illegal for more than a generation and it has also gone out of fashion. The breeders of a show bull terrier would think nowadays of exposing him to the hazards of the pit, even if he could do so without loss.

MARY PICKFORD IN IMPERIAL'S SUPREME PICTURES "THE DAWN OF ATOMORROW"

LITTLE MARY PICKFORD, the idolized star of picture lovers, adds another striking characteristic to her notable repertoire in Frances Hodgson Burnett's great drama of optimism bereft with announced. The story is a world-famous one and has to do with a poor young girl's unflinching faith and its ultimate reward. It is something that will strengthen the heart, inspire noble impulses and give every reader a finer grip on good character and deportment. The scenes are laid in the slum districts of England and the diction is typically Cockney. Altogether it is a splendid production.

JULIA ARTHUR'S SUCCESS

Sam Meharry in Stock — Mantell in Pictures — Lauder's Visit — Another "Busty" — Partello Players — General Gossip

Thanks to the British, there still seems to be such a thing as charm in the theatre. "Quinneys" appears to be rounding into one of the successes of the New York season, and following close upon it comes "Hobson's Choice," which the critics, with unusual unanimity, hailed as another "Busty".

The story is a frail and homely one, that depends entirely upon its presentation. Hobson is a Lancashire shopkeeper, a widower with three daughters, over whom he cracks the whip of parental authority, declaring that he will pick their husbands for them.

An actress, formerly well known in St. John, Julia Arthur, who played here with W. S. Hawkins years ago, has returned to the stage after a lengthy sojourn in the following from the New York Globe is typical of what the papers have been saying about her return.

"After a long absence Julia Arthur returned to the New York stage last night in 'The Eternal Magdalene' by Robert McLaughlin. Her reception by the audience was not only cordial but positively ecstatic.

"The Eternal Magdalene is a miracle-drama play. It should first be recorded that it made a profound and powerful impression on last night's audience. If their attitude is a criterion the piece will be immensely popular. It contains many of the elements that always have and probably always will appeal to a vast number of theatre goers."

Sam Meharry, of popular memory in St. John, will probably play with the Poll Stock this season. The first few months of the present season have disclosed a fact which is very welcome to Salisbury Field, and Margaret Mayo—namely that five companies were not sufficient to meet the demands of the public for "Twin Beds," the farce that made the season's long-run record on Broadway last year.

Lady Gregory has arrived in New York with an unbounded faith in the cause of the allies and new manuscripts by George Bernard Shaw, which bears the title "Plays for V. C." The nature of the story is not known, but rumor has it that Shaw's hero is a young Irishman who returns to his home town after winning his V. C. So many honours are pressed on him by the civilians and the stay-at-home that he is glad to get away again to the front.

Jack Westerman, who was well liked in musical comedy here with the Thompson Musical Comedy Co., is with the Homans' Musical Comedy, now playing in Barabara, Mass.

Harry Lauder That St. John people appreciate the best in theatricals when the occasion offers has been shown in the remarkable selling out of the Imperial Theatre for the visit of Harry Lauder, famous Scotch comedian. The tickets were bought up eagerly, and the house has been sold entirely for the evening performance with not very many seats left for the afternoon. It will be a gala day for the Scotch people and descendants in and about St. John, and the members of St. Andrew's Society are planning to take advantage of it by having Mr. Lauder join in their celebration of the feast of their patron saint.

Paul Gilmore's Humor When Percy Winter, director of production for the Beaver Film Corporation, made up his mind to cast Paul Gilmore, who has frequently played in St. John, and no one else, to portray the character of Reverend Clifton Bradford in the first Beaver production of Augustus Thomas play "The Other Girl," he found that Gilmore's engagement in Los Angeles prevented the dapper star's release before a certain date. However, herculean efforts were undertaken to counteract the effects of any delays incurred, and Gilmore was telegraphed the following instructions: "Carry necessary wardrobe for Rev. Bradford on train arriving here Sunday. Our representative will meet you at station and convey you by motor to studio. No time can be lost. Holding people and scene for you." Beaver Film Corporation. Gilmore's reply is indicative of his sense of humor and experience before the camera. "Have Bible and pulpit ready. Arrive 9 a. m. Pennsylvania, Sunday, November seventh, caucous, clasped hands, heavenly look and all. Three cheers for my chance to return to good old New York and the East Staten Island included." Paul Gilmore.

The entire city of Santa Barbara turned out last week to greet Thomas A. Edison, who stopped off at the historic place to visit the American Film company studio.

When the special train of the famous inventor pulled into the depot a cordon of "Flying A" cowboys surrounded it and extended a regular old-fashioned western greeting to the distinguished guest.

Then Mr. Edison was escorted to an automobile and again the high-hatted riders surrounded him on the ride to the studios. In another machine were camera men who caught the wizard as he smilingly responded to the cheers of the townfolk.

Every department of the big studio group was inspected by Mr. Edison and he voiced his criticisms at the Book of the various companies. He saw Harold Lockwood and May Allison working in some sense dramatic scenes, as saw Buck Parvin endure the harrowing trials which Charles E. Van Loan wrote that worthy into; he saw budding bronchos for the boys gave him an impromptu ride in the studio corral, and he laughed heartily at the "Beauty" comedians.

Mr. Edison enjoyed every minute of his stay, and so did his hosts, who saw him safely aboard his train—honorarium bound for the east. Amateur Players Tickets are selling well for the two amateur productions to be given in the Opera House soon and "Men and Women" and "When We Were Twentys" are the titles of the plays. J. R. McCloskey of the I. L. & B. Society and "The House Next Door," under the direction of Mrs. A. C. Wilson, with the patronage of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall. The first two mentioned are to be given next week in aid of the patriotic fund, while "The House Next Door" will be presented early in December in aid of the Cross Society. Elaborate specialties will be given with each play.

Mantell in Pictures Robert B. Mantell a prime St. John favorite and dean of American comedians, and credited with being the only man who ever made a financial success out of Shakespeare's plays has made his debut in "The Blindness of Devotion," a William Fox production. The vehicle in which Mr. Mantell makes his initial appearance on the screen is by Rex Ingram and was chosen by the eminent actor because he felt that the character Count de Covary furnished him a wide range for the display of his dramatic powers. The play is one that lays modern society in no uncertain manner.

It is probable that Mantell will in the near future, be seen in pictorializations of his stage successes, which include Hamlet, Merchant of Venice, Othello, Romeo and Juliet and others. Prominent in support Mantell in his initial release in "The House Next Door," declared to have the most beautiful face on earth and a most beautiful face on earth and a most beautiful face on earth.

Partello Players The Partello Players will remain at the Opera House for only three days next week, presenting "The Minister's Sweetheart." Their presentation of "The Rosary," won especial praise this week, while "The Storm Country" has found favor as well. The last half of next week the Opera House will be supplied by local players. The Partello Players will return a week from Monday. "Nephtine's Daughter," a spectacular motion picture production with Marguerite Kellerman in the leading role, is to be given in the Opera House soon. It is a picture which has attracted keen interest in the states.

Mark Twain's Stories on Screen Tom Sawyer, Huckleberry Finn, In Joe, Pudd'nhead Wilson and the scores of other famous characters from the late Samuel Langhorne Clemens in motion pictures. Arrangements for the exclusive pictorialization rights to Mark Twain's books are completed. Last week by Samuel Goldfish, in behalf of the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Players Company, producers of "Carmen" with Geraldine Farrar and other noted productions.

Probably no other American author's works have been so eagerly sought for motion pictures as the writings of Mark Twain. The characters of his books are household names throughout the English speaking world. His writings have been universally enjoyed and millions of persons of all ages and classes have laughed and sobbed with Mark Twain's characters. A few of the important and best known books of Mark Twain to which the Lasky Company has the rights of pictorialization are "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," "Huckleberry Finn," "Pudd'nhead Wilson," "Following the Equator," "The Jumping Frog," and many others.

CIRCUS CLOWN ON THE FIRING LINE

Daring Deed of French Soldier—Acrobat Saved Company From Annihilation (Youth's Companion.)

William was in a trench somewhere in the long French line, helping to keep the Germans back from some mound of broken brick that had once been a village. Before he became a soldier he had been a famous clown and gymnast in a French circus. A German quick-firer, says T. P.'s Journal of Great Deeds of the Great War, had worked round to the French flank, and he was filling the trench with wounded men by his enfilading fire. The little whirling machine of death was hidden very cunningly.

It was a grave situation. The fire of the gun was accurate and ceaseless. The French were unable to locate the muzzle. In despair the officer in charge which Charles E. Van Loan wrote that worthy into; he saw budding bronchos for the boys gave him an impromptu ride in the studio corral, and he laughed heartily at the "Beauty" comedians.

NOVA SCOTIA SCHOONER H. S. M. IS WRECKED

Nahant, Mass., Nov. 19.—The two-masted British schooner H. S. M. was driven ashore by a heavy northeast gale on the jagged rocks of Galloupe's Point tonight.

The six members of the crew reached shore after a hard struggle, some of them swimming fifty feet through the breakers. The schooner, loaded with lumber, from Liverpool (N. S.), for Boston, will be probably a total loss. She was owned by Henry G. Mallet, of Port Gilbert (N. S.), and was commanded by Captain Leander Pothier. Julius Sauliner, a foremast hand, was injured as he was saluting a companion, but will be recovered.
