GORMAN ACCOMPANIES FINNISH ACE TO CITY; READY FOR BIG TEST

Olympic Champion, Pleased to be in Canada, Will Start Working Out at Lily Lake Today—New York Entries are Received.

CLAS ARNOLD ROBERT THUNBERG, 32 years, Helsinki, Finland, Olympic amateur skating champion and successful contender for the world's title in Europe, arrived in the city on the American train today, accompanied by Charles Gorman, of Saint John, holder of several Canadian, American and international championships, and W. H. Golding, special representative of the Saint John Amateur Skating Association.

D. J. Corr, secretary of the local skating association, Charles Magnusson boarded the train at Fairville and explained to the Finnish skater arrangements for his reception.

SPREEDERS WELCOMED. About 200 people were at the depot when the train rolled in but when Thunberg stepped off onto the platform, he was not recognized until he had worked his way down through the crowd near the end of the platform. Here, he was given a hearty reception. He was stopped by the camera man while the crowd gathered around to take a look at the man who won the world's title in 1924. He is about the same build as Charlie Gorman, who was also given a good reception. Mr. Corr escorted the skater to his car and Thunberg went to the Admiral Beatty, his headquarters during his stay here, while Gorman went home.

GLAD TO BE HERE. On his arrival at the Beatty, Thunberg, through Mr. Magnusson, Mr. Corr he was very glad to be here and through with indoor rinks. He will work out at Lily Lake this afternoon, if conditions are favorable. He feels very keenly the way he was treated in New York and is very eager to get back to conditions with which he is familiar. A rather interesting fact in connection with his visit here is that he will skate made by the Hagan family, the same family to which the late Harold Hagan belonged.

THUNBERG DELIGHTED. His immediate motive over being out of the car windows or stepped off the platform with higher hopes of happiness and heart-ease than the good-hearted Finn when the express rolled into the depot.

"Ah," he chuckled with gusto and rubbing his hands, "it is Can-da-goot!"

Class smiled and chatted in his broken way all the long hours of the day. The big city seemed a sort of new world to him—nervous rushing traffic, new skating conditions, disappointing defeats under altogether new circumstances, battling with newspaper men and flash photographers. All this was new to him.

LIKES GORMAN. After he had again met Gorman whom he knew at the Olympics in Chamoni in 1924, and grew chummy with Mr. Golding and his big batch of Lily Lake photographs, Thunberg sort of party and every now and then would smile cheerily and patting his friends on the back, matter softly so the New Yorkers could not hear. "Ah, Can-da-goot!" It was like a Finnish version of "O Canada."

THE FINN IS RELAXED. And so with this mental relaxation, this new mental attitude the champion skater to defend his crown. He is now supremely happy, and if he is beaten on skater ever will have gone into the shades of defeat with a more genuinely sportsmanlike smile and handshakes. But Clas has no idea of being defeated and next to taking home to his wife and father the badge of supremacy his fond hope is that Charlie Gorman's name "Joe Moore and the other Yankee. He is a great admirer of the Saint John boy's style and speed.

WHAT GORMAN SAYS. Gorman has little to say about the New York races. He allows they were good contests and fairly fought except for the disadvantages under which Thunberg struggled. Moore has been defeated indoors by Charlie in several championship meets and Gorman's second place at Madison Square Garden were simply conditions of jockeying and risk to which all close-up men are subjected when the bell rings. As a matter of grim fact two skaters at the same meet are in the Polyclinic Hospital across from the Garden with shattered legs due to ugly spills against the concrete abutments of the course.

Charlie had the world's title in his vision all the while and—well he was going to take no chances with a fellow born and brought up in New York rinks.

THUNBERG VICTIMS. Thunberg was interviewed in Boston by newspaper men and Mr. Golding supplied plenty of data and photographs about the Saint John 6-lap course and the prospects of a real classic meet, the first grand tournament of worldwide significance to be held on this side of the water for some time.

Thunberg comes to the big meet with the scalps of famous European flyers hanging in his belt—Larsen, Strom and Disen, successors of the Harold Hagen Norwegian school, and Pietilla and Wallentinus of Finland. The distances skated ranged from 500 metres to 10,000.

As a sample of the speed these hardy Norsemen deliver let it be known that Strom holds the world's record for 5,000 metres (slightly over three miles) at 1:29. However, when Thunberg defeated him it was done in 18 seconds slower.

COUNSEL HEARD AT MORNING SESSION TODAY

Defence Lawyer Calls Affair Deplorable Accident

JUDGE'S CHARGE

Attorney-General Points Out Prisoner Admits Pushing Policeman

SINCE 12:38 o'clock today the jury in the case of Murdoch Evington, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Policeman S. P. McCavour, after trouble in the Seaman's Institute on New Year's morn.

A little after going to their room they returned to court to have part of Steele's evidence read, and again went to the jury room to consider the case. They were still out at that time of going to press.

J. H. Drummond, counsel for the defence, addressed the jury on behalf of the prisoner. He was followed by the Attorney-General, Hon. Dr. J. M. Baxter, for the prosecution. His Honor Judge LeBlond then charged the jury, and they filed out to the jury room at 12:38 p. m.

FOR THE DEFENCE

In his opening remarks Mr. Drummond stated that the Attorney-General had been fit to appear in person at the trial. It was assumed that there was a man more conspicuous of the duties of a crown officer than the Attorney-General himself, and there was no possibility of anything other than that the greatest justice or best prosecution of the case for Mr. Drummond stated that all evidence must be made for the fact that the defendant was a man almost friendless in the city, a man without means, and far from his home. The jury must take into consideration any of the difference in skill between defence and prosecution counsel, but must be impartial judges on the evidence alone.

REASONABLE DOUBT

If they had any feeling of reasonable doubt, they must give the benefit of it to the accused. The jury were not called upon to satisfy public opinion, but to try Murdoch Evington on a charge of manslaughter.

Mr. Drummond then said that the crown rested its whole case on the evidence of Wallace Steele, a man who had been discredited on two occasions at least, according to other evidence which had been introduced into the case. The crown had called seven or eight witnesses and all had Steele had proved only that an officer had been found in a dying condition in the Seaman's Institute, and the doctor's evidence that he died as a result of a fractured skull.

STEELE'S EVIDENCE

Counsel then outlined the evidence of Steele as to seeing the blow struck, and Bowden's statement as to the improbability of Steele's seeing the blow from the reading room where he had been standing. To be in the position in which McCavour was killed, it was highly improbable that any self-administered there could send a man of McCavour's weight and size hurtling down five or six steps to land with such force that he broke his skull.

The other evidence which contradicted that of Steele, he said, was given by Harry Irving, who said that he had seen Steele talking to a friend in the Institute at 10 o'clock that night when Steele swore that he had no friends there and that he did not enter the building before 11:45 p. m. Irving said that Mr. Drummond has no object in lying. There was no evidence produced in corroboration of Steele's as to his fight with Melville, on the stairs. If Bowden was attempting to revive the officer, how could it have happened that Steele told 17? If Steele was not to be believed, the Crown's case fell through. If Evington's push was gentle.

United Press. NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Some 2,500 men, women, including modistes, buyers, and store managers attended the spring fashion show at the Hotel Astor last night. They learned that skirts will remain short, but will not be shortened much more. Dresses are to be designed with a view to their practical use as well as to attractiveness. Black and white and the soft colors will be more popular than the flaming reds and more brilliant hues. Pastel shades are most popular for evening gowns. The model wedding dress is of white empress satin, trimmed with princess applique lace, embroidered in pearls.

Canadian Press. BERLIN, Jan. 20.—As between a dictatorship and a parliamentary government, the leaders of the parties in the Reichstag have chosen the latter, and a new cabinet has been formed to take the place of that of Chancellor Luther, which resigned more than six weeks ago, after the signing of the Locarno pact.

Dr. Hans Luther again will head the new government, with Gustave Stresemann holding his old portfolio as Foreign Minister.

HINDENBURG FIRM. The new cabinet was formed after President Von Hindenburg had summoned the Reichstag leaders to the executive mansion, and told them that the situation required either the setting up of a dictatorship or the formation of a parliamentary government.

Three hours after the political leader had retired from the presence of the president, Dr. Luther which will be put before the Reichstag tomorrow. In President Von Hindenburg's first encounter with practical politics he is declared by one of the parliamentarians to be "talked to as like a Dutch uncle."

RICHTSTAG HOSTILE. The new ministry will confront a hostile Reichstag, as it commands only 171 of the 493 votes. It is considered therefore that it will be forced to steer a precarious course, alternately seeking the indulgence of the powerful German Nationalists and Socialists groups. It will pledge itself to strict fulfillment of Germany's obligations as laid down in the Dawes reparations plan, and adherence to the foreign policies prescribed in the Locarno treaties.

The Socialists it is said, will support the government on its Dawes plan and Locarno policies. The German Nationalists, the Communists and the Fascists, however, are considered permanent opponents of the government on these issues.

In the new cabinet there are three former premiers—Stresemann, Marx, and Luther.

THE NEW CABINET. The cabinet is as follows: Chancellor—Dr. Hans Luther. Foreign Minister—Gustav Stresemann. Interior—Wilhelm Kuale, Democrat. Finance—Peter Reinhold, Democrat. Economics—Julius Curtius, German People's Party. Labor—Richard Brauns, Centrist. Justice—Dr. Wilhelm Marz, Democrat. Defense—Dr. Otto Gessler, Non-Partisan. Posts and Telegraphs—Karl Stingl, Bavarian people. Transports—Dr. R. Krohne, German People's Party.

The portfolios of Agriculture and Occupied Areas will be temporarily taken over by other members of the cabinet.

Over 90 Per Cent. of Australians Voted. MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 20.—Final returns of the voting in the recent general elections show that approximately 92 per cent. of the males on the register and 91 per cent. of the females voted. Compulsory voting was introduced in Australia at the recent election.

BANS LAND LEASES. LONDON, Jan. 20.—The Daily Express has a Peking despatch that Marshal Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian military chief, has issued a proclamation declaring it illegal for foreigners to lease Manchurian land. This is in violation of the treaty rights of Japan.

Refuse to Arbitrate Terms of New Wage Contract With Operators. SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 20.—The legislative assembly of New South Wales passed the third reading of the bill providing for a 44 hour week for seamen yesterday by 45 votes to 33.

PRINCE ALBERT CONSERVATIVES, HOWEVER, END CAUCUS WITHOUT ANNOUNCEMENT. The official statement from the Conservative leaders of the Prince Albert constituency who were in caucus here yesterday, is not yet forthcoming. Adjournment of the conference was made without a statement being issued to the press.

The rumor persists, however, that the Conservatives will enter a condition to oppose Premier King. John Diefenbaker, who was defeated during the last general election is mentioned as a possible candidate.

MEXICAN GOVERNOR REPORTED SLAIN. Assured of Revolutionary Action—14 Executed in Train Bandit Affair. MEXICO CITY, Jan. 20.—It is reported here that Alfonso Noyola, former lieutenant governor of the state of Jalisco, has been executed at Guadalupe for alleged complicity in the so-called revolutionary movement there. Special despatches say that Gilbert Chavez, a ranch owner in the state of Jalisco, has been court martialed and shot because he concealed some bandits who committed the recent outrage on a passenger train near Guadalupe. Fourteen men have thus far been officially reported executed for the Guadalupe crime.

Mr. Fenton gave the credit for the establishment of the abattoir at Saint John to the action of the Veniot Administration. Nova Scotia, he predicted, would follow suit in the establishment of packing plants and pointed out the annual importation of meat products by Nova Scotia amounted to $2,000,000 and $15 million, pointed out the deplored the specialization in apples in Nova Scotia and potatoes in New Brunswick, as ruinous, advocating greater interest and effort in stock raising and mixed farming.

THE WEATHER. Cloudy; Snow. MARITIME—Moderate winds, cloudy, with light local snowfalls or flurries tonight and tomorrow. Nation-Wide Hunt For Pretty Girl

MISS JULIA DEFREY, pretty 17-year-old school girl, has disappeared from her home at Kingston, Wis. An intense desire to study art is believed to have been the cause of her disappearance. A nation-wide search is being conducted.

SAINT JOHN SPEAKER. W. I. Fenton represented the Saint John packing houses, and J. M. Ford that at Moncton. James Bremner, live stock superintendent of the provincial department of agriculture, spoke on sheep, and J. K. King, Moncton, Federal live stock promoter, spoke on swine.

After the program had been disposed of discussion ensued on resolutions. This led to reference to the fact that last year the Legislature had amended the act for protection of sheep from dogs in such a way that county councils had been able to make the act inoperative in certain counties. No reference to the association had been made before the change was made and the expressed will of 10,000 farmers was disregarded.

Mr. Bremner in his address told of the efforts which the department was making to promote sheep production. He mentioned the recent importations of pure bred rams.

STOCK RAISED. That the lamb raised in the Maritime Provinces were known the world over for their quality and that the best hams and bacon cuts were those obtained from the pork products of these provinces, were the features of the sheep and swine industry emphasized by Mr. Ford.

HARDWARE ASSOC'N HOLDS ANNUAL MEET

Advocates More Settlers and Hydro Applications to Pulp Industry

WAYS and means of increasing the revenue of New Brunswick must be found in order to avoid increasing the provincial bonded indebtedness, Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., Premier of the province, told the Saint John Iron and Hardware Association members at their annual banquet in the Union Club last night.

Dr. Baxter made no further pronouncement on the Government program, saying that any such announcement would come from the Government as a whole after due consideration.

He advocated the securing of suitable immigrants for the cultivation of farms, and the development of the tourist industry, as well as the application of water power to the manufacture of pulp.

Other speakers were: S. E. Fisher, A. M. Rowan, W. S. Fisher, Acting Mayor J. H. Frink, J. G. Harrison, M. E. Agar, L. W. Simms and P. D. McAvity. The president, A. M. Rowan, presided.

The toast "The Saint John Iron and Hardware Association" was proposed by S. E. Fisher. He spoke of the founding of the association thirty-two years ago and the impression it had made on the commercial life of the city.

"LIVERPOOL OF AMERICA." A. M. Rowan replied. He said that at the time of the formation of the association Saint John was proposed as the Liverpool of America. This had some extent come true. He referred in feeling terms to the loss sustained by the deaths of Senator Thorne and Samuel H. Hayward.

FISHER SPEAKS W. S. Fisher proposed the toast "The City of Saint John." Like the previous speaker he made reference to the part played in the success of the organization by the late Senator Thorne. At the time the association began there were twenty-seven mills and numerous shippings about the mouth of the Saint John River.

"We must not feel discouraged, however. We have a sugar refinery employing 600 men, the largest brush factory in Canada, the McAvity plants, cotton factories and others all working at full time and business is good," he said.

On the west side they were short of men and activity was greater than for a long time. Three thousand men were being employed. Three hundred and fifty men were working at the dry dock, as compared with a handful a year ago.

BOARD OF TRADE LAUDED. All through the Maritime Provinces businesses were operating on a thriving basis and in Saint John we had a most active and energetic Board of Trade. Efficient work for the city had been done by the press and these provinces stood better in the eyes of the rest of Canada than ever before.

TIME RIPE TO DO THINGS. Acting-Mayor Frink responded to the toast. He said that in Saint John the time was ripe to do things rather than talk about them. It had been a period of depression but we were in no danger of being submerged. There was no dearth of money in Saint John. There were more than $20,000,000 in the savings banks of the city. It would take Jackscrews to pry the lid off.

Had we protected capital sufficiently to loosen this money? Did we not seem to lack confidence in ourselves? A freer spirit should be manifest if industry were to prosper, he said.

The city was reasonably prosperous and happy, said His Worship. The harbor was the city's main asset and was putting money in the pockets of the citizens.

UP TO GOVERNMENT. One steamer now took away as much cargo as six sailing vessels of the old days. We needed more facilities. The Common Council could do no more and the burden had been shifted to the Federal Government. If tri-partite agreements were carried out facilities to carry on port work would be forthcoming. Why, he asked, since the city had given 400 acres under the agreement, should it be thrown into the waste basket? All the debentures on the east side wharves had been paid off except that on the McLeod wharf, which was being taken care of.

C. P.'S EXTENSIVE WORK. The C. P. R. had done extensive work here and had made good the declaration that Saint John was the eastern terminal of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Their work was worthy of the highest commendation.

The C. N. R. had promised development which had not materialized. Sir Henry Thornton had been a most successful railway man, but he feared that he had the proclivities of a politician.

SANE MEASURES WANTED. J. G. Harrison, in proposing the health of the province, said New Brunswick wanted sane legislation and not too much of it. "The rest of the country has overlooked the fact that we are a part of Canada. Now they are beginning to realize it. We have a tourist paradise and this should be made one of the chief sources of revenue."

DR. BAXTER SPEAKS. Hon. Dr. Baxter replied. He said that he did not intend to speak on politics as the Government was to do so as a whole after due consideration. Dr. Baxter said the city had things to look forward to. It was passing through a transition period.

URGES POWER EXPANSION. "We need never again expect to see in the province the old days when the saw mill was the centre of the forest industry. It is our job to get our potential power applied to those forests."

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it's pure and good. 4 in 5 NEED Glasses

That doesn't mean that eighty per cent. of the public go about half blind or anything like it. It just means this. That numerous tests, both official and by independent Optometrists, show that eighty per cent. of the public need Glasses for one reason or another. Some need Glasses mainly to see clearer. Others mainly to counteract eyestrain. Eyestrain means in turn nerve strain as well as a gradual weakening of Sight.

Therefore all should have their eyes examined in order to play safe.

Sharpes Opp. Oak Mall WEEKLY

The community must think deeply and wisely and decide on the industry into which capital could be put with the reasonable hope of success. It was better to move slowly and make sure of the ground. Success would come, he had faith.

The sugar refinery, for example, was not a native industry but came because of the geographical advantages of Saint John. It was the C. P. R. largely which had given vitality to that project.

"We must find what we can manufacture here and sell to the rest of Canada. We must also look for extra-Canadian markets. We stand at the gateway and have an advantage over the cities of the interior. J. D. McKenna has pointed out New Brunswick's advantage in the matter of dairy products," he said.

FOOD IMPORTATIONS. Agriculture was the biggest thing in New Brunswick. "We are not feeding ourselves but are importing commodities we should produce."

It was the young men of the province who should get into public life and cause these achievements to be attained. Nature had done much. Men must get together and do the rest. A good resolution should be proposed no matter by whom introduced.

In Kings county there were many vacant farms which contained splendid land. The young men had heard the call of the West or the United States and the farms were offered for sale at a fraction of their value. We must get immigration and restock our lands with it. It might be temporary, but valuable population. The stream of immigration must be kept flowing.

"We cannot bring in people by tens of thousands, we could not assimilate them. We must take a few at a time," he said.

BOARD OF TRADE TOASTED. M. E. Agar proposed the toast "the Board of Trade." He said the sun shone brightly on the city.

"We want our young men to look on Saint John as their home and to work here and stay here." The city owed much to the Board of Trade. He spoke of the necessity of grasping school problems as uniting Maritime Provinces.

The work had been begun by the former government. There might be a difference of opinion as to method but the powers should be developed and set to grinding pulp. Light and heat would come after. We were going to have tens of millions expended in the province on pulp. This would make lucrative labor in the province and bring in outsiders to share it.

NOTHING BUT DEFICITS. The government had nothing to make grants out of except deficits. That would be true for years to come. Many people wanted things done and did not expect to pay. The province must find a way to pay its ordinary bills without increasing its bonded indebtedness. Taxation might have to be imposed in various ways.

When the time came for the people to be told that ways must be found to increase the revenue the burden should be borne cheerfully. "We cannot put a mortgage on the province but must devise ways to pay our debts as they fall due," he said.

The tourist traffic would benefit the province in paying a gasoline tax which would undoubtedly be imposed. "We have an earthly paradise and we want tourists, not only in Saint John but as far in the province as we could get them. We wanted places where they could be entertained not necessarily hotels but private homes where they would pay well for their entertainment."

"We must find new ways of earning money. This process must go on decade after decade so long as civilization endures."

EX-WIFE SUES RADZIWILL. PARIS, Jan. 20.—The Countess Paul de Pailly, formerly Miss Dorothy Deacon, of Boston, whose marriage to Prince Antoine Albert Radzivil was annulled by the Vatican in 1923, is suing the Prince and the Prince's mother for $5,000 francs, representing the cost of educating her daughter, Betina, during four years, with interest, as agreed on at the time of the annulment.

"We do not need a commission, what we need are terminal facilities. The national Transcontinental should come from McGinley Junction to Saint John."

Dr. Baxter—"I'll discuss that with Mr. Frink." In proposing the toast Mr. Agar paid a tribute to L. W. Simms for his work.

EFFORTS TO GIVE SERVICE. Mr. Simms in reply spoke of the efforts of the board to give worth while service. It might be that the hard times we had gone through had been a blessing in awakening the Maritime people to their problems.

Freight rates had been gradually super-imposed on us since Confederation in a way that was never intended. Business competition was so keen that this had caused many industries to go under. He believed 1926 would bring relief.

The climate here was an asset, as was Saint John's ability and geographical location. Her citizenship was another great asset. It was an Anglo-Saxon race without the preponderance of the foreign element. The original people who went to South America had gone seeking gold; those who came to North America had come seeking God. The result was shown in the history of the two continents. He hoped the immigration into New Brunswick would be selective. He thought the Saint John Board of Trade was regarded as the spearhead of the Maritime forward movement.

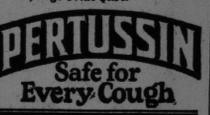

Percy D. McAvity proposed the health of the guests of the association in a full well chosen words.

Say Engineers Too Young Under Forty

LONDON, Jan. 20.—"Too young under 40" is the slogan being applied to certain engineering trades, employers showing a preference for men over that age. Reasons given for this are several. It is pointed out that until a man is about 40 he does not usually become a fine craftsman as is the case with musicians and artists.

A Proven Treatment for Coughs

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The dreams of the alchemists of old are being slowly converted into realities in the chemical laboratories today. The latest development in this regard is the transmuting of lead into mercury by Professor A. MR. FORKE'S IDEA OF IT.

Mr. Forke's speech in the course of the debate at Ottawa last evening leaves many points in doubt, but there is one on which he makes himself exceedingly clear.

He elaborated this somewhat, saying that if the Conservatives were in power, and willing to form a coalition with the Liberals, he would be willing to join them.

ment as the courts judge will serve as an example and a deterrent will be approved by the rapidly-growing circle of hockey lovers and the public as a whole.

It has been somewhat difficult to judge in the past just what tactics have been regarded as permissible in Montreal hockey, and it is enlightening to know that throwing bottles at the heads of persons momentarily unpopular is adjudged "beyond the bounds of excusable and fair expression of feeling and sentiment."

Only yesterday a player was in court charged with assaulting a goal judge during a match at the Forum on December 30. The judge fined the prisoner five dollars, and "expressed the hope that his appearance in court and his punishment would be sufficient warning to other hockey fans."

Odds and Ends

Prayer of a Sportsman

(Berton Braley)

Dear Lord, in the battle that goes on through life

I ask but a field that is fair.

A chance that is equal with all in the strife.

A surge to give and to dare;

And if I should win, let it be by the code.

With my faith and my honor held high

And if I should lose, let me stand by the road

And cheer as the winners go by!

And Lord, may my shouts be ungrudging and clear,

A tribute that comes from the heart,

And let me not cherish a snarl or a sneer,

Or play any sniveling part;

Let me say, "There they ride on whom laurels are won,

Since they played the game better than I."

Let me stand with a smile by the side of the road,

And cheer as the winners go by!

So grant me to conquer, if conquer I can,

By proving my worth in the fray;

But teach me to lose like a regular man

And not like a craven, pray,

And let me take off my hat to the warriors who stride

To victory, splendid and high.

Yes, teach me to stand by the side of the road

And cheer as the winners go by.

Murder Will Out.

(Literary Review)

Charles Kingsley's author of a number of interesting books, including "Ramous Judges and Famous Trials," "Dramatic Days at the Old Bailey," "The Bench and the Dock" (says a writer in the London Daily News), of the tragic attempt of Edward Kean, the actor, to find an answer to this question:

How does an innocent man behave when for the first time an accusation of murder is hung at him?

Kean was to play the part of a man wrongfully accused of murder. He decided himself to accuse an innocent man of murder. Two fellow-actors and he chose as his victim a man known to have spent the last 30 years of his life helping others, while he lived in a garret.

The accusation was made. "The old man in the shabby suit interrupted him with a cry of horror, and raising his hands in the air, dashed out of the room and down the stairs. A shot rang out, and the old philanthropist was found dead on the floor."

It came out in the inquest that 40 years before the man had shot a man dead.

Carberry Tower.

Carberry Tower, where the Queen was lately a guest of Lord and Lady Elphinstone, is associated with one of the greatest tragedies in Scottish history, for it was on Carberry Hill that Mary Queen of Scots suffered humiliation rare in the history of the Stuarts, who had not often to complain of desertion. It was there that she and Bothwell should have fought it out against her revolting subjects, but her men would not fight. Bothwell rode off to lifeliving cells, and the Queen surrendered on Carberry Hill, to be brought back to Edinburgh "in a frenzy or despair, tossing back wild words of defiance to the curses of the crowd."

Tattershall Castle.

By the will of the late Marquess Curzon of Kedleston, two magnificent old castles have been bequeathed to the British nation—Bodiam, in Sussex, and Tattershall, in Lincolnshire. Puller in his quaint way referred to the latter as being a "Premediate Building" by reason of the fact that it was approved and enlarged at widely different periods in its history. It belonged at one time to Ralph de Cromwell, whose son was Henry VI. He died without issue, and then the castle became one of the seats of the Earls of Lincoln.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS.

QUEEN MARIE

RECENT news despatches concerning Prince Carol's abdication of his rights to the Roumanian throne have brought Queen Marie into prominence once more. Ever since the day 83 years ago when she became the bride of Crown Prince Ferdinand, a now king, she has been of international interest.

Called "the match-making queen," it has often been said that she desired a match between her daughter Ileana and the Prince of Wales. Now that Carol has gotten himself into a scrape it is unlikely that the English rulers would countenance an alliance between the crown prince and a princess whose brother had renounced his claim to the throne. Furthermore, present rumors hint at an engagement between Wales and Princess Astrid of Sweden.

Queen Marie was Marie Alexandrine Victoria, Princess of Great Britain and Ireland and Grand Duchess of Saxony and it was when she became engaged to the crown prince of Roumania and now King Ferdinand, she has always been powerful in politics and in the World War her influence was felt in many quarters. She was the first woman in her country to don a nurse's uniform and care for wounded soldiers.

Queen Marie is also a factor in other countries, being called "the Mother-in-Law of the Balkans," as one of her daughters is the exiled Queen of Greece and the other Queen of Yugoslavia.

SHEEP AND MEN

IT SHOULD be obvious to the observant man or woman that a great many persons go through life with as little thinking as possible.

To the cultivated man, it is amazing how many persons are so willing to accept whatever they read or hear without stopping to think whether it makes sense or conforms to their own observations and experience.

Ask the average man why he believes such and such a thing, and the chances are he can't tell you; for he never has thought about it. He is a Democrat or a Republican because his father was; he attends a church of a certain denomination because it was where he was sent in his youth; and any ideas he has about politics, or public affairs, are no more than prejudices, which he cannot defend.

THOUGHT is man's greatest and most neglected possession.

THE shooting of Chinese students by foreign police has done great harm to the cause of the foreigner in China," said Dr. Royal Meeker, former commissioner of labor statistics and chief of research of the international labor office at Geneva, in a recent speech. He has returned from a tour of inspection of China as a member of a commission on social research.

"The Chinese have always felt kindly disposed toward foreigners," Dr. Meeker said. "They do not feel need so strongly against them have been attempted made by political strategists which have been largely unsuccessful, but the whole feeling of the people has changed since this untoward incident."

ADVOCATES ESTABLISHING SOCIAL INSTITUTE

The commission attempted to sound out the advisability of establishing an institute for social and economic research in China, to be started and partly financed by American capital and to be given wholly to China ultimately.

"We had exceptional opportunities in being able to meet the high public officials and the more prominent Chinese educators," Dr. Meeker said. "We were also brought in touch with the leaders of the working classes. We found a strong sentiment in favor of having an institute in China which would furnish them with facts, but they don't feel need so strongly against them have been attempted made by political strategists which have been largely unsuccessful, but the whole feeling of the people has changed since this untoward incident."

STURDY GROWTH OF RED CROSS IN NEW BRUNSWICK SHOWN

MEMBERSHIP HAS GROWN TO MORE THAN 3,000 IN PROVINCE

Humanitarian Work of Peace Time in New Brunswick Reported Steadily Increasing in Scope.

DETAILS GIVEN TO ANNUAL MEETING HERE

Home Nursing, Health Department, Junior Work and Other Branches of Activity Detailed—Encouragement and Pleasure in Success Expressed by Officials of Society.

REPORTS submitted at the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Red Cross in Saint John today were marked by much that was encouraging to those deeply interested in the peace time program of the society. There was shown to be a growing membership, now in excess of 3,000, and there had been a marked advance in the humanitarian work in the public health, home nursing and other departments.

In view of the importance of the work to the community, The Times-Star is devoting considerable space today to presentation of the reports on the work as set forth at this meeting.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

In presenting the 11th annual report of the work of the society since its provincial organization under Lady Tilley in the year 1915, Miss Ethel Hasen Jarvis, secretary, told of eight regular and seven special meetings held. Throughout the vacation period the regular meetings were discontinued. She and her assistant had written and sent 2,676 cards and letters from the depot, kept and balanced the books of the society, deposited and acknowledged all checks and written all monthly financial reports, prepared and sent monthly news letters to all branches, up till May distributed the World's Health Magazine, kept in order a mailing list of nearly 8,000, for seven months cared for all relief cases coming to the depot, assisted with two local drives, prepared monthly reports of the sewing committee, written reports for meetings of special work done at the depot, sent reports of minutes and monthly meetings and hospital committee meetings to all branches, listed all outgoing parcels of work, and acknowledged and listed all incoming, furnished campaign supplies to the province, prepared summaries of the work for head office meetings held in May and December, prepared and compiled the annual report with the assistance of Mr. Robertson (all typing being done in the office) and conducted daily interviews.

CONVENTION.

In September the annual convention was by far the best attended and enthusiastic one they ever held, 23 places in the provinces being represented. Before adjourning, the convention agreed upon October 15 as the day for an all-provincial campaign to raise necessary funds. In connection with this campaign several branches sent referrals, so that the expense was less, though the attendance larger than last year.

MEMBERS 3,000.

The campaign for members was felt to be the best yet held, though many more places were represented, could they have a thorough knowledge of the work. We now have members living in 114 places in the province, and the list at present stands over 8,000. Some places did magnificent work, bringing in membership lists of over one-third their population. In Saint John on account of the election, it was necessary to hold two distinct drives, but altogether it was the most successful membership and financial campaign put on in Saint John since the war. It was regretted that as yet all branches (and included in this are some of the best) had not been able to raise their membership. But a full report of this will come later.

STATEMENT OF FUNDS.

As the result of the campaign and donations received from Women's Institutions and I. O. O. F., this had increased since the convention, $1,898.21. The budget calls for $6,200, so they had yet to raise the necessary $4,301.79. At the convention it was decided to ask the committee to make a voluntary objective for the branches, and she was proud to state that this objective was most kindly received by all, and there was not one letter to the office with a grumble. Many of the branches went to work at once and raised their entire objective and others were doing it gradually, but all expected to fulfill before the year is closed.

DR. ROBERTSON'S VISIT.

By far the most outstanding visitor of the year was Dr. James W. Robertson, C. M. C., chairman of the executive of the Central Council. Dr. Robertson came on November 27, and remained in the division until December 2. He addressed a meeting at Moncton, where Sheldie, Middle Sackville, Salisbury, Chatham, Newcastle and Riverview were notified to send members. Coming to Saint John, Dr. Robertson addressed the congregation of the Centenary United Church, and also spoke to the Men's Convalescent Association. A meeting of the provincial was held at the residence of Mrs. H. A. Powell, and Dr. Robertson also addressed the men convalescers of the local Red Cross drive. From Saint John Dr. Robertson left for Fredericton and there addressed the student body of the Normal School. In all these addresses, Dr. Robertson set forth with wonderful clearness the reason and the need of the peace policy work of the Red Cross, following the shocking revelations shown by medical inspection during and since the war, of physical disabilities of the races, both among their adult and child populations. It was felt enthusiasm and knowledge much valuable time in assisting Miss Robertson with this splendid work.

FIELD WORK. "During the last year the secretary has visited Westfield, Riverside, Middle Sackville, Norton, and given nine lantern talks on the peace time work of the Red Cross five of them in Saint John. The home nursing classes made these talks possible. The others were given on invitation of the branches. Your secretary also went to Moncton socially to meet Dr. Robertson and extend to him a welcome from the division.

NEW BRANCHES.

"Early in the year we were glad to hear a new branch had been formed at Plaster Rock, through Mrs. Wright, and following at visit of our secretary and Miss Hamilton. Later Red Cross auxiliaries have been formed in Queenstown (through the co-operation of the home nursing) and in Daboe (through the Junior). It is not the policy of the Red Cross to form new branches in any locality where there exists an active Women's Institute, but we have found it most satisfactory to have a Red Cross committee within the Institute, and in this way the Institute and the Red Cross work in harmony, and we look forward to the day when every Institute will have its Red Cross committee.

LOSSES IN YEAR.

"I cannot close this report without referring to three great losses that our division has sustained during the past year. I refer to the death of Mrs. George F. Smith and Mrs. John McAvilly, both of whom have been most valued and faithful, and whose places are impossible to fill. And also to the loss by marriage of Mrs. Lockwood, (formerly Mrs. Chas. Sargent) to whom we offer our sincerest congratulations.

EXPRESSIONS OF THANKS.

"I would like also to express my thanks to the press, which has given so much valuable space for our work, to our officers for their unfailing courtesies; to the hospital, sewing and bulletin committees, whose splendid reports will find their way into this work of the Red Cross possible; to my conferees in the office, who are always ready to lend their assistance and to one and all of our splendid members who, standing shoulder to shoulder, form the grand army of those who see the visions of a time when men, women and children shall be free of the ills that so sadly beset us, and be prepared with sound health to build up a mighty empire formed on the sacrifice and blood of our noblest and best who died on Flanders' Fields."

RELIEF WORK.

The report on relief work showed that the work in this department consisted mainly of the sending out of garments and supplies to any fire sufferers, soldiers dependent on the front, the garments are cut out at the depot and sent to the branches to be made up and returned finished. Without them it would be impossible to answer the calls that are necessarily made upon the Red Cross, that stands for the mitigation of suffering. Nine large cases of clothing were sent to relieve the distress among the miners' families at Glace Bay and North Sydney, and the supplies were the first on the field and the very best that could be had. Besides the fire and other sufferers, regular supplies go to the military hospitals; and these, too, are kept up by the faithful work of the depot. By the port workers are sent clothing for the little European children; many of whom arrive inadequately clad for the rigors of a western winter.

HOME NURSING.

Miss S. Barrington, giving the second report of the home nursing work in New Brunswick, said 1925 had seen a year of steady growth for this branch of Red Cross work throughout the province. During the early part of the year a great many classes were organized in Saint John City. When weather and traveling became fit, work was commenced throughout the province, and on all sides, great interest has been aroused. During the year 101 personal visits have been paid, 109 addresses given to different groups, 62 classes organized, 44 classes completed, 1,858 pupils have been enrolled, 1,069 pupils have taken 75 per cent. of the classes, 895 personal letters written (by hand), 98 reports and letters typed, 1,056 cards filled out for pupils taking over 75 per cent. of classes, annual meetings of Women's Institute at Moncton and registered nurses at Campbellton attended.

NEW BRUNSWICK CLASSES.

In regard to numbers, New Brunswick has organized more classes than any province except Ontario. In regard to population, New Brunswick comes first, with a population of 868,000. Ontario 92 classes New Brunswick 47 classes Alberta 46 classes Nova Scotia 34 classes Saskatchewan 28 classes British Columbia 6 classes Prince Edward Island 4 classes Total 260 classes The population of Toronto alone is double the whole of New Brunswick. These figures will show the amount of office work necessary in carrying on the home nursing work. All expenses incurred have been paid by check sent from head office, even postage. The expense account is sent them every month, O. K'd by the secretary, and a check sent from there to cover amount.

ON NORTH SHORE.

In Gloucester and Restigouche counties there had also been a number of classes held. Again the results had been beyond expectations. King and Queens counties had also been the scene of work done by the nurse at Campbellton was bringing a patient to the county hospital, arrangements having been made through her efforts. She had also taken a patient to Eastport hospital and one to St. Stephen. If any one doubted the bigness of the home nursing branch of the Red Cross work, Miss Barrington wished they would go on an organizing trip to far away parts of the province. Any nurse wishing first-hand knowledge and not afraid of cold and fatigue, would be welcome.

CO-OPERATION.

A very large part of the home nursing work in the province had been made possible by the hearty co-operation of the Women's Institute. Many of the classes were formed entirely of Institute members. In one district, a nurse wrote the other day, saying some members of her class have to drive six miles over bad roads and on dark nights to attend class, but were never absent. Again this proved that in New Brunswick the people valued the peace time policy of the Red Cross, and the big gift being given them by the central council. They were really learning the big value of public health in a very practical way, and if the Red Cross can lay a solid enough foundation with its home nursing classes, it would become easier to carry on more extensive work.

HELPERS OF LECTURERS.

These offers had been received with great pleasure, not only for the help these lecturers would be to the people, but also because they showed the big interest being taken in this branch of the Red Cross work. Miss Jarvis eulogized. In going through the province, one learned what a big debt one and all owed to Miss Jarvis. Owing to her efforts during the last few years the Red Cross had held its own in New Brunswick. The branches she had started understanding the peace time policy of the Red Cross, had all had home nursing classes and enjoyed them. On behalf of these classes, she extended to Miss Jarvis a vote of thanks for her past efforts—might they grow bigger and bigger as the years went by.

SEWING COMMITTEE.

The report of this committee stated: "From January 1 to December 1, 1925, 1,084 garments have been cut out at the depot and sent to the branches to be made up. Also 866 skeins of yarn have been sent out. The number returned has been 1,771 garments and 18 quilts. The quilts are usually very cleverly made by the branches from pieces left by the cuttings. These form a most useful addition to the emergency stores. The cutting is done by a committee consisting of Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Sherwood Skinner, Mrs.

M. A. Pooler and Miss E. Gilbert, who are most faithful in coming each week throughout the summer." Details relative to the various branches were given.

JUNIOR WORK.

The report on the Junior Red Cross told that during the year the most outstanding features of junior work in New Brunswick have been: The increasing support of Junior Red Cross by the superintendent of education and the inspectors; the visit of Miss Browne and the journey of the British banner through New Brunswick; the Christmas tree at the port for children from overseas. The latter was told of in detail and it was stated this would be a permanent feature of Junior Red Cross work.

CHILDREN'S WEAR.

A summary of the work in 14 counties—the Madawaska figures were not given—showed 214 garments, 5,481 members, 11,107 magazines sold, and contributions totalling $1,176.02. There were 3,294 letters written, 6,881 parcels sent out, 88 talks given, 10 news letters prepared, four articles written for the Educational Review and one article on "Posture and School Books."

Why Must Personality in the Home be Suppressed?—Stop Trying to Mold Your Wives and Husbands and Children Into Patterns, and Let Them "Be Themselves."

OUR personality is our most precious possession. It is the thing that keeps us from being rubbed into shape and makes us human beings. It is the intangible, mysterious something that sets us apart from all the balance of the world, and gives us our individual flavor.

With it we are somebody. We stand out from the crowd. Without it we are merely among those also present in the world, and we live and die without making any more impression on those about us than a store dummy would.

Everything has been said and done over and over again, millions of times. There have been thousands of men who have written books; thousands of men who have painted sunsets; thousands of cooks who concoct bread and butter puddings every day, and their efforts are unregarded and unremembered.

Abstractly, we are quick enough to recognize the value of personality. We are always looking for the "something different" in clothes, in places to go, in plays, in books and in our acquaintances. We are interested and amused by the men and women who have new and original points of view, who have vivid impressions, and who do not think that conversations consist in a bromidic discussion of the weather and their own personal affairs.

This makes it the more strange that while personality is esteemed a virtue outside of the domestic circle, within the sacred precincts of the home it is almost universally regarded as a deadly vice, and one that must be suppressed at any cost.

Husbands and wives will not tolerate it in each other. To have "ways" is the unforgivable matrimonial sin.

YET the very thing that attracted John to Mary, and first made him single her out from the herd of young girls who all looked as if they had been turned out from the same bobbing and ready-to-wear shops, was the fact that she was different from her sister flappers. She had more pep, she was such an independent little thing, she had real brains; or else she was just such a helpless, clinging little doll baby, and so amusingly ignorant.

But as soon as they were married John wants to change Mary into his cut-patter of a wife who is a nice domestic lady, a good cook and housekeeper, who thinks exactly as he does, and has precisely the same taste.

AND so when Mary wants to gad about instead of staying at home and darning stockings; when she asserts her right to her own opinions, and to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness in her own way, there are fights and ructions. Or John is bored stiff when his clinging vine proceeds to follow the nature of clinging vines and hangs on, and has to be supported, instead of developing the strength to stand alone.

And Mary's case is no whit different from John's. John captured her maiden fancy by his dashing ways, and his reputation of being somewhat of a rounder, but the minute the ceremony is over she begins to try to lop off all the little personal idiosyncrasies that made John John.

SHE nags him about the very things for which she fell in love with him, and wears herself out trying to change a gay, happy-go-lucky, generous, pleasure-loving man into a drab, serious-minded plodder, who is as like every other man she knows as a pea in a pod.

It is with their children, however, that people get in their most deadly way in displaying personality, for to the average parent it is not more of an affliction to have a son or a daughter born with a humped back than it is to have one born with individuality.

When you hear parents complaining of having ungrateful children, or of being disappointed in certain of their children, nine times out of ten it merely means that the child possesses personality and wants to express itself instead of being a lump of dough that father and mother could mold into whatever shape they desired.

IF MOTHER is one of the kind of housekeepers whose idea of a perfect day is turning out the closets, the corners, the drawers, and the back of the skirt if Maud loathes a broom.

If mother is serious and puritanical, she thinks Hsiele is going straight to perdition if she jazes and smokes a cigarette, and her mind is set on frivolous things instead of the higher life.

AND if mother was a belle and beauty in her day, and is fond of society, she weeps bitter tears over Susan, who belongs to the intelligentsia, and who would rather have a college degree than a proposal from a bona fide millionaire.

If father is a hard-headed business man who has built up a big grocery trade, he foams at the mouth if Tom insists on being a lawyer or a doctor, instead of coming into the firm, where there is a warm place waiting for him.

AND if Arthur insists on going to Paris to study art or being a writer or going on the stage instead of following some good trade that father has picked out for him, why father beats upon his breast and demands to know why heaven has cursed him with a fool for a son.

Those who try to rob us of our personality do us the greatest injury that one individual can do another. Sometimes they ruin our lives and make failures of us, because through weakness, through love, through our hatred of hurting and disappointing those we love, we give up our own aspirations and hopes and desires, and let them make up of us what they will.

SO WE become poor doctors or lawyers or preachers to please mother, or we are misty merchants who never learn how to trade, and we fail and are miserable and discontented because we are thwarting our own natures and stifling his own talents.

And we are always unhappy because happiness consists in doing the little things we like to do in the way you want to do them, without argument or criticism. It is having to watch one step all the time; it is having to change our habits that gets upon our nerves. It is having to conform to some other person's standards that makes us slaves.

PERSONALITY is the kiss that our fairy godmothers give us in the cradle. What a pity those with whom we live try to wipe it off our mouths!

A Happy Mother's Wonderful Letter

FROM all parts of the world letters come telling of the good that Virol has done some ailing body. These letters are not asked for, by us. But when some infant or growing child is restored to rollicking health and strength, letters such as the one we print herewith spring voluntarily from grateful pens.

Messrs. Virol Limited, Dear Sirs: These few lines of recommendation for Virol are from the proud and happy Mother of the prize baby in the Better Baby Show at the Central-Canada Exhibition this year 1925, she having won first prize and Special Prize for the highest scoring girl.

I cannot express in words the tribute I have for Virol as a health, bone and muscle builder, and I am more than satisfied to recommend it to anyone whose baby is suffering from malnutrition. My baby was born to me in a delicate condition having bowel trouble and taking convulsions. She was wasting away in spite of everything we could do and I really thought nothing could be done to save her life. When she was four months old I was advised to try Virol and you can imagine my delight when she immediately showed an improvement. I have continued with Virol ever since and her present condition shows what Virol has done for her.

I have the highest esteem for this wonderful food, Virol which has been the means of saving my baby from wasting to death and afterwards building her up into the beautiful child she now is, and worthy of the above named prizes awarded her by the Doctors who judged at the Better Baby Show.

I also wish to express my deep gratitude to the nurses at the Health Station for their kindness and constant attention and helpful advice.

Signed Mrs. H. Crampton

40 million portions of Virol were prescribed last year by English doctors in hospitals and clinics alone and it is used in over 3,000 hospitals and institutions by doctors' orders

FIFTY CASES OF LOOT UNCOVERED

Thousands of Pounds Worth of Property Taken in London Police Raid

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Property worth hundreds of pounds was removed by police officers, who raided a house in Fitzroy street, Soho. A motor tender, in which were a number of detectives, drove up. As soon as the door was opened, in answer to a knock, the officers made their way to rooms on the first floor, which had been occupied for nearly 12 months by a Frenchman. Over 50 suitcases and dressing cases were taken away. They are alleged to contain gold and silver articles, valuable furs, silks and other articles, the proceeds of robberies on a large scale in this country and abroad by a gang of continental thieves. The raid is stated to be due to a report that the occupier of the rooms had been missing for some days. He is now detained in a London isolation hospital and will be subsequently recovered he when questioned by detectives.

She Was Troubled With Chronic Constipation

Once your bowels become constipated you are in for a lot of trouble, as constipation is one of the most prolific sources of disease that the human race is addicted to, therefore a free motion of the bowels every day should be the aim of everyone who aspires to perfect health.

Mrs. O. W. Lawrence, Cloverdale East, N.B., writes—"I was troubled with chronic constipation, and became so bad I was almost afraid to eat any thing."

One day I saw your advertisement for Milburn's LAXA-LIVER PILLS.

so I got three pills, and after taking them I have never been troubled since with constipation.

Murderer Now 28 Years In Asylum

LONDON, Jan. 19.—This will be the twenty-eighth year which Arthur Prince, the murderer of William Terris, famous actor, will spend in the criminal lunatic asylum at Broadmoor.

Prince stabbed Terris outside the stage-door of the Adelphi Theatre on December 16, 1897. He had applied for money from a theatrical charity, and his application was refused. He wrongly believed that Terris had engineered the refusal.

At the trial for murder, Prince was found insane and was sent to Broadmoor. It is reported that he is happy, and that he spends his days mainly in playing billiards.

CRUSADE TO JERUSALEM

A specially chartered steamship, flying the flag of the order, will carry the pilgrims through the Mediterranean. They will leave Venice on March 7 and will visit Corfu, Cyprus, Jerusalem, Rhodes and Malta.

Guard Against "flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Rub it on with your finger-tips. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation, and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

GETTING SKINNER EVERY DAY

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE AND DONE RIGHT NOW—QUICK

Hollows in Cheeks and Neck Growing Deeper Every Week.

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women too—are getting skinner and are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start gaining weight at once by using now for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets which any druggist will tell you all about, or putting flesh on hollow cheeks and sunken eyes.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, gained 15 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

We all know that the livers of cod fish are full of vitalizing flesh producing vitamins and these same vitamins of the highest class are found in McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets—sugar coated and as easy to take as candy.

And this shows what faith the makers have in McCoy's for they say: if any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to give you your money back—and only 60 cents for 60 tablets.

Ask Watsons two stores, Ross Drug Co., Wm. Hawker & Son, or any druggist anywhere in North or South America.

But be sure to get McCoy's, the original and genuine.

Winter Winds Will Not Chap

Campana's Italian Balm prevents chapping of the hands and face in winter time. The cold wind evaporates the natural moisture of the skin, leaving it dry and shrunken. Campana's Italian Balm replaces this natural moisture. All druggists and department stores sell it. A special sample bottle mailed on receipt of 6c.

The remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is due to their unique combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels. They get at the cause of trouble and remove it no matter how complicated it may be. Promptly and thoroughly they cleanse the bowels, uric acid, uric acid, and thereby relieve the overworked kidneys.

Relation of the Liver and Kidneys

Such that each suffers when the other deranged—Both regulated by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

When the liver becomes sluggish or torpid in action, the kidneys have to help out with the work of filtration. When the liver fails the kidneys have all the work to do.

Hence the beginning of trouble is usually biliousness, indigestion, constipation and after a time the kidneys begin to be affected and there comes headache, urinary derangements and kidney disease.

The remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is due to their unique combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels. They get at the cause of trouble and remove it no matter how complicated it may be. Promptly and thoroughly they cleanse the bowels, uric acid, uric acid, and thereby relieve the overworked kidneys.

A mock trial was conducted in the Central Baptist hall last night, when the members of the men's class and the Philathea class took part.

The prisoner was arraigned for attempted suicide. Two doctors and a hospital interne appeared as witnesses.

The prosecuting attorney, in summing up, appealed to the jury for verdict of guilty, and the attorney for the defence appealed for a verdict of not guilty.

There was a capacity attendance at the trial. The judge presided in a manner that did credit, and the verdict appealed to the whole court.

HEALTH RESTORED

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" OVERCOME STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLE

For three years I suffered with biliousness, liver and stomach trouble and I had severe pains and a choking feeling at times. Since taking "Fruit-a-tives" I have been completely relieved of these troubles. I can faithfully recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to any one suffering from liver and stomach trouble, as it was. —Mrs. Albert Lafleur, Labelle, (Co. Labelle), Que.

"Fruit-a-tives" are so wonderfully helpful in Liver and Stomach trouble because they are purely a natural remedy — made from intensified juices of fresh oranges, apples, prunes and figs, combined with tonics, which sweeten the stomach, regulate the liver, bowels and kidneys, and purify the digestive juices so that indigestion and Constipation are quickly corrected. 25c. and 50c. at all dealers.

ENTRY LIST FOR WORLDS MEET IS WELL OVER CENTURY MARK

SPEED STARS OF CONTINENT ARE ON WAY HERE

Thunberg Again Voices Disapproval of Skating Methods Here

THE entry list for the world's championship meet here next week is well over the century mark now, and as this is the last day on which entries will be accepted, local skaters are urged to get their papers in without any further delay. The officials expect the list will touch the 116 mark when completed.

MONDAY'S RACE

Regarding Monday's race in New York on the Madison Square Garden track, in which Joe Moore and Charlie Gorman again led Clas Thunberg, the New York Times says: "Charlie Gorman, the Canadian champion, a few laps from the finish tried to get the jump on Moore, but the swift New York lad was too smart and refused to let him get the pole. Smiling and going easy, Moore crossed the finish line a few yards ahead of Gorman. Thunberg was far in the rear. "When four laps from the finish of the 21-lap dash the Finn, trying to keep up with Moore, almost came a cropper as he was passing down the straightaway in front of the Forty-ninth street side of the rink. Thunberg tottered and staggered and his skates almost slipped out from under him. He had a hard time keeping his equilibrium. By the time he righted himself on his feet, Moore and Gorman were speeding on far ahead of him. "Moore's time was not especially fast because he was not pushed. He covered the distance in 4:37, while the record is 4:25, and was made by Ed Lamy of Saranac in 1915. "It was a losing start, and Moore and Gorman held back until Thunberg was forced to set the pace. He skated out in front until six laps from the finish, when he deliberately slowed up and forced Moore to go ahead. Up to that time Moore had stuck to the Finn's heels and skated along with him stride for stride. "For the greater part of the race Thunberg took 130 turns well and seemed to have held the lead, but when he did in his first race last week. However, he could not match the generalship of Moore, who never kept his eye of the Finn. "Moore was supremely confident from the start, and even when Gorman challenged him with a few laps from the finish, Moore had plenty of speed in reserve and he was not even extended to win."

CHICAGO ENTRIES.

The Chicago entries for the world's championship skating meet here on Jan. 26, 27 and 28 have been received by the committee in charge. The men chosen are: O'Neill Farrell, Edward Murphy, Edward Read and Roy McWhirter. Two women's entries were also sent from the Windy City, Ruth Muhlmeier and Lois Littlejohn.

Harry Kaskey was not among the chosen ones. The Chicago skating authorities wired that Kaskey was not making the grade and stood far down on the list. If the Saint John committee wished him to compete they would have to take the responsibility themselves. Members of the committee said that it was improbable that they would do so in view of an decision of the Chicago authorities.

The selection of the team was delayed as long as possible as the various possible choices were tested and retested. The junior and intermediate candidates had not yet been picked as elimination in their classes is still going on.

LEAVING FOR HERE.

Farrell, McWhirter and Miss Muhlmeier are leaving for Chicago Friday for Saint John. Reed, Murphy and Miss Littlejohn, and two juniors not as yet named, will follow them on Saturday.

James Carrigan, of Chatham, also sent in his entry yesterday for all senior races.

THUNBERG ON WAY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Clas Thunberg, of Finland, recognized as the world's handiest speed skating champion, does not like the American style of skating with its "jockeying," "stalling" and sharp curved tracks. He said so today before leaving for Saint John, to participate in the world's outdoor championships, Jan. 26, 27 and 28. "I am not moulting the loss of my first two races against Joe Moore on Charlie Gorman," said Thunberg, through his interpreter, manager, Hugo Quint. "But everybody agrees, even Moore and Gorman, that I am under a greater handicap skating under American rules than the American skaters were at the last Olympics in competing under European rules."

CRITICAL OF AMERICAN STYLE.

"There is too much 'jockeying,' 'stalling' and 'pace-making' in the American style of racing. The sharp curves of the American track also are difficult for me to negotiate. They

Sussex Has Chance To Tie With Locals Against Moncton Tonight

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN A. DUNLOP
WELCOME, CLAS THUNBERG!

THUNBERG.
That name first flashed into prominence in February of 1924 at Chamouk, France, and we in Saint John were mightily interested as our own local ace, Gorman, was there.

It is a name we have heard almost continuously for the last four or five months and around it has grown our own individual impressions of a mighty athlete, worthy son of a wonderful sport-loving people.

It is a name that will draw thousands of our own people and from many distant points outside to Lily Lake next week where he will defend his world title against the best on this continent.

In such a community as Saint John, where speed-skating is developed to its highest pitch on this continent, a place rich in the history of famous skaters, it is a name that will be remembered and talked about for many, many years to come.

Sport writers of the future in digging up the story of the coming meet will enthuse over the project that brought the world's champion of his day—Thunberg—to this side to defend his title.

WE MUST ALL realize that it is the magic of Thunberg's title that has made this meet the skating attraction of the year and in this respect, Saint John citizens owe a debt of gratitude to the mighty Finn.

He knows before he came out here what he was up against in the way of competition and the methods used but instead of staying home and being an armchair champion, he decided to accept the offer and take a sporting chance with his title.

His very life blood of Sportism is Competition and without that vitalizing touch, it lags behind and soon dies out.

Thunberg deserves our thanks for making it possible for this city to consolidate its position as the leading speed-skating centre of this continent and when he goes back home, let him take with him only kindly impressions of our city.

THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP will be decided in a week and few days. What will remain?

The medals and prizes won cannot last because they are of material things.

The only thing that can endure is Character and the memories of a great and historic struggle. We hope that even if he is beaten, Clas Thunberg will carry back with him a good word for our city and the way it treated him.

He is at a big disadvantage, even though he is the Olympic champion. He is totally unused to our style of man-to-man competition.

"Beating the pistol" is unknown to him because they start and finish with the fall of a flag in Europe. "Jockeying" and losing are unfamiliar terms to him because each man skates in his own lane in Europe. It must be enough to discourage any man to face these hurdles with a precocious title ready to be snatched away from him.

Yet, he comes here and trusts to our sportsmanship.

WHEN HUGHIE McCORMICK returned from Norway in 1922 after losing his world's title to Harold Hagan, who later came out and defeated Fred Breen, Hughie made this remark: "I was swifter than Hagan but I could not hold him."

Will history repeat itself at Lily Lake next week and victory perch on the banner of the European again?

Our boys are swift—there are few faster over the shorter distances than our own boy, Gorman, and over the longer distances "Duke" Donora has shown wonderful stamina and speed. His two world records prove that.

But while they are swift—can they hold the Finn?

We should never run away with the idea that because Joe Moore made the Finn look bad on a 14-lap race, he has not got the goods. Any skater that makes that mistake at Lily Lake next week will take a look at the Finn's back and it will be a very dim look.

THESE EUROPEANS train faithfully for their matches. Thunberg, it is said, spent all last summer, in special exercises and took long walks to develop his wind. He will be in A-1 condition and over the 500 yards, the three-quarters, the mile and two miles, the Finn will be a big threat.

Thunberg is not a long distance man. He shines at the middle distances and there just happens to be enough of them to give him a fair show.

Every Saint John fan hopes Thunberg will enjoy his stay here. As a stranger, in our gates he has every right to the utmost respect and courtesy.

We welcome Clas Thunberg, champion of the world.

REFEREE NAILS TWO FANS AT MONTREAL GAME

Fist Fights and Broken Bottles Feature Ottawa Win

MONTREAL, Jan. 20.—Fighting referees, disputed goals, broken bottles on the ice, a match penalty for Captain Billy Couture of the Canadiens and finally police protection for referees Mike Rodden and Dr. Jerry Lafamme were some of the unexpected and unfortunate incidents which marred the Ottawa-Canadiens clash at the Arena last night. Incidentally the Ottawa Senators captured the contest, 2-1, largely through their ability to play a systematic defence game and wait for the breaks, a type of hockey which only the best machines can adopt with success.

All the non-listed incidents broke in the final session. These last period scenes are beginning to become too regular. After the hush which broke in the last two minutes of the Montreal-Canadiens clash at the Forum Saturday, it was generally expected that there would be the customary hull after the storm, and that last night's game would be without unbecomingly displays.

The first affair developed quickly early in the final session when referee Mike Rodden landed two lefty rights to the jaws of two spectators, who had been annoying him during the game.

Play was going along nicely with Canada leading 1-0 and again for the tying goal, when Couture spilled Nighbor. Lafamme immediately benched Couture for a minor award.

Couture started to skate toward the penalty bench, and as he did so he struck out one foot and tripped up the official, himself spinning around at the same time. Lafamme ordered the Canadiens captain off for the game.

Then the crowd which all through the game had been in a constant roar, broke loose with a wild demonstration of cat calls and jeers as they yelled in the middle of it, all a bottle dropped on the ice out of the base in the rafters and smashed into a thousand pieces.

The mystery was solved after the game as a young man wiggled into the crowd, where he was called into the crowd, where he was called among those crowding the exits to leave the rink.

Of the referee, itself, Morns, Jellit and Boucher started. Jollit scored for Canadiens on a lone rush, of what seems a nice bit of stick handling seen for a long time in the game.

The match penalty to Couture placed the Canadiens captain under automatic suspension, reinstatement being at the discretion of the league.

Count's loss comes as a severe blow to Canadiens, who are at present without Albert Ledue, their other regular defenceman, who is out with an injured shoulder, and will not be in fit condition for the game with St. Pats at Toronto Saturday night.

PITTSBURGH WON.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Jess Spring, from the New York Americans, discarded the goal net and started skating for Pittsburgh to beat the Gotham team himself. The final score of the night was 4-0 in favor of the Pirates.

TIE GAME AT HUB.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 20.—Just as the bell rang for the final 20 minutes of the Montreal Maroons and the Boston Bruins, Caron Cooper let fly the Monte net and the score was tied three all.

The Montreal team thought they had won the game, thinking Cooper's goal was in the net, but Referee Synnot and McDonald thought otherwise and the teams went twenty minutes overtime without a score.

Montreal was hampered by the absence of the star defenceman, Jimmy Munro, who is in Montreal, and the team as a whole, failed to show its best form in this Diamond and Stewart were the scorers for the Montrealers, while Herberts, Harrington and Cooper did the trick for the Bruins.

HALIFAX CRESCENTS Beat Dartmouth, 7-0

HALIFAX, Jan. 19.—Crescents defeated the newly organized Dartmouth hockey team 7 to 0 in a City League fixture played here tonight. It was a pitcher. ELECTED SECRETARY.
Patrick Driscoll was elected recording secretary, to succeed C. L. McGeoff at a meeting of the St. John's Baptist Young Men's Society held in their rooms in St. James street hall last evening. It was announced that on next Sunday evening a debate will be held on the question: "Resolved, That the journalist exercises more influence than the orator." Charles Garnett, president, occupied the chair at the meeting last night.

Hockey In Switzerland

This picture shows a game at Davos, Switzerland, between Oxford University and Davos. Note the open-neck sport shirts worn by some of the players which emphasize the difference between the Swiss and Canadian games. In Switzerland the games are played in the open air with a "bunker" less than a foot high in place of our board fence. Imagine the hospital list here if players clashed into the fence clad so lightly. Four Canadian students are shown in this group. No. 1 is Captain Henry Bordes, formerly of McGill; No. 2 is D. H. Moore, also a former McGill man; No. 4 is A. Wallace Johnson and No. 6 is C. H. R. Bonnycastle, the latter two ex-students at the University of Manitoba.

Local Bowling

McDonough, of the Hawks in the Diamond League, carried off the high single honors last night in the city with a mark of 317. McElroy, of the C. P. R. Railway Checkers, walked off with the high three, 312. The Checkers also got the high team with 1,430.

DAIRY OUTFIT OUT TO IMPROVE THEIR STANDING

Game Here Friday Shapes Up Like a Thriller

THE STANDING

Saint John	3	4	29	30
Sussex	2	4	21	35

HAROLD RADCLIFFE and his swift young Sussex sextette have a chance to get into a tie with Saint John tonight on their home ice and if Moncton will agree to it, Sussex and Saint John will battle to break that tie here on Friday night. The chief trouble is, however, that Moncton by no means is willing to concede it and as they have not lost a game to Sussex yet they won't feel like getting into the habit of looking like a hard-fought game, however.

Regarding Saint John's game in Moncton on Monday night, the Moncton Times has the following of interest: "The heavy ice in the last period had a tendency to slow up the game, both sides depending almost entirely on individual efforts, although at times, combination play was attempted, the sticky ice surface made the passing extremely difficult. Temple Lane, the fast forward of the Saint John team seemed to have a hard time in getting away, but occasionally showed flashes of his old-time form in his end and rushes, Hallock, Gilbert and Fraser, on the defence, made a good impression on the fans, while the forward line of the visitors, consisting of Lane, Boudreau, Kiley, Thompson and Short, repeated, carried down, only to lose to the Moncton defence, or to be blocked by Wilson, in the Moncton net. For the Atlantic, the game was a hard fought one, the boys working hard, determined from the first tap of the gong, not to be taken by surprise, such as happened in the Saint John game the other night. Toronto Woman Is Freed By Court

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Madeline Kenney was acquitted of the charge of having performed an indecent act in a public place, by Magistrate Margaret Patterson in Women's Police Court today.

Mrs. Kenney's dancing was the feature of the entertainment at a banquet of a city baseball association in a restaurant dance hall, early in December. She appeared in court on January 15, following a charge laid by the police, when evidence was given by a number of those present at the banquet. No testimony was given to show that Mrs. Kenney was improperly clothed, or performed indecently.

The first Pan-American championships, an outgrowth of plans developed at the 1924 Olympics, were held last year in May at Boston. The United States captured four titles, Canada three and Uruguay one.
