ONLY BOUND BY TREATY IF WE SIGN

Canada Not Held by the Lausanne Pact, Says the Premier.

AUTONOMY POINT No Objection to British Action—Only Parliament Can Bind Canada.

(Special to The Times). Ottawa, April 3.—An important declaration of policy was made in the House by the Prime Minister yesterday afternoon. The effect of it is that, in the view of the present government, Canada should not ratify a treaty to which she is not party while—more important still—such treaties made by the Mother Country are held to impose upon Canada only such obligations as the Canadian Parliament agrees to assume. The question came up as a privileged matter.

Lausanne Treaty In the British House the day before Premier Ramsay MacDonald had referred to the ratification by India and New Zealand of the treaty with Turkey at Lausanne adding that Canada had raised one or two constitutional points which he did not think "were really meant to have much substance but were a sort of safeguard."

The way in which the British Premier with a wave of the hand is purported to have dismissed the Canadian objection has evidently "raised the dander" of the Government, and Mr. King seized the occasion of placing before Parliament the Government's position.

Canadians Not Invited When the peace conference took place at Versailles, Canadian delegates were invited and went and were signatories to the treaty. The same proceeding was followed at the Washington disarmament conference but when, following the Near East crisis, a peace conference came off at Lausanne, Canada was not invited and did not participate. Hence it is held, there is neither the moral nor legal obligation upon Canada to ratify the convention. Moreover it is urged that this country is not bound by the treaty but no objection is taken to the position assumed by the British Government.

The Premier went rather voluminously into the file of correspondence on the question, to show that, when the Turkish trouble developed, the position taken by Canada was that participation or not was a matter for the decision of its Parliament. Since then this has been concurred in by the Imperial Conference.

A new chapter is added when there is a refusal to submit a diplomatic instrument in the making or execution of which Canada had no part.

Declining to ratify an arrangement in which Canada had no part is not surprising, but it is a rather significant statement that Canada cannot be bound by an arrangement dependent upon the ratification of Parliament by some of the Government.

When, for example, the peace treaty was before Parliament, Mr. Fielding held that that ratification here was a work of supererogation, inasmuch as we were bound, anyway. He said the consent of the Canadian Parliament was as needless as a postage stamp on a "franked" envelope. Yesterday's argument of similar expression through the Borden Government after the war and was sustained by the

CRIPPLE IN CHAIR KILLS NEWARK MAN

Invalid Takes Life of Boarder Saying He is Love Thief.

New York, April 2.—Martin Wright, 69 years old and a cripple from rheumatism, awoke in his home in Newark, N. J., with a definite and immediate purpose in his mind. He had gone to bed in his firm belief to have it out with Edward Hallock, a young man for whom he believed his daughter, Mrs. Nina Egbert, had deserted her husband and of whom he recently had become jealous on his own account.

His resolution was unshaken when he awoke up. It was early. His wife, whose affection he thought he had lost, was in the kitchen. His daughter was not up yet. Hallock, he knew, would be the last of the distorted family to appear.

The old man pulled his wheeled chair close to the bed and hoisted himself into it. Then he wheeled himself to a bureau, took something from a bureau drawer and placed it in a fold of the blanket he had wrapped about his legs. He wheeled his chair into a shaft of sunlight.

He sat there for twenty minutes. Then the door swung open and Hallock appeared. The aged cripple flung the shaft of sunlight. Those in the room caught only the barest glimpse of the weapon before Wright pulled the trigger.

The bullet struck Hallock just above the heart. He pitched forward, reeled across the kitchen and fell at the feet of Mrs. Wright. After him came the old man in the wheeled chair, his eyes fixed unflinchingly on the body to discover the first quiver of movement.

There was none. Hallock was dead.

B. can fit all candidates with less expense in a Maritime town, than could be accomplished in upper Canada. An indoor carbon track could be placed at the immediate disposal of the athletes, while indoor pole vaulting and jumping pits would also be available here.

As the waves subsided men will search the ledges in hopes of finding some of the bodies, but little hope is entertained that any success will attend their efforts. The dry sections of the ledges cover a radius of only about thirty or forty yards, and it is felt that the glasses would easily pick up any object lying on the rock itself.

Hoboes Now Avoid New York Streets

New York, April 3.—The hobo is becoming extinct along the sidewalks of New York. A check-up by welfare societies of the "dog houses" on the Bowery and other favorite haunts of the genus bears out the statement.

The Hobo College, famed as an East Side hostelry for those of the roving nature, is still open to the public, but its registry cannot boast the records it used to.

Reasons advanced for the growing scarcity of the tramp are that he no longer successfully meet both the demands of his conscience and those of New York employers.

CANADA'S DEFENCE

That Canada in some measure looks to the United States for defence is an assertion that has been made even in the House of Commons in times past—before the war—but the idea is a humiliating one. It crops up again just now in these words, employed by the Ottawa Citizen in discussing the position taken by the Australian Premier in connection with the Singapore base. Says the Citizen:

"Without openly admitting it, the policy of this Dominion is to rely upon the United States as well as Great Britain for naval defence. Everybody in Canada knows that even if the British navy were no longer in existence, any attempt by another power to occupy Canadian territory would be resisted by the United States. Australia has no such economic union, or proximity of a powerful neighbor, to rely upon. Hence, every allowance must be made for the apparent anxiety of Australian party leaders over any new development of the naval situation in the Far East."

It does not sound well, and acceptance of any such policy would invite to Canada, not to speak of the Empire. The Monroe Doctrine is designed primarily to give the United States growing dominance in the Western Hemisphere. Under some circumstances its vindication might be of help to Canada, but to rely upon Washington to protect our safety and our integrity as a part of the Empire would mean in time complete dependence upon the Republic, followed by growing American control of our policies and inviting ultimate absorption. If we were to depend upon the American navy we would have to pay for the protection afforded, in money or in loss of independence. In either case the result would be the humiliation of Canada and a terrific blow to the Empire.

We may or may not like the Australian Prime Minister's insistence upon a voice in the shaping of British foreign policy, but that, or the fact that Australia's danger from foreign attack may be greater than our own, must never cause us to shut our eyes to the truth that the Empire must defend itself, by sea and by land, and that its people must pay, in service or in money, to make that defence adequate. No part of the Empire can hire out its fighting, or ignore its obligations in the matter of Imperial defence without endangering itself and the whole Imperial fabric.

Great Britain has been in the van of the movement toward world peace, but for a long time yet circumstances will force her to maintain an extensive equipment, particularly at sea and in the air. For Empire defence that while men of the Empire must pay in some way or other, it is still necessary. Today Canada pays less—much less—than any other part of the British Commonwealth, and Britain pays far more per capita than any of the Dominions. The average taxpayer in England, Scotland and Wales gives for defence about seven times as much as the average Canadian.

For that we can find no excuse in the existence of the Monroe Doctrine. Even in time of peace, even though we nourish the hope that a far greater degree of disarmament will come after a few more years, it is neither reasonable nor self-respecting to ignore the fact that reasonable Empire insurance is the common business of every country under the flag, and particularly the business of every white man under the flag. If the Australians had complete faith in the friendship of Japan they would not be exempt from the duty of contributing to the common defence of the Empire. Nor is Canada excused by belief in American friendship. The Monroe Doctrine is not for us. Defence expenditures do not depend upon the danger confronting any one country in the British Commonwealth but upon the defensive needs of the Mother Country and the Dominions alike—one in peace and in war.

FIRST THINGS FIRST.

As the Valley Railway continues, and must continue, to figure in the Legislature debates as a serious problem for the province, it follows naturally that more should be known about the C. N. R.'s proposed branch line from Kingsclear to Vanceboro. The Legislature, city councils and boards of trade in the province, knowing that transportation is one of the most vital of the issues before us today, should be better informed than they are regarding the purpose to be served by the new connecting link, and how it will affect the province at large. Maritime representatives at Ottawa should be on the alert in regard to the matter, and there should be sufficient knowledge before the public and through open discussion to make the issue considerably clearer than it is at this time.

If the Dominion proposes to take over the Valley line—as is common justice it should do—there is as yet no assurance to that effect. But the Transcontinental connection with this port and the routine of C. N. R. traffic this

FROM THE BACKWOODS.

(Toronto Globe.)

Whence comes such a personality? Sir Edmund was a product of Canada, of Ontario, with a background of England, where his grandfather was a goldsmith in London. The passion for art and exactness in the grandfathers flowered in the financier, the art lover and citizen in the New World. He came from a "backwoods" home in Haldimand County. Many say that the hardships of the pioneers have a narrowing influence. Sir Edmund was an individualist, and was aware of the value of money, but he had a broad idea of its uses. Perhaps an explanation lies in his home environment.

"At home I never heard money talked about," he said at a dinner a few years ago, "except perhaps the need of it, which was always the case. We talked about flowers, music, fossils, science, a new poem or novel—nothing very learned or difficult. I was taught to appreciate the truth regarding nature was the divine thing, and that we must learn it as far as possible."

This love of learning and the finer things of life was seen in many phases of his activities. His own schooling was limited, and he never attended even a modest college. But he believed in the use of the spare hours for study, while not discounting the value of physical recreation. He counselled young bankers that if they could understand Browning they could the better understand foreign exchange. In one of his addresses to the Bankers' Educational Association he made this plea for a broader mind:

"I know that many in the room are not Canadians, but as I was born in the backwoods myself I shall not hesitate to say what I think to my fellow-Canadians. We are doubtless up to the average in intellectual acumen, but anxious to do everything by short-cuts, not willing to go through the grounding that almost every other nation has to go through in order to secure results, and this, I think, is our greatest fault. We even have a sort of fear lest intellectual development—what is called a cultivated mind—should end in a species of feeble-mindedness, that we might not have as much practical sense in dealing with the facts of life as our neighbors."

It was in danger some months back. But who saved it? Newspapers report that at that time a line was rushed out to the McAvity plant, and the city saved from darkness, much to the chagrin of those who were anticipating a black eye for Hydro.

This was an emergency and needed quick action. With McAvity as Mayor, the Hydro policy will continue to be carried on by the city for the citizens.

Hands off the people's power—what we have well hold. Vote for McAVITY. (McAvity has been steadfast in the interests of Hydro since St. John first knew Hydro.)

Hon. Mr. Baxter's speech in Toronto should do something to cause the people of that city to think nationally. He told them plainly that the legitimate aspirations of the Maritime Provinces had not been satisfied. "You will go a long way toward satisfying them if you give us the winter trade through Halifax and St. John," he said, going on to dwell upon our need for better freight rates to the central and western Canadian markets. He pointed out the injustice to these provinces in rates in comparison with the reductions given the West. Toronto should see in this no mere sectional plea, but the presentation of a policy that is good for all Canada, the building up of these provinces so far as justice and equality of treatment can effect it. All-Canadian transportation is a sound national policy, and the sooner it is carried much more into practice the better for the whole country.

The sudden and untimely death of L. S. Brown, general manager of the C. N. R. Atlantic region, comes as a shock and causes general regret. Sir Henry Thornton's tribute to this gifted son of New Brunswick as a man and a transportation expert well reflects the high esteem in which Mr. Brown was held. In the selection of his successor we may confidently hope that the man chosen may be one who has complete knowledge of and is in complete sympathy with Maritime transportation rights and needs.

If we had much knowledge of other things than those we have to deal with in everyday experience. "I wish to say in opposition to this that if you do not understand the exchange problems of the present day you had better take two or three of the most difficult poems of Browning and see whether you can learn them thoroughly—absolutely master them. They are not, as people allege, obscure, but they are difficult. You will find that your head is in a much better condition to understand foreign exchange after such an intellectual exercise. The study of poetry may thus help to make you a good banker. In fact, there is no kind of education that should not help toward that result."

IS HYDRO IN DANGER?

All Candidates for the mayoralty claim Hydro is in danger, and that their election is needed to save it. It would be in danger in some hands.

It was in danger some months back. But who saved it? Newspapers report that at that time a line was rushed out to the McAvity plant, and the city saved from darkness, much to the chagrin of those who were anticipating a black eye for Hydro.

PERFECT UNDERSTANDING
In my arms you often lie;
And gaze into my face above;
You whisper sweetest words of love;
Your glances tender, but so shy,
When in my arms you lie.

In my arms you often lie;
You swear you've never loved but me!
You vow eternal constancy;
But then we know, both you and I,
That in my arms you lie.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.
Willing To Try
Her Father (sternly)—"Young man, do you think you can support my daughter on forty dollars a week?"
Nervy Suitor—"I'm willing to try, sir—'if that's the best you can do."

The Purist as a Salesman
"My wife asked me to bring home a tin pan that will go under the ice-box. Have you any?"
"No, sir, but we have some that can be shored under the ice-box. Won't that do just as well?"

"I think not, young man. My wife is a bit particular about my getting the exact thing she tells me to get. I presume I can find it at some other store. Good day, sir."

News of the death of T. Medley Richards of Edmundston, which occurred early this morning, will be learned with regret by a large circle of friends. He was born in the south of the province but had lived in Edmundston for the last 22 years. He is survived by his wife, three sons, T. Medley, Jr., Reid R. and Duncan, of Edmundston; and four daughters, Mrs. Ralph Gunter, Fredericton; Mrs. Kenneth Vavasour, Mrs. J. W. Hall and Mrs. Leon Reade, of Edmundston and two brothers, Joseph and Daniel, of Greenwich.

MODERN METHODS.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
Al Jennings, the former bandit, who is testifying before the Teapot Dome inquiry, no doubt by this time has learned that it is not necessary to wear a mask and carry a gun.
Radio loud-speakers were recently used at a fair instead of barkers and bally-hoo men.

SAYS POLICY IS TO USE CANADA PORTS
Routing of export traffic via Canadian ports wherever possible is the policy of the Canadian National Railways, the Minister of Railways stated in the House of Commons yesterday in answer to a question.
An agreement between the old Canadian Northern and the Government was cited by Hance Logan, Liberal member for Cumberland, who asked if the Government was carrying out the provision for consistent routing of traffic via Canadian ports over Canadian railways. The answer was that the principle involved in that agreement had been adopted as the policy of the Canadian National Railways.

UNION SERVICES IN GRAND BAY AREA
An informal union of various denominations has existed for some time in Grand Bay and South Bay, the clergymen going out from Fairville from the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Anglican churches. In Grand Bay the services have been conducted by the Rev. W. M. Townshend, of St. Columba, Presbyterian, Rev. Jabez M. Rice, Methodist, and Rev. Clifford T. Clark, Baptist, the services being held alternately in the Baptist and Presbyterian churches of Grand Bay and largely attended every Sunday afternoon and on Tuesday evenings throughout the winter. For more than two years the people of South Bay have been ministered to by the aforementioned clergymen and the Rev. W. P. Dunham, of the Church of the Good Shepherd.
At Grand Bay there is a flourishing Sunday school and an active Christian Endeavor society. In the summer months students from eight Presbyterian or Baptist theological colleges take the services. Wallace Forgy, of Acadia, a Baptist, will be in charge this season.
Fairville clergymen during the Lenten season are holding united services. St. Columba Presbyterian church is the head for the services this week. Tuesday evening the Rev. Jabez M. Rice, Methodist, presided at the service, which was addressed by the Rev. William M. Townshend, Presbyterian. Rev. Clifford T. Clark, Baptist, was not present as he was holding mid-week services at Grand Bay.

methods. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.
These methods have proved effective in many tests. A new-type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.
Leading dentists the world over have long advised its use. Now careful people of some 50 nations employ this modern method.
Results you see and feel
Pepsodent brings conspicuous results. It does more than fight film. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to better neutralize mouth acids. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva, to better digest starch deposits on teeth.
These combined effects bring a new conception of clean teeth.
Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.
The results of the ten-day test will delight and convince you. Cut out coupon now.
Protect the Enamel
Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combantant which contains harsh grit.

Make Your Youngster the Happiest in Town

EVERY real boy or girl who hasn't a bicycle wants one.

If your boy hasn't one he must feel pretty blue to be left behind when his chums ride gayly off to a picnic, or to play ball on the commons a mile or so away, or for a jaunt in the country with the Boy Scouts.

Far better for him to be out riding than loitering on a street corner.

Cycling is one of the cleanest of sports and healthiest of exercises. The pleasure and benefits your boy will receive from riding with the Scouts, or with any of the other organizations active in promoting a standard of clean, manly boyhood in Canada, will repay, many times over, the small cost of a C.C.M. Bicycle.

Just think of the whoop of joy your boy would let out tonight if you told him you were going to get him a bicycle. When you take him down to the C.C.M. dealer's to pick it out he will be the happiest boy in town.

Every C.C.M. Bicycle is a bear for punishment. It will stand up under the hardest usage a healthy boy will give it. The frames of reinforced English Seamless Tubing are marvels of strength.

There's a model for your boy whatever his age—including the Curved Bar model, the bicycle the boy won't outgrow, and a dashing Sport Model for the older boys and adults. Also neat, trim models for girls. C.C.M.s are $15 to $20 less than the "peaky" prices. A Big Dollar's Value for every dollar you invest in a C.C.M.

Take your boy or your girl with you to the C.C.M. dealer's. Get the bicycle now and let him enjoy a whole long season's pleasure. You can pay in instalments if desired.

ADDRESS MEETING ON ORGANIZED BALL

Joe Page and W. Vaughan Hold Conference With Milltown Men.

Milltown, April 3—Joe Page, sporting expert for the Canadian Pacific Railway, and W. Vaughan, of Fredericton, addressed a meeting of baseball men here tonight, outlining to them the facts and figures concerning organized baseball and explaining the constitution of the recently organized New Brunswick League.

The Milltown players decided that they would communicate with St. Stephen within a day or so and try to make an arrangement whereby jointly they would enter a team in the N. B. League. Following this arrangement, they said that it was probable that they would enter a team themselves. A meeting was also held in St. Stephen where a committee was appointed to look into the facts of independent ball and to report back to a meeting to be held within the week.

HARTLEY WHEATON IS MAKING GOOD

Has Fine Record in Boston Suburban League—Enters Tournament.

Bowling fans in this city will be interested to learn that Hartley Wheaton, formerly of St. John, is making good in the Suburban League there. In a recent game in which he competed he rolled a total of 318—105, 119 and 94. He is a member of the Malden team, and in a recent game against Mattapan they were defeated, although they ran up a total of 1,635. In that game two records for the season were established, the Mattapan team making the highest total for the season, and Selhr, anchor man for the Malden team, turning in a single string of 161. In that game Wheaton had 93, 113 and 107.

DOG SAVES HIS MASTER IN SNOW

Both Buried in Avalanche, Faithful Animal Does Duty Well.

Geneva, April 3—While a farmer, accompanied by his Alsatian wolf-dog, was returning to the Alpine village of Lech, Tirol, an avalanche buried both under six feet of snow. The dog extricated himself, and went in search of his master, whom he located by scent, and began digging. He made a hole near the head of his master. The man was still alive, and encouraged the intelligent animal to continue his efforts, as he was badly bruised and could not move owing to the weight of the snow. Finally the farmer was able to crawl out of his 'snow grave' with the aid of the dog. Barking had, in the interval, attracted the attention of the villagers, who set out with a sledge and brought down the farmer safely to the village. The dog is to be rewarded with a silver collar, bearing a suitable inscription of his brave deed.

MASON MADE A POOR SHOWING

Lacked Old Time Form in Bout With Frankie Ash.

Toronto, April 3.—Frank Mason, of Fort Wayne, Ind., failed to show anything like his old-time form in the main bout of last night's show at the Coliseum, against Frankie Ash, of England, who is billed as the successor of Lou Marsh stopped the engagement after six and a half of the scheduled ten rounds had been covered. The disappointing showing of Mason spoiled the show to a great extent as the fans were unable to get much of a line on Ash, who is to meet Pancho Villa here in a couple of weeks. Ash weighed 111.8-4 and Mason 107 pounds.

BABE DRAWS BLANK IN HOME RUN GAME

Goes Hitless While Others Send Out Long Ones—More Changes.

New York April 3.—Babe Ruth went hitless into an eclipse behind the shadow of eight home runs made by other players in the 15-14 Rochester victory over the Yankees at Columbus, Ga., yesterday. Three of the circuit blows were contributed by Fred Merkle, Johnny Evers, and manager of the Chicago White Sox gave the fans at Augusta, Ga., a demonstration of a big leaguer objecting to an umpire's decision when 'Dukey Holmes' called Kelly safe in the ninth inning and permitted the Giants to win a 6-4 contest.

Manager McGraw announced that Armando Marsans, the Cuban base-running coach of the Giants, would go to the Elmira Club of the New York-Pennsylvania League, as manager, accompanied by Tom Hart, catcher from St. Xavier College at Cincinnati. Brooklyn maintained its losing streak and lost to the Boston Braves, 4-3, at St. Petersburg, Fla. Aided by a timely home run by Danny Williams and a ringing triple by Phil Todd, both new members of the Red Sox, and the good work of the recently acquired Dudley Lee at shortstop, the Boston Americans yesterday won from the Fort Worth Panthers at Fort Worth, Texas, 6 to 2.

Sherry Smith, veteran pitcher, was wild in his season's debut at Atlanta, Ga., yesterday and the Cleveland Indians had to overcome a four run lead to defeat Atlanta 11-6. Coveleskie, who replaced Smith, allowed only one hit in four innings. Yesterday the Detroit Tigers needed the Toronto Internationals 14 to 13. Home runs by Grantham Frisberg and Grigsby off Johnny Morrison, Pittsburgh curve ball artist, helped the Chicago Nationals to an 8-3 win over the Pirates at Phoenix, Arizona, yesterday.

PUTS HEALTH AND VIM INTO WOMEN

So Says Mrs. MacPherson of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Brantford, Ontario.—'I was always tired and the least exertion would put me out for a day or two. I had a pressing pain on the top of my head, pain in the nape of my neck, and when I stooped over I could not get up without help, because of pain in my back. I did not sleep well and was nervous at the least noise. I keep house, but I was such a wreck that I could not sweep the floor nor wash the dishes without yielding down afterwards. A friend living near me told me of a certain bottle of Vegetable Compound had done for her so I began to take it. With the first bottle I felt brighter and rest. I could wash dishes and sweep without having to lie down. Later I became regular again in my monthly periods and am now all better. I can truly say that your wonderful medicine cannot be beaten for putting health and vim into a woman.'—Mrs. JAMES H. MACPHERSON, 809 Greenich St., Brantford, Ont.

Constant Headaches and Dizziness

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time, and in nine cases out of ten the persistent headaches are due to some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels. Undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief may be had. Burdock Blood Bitters removes the cause of the headaches, as it acts on every organ of the body and strengthens, purifies and regulates the whole system. Mrs. Peter Curran, 27 Morrison St., Sydney, N. S., writes:—'I have been troubled for the last five years with constant headaches and dizziness. NEWS NOTES GATHERED FROM THE WORLD OF STAGE AND SCREEN

MARY PICKFORD IS MORE LIKE HERSELF IN HER LATEST FILM

Once Again She is the Mary of the Old Days of Biography.

(By Jack Jungmeyer.)

Hollywood, April 3.—The hoydenish traits of Mary Pickford, the impetuous, immortal girlhood which has first and last endeared her to romance lovers the world around, come to the fore again in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," which had its world premiere here.

Not in many a picture has the sprightly Pickford spirit had such romping leeway as in this historical novel of Charles Major, whimsically translated for the screen by Marshall Neilan.

She is again the Mary of old Biography days, attired to be sure in Elizabethan costume and beset by dire intrigues, but animating the tempestuous "Dorothy" with the droll piquancy which first set her apart from other film actresses.

There are grim moments and high suspense—hard riding, sword play, death and the gather of doom around ill-fated Mary, Queen of Scots, whose fortunes affect the love of the Haddon Hall maid. But the intimate and often playful human emphasis is never overshadowed by panoply.

The core of the story is a battle of wits between "Dorothy" and her equally hot-tempered sire, as to which of two suitors she shall wed. Romantic episode becomes enmeshed with historic, giving the tale pretentious scope. "Dorothy" temper almost costs her lover his head. But she saves her monarch and is rewarded with permission to accompany "John Manners" to exile.

Mary Pickford has never been more spontaneous. She has perhaps never better directed. This is the fourth picture in which Neilan has guided her, and the two have developed a fine sympathy and understanding. Photographically "Dorothy Vernon" is sheer delight. Mary's followers will hail it with joy.

Doug Fairbanks' magnificent "Robin Hood" sets were utilized for many of the castle scenes, and perhaps it was the suggestiveness of this housing which injected so many arcaic thrills into Mary's picture.

Producers and exhibitors who recently said the costume picture was dead for another year at least aren't quite so sure after seeing Mary's latest. It seems to depend a good deal on who makes them and how.

MORE SERVANTS; HIGHER TAXES

Vienna, April 3.—Tax hungry authorities have decided that in some directions they have been too lenient in the past, and that henceforward the man who can afford domestic servants must contribute more generously to the state.

It has, therefore, been ruled that the tax on the employment of more than three domestic servants in the same household be raised ten fold. And the wealthy who have in their service more than ten domestics—there are only 60 such households in Austria—will be assessed at even a higher rate of increase. Baron Rothschild employs 47 servants, and for this privilege pays a tax of $14,000.

SMOKER ENJOYED

Members of the Masonic fraternity held an at home and smoker last evening at the Masonic Temple, proving one of the most enjoyable functions of the winter. Entertainment was provided by the concert parties of the Metzger and Montcalm and the Beauty Music Revue.

The entertainment lasted for about three hours, and all present were delighted with the different numbers. Jere McAuliffe, the well known comedian, who has for many years been a favorite in St. John, proved he had not lost any of his energy. He sang a sentimental solo, and then after something on the comic idea responded to an encore with a beautiful wartime reading that was accorded tremendous applause. The other performers gave musical selections, singing and dancing,

FAIRBANKS AND HAROLD LLOYD ARE BOYS' HEROES

Harold's New One, "Girl Shy," is Different—Many Laughs.

(By Maurice Henle.)

Harold Lloyd and Douglas Fairbanks are the heroes of the day for boys in this country. And rightly so, for both of them produce clean pictures which do not depend upon anything suggestive for their effectiveness. This being true, then, the boys of the country, as well as the adults, have a treat in store for them in a few weeks.

Harold Lloyd's next picture, which will be out in a few weeks, and which the writer has seen in private showing, is very funny and has the added virtue of an abundance of bob-haired girls extremely pleasing to gaze upon. "Girl Shy" differs, really, from other Harold Lloyd pictures, in intensity.

By that we mean Lloyd has utilized a sure-fire comedy plot, as old as motion pictures, but has executed it with greater thoughtfulness, greater speed, greater daring than his past films. It seems with action.

Harold is the poor boy who falls in love with the rich girl. A misunderstanding arises because he thinks himself a failure because he did not have his first book published. Disappointed, she agrees to marry his rival. Meanwhile he learns his book is to be published after all and that his rival already is a married man. So he rushes to stop the wedding which he does in the well-known nick of time.

"Girl Shy" is an excellent, clean, lighthearted comedy and Harold Lloyd is to be congratulated.

The musical comedy of today follows definite routes. It is molded to formula and rarely ever disappoints. "Vogues," which the Shuberts have brought to Broadway with Odette Myrtil in the prima donna role, is no exception.

The regulation comedy is supplied by a funny pair, Fred Allen and Jimmy Savo. The specialty, which to our mind, is the highlight of the show, is presented by the Pasqualis, three acrobats of grace, agility and cleverness.

Shows of this kind are obvious and each performer in them fills a definite part. For instance, when the Swanson Sisters first came out to sing, we knew immediately they were dancers. And we were not disappointed.

Brenda Bond, the slim little girl who hails from Puritanical Massachusetts to play the leading feminine role in the William Fox production of Changing Pollock's "The Fool," shocked her very New England family on her last visit home with a new and very New York evening gown. It is of black panne velvet made without sleeves and with a very low décolletage in front. The basque is of white satin embroidered in gold dragons as is a loose panel at the side and the lining of the big black velvet rose which finished the wide girle.

STORM RECALLS OLD TIME TRAGEDY HERE

Veteran Tells of the Loss of the John Mullin and Crew.

The severe storm yesterday and the news that a schooner was wrecked on Nan Rock down the bay recalls that today in the 54th anniversary of the loss of the new pilot boat John Mullin which sailed out into the Bay in search of the Spring fleet of schooners and was never heard tell of or seen since.

"The story of the mysterious disappearance of the pilot boat was recalled by Thomas Traynor, veteran and popular pilot at this port. His story as narrated to The Times was as follows:—

"On the morning of April 3, 1870, I went aboard the John Mullin and assisted in hoisting her topmast. The pilot boat was making ready to go to sea and when everything was set, sails were hoisted and she started out into the Bay. I was an apprentice at the time, but was on another boat. Little did anyone realize that the new boat so spic and span, was going on her first and last cruise.

"In the spring of the year we used to look after the Spring fleet of schooners and on that day knew by the way the wind was blowing that there would be vessels in the Bay. The John Mullin was built by a man named McLeod at a ship yard then known as the Old Fort. It was owned by Pilots Langan and Walsh and had made one trial trip. The weather was favorable until about 1 o'clock in the morning when a severe gale sprang up with snow. It developed into one of the worst storms of the season.

Those on Board.

"When the John Mullin set sail those on board were: Pilot Thomas Walsh, his brother, Edward who was an apprentice; Pilot David Langan and apprentice Thomas Langan a boat keeper; William Sloan and a passenger named William Cavanaugh. When the storm broke the pilot boat was seen by the crew on a schooner bound for Grand Manan but was never sighted again. It was supposed that she was heading for Briar Island and it was taken for granted that while running for shelter out of the storm she struck on the north west ledge which is three or four miles off shore. Some fishermen later told of having their lines caught while fishing inside the ledge and it was thought that their hooks got caught in the rigging of the ill-fated vessel.

"The tragic ending of the career of the new pilot boat and the loss of life cast a gloom over the port and speculation was rife for some years as to her fate. It was the severe storm yesterday that recalled to Pilot Traynor the eventful day fifty odd years ago.

At that time Pilot Traynor was an apprentice and for fifty years served as a most competent guide to thousands going and coming to this port. He retired from active service last year with a record which he has every reason to be proud of. During his long tenure as a pilot he never had a vessel or steamer meet with a mishap.

OVERHEAD BRIDGE PLAN OFF FOR YEAR

Chief Railway Commissioner Writes—Time Extension will be Asked.

A decision to ask for an extension of the time for the completion of the overhead bridge at the Falls until April 1, 1925, was arrived at by the city council this morning. In a letter Hon. E. B. Carvell stated that if the case were reopened it was not likely the proportion of the cost to be paid by the city would be any less than it was now, and it might be more. During the discussion the opinion of a railway company, under provincial government should pay the cost of the straightening out the Chesley street entrance to the bridge.

The letter from Hon. Mr. Carvell, which was submitted by Commissioner Frink, set out that the first order of the railway board was made on February 22, 1922, and provided that the work be begun within three months and completed within nine. On May 23 another order extends the starting date to Oct. 1, 1922, and completion by July 1, 1923. Further extension would be given on application.

"As you will see," he concludes, "in the first place, twenty-five per cent, not exceeding $15,000, will be paid out of the Railway Grade Crossing Fund, and of the balance, twenty-five per cent, is to be paid by the city of St. John, twenty-five per cent by the New Brunswick Power Company, and fifty per cent by the C. P. R., which I think I am safe in saying is a larger percentage than has ever been assessed against a railway company, under like conditions, since I have been a member of the board; and I am afraid that should this order be allowed to lapse entirely, and conditions change so that a new application and order might be necessary, possibly the city would not now exist. Therefore, if you wish to go on, simply write a letter stating the time to which you wish the order extended, both for commencement and completion of the work, and it will be carried out without any formality or cost to any of the parties concerned."

It was moved by Commissioner Frink that an application be made to have the date for the completion of the work extended to, and including, April 1, 1925, the application to be made through the Mayor and Common Clerk, Chesley Street.

Commissioner Bullock said he understood there was likely to be an appeal to the Privy Council on the bridge matter. He asked if the Provincial Government had not undertaken to straighten out the approach of Chesley street when the present highway bridge was under construction. He did not think, as the necessity for this work had arisen because of the construction of the bridge that the city should be called on to pay for it.

Commissioner Wigmore said he thought the Government should be asked to make the necessary changes to give Chesley street entrance to the bridge.

"A plan of the proposed change in Chesley street was submitted by Commissioner Frink, and Commissioner Wigmore said he thought the grade would be as bad as at present.

Commissioner Thornton said he thought the Commissioner of Public Works was proceeding along the proper line.

Mayor Fisher said he questioned if it would not be better to abandon the western end of Chesley street and use Merrett street. This might be a little more costly, but would give a better approach.

The motion to ask for an extension of time for the completion of overhead bridge carried.

MOTHER WILL KEEP CHILD FOR PRESENT

Will Keep Her Until Father Has Set Up Housekeeping for Self.

Temporary custody of her child, May, aged 8 years, was given to Mrs. Dunham, wife of Walter W. Dunham, in a judgment handed down by Chief Justice H. A. McKeown sitting in chambers this morning, in habeas corpus proceedings brought by Mrs. Dunham against her husband.

The chief justice ruled that the mother would have temporary custody of the child until such time as the father should have set up housekeeping for himself, separate and apart from his own relations, when he should be granted the custody of the little one. No order was made as to costs.

Francis Kerr appeared for Mrs. Dunham and J. MacMillan Trueman for her husband.

As Hiram Sees It

"Look-a-here!" said Mr. Hiram Hornbush to The Times reporter. "In all this here talk o' your'n about runnin' for mayor you haint said a word about the other fellers an' their platform."

"Ah!" said the reporter. "My opponents—I have not a word to say against them. This is a free country. If any four lop-eared, slab-sided, lantern-jawed, web-footed, half-baked fatheads desire to appeal for the suffrages of the people that is their privilege. I respect them all. They are all my friends. They are no good if I hope all of my opponents will be elected. A city cannot have too many mayors."

"Say," said Hiram—"do you think you kin git away with that kind o' talk?"

"In politics," said the reporter, "you can get a way with anything."

"Good Lord!" said Hiram.

"Amen!" said the reporter.
