BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhoea—an infectious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unnamed tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhoea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhoea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhoea—it guards against other ills. Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

DISCUSSED THE HIGH LIVING COST

Advice of Principal Sexton, in Halifax, to "Work and Save."

"Are we very much interested as a people in the solution of the problem of the high cost of living?" said Principal Sexton. He didn't think the people of Halifax were, or there would have been a larger attendance at the meeting held last night in the Technical College for the discussion of the problem.

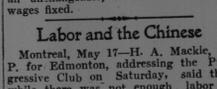

Work and Save. Principal Sexton painted a dismal picture of the outlook. The cost of living, as indicated by the index in the Industrial Bulletin, had increased two and a half times since 1914.

He discussed the luxury craze which had so unfortunately dislocated industry, directing it toward the manufacture of non-essentials and thus bringing about a shortage of necessities.

Labor and the Chinese Montreal, May 17.—H. A. Mackie, M. P. for Edmonton, addressing the Progressive Club on Saturday, said that while there was not enough labor in Canada to meet the demands of the C. P. R. and the government railways, which required between them 16,000 men, yet the C. P. R. was at the same time carrying through Canada back to China thousands of laborers who had served in France.

Mr. Mackie classified all extremists in Canada as coming under the "One Big Union." He admitted the right of combination but not when it became a menace to the nation, whether a combination of labor or of capital.

A REAL NOVELTY.

The most novel and fascinating suggestion in regard to education that has ever been made in England comes from the city of Bradford. It is that secondary pupils should voyage in a ship, with their teachers, for six or twelve months, and in addition to their other studies learn geography on the spot.

the very sea and air breathing their special lessons, not of dead facts and dusty paradoxes but of life and its sparkling realities. Who would hesitate with such a choice before him?

THE PULPWOOD SUPPLY.

Mr. James White, assistant to the Chairman of Conservation, gave a very interesting address in Ottawa last week on the question of pulpwood and forest waste. He pointed out that the pulp and paper industry in Canada now represented a total investment of over $240,000,000, employing more than 25,000 persons.

CANADA—EAST AND WEST

Continous Happenings of Other Days

KROONSTAD SURRENDERS.

When the Boers failed to stop the Canadians and the other Britishers at the Zand River in the early days of May, 1900, in the light in South Africa, they fled pell mell to Kroonstad in spite of the heroic endeavours of De Wet and Botha to make them stand again.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.

Brevity. "My good woman," said the learned judge, "you must give an answer in the fewest possible words of which you are capable to the plain and simple question whether, when you were crossing the street with the baby on your arm and the omnibus was coming down on the right side and the taxicab on the left, and the carriage was trying to pass the omnibus, you saw the plaintiff between the carriage and the taxicab or whether or not when you saw him at all, and whether or not the carriage was taxicab or omnibus, or either, or any two, and which of them respectively, or how it was."

A Humane Warden.

The constable of a New England village, a man of exceeding good nature, found it necessary to lock up "three tramps who had strayed into his jurisdiction. Soon after the arrest he was met by the mayor of the village, who, observing the constable hurrying down the main street, said: "Where are you going, constable?"

Rough on P.

"Papa, Mr. Flubbub will probably call on you tonight." "Well?" "Tell him gently, but firmly, that I can never be his."

Some Practice.

He—it strikes me that you seem to know a great deal about being mad about love. She—You don't suppose, do you, that I have spent the best part of my young life in knitting sweaters?

Don't Read When Drowsy.

To read or study when tired or drowsy is to strain the eyes to a dangerous degree, writes W. M. Carhart in Public Health. Avoid evening study whenever possible. If you are using your eyes by artificial light, be sure the light does not shine directly into the eyes, and try to have it come from behind and to the left side so as to avoid the harmful glare.

JAZZ A SONG AT TWILIGHT.

(Clement Wood in the Review.) America's chief contribution to the arts so far, say the learned ones, is ragtime; or, in vulgar parlance, jazz. This rosinic syncopation is affecting man's activities. Rooted axioms waver; nations adopt intoxicating figures like the Turkey-Trot, the Lenin Leaning, the Bryan Grape-Juice Waddle, Later Slavic music, the Jazz Art, Vorticism Sculpture, Vachel Lindsay's chants and Amy Lowell's shredded rhythms—what are these but jazz?

Home, home saccharine home, Place to lay your dome. Lay your dome, Lay your dome. There's no place—no show place—Or 'go' place—or lose place—There's no place like home—What? Home!

The nationalistic note appears in this brief chorus:

Come back to Erin for a Sinn Fein rag; Use the ball of a mallet—for the old green flag. We'll print our books in Gaelic, So we can never fall. Till we see at last that Home Rule, Sinn Fein rag!

"Annie Laurie" sticks closer to the accepted jazz forms: Down in Bonny Scotland where the mistles grow, There's a little kiddie with a brow like snow. She hasn't any frost mitt, I'd have you know. She's a bear—Thea Bare—Oh my!

(Slower) And on Maxwellton's brae Amid the new-mown hay, She's waiting 'neath a Scottish sky; (Chorus) My heart's in a flurry, Let's get preacher, license, ring, And do that thing!

Boers, seeing that defeat was to be their fate in the war, were anxious to win the favor of the conquerors. Kroonstad was lost to the Boers.

We regret we can not quote the intoxicating strain of "Drink to Me—Only with Thine Eyes," "The Auld Lang High Syne," "The Battle Hymn of the New Republic," "Shimmying To-night on the Old Camp Ground," "The Jangled Bonnet," or the pathetic stanzas of "I Cannot Sing the Old Song—the Law Will Not Permit It." Instead, we give you the unexpurgated chorus of "Love's Old Sweet Jazz":

Just a jazz (it's just a jazz) at twilight In the shy light, Not a high light, Life's a muddle, kiss and cuddle, Be weary, While the shadows flicker all the quicker As though liquor filled 'em; Though the man who owns a suitcase, valise, or carpetbag shall be eligible for membership.

For it has (IT HAS!) A sneaky, squeezy, shrieky Bolsheviki Sort of jazz; It's the jazz— (THE JAZZ!) For it has (IT HAS!) An easy, squeeze, Japanese, Funny, bunny, lug me, honey, Can't embarass, Peace-at-Paris, Razzle-dazzle JAZZ!

THE PUBLIC PRINKERS.

(Chicago Tribune.) Sir—The name of this organization shall be the Public Prinkers. Any adult male who owns a suitcase, valise, or carpetbag shall be eligible for membership.

There are no dues, but there are duties, viz.: Whenever a member sees a woman on a train or trolley car bring her mirror and powder her nose or rouge her lips, he shall: Open his bag, produce a large comb and run it through his moustache.

If he has no moustache he shall bring out a pair of military brushes and slick his hair. If he has no hair he shall get out a whisk broom and brush his clothes.

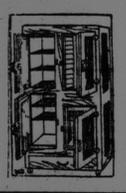

If he has no clothes he shall bring forth a blacking-brush and polish his shoes. If he has no shoes he shall produce a small tub, with water, soap and wash-rag, and take a bath.

The motto of this organization is: Privacy Be Damned. SEEING INTELLIGENTLY.

In training children or training students or training employes it is extremely important to develop in them the faculty of observation, for much can be learned by seeing with "seeing eyes."

The principal value of travel is that it broadens one's vision and knowledge through the things and people seen in various countries.

KITCHEN too cold to do without a coal or wood range in winter?

It is a mighty uncomfortable place in summer if the same range has to do the cooking and baking during the warm months—that is, unless the range is a McClary's Simplex Interchangeable.

A range that burns coal or wood and gas! That is just what the Simplex does. It can be changed to a gas range in the fraction of a minute by a simple turn of a lever.

It is the range you need. Come in and see it The McCLARY MFG., CO. 221-223 Prince Wm. Street

And is it not true that success depends largely upon seeing things more clearly and seeing farther than other people? Intelligent seeing increases one's knowledge, and knowledge increases one's ability to see.—Forbes Magazine (N. Y.)

An interesting statement in connection with this project is that the committee have an idea that it may not be more expensive than building new schools. The city is now confronted with the prospect of paying $200,000 for a school to accommodate six hundred children. The explanation of the need for more accommodation is very creditable to Bradford. It is that the city has made all its secondary education free, and already has double the proportion of secondary scholars in its schools which are found on the average throughout the country.

AIR ROUTE FROM THE PACIFIC TO THE AMAZON

London, April 28.—(Associated Press Correspondence)—Establishment of an aerial route from the Pacific to the Amazon as a means of surmounting difficulties of road travel among the Andes, is advocated by G. M. Dyott, until recently squadron commander of the British Royal Naval Air Service. "There is no serious difficulty in the way, so far as practicability is concerned," Mr. Dyott told the Royal Geographical Society. "We have heard of the great height of the Andes, but there are low altitudes at which they may be crossed. One of the Andes ridges can be negotiated at a height of 7,000 feet, but there is another rising to 15,000 feet. Peru," he continued, "is peculiarly suitable for aerial traffic. Aerial highways will undoubtedly play a large part in the future development of that country. It is of importance that rapid communication should be established between the interior and the coast, and in order to do this the airplane must come to the rescue."

The first took place in Beethoven Hall, at which Richard Dawson, of this city, assisted. The second was the graduating recital of Miss Kathryn Thompson of Hillsboro, assisted by Don Miner, Amherst, and Miss Gertrude Borden.

RECENT DEATHS

Ralph Ernest, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ashdown, died yesterday. The funeral, which will be held tomorrow, will be private.

Her many friends heard with sorrowful surprise yesterday of the death of Eva K. M., wife of Rupert S. Lahey, who passed away yesterday morning in her home, 232 King street east, after a brief illness. She was a daughter of Mrs. Mary and the late Andrew McNichol and up to the time of her death was an active member and worker in the congregation of St. David's church. Besides her husband and mother, one to mourn, Frederick W. McNichol, is left to mourn. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 from her late residence.

A touching feature of the service in St. David's church yesterday morning was the singing of "The Sands of Time Are Sinking" as an offering by the choir, in respect to the memory of Mrs. Lahey who for many years had been a valued member of the choir. At the close of the service, with the congregation still standing, the Dead March in Saul, and "Nearer My God to Thee" were played by the organist.

Wright A. Edmunston, a C. N. R. employe, died last evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. M. O'Connell, Moncton. He was seventy-three years of age and leaves three daughters.

FUNERALS

The funeral of Eleanor L. Price, widow of John C. Price, of Greenwich, Kings county, was held yesterday afternoon at 2.30 from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. E. Plant Trees in West.

Winnipeg, May 17.—It is hoped to get tree planting actually under way in the prairie provinces by organizing each small community this summer, and there will be close co-operation with the Dominion government's tree planting nursery at Indian Head, Robson Black, executive secretary of the Canadian Forestry Association, said on a recent visit to this city. With the idea of demonstrating to the farmers the advantage derived from planting shelter belts of trees, so famed because they shelter the early grain from the hurricane winds which blow across the prairies, the Canadian Forestry Association will send a "tree planting demonstration car" through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Instructive talks and motion picture displays of tree planting will be given.

Cat's Whiskers Aid its Eyes.

Why does a cat have whiskers? asks the Popular Science Monthly. This question comes under the larger one—what is the function of eye appendages? Mr. P. F. Swindle has investigated this subject very thoroughly, and he has formed some startling conclusions, which he reports in the American Journal of Psychology.

Your first reader told you in simple words and large type, that pussy's whiskers, wide at his body, were there to warn him of the sized hole he could crawl through, but that reason alone did not suit psychologists, and they have recently proved that whiskers aid the cat's eyes!

Most animals have eye appendages that seem to obstruct their vision. And many of those that haven't any use substitutes—the snake, for instance, continually thrusts out its tongue. But, according to Mr. Swindle's investigations, these obstructing appendages really aid the eye. When an animal watches its prey or stares at a branch that it intends to land on it wiggles its whiskers constantly and thereby rests its eyes. Thus, instead of becoming blurred in time, the object it watches is always sharply defined.

Mr. Swindle experimented with a tomcat, watching him first with his whiskers on, and then watching him after the whiskers had been shaved off. Tommy soon changed from a fat, well-fed cat to a thin, hungry one.

"Henry!" Mrs. Brown's voice was stern. Mr. Brown recognized the signs of a coming storm, so he prepared to listen.

MOTHER OF FIRST AMERICAN SOLDIER KILLED IN FRANCE

Mrs. Alice Gresham Dodd, First War Mother of the Nation Gives Entire Credit For Recovery of Her Health to the Well Known Medicine, Tanlac.

MRS. ALICE GRESHAM DODD, of Gavin Park, Evansville, Ind.

The following remarkable endorsement of Tanlac was given recently by Mrs. Alice Gresham Dodd, at the Gresham Memorial Home, Gavin Park, Evansville, Ind., which home was presented to her by the patriotic people of Indiana, as evidence of their appreciation of the services rendered to his country by her son, Corporal James B. Gresham, the first American soldier killed in France. Expressions of sympathy were received by Mrs. Dodd from all parts of the United States, and the newspapers of the country carried the story of the first "war mother."

"After my dear boy's death, I had a general breakdown in health," said Mrs. Dodd. "At first it was just indigestion. My food used to upset me and I had to diet myself very carefully, which wasn't much hardship as I lost all desire to eat. Then I had an attack of rheumatism, with severe pains in my shoulders, back and arms. Sometimes I used to suffer a great deal, and my joints would get all swollen up and stiff. I was able to do very little about the house, and at times couldn't even cook a meal. I got very nervous and restless, and at night would lay awake for hours, and not many a night's sleep as a consequence. A friend of mine had received a great deal of help from Tanlac, and it was she who advised me to try it."

am so glad I did for it proved the best medicine I have ever taken. It soon gave me a good appetite and seemed to settle my stomach so that I was no longer troubled with indigestion. I don't know what it is to have rheumatic pains now, the swelling and stiffness has all gone out of my joints and I am able to do the work of the house with the greatest ease. My nerves are now steady and strong, I sleep fine at night, and I feel better in health than ever before in my life. I shall always be grateful for what Tanlac has done for me, and shall recommend it every chance I get."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro; by G. W. McKay, Beaver Harbor; Willard J. Colwell, Evans; C. V. Pearson, Highland, and by the leading druggists in every town.—(Advt.)

SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

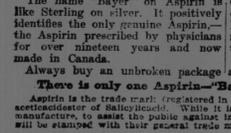

Tablets Unveiled in St. Andrew's Church—C. P. Baker Leaves $20,000 to Fairville Baptist—Presentations to T. P. Bourne and William Godsoe.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian church yesterday honored the memory of eight men of the congregation who were killed in the war, and also Dr. James Walker, through whose generosity the church was freed of all debt. Two tablets were unveiled. The tablet in memory of Dr. Walker was unveiled in the morning by F. Neil Beadle and a short appreciative address was read by C. B. Allen. The soldiers' memorial tablet was unveiled in the afternoon. Major Cyrus Inches spoke feelingly of the men in whose memory the tablet was being unveiled, and at the conclusion of his remarks, John B. Magee drew aside the flag from the oak shield, and Major Inches read the names engraved thereon. Sergeant-Major E. W. Elliot, of the 26th Battalion, spoke a few words of appreciation of the men who had gone before. Dr. Bridges also spoke in terms of highest commendation of the men whose names had been read. The service was closed by a brief address by J. H. Murphy, followed by the singing of a hymn. The names on the shield are Lieutenant D. R. Murdoch, Private John Rose, Private W. D. Cummings, Lieutenant P. S. Nesbit, Private A. Hamilton, Corporal S. Q. Clark, Private A. M. Magee, Sergeant Joseph Semple.

In the Fairville Baptist church last evening Rev. A. S. Bishop delivered an eloquent sermon in the course of which he announced that, by his will, the late C. P. Baker had left $20,000 for the use of the Sunday school as a memorial to

Mr. Grey graduated from Acadia this year and is awaiting ordination. Rev. George Scott conducted the services in the Waterloo street church yesterday. At most of the Anglican churches yesterday the sermons referred to the Ascension. At the Mission church of St. John Baptist at solemn evensong last night, the priest in charge, Rev. Fr. J. V. Young, gave an uplifting discourse on the Ascension.

Ottawa, May 17—William Collyer, aged twenty-two, and Hazel Evans, eighteen years old, are in St. Luke's Hospital, both in critical condition as the result of a shooting affray last night. They had been keeping company and, it is said, that when she refused his offer of marriage, he drew a revolver and shot her through the neck. He then ran a short distance and fired at himself, the bullet entering his head. He is not expected to recover, but hopes are held out that Miss Evans will live. The shooting took place in front of 246 Le Breton street, the residence of the girl's grandmother.

SHAMROCK RIGGED FOR LIGHT WINDS, WHICH ARE LIKELY

New York, May 14—Should light winds prevail off Sandy Hook during the America's Cup races the coming summer, Sir Thomas Lipton will have a very fair chance of lifting the trophy. His latest Shamrock, the fourth of the line, is rigged for light weather. She carries a much greater area of sail than either the Vanitie or the Resolute, which will fight it out for the honor of being the defending yacht. In the past light winds have prevailed off Sandy Hook during the races for the America's Cup. If history repeats itself Sir Thomas may at last reach the goal of his heart's desire and bear the famous trophy trophy back home.

A party of about fifty senior leaders of the Y. M. C. A. and their lady friends enjoyed an outing at Grand Bay on Saturday afternoon. T. C. Armour, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., had charge of the party.

A WOMAN'S VIEW OF THE BONUS

(B. D. C. in the Review.)
The doughboy had no monopoly of hardships. Not only did millions who stayed at home during the war suffer from the increased cost of living, as you say, but an incalculable number rendered services and incurred dangers quite equal to those of drafted soldiers. Let me give two examples out of a multitude which might be cited.
I myself thought the war (not merely after the tardy entrance of the United States), and while engaged in the fairly arduous task of earning a modest living, spent literally all of my leisure and strength and a good deal of money in a monotonous and very obscure form of war work for which I never have received and never shall receive any other reward than that of knowing that I did my bit to win the war. Shortly before the armistice my doctor told me that if I did not end this drain on my strength, which was resulting in serious illness, I should die, and die soon. I have not yet recovered from those terrible years; perhaps I never shall. I am not aware that there is any movement on foot to give me a bonus or "adjuster pay."

after the end of the war, she was looking for a job. I know of no plan to give her a bonus or "adjustment pay."
The American soldiers were incomparably the best paid in Europe (their pay was twenty times that of their French comrades) they were excellently fed, clothed, and cared for; they had the very enviable opportunity of foreign travel and of observing one of the supreme crises of human history at close range, and when one contemplates the picture of Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., Red Cross, and Salvation Army vying with each other to tempt the doughboy's palate with home-made dainties and to rescue him from ennui with concerts and the movies, and then turns to look at other armies, for example, at the Serbians during the appalling retreat to Albania, an American begins to feel a little shamefaced. No American soldier had to suffer, as did French, Belgians, Serbians, and Rumanians, the moral anguish of leaving his family and property a prey to enemy invasion; no American troops fought for as much as eighteen months, only a minute fraction of them went through a winter campaign, and large numbers never reached the fighting line at all. It was the potential, not the actual, exploits of the American army which turned the scale of victory.
Those soldiers who have come back to us crippled or mutilated richly deserve adequate pensions and the best of "reconstruction" work, but if the country is going to give a bonus for losses and suffering caused by war service, let all who lost and suffered be rewarded—which brings us to the reductio ad absurdum.

Soon after the United States declared war a friend of mine, a woman of 25, gave up the interesting and congenial occupation by which she was earning her living and from a sense of patriotic duty went to do very delicate and dangerous work in a smokeless powder factory, where, as she well knew, any minute might bring death. Her wages were five a week, enough to feed and lodge her, but not to cover all her expenses. The last time I saw her, some months

TENANTS BUY HEAVY IN PROTEST OF HIGH RENTS.
New York, May 15—Tenants have purchased more than $75,000,000 worth of apartments and business structures in New York in the last year under the co-operative ownership plan as a protest against high rentals it was learned on Thursday.
Proponents of the movement claim that substantial savings have been or will be made on their rent outlay from the profits and economies resulting from their own landlordship.
The first office building to be erected here on the co-operative scheme, under plans announced on Thursday, will involve an outlay of $40,000,000—the largest single real estate transaction in the history of the city. The buildings will be 31 and 25 stories in height and will have a floor area of 1,500,000 square feet. The skyscrapers will be erected on property northwest of the Grand Central terminal between Park and Madison avenues.
Half a million square feet of floor space in the buildings have been reserved for a group of corporations which will move from the downtown business section.

ATTEMPTED ARSON CHARGE IN SUNBURY.
Waasis Man Before Magistrate Tomorrow
Gilbert Howland Arrested After Fire at John Little's and Will Defend—Some of the Circumstances Surrounding the Case.

(Special to Times.)
Fredericton, N. B., May 17—Gilbert Howland, a well known resident of Waasis, Sunbury county, will come before Magistrate Demille at that place Tuesday on a charge of attempted arson. He was arrested at his home last week and was taken to jail at Burton but it is understood that bail was given later. The house which was set afire is that of John Little, adjacent to the C. P. R. station at Waasis. This property was purchased by the present owner through the Soldier Settlement Board from Fred Austin, who purchased it from Mrs. Fred Boyle some time ago. It is alleged that Howland attempted to dispose of his property through the Soldier Settlement Board but failed on account of inability to show a clear title and that he held ill feeling against Little on that account. A woman named Alice Virtue who had made her home at Howland's had furniture stored in the house and that is assigned as a further reason for Howland attempting to burn the dwelling as it is alleged he had ill will toward the woman and had made threats.
On last Thursday night John Little and the others in the house went to the home of his father, David Little, formerly a sergeant in the Royal Canadian Regiment in Fredericton, where a birthday celebration was being held. They returned late and on arrival were amazed to find the house afire. The blaze was on one side near the front and removed from the only stove in the building. By a hard fight the fire was extinguished. Examination showed that a large auger had been used to bore a hole through the wooden wall of the house, and that the sawed timber had been saturated with kerosene.
Howland will defend the case and has retained P. J. Hughes of McLellan & Hughes, this city, as counsel. R. B. Hanson, K. C., of Slipp & Hanson, is clerk of the peace for Sunbury county. The soldier settlement is acting on behalf of the informant, John Little.
The wedding of Miss Mary Gibson of Marysville, daughter of Mrs. Alex. Gibson, and J. Bacon Dickson, barrister, of Fredericton, is to take place in Marysville on Tuesday, June 1.
Mayor J. A. Reid and Mrs. Reid will leave on Wednesday next week on a trip in the Canadian west which will take them as far as the Pacific. They will be gone a month.
James P. Hayes of Devon has sold his grocery business in that town to A. Grant of East Florenceville. Mr. Hayes will retire from business because of ill health. He has been in business longer than any other merchant in Devon.

GEORGE CREARY HOPES TO OPEN ON FRIDAY

Working Night and Day to Get His New Store Ready

For the Semi-ready Clothes Still in the Packing Cases as They Came From the Big Tailor Shops.

"I'm working night and day in the hope of giving my new Semi-ready store ready for opening on Friday, the 21st of May. "That will give me two full days to supply my patrons with suits for Victoria Day—which really marks the beginning of the summer dress-up week. "There's an army of skilled artisans at work behind the boarding which has been built up in front of 87 Charlotte street. While my job is that of supervising and co-ordinating, also preventing carpenters throwing hammers at painters, and painters from throwing brushes at the cabinet makers because each gets in the way of the other in the rush. I am kept so busy that my Better Half has a real job being the best-natured woman I know. I get home at all hours.

This is how George Creary found time yesterday to express just about how busy he was. The old building has been practically rebuilt. The fixtures will be all new, and so arranged as to give better service and allow patrons to look and see for themselves should the salesman be busy with others. "I can promise that there will be something worth while seeing when we do open up," said Mr. Creary. "And I want everyone to feel free to come and see, whether they want to buy or just look. The price-in-the-pocket of Semi-ready clothes has been a factor in keeping good clothes from skyrocketing in price like potatoes, sugar and other of the necessary-of-life commodities. "For instance, overall cost four times the price they did five years ago, whilst that were $30 in 1914, a very modest advance when you consider that wool has gone up four times the price—or 400 per cent."

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN SHOULD ATTRACT LARGE CROWDS

Opera House Programme Has Many Features Which Will Please All — Last Chance to See Week-End Bill — New Programme Tuesday.

The week-end bill at the Opera House will be presented for the last time this evening and should attract large audiences at both performances. The various acts have something of interest and the various combinations make a highly entertaining programme. In addition to an episode of "Lightning Bryce" there are five vaudeville numbers, one of the most popular being J. Ladd and Betty Shannon, who give a clever offering combining singing, dancing and acrobatic feats; Mr. and Mrs. Norcross, "Songs of Yesterday"; Davey, an Australian juggler, who is a clever performer and has a bright act, which is well worth seeing. In addition there are two other acts which are bound to please all.

It will be of interest to patrons to learn that the combined ages of Mr. and Mrs. Norcross make 142 years. The former still possesses a beautiful bass voice. Davey, the Australian juggler, was a member of the Australian contingent and during the war received no fewer than thirty-four wounds during the Gallipoli campaign. Tonight will be the last chance to see these features. The new programme for tomorrow will be as follows: Motion picture serial, "Daredevil Jack," featuring Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world; Leonia Kern, who was until recently one of the feature attractions of Arthur Hammerstein's "Sweetheart," a famous musical comedy revue; Frank and Tobie Shell, in a comedy singing and dancing act, "Typical Myrs"; "Two Cousins, in a Few Minutes at the Club"; Lester and Vincent, in a comedy dance act, "Community Service"; Weston's famous models, in a novelty artistic costing offering, "Visions D'Art."

"EYES OF YOUTH" AT THE IMPERIAL THEATRE TONIGHT

Imperial Theatre is resuming its picture policy today with a photoplay that has been a signal triumph in all the large centres and has enjoyed phenomenal runs of from one to three weeks in the Canadian metropolis. This is Max Marcin's stage play "Eyes of Youth," a very powerful presentation of what might be termed the marriage problem. This story essays to lift the veil and give the heroine a glimpse into the future state of herself if she were to marry the man Fate was forcing into her life. A Buddhist priest from the mountains of Tibet and his mystic crystal orb are the mediums through which Gina Ashling (Clara Kimball Young) sees herself in three states of wedlock—a most unique and fantastic idea, but not without a certain most salutary benefit to unmarried folks who seldom seek to peer beyond the immediate future but are eager to get into the confusion or the maze of conventional courtships. "Eyes of Youth" will perform a missionary errand right here in little old and somewhat prosy St. John, N. B.

BACK AGAIN AT QUEEN SQUARE THEATRE TONIGHT

The Rivoli Musical Comedy Company will present the laughing musical comedy success Back Again at the Queen's Theatre tonight. Among the songs to be sung are several hits from the latest Broadway musical comedies. See ad. on our amusement page for programme.

OPERA COMPANY TO RETURN IN JULY

The Boston English Opera Company closed a most successful season on Saturday evening with an excellent presentation of "Rigoletto" before a packed house. The success which this company had attained throughout the week was crowned with Saturday's production and it was with reluctance that some of Gilbert and Sullivan's light operas will be the members of the cast.

On Saturday afternoon Robin Hood received its third rendition, with even greater success than the two previous performances. The announcement that the company will return in July for a short engagement when some of Gilbert and Sullivan's light operas will be the popular attraction. Among the pieces which will likely be heard are "Mikado," "Pirates of Penzance," "Huddigore," and also "Maritans." The company left this morning for Fredericton. In Halifax it is planned to spend five weeks.

Enver Pasha, former Turkish war minister, is said to be at Baku.

R. H. S. P. Caraque, Capt. Adam, sailed at 7:15 Saturday evening for Bermuda via Halifax, with general cargo.

S. S. Tungus, 1089, Capt. Tideman, sailed at 7:15 Saturday evening for New York. Furness Withy Co., Ltd., are the local agents.

S. S. Treuenfels is in port consigned to William Thomson & Co. She is loading 10,000 tons of flour. This is the first cargo she has ever carried. This steamer is of special interest in that she was built in Germany during the war and completed in 1917. She has every modern contrivance for the loading and carrying of freight and is described as in every way a remarkable boat. She has teakwood decks, finely equipped winches and derricks, and between decks are deep tanks for dead weight and stability, while navigating without cargo, as well as deep tanks fore and aft. The officers' quarters are the last word in comfort and luxury, being finished in mahogany with heavy brass trimmings throughout. This rather discredits the adjectives received from Germany during the war regarding shortage of brass and building materials. The Treuenfels is the latest type of steam cargo carrier, and is capable of doing thirteen knots under a consumption of sixty tons of coal a day. She is managed by Runciman & Sons for the British government.

"STAND BY THE SAILOR"

Slogan Suggested by the Navy League for Saint John.

"Stand by the sailor who has stood by you" is the slogan that the Navy League is asking the people of St. John to adopt. This city owes a deep debt of gratitude to the sailors of our country and it is one that should not be allowed to be forgotten. During the dark hours of war they protected our soldiers who were crossing the seas to fight our battles; they kept free and open the ocean lanes of commerce in the face of terrible perils; they preserved our homeland from being attacked and despoiled by enemy warships and submarines; they extended their protection to our port, enabling it to break all records and win for itself second place among the great ocean ports of Canada.

To aid the sailors for all their bravery and sacrifice is a privilege that every lover of liberty in this city—every friend of the British flag—should desire most heartily to share in.

During the last year 38,000 splendid young sailors—the finest body of young seamen that ever entered our port—the very flower of the British and Canadian mercantile marine—were accorded the hospitality of this city through the media of the Navy League, the Seamen's Institute and its associate organizations, besides being helped in other ways, all of which has undoubtedly redounded to the good name and credit of the National port of St. John. This work must be maintained. It means too much for our Province to be allowed to lapse.

The Navy League, in the carrying out of its objects, has had the good fortune to have the earnest and sympathetic cooperation of the Daughters of the Empire, of the Young Women's Patriotic Association, of the clergy and of many other city leaders, without which it would have been difficult to carry on. Fredericton has maintained a most energetic and successful organization. Assistance has been received from other provincial communities who recognize the obligation that is due to the sailor.

The expansion of the work at the Seamen's Institute in St. John will in itself entail large additional expenditure within the next few months. Additional balconies need to be erected the dormitory accommodation must be increased, the canteen enlarged and other improvements made within and without the building, so that there will be ample use for all the funds that the League may receive from annual dues and subscriptions.

DAYLIGHT TIME

The matter of daylight time is now in the hands of the citizens themselves. The first move was made by the city council which adopted the new time for its departments. Then followed the Retail Merchants' Association and yesterday it was announced that the Catholic churches of the city would adopt the new time.

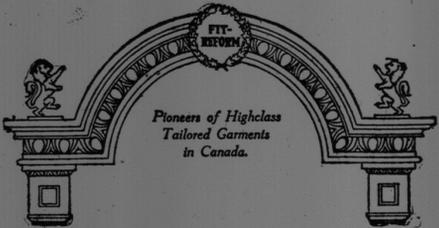

Commissioner Bullock said today that the ferry would continue on the old time. It was possible he said that arrangements would be made later for the changing of the time of the extra trips which are now provided at noon and at 5 o'clock to take care of rush of traffic at those hours.

The Railway Mail Clerks.

Five Good Reasons

WHY EVERY THINKING man or woman simply cannot help but give this appeal their utmost practical support.

Never was there a time when such a movement was more vitally necessary than during the present state of unrest throughout the world.

Reason No. 1.

BECAUSE OF THEIR COURAGE, HEROISM AND MILITANT METHODS

Ordinary uneducated men, and weak, timid women, fired by a passionate desire to bring God to their suffering fellowmen, have been transformed into valiant soldiers. They have gone alone and undaunted where others' hearts have failed them—out into the streets, down into slums into sordid dens of iniquity, vice, and disease, among the despised, the shunned, the outcast, and the fallen, where danger and death have threatened on every side.

Reason No. 2.

BECAUSE OF THEIR HUMILITY AND PERSONAL SACRIFICE

Long ago there disappeared entirely all thought that Salvationists were in the Army merely for personal notoriety or gain. As transparent as noonday has their selfishness and sacrifice become. No duty too obscure, too hard, too humble, too despised,—no sacrifice, whether personal, or family, or of worldly prospects, too great, so long as they could serve and bless their fellowmen.

Reason No. 5.

BECAUSE OF THEIR WORLD-WIDE EXPERIENCE IN OVER 50 DIFFERENT DEPARTMENTS OF SERVICE COVERING A WIDE RANGE OF HUMAN NEED THEY HAVE BECOME AN INDUSTRIAL ASSET OF NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL IMPORTANCE

In the quick and compelling emergencies of war, famine, public catastrophe, and all other causes contributing to public and industrial unrest, as well as in the day to day routine of work in times of peace, the Salvation Army has proved itself, beyond all expectation, an invaluable industrial asset, balance wheel and safety valve.

Reason No. 3.

BECAUSE OF THEIR PRACTICAL GODLINESS AND CHEERFUL WILLINGNESS

The world was slow to believe that it was possible for consecrated Christians to have a religion which made them ready at all times to serve in the most humble way and yet keep them so happy that they could smile, and sing their songs, and play their bands, and clap their hands, and shout their hearty Hallelujahs. But the Salvationists have amply demonstrated the fact.

Reason No. 4.

BECAUSE OF THEIR ECONOMY, EFFICIENCY, AND BUSINESS METHODS

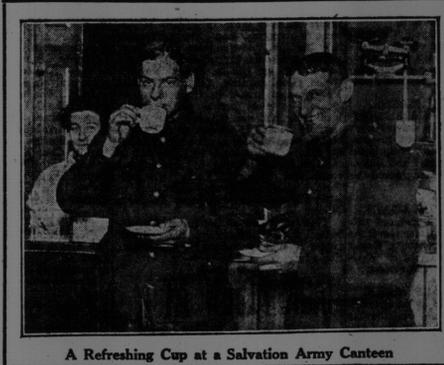

The sacrificial basis of their service enables the Salvation Army to make one dollar suffice where others require two or three. Their methods are so efficient that they have emerged triumphant from the severest tests of men and events in all parts of the world. Every fundamental principle and protection of sound business administration is rigidly observed. Financial statements, audited by outside firms of recognized standing, are always available. For these and many other reasons the biggest business men, the most powerful governments and the public generally have implicit confidence in the honesty, integrity, and business ability of the Salvation Army.

THE SUM ASKED has purposely been limited to an amount so small that it can readily be subscribed out of the current earnings of any community without being burdensome to anybody.

The public have come to know that the Salvation Army never appeals unless there is real need.

FERTILIZING POTATOES.

Potato yields depend very largely on plantfood supply. Extensive investigation in farm management among 400 potato farms in New Jersey shows that profits are greater with each increase of potato yield per acre. Men and horses handle as many crop acres on the heavy-yielding farms as upon the light-yielding farms. These findings are of special interest to Ontario potato growers since potato prices rule high. Cost of production is also very high.

Why not make your farm and labor count for all possible in your potato yields this year? Potatoes thrive on a sandy to gravelly loam soil. This is a type of soil that must be heavily fed, if it is to do its best. The potato crop also repays abundant feeding. Since potatoes contain so much starch, they are great lovers of potash. On normal potato soil without manure you should apply from 750 to 1,000 pounds of high grade fertilizer per acre in order to get the best results. With a good dressing of manure this application may be reduced to 500 or 600 pounds per acre. The analysis we would advise should range not less than four per cent. ammonia, six to eight per cent. phosphoric acid, and four to six per cent. potash. Besides fertilization, the soil should be thoroughly tilled, should contain an abundant supply of humus and potatoes of high yielding type should be planted. Numerous diseases and insects prey upon the potato. These must be controlled by spraying if best results are to be obtained.—Henry G. Bell, B. S. A.

HOARDING HURTS YOU.

Money hoarders are the enemies of prosperity. There is only money enough in the country to take care of legitimate business, and every dollar that is hoarded is virtually taken out of the banks, and therefore out of the hands of those who could otherwise use it to do business and pay wages. Every money panic or business depression in the history of the United States has been caused in part by the hoarding of money and the consequent lack of cash capital with which to do business. A dollar in the bank changes hands at least twenty times per annum, pays twenty people, does $20 worth of business, of which something like $12 goes for wages and helps to make business more prosperous and increase employment. A dollar hoarding, on the other hand, does absolutely nothing and entitles the hoarder to the condemnation of his fellows. And now is the time when the banks need the dollars as much as they will ever need them.—Paul Clay, in Forbes Magazine (N. Y.)

THE MOTHER OF PARLIAMENTS

(By Sir Henry Lucy.)
Westminster, England--Lloyd George's spring holiday is cheered by reflection on the majority that rallied round him to carry the second reading of the Home Rule bill. It exceeded the most sanguine expectation. Not less encouraging was the tone of the debate. It testified to a genuine resolve to sacrifice personal prejudices in order to make an end of a question that has riven British political parties through half a century and has kept Ireland in a constant state of unrest. A notable incident was the speech of the son of the statesman chiefly responsible for the failure of the Gladstone bill in 1886.

Austen Chamberlain has some mannerisms of voice and gestures that recall his father. Listening to him and watching him it was startling to catch echoes of a once familiar voice, pleading on behalf of a measure of home rule that in breadth and depth goes far beyond the one which thirty-four years ago was denounced by Joseph Chamberlain on the ground that its enactment meant the dismemberment of the empire.

The Home Rule Bill.
It was only slightly less peculiar to hear Bonar Law, for a long time a pillar of the Unionists, extolling the latest and most determined attempt to establish home rule in Ireland. One other voice which the house and the country would have been even more interested to hear speaking was silent. Whilst old colleagues like Walter Long were united in their effort to carry this measure, Mr. Balfour was sunning himself at Monte Carlo, after Nero's fashion, fiddling whilst the empire was tottering to a fall.

What happened in the cabinet whilst Lloyd George's bill was being fashioned remains a time a secret. Undoubtedly it must have received passive acquiescence on the part of the former chief secretary of Ireland or he would have retired from his place in the government.

It is, however, one thing to give silent assent to an obnoxious measure and quite another to get up in the House of Commons and publicly advocate it. So Mr. Balfour went to the sunny south and there learned that the second reading of a home rule bill, going much further than the one he had resolutely

THIS WOMAN'S RECOVERY
Shows Remarkable Curative Power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chester, Ont.--"Before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had terrible pains in my sides and was not regular. Finally I got so weak I could not get up stairs without stopping to rest half way up the steps. I tried two doctors but they did me no good. I saw your medicine advertised in the newspapers and thought I would give it a trial. I took four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and was restored to health. I am married, am the mother of two children, and do all my housework, milk eight cows, and do a hired man's work and enjoy the best of health. I also found Vegetable Compound a great help for my weak back before my babies were born. I recommend it to all my friends who are in need of medicine, and you may print this letter if you wish."
Mrs. HENRY JANKE, R. R. No. 4, Chester, Ontario.
It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world.

He made his mark during the deliberation of the peace conference in Paris, and on his resumption of parliamentary duties received the measure of attention from the house his sterling merit deserves. He is now talked of as the possible leader of the Unionist party. His latest achievement was to lead 22 members of it into the division lobby against their official pastors and masters, his former colleagues on the treasury bench.

But they are not unwelcome. It is desirable that the voice of at least a section of the population of Ireland should make its views known. But the remnant of the once formidable parliamentary party that broke down under the leadership of John Dillon is a negligible quantity in a division. The Sinn Feiners, representing the bulk of the Irish constituencies, remain resolute in their policy of abstention from Westminster. They will not say anything about the bill except that they won't have it. They want final separation from England and the establishment of a republic, nothing else mattering. Thus it comes to pass that having for fifty years cried for the moon, represented by home rule, when attempt is made to place it in their hands, Ireland declines to take it.

Minor Charges.
The ministerial changes which mark the brief recess, though imposing in number, have no political significance. The most important is the change at the Irish office consequent on the retirement of Mr. Macpherson, who has left a troubled atmosphere for more humdrum duties in connection with the dispensation of pensions. He is another victim of the strain on the shoulders of the chief secretary, his retirement being necessitated by personal reasons. The re-arrangement of minor offices strengthens the belief that if, as was suspected at the opening of the session, Lloyd George contemplated a root-and-branch reconstruction of his ministry, he has definitely deferred it. Unionist members of the cabinet in both houses having finally capitulated on the home rule question, there is in view at present no prospect of a serious breach between the two wings of the coalition government.

well to proffer it. As was written at the time, "Life would be endurable for Prince Arthur only for Cousin Hugh." Meanwhile Lord Robert Cecil plodded along, a constant attendant on debate. The house used to watch with amusement his nightly struggle with another member for possession of a favorite corner seat. Sometimes one, by exceptionally early attendance, won it, the other by adoption of the same tactics presently ousting him. It was one of those little personal incidents that have a fascination for the elderly mother of parliaments. Lord Robert, though well informed, is a dull speaker, his rising emptied the house as Lord Hugh's filled

it. He made his mark during the deliberation of the peace conference in Paris, and on his resumption of parliamentary duties received the measure of attention from the house his sterling merit deserves. #### SOVIET LABOR CODE

(From the Review.)
The silence of the insurgent press regarding the new Soviet labor code is dark and profound. Even such journals as have heretofore made a practice of printing certain documents of an alleged revolutionary character, in order to shame and defy the hated capitalist press, have balked at the labor code. Of course, a Soviet code which transforms all male labor into slave labor may be thought, even by the most frantic pro-Bolshevik editor, to be a trifle extreme and therefore something to be kept from its readers. But having swallowed so many camels in the way of Bolshevik outrage upon human rights, to strain at the gnat of labor enslavement must seem to ordinary persons a bit absurd. Of the two stock justifications for such measures, with which the pro-Bolshevik editor has heretofore always been ready, the first, "protection against counter-revolution," is obviously unhandy for the case in point. But the other, "the exercise of proletarian self-discipline," its like a mealy-mouthed of our insurgent contemporaries, that the essence of "proletarian self-discipline" lay in unhesitating obedience to any arbitrary order of the garchy of thirty-four. Why the present silence? Why the failure to apply the rule, or theory, or principle, to a comparatively trifling matter like the enslavement of labor? Here is a puzzle which only Time will solve.

--and Now
IT'S UP TO YOU!

We've talked a lot about bargains—the whole province is chattering economy; NOW, it's time to act. Two of the eight big days of bargains have already passed. Don't delay too long.

Our great stock of over forty thousand dollars' worth of footwear, purchased over two years ago, is being sold by us, today, at far below present wholesale prices. Get a supply for the months of high prices to come—for the time when we will no longer be here to serve you and to save for you.

Our drygoods are still plentiful, and the prices right; few enter our store without finding something in this line that they need—and that cannot be purchased elsewhere for an additional fifty per cent.

Men's and women's raincoats, men's and boys' suits, overalls, work and dress shirts, underwear at half usual price, woolen blankets at prices that will open your eyes, and hundreds of other startling price tags that are surely sufficient for Creating a Panic among Profiteers.

Suffered
With Boils
Last 5 Years

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood, and anyone who has suffered from them knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one, another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation the real disease is rooted and to get rid of these painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitilized, by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, your misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robt. Johnson, Barkway, Ont., writes: "I have suffered very much, during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief."

I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, which I did, and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years and is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

Dodgers Want a Fielder.
Boston Globe: Wilbert Robinson of the Dodgers is in the market for a new outfielder. He says he is convinced that Neis, who looked so good here, will not be able to stand the every-day strain of the campaign his first year out and that the boy will be all the better another season for being allowed to go easy through 1920.

Robbie has been offered Meusel, an outfielder, by Gavy Cravath, but the Philly manager wants two pitchers and the Dodgers' staff is too good to be up-let very much. Robbie might hand Mammaux over, however.

Neis has been hitting for about .150 and Meusel a little above .300.

Carranza Destined to Follow
Diaz, Madero and Huerta—
Interesting Sketch of His Career.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)
Carranza of Mexico seems about to take his place with the ex-almirantes of the day. His power has been broken, and it is reported that he himself is a prisoner. He is the third president since Diaz to be violently overthrown, and apparently the Mexicans are unaware of any other process of getting rid of their presidents except by revolution, and have no choice of new presidents except the military leader who ousted the old. This would indicate that General Obregon is destined to succeed Carranza. It is far too early to say whether Obregon is likely to be an improvement upon Carranza. The latter was never recognized by either the British or the French governments because of his policy which virtually amounted to Mexico's refusal to pay her debts. Moreover, in the war, he was pro-German and sought to hamper the Allies by trying to confiscate the oil wells upon which the British navy so largely depended for fuel. Carranza's foreign policy, however, is not what has brought about his downfall. Apparently this was agreeable to Mexicans. It was his failure to establish law and order and to fulfill his numerous pre-election promises that supplied the popular backing for Obregon's revolt.

Carranza was a wealthy land-owner before he entered public life, and it is assumed that he is no poorer on that account. While not a member of the Diaz party, he was governor of his native state of Coahuila under the old dictator. His sympathies were with Madero and the assumption of power by Huerta. Carranza took to the field as leader of the revolutionary movement. In this he was assisted by Villa, the most spectacular figure in the revolution. When Huerta was forced to fly the country Carranza, with the approval of Villa, who had at least intelligence enough to know that he lacked the necessary intelligence to become president of Mexico, declared himself First Chief of the Constitutional Party, and for two years ruled Mexico under this alias. The Constitution, which had been drafted in the course of the revolt against Huerta, and which provided that elections should be held, and that in the meantime Carranza should be provisional president, was ignored by the whiskered chief, on the ground that the unstable state of the country did not then permit of elections. His real reason seems to have been that if he had served as provisional president for two years, he would thereby render himself ineligible for the four-year term as president.

In 1917 the elections were held and Carranza was elected. As president he has been slightly less objectionable than as first chief. It was in the latter role that he came near embroiling his country in war with the United States, and in the same guise, he showed himself a pro-German. His course in Mexico was made difficult by the action of Villa, who shortly after Huerta was overthrown, quarreled with Carranza, refused to recognize his authority and ever since has kept part of Mexico in revolt against him. Not feeling himself strong enough to pull down Carranza as he had pulled down Huerta, Villa conceived the notion of having the United States perform this office for him. His plan was to embroil the two countries, and it became a battle of wits between Villa and President Wilson, the problem of the latter being to keep the United States out of war. It was in this situation that the phrase "watchful waiting" became prominent, it being one of the earliest of the president's ill-starred efforts to be epigrammatical.

Villa's method was simple. At the head of a crowd of bandits he would cross the border into the United States and shoot up a frontier town, then make his escape into the hinterland before American troops could reach the scene. The United States would demand reparation for the act and punishment for the actors. Carranza would make a futile effort to catch Villa, and then would regretfully announce that he was unable to do so. The United States press, or that part of it desiring war with Mexico, would then argue that since Carranza could not maintain order in his own country and punish murderers, it was the plain duty of the United States to accept the mandate. This would anger Carranza, who was a stubborn man, and he would answer defiantly much to the delight of the Mexicans, who hated the United States. But Carranza, knowing that a war would mean the end of his power, always stopped short of taking the final step. There would be an exchange of notes and the incident would be allowed to close. Shortly afterward Villa would make another raid and the old farce would be re-enacted.

The most critical phase of the relations between the United States and Mexico was reached in 1916, when, as a result of several American civilians and soldiers being killed at Columbus, New Mexico, Gen. Pershing was ordered to invade Mexico in pursuit of Villa. Carranza wished to know how far the American troops intended to penetrate, and after an exchange of notes, it appeared that war was certain. Indeed, there was a fight between American and Mexican troops, but again there was correspondence and the American army returned home without Villa. Carranza had backed down at the last moment and his representative had signed a protocol. Later on Carranza repudiated the protocol, and the United States made no further move against him, apart from more effective patrolling along the border. When Uncle Sam entered the war the presence of such huge bodies of troops in training dissuaded both Carranza and Villa from taking further liberties. Indeed, by this time Villa's strength had increased to such an extent that he felt equal to the task of defeating Carranza without incidental American help.

SHAKESPEARE AND INDUSTRY.
Mention of Stratford inevitably recalls the controversy over the aluminum works. After a government inquiry last autumn, at which remarkable evidence was given on both sides, the factory is now rising from the ground in a corner of the town where not many visitors will ever see it. The mass of local opinion was in favor of the scheme, and there were some persons who hailed it with delight and proclaimed grotesque estimates of the work, money, and prosperity that it was to bring into the town. There were even those who did not shrink from declaring that "if our great townsmen were alive today, he'd be the first to say 'Yes.'" A case which needs such support must be hard indeed. Better worth seeing than the walls of the factory are the latest developments in the policy of removing the stucco and other material with which the gaudy taste of modern times overlaid some of the ancient timber-frame buildings in
