

SAVAGE .303 RIFLES. AT QUEBEC.

Are the latest model of repeating rifle. Hold six shots. Absolutely safe. Easy, smooth, short action. The only hammerless repeating rifle on the market.

Come in and see them.

W. H. THORNE & CO., Limited.

Thoughtful People Stop to Admire the "Prize" Heating Stoves.

They are so handsome and well made; but, more than that, they are good heaters with a small consumption of fuel.

Will burn equally well hard or soft coal or wood.

Made in five sizes, therefore we can supply the size best adapted for the requirements of any case.

EMERSON & FISHER, - 75 Prince Wm. St

SPECIAL SALE OF BOYS' SUITS.

We begin today a Special Sale of BOYS' VESTEE SUITS, and are showing a large line which were formerly $3, 3.50 and 3.75, all reduced to one price at $2. Another line, age 4 to 8, reduced to $3.

A few Norfolk Suits, age 7 to 10, formerly $4 to $4.50, reduced to $3. Exceptional value. Will go quickly. Better secure one at once.

J. N. HARVEY, OPERA HOUSE BLOCK, 109 UNION STREET, ST. JOHN, N. B.

FALL WOOLLENS.

My stock of Imported and Domestic Woollens now open.

J. P. HOGAN, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN'S FASHIONS, 108 Charlotte St., Opp. Hotel Dufferin, Telephone 1251.

SPORTING GOODS.

We carry a first-class line of GUNS, AMMUNITION and General Shooting Supplies. Cartridges loaded to order with any desired load. Good guns for hire at reasonable rates.

KEE & BURGESS, 108 UNION STREET.

BOERS' DAY OF GRACE ENDS.

Lord Kitchener's Proclamation Fixing September 1 as Limit of Belligerency Discussed.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Next to the attack on the president and the suppression of anarchy, the subject one hears most in people's mouths is once more the war in South Africa. Of course interest centred in Lord Kitchener's last proclamation, which, it was considered, would surely bring matters to a head if anything would. Today the time given to the Boers still in the field expires. While the leaders seem still determined to fight to the last gasp, the proclamation has evidently had some effect, judging from late surrenders, though, strange to say, the great majority of those who have given themselves up have been unarmed men. We are told nothing of what has become of their arms and ammunition.

As to the probable effect of the proclamation opinions vary. For instance the Morning Post, considers that it was not so much meant to induce surrenders as to pave the way for more drastic treatment of the Boers in the field.

The Daily Telegraph, discussing the latest returns of captures and surrenders, thinks there are many signs that the finish of the desultory and irregular conflict is not far off, and that the coming into operation of Lord Kitchener's proclamation appears to be casting a shadow before it.

Six weeks ago the number of Boers in the field were estimated at 12,000. In that time there have been over three thousand accounted for in captures, surrenders and casualties. Judging from these, the Daily Chronicle thinks it probable that there may be a rush of surrenders on the last days of grace. On the other hand, it is unlikely that the majority of the rank and file of Boers yet know anything of the terms of the proclamation.

The Daily Graphic argues that, even dissecting the latest returns from the front, there is little evidence that it has had any general effect upon the Boers; for the truth is that most of them are desperate men who have nothing to fight for but their lives, and England must, therefore, continue the costly work of hunting them down until the war automatically ends for want of warriors.

The Daily Mail is of the same opinion. It says: "We cannot expect the struggle to come to a sudden end, but to peter slowly out by the tedious process of attrition and exhaustion of the Boer forces."

SMALLPOX IN N. S.

There are five cases of smallpox reported at Sheffield Mills, N. B. There are also several cases at Sook's Bay, King's Co. In all cases quarantine is strictly enforced and it is not anticipated the disease will spread. The Sheffield Mills company of infantry was dismissed from the Aldershot camp and sent home.

A BROAD HINT.

"Papa has forbidden you to come to the house. He says you are a dangerous man." "Dangerous! What can he mean?" "He says you are the kind of a man who will hang around a girl all her life and never marry her."

The Review and Presentation of Medals Yesterday.

The Royal Party Landed and Proceeded to Montreal This Morning.

QUEBEC, Sept. 15.—The military review on the Plains of Abraham yesterday was a brilliant affair, although somewhat marred by the heavy storm. The troops were reviewed by H. R. H. the Duke of Cornwall and York.

His Royal Highness stood throughout the review in a driving rain, somewhat in front of the royal dais, and critically watched the men as they went by.

Her Royal Highness sat in the royal dais, which was beautifully hung with crimson. The Duchess was accompanied by her ladies in waiting and other members of her suite. Her Royal Highness endeavored with a large umbrella to keep off the rain, which drove just beneath the canopy of the royal dais.

Before presenting the South African medals, Col. R. E. W. Turner, commanding the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars, was called to the front and presented by H. R. H.

WITH THE VICTORIA CROSS

and the Distinguished Service Order, won by him for gallant service in South Africa in making a sortie and carrying off his guns in the face of a hot fire from the enemy. In making the presentation, the Duke pinned the Victoria Cross on the colonel's uniform, shaking him warmly by the hand and speaking a few words of congratulation.

These presentations elicited tremendous enthusiasm. The applause was just as deafening when H. R. H. presented the gallant colonel, who is a son of Hon. Richard Turner, with a costly and beautiful sword of honor purchased for him by the popular subscription of his admiring fellow citizens. It is contained in a solid silver scabbard, richly ornamented with gold, the handle being of the same material. It is also trimmed with gold. The scabbard bears in beautifully paneled miniature the Victoria Cross and that of D. S. O. and a list of the engagements in which the recipient participated, which the governor general and Major General O'Grady-Haly and several members of the royal suite, proceeded to distribute the King's honor.

Those entitled to the South African medal filed rapidly past His Royal Highness and each received his medal from the royal hand. Rain fell heavier than ever as the troops marched back to the city from the Plains, with bands fully playing. It is estimated 25,000 people were at the review, despite the unfavorable climatic conditions. The royal party were immediately escorted to Spencerwood, where luncheon was served.

SEVERAL ITEMS IN PROGRAMME ABANDONED.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17.—At a meeting of the Montreal city and citizens' reception committee this morning it was decided out of respect to the memory of the late President McKinley and as a token of regard for the citizens of the United States, to abandon several items in the programme for the reception of the Duke of Cornwall and York fixed for Thursday. The Duke himself cancelled the civic reception to be held Wednesday night, and the committee today decided to cut out the display of fireworks fixed for Thursday evening and hold the torchlight procession fixed for that evening on Wednesday, thus making Thursday a day of mourning. Only engagements, therefore, remaining for the Duke on Thursday are of a semi-public nature, such as visits to institutions, etc.

This morning their royal highnesses again landed on the King's wharf from H. M. S. Ophir, when the procession formed in the same order as on the day of arrival, escorted the royal party to the Canadian Pacific Railway station, at the place where they embarked on the special royal train already prepared for them en route to Montreal and the rest of the tour.

The royal train comprises seven coaches: The Cornwall, the York (the Canadas, the Australis, the Sandringham and two baggage cars. Each of the passenger coaches is of extra length and it took two engines to bring the train down from Montreal. The coaches are unquestionably the most gorgeous and magnificent specimens of passenger coaches ever produced in the great railway corporation which undertook their construction. They have been designed and completed at the car building establishment in Canada.

EMMA GOLDMAN.

CHEGAGO, Sept. 1.—Emma Goldman was arraigned today and her bail fixed at $20,000.

JOSEPH FINLEY MARRIED.

Joseph Finley, the well known retired wholesale merchant, and Miss Ruthford of German street were married this morning by Rev. J. D. Freeman. The wedding was a very quiet one.

UNITED STATES.

Byran Endorsed By Nebraska Democrats—Chicago and the Anarchists.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—A Washington special to the World says:—"It is announced that in order to carry out the wishes and promises of McKinley, President Roosevelt will appoint Dr. Elzey as surgeon general of the navy and W. H. Hagedorn, of Illinois, as comptroller of the currency, to succeed Charles G. Dawes, who is resigning to go into effect on October 1.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The Chicago Bar Association has adopted resolutions on the death of President McKinley which in brief are as follows: "In the assault upon our chief magistrate we recognize a blow dealt at the law and the administration of the law. We join in sorrow at the deed and we unite in a resolve to co-operate to our utmost in an effort to support and where necessary to amend existing laws in the future to make sacred and secure the person of our chief executive."

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 15.—Fusion between the democrats and populists of Nebraska was effected by the state conventions after sessions held in separate halls beginning shortly before 3 p. m. yesterday and continuing until 2 o'clock this morning. As a result of an agreement to fuse, the democrats were given the head of the ticket. Absolute faith in the leadership of W. L. Bryan marked the speeches and resolutions. Hostility was declared to re-organization of the party on any line of policy different from the present. The tragedy at Buffalo, tempered the speeches and resolutions in both conventions and feeling reference to the dead president was made by each chairman.

ATROCIOUS DEED.

Three Children Murdered and Burned in House—Half-Breed Suspected.

BRANTBURG, Wis., Sept. 15.—Three children of a Mr. Bawely, living at Langsdam, were murdered yesterday and the house in which they lived fired to destroy evidences of the crime. The children were a girl of 16, a boy of 14 and another boy of 10.

Suspicion points strongly toward a half-breed as the perpetrator of the crime. He had been in love with the girl for some time, but she had not reciprocated his affection and her parents had forbidden him annoying her. The parents, accompanied by the half-breed, started for the cranberry marshes. After going with them for some distance, the half-breed turned back. An inquiry shows that the girl was outraged and then murdered, her throat being cut, while the skulls of the younger children were beaten in with a club. The suspect has disappeared. A lynching is probable, if he should be captured.

THE WEATHER.

TORONTO, Sept. 15.—Moderate winds, fair and a little cooler Thursday, increasing easterly winds, followed by rain.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Northern New York—Partly cloudy tonight, with rain in southern portions; Thursday, rain, wind shifting to northeast and increasing in force.

ROOSEVELT AND LONG IKE.

Story of How Teddy Rounded Up a Cowboy.

Here is a record that shows you just what kind of a man Theodore Roosevelt is. It is a record that shows you just what kind of a man Theodore Roosevelt is. It is a record that shows you just what kind of a man Theodore Roosevelt is.

One of his favorite tricks was to line up alongside a drinking bar, select the filled glass of one of the men he thought he could cow and drain it.

At this particular round-up Theodore Roosevelt happened to be one of the party in the only place of abode on the prairie—the saloon. A glass half filled with whiskey had been poured out by a cowboy and placed in front of him. Long Ike reached out and took it, and so certain was he that the stranger would submit that he did not take the precaution to make his customary bluff with his revolver.

Before he could swallow the liquor Mr. Roosevelt was on him like a cat upon a hot tin can. He threw the bully in a jiffy. Then he turned him over and stood him up and ran him outdoors, taking the revolver away from him in the run. He was thrown again, harder than before, and could not get up for five minutes. When he did he was dazed and wondering. The style of attack was so quick, so unusual and so vigorous that he was afraid to resent it in the "bad man" way, even had he possessed the nerve and his shooting iron. He sneaked out of camp. The young man with the eyeglasses and the gleaming teeth enjoyed the respect of the cowboys from that day forward.

That is Theodore Roosevelt, a man of action as well as words, but whose words mean action, for he is a man who says what he means and means what he says; who acts according to his words, who is as fearless as he is gentle as he is strong and as fierce as he is gentle when fight is called for—the relentless foe in battle, the generous conqueror when the battle has been fought.

THE CZAR LANDS. SCHOOL.

He Is Met at Dunkirk By Pres. Loubet.

A Naval Review—The Populace Kept at a Safe Distance.

DUNKIRK, France, Sept. 15.—In honor of the visit of the czar the streets of Dunkirk before 6 a. m. today were echoing to the measured tramp of infantry marching to take up positions. The weather cleared, and by 7 o'clock the hour fixed for President Loubet's embarkation the sun was shining. The wind was high however, and the temperature decidedly cool.

The harbor was very picturesque with gray hunting and fluttering flags, particularly in the top works of the close-packed fishing smacks. The population was about at an early hour, moving towards the piers and wharves to get a glimpse of the presidential vessel, the torpedo gun-boat Cassini, when she should put to sea and return with the Russian imperial yacht Standard. The inhabitants of Dunkirk were to see nothing of the Czar, as the ceremonies were to take place behind an impenetrable wall of soldiery, and the Czar in company with President Loubet was to enter the train at the docks.

After lunching adjacent to the chamber of commerce, they were to leave for Compeigne without even traversing the streets of Dunkirk. These arrangements were a source of keen disappointment to the Dunkirk citizens, who had lavishly decorated their town. The Cassini proceeded to the three mile limit and meeting the Standard, escorted her into French waters. The two vessels returned to the coast at 10 o'clock, accompanied by the Russian cruiser.

The enormous crowds invaded Dunkirk by train and road. Thousands proceeded on foot and by street cars to the promenade on the shore of Les Bains, a suburb of Dunkirk, whence was obtained a magnificent view of the fleet riding at anchor in two lines. The number of ships was small, but with grim black hulls, dirty yellow upperworks and low freeboards, they looked very formidable. The following is a list of the French ships which took part in the review:

First class battleships—Massena, Formidable, Courbet, Charles Martel, Bouvet, Jauriguerry. Armored cruisers—Dupuy De Lome, Bruix. Protected cruisers—Dassas (second class), Surcouf (third class), Galilee (fourth class).

Coast defence battleships—Bouvine, Admiral Trehouart, Jemmes, Valmy. Destroyers—Yatagan, Durandal, Fanconneau. Torpedo dispatch boat Cassini. Sea-going torpedo boat—Grenadier. Submarines—Naval, Morse, Francois.

In addition to above named vessels, twelve torpedo boats attached to the ports of Cherbourg and Dunkirk were present at the naval display. The flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers patrolled the lines of warships and kept the excursion steamers from encroaching on the prohibited area. The entire squadron was dressed in bunting.

A slight mishap to the tug boat of the Cassini resulted in a delay of forty minutes in the outer basin, but eventually the white hull of the Cassini was perceptible by the concourse assembled at the sands at St. Mary Les Bains from behind the long piece which jutted out to sea from the docks.

Immediately afterwards was heard the sound of cannon as the first battleship began a salute of 21 guns. Before the smoke had risen from the mouth of the cannon the heavy guns took up the salute and their thunder reverberated over the land and shook the windows of the casino and the hotels.

Owing to the rough sea and the fact that the Cassini is an extremely bad sea boat, it was decided that President Loubet and his party should embark on the imperial Russian yacht Standard. Instead of the czar and zarina boarding the Cassini, as soon as the Standard was sighted the Cassini steamed to meet her. Then the flagship Missina gave a signal, and the heavy cannon of the fleet boomed a salute of 101 guns. When the Standard and the Cassini were about 300 yards apart a boat was lowered from the Cassini, and President Loubet and others took their places in it. The boat was then towed to the Standard by a steam launch, and President Loubet and his party boarded the Russian yacht. After a short interval the Standard steamed to the head of the line and the review of the French warships began. As the black Standard, with her yellow funnels proceeded slowly up the line the crowds ashore cried "Vive le czar," and "Vive la republique," but the distance was too great to allow the sound of the voices to reach those on board the imperial yacht.

The precautionary measures for the safety of President Loubet this morning were trifling, compared with the military arrangements for the disembarkment of the czar. The entire area of the dock facing the landing stage was one mass of soldiery, infantry, cuirassiers and gendarmes. The small crowd of people permitted to view President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the onlookers needed field glasses to distinguish the features of these on the landing stage. The few spectators perched on the roofs of houses and on the decks of one or two steamers, President Loubet's embarkation was pushed back to such a distance that the

For Summer Complaints
Use
Fellows' Speedy
Relief.

A reliable household remedy.
Price 25 Cents.

STEAMERS.

INTERNATIONAL S. S. COY.
FIVE TRIPS A WEEK.
20 Hours to Boston

The Steamship "St. John" will sail from St. John DIRECT TO BOSTON every TUESDAY and SATURDAY, at 1.30 p. m., standard time. Express to Boston.

Stap Line S. S. Co.
(Eastern Standard Time)

One of the Mail Steamers, VICTORIA and DAVID WILSON, will leave St. John, North End, for Fredericton and intermediate landings every Monday (Sunday excepted) at 5 o'clock, and will leave Fredericton every morning (Sunday excepted) at 7 o'clock. Freight received daily up to 5 p. m.

FOR Washemoak Lake.
THE MODERN EDEN.

Overseas on Earth for Beauty and Climate, the People's Line.

STEAMER STAR
Has been rebuilt under the supervision of the most practical government inspectors, and until further notice will be plying between Washemoak Lake, every TUESDAY, THURSDAY and SATURDAY, on and after Sept. 14th at 9 a. m. for the above region, calling at all her landings on River and Lake, returning on alternate days at 1 p. m. Freight received up to 5 p. m. on the days of sailing. All freight must be prepaid. J. H. PORTER, Manager.

Str. CLIFTON

STR. CLIFTON leaves for Hampton every MONDAY, WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY.
Leaves Hampton 5.30 a. m.
Leaves St. John 3 p. m.

Arrangements can be made with captain of "Hamstead" or "Clifton" for picnics.

Millidgeville Ferry.

Steamer MAGGIE MILLER will leave Millidgeville daily except Saturday and Sunday at 9 a. m., 5.30 and 1.30 p. m. Returning from Baywater at 9 a. m. and 4.15 p. m. Saturday leaves Millidgeville at 7 and 9 a. m.; 2.45 and 9 p. m. Returning at 6.30, 7.45 and 8.45 a. m., 4.40 and 1.15 p. m. Sunday at 9 and 11.30 a. m., 2.30 and 1.15 p. m. Returning at 9.45 and 11.15 a. m. and 4 and 6 p. m.

PHOTOS!
ETCHINGS!
ENGRAVINGS!

To beautify your rooms at small cost also fancy goods, silverware and stationery; Souvenir Postcard Gards and Views of St. John to send to friends.

A. E. CLARKE
87 KING STREET - St. John, N. B.

LIVERY STABLES

WE HAVE A MAN
Who is thoroughly acquainted with the interesting points in and about St. John. He drives a wagonette carrying ten persons, which is at the service of visitors and others desirous of "taking in" the sights of the city to the best advantage.

J. B. HAMM'S, 134 Union Street.
Telephone No. 11.

DAVID CONNELL
BOATING, HACK AND LIVERY STABLES.
45 and 47 Waterloo St., St. John, N. B.

DAVID WATSON,
BOATING, HACK AND LIVERY STABLES.
Coaches in attendance at all boats and trains.

81 to 83 Duke Street. Tel. 73

THE ST. JOHN STAR is published by the SUN PRINTING COMPANY (INC.), at St. John, New Brunswick, every afternoon (except Sunday) at 12 a year.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPT. 15, 1901.

THE STRIKE SETTLED.

Last night's dispatches indicated that the steel strike is now really settled, and that most of the mills are again in active operation. The majority of the strikers have this week returned to work. President Shafter, who represented the strikers, says there will be no public statement of the terms of settlement until all the lodges have been notified by circular. It is evident that the men have not carried their point, for a number of the mills are still non-union. It will probably be found that the relations of the employers and the workmen will not have been materially changed, but the strikers have in the meantime lost over a million dollars in wages, and there has been a general disturbance of business as a result of their action.

A despatch to Monday's papers said: "Details and terms of the settlement were not publicly announced, but it was learned from an authoritative source that no concessions were made by the United States Steel Corporation to the Amalgamated Association in the settlement of the strike. The companies stood firmly on the proposition previously laid down by President Schwab, of the United States Steel Corporation, that the Amalgamated Association scale would be signed for all the mills that were union plants last year, except those in which the places of the strikers have been filled."

DR. FRECHETTE'S POEM.

Dr. Louis Frechette the French-Canadian poet laureate, has written a graceful poem on the royal visit. It is written in French, and the Montreal Herald, remarking that it is an exquisite production, says of its theme: "Mr. Frechette commences his poem by speaking of the ship which brings the Duke and Duchess to the shores of Canada, accompanied, as it is, by a fleet of war vessels, and then we ask the question: What is the object of this demonstration? Is it a war trip? Does the Ophir come, with such surroundings, as a menace? No. It is a mission of fraternity and good will. Mr. Frechette then goes on to speak of Ancient Quebec—of its early French civilization and of its martial history. The cession of Canada to the English has, he says, been followed by the union of the old foes. They have become friends, and are laboring together to create here the foundation of a great, free and an enlightened people. Crowning all this the prince was now coming to see with his own eyes the result of those labors. And the chief cause, Mr. Frechette concludes, was the constitution granted by the English which had enabled the King's French-speaking subjects to work out their own destiny in their own way."

A NOBLE TRIBUTE.

Rev. Frederick George Scott, well known as a writer of graceful verse as well as an eloquent speaker, and who preached the sermon at Sunday's historic gathering of the Protestant troops on the Plains of Abraham, has paid the following "Tribute of Kindred" to the late President McKinley: "Brother of Kings, and King of brother men, Hero and martyr, lo! thou dost not sleep, Thy strenuous soul, beyond our mortal ken Pursues life's journey through the eternal deep. Elsewhere, not here, lives on the lofty aim, The iron purpose of a steadfast life. The strong, brave heart that forged a deathless name, The tender love of duty, land and wife, O mighty sinner in our royal line, Alas! guard well his sacred dust; Thy grief is ours, e'en as our blood is thine. We twain who held the great world's peace in trust, Quebec, Sept. 14, 1901.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. Isabel Brownrigg, widow of Edward Brownrigg, of Acton, near Harvey Station, died on Monday last. Three sons and two daughters survive. W. G. Fraser, of Campbellton, died Monday of consumption. He leaves a widow, who is the daughter of W. Hall of this city.

THE FORESTERS' WELCOME.

The Foresters' arch at the corner of Bay and Richmond streets, erected in honor of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, is going up rapidly. It will span both streets, and doublets will be a handsome affair when completed.

NEW BRUNSWICK MAN WOUNDED.

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—The militia department has received a cable from Chamberlain to inform A. Mather of Newcastle, N. B., that his son, Nelson Mather, is reported wounded in the foot at Bushman Kop, Sept. 8.

The Montreal reception committee has bought 1,000 bags to distribute among the poorer citizens. Mayor Fontaine remarks that every one, whether rich or poor, should have an opportunity to join in the welcome to the duke. The St. John committee should arrange early for whatever flags they need. There will be a rush at the last moment.

EUROPE FEARS ANARCHISTS.

Clear Travels in an Armored Train, and His Every Move is Guarded. LONDON, Sept. 15.—The question of how to deal with the anarchists is daily exciting deeper interest. At the present moment Europe is absolutely in a state of panic. The precautions surrounding the czar's visit to France have already been described, but they are being increased almost hourly. At Compiegne, when the imperial and presidential parties arrived at dusk, it was a wonderful scene. The route was lined with huge electric towers and thousands of small lamps among festoons of flags. Crowds shouted, and outwardly it was a scene of brilliant rejoicing, but at least half of the on-lookers were there to guard against any possibility of outward hostility, and behind the scenes was presented a grim picture.

An Armored Train.

The czar's train arrived at Compiegne yesterday, and seemed more fitted for the visit railways in South Africa than for the pleasure tour of an emperor in the country of his allies. The Russian train hands are all armed and commanded by uniformed officers, while the train itself is armored with walls of iron. In the chateau park detectives and military pickets will be stationed night and day at intervals of 75 yards along the lawns and alleys, and flying patrols of four men each will circulate through the groves. Thousands of troops, mounted on foot, assisted by gendarmes, will be on duty every day. He will be followed every where by a brigade of armed policemen or bicyclists. Every inch of the ground over which he has to pass will be carefully supervised, yet even these precautions will not be sufficient to fall to remove the anxiety. All this is necessary, as yesterday's sad death so clearly proves. It is not surprising that there is a general feeling that something must be done to remove what is a reproach to modern civilization.

CZOLGOSZ ARRANGED.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Leon P. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, was arraigned before Judge Emery this afternoon. Again he refused to utter a sound, and the Hon. Loren L. Lewis, ex-supreme court justice, entered a plea of not guilty. The court next Monday morning will see the prisoner, but the uncertainty surrounding the question as to whether or not counsel could be secured for him saved the attention of the court room and corridors. The most notable incident of the day was the hissing of the prisoner by the crowds who surged around him as he sat in the court room. Czolgosz was still draped in mourning garb. A strong guard of patrolmen and deputy sheriffs had been dispensed with, so that the people were able to get nearer the prisoner as he passed to and from the court room. As a result of the urging of President Albert's Moot of the Erie County Bar Association, Judge Lewis, one of the attorneys assigned as counsel by Judge Emery yesterday, called at the Erie county jail to see the prisoner. Czolgosz refused to talk to Judge Lewis. Judge Lewis said that nevertheless he would appear for the prisoner upon arraignment even if he decided not to accept the assignment of the court. "Absolutely no demonstration having been made against the prisoner yesterday, the authorities decided that the strong guard was unnecessary to-day. Czolgosz was taken from the jail through the tunnel under Delaware avenue to City Hall, being handcuffed to a detective.

GIFT TO THE DUCHESS.

The Quebec Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, Victoria and Baden-Powell, have prepared a beautifully bound album of photographic views for presentation to H. R. H. the Duchess of Cornwall and York. They include scenes such as the legislative council chamber, which will be familiar to her after her visit, and also the departure of the Canadian contingent for South Africa by the Duke and Duchess two years ago. The album is handsomely bound in white kid with the arms of the Province of Quebec in the centre and a border of small maple leaves. This presentation will be made privately by His Excellency the Governor-General.

THE LARGEST OCEAN RAFT.

(Morning Oregonian.) ASTORIA, Sept. 5.—The Robertson log raft will leave in a day or two for San Francisco in charge of the powerful tugs Tatosh and Richard Holyoke. It was built in the slough near Westport, Ore., and consists of 600,000 lineal feet of pling procured in the vicinity of that place. The greater part of the timber came from the headwaters of Beaver Creek, from which a flume was specially constructed for the purpose, a distance of ten miles. The raft was about eight months in course of construction. It is 624 feet in length, of cigar shape, and is about 40 feet in diameter at the largest part. Its draught is about 24 feet, and it is very unyielding to handle under the most favorable conditions. To tow it to San Francisco from the mouth of the Columbia is expected to take about ten days. The raft is the largest of its kind ever built.

THE C. P. R. STRIKE.

(Montreal Gazette.) "It was learned at the Canadian Pacific office that about 95 per cent. of the trackmen who were on strike have returned to work and that good progress has already been made in getting the roadbed in shape for the heavy fall traffic. Only a few men, who have been charged with acts of violence, have been refused employment by the company.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. Isabel Brownrigg, widow of Edward Brownrigg, of Acton, near Harvey Station, died on Monday last. Three sons and two daughters survive. W. G. Fraser, of Campbellton, died Monday of consumption. He leaves a widow, who is the daughter of W. Hall of this city.

THE FORESTERS' WELCOME.

The Foresters' arch at the corner of Bay and Richmond streets, erected in honor of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, is going up rapidly. It will span both streets, and doublets will be a handsome affair when completed.

NEW BRUNSWICK MAN WOUNDED.

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—The militia department has received a cable from Chamberlain to inform A. Mather of Newcastle, N. B., that his son, Nelson Mather, is reported wounded in the foot at Bushman Kop, Sept. 8.

The Montreal reception committee has bought 1,000 bags to distribute among the poorer citizens. Mayor Fontaine remarks that every one, whether rich or poor, should have an opportunity to join in the welcome to the duke. The St. John committee should arrange early for whatever flags they need. There will be a rush at the last moment.

EUROPE FEARS ANARCHISTS.

Clear Travels in an Armored Train, and His Every Move is Guarded. LONDON, Sept. 15.—The question of how to deal with the anarchists is daily exciting deeper interest. At the present moment Europe is absolutely in a state of panic. The precautions surrounding the czar's visit to France have already been described, but they are being increased almost hourly. At Compiegne, when the imperial and presidential parties arrived at dusk, it was a wonderful scene. The route was lined with huge electric towers and thousands of small lamps among festoons of flags. Crowds shouted, and outwardly it was a scene of brilliant rejoicing, but at least half of the on-lookers were there to guard against any possibility of outward hostility, and behind the scenes was presented a grim picture.

An Armored Train.

The czar's train arrived at Compiegne yesterday, and seemed more fitted for the visit railways in South Africa than for the pleasure tour of an emperor in the country of his allies. The Russian train hands are all armed and commanded by uniformed officers, while the train itself is armored with walls of iron. In the chateau park detectives and military pickets will be stationed night and day at intervals of 75 yards along the lawns and alleys, and flying patrols of four men each will circulate through the groves. Thousands of troops, mounted on foot, assisted by gendarmes, will be on duty every day. He will be followed every where by a brigade of armed policemen or bicyclists. Every inch of the ground over which he has to pass will be carefully supervised, yet even these precautions will not be sufficient to fall to remove the anxiety. All this is necessary, as yesterday's sad death so clearly proves. It is not surprising that there is a general feeling that something must be done to remove what is a reproach to modern civilization.

CZOLGOSZ ARRANGED.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Leon P. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, was arraigned before Judge Emery this afternoon. Again he refused to utter a sound, and the Hon. Loren L. Lewis, ex-supreme court justice, entered a plea of not guilty. The court next Monday morning will see the prisoner, but the uncertainty surrounding the question as to whether or not counsel could be secured for him saved the attention of the court room and corridors. The most notable incident of the day was the hissing of the prisoner by the crowds who surged around him as he sat in the court room. Czolgosz was still draped in mourning garb. A strong guard of patrolmen and deputy sheriffs had been dispensed with, so that the people were able to get nearer the prisoner as he passed to and from the court room. As a result of the urging of President Albert's Moot of the Erie County Bar Association, Judge Lewis, one of the attorneys assigned as counsel by Judge Emery yesterday, called at the Erie county jail to see the prisoner. Czolgosz refused to talk to Judge Lewis. Judge Lewis said that nevertheless he would appear for the prisoner upon arraignment even if he decided not to accept the assignment of the court. "Absolutely no demonstration having been made against the prisoner yesterday, the authorities decided that the strong guard was unnecessary to-day. Czolgosz was taken from the jail through the tunnel under Delaware avenue to City Hall, being handcuffed to a detective.

GIFT TO THE DUCHESS.

The Quebec Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, Victoria and Baden-Powell, have prepared a beautifully bound album of photographic views for presentation to H. R. H. the Duchess of Cornwall and York. They include scenes such as the legislative council chamber, which will be familiar to her after her visit, and also the departure of the Canadian contingent for South Africa by the Duke and Duchess two years ago. The album is handsomely bound in white kid with the arms of the Province of Quebec in the centre and a border of small maple leaves. This presentation will be made privately by His Excellency the Governor-General.

THE LARGEST OCEAN RAFT.

(Morning Oregonian.) ASTORIA, Sept. 5.—The Robertson log raft will leave in a day or two for San Francisco in charge of the powerful tugs Tatosh and Richard Holyoke. It was built in the slough near Westport, Ore., and consists of 600,000 lineal feet of pling procured in the vicinity of that place. The greater part of the timber came from the headwaters of Beaver Creek, from which a flume was specially constructed for the purpose, a distance of ten miles. The raft was about eight months in course of construction. It is 624 feet in length, of cigar shape, and is about 40 feet in diameter at the largest part. Its draught is about 24 feet, and it is very unyielding to handle under the most favorable conditions. To tow it to San Francisco from the mouth of the Columbia is expected to take about ten days. The raft is the largest of its kind ever built.

THE C. P. R. STRIKE.

(Montreal Gazette.) "It was learned at the Canadian Pacific office that about 95 per cent. of the trackmen who were on strike have returned to work and that good progress has already been made in getting the roadbed in shape for the heavy fall traffic. Only a few men, who have been charged with acts of violence, have been refused employment by the company.

The Montreal reception committee has bought 1,000 bags to distribute among the poorer citizens. Mayor Fontaine remarks that every one, whether rich or poor, should have an opportunity to join in the welcome to the duke. The St. John committee should arrange early for whatever flags they need. There will be a rush at the last moment.

EUROPE FEARS ANARCHISTS.

Clear Travels in an Armored Train, and His Every Move is Guarded. LONDON, Sept. 15.—The question of how to deal with the anarchists is daily exciting deeper interest. At the present moment Europe is absolutely in a state of panic. The precautions surrounding the czar's visit to France have already been described, but they are being increased almost hourly. At Compiegne, when the imperial and presidential parties arrived at dusk, it was a wonderful scene. The route was lined with huge electric towers and thousands of small lamps among festoons of flags. Crowds shouted, and outwardly it was a scene of brilliant rejoicing, but at least half of the on-lookers were there to guard against any possibility of outward hostility, and behind the scenes was presented a grim picture.

An Armored Train.

The czar's train arrived at Compiegne yesterday, and seemed more fitted for the visit railways in South Africa than for the pleasure tour of an emperor in the country of his allies. The Russian train hands are all armed and commanded by uniformed officers, while the train itself is armored with walls of iron. In the chateau park detectives and military pickets will be stationed night and day at intervals of 75 yards along the lawns and alleys, and flying patrols of four men each will circulate through the groves. Thousands of troops, mounted on foot, assisted by gendarmes, will be on duty every day. He will be followed every where by a brigade of armed policemen or bicyclists. Every inch of the ground over which he has to pass will be carefully supervised, yet even these precautions will not be sufficient to fall to remove the anxiety. All this is necessary, as yesterday's sad death so clearly proves. It is not surprising that there is a general feeling that something must be done to remove what is a reproach to modern civilization.

CZOLGOSZ ARRANGED.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Leon P. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, was arraigned before Judge Emery this afternoon. Again he refused to utter a sound, and the Hon. Loren L. Lewis, ex-supreme court justice, entered a plea of not guilty. The court next Monday morning will see the prisoner, but the uncertainty surrounding the question as to whether or not counsel could be secured for him saved the attention of the court room and corridors. The most notable incident of the day was the hissing of the prisoner by the crowds who surged around him as he sat in the court room. Czolgosz was still draped in mourning garb. A strong guard of patrolmen and deputy sheriffs had been dispensed with, so that the people were able to get nearer the prisoner as he passed to and from the court room. As a result of the urging of President Albert's Moot of the Erie County Bar Association, Judge Lewis, one of the attorneys assigned as counsel by Judge Emery yesterday, called at the Erie county jail to see the prisoner. Czolgosz refused to talk to Judge Lewis. Judge Lewis said that nevertheless he would appear for the prisoner upon arraignment even if he decided not to accept the assignment of the court. "Absolutely no demonstration having been made against the prisoner yesterday, the authorities decided that the strong guard was unnecessary to-day. Czolgosz was taken from the jail through the tunnel under Delaware avenue to City Hall, being handcuffed to a detective.

GIFT TO THE DUCHESS.

The Quebec Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, Victoria and Baden-Powell, have prepared a beautifully bound album of photographic views for presentation to H. R. H. the Duchess of Cornwall and York. They include scenes such as the legislative council chamber, which will be familiar to her after her visit, and also the departure of the Canadian contingent for South Africa by the Duke and Duchess two years ago. The album is handsomely bound in white kid with the arms of the Province of Quebec in the centre and a border of small maple leaves. This presentation will be made privately by His Excellency the Governor-General.

THE LARGEST OCEAN RAFT.

(Morning Oregonian.) ASTORIA, Sept. 5.—The Robertson log raft will leave in a day or two for San Francisco in charge of the powerful tugs Tatosh and Richard Holyoke. It was built in the slough near Westport, Ore., and consists of 600,000 lineal feet of pling procured in the vicinity of that place. The greater part of the timber came from the headwaters of Beaver Creek, from which a flume was specially constructed for the purpose, a distance of ten miles. The raft was about eight months in course of construction. It is 624 feet in length, of cigar shape, and is about 40 feet in diameter at the largest part. Its draught is about 24 feet, and it is very unyielding to handle under the most favorable conditions. To tow it to San Francisco from the mouth of the Columbia is expected to take about ten days. The raft is the largest of its kind ever built.

THE C. P. R. STRIKE.

(Montreal Gazette.) "It was learned at the Canadian Pacific office that about 95 per cent. of the trackmen who were on strike have returned to work and that good progress has already been made in getting the roadbed in shape for the heavy fall traffic. Only a few men, who have been charged with acts of violence, have been refused employment by the company.

The Montreal reception committee has bought 1,000 bags to distribute among the poorer citizens. Mayor Fontaine remarks that every one, whether rich or poor, should have an opportunity to join in the welcome to the duke. The St. John committee should arrange early for whatever flags they need. There will be a rush at the last moment.

EUROPE FEARS ANARCHISTS.

Clear Travels in an Armored Train, and His Every Move is Guarded. LONDON, Sept. 15.—The question of how to deal with the anarchists is daily exciting deeper interest. At the present moment Europe is absolutely in a state of panic. The precautions surrounding the czar's visit to France have already been described, but they are being increased almost hourly. At Compiegne, when the imperial and presidential parties arrived at dusk, it was a wonderful scene. The route was lined with huge electric towers and thousands of small lamps among festoons of flags. Crowds shouted, and outwardly it was a scene of brilliant rejoicing, but at least half of the on-lookers were there to guard against any possibility of outward hostility, and behind the scenes was presented a grim picture.

An Armored Train.

The czar's train arrived at Compiegne yesterday, and seemed more fitted for the visit railways in South Africa than for the pleasure tour of an emperor in the country of his allies. The Russian train hands are all armed and commanded by uniformed officers, while the train itself is armored with walls of iron. In the chateau park detectives and military pickets will be stationed night and day at intervals of 75 yards along the lawns and alleys, and flying patrols of four men each will circulate through the groves. Thousands of troops, mounted on foot, assisted by gendarmes, will be on duty every day. He will be followed every where by a brigade of armed policemen or bicyclists. Every inch of the ground over which he has to pass will be carefully supervised, yet even these precautions will not be sufficient to fall to remove the anxiety. All this is necessary, as yesterday's sad death so clearly proves. It is not surprising that there is a general feeling that something must be done to remove what is a reproach to modern civilization.

CZOLGOSZ ARRANGED.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Leon P. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, was arraigned before Judge Emery this afternoon. Again he refused to utter a sound, and the Hon. Loren L. Lewis, ex-supreme court justice, entered a plea of not guilty. The court next Monday morning will see the prisoner, but the uncertainty surrounding the question as to whether or not counsel could be secured for him saved the attention of the court room and corridors. The most notable incident of the day was the hissing of the prisoner by the crowds who surged around him as he sat in the court room. Czolgosz was still draped in mourning garb. A strong guard of patrolmen and deputy sheriffs had been dispensed with, so that the people were able to get nearer the prisoner as he passed to and from the court room. As a result of the urging of President Albert's Moot of the Erie County Bar Association, Judge Lewis, one of the attorneys assigned as counsel by Judge Emery yesterday, called at the Erie county jail to see the prisoner. Czolgosz refused to talk to Judge Lewis. Judge Lewis said that nevertheless he would appear for the prisoner upon arraignment even if he decided not to accept the assignment of the court. "Absolutely no demonstration having been made against the prisoner yesterday, the authorities decided that the strong guard was unnecessary to-day. Czolgosz was taken from the jail through the tunnel under Delaware avenue to City Hall, being handcuffed to a detective.

GIFT TO THE DUCHESS.

The Quebec Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, Victoria and Baden-Powell, have prepared a beautifully bound album of photographic views for presentation to H. R. H. the Duchess of Cornwall and York. They include scenes such as the legislative council chamber, which will be familiar to her after her visit, and also the departure of the Canadian contingent for South Africa by the Duke and Duchess two years ago. The album is handsomely bound in white kid with the arms of the Province of Quebec in the centre and a border of small maple leaves. This presentation will be made privately by His Excellency the Governor-General.

THE LARGEST OCEAN RAFT.

(Morning Oregonian.) ASTORIA, Sept. 5.—The Robertson log raft will leave in a day or two for San Francisco in charge of the powerful tugs Tatosh and Richard Holyoke. It was built in the slough near Westport, Ore., and consists of 600,000 lineal feet of pling procured in the vicinity of that place. The greater part of the timber came from the headwaters of Beaver Creek, from which a flume was specially constructed for the purpose, a distance of ten miles. The raft was about eight months in course of construction. It is 624 feet in length, of cigar shape, and is about 40 feet in diameter at the largest part. Its draught is about 24 feet, and it is very unyielding to handle under the most favorable conditions. To tow it to San Francisco from the mouth of the Columbia is expected to take about ten days. The raft is the largest of its kind ever built.

THE C. P. R. STRIKE.

(Montreal Gazette.) "It was learned at the Canadian Pacific office that about 95 per cent. of the trackmen who were on strike have returned to work and that good progress has already been made in getting the roadbed in shape for the heavy fall traffic. Only a few men, who have been charged with acts of violence, have been refused employment by the company.

HELP WANTED, MALE.

Advertisements under this head inserted free of charge.

HELP WANTED, FEMALE.

Advertisements under this head inserted free of charge.

MONEY TO LOAN.

On Freehold and Leasehold Property, repayable by monthly instalments or otherwise. Apply to J. J. McCAFFREY, Manager, 1111 St. John Street, St. John, N. B.

HOTELS.

HOTEL DUFFERIN.
E. LORRY WILLIS, St. John, N. B.

PARK HOTEL.
CHAS. DAMERY, Prop.
Centrally located, facing King Square, ST. JOHN, N. B.

SHELburne HERRING.
Quality First Class.
Bills & Half Bills.
JAMES PATTERSON,
10 and 20 South Market Wharf,
St. John, N. B.

5 Lines of
"World - Known."
Hatheway, Soule & Harrington's famous Boston-made boots and shoes for men. Best in town!
JAMES V. RUSSELL,
677 Main Street, St. John.

THE DUCAL PARTY.
(Ladies Magazine.)
The party which accompanies their Royal Highnesses of Cornwall and York on their tour of the colonies is a most distinguished one. It numbers nineteen altogether, with about twenty ladies-in-waiting, one lord-in-waiting and head of the household, a private secretary, two equerries, for A. D. C.'s, the Duchess of Cornwall and York, the royal naval officer commanding H. M. S. Ophir, two artists, a domestic chaplain, and a medical man.

Prince Alexander of Teck, who travels with the royal party, is a brother of the Duchess of Cornwall and York. Lady Mary Lygon, one of the ladies-in-waiting, is a sister of Earl Beauchamp. She was appointed to the post she now holds in 1895. Lady Katherine Coke, another of the ladies-in-waiting, is wife of the Hon. Henry J. Coke, who is a brother of Earl Leicester. She is a daughter of the Earl of Wilton. The Hon. Mrs. Derek Keppel, the third lady-in-waiting, is a daughter of the second Baron Sutherland.

WANTED.

Advertisements under this head: Two words for one cent each time, or five cents a word for ten times. Payable in advance.

TO LET.

Advertisements under this head: Two words for one cent each time, or five cents a word for ten times. Payable in advance.

FOR SALE.

Advertisements under this head: Two words for one cent each time, or five cents a word for ten times. Payable in advance.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST.

Rev. J. and Mrs. Shepton left by the U. P. R. express yesterday for Charlottetown to attend the marriage of a daughter of ex-Mayor Dawson.
Rev. David Long, pastor of Victoria Street Free Baptist church, leaves for the Pan-American today.
Captain Hooper, late of the India military and wife, are visiting Mrs. A. M. Woodman and Mrs. I. H. Nepe and family at their summer home, Woodman's Point.
Trustee K. Corbett of St. John and F. J. Corbett of the I. C. R. Moncton, are visiting Upper Canadian cities and the Pan-American.
Mrs. John Frodsham left last evening by the St. Croix for Boston, and thence to Lond., on a visit to her sister, Mrs. George Fisher.
Red Rose tea is pure tea, of delicious flavor.

IT'S NEW WONDER FLOUR.

A perfect blend of No. 1 Manitoba and Ontario wheat, especially milled for family use, and giving the most perfect results.

WHOLESALE BY—
WALL & FAIRWEATHER, Ltd.

THE PLACE TO TRADE
Cash for Coal, Wood or Kindling and get the most for your money in a

GIBBON & CO'S.
because they have the facilities to handle these things cheapest. Special offer now on.

PLUMBING!

Honest Work. Prompt Attention. Fair Prices. That's What You Want.

EDWARD A. CRAIG,
189 Mill Street. Telephone 1897

BARB WIRE FENCING,
POULTRY NETTING,
PEG LATTICE.

Green Wire Cloth, Window Screens and Door Screens of all kinds.

JOHN W. ADDISON,
44 Gormain St., Market Bldg.
Tel. 1874.

Municipality of the City and County of Saint John.

TENDERS FOR DECORATION, ETC.

TENDERS will be received at the office of the undersigned up to 12 o'clock, noon, on MONDAY, the 23rd inst., for decorating and illuminating the City Hall in the City of Saint John, in honor of the visit of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, on the 24th inst. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Dated the 17th day of September, A. D., 1901.

By order,
GEO. H. VINCENT,
Secretary.

MACLAUCHLAN IN IRISH.

What the "Hundred Pipers" is to every true Scot, so is that great song, "The Minstrel Boy," to the equally loyal and patriotic Irish. Both stir the blood of those nationalities as probably no other one song can do. Jessie MacLauchlan has won St. John with the former, as her rendition of it has never ceased being talked of since her last appearance, by those who heard it. On the evening of Oct. 9th, the last concert of the season, the artist will be heard in the great Irish melody, "No Irishman or lover of music can afford to miss this opportunity, as it is conceded that no living singer ever gave the "Minstrel Boy" a finer interpretation than Scotland's great soprano. Much interest is felt in the appearance of Madam Van Duyen, the New York contralto, who undoubtedly will establish herself as one of St. John's favorites on the evenings of Oct. 7th, 8th and 9th. Inquiries are pouring in as to when seats may be procured. The plan will open at the Opera house box office Wednesday, Oct. 2nd.

POLICE COURT.

William Craig, the old man who was arrested a few nights ago for wandering about the streets, and who was given a chance to go to St. Stephen, does not appear to have gone very far. Between one and two o'clock this morning he was found lying on Market square by Officer Crawford. Craig had sold his shirt in order to obtain liquor, and when found was huddled with the cold and rain. No final disposition of him was made this morning.

George Durant, who on Saturday was arrested for kicking Eddie Lane in Carleton, was brought up again today, and this case also was postponed until two o'clock.

"Patterson's," Cor. Charlotte and Duke Sts.

MEN,

We have special value in Fine Wool Underwear to show you.

50c. a Garment
All Sizes.

SEE OUR WINDOW.
STORE OPEN EVERY EVENING.
"CASH ONLY."

LOCAL NEWS.

Chas. Martello, T. O. F., will meet in Parliament hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

Str. Teresa, from Philadelphia for this port, passed down at 10 o'clock yesterday.

The 3rd Regt. C. A. will parade at the drill shed this evening at 8 o'clock in drill order.

People moving from the country will save money by consulting Gibbon & Co. at once about their coal supply.

The Young Juniors defeated the Starlights in a game of base ball on Waterhouse hill, by a score of 20 to 17 in favor of the Young Juniors.

The young people of the Waterloo Street Free Baptist church intend holding an ice cream social on Thursday evening, Sept. 25th.

It is stated that there are upwards of 100 cases of typhoid fever at present under treatment in the mining districts of Glace Bay, Reservoir and the Dominions.

William Henry Newlands, barrister of Regina, has been appointed legal adviser to the council of the Yukon territory, vice Frederick Tennyson Congdon, resigned.

The concert tomorrow evening in the Main Street Baptist church by the Louise Taylor Concert Company, promises to be a rich musical treat. All of the performers are artists in their own departments.

The steamer Victoria this morning was literally crowded with ladies and gentlemen taking advantage of the excursion to the Fredericton exhibition. It is estimated that fully six hundred people went up on the steamer.

The death is reported of Henry Ballantyne, only son of Thomas Ballantyne, which occurred last evening at his father's residence at Westfield. Mr. Ballantyne was twenty-five years of age and had been ill for a long time. His funeral will take place on Friday.

At half past two o'clock this afternoon the funeral of the late Alice Noble took place from her father's residence, 30 St. Patrick street. Rev. G. M. Campbell conducted the usual services at the house and grave, and interment was made in Fernhill cemetery.

The funeral of the late Ethel A. Corey took place this afternoon at half past two o'clock from her father's residence, 34 Union street. The usual services were conducted at the house and grave by the Rev. R. W. Weddall. Interment was made in Fernhill cemetery. There were no pallbearers.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A despatch from Ottawa says:—A quantity of fireworks stored on the government steamer Frontenac exploded Monday evening while the vessel was touring the harbor with a number of federal ministers and society people. The yacht became unmanageable and the wheel house and bridge caught fire. The government steamer Eureka went to the rescue and extinguished the flames. Several of the ladies and the gentlemen on the steamer had been painfully injured. Among these were Mrs. F. W. Borden, slight burns; Miss Fielding, hair scorched and minor burns on hands and face; Hon. James Sutherland, hands and face badly burned; Hon. Dr. Borden, sprained leg; Hon. J. I. Tarte, knocked down by the explosion, hands and face cut. Although the injuries were of a painful nature, none were found to be serious.

According to the latest news, Mrs. J. N. Greenfield, Mrs. Borden, Mrs. Turootte, Miss Fielding, Hon. Joseph Sutherland, Hon. Dr. Borden, and Hon. J. I. Tarte, who met with an accident on the government steamer Frontenac Monday night, are in a fair way to recovery. The Frontenac, with Mr. Tarte and all the members of his family, left late yesterday afternoon for Montreal.

REV. ALEX. F. ROBB MARRIED.

At Carmel church, Westville, N. S., yesterday afternoon, Miss Bessie Arnold Cumming, daughter of Rev. Robert Cumming, was married to Rev. Alexander F. Robb of this city. Rev. H. M. Clark of Doaktown was groomsmen and Miss Isabel Cumming bridesmaid. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas Cumming, the bride's uncle, who was assisted by Dr. Palmer of Pictou, and Rev. A. W. Thompson. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bride was presented with an address and a well filled purse from the members and adherents of Carmel church. A reception was held at the home of the bride. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for St. John, where the designation services in connection with Mr. Robb's appointment as a missionary to Korea will be held this evening in St. David's church. They will shortly afterwards depart for Korea. There were many clergymen present, and also many friends from all parts of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Robb will be tendered a reception.

NO MARKET FOR CATTLE.

(Chatham Commercial.)

There is not much of a market here this season for the P. E. Island cattle, on account of the failure of the crops. A stocker load of cattle arrived here recently, and after spending several days in trying to dispose of them, the owner had to take them back to their island home.

CANADIAN HOME JOURNAL.

That the tendency to amalgamation now-a-days has been extended to journalistic circles as well as commercial, is shown by the recent purchase of the Canadian Home Journal by Hugh C. MacLean, publisher of the Ladies' Magazine, Toronto. The Journal, which was established many years ago, will be discontinued as a distinct publication, and will be merged into The Ladies' Magazine, which has already won a place for itself as the popular home paper for Canadian women.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Charges Against Fred Morrison and James Crawford Were Dismissed.

The case of Mays v. Connolly in the circuit court, which was to have come up this morning, was adjourned until a quarter past two this afternoon. The case consists of two claims by the plaintiff, and one counter-claim by the defendant for work done on the Long wharf, and the other for about $20,000 damages for injury to the prosecution of the work. Hon. W. Pugsley and J. B. M. Baxter, for the plaintiff, and A. S. Stockton, K. C., and L. A. Curry, K. C., for the defendant.

The case against Fred Morrison and James Crawford, for contempt of court, in tampering with witnesses in the case of Morrison v. St. John Railway, came up. At. Gen. Pugsley read a letter from Mr. Morrison, in which he expressed regret if he had acted improperly, and requested the course of proceedings. He admitted having communicated with Miss Brownell, but said that it was before he was aware that she had been served with a subpoena. Dr. Morrison was unaware of his action in the matter. Hon. Mr. Pugsley said that in view of all the circumstances he would dismiss this case if his honor approved. It was dismissed.

That Mark Hanna was then taken up, and Mr. Whitaker, the witness, claimed to have been tampered with, was called. Mr. Hazen, acting for the defendant, objected to the proceeding as no formal information had been laid. His honor sustained the objection, and Mr. Hazen said further that his client denied altogether the charge made in Dr. Pugsley's statement of some days ago in court. The Attorney General accepted Mr. Crawford's statement, and the case was dismissed.

SUNDAY CLOSING.

The investigation asked for by the Lord's Day Alliance, which on Thursday last was adjourned, will be resumed before Commissioner Tweedie tomorrow.

The alliance will endeavor to prove that beer shops and other stores are kept open and that liquor can easily be procured on Sundays. There is a rumor about to the effect that a further adjournment has been arranged between Recorder Skinner and Dr. Stockton, but if this is not the case a number of witnesses will be put on the stand by the alliance. Members of the executive will give evidence regarding interviews held with the chief of police, and also in regard to violation of the Sabbath observance law. A number of other witnesses, including probably some officials, will also be called.

LEFT THE TRACK.

After a rather disarranged start at the Union depot this morning, the train from the west, which did not get in until about nine o'clock this morning. One car of the freight train which left about six o'clock last evening ran off the track near Hoyt's station. A wrecking train was sent out from Fairville and another from McAdam. The track was torn up for some distance. The morning train, which leaves here about seven o'clock, was not able to get away until after the arrival of the other, about nine o'clock. There were a number of passengers for Fredericton on the delayed train.

CHURCH DIRECTORY NEEDED.

Dr. Buckley, of the Christian Advocate, New York, writes this city a few days ago, expressed his surprise that from the city directory he was unable to gain any information whatever in regard to the churches. He ascertained that there were a number of churches in the city, and also a few of the different societies connected with the different churches, but of the location of the buildings and particulars about them he could gain no information whatever.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

Under the Speedy Trials Act M. D. McCutcheon was this morning taken before Judge Forbes and sentenced to six months in the common jail. The money taken will be refunded. In sentencing the prisoner Judge Forbes said that Sillip & Pilling and Capt. Brannen had expressed a desire not to have the charges pushed. He characterized McCutcheon's action in allowing Harry Nelson to be tried for his crime as most reprehensible.

COUNTY COURT.

In the county court this morning Sergt. Campbell was re-examined and then Messrs. Kerr and Mullin addressed the jury. This afternoon the crown officer, Hon. H. A. McKeown, and His Honor Judge Forbes will address them.

BOUGHT A YACHT.

A handsome addition to the St. John fleet of yachts will arrive in the course of two or three weeks. While in Boston lately J. Fraser Gregory purchased the steam yacht Zuleika, 111-2 tons.

CONSTANT TELLS OF THE QUEEN.

Benjamin Constant has been giving his impressions of Queen Alexandra, as a letter. "Your queen," he told an interviewer, "can never grow old; she has perennial youth and perpetual beauty. Ah, what a sovereign!" And then, with a quiet laugh, he added: "Sometimes when I visited Buckingham Palace, she kept me waiting for a quarter of an hour and I was glad of it, for her apology was so charming and her manner so delightful that I could never have had the heart even to look cross."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Sept. 17.—

The seventeenth annual convention of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress opened here today with a representative attendance of delegates. President Bremner of the local union and Mayor Wood made speeches of welcome. Mr. G. H. Ross, president of the American Federation of Labor, extended fraternal greetings to the delegates. Mr. Miller, representing the Journeymen Tailors of America, also spoke. Ralph Smith, M. P., president of the congress, in his address, said the work of the congress is the backbone of every city in Canada, and all they want is the spirit of reason. A presidential committee was appointed and the session adjourned.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Allan Carter, of Amherst, is visiting here.

Mrs. Medley has returned to Fredericton from her summer cottage at St. Andrews.

Miss M. A. Irvine and Miss M. E. Nusselt of Boston are in St. John on a short visit.

Mrs. Estough, of St. John, and Mrs. (Prof.) Wilkinson, of Windsor, N. S., are in Fredericton, the guests of Mrs. Medley, Church street.

Miss C. Weatherston, of St. John, is in Fredericton the guest of her friend, Miss Ada Finnamore.

Miss Ethel and Nellie Johnston, of St. John, who have been visiting their aunt, Norman Sinclair, Moncton, have returned home.

The marriage took place this morning at Halifax of Marjorie Payson and Percy C. Browne, mining engineer.

The youngest son of Rev. T. B. Layton, Frank P., of Truro, who went west on the first harvest excursion train, is now general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Calgary, Alberta, N. W. T.

Mrs. Mrs. and Miss Solomon, of Cape Town, South Africa, who are making the trip of the world, and have been guests at the Queen's for some days, are leaving town today for Kingston, and points further east—Toronto and Montreal.

The Bradstreet Company has appointed George B. Streeter, as superintendent of Nova Scotia, with head quarters at Halifax. For the past two years he has been assistant superintendent in the company's branch at St. John.

MARK HANNA WREPT.

(New York Herald.)

In the room across the hall the choir was singing Kindly Light, and as the cardinal's exquisite hymn died away in music Mr. Locke, the Methodist minister, a pale, ascetic looking young man, rose at the end of the room and read the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians in a pleasant voice. After a pause the president's beloved hymn, Nearest My God, to These, was sung, and many wept again. A brief prayer for grace and mercy followed, and all was over.

No, not all; a dramatic thing was to happen. The eyes of the gathering were resting on President Roosevelt as for a signal to disperse, when Marcus Hanna was seen to pass out in front of Governor Odell, and then up in the line of the cabinet members, the latter falling back half a step to let him pass. His hands joined behind his back, his head bent forward, as he reached the coffin he bent a long gaze upon the face within and stood there motionless as a statue for a full two minutes, that seemed more, so tense and strained were the moments. Then he turned slowly, passed down the line again, and taking his seat behind Governor Odell, burst into a flood of tears. Of what significance that long gaze would be time alone will tell. It ticked off the end of some emotion, a great hope, perhaps, in the senator's breast. At any rate, he loved the man for whom he wept.

DR. WILLIAM MCKINLEY

Falls Dead From Shock of President's Death.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 15.—Late last night Dr. William McKinley, one of the best known practicing physicians in this country, and a distant relative of the late President McKinley, was found dead at his home, at Polk, a few miles from this city. On Saturday Dr. McKinley was in Franklin, and with much emotion discussed the shooting and death of the late president with friends here.

He was of a highly nervous disposition, and at different times during these discussions he became greatly excited over the assassination. In the evening he returned to Polk, and a few of his patients delighted the assembly. Major Gordon danced Chautreaux Highland Fling and sword dance, accompanying himself on the piano; My Ain Country being much admired. Past Chief Tennant sang several Scotch lyrics and with Wilson the duet Larboard Watch. Hugh Crawford's Johnie Sands was enthusiastically received by the ladies, and Clansman Muddle's solos on the violin set the elmsmen dancing in strathspeys and Irish jig steps. They wound up with Auld Lang Syne, all joining hands.

MERRITT BROS. & CO. SUSPEND.

The announcement last evening that the wholesale grocery and provision firm of Merritt Bros. & Co. had been compelled to suspend payment was heard with surprise and universal regret.

To a Sun reporter last evening G. Wetmore Merritt said:—"The firm has for various reasons, which I am not now in a position to state, been compelled to suspend payment today. You may say that we will send a circular to our creditors tomorrow informing them of the fact. We will immediately take stock and make up our books so as to more thoroughly be able to state our position, and as soon as the information is complete we will call a meeting of our creditors and lay it before them."

The members of the firm are largely interested in gold mining, as well as in their general mercantile business.

Six grades of Red Rose tea, at 25, 30, 35, 40, 50 and 60c. per pound.

GILMOUR'S CLOTHING.

WE ARE NOW in a position to attend to the wants of customers in our two departments—

CUSTOM TAILORING AND READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING.

A. GILMOUR,

CUSTOM-TAILORING
and
HIGH-CLASS CLOTHING.

New Fresh Stock Cereals.

QUAKER OATS,
PETTIJOHN FOOD,
MALT BREAKFAST FOOD,
ROLLED WHEAT.

Wholesale Only. H. F. FINLEY Dock Street.
Successor to Joseph Finley.

St. John People

Are not slow to recognize merit in either an article or individual. They are giving us more and more of their trade every day, because they realize that we represent reliable instruments and do our business the right way.

The W. H. Johnson Co., Limited.

Agents for Chickering, Newcombe and Mason & Risch Pianos and Mason & Hamblin Organs.
7 Market Square, St. John.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Allan Carter, of Amherst, is visiting here.

Mrs. Medley has returned to Fredericton from her summer cottage at St. Andrews.

Miss M. A. Irvine and Miss M. E. Nusselt of Boston are in St. John on a short visit.

Mrs. Estough, of St. John, and Mrs. (Prof.) Wilkinson, of Windsor, N. S., are in Fredericton, the guests of Mrs. Medley, Church street.

Miss C. Weatherston, of St. John, is in Fredericton the guest of her friend, Miss Ada Finnamore.

Miss Ethel and Nellie Johnston, of St. John, who have been visiting their aunt, Norman Sinclair, Moncton, have returned home.

The marriage took place this morning at Halifax of Marjorie Payson and Percy C. Browne, mining engineer.

The youngest son of Rev. T. B. Layton, Frank P., of Truro, who went west on the first harvest excursion train, is now general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Calgary, Alberta, N. W. T.

Mrs. Mrs. and Miss Solomon, of Cape Town, South Africa, who are making the trip of the world, and have been guests at the Queen's for some days, are leaving town today for Kingston, and points further east—Toronto and Montreal.

The Bradstreet Company has appointed George B. Streeter, as superintendent of Nova Scotia, with head quarters at Halifax. For the past two years he has been assistant superintendent in the company's branch at St. John.

MARK HANNA WREPT.

(New York Herald.)

In the room across the hall the choir was singing Kindly Light, and as the cardinal's exquisite hymn died away in music Mr. Locke, the Methodist minister, a pale, ascetic looking young man, rose at the end of the room and read the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians in a pleasant voice. After a pause the president's beloved hymn, Nearest My God, to These, was sung, and many wept again. A brief prayer for grace and mercy followed, and all was over.

No, not all; a dramatic thing was to happen. The eyes of the gathering were resting on President Roosevelt as for a signal to disperse, when Marcus Hanna was seen to pass out in front of Governor Odell, and then up in the line of the cabinet members, the latter falling back half a step to let him pass. His hands joined behind his back, his head bent forward, as he reached the coffin he bent a long gaze upon the face within and stood there motionless as a statue for a full two minutes, that seemed more, so tense and strained were the moments. Then he turned slowly, passed down the line again, and taking his seat behind Governor Odell, burst into a flood of tears. Of what significance that long gaze would be time alone will tell. It ticked off the end of some emotion, a great hope, perhaps, in the senator's breast. At any rate, he loved the man for whom he wept.

DR. WILLIAM MCKINLEY

Falls Dead From Shock of President's Death.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 15.—Late last night Dr. William McKinley, one of the best known practicing physicians in this country, and a distant relative of the late President McKinley, was found dead at his home, at Polk, a few miles from this city. On Saturday Dr. McKinley was in Franklin, and with much emotion discussed the shooting and death of the late president with friends here.

He was of a highly nervous disposition, and at different times during these discussions he became greatly excited over the assassination. In the evening he returned to Polk, and a few of his patients delighted the assembly. Major Gordon danced Chautreaux Highland Fling and sword dance, accompanying himself on the piano; My Ain Country being much admired. Past Chief Tennant sang several Scotch lyrics and with Wilson the duet Larboard Watch. Hugh Crawford's Johnie Sands was enthusiastically received by the ladies, and Clansman Muddle's solos on the violin set the elmsmen dancing in strathspeys and Irish jig steps. They wound up with Auld Lang Syne, all joining hands.

MERRITT BROS. & CO. SUSPEND.

The announcement last evening that the wholesale grocery and provision firm of Merritt Bros. & Co. had been compelled to suspend payment was heard with surprise and universal regret.

To a Sun reporter last evening G. Wetmore Merritt said:—"The firm has for various reasons, which I am not now in a position to state, been compelled to suspend payment today. You may say that we will send a circular to our creditors tomorrow informing them of the fact. We will immediately take stock and make up our books so as to more thoroughly be able to state our position, and as soon as the information is complete we will call a meeting of our creditors and lay it before them."

The members of the firm are largely interested in gold mining, as well as in their general mercantile business.

Six grades of Red Rose tea, at 25, 30, 35, 40, 50 and 60c. per pound.

Mr. Allan Carter, of Amherst, is visiting here.

Mrs. Medley has returned to Fredericton from her summer cottage at St. Andrews.

Miss M. A. Irvine and Miss M. E. Nusselt of Boston are in St. John on a short visit.

Mrs. Estough, of St. John, and Mrs. (Prof.) Wilkinson, of Windsor, N. S., are in Fredericton, the guests of Mrs. Medley, Church street.

Miss C. Weatherston, of St. John, is in Fredericton the guest of her friend, Miss Ada Finnamore.

Miss Ethel and Nellie Johnston, of St. John, who have been visiting their aunt, Norman Sinclair, Moncton, have returned home.

The marriage took place this morning at Halifax of Marjorie Payson and Percy C. Browne, mining engineer.

The youngest son of Rev. T. B. Layton, Frank P., of Truro, who went west on the first harvest excursion train, is now general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Calgary, Alberta, N. W. T.

Mrs. Mrs. and Miss Solomon, of Cape Town, South Africa, who are making the trip of the world, and have been guests at the Queen's for some days, are leaving town today for Kingston, and points further east—Toronto and Montreal.

The Bradstreet Company has appointed George B. Streeter, as superintendent of Nova Scotia, with head quarters at Halifax. For the past two years he has been assistant superintendent in the company's branch at St. John.

MARK HANNA WREPT.

(New York Herald.)

In the room across the hall the choir was singing Kindly Light, and as the cardinal's exquisite hymn died away in music Mr. Locke, the Methodist minister, a pale, ascetic looking young man, rose at the end of the room and read the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians in a pleasant voice. After a pause the president's beloved hymn, Nearest My God, to These, was sung, and many wept again. A brief prayer for grace and mercy followed, and all was over.

No, not all; a dramatic thing was to happen. The eyes of the gathering were resting on President Roosevelt as for a signal to disperse, when Marcus Hanna was seen to pass out in front of Governor Odell, and then up in the line of the cabinet members, the latter falling back half a step to let him pass. His hands joined behind his back, his head bent forward, as he reached the coffin he bent a long gaze upon the face within and stood there motionless as a statue for a full two minutes, that seemed more, so tense and strained were the moments. Then he turned slowly, passed down the line again, and taking his seat behind Governor Odell, burst into a flood of tears. Of what significance that long gaze would be time alone will tell. It ticked off the end of some emotion, a great hope, perhaps, in the senator's breast. At any rate, he loved the man for whom he wept.

DR. WILLIAM MCKINLEY

Falls Dead From Shock of President's Death.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 15.—Late last night Dr. William McKinley, one of the best known practicing physicians in this country, and a distant relative of the late President McKinley, was found dead at his home, at Polk, a few miles from this city. On Saturday Dr. McKinley was in Franklin, and with much emotion discussed the shooting and death of the late president with friends here.

He was of a highly nervous disposition, and at different times during these discussions he became greatly excited over the assassination. In the evening he returned to Polk, and a few of his patients delighted the assembly. Major Gordon danced Chautreaux Highland Fling and sword dance, accompanying himself on the piano; My Ain Country being much admired. Past Chief Tennant sang several Scotch lyrics and with Wilson the duet Larboard Watch. Hugh Crawford's Johnie Sands was enthusiastically received by the ladies, and Clansman Muddle's solos on the violin set the elmsmen dancing in strathspeys and Irish jig steps. They wound up with Auld Lang Syne, all joining hands.

MERRITT BROS. & CO. SUSPEND.

The announcement last evening that the wholesale grocery and provision firm of Merritt Bros. & Co. had been compelled to suspend payment was heard with surprise and universal regret.

To a Sun reporter last evening G. Wetmore Merritt said:—"The firm has for various reasons, which I am not now in a position to state, been compelled to suspend payment today. You may say that we will send a circular to our creditors tomorrow informing them of the fact. We will immediately take stock and make up our books so as to more thoroughly be able to state our position, and as soon as the information is complete we will call a meeting of our creditors and lay it before them."

The members of the firm are largely interested in gold mining, as well as in their general mercantile business.

Six grades of Red Rose tea, at 25, 30, 35, 40, 50 and 60c. per pound.